Snyder Club Women Attending State Federation Meeting Held in Lubbock

Snyder club women attending the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs being held in Lubbock this week include Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, president of the seventh district, Mrs. O. P. Thrane, a member of the convention hospitality committee, Mmes. C. R. Buchanan, Wayne Boren, Joe Caton, W. W. Hamilton, R. H. Curmiste Sr., W. R. Bell, J. P. Pool, W. T. Raybon and Ivan Dodson.

The formal opening of the meet was held Tuesday morning at the First Methodist Church. Reports from district presidents and delegates from highest scoring clubs filled most of the day's program. In the evening a fine arts program was given and welcomes were extended to the delegates by Mrs. Whitmore of Snyder, J. J. Clements, mayor, and C. E. Maedgen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological College.

Election of officers featured Wednesday's program, results of which were officially announced today. Mrs. F. Lindsay, Mt. Pleasant, retiring head of the Federation, was accorded the directorship of the State Federation in a unanimous vote by acclamation when her name was presented from the floor. Wednesday evening judges awarded E. G. Eisenlohr of Dallas first place in the art exhibit of more than 200 paintings. His painting, "Waller Creek," will be bought by the Federation for $500 and hung in the proposed headquarters building in Austin.

Thursday, the final day, includes another business luncheon and climaxes the entire convention with the Texas Dinner with "Texas Under Six Flags" featured in song and story.

The Junior Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian Church gave an interesting program last Sunday morning at their meeting.

"Blazing New Trails in India" was the program subject, with Miss Irene Wolcott as director. After a short business session, the leader introduced and described "Two Keys," which had been sifted together. Mix well and drop on greased baking pan and bake 20 minutes—Mrs. S. T. Elza.

Grape Juice Marlow.
One pint grape juice; 2 boxes marshmallows; 1 tablespoon gelatin; and 1 pint whipping cream. Cut marshmallows into small pieces and pour over them the grape juice. Heat the mixture and stir until the marshmallows have melted. Take off stove and add gelatin. Let sit until it thickens and then beat until fluffy. Add the cream that has been whipped. Set in ice box and serve with angel food cake.—Mrs. J. M. Harris.

Pecan Pie.
One and one-fourth cupsful sugar; one-third cupful flour; 3 eggs yolks; 1 cup sweet milk; 1 1/2 cups milk. Mix dry ingredients and add to beaten egg yolks. Add milk. Place in double boiler; when thickened add nuts, then cook for a few minutes. Pour into a baked pie shell and cover with meringue made from three egg whites, two tablespoons of sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Bake in a slow oven until brown.—Mrs. A. E. Wiese.

FAVORITES

Mrs. R. E. Gray has submitted a fine recipe for Graham Muffins this week and Mr. Gray guarantees them to "hit the spot." A fresh Meat Salad in which is included fresh cranberries belongs to Mrs. Nelson Dunn and it sounds mighty good. Mrs. S. T. Elza's name for her cookie recipe is "Delicious Recks." When racking your brain for something different for dessert, how about Grape Juice Marlow? Mrs. J. M. Harris has given us the recipe for this delicious dessert. Pecan Pie will become a favorite after one has tried Mrs. A. E. Wiese's recipe.

Graham Muffins.
One egg beaten light; 1 cup of sweet milk; 1 cup white flour; 1 1/2 cups graham flour; 2 teaspoons of baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon sugar; and 2 tablespoons melted butter. This will make 8 large muffins.—Mrs. R. E. Gray.

Fresh Meat Salad.
One pint fresh cranberries; 1 pint tart apples; Cut cores from apples and run both apples and cranberries through food chopper. Add 2 cups sugar. Before serving add 1 cup of nut meats. If preferred, salad dressing may be mixed with the ingredients.—Mrs. Nelson Dunn.

Delicious Recks.
One cup shortening; 1 1/2 cup of brown sugar; 3 cups flour; 2 eggs; 1 teaspoonful cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 cup raisins; and 1/2 cup nut meats. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, add the well beaten eggs, raisins and nuts; stir well. Add flour, soda, cinnamon and salt which has been sifted together. Mix well and drop on greased baking pan and bake 20 minutes.—Mrs. S. T. Elza.

