"YOUR HOME COUNTY PAPER"

FORTY-EIGHTH YEAR.

SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 19, 1935

NUMBER 15

REPORT MOST WPA PROJECTS ARE ACCEPTED

No Definite Word Received From Washington, But This County Expects Work Soon.

Although no official word has been received from Washington, it has been reliably reported by local visitors to the district office at Abilene that practically all Scurry County WPA projects have been accepted.

Only a few West Texas projects have received official acceptance at Washington, and most of these involve large sums of money and consequently will require employment to a large number of persons. The giant Brazos River conservation project was given approval Tuesday, said Wednesday morning dailies. County, school and city officials are set for almost immediate beginning of work when official notification is received. About 17 projects are listed from this county. They include lateral roads, school gymnasiums, school campus improvement, public building improvement, local street improvement, and several other types of work.

High School Has New Credits for 1935-36 Session

Four new credit courses are being offered in Snyder High School this year, according to Superintendent C. Wedgeworth.

Sociology, citizenship and music appreciation are being given for the first time, while credit toward graduation is given this year in band work.

Two additions have been made to the faculty in recent days. Mrs. H. W. Hartman of Canyon is giving special art work, and is also teaching regular junior high subjects. Miss Leah Smith, formerly of Wellington, with 11 years of primary work experience, has taken the place vacated by the resignation of Miss Jessyle Stinson, who has taught in the local school for several years.

The music appreciation work in high school and public school music in the entire system is in charge of Miss Zoletta Barnett, a newcomer to the faculty.

The superintendent announces designation of vice principals in the main departments of the school—W. W. Hill as vice principal to King Sides in high school; W. H. Calloway as vice principal to R. S. Sullivan in grammar school.

The new school bus continues to be filled to the brim with students. A slight decrease has been accomplished, however, since students playing football are being brought in their own cars.

County Authorizes Deputy Clerk; Sells 161 Drums of Poison

The Commissioners Court in regular session last Wednesday authorized appointment of Miss Almarene Heard as deputy county clerk, at the request of Mrs. Mattie B. Trimble, county clerk. Miss Heard is to be paid by the clerk. She has been employed in the office for some time.

County Judge H. J. Brice reported sale of 161 drums of calcium arsenate that was owned by the county. It was sold at $9 per ton or a total of $1,453.78.

The southeast corner of the courthouse basement was set aside for a sewing room, financed jointly as a government work project and a City of Snyder project.

The court authorized purchase of $2,750 in bonds, recently voted by the Camp Springs common school district, with courthouse sinking and permanent school funds.

The court is in session this week for checking of the county tax roll.

COLORADO SET FOR NIGHT TILT

Colorado Wolves are making high-power preparations for reception of the Snyder Tigers on the night of Friday, September 27, declared Jimmie Greene, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, when he was in Snyder Tuesday.

The Wolf-Tiger melee will blow the lid off Colorado's newly-lighted Cantrell field. Greene expects a capacity crowd for the first meeting of the two squads since 1920.

This first game between the two elevens will be a non-offensive affair. They will meet later in the season for a conference bout. The Wolves having transferred to Class B again this season after a disastrous troyout in Class A company.

COUNTY GETS CERTIFICATES FOR 1935 CROP

Total Bankhead Quota for Scurry Will Probably Be Between 22,000 and 23,000.

Distribution of Scurry County Bankhead cotton certificates was begun in Snyder late last week by the county agent's office. Farmers are urged to call for them as quickly as possible.

The county's 1935 quota was set at 8,702,002 pounds or 17,404 500-pound bales. The carryover quota from the 1934 crop of about 3,900 bales brings the quota to 21,294 bales. Certificates from the state 10 per cent reserve will probably bring the total county quota to about 22,200 bales, which will be the amount of tax-free cotton that may be raised.

Old Certificates Earlier. The 1934 carryover certificates were received early this month. The reserve certificates are expected within a few days.

Certificates received for the 1935 crop go to more than 1,400 county farmers.

The 1934 Bankhead quota for Scurry County was about 18,500 bales, but less than 10,000 bales were produced. It was the county's lightest cotton year in a number of years, the normal crop being about 30,000 bales.

Borden Certificates. Cline E. Morris, county agent, and E. B. McLeary, assistant, of Borden County, have received 1935 Bankhead certificates for all producers in that county.

Borden certificates have been in the county agent's office for several days and are now available to all who wish to call for them. Producers are requested to call for their tags at an early date or furnish authority for someone else to receive them.

The Borden County agent announces an important wheat meeting at Gail Thursday afternoon, September 19, 3:30 o'clock, for discussion of the wheat program and to make plans for the organization and sign-up of interested producers.

Rites for Swenson Woman Had Sunday After Snyder Death

Funeral for Mrs. John P. Ward, 34, was held at the First Baptist Church, Snyder, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Harvey Dennis officiating. Odum Funeral Home was in charge of burial in the Aspermont cemetery.

Mrs. Ward died in a local hotel Saturday afternoon at 2:50 p. m. Survivors include the husband, 10 children, and Mrs. Ward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hoy, Swenson.

Pallbearers were Wilder Porter, Tom Norris, Roy Hohn, Ray Mullins, Pat Mitchell and Bill Hill. Misses Wynona Muller, Loretta Miller, Kathryn Newberry, Skeet Griffin, Hazel Newberry and Macy Norris were in charge of flowers.

Health Official Advises Parents On School Child

Now is the time, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, that every parent should ask himself if his child is physically ready for school. A visit to the family physician and dentist will answer this question and give time for the correction of minor defects before school work is strenuous.

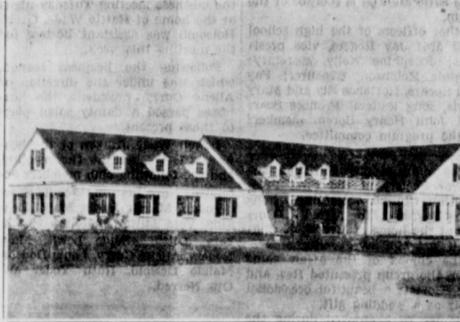

A child with defective vision cannot be expected to do the required work in school until this handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic sties, nervous actions as habitual winking, may be caused by defective vision and should be attended to immediately.

The far reaching effect of inflamed tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for many years. Many of the ills of later life, as heart disease, arthritis, deafness, etc., are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and were allowed to remain untreated.

Dental defects are found in more children than any other imperfection, and for this reason children should be taken regularly to the dentist for examination and cleaning of the teeth. This precaution keeps the mouth clean and makes it possible to discover dental defects as soon as they appear.

