May, Stacy, Spears in Favorite Row for Singles Toga.

Finals in the singles division of the Scurry County tennis tournament, which began Monday, will probably be played Friday evening at 6:00 o'clock. It was announced this morning by The Times, sponsors.

Doubles are scheduled to be run off Monday evening at the same hour.

Twenty entries in the singles division and 11 pairs in the doubles section gave instant assurance of heated interest in the first county-wide tournament for men and boys.

Rain halted playing Monday afternoon, but Tuesday and Wednesday saw one bracket go to the finals and another to the semi-finals.

S. D. Hays, Union Thinks Judge and Court Are Unfair

S. D. Hays Jr. of Union, president of the three consolidated 4-H Clubs of Bethel, Turner and Crowder, is another Scurry County boy who has protested the action of the Commissioners' Court in "firing" the county agents.

Hays says his club has 41 boys working on 75 different demonstrations. "The boys certainly think the county judge and commissioners are not interested in the good of the farmers and their sons," he writes.

The Union boy has just completed a 30-day feeding period with his pig, and made 63 pounds gain, at a cost of about 5 cents per pound, using barley and skim milk.

Young Fairbanks Takes Lead Part In War-Tiem Film

"Chances," the A. Hamilton Gibbs novel, was the outstanding novel of the past year. The author was a major of artillery with the British army and his knowledge of military matters is equalled by his understanding of human nature. The enthralling love story he created in "Chances" is recast in all its tragic beauty by First National. It shows at the Palace Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Beauties that are England and terrors that are war make a background of unforgettable appeal. Whether it is London in fog—where the two soldier brothers, home on leave—meet the girl who is to later change their lives and shatter their devotion for each other; or the ancient English home—the cliffs—the war-torn wastes of the western front—all is real. And the people are as real as our next door neighbors—more real.

Weems-May Tilt Features

The feature match to date was the Weems-May battle Wednesday afternoon. The wiry Fluvanna youngster gave the Texan veteran a three-set run for his money, but May finally won, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3. The Spears-Templin match, which went to Spears 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, was also a headliner. No outstanding doubles matches have been played.

The Forty Bible Fires.

This will be the theme for sermons at the evening hour on next Lord's Day at the First Christian Church. It is the second offering under this title, the fifth in the series of studies in the general theme, "The Bible Hell." It promises in many respects to be the most interesting of any yet offered. Remember that each study enters one stage deeper into hell. The interest in this study promises to be intense, and the information to prepare the way to yet deeper considerations and fuller understandings of how we are preparing ourselves day by day for hell or heaven.

Weldon Jeffries Is Opposed to Court Action on Agents

Weldon Jeffries, reporter for the Union 4-H Club, says that the home butchering and pork curing demonstration given by County Agent W. O. Logan last winter at his home was a good one. He says the meat was the best they ever had. He won $15 at the Lubbock Meat Show on it.

Weldon says our Commissioners' Court, in taking away our lead and county agent, shows that they don't care for helping the farm boys. He says if the commissioners don't give us back our county agent they are just plainly against the farmers.

Funeral services for E. F. Dargitz, 78, resident of Scurry County for 39 years, were held at Fluvanna July 9.

Tonight opens the annual 4-H Club boy camp for Scurry County, when they will gather from all parts of the county to enjoy two days of pleasure, intermingled with contests to keep them on their toes.

Scurry County leading District 7 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association at the outset of the contest of the campaign established records that have been hard for other districts to attain. But in getting a good start, there might appear to be some flagging interest in securing more contracts, and that is the case right now.

New Cotton Instead Of Shucks Should Be In South Mattresses

An Oklahoma farm wife has advanced a suggestion which, in the opinion of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, is worthy of emulation by every Texas farm wife. It's this: Throw away your old shuck mattress and make a new one of cotton.

The suggestion called to the commissioner's attention was by Mrs. Inez Leggett of Cheyenne, Oklahoma, in a letter to the Dallas Farm News. "Every cotton farmer," Mrs. Leggett wrote, "should set fire to his linter, shuck, straw and old featherbeds, some of which are 50 years old and full of germs. The dairy farmer who eats also has nothing on the cotton farmer who sleeps on a mattress made of excelsior. I'm going to burn my two linter mattresses. My conscience burts every time I look at them."

The Oklahoman continued to tell just how she made her cotton mattresses.

The expense of legislation, by forty-eight states this year will be $15,000,000, an authority has estimated.