Grape Juice Marlow.
One pint grape juice; 2 boxes marshmallows; 1 tablespoon gelatin; and 1 pint whipping cream. Cut marshmallows into small pieces and pour over them the grape juice. Heat the mixture and stir until the marshmallows have melted. Take off stove and add gelatin. Let sit until it thickens and then beat until fluffy. Add the cream that has been whipped. Set in ice box and serve with angel food cake.—Mrs. J. M. Harris.

A Simple Remedy for Scorch Stain

A simple remedy for scorch stain is to moisten the stain with water and place in the sun. For more serious cases a piece of cloth moistened with hydrogen peroxide may be placed over the stain, covered with a dry cloth, and the spot ironed with a medium hot iron. If the hydrogen peroxide soaks through, replace the upper cloth. Be careful to see that the hydrogen peroxide does not touch the iron as it will cause it to rust very rapidly. Rinse the garment thus treated before ironing. This method must be used very carefully on colored fabrics as the dyes may bleach out.

Sauerkraut can be preserved by heating it in a water bath until the center of the jar shows a temperature of 160 degrees, and then sealing the jars tightly.

Buttermilk contains most of the vitamins B and C present in whole milk, but since the butterfat has been almost entirely removed, vitamins A and D which are soluble in fat, will be limited in amount, depending on how much butterfat remains. The buttermilk is valuable as a food in spite of this lack, but when it is necessary to include larger amounts of vitamins A and D in the diet, whole milk should be used.

Roasts from the so-called tender cuts of meat are better cooked without water. In case there is not very much fat get an extra piece of suet and skewer it to the top. Place the meat in a very hot oven to sear on the outside. Then reduce the temperature and cook slowly until done.

Lye hominy is made by soaking the whole grain in water that contains lye until the hulls are loosened or softened, then washing the hulled grains in clear water and boiling them. Lye hominy has a distinctive flavor which many enjoy and is used in the same ways as other course hominy.

Happy Housewives

... they send their Clothes to the Laundry...

WHY?

BECAUSE—

1. Health Comes First . . .
2. It Is Cheapest in the Long Run
3. The Laundry Does It Best

—Every doctor in Snyder agrees that the Laundry's modern methods of sterilizing and washing clothes destroys disease germs almost 100 per cent. No method that neither boils the clothes nor dries them with steam heat, these doctors will tell you, can protect you and your family.

—Aside from the fact that the health of your family means more than anything else, the Laundry assures you of fair prices, absolutely spotless clothes and helps keep your clothes looking fresh and new much longer.

—Compare laundry-finished clothes to those sent elsewhere. Up-to-date date machinery and skilled employes insure work that is practically perfect.

"Did you know that each piece we send to the Laundry here is passed through eight to eleven waters?"

"And I learned yesterday that germs of any disease are just about as good as dead when they go to the Laundry."

"John and I have decided to send every single 'stitch' to the laundry for health means more to us than anything else in the world!"

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

Editors Renew Fight.
 Continuing its long fight against the encroachment of the government upon private business, the National Editorial Association recently launched a new campaign, one feature of which is furnishing members attractive colored stickers bearing the words: "Government in business cuts the heart out of a private enterprise and kills individual effort."—Foard County News (Crowell).

It Truly Means Something.
 This year the Roll Call is of more than ordinary importance locally because of the part that it will play in providing food and clothing for the unemployed of Young County during the coming winter. A membership in the American Red Cross truly means something. Don't let the Roll Call go by without having a part in this fifty-year-old organization that soothes the whole world in time of trouble.—Graham Leader.

The Part of the Underdog.
 "We talk about getting people down," said a man the other day, "but none of us mean it. Somehow I can't help feeling sorry for the underdog. I have a much better respect for him than I do for the man who gives him a kick after he is down." It is against the rules of football, prize fighting and most every other game to hit the down man, but it seems that in business and society we do not stop sometimes—we just keep hammering away at them.—Stamford Leader.

