TEACHERS OF TWO COUNTIES CONVENE FRIDAY-SATURDAY

ESTIMATES SAY SCURRY COUNTY PUT UP $80,000 WORTH OF FOOD

Fire Boys Get $25 From Gin Concern

The Christmas cheer fund of the Snyder volunteer fire department was increased by $25 last week, when a check for that amount was received from the Ely, Arnold & Ely gin.

Accompanying the check was a letter of appreciation to Chief N. W. Autry for the good work done by the department at the five fires reported from the gin during the past two months, and especially for its work on the night of November 28.

The fire boys will deliver baskets filled with Christmas cheer to poor families on Christmas morning. They will use the gin check and profits derived last week from sponsorship of the Harley Sadler show. Those who know of children who might not see Santa Claus are requested to leave the names with any of the firemen.

New Members in County C. of C. For Year of 1933

Six new members for the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce for the year 1933 were reported this week by J. W. Scott, secretary. Several others are expected before January 1, he states.

The new members are Rev. S. H. Young, Rev. Philip C. McGeahey, Dr. I. A. Griffin, Pick & Pay Store, Alfred McLaughlin and Fred Wilhelm.

The Chamber of Commerce is receiving numerous compliments concerning its charity program for the past two years. Instead of following the ballyhoo idea generally used by such organizations, the board of directors decided at the beginning of this year that a quiet program of helpfulness would be carried out.

In attempting to live up to this idea of the directors, Mr. Scott has been active in distributing Red Cross and other supplies of various kinds. Recently, he has not only handled charity calls at the local office, but he has been largely instrumental in putting Scurry County over the top in the Red Cross Roll Call.

The organization expects to give a detailed report of its activities at the annual business meeting to be held soon.

New Officers to Be Chosen by Red Cross

Officers of the Scurry County chapter of the American Red Cross will be chosen at a meeting called for Thursday night of next week by A. C. Preuit, county chairman.

Mr. Preuit reminds that every person who paid a dollar or more during the Red Cross Roll Call is a member, and that every member is entitled to vote. The general public is invited to the meeting.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

Little Business Goes Before City Council

Routine business held the spotlight at the regular City Council meeting Monday night.

Little variations from the usual run of expense and other items was noticed, except that the fire department reported three "wet" runs, the highest peak of the year.

Scurry County in One of Few Areas Having Bumper Cotton Yield in 1932

The area in Northwest and West Texas, of which Scurry County is a portion, is the notable exception to the rule in a year that has seen quantity and quality of cotton in the South take a slump of more than 20 per cent.

This information is given in the monthly agricultural report of the Santa Fe Railway, published December 1. Portions of the report follow:

Cotton In Slump. The cotton yield is lighter than usual from several causes, mainly unfavorable weather, insect infestation and reduced acreage. Every cotton state in the union is included in the slump production. Texas, the premier state for this crop, reports a decrease of more than 20 per cent—from 5,320,000 bales to 4,225,000 bales. The 16 cotton states of the union report a total yield of 11,947,000 bales compared with 17,066,000 bales in 1931. The crop was made with small cash outlay, and many growers are able to hold out better prices.

Cotton investment is well along throughout the states engaged in its production at that crop. Fall weather has been favorable for maturing and harvesting, and the quality generally is good.

Northwest Texas, which for the five-year period has produced 21 per cent of the state's crop, will produce 31 per cent of the crop this year, quality exceptionally good. Kansas is included in the list of Eighteen South Plains Counties Are Said to Have Done Canning Worth $1,681,975.

Estimates just released by home demonstration agents at others in touch with the situation reveal that Scurry County has already put up at least $80,000 worth of fruits and vegetables this year.

Eighteen counties of the South Plains, this county included, have filled an estimated total of 5,035,500 tin containers and 1,654,400 glass jars with products of their home gardens. The total value of food preserved is estimated at over $1,681,975, based on an average of 75 cents per quart.

These totals do not include the probable canning of meats, beef and pork, and also chicken, this winter.

The estimate gives Scurry County 300,000 tin cans filled with food and 20,000 glass jars.

Eight Have Agents. Eight of the 18 counties included in the estimate have home demonstration agents. These women are preparing their figures now for the annual reports, based on reports to their county demonstrators and cooperators.

Last year 365 4-H Club pantry demonstrators and 3,756 cooperators in 22 counties in district No. 2 of the extension service, preserved 2,135,171 quarts of canned products, valued at $241,400. Total preserved by these women, including cured meats and dried fruits was $765,943.52. The same year 280 garden demonstrators and 3,004 cooperators sold, consumed and canned $253,136.92 worth of vegetables from their gardens. Total was $1,019,080.45.

