"YOUR HOME COUNTY PAPER"

FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 14, 1935.

NUMBER 36

ANOTHER VOTE OF COURT GOES AGAINST AGENT

Commissioners Again Say "No" to H. D. Worker, After Hearing Club Representatives.

When Commissioner H. M. Blackard's motion that Scurry County appropriate $600 toward payment of a home demonstration agent died for want of a second Monday afternoon, the Commissioners' Court, in effect, voted for the second time within 10 days against retaining Miss Nellie Ward after February.

Mr. Blackard's motion was made on the heels of a morning demonstration in the district court room, in which about 125 women and girls appeared before the court in behalf of continuing the home demonstration work. The group included members of rural women's clubs, girls' 4-H clubs, and local study clubs.

Several of the women and girls addressed the court, giving their reasons for believing that the work should be retained.

District Agent Here. Miss Lida Cooper, the district home demonstration agent, was here late last week and early this week to present the Extension Service side of the question. Since June, 1934, Miss Ward's salary has been paid $100 monthly by the Extension Service and $50 monthly by the county.

The court explained to The Times Tuesday that outstanding obligations against the county, some of them as much as six years overdue, forbid the keeping of any expense that is not absolutely essential. Home demonstration work was re-instituted in the county last year by action of the Commissioners' Court, recorded as follows in the minutes of the session held April 23, 1934:

"On motion of Lee Grant that we make an appropriation and employ a home demonstration agent for Scurry County, Texas, for the balance of the year 1934, said appropriation to be for $50 per month, payable out of the general fund, Forest Jones, Precinct No. 1, voted no; Holly Shuler, Precinct No. 2, voted no; Lee Grant, Precinct No. 3, voted yes; Walter Dowell, Precinct No. 4, voted yes. On the tie vote, Robert H. Curran, county judge, voted yes, and said order was declared passed.

"The court ordered an emergency budget appropriation made for a home demonstration agent as follows for the balance of the year 1934: $400; supplies and equipment, $100; payable out of the general fund of this county."

Prohibition Talker To Be Here March 9

C. J. Spiers, of Great Bend, Kansas, advance representative of the Flying Squadron Foundation was in Snyder Saturday, arranging for a meeting to be addressed by Miss Norma C. Brown, vice president of the organization and editor of the National Enquirer.

Plans have been completed for a hearing to be held Saturday, March 9, 7:30 p. m., in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Brown is nationally known as a lecturer in behalf of prohibition. It is said that her discussion is comprehensive and illuminating, free from shallow emotionalism and vituperation.

About Those Car Tags.

The tax collector's office issues another reminder this week to folks who must purchase 1935 car tags. Buy tags now, if you would avoid the rush, but don't put 'em on until April 1. If you drive a car with an out-of-state license for 1934, you'd better get some more Texas tags to use until April 1.

New School Park Ready for Spring

With springtime coming on, the southwest portion of the school campus is gradually being converted to a place of beauty and usefulness. Translation of this 100x300 plot into a small city park is being accomplished under the direction of women's clubs, headed by a committee composed of Misses Lee T. Stinson, chairman, W. R. Bell and O. P. Thrane.

Every study and pleasure club and the American Legion Auxiliary are cooperating in the beautification plan, Mrs. Stinson said this week.

Twenty-eight Chinese elms, 12 pecans and 11 Arizona cypress are already planted on the plot, and other trees will be planted soon. Rustic sidewalks criss-cross the park, and partial work has gone forward on two fountains, park seats, swings, and a wading pool centered with a fountain.

Fluvanna Boys' Team Wins Basket Tourney; Hermleigh Girls Lead

Frogs Advance to Championship by Eliminating Dunn, Ira Turner, and Hermleigh Fives.

Fluvanna boys won the Scurry County basketball championship at Hermleigh Wednesday night after plowing their way by close scores through quintets from Dunn, Ira, Turner and Hermleigh.

Hermleigh boys' reversal in the final game was partially forgotten by fans in the host town, for the Hermleigh girls' team downed Pyron, 43 to 33, in the determining game. Earlier in the tournament they won from Ira, 47 to 27.

Fluvanna's Frogs won out of the most evenly matched teams that the county has seen in recent years. Dunn, ringleader in county basketball circles for several years, lost to the new champions, 28 to 25, in a first round tilt. Then came Ira, which was favored to take the tournament because it had piled up an outstanding seasonal record. Ira led by a hair until the closing moments of the mix-up, when the Fluvanna boys forged ahead and nosed out a one-point victory, 25 to 24.

Turner Not So Easy. Turner put up tough opposition in the third Fluvanna fray, which ended 25 to 20. The Frogs continued through their lucky 25 points to brush aside Hermleigh, 25 to 19, in a breath-taking final. The winning squad's center, Turner, led the field in scoring, with 11 points. A team-mate, Forward Chambers, 10 points, was second, and Guard Stevenson of Hermleigh came next with 6.

Voss of Hermleigh led scoring in the final girls' game, with 20 tallies, closely followed by Barnes of Pyron, who scored 19 of her team's 33 points. Stevenson's left-hand shot scored 15 for the winners. The tournament was spread over three days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Hermleigh's gym as the site of all games. All tilts drew good crowds. R. L. Williams of Snyder officiated the first night and Dalton Hill of Roscoe the final nights. E. E. Korr, Hermleigh superintendent, who is county interscholastic league athletic director, was in general charge.

Boys Go to District. Fluvanna boys will go this weekend to a sub-district tournament. No district elimination is held for girls' teams.

Bethel boys won from Turner by a count of 21 to 13 in Wednesday night's consolation affair. Following is a summary of tournament games: Boys' games—Turner 49, Crouder 25; Fluvanna 28, Dunn 25; Chambers, Fluvanna, 14 points, high point. Turner 21, Independence 20; Hermleigh 31, Pyron 20; Voss, Hermleigh, 13 points, high point. Fluvanna 25, Ira 24; Chambers, Fluvanna, 17 points, high point. Fluvanna 25, Turner 20; Turner, Fluvanna, and Martin, Turner, tied for high point, 9 points.

Hermleigh 40, Bethel 23. Bethel 21, Turner 13. Fluvanna 25, Hermleigh 19. Totals on girls' games are: Bethel 18, Turner 18. Pyron 44, Bethel 7. Hermleigh 47, Ira 27. Hermleigh 43, Pyron 33.

HOG CONTRACT SIGNERS MEET

All corn-hog contract signers in Scurry County are slated to gather in the courthouse this (Thursday) afternoon for discussion of the new 1935 contracts.

New contracts must be drawn up, since the corn-hog agreements of 1934 were for one year only.

A big reduction of only 10 per cent has been set this year, in contrast to last year's reduction of 25 per cent. The years 1932 and 1933 are used as the base period.

Debaters Get Into Action Against Two Sweetwater Teams

Snyder High School debaters, pitted this year by Miss Effie McLeod, met Sweetwater teams in two practice sessions Friday morning in the local building. No decisions were given.

The Nolan County debaters were en route to Lubbock, where they went to the finals in an invitation meet.

Otha Lee Clark and Royal Connel compose the local boys' team. Irene Wolcott and Marva Nell Curtis are the girl debaters. The 1935 Interscholastic League question is: "Resolved, That the United States government should own and operate power and light utilities."

Both Lorraine debate teams are scheduled to meet the local arguers here Tuesday of next week.

PREDICTS RAIN

Good rains will fall on Texas for two years and 11 months, Astrologer James Monroe Harvey of Chicago told Snyder Lions and their guests at a ladies' night program Tuesday. The visitor predicted early-February rain for the Lubbock area when he spoke before the Lubbock Lions Club last month.

Many Months of Rain for County Says Astrologer

Scurry County will be blessed with good rains for the next two years and 11 months.

This was the prophecy of Professor James Monroe Harvey, nationally known astrologer, who featured the program of the Lions Club ladies' night Tuesday evening. The prediction brought applause from the crowded banquet room of Lions, Lions' wives and visitors.

Professor Harvey entertained his hearers for over an hour with weather prognostications and prophecies. He stated his Zodiacal findings revealed favored conditions in this section for a number of months. Among other predictions besides the rains were that the county would experience a decided increase in population, crops for the next three seasons would be good and the prices for farm products would be favored. Snyder, in particular, he said, will see its population doubled in seven years. More girl babies than boys will be born in the county during the next three-year period.

Listeners Classified. An interesting trip around the Zodiac calendar offered Professor Harvey's listeners much thought and humor. Dates of birth of all those in the audience were classified, and traits of character and temperament, as well as favored periods in their lives were outlined.

The Tuesday evening entertainment marked the first birthday celebration of the Snyder Lions Club. Five members from the Colorado club, which was instrumental in the re-organization, were present, and were given recognition by A. C. Alexander in a welcome to the ladies and guests. Joe Pond, former president of the Mitchell County club, responded for himself and the other four—Messrs. Jimmie Greene, Becton Templeton, Dell Barber and Coles.

The Greene fellow from Colorado, deputy district governor of Lions Clubs in District 2-T, gave a brief history of the Lions movement. District Governor E. L. Pitts of Lubbock, who was scheduled to follow Lion Greene, was unable to be present because of bad roads.

Guests Recognized. Following the sumptuous meal, prepared by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Deakins of the Manhattan Hotel, guests for the evening were recognized. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGlaun, Misses Hattie and Gertrude Herm, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Stinson, Mrs. Pearl Shannon.

Group songs were included in the program, lead by Lion Tamer Wilby collecting a few fines. Mrs. P. Thrane offered the invocation. President J. C. Smyth acted as toastmaster, and Tall Twister Marcel Josephson distinguished himself and Jones and accompanied by following the program several astrological readings were given banqueters by Professor Harvey.

Sub-Irrigation for Dunn Rose Garden

Sub-irrigating her rose garden with 50 feet of concrete tile is the thing which Mrs. Ruby West of Dunn Home Demonstration Club is doing as a safeguard against another loss of rose bushes this summer.

The garden, located outside her lawn, borders her drive, and is visible from south windows of living room, bedroom and sewing room.

HIGHWAY NO. 7 CONTRACT SET FOR THURSDAY

New Hermleigh to Snyder Routing Is Scouted by Number of Prospective Contractors.