Norfleet Joins Law Enforcement Commission.
 J. Frank Norfleet, that wiry little straight thinking man who gained world wide fame when he ran to earth six swindlers who had defrauded him of his life savings, has associated himself with the State Law Enforcement Commission which has its headquarters in Dallas. In associating himself with this organization J. Frank Norfleet recognizes it as filling the need to handle just such cases as the case which brought him into world wide prominence as a detective of first rank.—Winters Enterprise.

A Tribute to Old Maids.
 Bruce Barton, in his "Way of Life," delivers an unhesitating reverence to the old maids of the country. Barton makes it plain that they are the ones to whom we owe so much—these grand and gentle ladies who step into the mother's shoes when she is not around or when a brood is left motherless. There is no word mentioned about the mothers themselves who produced that brood of children and reared them almost to womanhood and manhood before they themselves were called away.—Lufkin Daily News.

If Alfred E. Smith Were President.
 If Alfred E. Smith were president today what a howl would be going up from the Republican press throughout the country! When Grover Cleveland was president they vilified him most unmercifully and kept at it for years after he was out of the White House; and the lamented Woodrow Wilson was practically crucified after he had led the nation triumphantly through the World War. With the Democratic press there is a broader tolerance which is very much to their credit.—Haskell Free Press.

What November Brings.
 A new note—an undercurrent of optimism and enthusiasm—seems to have been ushered in with the new month of November. Perhaps it is the cooler weather, added to the improvement in the national situation, aided by the natural stimulating influence of the fall season on business. Whatever it is, it increases as the days go by until things get back to normal and everyone begins pursuing the even tenor of his or her ways again, after a most dismal period of dismal sluggishness.—Hico News Review.

Texas Womanhood.
 We are indeed glad that we did not derive our estimate of Texas womanhood from the antics of the Texas Women's Democratic party. We are glad that we have been permitted to form an estimate of Texas womanhood by contact with a wife and mother who are as sincere in their democracy and politics as ever was Thomas Jefferson or Joseph W. Bailey. At a meeting of the so-called "Texas Women's Democratic Party" last week that body sent a vote of confidence to Bishop Cannon, under indictment for the misuse of Republican funds in a campaign in which he was engaged nominally as a Democrat to defeat the Democratic national party.—Robert Lee Observer.

Why Support the Roll Call?
 Just as an instance of why officials are so vitally interested in receiving a full quota of paid memberships from every county, it might be pointed out that had there not been a large reserve fund in the treasury of the Red Cross no aid would have been forthcoming during the cold winter months of 1931. As it was it required little time for the relief to come through and before the end of winter 81 counties in Texas had been given $623,000.00. Out of every

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

THE COW MUST FOLLOW THE FLOW
 By Frank P. Holland, President of the Texas Breeder-Feeder Association.
 In "West Texas Today"

Half a century back the plow drove the range cattle from Central Texas, and during the past decade West Texas has been going through the same process. Somehow in the urge to conquer the land for the plow we forgot that no agriculture has ever been permanent without livestock. The eastern half of Texas has paid dearly for that lapse and is now slowly building back toward a balanced husbandry. West Texas is recognizing the danger signals before the land has been greatly depleted, and fortunate indeed will it be if the lesson be well enough learned to re-establish livestock on the land where only a few years ago the last roundup was proudly proclaimed.

The slogan of West Texas—"The Raw Materials Capital of the World"—is strikingly truthful, but it must be remembered that countries which produce raw materials only are subject to severe handicaps in competition with those which also turn out finished products. It is gratifying to see, therefore, that West Texas is turning her farms into factories where large quantities of her wealth of raw materials are being turned into finished products. Dairy products and poultry products have naturally followed the production of great feed and grain surpluses; now hogs, sheep and cattle for meat production are recognized as the next logical step in building a permanently prosperous agriculture, and instead of two raw products—range calves and lambs, and feed products—these farm factories will this year produce finished meat animals in quantities never before known here.

