

COUNTY POINTING TO SCHOOL MEET FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

FOUR VICTIMS OF PNEUMONIA IN TWO HOMES

Mrs. Jack Bowling and Daughter, W. H. Clements and Son, Claimed in Week.

The most disastrous pneumonia case in Scurry County's annals has claimed four lives in two local homes within less than a week.

W. H. Clements, 57, a Snyder merchant for almost 20 years, died Saturday at his home in Northeast Snyder after a several days' illness from the disease. Wednesday afternoon his son, Cullen, 16, who was carried to a Lubbock sanitarium Saturday, fell victim to the scourge.

Mrs. Jack Bowling, 43, died Saturday night at her home in North Snyder. Her 10-year-old daughter, Darline, passed away Tuesday night. A son, Jackie, aged five, is also seriously ill with the same disease.

Final rites for the local merchant were held at the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, as hundreds of friends crowded into the building to hear the words of tribute from Bro. M. F. Showalter of Abilene, Bro. G. F. Mickey of Idaho, and Bro. O. D. Dial, local minister. Services for Cullen Clements, who was a high school student, are to be held this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, also from the Church of Christ, with Bro. Dial and Bro. Showalter officiating. The body was brought from Lubbock by the Odum Funeral Home yesterday afternoon. Burials are in the local cemetery.

HOMER L. PHARR

Meet Homer L. Pharr, judge of the 12nd judicial district, Lubbock, who says he will "deal with principles, issues and public questions" in his campaign for Congress from the new 19th district. He will speak here Tuesday night, along with three other candidates for the same place.

GEORGE MAHON

This youthful district attorney has served Scurry and adjoining counties for several years. He is one of four congressional speakers due in Snyder Tuesday night.

Chevrolet Program Heard by Salesmen

Chevrolet's ambitious merchandising program for the spring months—big season for automobile sales—was outlined to 127 dealers and salesmen of the 19-county Abilene district at a conference last week in Abilene. District Manager J. A. Turpin was in charge.

Homer Jenkins, S. H. Hammett and Raymond Sims represented the Yoder Chevrolet Company of Snyder.

Two carloads of new Chevrolets have been received this week by the Yoder Chevrolet Company. One arrived Monday, the other Tuesday. D. P. Yoder reports that the first carload, received March 5, lasted less than a week.

Snyder Has Active Part in Big Spring Teachers' Program

Snyder teachers and musicians took an active part in the meeting of Oil Belt teachers at Big Spring last week-end.

C. Wedgworth, local superintendent, was chairman of the program committee. Choral club members from the high school here presented several numbers on Saturday afternoon's entertainment menu.

Clyde Rowe talked on "What Are the Objectives in English?" Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham was the chairman of the foreign language section. Curtis M. Moore was chairman of the physical education division, and conducted a round table discussion on the subject. In the primary section, Miss Jessie Simpson spoke on "The Selective Step" in phonics. Mrs. J. P. Nelson gave an address in the social science section on "Objectives of the Social Sciences."

Lions Club Host To Zone Meeting Tomorrow Night

The Lions Club program committee, headed by R. L. Williams, reports that everything is all set for the zone Lions gathering at the Manhattan Hotel Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Representatives from Colorado, Hamilton, Big Spring, Midland and Anson, plus local members, will probably swell the list of banqueters to at least 75 or 100, according to J. P. Nelson, secretary, who is corresponding with the nearby clubs.

The zone program holds particular significance at this time because it will be pointing toward the district convention of Lions at Colorado late in April. Each guest club will provide a part of the program, and the local club will round out the menu with an assortment of entertainment and business. Each club will likewise be asked to give a summary of its recent activities.

Preparations are being made for practically 100 per cent of local members. The zone meeting takes the place of the regular Tuesday noon luncheon, and will be financed by regular monthly dues—and the regular Lion pay-as-you-go language fees of the visitors.

C. F. Sentell's Display of Reds Wins Top Places

Seven of 11 single comb Rhode Island Reds entered at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show by C. F. Sentell of Snyder won high places, according to the prize list in last Thursday's Star-Telegram.

Sentell's young pen took top honors. One of his cockerels took second place, after the poultry judge found it extremely difficult to choose between the first and second place winners in this division. A Sentell Red won second place, and a local hen took third honors.

Another cockerel was placed fifth. In a field with strong competition and numerous entries, the Sentell entries were judged second best display in the Red division.

The local attorney has been a breeder of excellent Rhode Island Reds for several years, and has taken a number of poultry show prizes.

FIRE PREVENTION, CLEAN UP PROCLAMATION

The week of April 2 to 8, inclusive, has been designated as Spring Fire Prevention Clean-up Week.

There are many reasons why the spring clean-up campaign this year should receive the enthusiastic support of every man, woman and child.

First, because the fire prevention clean-up campaign this year is of particular importance, as it can be combined with general welfare work, and be of particular benefit to the unemployed.

Second, because every dollar in property destroyed by fire, which so frequently is the result of careless house-keeping in the home and in the average place of business, is a serious drain upon our present economic condition.

Third, every citizen should have a wholesome pride in his home city, its streets, playgrounds, its parks and buildings. Homes and surroundings freshly painted, with well kept lawns and gardens, increase property values and intensify community interest.

Cleanliness creates cheer, courage and confidence.

Fourth, because in the past 10 years entirely too many of our citizens have lost their lives due to carelessness in their daily use of fire, and the preservation of human life is an important matter.

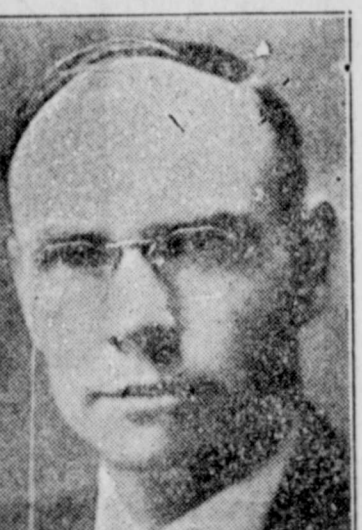

Now, therefore, E. H. G. Towle, mayor of the city of Snyder, do hereby designate the week of April 2 to 8, inclusive, as Spring Clean-up Week, and most respectfully call upon all departments of the city, the Chamber of Commerce, civic clubs, patriotic clubs and our people in general to take an active part in this clean-up campaign.

I further designate the fire marshal and fire chief as a committee of two to work with the city officials in selecting active committees to carry on this campaign and ask the cooperation of all of our people in this enterprising campaign for a clean city.

In testimony whereof, I hereto sign my name and seal of office, this 21st day of March, 1934.

E. H. G. Towle, mayor.

FRED C. HAILE

A Dickens County product, who became widely known in this territory two years ago as a candidate for state representative, Mr. Haile is the only congressional candidate who does not follow the attorney's profession. Hear him on the Young Democrats' program Tuesday night.

STATE SENATOR

Arthur P. Duggan, state senator, hails from Littlefield. He is seeking elevation to the 19th district congressional post. Senator Duggan is one of the quartet of candidates for the national office who may be heard in the district court room Tuesday night, under Young Democratic Club sponsorship.

Meeting for Church of Christ Is Ended

Special services at the Church of Christ, beginning Sunday of last week, were closed Sunday of this week. In spite of the large amount of sickness in the community, and the illness of Bro. O. D. Dial, minister, members of the church declare that a large amount of good resulted from the eight-day series of services.

Bro. G. F. Mickey of Idaho did the preaching during the meeting, and Herbert Smith led the singing in the absence of the minister.

TORREADORS TO BE IN FEATURE ROLES TONIGHT

Clever Spanish Operetta to Be Presented by Boys' and Girls' Choral Clubs Here.

"The Torreadors," a clever operetta with Spanish setting, will be presented in the auditorium this (Thursday) evening at 8:00 o'clock by the boys' and girls' Choral Clubs of Snyder High School.

With Mrs. Helen Rodgers and Charles S. Owens directing, the humorous musical drama has been practiced by a number of high school voices for several weeks. Every-night practices have been observed this week.

The story involves the usual heroine, two heroes (impeters both), a villain, an aristocratic Spanish father, and lesser characters. Some sprightly songs are interspersed throughout.

Advance ticket sales—25 cents for adults, 10 cents for children—indicates that a large crowd will hear the elaborate program. Members of the club are vying for highest ticket selling honors.

Jack Darby, Sonley Huestis, W. H. Shuler, Emory Smith and Bernard Longbottom take leading roles. Others in the boys' chorus are: William Boren, Aubrey Wiese, Murray Gray, Adrial Moore, Billy Hamilton, H. B. Patterson and Junior Thompson.

Following are members of the girls' club: Gertrude Binion, Norene Blakey, Thaba Benberck, Thana Benberck, Sedie Bell Jenkins, Juanita Scott, Opal Adams, Juanita Burr, Joyce Clarkin, Lyndal Westbrook, Dorothy Terry, Ardell Walver, Vivian Chenault, Katy Marie Louder, Lucille Greene, Gladys Crowder, Jessie Huey, Estine Doward, Frances Northcutt, Flo Ballard, Zuletaun Patrick, Alene Wilson, Florentine Winston, Irene Wolcott, Alma Alice Caskey, Grace Elizabeth Casley, Delaine Shamblin, Nadine Sumruid, Tommy Reed, Helen Caule, Nell Carlson and Virginia Egerton.