Contract is scheduled to be let today by the State Highway Department for completion of the Snyder-Hermleigh strip of State Highway No. 7.

A number of contractors have been here to look over the route since announcement of the letting was made last week, Resident Engineer M. E. Savage said yesterday. The contract will call for constructing 11.513 miles of grading, drainage structures, culverts, base course with double asphalt treatment. An entirely new route on the west side of the Santa Fe Railway will be followed from Bell's Flower Shop in East Snyder to the Hermleigh city limits.

The project, which will be financed by the U. S. public works appropriation, is expected to begin by early March. It will probably involve about $75,000 in wages, with all except skilled labor coming from Scurry County. Upwards of 200 men will probably be employed during most of the construction period.

Federal Charge Is Facing Garza Men In Fatal Shooting

Sheriff W. F. Cato, Garza County, was arrested at Post on a federal charge Friday for the machine gun slaying of Spencer Stafford, narcotic agent, and Dr. L. W. Kitchen, veterinarian, and Dr. V. A. Hartman, physician, were taken into custody charged with complicity.

Bond was refused Sheriff Cato, who is well known in Scurry County, by Clyde O. Eastus, United States district attorney. The sheriff had earlier posted bond of $5,000 in a state murder case in connection with the agent's death.

The fatal shooting occurred at Post Thursday, where Stafford and an associate government agent were investigating narcotic records. Misunderstanding as to the identity of the government men is said by townspeople to have been behind the tragedy.

To Count Scholastics.

Scholastic census taking will be the order of the day in Scurry County beginning March 1 and continuing throughout the month, says Frank Farmer, county superintendent. This year's scholastics are expected to surpass in number any total for the last several years.

FARMERS WILL NAME LEADERS

Cotton committees for 16 Scurry County communities will be selected from Monday through Friday of next week, the county agent's office reports.

Elections will be held at various community centers, under auspices of the Scurry County Agricultural Association. Each 1934-35 contract signer is invited and urged to take part in the meeting in his part of the county.

Officers of the county association are to meet in the courthouse Saturday to receive instructions concerning holding of the community elections.

THREE WAYS TIMES READERS CAN GET TICKETS TO PALACE

Who wants a free ticket to the Palace Theatre? The Times is pleased to announce a simple plan by which free tickets will be given to patrons of Your Home County Paper's want ad department, to new and renewal subscribers to The Times, and to other Times readers.

Here are the three ways by which you may get free tickets: 1. Each want ad, accompanied by cash, that is placed in The Times next week and each week thereafter until further notice, will entitle the advertiser to one free ticket to a Palace show. In other words, if you insert one 25-cent want ad, you will be given a ticket valued at 15 to 25 cents. Each insertion of each want ad accompanied by cash means a free ticket, obtainable at the Times office.

2. Each new or renewal Times subscription that is turned into this office will be good for one free ticket to the Palace, obtainable at the Times office. One dollar ($1.50 outside Scurry and adjoining counties) will bring The Times from now until January 1, 1936, plus one show ticket.

3. The names of two Times readers who live in Snyder territory will be published each week in display advertisements (not want ads). Each person so named may secure a free ticket to the Palace by calling at the store in whose ad his name appears. Two such names appear in display ads this week—look for them! Free tickets to "The Little Minister," starring Katherine Hepburn, at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, await owners of these names.

Watch the front page next week for announcement concerning those who will receive Palace tickets. In the meantime, if you need a Times classified (and nearly everyone does), or if you have not renewed your Times subscription, come around and arrange for a free ticket.

Life-Saving Moisture Brings Hope and Cheer to County

AAA Interprets Landlord-Renter Contract Clause

In connection with paragraph 7 of the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction contract, which involves the relationship of landlord and renter, the county agent's office has received the following AAA interpretations:

"The accepted interpretation of section 7 of the contract, and that under which we have operated and which is to the effect that landlords shall in good faith endeavor to keep the same number of tenants on their farms, but not necessarily the same identical tenants, still stands, and there will be no change in this interpretation.

"There is nothing in the cotton reduction contract to prevent a landlord from renting the land to another tenant in 1935 or to prevent the tenant from renting land from another landlord in 1935, provided the tenant had only a one-year lease in 1934. If a change is made the landlord, however, must maintain the same number of tenants and these tenants must have the same status as in 1934.

"In other words, it would be a violation of the contract for him to change from managing-share tenants to share-croppers or from share croppers to day hands in order to secure for himself a greater share of the benefit payments."

Otha Lee Clark Named As Mayor Of Local School

In the annual high school election conducted Friday under auspices of a civics class taught by Mrs. J. P. Nelson, Otha Lee Clark was named as mayor and Aubrey Wise was named as fire chief. Both boys were members of the Tiger football squad, and Otha Lee is a member of this year's debate team.

Platforms and campaign speeches were presented at the assembly program Friday morning. Balloting proceeded from then until school was dismissed for the day, with a modified form of the Australian ballot system being employed.

Tommy Winters is the first floor fire chief, and Richard Brice is second floor fire chief. Weldon Strayhorn is flag boy.

Councilmen of the four classes were elected as follows: Roland Bell, senior; Lillian Logan, junior; Dollie Clements, sophomore; Mavis Jenkins, freshman.

John Irwin Accepts Position at Alpine

Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin left Wednesday for Alpine, where the former local druggist has become pharmacist for the Alpine Drug Company.

Mr. Irwin recently sold his interest in Stinson drug store No. 2 to J. D. Scott, who is actively associated with the west side store. The druggist had been in Snyder for eight years.

The Irwin home in East Snyder has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Savage.

Reeves Back Home With Transfer Firm

J. R. Reeves is back home. He resumed his duties at the Snyder Transfer & Storage Company offices here last week-end, after an eight-month stay with the company at Lamesa.

Reeves was connected with the concern in Snyder for several months prior to May, 1934, when he went to the Dawson County capital. He will assist O. D. McGlaun with clerical duties in the home offices here of the transfer firm. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bridgeman are owners of the business.

No Trace of Knob Knockers

No trace of the knob knockers who attempted to open the N. M. Harpole grocery safe on the night of February 2 or 3 has been found by officers. A burglar-proof combination on the safe prevented it being opened by the marauders, but two holes had to be burned into the safe before it could be opened.

SENTENCED

Virgil Stalcup, West Texas desperado who has included Snyder in his happy hunting grounds, was sentenced by a Lubbock jury early this week to die in the electric chair for the slaying of Sheriff W. B. Arthur of Dickens County.

Death Chair for Stalcup Lubbock Jurymen Decide

A Lubbock jury Tuesday sentenced Virgil Stalcup to the electric chair for killing Sheriff W. B. Arthur in a Dickens County jail break last October 27.

The case was turned over to the jury late Monday, after the state had demanded the death penalty, and the murder conviction was returned shortly after court opened Tuesday morning. Stalcup's attorneys gave notice of appeal.

Clarence Brown of Snyder was with Stalcup in the escape and was captured November 1 while fishing for oysters in a rowboat in Galveston bay, and a day later Stalcup was arrested by a posse near Lubbock County jail.

Before his prison break at Dickens, Brown had been taken in custody at his home here by local officers. He has almost 100 years of prison terms hanging over his head, while Stalcup has an aggregate of 254 years for a series of robberies in Potter, Brown, Wilbarger and Wichita Counties.

The Texas-Oklahoma bad man who was sentenced to death Tuesday had escaped once before from the Dickens jail and had also fled the Harlem state prison farm July 18, 1934.

SCOUTS INVITE THEIR DADS TO SPECIAL NIGHT

American Legion Hall to Be Scene Of Meeting for Reports and Merry Making.

It will be Dad's Night Friday evening when Boy Scouts of Troop No. 35 meet in the American Legion hall, troop officials have announced.

The gathering, first of its kind to be held in Snyder, will bring between 60 and 70 fathers and sons in a group meeting for eats and games. Local Scout officials and a few invited guests will be included in the number. Festivities will begin at 7:00 o'clock. Scoutmaster Willard Jones states.

Eight months of activity for the troop, sponsored by the Lions Club, will be reviewed at the meeting. A full enrollment speaks highly for the movement during the period in Snyder, and Troop No. 35 reports about 25 on its roster.

Plans for sending a representative of the troop to the national jamboree in August will be outlined by District Chairman W. J. Ely, who was among those recently attending an area meeting in Big Spring, where the general plan for the twenty-fifth anniversary of scouting was discussed.

Lions Club Councilmen Warren Dodson, Charles B. Reed and C. W. Harless, County of Honor Chairman R. L. Williams, Finance Officer J. E. Shipp, Commissioner W. R. Lacey and others will also be guests at the gathering. Area Executive A. C. Williamson of Sweetwater also has been invited to attend.

1,500 FARMERS SECURE LOANS

Livestock feed loans for Scurry County have totaled more than 1,500 since June of 1934, Charles J. Lewis, manager of the local office, said yesterday.

These loans to county farmers and ranchers were for more than $65,000.

Feed loans will probably continue until about March 1, when crop loans will begin, Mr. Lewis said.

The local office has been maintained for some time in the district court room.

HOSPITAL NOW ASSURED SOON

The hospital will be built. That is the Thursday morning message of the central hospital committee, which has been steering plans for several weeks toward erection of a complete 14-bed hospital.

More than $14,000 in stock has been definitely signed for, the committee says, and several prospective contributors have not yet been contacted.

"We have passed the deadline," Chairman W. J. Ely and his co-workers, Harrie Winston and Austin Erwin, reported. "Before March 1 we expect to have building plans definitely underway."

Next Baptist Meet Moves to Mitchell

Spade Baptist Church, south of Colorado, will be March host to the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association workers' meeting, it was decided at the February session in the Union church Tuesday.

Despite the continuous rainfall Tuesday, 150 messengers were present from various parts of the association. Speakers on the day's theme, "The Cross," included Rev. Lawrence Hays of Snyder, Rev. F. D. O'Brien of Colorado, Rev. A. C. Hardin of Lorraine, and Rev. D. G. Reed. The host church served a sumptuous noon meal, say local attendants.

