

An editorial in this morning's paper is headed "Putting Money to Work," and I am writing the editor a twoword question: "Whose money?"

They are to milk cows by radio, the papers say, but we imagine a lot of 'em won't give their milk down till Amos and Andy come on at 10:30.

Henry Ford says there is no such thing as over-production, but I'd like to take him out some night and show him about a million old model T's without tail-lights and see if he wouldn't change his mind.

Radio vs. PaPer. A few days ago O. O. McIntyre wrote:

"The radio, I believe is our sick-est industry. It has built up the most perfect equipment in the world and finds itself with no talent. Outside of Will Rogers, Amos 'n' Andy and Floyd Gibbons and a few crack orchestras it is destitute of amusement features and its continuous drive is wearing out public patience. I gave my radio away two months ago."

TEXAS BANKER SEES PLAN FOR "COME BACK"

"We went joy riding and are just coming back home" is the concluding observation of an article by R. L. Thornton, president of the Mercantile Bank and Trust Company of Texas and produced in the November issue of Texas Opportunities, a publication of Texas Power and Light Company.

Mr. Thornton produces his capable discussion of Texas business with reference to various questions asked each day of business leaders such as "What's the matter with business? When will it come back, etc.?" After admitting that a condition of serious nature has been in existence for several months, Mr. Thornton turns to a discussion of what can be done about it and the substance of his entire observation is that same living by Texans will do more to help the state than any of the many other suggested remedies. The writer insists that not enough importance is placed upon the relation of income to expenditure by too many. There is wisdom in Mr. Thornton's urge "Go to work—work from sun to sun if necessary. Live within our incomes and pay for what we buy and buy what we can pay for. Practice frugality; for a dollar bill will buy more today than it has for several years. Our progress may be a little slower, but if so, it will be more certain."

New Red Cross Officers. A. C. Preuit has been named Chairman of the Scurry County Chapter of the Red Cross with the annual drive for Roll Call to be made very soon. Mr. Preuit takes the place of E. J. Anderson who had resigned owing to his inability to give the position the time that it requires. Harvey Shuler was again named secretary-treasurer and Lee T. Stinson, vice-chairman. Scurry County secured $1,250.00 worth of seed wheat. All of which was the cash gift of the American Red Cross. Our section should not forget what this great American institution has not only completed for our section but wherever it may be needed. The Times-Signal is mighty happy to have a small part in enclosing with this issue, a special Red Cross section provided by the National Committee.

BREEDER-FEEDER AIMS WILL HELP FARMERS. The breeder-feeder movement will do more to get the farmer of Texas on a sound financial basis than anything else. It will automatically bring about diversification. It will save Texas soil from the terrific punishment which it has undergone for half a century from our diabol-

Simmons University Wallops Snyder Tigers. The heavier Simmons University "Frosh" squad came to Snyder, Friday to play the Tigers after O'Donnell team had cancelled their scheduled game here. The result was eight first downs for both teams, two touchdowns apiece with Simmons able to kick one point after touchdown, leaving the score at 13 to 12. But the Tigers showed a fine spirit and good game and really outplayed their older brothers. Howell and Johnson made the Tiger touchdowns.

FRIDAY FOOT BALL. Results of local interest: Snyder 12, Simmons Frosh 13. Stamford 25, Hamlin 0. Albany 45, Moran 7. Haskell 26, Merkle 0. Colorado 29, Rotan 13. Roscoe 14, Roby 0. Brownfield 41, Lamesa 0. Lubbock 0, Amarillo 0.

McMURRY PREXY ASKED TO REMAIN HEAD OF SCHOOL Sweetwater Host To M.E. Conference Wed.

President J. W. Hunt, Former Snyder Pastor Asked to Stay On Job. Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry College and former pastor of The First Methodist Church here recently handed his resignation in to the board of trustees. He asked to be relieved of his duties that he might return to his ministerial duties. The committee meeting at Abilene Friday, will advise the board of trustees to decline the tendered resignation. The committee composed of W. J. Fulwiler, Henry James, J. W. Couch, and H. O. Wooten, all of Abilene; the Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, presiding elder of the Sweetwater district, and the Rev. R. A. Stewart, presiding elder of the Northwest Texas Methodist Episcopal conference. The board of trustees will consider the recommendation at a special meeting in Sweetwater November 11, one day prior to the opening of the Texas conference there. Dr. Hunt declined to make a statement following announcement of the recommendation. "I prefer to await the final action of the board of trustees before I announce a decision," he said. "However, I do want to express my appreciation to the members of the committee for their demonstration of confidence and support."

Great Preparations Being Made By Nolan County Churches. Sweetwater citizens are making great preparations to entertain the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference that starts next Wednesday and will continue through four days. According to the Nolan County News, J. W. Butler has been named chairman to head the general committee, assisted by Pink Boyd and I. S. Andrews. Mrs. P. G. Dabney is chairman of the committee arranging for housing conference delegates and Mrs. J. P. Neal heads the committee on serving meals to the visitors. The conference chose Sweetwater for the session upon invitation of the Sweetwater Club and that organization will cooperate with the First Methodist churches in entertaining the 350 pastors, church officers and delegates expected to attend the five day session. Assignment of pastors to churches for the coming year will be the chief interest of the conference, it is said. Bishop H. A. Boaz of Houston will preside at the session and, with the nine presiding elders, make the appointments. The presiding elders are Revs. L. N. Lipscomb, Sweetwater; E. E. White, Abilene; R. A. Stewart, Stamford; J. O. Haynes, Vernon; W. M. Murrell, Clarendon; Ed R. Wallace, Hooker, Okla.; W. M. Pearce, Amarillo; M. M. Beavers, Plainview; C. A. Bickley, Lubbock. Rev. Cal C. Wright who has served the local pastorate so efficiently and well during the past year is expected to be returned to this city. He has given a fine administration here, is beloved of his congregation and with his family have made friendships that live and endure. Speaking out of turn, the Times-Signal sincerely trusts and hopes that "Cal" as he is familiarly known by his many loyal friends will be right back on the job in Snyder.

J. C. Dawson Is Dealer New Coal Heat Process. Chemacol Arrives For Sale In Scurry County At Snyder. J. C. Dawson has taken over the exclusive sale of Chemacol in Scurry county, a new and exclusive processing of coal that gives more heat, less dust, no clinkers and less smoke and ash. The new process has been definitely perfected over a period of 7 years and tested in every way. See the ad elsewhere in this issue. It will interest those who have stove heating problems.

Willing Workers Institute Is Drawing Crowd. Forty Taking Study Course At First Methodist Church. Progress of the Willing Workers Epworth League Institute at the First Methodist church this week has been marked with great interest and activity. Forty are taking the study course, 25 of whom are from Snyder. Tonight's meeting subject is "An Ideal Business Meeting," in charge of Union Chapel leaders, while presentation of diplomas will be made Friday night. Various local workers in the Epworth League are assisting in the week which has proven very successful. Dean Virgil Gore of Canyon is leading the teaching force, assisted by Miss Burnice Ramsey of Colorado; Mrs. Della McPherson, Union Chapel; Mrs. Sloan Miller, Miss Vernelle Stinson, both of Snyder and Miss Lita McCurry of Colorado. D. P. Yoder, district Lay Leader has also been assisting during the week.

Snyder School Shows Pioneer Since 1909 Dies Here

J. W. Templeton Succumbs From Illness Extending Over Six Years. Friends of more than twenty years standing paid tribute and respect at the bier of J. W. Templeton, Friday afternoon, when funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church. Business men and citizens who had known the deceased ever since moving to Snyder in 1909 paid their final and lasting respects to this gentleman whom everyone knew and who was a friend to all who came under his acquaintanceship. The community mourns with the wife and sons in the leave-taking of this pioneer citizen of old Scurry county. J. W. Templeton was born in McMinnville, Tennessee, moving with his family to Willsboro, Texas at the age of four years. He was the third boy in a family of twelve children. Early in life he attended a business college in New Orleans, following a grade school training. He was married in 1895 to Miss Belle Beggs at Willsboro, from which union, four children were born, two daughters having died early in life, and two sons, B. R. of Houston, and J. W. Jr. of El Centro, Calif., who with the wife survive the deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Templeton moved to Snyder in 1909, where he purchased a one-half interest in a grocery store of B. H. Freeland, later buying the partner's interests out and operating himself to 1924 when he sold the business to T. L. McMullan. Since that time, Mr. Templeton had retired from active business, a slight heart affliction keeping him bedfast at various times. During the month his affliction became more serious and an operation was made which he never fully rallied and which finally was the cause of his death late last Wednesday night. Funeral services were in charge of (See Pioneer on last page)

SNYDER BOY ON TECH JUDGING TEAM. Selection of the senior livestock team for Texas Tech was announced Saturday by R. C. Mowers, coach and associate professor of animal husbandry. Among the six students so honored appears the name of Hal Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder of this city. Present plans are to send the college team to livestock judging contests at Wichita, Kansas, Kansas City, and Chicago, and here is a "pat on the back" to you Hal. Such fine recognition keeps our good city and county name in the headlines of the news events of West Texas.

Colorado Wolves Play Here On Armistice Day. Plans are being completed to play the Colorado Wolves here on Armistice Day unless the state board should decide otherwise. Snyder Tigers have a most impressive record to show the Wolves when they arrive at Tiger Stadium, with the following scores staring them in the face: Slaton 6, Snyder 12. Stanton 2, Snyder 25. Rotan 0, Snyder 57. Post 0, Snyder 65. Roby 9, Snyder 25. McCamey 12, Snyder 0. Roscoe 7, Snyder 20. Opponents 36, Snyder 204. In conference play, the record is 102 points for the Tigers to 16 for the opposition.