Singers from McMurry College will have a part in the service. Dr. B. W. Dodson, a member of the McMurry College faculty, and pastor of the local church, will preach the special sermon. Dr. Dodson was presiding elder of the district while Dr. Hunt was pastor here.

When the Scurry County ranchman found this likeness in the Star-Telegram the next morning, it is said that he was pretty angry about the reflection that was being cast on his Hereford. The grin four inches below the hat brim in the picture was manufactured before Harrie knew that he had been elected as president of the Texas Hereford Association.

The WOMAN'S Page

Success Crowns Annual Employers' Banquet Staged By Business Women

The Employers' Banquet staged by the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening at the Manhattan Hotel was declared by attendees as a delightful success. The affair was the second of its kind had by the club since its organization on April 13, 1928.

With Mrs. Ethel Eiland as toastmistress the banquet moved off like clock work. Hostesses for the evening were Ethel Eiland, Leule Dodson, Anaslouise Rosenberg, and Mary Ellen Martin.

An Easter motif was closely followed in decorations and appointments. Banquet tables—one long table and three smaller—were centered with huge bouquets of lovely primroses, and beautiful growing Easter lilies were seen on each end of the long table and on the piano. Places were marked by Easter eggs on which was written the number of the club and that of her guest placed two between covers.

Mrs. Eiland as toastmistress gave the welcome to the Employers and club guests, immediately placing the more than 100 attendees at ease. After the welcome, Nancy Ca. Ca., a charter member of the club, spoke to the assembly, giving as the main address of the evening "Some High Lights Along the Road as a Club," beginning with the organization of the club and tracing the activities down to the present time.

E. J. Anderson, one of the guests, was asked to give "A Few Notable Achievements of Women in Business," but due to the fact that he could not find his notes he stated "I have an address neither inside me nor outside me." So he proceeded to present an unusually clever burlesque on women's club work.

Charles Owens guest soloist, presented "The Old Spinning Wheel" and "We'll Make Hay While the Sun Shines," with the accompaniment of Billy Hamilton at the piano. As an encore Mr. Owens gave, to the delight of the present and by request, "The Last Round-Up."

esses Introduced. At this point in the evening the toastmistress asked that each club member introduce her boss. It was really the employees' evening when they began that, and a bit of hilarious fun was had as each member cleverly and mischievously introduced her boss.

The climax of the evening came when the high school one-act play was second to only one in the county play contest. Mrs. Hilton Lambert directed LeFrances Hamilton, Frances Norheut, Bernard Long, then and Richard Davis in the play, "The Chime."

The menu consisted of chicken a la king, green peas in pods of mashed potatoes, golden salad, shredded lettuce nests decorated with marshmallow Easter eggs, emergin, frogs colorful Easter eggs, strawberry shortcake and coffee.

Club guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owens, Mr. and Mrs. William A. DeBelie, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Lambert, Miss Lera Mae Scott and Watt Scott.

The following club members and employers of guests were present: Ethel Eiland, Leule Dodson, Anaslouise Rosenberg, and Mary Ellen Martin, hostesses; Opal Clevenger, Dora Morris, Nathan Rosenberg, Maggie Norred, D. P. Yoder, Mrs. W. Norred, Ora Norred, Glendale Moschel, Ida Merrill, W. R. Merrill, Carrie Gray, R. E. Gray, Grace Avary, Maye Rogers, Clara Jones, Mrs. R. L. Martin, E. J. Anderson, Gladys Anderson, Nancy Caton, Joe Caton, Mrs. H. L. Vann, Lil Jo Wilson, Eura Little, Mrs. I. A. Griffin, Elvyn Houston, T. H. Houston, Vesta Green, Gwen E. Wynn, Scarborough, Edna Tinker, Frank Farmer, Abe Rogers, Vera Miles, W. E. Bell, E. E. Westerbeee, Edith Hull and W. W. Hull.

Culture Club Studies Bible Romances.

The Woman's Culture Club met with Mrs. W. A. Morton Tuesday afternoon for a study of "Bible Romances," led by Mrs. E. J. Richardson. Quotations from the Bible were given in answer to roll call.

"Day Is Dying in the We" was sung in accompaniment to Mrs. W. B. Rodgers at the piano to begin the program. Mrs. Dora Cunningham discussed "Songs of Solomon"; "The Romance of Isaac and Rebecca" was given by Mrs. C. E. Ross; "The Beautiful Devotion of Jacob and Rachel" was Mrs. J. B. Huckabee's subject; "The Princess and the Slave," a discussion which was to be given by Mrs. E. J. Richardson, was omitted because of lack of time.

The hostess passed a salad course to Mmes. O. S. Williamson, W. C. Hamilton, J. S. Bradbury and P. D. Lambeth, guests, and to the following members: Mmes. A. C. Alexander, J. P. Avary, F. M. Brownfield, J. L. Caskey, P. C. Chenuit, Dora Cunningham, J. R. Huckabee, E. C. Neeley, E. J. Richardson, W. B. Rodgers, C. E. Ross, E. F. Sears, E. E. Westerbeee, J. A. Woodfin and D. P. Strayhorn.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Poppy Sale.

The American Legion Auxiliary met last Tuesday evening at the court-house to make plans for a poppy sale and a poppy poster contest. Mrs. Lee T. Stinson, president, was in the chair all during the meeting.

The auxiliary voted to observe Community Service Day which was March 17. That day was set aside to render service to the community. From the auxiliary 25 books were donated to the school library. The auxiliary voted to send the organization paper, "The Lone Star," to five Gold Star Mothers in the county, and to assist in entertaining for the state legion commander the first week in April.

A poppy sale will be conducted under the sponsorship of the auxiliary on May 26, and Mrs. Stinson states that they will also sponsor a poppy poster contest in connection with the poppy sale. For the poster contest there is a national prize of $25 to be given to the student who makes the cleverest poppy poster. Definite plans for the contest have not been worked out, but there will be an announcement about it in the near future.

Miss Arnold Again Chosen Beauty.

Miss Arnold was given the honor for the second time this year, having been one of the four chosen the first semester.

Four girls from each of the four classes are selected for the contest, and photographs of the 16 are sent to Hollywood to be judged by Mae West.

Mmes. H. G. Towle and Pearl Shannon were hostesses to the Sins Club on Husband's Evening Tuesday in the Towle home with a lovely bridge dinner. Guests were invited to fill in for members who were unable to attend.

Contract games were enjoyed after dinner with Mmes. J. M. Harris and H. J. Brice receiving prizes among ladies, Wayne Bolen and J. G. Hicks high for gentlemen, and R. H. Curmiste high cat prize.

Victory Bible Class Has Business Meeting.

The Victory Bible Class of the First Methodist Church met in regular business and social session last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, with Mmes. Strayhorn, Tom Fish and J. T. Ramsey hostesses.

After the business session members enjoyed the social hour in Bible contests, quilt piecing and joke telling.

A lovely plate was passed to the following: Mmes. J. P. Avary, J. W. Temple, N. W. R. Merrill, Joe Strayhorn, R. W. West, Sed A. Harris, Allen Warren, J. H. Henderson, W. H. Cauble and A. M. Curry, members, and Mrs. David Strayhorn, a guest.

Mrs. Lewis Elected To Go to Conference.

The Adult Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church met at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. C. Preult led a splendid devotional on "The Golden Rule," and the society finished the course of study, "Christianity and Industry." Mrs. C. J. Lewis was elected as delegate to annual conference, with Mrs. L. W. Boren, alternate.

The following were present: Mmes. Joe Strayhorn, J. E. Hardy, R. M. Stokes, A. C. Preult, C. J. Lewis, A. M. Curry, S. H. Young, H. P. Brown, R. W. West, W. W. Hamilton, D. P. Yoder and Sed A. Harris.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 22 POUNDS

Herman Runkls of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."
To lose fat safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 86c bottle lasts four weeks—Get it at any drug store in America.
If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Another Snyder Girl Makes Good.

Miss Dinaween Bridgeman of Lubbock, formerly of Snyder, was selected by Penryn Stalaws, New York artist and beauty judge and a former motion picture director, as first place winner among the 62 photographs submitted in the recent Texas Tech beauty contest. Miss Bridgeman, a freshman in the school, is the niece of Mrs. Edna B. Tinker.

The artist-judge wrote that he chose Miss Bridgeman as number one because of "contour of face, animation and harmony of features." Other Tech beauties in the order of their choice are as follows: Janet Hambricht, Lubbock; Geraldine Wicker, Slaton; Sara Sue Stewart, Lubbock; Billie Bob Jones, Lubbock; Judith English, Plainview; Charlotte White, Corpus Christi; and Pauline Yeager, Lubbock.

The eight winners will have full-page pictures in the college year-book, "La Ventana."

Crusaders Shower Recent Bride.

Mmes. A. E. Harvey and W. M. Lucas entertained the Crusaders Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church at the home of Mrs. Dora Cunningham on last Wednesday afternoon.

Interesting discussions were given by members of the class after which lovely and useful gifts were given to Mrs. Mitchell McMath, a recent bride, who was before her marriage Miss Theora Sparks.

