

SCURRYLY SPEAKING

The newspaperman is just a friendly, humorous, sane, healthy fellow who drops into the home of a neighbor to talk with him—
John Sorrells.

BY JAKE

IF a newspaper has no higher motive than to impress its readers with its publishers' intelligence and cleverness, it is destined to die on the altar of public disgust.

Neither should a newspaper appoint itself as a moral purgative for the community. We have the church, the school, the home to perform that function.

But if The Times should fail to cooperate with the church, the school and the home in making the community a more law-abiding, friendly and peaceful spot, it would consider at least half its mission unfulfilled.

So it is that we have taken occasion to drop a few suggestions along the trail... and a few upbraiding for a man or a class of men who are, in our opinion, not living up to community ideals.

Those who think we err should write their complaints to this columnist. We guarantee plenty of free publicity for them.

All this introduction has a purpose. You won't need to read between the lines to understand the remainder of Scurryly Speaking this week.

WITH 85 or 90 per cent of Snyder people, I believe that the closing of pool halls was a step looking toward the very principles to which I referred in the beginning.

Admitting that prejudice is always rampant in such cases, and that many of the players here were law-abiding citizens, it is yet true that the pool halls, in their entire influence, could have caused nothing but a bad community feeling, to say the least.

No personal feeling enters in this question. I shall be opposed to any public pool hall in Snyder, no matter who operates it, unless my ideas of propriety do an about-face.

Pool halls, slot machines and other amusement devices which often pop into a town like Snyder are against the laws of the State and of our own consciences. We sometimes kid ourselves into believing that they serve an uplifting purpose, but we know in our hearts that the benefits are slim when compared with the unpleasant features.

I TOOK a shot at our village bootleggers in this column two weeks ago. Here comes another one, from a different angle. You may remember that I compared a bootlegger with a worm or some other defenseless creature. I was wrong. I should have compared him to a thousand-legged scorpion.

Folks have said things like that about the bootlegger for a number of years, but very few of them have enough information, backbone or authority to do anything about it. I believe I have the backbone to do a little something about it; maybe I can borrow some information and authority.

We hear tales about the liquor business in Scurry County almost every day. I believe I can point out a handful of bootleggers who ply their trade within a stone's throw of this office, although I have never bought a drop of their wares.

From several lips I have heard that Snyder is one of the easiest places in West Texas to find forbidden swigs.

Common opinion has it that the blame for this condition, if it really exists, has two chief fountain heads.

IN THE first place the district attorney is blamed. If he is not too lenient and too soft-hearted, as his critics declare, I hope he will prove it at the next important liquor case that comes before district court.

In the second place, we are to blame. By "we" I mean the tax-paying, jury-boxing citizens of old Scurry County. A few cross questions and crooked answers from a professional liquor lawyer, a sob story, an acquittal for friendship's sake, a forgetting of our duty to the children into whose stomachs a lot of the bootleg stuff may be going.

So go most of our liquor trials. My idea of citizenship, using the bootleg situation as an example, is this: The private citizen who knows of law defiance by whiskey peddlers should report it, whether he thinks the officers will make an arrest or not. The officers should attempt to get evidence sufficient to make the arrest, whether they think the prosecutors will do their duty or not. The prosecutors should do their best to make a conviction, if they believe the defendant to be guilty, whether they believe the jury will give a sentence or not. The jury should give a severe penalty, if the guilt of a defendant is proven, whether they believe the case will be appealed or not.

If that type of citizenship were followed in Scurry County, there is little doubt but that convictions would increase and bootleggers would decrease several hundred per cent.

News Omitted

Lack of space this week makes it necessary to omit several community letters, as well as a few other news items. The community news omitted is from Union, Guinn, Bell, Lloyd Mountain, Big Sulphur, Turner, Plainview and Martin.

Warehouse Here Offers Plenty of Good Cotton Seed

Plenty of Mebane pedigreed seed at $1 per bushel and plenty of certified seed at $1.50 per bushel is available at the warehouse just west of the Times office, according to Raymond Ford, who is in charge. Another car of certified seed is on the road.

The land slide toward pure-bred seed this year is taken as a sure indication that Scurry County is through with half-and-half and other such varieties.

It is estimated that at least eight or nine carloads of pure-bred seed will have been shipped into the county when planting season comes.

High School Band Making Plans For Saturday Contest

Two debuts in their new uniforms this week have prepared the high school band for the annual West Texas band contest at Abilene Saturday, Millard Shaw, director, believes.

The first concert was Sunday afternoon on the court house steps, when hundreds of admirers in cars and on the lawn listened in. Mr. Shaw announces that this is the first of a series of Sunday afternoon concerts.

A second concert was played Wednesday morning at the high school chapel hour, when the new uniforms were again up for inspection. This appearance was said to be exceptionally good. Several townspeople were guests.

"The Knight Errant" by Charles O'Neill is the band's contest number. Thirty-five members compose the organization.

Fifteen West Texas high school bands are entered at Abilene, in Class A, five in Class B, three in Class C, and one in Class D. Snyder is in Class B with Ballinger, Albany, Midland and Colorado.

The local band won second place in the first-year division at the contest in 1930.

Tax Assessing in Country Started Early This Week

Sterlin A. Taylor, county tax assessor, began his work in the rural districts early this week. He states that after two weeks he will be back in Snyder to complete assessing here.

Mr. Taylor was granted a month extra in which to finish the assessing job. One week was taken from the job when the assessor worked in the government loan office free of charge, and three weeks were spent at the bedside of his wife, who has been seriously ill.

This is the last time during his tenure of office that Mr. Taylor has delayed the assessing job. The commissioner's court has made the completion date June 1 rather than the usual May 1.

Louvenia Hartman Buried Here Monday

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon 4:00 o'clock, at the Church of Christ for Louvenia Hartman, 12 years old. Minister Liff Sanders officiated, and interment was in the Snyder cemetery.

Flower girls were Misses Louise Brown and Leona Martin. Pallbearers were Messrs. Roy Irvin, Terrell Bowlin, Elbert Martin and J. B. Tate.

The deceased is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hartman, who live eight miles east of Snyder.

J. L. C. WRITES OF TRIP TO HASKELL MEETING

J. L. Carrell was a delegate to the district convention of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, held last Saturday at Haskell. He has prepared the following article for The Times concerning the meeting:

At the Co-op convention, April 4 at Snyder, I was selected as one of the delegates to the district convention to be held at Haskell April 11. So, in company with H. P. Wellborn, we took the trail to Haskell at 9:00 a. m. and arrived at Haskell at straight-up noon.

