

Mrs. R. L. Gray's Home Open to Club.

Mrs. R. L. Gray was hostess to the Altrurian Club Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. D. English led an interesting program on "Congress in Action." Roll call for the day was on government.

Mrs. English gave the first part of the program on "Tracing a Bill," and Mrs. H. P. Brown followed her on program with a discussion on "The National Budget." Mrs. P. W. Wolcott favored the crowd with a vocal solo. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. C. Preuitt.

As a special compliment to the club, Mrs. C. L. Ezell of El Paso addressed them with a discussion of life in and around the nation's capital. Since she was present for the inauguration last year, she was able to give interesting facts about Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Gray was assisted in serving a salad course by her daughters, Miss Margaret Gray and Mrs. Robert Lee Gray, to the following: Mmes. Ezell and Hugh Taylor, guests; and Mmes. W. R. Bell, H. P. Brown, Hugh Boren, Joe Caton, J. C. Dorward, R. D. English, F. A. Grayum, W. W. Hamilton, A. C. Preuitt, J. C. Smyth, J. C. Stinson, Lee T. Stinson, F. W. Wolcott and J. T. Whitmore, Altrurians.

Euzelian Class Has Party at Newton's.

Mrs. Melvin Newton was hostess to members of the Euzelian Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church last Thursday afternoon. Roll call for the day was answered with scriptures on the New Birth.

Mrs. J. E. LeMond presented the devotional. Mmes. M. L. Andress, Mickey Carrol and Ella Barrett were assistant hostesses.

Refreshments were passed to the following: Mmes. E. P. McCarty, Raymond Sims, C. F. Sentell, G. H. Leath, R. S. Sullivan, Cora Lear, W. H. Ware, Jack Inman, E. E. Weathersbee, Hattie Hargrove, Edgar Wilson and J. E. LeMond.

Newcomer for Gallup.

Gallup, New Mexico, has a newcomer who is of wide interest to Snyder folks. He is the eight-poung son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Owens, who resided in Snyder until last summer. Mr. Owens teaches in the Gallup schools. Joe Taylor, father of Mrs. Owens, ended a business trip to Snyder from Santa Fe this morning, and said he was on his way to see the bright young man, who was born Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grisson of Abilene were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brown Sunday.

REV. GORDON WILL PRESIDE FOR PROGRAM

Rev. H. C. Gordon, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will direct a program on "What Will Tomorrow Bring to the Child of Today?" at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at the high school auditorium next Thursday, January 17, at 4:00 p. m.

A special vocal selection will be arranged by the local Musical Coterie, and Miss Effie McLeod, head of the high school English department, will speak on "Cooperation Between Home and School Libraries."

It is the earnest desire of the association officers to have a large crowd present for this, the first meeting of 1935.

Mrs. M. Josephson Entertains Club.

San Souci members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Marcel Josephson Tuesday evening. Mmes. H. G. Towle, Pearl Shannon and Forest Wade were guests at the party.

Mrs. Albert Norred took the traveling prize, and Mrs. Herman Darby received the high score prize.

A salad with individual cherry pies and coffee was passed to the guests and the following members at the close of the contract bridge games: Mmes. E. J. Anderson, Billy Boren, Wayne Boren, Mungler J. Lewis, Albert Norred, James Ralph Hicks, Forest Sears, Melvin Blackard, J. P. Nelson, Herman Darby, R. C. L. Robertson and J. C. Smyth; Misses Mattie Ross Cunningham, Maurine Cunningham, Edith Grantham, Hattie Herm, Gertrude Herm and Neoma Strayhorn.

Alathean Class Honors President.

At the close of the short business session at the Alathean Sunday School Class meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Martin last Thursday afternoon, the class presented its president, Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, with a lovely shower of gifts. Mrs. Hamilton is moving to her new home in Memphis soon.

Forty-two games were enjoyed, at the close of which a salad course was passed to 29 class members and to the following guests: Mmes. Buil Fox, Roy Patterson, Joe Monroe, Hugh Taylor and Mack Casey. Assistant hostesses were Mmes. Bernard Longthorn and C. T. Glen.

Alfred McGlauns Entertain Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGlaun entertained six tables of friends at an enjoyable dinner party Friday evening at their home, on Twenty-fifth Street.

Places were marked with clever caricatures of guests, and dinner was served in three courses. After-dinner entertainment included interesting games of "murder" and others.

