THE SNYDER NATIONAL BANK

The oldest bank in Scurry County—Nearly a quarter century complete banking service.

Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits, $150,000.00

SOIL EROSION

(Continued From Page 1) since, had only 95 feet of water at the dam, about enough for irrigation needs thru the coming winter. If there should be a shortage of precipitation during the next six to eight months, and this has been known to happen, a great and prosperous agriculture in the valley below would be confronted with the stark catastrophe that mankind knows not how to overcome. A shortage in the water supply. Still the filling in goes on apace.

"Last year while in Southwest Texas fine grazing lands were seen which had been gullied to absolute sterility in localities where a little precaution in the beginning coupled with regulation of grading on the regional highlands, would have saved these valuable lands."

"These are but some of the phases of water and soil losses on the Western ranges. Much of the 195 million acres of unappropriated and unreserved Public domain that should furnish valuable grazing for all time is being depleted by unregulated grazing. The same is taking place on the Indian lands. The National forests by regulating grazing are doing much to remedy the situation by properly redistributing livestock according to local and seasonal requirements.

On our farm lands the damage that has been done and continues to be done by unrestrained rainwash is utterly beyond calculation. Wherever there is enough slope for water to run down hill, there is loss of valuable top soil the richest part of the land, and in many localities water that might be stored in the subsoil for crops use is permitted to flow away to cover valley lands with sand and soil material that is not needed and often does harm. We have been in the habit of charging reduced yields to soil impoverishment by continuous cropping. This has had much to do with warring soil productivity but not so much in the sense of crop removal of plant food as in the sense of erosion removed soil plus the contained plant food.

A minimum estimate shows that 126 billion pounds of plant food is annually swept out of the fields and pastures of the country by rainwash whereas less than six billion pounds is removed by the crops taken off. This is 21 times greater than the loss through the crops taken off the land. The value of this material as measured in terms of potash, phosphorus and nitrogen exceeds two billion dollars a year on the basis of the cheapest fertilizer material quoted on the market. It must be remembered that erosion removes not only plant food but the soil that contains the plant food, finally leaving the exposed subsoil in the place of the rich top soil removed. Also, valuable water is lost which should be stored in the soil for later crop use. When the soil is gone we usually have clay to till, the plant nutrients in it are in a less available form, the material absorbs water much slower and losses it much more rapidly than the displaced surface soil, and over the wasted fields and pastures rainwater courses away to the streams much more rapidly than it did over the virgin soil. In a single county in Southeastern United States ninety thousand acres of formerly cultivated land was mapped by Government surveyors as gullied land having no value for crop production. This one time fertile soil has been wholly destroyed by the ravages of erosion and it cannot be restored. All of this wastage could have been prevented. In one Georgia county seventy three thousand acres of formerly cultivated land, much of it the best in the State, were permanently destroyed by the remorseless churning of uncontrolled water. At least thirteen million acres of agricultural land has been destroyed or rendered completely useless for crops in this county as the result of uncontrolled rainwater.

This is but an insignificant part of the wastage. In sheet erosion, the washing that gradually skins off the surface soil, that is wasting the most valuable lands of the Nation. This takes place so slowly that the farmer does not notice it until clay spots and rock begin to appear in his fields. Many thousands of our richest soils have been stripped of the surface soil by this process down to relatively unproductive subsoil material in hundreds of localities in all parts of the Nation.

We are not upon the verge of a land shortage, but vast areas have been made almost useless by soil erosion. Thousands of farms have already been abandoned and a great number of farmers have been brought to poverty as the result of this evil process. With our increasing population the land that we are complacently watching flow away in muddied waters to the sea is going to be acutely needed, not in the remote future. There is great necessity that the Nation should immediately awaken to the absolute necessity of checking these losses. In the many States where erosion is a very serious problem, nothing whatever is being done to put a stop to it while much is being done to accentuate the process. It is exceedingly encouraging, however, that in some parts of the country the people are becoming truly aroused and are beginning to do something to stop these losses. The State of Texas is terracing land through its County Agents and others at a rate that is highly encouraging. If Texas can terraced nearly a half million acres of land in one year early in the campaign against the terrible losses of water and soil erosion there is hope that these other parts of the nation which for the moment are asleep to the necessity of soil and water losses can be brought into action.