Many Cans Bought. Between 40 and 50 carloads of cans and jars were sold this season in these counties.

Lubbock County is leading the estimated number of cans and glass jars sold, approximately 1,500,000, with Hale County reporting 1,100,000 second.

Yoakum, Gaines and Cochran counties, sparsely populated, have the smallest number. None of the trio has a county agent, but a woman in each county is instructing farm women and others how to can.

The work has not been confined to farm women alone. Agents report many city women making inquiries about canning processes, etc.

Football Banquet to Be Held in Few Days

The annual banquet for those Tiggers, district football champions, is to be staged within a few days, according to members of the athletic council.

Continued busy days have caused temporary postponement of the function, but the fans are in favor of a banquet just as big as if the boys had gone on to win the regional championship again.

Coach "Red" Moore is expected to announce his list of letter men at the banquet.

The Dunn Baptist Church will be host all day Tuesday to the monthly workers' meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry Association, according to the Dunn pastor, Rev. Cal McGeahey, who mailed programs throughout the counties early this week.

The program includes the names of three Snyder preachers, Rev. I. D. Hull, Rev. Philip C. McGeahey and Rev. Walter Deaver, and the name of Rev. T. L. Nipp, pastor at Fluvanna, who will deliver the sermon of the day.

BUDDIES GOING TO FLUVANNA

The first meeting of the Will Layne American Legion Post to be held outside of Snyder will convene at the high school building, Fluvanna, on Monday evening of next week, at 8:00 o'clock.

Legionnaires are scheduled to gather on the courthouse lawn at 6:30 o'clock, and go from there in a group to Fluvanna. Officials state that plenty of cars will be available for those who do not have transportation.

Commander A. C. Preuit says a large delegation is expected for the meeting, and urges that every buddy who possibly can get away should be present for the meeting. A number of Fluvanna citizens are expected to be guests.

THOSE McMINN BOYS. In writing of the Legion Thanksgiving feast last week, The Times failed to give proper credit for preparation of the sumptuous meal, Clarence McMinn, ably seconded by his brother, Clayton, prepared the turkeys, and otherwise saw to it that every face was fed. They deserve plenty of credit, and The Times reporter apologizes for the oversight.

WARN AGAINST TRASH FLAMES

A warning against the practice of burning trash and grass without special precautions was sounded yesterday by N. W. Autry, fire chief, and P. M. Bolin, fire marshal.

The two officials state that two calls have already been made for such fires this month, both of which have been prevented by extra caution. They point out that such calls are expensive to the city, and that the fire boys away from their jobs on calls that pay them nothing whatsoever.

Cooperation of the entire citizenry is asked in the fire prevention movement.

TEACHERS, WE GREET YOU

Snyder has the rare privilege this week-end of entertaining between 100 and 200 school people from Scurry and Kent Counties. It is a rare privilege because our teachers are becoming more and more the chief propellers of our children. Home ties are so broken and ragged that in many cases they scarcely exist. Churches are being strained by restlessness, lack of reverence, and self-centered lives.

If we would have our children steeped in the principles of right and morality and forward-looking knowledge, where shall we go but to the school room?

So we welcome the teachers of these two counties. Snyder citizens will be welcoming you in the usual spirit of Snyder hospitality. They will be ready to co-operate with you, then, in carrying out the worthy projects and ideals you will be discussing those two days.

SNYDER DROPS TOUGH BATTLE TO WINK TRIBE

The Snyder Tigers, regional winners in 1929 and 1931, are not accustomed to alibis. They take it on the chin when taking time comes, and they pay their defeated opponents on the back when winning time comes.

But when the 7 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Wink Wildcats becomes the topic of conversation, the charges of "Red" Moore, football mentor de luxe, can find plenty of sound explanations. The bi-district battle was staged at Wink last Saturday.

The Tigers struck decidedly strong opposition at Wink. The Wildcats were cocked and primed, and they fired with the vigor of the New West of which they are a part.

RAILROADS OF COUNTY SHOW NET EARNINGS

Both railroads that run through Scurry County showed net earnings for the year 1932, according to a report to the governor by John G. Willacy, acting tax commissioner, for the State Tax Board.

The report contains particular interest for this county when it is shown that only 30 out of the 115 or 121 railroads in the state showed earnings for the two-year period.