ARMISTICE DAY DETAIL COMPLETED BY POST. The American Legion is asking that the entire citizenship join them from November 4th to 11th as Armistice Week, the 10,000 Legion Posts with around 1,000,000 members are engaging in a simultaneous effort to memorialize the incidents and ideals for which they fought. An invitation is extended to all parts of Scurry county to hear the services Sunday night at the First Baptist church to better know what fundamental truths lie at the bottom of the greatest organization on earth, The American Legion.

Council Institute New Fire Limits. Council in regular session Monday night passed an ordinance eliminating Blocks 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 from fire zone. Another ordinance concerns hatches being unable to operate within fifty feet of any building within the city limits. Fines for the past month of $226.20 were received, with the Water and Sewer department adding $2,274.83 to the city budget.

Second Teams Play 6-6 Tie. Second teams of Snyder and Roscoe high school played to a 6-6 tie at Roscoe Thursday afternoon in a practice affair.

Civil War Times Recalled By A Letter In 1861 From A Friend. Preparations For Battle Between States Shown In 70-Year-Old Letter. The Times-Signal is permitted through the courtesy of Mrs. A. E. Harvey to reproduce a letter written seventy years ago that will be of genuine interest today, especially to the younger generation as well as the pioneer residents. As is noted in the letter it was during the first year of the Civil War and has much to say in regard to preparations being made by the people for the struggle between the States. This self-same letter is still in the possession of Mr. Cullen Collins of Vernon, Alabama, a great grand-son of the lady to whom the letter is addressed. The letter follows: Bastrop County, Texas, October 4, 1861. Dear Sister: I received your letter of the 19th August only yesterday, which I was, of course, glad to do. That being the first information that I have had from any of you since last fall. According to your desire it found me in the best of health, having had the very best of health all this summer. I am fiesher than I ever was at this season of the year. You spoke of not hearing from me in so long a time. I suppose the reason of that is the irregularity of the mails. I wrote three times while in Illinois and three while in Missouri, I then wrote father about three weeks ago. I suppose that letter is there by this time. I started from Illinois the 22nd April, crossed the Mississippi on the 25th. I was very much relieved in feelings when I got in a Southern State, as the war excitement was getting near by and a Southerner was almost afraid to open his mouth. I always spoke my sentiments when I could get a man off to one side but a prudent man would not express himself in a public place. I got along finely all the time, I had no difficulties, and I had a very good time coming home considering everything; lost a good many sheep in driving. Have had some to die since I got here. I suppose it to be by the effect of the (Continued on page 6)

Snyder Boy Enjoying Work At Schreiner

OLD SNYDER "GRAD" GLAD OF GOOD NEWS. Sykes Curry, Snyder boy, now attending Schreiner Institute at Ker-ville, writes the Times-Signal, the following: "Dear Friends:— Boy! was I glad to read in a San Antonio paper Saturday morning where good old S. H. S. poured it on Roscoe, 20 to 7? At the time I was on the special going to see S. I. beat the St. Marys team, 12 to 6; it was a wonderful game. I hurt my back and had to quit football. "Would sure like to see the game Thanksgiving. I am not sure, however, that I'll get to go home for this game. "I'm telling you, I have sure been enjoying the Times-Signal. One never knows what he may learn from it until he leaves home. I look forward to it as a letter from the home folks. You can always count on me as a booster for the old home paper." Your friend, Sykes Curry.

Editor Note:—Thank you Sykes, and hope it may be possible for you to run home Thanksgiving and look this Tiger bunch over and see them walk the Sweetwater Mustangs. The Tigers take no back seat to any West Texas team in Class B this year, or will they against the Class A Mustangs, Turkey Day.

Texas Cotton "Co-Op" Members Meet At Dallas. H. P. Welborn, Member Executive Committee Attends Session. H. P. Welborn, a member of the executive committee, District Seven, of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association left Tuesday to attend a special meeting of the committee at Dallas. Constructive policies and further business of the organization were taken up, and it is expected that the committee will have some interesting data for members when Mr. Welborn returns here. Mr. Welborn was a Times-Signal visitor, Tuesday, and stated that Carl Williams of Washington, D. C. one of the high officials of the organization would be present at the meeting.

ELECTION DAY PASSES EASILY. Possibly 1,000 Votes Will Be Registered From Tuesday Election. Election day Tuesday was like any other day, very quiet. Present indications point to about 1,000 votes being all that the county chairman and committee will have to canvass. Very few Republican votes were cast. Snyder's four boxes showed around 300 votes with the amendments in the lead so far as our information was able to obtain. Lloyd Mountain reported eight votes, seven were straight eight votes, with one Republican voting. Crowder showed 13 votes, one of whom bolted the ticket. From all information that we were able to obtain, the amendments were losing in the rural boxes and winning in the towns and cities of the state. But folks, it will be Ross Sterling for Governor.

American Red Cross Call Will Be November 11. Chairman Preuit Hopes Scurry County Will Go 100 Per Cent. Chairman A. C. Preuit of the American Red Cross Chapter for Scurry county has announced Armistice Day as the start of the annual Roll Call, or membership campaign. The city and county will be thoroughly covered who are anxious to put this section over the top 100 per cent. Scurry county should respond nobly to this call in appreciation of the recent help of $50,000 for West Texas for wheat alone, this section receiving a total of $1,250 which in turn was parceled out to 237 farmers with seed wheat. Captains who are chosen over the county by Chairman Preuit will be depended upon to do their part and co-operate at every point. Watch Red Cross Roll Call.

PEACE OFFICERS TO ACT ON PROBLEMS OF HOBOS ON ROAD. Peace officers from over West Texas will meet in Sweetwater Nov. 6 to discuss the problem of handling the hobo situation and charity cases during the coming cold months. Towns along the Texas & Pacific and Broadway of America are particularly interested in working out a system of handling these problems, it was said, and will have their officers come to the session.

Drouth Relief Sought By Judges Eleven Counties. State Being Asked To Call Special Session For Quick Action. If West Texas farmers are to receive adequate drouth relief to enable them to continue farming next year it must come through the state rather than the federal government in the opinion of county judges and commissioners from a dozen West Texas counties in session at Sweetwater, Friday, says the Reporter. In pursuit of this idea a resolution was placed before the group asking Governor Dan Moody to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of re-enacting drouth relief measures used in 1918-19. Under terms of this act the state would loan relief funds directly to the counties which would in turn distribute it among the ones needing aid. Provide for Warrants. If this step is not adopted, then the resolution would provide for the issuing of warrants to cover the amount of money the counties need, and these warrants would then be purchased by the state. If each farmer could borrow from $50 to $100 at a low rate of interest it would be enough to tide them over, L. T. Youngblood, Blackwell banker, told the group. Members of the resolution committee were Judge Horace Holley, Scurry County; Judge Charles Lewis, Nolan County; Judge White, Callahan County; Judge W. L. Cross, Garza County, and Judge Edgar Hutchins, Crosby County. Judge C. C. Thompson, of Mitchell County, presided over the general assembly and Judge Horace Holley was secretary. Convene at 11 A. M. The morning session convened at 11 o'clock and was spent in outlining the work to be undertaken. Judge Thompson, Judge Holley and other speakers told of conditions in their respective counties and urged the need of relief. "It's not the regular charity cases we are trying to aid," they reiterated. "It's the man who has done his best but failed because of three years crop failure combined with low prices. Men who are needing aid are the backbone of our counties." Complaint against the federal government was voiced by Judge Holley who said he had no "faith in a Republican administration aiding a Democratic state."

SOUTH PLAINS AUTO HEAD VISITS SNYDER. C. H. Amacker, Vice-President and General Manager of the South Plains Automobile Club, Lubbock, was a Snyder visitor, Monday and is interested in establishing a branch of their service in this city. V. E. Aldridge, assistant organizer accompanied Mr. Amacker here.

THINK

Halloween pranks were many and varied. Kids will be kids.

Dr. Surmon and "Jew" Moses of Post were business visitors here Friday.

Mrs. Guy Adams is now in active charge of the Lloyd Dry Goods Co. as local manager.

Dr. G. M. Terry of Lamesa, was a business visitor here, Friday. He was enroute to Mineral Wells.

Eddie Warren of Post was a short time visitor here, Sunday evening, enroute from Abilene to his home.

Mrs. Lee Newsom spent Sunday at Munday, and Mrs. Sallie Pate at Stamford, both of whom were visiting relatives.

American Legion Day program at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, night. Full details elsewhere in this issue.

Miss Mary Joyce, student at W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Joyce.

H. M. Blackard, accompanied by his brother, J. K. Blackard of Abilene, were business visitors in Lamesa, one day last week.

The Snyder Tigers defeated the Colorado Wolves on their field, last Armistice Day, 19 to 7. What will next Tuesday show?

A Lamesa preacher owns a Bible which was picked up June 17, 1775, by an American soldier after the battle of Bunker Hill.

Wert Cope of Rankin has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Trigg. Mr. Cope is with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and is being transferred to Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hancock have moved to Abilene where he will be connected with a dry goods concern there. Mr. Hancock has been manager of the Lloyd Dry Goods Company here.

J. W. Hendry received painful injury to his right eye, Sunday, while working at the Baze lunch room when a small piece of glass got into his eye. He is able to attend school but has suffered considerable pain.

Sam Roberts, editor and owner of the Haskell Free Press was a Thursday guest of his brother, J. W. Roberts and family. Mr. Roberts was enroute to Dallas where his wife was recently operated upon for appendicitis and who is recovering nicely.

Joe Stinson and Hugh Boren left Tuesday for Fort Worth, and were accompanied as far as Mineral Wells by Mrs. Fred A. Grayum. Mr. Stinson is attending the Rexall convention while Mr. Boren is visiting his family. Both are expected back home today.