After seeing thousands of waste areas throughout all portions of the United States it has been inspiring to see the Spur Experiment Station where such highly valuable fundamental work is being done in relation to the full meaning of conserving the water falls upon the lands instead of allowing it to flow merrily on its way to the streams. This station is showing that a large part of the rainwater can be stored in the soil for later crop use and that in doing so large amounts of the topsoil can be saved. These experiments are valuable beyond any present possible calculation. There is no question but that the methods employed at the Spur Experiment Station will be copied in many parts of the country as soon as the other states become acquainted with the far-reaching benefits that will inevitably follow in the wake of the demonstrations that have been carried out here. The Spur Station is the first comprehensive soil erosion and water saving experiment that has been conducted in the history of the world, in so far as my knowledge goes. I am convinced that experiments of this kind are much more beneficial in many parts of the country than most that have been conducted. Being made in connection with crop rotation and fertilizer tests for unquestionable soil and water losses of the kind we have talked about represent the biggest problems confronting the United States. Texas cannot afford to neglect this problem. Her fertile soils are too vitally essential to continued prosperity to permit them to be wasted by a process that can not be so readily controlled, as these experiments have conclusively shown. I believe that the good which will follow in the wake of work of this nature will be revolutionary in its effects. Almost surely there is going to come about in Texas such better conditions of land usage as will insure not only continued good crop yields but increased yields. Work of this kind will be followed up wherever it is carried on. There is great need for precisely the same kind of work in many parts of the nation. It is vital that we have these demonstrations or work of this kind carried on upon the great agricultural soil types of the United States, particularly those that are known to be highly susceptible to disastrous soil erosion.

Following the principal speaker, Mr. Jones called upon a number of the guests each of whom responded along the lines of water conservation and soil erosion, with the exception of County Agent Tanner who outlined methods of terracing from practical experience pertaining to the subject.

The guests then departed for a personal view of the experimental work and accomplishments at the Experiment Station.

THREE WEST TEXANS IN PECULIAR ACCIDENT

VAN HORN, Texas, Oct. 8.—The most freakish airplane accident ever heard of in this section of the country occurred here Sunday morning when a ship in taking off dropped its engine out of the nacelle when it hit one bump and then bounced over the engine as the result of striking another. Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland Chamber of Commerce; Frank King, Big Spring laundry operator and owner of the plane, and the pilot, Loy Mitchell, were in the machine when the engine fell out. The trio was badly shaken up but none was injured. Vickers, King and Mitchell were returning to their homes after attending an air mail conference Saturday in El Paso. They landed on the emergency field here because of a mechanical trouble. The field was rough. Mitchell was attempting to take off when the wheels of his ship struck a hummock of bear grass. The plane bounced high into the air and came down with a hard thump which jarred it so that every connection of the engine was sheared off and the motor dropped under the ship. Bystanders declared all that saved the lives of its occupants was another clump of bear grass which the plane struck just after the engine fell. This clump of grass also bounced the ship high into the air and it cleared the engine.

Mitchell is a bus driver operating out of Sweetwater and also has several hundred hours flying experience as an airplane pilot. He had made the trip to El Paso with the Midland and Big Spring citizens in the interests of air mail service for West Texas and also of commercial aviation. The plane Mitchell was piloting at the time of the accident belonged to Mr. King.

The 4-H Club boys winning trips to the Dallas Fair were as follows: Borden Bray, Snyder—Baby beef. Algie Stevenson, Hermleigh—Registered Jersey Heifer. Johnnie Jordan, Ira—Pig and Milo. Weldon Jefferies, Union—Grain Sorghums.

In fairness, S. D. Hays and John Henry Trussell each were the two leading Club Boys in the county on records and accomplishments but each were not eligible for this trip because the Dallas Fair rules that boys cannot win but one trip to the Fair. The Fair pays their expenses while at the Fair. C. C. Willis.

DUBLIN SHIPS TON OF BUTTER

One ton of butter was exported from Dublin to Chicago and Denton during the first week's operation of the new cream station there.

A ton is only a small part of the creamery's capacity as it is easily capable of turning out 18 or more tons per week when the machinery has been adjusted and the source of the cream supply organized. The business is under the direction of W. T. Music, who buys all of the sweet and sour cream available in the territory, paying 50 cents a pound for the sweet cream and 38 cents for sour. Many farmers and dairymen are taking advantage of the difference in price and bringing in the cream while it is sweet. Let the day hasten that will bring a creamery to Snyder.

COLORADO LIONS TO SPONSOR PARK

According to the Colorado Record, the Lions Club of that city have announced that the major activity of the Colorado Lions club will be to work for a park and adequate playgrounds for Colorado will meet with universal approval in the city. Every citizen doubtless realizes the great need for some kind of park here, and knowing the reputation of Lions clubs in general and the Colorado club in particular, we are greatly encouraged by the announcement.