Postural defects appear in the life of a child must sooner than we formerly suspected. Have your family physician see if your child's shoulder blades project and if his arches are low. Simple exercises, diligently adhered to, when the child is young, will prevent later serious developments in many cases.

New Picture of Snyder Hospital

This is a new picture of the Snyder General Hospital, made a few days ago by Robinson's Studio. The north end was cut off a few inches because the old garage building had not been moved when the picture was made. Sidewalks and curbs will be added soon, and the entire plot surrounding the building will be landscaped. The public hospital opening has been set for 3:00 to 10:00 p. m. Tuesday, September 24. Everyone is invited to view the structure.

ENGLISH MADE CHIROPRACTIC CHIEF MONDAY

Local Man Heads the West Texas Organization He Helped Start Six Years Ago.

Dr. R. D. English of Snyder was named Monday at San Angelo as president of the West Texas Chiropractic Society, an organization of 40 members which he helped to start six years ago. He was elevated from the vice presidency.

The local chiropractor attended the session with Mrs. English. The next regional meeting will be held at Brownwood early in December. Plans were perfected at San Angelo for a full attendance at the state convention, which will meet in Dallas October 11-12. Dr. English is a charter member of the Texas group and also of the national chiropractic organization.

Featured speakers at San Angelo Monday were Dr. James R. Drain, president of the Texas Chiropractic College, San Antonio, who lectured on "Harmonic Control," and Dr. Joe E. Busby of Abilene, president of the state society.

Lubbock Expects 200,000 Visitors September 23-28

Two hundred thousand people are expected to click through the turnstiles at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock next week, September 23 to 28, to see shows, exhibits, vaudeville acts, fireworks and other attractions at the 22nd annual exposition.

Principal new feature is the Harley Sadler three-ring circus showing the last three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Wortham's Western Exposition Shows will play the midway with Captain Jack doing a 90-foot free act dive into flaming water twice daily.

A big array of vaudeville acts, band concerts, and other thrilling fire acts will be on the program twice daily with a spectacular fireworks display each evening.

Lubbock stores will close Tuesday afternoon, September 24, for Lubbock day and except for drug stores, cafes and filling stations, the entire town will close up and attend the fair.

Wednesday, when all school children are admitted free, will be the biggest day of all. Hundreds of schools over the Plains territory will be closed and a large per cent of them will transport the entire student body to the fair in school buses. A day at the fair is worth more than a day in school, officials say.

Rev. Gerhart Visits. Among out-of-town visitors to Snyder General Hospital last week-end was Rev. Willis P. Gerhart of Heavens Rest Episcopal Church, Abilene. He is a close friend and admirer of Dr. Grady Shytle, chief surgeon at the local hospital.

LET US SALUTE CONSTITUTION IS MAHON CALL

Congressman Says Congress Prides Itself on Helping Preserve Neutrality of U. S.

"Let us salute the Constitution today," Congressman George Mahon suggested to 50 Lions Club members and guests at the service club luncheon Tuesday at noon. "On this Constitution Day, 148 years after that great document was signed at Philadelphia, let us remember that the Constitution has been the bulwark of civilization in this country since its inception."

The Congressman, recently returned from his first session of Congress, drew hearty applause when he declared that "I am proud that the last Congress took steps that will preserve American neutrality in European or African wars."

Praises President. He also brought liberal handclapping when he said: "I am of the opinion that President Roosevelt's heart is right, his intentions are good, and that the majority of the legislation he sponsored was for the greatest good of the greatest number."

Joe Trussell of Brownwood, who is leading singing for the First Baptist Church revival, was given a hearty reception when he rendered Mahon's words as a fisherman's song an "On the Road to Mandalay." Lion Jimmie Greene of Colorado and Miss Madge Stanford of Abilene, deputy state superintendent, were other out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Helen Rodgers, club pianist, was welcomed back after being gone during the summer. Rev. Lawrence Hays, who is preaching for the local revival, was also a guest. Superintendent C. Wedgeworth introduced three of his teachers, Lion W. H. Calloway of Grand Saline and Kene Sides of Presidio, newcomers, and Hadley Reeve, who taught here last year.

Several Local Guests. Other local guests, most of them especially invited, to hear George Mahon, were: J. C. Lockhart, N. M. Harpole, Edgar Taylor, Joe Cotton, Brad Boren, Bernard Longbotham and Giles Bowers.

Declaring that no perfection is possible in a country with such divergent interests and resources as the United States, the chief speaker said "the time is coming when the sun of today will be the morning star of tomorrow." He referred particularly to change from old to new methods in government, and said today's revolutionary ideas may be tomorrow's every-day facts.

The past session of Congress, old-timers at Washington told Mr. Mahon, was the most exasperating and nerve-racking of any since the World War. He said such a diversity of interests, economic and industrial, as this country presents, will always call for wide discussion in the chief legislative body.

Foreign Trade Grows. Pointing to the heaviest foreign trade for the fiscal year just closed that the country has known in four years, the young Texan said he anticipates continued betterment of conditions. "We ought not to forget," he said.

Initial Home Game to Match Lamesa-Tigers

MEETING HELD IN TABERNACLE

Elder Charles W. Watkins of Lubbock is doing the preaching in a series of meetings with the Church of Christ at the city tabernacle.

He is well known in Snyder and over West Texas generally as a good speaker and worthy of a good hearing.

The public is invited to attend these services, at 7:45 o'clock each evening through the week, and at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

The meeting will continue through Sunday evening.

Farm Programs Placed in Hands of Fisher Office

Scurry County lost her farm rehabilitation (Rural Communities) office this week. She was joined in administration with Fisher County, and Roby was given the two-county headquarters office because more clients are handled in Fisher than in Scurry.

David C. Fawcett, county supervisor since establishment of a separate program here several months ago, was transferred Monday to Granbury, where he will be supervisor for Hood and Somervell Counties.

Mrs. Ruth E. Baker, rural home supervisor, is transferring today to Tahoka, where she will be in charge of the women's work in Lynn and Garza Counties.

Mr. Fry, who has been in the Fisher County office for six weeks, is supervisor for the two counties. Miss Waukena Robinson is the rural home supervisor. They will spend a portion of each week in Snyder and with Scurry County's 118 farm clients under the program.

Jim Kard and Mrs. Carrie Line, who have been connected with the office for several weeks, have been released.

Mrs. Baker and Fawcett ask The Times to express their keen appreciation to Scurry County people for the cordial reception given them while they were here.