A lovely ice course was passed to the following: Mmes. Howell McClinton, Fred Trice, R. H. Odum, J. P. Nelson, Harry Lee, R. L. Williams, Frank Farmer, Arlie Biggs and Mitchell McMath, and Misses Elizabeth Ward, Bonnie Gary, Neoma Strayhorn, Gertrude Herm and Hattie Herm, members; and Mmes. C. Wedgeworth and Dora Cunningham, guests.

Friends of John E. Sentell Put Him in City Attorney Race

The name of John E. Sentell, former city attorney and county judge, has been placed in the Times announcement column this week. Friends of the local attorney are entering his candidacy for the city attorneyship.

With the announcement comes the statement that Mr. Sentell is ably qualified for the position. In private practice and in various public capacities he has proven himself honest, capable and efficient, his friends say.

Mr. Sentell's candidacy is subject to action of Snyder voters at the city election, Tuesday, April 3.

Chas. M. Wellborn Asks Commissioner Place, Precinct No. 3

After three weeks of silence, the Times announcement column this week discloses the name of Charles M. Wellborn, of the East community, as a candidate for commissioner from Precinct No. 3. With his announcement for this important office, Mr. Wellborn has the following statement to make: "I have spent my life up to this date in Scurry County. I feel that I know Scurry County and its citizenship. I feel that I know what Scurry County needs, both as to expenditures and taxation. I feel that I am qualified to fill the place, and administer the county's business impartially. "A lifelong Democrat, I shall adhere to democratic principles. I favor taking care of taxation to the limit of prudence. "If you elect me I shall be your commissioner to the very best of my ability."

George Brown Out For Precinct No. 1 Justice of Peace Job

George W. Brown, 36 years a resident of Snyder, announces this week as a candidate for justice of the peace, Precinct No. 1. Although Mr. Brown has been a private citizen for a number of years, he has served the people of his town and precinct in times past. From 1913 to 1916 he occupied the office he now seeks, which was then combined with the county commissioner's office. His many friends believe that his experience in handling the affairs of public office will help him to make a better officer and servant of the people. It is needless to go into detail about Mr. Brown's qualifications. No man in the county has a better record of service and a clearer character slate than he. If elected, he intends to carry into the justice of the peace office the same high standards that have characterized his every-day life among Scurry County residents. Cera—"Would you marry a man for his money?" Dora—"Not exactly. But I'd want him to have a lovely disposition, and if he didn't have money he'd very likely be worried and ill-tutored."

H. M. Blackard in Race for Precinct Commissioner Seat

The county political scene added a new face this week in the person of H. M. (Bub) Blackard, who announces as a candidate for commissioner from Precinct No. 3. A resident of Scurry County for 33 years, Mr. Blackard became known throughout this trade territory when he was in business here. For the past two years he has been farming south of Snyder. He believes that these years of service in various capacities, enables him to ably serve the citizens of his precinct, no matter where they may live. Mr. Blackard has never held public office of any kind, nor has he sought any place at the ballot box. No rash promises are made by the candidate, but he does state that an economical administration from every angle will be his aim. He takes no "penny-wise and pound-foolish" attitude toward county expenditures, but he believes that increased efficiency will not only give the county better government but will allow a gradual lightening of the tax burden. There has not been a death among the 3,000 inhabitants of Snyder, Turkey, during the past eight years.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

A New Pocketbook Style.
Pessimism Pete says the Spring Style Show is the first sure sign of a new fashion in household pocketbooks: Plenty of trimming, flatter than ever, and windblown outlook.

Styles for the Mother-Housewife.
Talkative Tillie thinks the only reason many women have for planning a trip to the Spring Style Show is to discover how little the style experts know about draping the frames of women who carry a child on each hip, a broom in one hand and a rolling pin in the other.

A Pertinent Question.
The Stephenville Empire-Tribune raises the question with its readers as to whether it is wise to purchase merchandise from traveling salesmen with Burnum methods, instead of the year-in-and-year-out merchant who supports schools, churches, civic enterprises, and all phases of government.

"The Cleanest Town in the West."
Snyder has often been called one of the cleanest towns in West Texas, but in the last year or two she has fallen below par on several counts. The spring fire prevention and clean-up campaign, slated for early April, offers an opportunity for Snyder to re-earn the title of "The Cleanest Town in West Texas."

Another Day of Grace?
Are the talents of gangland after all, going to continue stifling the life from our economic system?
If President Roosevelt would go a huge step forward in his war on economic parasites, he would sound a clarion call to every energy and resource in America to pull the clamps down on organized pillaging and murder. Surely the gangster and his associates will not have another day of grace along with returning prosperity.

Tax Evaders "Cough Up."
It was revealed in a statement of Comptroller George H. Sheppard a few days ago that the liquor bootlegger is probably not the worst varmint in Texas. Gasoline tax evaders "coughed up" more than $3,000,000 in extra revenues during the first nine months the new enforcement law was in operation.
It makes one dizzy to try to imagine how much would have been collected if enforcement officers had made 100 per cent coverage.

After Repeal—Temperance?
A citizen of New Orleans writes to a national newspaper that the festive Mardi Gras crowned alcohol as king this year. The writer, a long-time resident of the Southern city, says this year's celebration broke all records for drunkenness, lawlessness, licentiousness and corruption. Repeal is here Now, where are the self-righteous repealists who won thousands of votes by declaring that repeal would bring sobriety and law-enforcement?

The Candidates Are Coming.
You Ma-hen in on one of the best political menus
the year at the district court room Tuesday night.
Mulligan says he has Duggan to another engagement, and can't be here, but the Halle won't be Pharr away. Yep, all the congressional candidates, with one exception, will be here, under auspices of the Young Democratic Club of Scurry County. It should be an oratorical paradise.

Another Sign of Spring.
Spring has surely come. Three candidates have jumped into the hopper this week, just as the calendar reveals that a new season is with us. Scurry County and Snyder probably have set a record in candidate announcements, 53 men and women having placed their names in the Times political column.
Some wise guy has suggested that it will be winter for some of the office seekers when the votes are counted.

Rabbits Fall by Wayside.
Scurry and adjoining counties are having the heaviest crop of rabbit drives on record, and thousands of the animals are going the way of all flesh.
If it is true, as some observers say, that a big jack rats as much as one-twentieth of a cow, the hunters are saving many a meal for cattle all over the countryside. The modern method of slaying rabbits with shotgun fire is a far cry from the old scheme of herding them into wire nets and knocking them cold with clubs.

A Scurry County Honor.
Scurry County has placed one of her sons in a responsible state position again. Harrie Winston's election to the presidency of the Texas Hereford Association is one of the most distinctive honors that can come to a West Texan, for West Texas is the Hereford center of the world. Winston Brothers—Harrie and Wade—have done much to bring about a

Dr. Hunt's Life Blood.

While West Texas and Southern Methodism are mourning the loss of Dr. J. W. Hunt, an interesting incident is told by Dr. A. O. Scarborough, veteran medical doctor of Snyder, who was a close personal friend of the educator and preacher.

The local doctor, while lecturing at McMurtry several years ago, pointed out that many men and women were literally putting their life blood into their work . . . and he gave Dr. Hunt, who was on the lecture platform, as a pertinent example.
"Such men and women are killing themselves, but they just don't know it," Dr. Scarborough told his audience.

That half-prophecy came true last week. But who can say that Dr. Hunt did not gain for humanity by losing his life at the peak of his era of usefulness?
Is it not impossible that the dynamic Hunt personality, the brilliant Hunt intellect, the abounding Hunt consecration to righteous causes, might have been lost had Dr. Hunt "slowed up" for vacations and rest periods?

Certainly, much of Dr. Hunt's success hinged on striking while the iron was hot. To have stopped in the middle of the stream for rest might have been to see many of the Hunt-sponsored enterprises crumble and die completely.

A greater than Dr. Hunt brought an eternal doctrine to the minds of thoughtful men almost two thousand years ago. He wove His tapestry of love and hope for only three short years, in a tiny niche of earth. At 33 he was crucified. Christ might have lived and taught to his fifty-ninth year, as Dr. Hunt did; or he might have wrought for 100 or 500 years.
But he, too, chose to sacrifice his life for humanity.

Dr. Hunt spilled his life blood, and sacrificed many of the pleasures for which men usually seek, because he deemed the cause more worthy than the life God had given him.

Not the least of his accomplishments—the building used by the First Methodist Church, Snyder—stands as a monument to his tireless energy and his never-receding consecration. It is entirely fitting that the local church membership set aside a special service in honor of the man who followed the gleam at all costs.

Such a service comes at the 11:00 o'clock hour Sunday morning. It is ours to give tribute; Dr. Hunt gave life-blood.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

WOE IS MAN.

If you do not keep tap with the gags that meander from paper to paper from year to year, you will get consolation out of this little contribution from the pen of Robert Quillen:

"Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboureth all the days of his youth to pay for a gas-cline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another. He planteth cotton in the earth and tilleth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into barns he cweeth the landors $8.40 more than the land is worth. He hroweth money from the lenders to buy pork and syrup and gasoline and the interest eateth up all that he hath.

He begeth sons and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear white collars, and, lo! they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are ornery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof. The wife of his bosom necketh with a stranger and when he rebuketh her, lo, she shooteth him in the finale.