Amounts of the intangible values fixed and assessed for the years of 1931 and 1932, which are practically the same as net earnings, follow:

Santa Fe	$2,000,000	$1,800,000
R. S. & P.	100,000	35,500

Earnings Decreasing. Alonzo Wasson, who wrote the article in The Dallas News from which this information was taken, comments as follows on the report:

"Last year the number of railroads having intangible values was 46, 45 the year before that and 49 in 1929. The total of the intangible values he attributed to the 30 for this year is $55,331,052. This is 19 per cent less than for 1931, for which the total was $66,778,515, which, in turn, was $41,827,272 less than for 1929. For 1929, the last year of the Coggins administration, the intangible assets of the 49 found to have them came to $75,854,164. In three years the intangible assets of the railroads of the state are thus shown to have shrunk $19,513,112, or about 26 per cent.

First Santa Claus Letters Come In

In this picture you see Old Santa reading one of the letters that you see printed on this page.

The jolly old fellow reads The Times every week, and any good little boy or girl who wants Santa to know exactly what he or she wants for Christmas is invited to write to "Santa Claus. In Care of The Scurry County Times."

You'd better send in your letters this week or early next week so Old Santa will have plenty of time to read them, for he is mighty busy these days, you know.

These letters from the three Raney children are the first that were received, but we hope there will be dozens and dozens to publish next week.

Letters From Santa Claus.

De Leon Goes to Regional Finals With Albany Win

The Abilene Morning News gives the following account of De Leon's bi-district victory over Albany last Friday, leaving the Bearcats as opponents of Wink, Tiger conqueror, this week-end.

The Albany Bearcats took an easy victory from the Albany Lions on De Leon field this afternoon. The score was 13 to 0. The Bearcats earned 16 first downs to the Lions' 3, and the De Leon team penetrated the Lions' 20 yard line five times, two in the first and three in the second half.

Albany only once advanced the ball to within 25 yards of De Leon's goal line, by two successful passes, and practically all the game was played deep in Albany's territory.

The first touchdown was made in the first seven minutes of play, when Quarterback W. S. Sneed threw a pass to J. L. Punderberg behind the goal line for a gain of 35 yards.

The second score was made in the third quarter, when Sneed passed to Irvin, who advanced the ball to within two yards of the goal. Sneed put it over with a line back. Cook failed to kick goal.

The Bearcats drew penalties totaling about 75 yards, while Albany was penalized only twice for a total of 10 yards. The game was slowed by substitutions. Coach Downing of Albany practically replaced his beginning line-up with substitutes. Coach Compton substituted only once before the last quarter, Irving for Reed. In the last quarter he made several substitutions.

The Bearcats displayed a dazzling aerial attack throughout. They had won the district championship from Comanche, at De Leon, Thanksgiving Day, by a score of 6 to 0.

Store-Wide Sale To Be Staged By Bryant-Link Co.

Beginning Friday morning of this week, Bryant-Link Company is to stage a store-wide sale that will see tremendous price reductions on the entire dry goods, hardware and furniture stock, Manager A. V. McAdoo announces.

A. G. Deakins, a brother of E. M. Deakins of Snyder and director of West Texas sales campaigns for a number of years, is in charge of the sale. Under his leadership, the big store is being placed in readiness for the giant crowds that are expected when the doors open Friday morning.

The sale features not only price reductions in seasonal wearing apparel, piece goods and hardware, but also in the entire furniture stock. Mr. McAdoo announces that all his furniture is being slashed more than half in two, as the Bryant-Link store here is going out of the furniture business.

For details of the sale, see the ad in another section of this paper.

PLeNTY OF FLU NOW IN COUNTY

Old Man Flu, and his more serious co-worker, Pneumonia, have found a number of victims in Scurry County within the past few days, according to all doctors.

The general epidemic of colds and flu is not so serious as it was believed last week that it might be, but continued spring-like weather may bring down many more victims, say the physicians.

The usual precautions against the disease attacks—fresh air, absolute cleanliness, throat gargles, rest, and prompt treatment—are urged throughout the winter.

Baptist Week of Prayer

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church will observe the Week of Prayer for World-Wide Missions in an all-day meeting, beginning at 8:30, Monday, December 12, in the home of Mrs. Philip C. McGeahey. At the noon hour a covered dish luncheon will be held.

First Published Story of Pioneer Rancher Will Appear in Holland's

The first published story of J. Wright Moore's pioneering days in Scurry County is to appear in Holland's Magazine, beginning with the January issue, which goes on sale December 15.