Snow, Sleet and Drizzles Lightly Blanket County

Parched Scurry County has received a mixture of wetness since Wednesday afternoon of last week that changed the new year from gloom to gladness.

Snow, sleet, drizzle, mist and fog have besieged the county most of the time since Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock. Tuesday brought the heaviest fall, when a drizzle bathed most of the county for hours.

Sunday and Sunday night precipitation in Snyder was .38. It was composed of practically all the wet elements from heaven, with a beautiful snow in the afternoon to cap the climax.

Light snow visited some of the county again Monday, and the Fluvanna territory received a sizeable snow Monday night.

Healthy Total Recorded. This week's total precipitation in Snyder, according to the government gauge handled by Mrs. Wesley Evans, has been .78 inches. Last Wednesday's total of .25 of an inch brings the February total to 1.03 inches. All points in the county have received helpful moisture, with Snyder getting about the average.

Only .05 of an inch of rain fell in January. February, 1934, total was only .22 of an inch.

All the wet weather has been accompanied by moderate temperatures and no hard winds. The several spasms of snow and sleet vanished almost as quickly as they had blanketed the earth with a thin cloak of whiteness.

Water Stays in County. Because all the moisture came with remarkable slowness, little of the water left the county. Many farmers and ranchers say a hard rain double the size of this week's wetness would not have done so much good.

The fall came just in time to save many an acre of grain, and gave farmers an opportunity to put all their land in working shape. Ranch lands, too, benefitted.

Locals at Chevrolet Meeting in Abilene

The Yoder Chevrolet Company was represented at a sales and service meeting in Abilene last week by Wraymond Sims and A. R. Norrd. Several speakers from the Dallas zone office spoke on 1935 plans following the serving of dinner at the Hotel Wooten.

Two carloads of 1935 Chevrolets, including one truck, three pick-ups and four passenger cars, have already been unloaded by the local dealer, and two more carloads are on the way.

Poll Tax Payments Take Downward Hop

Poll tax payments took a downward swoop in Scurry County this year, it is revealed by totals just compiled in the office of Bernard Longbotham, tax assessor-collector.

In this, an "off" election year, but a year in which several important issues will probably be voted on, only 1,322 citizens paid their $1.75 for a poll tax receipt. The lowest poll year in recent county history was 1931, when less than 1,200 payments were made.

The WOMAN'S Page

Buffet Luncheon for Sine Cura Is Given.

Mrs. H. G. Towle was hostess to the Sine Cura Club Tuesday with a buffet luncheon. The group arrived at the Towle home at 1:00 o'clock, and bridge games followed the delightful meal.

The dining table was covered with a beautiful cut work cloth and centered with carnations. Tall red tapers were placed at either side of the centerpiece. Small tables were centered with carnations in crystal vases surrounded with red paper hearts to carry out the Valentine motif.

Mrs. W. R. Johnson received the high score prize—a cutglass perfume bottle—for members. Mrs. J. C. Dorward was presented a tart plate as high guest prize; the cut prize, a sewing basket, went to Mrs. W. D. Beggs; and Mrs. Ivan Dodson took the traveling prize—a heart-shaped box of candy.

Guests for the bridge-luncheon were Mrs. W. D. Beggs, Ivan Dodson, J. G. Hicks, J. C. Dorward, E. J. Anderson, Joe Strayhorn, and Marcel Josephson. Members present at the meeting included Mrs. O. P. Thrane, G. A. Hagan, R. H. Curmutte, J. C. Stinson, W. R. Johnson, T. L. Lollar, Hugh Boren, A. D. Erwin and Pearl Shannon.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. D. Erwin, February 26.

Seventh Grade Elects Officers.

February 3 the high seventh a home room of the local grammar school, sponsored by Mrs. Novis Rodgers, elected officers, as follows: Max West, president; Dorothy Winston, vice president; Wilma Terry, secretary; Louise Bowers and Daren Benbenek, reporters; program committee, James E. Roney, chairman, Earl Howell, Punk Jones and Fred Boren.

February 7 the first program was made out, as follows: Song, Punk Jones; reading, Irene Taylor; story, Wilma Terry; jokes, Dorothy Winston; song, class; story, Mrs. Rodgers.

Zone Meeting for M. E. Women Here.

Methodist women met in the Snyder Methodist Church in a zone meeting Tuesday, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. R. H. Odum, zone president, was in charge, and Mrs. W. C. Hooks of Dunn recorded. Representatives of Dunn, Union Chapel, Hermaligh and the two Snyder auxiliaries were present for the all-day meeting.

Mrs. W. W. Hamilton gave the address of welcome, and Mrs. T. E. Grimes of Dunn responded. Rev. H. C. Gordon gave the morning devotional, using as his subject "Study to Show Thyself Approved," from the book of Timothy.

A musical ensemble composed of Mrs. Earl Louder—accordion, Mrs. R. L. Gray—violin, and Mrs. H. C. Gordon—piano, presented numbers in both morning and afternoon. "The Holy City" and "When They Ring Those Golden Bells" were among the numbers rendered.

Study groups were organized during the time just before lunch, and then a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by about 35 women from all over the county.

Rev. Frank Story of Hermaligh gave the afternoon devotional and reports were given during the remainder of the afternoon.

Club Studies Novel By Lloyd C. Douglas.

At the last meeting of the Twentieth Century Club at the home of Mrs. Joe Strayhorn, Mrs. P. C. Chenuault led a program on Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, "Magnificent Obsession."

The leader gave something of the life of Lloyd C. Douglas, and Mrs. W. J. Ely gave the book review. Mrs. C. E. Fish complimented the group with a vocal solo.

A plate of sandwiches, cake and coffee was passed to the following at the close of the program: Mrs. H. E. Rosser, a guest, and Mrs. H. J. Brice, P. C. Chenuault, J. Nelson Dunn, W. J. Ely, C. E. Fish, J. E. LeMond, C. J. Lewis, Allen Warren and B. M. West, club members.

Gold Band Society Receives Honors.

Joyce Singletary made a perfect score on the test given to members of the Gold Band Society by their teacher, Mrs. R. W. West, at a meeting of the group at Mrs. West's home Tuesday afternoon. Patty Joyce Hicks was given recognition for not having missed a meeting of the society since its organization in September.

Judges for the contests were Mrs. O. D. McGlaun and Miss Elizabeth Gordon.

At the close of the afternoon's entertainment Mrs. West passed a refreshment plate to Mrs. O. D. McGlaun, J. G. Hicks, R. L. Gray, Ivan Dodson, C. J. Sims and H. C. Gordon, and Miss Elizabeth Gordon, guests; and Patty Joyce Hicks, Patricia Dodson, Wanda Jean Sims, Margaret Gray, Joyce Singletary and John Hilburn Biggs, members of the society.

Blackards Hosts To Thursday Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Blackard were host and hostess to the Thursday Night Bridge Club at their home last week. Valentine table appointments were used, and a dainty refreshment plate was passed at the close of contract games.

High score prizes went to Mrs. Robert H. Curmutte Jr. and G. B. Clark Jr.

Miss Bonnie Gary was guest for the evening, and the following members were present: Messrs. and Mrs. Wayne Williams, G. B. Clark Jr., Albert Norred, J. P. Nelson, J. G. Hicks, Herbert Bannister, Ivan Dodson, Wayne Boren and Robert H. Curmutte Jr.

Valentine Party For Duce Club.

Miss Janice Erwin was hostess to the Duce Bridge Club at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Erwin, last Thursday evening with a Valentine party. Miss Lora Mae Scott received a dainty compact as the high score prize in bridge play.

The Valentine motif was perfectly carried out in score pads, tallies and refreshments. Pretty red mint cups with red and white heart-shaped mints were party favors.

A plate of salad, creamed cheese sandwiches, olives, cherry pie and coffee was passed to the following: Miss Evelyn Erwin, a guest, and Misses Bonnie Miller, Margaret Jenkins, Gwen Gray, Saxton West, Johanna Mathison, Mildred Stokes, Mattie Vina Harrell, Jan Thompson, Mavis Webb, Frances Chenuault, Dorothy Darby, Charles Ella Hamlett, Lora Mae Scott and Allene Curry, club members.

Nine Guests Are Present at El Feliz.

Nine guests and 13 members were present at the meeting of El Feliz Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Strayhorn. Mrs. W. J. Ely, president, had charge during the short business meeting, and the usual games of forty-two were enjoyed, with dainty Valentine appointments.

A salad plate with coffee was passed to the following: Mrs. Joe Stinson, O. P. Thrane, J. W. Scott, Roy Strayhorn, Edgar Taylor, W. W. Smith, Pearl Shannon, J. C. Dorward and P. C. Chenuault, club guests; and Mrs. W. E. Doak, A. J. Cody, Lee T. Stinson, Frank Farmer, W. M. Scott, Charles B. Reed, Nea B. Sisk, R. J. Randals, W. J. Ely, Wade Winston, Fred A. Grayum, H. L. Vann and R. H. Odum, club members.

Next meeting of the club will be Husband's Evening, at the home of Mrs. H. J. Brice next Thursday evening, February 22.

Senior B. T. U. Has Party at Watkins'.

Members of the Faith B. T. U. of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a Valentine-kid party at the home of its president, Miss Mable Watkins, Tuesday evening. Attendants came dressed as kids and each brought a Valentine to be placed in a big box and later drawn out.

A number of kid games were enjoyed, and prizes were awarded to Germaine Shuler and Fred Jones.

Refreshments were served to the following at the close of the evening's entertainment: Maxine Shuler, Mavis Shuler, Geraldine Shuler, Ollie Niedecken, Lucille Niedecken, Edna Mae Dunnam, Ruby Dunnam, Netha Lynn Rogers, Nadine Sumruld, Evelyn Worley and Alma Etheredge; and Burney Dunnam and Fred Jones.

W. M. Scotts Have Friendly Fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott entertained Friendly Fellows and guests last Thursday evening. Following enjoyable games of forty-two the hostess passed a lovely plate to those present.

Guests were Messrs. and Mrs. W. J. Ely, W. W. Smith, Wade Winston and W. G. Williams, Mrs. J. C. Stinson and E. W. Stinchcomb of Abilene. Members present were Messrs. and Mrs. J. S. Bradbury, W. A. Morton, W. R. Bell, Joe Monroe and Hugh Taylor.