The Girls High School basket ball team have started working out and they look very good under the coaching eye of Miss Alice Underwood. At present they are working out on the court at the high school campus.

Postmaster B. F. Womack who had been considered seriously ill has been in an Abilene hospital where he is recovering so fast, that postoffice attaches say he will be home this week-end. Postoffice folks say that only a minor complication was the trouble.

One of our reporters dropped into Sears Department store, Tuesday, and noted the happy visage of J. W. Lettich behind the counter. It was like olden times to see Mr. Lettich being behind the counters at this store as it is no new experience to him. He would be happy to greet old and new friends.

The Times-Signal is indebted to President Ernest Taylor of the First State Bank & Trust Company for the special article appearing in this issue, taken from the Temple Telegram. It is well worth reading and will place thoughts in their right succession.

Mrs. T. J. Thompson is nursing a case at Colorado in the home of Bob Fee. She drove over to Snyder, Monday, for last week's Times-Signal with the statement "that she could not miss a single issue and wanted a copy mailed her every week". We shall be happy to comply with that request, Mrs. Thompson.

W. B. Bottomfield, special representative for the Bellanca Aircraft Corporation with offices at Fort Worth, was a Times-Signal visitor, Friday. Mr. Bottomfield has been flying for fourteen years and bears the distinction of being one of the finest pilots in the Southwest. He is a flying partner of "Swede" Rhenstrom, personal representative for A. P. Barrett, who flew here several weeks ago and remained over Sunday when the deluge came.

FROM NICARAGUA
An air mail letter from San Juan de Oriente, Nicaragua, dated Oct. 15 to the Times-Signal from Private Robert J. Smith of the U. S. Marine Corps stated that he had been in some real action there but orders called for the return of the U. S. S. Rochester to the Philadelphia Navy Yards about December 10th. The Rochester is the oldest ship in the U. S. Navy. Bob desired to be remembered to old Snyder friends.

FORMER SNYDERITS MOVE
Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Manley, former Snyderites, write under date of Monday, that they had moved to Willis Point. Their many friends will join us in wishing them every success in the new location. Rev. Manley stated that he shook hands with Col. Easterwood when his special car went through Willis Point, which is the early home of the Colonel, and that the latter made a talk from the platform of the train. The Manleys sent regards to old friends here.

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1930, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 2

Players are still arguing as to whether or not the informatory double is of any value to the game. Here is a hand where an opponent of the use of the informatory double had a chance to crow.

Example Hand No. 1

Spades—6, 4
Hearts—K, Q, J, 7
Diamonds—Q, J, 7, 3
Clubs—J, 6, 5

Spades—Q, 9, 8, 3, 2
Hearts—8, 6, 5, 3
Diamonds—8, 6
Clubs—10, 8

Spades—A, K, J, 7, 5
Hearts—9
Diamonds—K, 10, 2
Clubs—A, Q, 9, 3

AUCTION BIDDING:

To score, first game, Z dealt and bid one spade. Should A make an informatory double or pass? Even the advocates of the informatory double would agree that A should pass with this hand. There is no chance for game unless B has a free bid, so why not wait and see what will happen. A has a good defensive hand so game is probably in no danger; and yet his hand is strong enough to warrant a try for game himself if his partner overbids one spade. It is a very common situation and should be carefully noted. If A passes, the hand will be played at spades and Y Z will score three odd and simple honors, a total score of 57 points. If A doubles and B bids two hearts, Y will double and defeat the bid three tricks. As they also hold simple honors Y Z will thus score 330 points. The difference between the two bids is a net gain of 273 points for the player who has the good judgment not to double with A's hand. The lesson to be learned from this hand is not to make informatory doubles with weak hands.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z should bid one spade and A should pass. A player should have a much stronger hand at Contract than at Auction to justify an informatory double. As Y has only two small spades, and thus no help for his partner's spade bid, he should bid one no trump. B should pass and Z should bid three no trumps. His hand is so much stronger than his first bid of one spade indicated that he is justified in bidding three no trumps. All pass and with the heart opening by B, Y Z easily score game.

There is nothing more instructive than end plays, for every player must understand how to play them if he wishes to be a little better than his neighbor. The following are two typical examples:

End Play No. 1

Hearts—none
Clubs—10, 6
Diamonds—none
Spades—4, 2

Hearts—none
Clubs—Q
Diamonds—Q
Spades—Q, 6, 5

Hearts—none
Clubs—9
Diamonds—K
Spades—J, 7

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win one trick against any defense?

Z should lead the king of diamonds and trump with the four of trumps. This play will force B to overtrump with the eight of trumps. If B now leads the nine of trumps, Z should cover with the jack and thus make his seven good. If B should lead the trey of trumps, Z should play the seven and so force A to play the queen. If B now leads the jack of clubs, A is forced to trump and thus Z's jack of trumps must be a winner. In any case, therefore, Y Z must win one trick. This end play is a most important one and probably comes up more often than any other. When you have one or more losing trumps, it is very frequently good policy to trump in with the highest trump so force an opponent to overtrump. This force may thus promote your partner's cards and enable him to make a trick not otherwise possible. In this hand, for example, if Y should discard on the king of diamonds or trump with the deuce of spades, A B must win all of the tricks. Try it out and see what happens.

End Play No. 2

Hearts—none
Clubs—10, 5
Diamonds—10, 6
Spades—7, 5, 2

Hearts—Q, J, 9, 8, 6, 5
Clubs—none
Diamonds—2
Spades—none

Hearts—4, 2
Clubs—Q
Diamonds—Q, 8
Spades—Q, 9, 8

Clubs are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win five of the seven tricks against any defense?

Z should lead the king of diamonds and follow with the ten of hearts. On this trick, won by A, Y should discard the deuce of spades. A has no alternative but to lead another heart on which Y should discard his last diamond. A is forced to lead another heart, and Y should discard his last spade. B is now forced to do one of three things, (a) trump; (b) discard a diamond or (c) discard a spade.

(a) Should B trump, Z will overtrump and thus score the balance of the tricks by cross ruffing.

(b) Should B discard a diamond, Z should trump and lead the king of clubs. Z should then lead a spade which Y will trump with his last club and make his good diamond.

(c) Should B discard a spade, Z should trump and lead a spade which Y should trump. Y should then lead a trump which Z should win and thus be able to make his last spade. In any way, therefore, Y Z must score five of the seven tricks. At trick two, if A refuses to win the ten of hearts and so discards, very frequently an opponent can be forced to discard to his disadvantage, so be on the lookout for the opportunity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patterson of Westbrook were guests of the former parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Patterson, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mund moved back to Snyder last week from Sonora. Welcome back to the old home town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith and son Wallace, attended the birthday anniversary dinner given for the former's mother, Mrs. J. O. Smith at Weatherford last Sunday.

Frank Stevenson is the new attendant at the T. P. Coal & Oil station on the east highway. Odell Blackard has resigned and is leaving next week for a visit in Fort Worth.

Mrs. M. B. King of Myrtle Creek, Oregon, has been the guest of her son, Russell King, who is on the night trick of the Western Union station at the Sante Pe depot. Mrs. King will go to Memphis, Tenn., following her visit here.

Folks take a tip. Some day when you are thinking of eating out, drop by the High School Cafeteria and enjoy a fine lunch with the ladies there. Drop in around 11:30, ahead of the rush and you will find that Mrs. Tom Boren and Miss Elizabeth Smith have things ready for your pleasure.

WHAT! JESSE?

Friends of Jesse Jones on the east side of the square tell a Times-Signal reporter there is deep mystery attached to his regular attentions to a mighty fine young lady, living east of town. Ollie Bruton told us not to say anything about it, but that it was expected an early announcement was to be made by Jesse. That's fine news, Jones is one of the spark-plugs at the Dixie Service Station.

P. T. A. Halloween Very Successful

$40 Profits Reaped In Evening of Pleasure and Fun

The Halloween Frolic provided Friday night by the Parent-Teachers Association was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held, with the organization profiting to the extent of $40.00. This sum will lower the amount still owing on the cafeteria. Last year the P. T. A. paid $700 on the cost of the cafeteria, leaving them a balance of but $200 to meet for this year. They are putting on a play soon that will likewise assist in meeting their entire obligations.

The City Auditorium was crowded during the Frolic, with every booth selling out long before the folks were ready to start home. With various musical and entertainment features the evening was a "joy" from start to finish. Leave it to the ladies of Snyder to put things across in their own way. They have a spirit of "Do" that the men might well emulate. God bless the ladies.

Judge Horace Holley left yesterday on a business trip to Austin. Mrs. Mattie Trimble and Mrs. Louise Darby accompanied Judge Holley on the trip, and will visit for a few days with relatives and friends in the Capital City.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Howell motored to Odessa Tuesday where they visited Mrs. Boley Brown, who is critically ill. Mr. Howell returned home Tuesday night, while the Mrs. went to Pecos for a few days visit with her daughter, Miss Ruth Smith.

Mrs. Ellen Oldham and sister, Mrs. Frances Scott of Gorman are guests of the former's son, Geo. Oldham and family, also their sister, Mrs. E. T. McCarty, and brother Geo. Northcutt and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mercer of Ft. Worth were guests of their relative, H. V. Williams, and little Westbrook, and families, last week.

C. M. (Chloma) Williams of Brownwood visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williams recently.

TEXAS FARM NOTES

W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

Sowing Entire Farm in Winter Pasture.