Local Kidnaping Charges Against Greene Dropped

Kidnaping charges against J. W. (Wade) Green were dismissed Friday, a few hours before examining trial had been set.

The former Snyder man, now of Butte, Montana, was brought here Thursday, with his wife and his five-year-old daughter by a former wife, from Spearman, where they were placed in custody on complaint of S. H. Newman, sheriff of Scurry County, and grandfather of the child, Juanita.

The case was dismissed by County Attorney R. W. Webb, after Greene had signed a statement not to interfere again with custody of the child. Greene contended that he had no intention of kidnaping the child, that he merely took her to his brother's home at Spearman for a visit. He said Judge Pearce C. Rodey of Albuquerque, New Mexico, who had granted a divorce and custody of the child to his former wife, Effie, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Newman, had given him the privilege of visiting the child at any time.

The child's mother resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Juanita has been residing with her grandparents here for several months. Sheriff Newman charged that Greene took the child from his home here, with permission of Mrs. Newman, to have dinner Tuesday with Greene's parents, who reside here, and that he attempted to kidnap the child at that time.

Greene was released here before completion of a $1,000 bond, which had been set after his arrest at Spearman.

LION SPEAKER

Congressman George Mahon's first appearance before a Scurry County audience since his return from Washington came Tuesday at noon, when he spoke to Lions Club members and a number of guests. He held up the Constitution as the bulwark of civilization in this country.

AMENDMENTS ADD POWER TO AAA PROGRAM

More Power Given Secretary of Agriculture; Controversial Points Settled.

A special release from Washington, D. C., outlines the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act which have met the approval of both houses of Congress and have the signature of President Roosevelt.

The amendments have two major purposes. One is to give the secretary of agriculture added powers in carrying out the farm program and the other is to erect bulwarks around the program against the time when provisions of the act will have to meet the crucial test in the supreme court.

Increased Adjustment. "The new amendments," Secretary Wallace commented, "will permit increased adjustment of production by permitting benefit payments for increased production."

Wallace was careful to point out that there is little likelihood of this provision being put to use except in cases of grave emergency.

On the most controversial point, the section barring suits by processors to recover processing taxes in event the levies are held unconstitutional, a compromise was reached. Processors can sue for recovery, but only after they have submitted their claims to the commissioner of internal revenue. However, the processors must show they have not passed the taxes along.

Marketing Agreements. The amendments also permit the secretary of agriculture to draft marketing agreements with the consent of the majority of producers or processors for the following: milk, fruits, tobacco, vegetables, soy beans, pecans, walnuts and naval stores.

The recent act of Congress also extends the Bankhead cotton control and Kerr-Smith tobacco control act and authorizes a similar program for potatoes. It also permits start of the "ever normal" granary plan under which the government could make loans to producers to induce them to hold surplus crops on farms.

Other provisions in the amendments authorize use of 30 per cent of customs receipts to finance export of crop surpluses, except cotton, under the export certificate plan; and authorize use of part of the $4,000,000,000 works fund to buy up sub-marginal farm land.

Pyron Plans Friday Cemetery Working

Inclement weather and too much farm work forced postponement of the Pyron cemetery working to Friday of this week, community leaders have announced.

This semi-annual affair is usually largely attended, with a bountiful dinner spread at noon, but no basket is supposed to be taken this week. It is hoped that a sufficient number will be present to complete the work.

Explanations of the Rhode Island election, if laid end to end, wouldn't fit in the state.

FRIDAY AT 3:30 STARTING TIME

When Lamesa Tornadoes come to town Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to have a try at whirling the Tigers into submission, they will probably be remembering that the Hill-coached crew gave them their biggest scare of the 1934 season.

For that reason—and because a Lamesa-Snyder game is always worth walking miles to see—the first home football spree of the season should attract a full crowd to Tiger Stadium.

Lamesa marched to a regional championship last year, their 7-6 defeat of the Tigers being their nearest approach to a loss. In fact, regional championships are regular occurrences with the Dawson County town. This year they are heavy and fairly fast, but they have only five returning lettermen.

Coach Hill is threatening to start a hospital out at the stadium—and he's doing such a good job of it that only one or two of his cripples are expected to remain on the sidelines Friday afternoon. Clark, Morgan, Wilsford and Winters are ailing, but they are fast pulling out of their first-game injuries.

The local band will be in action under direction of Fred P. Rattan, and there may be an initial appearance of the pep squad. Lamesa is expected to bring a number of fans and possibly her band.

Lamesa-Snyder Line-Ups. Following are the probable starting line-ups for the two squads:

Lamesa—

Name Pos. Wt. Fenley, LE 152 Gaines, LT 195 Manning, LG 125 Collins, C 156 Lambeth, RG 174 Adams, RT 174 Walker, RE 168 Boswell, QB 187 Jordan, FB 162 McKinnon, LH 160 Gilbert, RH 140

Substitutes—Alexander, HB, 145; Easterwood, HB, 143; Allison, HB, 135; Key, HB, 138; Hahn, E, 145; Roberts, C, 145; Hughes, T, 210; D. Adams, T, 175; Boyd, E, 149; Sandel, E, 151; Steele, G, 155; Faulkenberry, T, 170; Jones, E, 148; Pambrough, H, 175; Easterwood, H, 165; Roberts, E, 170.

Name Pos. Wt. Mitchell, LE 170 Clark, LT 190 Jones, LG 150 Morgan, C 150 Webb, RG 174 Tate, RT 153 Morrow, RE 128 Wilsford, LH 144 Head, RH 160 Moffett, FB 160 J. Boren, QB 138

Substitutes—C. Watkins, C, 140; Autry, C, 130; Gibson, G, 146; Fowler, G, 143; Scarborough, T, 160; C. Boren, T, 163; Bell, T, 154; Hood, T, 140; Kite, E, 145; Grant, E, 123; Strayhorn, Q, 135; Rogers, F, 136; Smith, F, 138; Winters, H, 162; Hall, H, 140; J. R. Watkins, H, 120; Woolver, G, 180; Hargrove, E, 120; Berry, G, 148.

Brownfield Omitted From Hospital List

After the hospital section of this issue was printed, it was discovered that the name of Maurice Brownfield was omitted from the list of stockholders.

The Piggy-Wiggly operator not only contributed his money to the project, but, as a member of the Chamber of Commerce committee that made the financial drive, he devoted many hours of his time to the hospital.

The Times regrets making this omission, and appreciates the fact that a member of the board of directors called attention to the error before this issue went into the mails.

MORE THAN 50 SNYDER BALES

With Snyder gins running Saturday and Wednesday, they have turned out between 50 and 60 bales, a report this morning reveals. Most gins in other parts of the county have also begun operations, and it is probable that the 100-bale mark for the county will be passed early Saturday.