A Valentine theme was carried out in score pads and tallies for the party.

Theatre Party Given.

Misses Grace Holcomb and Eda McFarland entertained members of the Willing Workers Class of the First Methodist Church and their teacher, Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, with a theatre party Tuesday evening at the Palace Theatre. Candy and mints were passed to the party during the show.

Sports Club Has Kid Party Tuesday.

The Lucky 13 Sports Club members and their escorts were entertained last Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Florentz Winston with a kid party. Miss Estine Dorward was co-hostess with Miss Winston.

All attendants came dressed as kids—Miss Sadie Tell Jenkins and Aubrey Wiese winning the prizes as the most typical. Miss Jenkins wore a lavender gingham and organdy frock, which was extremely short. Her hair was arranged in plaits down her back and tied with a big bow of lavender ribbon. Aubrey wore knee pants hanging down around her ankles, and his hair was disarranged in the true kid fashion.

Prizes were awarded in several contests, and double bubble gum, chocolate kisses and suckers were passed all during the evening.

The hostess passed cake and cocoa to the happy group of "kids" at the close of the evening's entertainment. The following were present: Frances Stinson, Roberta Ely, LaFrances Hamilton, Irene Spears, Netha Lynn Rogers, Evelyn Erwin, Frances Northcutt, Sadie Tell Jenkins, Woodie Hairston, Rosser Chapman, Bobby Mitchell, Grady Ferguson, Fred Jones, William Miller, Sam Joyce, William Boren, Aubrey Wiese and Bernard Longbotham.

Junior Honor Group Initiates Members.

Thursday night, February 8, in the home of Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, nine students were initiated into the Junior National Honor Society. Two students were old members, but had not been initiated.

Principal R. L. Williams had charge of the initiation. Several torturous measures were undergone by the new students, which will not be forgotten soon.

These being initiated served a delightful refreshment plate to the old members and guests. The new members initiated were Elizabeth McCarty, H. C. Shuler, Louise Hardin, Mary Helen Bolin, Ernestine Morton, Ruth Davis and Fern Iverson. The old members were Virginia Egerton and James Stewart.

Charter members attending the meeting were Josephine Kelley, Doris Davis, Victor Baze, Joetta Beauchamp, Dorothy Terry and Marie Oliver. Guests were Misses Effie McLeod and Maurine Cunningham; Mrs. Dora Cunningham and R. L. Williams; and R. L. Williams and H. Reeves and the hostess.

San Souci Meets At Norred Home.

Mrs. Munger Y. Lewis was hostess to the San Souci Club and guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. Norred, Tuesday evening. High score prizes went to Mrs. C. J. Sims, guest, and Miss Neoma Strayhorn, member.

A lovely plate was passed to the following: Mrs. E. J. Anderson, Melvin Blackard, Herman Darby and James Ralph Hicks, and Misses Mattie Ross and Maurine Cunningham, Edith Grantham and Neoma Strayhorn, members; and Mrs. Clark Miller, Hilton Lambert, J. C. Dorward and C. J. Sims and Miss Bonnie Gary, guests.

Reading Club Is Organized.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Hilton Lambert, a group of grammar school children met to organize "The Reading Club." The meeting was at Mrs. Lambert's home last Wednesday afternoon, and the group will meet twice a month—first and third Wednesday afternoons. Their purpose is to improve their reading.

Officers elected are: Billie Jean Wilford, president; Mary Ellen Brown, vice president; Margaret Gray, secretary; Bertie Mary Smith, treasurer; and Nell Verna LeMond, reporter.

Members include the following: Elwanda Spears, Vivian Nell Wilford, Mary Jo Hulsey, Billy Caskey, Leal Cox, Forrest Crowder, LaNell White, Julia Mae McDonald, Oleta Hard, Margaret Gray, Billie Jean Wilford, Mary Ellen Brown, Bertie Mary Smith and Nell Verna LeMond.

Monthly Pains Relieved

Women who take CARDUI have found that severe monthly pains have been relieved, and that by continued use of it for a reasonable length of time their strength has been renewed and their general health improved.

"I am glad to speak a few words for Cardui, the medicine I have taken for a weak, run-down condition, for bad pains in my side and back and for irregular periods," writes Mrs. Roy Chandler, of Cusseta, Ala. "Cardui straightened me out and I felt 100 per cent better. It certainly helped me."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Mrs. N. B. Moore Honored Friday.

Honoring their mother, Mrs. N. B. Moore, Mmes. J. W. Rogers and W. P. King entertained with a surprise birthday party Friday afternoon. The guests arrived at Mrs. Moore's home to completely surprise her on her 66th birthday.

Mrs. Moore has been a resident of Scurry County for over 30 years, and she enjoys perfect health. Decorations for the party were in the Valentine motif. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon, and a salad plate with coffee was passed. Dainty Valentines were party favors received by each one present. Birthday gifts were delivered—a whole basketful of them—to the honoree in a pretty basket.

The following names were placed on the heart-shaped register as guests arrived for the party: Mmes. R. W. Cunningham, Will Crowder, E. E. Thompson, W. P. Thompson, John Miller, Ben Peterson, J. O. Temple, W. R. Bell, J. Monroe, G. S. Conroe, Nettie Wasson, Pierce, E. J. King, Ben P. Smith, Pat A. Johnston, Ella E. Barrett, J. H. Hamlett, George W. Brown, O. D. Dial, Mrs. Media Thompson and the hostesses.

T. E. L. Class Has Wednesday Meeting.

Wednesday afternoon the T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. F. M. Brownfield. The meeting was opened by the singing of the class song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," and Mrs. G. B. Clark led in prayer.

Reports of officers and committees were given, and a list of prospective members was read. Mrs. J. A. Woodfin resigned as teacher of the class, and Mrs. W. W. Gross was selected as her successor.

Following the business session, Mrs. Woodfin conducted a Bible quiz on stewardship. The hostess was assisted by Mmes. J. D. Isaacs, May and E. E. Bibbee in passing a salad course with spiced tea and cookies to 13 members and two guests.

Alathean S. S. Class In Meeting Thursday.

The Alathean Class of the First Baptist Church Sunday school met in regular business and social meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. B. M. West. An interesting meeting was had, as various committee reports were given to show the great amount of work done by the class during the month of January.

During the social hour Mrs. J. O. Spears conducted a Bible contest, and refreshments were passed to 12 members by Mmes. West, Lora Miller and W. T. Murphree, hostesses.

W. M. Scotts Have Friendly Fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott entertained Friendly Fellows and guests last Thursday evening. Following enjoyable games of forty-two the hostess passed a lovely plate to those present.

Guests were Messrs. and Mrs. W. J. Ely, W. W. Smith, Wade Winston and W. G. Williams, Mrs. J. C. Stinson and E. W. Stinchcomb of Abilene. Members present were Messrs. and Mrs. J. S. Bradbury, W. A. Morton, W. R. Bell, Joe Monroe and Hugh Taylor.

A Valentine theme was carried out in score pads and tallies for the party.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

Our Life-Giving Assets. Says President Roosevelt: "We think of our land and water and human resources not as static and sterile possessions but as life-giving assets to be directed by wise provision for future use."

Taxes Cost More Than Food. "What is the largest item in your family's budget?" the Industrial News Review wants to know. "If you answer food, clothing, rent or similar expenses, on which you spend the bulk of your income directly, you'll be wrong. Taxes are the largest item of expense carried by the American people—and they lead their nearest rival, food, $9,000,000,000 to $7,600,000,000 a year."

Terracing Takes Its Place. "Plans for terracing in 1935 are so widespread," says the Extension Service, "that it almost seems as if general recognition of the necessity for this work had been at last achieved. People are terracing for soil conservation, for water conservation and for flood control."

Our Work Relief Bankroll. It is difficult to envision the following figures released last week by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator: At the close of 1934, 6,229 work relief projects were being operated, and during the month of December there were 158,940 work relief cases; about 3,000 projects were completed during the year; labor earned $13,000,000 on these projects between April and December 31. It is still more difficult to envision what would have happened to Texas without these projects.

Depositors Are Protected. Arguments as to whether confidence has definitely improved under the Roosevelt administration will continue far into the night. But an anti has no chance if he tries to argue against Roosevelt's restoration of confidence. Fear for the safety of banks has practically disappeared, for most bank deposits are insured against loss to the depositor. It is this sort of confidence building that has decreased depression signs still definitely linger on.

How Texas Population Grows. Vital statistics records for Texas last year show 87,956 more births than deaths. A total of 63,552 deaths were recorded; 121,508 births. That means a new baby every four minutes, and a death every eight minutes. Texas is in the registration area for both births and deaths for the second year. Everyone can assist to keep state records in this high requirement if they insist that every birth and death occurring in their family is registered, points out Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

The Legislature's Temper. "The temper of the 44th Legislature, at this early stage, is very distinctly one of investigation and regulation," writes an Austin observer. Bravol! One of the sure signs that American ingenuity and resourcefulness are far from an end is the fact that representatives of the people are constantly on the lookout for shady practices and "intangibles." Even if they do nothing more than show would-be pork-barrel eaters that Texas will not stand for too much dodging, they will have earned their investigation salt.

Congratulations, Schools. Scurry County schools are to be congratulated for the manner in which they have gone after gymnasiums this year. Hermleigh already offers general physical education for its students in its indoor space, and Ft. Vananna, Ira and Pylon will soon be in the procession. The big thing about these projects is that they will give every student an opportunity to take part in indoor sports. Basketball is a minor consideration as far as ultimate good to the school systems and to the students is concerned.

He Who Readeth Not, Knoweth Not. Reams of publicity regarding the state's new car license arrangements have been published and quoted in recent weeks, yet a car turns up now and then with the 1935 tags attached. One transient who came through Snyder last Saturday even reported that the Nolan County sheriff told him it was all right to use the new tags during February. Just to keep the records straight: Buy your 1935 tags now, to avoid the rush, if you must, but don't put them on the old bus before April 1 unless you want to risk getting in a jam.

