

ILLITERACY IS TO BE FOUGHT BY UNCLE SAM

Letters have gone out from Washington signed by Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior and chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, asking County Superintendent A. A. Bullock to become a part of the intensive campaign that is to be waged by nation, state, and county, to the end that illiteracy be driven from the land. In his letter, Secretary Wilbur says: "As chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, appointed with the approval of President Hoover, I am writing to ask you to give your most earnest efforts and influence toward a nation-wide campaign to reduce illiteracy to a minimum. Our purpose is twofold: first, to reduce illiteracy as much as possible before the 1930 census is taken, and second, to use the taking of the census as a point around which to arouse public enthusiasm sufficient to carry on the work until illiteracy is finally eradicated from our country. "Your governor and state superintendent of education have appointed a committee on illiteracy for your state. This committee, I hope, will act with and be a part of our National Advisory Committee. I am sure that from the position you hold you will do everything in your power to help your state committee carry out any plan or program that may be formulated.

"One of the purposes of the committee is to collect, centralize, and combine the best methods used by the various states in their illiteracy campaigns. The sub-committee on techniques, after very careful and earnest consideration, has compiled a manual of organization, procedure, and teaching.

Millions Uneducated.
"We are so proud of the great American public school system that we sometimes forget that several millions of our grown men and women in the United States can neither read nor write. It is a high percentage for a civilized country, and means that one out of every 14 people of voting age cannot read such a warning as 'Danger, Live Wire'. "The aim of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy is to discover and put into effect measures that will give a minimum training to all of our illiterate fellow citizens. "The committee holds that illiteracy is one of the chief causes of poverty, and poverty in turn perpetuates illiteracy. The eradication of poverty will go hand in hand with the eradication of illiteracy. In number, the illiterates of the present time exceed the population of the colonies when Washington led in their liberation from foreign rule. These slaves of ignorance outnumber the slaves that Lincoln emancipated. America has had two great emancipations: one the emancipation of the colonies from the tyranny of foreign rule, the second the emancipation of the slaves from the tyranny of private ownership. We have come now to the third emancipation: the release from the thralldom of ignorance of 5,000,000 of our fellow citizens. The cooperation of the federal government, state commonwealths, private philanthropy, and public-spirited citizens acting in accordance with a wisely chosen and thoroughly practical plan can accomplish this end. The purpose is to aggressively push this campaign until the desired purpose is accomplished. No element in the campaign is more important than the county, and headquarters in Washington must lean heavily on those units or it will fail.

Total cotton ginnings for Scurry County from the crop of 1929 were 18,674 bales, according to a government report sent to G. B. Clark, Jr., early this week. LETTERS FROM READERS Letter on Poisoning Answered.

In last week's News there appeared a letter over the signature of James A. Antry in which he discusses poisoning coyotes. The first of his letter states that it is encouraged by the county agent, which is misleading to the general public. Therefore, in order to get it before the people in its true light, a little summing up is necessary. When the present county agent had been here less than two months the division leader of the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, came into his office and told him that he had letters from five Scurry County farmers and stockmen requesting aid in the control of coyotes. The same leader in predatory animal control made two more calls and had some new names or requests, and the county agent looked up three or four of these fellows and introduced them. However, there was no action taken last winter or spring except a few individuals were furnished prepared poison. This past summer and fall Garza County requested aid, and there seemed to be a chance to do some real eradication work of the coyotes in about four counties, with Garza and Scurry leading. The government and state were practically doing the work, and asking the stockmen's assistance, or the county commissioners. When the letters that had requested this work started out to petition the commissioners court to co-operate with the state and government in eradicating the coyote, they found out that it would become a political question and embarrass some of the present court, and not wishing to do that they dropped it after approximately landowners with 200 sections had signed up. Then they came to the county agent and asked what they could do to stop the coyotes, and he advised poison was the best known remedy. He called on the Biological Survey, but they were trying to save the REAL GAME in South Texas and putting out 200,000 poison baits in co-operation with the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. He got poison, though, through another branch of the department, and baits, and the men put them out. A few days later the new leader of this division was here and ready to work with every farmer and stockman that was troubled with coyotes. The county agent's office being the medium to advise with farmers and stockmen, and secure federal or state aid on any such work, he has tried to inform all who are troubled with coyotes the best and cheapest way to stop them. Now that the summing up is done, and the county agent's position known why he did not encourage the work, but has assisted and will continue so to do, let us turn to Mr. Antry's statements and see if they are bias'd, prejudicial, misleading, or facts. First, the government, the state, and every county that eradicated coyotes first poisoned. There have been thousands of dollars, and hundreds of thousands of poison baits put out in Texas, and no war, grass, or domestic livestock poisoned or lost. The Game and Fish Commission just put out near 200,000 poison baits in South Texas, with the ranchmen and government assisting, to protect the real game, and protect the domestic livestock. The Waggoners at Electra put out over $1,000 worth of baits two successive years, and said it saved game and calves. The writer assisted Knox County ranchers in putting out 10,000 baits, and they found 1135 dead coyotes, many skunks, and did not find half, according to statistics. Mr. Antry said encourage the hunter. It's nice sport. I like the chase; but wouldn't it be gross inefficiency to offer a bounty and coyotes as thick in Scurry County, also adjoining counties could break our county smuggling in seals? Especially when the coyote can be poisoned and reduced to the minimum for less than a quarter each; then trapping, etc., with bounties, could finish the job.