Linden—A winter cover crop of small grain sowed last fall by Wes Morse as a demonstration on his farm in Kildare community, Cass county, saved him half his winter feed bill and one-fifth of his fertilizer expense on this pasture land. In reporting to his county agent, C. L. Littlepage, Mr. Morse estimates that his cotton crop is 30 per cent greater on the 100 acres devoted to pasture last winter than on other land. He is sowing his entire farm to winter cover crops this fall.

Wharton—Twelve acres of sudan grass returned $30 per acre in grazing during two summer months and is expected to do the same thing during October and November for P. G. Longwood, manager of Nilson Brothers' 700-acre farm near Pierce in Wharton county. Sowing this premier pasture crop April 1st, the grazing was so rich through June and July that no other feed was furnished 42 head of mules turned into the field. The saving in feed bill through this demonstration in cooperation with J. O. Graham, county agent, is given as $8 per day during this period. Stock was removed in August, awaiting fall rains.

This Sounds Good to Us

Boston—One hundred and seventy-two fall gardens in Bowie county planted by home demonstration club women are in a splendid condition and are furnishing from six to 20 vegetables for family tables according to the report of Beulah Blackwell, home agent for that county. Mrs. Lucille Atchley of the Minton club reports that she has in hers butter beans, peas, string beans, cabbage, tomatoes, okra, turnip greens, onions, Swiss chard, collards and peppers.

Dallas County Schools and Farms Beautify Yards.

Dallas—28 Dallas county schools have entered a county yard beautification contest and in of the communities a farm home yard has been entered also. The Tarrant county home agent, Mary Powell, and the Dallas county assistant home agent, Ruth Clark, have scored these yards for entrance in the contest and the contestants will be assisted by the Dallas county home agent, Leone Wimberly. In each community a committee is in charge of the beautification of the school yard and the contest as a whole is regarded as a community demonstration.

Walker County Women Weave Rugs

Huntsville—Walker county women are taking up the making of rugs in a very capable way according to the report of Pearl Ellisor, home agent. Selection of colors, collection of material, dyeing the stuff and working out proportions for the rugs has occupied the attention of the beginners, while several of the more experienced rug makers have completed their rugs. Mrs. R. Parrish, of Moore's Grove Club has finished six, and seven have been finished by different members of the Pine Prairie club. The improved living room contest will open this month and it is expected by Miss Ellisor that many more rugs will be made by the contestants in that contest.

To encourage farm families to live at home as much as possible a Fallurris bank has distributed 40 packages of assorted garden seed to farmers recommended by the county agent. The recipients have agreed to plant late fall gardens in well prepared seed beds and to irrigate if necessary.

More than 5,000 pounds of clover and grass seeds have been brought into Fayette county for sowing the permanent pasture mixture farm demonstrations in that section have shown profitable. The mixture contains two pounds White Dutch clover, 10 pounds spotted leaf burr clover, and five pounds each of black medic, yellow blooming sweet clover, dallis grass and rescue grass, with Bermuda grass sod as a foundation. As outlined by the county agent the seeds are mixed together with well rotted manure and thrown in small piles over the pasture, giving the small plants a good start and protection from livestock until root systems are formed.

Harry Landa of New Braunfels is placing 1200 head of cattle on feed in cooperation with the county agent in a demonstration in which feed and grains will be carefully weighed. Four other local demonstrations have been started with Comal county farmers who are feeding from 15 to 35 head of calves each.

E. W. Palmer, Lamb county dairy herd demonstrator says he isn't going to joke with his cows any longer about pasture. He had them on sudan grass pasture two weeks in September and then took them off for two weeks. Each time they went off pasture they averaged a five-pound loss in milk per day, but when put back they made it up according to county agent records. Mr. Palmer has planted alfalfa and sweet clover for pasture and plans to have one acre of sudan per cow next season.

cantaloupes with soy beans down the middle, A. F. Meyers of Trinity county sold $38.80 worth of melons from a half acre, fed 15 bushels to ON TEXAS FARMS—galley 4 the hogs, and has $15 worth of good soy bean hay.

Prairie dogs are on the decline in West Texas with the U. S. Biological Survey helping county agents and ranchers spread poison. A 95 per cent kill is reported from Coleman county where 1500 acres were poisoned on 10 ranches recently.

Rows of pinto beans 180 miles long are found in a terraced field of Fowler McDaniel in Mitchell county. The terraces are circular, and the rows follow the terraces. The march of agricultural progress in West Texas has left the straight paths to capture the extra dollars that lurk in crooked rows.

In two and one-half years of club work Dick Selz in Harrison county has acquired five head of registered Jerseys worth $750. Texas owes much to these farm lads who are building the future on good foundation herds.

From 100 pounds of certified milo maize seed obtained by W. W. Fritts in Comanche county in 1929 through the county agent, 5600 pounds was sold for seed for the 1930 crop and Mr. Fritts has gathered 2 1-2 tons of heads per acre from his own rugged crop.

Lamar county demonstrations reported by the county agent show that grain sorghums made two pounds of grain to one pound of corn this year.

WARN FARMERS OF FALSE CLAIMS FOR NEW GRAIN SORGHUM "GROHOMA"

Farmers should not accept the claims advanced for a new grain sorghum, called Grohoma, which has been offered at prices twenty to fifty times those of well-known and adapted varieties, the U. S. Department of Agriculture warns. The claims in regard to the origin and value are sensational and inaccurate, sorghum specialists of the Bureau of Plant Industry say. There is no reliable evidence that Grohoma is superior to or will outyield other well-known varieties which have been tested and which may be recommended on the basis of experimental tests. Present information, says the Bureau, does not justify an exorbitant price for the seed of an almost unknown and untried crop.

This is the first season, says the Bureau, in which seed of Grohoma has been merchandised to any extent. Consequently, it is the first year in which the Department of Agriculture and the State experiment stations have had opportunity to test it in the experimental plots. The crop has not yet been threshed and reliable reports of the yields of Grohoma are not yet available for comparison with the records of established varieties of grain sorghums. Specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, however, have observed Grohoma in comparative experiments in many localities, and they have found that Grohoma is more easily injured by drought than are several well-known varieties of grain sorghums.

There is no evidence available which indicates that Grohoma will outyield good varieties of milo and kaffir even under normal or average conditions. The grain-sorghum specialists describe Grohoma as medium-late in maturity and unlikely to mature safely north of Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. Grohoma has sweet stalks which are dry (not juicy). Under favorable conditions and in thin stands it develops large bushy heads, but they point out that large heads are not necessarily associated with large yields. They consider it probable that Grohoma is about equal to other grain sorghums in feeding value and that the protein content of the grain is about the same. They regard as 'fantastic' the stories of the origin of Grohoma, and say that the stories are not substantiated by the characteristics of the crop. They believe it is probably the result of a cross between fetterita and cane sorgho.

Whole Grain Corn

WHOLE grain corn is a canned food product which has been gaining rapidly in popularity. This is an entirely different article from the cream style corn which is best known to consumers of canned foods. Instead of being split and soft, the kernels remain plump, firm and whole, just as they came from the cob.

The reason for its popularity is that this product practically duplicates fresh corn on the cob as to flavor and tenderness as well as appearance of the kernels. The best seed and rich soil are necessary for its production since there must be no odd-colored or shaped kernels, and it must mature perfectly. In order to produce it in its utmost perfection every ear must be individually selected for canning, and special care must be taken in its preparation in order to preserve the whole kernel intact. In its processing a small amount of salt is added in order to keep it in crisp condition, and also a small amount of sugar in order to bring out the sweet and natural flavor.

Try This Recipe
Corn Chowder: Dice and fry one-fourth pound bacon, add one small onion and one diced green pepper, and continue to saute until brown. Add four cups diced boiled potatoes, and allow them to fry until slightly browned. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of whole grain corn, five cups milk, and one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and bring to scalding. This recipe serves ten.

Told He Must Die Man Finds Life In Crazy Water

Deputy Sheriff Wants World To Know His Crazy Story

In the year of 1923 I was living at Altus, Okla. I was confined to my bed with a complication of diseases. It was diagnosed by different ones as Bright's disease, Paralysis, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and a dead liver.

When it was decided to take me to Mineral Wells the doctors did not believe I would live to get there, and the doctors in Mineral Wells when I arrived did not think there was any chance for me to recover.

I drank Crazy Water for four months and was, so far as I can tell, completely well. I gained 94 pounds in weight, and took a job as deputy sheriff which necessitated my being on my feet from eight, to twelve hours every day, and oftentimes doing a lot of night work.

Crazy Water certainly pulled me out of the grave.

Funeral Services Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Austin Daugherty of Amarillo, were held at the Church of Christ, Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Cal C. Wright and assisted by Rev. Thomas M. Broadfoot. She was 25 years, 6 months and 24 days at death.

Mrs. Daugherty died in an Amarillo hospital, Friday afternoon, and beside her husband, at her bedside when death came were her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Austin of this city, and brother, Garth Austin. The deceased had been a resident of Amarillo four years and was a member of the Church of Christ. Interment was made in the Snyder Cemetery.

The community joins with the Times-Signal in extending sincerest condolence to the remaining members of the family.

The colored man was condemned to be hanged, and was awaiting time set for execution in a Mississippi jail. Since all other efforts had failed him, he addressed a letter to the governor, with a plea for clemency. The opening paragraph left no doubt as to his urgent need: "Dear Boss: De white folks is got me in dis jail fixin' to hang me on Friday mornin' and here it is Wednesday already."

LEOPARD ESCAPES FROM KEEPER AND HURTS GIRL

Little Elnora Vowell, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Vowell of East Colorado, is recovering at Root hospital from the injuries she received Monday when a pet leopard owned by an itinerant who evidently followed a carnival into Colorado, sprang onto the child and inflicted ugly scalp wounds. She with other children was watching the beast as it was being led by a leash by its owner.