It has been said on many occasions that no other town in West Texas is more favorably situated for a real park than is Colorado. Lone Wolf creek northeast of the city affords one of the finest sites in West Texas for a park, and many cities would give several thousand dollars to have such a stream near them.

The Colorado Lions club does not expect to create a park in a few weeks, neither does it expect to create an elaborate park at once when the work is started, but the club will work to the end that Colorado will eventually have a park and any plan devised by anyone will be considered.

Certain individuals have been discussing the park proposition for several years, and we hope these citizens will continue to discuss this proposition. There is no reason why others should drop the idea because the Lions club expects to work to that end. The club wants to cooperate with others on matters of this kind and doubtless the announcement that the club is willing to get behind such a proposition will give the idea force and we confidentially expect something definite to materialize regarding a park within the next year at least.

We are glad indeed to commend the Lions club for this action. It shows definitely that the club is carrying out the idea of service to the community. The Snyder Lions club could do a definite good thing by sponsoring a like idea here.

OBREGON'S SLAYING LAID TO "MARTYRS" GROUP

Seen women and five men, all Roman Catholics, are under arrest accused of having conspired to slay President Calles, as well as the late President-elect, General Obregon, according to an Associated Press dispatch. The police officials declare that the group had first planned to slay the two officials with poison at a dance which they attended, and later to bomb a bridge over which General Obregon and President Calles were to pass. Both plans were abandoned as impracticable, but it is alleged that the conspirators continued their plottings until they resulted in the death of General Obregon.

The priest attribute to Rafael Enriquez Vidal, who is one of those arrested, the statement that he was invited to join the group, being promised entrance to heaven if he should become one of the "martyrs." In a signed statement Antonio Rios Zertuche, chief of police, said that Enriquez and others among those under arrest made confessions. Enriquez, he declared, told of a priest Superior Concepcion Acebeda de la Lata, who has been in custody for some time in connection with slaying of General Obregon, showing him pictures of young men executed for religious activities and expressing her determination to organize another group of "martyrs." The police statement says she told him the pope would canonize all those who died in behalf of the church.

It does not pay to buy the cheapest linens, as they are loaded with starch, which comes out in the first washing and leaves the cloth flimsy and thin. Good linens, used with good judgment and laundered with care, will last for years and be a joy as long as there is anything left of them. Colored table damasks are a novelty, pretty white in style, but probably will not continue long. It is fun to have just a touch of them for variety, but one should not buy them in large supplies. We have today the choicest soft yellows, blues, lavenders, ivory, pinks and greens in table linens, as gay and as popular as all the other startling color developments of this age.

They are relieving you all right, but the trouble is, they have relieved you of your income and in the next eight years they will probably relieve you of your farms.

put an unworthy man in office without the help of your Senate? If you are satisfied to have your liquor law enforced by Andrew Mellon, who owned fifty one per cent of all the distillery stock in America, you need not worry about its enforcement under democratic rule. Smith is an anti-prohibitionist, but he believes in enforcing the law and his life and public record is as clean as a hound's tooth; Woodrow Wilson was wet, as was James M. Cox, our nominee in 1920, and so was John W. Davis, our nominee in 1924. From whence comes all this bitter opposition to Al Smith? Is it because he is an anti-prohibitionist? I am afraid not. Is it because he belongs to Tammany? Can Tammany be any worse or more corrupt than the republican administration for the last seven and three quarter years, in which Hoover has been a central figure? What about Philadelphia's corrupt republican municipal administration? What about Chicago under Big Bill Thompson, a republican leader? In Chicago life is not even safe, much less property rights. Regardless of what they say about Tammany, New York has had for thirty years the cleanest, most efficient government of any large city in America, and every decent democrat in New York City belongs to Tammany, and the City has been under democratic rule practically all of this period. My friends, most of this talk about Tammany emanates from republican sources.

claim for themselves, namely, that of worshipping God according to the dictates of his own conscience. It seems to me that some members of the democratic party have strayed far from home in taking such a position, and that they would do well to remember that the founder of the party, Thomas Jefferson hoped to be remembered to future generations mainly for his work in effecting the passage in the State of Virginia of the statute guaranteeing religious freedom. It seems to me that as a democrat and the son of a confederate veteran, that if I believed all of the things are paying cheap politicians to say about Al Smith, then that if I could not vote for Al Smith, I would not go to the polls in November and cast my vote for a man who has been part and parcel of the most corrupt administration in the history of this country and who only this year passed an order in his department in Washington placing the negro clerks and negro politicians on the basis of social equality with the white women working in his department and requiring them to mix and mingle with each other at adjoining desks instead of being segregated on separate floors as has been the custom in Washington for many years. If Herbert Hoover had never done anything else that I did not like except pass this order decreasing social equality between the white women in his office and the negroes working for him, I could never get my consent to cast my vote for him, and if I could not vote for Al Smith, I would stay away from the polls on election day.