After walking part of the way around the square, we came to a splendid cafe just off the southwest corner of the square. There we were served with a good wholesome lunch. Then we started out to find some of the Co-op members—and, say boy, they were hard to find. First we went to the bank, feeling sure that we would get information there as to who was who in Co-op circles, but they would not admit knowing anything about the Co-op or its membership. Then we felt

ONE WEEK LEFT TO MAKE LOAN APPLICATIONS

Farmers Must Apply to Local Office Not Later Than Saturday Of Next Week.

Farmers who expect to receive feed, seed, food or rehabilitation loans from Uncle Sam must make application not later than Saturday, April 25.

This positive statement was made in the local office this week. Since the necessary "red tape" for completion of a loan application takes some time, officials point out that applications made later than the specified date may not reach the Fort Worth office in time to get action.

Many applications for combination loans have been made during the past week, feed, seed, food and rehabilitation all coming in for a share. There will be plenty of office force to care for all applications, according to officials.

It is estimated that more than $150,000 has come into the county from these loans, more than 700 applications having been made.

Most Delegates To Highway Meet Sent By Snyder

Snyder sent the largest representation of any member town to the Dal-Paso Highway Association meeting at Lamesa Friday. The seven attending from here were J. W. Scott, G. H. Leath, John C. Day, Jimmy Smith, C. R. Buchanan, A. V. McAdoo and Ernest Taylor.

O. P. Thrane, with Victor L. Miner of Carlsbad, New Mexico, was chosen as a delegate to attend the Broadway of America Association convention at Hot Springs, Arkansas, April 20 and 21.

J. W. Scott was chosen as an association director. The Abilene News said of the meeting:

Annual election of officers of the Dal-Paso Highway Association was held at Lamesa at a meeting of 50 delegates, entertained by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon at noon.

Victor L. Miner of Carlsbad, New Mexico, was named president of the association for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were: John Z. Martin, Breckenridge, first vice president; C. E. Rollins, Seminole, second vice president; and William A. Wilson, Lamesa, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are J. W. Scott, Snyder; George D. Barber, Mineral Wells; D. W. A. Sabelman, Hobbs, N. M.; M. E. Daniels, Breckenridge; Dixie Kilgore, Lamesa; Richard McCarty, Albany; and all county judges on the Dal-Paso route from Dallas to El Paso, by way of Carlsbad.

Federal marking of the route was recommended, a folder illustrating the route was ordered and a definite plan financing the organization was passed.

Cities represented at the meeting were Carlsbad and Hobbs, N. M.; Seminole, Lamesa, Snyder and Mineral Wells.

"The Dal-Paso highway is destined to become the leading artery of traffic in the Southwest," said Mr. Miner. "The road affords a scenic drive and a short-cut route from the East through Texas to the Carlsbad Caverns, where 30,000 automobiles parked last year." e said.

A meeting of directors was held immediately after the general assembly.

Carl Rountree, retiring president, had charge of the business session, and F. T. McCollum, president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies for the luncheon.

HERE'S WHAT WELL DRESSED FOLKS WILL WEAR—AND WHY

If you don't wear your cotton socks, cotton smocks, cotton undies, cotton dresses, cotton breeches and cotton shirts all next week, you will be missing the spirit of Cotton Week, which will be observed in this county from April 19 to 25.

Principally through the women's clubs of Snyder, an effort is being made to encourage the wearing of cotton garments of all kinds next week. It is believed by members of the cooperating clubs that a week of such observance will call attention to the value of cotton for many garments usually made of other materials, and that the eventual result will be the consumption of much of the surplus cotton now on the market.

Posters are being made for placing in local stores, all schools of the county, and business houses in smaller towns. The program is being stressed principally through the schools. Complete cooperation is promised by Snyder school authorities.

Sponsors of the movement point out that the wearing of cotton garments already on hand, and not the buying of garments for this special occasion, is their chief aim.

DUNN PIONEER ANSWERS CALL

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, for E. L. Crowder, 76 years old, at the First Baptist Church at Dunn. Rev. A. W. Shevmeke of Dunn officiated, assisted by Rev. J. E. McDermitt of Westbrook and Rev. J. W. McGaha of Ira.

Mr. Crowder died Sunday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, at a sanitarium at Colorado. The body was placed in charge of the Odum Funeral Home of Snyder. Interment was in the Dunn cemetery.

Tuesday, March 10, Mr. Crowder and his wife, two Dunn pioneers, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At that time a family reunion was held at the Crowder home.

"Grandpa" Crowder came to West Texas in 1898 from Denton County, settling near Dunn. In later years, after farming, he moved into the town of Dunn. He has been retired about six years.

The deceased is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mmes. H. M. Black and Joe Wilson of Snyder, Mrs. E. T. Hall of Abilene and Mrs. A. L. Grady of Dallas; three sons, W. C. Crowder of Dallas, Frank Crowder of Dunn, and Bob Crowder of Abilene; a brother, W. H. Crowder of Snyder; and a sister, Mrs. Gab Smart of Clyde.

Flower girls were Velma Freeman of Abilene, Geneva Crowder of Dallas, Alleen Wilson, Doris Marion Crowder and Leola Williams.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Omer Ross, Ray McFarland, G. N. Richardson, J. A. Dunn, W. O. Christopher and N. A. Billingsley.

Court Completes Check of School Election Ballots

The Commissioners' Court, in session Monday, completed its canvass of school trustee election ballots, with the exception of two districts falling to report this week.

E. J. Ely, Hermleigh, whose name was the only one printed on the Precinct No. 4 ballots, was made a county board member by a majority of 193. The place of J. W. Leftwich, Precinct No. 3, will be filled by appointment, since no names were on the ballot.

The court canvass shows the following district returns: Hermleigh—A. A. McMillan, R. Groves, F. A. Werner, R. E. Adams, Phyllis—Arts, Haynes, T. J. Rea, Guy Turner.

Ira—No return. Dunn—H. E. Ellerd, Oscar Farrar, T. A. Echols, N. A. Billingsley. Camp Springs—F. L. Simmons. Bison—Tom Sterling.

Another Drive Nets Hundreds of Jacks

Several hundred more jackrabbits were added to the death column in Scurry County Tuesday, when a drive was made from the Midway filling station, on the Sweetwater highway. This was the fifth important drive held in the county this season.

Another drive is planned for the Camp Springs county today, but the rain may help folks to forget about the excessive rabbit crop for a few days.