Mr. Antry said some people made their living, etc., selling furs. We took this country from people that wore furs, trafficked in them, and ate wild game. Can we expect to enjoy present day standards of living by growing coyotes and polecats for furs? Which is more valuable—a sheep that shaves eight pounds of wool and raises one or two lambs a year, or a coyote? It is estimated we have better than 15,000 sheep in the county, approximately 120,000 pounds of wool annually. The sheep have to be kept up nights on account of coyotes. It injures their wool, forces the owner to have a herder, build extra fences, cuts grass and spreads disease, they would do better and the grass would, and the manure would be scattered over range. There could be more sheep on same acres, if left out. Who can estimate damage to chickens, turkeys, sheep, hogs, and calves; and more so, who can tell how many would be raised if the coyotes were not here, so the people would not have to fence and herd them? The true hunter and sportsman doesn't care to kill a coyote. It's the chase he wants. He pays money for his dogs, and it takes money to feed them. He never sells fur he seldom catches, and doesn't care to eradicate the coyote. Dogs furnish his luxury, like polo horses for the city man. Have wild predatory animals ever developed a country, built cities, or even comfortable homes? Domestic livestock builds, and they can't mix up, so which shall we protect—the coyote and polecat, or our livestock and poultry? If an understanding could be had, poison baits could be put out everywhere, dogs kept up 25 days, then turned loose safely. But the coyotes are doomed to be poisoned. It's the cheapest, quickest, and surest way our government says to reduce them. We may do it together or scattered; the latter way will be more detrimental to dogs. W. O. LOGAN, County Agent.

False Report About Acreage Is Printed

That a report appearing in the Abilene Reporter several days ago stating that farmers of the lower South Plains will increase their cotton acreage, is false, as far as Scurry County is concerned, is the opinion that has been expressed by several leading farmers, bankers and merchants, who say that acreage in this section will be reduced by several thousand acres. The Post Dispatch reports that acreage in that section will also be radically reduced, notwithstanding the Reporter article to the effect that South Plains acreage will be increased. The Lanessa Chamber of Commerce was responsible for the Abilene report.

Passion Play to Be Staged in Abilene Two Days in May

The world's oldest Christian drama, depicting the life of Christ and especially featuring the events of His last week on earth—the same production of a play that 60,000 Americans went to Europe to see in 1922—will be presented in Abilene May 12 and 13. It is the famous Frieberg Passion Play, with the original cast of 33 which presented the great Christian drama so long at Frieberg, Baden, Germany. Three performances of the production will be given at the Fair Park auditorium on Monday and Tuesday nights, with a matinee Tuesday afternoon, May 13. Prices for the attraction, which is being brought to Abilene by the Reporter and N.W., will range from $1 to $2.50. The same production was presented at San Angelo, where churches, civic clubs, women's clubs and other organizations joined others throughout the nation in declaring it the greatest of all shows, and actively sponsored the play. It was presented in Amarillo under the auspices of the Amarillo State Fair in February, and so great was the response of people in that section, a return engagement has been booked during the month of May. Several Scurry County people attended the Amarillo and San Angelo performances, and all praised it as highly as any stage production could be praised. Many more from this county are expected to attend the Abilene presentations. The airplane, the speed car and the canoe are again summer contenders for the accident record—with the canoe having least claim to excuse on the ground of possible usefulness. It is sometimes necessary to play the fool to avoid being deceived by cunning men.—La Rochefoucauld.