MISSIONARY TO CHINA SENDS GOOD LETTER

According to a letter from Rev. H. C. Talbot, missionary to China, superstitious in that country are rampant, and the tiger spoken of in the letter is at the Times-Signal. The letter verbatim follows: Shanghai, O. P. Box No. 1234, Dear Editor: Enclosed I send you a tiger. Chinese speak of four tigers—the yellow and black tiger, the black tiger, the white tiger and the money tiger. The latter is made of cash, the black tiger is the steed of the god-of-wealth. The white tiger is a sign of bad luck so is never seen in pictures. From childhood the Chinese fear the tiger. He is made a frightful monster children. If naughty they are told the "Lao-hu" (tiger) will catch them. So "tiger" is an ever present fear to little "Chinks," not only, but it remains to old age, other as an evil spirit than as a tiger, a one never allow the road he sees paper tigers pasted over the door, that the evil spirits, seeing the tiger, will flee away to a tigerless house. Chinese have great faith in tiger bones, claws, teeth, etc. Traveling medicine men with tiger skins stretched on poles as sign-boards rarely wait long for purchasers of their wares. On the tiger sent rides Chang Tao-ling, the first Taoist Pope in China. He is said to have been born on Tien Moh San (Heavenly-eye Mountain) in A. D. 35. I have been on this mountain when out-iterating and slept in one of the temples. Chang was asked to be an official; but he chose to meditate in silence and cultivate virtue. He went to dwell in China's Western Hills where he was shown by a book given him from above, how to find the elixir of life and from other books how to ascend to heaven, how to fly, and how to walk among the stars. With such other magic powers he could fight demons, divide mountains and seas, rule the winds and thunder and send demons running with fright or bring spirits covering before him. Being the head of the Taoists and being in possession of the elixir of life and of talismans for the cure of all diseases, not only is he highly respected by the people, but he is highly respected by the great and the rich. Wealth by the sale of such things to the people and they themselves to be sought out as great healers. Charms with Chang Tao-ling's seal are purchased by rich and poor for goodly sums and are pasted up in the homes or are carried about on their persons. You can see these charms and seals above Chang's head. You will see, too, that he is dressed in the finest garments in his right hand is his gavel of authority and in his left hand he has a cup of the elixir of everlasting life. The tiger on which he rides is crushing with its paws the five poisonous creatures that represent all creatures that injure the health. If you look carefully you can make out a snake, toad, centipede, lizard and a spider. The little tiger behind has in its mouth Chang's own magic sword. Chang is pasted up in the home on the "Double 5th"—5th of 5th Moon—June 22 this year. He is supposed to repress the poisonous creatures so to ward off calamity and sickness, especially during the hot, trying month of Summer. On the Double Fifth the children are dressed in cheap, tiger-like suits of clothes, also to keep off disease—causing evil spirits who will harm children but are afraid of tigers. The children are also decorated with charms around their necks and arms and have tiger stripes of yellow paint on their faces. Chang Tao-ling is also called the "Heavenly Teacher," "Chang to Angel," "Chief of the Wizard," "The Ideal Man," etc. I suppose 50 million of him, such as I enclose, are pasted up and worshipped each year. The headquarters of his descendants and of the Taoists has been in the Dragon-tiger Mountain in Kiangsi Province since A. D. 1000. From this place come millions of charms, talismans, etc., to be sold to credulous people all over China. They figured gamely stepped in superstition the Chinese are and how much they need the Precious Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. With best wishes and kindest regards. Yours in Christ's glad service, (Rev.) H. G. C. Hallock.