West Texas has been producing good beef cattle and sheep for more than a generation. While some of them went to slaughter from the pastures, millions of head went north to be used as a market for beef pulp, corn and other feed grains from Colorado to Ohio. Since the great ranches were broken up and largely planted to crops, West Texas has been shipping enormous quantities of food grain to distant markets. Transportation costs and handling charges added, this grain became expensive to the farmer far away even though the West Texas farmer sold it cheaply. The eastern cotton farmer found he could no longer afford to buy and began to raise more of his own feed. With the largest feed crop in history, this year found the West Texan without a cash market worthy of the name, and today he is thinking in terms of selling that feed in a new package—the hide of an animal.

The question of financing the farmer in the purchase of feeder calves or lambs was recognized in the beginning of the movement as a problem that must be met. With the organization of the Texas Livestock Finance Corporation, machinery was provided by which to tap the great resources of the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, so that when local banks or other local sources of credit are unable to meet the demand for feeder financing, it can be handled through the state association. Furthermore, plans have been worked out for cooperation between breeder and feeder without financing, by which they put their two raw products together to form one finished product and each participate in the profits when the finished animals are sold.

The Corn Belt has been known as the great feeding ground of the nation for two generations past. West Texas today is producing cheaper feed than any Corn Belt state can produce. With its own feed grains and its own cottonseed meal, with the excellent roughage furnished by the sorghums, and with the same intelligence and industry that is applied to any other successful enterprise, West Texas has the opportunity to become one of the greatest feeding grounds of the nation.

What that means in supporting a necessary rotation of crops; in furnishing profitable employment during the months ordinarily calling for little work in the field; what it means in saving haulage of feed crops from farm to town, and in utilizing enormous quantities of roughage which otherwise has no cash value; what it means in having fat stock to sell early in the year with which to finance the cropping operations of the summer; in short, what it means in a well-rounded system of husbandry, every thinking West Texan already knows.

We have the animals, we have the feed, we have the financial set-up, we have the intelligence. Combined, these factors will transform the uneconomic, time-wasting soil-destroying, dependent cash-crop system into a balanced type of farming in which our natural advantages and resources are made to return their utmost in happiness and prosperity.

membership fee paid in the national office will receive 50 cents, with the remaining portion of the funds kept here. Do not shirk the Red Cross. We may need them again, and certainly they need us now.—Stephenville Empire Tribune.

Tax Reductions in Winkler.
 Whatever else may be said of Winkler County, it must be chronicled to the credit of the citizens there that they properly insisted and obtained reductions in city and county administration expenses. The reduction was inevitable, of course, as income of both the county and town of Wink are to be seriously curtailed this year. The people made a spectacular mass demonstration, demanded that certain things cease, and they got what they went after.—Pecos Enterprise.

Speaking of Football Again.
 We aren't a farmer, hence no cotton to sell, neither are we a poultryman with chickens and eggs to sell, nor are we a dairyman who gets up at 4:00 o'clock in the morning to milk and comes down to sell his milk. We haven't anything to sell, or rather any product to sell to bring us in any revenue but the advertising columns of this newspaper, and a look over this paper will disclose the fact to the reader that there is darn little of that, so whatever we might say on any other topic, rather than football, won't advance the price of the commodities of the farmer, poultryman or the dairyman, nor will the weight of our argument on any of these topics break the backbone of the depression, unless it be football.—Stanton Reporter.

Another Hoover Angle.
 Most of the criticism of President Hoover is based upon his inability to stir the emotions of the crowd. He never "makes the eagle scream" and he does not like to quarrel in public with his political opponents. But when he can get a group of men around a table to discuss any question of public importance, he usually gets what he goes after. That is what Mr. Hoover has been doing in the matter of the war-debt moratorium, the new plan for credit relief, and other measures of great importance. It is a new method in American statecraft, but it seems to work. It takes leadership to work it, and those who have been saying that Mr. Hoover is not a leader need to revise their views. Leaders do not always wave their swords and parade with a brass band.—Sharon Stantonite.