This announcement comes at the end of two years of work on the part of Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry College, Abilene. The author, an outstanding Methodist of Texas, and former pastor of the local Methodist church, secured practically all of the interesting story direct from Mr. Moore.

The pioneer Scurry County man, who has heretofore been reluctant concerning his intensely interesting career, told his story to one of his own kind, for Dr. Hunt was a cowboy for many years before he became a preacher and educator.

Mr. Moore lives on a ranch to the northwest of Snyder, where he and his brother were originators of the lucrative buffalo hide trade. He became widely known because he killed two of the seven white buffalo known to have been in existence. One of the animals was killed in Oklahoma and the other on the ranch near Snyder. A robe from one of the animals has been exhibited in many parts of the United States.

The Moores found difficulty in disposing of their hides for leather-making purposes, in the early days, but when they offered them for sale

Brickhouse Wins By Knockout Lick In Friday Match

Joe Brickhouse, Big Spring heavyweight, lived up to his reputation here Friday night, when he administered a knockout to Luther Middlebrook of Borden County in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round bout. The hard-fighting Middlebrook stood up under heavy punishment, and held off the more experienced Howard County boxer with many hard blows.

In the semi-final mix-up, Kenneth Pinner and Hughie Barnes of Loveland, Oklahoma, gave the customers one of their heartiest exhibitions of the season. Both of them came out of the ring at the end of the fourth round puffing hard, but standing.

The four interesting preliminaries featured David Jarraj vs. Bobbie Reynolds, both 65-pounders; Dan Greenwood Jr. of Big Spring, 55, vs. Kid McCoy, 65; E. L. Jones, 114, vs. James Reeves, 114; Johnny Johnson, 136, vs. Jack Witherspoon, 129.

Two highlights will flood the ring Friday night of this week. Snyder's favorite, Red McGinty, will meet Kid Whittington, "Big Spring Assassin" in the feature bout. These two punchers, weighing 141 and 142, respectively, have met three times before, Red taking two decisions and the Kid taking one. In the semi-final, Shade McGinty will tackle Kid Jones, an experienced 148-pounder from Fort Worth.

URGES PEOPLE TO MAIL EARLY

Mail those Christmas packages early!

Mrs. E. J. Anderson, postmistress, believes that the annual plea of the post office department will be answered this year more than ever before. She announces that extra help will be provided, and that every facility for quick dispatch of packages, cards and letters will be ready for the Yuletide rush.

"Not only does early mailing save the post office force a great deal of work, but it is of equal benefit to those who do the mailing," Mrs. Anderson points out. "It saves standing in line at the window, subtracts the risk of loss or damage in the mails, and assures getting Christmas presents to their destination in plenty of time."

"Mailing is allowed to place such warnings as 'Do not open until Christmas' on their packages, and these will remove the fear that gifts might be opened before Christmas morning."

Boyce Grimes Promoted.

Boyce Grimes of Ira has been made a second lieutenant, first battalion staff, in the cadet corps of John Thornton Agricultural College, Silexville, which was learned here last week.

Severa contestants of the same type will be held in the future. Much interest is evidenced in the two clubs.—Helen Witherspoon, Reporter.

Flu Takes Charge And Times Is Late

The flu and an extraordinary rush of job printing early this week are responsible for The Times getting into the mails late this week.

One of the publishers was unable to crawl out of bed until Wednesday, and another went under the covers late Wednesday. We are certain that those who are experiencing visits from Old Man Flu will be hasty to overlook our delay. Perhaps those who know only health and good appetite may forgive us for fear of a flu attack.

Opportunity to Join Red Cross Still Open Says Roll Call Head

The Red Cross Roll Call has not ended, the chairman said yesterday. Those who wish to join and have not been given an opportunity, are urged to pay their $1 and receive their membership card and button from anyone who has been assisting with the annual membership campaign.

Due to delay of The Times this week publication of names of those who have joined will not be possible until next week.

Cards of appreciation are being mailed this week to those who in any way assisted with Roll Call work, and particular emphasis of thanks has been placed on those doing outstanding bits of work. The Roll Call chairman and other officials ask The Times to extend their thanks through the press to these workers.

Notice.

Owing to the expense of sending statements, I take this method of asking my patrons to do their best to pay me enough to keep up my own obligations. I realize it is hard to pay anything during such times as now exist, when you receive very little for your labor. But the practice of medicine is very expensive, even during hard times. I am sure that you realize that in order for me to keep up my work, I must take in at least enough to pay my expenses.

Please assist me in every way possible to maintain the type of medical service I have always endeavored to give.