FERTILIZER AND FEED SHOULD BE SACKED IN COTTON BAGGING

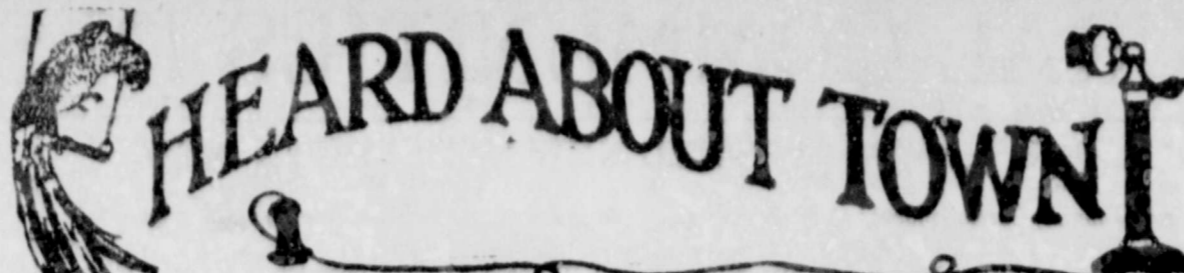

Association for the Increased Use of Cotton Says 47,000 Bales Would Be Marketed in This Way.

Producing 1,434,986 tons of feed and 138,917 tons of fertilizer per year, Texas has a potential market for 47,000 bales additional cotton for sacking these two commodities alone, according to Low Simons, recently appointed executive secretary of the Texas division, Association for Increased Use of Cotton.

value after it has served its purpose as a container. A variety of uses may be found for the cotton bag around the home as a cloth. Simons estimates that if feed and fertilizer manufacturers could be persuaded to adopt cotton bags, and cotton bagging were generally substituted for jute as a bale wrapper, Texas would consume more than 100,000 bales of cotton a year in these two fields alone.

"Bap" Says Court Lacks Interest in Farm Boys-Girls

Weldon Birdwell, better known as "Bap" of Turner, says our dads and mothers elect the commissioners and judge, and they expect them to give us boys a chance. The county and home demonstration agents are the only help the farm boys and girls get out of the county officers.

He says if these commissioners and the judge had the interests of the boys and girls at heart they would have cut their own salaries and everybody else's 20 or 25 per cent instead of taking away our only help. "Bap" says Scurry County boys are as deserving as boys in the 225 other counties that have agents. He says we boys will have to pay the debts that are piling up on the county wayway, and we need all the best agricultural advice possible, and good stock, and save our soil.

"Bap" has four demonstrations—cotton, milo, chickens and turkeys. He started with 21 little turkeys and has raised all of them.

"The Public Enemy" Gives First Real Insight Into Heart of City Gangland

Gangland has at last come in for a searching inquiry via the films. "The Public Enemy," the Warner Brothers film which opens at the Palace Theatre Friday, gives the first vital portrayal of gangland that has yet been attempted in the movies. It is devoid of over-emphasis on the love element, although this enters into its fabric, and presents instead an absorbing panorama of the growth and progress of racketeering as actually has it.

A great deal of the credit for the stark realism achieved in this film is due Director William Wellman. Without trying to become too dramatic, he impresses his audience with scenes which carry the conviction of sincerity and veracity. It does not portray only a slice of gangland life, but a succinct summary of the evolution of racketeering.

Highway Garage Enters Goodyear Zepp Sales Race

The Highway Garage, Goodyear tire dealer here, is entered in the third annual Goodyear Zepp sales race, a contest in sales based on a two months' quota, and participated in by thousands of dealers all over the country, according to Ralph Hicks, owner of the garage. "So many people have been asking us what we are so hooped up about in these so-called vacation days," continued Mr. Hicks, "that I thought I would explain that we are in the contest to try, because it means a free trip to Akron to see the Goodyear Zepp balloon Corporation's airlock where the largest airship is nearing completion for the U. S. navy."

"Akron will be the center of national interest in August, because the ship will be making its trial flights about that time. The U. S. S. Akron, though huge in dimensions, is trim and shapely, measuring 785 feet in length or about 24 times the length of a standard box car and twice the size of the U. S. S. Airship Los Angeles. "The Akron will be carried aloft by 6,500,000 cubic feet of helium, a non-inflammable gas contained in 12 separate cells, the largest of which has a capacity of 1,000,000 cubic feet. Eight 12-cylinder motors, delivering a total of 4,480 horsepower, give the Akron a top speed of 80 miles per hour. These motors are reversible and because the propellers are mounted so they can be 90 degrees can move the ship in a vertical direction as well as fore and aft."