The guest list was composed of the following: Messrs. and Mmes. Gathier Bell, Buel Fox, Joe Graham, Maurice Brownfield, G. B. Clark Jr., Ixon Joyce, Clark Miller, Hilton Lambert, Wayne Williams, Amos Joyce, Melvin Blackard and J. C. Smyth.

Mrs. Johnson Wins Two Bridge Prizes.

At the meeting Thursday of last week of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. Felix Parker, Mrs. Weldon Johnson took both the high score prize and the traveling prize.

Mrs. Parker decorated with lovely white chrysanthemums, and passed a salad course at the close of contract games.

The following were present: Miss Eula Ferguson, a guest, and Mmes. Aubrey Stokes, W. W. Hill, Max Brownfield, Maurice Brownfield, G. B. Clark Jr., Robert H. Curtnette Jr., Amos Joyce, Herbert Bannister, Weldon Johnson and Gathier Bell, club members.

S. D. Hays Jr. Is Honored at Party.

Misses Lee Alvin and Ethel Lynn Hays entertained with forty-two and card games Saturday evening at their home west of town, at a farewell compliment to their brother, S. D. Hays Jr., who left early this week for Dallas, where he will be enrolled in Draughan's Business College.

Ice cream topped with pineapple and cherries and delicious cake were passed to the following: Misses Mildred Patterson, Tenny Maye Jeffress, Mary Belle Carrell, Quinta Mitchell, Helen Witherspoon, Ethel Verle Falls of Ira, Manie Lee Clark of Bison and Eleanor Hays; Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Shuler, Homer Spence Hardy and Robbie Mitchell, H. B. Patterson, Leonard Brumley, Jack Witherspoon and the honoree.

COUGHING, WEAK AND THIN AFTER FLU

"I nearly died from 'flu' last October, and it left me with a terrible cough.

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But 12 bottles have straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."—Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action. Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. You are urged to try Milks Emulsion. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Miss West Accepts Hospital Position.

Miss Allethe West, formerly of Dunn, who was a student dietitian in a hospital in New York City during the past, has accepted a position as dietician of the Eugene Hospital and Clinic at Eugene, Oregon.

Miss West left New York City by plane December 30 to assume her duties January 1. Because of the heavy snow the plane was forced down at Cleveland, Ohio, and passengers went from there to Chicago by train. In Chicago the weather cleared, and the group made its way by plane the remainder of the way to the Oregon city.

The Times received the above information concerning the former Scurry County girl from her mother, who resides at Dunn.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

What Is Roosevelt Saying?
President Roosevelt has said so many startling and uplifting things in recent months that this column will be dedicated today to quotations from him.

Discuss Public Questions.
"We need to have discussion of public questions in the cities, hamlets and on the farms throughout the length and breadth of the land."

Prosperity Must Be Uniform.
"We know that economic units cannot exist unless prosperity is uniform—unless purchasing power is well distributed throughout every group in the nation."

Both Feet on the Ground.
"Our people have both feet on the ground, they are increasingly interested in the truth in arriving at sound conclusions regarding our national progress in meeting current problems."

Our Greatest Resources.
"We have come to a time when our need is to discover more fully and to direct more purposefully into useful channels that greatest of all natural resources, the genius of the younger generation."

A New Order of Things.
"We have undertaken a new order of things: Yet we progress towards it under the framework and in the spirit and intent of the American constitution. We have proceeded throughout the nation a measurable distance on the road towards this new order."

Many Substantial Benefits.
"Materially, I can report to you substantial benefits to our agricultural population, increased industrial activity, and profits to our merchants. Of equal moment, there is evident a restoration of that spirit of confidence and faith which marks the American character."

Recovery and Reform.
"The attempt to make a distinction between recovery and reform is a narrowly conceived effort to substitute the appearance of reality for reality itself. When a man is convalescing from illness wisdom dictates not only cure of the symptoms but also removal of their cause."

Three Factors of Security.
"I am ready to submit to the congress a broad program designed ultimately to establish all three of these factors of security (better use of national resources, security against the major hazards of life, security of decent homes)—a program which because of many long years will take many future years to fulfill."

Change Throughout World.
"Throughout the world change is the order of the day. In every nation economic problems, long in the making, have brought crises of many kinds for which the masters of old practice and theory were unprepared. In most nations social justice, no longer a distant ideal, has become a definite goal, and ancient governments are beginning to heed the call."