Continued smoggy weather has given cotton the breathing spell it needed, and a rather steady movement of the staple is expected by October 1.

NYA BENEFITS TO 23 COUNTY YOUNG PEOPLE

Applicants for High School Work Are Asked to See County Superintendent at Once.

Twenty-three single young men and women of Scurry County will receive benefits of $138 monthly under the National Youth Administration set-up, according to information that reached County Superintendent Frank Farmer yesterday.

Young people between the ages of 16 and 25 who wish to take advantage of the new government-aid program are asked to get in touch at once with Farmer or with the high school superintendent or principal in their district. Only youths from relief families are eligible.

The 23 young people will be paid at the rate of $6 per month each, a total of $138 monthly for the county during the school year. They will work a weekly maximum of 10 hours and a daily maximum of three hours.

Chief purpose of the NYA program is to enable young people, otherwise unable to be in school, to get a high school education. All work will be done in connection with the school attended, such as clerical work, library work, janitor service, campus work, etc.

A list compiled through the county superintendent's office will be sent to Lyndon B. Johnson, state NYA director, Austin, for final approval. A county placement committee will then work with school leaders in placing the students.

They Visit Six States. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones and Waymon Green of Pavaanna have recently returned from a visit in Arkansas, Mississippi and four other states. A bird's eye view of their trip will be given in next week's Times.

Slaton Carries Offensive to Local Tigers and Wins Opening Tilt, 8-0

Slaton Tigers were evidently more accustomed to their home crop of mosquitoes than Snyder Tigers, their Friday night guests. Therefore and whereof, the local lads lost their first football game of the season, 8 to 0.

The mosquitoes were not the only deciding factors in the game, however. The host team had a heavy, hustling, flashy team that didn't look like its 1934 aggregation, which the Tigers liked. They had more experience, more speed and more weight than Coach Red Hill's charges.

Even at that, Slaton did not capitalize on a number of her first downs, for Snyder was invincible in the pinches—except when the two scoring punches were made.

The first six points came on a fake from the 23-yard line—a criss-cross by Warren Henry, ace Slaton back. That was just before the half ended. Just before the closing whistle a bad pass from center went over the head of Bo Moffett, punter, and the local back was downed behind his goal line before he could get going.

Snyder helped Slaton dedicate her new $2,500 stadium, and a number of local fans went along to join in the festivities.

The locals were able to make only one first down, and Slaton made only a handful. Coach Hill says the boys looked good before a hefty Slaton squad, despite the fact that only five of them ever played in a regular game before, and only four lettered last year.

"Sin" to Be Revival Subject Thursday to Sunday

"Sin" will be the general subject for sermons to be preached by Pastor Lawrence Hays Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, in the First Baptist Church revival that opened last Sunday morning.

Growing crowds and an increasing fervor and fellowship were reported by church leaders after the Wednesday night service.

A feature of the revival, in addition to the forceful messages of the preacher, is the singing of Joe Trussell, Brownwood, who is often said by Baptists to be their greatest Southern evangelistic singer.

"The Decretiveness of Sin" is the Thursday night subject; "Secret Sin," Friday night; "The Confession of Sin," Saturday night.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on "Heaven and the Way There," and the singer will carry out the spirit of the message by singing "The Wayfarer Pilgrim" in a minor key, and "The Holy City." The Sunday night subject is "The Return of the Prodigal."

The junior "booster chorus," composed of boys and girls from the junior age down, is helping to create a better revival spirit by interesting the church in Bible reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yoder at Home In Snyder After Recent Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Yoder arrived here Friday evening to make their home, following their marriage and a wedding trip. The wedding was an event of Sunday, September 8, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Welkert, in Springfield, Ohio. Mrs. Yoder is the former Miss Dorothy Welkert.

Chiafoli, garden flowers and ferns banked the fireplace before which the couple stood for their marriage vows. Dr. Jesse Swank, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church read the double ring ceremony. Only members of the bride's family and close friends attended. Before the ceremony, Miss Jeanne Brown, soloist, sang a group of three numbers—"Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert, "Because" by D'Hardlot, and "I Love You Truly" by Bond. Miss Jane Casad, harpist, was her accompanist, and also played the wedding march from "Lo-hengrin."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a frock of beige sheer silk, crepe fashioned with full beige sleeves. Her flowers were tea roses arranged in a shoulder corsage. She traveled in a two-piece lilac knitted suit with brown accessories.

Mrs. Yoder is a graduate of the Springfield High School (1930), and was a student in Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky, when she met Mr. Yoder, who attended the same school.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder, the bridegroom graduated from the Snyder High School in 1929 and was a student in McMurry College, Abilene, for one year. Later, after traveling in Egypt, Palestine and Europe, he attended Asbury College and also the University of Washington in Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Yoder are at home at 1801 Nineteenth Street. Mr. Yoder is a partner in the Radio Electric Shop here.

Jean Anz Is Party Honoree Monday.

A delightful birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Anz, 2400 Avenue N, Monday afternoon when Mrs. Anz entertained, honoring her little daughter, Jean, on the child's fourth birthday. Mrs. A. E. Harvey assisted in entertaining.

Dainty birthday gifts were presented to the little honoree by each of the guests. Interesting games furnished amusement for the children during the afternoon.

Party favors were pencils decorated with suckers and marshmallows in autumn tones. The favors were placed in a box in the center of the table with ribbons from them to each place.

The guest list included James and Arlen Bailey, Mayme Leu Stokes, Doyle and Arlen Stokes, Donna Jean Autry, John Billy Harvey, Ima Jean and Wayne Wade, Juanita Greene, Mozelle and Marcel Newman, Mary Doris and Cynthia Ann Fowler, Barbara Hicks, Jack and Joye McClaun, Joye Anz and the honoree. Mothers present were Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Sam Stokes, Mrs. Douglas Fowler, Mrs. Earl Hicks and Mrs. T. M. Maples, great-grandmother of the little honoree.

Musical Coterie in Business Meeting.

The Musical Coterie will have two meetings each month, it was announced at the first business meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Sentell. Business meetings will be on second Thursdays and program days will be fourth Thursdays.

Mrs. Homer Snyder, president, was in charge of the meeting last week, at which time there was a discussion of "Federation." Roll call was "Federation News" and Mrs. Snyder talked on the subject, "Distinguished Members of the Federation."