The child's scalp was torn from ear to ear across the back of her head and pulled forward some two inches before the infuriated cat could be choked off the little girl. She was rushed to the hospital where several stitches were required to close the wound.—Colorado Record.

Editor Note:—The finest and best thing that every West Texas city and town could do would be to make such a stiff ordinance financially, that no carnival could come into the limits of any spot in the whole section. They bring nothing, leave nothing but take away plenty and the Times-Signal hopes to never see a carnival gang of any description darken the doors of our fair city, and that goes today, tomorrow and all the days that are coming.

A CREED FOR THE DISCOURAGED

I believe that God created me to make the world more happy by serving others, by being useful to my country and an honor to God. If I fail in these things, it is I who have failed; not God.

I believe that the trials which beset me today are but the fiery tests to strengthen me for the higher and nobler contests of tomorrow.

I believe that God is the architect of my fate, I the master mechanic of my destiny.

I believe that my soul is too grand to be dribbled out by the petty undertakings that cannot last and that cannot build for eternity. Such will only bring me to defeat and my soul to its end in nothingness.

I believe that my soul was intended not to be slave to the circumstance of an evil surrounding but master of its own environment selecting the good and rejecting the evil.

I will anchor my soul in faith, tie my hope to the Morning Star, grapple with evil when it opposes, match my strength with the strength of

Crying when laughter is in order. Listening to the sobriety of n'er-do-wells who sing the blues as an alibi to get out of work. Hobnobbing with pessimists. Pinching a nickle till the buffalo dies. Pulling back when a little pushing ahead is all that is necessary to start the ball rolling. Forgetting and otherwise overlooking the fact that what was isn't, and what is will cease to be. Holding a nickle so close to the eye that you can't see the big round dollars that are within reach. Which is just another way of saying, "being so close to the picture that you can't see the frame." Waiting to buy till the price goes up. Preferring to be hypnotized into seeing a mirage rather than look at the plain facts. Letting propaganda of the sore-heads rule your actions. Allowing others with an axe to grind to do your thinking. Saying "it can't be done" when a little investigation will prove that it has been and is being done. Sitting around "belly aching" instead of getting out and trying. Evading responsibility of doing something instead of taking the bull by the horns. Becoming infected with "perversities"—waiting, stalling and putting off doing things until you see what the other fellow is going to do instead of using your own noodle. Come to the party! Smile, damn it, smile! You live in the best country in the world, are better off than any people in the world, have the blood of the go-getting go-getters in the world; so why be like the old cows tail—dragging in the dust, always behind. Turkey Grades New In This Section State

Established 3 Years Ago, San Angelo Holds 2nd School of its Kind

TURKEY GRADES guide line UIDE According to County Agent W. O. Logan nearly 100 representatives of commercial marketing houses and individuals interested in Texas turkeys went to school for an entire week at San Angelo, several weeks ago. Along with County Agent Logan was Miss Jessie Lee Davis, Home Demonstration head for Scurry county. Attendees learned all that government and state specialists could impart on turkey market grades during the school.

The school was the second of its kind ever held in the nation, and turkey grades have been used in the United States only three years. Demonstrations were given in how to feed to meet the grades, how to kill, dress and pack turkeys, and how to apply the U. S. grades. Those who qualified will be given federal-state licenses.

Director O. B. Martin, head of the extension service at the A. & M. college, who sponsored the idea, said: "Grades and standards are absolutely essential to any scientific marketing work, for high prices are based on quality, and you must have a measure for quality or lose out."

Mr. Martin called about 175 county and Home Demonstrations into San Angelo to attend the school so that they would be qualified to help in establishing marketing grades in their various communities.

REAL EGG PLANT FROM BEN WILSON
Our next door neighbor friend, Ben Wilson, who is with King & Brown need not take his hat off to any one when it comes to raising egg plant. During the past season, Ben has provided the Times-Signal with a number of luscious plants, which when placed in egg blatter, then rolled in corn meal, one that enjoys such things can wrap their tongue right around. Prosperity is up for election, running to overthrow DEPRESSION. It's for the people to decide which will be chosen. Every man and every woman is privileged to ballot—every day.

DEPRESSION has no rightful place with a hundred and twenty million people, exchanging goods and services—capable—accustomed and willing to work—more highly skilled than other peoples—leaders in efficiency and progressiveness—backed by the vast natural resources of the United States. When we make it possible for the man who works to have a job we make it possible for him to buy food for his family and so help all business, including that of the farmer.

The rest of the world is of small importance compared with that free market of 125,000,000 people—homogeneous—of like tastes, habits and aspirations—living under the same laws—free of trade barriers. Foreign trade may be troubled by tariffs and revolutions, but at their peak our exports represented only five and a half billions of dollars of gross business in a year out of a total American income of ninety billions.

Stagnation of circulation is what's the matter with agriculture and with business. Everyone can help to get that circulation moving again.

Government can't make prosperity—alone. Bankers and other business leaders can't make prosperity—alone. It's the people, united in opinion and purpose and courage, who determine Prosperity. They can elect it—none other.

Ballots that will be validly counted for Prosperity are of many kinds. Some one of them every man and woman can cast. For example: Help a deserving man or a woman to get a little paying work—or, better, a regular job. Spend wisely and not too timidly, and anticipate scheduled expenditures so far as is practicable.

Turn the deaf ear to false, mischievous rumors; and don't repeat them, if you do hear them.

Be willing to pay a fair price. Don't take advantage of the other man's necessity. Recognize that he has as good claim to a fair profit as you.

When a vampire that fattens on the miseries of others shows up, help to make him unpopular. Discourage calamity howlers. Keep business moving evenly, and remember that, to the average man, his job is his particular business. When possible, reassure him against his fear of losing it.

Save, but save wisely, not in fright. Invest for the profit that sound enterprise pays and for the added profit that will come after the hysteria of pessimism has passed.

HODGEPODGE TAXATION
Study of the special taxes levied against various Texas industries and businesses reveals a disconnected, unrelated, hodgepodge mixture of levies which have no regard either for definite policy or system. Such taxes, usually either "gross-receipt" or "occupation," have been fixed as expediency dictated, and represent more the political strength of the industries affected than any established tax policy.

It is plainly the intent of the Texas Constitution that ad valorem taxation should form the chief source of revenue for the state government. Nevertheless, such a policy would have favored many large enterprises which had little or nothing in the way of physical properties against which ad valorem taxes might be levied. In order to reach such intangible values, the legislature resorted to the levy of occupation taxes against gross receipts.

If such special taxation had evidenced any regard for uniformity, for definite policy, or for equity, little objection could be found in the matter. Quite to the contrary, however, the legislature has levied "gross-receipt" taxes which range from one per cent to five per cent of the gross income of the taxed industries. Moreover, the tax has been extended against politically-weak industries which do pay substantial ad valorem taxes.

A list of such gross-receipt levies follows:

Against Express Companies 2 1/2%
Telegraph Companies 2 1/2%
Gas, Electric and Water Companies 1 1/2%
Collection and Commercial Agencies 1 1/2%

It is clear that in certain of the above industries, no tangible property values are available for ad valorem taxation. The inconsistency in policy, however, is especially noticeable in extension of the occupation levy to include the oil and sulphur industries, both of which certainly had physical properties subject to the ad valorem tax.

But even in extension of the tax to the sulphur and oil industries, there has been no uniformity. Since both of these industries remove natural resources from the state, special taxation against them might be justified upon that ground. It would seem, however, that special taxation might be made uniform. That it is not, is proven by the fact that the oil companies pay an occupation tax equivalent to 2 per cent of the posted price of oil at the Mouth of the Well, with no additional taxes levied against the increase of value by refining, while the sulphur companies pay a similar tax equivalent to 3.05 per cent of the value of the finished product.

The facts are that if the sulphur companies are justly taxed, many other of the states industries are insufficiently taxed. Or conversely, if the other industries are justly taxed, the sulphur companies are unfairly taxed.

In any event the lack of uniformity, and the very obvious lack of policy, which characterize the state's tax policy should be remedied at the earliest possible moment. No industry and no business may complain of discrimination against it if all taxes are uniformly and equitably levied in accordance with a fair and definite policy. But until such a fair and definite policy is established, and reflected in the levies actually made by the state, we will continue to be afflicted with controversy, complaint and futile legislative squabbles.

Texas sorely needs an economist Moses to lead her out of the wilderness of taxation-without-policy.

Poultry Record Maintains Level Despite Prices

Cull Out "Boarders" Pointed Out As Way To More Profits in Flocks

Scurry county through the poultry records maintained by a large group of farmers have proven that it does pay to boost the "hen" at all periods of the year. Records in the offices of County Agent Logan and Home Demonstration Agent Jessie Lee Davis prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that hens are paying. Actual profits have been shown in many cases in facts and figures printed in the Times-Signal. Compared with other farm duties here is further advice on the situation as it stands from a national source.

Proportionately, the raising of poultry has brought more profit this year than most other farm operations—and this in spite of the low prices generally prevailing, according to reports emanating from the Middle Western states. As a consequence, farmers of the central portion of the country are planning to pay more attention to their flocks than ever before.

They are being advised by poultry authorities not to be frightened by the present season of low prices. They are being urged not to do as generally has been done in the past—stock up heavily after a good season and turn loose of everything after a season of low prices, such as the present.

A government bulletin states that "extreme reduction does not appear to be necessary" and warns that it might be "a mistake to reduce poultry numbers radically now."

Flock owners are being informed that the best way to cut down flocks for the Fall and Winter is to cull out rigidly all "boarders," or non-producers. It is pointed out that there is no such thing as a poor poultry season when birds of real laying ability are retained and fed, housed and cared for in the proper manner.