The Shelter Belt Is Coming. The much-talked shelter belt of trees for mid-United States will be planted in part in the spring, according to the United States Forest Service. Six states—North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas—will benefit from this combined windbreak, dust break, rainfall conservation and heat control project. It is entirely possible that future generations will look back on the tree planting idea as the finest thing that came out of the Roosevelt administration, for it is undoubtedly a prime conservator of natural resources.

The Times Creed: For the cause that needs assistance; For the wrongs that need resistance; For the future in the distance, And the good that we can do.

The Tenant-Landlord Clause. One of the most logical arguments against cotton acreage control when the idea first began booming was that the contracts would lead to wholesale eviction of tenants. In short, said opponents, including such astute observers as The Texas Weekly, landlords will take advantage of the situation for their own benefit.

Those who fostered the reduction plan contended that landlords would be stopped from evicting tenants by paragraph No. 7 from the 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract, which reads in part as follows: "The producer . . . shall, insofar as possible maintain . . . the normal number of tenants to continue in the occupancy of their houses . . . rent free, for the year 1934 and 1935, respectively . . ."

Besides, said cotton reduction proponents, not many landlords, especially in West Texas, would take advantage of the situation for their own benefit. Now come ironclad facts to prove that a few West Texas landlords are violating not only the spirit but the actual letter of the reduction contract, and a sprinkling of these landlords own Scurry County land. Tenants who were evicted on one excuse or another are in most instances now forced to get actual necessities of life through relief channels. They believed they were safely installed for the year as far as bare food, clothing and shelter were concerned.

But they were badly fooled. They did not reckon with landlords who saw that if they could "get by" with tenant eviction they could profit to a greater extent from terms of the contracts that cover their cotton acres. The cotton section of AAA is alert to the situation, as evidenced by a letter received yesterday by the county agent, and published elsewhere in The Times. Evidently, necessary steps will be taken to protect unjustly evicted tenants, but section 7 will not be used as a cloak to protect the tenant who deliberately violates his end of the contract.

The Times hardly thinks that a few selfish landlords will be allowed to injure a program that has meant so much to Scurry County and other cotton raising sections.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

DOWN ON THE FARM. Song writers and poets from the days of William Greenleaf Whittier have sung of the glories and the pleasures of life down on the farm.

Buttermilk, country sausage, your own vine and fig tree, have developed a new meaning as a result of the praise of life on the farm. In West Texas, where the country is newer, where the lack of rainfall has made it difficult to produce fruits and vegetables, life on the farm has not received such peans of praise as in the older states.

The traditional old homestead mansions of colonial brick have not as yet graced the broad acres of West Texas ranchlands, even where its owner might have achieved great wealth. To get down to brass tacks, all of us know that life on the farm has not been anything like as rosy as life in even the small towns or the cities. The average West Texas farm house is not a very inviting affair. Look at them along the road as you go back and forth across the country. See how inviting they are? Do they spell an easy life to you?

Certainly they do not. Few have trees—less have any grass. Fewer have running water—still fewer electric lights or refrigeration. Women can be seen carrying in wood, milk, and in the cotton season whole families may be found in the cotton patch. Yet with all its disadvantages—with all its troubles and its hard labor—we know that the farm is one of the most important elements in our national life. Here there are the necessities of life if not the luxuries or the refinements. Here is found the only place in America where there are as many children per family as among those families that are living and reproducing upon government relief. Here, if we are to judge the future by the past, we must bring forth the new generation that will save us from the generation that is coming out of the relief camps. Here, today as it has been in ages past, is the hope of America.

Surely the farm is important to us all. Surely everything that tends to make farm life better should be encouraged by every thoughtful citizen. Not only should farm life be improved for the present farmers, but we should make it possible for more families to get back on the farm. We need to not only do what we can to bring prosperity to the farm—but we need to bring refinements and comforts and conveniences to the farm. Tom Green County cannot afford to deprive its rural population of the benefits of the service of a home demonstration agent. There is no comparison between the benefits of this service, competently administered, than road dragging for instance, or any other service which the county taxpayer received for his taxes except perhaps the protection of the lives and property of its citizens.

The new Commissioners' Court cannot justify a position that will eliminate the home demonstration work in Tom Green County—San Angelo Standard-Times.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE OUR READERS' VIEWS

Water Conservation as Means of Future Seasons.

Editors, The Scurry County Times: I am constrained to write at this time on the question of water conservation as a means for future rains and seasons in this country. There is no more important question now before the people of all our Northwest states, and recently a writer of national reputation has stated that unless we immediately turn to conservation of our natural rainfall and the storage of flood water we will see in the future drinking water hauled as far west as Wyoming.

Our late W. C. Wilmett was an advocate of flood water conservation for a number of years, and along with him many others have held to the idea that something ought to be done to preserve our natural rainfall in the matter of storage of our flood waters. These extreme drouths in the minds of experts is the result of dry moisture conditions, and that rains are made by reason of evaporation. In other words, it is just too dry to rain.

There is now going on in Texas a large program of flood conservation through the efforts of our Board of Water Engineers, and we want to suggest here that our Commissioners' Court and Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations take this matter up and application be made to the Board of State Water Conservation at Austin to have our streams in Scurry County surveyed, and a system of lakes recommended to be established in every section of our county, as well as small dams built on our small streams to catch and hold the water that eventually finds its way into the Gulf of Mexico.

There ought to be built on Deep Creek a system of low dams every three or four miles apart throughout the distance of the stream in Scurry County, and also on Little and Big Sulphur, Bull Creek and other streams of the county. Also in addition to these dams on our streams every prominent draw in the county should be dammed and a lakes system established.

Now, the question naturally arises, "Where is the money to come from for this work?" We suggest that application be made to the government for projects and funds for the establishment and maintenance of these conservation enterprises. Work of this kind would be worth far more to the people of Scurry County than the road work now being carried on. A program of this kind should be established and carried on in every county and in every state in the Southwest. Not only will we change our seasons by reasons of creating a moisture condition, we could stock these lakes with fish, which would prove a means of additional food supply, and instead of a semi-drouth section, we would eventually make this country one of seasons and certain crop production.

These thoughts are offered for your consideration and we hope that steps will be taken at once, looking to a state survey and a recommendation by state authorities, toward the consummation of these much needed projects.—Ben F. Smith.

Favors H. D. Agent. To those of Scurry County who are interested and disinterested in 4-H Club work:

Because of my very humiliating habit of being too bashful to say what I want to in a public place, I'm going to write what I meant to say.

I will repeat my statistics: There are practically 2400 families residing in Scurry County today. Our home demonstration agent gets $600 a year from the county taxes. This means that each taxpayer has to pay her 25 cents per year. We pay her $50 per month, the state pays $100 per month. If the state puts $2 with our $1 to buy something and we don't buy it, don't you think we are rather foolish, if it is worth anything at all?

In 1930 the census gave Scurry County a population of 12,000 inhabitants (it is more now, no doubt). Six hundred dollars divided by 12,000 equals to five cents per person. In my heart I know that the things Miss Ward teaches us about what is best for us to eat, how to prepare food, and how to fix up our garden to raise this food; also to sew things to fit, prepare our wardrobes, fix up our rooms and numbers and numbers of other things, is worth a lot more than five cents each.

Most of you farming men of Scurry County care about your teams and tools. You want them to be good and you are proud for other men to see them and brag on them.

We women, too, are proud of what we have, and accomplish, but we are more proud still when we have a group of women to see what we have done and brag on it—it's human nature to do a little better when we have a little friendly competition, and the home demonstration clubs are a mighty good place to learn to do things best.

A real nice lady (I'm very sorry to have forgotten where she was from, although her name was Smith, I think) suggested yesterday that if the commissioners do not let us keep Miss Ward that we would each donate a hen until we made up enough money to keep her. That's a fine idea, I think, and I'm very much in favor of trying this if we can't keep her otherwise. A good managing farmer's wife knows that a good laying hen is well worth keeping any time, but so is Miss Ward!—Mrs. J. E. Sorrells, Bison.

CURRENT COMMENT By LEON GUINN

With Congress in session, one may expect some notable things to occur before the 1935 session ends. The speakership chair is filled by no other than Joseph Wellington Byrns, cigar smoking (2 for 5c) Democrat, and majority leader in Congress last year. . . . Rather painful at times with his flair for details, members insist "Joe Byrns has the most irritating memory on the floor." . . . Mr. Byrns prefers to be called by his Tennessee nickname, "Uncle Joe," a nickname that goes back to the Hermitage District where Andrew Jackson lived. . . . A number of new faces appear in this session, and impartial observers see a high batting average due from: Joseph T. Robinson, Senate Democratic leader, Warren R. Austin (Rep. Ver.) Bankhead (Dem. Ala.), Marvin Jones (Dem. Tex.), McNary, Senate Republican leader, George H. Mahon (Dem. Tex.), and slick wire pulling by John Nance Garner, quietest vice president.

By the way, whatever became of the late Brain Trusters? . . . To be frank most of their theories are locked up in basement files. . . . The wild ballyhoo of NRA attaches has been lowered to a smooth purring, and at the demand of Franklin D. Roosevelt, most of the radical trend in policy has been softened in general terms. . . . Most senators now have the general idea that an ounce of caution might be worth more than passing a few danger signals, and in the maze of alphabet agencies, astute congressmen see a lot of relief, since without the numerous federal agencies ranging from AAA to TVA everyone knows 25 per cent of the nation would be on relief. . . . A few senators do not exactly hate themselves, but all members are aware that Mr. Roosevelt is still in command. . . . If Mr. Roosevelt can get 50 per cent of his program okayed, each congressman should be in line for an ABC button (Association of Benevolent Congressmen). . . . The summary of most calendar items is that labor, industry and capital must cooperate with charity toward all; malice toward a very few.

At last the inspiring Washington Monument is being cleaned, painted and overhauled for those Washington pilgrims that must see the city from this imposing spire. . . . At the top of this 555 feet obelisk is to be found 170 platinum pointed lightning rods, costing $8 each. . . . Surprised was International News Photographic Service to find recently 107 of the points missing, after harping about daring thieves might steal the rods in question. . . . Lightning rods are somewhat of a novelty, dating back to Benjamin Franklin, who invented them. . . . One hasn't truly seen Washington until one has viewed the exquisite Lincoln Memorial from the obelisk's tip.