TOWN FAILING TO BACK APRIL CLEAN UP PLAN

Business District Cleans Its Face, But Residential Property is Still in Wilderness.

As far as the residential district is concerned, Snyder's Clean-Up Week has been a comedy.

The only signs of spring clean-up noted by a wandering reporter this week were a few piles of tin cans, a few neat lawns, a few raked back yards, and a handful of clean alleys.

Rumor has it that folks are so busy making plans for spending all the money they expect to make this fall that they have no time for making their homes more attractive for Madam Spring.

A group of unemployed men, under direction of J. W. Scott, cleaned the face of up-town Snyder ten days ago, but the movement apparently failed to stir up enough bacteria to be very contagious.

Incidentally, the city wagons are ready to haul your trash when you say the word.

And if we say not the word by action, how shall your neighbor know that ye abide not in a mere hovel?

And how shall the stranger know that ye abide not in a city of unclean yards and alleys, and of careless citizens?

Prize Milk Posters In Caton's Window; Week Is Successful

Prize winning Milk Week posters from the local grammar school are being displayed this week-end in the Caton-Dodson show window. Posters were made by pupils in all the rooms, and judges from the Altrurian Club, sponsors of the Milk Week observance, April 5 to 11, determined the winners Friday evening, preceding a special "milk" play presented by the little folks.

Lyndal Westbrook, who is in Miss Vernele Stinson's room, was declared girls' winners, and Doyle Jones, in Homer Springfield's room, was winner in the boys' division. Each winner is entitled to a pint of milk each day for a week from the local dairies.

Observance of the special week is said by Mrs. Joe Caton to have stimulated the sale of milk by the two local dairies, thus increasing the health average of Snyder children.

$2 ADDED FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

A $2 per capita state appropriation for county schools arrived in the superintendent's office this week, bringing the year's total to $10,424.50. Eleven dollars and a half of the $17.50 yearly quota has now been received.

This week's amount was $3,726. Vouchers are being mailed this week.

More New Members Enlisted with C. of C.

The Chamber of Commerce enlistment committee reports nine new members for the past week. They are:

J. L. Nipp. A. G. Preuit. A. H. Rigby. Brown & Son. Ware's Bakery. Nelson Dunn. Stokes Marble Yard. J. T. Jenkins. John Keller. C. E. Ross.

Secretary J. W. Scott and the committee believe many more names will be added before the enlistment drive ends.

Logan Judges Show In Mitchell County

W. O. Logan, Scurry County farm agent, was one of the judges of the Mitchell County Fat Stock Show and contests Saturday. R. P. Tull, vocational agriculture teacher in the high school, also assisted in the judges' work.

Charlie Northcutt, 4-H Club boy of Spade, won the grand championship with an 800-pound steer that sold at auction for nine cents per pound. Poultry, livestock and touring teams were from Post, Sterling City, Garden City, Colorado, Cross Plains and Blackwell.

Red Cross Offers Enough Seeds for 562 County Acres

If every package of garden seed offered by the Red Cross to Scurry County were used, 562 acres, or a quarter acre for each family in the county, would be planted to the gift seed, according to A. C. Preuit, county chairman.

The local chapter has received 450 packages of the seed, valued at $2 per package.

A number of packages are still available, and those who cannot buy the seed they need are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce hall and get their share.

Young Preacher Drawing Crowds To Local Church

A red-headed, freckle-faced college youth, speaker of a spiritual language that touches the hearts of men, is drawing overflowing crowds to the Methodist Church this week.

Rev. Ray Johnson is a preacher, first; a teacher, second; a speaker, third. His ready command of the Bible, his fiery personality and his purposeful delivery combine those three titles in a unity that brings results.

Those two paragraphs, plus the song services inspired by Leader E. D. Curry and Pianist Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, plus the cooperation of Pastor Cal C. Wright and his congregation, briefly account for the success of the first five days of the two-week revival.

Preaching services are held at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Five prayer services are conducted at 7:15 o'clock each evening. Special services, including one for the high school students, will be announced in a few days.

Almost a dozen conversions and a number of additions to the church have been reported.

Ira Boy Injured Wednesday When Struck by Truck

Travis Allen, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen, was injured Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, when struck by a truck as he played in front of the Ira school house.

R. H. Odum and Dr. I. A. Griffin rushed the boy to the Emergency Hospital in an ambulance. He was resting easily at latest reports. A general bruising and three or four fractured ribs are the extent of his injuries, according to the physician.

The Allen's live twelve miles southeast of Ira. Young Travis is a student in the Ira school.

Thrane Selected As Director of WTCC

O. P. Thrane is the Scurry County director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for the year that will begin with the annual convention of the organization in Lubbock, May 14-15-16, according to Winfield Holbrook, chairman of the WTCC elections committee.

The Snyder banker has taken an active part in the West Texas body since its organization, and has had a leading hand in shaping its policies.

England in Car Wreck. Carl England, formerly of The Snyder News, was painfully injured Tuesday last week, when he ran into a cement truck parked on the highway between Fort Worth and Decatur. A forehead cut and a badly split finger were his principal injuries. His car was almost demolished.

SOME RAIN, WEATHER AND CROP GOSSIPINGS

The weather man thundered and lightning Wednesday night, but he failed to help Scurry County as much as we felt he would.

Even so, Snyder received exactly a quarter inch of rain, and other parts of the county are said to have received enough to at least raise the hope that April will bring plenty of showers to make a good planting season.

Unofficial reports say more than a half inch of sky-juice fell in some county sections. Spots were lighter.

Scurry County she can do with longer safely come. In spite of the fact that the land has remaining bringing a Garder the cou program

STATE READY TO ADVERTISE FOR ROAD BIDS

Commissioners' Court Agrees to Accept State Proposition at Monday Meeting.

The State Highway Commission is ready to advertise for bids on the paving of the Highway No. 7 strip of 8.817 miles, beginning at the Mitchell County line, near Inadale, according to Gibb Gilchrist, chief engineer, in a letter to the Commissioners' Court.

The court drove one of the final nails in the bargain Monday, when it signed an agreement to accept the commission's proposition. Plans have been made with S. C. Dougherty, division highway engineer, who has conferred with the court twice recently.

Paving of the mud-bound strip is to be done on condition that this county "agree to pay, when funds are available or from the first funds available, an amount equal to one-third of actual cost of construction of said surfacing." Total cost will be about $119,000, according to Mr. Dougherty's figures.

Fifteen inches of crushed caliche, forming an 11-inch base when packed, will be the foundation for the new road. This will be 22 feet wide, and an asphalt topping 20 feet wide will be added.