The authorities declare that one sure way of realizing a profit from farm poultry is to increase the egg production of the entire flock. By obtaining good stock in the spring to replace the old hens, the productivity of the entire flock can be raised.

Hatcheries themselves furnish the quick and logical method of building up the farm flock to a profitable egg-production level, particularly since the leading ones of the country are organized to insure better flocks and square dealing.

Higher egg production per hen, and, at the proper time, increased size of farm flocks offer solution of the farm poultry problem, regardless of prices.

CATHEDRAL TOMB OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS RESISTS GALE IN SANTO DOMINGO DISASTER

HISPANIOLA, the island which Christopher Columbus "loved above all other lands" and known in these modern days as the Dominican Republic, was the scene of a terrific hurricane in early September, which called all of the forces of relief, including the American Red Cross, into action.

With two thousand dead and almost ten thousand wounded, the beautiful island's capital city of Santo Domingo, was almost totally wrecked. The American Red Cross gave $50,000 from its treasury toward the relief work and generous aid came to the republic from other nations. Navy and Marine aviators of the United States carried in Red Cross medical supplies and established communication. The Red Cross sent an expert relief director to aid the American committee, organized by Governor Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico, adjoining island.

President Trujillo of the republic performed a magnificent task in organizing the nation's forces to do for the injured, and protect the health of survivors.

The Dominican Republic was the first sent in the Western World of European civilization, as it was upon that island that Christopher Columbus planted his first colony. In the magnificent Cathedral in Santo Domingo—a very ancient structure—is a monument containing a bronze casket in which are the reputed bones of the discoverer of America.

The Cathedral was untouched by the fierce gales, which laid waste more than ninety per cent of the dwellings in the city.

This was the first disaster in the new fiscal year of the Red Cross, which had just closed its books showing relief, given by the national organization and chapters in 108 disasters, with expenditures of $1,208,151 for relief. In preceding year The Red Cross gave relief in twelve foreign countries last year, in addition to standing by to relieve all distress at home caused by catas-trophes.

Demands upon the society for this help are increasing each year. The funds necessary for instant action, for maintaining expert personnel and providing a surplus from which appropriations can be made immediately, are raised through the annual roll call which the Red Cross holds each year in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day. Each person joining as a member becomes a supporter of this work.

ODD-BITTS

Checked at every turn in their campaign to establish any startling immortality in modern youth, the habitual alarmists and professional reformers have turned their slanderous artillery upon modern motherhood. If they honestly interpret their personal observations, it must be admitted that these "wolf-cryers" travel in a fast, wild crowd; but most of us object when they seek to impute similar immortality to the young mothers of our own acquaintance. This attitude was aptly expressed by Frank Williford, Jr., prosessor in Harris county, when in a recent speech, he said: "The mother of your children and the mother of my children wear becomingly and worthily that name which was hallowed by your mother and mine." It is to be regretted that the sacred institution of motherhood is not secure against the vile implications of these self-appointed guardians of the public morals.

WHEN WILL PROSPERITY RETURN?

Facts—Not Pessimism

There is no scarcity of money, but there is a vast loss of credit. There is a gripping fear that the buyer and borrower won't pay, and not even try to pay.

The experience of the private money lender, the banker, the grocery merchant, the dry goods merchant, the gasoline credit salesman, the lawyer, doctor and all others who have anything to sell, whether time, goods, money or labor, justifies this fear.

There is a notorious break-down of moral responsibility. A grand rush is being made into Bankrupt courts, instead of an honest effort to pay. President Hoover is calling on Congress to stop it. Texas can stop it without waiting for Congress to pass more laws.

WHEN WILL PROSPERITY RETURN?

Each individual holds the answer in his or her own present and future conduct.

It will return when men and women awake to a sense of moral obligation, its sacredness next only to life and honor.

It will return when men and women don't wait to be made to pay their debts by pressure or litigation, but frankly and honestly go to their creditors and pay what they can and go to work in cooperation to pay the balance.

It will return when men and women go to the bank and merchant and hospital and doctor, give or renew their notes, put up collateral to secure the debt, THEREBY RESTORING THEIR CREDIT, and act with a reasonable degree of decency and honor about their debts.

It will return when men and women practice the common courtesy of going to the creditor in advance of the due dates and making satisfactory arrangements about payments.

It will return when men and women all begin to pay courteous attention to letters and statements of past due accounts, instead of waiting for a collector to make a dozen calls—at the expense of his bank or house.

It will return when men and women quit buying stuff they know they can't pay for, and when they bring their tastes and desires down to their incomes.

It will return when "rent-jumpers" quit moving out of houses to avoid paying rent, and when they quit getting mad when the owners want his rent, and when owners report all such rent jumpers to each other.

It will return when people exercise judgement enough to shut out of home and town high-powered stock salesmen, and quit losing their heads over get-rich-quick schemes on green and gold certificates.

It will return and become stable in the next generation when parents enforce discipline in their homes; when they teach thrift to their children; when they refuse to go in debt to satisfy the whims and extravagancies of their children; when they enforce more work and less joy-riding.

It will return when honesty and sobriety and truthfulness and industry return, and a multitude of lazy and dishonest people are made to go to work, or are allowed to starve. TO FEED AND HOUSE THE LAZY AND DISHONEST MAN HAS NO WARRANT IN ECONOMIC OR DIVINE LAW!

WHEN WILL PROSPERITY RETURN?

It will return when the bootlegger, whatever position in life he occupies, is recognized as the criminal he is, and the man who buys his liquor is recognized as his partner in crime, and both are spurned from connection with legitimate business houses.

Prosperity will return when credit is restored.

Credit can only be restored by men and women realizing that they each constitute a unit of prosperity, and each one restores his or her own credit. Prosperity can never return until these things do happen to larger numbers of people than now recognize their absence.

GOOD SIGNS OF RETURNING PROSPERITY

Thousands of people in Texas, millions in America have learned their lessons, and now are right down on the bed-rock of work and thrift. They are restoring their credit—they are bringing prosperity back.

As evidence, see the new homes building.

WHEN TIMES ARE HARD IS WHEN FOLKS START TOWARD PERMANENT PROSPERITY. We have known very few to start in good times. This has been true of morals and money in all ages past.

group being known as a block. A block may consist of one or more herds and may include from 50 to 75 cows. One bull is assigned to a block, and is moved in order to prevent inbreeding. You can get further information about cooperative bull associations, from your State agricultural college or from the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"Inside" Information
Carrots fried with apples are tasty.

Corn fritters may be made from left-over corn on the cob. To 4 tablespoons fresh corn add 1 teaspoon melted fat, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, 1-2 cup milk, 1 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt; mix to a batter and fry in deep fat.

Soft jelly can be used in many appetizing ways. Spread it on pancakes, on jelly roll; put it in pastry shells with a bit of whipped cream on top; fill apples that have been cooked tender in sirup with some of it; put a bit on such milk desserts as blanc mange, custard, Spanish cream, or bread pudding.

Very salty smoked finnan haddie is improved by cooking for 15 or 20 minutes in water which is then discarded and replaced with fresh water. To serve finnan haddie, pick the flakes from the bones after parboiling and add to a white sauce. One or two hard-boiled eggs in the sauce are an improvement.

Eggs for lunch or dinner may be shirred, curried, baked with cheese, served with ham, poached or fried, and with or without Hollandaise sauce, scrambled with bacon baked in tomato cups, made into omelets, or baked as in a cheese souffle.

Leaflet 39-L Eggs at Any Meal, is a publication which may be obtained free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It contains many receipts for such dishes as these and other ways of cooking eggs for breakfast, in desserts, and in sauces.

Many dairy farmers can not afford to own a purebred bull individually, but every one can afford to have the use of a good bull thru a cooperative bull association. Members of such an association are usually divided into three or more groups of neighboring farms, each climate, but what is called an over drive. The most of my flock are now doing well. I have bought a new place in Coryell county, about one hundred miles from here. I have a splendid range of fine land. If I could get the right kind of seasons I would be sure of a good crop every year. I am going to see if I can get the seed to sow about forty acres in wheat, ten or twelve acres in barley. Then I will have about thirty for corn. Wheat is worth about $1.00 per bushel. I do not know whether I can get the seed without the money or not. I have about $1,000 owing me yet and I find it to be one of the impossibilities to get any now. Money is scarce here now than it ever was since Texas gained her independence from Mexico. If the blockade is kept up much longer we will have to have something else for currency or everything will have to suspend. Though it is very near that now. We have plenty here to eat, that is bread and meat, but do not know how long it will be that we will have anything to wear. There are no manufacturers in the state except the one at the state prison, there being very little of the domestic kind ever done in Texas. I think we can live out Lincoln's administration stand the party blocked and fight him too. I did think when the war commenced that I would have been in the service before now, but my business has been so it required all my time. I have now come to the conclusion not to go until it is really required or until there is a lack of volunteers. Texas has furnished her quota without any trouble and I believe would if the number was twice as large. They are now drilling all over the state, placing the state strictly on a war footing. I have not attended any drills yet but will soon.

The ladies are forming societies in all the counties for the purpose of furnishing the soldiers with clothing, blankets, comforts and all that is in their power. Sister, I am somewhat astonished at your going to teaching again. I imagine you are all doing better than you did some years ago. Perhaps better than you would if you had moved here, owing to the dry seasons. Farmers have been doing rather bad business here for the last few years. But there are good crops of all kinds except cotton which will be about two thirds crop. I am now down here trying to collect my little matters up and to get a wagon and some oxen. I was not at all tired of reading your letter, would not if it had been as long again. I hope the time will not be long before you write me one more as long or longer.