WORDS OF WISE . . . MEN . . . FROM HERE AND THERE

To be remembered forget your self.

Neither men nor mules kick and pull at the same time. Once bit twice shy. Remember that "American" ends in "I-can."

Our thoughts make us, our words reveal us. Marriage is the end of trouble—the first end. When you argue with a fool, he is doing the same thing. Money buys only the cheaper things.

Conceit is nature's gift to little men. A pint of rye makes a peck of trouble. We are blessed only as we bless others.

A healthful discontent makes for progress. Woman is most lovable when most a woman. Better inquire twice than go wrong once.

Men watch the clock most when sleeping on the job. Flattery is sweet food for those who can swallow it. The men who move the world are men the world can't move. Civilization is the history of surrounding difficulties—Hoover.

Custom always makes wrong things "right." We like the man who lets us do the talking. A lost opportunity never finds its way back. The end of passion is the beginning of regret. Don't put things off, put them over.

Home kisses keeps lips from angry words. Who blows his own horn often toots a solo. Sweetest the song wherein the singer is lost.

Who best serves the devil doesn't believe in one. Who takes the pains takes the prize. Beware of a still dog, still water or a still woman.

Robbers' Roost

by ZANE GREY

THE STORY

Chapter I—Jim Wall, young cowpuncher from Wyoming, in the early days of the cattle industry, seeks a new field in Utah. He meets Hank Hays, who admits to being a robber, and tells Wall he is working for an Englishman named Herrick, who has located a big ranch in the mountains. Herrick has employed a small army of rustlers and gun-fighters, and Hays and others are plotting to steal their employer's cattle and money. Hays wants Wall to throw in with the rustlers.

Chapter II—At the little settlement of Green River, Hays gets into an argument with a gambler called Stud, over a poker game. Wall saves Hank's life by bluffing the gambler out of shooting. With Hays and two other rustlers, Happy Jack and Lincoln, Jim Wall starts out for Herrick's ranch. In camp, the first night out, Jim regrets the step he has taken, but it is too late to turn back.

Chapter III—The four men arrive at the ranch. Herrick announces that his sister, Helen, is coming to the ranch. Herrick's plan for getting possession of the 12,000 head of cattle on the Herrick ranch, and his lieutenants ride away to drive off the first bunch of live-stock. Jim remains behind to shoot it out, if necessary, with Heeseman. Hays' rival among the cattle rustlers, Jim sees a dust cloud, which he is certain denotes the arrival of Heeseman and his gang. He stands with rifle ready.

Chapter IV—Heeseman tells Wall that Hays was once his (Heeseman's) partner and double-crossed him. Herrick delegates Jim to go to Grand Junction to meet Miss Herrick. Jim gets Barnes, a young cowboy with him, to tell her that he (Jim) is a desperado of the worst type. Barnes does so, but the girl treats the information lightly.

Chapter V—On his arrival at the ranch, with Helen, Jim is confronted by Hays, who betrays unusual interest in the coming of Miss Herrick. Jim tells Hays that Miss Herrick brought a Wells Fargo package, probably of money. Jim goes riding with the Herricks and greatly impresses Helen with his revolver shooting.

Chapter VI—The cattle drives to Grand Junction are started. Jim Wall finds Helen falling in love with Helen. He coaches her in riding western style, and finally kisses her. She is angry and dismisses him, but relents and asks him not to leave the ranch. Hays men return from the drive with the stolen cattle. The leader has sold the cattle and brought back the money. A quick getaway is imperative. Hays tells his men to go on ahead, that he will join them at a certain canyon. The riders arrive at the canyon and to their amazement and Jim's dismay, Hays and a lieutenant are sighted with Helen Herrick—a captive.

Chapter VII—The gang is about to break with Hays over the abduction, but he explains that he robbed Herrick and stole Helen for ransom. Realizing that Helen will be worse off if she falls into Heeseman's clutches, Jim Wall rides on with Hank and his men. Heeseman's riders are discovered in pursuit. After a running battle in which Lattimer, one of Hays' men, is wounded, Hays leads the gang into a canyon retreat, difficult of access and easy to defend—The Robbers' Roost.

Chapter VIII—After camp has been made, Jim seeks out Smoky, Sloucm, and secures his promise to aid in case Helen is threatened with harm by the villainous Hays. Jim hears a wild cry in the night.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

After a moment Lattimer drew a long breath and resumed: "Hank picked me because he had a hold on me. . . . After you fellows left that night Hank went out an' got another hoss. He had a saddle hid somewhere. We took them hosses up the bench back of the house an' tied them. Then we went down toward the house."

"Ahhh. He'd had this deal in mind all the time," said Smoky, nodding his head.

"Yes. Before we got to the house he told me he meant to hold Herrick up fer what money he had on hand—then steal the girl fer ransom. I opened my trap to kick again' the girl part of it, anyway, but he cussed me somethin' fierce. I seen then he was blood set on it, so I shet up. . . . Herrick was in the livin' room. We walked round the house, an' Hank showed me the girl's winder, which was open. . . . Wal, we went back, an' up on the porch, an' into the livin' room. "When Herrick looked up Hank threw a gun on him. "Keep quiet an' shall out your money," Hank ordered. That didn't faze the Englishman. He jumped up, thunderin' mad. Hank hit him over the head, cuttin' a gash. That didn't knock Herrick out, but it made him fight till Hank got him good and hard. Then he opened his desk an' threw out some packages of greenbacks. After that he slid to the floor. Next Hank ordered me to go out an' round to the girl's winder. It was bright moonlight, but I didn't locate that winder quick. An' at that time I was guided to it by the girl's voice. . . . Gimme another drink." Lattimer quenched his inordinate thirst again, while Jim and Smoky exchanged thoughtful glances over him.

the girl sittin' up in bed, white as the sheets about her. Hank had a gun pointed at her head, an' he was sayin' if she yelled, he'd shoot. Then he told me to look around fer money and jewels. I started then, kep' an eye on them. The room was as moonlight as outdoors. Hank told her to get up an' dress fer ridin'. She refused, an' he yanked her clean out of bed. "Gurl," he said, "your brother is hawg-tied down in the livin' room, an' if you don't do as I say, I'll kill him. . . ."

"That'll wait, Jim. No hurry. An' I'm not so shore Sparrow wanted us to argue with a gambler called Stud, over a poker game. Wall saves Hank's life by bluffing the gambler out of shooting. With Hays and two other rustlers, Happy Jack and Lincoln, Jim Wall starts out for Herrick's ranch. In camp, the first night out, Jim regrets the step he has taken, but it is too late to turn back.

Chapter III—The four men arrive at the ranch. Herrick announces that his sister, Helen, is coming to the ranch. Jim remains behind to shoot it out, if necessary, with Heeseman. Hays' rival among the cattle rustlers, Jim sees a dust cloud, which he is certain denotes the arrival of Heeseman and his gang. He stands with rifle ready.

When Herrick looked up Hank threw a gun on him.

"How much was there?" asked Smoky, curiously, when Lattimer paused to catch his breath.

"I'll come to that. . . . We went out the winder, an' Hank hustled her into the woods, with me followin'. Soon we come to the hosses, an' Hank put the gurl up on the gray. He blindfolded her an' told me to see she didn't git away. The girl talked a blue streak, but she wasn't so scared, except when we heard a shot, then someone runnin' on hard ground. Hank come back pronto, pantin' like a lassod bull. He said he'd run plump into Progar an' another of Heeseman's outfit."

"Miss Herrick," he says, "them fellers was bent on robbin' your brother—ebbe killin' him. I shot Progar, but the other got away."

"He tied the bundle on his hoss, an' leadin' the girl's hoss he rode up the mountain. We rode the rest of the night, stoppin' to rest at daylight. Hyar I turned the money an' trinkets over to Hank. He counted the money Herrick had turned over—somethin' more'n sixteen thousand—but he never opened the Wells-Fargo package I'd found in the girl's trunk. . . . That's all, fellers. We rode till noon, meetin' you as agreed in the cedars."

"What was in that Wells-Fargo package?" asked Smoky, after a long pause.

"Money. Hundred dollar bills. I tore a corner of the paper off. It was a thick an' heavy package. "Ahhh. So Hank went south with that an' the jewelry?"

"Yes. When he made the divvy hyar he give me his share of that sixteen thousand. It's hyar in my coat. You an' Jim air welcome to

It 'Cause where I'm goin'—I won't need any." "Sparrow, it was a long story for a sick man—an' hard to tell," said Smoky, feelingly. "Jim an' me will respect your confidence. An' if you pull through—as I hope you do—we'll never squeak. . . . But pard, don't be surprised at what comes off."

Five days later Sparrowhawk Lattimer died during the night, after a short interval of improvement which gave his comrades renewed hope. He passed away alone, evidently in agony, to judge from his distorted face.

"Wal, I don't know but that Sparrow's better off," remarked Smoky, with pathos.

They buried him in his tarpaulin on the spot, and divided his effects among them by drawing lots.

"What'd you do with the money you found on him?" queried Hays. "We didn't find none. Sparrow gave it to me an' Jim some days ago," replied Smoky.

"Reckon you better divide it." "Ump-umm," rejoined Smoky, nonchalantly, his headly little eyes on the chief.

"Why not?" "Wal, Sparrow wanted us to have it, not I, reckon, because we took care of him when you forgot, but jest because he cottoned to us."

"Smoky, tell Hays the other reason," spoke up Jim.

He had played for days, won and lost, all in the interest of the scheme fermenting in his mind. He wanted to be alone. If nothing else intervened, this gambling would lead to the inevitable quarrel. Whether Hays won all the money or lost what he had, there would be a fight.

At once a restless, baffled, harried condition of mind seemed to leave Jim. To face those men hour after hour, day after day, hiding his thoughts, had engendered irritation. When the split came and the shooting began Jim wanted to be around. He would help it along considerably.

One day, when he was returning to camp, somewhat before sunset, he heard a shot. He listened for others. None came.