Wheels From Local Cars Brought Back

Ten complete wheels that had been stolen from cars in West Snyder were recovered in Abilene last week by Frank Brownfield, sheriff, and Walter Camp, marshal.

Local officers read in an Abilene paper that the wheels had been located in an abandoned stolen car by Taylor County officers, and they returned with the loot after identifying it. Occupants of the car fled when chased by motorcycle cops, and they were not captured.

The wheels represent a portion of the loot taken from west side garages Monday night of last week. Smaller items of the haul were not found in the car.

A little miss of four came tearfully to her mother one morning with the complaint:
"How can I button my dress when the button is in the back and I am in the front?"

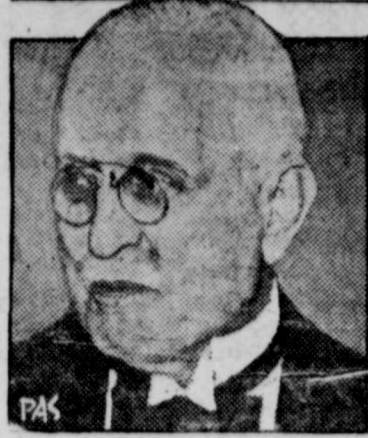

Englishman—"With all due deference, my boy, I really think our English custom at the telephone is better than saying 'Hello' as you do."
American—"What do you say in England?"
Englishman—"We say, 'Are you there?' Then, of course, if you are not there, there is no use going on with the conversation."

Pat was tipping his young friend, Mike, off on what to see when he went to Dublin.

"Of course, you'll be goin' to the zoo," said Pat. "And I want to give you a word of warning about that. You'll see some foine animals if you follow the directions 'To the Lion' adn 'To the Elephant,' but take no notice of the way 'To the Exit,' for, beorra, Mike, it's a fraud, an' it's outside I found myself when I went to look at it."

Mary: "Oh, Clarence, do you realize it's almost a year since our honeymoon, and the glorious day we spent on the sands. I wonder how we'll spend this one?"
Clarence: "On the rocks."

Samuel Insull

Samuel Insull, former mid-western public utility head, against whom indictments have been returned at Chicago on charges of huge embezzlements was finally located at Athens, Greece. Insull may evade being brought back for trial.

"I'm sorry," said the diner who hoped to get away with it, "but I haven't any money to pay for that meal."
"That's all right," said the cashier, "we'll write your name on the wall and you can pay the next time you come in."
"Don't do that. Everybody who comes in will see it."
"Oh, no they won't. Your overcoat will hang over it."

Welcome Home, Tigers.

The Tigers came home Saturday night, tired and heartened, after losing the bi-district championship game, 7 to 6.

No golden-shirted pep squad of 85 pretty girls greeted their homecoming. No loud-toting band of 30 members played "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" as the weary warriors rode into town. No delegation of business men met them on the town's threshold to slap them on the back for their subgen fight.

The four cars that took the boys, coaches and equipment to Wink drove past the Tigers' homes, dropped them, and left them to fill the remainder of the night with nightmares and regrets.

But we say, with the same spirit that has kept The Times behind you through thick and thin, "Welcome Home, Tigers!" You fought with all the breaks against you. You fought without a solitary fan to give you new courage, save the two or three who carried you to the battle ground Friday. You had your backs to the wall. You fought the fight to a finish. You fought hard and fair and courageously.

What matters the losing of a bi-district championship? There will be other seasons for championships. Every season is a season for the kind of sportsmanship and courage you have displayed this fall.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK.

UNDISCRIMINATING "ECONOMY."

The joint legislative committee on efficiency and organization, undertaking a reorganization of the state system of colleges displays a singular lack of appreciation of certain very fundamental factors whose operation would be irremediably dislocated in such a ruthless scheme of reorganization as that which it has recommended. It may be a fact, as declared by the committee, certain state schools, notably the teachers' colleges, may be dropped from the state system without serious loss. The Texas State Teachers' Association, which met recently in Fort Worth, gave much attention to an asserted oversupply of teachers, so it may be accepted as fact that there is no great need in the state now for colleges designed especially for producing teachers, and there is support for the argument that the plants of these schools might render adequate service with their functioning limited to the status of junior colleges, operated either by the state or by the communities in which they are located. But when the committee makes recommendations regarding Texas Technological College which alter the whole plan of that institution, and which would destroy the values which guided the state to the decision to establish the college, it is carrying "economy" too far without a better set-up of supporting argument than the committee has provided.