Unity of Program Revealed.
"As the various parts in the program begun in the extraordinary session of the 73rd congress shape themselves in practical administration, the unity of our program reveals itself to the nation. The outlines of the new economic order, rising from the disintegration of the old, are apparent. We test what we have done as our measures take root in the living textures of life. We see where we have built wisely and where we can do still better."

A Significant Farm Year.
"The past year has been one of significant accomplishment for agriculture. Despite the worst drought of record, farm income is running about a billion dollars above last year. All of us would like to see on even larger increase in 1935, but we know that this cannot come unless, in the first place, industrial production increases sufficiently to expand the market for farm products; unless, in the second place, some of our export trade is paid for by increased imports; and unless, in the third place, agriculture continues to adjust the total production to the market that actually exists."

Outlawing Specific Abuses.
"It is important to recognize that while we seek to outlaw specific abuses, the American objective of today has an infinitely deeper, finer and more lasting purpose than mere repression. Thinking people in almost every country of the world have come to realize certain fundamental difficulties with which civilization must reckon. Rapid changes—the machine age, the advent of universal and rapid communication and many other new factors have brought new problems. Succeeding generations have attempted to keep pace by reforming in piecemeal fashion this or that attendant abuse."

The Times Creed:
For the cause that needs assistance;
For the wrongs that need resistance;
For the future in the distance,
And the good that we can do.

Repeal's First Year.

Although the following editorial was written a month ago, just after the national prohibition law had been repealed a year, it continues as true as it was in early December. It is reproduced from the Christian Science Monitor:

The first anniversary of the repeal of prohibition in the United States draws attention to the new battle front in the age-old warfare between liquor and society, and discloses that in the latest engagement liquor has made inroads all along the line, tearing down practically every standard set up by repealists.

Before repeal took up the burden of liquor control laid down by prohibition, its advocates promised, among other things, that the saloon in any guise would not be permitted to return; that bootlegging would cease; crime would decrease; taxes would be reduced, and youthful drinking would cease. Analysis of the facts discloses that thus far repeal has signally failed to accomplish these purposes.

Evidence is plentiful that the saloon, in one disguise or another, has returned; government officials indicate that as much bootleg liquor is being sold as legal liquor; crime continues to flourish and to the stories of bootlegging and racketeering which have by no means vanished since repeal, are now added stories of liquor-inspired crimes which had largely faded from the press during prohibition; taxes have not been lowered, and revenues from liquor imposts have been only about half the amount promised; as to youthful drinking, hotel men are reported to be appalled not only by the drinking among the younger generation, but more especially by the unprecedented drinking by young girls and women.

On the other hand, it can be recorded that much furtiveness has been taken out of the American scene, the speakeasy has largely faded from the picture, the adventurous appeal which attracted many college youth to the hip flask has been removed, no longer is there any talk of restricted personal liberties or of legislated morals, and the flood of drunkenness which many prohibitionists predicted has not reached expected proportions.

As the country now stands, 17 states have some kind of license system, 13 have state stores, eight permit the sale of beer, eight have no system as yet, and two only—Alabama and Kansas—are bone dry. It is the hope of liquor opponents, including many disillusioned repealists, that out of the man systems being tried in the several states, some one system, or a combination made up of the best features of several systems, may be evolved which will achieve what the American people intended repeal to achieve—liquor control.

But liquor's history proves it does not submit gracefully to control. It demands more and more drinkers and drinkers drinking more and more.

The anti-liquor forces are expected to campaign in the coming Congress for a new constitutional amendment to give future Congresses power to reenact national prohibition if they desire. They will likewise seek a law to protect dry states from liquor, and another to forbid false advertising regarding the merits of alcoholic drinks.

But none of these efforts touch the liquor traffic in its vital spot. Those who have followed this problem through the years are now convinced that the greatest hope of progress is in building up on the one hand the individual's freedom from a false appetite for intoxicants, and on the other a supporting system of governmental control of manufacture and distribution which will take the profit out of the industry and at the same time keep the industry out of politics.

Repeal's first year has served to show the trend of legal liquor. The first 12 months have not proved encouraging—save that they have shown that the culprit is not prohibition or repeal or any other system but is liquor itself. Evils tend to become more blatant and to destroy themselves. The fight against intoxicants has not ended. It should be pressed with alertness in every way. But possibly until some of the new American experiments can be judged and the new battle lines more clearly discerned it will be best to let opinion crystallize behind the most practicable reforms.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

OUR "ARITHMOCRACY" RULE.