CURRENT... COMMENT
 BY LEON GUINN

Premier Laval of France and President Hoover reached a new accord in their recent meeting not before achieved in politics. It was essential that they at least usher in a new note of optimism. No guarantee, no secret agreement, or muddling was attempted. They had to face hawk-eyed cameramen, inquisitive reporters, important dignitaries, yet the typical note of understanding erased unpleasantness. They were loyal to a specific cause. That of peace. Some said Hoover was the big wig, others, like Brisbane, said it was not advisable to play with Laval, therefore the result was a friendly meeting bathed in that rarified spirit of sympathy, mutual accord, understanding, no bartering.

As this is being read Al Capone is looking out of a Chicago cell on Chicago skyline, stripped of his glamour, notoriety, tinsel. For the first time in his 11 years, Snorky, (to his friends) was actually behind the bars. He has gone on a long journey, has $50,000.00 in fines to pay, and at last is proof that the big shots are polyglots before the honored bar of justice. This ended the greatest court room victory in several years. Behind all the evidence, the testimony, the trial is District Attorney George Emmerson Q. (for nothing) Johnson. It was he that was responsible for Capone's conviction. I stated previously, (in Scurry County Times, June 25) that Al was then technically on the spot. Now he's under lock and key.  Soviet Russia trying the Five-year Plan and other infidelic absurdities, finds a coat of its laqueer cracked as the world hears via telegraph of its wheat crop failure. A leak in the dyke at last. Russia contracted to supply European nations with wheat which did not exist, hence Russian officials began scampering to buy back said contracts. France, Germany, Italy, turned to Canada and the U. S. to purchase a good grade wheat, as Europe had only 65,000,000 bushels (four weeks supply) of wheat fit for milling. In a fortnight December wheat skyrocketed to 61 cents, added $67,000,000 to wheat values. Targing behind corn bounded up 10 cents per bushel, added $216,000,000 to corn, oat values increased $40,000,000, rye $5,000,000, bringing the increase in grain values to $328,000,000 above what they were on October 5 (Chicago Black Monday), and cotton took a high dive to up that much cussed staple $8 per bale (since October 5).

Written at the William Taylor Hotel in San Francisco. While strolling around a California town the other day, I stopped in to see a police court in action. Several traffic violators were awaiting trial. There was an atmosphere of tense excitement in the room. The judge came in, took his seat and hastily moved a bottle of smelling salts from his desk, and wisely too, for in the minds of some ignorant people it might be taken for something else. The judge then squared himself in his seat and said, "Since I have presided over the destinies of this court, and I hope not without honor and distinction, I have made it a strict principle always to give justice to those who appear before me. So despite the enormity of the offenses of which you (addressing the prisoners) have been guilty, I am disposed to treat you as misguided people instead of the hardened criminals that you are."

With that he started in with fines from 10 to 50 dollars. He soaked them all. I quietly left. I did not want to attract his attention, as he might have fined me on general principles.

Last year California produced 456,000 tons of wine grapes. What in the world do they do with them in this 100 per cent prohibition country.

"You needn't tell me — I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!"

Never parched, never toasted
CAMELS are FRESH
 in nature's own mild way!

EVERYONE knows now that Camels are the fresh cigarette.
 If inquiry went deeper, it would reveal that Camels are the natural moisture cigarette.
 That's important, because in handling fine tobaccos, when you process out natural moisture, you sacrifice freshness and flavor too.
 Camel smokers needn't worry about that, because Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that are never subjected to violent processing. They need no parching or toasting to make them smooth, palatable, cool.
 That's why the Camel Humidor Pack is such a boon to Camel smokers—it preserves the freshness, flavor, natural moisture, fragrance that are in this fine cigarette to start with.
 Camels are fresh in nature's own mild way, and if you want to see what that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to them for just one day — then leave them, if you can!

 Made FRESH — Kept FRESH

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked.