The committee's scheme would remove from Texas Tech all the technological courses which are so embedded in the life of that institution that they give it its name. What would be left, in the words of the committee, is a "liberal arts college." The entire conception of a special service to be rendered to West Texas for the fundamental reason that its needs in technological education are fundamentally different from those of other sections of the state served by the University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College would be thus denied. The question may well be asked how the committee, under its policy of consolidation affecting other "liberal arts" colleges, could justify the retention of Texas Tech as well as those respecting the College of Industrial Arts, at Denton, appears to be offering a sop to the many friends of these institutions who would oppose such cavalier treatment of them. But friends of Texas Tech as well as C. I. A. will like the disestablishment plan little better than one which would lump these institutions along with others proposed to be abandoned. Both of these colleges render a special service, one which is not duplicated in the present educational system of the state, and one which could not be rendered adequately by any other institution now in existence.

In the case of Texas Tech the special service is to the agriculture and industry of a great and growing portion of the state, comprising more than half its geographical area, where conditions are unlike those prevailing elsewhere. Such service as might be rendered by the A. & M. College, or the University of Texas, in replacement of the special services now rendered by Texas Tech, would be of the absentee type which inexorably would be marked with failure.

The growth of Texas Tech establishes beyond question the vital nature of the need for it. Handicapped as have been other state institutions by inadequate appropriations, the great school at Lubbock has nevertheless grown to increased usefulness and higher prestige with each year. It now ranks among the foremost colleges of its class in the country. It must not be made the goat of an "economy" program which pinches pennies while wasting dollars elsewhere. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CURRENT... COMMENT
 BY LEON GUINN

When the federal treasury department outlined its need of increased postal revenues, an imaginative possibility for revenue by increased postage rates. . . . The postage rates were increased and new stamps were issued. . . . However, the 33 per cent increase in first class postage failed to start the dollars clinking. . . . Therefore, officials are considering returning to the lower, timelier rates.

 Had not air mail assumed a pace of leadership in 1924, our mail system might have branched off into new channels of fast letter transportation. . . . For one thing, we might have pipe line mail for letters on a large intercity scale. . . . Modern dentists, I think, have contributed indispensably to today's well being by scientific dental knowledge. . . . Deficiencies of calcium, vitamins, and phosphorus are more apt to cause defective teeth, rather than the selection of a tooth decayed mate by some antique ancestor.

"The Recessional"

The personal account of Kipling best summarizes his world famous composition, "The Recessional." "That poem gave me more trouble than anything I ever wrote. I had promised The (London) Times a poem on Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, and when it became due I had written nothing that satisfied me. The Times began to want that poem badly and sent letter after letter asking for it. I made more attempts, but no further progress. Finally The Times began sending telegrams. So I shut myself in a room with the determination to stay there until I had written a Jubilee poem.

"Sitting down with all my previous sketches before me, I searched through all sketches until I found the one line I liked. That was 'Let Us Forget!' Round these words 'The Recessional' was written."

NERVES OF STEEL

All of Jesus' days were spent in the open air—this is the third outstanding testimony to his strength. On the Sabbath he was in the synagogue because that was where the people were gathered; but by far the greater part of his teaching was done on the shores of his lake, or in the cool recesses of the hills. He walked constantly from village to village; his face was tanned by the sun and wind. Even at night he slept out doors, when he could—turning his back on the hot walls of the city and slipping away to the freshness of the Mount of Olives. He was the type of outdoor man whom our modern thought most admires—and the vigorous activities of his days gave his nerves the strength of steel.

He stepped into a sailboat with his disciples late one afternoon, and being very tired, lay down in the stern and was almost immediately asleep. The clouds grew thicker and the surface of the lake which had been quiet a few minutes before, was broken into sudden waves. The little boat dived and tossed, and still he slept. His disciples had grown up on the shores of that lake; they were fishermen, accustomed to its moods and not easily frightened. But they had never been out in such a storm as this. It grew fiercer; water began to come in over the side, every moment seemed to threaten destruction. At last they could stand the strain no longer; they went to the stern and woke him.

He rose without the slightest suggestion of hurry or alarm. A quick glance was enough to give him a full understanding of the situation. He issued a few quiet orders and presently the menaced boat swung round into the smoother waters of safety.

Call it a miracle or not—the fact remains that it is one of the finest examples of self-control in all human history. Napoleon said that he had met few men with courage of the "two o'clock in the morning variety." Many men can be brave

NEVER STOP TO THINK?
 BY EDSON H. WAITE

After all, a city is nothing more or less than an aggregation of citizens; some good, some bad and some indifferent. The civic life of a city is no higher than the average of its citizens.