The United States now is ruled by a pure "arithmo-cracy," that is, a numerical majority. A majority decides the action of Congress. A majority decides the dictums of the Supreme Court. A majority of industrialists sit together and decide the policies which shall rule their whole industry. A majority of the farmers decide what crops shall be planted and how much produced. A majority of the workers in each plant decide, by an election held under federal control, who shall be hired, what hours they shall work, what wages they shall be paid, etc.

In every field, the minority have no rights which the majority are bound to respect. Those who will not cooperate become outlaws, with very severe penalties in the form of fines and imprisonment hanging over their heads.

Secretary of Commerce Roper has thrown out the hint that if everybody else is to be bound by the laws it would only be fair that labor should also be bound—but you can imagine that his suggestion has not been received with echoing huzzas from the ranks of labor.—The Pathfinder.

For the first time, labor unionism has full swing as an equal partner in industry, with labor leaders acting as the all-powerful grand-viziers of the new order.

There is equality for all—with just a single exception: The unionized workers are not subject to any penalties or obligations of any sort. They retain the right to strike and held up production and distribution any time. And while the employers, the middlemen, the farmers and other parties to the plan are faced with "liquidation" if they obstruct the program, no way has been found to bring the organized workers under a similar obligation.

BANK CHOOSES OLD OFFICIALS

No change in Snyder National Bank's official family was made during the annual business sessions Tuesday and Wednesday.

M. A. Fuller continues as president, A. C. Alexander as cashier, A. J. Cody and Wayne Williams as assistant cashiers.

Directors are M. A. Fuller, J. J. Koonsman, Harrie Winston, A. C. Alexander and A. D. Erwin. The bank's capital remains at $100,000, its surplus at $25,000.

Home Demonstration Club Notes . . .

Mrs. Musgrove Hostess.
The Crowder Home Demonstration Club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Musgrove. We continued foundation pattern making. Only five members were present. We are looking forward to having most of the members with us in our next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Brooks. Miss Ward, the county home demonstration agent, will be there. The subject will be on home food products.—Club reporter.

Bison Club at Miller's.
The Bison Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, January 3, at the home of Mrs. F. M. Miller. Miss Ward gave a demonstration on green salad. Garden plans were discussed. Budget cards were filled out. There were three members present. The next meeting will be January 17, with Mrs. Owen Miller. All members are urged to be present.—Mrs. C. M. Cary, reporter.

Miss Ward Demonstrates.
The Ladies Home Demonstration Club of Dermott met Monday afternoon with Mrs. L. N. Periman. Miss Ward met with us. She gave an interesting talk on why we should have leafy vegetables in our diet. Miss Ward also gave a demonstration on salads. There were 13 members present, with one new member.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

For the New Year '35.
To all my friends and readers of this paper:
I send you New Year greetings and acknowledge the kind greetings that came to me during Yuletide. May the blessings of the great God be upon you.

I have been 35 years a citizen of the county, and I am interested in her welfare yet.

Yours for a better year and greater things.
January 9. J. W. McGAHA.

New Olds Prices Just Announced By Local Dealer

List prices of the new Oldsmobile sixes and eights for 1935 were announced today by E. F. Sears, local dealer. The new six, according to Mr. Sears, continues in the low price field with a list price at factory of $675, even though the car is larger, more powerful, more economical, and incorporates all the most modern features.

Mr. Sears is displaying a 1935 six-cylinder four-door sedan, which he brought late last week from Dallas, after he attended a sales meeting of West Texas dealers at Abilene Friday.

The new straight eight, leader in sales in the lower medium price field in 1934, has been reduced in price for 1935, its new base price at the factory being quoted at $890. The new eight, according to Mr. Sears, also has more size, power and economy, coupled with all the features which Oldsmobile engineers believe the public wants in 1935 cars.

"In all my experience in the automobile business," said Mr. Sears, "I have never seen a better demonstration of real value giving than in the new Oldsmobiles for 1935."

SMALL CATTLE QUOTA MONDAY

A small quota of cattle is to be purchased in Scurry County Monday by Uncle Sam, the county agent's office reported yesterday. Aged animals will come first, with yearlings and calves to be purchased only if there are not enough cows to fill the quota.