If I don't go to the war I think I will take to myself the better half this winter. I am in a little hurry and must therefore close for the present. My postoffice is Rameys Creek, Coryell County. Your most respectful brother, WILLIAM SHAW. Both of Ship's sons have gone to Va. to the war. Ship, himself, is at Houston saw milling. His family is in this county. I understand has had considerable bad luck this year. They have now five children about grown the second son larger than I am.

Eleven members of the jury which convicted him of murder in the slaying of two Fisher county officers in 1927 have signed a petition to Governor Moody asking for a pardon for Lloyd Conaster, his father, C. J. Conaster, said Friday.

Community Enjoys Fair Weather
The Fluvanna community has for the past week been enjoying a series of sun shiny days. After weeks of damp weather, the farmers are welcoming the fair days in the uninterrupted gathering of their crops.

Deputy Expert Gunman
Proof that Mr. O. S. Wills, deputy sheriff of Fluvanna, is an expert in handling a gun, was given last week when he shot and killed a coyote with a six-shooter at a range of 240 yards. Mr. Wills while driving around espied the animal some few miles north of town; and although he thought it useless to attempt to shoot at a target so far away with a pistol, the third shot brought the animal down.

Church Services
Rev. J. I. Kelley officiated at the services of the Methodist church last Sunday. Bro. Kelley has many friends in the Fluvanna community who hope that he will again be with them during the next Conference year.

Sunday School services will begin at ten o'clock at all the churches Sunday, November 9. Services will be held at the First Baptist church Sunday, November 9th.

FOOT BALL SITUATION
Snyder Tigers have officially won the west end championship of District 9, with the Roscoe and Colorado teams out of the fray through technical errors of the head, rather than the heart.

Haskell and Stamford will fight it out for the east end of the district, Armistice Day. The winner of this battle will play the Snyder team the week ahead of Thanksgiving. Where this game will be played is yet to be decided.

The winner of District 8, which now appears to be either Midland or McCamey, will then be played. Snyder foot ball fans have some real football games in sight, perhaps the Colorado game here on Armistice Day being as tough an assignment as has ever been given a Tiger team.

Rest assured that an aroused Tiger team will be present on each and every occasion.

The Tigers will play at Sweetwater Thanksgiving.

Texas now leads the states in natural gas production, figures for 1929 announced by the Federal Bureau of Mines putting it ahead of Oklahoma for the first time. California is third and Louisiana and West Virginia fourth and fifth.

Texas receives about $3,000,000 a month from gasoline taxes, three-fourths going to road building and one-fourth to public school maintenance.

WORTHY OF EMULATION
Everybody in Scurry county knows Charley Ross, whose initials are C. E. and who is manager of the Fuller Gin Co. at Hermleigh. Mr. Ross and family formerly lived in Snyder. The Cardinal, Hermleigh school publication in speaking of a fine thing that Mr. Ross recently consummated said, under a heading "Mud Hole at School Filled With Cinders."

"The mud hole in front of the school house has been done away with."

"C. E. Ross, manager of the Fuller Gin Co., had several loads of cinders hauled down to the school house."

"When these cinders get wet and packed they will make a fine place for people to turn their cars around when it is muddy."

Fine work Charley and congratulations.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST

Thos. M. Broadfoot, Minister

Interest increases in the Sunday Night Revival Hour which is running through a series of special meetings in the First Church of Christ.

It was PIONEER NIGHT, and the pioneers of the County were well represented.

God's Pioneering Spirits, was the sermon subject. Interest in the Scripture texts for the sermon was pronounced all revealing splendid understanding of the Scriptures in the texts offered.

Little Brother: "What's etiquette?" Slightly bigger Brother: "It's saying 'no thank you' when you want to say 'yes'."

SNYDER JUDGE SETS RECORD IN CASE

Snyder and Scurry County never fail to pay tribute to Judge Fritz R. Smith for the type of man that he is, and his activity as a Judge in the 32nd Judicial District.

Later, Ratliff admitted that he evidently got his "wires crossed" when a minister who happened to be on that jury suggested that it was Jonah and not Job who was swallowed by the whale.—Colorado Record.

LARGE WHEAT FIELD

What is thought to be the largest field under one fence in the country is being broken for the sowing of wheat this fall by Hickman Price.

When West Texas learns the lesson of handling crime in a rapid-fire business manner, along the lines that are respected in England, she will have solved the problem that has taken every court in the state to task.

The only thing that gives weight to a fish story is the scales.

WHO "SWALLOWED THE WHALE"

R. H. Ratliff, Colorado attorney, was arguing a case before the jury in 32nd district court here Tuesday afternoon.

Later, Ratliff admitted that he evidently got his "wires crossed" when a minister who happened to be on that jury suggested that it was Jonah and not Job who was swallowed by the whale.—Colorado Record.

South Plains Motor Club Will Organize Here

Branch Office To Be Located With Chamber of Commerce

Formation of a Snyder branch of the South Plains Automobile Club under the supervision of the American Automobile Association was completed this week with the coming here of C. H. Amacker, Lubbock, vice-president and general manager.

The Yoder-Anderson Motor Co. were named the official service garage for the service, and the Highway Garage as the gasoline station, with a branch office for all touring information to be located with the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

The A. A. A. with service in every state of the Union, and in 27 foreign countries has more than two and one-half million members, with 1047 official affiliated clubs. The association handled 15,000,000 tourists last year and spent $1,200,000 in emergency highway service to members alone.

Some of the purposes outlined by the organization consists in securing rational legislation, proper rules governing use of motor cars, protecting the interests of drivers against unjust discrimination, maintaining their lawful rights and privileges and promoting the development of good roads.

ATTENDING RACES

Among the Scurry county folks who are attending the Arlington Downs races this week appears the name of P. L. Fuller, widely known breeder and race enthusiast.

W. D. Van Blarcom writing in the Star-Telegram yesterday morning said: "P. L. Fuller of Snyder was among the 'rail birds' at the races Tuesday at Arlington Downs. Fuller, who is registered at The Metropolitan is one of the largest ranch owners in Scurry County.

His holdings extend over into a neighboring county. On his Scurry ranch Fuller has an exceptionally well laid out track upon which he trains his race horses. Although Fuller raises a great deal of cattle, he gives his horse the major portion of his time and attention. His stables are not represented this season at the Downs."

Bethel School Opens Monday

The Bethel school opened Monday morning with a good attendance of pupils and visiting patrons. After being called to order by the principal, Mrs. Dick Webb, a nice program was rendered. A speech by the principal on co-operation and advantages of education was very much appreciated.

The teachers were then introduced, these include: Mrs. Dick Webb, Miss Louise Martin and Miss Ethelyn Hays. The school board consists of Messrs Ben Scott, William Evans, and Charles McCoy. These men have already shown by their work that they are intensely interested in their school and all that concerns it.

The patrons after helping with the program and a general clean-up of building and campus, expressed their willingness and loyalty in all endeavors for the ensuing year. With this most encouraging opening the teachers and school board are looking forward to a very profitable year for the school.

Unmold and serve with the drained berries and cream on top of milk. This recipe serves four.

COYOTES TO BE POISONED

Wednesday, November 12, 1930 at 2:00 p. m. every livestock man and poultry raiser interested in stopping the ravages of coyotes will meet with Eddie B. Ligon in the County Agent's office or County Court Room.

This meeting is for the purpose of letting every one know just how much poison, assistance, and bait the Biological Survey will help those interested to get. Mr. Ligon says, "Every man that expects to get this special government poison should attend this meeting and get details for it does the work and has been doing it." This poison will be given free to those men co-operating with the Biological Survey. Since Mr. Ligon, assistant leader of predatory animal control and in charge of Western Texas has such a large territory he cannot get around very often, and those interested may have to wait several weeks if they do not see him on November 12th.

Mr. Ligon has been looking over the Coyote situation in Scurry and adjoining counties and their menace to sheep, turkeys, new born calves, and poultry. He says on all sides they are reporting losses of sheep and turkeys, having to pen sheep nights, and turkeys day and night in many places. Garza, Fisher, Kent, Borden, and Scurry are all tied up and many individuals in each of them are cooperating. There will be a trapper and poisoning in Garza, and Fisher, a trapper in Kent and poisoning in Borden and Scurry.

Mr. Ligon's home is in Ft. Stockton, and he is in the sheep business with a brother. He says they have not lost a sheep in four years from coyotes and they stay out all the time. He says all the sheep down there run out, turkeys are not bothered, and they have more game, deer, quail, etc., since ridding the county of predatory animals three or four years ago.

The meeting here Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 will take up methods of putting out poison, saving pelts, and using a complete unified campaign all at once so as to get real results.

FINEST COSTUME AT HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

Nate Rosenberg with a full Spanish costume was declared to have the finest and best looking male costume at the City Auditorium during the Halloween Carnival, Friday night.

Nate resembled a senator from old Madrid and if he had stepped right out of the picture, it could not have caused any more comment than was given the unique raiment that he wore.

Mr. Rosenberg designed the costume which was made right here in the old home town.

Scurry County Teachers Hold Annual Meet

Institute Attended By 135 Teachers Who Enjoy Good Program

The annual Scurry County Teachers Institute held last week was one of the finest sessions ever recorded in the history of their meetings. With 135 in attendance, the Friday morning session listened with rapt attention to the address of Dr. P. W. Horn, President of Texas Tech, on "Keeping Fit."

Dr. Horn stressed the necessity of the teacher staying out of the ruts, keeping alive and living the work that they were doing. Addresses by Dean T. H. Shelly of Texas University, and J. P. McDonald of Texas Tech were high lights in the two days sessions. Mr. McDonald is organizing a class for Scurry county that will bring a college course to rural school teachers.