Johnston to Run for Precinct Job Again

To the Voters of Precinct No. 4, Scurry County:
I had planned to retire at the expiration of my present term as your county commissioner, but through the persistence of a number of my friends in announcing me again, I have decided to again make the race for reelection. I enter into the race wholeheartedly, thanking the people for the honors conferred on me in the past, and asking their support in this election. I am not ungrateful of the fact that there are many people in the precinct worthy and competent in every way to fill this position, but I think that my years of experience are worth something to the people. If you think I am the man for the office, and by your votes elect me to serve you again, I shall give you in the future, as in the past, my best service. I may not be able to make an intensive campaign, but will try to see you all and ask your kind consideration. If I should fail to see any of you, please accept this as my solicitation to consider my candidacy. W. A. JOHNSTON.

UNION BANNER WON BY FOLKS AT HERMLEIGH

Led by a Snyder delegation of 49 persons, and featured by the report of 80 per cent efficiency from the Hermleigh Unions, the quarterly Mitchell-Seurry B. Y. P. U. Association held its first 1930 meeting at the Union Chapel Baptist church Sunday. An interesting, instructive and inspirational program was rendered between 3:00 and 5:00 o'clock.

The attendance banner, awarded on a basis of enrollment, went to the Dunn Baptist church, with an average of 49.6 coming second. Hermleigh led Union Chapel by three points for the efficiency banner. Union Chapel had formerly held the attendance banner and Dunn the efficiency banner. Dunn was third in efficiency, with 64 per cent.

Rev. Nipp Welcomes.
Rev. T. L. Nipp, pastor of the Union church, welcomed the visitor from two counties, and stated that he would not attempt to pastor a church which had no B. Y. P. U. The Union B. Y. P. U.'s, organized only a few months, were the only ones in the association which have attained the A-1 standard of efficiency.

Rev. John Cobb, Lorraine, chorister, led the group in several songs and choruses before the starting hour. Dr. Frye of Abilene spoke briefly, stating that the chief reason why more young people took no part in church work was because of lack of interest on the part of parents and church leaders.

Mrs. O. B. Carthen of Hermleigh, intermediate leader, told of enlistment problems in her church.

Several Special Numbers.
Special numbers on the program included a reading by Miss Marlin Rosser of Snyder, a mixed quartet composed of Messrs. and Misses, Melvin Newton and Willard Jones of Snyder, and a vocal solo by a Lorraine Unionite.

A nominating committee, meeting before 3:00 o'clock, suggested that all officers, with the exception of the president, be elected quarterly, and that all of them be selected from the same town. The association accepted the change, and voted unanimously to accept the group of officers, all from Lorraine, for next quarter. J. C. Smyth of Snyder, who had charge of the Sunday session, will retain office until September.

Delegations which filled the seating space of the church building were from Colorado, Lorraine, Roscoe, China Grove, Dunn, Snyder, Union Chapel and Hermleigh.

Ira Women in Club Meeting on Mar. 20

The Ira women's 4-H Club met with Mrs. I. H. Snitter March 20. Only six women were present, but a very interesting program was rendered. The object was "How to See and Hear Beauty in Nature."

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ted Harty on April 3. All members please be present.—Reporter.

NEWS FROM FLUVANNA'S SCHOOLS FOR THIS WEEK

The Fluvanna public schools brought home the honor again last week-end, when they won the highest number of points at the county meet. Fluvanna won 394 1-2 points to her nearest opponent's 270 points. Dunn high school won second place. This makes two successive years that the local schools have won the loving cup, and when they win it again next year it will be permanent property of Fluvanna. A complete detailed account of the meet is found in other sections of the paper.

Progress on the new building is still fine, and every one is looking forward to the completion with interest.

The Fluvanna girls' debating team met the Dunn boys' team in a practice debate Wednesday afternoon. No judges were used, as this was a practice debate. Both of these teams will represent the county in the district meet at Abilene next month.

S. T. Matherly was out of school Monday on account of illness.

The Fluvanna "radio entertainers" received a wonderful reception over station KFYO last Friday night, when they put out what was said to be the best program that had gone out over the station this year. The Fluvanna musicians were urged to repeat the program in the near future, and maybe they will.