The division engineer is of the opinion that actual work should start within a short time.

Band Mothers to Sponsor May Day Fete at S. H. S.

The Queen of the May will be crowned at the Snyder High School auditorium Friday evening, May 1, at 8:00 o'clock.

In keeping with the custom, her majesty will be a high school girl, elected by vote. The evening's entertainment is being sponsored by the "band mothers," and is under the direction of Miss Vernele Stinson and Homer F. Springfield and Millard Shaw Jr.

Proceeds will go toward paying for the new band uniforms.

Cemetery Work Gets Cooperation Says Committee

Full cooperation for the cemetery working here has been given by the citizens, according to Mrs. S. T. Elza, member of the committee having charge of the local burial plot. The work will be completed today.

A special committee is working on plans to make some definite disposal of the old city cemetery, at the intersection of the highways, in East Snyder. No burials have been made there in a number of years, and the place has been woefully neglected.

Crowds that filled the Church of Christ meeting house heard Pastor Liff Sanders in the closing services of the eight-day revival which ended there Sunday evening.

Although started almost on the spur of the moment, the meeting proved to be one of rising interest. The pastor and congregation believe lasting good has been done, especially toward binding the ties between the new minister and the church members.

Ranges as a whole are in good shape yet, and cattle are o. k. except for the price they bring. If conditions are no better, reports

Methodist Auxiliary In Session Monday.

The Ruth Anderson Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the First Methodist Church.

The meeting opened with the song "Savior More Than Life" followed by prayer led by Mrs. Homer Snyder. The president, Mrs. R. H. Odum, urged that the auxiliary assist in every way possible in the revival now in progress, and gave many helpful suggestions as to ways and means of service. It is a desire of the members to furnish a conveyance for those who have no way of attending the morning services.

Mrs. Homer Snyder, who represented the auxiliary at the Northwest Texas Conference held at Big Springs, read an interesting letter from Miss Ruth Anderson of Forto Alegre, Brazil, and also showed the members a picture of Miss Anderson. Both the picture and letter were sent to Mrs. J. Frank Potts of Abilene. It was voted that the corresponding secretary write a letter to Miss Anderson from the local auxiliary, which is her namesake.

Servant of God, well done! Rest from thy loved employ; The battle fought, the victory won. Enter thy Master's joy.

The pains of death are passed, Labor and sorrow cease; And life's long warfare closed at last. His soul is found in peace.

Soldier of Christ, well done! Praise be thy new employ; And while eternal ages run Rest in thy Savior's joy.

—Rev. M. H. Hudson and Rev. A. D. Moore.

El Dorado, Arkansas, April 3, 1931.

Dear Grandma and All: There would not be enough words for me to half express how our hearts have been saddened by grandma's going.

I think we would do well and be consoled to think of his life as a book, a very interesting book, from which none of the pages need be torn out, because they contain all the qualities to make a good life.

He lived right, played the game square, looked the whole world in the face, and finally died with his eyes on the cross, made bright "after the sun went down" by that ever-guiding Star that leads us into eternity.

Our days are numbered, and when the time is up, the chapter is ended, the book is closed. Bravely he smiled in life, and bravely he smiled at death. His road was long and straight, with no cause to look back.

When our time shall come, may we be able to do like him, pass on at peace with God and all mankind, into a world of joy forever, to await the coming of the judgment.

When our days on earth are o'er, And in death we sweetly slumber, Let us meet Him over there, In a world that is free from care.

Our love and sympathy.—Mamie, B. M. and Mama. Ite

Students of the Colorado high school won first place, and Abilene students took second in a typing tournament of District 13 held Monday at Colorado.

McClinton Sets Hurdles Record

Local Boy is Star At Lubbock Meet

Bedford McClintock of the Tough Tigers, almost broke the state record for the 220-yard low hurdle event Saturday at the Texas Tech relays, Lubbock.

The light-weight Snyder lad, who also broke a lot of records when he quarterbacked for the regional champions last season, navigated the low sticks in 24.5 in the finals and equalled the West Texas record of 24.7, set by Stephens of Abilene in 1925, in the try-outs.

By taking the half-mile relay in 1:36.4, with a team composed of McClintock, Marcus Johnson, M. M. Clark and Buck Howell, the Tigers' plied up five more points in the meet, and added three more by taking second place in the special medley relay. That gave them third place in the entire meet, only four points behind the leading Lamesa squad, and three points behind the second place Pampaites.

The medley relay was run like this: McClintock, 120-yard low hurdles; Howell, 220-yard dash; Johnson, 110-yard dash; M. M. Clark, 440-yard dash.

Coach "Red" Moore presented the trophies won by his squad in the Tuesday chapel period. McClintock won a 10-inch statuette for his first place, the 880-yard relay team was given a like award, and the medley relay team a 7-inch loving cup.

A pennant was the team's reward for taking third place in the meet.

Levelland and Olseo tied for fourth in the meet with 12 points each.

Two records fell and a third was seriously attacked when the 300 athletes from 39 schools of West Texas and New Mexico tangled in the first Tech relay event. Hill of Lamesa equalled the state record, set in 1925, with a 9.9 record in the 100-yard dash.

Norman of Levelland and Ayres of Pampa attacked the high jump record when they cleared the bar at 6 feet, 1 inch.

Norman of Levelland was high point man, with 12 points. No other points were made by the Levelland boys.

Tennis Duo Goes Into Semi-Finals

Grover Scott and Weldon Alexander of Snyder, Scurry County tennis champs, advanced to the semi-finals in the district net meet held at Abilene last Friday and Saturday. They were eliminated by the Valley View team of Hoover and Burleson, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Scott, county singles representative, advanced to the second round by taking the measure of Leonard Davis, Old Glory, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0. He was downed by Thwait of Roscoe, one of the finalists, 8-6, 6-2.

The Pyron girls' teams, county winners, failed to enter the Abilene meet.

The boys' doubles squad had trouble in disposing of Austin Cooke and Reaves Hickman of Baird, 3-6, 7-5, in the first round. In the second match they won from New and Rogers of Coahoma in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4.

District meet winners were: Leo Frady, Abilene, boys' singles for third successive year; Leo Brady and Willard Foster, Abilene, Boys' doubles; Ruby Smith, Big Spring, girls' doubles; Winnie Siddons and Louise Boone, Weinert, girls' doubles.

By a two-to-one decision the Dunn boys' debating team, Grimes and Murphy, won from the Lamesa team Friday evening in the district court room. Both teams are champions in their counties.