All farmers and ranchers must have their cattle listed not later than Saturday in order to sell under the quota. The animals must be brought to Snyder for inspection and appraisal.

Glen Voss, Bob Lusk and Morris Sheppard of Post visited with relatives and friends here Saturday.

Travis Green returned home Saturday from a two-weeks holiday visit with his mother, Mrs. H. J. McGraw in Los Angeles. Mrs. McGraw is a former resident of Snyder.

THE STORY

Chapter I—Jim Wall, young cowpuncher from Wyoming, in the early days of the cattle industry, seeks a new field in Utah. He meets Hank Hays, who admits to being a robber, and tells Wall he is working for an Englishman named Herrick, who has located a big ranch in the mountains. Herrick has employed a small army of rustlers and gun-fighters, and Hays and others are plotting to steal their employer's cattle and money. Hays wants Wall to throw in with the rustlers.

Chapter II—At the little settlement of Green River, Hays gets into an argument with a gambler called Stud, over a poker game. Wall saves Hank's life by bluffing the gambler out of shooting. With Hays and two other rustlers, Happy Jack and Lincoln, Jim Wall starts out for Herrick's ranch. In camp, the first night out, Jim regrets the step he has taken, but it is too late to turn back.

Chapter III—The four men arrive at the ranch. Herrick announces that his sister, Helen, is coming to the ranch. Hays unfolds his plan for getting possession of the 12,000 head of cattle on the Herrick ranch. He and his lieutenants ride away to drive off the first bunch of livestock. Jim remains behind to shoot it out, if necessary, with Heeseman, Hays' rival among the cattle rustlers. Jim sees a dust cloud, which he is certain denotes the arrival of Heeseman and his gang. He stands with rifle ready.

Chapter IV—Heeseman tells Wall that Hays was once his (Heeseman's) partner and double-crossed him. Herrick delegates Jim to go to Grand Junction to meet Miss Herrick. Jim gets Barnes, a young cowboy with him, to tell her that he (Jim) is a desperado of the worst type. Barnes does so, but the girl treats the information lightly.

Chapter V—On his arrival at the ranch, with Helen, Jim is confronted by Hays, who betrays unusual interest in the coming of Miss Herrick. Jim tells Hays that Miss Herrick brought a Wells Fargo package, probably of money. Jim goes riding with the Herricks and greatly impresses Helen with his revolver shooting.

Chapter VI—The cattle drives to Grand Junction are started. Jim Wall finds himself falling in love with Helen. He coaches her in riding western style, and finally kisses her. She is angry and dismisses him, but returns and asks him not to leave the ranch. Hays' men return from the drive with the stolen cattle. The leader has sold the cattle and brought back the money. A quick getaway is imperative. Hays tells his men to go on ahead, that he will join them at a certain canyon. The riders arrive at the canyon, and to their amazement and Jim's dismay, Hays and a lieutenant are sighted with Helen Herrick—a captive.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Jim tied his horse in the shade of a cedar, and climbed a jumble of rocks so he could command a better view. Almost at once he sighted riders coming down a wash about a mile away, and he had opened his mouth to shout the good tidings when something stopped him.

He rubbed his eyes and looked again. Three riders! Assuming that two of them were Hays and Latimer, who could the third be? They disappeared behind a corner of bank. Jim sank down in a cold sweat. Perhaps these men were Indians or strangers from Hankville, or prospectors. But he had not seen any pack animals.

After a long, anxious watch he saw the three reappear in the wash, considerably closer. The one in the middle rode a gray horse and otherwise contrasted sharply with the dark mounts and dark clothes of the other two. A second time the trio disappeared. Smoky was peering about in a desultory manner, but he was too low down to sight the riders. Jim was now shaking. An awful premonition attacked him. He had met it and almost overcome it as another attack of nerves when the foremost horseman emerged from behind a bank. He recognized the stalwart figure, the wide, black sombrero, the poise in the saddle. That was Hank Hays.

Jim scarcely dared shift his gaze back to the second rider, but he was irresistibly forced to. A slight figure in tan, drooping in the saddle!