Driving Out of Ruts Attempting to drive out of a deep rut places a severe strain on the parts of the front axle assembly. If the car is in a rut to a complete stop, the wheels are turned to one side as far as possible, and the car backed, the wheels will easily mount the sides of the ruts without the least strain. How to Make a Long Spout Oil Can Take an ordinary oil can, fasten a cork over end of the spout, not to obstruct the opening, then stick a wire of desired length into the cork, directly below the spout opening. The oil will flow along the wire to the farther end. To Loosen a Tight Nut or Bolt Next time an unusually tight nut or bolt is encountered, try placing two wrenches on it instead of one, the handles in a V position. Then pull jointly on both wrenches. This distributes the pressure over several faces of the nut or bolt and the jaws of the wrenches. Body Squeaks A mixture of kerosene and lubricating oil, forced between the body crevices with a squirt gun or a brush, will overcome body squeaks. Boiling the grease will permit the mixture to penetrate. Of course it is necessary to see that all bolts are tight. Another excellent remedy is to loosen the body bolts, then back them up with grease. The grease will work over all the bolts when tightening and prevent many squeaks from this source. Use of Graphite A thick paste of flake graphite and oil, applied to the spark plug threads when inserting them in the motor will make them easy to remove and also prevents leakage. This mixture is also recommended to use on any bolts and studs which are subjected to considerable heat. Heat Expands and Cold Contracts Don't exert much strength in screwing a spark plug so tightly into a hot motor. When the engine cools the cylinder metal will contract, making it extremely difficult to remove the plug when necessary. Simple Theft Lock Drill a hole in the clutch pedal lever close to the floor board, and insert a nail in the hole. Of course the car could be towed, but it could not be driven under its own power, as done in the majority of thefts. Cleaning Lamp Reflectors Lamplack, a soft black powder which can be purchased at any drug or hardware store, is excellent to clean lamp reflectors. A little lamplack on a soft cloth, rubbed over the surface of the reflector, will quickly restore its brilliancy, giving it a circular motion. It will not scratch, and at the same time it leaves a certain film on the surface that prevents tarnishing. If the surface is badly tarnished, use a paste of lamplack and water, finishing with another cloth and dry lamplack. How to Make a Practical Oil Funnel Select a round quart bottle of clear glass. Saturate a piece of cord in kerosene or turpentine, tie it tightly around the bottle about one inch from bottom and ignite the cord. As the flame dies out, tap the bottom of the bottle sharply. The bottom will break off where the cord was tied. Result is a practical funnel for pouring oil into the breather pipe. Grease the Headlight Rims Quite often a headlight lens is broken, or a cold chisel and hammer become necessary to remove the rusted headlight rim, when necessary to replace a lamp or clean a reflector. This can be avoided easily if a little grease is rubbed on the rims the next time they are removed. Corroded Fuse Electrical connections will occasionally corrode. Don't blame it always on a burnt-out fuse if the lights go on and off. See if the fuse is corroded. Squeaky Wheels Squeaky wheels are often caused by the drying out of the wooden spokes. If a few drops of kerosene are allowed to work into the spoke joints, it will tighten the spokes. Adjusting Tire Chains Drape the chain over the wheel with the clamps to the rear so that when the clamps strike the road they strike with a closing motion. If clamps are turned in a reverse position, the tendency will be to open the clamps as they strike the ground, which is often the cause of losing a chain. West Canada is a land of farm owners, according to census figures. In Manitoba more than 51 per cent of occupied farms are inhabited by their owners; in Saskatchewan over 77 per cent, and in Alberta over 75 per cent. Many birds are very useful in the garden for destroying grubs and insects. The best way to encourage them is to place nesting boxes in the trees. Fresh water is a necessity for your bird. Water for bathing should be made available daily during the warm summer months, and twice a week during the winter. Vienna has a city operated loan shop which has banished the loan shark. A FISHERMAN'S DAY Rises at 4 a. m. and digs worms. Returns to cabin with fifteen assorted worms. Spends two hours untangling lines. Finds can tipped over; six worms missing. Gets in boat and pushes off. Has three nibbles in four hours. At last! Vigorous tug at line. Prospective victim seems pretty good size. Fish doesn't want to come in boat. Great struggle; fish loses. Fish flops around and almost escapes. Man forgets sportsmanship. Bats fish over head with oar. Loses balance and falls overboard— Great excitement. Finally clambers back in boat. Decides to call it a day. Wife greets him with "Is that all?"

SCRAPBOOK HINTS FOR THE HOME

Shiny Garments When a garment becomes shiny, sponge it with a solution of one teaspoonful of ammonia to one quart of water. Then press on the wrong side. "Is your mother in?" a lady asked of a small boy who was scrubbing the front porch. "Do you think I'd be scrubbing this porch if she wasn't?" was the curt reply. "Now you've inherited money, are you going to get yourself some decent clothes?" "No, indeed, I'll get the kind the other women are wearing." Fertilizer for Fern Use sodium chloride eight parts, potassium nitrate four parts, magnesium two parts. Mix and bottle. Dissolve a teaspoonful of mixture in a quart of water and water the fern about once a week.