Mrs. Sentell passed coffee and cookies to the following members of the music club: Mmes. R. S. Sullivan, P. W. Wolcott, A. C. Preuit, Roy Stokes, J. R. Sheehan, Hugh Boren, W. W. Smith, Melvin Blackard, W. C. Hooks, Homer Snyder and Willard Jones and Miss Ora Norred.

P.-T. A. Program Good.

According to Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn, president, the program for Parent-Teachers Association meeting this afternoon will prove profitable to those attending. The program will be interesting as well as entertaining, she says.

Women Who Have Pains Try CARDUI Next Time!

On account of poor nourishment, many women suffer functional pains at certain times, and it is for these that Cardui is offered on the ground that relief it has brought and the good it has done in helping to overcome the cause of primary discomfort. Mrs. Cole Young, of Jewell, La., writes: "I was suffering with irregular periods. I had quite a lot of pain which made me nervous. I took Cardui, and found it helped me in every way, making me regular and stopping the pain. This quieted my nerves, making my health much better." If Cardui does not benefit you, consult a physician.

Post Banquet Will Honor Federation Leaders Monday

Members of Snyder federated clubs are invited by the Woman's Culture Club of Post to be guests Monday evening, September 23, at a banquet honoring Mrs. Volney Taylor, state president, and Mrs. W. P. Avriett, district president, according to Mrs. Wayne Boren.

The banquet will be held in the Post Methodist Church at 7:45 o'clock. Plates will be 60 cents.

Any member of a Snyder club who plans to attend is requested to notify her club president not later than this Thursday night. The presidents, in turn, are requested to notify Mrs. Boren.

Club President Is Hostess at Dinner.

Mrs. P. W. Cloud, president, was hostess to the Altrurian Daughters Club and guests at dinner last Thursday evening. The affair was held at the Wilsford Coffee Shop, as the first meeting of the year for the Altrurian Daughters.

The coffee shop was decked with lovely cut flowers as a delicious meal was served. Mrs. E. E. Spears was mistress of ceremonies, and she called upon each club member with an original rhyme to tell the club what she did during the summer months. Roll call was "A Toast to Texas," to begin the year's study of Texas.

Guests for the evening included Mrs. Cloud's mother, Mrs. R. E. Gray, and Miss Ruth Truss. The following members were present: Misses Kenneth Alexander, Grace Avery, Mattie Ross Cunningham, Gwen Gray, Margaret Dell Prim and Dorothy Strayhorn and Mmes. Max Brownfield, Joe Caton, H. S. Darby, H. E. Doak, Pia Joyce, J. D. Scott, E. E. Spears, J. P. Strayhorn, Forest Wade and E. O. Wedgeworth.

Mrs. Brownfield Has Wednesday Bridge.

Mrs. Maurice Brownfield was hostess last week to the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home. High score prize went to Mrs. Weldon Johnson at the close of a series of contract games, and Mrs. J. D. Scott took the traveling prize.

Other members present were: Mmes. Robert H. Curmutte Jr., W. W. Hill, Aubrey Stokes, Max Brownfield, Amos Joyce, Nathan Rosenberg, P. W. Cloud and Gaither Bell.

Mrs. Red Moore of Ranger and Mrs. Roy W. McCurdy of Lubbock were guests for the afternoon. A salad course was passed at the close of bridge play.

"Officers Day" Is Had by Ingleside.

Last Tuesday was "Officers Day" for the Ingleside Study Club in their first meeting of the new club year. Mrs. Tom Boren was hostess to the group.

"Why I Belong to a Study Club" was given by each member in answer to roll call. Mrs. R. S. Sullivan, past president, directed the afternoon's program, first presenting the new club officers. Mrs. R. H. Odum responded with the president's message, and Mrs. Clyde Boren told "Ways of Improving Our Club." Mrs. Earl Louder conducted a parliamentary drill.

A salad plate with hot tea was passed by the hostess to the following: Mmes. Clyde Boren, W. F. Cox, J. C. Gay, C. W. Harless, W. W. McCarty, Earl Louder, R. H. Odum, R. J. Randalls, Noa B. Sisk, W. W. Smith, Roy Strayhorn, R. S. Sullivan, H. L. Vann and Sam Williams.

Meetings of the Ingleside Club will be held alternate Tuesday afternoons, the next one being September 24.

Junior A Class Elects Officers.

The Junior A Class of the local high school met with its sponsor, W. F. Cox, last Wednesday to complete their organization for the year.

New officers are: Pickas Bell, president; Lottie Mae Weller, vice president; Martha Trevey, secretary-treasurer; Nell Carlton, reporter; T. J. Teter, song leader; Buck Chandler, business manager; Tommie Winters, junior councilman; L. A. Berry, room fire captain; Lewis Wilsford and Renal Rosson, fire monitors; Edna Byrd and Clark Sturdivant, program committee.

Plans were made at the Wednesday meeting for raising funds to finance the annual junior-senior banquet to be held later in the school term.

Methodist WMS Meets on Monday.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon, 3:00 o'clock, at the church. Following an opening song and prayer, Mrs. A. M. Curry, who is president of the society, conducted a short business session.

Mrs. Lee T. Stinson gave the devotional, using material from the World Outlook. Mmes. D. P. Yoder and H. C. Gordon gave musical numbers, and Mrs. A. C. Preuit presented the new study, "That Other America," with the aid of maps and posters and talks by Mmes. R. H. Curmutte and A. M. Curry.

The following 14 members were present: Mmes. H. C. Gordon, A. C. Preuit, D. P. Yoder, J. E. Hardy, D. P. Strayhorn, I. W. Boren, R. H. Curmutte, Joe Caton, J. W. Templeton, R. M. Stokes, W. W. Hamilton, J. C. Stinson, Lee T. Stinson and A. M. Curry.

E2M Is Organized Wednesday Morning.

The E2M Club, which was organized for the first time about five years ago, met Wednesday morning with the sponsor, Miss Effie McLeod, to organize for the first semester of the 1935-36 school year.

The club is of a literary nature and bears as its name the initials of the sponsor. It is exclusively a club for girls.

Officers elected for the semester are as follows: President, Elizabeth Gordon; vice president, Frances Jarratt; secretary, Joetta Beauchamp; reporter, Marie Oliver; treasurer, Frances Bek; critic, Geneva Allen; song leaders, Thaba and Thana Benbenek. Social and program committees were appointed.—Reporter.

Elvergn McFarland to Teach.

Miss Elvergn McFarland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McFarland, left last Thursday to begin teaching in Junction High School. She will have commercial work. After graduating from Snyder High School, Miss McFarland entered Hardin-Simmons University, taking her degree from the Abilene school in June. She spent the summer months with her parents here.