He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. He drinketh a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and it burneth the lining from his liver. All the days of his life he findeth no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until he cometh back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians removeth his inner parts and his teeth and his bank roll; his daughters show their legs to strangers; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of life and his heart busteth trying to keep pace. Sorrow and bill collectors follow him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered to his Father, his neighbors sayeth: "How much did he leave?" Lo! he hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young schiek that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of bridge. Woe is man! From the day of his birth until the time when the earth knoweth him no more, he laboureth for bread and catcheth the devil.
Dust he was in the beginning and his name is mud.—

Recent surveys disclose that salt deposits around Grand Saline, Van Zandt County, total twenty million tons of a potential value of $400,000,250 and are among the largest known deposits in the world. Morton Salt Company has one of its largest plants in Grand Saline and has spent many thousands in developing the deposits.

Today, more than ever, we must read.
It takes 15 days for the average human body to recover from the loss of two consecutive nights' sleep.
Authority can be conferred upon you, but not wisdom. It has to be earned.
Automobile plants are located in 41 states.

Specialist—"You are suffering from nerve exhaustion. I can cure you for $1,000."
Patient—"And will my nerve be as good as yours, then?"

Parole Chief—"Are there any reasons you would like to advance for being paroled at this time?"
Prisoner—"Yes, I'm supposed to visit my dentist every six months."

Today there is more sentiment and brotherly feeling manifested in the world than for many generations.

Nearly 24,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables were shipped out of the Rio Grande Valley in the 1932-1933 season.

heightening interest in purebred Herefords, and it is only simple justice that one of them should be thus honored by fellow cattlemen.

More Chickens—And Better.
In one way, it was a painful experience for a flock of Snyder Rhode Island Reds to win several prizes at the Port Worth Fat Stock Show. Painful because it emphasized the fact that most Scurry County Chickens have deteriorated alarmingly during the past three or four years. C. F. Sentell, raiser of the prize winners, and others interested in securing the quality of our flocks advanced, are talking for a poultry show here before long. The project can be put across if it is really pushed. Pocketbooks, as well as prizes, will be benefitted.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Committees Are Busy.

Local cotton committees are busy this week in making surveys of non-signers of cotton contracts.
Information on acreage and cotton production on these farms is being obtained. These facts must be obtained by county committees before total figures for the county can be submitted to the state review board. All farmers are requested to cooperate with the committees for mutual benefit.

You are urged to make correct measurements of acres rented to the government and acres to be planted to cotton, since it appears that official measurement of land will not take place until after July 1.

Return Cards, Please.

Farmers who received cards regarding their out of county ginnings are urged to return them to the agent at once, regardless of whether they actually ginned any cotton outside the county during the base years. Those who have not ginned cotton in another county are simply requested to write across the card, "None ginned outside," and to write their name and address on the card before mailing it back.

About Hog Contracts.

Hog contracts are being signed up every day. All farmers who are eligible to sign a contract are urged to come in at once, since the final time for contract signing will be up in a few days.

Any farmer who has farrowed or sold hogs during 1932-33 is eligible to participate in the government's new hog deal. This is primarily a program for producers, since no trader is eligible to participate.

High interest in contract signing indicates that farmers are really interested in cooperating with Uncle Sam in this hog reduction program.

Campus Improvements.

A second three-faucet fountain of petrified rock has been completed on the school grounds this week, with John Cole in charge of both jobs. One is on the east side, the other on the west side of the building. Work on the new bridge over Dry Creek is rapidly taking on a finished appearance. Trees have been set out along a portion of the new campus driveway.

Auto Dealers in Sweetwater for Area Code Meet

Horse Eiland, Ford dealer, and D. P. Yoder, Chevrolet dealer, attended a meeting of the Sweetwater district automobile dealers' group
Thursday evening.

A member of the state code committee spoke on the benefits of the code of fair practices to the people who buy automobiles as well as to dealers. He pointed out that the penalty for violation under federal law is $500 fine or six-month imprisonment.

The Sweetwater association joined the Abilene association in order to strengthen the area group, and a paid secretary has been employed to see all the dealers in the district regularly to keep them advised of the new rulings being put out from time to time, to check up on complaints, and in every way possible assist dealers in living up to the code, which the President has asked all patriotic citizens to support.

In summary, the state code representative said:
"The customer is protected by rules demanding that new cars must not be driven with the speedometer disconnected. Thousands of cars were driven from factory last year and sold as new cars after having been driven many hundred miles in some instances.

"The dealer may not add to the sales price of the new car in order to offer more for used cars. The customer may find from the federal prices on used cars just what his car is selling for. These prices are an average of those paid by customers for the previous month or one-fifth of the worst ones are cut off the list. These prices are reported weekly by dealers under oath. It is a fair criterion of price just as is any other commodity

Robbers Take Loot From Rotan Bank

From Abilene Morning News.

Robbers who looted the First National Bank at Rotan early Tuesday morning of $830 were traced to Aspermont, where they were lost.
The robbery was a four-man job completed at 5:00 a. m. after the masked bandits, heavily armed, had captured four Rotan residents and a nightwatchman at 1:30 o'clock.

Men held captive while the robbers worked inside the bank were Charles Davidson first to leave the domino game; Nathan Kelley, the night watchman, who had strolled up to the Legion hall just before the game ended; Jerry Sheppard, L. E. Wright and Rex Walker, other players. First, the robbers had cut two main cables that give the town its telephone service.

HEREFORD MEN NAME WINSTON FOR PRESIDENT

Snyder Man Elected Leader of State Cattle Association at Stock Show Meeting.

Harrie Winston of Snyder was elected president of the Texas Hereford Association at the annual business meeting held during the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last week. He succeeds Walter L. Boethe of Sweetwater.

Long active in the affairs of the association, and a leading Hereford breeder for many years, along with his brother, Wade, the local man's promotion from a directorship to the presidency was not a surprise to many friends.

Winston Brothers' Domino Return 71st, calved July 4, 1932, brought the sixth highest price among 37 on standing Hereford bulls sold at the show Wednesday last week. The animal was sold to Neil Brothers of Big Spring for $75.

Another Winston bull in the same list, Double Domino, calved January 21, 1933, was sold to J. A. Boyd of Seneca for $215.

Judges of the large Hereford classes awarded two Winston animals places in the list of bulls calved May 1 to August 31. Banner Domino placed fifth, while Domino Return 7th rated ninth.

A Eulogy. To Empress Lucille Wolcott.

The life work of our little friend, Empress Lucille Wolcott, is finished on earth and short though it was, as measured by time, the power of her gentle sweetness will live on and on as a memory, precious as the rarest jewel, in our hearts.

Her bright cheerfulness will be missed in the Sunday school and church, but the God-given talent of song is now added to the glorious choir singing around the throne of God. We will be lonesome for her but the strength of her love will ever be pulling us heavenward.

We will think of her as a flower. The flower brightens the earth and therefore the heart of man.

"I will gather some flowers for our home," the angel said.

So into the garden she went. "Only the tenderest bud I'll take. Not the withered and worn and old, just now."

Passing the old and broken by, she folded in her arms Empress Lucille.

The tenderest bud the angel took. Pure and lovely and undefiled.

"I will select a dear little voice for our home," the angel said.

So into the world she went. Never a sweeter or clearer voice could be found than Empress Lucille's.

Sweet notes seemed to fill the air. Her little fingers gliding smoothly on the angel's harp.

A place was vacant in heaven and the angel came to fill it. Now Empress Lucille lieth in peace and sleep.

—Committee of Presbyterian S. S. County Judge Robert H. Carnutte and some of the county commissioners are off today for Sweetwater, where they are attending sessions of the West Texas Judges and Commissioners' Association today, Friday and Saturday.

More Rabbit Drives Slated for Next Week As All Hunting Records Broken

Yesterday was a peak day in the rabbit driving history of this county and trade territory, but there will be plenty more drives for ambitious hunters.

Shotguns by the dozens were used in drives at Polar, Crowder and Sinsyhorn Wednesday, and the rabbits killed mounted into the thousands. It was the second day of the Polar drive, which was one of the largest held this year.

Snyder is sending a good delegation of sportsmen to each of the drives. All communities are said to be providing plenty of the animals, and a critical crop-destroying situation would have resulted in some localities if the drives had not been staged.

Hunters and community leaders are urged to bring or send details to The Times before and after drives in any community in this trade territory.

The Willie Miller (Fullilove) Ranch, 20 miles west of Snyder on Highway No. 83, will entertain hunters Saturday of this week. Goat barbecue will be the principal feature of the menu.

The Bison folks who live north of Bull Creek will gather on the Bunney place for an all-day Tuesday drive, Henry Richter was telling Snyder hunters this week.

Dunn will have a drive Monday and Tuesday, with dinner on the grounds both days.

T. J. Weaver, manager of the Pyrrn Ranch, says a drive will be in there at 9:00 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, March 23. Beef stew and other delicacies will be served at Paint Rock. No hunt was held in this area last year.

Big Sulphur will be the scene of a two-day drive, Thursday and Friday of next week. Candidates and all other careful sportsmen are invited to attend and bring their shotguns. Hunting will begin at the northwest corner of the old Thrash place. A basket lunch provided by women of the community will be served at W. B. Dowell's place. T. B. Parmer will be in charge of the coffee pot, assisted by Uncle John Collier and A. A. Orenshaw. Pat Brown will furnish the drinks.

First Spring Day O. K., But Sandy And Cold Precede

Tuesday, the first official day of spring, turned out to be a sunshiny and placid as a March here, but the last days of winter were not so kind to Scurry County.