Moore Takes Track Squad to Simmons

Coach "Red" Moore of Snyder took most of his high school track squad to Abilene Tuesday afternoon for practice on the Simmons University cinders, where the annual meet of District No. 8 will be held Saturday.

The work-out furnished one surprise, when Bedford McClintock, star hurdler, beat out Buck Howell, the Tigers' regular dash man, in a 100-yard race. Snyder is expected to be one of the strongest contenders for team honors at the district trials.

County Athletes Off For Abilene

When the district Interscholastic League meet opens in Abilene tomorrow morning, Scurry County athletes will be there in full force.

Coach Moore of Snyder announces he will take the following crew: McClintock, Howell, Greenfield, Pittner, Johnson, White, M. M. and Kendale Clark, Melvin Wylie, Roy Burnett, E. Jones, Crowley and J. T. Trice.

Other first and second place winners in the county senior track events, all of whom will be on hand as far as The Times knows, are: Shipman and Houston, Fluvanna; Tansy, Crowder.

The dope gives Snyder a second place in the meet, with Abilene taking the lead by several points.

There is a big chance, however, that Abilene's star, Green, and one or two of her other high-powered scorers, may be bested by squads from other parts of the district.

Snyder's dash men should take at least a first and a second, and her field men should account for a place or two. If the relay squad places for points, it will not be surprising to see the Tigers pressing close on the Eagles.

Prexy Says Mac And Buck O. K.

Prexy Anderson, Abilene Reporter-News sports spotter, has this to say of Bedford McClintock and Buck Howell, the two Tiger track headliners, in Tuesday's paper:

"Evidence is becoming stronger that a field of record breakers will apply for first places in the annual track meet of District No. 8, scheduled at Simmons University Saturday."

Colorado Golfers Win From Snyder

W. T. Raybon was the only local golfer who could hold a candle to the Colorado crew when the first Sand Belt Association tilt was held in the Mitchell County capital Sunday. The Coloradans were victors in seven matches out of eight.

Results of the eight matches were: Snyder 13, Colorado 31; Snyder 13, Colorado 31.

uled at Simmons University Saturday. Possibly the most sensational members of the group are Howard Green of Abilene and Bedford McClintock of Snyder.

"Green's capacities are already well known to most of the readers. McClintock has ever run in this high school division. In the Tech relays Saturday he was credited with a gallop of 24.5 seconds through the low barriers, a mere tenth of a second short of the state record.

"Buck Howell from Snyder will be one of the principal speed artists in the short races. He has been clocked at 10 flat in the century at least once this year. John Hamner of Trent is said to have traveled equally as fast. If the watches were not wrong on these lads, Green will have to put his best foot forward Saturday."

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life — in the richness of its finish and upholstery — it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

A Chance to Help Old Scurry.

H. P. Wellborn should be director from the fifteenth co-op district. He is qualified for the place by experience and environment, ability and wisdom. If farmers in this county would let their friends in Baylor, Haskell, Dickens, Kent, King, Knox, Scurry, Stonewall and Throckmorton know about Mr. Wellborn, Scurry would assuredly furnish the next TCCA director from District 15. It must be remembered that the directorate is largely responsible for the policies of the co-op next year.

Wanted: An Unemployed Man.

One member of the Times force has been hoping for two weeks that some deserving unemployed man would call by his home or this office to ask for work. There is a yard to be spaded, a little cleaning up around the house to do, and a prospect of a little work throughout the summer. But, so help us Pete, not a mother's son has asked for the job. This is an isolated case, perhaps, but this particular member of the force is inclined to believe that a whole passel of the unemployed are as lazy as the bones of a street pup.

How About His Underwear?

Here is our best clipping of the week: "An Eastern potentate had a son possessed of a deep and lasting melancholy. Nothing seemed to avail against it. As a last measure to cure this unhappy prince his father called the wisest men in the realm for conference. They finally agreed that if a truly happy man could be found, and if the prince would wear this happy man's shirt next to his skin, he would be infected with happiness, and cured. After many months of search they found this truly happy man, but alas—he had no shirt."

Time and Scenery vs. Paving.

The Colorado Record reports that Highway No. 1 is generally considered the most desirable route to the Carlsbad Caverns because the tourist is afforded continuous paving that way. The next day President Miner of the Dal-Paso Highway Association said: "The Dal-Paso Highway is destined to become the leading artery of traffic in the Southwest. The road affords a scenic drive and a short-cut route from the East through Texas to the Carlsbad Caverns." What does a little paving amount to when compared to scenery and the saving of many miles?

Mr. Barron Needs a Muzzle.

When Representative Barron of Grayson County proposed that The Texas Weekly be investigated, he started himself a land-slide of criticism. The committee to which the petition was referred not only scolded Mr. Barron, but upheld constitutional freedom of the press and freedom of speech. Peter Molyneux, editor and publisher of The Weekly, wrote, before the committee had given its decision:

"I shall not surrender, even technically, the right of a journalist to write and publish his honest convictions about any matter of public concern, nor shall I ever recognize the authority of such a body as the State Legislature to question him with respect to his exercise of that right."

Plugging the Holes With Gum.

William Wrigley, the big chewing gum king of Chicago, has come to the rescue to some extent of the southern cotton planter. He has agreed to buy the equivalent of 200,000 bales of cotton in the South at 12 cents per pound, middling basis, and has indicated a bank in Dallas that will handle funds for the purchase of this cotton. In a statement to the newspapers, Mr. Wrigley said that he wanted to help those who had helped make his fortune, and he considers the amount he is spending for southern cotton should be spent to help his customers in the South. Wrigley made millions of dollars by advertising a five-cent product, but some people declare they can't see that advertising pays them.—Terry County Herald.

"Vehicular Reform."

Within the last week, three cars have been run into the ditch and turned over on the Nacogdoches-Lufkin highway. All three cars were side-swiped by trucks. The trucks, however, did not stop to render aid to the wrecked car and its passengers. That is one thing that cannot be said of railroads. They would spend their time and money to render aid to a wreck, would even stop when they hit a cow.—Lufkin Daily News.