MRS. DORSETT IS HONOREE AT GIFT PARTIES

Mrs. Alfred M. Dorsett, who was before her recent marriage to the Presbyterian pastor here Miss Eleanor Patterson of Corsicana, was named honoree at a party given by the Fellowship Class of the Presbyterian Church last Wednesday afternoon.

Mmes. Roy Patterson and John Abercrombie were hostesses for the afternoon at the home of the former. Cut flowers were used for decorations, and an attractive pink and green color note was emphasized in party details.

A clever toast to the bride was given by Mrs. W. R. Lace, who presented Mrs. Dorsett with the key to a treasure chest filled with lovely bridal gifts. The chest was the gift of the church to the couple.

About 30 women were present at the party, six of whom were members of the church at Fluvanna.

An interesting program was directed by Mrs. S. T. Elza before the social hour. A salad plate was passed at the tea hour by the hostesses.

Weldon Strayhorn Elected President.

Weldon Strayhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strayhorn, will serve as president of the high school Sophomore A Class the first semester. Miss Effie McLeod is sponsor of the group.

Other officers of the high school class are: Jay Rogers, vice president; Josephine Kelly, secretary; Virginia Robinson, treasurer; Fay Nell Spears, Hortence Ely and Mary Davis, song leaders; Frances Sears and John Henry Boren, members of the program committee.

The young people's Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian Church entertained, honoring Rev. and Mrs. Alfred M. Dorsett at the home of Mrs. P. C. Chenaunt last Monday evening.

The climax of the affair came when the group presented Rev. and Mrs. Dorsett a beautiful occasional chair as a wedding gift.

Games were enjoyed during the evening, and a salad course was served to the following: Rev. and Mrs. Dorsett, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lace, Frances Boren, Irene Wolcott, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Roe, Lenora Patterson, Virginia Egerton, Almarie Heard, Edith Grantham and Frances and Vivian Chenaunt.

Business Women Will Have Picnic.

Members of the Business Women's Club will have a weiner roast at their next meeting Tuesday evening, October 1, it was decided at the business meeting Tuesday night at the home of Hattie Wade. Grace Holcomb was assistant hostess for the meeting this week.

Following the business session, which was under the direction of Allene Curry, president, the hostesses passed a dainty salad plate to those present.

Lowell Wade Jr., son of the hostesses, was a guest at the meeting, and the following club members attended: Nora Ingram, Woodie Scarborough, Maggie Lewis, Mabel Deakins, Vera Miles, Analouse Rosenberg, Lottie Maude Lewis, Maye Rogers, Allene Curry, Louie Dodson, Maude DeBolt, Ruth Yoder and Ora Norred.

Refreshments of pie and coffee were served by the hostesses to the guests and 27 members.

Men Appear on W. M. S. Program.

Rev. Lawrence Hays, pastor, H. E. Eiland and Joe Trussell of Brownwood were guests at the meeting of the Baptist W. M. S. last Monday, when Mrs. W. G. Williams was hostess to the group.

The subject for the program was "Talent, Stewardship and Tithing" led by Mrs. A. A. Bailey. She was assisted by Mmes. J. E. Sentell, Fred A. Grayum and Agee. Little Harold Lewis Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Wade, gave a clever poem during the program.

Mr. Eiland spoke on "Our Practical Tithing" and Mr. Trussell complimented the group with a vocal solo, "Others." Mrs. Lawrence Hays was his piano accompanist.

Refreshments of pie and coffee were served by the hostesses to the guests and 27 members.

Local Students Begin Journeys Back To Texas Colleges and Universities

Among students from all over the South who are entering Texas colleges and universities are several dozen Snyder students. The trek toward higher institutions of learning began early last week with some students, and others left late this week.

To John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, went the largest number of locals. Others are attending Texas University, C. I. A., Hardin-Simmons University, McMurry College, Southwestern University, Texas Wesleyan College and the College of Arts and Mines at El Paso.

John Tarleton at Stephenville is attracting the largest number of county students. Eldon Birdwell, York Murphy, Wilson Ross and Woodrow Allen are returning for their second year there. Those registering for the first time include: Fred Wolcott, Aubrey Wiese, Sam Joyce, Weldon Birdwell, Murray Gray and William Boren of Snyder and W. S. Goodlett Jr. and Evelyn Grimes of Dunn.

Miss Charline Ely is a senior in McMurry College, Abilene, this year. Her younger sister, Roberta, who graduated from the local high school in May, accompanied Charline to McMurry last week. These two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ely are already busily engaged in school activities, according to Abilene newspapers.

Southwestern University at Georgetown attracted two honor students from the May high school class in the persons of Misses Elaine Dorward and Mary Margaret Towle. The two are in the midst of university rush week, according to letters received here, and are being treated royally. Dr. and Mrs. Towle took their daughter to Georgetown Friday, and Miss Dorward was accompanied there by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Dorward, and her sister, Mrs. Melvin Blackard.

Miss Pauline Boren left Saturday for Texas Tech, Lubbock, where she will be a student for the full nine-month term.

Miss LaFrances Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, left Monday for El Paso to enter the College of Arts and Mines. Miss Hamilton was a valuable high school student here last year.

Polly Harpole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Harpole, and Evelyn Worley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Worley, will further their work in Texas Tech, Lubbock, this

Mrs. Buck Williams Honored With Party.

A delightful gift party was given last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin, honoring Mrs. Buck Williams, who was Miss Maurice McClinton before her marriage recently.

Hostesses for the party were Meses. R. W. West, Frankie Hall, Opal Cleavenger and Irwin. Games of bridge and forty-two were played during the evening. High score at bridge went to Miss Gwen Gray. Pink and white were combined in an attractive color note for the party, and cut flowers were used in the rooms.

At the refreshment hour little Miss Joyce Cleavenger, daughter of one of the hostesses, entered. She was dressed in a bell-boy suit of pink and white, and pagged the honoree. A basket decorated with pink and white crepe paper filled with a collection of bridal gifts was placed before Mrs. Williams.

The guest list for the party included the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Margie McClinton, and the following: Meses May McClinton, Vesta Green, Janice Erwin, Elveng McFarland, Gwen Gray, Charles Ella Hamlett, Ruby Lee, Mable Turner, Johnnie Mathison, Marie Casey, Eda McFarland, Bonnie Miller; Meses. A. P. Morris, Gaitther Bell, Hugh Birdwell, Billie Lee Jr., J. P. Strayhorn, C. J. Sims, Owen Morton, Mabel Y. German, O. D. McClain and Mythel Martin.