Blooming fruit trees were caught Saturday night by a blue norther with sand in its maw. Many of them were stripped of the tiny fruit, but most observers say that a large percentage of the fruit will pull through if another bad spell does not sweep down from the north.

The sandy started early Saturday. It was the liveliest of the year. Sunday gradually turned off warmer and calmer.

Debate Team Wins. Snyder High School debate teams won again last week. In a practice session with Post debaters Thursday of last week, the locals took the Bunsby place for an all-day Tuesday drive, Henry Richter was telling Snyder hunters this week.

Dunn will have a drive Monday and Tuesday, with dinner on the grounds both days.

T. J. Weaver, manager of the Pyrrn Ranch, says a drive will be in there at 9:00 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, March 23. Beef stew and other delicacies will be served at Paint Rock. No hunt was held in this area last year.

Big Sulphur will be the scene of a two-day drive, Thursday and Friday of next week. Candidates and all other careful sportsmen are invited to attend and bring their shotguns. Parmer will be in charge of the coffee pot, assisted by Uncle John Collier and A. A. Orenshaw. Pat Brown will furnish the drinks.

STYLE SHOW AT PALACE MONDAY

Spring Fashions Will Be Modeled for Five Stores

Off with the old, on with the new! That is the call of spring this morning. It sounds not alone in the realm of Nature, but in the ears of men, women and children who believe that clothes help make the personality.

Shops in Snyder are bright with the new colors and weaves and cuts of the Spring season.

Those who will to follow Fashion's siren call may do so here with no fear that they will be behind Dallas or New York or Paris in the style parade.

Choice wearables from five local stores will be modeled Monday evening in order that Snyder and her trade territory may have the opportunity to hear the pre-Easter call of the new.

The Spring Style Show, under sponsorship of the Altrurian Daughters Club, will be staged at the Palace Theatre, beginning at 9:00 o'clock.

Frocks . . . gowns . . . hats . . . accessories . . . shoes . . . children's dresses . . .

pany, Economy Store, The Fair Store, and Hollywood Shop.

Ready-to-wear shops in these five stores are busy with the selection of models, and with the unpacking of dozens and dozens of new offerings from the style marts of the world. These ready-to-wear managers are in charge at the various stores:

Bryant-Link, Mrs. J. O. Dodson. Penney, Miss May McClinton. Economy, Mrs. Walla D. Fish. Fair Store, Mrs. Alfred Regenstein. Hollywood, Mrs. John Keller.

The Altrurian Daughters, a young women's study club, is making extensive preparations for the show. Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, finance chairman, is in general charge of the event. Her fellow committeemen are Mrs. Herbert Bannister and Mrs. P. W. Cloud.

The club is also busy in its ticket-selling campaign. The organization will receive a share of the proceeds of the evening.

Admission prices have not been advanced for the style show. The regular theatre prices will prevail. Those who purchase tickets may see the regular Palace show of the evening, either before or after the parade of fashions.

The Palace management has announced one of the year's outstanding pictures in connection with the Spring Style Show—Greta Garbo and John Gilbert in "Queen Christina."

Navy Blue Dresses On Shopping Lists

Some stores are featuring dresses in navy blue for present wear as well as for that first spring dress. For later in the season there are some delightful dresses in fine woolen of a light weight. One dress in navy blue woolen has a white crepe frill making the circular neckline and cascading down the entire length of the dress from the hemline. Other models make much use of red and white trimming, the flag colors continuing to register in the sartorial world.

Red and white plaided or checked taffeta trimmings are used for many navy blue woolen or silk dresses. Other notes include large white collars and cuffs marked by navy or red cord lacings.

NEW HEADWEAR THIS SPRING! Your Costume Demands It

After all that has been going on during the last month—it would almost seem there could be nothing more to do. But there is—and that thing is to go down and buy a new hat. There are many varied shapes and colors and materials that every face can wear a becoming and smart frame. Best of all, that one little hat will give you such an entirely different and new feeling. You will be meeting spring with a fresh new outlook. The frocks you have been wearing, the coat, the shoes and bags will take on a new appearance with the change of one new important accessory—the hat. That change will be such a satisfactory one provided you study your own features and select a hat that does things for you.

No woman is entirely responsible for her features and her form, but we all owe to ourselves and to our friends unremitting efforts to watch our good and bad points—and to accentuate the good ones. "No other article of wearing apparel," says a well known fashion writer, "has a more diplomatic mission than the hat. If you will observe the people who sit opposite you at any gathering you will be surprised to see 25 women who are well groomed to one who is appropriately hatted." Another fashion writer has said: "That a costume, like a chain, is no stronger than its weakest link." When a woman has decided that her headdress will go a long way toward attaining distinction, if not always beauty in her appearance, she should then give attention to the following points: Head size—and carriage, width, length and general contour of face, color, shape and placing of eyes, size and shape of nose, size, shape and color of lips, length and width of chin, whether profile is rounded or clear cut, size and position of ears, color and texture of skin, length and width of neck, square or sloping shoulders, and their width, and the height, width and proportions of figure. Most women, when buying a hat, look from the waistline up in a short-length mirror. It is much better to see the full figure with the new hat. A hat should seem to be a part of the wearer because it is suitable to the rest of her costume and not just because it fits her head. Look at yourself from head to foot—and do not slip into the evil spell of the wrong hat. The hat alone may be smart on you—and the frock alone may be smart on you. But be sure what the two together do!

Don't expect merit anywhere when money says it.

DRESSES ARE CALL TO COLORS

Colorful Spring Wear Tops List

At this time of year, a whole new group of dresses burst into bloom with a radiance that comes at no other season of the year. It is just the medicine that wardrobe-weary women need to give them a new lease on life. There are many types of dresses in the daytime, each type most interesting.

Prints Preferred.

The print dress is a hardy perennial that is always sure of a welcome. They are young and becoming to everyone. There are enough different types of prints so that you may never tire of them. There are large dashing designs for young people who love to be bold. There are small conservative patterns for women who dress quietly and for the larger woman to whom a big print would be unbecoming.

Floral Prints.

The field flower print having made a successful debut last year, return for another season of popularity. It is seen used sparsely in small, neat patterns, and it is more often seen used in profusion which is most charming. These floral prints may be had in crepes, and in heavy sheers.

Black and Navy.

Ranking high in the fashion picture is the navy blue dress. It invades not only the daytime picture, but the evening mode as well. It is at its best when its smart darkness is relieved with a touch of lingerie at neckline or sleeve. These dresses have a definitely dressmaker look about them which makes them extremely smart for afternoon. The black dress with its touch of white is second in popularity to the navy dress.

Geographic Prints.

There is one group of new prints decidedly Persian in their inspiration. They have multicolored figures with solid colored birds. They are interesting in a new kind of way. Then there are floral prints that look as if they had just been plucked from an English garden. They are refreshing and neat—just as one expects an English garden to be. Russian prints have sprung up in designs and colors as Russian as Stalin!

Mexican Colors.

Move south on the map for another fashion inspiration, and take your hat off to Mexico. This vogue is the outgrowth of a fashion born in Florida this winter. These vivid Mexican colors invaded the beach and revolutionized the sportswear story. They are strongly evidenced in the first collections.

Silhouette Story.

Prints and colors are only a part of the spring dress story. The lines are of greatest importance. There is a deep silhouette sympathy between coats and dresses this year. Just as front fullness is seen in coats, there is some of that feeling evidenced in dresses. In soft silks, there is no style quite so charming and graceful. Sleeves are free from all wings, fins, puffs and bulges, but they still manage to keep themselves prominent by turning up in an unexpected color or an interesting print. Many sleeves are set in almost at the waistline in belman effect. This is a luxurious trend and is seen most in afternoon clothes. Bishop sleeves are seen a good deal, very full from shoulder to wrist where they are caught in a tight cuff. Bishop sleeves are especially smart when made of a bright print to contrast with the dark of a navy or black dress. There is a growing tendency toward three-quarter length sleeves. It is a decidedly smart length for early spring for it marks the transition between winter's long sleeves and summer's short ones.

Pinafores Again.

Pinafores are popping up again. They may have been inspired by the little girl fashions worn in the popular movie, "Little Women," but these are anything but juvenile in feeling. On the contrary they are highly sophisticated, extending from finger tip length to below the knees. They are usually tied closely to give a nipped in waistline.

Two-Piece Frocks.

This fashion occurs again and again in the spring scene. Many dresses are actually two piece with a skirt and blouse, and many times the skirt is placed on a lining, or simply made in two-piece effect. This is a simple and girlish fashion, well liked by young things and older women alike. These dresses may be all one color, or they may be print top with plain skirt or vice versa.

The Back Detail.

As a direct contrast to the dress with front fullness comes the dress with detail in the back. A series of pleats extending from waist to hem in back as an example. There are also some skirts with absolutely no detail in the front, but with all seamings concentrated at the back.

Neckline News.

The descent of necklines was one of the startling scenes in the Paris spring showings. From the high swathed line of last fall and winter, they have gone to new lows with amazing rapidity. There are still many higher and modified necklines, but the low line is a smart high fashion to wear this spring. The cowl continues to be fashionable, shown both front and back. It is a flattering line for it frames the face very softly. The kerchief neckline continues to be smart for sports wear and also in daytime dresses. There have been a number of chic printed dresses which showed a plain color kerchief at the neckline. Clips and scarfs are still very much with us. A new neckline note is the use of fabric loops to form a kind of collar. Pleating, very fine and crisp of self material or of organdy, is extensively used and is very popular because of its becomingness.