Fillipinos Were Savage as Allies Of Yanks at Manila, Says Chilton

Alles, more bloodthirsty than Apache Indians, according to Thomas H. Chilton, court reporter of this district, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, were the Fillipinos who aided the Americans in the assault on the city of Manila and its capture after Admiral Dewey had sunk the Spanish fleet under the guns of Cavite. It was the fear that these savage islanders would yield to the impulse for revenge that made the Americans refuse to let their ferocious allies enter the city after its capture—a thing that finally led to the breach between the United States forces and the Fillipinos, with the drawn-out warfare that resulted, Chilton relates.

Chilton is also a veteran of the World War. A Marine boy, who enlisted at Dallas, May 23, 1898, Chilton was probably the first Falls County man to answer the call of President McKinley for 75,000 volunteers. A previous attempt by Chilton to enlist failed because he was under weight, but the influence of Senator George Chilton, a relative, obtained his acceptance for military service. As a member of Spain, the Botanical Gardens and the First Reserve Hospital, where many wounded men lay. Several blocks were burned completely, Chilton relates, and the Fillipinos harassed the American fighters by cutting the hose and firing on them from the windows of buildings.

THIS IS CHILTON!

Thomas H. Chilton, district court reporter, was one of the ones who helped whip the Spaniards. His story is in an adjoining column.

60 Are Captured.
Chilton was left on duty with a squad which had been forgotten and left on guard all night. Orders were to shoot any person who struck a match, as the straw huts, bamboo huts adjacent to the First Reserve Hospital, were very inflammable. The next morning the cook had prepared breakfast for the men and relief in a cart to a likely spot near the Union station where the Tondo-Binondo scrap was staged, in which Chilton took part with M Company of the Twenty-third. When the cook appeared everything was peaceful, but in a few minutes the firing was so hot that Cookie was glad to roll the victuals to a place of safety. Meanwhile the Americans had the Fillipinos on the run, and as the enemy retired the shacks between the depot and the retreating foe were burned. Sixty Fillipinos were captured by the M Company and they suffered heavy loss in their dead and wounded.

One of the principal difficulties lying in the way of putting the Fillipino soldiers, Chilton relates, was their lack of a uniform, all wearing the ordinary white duck trousers and long tail shirts. A bolo knife was frequently worn under the unbuttoned shirt, he declares. They waded the bay shore into the city, these insurgents, and when they had mingled with the non-insurgent inhabitants, it was almost impossible to detect them.

Utility Spends 92 Percent of Its Ad Budget on Papers

Ninety-two per cent of the 1931 advertising budget for the Texas Electric Service Company is being used for newspaper space, according to A. J. Duncan, president, of Fort Worth. "It has been our experience," writes Mr. Duncan to The Times, "that no other advertising medium gives so much value for the cost."

The utility company, explains the president, is especially interested in "consistent" newspaper advertising. A. J. Duncan, president, of Fort Worth, explains the reason for this. "It has been our experience," writes Mr. Duncan to The Times, "that no other advertising medium gives so much value for the cost."

Another Cotton Champ lives in the Ira section. When speaking of champion cotton pullers in Scurry County, don't leave out the name of little Leonard Childers, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Childers, who live near Ira. Leonard pulled 213 pounds in one day, and believes he has just about the highest record in these parts. Mr. Childers was a pleasant caller at the Times office Saturday.

LATEST GARBO TALKIE COMING
What a combination—Greta Garbo and Clark Gable. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer certainly had an eye on the box office when they handed Gable the choice assignment opposite Garbo in "Susan Lenox, Her Fall and Rise," which opens Wednesday (family night) at the Palace theatre. It was a happy choice anyway. The picture is by far Garbo's best in talkies and in the opinion of this reviewer among her three greatest in sound or silent. Moreover, the David Graham Phillips novel makes splendid material for Garbo and as her leading man Gable is more than amply romantic. For one thing, the new Garbo effort has a sweep in dramatic action that carries the story from one episode to another with a colorful atmosphere that keeps interest at top suspense. It is one of the most visually entertaining talking pictures we have ever seen and has none of the dragging tendencies so often noted in a heavy story. The dialogue is sparkling, pointed and well rounded. And always the pace of the picture keeps its even tempo, climaxing into a powerful ending bound to dampen the eyes of the most adamant fan.