CAN THE CREAMERY PROMOTER The cooperative creamery promoter is around again. Every time dairying gets a real start somewhere some fellow who years for a job or some other fellow who sells butter-making machinery comes around and wants to organize a cooperative creamery. He generally proposes to sell about $15,000 worth of stock to pay for building and machinery and other equipment for the creamery. Sometimes, to prod the folks along he offers to furnish a manager for the creamery for the first year or so until things get going right. These propositions are, as Al Smith says, "boloney." In other words, bunk. Farmers in any community who want a cooperative creamery can build and equip one complete, with a capacity of 250,000 pounds of butterfat a year, for not more than $8,000. Any higher cost than that means gravy to somebody. The cooperative creamery idea is all right. Instead of only three in Oklahoma, there ought to be thirty, because there are at least that many rural communities where the farmers have enough cows to warrant a cooperative creamery. —Carl Williams, in October 1 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. ## KEN MAYNARD A GRADUATE ENGINEER

Although Ken Maynard, the popular western star is a graduate civil engineer he has never practiced his profession. He joined a circus right after getting his degree and became their stunt and trick rider until his entry into motion pictures. His latest feature "The Wagon Show," a stor of circus life is now playing at the Palace Theatre. Saturday, October 13.

Ken Maynard, star of "The Wagon Show," his latest western now playing at the Palace Theatre, is one of the few cowboys in motion pictures who did not come direct from the range. He secured his early training riding range on his father's ranch in Texas but the daring and trick riding which has won him world renown fame were learned in the various circuses he was with prior to entering pictures.

In "The Wagon Show," Ken Maynard's latest starring western now playing at the Palace Theatre, Ken performs several of the darning stunts that won him the plaudits of the crowds when he was a member of Ringling Bros. circus.

WORK RESUMED ON COLLAPSED BRIDGE

Work on the Morgan Creek bridge, west of Colorado on the Bankhead Highway, has been resumed for the first time since the collapse of one of the concrete sections a few weeks ago. Sebe Ryals, construction foreman, was killed and nine other men injured.

DEEPLY THANKFUL

The Times-Signal is indebted to Editor Luther M. Watson of the Nolan County News at Sweetwater for sending us Joe Lee Kirgan, expert linotype operator on that paper. Mr. Kirgan arrived on the job Monday morning and helped us two days. The newspaper would have been in a "jack-pot" without this assistance as our regular operator, Otis Carter is on his honeymoon.

So we take our hats off to Mr. Watson for his gracious cooperation and to Mr. Kirgan for his personal assistance. It may be since Kirgan is a single chap that working on Otis' machine may lead him also into double harness. We hope so.

FIVE PIONEERS AT ONE TIME

Five Scurry county pioneers were guests at the same time at the Times-Signal office to place their names on the roll call of men who had arrived here 20 years or more ago.

O. L. Barfoot came to Scurry county from Mississippi with his parents in 1889. When he arrived he was just about 7 or 9 months old and really could not tell just how the country appealed to him then. But it's different now.

B. D. Mason another pioneer came to Texas from Alabama when a year old, and landed in Rockwall county. He came to Scurry in 1898.

H. R. Lewis another visitor went to Arkansas from Tennessee, then to Oklahoma where he lived a year, and then landed in old Scurry in 1908.

J. G. Whitley with the Mrs. arrived here from McClellan county in 1895.

S. R. Fiekas came from Missouri to Hamilton, Texas, in 1876 and finally moved here in 1880.

The paper surely enjoys these visits with the gentlemen who have been responsible for the onward advancement of this section.

Panhandle-Rio Grande Highway

Next to the Bankhead highway in importance to Colorado is the Panhandle-Rio Grande highway, running from Mangum, Oklahoma, to Del Rio. This was brought out at the meeting at Spur Tuesday, which J. H. Greene and A. A. Dorn attended. These men report a very enthusiastic meeting and favorable reports for the highway from points far to the north.

With the designation and improvement of this highway through Mitchell county as a link in the highway from the Mexican border to the north there will be an additional flow of traffic through Colorado.

This route is the shortest route from Kansas, Western Oklahoma and the Eastern Panhandle to the southwest and what is termed an all-weather route. It is under the caprock and therefore is said to be a more desirable route.

There is no doubt of the importance of this highway to Colorado. There is no other project being considered now that is of greater importance to the city and the county and we are indeed glad to report that plans are being made to secure designation of the gaps in this highway and make it a real artery of traffic.—Colorado Record.

