

COWBOYS PLAY TO LARGE CROWD AT HIGH SCHOOL MONDAY NIGHT

Colorful Bandsters Aibly Assisted By Xylophonist and Johnny Regan, Trick Roper.

A crowd that overflowed into the high school auditorium balcony listened in Monday night as the Simmons University Cowboys performed in their first road concert of the season. Aboard seconding the colorful collegians was Billie Morrow, former Snyder boy, who was honored twice as he brought forth delightful notes from the xylophone, and Johnny Regan, introduced as England's greatest cowboy. Burgess Brown, another Snyder boy, is a member of the band, playing clarinet solo parts. It was a program designed to please the fancies of every listener. "The Star-Spangled Banner" brought the audience to its feet as a starter. Then Clyde Rowe, former Cowboy and now local band director, was invited to lead the first concert number.

Grain o' Sand Has A Fright

A STORY FOR CHILDREN By Miss Lucilester Roberson

Grain liked this thing of seeing the world from Colonel Horsefly's back, for there one could see everything and was, at the same time, safe. Moreover, just think of all the things he would have to tell Bill and Dust when he got back home. Suddenly, as our travelers were going along at a good speed, they heard a roar coming from overhead somewhere. It sounded like a long drawn-out note of an organ played real loud. Grain looked around to see where it was coming from. The only thing he could see was a few clouds floating above.

"Surely such a wee little cloud as that couldn't make so much noise," thought Grain. Leaning back, he yelled into the Colonel's ear, "Say, where is that thunder coming from?" Now the Colonel hadn't got over his fright from the rain storm they had just passed through, so he looked around in alarm. Never before had he heard thunder that didn't stop at all.

"We'd better hunt for shelter back. But before they could find a place to go, they saw that the noise was not coming from a cloud, but from a huge object just above them. This bird could fly without flapping its wings! Straight toward them it was coming, too, raising its voice every minute. Grain knew that the Colonel couldn't hear him if he said anything, so he just kept quiet, even though he was shaking with fear.

The Colonel dashed downward, but not fast enough. The monster was just above them, making such a strong current of air that the two friends were whirled round and round, so fast that they lost their breath. Then they were blown clear over to one side, then with a final swirl or two were right side up again and sailing smoothly. "Where!" said Grain. "That nearly was the end of us."

The Colonel shook his head nervously to reply: "It certainly was, and had it been our friends at home would never have known what became of us." "Did you know what the thing was?" inquired the sand grain. "No, Son, I do not, and never wish to see another one. No sooner had he said it than another one appeared from the same direction. "Look out," screamed Grain. "There it is again, over from where it came from the first time. See, Colonel, it can move without being seen—let's hurry."

"This time the Colonel lost no time in getting to a tree limb. They hid themselves under some leaves. "It may be mad because we can fly as well as it can, and is going to kill us this time," suggested Grain. "Not likely," replied the Colonel, "but, anyway, we are safe enough here." "Oh," called Grain, "it isn't the same one. This one has orange wings." The Colonel seemed much relieved. Still he didn't know what it was that was after them.

But they decided to be on their way again, thinking that no other one was likely to come. As they traveled, Grain was watching on every side. Both were wondering what it could have been. Do you know what it was? Mrs. Allen Warren and Mrs. Nell Gross, accompanied by Mrs. Bob Warren of Post, were guests in the Dale Warren home in Colorado Sunday.

DIZZINESS relieved by Black-Draught "I decided to take Theford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Chas. E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rid me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. Try to me, in a very bad feeling. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN."

The Times Creed.

For the cause that needs assistance;
For the wrongs that need redress;
For the future in the distance,
And the good that we can do.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN.

- Over at Big Spring.
We'll be seeing you at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.
In View of the Times.
In view of the times, pessimism Pete thinks the president of one of those big eastern railroads—one that has procured a big RFC appropriation—is doing remarkably well to live to $125,000 a year.

The Legion's Good Turn.
Another "Inside Look."

We Are Indebted to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, like President Roosevelt, has departed from beaten trails. It has accomplished worth while things for West Texas in proportion to its fearlessness and ability.
It is true that the WTCC, like 99 44-100 per cent of American individuals and organizations, sprung-ed too freely during the prosperity rampage, but it is to the body's distinct credit that it found itself while most of us were rubbing our eyes and wondering if the depression was really with us.

Sportsmanship.

The thing that distinguishes a genuine sportsman from a "bum sport" is that those who have the spirit of sportsmanship not only know how to win gracefully but how to lose uncomplainingly. The difference between a genuine sportsman and the other kind is that your real sportsman never tries to shift the responsibility for his failure upon somebody else.

O, Wind!

O, Wind! You blow and blow and blow
Around the corners with a sigh,
And moan and groan, both loud and low
'Till all my nerves seem strung up high.

CURRENT COMMENT BY LEON GUINN

In adding to the wealth of our states each generation has, in haste, created a percentage of waste in developing natural resources. . . . When the bullwhip began to crack west of the Mississippi millions of feet of timber were burned at conventional "log rollins" in order to clear rich, virgin land for corn and potato patches. . . . So was waste evident when the buffalo hunters killed the buffalo in order to make way for civilization, leaving 1,000,000 hide-stripped animals, weighing 750,000,000 pounds, to be consumed by coyotes, vultures and bacteria.