Every Type of Coat Suitable for Spring

Every type of coat seems to be registering this spring. Untrimmed simple models relying entirely on their cut for chic compete with coats piled high with luxurious furs. A slim coat of black woolen with much seamed detail outlined with black silk stitching has a wide rippling collar and revers of silver fox.

Another model in pale tweed has a face-framing collar of snowy leopard. Striped black and white tweed is made up into loose comfortable coats, while the dark blue double-breasted coat without any trimming remains a steady favorite with the slim young thing.

Rippling revers seem to be the hallmark of these new spring coats. Fluffy fox as well as sleek, flat furs are used for this dressy accent.

Trimmings of Gold.

Trimmings of gold liven both day and evening clothes. One pale yellow crinkled crepe evening gown is worn with a sleeveless jacket of gold and white crinkled ribbon, and a brown wool afternoon coat has a collar bordered with stitchings of gold threads.

Snake skin shoes are so popular in England that British footwear manufacturers imported a total of 7,250,000 snake skins from India, Africa and South America during the past year.

The original Declaration of Independence of the United States, including its frame, is 33 inches in length and 23½ inches in width.

NEW COLORS FOR WOOLS, SILKS

Stunning Weaves in Many Shades

You'll be going in for quality this year when you buy it by the yard. During the last few seasons you have probably prided yourself on being a very economical woman because you spent so little for the piece of material you converted into your best costume. But the months have taught you something—not only about your piece goods but about ready-to-wear also. That lesson is that it pays to buy good fabrics at any price. Prices are not high this spring—they will not seem so to you. You have gotten over that cheap insanity when you would wear shabby clothes to horse a penny. Recovery with its broad program has been your medicine! Released from your convalescence you will go shopping with a sort of spring wine flowing through your veins!

While you have been making up your mind, forms across the country have been doing things for you. Wanting to do something very delightful, they have woven new colors into the stunning patterns of woolsens. Garishly bright colors will not harass you, but instead you will be greeted by soft, grayed, beige shades. These woolsens are incredibly soft and they show very original degrade or shaded weaves. The idea is carried out not only in the texture where the weaves show the effect of growing and diminishing, but also in the pattern where shading is obtained by the way in which the stripes or checks or other designs are laid. Basket weaves, etamines or canvas weaves and towel-like effects are new.

Black, brown, blue gray, green gray—rustic fabrics in their undyed state—being beige or flax, soft reds and other moss color tones are the winners for your suits and coats. The tweeds are most popular and their fine mixtures are so subtly done that they take on a smoky appearance. There is little contrast in the tones employed. Checks, plaids, stripes and other novelty designs are offered. Combining these with solid harmonies seems to be the smart thing to do. Coats of almost any length from short jacket to long swaggar are often seen with a solid skirt to match the darker tone in the coat and a blouse in solid color to match the lighter coat tone. A solid color frock may also be used with the patterned coat. Sometimes the reverse is in order with the combination of a striped or checked frock and a solid color coat.

The dress woolsens are of lighter weight than the suit and coat fabrics and for a timely stunt they have taken on the guise of cottons—and as an advance on cottons—they have chosen to do woolen weaves for this coming summer, some of them looking like cotton seersucker, cotton crepe and they have even invaded the linen weaves. Some of them are using attractive gingham patterns. They are light and very wearable even in a Texas spring.

In silks, the first interest is in prints because they seem to be the easy, fresh things that go beautifully beneath the separate spring coat, and sometimes supply a machine lining for the coat.

Blue, black and brown are at the front in silk colors. Blue comes in many shades from the dark navy to the lightest pastel. There is a lot of talk about the Mexican prints (bright colors on white ground).

More Latitude to Be In Brims This Spring

Men will be able to "use their heads" more in the selection of their hats this spring. In recent seasons there has been less latitude in the variety of brims ordained by fashion so that the fine discrimination of selecting hats to the features has, more or less, become a neglected art.

This spring, however, brims are more diversified, ranging from the close-set Homburg to the more expansive "Trooper" shape so that men can "square off" or elongate the effect according to what his particular type of physiognomy demands. Moreover, fashion advises that the one-hat man is not going to be able to live up to the dress demands of the season. Suits for spring and summer are very definitely of two types; dress or business clothes and sport clothes.

The One-Hat Man Passes.

The Homburg, or its half brother, the semi-Homburg, are specifically the hats for more formal and dressy wear while the snap varieties will top-off the lounge and sport apparel. Another factor that arises to influence hat selection is the trend toward rough suit fabrics. Supplementary to this mode there has been developed the patterned hat.

Some of these hats which are made of the softer felts have patterns super-imposed right on the felt by a new and more or less secret process and they are quite dressy. Other hats are of rough tweeds and shetlands and these are not unlike the shooting and country hats of our English brothers. You will see more of them as the season advances.

New Colors Are Modish.

Brown has become a very strong favorite with the college man and of course that favoritism will strongly influence the younger city man. These are mainly worn for business or dress wear. Very light tones are also fashionable and they are mostly in grey, green and blue casts. Tans, except in the very lightest of shades, such as cedar, cream and vellum, have retired for the season.

Game bird mixtures which embrace various brown, blue-grey and grey-green tones are outstanding recommendations of the hat stylists now.

Now Dunking Dates

PALM SPRINGS . . . They pick fresh desert dates and dunk them in hitherto forbidden beverages and eat them as appetizers in the smart set here. Ruth Holly is shown bringing in freshly picked dates for the dunking process.

The Very Latest

Pattern, No. 8103: Designed in 5 Sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/4 yards of 35 inch material. Collar, belt and cuffs require 1/2 yard of 35 inch material. It requires 1/2 yard of 1 1/2 inch bias binding to finish neck edge and slash.

Pattern, No. 8087: Designed in 9 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 46 will require 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. To finish with bias binding or piping will require 3 yards 1 1/2 inches wide.

For School.

8103—Epaulettes and pleats—and what better than the pleats to form broad panels from belt to hem, and the epaulettes flaring jauntly over sleeves with soft fullness above a band cuff?

The collar leaves the neck comfortable. It may be of white linen or pique if you make the dress of wool crepe or velveteen. If of wash materials—gingham, or in cotton or rayon prints, then have collar, cuffs and belt in white or in a contrasting color of plain material.

The Smart Matron.

8087—Printed velvet was used for this distinctive model. Pippings of satin give it a smart touch. You will like the slenderizing lines and attractive seaming with just enough flare in the straight-line skirt to give ease.

The raglan shoulder lines are especially becoming to the large woman, as is also the simple effective closing on the waist front.

Fulle, broadcloth, sheer woolen or crepe is also suggested for this style.

For pattern, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your name, address, style number and size to Patricia Dow, Scurry County Times, Pattern Department, 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

KNOW THOSE FASHION POINTS And You Will Shop Intelligently

Reviewing the collective fashion points that are being stressed this season the following information has been compiled to guide you in your shopping:

SILHOUETTE . . . Fullness blown to the front by day, and fullness to the back by night, interprets the windblown silhouette for formal and informal occasions. The picture is actually one of being poised for flight, and what is called the new streamline silhouette is easily discernible to the average customer's eye. Queen Christina collars and leis and capelets continue shoulder and neckline interest, though the general tendency is toward smooth and drooped shoulders with sleeve interest well toward the wrist. The waistline is just a bit trimmer and snugger; the hips are slim, and the raised bustline is important.

For street wear skirts are unchanged in length, ten or eleven inches from the floor is best, but for evening trailing skirts are an almost unanimous choice.

SUITS . . . There's an exceptional enthusiasm for suits, in a great variety of styles and fabrics, for spring and summer.

The regulation tailored suit, single and double-breasted, and the popular six-button Chanel version stand out and the casual suit with tunic length jacket, and full-length coat with skirt of matching or companionate fabric, generally represent the important types.

The dressmaker suit in woolsens that have a soft hand have a pre-Easter appeal.

One of the interesting new features is the use of furs dyed to match the fabric, particularly fox, lapin and mole. These take navy blue, amadou brown and dark greens especially well. This soft suit, as it is generally termed, emphasizes the windblown silhouette with jabots, rippling revers and restrained front skirt movement.

Because of the unquestioned success of the linen, cotton and silk jacket suits in the warm weather, the spring suit should not suffer the usual handicap of being considered a short season fashion.

COATS . . . The forward movement in coats, so generally acknowledged in spring fashion, is widely accepted for matrons and younger folk. Fur-trimmed revers and wide revers of self fabric are important. The definite trend toward the center front opening is recognized and when the coat has fur trimming, detachable furs are the most popular. Little fur capelets and luxurious fox capes are seen frequently and the hood collar outlined in fur, continuing that flung-back look which Paris has sponsored so generously is being adopted in large numbers.

Informal fabrics, including tweeds and homespuns in monotonous and in accentuated patterns, engage a large part of the interest in sports and casual coats, and many unusual new fabrics have been introduced, including novelty ribbed and striped velvets, washable velvets, nubby cotton tweeds and cotton homespuns. In many of these informal coats the Norfolk influence is smartly interpreted and drop shoulders and deep armholes are popular.