Watch for the dedication of the new high school building, and be there. Watch for dates on the senior play.

Would you like to cook a meal in your own kitchen with STARGAS?

STARGAS?

What could be a truer test of STARGAS than to try it out in your own kitchen? To cook a meal for your family with it. This test can be made with any type of stove you are now using. Test installation is made in less than five minutes. Nothing has to be done that would "mess up" your kitchen. Of course this "sample," which the coupon will bring, can't give you any idea of the efficiency of a beautiful STARGAS range.

There is absolutely no obligation to you.
This "sample" demonstration of STARGAS is absolutely free! There is positively no obligation to you at any time. There will be no "high pressure" salesmanship. STARGAS, when its many advantages are fully explained sells itself.

STARGAS brings you all of these conveniences

- Natural gas for lights, refrigeration, cooking, heating water and ironing . . . no matter where you live! And remember that any time natural gas, direct from pipe lines, is available your STARGAS equipment can be easily and quickly converted to use it.

This demonstration truck brings your free "sample" of STARGAS to your kitchen door. Mail the coupon for appointment.

"We have used STARGAS a little over one month. It cooks quicker than pipe line gas, at a cost much less than we expected."
Mrs. J. K. McA., Dallas, Texas

The above was taken from one of the many letters of praise for STARGAS that are coming into headquarters. Women who have not experienced the many pleasures of cooking with gas are over-joyed with their STARGAS installations. STARGAS is so clean . . . always ready to go . . . strike a match . . . turn the handle . . . instantly you have a blue hot flame. No fussing with wicks . . . no running out of fuel just when the biscuits are beginning to rise . . . and never again will you need to get all "messy" filling fuel tanks. You can never run out of STARGAS. When the first cylinder is empty you merely turn the little lever on the second cylinder . . . give your local agent a ring or drop him a post card, and out comes a fresh cylinder. Each cylinder is lasting the average family about two months for cooking. After every installation, STARGAS representatives make frequent "check up" calls. This continuous, dependable STARGAS service is guaranteed by the Lone Star Gas Company. Read the letters below from STARGAS users and then send the coupon for demonstration appointment and complete information about STARGAS . . . the safe, reliable, economical fuel for everyone beyond the reach of gas mains.

What others are Saying about STARGAS

I have used Stargas at my ranch house for over six months. Its performance has exceeded my keenest expectations. It has given us the comforts and conveniences of a city home, twelve miles away from the nearest railroad, but we also find that Stargas is not expensive.
Very truly yours
E. T. L.—Webb, Texas

I have been using the electrolux since last June and so far have never seen its equal for farm or ranch use. We run our box from 6 to 7 weeks on one drum of Stargas.
During extreme cold weather we use very little gas, about 2 1/2 months on one drum of gas.
Yours sincerely
T. A. B.—Sheffield, Texas

Your Stargas solved a very perplexing household problem for me. I had been able to secure at my country place all city conveniences except gas, and I had experimented with many substitutes for gas with poor success. Stargas supplies this deficiency completely.
Yours very truly

Concrete Engineer Offers Help to All Builders in County

Mr. Rainey of Dallas stopped over Saturday with the county agent and discussed concrete work in Scurry County. Mr. Rainey is a graduate of Mississippi A. & M., and was connected with the agricultural engineering department of Texas A. & M. a couple of years until the cement company needed a good engineer.

He says he has furnished watering plans for many ranchers and farmers, and one ranchman now wants plans for forty or fifty tanks and specifications. He furnished plans and specifications for the 13,000 gallon double tank Dan Gibson built for his new home and ranch north on the Clearmont road. He told the county agent that septic tanks, poultry houses, cellars, dipping vats, or any permanent concrete work like that, or especially large watering tanks, etc., he would be glad to give the benefit of his experience in such work as well as expert advice in the building material and specifications.

Should anyone be contemplating cement work, dairy barn floors, or anything, and need plans or expert engineering advice, Mr. Rainey expects to come back this way in a few weeks, and will be glad to talk with you.

All-Weather Roads For Farms Said to Be Next Great Step

The American Farm Bureau Federation, an organization representing close to 2,000,000 farmers, is leading an aggressive campaign to provide agricultural areas in all states with year-round, all-weather, improved roads.