ONE AMENDMENT SHOULD BE VOTED DOWN

The McLean News is against one of the three amendments that are to be voted on at the next election, and very wisely put it in this light:

"It is a fact that most state amendments to come before the voters this year should very properly be killed. The proposition to exempt parsonages and other property belonging to churches and other religious bodies should not be passed. There is no reason why churches, lodges, etc. should not be taxed, as they do not represent the people as a whole, but only a small division of them, and on the other hand history has proven that the wider the separation of church and state the better for the common people."

GAINES CO. CATTLE DEALS REPORTED LAST WEEK

FASTEST HUMAN IN WORLD APPEARS HERE

"The fastest man in the world," Charley Paddock was a Snyder visitor Saturday and gave two wonderful talks. The one at the High School Auditorium, Saturday evening was an illustrated talk. Mr. Paddock also spoke at a special chapel service at the high school Monday morning.

In his short talk Mr. Paddock thrilled the students to breathless attention as he told in graphic detail of the spirit of determination with which had carried Bo McMillan from a little high school in southern Texas to the attainment of his goal as captain of the Center College football team and a place on the all-American eleven. "He said only a mediocre player in high school," said Paddock, "but he set out to attain his ambition and trained himself for that great day when his team went against Harvard."

Paddock also told of the thrilling race at the Olympic games where strength was brought to test after speed had failed.

"Have a purpose," he said, "have something definite you want to do and then train for that end."

"If we are willing to give the best that is in us," he said in closing, "though we may not win the crown of victory, we will at least have shown that we have that in us that makes for the ultimate success."

STOP FARM THIEVES WITH A SHOT GUN

Chicken stealing time has again arrived, the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman of October 1 warns. Farmers in Oklahoma and Texas were pretty well worked up last spring about chicken stealing and farm thievery in general. Then during the summer there have been fewer thefts and smaller losses and most of the anti-thief organizations in farm communities have ceased to function. A lot of the chicken houses that were locked last winter have not been locked for three months. Farmers and communities with tattoo markers have new flocks of pullets on hand that have not been marked. The whole farmer campaign against thieves is as flat and flabby as an unused football. It needs inflating.

There will be plenty of communities that will do nothing to put the fear of the law into the hearts of potential thieves this fall. Communities that put up a stiff front and make a business-like effort to catch the first sneak thief that starts operations will profit by the indifference of the communities that make farm thievery easy. Thieves choose the easy marks.

To Induce Sleep
A small dose of soda taken in a glass of warm water before retiring will often induce sleep in restless persons.

"WHY, MY DEAR, DON'T TELL ME YOU'RE so old-fashioned as that!

"We cook and heat the house too, with gas. Of course here we use these neat little unit heaters in each room; and we keep as snug as can be.

"But when we build, we're going to have one of these new gas furnaces. You can regulate them from upstairs and you never need to touch them.

"Why don't you heat with gas this winter? It's so much cleaner, and we have found it very economical."

CARTER-THOMAS WEDDING

A wedding fraught with much interest was solemnized Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when Miss Ime Lee Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thomas of Sweetwater, and Otis D. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Carter of Lockney, were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church of Snyder with Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the church, officiating in the presence of friends and relatives of the couple using a most beautiful ring ceremony.

Shortly after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Carter left for a honeymoon trip that will take them to Fort Worth, Dallas and other points east. They expect to return this week-end.

The setting for the wedding was a bower of greenery entwined with roses and autumn leaves. The altar was banked with ferns and two large floor baskets, with arched handles filled with lovely bouquets of pink and white lilies reflected a garden appearance.

There was a short program of nuptial music with Mrs. Clifton Aiken, sister of the bride, singing "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Genora Cole at the piano and Miss Eula Orn and Miss Lorine Williams for Sweetwater, who played subdued obligato violin music. Miss Cole also played the Lohengrin music for the procession.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. Her gown was very striking in its simplicity, being of rich brown transparent velvet with brown felt hat and velvet slippers to match. She carried an arm bouquet of rosebuds tied with ivory tulle.

Rose petals from the heart of a pink rose were scattered in the pathway of the bride little Miss Doris Jo Thomas, sister of the bride. Little Miss Gennell Thomas, niece of the bride was ring bearer.

The bride's sister, Miss Golda Thomas, was maid of honor, and was gowned in a dark blue transparent velvet, and carried an arm bouquet of roses.

Mr. Carter had as his best man Mr. W. H. Ritzenthaler, junior editor and advertising manager of the Scurry County Times-Signal.