DRESSES . . . The silhouette emphasizes the importance of belted normal waistlines just a little more pronounced than in the winter season, and smooth hips that keep the look of slimness. However, the point of interest in spring dresses is the neckline, which shows every indication of dropping down to a modified V-line, or an oval or square neck which may have convertible features.

Invariably the way of daytime fashions leads through the formals and now that the low front decollete is accomplished for evening wear, we should be ready for the change.

Bright-colored overblouses and jackets of taffeta, velvet and printed satins, vivid patent leather belts, shiny metal buttons and high-colored neckerchiefs and scarfs of crisp fabrics are invigorating accents for spring dresses.

FORMAL DRESSES . . . The old-fashioned chalis, luscious printed satins and crepes, shimmering organza and tulle over soft rustling taffetas give a faint idea of the elegance of early spring. With the sudden rush for dress-up clothes there seems to be nothing too grand in color or fabric. Astounding new velvet weaves, such as the velvet dotted mousseline do soie called Mistvel, and the dotted voile called Vernavel, are indications of the distinguished formality possible in this repeat era.

Sheer cottons that will stay crisp, in the most gorgeous of colorings, hold out an alluring picture of the comfortable dance dress for summer nights. Little trains, jackets with cowl backs, leis of feather or chiffon are features registering with success.

Necktie Patterns.

A smart series of conservative necktie patterns has been designed for this spring. These make ideal sports dresses and blouses. The all-over florals printed in small designs on dark backgrounds is another very smart and popular rayon print.

In 1835 the average French family had four children; now the average is only two.

SUITS STRESSED THIS SPRING "Piece" Styles Add Much Variety

The collection of suits this season is varied enough to give every woman exactly the kind of suit she has been wanting. The important collections have included types from the classic tailored jacket suit to more versatile three and four piece costumes.

Suit Fabrics.

Two-toned yarn-dyed worsteds, flecked tweed mixtures play important roles as fabric tweeds. There are a great many imported tweeds following the decidedly smart and popular vogue for British clothes. Blues and the brown and tan ranges are of foremost importance, while where patterned fabrics are introduced, they are usually a conservative check.

Types of Suits

Women who want a lot of suit for their money should certainly make any one of the four-piece versions their choice. These suits usually consist of skirt, a blouse or sweater, jacket and topcoat. This costume offers almost endless opportunities to enlarge the wardrobe. Many times the topcoat is full length, but whether it is or is three-quarter or seven-eighths, it can still be useful as an extra coat to wear with other dresses or skirts. The short jacket may combine itself with a contrasting skirt, packet, and topcoat. Sometimes the skirt and jacket may be of check, with the topcoat a harmonizing monotone tweed.

The coats may be refers, balmacaans or swaggers.

Hip Length Jacket.

Another important and very new looking suit is the hip bone length jacket with matching skirt decidedly nipped in the waist, after both Chanel and Schiaparelli. These jackets are usually fastened at the side or center front with just a single clip or button, and the shoulders usually padded a bit to suggest a slightly square shoulder. These suits are seen with and without topcoats.

Dress and Coat.

It has been many seasons since this type of suit has been seen and it is sure to have a popular acceptance. The dress is usually one piece with wool skirt and silk top. The coat may be full, or three-quarter length, and is lined with the silk of the dress top. This suit will be a favorite of larger women who feel that wearing a blouse and skirt is not becoming and who will have a yearning for a suit.

Tweeds and Color.

Many women are going to depend upon the fabric of their suit for its smartness. Tweeds that tailor well are perfect suits—and tweeds always bring forth color, so spring 1934 is expected to be one of a decidedly colorful nature. The real warmth of tweed colors is expected to entirely take the place of the grays of last year. Navy blue may prove very important, and beige and brown in all their many tones will be most prominent. Unusual combinations, such as mustard with aquamarine, powder blue with navy blue, dark brown with blue, are looked for as important and very smart.

English Types.

Decidedly of British feeling is the shorter jacket suit of Norfolk inspiration. These belted jackets are distinctive and so new looking, they are sure to be a favorite of many women. Women who lead suburban lives have long been seeking just such a suit. Many of these are shown with a balmacaan type topcoat and the combination is very chic.

Windblown Feeling.

Many of the suits have gone to Schiaparelli for their inspiration, and have emerged with their fullness centered at the front. This silhouette is especially smart in the knee-length jacket for when this length jacket is fitted it has a mature appearance. This feeling is entirely offset when the jacket is belted and has this new unexpected flare.

These Synthetic Silks.

Synthetic silks are these gay deceivers that look very much like the real thing yet cost so much less. During the past few years these yarns have been perfected and the fabrics woven from them have become really fashionable. They come under several heads: rayons, bembergs, acetates. They are sheers, crepes, rough weaves, chiffons. They make up well, and give excellent service.

NATURAL LINES FOR LINGERIE

Corsets, Too, Take Sleek Trend

Much of the success of the sleek silhouette depends upon the lingerie which is worn underneath. In the new slips and panties much attention has been given to the cut of the garment. They are made to hug the hips flatly, without any extra fullness. Skirts have a bit of a flare which is decidedly in keeping with the wind-blown silhouette. Much dark lace is being shown for spring, but it is expected that the lighter laces will far exceed the dark by summer when thin dresses are worn. The slip with the adjustable shoulder strap is very much among those present. While this is not a new feature, it is decidedly an important one. On each strap is a little metal catch affair through which the straps may be pulled to any length desired, eliminating the bit of tacking that used to be necessary.

Concerning Corsets.

The most popular foundations of the spring season are those that give the figure freedom and a smart uncorseted look. These garments are usually made of mesh, batiste, crepe de chine and satin of a firm texture. Lastex which gives garments the two way stretch is of paramount importance. While lastex was formerly used in garments for young, slender figures, it is now being introduced into garments for the larger woman, and is meeting with great success.

A New French Garter.

The unsightliness of a garter that shows through a tightly fitted frock has long been one of the bugaboos of the corsetiere. The spring season introduces a new type of French garter which eliminates all garter bulges. They are made of a double faced satin webbing of lastex.

Seamless Hiplines.

The seamless hip is an important new note in corsetry. With no seams there can be no possibility of a line showing through the most tightly fitted frock. In these garments the fabric is given a diagonal pull at the sides which makes boning entirely unnecessary. The restraint of the garment lies in its fashioning. This garment comes not only in sizes for smaller women, but in large sizes as well.

Clip Brassieres.

Instead of the customary hooks, a new brassiere uses a back clip as a fastening. It works with ease and is especially convenient because it makes possible the fastening of the brassiere as low as the wearer wishes for low décolletés without in any way minimizing the uplift silhouette.

Petticoats Again.

Don't be surprised to hear the swish of a taffeta petticoat again for that is the latest fashion revival. They are made to fit slimly over the hips, are gored to flare slightly and are finished with hem ruching. These are recommended for wear under both day and evening dresses.

Rounded Bust Lines.

The bustline most in favor with well dressed women is a nicely rounded line, and not an extremely uplifted effect. There are several new styles in brassieres which fol-

Your Neckwear Is Lacier and Frillier

The lacier and friller the neckwear the smarter the costume . . . that seems to be the fashion rule for spring. For ever so many of the new dresses are trimmed with a touch of lace, or organdy or the newer organza. It is a fresh touch that adds just the proper filip to any dress—be it dark, pastel or print. Many a last season's frock is saved by one of these clever little collars. Cuffs are shown on some of the sets, but with three-quarter sleeves so important, cuffs are taking a back seat. White is the principal color, though some pastels are seen.

low this back to nature trend. One of them is a little affair made of a few straps and bands under the bust which give support but do not confine, and leave the upper portion of the bust entirely exposed. This type has been designed expressly for youth.

A Scot on holiday in Palestine came to the Sea of Galilee, and on enquiring the price of a pleasure boat found that they were three and six pence per hour.

"Three-an'-sixpence," he exclaimed, "And we can get one in Aberdeen for sixpence."

"Ah! but this is Palestine," answered the boatman, "and these are the waters on which our Lord walked."

"Nae wonder He walked," was the dry retort.

NEW TIMES BRING NEW FACES

Old Complexion Scheme Taboo

Elaborate coiffures have knelt before the 1933 complexion scheme off its feet, as it were. All that elegance atop the mind has become so dizzying that blazing blushes had to take a back seat. Anyhow, the Edwardian mode calls for the Edwardian face, which was as delicately colored as the petals of a gardenia blossom. No rouge then, mercy no! The painted lady was under suspicion.

Every feature must have its little day. The lipstick accentuated the mouth, weird eyebrows drew attention to the forehead shadows played up the eyes. Now it is hair. Mary! throw out the rouge compact! It's done for.

Makeup artists are all for the new tactics. The skin must look delicate and transparent. No more porcelain effects, which made a girl look masky and vapid. So much foundation cream and heavy powder has been used that the observer wondered how the skin was ever completely cleared of its coating of calamine. It was some job washing up before the beautifying half hour at bedtime. As many a woman knows.

All different now. New times, new faces.

One begins with an astringent to give the skin freshness and clearness of texture. One works for glow and polish rather than for the dull finish.

A light powder is used, light in consistency and lighter in tint than has been fashionable. White won't do, because it shows up. The most popular tint now is cream with a slightly blue cast. The blue to give the transparent appearance, as if the skin were thin and delicate.