The chief reason why Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil stands up better is that it contains no petroleum jelly—that thick, salve-like substance used in many beauty ointments. If your motor oil drains from your crankcase thin and watery the trouble is probably petroleum jelly. Petroleum jelly is removed from Opaline at as low as 60° F. below zero—a temperature much lower than required for removing wax. Ask the Sinclair dealer for Opaline.

REVAMPED TIGERS CROSS ROBY GOAL SIX TIMES FOR EASY WIN

McClinton Runs Wild on Field, Then Kicks Five Goals in Row—Team in Great Shape.

After biting the dust of three or four Class A fields, "Red" Moore's Tigers came back into their own conference Friday afternoon and easily trounced Roby's Lions, 41 to 0, in the second title game of the season. The game was played here with only the Roby-Plovers between them and the championship of the western end of District No. 9, the locals are considered crown-bearers already, since Roby held the Nolan County Farmers to a 13-13 tie two weeks ago.

McClinton reached the top of his stride for the season, when he accounted for three of Snyder's six touchdowns and then set a modern record for local teams when he kicked five goals in succession. His first lucky gallop was around right end in the first quarter for 52 yards and touchdown. He turned in one of his famous returning-punt runs in the third quarter, raked 70 yards through a broken field for the counter.

Team Works Well. Running mates were largely due to Roby. McClinton wasn't the whole Snyder team, by any means. His gallops and those of his backfield line that fought like fury, and turned in their best exhibition of the season. As the game got into the second half, those line-men gained power, and helped the backs sweep for three touchdowns in the final quarter.

It was Theo Rigby, who started the season at a half position, who tackled and blocked almost to perfection and added two intercepted passes for good measure. He ran Line Captain J. Browning a close race for honors in a tackling duel.

Byrl Rigby, Howell and Scott, the latter a substitute back, accounted for a touchdown apiece. Scott's marker coming after a pretty 38-yard spree in the final chunker. A Snyder penalty annulled a Howell touchdown from the two-yard line in the second quarter, and a fumble by McClinton behind the goal line chalked up a touchback.

Roby Passes Damage. The passing attack perfected by Coach Hill of the visitors unraveled the local defense several times, and accounted for six of Roby's seven first downs. That same attack proved a boomerang, however, for four passes were intercepted, and two interceptions paved the way for touchdowns. The visitors never entered the Snyder 30-yard zone, and failed to register a first down by the running route.

Captain Orville Davis, passer, and Olan Davis, chief running back, were highlights in the Roby backfield, while Nelson at center was the outstanding visiting lineman. The Roby secondary rang up the majority of Roby tackles after the game was well started, and broke up practically every effort of the locals to pass for gains.

Coach Hill ran in 10 or 15 substitutes during the game, but most of the regulars were on the field when the final whistle blew.

Officials: Chapman (Lubbock High School coach), referee; Dr. J. G. Hicks (Baylor), umpire; C. E. Fish, head linesman.

which the ex-service man might be entitled. He also stated that there was no doubt many boys who had already applied for the benefits, and had been turned down, entitled to something and had probably failed in their efforts because of not knowing what to do and how. He asked that any who had any claim of any kind to see him at any time and he would be glad to go into their case with them and if anything could be done to aid the veterans he would gladly do so.

Winston Reviews Work. After a few brief remarks reviewing in short what the post had done the past year and some of the things it hoped to do this coming year, the post commander, Harrie Winston, expressed his appreciation of the large attendance and said that it certainly made him proud of this post to just look out over the faces of such a large group of men who were representative of every part of Scurry County.

A count of the petition at the close of the meeting disclosed that there were 118 ex-service men present, many of them visitors from other places. There were 54 members for 1932 received at the time, making the present membership some 70 for the new year, which began on October 20.

CREDIT GOES TO BANKS AND CREW FOR CROSSING

Due credit should go to C. L. Banks, section foreman, and his hard-working crew for the easy crossing of the R. S. & P. tracks on Twenty-Sixth Street. The job, which was completed early this month, has been a constant boon to Snyder folks who have to cross these tracks several times every day, for the crossing had become extremely rough with age. The Times rises, with a host of others, to thank Mr. Banks and his men for the work.