State Press in Dallas News: The trucks are on important errands. They are delivering the goods. The sideswiped cars probably claimed half the road when there was not that much road left for them. The drivers of the cars should have known this and climbed trees while the trucks passed. Many are disposed to criticize the truck drivers, but such criticism must be prejudiced. The truck drivers do not make the roads. They use them. And a road too narrow for the smooth passing of a truck and a car is not the truck drivers' fault. The responsibility is, at the bottom, the public's. The public drives cars, but has failed to make adequate provision for them. The onus, then, is on the public. It must widen its roads or narrow its cars. Perhaps the public's cars are too wide. Why should not they be made long and lean, with seats only wide enough for one passenger, but with a body long enough to carry the usual five or seven, sitting single file? This style of car would require less road width, and give the trucks more clearance. Possibly the trucks would widen out in proportion to the narrowing of the cars, but in that case the next operation would be to widen the roads. All this involves a great deal of expense, but reform is always worth what it costs. And the trucks must be served.

The reforms suggested by S. P. are applicable in East Texas, but out here where pure air is plentiful and trees are not, we haven't found such an easy solution to the truck problem.

Imagine, if you will, a poor West Texas motorist climbing a tree every time he sees a truck approaching. Even before he gets on the Plains, he would waste half his day in searching for climbable trees. In his eagerness, the average self-made chauffeur might attempt to scamper up a spindly mesquite, and find himself sitting in the midst of a prickly pear forest. The doctor bill in such a case, plus the wasted time, would more than double the price of the average car we drive in these parts.

If S. P. doesn't believe that West Texas truck drivers make the roads, he should visit this portion of paradise and see for himself. In wet weather they literally make the roads. In all kinds of weather they make paved and unpaved roads. And among other things, they make the roads dangerous and bumpy. We have witnesses.

S. P. must also know that most West Texas cars are already as narrow as nature will permit. They have been narrowed, shortened and reduced in height by gasoline taxes, license taxes, school taxes, bonding taxes, state taxes and county taxes. If the folks out here hadn't been squeezed, pinch and choked by high taxes of other varieties, they would assuredly have outgrown their cars.

If S. P. doesn't know that reform is not always worth what it costs, he is ignorant of the ways of West Texas reformers. For several years we have reformed our ideas of farming, of merchandising, of schooling, of economics as a whole, to fit a prosperity-dyed era. Result? Just compare our incomes with those of eight and ten years ago, when the reforms were just getting well started.

The Dallas man should be convinced by now that his reforms could bring only misery, unhappiness and desolation to West Texas. The only alternative, as we see it, is for the trucks to sell the junk resulting from all the cars they have wrecked, purchase the state highways with the proceeds, and make private car owners pay a penny a mile for the privilege of using half the roads.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

WANTING DIXIE VOTES.

The South has become the national political battleground at this early stage of the 1932 presidential campaign.

For the first time since the Civil War, the national leaders of both parties are centering their political activities below the Mason-Dixon line.

Two factors have combined to give the land of cotton a decisive influence.

First is the prohibition dispute in the Democratic party, which has served to keep open the wounds of the last campaign when President Hoover broke the Democratic solidarity of that section for the first time.

Republicans are going on the assumption that the 1932 election is going to be a close fight. At this early date they see their best chance of winning lies in repeating their unprecedented victories in Virginia, Florida, North Carolina and Texas. They hope to gain other southern states if the Democratic split continues.

An unusual Republican appeal to southern citizens was delivered over the radio at Washington Wednesday night by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee. Lucas urged the south to get away from what he called "the Tammany tiger." He listed what Mr. Hoover has done for the south and sarcastically criticized Tammany.

The Republican tariff, he said, protects the steel mills of Alabama as well as Pittsburgh, the textile industry of the Carolinas as well as New England. The Hoover public building program put $57,723,000 into construction in the south during the last twelve months, he contended.

"The only concrete propositions which the Democratic organization has presented to the American people are those suggested by Mr. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee," he said. "Mr. Raskob makes the unique proposal that the solution of the economic problems now confronting the United States, and in which the South is vitally interested, may be solved, first, by repealing the federal anti-trust laws; and, second, by offering every individual a drink. This is an entirely new school of political thought."—Sweetwater Reporter.

Letters From the People

About Teachers' Salaries.

In your last week's issue you carried an article which we presume was handed you by Superintendent C. Wedgworth of the Snyder independent schools. Permit us to refer to and answer this article as an independent citizen and taxpayer sees it. The article sets forth a lined-up complaint, that teachers are not and never have been properly paid, and honored for the services they render, in their chosen occupation, and deploring the fact that anyone should suggest that their salaries be lowered in this, the worst money depression in modern history.

We wonder if Mr. Wedgworth's salary was not already arranged, fixed and secured several months ago, and that this article is not an attempt to pacify the subordinate teachers if the ax falls on their salaries?

To answer the first part of the article we preface our remarks by saying that we believe in the public schools as the one fundamental institution second only to the home as the place establishing the nation's future. We believe as our public schools are today so our nation will be tomorrow. We say this with some regret and sorrow when we are forced to see the inexcusable failures our public schools are making today. Snyder alone is not to blame; the state of Texas, so far as the course of study is concerned, tops the list of the responsibility.

Next comes the administration locally. The course of study now put forth is so impractical and unadministered so loosely that a practical mind naturally gets disgusted. To this degree we believe the public schools are laying the predicate for a vast number of failures in our young men and women of tomorrow.

The modern home is failing to assume the responsibility of teaching the fundamentals, and indulges in a vain and fruitless hope that the public schools will function sufficiently to excuse parental negligence. The schools pass the challenge back to the home as the place where the fundamentals should be taught, and in a measure rightly so. But since the home is the nucleus of the beginning and the supporter of the public schools, by furnishing both scholastics and finance, it has a right to expect an honest effort on the part of the schools to function even if the home does fail.

The servant should be worthy of his hire and true to his trust, bend every effort to function even in face of parental failure. A real teacher is an instructor and not a hireling.

A large per cent of the high school graduates get disgusted and quit. The other per cent seek higher institutions of learning with the hope that there they will find what will fit them for at least practical life's work. The day he enters the freshman class of any reputable college the student meets a disillusionist and finds that outside of grammar school he is compelled to master what has been camouflaged and smudged over in the high school—time and money wasted. We challenge any B. A. graduate to refute this fact.

The taxpayers furnish the money for the public schools, not to cover so many pages, but to impart the fundamental, practical knowledge sufficient for the pupil to make a decent living with no more schooling if perchance he can go no further in school work than high school. But we bring the indictment that this is not being done; hence, the predicate for failure.

But just as long as the public pours money into the coffers of the extravagant spendthrifts at the head of our public schools, this will not only continue but grow more burdensome year by year.