No rouge on the cheeks. That is old stuff. Some details had to give way, and the factory blush was canned. Good riddance to bad rubbish. It has been overdone, overplayed, oversmeared and over-high-lighted.

With the blue-cream powder comes the faintest bit of blue eye shadow. Lashes faintly outlined with brown.

Lipstick lighter in color. Lightly applied; carefully measured.

One might say that the old makeup scheme is giving way to pastel effects. Right in line with this reform movement, go-y-colored nail polish is being shelved and daintier tints used—usually to match up with the lipstick.

This is not a revolutionary step. It is merely that it has been realized that painting was emphasized to such a degree that it made a woman look hard, tired and bedizened. More delicate touching up imparts an appearance of youth and freshness. And it isn't so messy. Gals who used a lot of makeup invariably used it carelessly, didn't blend powder and rouge, didn't match rouge and lipstick, went roughshod over the feminine portrait.

The new makeup deal is all to the good. It steps right along with quaint fashions that have been revived. It is ladylike. That dear old-fashioned word is being used again. And most of us actually recognize it when we see it, know what it means. Will wonders never cease?

Porter—"Where's your trunks, sir?"

Salesman—"I use no trunks."

Porter—"But I thought you wuz one of these traveling salesmen."

Salesman—"I am, but I sell brains, understand; I sell brains."

Porter—"Excuse me, boss, but you is de first fella dat's been here who ain't carryin' no samples."

Mrs. Jones—"You know, my husband plays the organ."

Mrs. Smith—"If things don't improve my husband will have to get one, too."

Prospect—"How much for this car?"

Salesman (used car department)—"Fifty dollars, cash."

Prospect—"How much on payment?"

Salesman—"Sixty-five dollars; 50 dollars down and three dollars per week for five weeks."

During the 15 years prior to his death, recently, the Rev. William Moon, of Elkton, Maryland, married more than 25,000 couples.

A Spring Coiffure

NEW YORK . . . An inspiring Spring season ahead, bringing with it many new bonnets which includes those off-the-face models, causes feminine thoughts to turn to attractive coiffures. The beautiful Elizabeth Allen, screen favorite, is now sponsoring this entrancing wind blown wave.

Bingo—"I'm going to get a divorce. My wife hasn't spoken to me for six months."

Stingo—"Better be careful. You will never get another wife like that."

PUT THE BEST FOOT FORWARD

There's Style in Footwear, Too

"When is a shoe not a shoe?" someone asked . . . and the answer was, "When it has no style . . . then it is simply a foot covering!" Besides that one question there will be many more asked and answered at the style show in Snyder March 26. Whether you are a three and a half on a triple A—or a number eight on a broad spread this style show will be smart enough to do you up in a manner most stunning and comfortable. There will be talk of lid and calf, kid and suede, seal, patent, reptile, buck and fabrics. In the leathers the scuffed idea will be discussed for both active and spectator sports. In fabrics—linen, pique and duckling will be counted foremost. Pique will come up for evening. The linen and duckling will take to the sun in gay prints and solid pastels. The Snyder stores are displaying their best in anticipation of this event.

There's a strong prediction of the most daring styles for later spring. Sandals will be much in evidence for both daytime and evening. For day wear they are being shown in the loveliest pastel shades in kid. For early wear a new off shade of navy is leading; brown follows, black is third, gray next and beige comes along to assist in perfect ensembling. After the Easter parade white will be prominent with both pastels and high colors following. White will also be worn in combination with other colors throughout the summer months. The heel range will be from one to three inches—the one-inch heel running the gamut from active sports to evening. Perforations will be used extensively.

Men's shoes are leading out with black calfskin. Brown calfskin comes second—and the after Easter season will be much like that of women's shoes. White promises to be excellent with white and combination of black and white with brown following as the season advances and lighter apparel is worn. Both wing and square tips will be seen—with perforations still being used for trim and for the comfort derived from ventilation.

Children's shoes will follow the leathers, fabrics and colors of the grown-up styles with juvenile construction. The darker colors will be shown until after Easter. After that event white pastels and high colors will be worn to either match or contrast the rest of the costume.

Examining the new spring shoes, one is struck by the majority of excellent models, showing that the demand for really good shoes had returned after a time of feeling that there was economy in buying inferior shoes.

COSTUMES LEAD ACCESSORIES

Jewelry, Bags, Shoes, Handbags

The day when a woman purchased a necklace for the sake of the necklace alone is gone forever. Today every accessory is chosen with an eye toward its purpose in completing a fashion picture. Clothing could better illustrate that point than the sudden trend for tailored accessories which has sprung up with the fashion for tailored tweeds. A woman would no sooner think of wearing a rhinestone necklace with her tweed than she would think of wearing that tweed to a formal dinner!

Sport Jewelry.

First among the types of jewelry for tweed wear and all sports wear is wooden jewelry. The introduction of this fashion was several seasons ago, and it has grown so in popularity that it is almost a jewelry classic. All wood or wood with metal is extremely smart and is perfect for the tweed picture. There are various length necklaces, novelty clips and broches, and smart wide bracelets. With three quarter and shorter sleeves the fashion, the bracelet continues to be very important.

Tailored Bags.

Right next to the wooden jewelry comes the tailored handbag. It usually assumes giant proportions and becomes the kind of bag that will stand much good, hard wear. There are any number of leathers used, but the smartest are those rather rough grains that are in perfect accord with tweeds. Many concealed pockets are an important feature of these bags. They have spaces within them that one would never dream could be encased in one single handbag.

Swagger Shoes.

When the handbag is of grained leather, so are the shoes. There is a group of shoes which many stores class as their swaggers, so called because they are the perfect walking shoe to be worn with swagger suits. Oxfords are the leaders, with the tailored one-strap and ghillie following. The ghillie is more in keeping with the active sports costumes, however. Brown is the principal color in these shoes for most of the sports wolvers are of a tawny cast.

Gloves for Tweeds.

The past few seasons have found the fabric glove graduating into a fashion item. It continues to hold that place for spring. There are any number of good looking fabrics that are perfect for tweed clothes. But for the woman who cannot desert the leather glove, nothing is smarter than pigskin, especially if she carries a bag of grained leather. Still another choice is offered in the washable doeskin glove.

Colorful Handbags.

When the good old standby leather bags have not been included in the wardrobe, then smart women are turning to these colorful new bags. No color combination too bright, no fabric is too novel to be included. The Russian influence is seen in some bags that have been made of Russian peasant shawls which are in bright challis with flowers and paisley prints. Another colorful fashion is of Mexican colorings. How smart they will be with a simple dark spring dress!

How unusual with an all-white frock this summer. Other gay bags are made of straw cloths, or printed linens and shantung. They are usually of envelop shape with handle at the back or top, and more often than not they are devoid of any ornamentation, being complete in their attractive fabrics, and colors. A few patent leather handbags are being sighted. This is a smart fashion to carry with tailored suits for it gives just the desired brightness.

Grain Leather Belts.

There is a new leather for belts. It is pliable, slightly boarded with a slight criss-crossing of grain. It is developed in both service and softer styles and can do a lot toward rejuvenating any frock or adding more chic to a new one. Most of the new belts are simple in styling, the importance lying in the material and in the closing. There are many trick fastenings on belts, made of metal, gold or silver and self material. It is smartest to match your belt to your handbag and many good stores are making this possible.

Interest Manifest in Fabrics for Spring

Fabric interest has never reached such a high point as it has this season. There are more novel weaves than ever, and a lively revival of prints promises a fashion picture that has never been rivaled.

Revival of Silks.

In past seasons silks have taken a bit of a back seat in favor of the smartness of many synthetic fabrics. While these materials are still good and still very important, much has been done to make silk fabrics more interesting. The good old reliable are to be seen a great deal, but in addition there are new weaves to give a novel effect.

P'ain Weaves.

Among the most important of the solid color weaves are mossy surface. It takes color beautifully, and looks especially smart in the new spring pastels. There have been some mossy prints, but they are more successful in the solid pastels or dark shades. Next in importance are the ribbed weaves. This follows through the vogue set last summer by pique, and continues now being expressed in many wide and narrow weaves. Pebbled crepes come within this same category. All of these weaves have been developed in weights which range from heavier crepe to heavy sheers and thin sheers.

Small Weaves.

Notable in the fabric collections are the all-over patterned small weaves. Stripes, checks, and some plaids are being done in crossdyed weaves and taffetas as well as prints which comprise some of the novelties among the new weaves. These same patterns are also being used in the usual printed materials, and together with various forms of dots have already been accepted.

Popular Prints.

American women love prints. Their acceptance is assured every season. In fact women just wait for the time when they can don a print dress. This season the leading prints will be black or dark backgrounds with small patterns in bright colors, cravat designs, or multi-colored florals in smaller size for afternoon and larger and even more colorful for evening.

Chiffons Again.

The welcome always given to chiffon is due to its flattering softness. It makes perfect evening dresses for debutante and dowager. It is smart for summer days in the city when it is tailored in some dark shade.

Necktie Silks.

The smart woman who wants a tailored silk dress, printed but not too colorful, will choose a necktie silk. These are actually of the small neat patterns that are usually found in men's neckwear. They are being shown in darker shades now with the print of a bright accent, but they are expected to appear in pastels and white for the summer season.