"So help me!" he whispered, and sank down on the stone. That center rider was Helen Herrick. For a moment a hell riot in Jim Wall's breast. How he cursed himself for a vacillating idiot. His intuition had been right. He had seen through this robber leader's behavior at Star ranch. But like a fool he had not trusted himself. Jim grew cold to his very marrow. Yet his intelligence did not wholly succumb to his fury. He strove to think. This hound had gotten Helen, just how, it was useless to conjecture. But to kill him then, right on the spot? That gave Jim Wall pause. Hays' men would roar at this deal, involving them in the abduction of a woman, still they would hardly go so far as to resist him with arms. Jim crushed down this deadly impulse. He would wait.

Well indeed had it been for Jim to spy this trio long before they reached him. He had time to recover, to think what was best. If Hank Hays had come upon Jim suddenly it would have been his doom.

One of the pack animals neighed shrilly and then all the horses stuck up their ears.

"Say, I heard a horse-shoe ring on a stone," called Mac, who had ears as keen as a horse.

"What's that?" queried Smoky, sharply. He leaped up.

Chapter VII

"Look! Riders comin'" exclaimed Brad Lincoln.

"Can't be nobody but Hank."

Jim leaped off the rock, crashing down behind the watching men, startling them. "Smoky, it's Hays. I saw him a mile off."

"Why didn't you say something, then?" retorted Slocum gruffly.

"I was too flabbergasted," replied Jim, coolly, as he joined them.

"It's Hank, all right," said Mac.

"Shore, I see him now. That's Hank."

"Jim, what flabbergasted you," demanded Smoky.

"Three riders!" flashed Jim.

"Wal... So I see. What you make of that?" ejaculated Slocum.

The three emerged clearly from behind the cedars. A blank silence ensued. Jim at last got his tigerish nerves under control. His thoughts were whirling.

"Humph. Little rider in between," commented Lincoln.

"That's Sparrowhawk behind."

"Who's the third party?"

"Hank shore is a queer duck, takin' in up with strangers like he does."

"Somebody with a mask on!"

"An' a long slicker."

"Fellers," rasped Slocum, "that's a woman with a veil!"

Jim thought the moment had come. "Men, Hank has double-crossed us. He's stolen Herrick's sister!"

Hank Hays led his two followers to within a few feet of the cluster of riders. Jim's lightning-swift glance took the three in, their dust-caked horses, and flashed back to fasten upon Miss Herrick. Her features were not visible through the veil. The linen coat showed the wear and tear of contact with brush. She wore boots and overalls. "Wal, you're all here but Jeff," began Hays.

"Jeff'll be comin' by now," replied Smoky. "What you aimin' fer?"

"Brakes of the Dirty Devil."

"I take it you've fetched Herrick's sister."

"You're a bright boy."

"Hank Hays, after all you double-crossed us," roared Smoky. "You're a liar. You're a cheat. You think you can drag us in on a deal like this. I thought you acted powerful queer. So it was this girl you tricked us for? ... You—!"

Jim Wall strode forward and aside, his swift action menacingly significant.

"Hays, your jig's up. She goes back!"

"Wait a minute," the robber replied, stridently. "Stick or quit, if you want. I fetched this girl for ransom. She come willin', cause if she hadn't I'd killed Herrick. He will pay 25,000, maybe 30,000 for her."

COLLECTION OF TAXES IS LOW

Collections of city and school taxes were low up to January, according to Collector J. S. Bradbury.

City tax collections as reported to the City Council Monday evening were only $2,205.44. Building permits were $2,000; water and sewer collections, $1,368.81; fines, $65.20.

G. H. Leath was mayor pro tem in the absence of Mayor H. G. Towle, who was ill. Councilmen R. H. Odum, J. E. Shipp, W. L. Clark and Dwight Monroe attended.

The council voted to authorize use of seven wagons for four days each to distribute gravel on the city streets that has already been dug from the city gravel pit.

So far, the city of Snyder has not defaulted on any of its obligations, but officials call attention to the fact that interest and principal on bond and warrant indebtedness cannot be met this year unless tax collections show a decided spurt.

Edd Moore and family of Hermleigh visited in the A. L. Payne home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Polly Harpole of Snyder and Mrs. J. R. Hale of Levelland spent Wednesday with Mrs. R. O. Irvin.