Miss Thomas has for the past eight months been supervisor of instruction of the Wood Instrumental Training School in Snyder, where she also teaches voice and piano. She is active in Sunday School and young people's work and is very popular both in Sweetwater and Snyder.

Mr. Carter for the past two years has been associated with the Times-Signal. He was graduated from Simmons University with honors with the class of 1926, and during his senior year was editor-in-chief of the Simmons Brand, weekly newspaper of the university. He has been director of music at the First Baptist Church for over a year and has been identified with Sunday School and young people's work since coming to Snyder.

The Times-Signal joins with the happy couples many friends in extending best wishes of happiness and success.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Aiken, J. E. THE TYPE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE FOR GROWING CITIES

Twenty years ago it became evident that electric service from small isolated power plants was not sufficient for growing communities. Texas was coming to life industrially. Industry needed more power. Inventors were devising machines which lessened labor in homes, offices, stores and factories, and these machines operated by electricity. The demand for electric power was growing.

A more dependable, more constant source of electric power was badly needed, even twenty years ago.

The founders of the TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY through long experiment, and through their observations of the experiments of other leading electrical engineers, found that electric energy could be sent great distances over high-tension power lines from large generating stations.

Many years ago this Company put into operation a system of electric power transmission lines. Since that time this company has effected many other electrical developments whose effects upon the life and growth of the communities which it serves have been far-reaching.

Where there was one demand for electricity sixteen years ago, there are hundreds today. Yet this Company has kept pace, has anticipated growth and been ready with a full measure of service. The system of large generating stations and high-tension power transmission lines is the proven power service. Texas cities and towns served by the TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY have unexcelled electric service.

dwelling especially on the persecutions of Roman Catholics. This turn in our discussion grew out of Townsend's charge of bigotry and intolerance against protestant simply because of our opposition to the election of Al Smith. I grant that bigotry and persecution, when and wherever practiced, is wrong; but opposition is not always persecution. It is not only our privilege but it is our duty to oppose one candidate and favor another on the grounds of fitness for the office sought. In regard to the persecutions of Catholics above referred to, it is granted that some comparatively small offenses have been committed. But these pale into insignificance when compared to the terrible, long-drawn-out and horrible persecutions by Catholics and directed by the Roman hierarchy, such as are referred to in my last article, and many other cases that might readily be cited in history, in the course of which tens of thousands of innocent and helpless protestants, men, women and children, were persecuted to the death. These things are not easily forgotten and, whether right or wrong, it is human nature to strike back. This accounts for the minor cases referred to by Mr. Townsend. I would like to write more in detail along these lines, but space will not permit.

Mr. Townsend says that, "Brother Tate's statements regarding the attitude of Catholics of the present time toward public schools are not correct." Well let us see. Catholic leaders say that Rome (meaning the Roman Church) never changes. Here is what a few of them have had to say about it: "The common schools of this country are sinks of moral pollution and nurseries of hell," Chicago Tablet.

"The hideous fetish, called public schools, is only an agency for the propagation of the Roman Catholic Church," Colorado Catholic.

"The public or common schools system is a swindle on the people, an outrage on justice, a foul disgrace in matters of morals, and should be abolished forever," N. Y. Tablet.

"Education outside of the control of the Roman Catholic Church is a damnable heresy." Pius IX. Many other such statements might be cited.

The marriage question may be finally settled in the same way notwithstanding Townsend's statement that I am "Absolutely incorrect." It is granted by Catholics that civil marriage is valid in a legal sense, thus safeguarding property rights etc., but the Church holds that Christian marriage is a sacrament; and "The Church lays down the condition on which her children can receive the sacrament." I here quote only one of several propositions laid down by Pius IX as follows: Proposition 73. "In virtue of a merely civil contract, there can be no true matrimony among Christians; it is certain that the Christian matrimonial contract is always a sacrament; if there is no sacrament, such a contract is null." There you are, Brother Townsend. In this connection let me add that it is unfortunate for Mr. Townsend's case that on the very day that his piece was printed in this paper, other papers came out with an elaborate account of the double ceremony in the case of Tunney, the pugilist, who married in Rome October 3rd—Two ceremonies. One civil and one by the Church.

But, in spite of all this; the MIAN issue in this campaign is prohibition. Every body knows that Al Smith is wet in sentiment and practice and has in the past opposed prohibition and now declares his purpose to continue that fight, although pretending to stand on a dry platform. Let the people rally to the polls elect a man—Herbert Hoover—who is entirely free from all these objectionable qualities. JAS. H. TATE.