A class of thirty pupils is Tuesday and 22 had been enrolled to Tuesday night. Mrs. W. P. King is secretary of the class and interested teachers may see her and complete arrangements or County Superintendent Bullock.

Election of officers for the Teachers Association brought Elmer L. Taylor of Ira, president, and Mrs. W. P. King, secretary. E. O. Wedgeworth will have charge of musical programs while special committees will be appointed.

Interscholastic League officers named were: Director General, W. C. Hooks; other directors named and their work include: Declamation, Miss Effie McLeod; Debate, T. N. Campbell; Extemporaneous Speech, R. T. Casey; Spelling, Mrs. Blanche Patterson; Essay Writing, Mrs. Harry Lee; Three R, L. M. Bynum; Music Memory, Myrtle Turner; Picture Memory, Vernelle Stinson; Rural School Athletics, Frank Farmer; and Director of Athletics, King Sides.

HOME TALENT PLAY FRIDAY, NOV. 14TH

The home talent production, "A Howling Success," will be presented by the Parent-Teachers Association, Friday night, November 14th. The production is under the direction of Homer F. Springfield and is for a good cause and needs a live-wire crowd to boost the association along in their efforts. Fluvanna will cooperate with Snyder teachers in the play and a large crowd should turn out to help in this great work for our schools.

A Two-Dollar Dinner for Six

Ham Patties with Green Pea and Caper Sauce 75¢ Five Fry Washed Potatoes 10¢ Baking Powder Biscuits 11¢ Orange Tapioca Cream 25¢ Fried Eggplant 35¢ Apple and Celery Salad 25¢ Coffee with Cream 15¢

IN these days after the drought when the careful housewife has to keep a canny eye on her food expenses, it's interesting to know that a dinner like the above can be served to six people at a cost of approximately two dollars.

To make the main dish and sauce, proceed as follows: Ham Patties: Mash the contents of two 7-ounce cans of ham loaf with a fork, shape into twelve small balls and roll in one slightly beaten egg and then fine crumbs. Fry in deep fat at 390° until golden brown, and drain on brown paper. Green Pea and Caper Sauce: Melt three tablespoons butter, add three tablespoons flour, and stir until smooth. Add the liquor from an 11-ounce can of peas and one and one-half cups milk, slowly, stirring and cooking until creamy and smooth. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add the peas and two tablespoons capers. Serve hot over the patties. Orange Tapioca Cream: Cook four tablespoons minute tapioca in one and one-half cups boiling water in a four-liter for about fifteen minutes or until transparent. Add four tablespoons sugar and the contents of one 8-ounce can of orange juice, and cool. Fold in one-half cup whipped cream and chill thoroughly.

Ewes should be gaining in weight at breeding time. Put them on good timothy, rape, or bluegrass pasture, if possible. Fall growths of clover are not satisfactory. Some grain may be fed as a supplement to pasture. Oats are a better supplement than corn. Pumpkins strewn over the field are excellent.

Don't waste money on medicinal "cures" for infectious abortion of livestock, warns Dr. J. R. Mohler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Consult a competent veterinarian, or obtain publications of information from your State agricultural experiment station or the Department of Agriculture.

Farmers in arid and semiarid sections who plan to pump water from wells for irrigating crops should find out whether the water contains alkali salts, says the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. These minerals sometimes are present in well water in quantities large enough to injure crops. Your State agricultural college can give you information on this point.

What's New
 A device has been invented to record brain action, operated by electrodes placed on the tongue, where they are affected by delicate nerves.
 In order to avoid annoying persons living along railroads, a locomotive whistle has been invented that concentrates its sound in a beam projected ahead of a train.
 The General Electric Company has made the largest shovel in the world, which is operated by electricity and is used in the coal-stripping fields.
 Maurice Poirier, an inventor of Burbank, Calif., has built a model of a rocket plane which he hopes will attain a speed of 600 miles an hour.
 Operated by an electric motor, a safety razor has been invented that consists of two parallel slotted shearing plates.
 A portable apparatus has been invented in Germany for pumping hot air into new buildings to dry them quickly for prompt occupancy.

EVERY FARMER AND RANCH OWNERS ATTENTION
 About fifty per cent (one-half) of the farmers have answered the statistical questionnaire sent out by the drought relief committee. That leaves one-half the farms and ranches not reported, and will make it hard on the committee in their efforts to get aid. You owe it to your fellow farmers and stockmen to answer this questionnaire because aid will be based on the acre and reports. If you don't need aid, fill out a questionnaire and on the bottom state no aid needed, but fill out this questionnaire, if you haven't, get one at the County Agent's office or the Chamber of Commerce office and fill out, at once. If you know of anyone that hasn't filled out a questionnaire, have them do so. This is imperative before Congress convenes the first of December as we need, and must have complete data.

PLAY SUCCESSFUL
 The production of "Bashful Mr. Bobbs," as recently produced by the Fluvanna schools was very successful, more than 700 attending the play and enjoying every part of the program. Spicy vaudeville numbers were interspersed between acts.

Better Breakfasts
 THERE are lots of advertisements and also philosophers which and who tell you just exactly how to start the day right, but the common experience of humanity has demonstrated that the best way to start it is with a good breakfast. This doesn't necessarily mean an expensive breakfast, but it does mean a breakfast to the planning of which some thought has been given instead of serving the same old breakfast day after day.
 Plenty of Fruit
 Here is a suggestion for a breakfast which is almost sure to make you start the day in a cheerful mood:
 Morning Eye-Opener
 Shredded Wheat With Canned Prunes and Corn
 Raisin Toast Raised Doughnuts Hot Beverage
 To make the Morning Eye-opener combine the contents of a 16-oz. can of grapefruit juice with one cup of orange juice and two tablespoons of lemon juice, and pour into a glass jar. Let stand over night in the refrigerator. Shake well before serving. This will make four sherbet cups.
 The canned prunes should be left in the refrigerator over night, then poured, in the morning, over the shredded wheat which has been crisp in the oven. Whole cream, half and half, or part evaporated milk can be used with this.
 The hot beverage can be coffee, chocolate or tea, whichever you prefer. The point about this breakfast is that there is plenty of fruit in it, and sufficient nourishment to keep you feeling comfortable until time for lunch.

 Keep dairy cows clean if you want a low bacterial count in your milk, says the Bureau of Dairy Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. In an experiment in which open, sterilized milk pails were used, samples of fresh milk from unclean cows had an average bacterial count of 55,208 per cubic centimeter, while samples of fresh milk from clean cows with udders and teats washed had an average count of only 4,947 bacteria per cubic centimeter. Cows kept in stables need a thorough grooming at least once a day. Clip the long hairs from the udder and flanks. Before milking, wipe the udder, flanks and belly with a clean, damp cloth. Sufficient bedding, proper stable construction, and frequent removal of manure also help to keep cows clean.
 A ration consisting of hay, silage and grain is a good one to feed the dairy heifer late in the fall, in winter and early in the spring. Well-cured legume hays such as alfalfa, clover, vetch, cowpeas or soybeans are best, as they are high in protein and lime. Corn silage is rich in carbohydrates and is succulent and laxative. Heifers from 6 to 12 months old should get from 5 to 15 pounds of silage daily and all the good legume hay they will eat. A good rule for feeding to heifers is to allow about one-half pound daily for each 100 pounds of live weight. Heifers thin in flesh should get more.

 The turkey market will open probably this week and the growers will begin selling their harvest and early matured turkeys first. This will leave their late hatched, late maturing, and scrubs on the yards and this will make their breeding stock in some instances. Mr. W. E. Newton, Poultry Specialist of California says that they did that thing until it was hard for them to grow real number one, fancy, turkeys. It also took more time and feed, and there was more disease, and a greater death loss. Now they find it pays to leg band or tag their early maturing birds for others. They now grow number one turkeys in six months, even have twenty two pound toms and twelve to fourteen pound hens in that time. Turkeys grown with chickens and around them for several years on the same runs and coops, never grow off and often die, sometime we wonder why, but by using the right breeders and clean ground and keeping the pouls away from chickens we can keep this bad luck from happening.
 Turkey grower will meet at the County Court Room, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Future Farmers Hold Initiation
 Boast of 38 Members Under Sponsorship of R. P. Tull V. A. Teacher
 Future Farmers of Scurry County now number thirty-eight members, and under the able leadership of R. P. Tull, Voc. Agr. teacher, have been making rapid progress. John Horton is president of the newly organized group with Hunter Swan named secretary.
 Last week the boys had a great get-together session at the high school building and had a great lot of sport in initiating the new members. As an indication of the fine work this boys organization is doing and what they stand for, the Times-Signal is pleased to publish the creed that each boy must commit to memory and give at any time he is called upon:
 "I BELIEVE IN THE FUTURE OF FARMING. WITH A FAITH BORN NOT OF WORDS BUT OF DEEDS,—achievements won by the present generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggle of former years.
 "I BELIEVE THAT TO LIVE AND WORK ON A GOOD FARM IS PLEASANT AS WELL AS CHALLENGING; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.
 "I BELIEVE IN LEADERSHIP FROM OURSELVES AND RESPECT FROM OTHERS. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practice and policies that are unfair.
 "I BELIEVE IN LESS DEPENDENCE ON BEGGING AND MORE POWER IN BARGAINING; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so, for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when playing square with those whose needed; in being happy myself and happiness depends upon me.
 "I BELIEVE THAT RURAL AMERICA CAN AND WILL HOLD TRUE TO THE BEST TRADITIONS IN OUR NATIONAL LIFE and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."
 A golf enthusiast was describing to his friend the varied joys the game afforded him, and wound up by saying, "Do you know, I'd rather play golf than eat!"
 "But whatever does your wife say to that?" inquired his friend.
 "Oh well, she'd much rather go shopping than cook."