There is not a superintendent of schools in Texas but who is an ardent supporter of every higher tax rate bill that comes before the legislative body of the state. One has only to observe the horde of these men who go to Austin each time such a bill comes up to be convinced of this truth. Not 20 or 30, but 200 or 300 can be seen on the ground.

lobbying the legislators for this purpose—away from their jobs, drawing their regular salaries from the public and assisting to squeeze more money by taxation from the unsuspecting public.

The Texas State Teacher's Association has a program on foot now, it put over, will not only take the people's right to select the state superintendent and county superintendents of education away, but permit superintendents' election for five years at a time and relinquish the right of the trustees to select the teaching force of the schools. With this will come fixed salaries which no set of trustees or citizenship can alter.

Depressions may come, but the salaries will remain the same. One has to but read the reports of teachers' meetings and read teachers' journals to know this.

The taxpaying public would not rebel so bitterly if they felt that they were getting value received, but they do not so feel. Just how long the public can put up with unreasonable extravagance and camouflage we do not know, but we feel that there is no unreasonable request that we all take losses together, and there is no reason why salaries should not be cut to meet the emergency. We insist that $20 per day for the days on the job is at this time unreasonable, and that is what our superintendent gets—$3,600 for 180 days. We mention him, for if reductions are to be made it should rightly start at the highest salary.

It seems to us that if we ask the Red Cross to feed 200 or 300 families, and 700 farmers ask for loans from the government to buy seed and feed, nobody making expenses and a large per cent of people not able to pay taxes, that we should all be willing to live and let live—not rob Peter to pay Paul, and one man or class of men be all the Pauls.

Let us by way of reference see how our neighbors are doing things and the cost of their operations:

We find by reference to Bulletin No. 266, put out by the superintendent of education at Austin, the following tax rates for the maintenance of the regular school expenses: Midland 84 cents, Big Spring 81 cents, Post 75 cents, Snyder 75 cents, Abilene 69 1/2 cents, Baird 70 cents, Childress 72 cents, Coleman 53 cents, Colorado 50 cents, Cisco 60 cents, Floydada 70 cents, Lamesa 61 cents, Lubbock 60 cents, Lampasas 60 cents, Slaton 60 cents, Stamford 66 cents, Roby and Rotan 60 cents. From Bulletin No. 248 the superintendents' salaries are: Stamford $4,000, Sweetwater $4,000, Snyder $3,900, Lamesa $3,500, Slaton $3,000, Post $2,500, Colorado $2,300, Big Spring $2,750, Tahoka $2,700, Scurry $2,700, Stanton $2,700, Rotan $2,500, Roby $2,250, Ballinger $3,200, and Merkel $3,000. In nine of the cases on this list the superintendents either keep study halls or teach classes, but Snyder is not in that list. This latter information was taken from last year's bulletin, and we are sure there have been many reductions since that time, one of which we know about. One school possibly has increased the superintendent's salary.

Now, please look over these lists again and ask yourself the question, Why does it cost more per capita to educate Snyder children than nearly every other town in West Texas? Are they getting a superior education? Are they getting the result of top-heavy athletics—is that the reason? It was passed around last fall that Snyder's winning the district championship in football would give us more credits of affiliation—such dire rot! Manual training is good, but when it comes to a school taking rank according to its athletic attainments, it becomes not only disgusting but an abortion on common intelligence.

We want Snyder children to have the best we are able to pay for; but in the interest of common reason, let us take stock, stop the leaks, cut out unnecessary expenditures and make the income and expenditures balance.

Revisions this year, we fancy, will be cut severely—and rightly so. Values are not a good 50 per cent of last year's values. The law demands that a fair marketable value be placed on taxable property, and the courts will sustain no higher. We know good people in Snyder who were unable to pay last year's or year before last's taxes.

House rent is down to any price one can get, dry goods is off, provisions are off, notes and accounts go by default, medical cost is lowered, day labor is almost nil. Then in the name of reason, why is not a reduction in salaries in order? First in order, we believe, the higher salaries should be cut like other towns of our rank. Our average high school teacher at Snyder is drawing $1,027 for the annual salary—lower than any of the towns listed above; lower than Roby, Rotan or Roscoe.

I give this information only to be fair—that the public may answer

The Legato Club had their first meeting last Wednesday evening, with all members except three present. Two new members joined, making fourteen members. The program committee decided we should practice again next Wednesday evening. Some of the members are planning to learn to play other instruments. Miss Weatherby will play a banjo ukulele next meeting. We were glad to have Jesse Jones a visitor last meeting.

Seven active members and one associate member met in the senior B. Y. P. U. Friday evening. As the Sunday School Board sent the wrong quarterlies, our group captain gave an original program, which was very interesting. Miss Dell Marie Cumber, our only associate member, ended the program by singing "Peace Be Still."

Several of the Polar mothers met at the home of Mrs. A. C. Elkins Saturday for an old fashioned quilting, in honor of Mrs. Jesse Jones, who is soon to leave us. People who know Mrs. Jones do not have to be told that we enjoyed the day, as she and Miss Bessie Burnett, our primary teacher, were present.

A gloom of sadness was spread over our entire community Sunday when the message was received that E. L. Crowder had passed away. Mr. Crowder had been ill about a week when death came. He came to Texas when a boy and was converted and joined the Missionary Baptist church while he was a young man. He was married to Miss Mossie Chitwood and they have spent most of their married life here. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Why We Have Easter.

Nineteen hundred thirty years ago in a Bethlehem manger low Slept Jesus, a baby dear, With his mother, Mary, near. Listen what the angels say To the shepherds far away, Lo, to you a king is born On this happy, glorious morn. And the wise men from afar, Guided onward by a star, Bringing gifts of gold and myrrh, Came and worshipped him at birth. But this babe of lowly birth Had not long to stay on earth, For he came to die for men, Thus to cleanse us from all sin. When he was but thirty-three He gave his life for you and me. Now we look to Calvary's hill, Where his precious blood did spill. And upon the morning third, This sweet savior loved ones heard, Jesus the savior has risen today And with you in spirit he'll ever stay.

Easter Sunday in each year Ke keep in remembrance dear And men and angels sing Of the resurrected king.

WINTER BLUE GRASS GROWS ON LOCAL LAWN IN COLD MONTHS

A successful experiment with winter blue grass on a Snyder lawn may open the way to all-year pasturing for Scurry County livestock owners.

Mrs. Dora Cunningham and her son, Dan Gibson, brought some of the seed from Oregon with them two or three years ago, and planted it on the Cunningham lawn. The lawn has been green throughout the winter, and the passing observer would find it hard to believe that it is not seeded in some sort of Bermuda with an anti-freeze complex.