Tenth Installment

SYNOPSIS—Pauline, sentimental, trusting, sincere and loving love, becomes engaged and marries Dennis. Six months after the wedding, Pauline is suddenly stricken with a strange illness that makes her love change a thought buried in her mind by a letter from her closest friend, Barbara, the night before. Pauline adored Barbara, who had been married, was the mother of a child which died, but now divorced and living a life which some of her friends could not understand. Between Dennis and Barbara is a seeming wall of personal dislike by both.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Dennis walked to the window and stood looking out into the street. "Of course," he said after a moment. "You needn't come," Pauline said breathlessly and waited. "I can go by myself, quite well," she said as he did not speak. "If you'll send a wire and see me off—"

Spice on Taxes

LEGISLATIVE NEWS SERVICE OF THE TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION, AUSTIN

Austin—The thirty-third Legislature, now nearing the close of its regular session, will likely reduce the costs of state government from 25 to 30 per cent. Up to the present time it has created no new commissions or bureaus, and levied no important new taxes. Every branch of the state government has had its budget reduced. Equally important is the passage of legislation designed to stop tax evasions, and to provide penalties that will insure more effective enforcement of special taxes, such as the cigarette and gross production taxes. The comptroller estimates that at least $5,000,000 in these special taxes, which has been lost through inadequate enforcement facilities, will be saved and added to state revenues.

There are two constitutional amendments pending, which if they are adopted, will be of far reaching importance. One would arbitrarily limit total expenditures of the state and the other would abolish the fee system of compensating county officials and make for lowering the tremendous costs of county government, which averages much higher than state government. The first of these amendments has passed the Senate and the second has passed the House. Prospects of their submission seems good, but citizens can do a real service by urging the submission of these two amendments.

In spite of failure to adequately meet conditions in many respects, the present session of the Legislature may be counted a success if it adheres to its present apparent purpose to levy no new taxes and cut expenses and also submits these two amendments. The amendments will open the way for permanent tax reform and provide effective safeguards against recurrence of the recent orgy of spending by all branches of government.

Appropriations for expenses of the Legislature were approximately $500,000. This represents a reduction of about 30 per cent below the cost of the regular sessions since the pay of legislators was increased by constitutional amendment. The Senate voted to make the pay of members $8 per day, instead of the constitutional limit of $10. The House refused to concur and fixed salaries of House members at $10 and Senators at $8. It is impossible to give the total cost of the session. It may be prolonged beyond the four months and thus necessitate an additional appropriation for salaries of members and other expenses.

The effort to again bring up a sales tax bill has failed for the time being. The House committee on revenue and taxation gave an adverse report on the Kayton bill, which differed somewhat from the administration sales tax bill, killed earlier in the session. It is regarded as doubtful whether the bill has a chance of being brought out on a minority report.

The House took up the higher education appropriation bill last week and made drastic cuts in salaries and other items, going below the reductions already approved by the appropriations committee. This is the last of the major appropriation bills. Senate figures in the appropriation bills average higher than House figures and differences are being compromised in conference.

Despite the fact that state support of public schools has increased more than other costs of government and has far out-run the in-

Leon Guinn Assists In Preparing Data New Airplane Metal

Information prepared by C. W. Oexle and Leon Guinn about "costanum," which is a new non-ferrous and non-magnetic metal, has been adopted in ground school instruction of navy pilots at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Florida.

C. W. Oexle is an official at the air station. Guinn is personal representative for R. E. L. Costan, Port Worth inventor and metallurgist. Mr. Costan has devoted several years to developing and patenting costanum, which is a metal resembling aluminum in appearance yet possessing a higher tensile strength.

Various grades of costanum are adaptable for airplane construction, and the information detailed its use for propeller, fuselage and strut construction.

Rats Poisoned by Thousands

In a rat campaign in Coleman County reported by the county agent, 60,000 rats were killed by poisoning methods outlined by the U. S. Biological Survey.

Increases in taxable wealth and population, a demand for continued liberal support of approximately the same level as during the years of prosperity for public schools is being made. Since 1920 scholastic population has increased 26 per cent, taxable wealth 20 per cent and state school support 150 per cent.

The income tax bill which has passed the House seems to have little chance of passing the Senate.

Analysis of the state budget in the light of reductions already made and provided the Legislature does not attempt to hold the school apportionment to prosperity levels, shows that legitimate needs of the government can be met without additional tax levies.

Huge Crop of Rats Killed on Gilmore Place In 2 Hours

The first of May brought forth several fish stories that stretched the imagination to the breaking point.

Now comes T. J. Gilmore and several of his neighbors to testify that 273 rats were killed in a two-hour drive at his place in the Union community Friday afternoon.

With the able assistance of dees, clubs and a sledge hammer, the killers routed big rats, little rats and medium-sized rats from their home beneath the Gilmore chicken house. It was by far the biggest single rat haul made this year, as far as The Times has learned.