"Three lions or 35,000 square yards of strong cotton fabric is being used to cover the sturdy framework of the ship. A compartment in the forward section will house five completely equipped pursuit planes that can be lowered through a trap door and launched or picked up while the Akron is in flight. "We are planning a number of new merchandising features at our service station," said Mr. Hicks. "To put this firm in the running for the prize trip to Akron and we are offering special attractions to be found in our advertisements."

FORD SAYS SCURRY WILL BE ON TOP

"I predict that old Scurry will come out on top this fall," Raymond Ford, recently promoted from the Snyder to the district Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, said while he was in town Tuesday. "I don't mean," he made it clear, "that everybody will make money, but I am sure the farmer will be satisfied if he can pay the way to make another crop without having to resort to a government loan."

"I was very much gratified to see the improvement in crop conditions during my absence from Scurry County. I noticed a great change in the feeling among the farmers and merchants on my arrival here. Everybody greeted me with a smile. In other words, the general feeling for better times is truly notable. Ford called attention to his promise that a good man would be placed in Snyder as his successor. He recommends the new manager, J. F. Rise and Decline of Gambling and Pool at Palace Theatre

Edward Robinson, whose genius for dynamic characterization was so perfectly demonstrated in "Little Caesar"—the picture which recently was written by those masters of the melodramatic, Kubec Glasmon and John Bright, who did "The Public Enemy," which recently brought James Cagney into the small company of the elect of talking pictures. Mr. Robinson plays the part of Nick the Greek, a small town barber who runs crap-games in the room back of his tonsorial parlor—and considers life to be nothing else than one glorious round of gambling and girls—the latter to be, without exception, of blonde persuasion. Nick has delusions of grandeur, and to make them come true, he beats it to the big town to look up the big shots in the gaming field, and to begin his operations. The picture shows the making and taking of a story which holds the spectator spellbound from the strange beginning to the startling climax.

Blondes are Always bobbing up and out—Nick finally meets the girl, trims him at pokers—and so grows in power and possessions. His finish is in the making—when he takes in a blonde who has been trying to commit suicide—but that is the story—a vital part at least of a story which holds the spectator spellbound from the strange beginning to the startling climax.

Twenty-four clearly drawn characters appear in the play—each a bundle of casing—and James Cagney leads the support as Jack, a barber who follows Nick to the city and meets his doom in trying to defend him from "bulls" and the blondes. "Smart Money" comes to the Palace Wednesday and Thursday.

Uncle Sam Buys 1500 Ford Truck Chasses for P. O.

The United States Post Office Department has just placed an order with the Washington branch of the Ford Motor Company for 1,500 motor truck chasses, of which 500 will be three-quarter ton carrying capacity and 1,000 of one and one-half tons carrying capacity. The purchase of the motor equip- ment was the largest made by a government department since the war. With this order Ford sales to the Post Office Department during recent years reached a total of 2,900 units. The purchase marked another step in the department's program of building up its fleet of several thousand trucks and also to replace some of the surplus trucks turned over to the Post Office Department by the army at the close of the war. Deliveries are to start immediately and continue as rapidly as the bodies contracted for are ready for installation. The completed trucks will then be distributed to some 60 cities throughout the United States. The order was placed with the Ford Motor Company after an exhaustive test conducted by the department with the cooperation of the bureau of standards. The tests were under the supervision of W. A. Jacobs, automotive engineer of the bureau of standards, and William Wolma of Chicago and Morris Carrier of Brooklyn motor vehicle engineers of the Post Office Department.

Serious Mistake Is Made When Court Drops Agent Pay

John Henry Trussell, ex-4-H Club member of Fluvanna, who has passed the age limit, says he thinks the Commissioners' Court is making a serious mistake in giving the county agents their walking papers. John Henry Trussell says the court certainly does not have the interest and welfare of the boys and farmers at heart or they wouldn't do a thing like this. He won a trip to Chicago, to A. & M. Short Court, to Dallas, Tex., and a loving cup with a club boy. Layne Roddy of Fluvanna says they have about 48 club members there. He says he certainly endorses what John Henry Trussell wrote.

Several graduates of Snyder High School are planning to enter John Tarleton next fall, according to Lieut. Col. E. W. Scott, a student of the junior A. & M. at Stephenville.