The moment he entered the oval, to see Hays striding for the cabin, his hair standing up, and his men grouped outside of the camp shelter, Jim knew that there had been trouble.

"What now, Smoky?" "Hank did fer Brad." "How? Why? . . . You don't mean Hays beat Lincoln to a gun?" "He did, Jim," ejaculated Sloucm.

"He bored Brad. I was the only feller who seen it. The rest was duckin'."

"What was it about, Smoky?" "Wal, Brad had been gittin' sorer every day, an' today we cleaned him. Brad opened up on Hank, no doubt meanin' to call him fer fair. But Brad didn't git goin' good before Hank went fer his mind."

"Smoky, he had his mind made up," declared Jim, tensely.

"Shore. That's the queer part of it. Hank was not goin' to let Brad spit out much. . . . An' friend Jim, that's a bunch fer us."

"Hays can't beat me to a gun," rejoined Jim, with a cold ring in his voice.

"Nor me either. That's a safe bet."

"They reached the camp. Lincoln lay face down over the table, his right arm hanging low, his gun lying near his hand."

"Lend a hand, some of you," ordered Sloucm, peremptorily.

They carried Lincoln, face down, across the oval to the lower side of the cottonwood grove, and in half an hour he had been consigned to earth, and his possessions divided among the men who had buried him.

"Grave number two," speculated Smoky. "Pellers, it runs in my mind that Robbers' Roost in these 20 years will be sprinkled all over with graves."

"How so, when nobody has any idee where it is?" "Heeseman will find it, an' Morley an' after them many more," concluded Smoky, prophetically.

"Let's rustle out of the hole," suggested Bridges.

First Baptist Church

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on "The Comforter." This is the fifth in a series of messages on the Holy Spirit. For those who have sorrows, burdens or bear crosses, this message will especially be helpful. There will be special music. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A corps of well-trained and efficient teachers teach 40 classes each Sunday morning, a class for each age and group. We want to share with all of our people the good of regular Bible study and the influence of Sunday school attendance.

The Baptist Training Union hour is 6:30 p. m. Training is a prerequisite to church usefulness and denominational loyalty.

The subject for the evening hour is "The Power of the Holy Spirit." The choir will furnish a chorus in connection with a duet for the special music.

Welcome, thrice welcome—Lawrence Hays, pastor.

AGENT PRAISES COMMITTEEMEN

Sign-Up Speeded After Reduction Program FOR BANKHEAD ADMINISTRATION

"With the experience of the cotton acreage reduction program to aid, and by using as a nucleus the committees that had served so faithfully in that program, the Bankhead applications were handled far more speedily and efficiently," the county agent wrote in the report of his work for 1934.

"The various community committees began taking these applications in their community centers July 30, after two teams had talked the previous week at these places, explaining the act as best it could be interpreted upon such short notice.

"The sign-up was rather rapid and the necessary adjustment quickly made, due not only to a better understanding of the program, but also the fact that the drought had reduced the prospective yield to the lowest in years. The applications were tabulated and sent to the State Allotment Board early in September. On September 26, O. P. Thrane, chairman of the county cotton committee, and Homer E. Thompson, the adjustment assistant, returned from College Station with the Bankhead certificates. After taking up the interim certificates issued to the farmers, the certificates were issued to the farmers, beginning October 1.

"During the latter part of August and into September, interim certificates were issued equivalent to 40 per cent of the contract base or its equivalent. Some 1,200 were issued and these proved very helpful in handling the ginning situation.

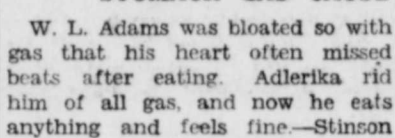

"As a whole the Bankhead administration moved along very smoothly and the State Allotment Board and District Agent Tumlinson are to be commended for the speed and efficiency in handling the contracts and issuing the certificates, and Mr. Tumlinson for his efforts in bringing out the various speakers of the cotton section and A. M. Bourland of the state board. These men did much to aid this agent in getting the program explained to the farmers of the county.

"Approximately 4,000,000 pounds of Bankhead certificates have been pooled from this county, with approximately 1,000,000 yet unused and in the hands of the producers. No. Bankhead applications, 1,495 Total No. bales allotted, 18,696

An enjoyable P-T-A program was rendered at the school house Friday night. At the opening of the program, the Snyder High School principal, R. L. Williams, made a very interesting talk. It was followed by these numbers: a song by Mr. and Mrs. Holly Shuler; a monologue by Lois Bynum; a song by Jerry Crumley and Mona Bynum; a reading by Wilmena Mull; a song by R. L. Jones and son, Virgil; a reading by Miss Fihel Lynn Hays and Eugene Jones, respectively; and then a little play by Laymona Gillmore, Virgil Wallace Flippin, Dora and Mona Bynum and Clesie Weller. Mrs. Jim Tatum, Mrs. J. A. Fowler and Lester Gladson were named to serve as program committee for Friday night, March 8. We were very glad to have Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Williams and Mrs. Edna Tucker of Snyder with us.

S. D. Hays Jr., who is attending college at Fort Worth, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hays. The Bethel basket ball girls played Turner Friday evening at Turner, and tied them, 16-16.

Miss Annie Dee Lincecum spent the week-end with her sister, Ella Mae Lincecum of Crowder.

The Ira basket ball boys came over Friday evening and defeated our boys, the score being 27-21.

Mrs. C. H. Hodge and son, Floyd, Mrs. Eulon Hodge and Willard Gladson returned Friday from Comanche County, where they have been visiting.

Maxine Watkins attended a slumber party given by Misses Christine and Valeri Robison of Northeast Snyder Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland and children of Snyder spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Watkins and children.

Mrs. Cooper of Snyder spent the week-end with Mrs. S. G. Lunsford.

Misses Vondal McIver of Snyder and Elura Jones spent Saturday night with Maxine Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Dingle had as their guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Overmier, and his brother, Maurice Dingle of Fort Worth.

Fights Auto Deaths

The vital need for Texas to take some steps to reduce its horrible death toll on highways was stressed in a recent speech of W. S. Pope (pictured above) casually commissioner of the Texas Insurance Board, before a representative group from all over the state, at Austin. Pope is the man who is daily impressed with the dangers of motoring—a ten-a-day death toll is the Texas average, with damages running millions annually. (Texas News Photos.)

Home Demonstration Club Notes . . .

4-H Club Girls Served.

The Fluvanna Home Demonstration Club met on last Friday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Smith. Lunch was served to the 4-H club girls. Miss Ward demonstrated making a hot-bed. The ladies had their regular meeting in the afternoon, at which time business was attended to. Then Miss Ward demonstrated making two leafy vegetables, pea soufflé and creamed cabbage. There were about 32 club women present.—Mrs. L. A. Haynes, reporter.

Mrs. Tom Brooks Hostess.

On January 31 there was a special meeting of the Crowder Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. T. McKinney. Miss Ward, the county home demonstration agent, was present to demonstrate the making of tile. Seventeen members attended. On Tuesday, February 5, the club members met at the home of Mrs. M. K. Lemons, our club president, for an all-day quilting party. Regular club meeting was February 7, at the home of Mrs. Tom Brooks, where we continued our pattern making. Next meeting will be February 21, at the home of Mrs. Biggs, and Miss Ward will be with us.—Mrs. Robert L. Johnson, reporter.

Miss Ward Demonstrates.

The Bison Home Demonstration Club met at Bison February 7. When Miss Ward arrived the club repaired to Mrs. Bryant's home. Miss Ward gave a demonstration on two vegetable dishes, namely, cream cabbage and green pea soufflé. The next meeting will be at Bison school building February 21. Ten members were present for our last meeting.—Mrs. C. M. Cary, reporter.

Pepper Hask.

Two large heads of cabbage chopped, two-thirds cup of salt. Let stand over night and drain. Twelve onions chopped, nine sweet peppers chopped, three red peppers chopped, one and one-half pounds sugar, two quarts cider vinegar, two tablespoonsful white mustard seed and two of celery seed. Mix well together. Will keep in open jars.

TEXAS HISTORY IN THE MAKING

The Battlefield of San Jacinto

Here is probably Texas' most hallowed ground—the Battlefield of San Jacinto, where the liberty of Texas was fought for and won. San Jacinto is classed as one of the decisive battles of the world. On April 21, 1836, General Sam Houston, with 733 men and two cannon donated by the citizens of Cincinnati, Ohio, suddenly attacked General Santa Anna and his force of 1,500 Mexicans while they slept out their afternoon siesta. The battle lasted but 18 minutes. Texas had two men killed and 23 wounded. The Mexicans had 630 killed, 208 wounded and 730 captured. Here the cry, "Remember the Alamo! Remember Goliad!" was first used, to be carried on forever in the traditions of Texas. San Jacinto Battlefield is located on Buffalo Bayou, a short distance from Houston. (Texas News Photos.)

Snow, did you say? Well, I think so. Some of the largest flakes we have ever seen fell here. It didn't last long, but everything is plenty muddy. We are just hoping it will come enough more snow or rain to make us a season.

There has been quite a bit of illness in our community this past week. Mrs. W. W. Sumruld, Lena Hamilton, Clark Nicks and Evar, and Marcus Hamilton have been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parks of Plainview visited in the W. W. Sumruld home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nichols and Miss Ruth Quinn of Snyder visited in the Marion Hamilton home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean L. Gilliland spent the week-end in Sweetwater. Several of this community attended the party in the home of Miss Callie DeShazo at Camp Springs.

Clark Nicks spent Sunday in the A. T. Nicks home at Loud Mountain.

Walter Sumruld has been visiting her son, Weldon, and wife the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hamilton and Dean L. Gilliland made a business trip to Colorado Monday.

Mrs. Weldon Sumruld, who has been seriously ill, is improved at this writing.

Evan Hamilton spent Saturday night with Doot Simpson at Camp Springs.

Mrs. H. A. Pylant visited in Colorado Monday evening.

Mrs. O. L. Ward, who has been ill, is improved some now.

DR. ROSSER IS NAMED HEALTH OFFICER AGAIN

Physician Calls Attention to His Summer Immunization of County Children.