Thousands of other rats are being killed violently and with the poison that is being put out as a result of the drive against the rodents under direction of the new county agent.

Fairview Church Is Baptist Entertainer

Fairview Baptist Church, Mitchell County, was host Tuesday to the Mitchell-Scurry workers' meeting. The scene was familiar to Rev. Philip C. McGahey, local pastor, for he was reared in that community.

The June workers' meeting goes to New Hope. Tuesday's program included messages by Rev. J. W. McGaha and Rev. Cal McGahey of Scurry County and by Rev. P. D. O'Brien of Colorado. A fine spirit was evident, according to all attendees.

Local delegates included Mmes. Willis Rodgers, C. Wedgworth, J. M. Dook, M. E. Bibbee, Welch, H. L. Wren, J. A. Woodfin and Mr. P. E. Devenport of Lloyd Mountain.

Monday Latest Day To Seek Tree Jobs

Next Monday is the last day on which young unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25 may make application for a place in Uncle Sam's new reforestation army.

S. H. Hamlett, local manager, reminds Scurry Countians. Anyone desiring to make applications should see Mr. Hamlett at his new office in the basement of the courthouse, formerly occupied by the county agent.

Scurry County's quota is 25. Almost 100 applications have already been received.

Canning on Large Scale. With 85 hotel size canners and automatic sealers ordered for community canning, Cass County is going in for living at home on a big scale. Neat log houses with board roofs are under construction for housing the equipment. The movement is led by county farm and home demonstration agents with the cooperation of business men, vocational teachers and local civic organizations.

Tubercular Tests Effective. For the fourth year Randall County dairymen have pooled their cows for a cooperative tubercular test, says the county agent. Under the leadership of the county dairymen's association 63 farmers tested more than 1,000 cows at low cost to find only one-tenth of one per cent condemned. The first year 1 1/2 per cent were eliminated.

Building Up Work Stock. Guadalupe County farmers are looking ahead. To the stud and jack circles already organized there two jacks and one stallion have been recently added. With a total of 15,500 work animals on Guadalupe County farms about 11,000 of them will have to be replaced within seven years, declares the county agent.

Hobbs Athlete Wins Fourth Place Before Large Austin Crowd

Before 5,000 people Friday and Saturday at Austin, Raymond May, star athlete of Hobbs High School, made a brilliant showing by tying for fourth place in pole vault and broad jump.

He was accompanied by Conrad to the capitol city Thursday. Considering the distance, Raymond carried the Hobbs colors to new altitudes. Official figures for events he placed in are: Pole vault, 11 feet nine inches, and broad jump 21 feet two inches.

Superintendent R. K. Williams is justly proud of Cotton's—because his friends call him that—record, as it is the first time in Hobbs High School history one man has put on a show unaided before elite Austinites. Seven hundred and one athletes entered the various contests.

Scurry and Fisher County are jointly proud of the honors won by Raymond, because he lives in the Guinn community and attends the Hobbs school, four miles across the line. Reached for an interview, Raymond stated the trip was very enjoyable.—L. G.

And it came to pass that a green business man read in black and white that business is in the red. And lo, when he beheld these tidings he became blue, for he was already yellow.

RESPONDENCE FROM RURAL COMMUNITIES IN SCURRY COUNTY

Union Chapel

Gertrude Binion, Correspondent
Countless friends gathered at the Methodist church at this place Sunday afternoon in order to pay last tribute to Mrs. Caswell McCormick, whose soul went home to God Saturday morning.

Bethel News

Nellie Barnett, Correspondent
We are having some high winds at this writing. Very little plowing has been done. A nice rain would certainly be beneficial.

Round Top News

Mrs. J. W. Brown, Correspondent
No rain yet, and farmers can do very little toward making a crop. A few are plowing beds to keep the weeds down.

Ira News

Mrs. E. A. Kruse, Correspondent
This community was made sad Sunday when news came of the death of Mrs. Caswell McCormick of Union. Several from this community attended the funeral at Union Sunday afternoon.

Ennis Creek News

Quida Horsley, Correspondent
Mrs. Minnie Rains and son, Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rains and Mrs. Billie Rains spent the week-end with Mrs. Rains' sister, Mrs. T. A. Ellison, at Asperment.

Lone Wolf News

Grover Phillips, who has been residing at Pecos for some time, is visitor in the home of his sister, Mrs. Martha Wells.

Arah News

Mrs. Earl McDow, Correspondent
Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lightfoot, who have been attending a Bible school in Dallas visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Huffman, and children several days last week.

Bell News

Minnie T. Abernathy, Correspondent
Sandstorms and more sandstorms rage this spring. Rain will finally fall, though, and settle all this dust we are experiencing.

Likewise friends gathered in the chapel of Odom Funeral Home at Snyder Monday afternoon, where funeral rites were conducted by Rev. Phillip C. McGahy of Snyder, assisted by Rev. Cal McGahy, pastor of the Baptist church here, for Grandmother Strickland, whose soul went home to rest in glory Sunday afternoon, after a short illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Caldwell and children of Arah spent Saturday in the S. G. Lunford home. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wren of Snyder visited with Mr. and Mrs. Holly Shuler Monday.