The greatest assets a city can have are cleanliness, beauty, enterprise, far-sightedness and a spirit to do greater things.

The financial assets of a city measure its prosperity. As its assets are increased, prosperity increases; as its assets decrease, prosperity shrinks.

Money spent in the home city increases its assets. Money spent away from home decreases them.

A moving, active spirit in everything that promotes the best interests of the home city makes better business.

"Do you think going into politics improves a man's disposition?" "Well, at any rate, he is obliged to look pleasant often enough to have his picture taken for campaign purposes."

The Times Creed.
 For the cause that needs assistance;
 For the wrongs that need resistance;
 For the future in the distance,
 And the good that we can do.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN.

This Year's Presents.
 Pessimism Pete says that all his aunts and great uncles once received Christmas presents from him each year, but now he will be lucky to send 'em even the wife's love and the baby's hug.

Pat Goes To Austin.
 One of the best known and best loved men in Scurry County will be leaving for Austin a short time. Pat Bullock, whose accomplishments reach even above his physical height, is expected to carve a niche for himself in the state educational system. We'll be missing you, Pat, every last one of us, and you may lay to that.

It's Not Too Late to Join.
 If you want to join the Red Cross, you still have an opportunity to do so. If there is not a representative near you, mail your dollar to the Roll Call chairman at Snyder, and you will be sent a button and membership card by return mail. We have been needing—and getting—Red Cross aid. Now the Red Cross needs us.

The Lone Star Community.
 If the progressive spirit of the Lone Star community is as evident at all times as it was Thanksgiving, when a first class fair was held, Scurry County has certainly profited by having the community's children transferred to the Pylon school. The generosity of Pylon, Hermleigh and Inadale merchants in giving prizes is also commendable.

We're Poor Guessers.
 Along with most of the other world-be prophets in this country, The Times has missed its guess concerning the cotton crop. We thought there would be no more than 45,000 bales ginned, and possibly no more than 40,000. Most newspapers have such a reputation for stretching facts, figures and possibilities that this falling short may reflect to our credit, after all.

Ready for Christmas.
 Snyder stores are rapidly getting ready for the rush of Christmas buying that is sure to come during the next 15 days. This year, as never before, it will pay you to do your buying early, while stocks are complete and prices are tremendously low. Then, after you buy, how about traipsing over to the post office and saving a lot of trouble by doing your mailing early?

Who's the Boss Now?
 Reliable reports from Fluvanna have it that the Boss Stavely family has a new master. Before Boss's marauding trip into the wilds of Southwest Texas, where he bagged a big bear and a hefty deer, Mrs. Boss is reputed to have been queen of all she surveyed in her own household. But the ruddy Irishman is said to be trying out big game tactics on his wife, with remarkable success.

That Special Court.
 Judge Brooks of Big Spring made some interesting statements during his campaign for the regular district judgeship. He made it clear that if he were not elected, he intended to resign from his special judgeship on January 1 if all the work could be handled by a single judge until the special term was scheduled to end in August. January 1 is almost here and the dockets are not very full. How about it, judge?

Stop Them Flu and Fire!
 December usually brings two threats to folks in this part of the country. One is flu, the other fires. There are several dozen cases of flu and near-flu in Snyder alone. People have been working hard and basking little care of their bodies. This neglect gives reputation for stretching facts, figures and possibilities forbidden them. Grass fires present one of the worst menaces after vegetation has been killed by early frosts. Two such calls have already been answered by the fire boys. Those who respect their bodies and their property should take simple precautionary measures against these two cold-weather threats.

The Legion Performs.
 In many communities the American Legion is either an organization of only a handful of men, or it is a group that does not always stand at the highest peak of public favor in all activities. The Will Layne Post is a noteworthy exception. The services of various kinds rendered by the legion during the past three years of its re-organization could probably not be equalled by any individual or group of individuals in the county. The local post is headed by men who have no axes to grind, men who are community leaders because of the principles for which

Is Texas Spending Too Much for Education?

By F. Ben Pierce, Principal, Texarkana Junior High School.

Every person who is a native Texan is proud of that fact. No state in the union has had a more eventful history than the state of Texas, and all Texans are justly proud of the achievements of the grand old state. As a part of the United States, Texas stands out as one of the foremost states in the industrial and economic phases of the life of the country. Does Texas ever stop and consider the educational situation within its own boundaries in the light that it should be considered?

