The meeting.will be held a 8p.m., Tuesday April 14, 1998
at the Bailey County Coliseum
According to According to Jim Bone, the administrator of the Muleshoe Area Hospital District, this is an important issue needing to be addressed now because the nursing home is being utilized close to maximum capacity Bone said that studies have shown that the average age the population is increasing, and health care providers can expect a bubble effect from th baby boomer generation to increase the need for care facilities in the near fur ture.
Last fall, the trict formed hospital discommittee to evaluate the current circumstances and the future needs forexpansion. The committee found a need for a bigger facility and recommended building a new $$ 3$ million nursing home that would included a separate Alzheimer's unit. The city has offered to donate land south of the new park as a building site.

At the community forum next Tuesday, the focus will turn to what the taxpayers want and expect for long term care choices.

A NIGHT to shine

Muleshoe Fine Arts Boosters hold annual event

By GEOFF FOLSOM

 Special to the JournaThe Muleshoe Fine Arts Boosters held their fourth annual Fine Arts Night to Shine Monday at Muleshoe High School. The evening consisted of performances by school band, choir and theatre arts departments.
Fund-raising was the main objective of the evening.

We're just making money for the art, speech, band and choir departments," fine arts boosters director Charlotte Holt said "We help pay the bands' fees to go to contests. We buy the costumes for the one-act play, and we furnish art supplies for the high school and junior high school art departments.'
The boosters raised money by charging an admission fee of $$ 3$ for adults and $$ 1$ for students. A silent auction was also held in which bids were taken on items including a Micky Mouse phone, a cooler and gift certificates from local restaurants.

The night also served as a chance for the performing groups to prepare for upcoming University Interscholastic League contests.
The theater arts department headlined the night with a performance of the one-act play "Players in a Game." The play starred Scotty Mills as the Bishop of Prague, Steven Madrid as the scoundrel Richard the Healer, and Kenzie Brown as an aristocratic heroine

The play told a tale of hearsay and gambling in 14th century Prague. The play utilized a creative set design that could serve as three separate settings or be combined into one large set.

Monday's performance was a dress rehearsal for the area UIL contest, which will take place Friday at Wayland Baptist University
The evening began with a performance by the Watson Junior High School band, directed by Martha Anthis. The band performed Vinson's "Newcastle March," Nowark's "Spring Song" and Sheldon's "Pevensey Castle."
The band was preparing for its April 21 UIL competition
The junior high band was followed by the Muleshoe High School "Mighty M" Band and director Anthony Gonzales. The 50piece band played Elledge's "A Samta Cecilia," Root's "Polly Oliver" and Holsinger's "Havedance."
The high school band's UIL competition will be held April 15.

Health issues again highlight County meeting

 By TERESA STONE Journal staff writerBailey County Commissioners spent another meeting ironing out health benefit options for county employes.

At Monday's regular session, the commis sioners focused on two health insurance issues compliance with the Health Insurance Portabil ity Act (HIPA) and changes to the county' current medical policy
A representative from the county's health insurance administrator, Ted Parker & Associ ates, met with the commissioners to explain HIPA and the county's options.

HIPA is a law designed to protect insurance rights for working American families who have pre-existing conditions or might suffer discrimination based on health related factors. The law is also intended to protect workers who change jobs.

Counties, cities, and school districts do not have to comply with the law.

The commissioner's decided against complying with HIPA due to increased liability and possibly increased health care cost to the county
If the county had decided to adopt HIPA, new employee who was covered on an insurance policy immediately prior to their employment with the county would automatically be covered under the county's insurance plan 30 days after employment, regardless of pre-existing conditions
The act does not allow companies to ask for evidence of insurability of employees and their dependents.
By opting out, the county retains its curren policy. If a person has been treated for an illness six months prior to their first claim on that specific illness, they will not be covered for 12 months. After the one year waiting period, all illnesses are be covered by the county insurance
Also the county maintains its right to ask lat enrollees for proof of insurability

The second insurance issue involved proposed changes to the county's health insurance plan. The county will be seeking bids for a new health care provider. The current policy expires June 1

The current policy allows patients to see any physician, but the insurance provider does no pickup any cost until the employee reaches the full deductible limit.

The commissioners decided that county em ployees would benefit more from aco-pay system instead of a straight deductible type system. In order to do this, they decided to seek bids for a complete in-network policy which would include doctors and hospitals.

Under the proposal, the employee would pay the first $$ 20$ and the county would picked up the remaining cost up to $$ 125$. Any expense beyond that would go toward an employees' annual deductible.
Although the county would be picking up the tab for office visits, the county's insurance representative said that in the long run the in-network system would be cheaper for employees, the county and the insurance company.

"Productivity appraisal"  may lower the property taxes on your farm, ranch or timber land!

Texas law allows farmers, ranchers, and timber growers to pay property taxes based upon the "production value" of their land rather than on its market value. This "productivity appraisal" rater than on its market talue. This "productivity appraisal" means qualified land is taxed based on its ability to produce crops, livestock, or timber-not on its value on the real estat market. And it can mean substantial property tax savings.
When is the application deadline? If your land has never had a productivity appraisal or you are a new owner, you must apply to your local appraisal district by April 30 to take advantage of this benefit on your 1998 property taxes. You may get up to 60 extra days if you have a good reason and ask for it by April 30 . If you miss this deadline, you may still be able to apply, but you will pay a penalty. Check may stinu be able to apply, but you with your appraisal district office.
Do you need to reapply annually? If your land already reeciese ariciulutral or timber productivity appraisal, you normally don't need to reapply unless the chief appraiser requires you to do so. If a new application is required, the appraisal district will notify you by mail.

Muleshoe coach John Irwin said the Lady Mules are not completely out of the team race. "We just don't have enough depth," Irwin said.
In the boys tournament, Muleshoe sophomore Ryan Hodge and freshman teammate Westin Price played their way into contention. The Mule tandem is tied for fifth at 78 , four Hodge had an outside shot at contending for the district title, but Price's round comes as a complete shocker. Price was not part of the Mules' five-member team is competing as an individual.

Both however, have their work cut out for them if they expect to qualify for regionals. Clay Jessop of Dalhart is third

"I just couldn't putt," Hodge said. "I had trouble reading the greens and lefteverything short." Tulia is the runaway leader at 303. Perryton (330) and Dalhart (334) are battling for the district's second regional berth. Muleshoe is sixth at 340 and out of serious contention.
Coach Irwin was happy with the way his young team sponded to the pressure of play ing in the district tournament The Mules are made up of mostly freshman and sophomore and have just one uppermore and