According to this authority, 5,000,000 of the 6,250,000 American farms are now on roads which are impassable from two to five months of the year. Yet the farmer pays seven per cent of the total road tax.

It is contended that a wise allocation of funds for farm-to-market roads would provide all the necessary highways without causing an increase in taxes.

A nation-wide program of rural road building to provide farmers with quick outlets to their markets, would be of inestimable benefit to agriculture. It would promote community, state and national welfare, open up new territory and relieve traffic on congested main highways.

The farmer, as one of our foremost taxpayers, and as a representative of the most necessary of all industries, deserves a road system which is second to none. A new era of rural life has come into being, through the use of automobiles, telephones, electricity, tractors and other time and labor saving agencies. Good farm-to-market roads should be the next great forward step.

Every once in a while take a passing look at your tires. You will often discover little cuts and bruises that can be fixed and inexpensively repaired before serious deterioration sets in.

DUNN NEWS

Misses Evelyn Farmer, Oleta Westbrook, Edna Murphy, and little J. E. Ross were in a car wreck Saturday. All were students in the Dunn school, and have not been able to return to school this week. Mrs. Scott of Dunn was driving the car, and is still unable to be up. The accident was due to a low dip just out of Snyder on the Colorado pike. The students and Mrs. Scott are reported to be getting along as well as could be expected.

DUNN WELL PLEASED WITH WORK IN LEAGUE EVENTS

Dunn is well pleased with the good showing she made in the Interscholastic League meet at Snyder Friday and Saturday. Listed below are the places won by local students:

First place in boys' debate; second place in girls' debate; first place in junior boys' declamation; second place in junior girls' declamation; second place in picture spelling; first place in picture memory contest; first place in Class B high school tennis, singles and doubles, boys; first place in junior track and field; second place in senior track and field Class B.

ADVENTURES OF GRANDPA PLAYS AT SCHOOL FRIDAY

The Dunn high school students put on a play Friday night, "The Adventures of Grandpa," which was liked by all. The students are to be complimented for their presentation of the play.

It was indeed one adventurous evening that Grandpa Hammerhead of Yellow Bud, Ohio, alias Clifton Thomas, spent in the dancing-school-borrowed-home of his grandson, "Monte" Ray, and his granddaughter-in-law, his grandson's borrowed wife, Lucy Hunter—not Lucy Ray at all. The call of boyhood pals, college chums, bachelor cronies and even fraternity brothers was scarcely enough to persuade Tod Hunter to "lend out" his wife, even to save Monte from the wrath of his grandfather and to preserve the yearly allowance of a cool six thousand. And when Tod assumed the role of the French cook, he had no idea that Grandpa would have such an aversion to Lucy's fondness for the "intellectual French cook" or that his spells of French temperament would so arouse the old gentleman, or that the real cook's chicken pox would develop into smallpox—thus the quarantine!

"Grandpa's" acting was not that of an amateur, but that of an old hand at the job. Monte, ably played by Jack Johnson, was the typical grandson-of-an-allowance type, canny and all. The tall, lanky, sun-kissed Paul Johnson made the ideal dancing master, and the perfect laugh provoker, when he donned the cap and apron of the cook.

Miss Johnnie Ivy, "ze chief instructor in the grand Hunter Salon de Danes," won favor of the cop, Grandpa and the audience alike with her brunette beauty, her sparkling eyes, and her "right foot so." Pansy Hopscootch, Anice Nail, will long be remembered for her imitation of the startled fawn and the "Nail scene." Her companion, the Dorothy May, played by Miss Estelle Thomas, was handy enough with the

CONGRATULATES HERALD PUBLISHERS, OLD AND NEW

Congratulations to the new editors of the Herald. We had feared that after losing Editor Norman, we would never have a good community newspaper again, but we are well pleased with your first issue.

In losing Mr. Norman we not only lost a good newspaper editor, but lost a good friend and booster for this community. Mr. Norman was always ready to come and lend a helping

We wish to invite the new editors of the Herald to visit our community. We assure them that we will try to do our "bit" in making the Herald a good community newspaper.