The fact that the grass grows in the winter, while other grasses are dead, and that it does not disturb warm-weather grasses in any way, combined with the fact that it makes excellent pasturage for livestock of all kinds, recommend it to this section. The Oregon country in which it was originated, and where it thrives so successfully, has almost the same climatic seasons and conditions as those in Scurry County.

Oregon Paper Lauds It.

The grass was developed by Charles Hoover, Mrs. Cunningham's nephew, on his Oregon ranch. In a recent issue of The Medford (Oregon) Daily News the following account of the new grass's growth and value is found:

"Local growers have finally developed, after exhaustive research, an all-year pasture grass. Farmers greet the tidings with joy, as it will solve many of the difficulties of costly winter feeding."

"According to R. G. Fowler, county agricultural agent for Jackson County, Oregon, the experiments which have been in progress for several years at the Hanley & Hoover ranch near Medford have developed an all-year-round pasture."

"Several years ago winter blue grass was discovered on this ranch and has gradually been developed until it is the leading winter forage crop on the Pacific coast. This grass is planted in conjunction with alfalfa and grazed from September until March when the stock are removed, allowing the grass to go to seed and the alfalfa to make its usual summer growth for hay purposes."

Hogs Thrive On It.

"On one experimental plot of a few acres of this grass 100 hogs were fattened for market, the only other feed being cull fruit and one week's ration of grain to finish them off. At seven months they averaged 220 pounds and brought a half cent premium above the local market."

"One outstanding point in connection with this winter blue grass is that it is not injured by frost or ice and cattle thrive on the pasture the entire winter. The grass forms a dense resistant sod which prevents the pasture from being cut up and trampled out during wet weather."

"In these experiments when stock was removed from the winter blue grass fields in order to allow the grass to form its seed crop, they were transferred to Ladino clover pastures on lower and more moist types of soil. By this method this ranch has had continuous high class pasture during every month for the past year."

Columnist Enthusiast.

The Medford Daily News editorial writer was enthusiastic over the new crop when he visited the ranch recently. He writes:

"The number of cattle or sheep which can be fed from a given number of acres planted to winter blue grass, as compared to any other kind of pasture, is so remarkable that it is beyond the comprehension of the average layman to grasp its true significance."

"It will be sufficient for me to state that four or five times as much stock can be fed from an acre of winter blue grass as could be fed on any other type of pasture."

"When the value of winter blue grass is fully understood by the stockraisers of the United States, it will, in reality, revolutionize this department of farming."

"It is a real pleasure to visit the Hanley-Hoover ranch and listen to Charles Hoover, who has devoted so much time and study to this great problem."

"Mr. Hoover says that he will consider that his life's work has been accomplished and that he will have performed a great service for the human race, when he has established the winter blue grass pastures in all parts of the United States."

"Charles Hoover is an idealist, and means just what he says!"

Former County Boy Star in New Mexico

Willie Burney, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Burney of the Bison community, is a member of the Rogers, New Mexico, basketball squad which recently went to the finals in the state tourney. The blue-eyed youngster is living in the New Mexico town with his sister, and attending school there. He graduates late this month.

The Rogers boys were eliminated by the leading St. Michael squad in the semi-finals, and then beat Lordsburg, 30 to 39, for the consolation title.

The right way to use the new HUMIDOR PACK

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

The simplest way to insure this is to open the Camel Humidor Pack as shown above.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."

If you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack, switch over for just one day.

Then go back tomorrow if you can.

IN THIS balmy weather it's hard to realize that such a short time ago as March 27th, we were shivering and dodging indoors to get warm. The headings reproduced here tell the story of that cold wave. A blizzard had swooped down from the north with but a moment's warning. We hardily believed the weather-man when he told us, "Freezing weather due tonight." But the temperature dropped 15 degrees in one hour! Gas consumption doubled, tripled, and in a few hours the demand had gone four times above normal. Hundreds of men, trained for such emergencies, sprang into action. Gas was drawn from 1,000 wells in 32 fields. And the homes in 291 Lone Star communities had plenty of gas. "Devil" Tells How It All Happened as Automobile Upsets

Otha Lee Clark, Times 13-year-old "devil," turned reporter this week. This is his story:

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Croft of Mineral Wells started to visit their son, John Croft, at Lubbock. As they got about one-half mile of the pavement a tire which they had not noticed was flat, and as they started to make a slight turn the Nash in which they were driving upset.

Some people which were coming picked them up and brought them into Snyder and they were taken to the hospital, where they were examined and found that the man had a broken arm and a hurt back. The woman who was driving was lucky and came out with only a few bruises.

This being the first time that I had had the privilege of being in Haskell, I naturally took some interest in the appearance of the town. Haskell has the appearance of being an older town than Snyder, and perhaps it is, I do not know. The court house is a great deal older than the court house at Snyder, but those people surely used good judgment in putting out the native hackberry for shade trees, and they are the best shade trees I have seen around any of the court houses in West Texas.

Well, we will go back to the Co-op meeting. We went to Haskell to nominate a candidate or candidates for state director of District No. 15. After a considerable wait, representatives from Baylor, Scurry and Haskell Counties organized (there were no other counties represented) and proceeded with the business of the convention. The names of H. P. Wellborn and B. Walters were put before the convention. No others being nominated, their names will go on the ticket or proxy ballot which will be sent to each member

Comedy in Dazzling Colors Will Play at Palace Two Days

"Fifty Million Frenchmen," the Warner Brothers and Vitaphone production in technicolor, coming to the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday next, besides being a gay romance of youth and love is one of the most uproarious pictures of the year. Olsen and Johnson, known as the nuttiest nuts of outland, are in evidence as sleuths, and the cast includes William Gaxton, Helen Broderick, Claudia Dell, Lester Crawford, John Halliday, Vera Gordon, Nat Carr and hundreds of supporting players.

"Fifty Million Frenchmen" is filming entirely in technicolor. STRAYHORN BUYING PIANO FOR NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL of the Co-op in the district, and in this way each member will get to vote for the candidate he or she prefers, or he may write in a name if he prefers to do so.

I am saying to the membership in Scurry County that we do not have a better equipped man for the place than our own candidate, H. P. Wellborn. When you receive your proxy ballot, don't just throw it away, but read it carefully, take your pencil and mark off one of the names printed on the proxy, put it back in your mail box; then it will go to headquarters, where it will be counted for the man you prefer for state director for another year. So note it be. J. L. CARRELL