Mrs. McMullen Has Sine Cura.

Mrs. Vern McMullen was hostess last Tuesday to the Sine Cura Club and guests at the home of Mrs. T. L. Lollar. A Mexican idea was carried out in refreshments and prizes at the enjoyable party.

High score prizes went to Mrs. Ivan Dodson, guest, and Mrs. W. B. Lee, member. Mrs. O. P. Thrane took the traveling prize.

Mmes. Raymond Sims and Ivan Dodson were guests for the afternoon and the following members were present: Meses. W. E. Johnson, T. L. Lollar, Robert Masters, R. H. Curmutte, O. P. Thrane, Ernest Taylor, J. C. Stinson, Hugh Boren, Forest Sears and W. B. Lee. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Masters, at which time new officers for the club will be elected.

Junior Coterie in Monday Meeting.

Members of the Junior Coterie, junior music club sponsored by the Musical Coterie, met in a called session at the home of Mrs. E. E. Spears, sponsor, Monday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Pinkerton, daughter of Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, was re-elected president of the group this year. Virginia Preuit is first vice president; Kathryn King, second vice president; Nell Verna LeMond, recording secretary; Louise LeMond, corresponding secretary; Pay Nell Spears, treasurer; and Frances Sears, reporter.

Mrs. Ethel Eiland visited in Lubbock Sunday.

Alpha Study Club Has Second Program.

Members of the Alpha Study Club enjoyed their second meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. C. P. Sentell Tuesday evening. Cut flowers made attractive decorations for entertaining rooms.

Mrs. Maurice Brownfield was director for the program on Hawaii and Alaska. Mrs. Brownfield discussed "Hawaii," and Miss Hattie Hern presented several Hawaiian numbers on the piano. "Alaska, Its Past, Present and Future" was Mrs. Melvin Blackard's subject.

Mrs. W. W. McCarty was the only guest for the meeting, and members present included: Meses. Blackard, Wayne Boren, Brownfield, Joe Graham, Ivan Dodson, J. G. Hicks, Ikon Joyce, J. P. Nelson, A. R. Norred, P. G. Sears, C. P. Sentell, J. R. Sheehan, Wraymond Sims, J. C. Smyth, R. C. L. Robertson and Buel Fox and Meses Hattie and Gertrude Herm.

Mrs. Scarborough Is Home From School

Mrs. Woodie Scarborough, owner of Every Woman's Beauty Shop, returned from the fall beauty show in Dallas last week. She spent several days in Mineral Wells before coming home.

Miss Julie Oats, who has worked for several years near Dallas, is a new operator at the shop. Miss Oats came here from Cooper, and she is spending this week with her parents at Slaton. She will be back on the job next week.

Returning From Dallas.

Lee T. Stinson and J. D. Scott are returning today from Dallas, where they have been purchasing winter goods for the two local Stinson stores. The new purchases include special holiday merchandise, bought on the wholesale market while stocks are complete.

Mrs. Cunningham to Funeral.

Mrs. R. W. Cunningham was called to Lockhart Wednesday for the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. A. Ross, who died Tuesday night. Mrs. Ross was known to people here.

Presbyterian Church

The basis of Christian faith is love; nothing can survive without a strong and secure base, for when the base begins to crumble the entire super structure must fall. Love is absolutely essential to the Christian faith. The theme for the morning worship service next Sunday at 11:00 a. m. will be "Love Indispensable." Theme for the evening worship service at 8:00 p. m. will be "Check Your Oil."

Sunday school will meet in all departments at 9:45 a. m. The young people's society of Christian Endeavor will meet at 7:00 p. m. to discuss the theme "Loyalty to Highest Ideals."

The junior church will meet in the basement of the church for all children, during the hour of the morning worship. The junior church is a new phase of the program and was inaugurated last Sunday. All parents are urged to come to church and leave their children in the junior church, where they will be cared for and given help and instruction. This feature of the program is under leadership of Mrs. Mary B. Shell—Alfred M. Dorsett, pastor.

First Christian Church

Bible school, 9:45; morning worship, 11:00; young people's society, 6:45; evening worship, 7:45.

There is a class in our Bible school for every individual. Every member present every Lord's Day is our full slogan.

The pastor began a series of sermons last Lord's Day morning on the principle teachings of the book of Acts.

Sermon subject for this Lord's Day is "The Baptism of the Holy Spirit." Come and hear what the Bible has to say on this important subject.

Subject of the evening sermon is "Far-Sighted Folk." Everyone welcomed.—G. E. McFierston, minister.

Methodist Church

"Ye must be born again," John 3-7, is the text for the 11:00 o'clock service next Sunday.

In all the services of the day we shall be considering the meaning of entering into and serving in the kingdom of Christ. Let's have our church family in all services. A most cordial welcome awaits visitors.—H. C. Gordon, pastor.

They're Plowboys Now.

Three former Tigers reported for football practice at John Tarleton, Stephenville, last week, says a news report from the college. They are Fred Wolcott, Aubrey Wiese and Murray Gray. Coaches Wisdom and Sanders have 70 gridiron prospects, and believe they will have a winning squad. Eight lettermen are returning.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Extension Service Editor

Home makers may yet come to a fuller appreciation of beautiful wood through the surprising medium of clothing work. At least there are signs of that.

Take this story from Dickens County for instance: "Buttons made of mesquite roots trimmed the natural color linen crash dress which Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Red Top Home Demonstration Club member, entered in the recent county clothing contest. Mrs. Harrell dug the root, sawed it and carved the buttons herself. Each button showed two shades of wood, the only trimming needed on the dress."

Or this story from the same county: "Large walnut buttons, made by her husband, trimmed the pink lace dress exhibited by Mrs. Jim McDaniel, member of the Twin Wells Home Demonstration Club."

The McCrosky Home Demonstration Club members of Wharton County hung up a record in their rally day report when it was revealed that with three-fourths of the membership reporting they had to their combined credit 10,259 cans of food.

G. A. Knowles, Goldthwaite, Mills County, plants each year eight acres of golden rod and seeded ribbon cane, which this year is turning out 200 gallons of syrup per acre. This syrup is readily marketed at 75 cents per gallon. Mr. Knowles always turns under the fodder and other vegetation as soon as the cane is harvested and last year he gathered eight bushels more of corn from the cane land than from other adjoining land.

Nine Out of Ten People Troubled With Their Teeth

About nine out of every ten persons in the United States have something wrong with their teeth. At least eight of each ten have caries, or dental decay. A long list of other maladies, including the famous "pyorrhea," is to be discovered in even a casual examination of the teeth in any community. So says Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

Why do so many people suffer the misery of bad teeth? Dental research in recent years has revealed that the real trouble is the diet and other health habits of civilized folk, and not civilization itself. We may be both civilized and have good teeth.