Quality Chicks

Only a Quality Chick can develop into a Quality Chicken—a chicken can not be better than it is as a chick. Therefore, if you want quality in your flocks, you must start with quality in the chicks. Why give up those extra dollars when you can come to the Greenhill Hatchery and get your Chicks of far greater quality and for less money? Down go prices:

Mass production breeders can not compete with the free range breeders in producing money-making flocks. We don't have anything to hide. We want you to know where we get all our Hatching Eggs. This open dealing gives us the pick of flocks, and when we buy eggs from a flock we have the privilege to cull it to suit our own requirements.

BABY CHICKS have come to be a necessity. You look around a great deal before you buy other necessities costing far less—so why buy chicks blindfolded? COME HERE and see exactly what you are buying . . . and get exactly what you pay for. We are not ashamed of the quality of our chicks, and put them beside any others.

Our two big Electric Incubators, the famous Buckeyes, the best in the land, are running full time at hatching. Custom hatchings are being receive devery day. Settings are made each Monday and Thursday. Let us do your custom hatchings. We claim we can hatch from five to ten per cent more chickens and from five to ten per cent larger chickens than any hatchery, bar none. Tray holds 112 to 120 eggs—$3.50 per tray.

DAIRY SHOW IS TO BE ON MENU AT PLAINVIEW

On April 7, at Plainview, there will be the finest exhibition of dairy cattle to be seen in 54 Panhandle-Plains counties. Not only will they be on display, but the production contest shows how much butter and milk they will produce under test. Last year the champion of the show was the production winner, combining beauty and production.

Every farmer in Scurry County would enjoy seeing these dairy cows, now while prices are low and some people are wanting to quit is a good time to cull out poor producers. The man that culls his poor producing cows and sells them to the butcher now while butterfat is low can buy good cows or feed his others at lower cost. Seeing this dairy show will be worth more than you ever expected. Some good cows will sell at auction and cheap, but go to see how dairying has developed in this country of ours.

The creamery plant there, owned by 800 Hale County farmers, has given them a ready market for their butterfat, and at a nice premium over what Scurry County farmers have received. It takes cows and care, and enough production to keep a plant going. Every farmer that wants to go and see and learn how it's being done, write, phone, or leave word with the county agent. If you have not a way, let him know. If you are going and can take another, let him know. Let Scurry County have at least 25 farmers at this show. It's the best in the west or the entire state, we think.

Life of Tom Hailey. Quarterly Meeting Of League Not Held

Tom Hailey was born in Wise County, Crawford, Texas, in 1890. Later, with his parents, Brother and Sister R. T. Hailey, he moved west and settled east of what was then Canyon.

Tom spent his boyhood days as most of the boys in the community, going to the little school of Canyon a few months in the year and the rest of the time working on the farm. However, he attempted at two different times to attend school at Ira and complete the work as given there, but due to the poor health of his father he was forced to leave school and attend to the farm.

The writer having attended school a portion of the time with Tom found him always busy with his books and entertaining thoughts and ideas of one with a mature mind. One person has fittingly described Tom as follows: "When a boy Tom was a grown man in actions, thoughts and deeds."

Tom was married to Miss Myrtle House in November, 1911, and a most admirable companion she has been to him. Three girls and one boy have been born to them.

Tom has always been counted and looked upon as one of the most progressive farmers of the Ira community. The above statement is further evidenced by the success he has made in his farm work. Tom and his wife believed in living at home. In order to carry out this idea they raised good milk cows, chickens and hogs about place, to say nothing of a most wonderful garden at all seasons of the year, and a cellar filled with cans of tasty foods for the off seasons.

Tom as a citizen of the community was always on the right side of any question pertaining to the welfare of the neighborhood. He was a man of few words, but the ones he spoke were full of well weighed thoughts and ideas.

He a citizen that was always considered to be fore the upbuilding of the community, schools and churches, for his family's welfare was always to be considered.

As further evidence of his willingness to carry his part in the workings of the community, he served two continuous years on the school board and was a member at the time of his death, and present at all meetings.

In his lodge work the I. O. O. F., he was a faithful worker.

Tom was a character that every man of the community might well emulate. An honest, true, Christian gentleman—that is paying only a mild tribute to his standing. He became a worker in the church at 14 years of age, and continued faithful to the time of his death.

Mr. Hailey is survived by his aged mother, three brothers, eight sisters, and the good wife and four children.—Contributed.

"You've been ringing this door-bell for twenty minutes," remarked the enraged householder to the house-to-house agent. "What is it you want?"

"Well, I thought you might be interested in a new door bell."