Friday afternoon, January 4, 14 boys of the Outing Club and Mr. Irvin, the sponsor, went to Fluvanna canyons for a delightful outing. Although the weather was cold the boys greatly enjoyed the change of scenery and the abundance of fresh air and outdoor exercise. Dark came on before anyone had had enough of climbing the cliffs and exploring the canyons. No complaint was heard, though, because the cooks had again demonstrated their cooking ability, by preparing a feast. Savory sausages, ham (browned just right), mashed potatoes, boiled eggs, butter beans, onions and pickles made a meal fit to set before a king. Strange to say, there were seconds on everything out onions and even some left overs. No accidents happened, and everyone voted unanimously to have another hike as soon as the weather and pocket books will permit. The next meeting of the club will be held at the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Irvin spent Sunday with friends in Colorado.

E. M. Mahoney and family spent Sunday in the J. E. Bowlin home at Pyron.

Connie Darden of Valley View was a caller in the W. C. Darden home Sunday.

The first year home economics girls served the Pyron faculty and the seniors with a delightful luncheon Friday. Miss Cecelia Garner, who has recently resigned as instructor of the Spanish and English departments of our school, was the honor guest. Those present for the luncheon were as follows: Seniors—Cora Beth and Gladys Ruth Mahoney, Barbara Louise Barnes, Lilly Mae Kinney, Merle Marie Glass, Lera Light, Mildred Vernon, O. C. Darden, James Bownds, Kenneth Painter and Troy Bowen; faculty members—the honoree, Doris Johnson, Mmes. T. B. Bownds, Jake Bailey, N. E. Simmons, J. M. Glass, and T. B. Bownds, Fred Kerr, Robert Taylor and Victor Drinkard.

The luncheon was enjoyed very much by all those present. James Bownds, president of the senior class, expressed the thanks of the seniors to Miss Garner for the kind deeds she has done for them in the past. We are very sorry to lose Miss Garner, but we are wishing her much success and happiness in her new home. We shall never forget her for the kind and sweet person she has always been to us as our sponsor.

DE SOTO INVADES POPULAR PRICE FIELD WITH AMAZING NEW AIRSTREAM MODEL

AT LAST... a real aero-dynamic car at popular prices—the Airstream De Soto. The most sensational announcement ever made in the history of popular priced cars! A car designed by the same engineers who built Airflow... only possible at the price because of the knowledge and experience Airflow gave them.