In these so-called times of "depression" such is heard about the slashing of different expenditures in governmental affairs, particularly that of education. Let us consider some very pertinent facts and then decide if we should slash our educational expenditures and thereby lower our standards back to where they were a quarter of a century ago. According to a compilation of statistics by the research division of the National Education Association, the average expenditures per pupil enrolled in the public elementary and secondary schools in continental United States was $90.38, while this same expenditure in Texas was $59.38. Only 12 states of this great nation of 48 states of ours spent less money per pupil than did Texas, while New York spent $168.81 per pupil. This amount is almost three times as much as what Texas spent.

Do the children of the people of New York mean more to them than the children of Texas mean to this state? With the compilation of statistics which was referred to above again used as a basis the average cost of education per child for one day is slightly above 41 cents. Not all of this 41 cents goes to the teacher. This amount includes all the school costs. Should Texans not bear in mind the fact that Texas schools are run so economically that they will give its children books, class rooms, equipment, playground and a day's instruction under a well trained teacher for less than the price of a good golf ball or a box of candy?

Do parents of the younger Texans owe it to their children to consider very carefully the many proposed methods of saving in school expenditures? The coming years will bring forth many more serious problems and a false step here can ruin the schools. Children improperly trained cannot solve them as they should be.

May the people, not only of Texas but of all of America as well, wake up and see the crisis that education now is facing and take steps to uphold our standards so that our children will be able to qualify as the type of citizen that America demands!

in the warmth of the sun and amid the heartening plaudits of the big crowd; but to be wakened suddenly out of sound sleep, and then to exhibit instant mastery—that is a type of courage which is rare indeed.

Jesus had that courage, and no man ever needed it more. In the last year of his public work the forces of opposition took on a form and coherency whose significance was perfectly clear. If he refused to retreat or to compromise, there could be but one end to his career. He knew they would kill him, and he knew how they would kill him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Rantoul tore the letter in rage and muttered vehemently against the contents in foreign words.

"How's the old boy?" he had asked, rather brutally. Josephine had thought he looked years older and twenty times better than when she saw him last...

When Gerrit Rantoul at last began his attack on Josephine, intending to burn and consume her in the public eye, he still believed in a philosophy outmoded.

The papers, in defense of Josephine, her many poses supporting them with first class cupulation interest, raked up the past of Gerrit Rantoul. He had no idea this would be done.

John Breen was named in a long purchased affidavit from Paris, but he was in South America and could not be reached.

After a long trial a verdict was rendered in favor of Rantoul granting him a divorce, on statutory grounds. He was a vindictive nasty old man without much money.

Josephine went to the piano, ran her fingers over the keys, her head tilted back with a saucy toss.

For nine years John Breen, C. E., had worked in the Argentine; railroads, bridges, dams. He had been called to Paraguay, he had thrived, he had won...

John was heavier than when he saw him last, working with Colfax, heavier but compact. Years in the open had tanned him, his hair and eyes were strangely light in contrast.

As the Western World neared Sanjo Hook, John noted the increasing filth about the shore outpouring of accumulated sewage, calling the bluff.

John Breen was named in a long purchased affidavit from Paris, but he was in South America and could not be reached.

John had been in the city all summer, going out to Greenbough for a week at a time, but always back again to his little office.

It was in the fall that John Breen first met Josephine, quite by accident, as simple a meeting as life ever arranges for us.

John was heavier than when he saw him last, working with Colfax, heavier but compact. Years in the open had tanned him, his hair and eyes were strangely light in contrast.

Could Your Car Pass a "Cold Test" like this?

Through deep snow drifts that blanketed Wolf Creek Pass, 10,800 feet above sea level in Colorado's Rockies, a great V-type snow plow doggedly pushed its way. A whirring rotary plow spouted clouds of snow, clearing the roadway. And soon, despite temperatures daily below zero, workers of Liberty Truck & Parts Co., of Denver, had opened the 15-mile road.

"We used Conoco GERM Processed Motor Oil and Conoco Gasoline exclusively in our Cletrac Tractors with wonderful results," wrote a Liberty official. "We had no difficulty starting our motors in the mornings."

There's a "cold test" to guide you in buying motor oil!

Conoco GERM Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely below zero. It makes Winter-starting easier. More important still, it saves your motor from terrific punishment during the starting period, when half of all motor wear occurs! Other oils drain away overnight. A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco GERM Processed Oil stays up in your motor and lubricates before your motor starts.

Only Conoco GERM Processed Motor Oil can offer you this vital protection, for it is the only oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. Let it protect your motor this Winter.