R. E. Gray Decides That Every Honest Person Hasn't Died

When R. E. Gray, local variety store man, received an unsolicited, unlooked-for $575.00 check a few days ago, he decided for the "tenth time" that every honest person in the world hasn't passed away.

Two years ago, when Mr. Gray was auctioning harness at Stanton, he sold a large quantity of harness for $575.00, and supposed that every cent was satisfactory to all parties concerned. He didn't even think of his auctioning experience when he received a letter recently in which inquiry was made for many of the boys. They lie on hospital beds throughout this country, fighting a battle for life and health.

Second Greatest Day. The speaker declared that Armistice Day is the second greatest world-wide day of celebration, being superseded only by Christmas. "England had her Magna Carta, France her Revolution, Russia her Bolshevism, China her isolation, America her Declaration of Independence, and many other countries their great holidays, but Armistice Day is a time at which all the world pauses in memory of the ending of her greatest conflict."

Rev. McLaughlin closed with an appeal to remain close to the teachings of the bringer of eternal peace, Jesus Christ, and pointed to Him as the only One to whom the world may turn for a remedy.

Seed Loan Pools Being Set Up To Help New Cotton

This telegram was received by The Times last week a few hours too late for publication. It is from O. M. Lowry, editor of the Texas Cooperative News:

"Special arrangements have been made by the farmers' seed loan pool with the cooperatives for the setting up of a special seed loan pool by the Cotton Cooperative Marketing Association for the purpose of receiving and handling seed cotton. Cotton placed in this pool will receive the government's eight cents a pound collateralization privilege and can be held for higher market levels under a plan similar in principle to the coop's regular optional pool.

"This change is expected to prove a distinct advantage to borrowers in many ways. Authority has also been given the cooperatives to assist borrowers in determining the collateralization of their seed loan mortgages in order that when this is accomplished the borrowers may draw the full authorized advances.

"Confirmation of the announcement in Washington of added facilities through the cooperatives for assisting seed loan borrowers was given in Dallas by R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, upon receipt of advice from Washington. Mr. Murray states that the special seed loan pool has been created in the Texas association and that the organization places its full facilities at the disposal of seed loan borrowers in the liquidation of their mortgages and the opportunity to hold for higher cotton prices.

"Mr. Murray states that information and instructions have been communicated to the association's numerous branch offices in connection with assisting the borrowers in determining collateralization values on the basis of 80 cents a pound collateralization privilege."

sermon or an address of contrasts, with the horrors of the Great War on one hand and the beauties of peace on the other. The speaker paid touching tribute to the ex-service men, many of whom were in the audience. He said that the sacrifices of those who remained in the home-land were as nothing compared with the sacrifices of the boys who enlisted.

Briefly tracing a picture of the gory battlefield previous to November 11, 1918, and then turning to the world-wide joy that came when the peace pact was signed, he related hours for many of his hearers. "But," he said, "there is no justice for many of the boys. They lie on hospital beds throughout this country, fighting a battle for life and health."

"England had her Magna Carta, France her Revolution, Russia her Bolshevism, China her isolation, America her Declaration of Independence, and many other countries their great holidays, but Armistice Day is a time at which all the world pauses in memory of the ending of her greatest conflict."

Meighan Acts Role Of Fearful Father At Palace Theatre

A father who is afraid to reveal his identity to his own son is the keynote of "Skyline," the Fox picture coming to the Palace Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Thomas Meighan, always an outstanding favorite in silent pictures and fresh from his triumphs in his recent Fox talkie, "Young Sinners," portrays a featured role. The romantic characterizations are enacted by Harold Allright, handsome young actor from the New York stage, who won wide acclaim for his performances in "Young Sinners" and "Hush Money," both Fox productions and Maureen O'Sullivan, charming young Irish actress, whose successes include "Song O' My

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicines as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhoea. When costed tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore. The genuine always bears Chas. F. Fletcher's signature.