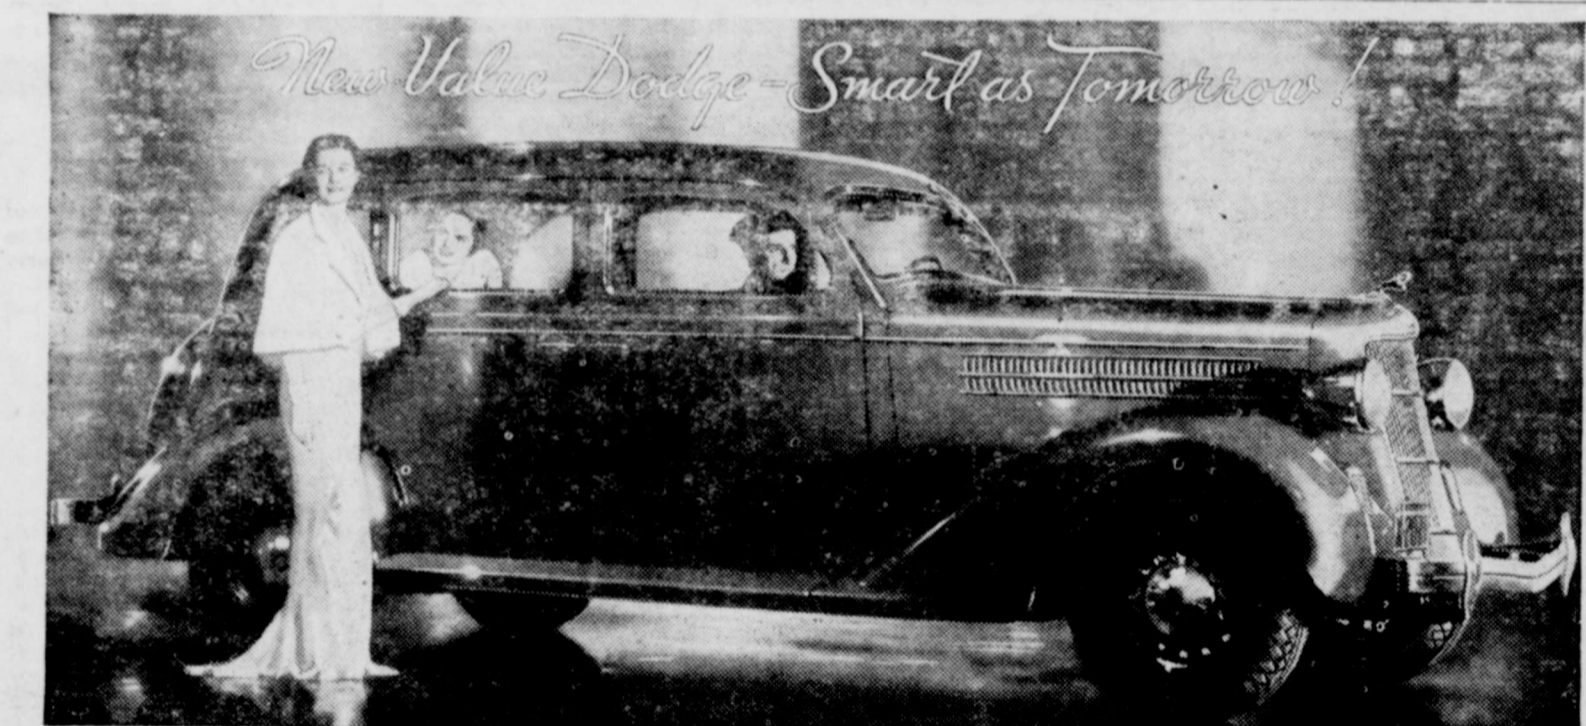

You have never before seen a car like it. Under its gleaming hood is a marvelous engine... that delivers 93 horsepower... gives amazing speed and power. In appearance it is a worthy companion to the famous Airflow itself—winner of the 1934 Grand Prix at Monte Carlo for beauty. But come and see it. It is here now—waiting for you to drive.

HERE IT IS - THE CAR THAT MADE 175 EXPERTS Guess Wrong!

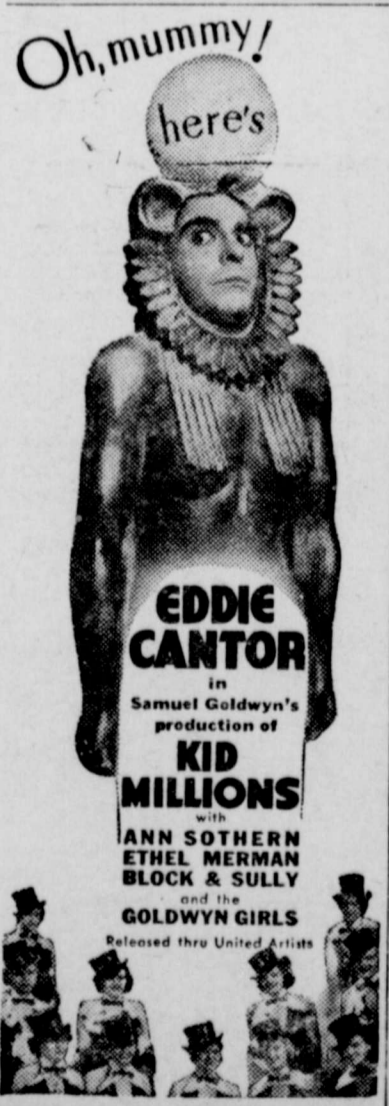

So Much Luxury, Style and Value in the New 1935 DODGE, Experts Overguessed its Price... Couldn't Believe It Would Sell for So Little.

175 experts—authorities in style, value, engineering—guessed too high when asked to estimate the price of the New-Value Dodge for 1935. But no wonder they guessed wrong! Never before has any car so low-priced been so smartly designed, so sturdily built, so luxurious... with 95 basic advancements for new comfort, new economy, new high speed with safety. And "Synchronomatic Control," which makes driving unbelievably easy and effortless... the new "Airslide Ride," which gives Dodge a steadiness, smoothness and roadability never before ever approached by other cars.

The New-Value Dodge is powered with the Dodge "Red Ram" engine. It's silky smooth, with traditional Dodge dependability. Develops 85 miles an hour and up! Built to last, to save money, no matter how fast you drive. A saving of 15¢ to 20¢ on every dollar you spend for gas is now possible—with even more astonishing oil economy! Compare delivered prices of this 1935 Dodge against other cars! You'll be surprised to learn how low they are. Only the genius of a manufacturing organization like Dodge—with 20 years' experience building fine motor cars—could create such outstanding dollar-for-dollar value.