Dr. H. E. Rosser, M. D., was re-named Tuesday morning by the Commissioners' Court as health officer for Scurry County. His new term will expire December 31, 1936. In his application for re-appointment to the place, Dr. Rosser called attention to his administration of 324 immunizing doses for diphtheria to Scurry County children. He also stated that "it has been my pleasure to reduce the cost of public health to Scurry County from $300 per month to around $20 per month during the last year's service."

The schedule of health officers' fees adopted for the term ending December 31, 1934, was again adopted by the court.

County Audit Accepted.

The Tuesday session of the court was a carryover from the regular Monday meeting. On Monday, in addition to considering the home demonstration work again, as outlined elsewhere in The Times, the court selected Snyder National Bank as depository for county funds, and accepted A. C. Preuitt's prepared 1934 county audit.

It was voted Tuesday that claims for burial services be allowed when affidavit is made by "two credible citizens" that no funds are available elsewhere. Burial fees set by the court range from $10 to $30.

Dr. Rosser's application for re-appointment to the place of county health officer reads as follows:

Rosser Application.

"It has been my pleasure to reduce the cost of public health to Scurry County from some $300 per month to around $20 per month during the last year's service. With the added burden that now threatens all Texas counties, the public health matter will have to be experienced hands if the cost is held down to safe limits, and I feel that I am better qualified to do that than any other accessible man."

"Should you favor me with the place again, I assure you I shall cooperate with your body to save the county every cent we can to keep the county on same basis."

"During the last summer it was my pleasure to administer 324 immunizing doses for diphtheria to Scurry County children, saving the citizens $1,134 had they had to buy and pay for the immunizations. I secured the vaccine from the state, and gave it without cost to the county or the patients. I only mention this to illustrate that good can be done without having it placed in the headlines of the county paper."

"My records and charges are in your records, and you have access to them to verify the above statements."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Loraine McCormick was in Lubbock Sunday.

Mrs. Lora Miller is visiting relatives in Tatum, New Mexico.

TEXAS HISTORY IN THE MORNING

—Goliad, Where 330 Texans Died

Mission in Bahia, a few miles from Goliad, will ever remain a shrine of all Texans. The mission, pictured above, was built in 1749 and formed the nucleus of the settlement of Goliad, one of the three Spanish outposts in Texas at that time, the other two being Nacogdoches and Bexar, now San Antonio. Here in 1812, Magee gave Salcedo, Mexican general, his first taste of Anglo-Saxon war tactics, and here Col. J. W. Fannin and his men surrendered honorably to Urrea, only to be slaughtered like dogs within sight of this mission. The massacre took place March 27, Palm Sunday, 1836, and of 357 Texans in that doomed band, only 27 escaped with their lives. Mission in Bahia is still used for worship today. (Texas News Photos.)

Scurry County Leads District in Highway Beautification Projects

Scurry County leads again. This time it is in the matter of highway beautification. In a recent session of Abilene district believers in promotion of roadside beauty, it was declared by W. A. French, district engineer, that Scurry took an easy lead over all other counties of the area.

Chief among this county's contributions to this new phase of state highway development is the little park just beyond Dermott. G. R. Austin, Scurry-Borden highway foreman, with his helpers, has brought the beauty spot through a drouthy year with the loss of only a few trees, says Mrs. Lee T. Stinson and Mrs. W. R. Bell, who were leaders in the roadside project last spring.

But the Dermott park is not the only tribute to this county's interest in highway beauty. Cacti and other plants have been set out along the new Highway No. 7 right-of-way just beyond the city limits. Other work has begun at the intersection of the new route with the old highway in North Snyder. Mr. Austin is anxious just now to get trees of hardy varieties for use in the new beauty spots. Those who wish to help are urged to get in touch with him.

Education of Public.

Plans for making highway routes more restful go hand in hand with a program of education for the general public, says Mrs. Stinson, the county highway beautification chairman. She especially points to education to:

1. Prevent fires which destroy trees, plants and flowers.
2. Demand stock law to prevent destruction of plants along highways and for safety of motorists.
3. Prevent dumping of trash on or near highway right-of-way.
4. Prevent erection of bill boards.
5. Clean up old dump yards, etc., near highways.
6. Beautify entrances to homes, buildings and vacant property.
7. Prevent destruction of beauty adjacent to highways.
8. Protect trees, plants and flowers growing or being planted on the right-of-way.

Beauticians to Lubbock.

Several local beauty shop operators are expected to be in Lubbock February 18, 19 and 20 to hear Walter Wilson of Dallas, F. Charles of Denver and Dr. Herbert C. Hughes of Amarillo, who will be featured on a three day beauty school and equipment show for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico beauty parlor owners and operators.

No Court Decision.

As The Times goes to press this (Thursday) morning, no decision has been given by a county court jury in John Howard's suit against the city. Mr. Howard is seeking to secure more than the condemnation price for his property in East Snyder through which the new Highway No. 7 right-of-way passes. Judge H. J. Brice recessed the court late Wednesday, and a decision is scheduled this morning.

P-T. A. Program for Next Week Planned

An interesting program for the next regular meeting of the Snyder Parent-Teacher Association has been announced by the committee on programs. The session will be held next Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

The following numbers have been arranged:

- "Tribute to Founders Day"—Mrs. Hugh Taylor.
- Vocal duet, "Two Very Similar Twins"—John Sears Stentell and Don Roger Kent.
- "Education for Future Citizens"—Principal R. L. Williams of the Snyder High School.

The public is invited to attend.

Junior R. A.'s Elect Officers.

At a regular meeting of the Baptist Junior Royal Ambassadors held at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: Preston Wilson, ambassador-in-chief; Page Cleaver, first assistant; Bonnie M. Wilson, second assistant; Lewis Gore, reporter; Kenneth Wilson, secretary and chorister. Ten members and their leader, Mrs. H. L. Wren, were present for the meeting.

Directors of WTCC Vote Six to One In Favor of Two Per Cent Sales Tax

Based on a six to one affirmative reply on a referendum sent to its 212 directors and about 600 members of taxation and public expenditure committees in its 193 membership towns, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced February 2 its advocacy of a two per cent sales tax for Texas, on the last retail sale, "providing the state uses the revenue equitably to fund the outstanding indebtedness of all cities, counties and schools, and providing the local ad valorem tax bills be reduced in accordance with the amount of debt relief secured."

The referendum ballot was the second recently sent out by the WTCC. In the first—in line with a recommendation made by the senate taxation committee headed by Senator Arthur P. Dugan—directors and tax committees voted affirmatively, but by the close margin of 107 to 88, on a two per cent sales tax as an outright replacement for the present ad valorem or property tax. Meeting in Plainview January 15, the officers' committee of the regional chamber counted the vote, and in view of its closeness tentatively announced it would favor a sales tax for funding the debt of three political subdivisions—cities, counties and schools—provided a clear-cut approval was given on a second referendum.

Plan Welding Conference.

Blacksmiths, machine shop workers, pipe line builders and others who employ electric or oxy-acetylene welding and cutting in their work will have a free chance to get technical information and new developments in that field at the first annual welding conference to be held at the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, February 14 and 15.

CONTRACTOR'S NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 11,513 miles of grading, drainage structures, caliche base course with double asphalt surface treatment from Hermligh to Snyder, on Highway No. 7, covered by U. S. Public Works Highway Project No. NRH 111-B & NRM 111-C & 671-A (1935), in Scurry County, will be received at the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas, until 9:00 a. m., February 14, 1935, and then publicly opened and read.

The attention of the bidders is directed to the required special provisions covering, subletting or assigning the contract, the use of domestic materials, the selection of labor, hours and conditions of employment, and hand labor methods.

Except as otherwise specified, the minimum wages paid to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed on this contract shall be one ($1.00) dollar per hour for "skilled labor," fifty (50c) cents per hour for "intermediate grade labor," and forty (40c) cents per hour for "unskilled labor."

Attention is directed to the special provisions, included in the proposal to insure compliance with the requirement of House Bill No. 54 of the Forty-Third Legislature of the State of Texas.

Type of laborer, workman or mechanic	Prevailing minimum per diem wage (based on a five (5) hour working day)	Prevailing minimum hourly wage rate
Skilled labor	$5.00	$1.00
Intermediate grade labor	2.50	.50
Unskilled labor	2.00	.40

For the classification of particular positions under the above types of laborers, workmen or mechanics, see the Approved Required Special Provisions.

The above prevailing minimum wage rates shall govern on this contract. Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

A certificate of Code compliance on the prescribed form which will be furnished for that purpose shall be signed and submitted by all bidders, in accordance with Executive Order No. 6648, issued by the President on March 14, 1934. Only bids accompanied by such certificate shall be considered or accepted. The contractor to whom award is made shall require subcontractors and dealers furnishing equipment, materials, and supplies to sign similar certificates before making awards to or purchases from such subcontractors or dealers, copies of which shall be furnished to the contracting officer.

A local employment agency from which the contractor shall obtain employment list will be designated prior to the award of contract. Plans and specifications available at the office of M. E. Savage, resident engineer, Snyder, Texas, and State Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved. 35-218

Provide telephone services and facilities within their respective territories, with the aid of staff services of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

How a nation-wide telephone network is organized

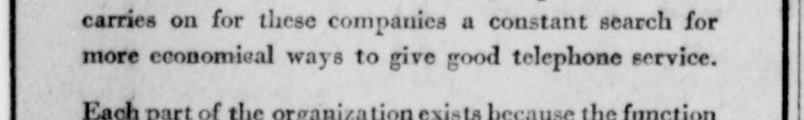

The Bell System is big, but its organization is not complex.

The A. T. & T. is parent company, service and research organization, and financial headquarters of the System. It owns Western Electric, which buys and manufactures for the System at prices about a fourth below the prices of similar equipment in the competitive market. Jointly with Western, it owns Bell Laboratories, where science constantly seeks better and cheaper methods of giving you telephone service.

It owns more than 90 per cent of the voting stock of the 24 associated companies (of which the Southwestern Company is one) and it operates the long distance trunk lines linking the territories of these companies. Its staff carries on for these companies a constant search for more economical ways to give good telephone service.

Each part of the organization exists because the function it performs is essential to the job of giving good telephone service at fair cost to you.