The teeth are living organs, and must be nourished, like any other part of the body. They are composed principally of calcium, a mineral found in great abundance in milk. Hence the insistence of dental scientists on the use of greater amounts of milk in the diet.

It is also important to preserve the general bodily health, for dental decay often begins during periods of general ill health. Teeth of mothers are also particularly liable to decay during pregnancy, hence at this time particular attention should be paid to the diet, after consultation with a physician. Another important time for teeth health is in infancy and early childhood. Children should have plenty of milk, should receive some vitamin D food, and should be permitted to play in the sunlight as often as possible.

For dental decay is not a simple disease; it has many causes, and its treatment does not depend on the dentist alone, but on every person who wants to improve the health of his teeth.

Science Club Elects Officers Wednesday.

The Science Club of Snyder High School met Wednesday of this week for the purpose of electing officers. W. P. Cox is sponsor. Lyndal Westbrook was named president; Clark Sturdivant vice president; Roy Allen Baze secretary, Lloys Moreland reporter, J. R. Popejoy and J. T. Patrick fire monitors.

Next meeting of the club will be October 1—Reporter.

Mussolini was probably wise to postpone his war until fall, but if he wants front-page publicity he'll have to try to work it in between the World Series and the beginning of football season.—Southern Lumberman.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

By a "Young Modern"

With dips in front, flowers and fruit for decoration, tassels on the side and queer-shaped crowns, plaques which young moderns plan to do this fall rival the hats of all generations in their novelty. Style in this season's headgear consists in each hat's having a single touch in decoration or cut which distinguishes it from all others.

Youthful heads must be careful in their choice of hats, considering the variety of shapes and sizes available. Each person ought to study her own facial characteristics, and, still more minutely, her hair. If she plans to wear the tricky bonnets now in vogue, she should cultivate bangs, either of the tiny, demure type or of the tousled, carefree style. With a smart felt that comes down squarely over the forehead and darts up at the crown in back, curls at the nape of the neck or a fancy swirl over the crown, she will create the necessary hair interest. Bangs both in front and back are nicely suited to close-fitting turbans, but must be kept sleekly curled.

Summer permanents have a way of looking so dried up at the end of a long summer that they are scarcely a credit to any hat; Young Moderns at Texas State College for Women (CIA) find a solution to this problem in the barber shop. Straight-haired misses can coax their locks into swirls, and cut ingenious bangs to achieve a clever ingenuitous effect. For evening, the too-sporty appearance of shorn hair can be remedied by a band of poppies, grapes, or other exotic flowers and fruits placed in a low curve around the back of the head.

Infant Buried Tuesday.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Vandiver, who died early Tuesday morning, was buried that afternoon in the Snyder cemetery, with Odom Funeral Home in charge and Bro. O. D. Dial officiating. Funeral was held at the family home in the Plainview community.

Future Farmers of Hobbs to Lubbock

Twenty-four agricultural students of Hobbs High School plan to leave the Hobbs school early Saturday morning, September 28, to attend the South Plains County Fair at Lubbock.

The group will study the livestock, visit the agricultural college and probably visit the experiment station. They plan to return to Hobbs that night.

Society Editor Visits Here.

Miss Jeane Suits, society and feature editor for the Lockney Beacon, which is owned by her father, J. L. Suits, was a visitor in the Times office Saturday. Miss Suits was accompanied here by her mother, her brother, Tom, who is lino-type operator in the office, and by a younger sister, Jerry Nell. They visited with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. W. T. Baze, and other relatives here during the week-end.

Attention, Students.

College students will be interested to know that they can get The Times from now until June 1, 1936, for only $1, no matter where they attend school. It is an easy and inexpensive way to keep up with the important things that happen in the old home county every week.

We hope it soon comes to pass that the meek shall inherit the earth. The unmeek are making such a mess of it.—Mobile Register.

Home work can be done faster and better with Good Lighting

Lighting makes all the difference in the world in how home-work is done. Poor lighting reflects unfavorably in the thoroughness with which lessons are prepared. Good lighting makes it easy and pleasant to absorb quickly next day's lessons. Students face a difficult task at best in keeping up with their book-work—great care should be taken to see that bad lighting doesn't add to their difficulties.

Electrical appliance dealers, department stores and others have complete stocks of new and improved lamps of all kinds—floor lamps, table models, Reading-Study lamps in both direct and indirect types. Not one home in a thousand has really adequate lighting—make sure that yours is one that has.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

A Mussolini Threat.

Pessimism Pete says if Mussolini doesn't stop hostilities toward Ethiopia, he's going to stop eating spaghetti.

Holey, Wholly Holey.

Talkative Tillie says if style-minded women could see the holes in the family pocketbook as easily as they fall for the holes that continue to feature wearing apparel, husbands would be almost wholly pleased.

Maybe We're Behind Times.

Maybe this newspaper is 15 or 20 years behind the times. But for the life of us we can't understand why daily newspapers consider it more important to headline the divorce of a movie star than the death of a man whose contributions to history will never be erased.

A False Cotton Start.

If ever Snyder gets made a false start, it was this season. It wasn't their fault, of course—nor anybody's fault. But there has probably never been a season in the county's history when the first bale and the tenth bale were so far removed from one another. Someone wants to know: "What's the use of honoring a first bale, anyway?"

Roosevelism.

President Roosevelt: "The reason that the forces of reaction so often defeat the forces of progress is that the tories of the world are agreed and united in standing still on the same spot and therefore never run the danger of getting lost on divergent trails."

If Huey Long Had Lived.

Someone suggested that Huey Long should have lived in order that the country could see what would become of him when he attempted to spread his dictatorship. Only a person who failed to have knowledge of Long's methods, which dealt in justice, over-powering debt and slow death to tens of thousands of Louisianians, could have made such a suggestion.

At the Spur Station.

The Spur experiment station has probably meant more to West Texas farmers and ranchers than any other one institution in the country, unless you count state and federal governments. That is one good reason why several Scurry County farmers should go to the station Friday of this week for an all-day demonstration of trench silos, cattle feeding, and soil and water conservation.

Again: What About a Fair?

Many Scurry County folks are asking the question these days: Why not have a fair? Why not? With above-the-average crops looming, there is small reason why a fair should not be successful. A fair that features products instead of sidelines need not be too expensive for anyone concerned—and it certainly would give the county and Snyder a bright star in the crown of West Texas.

What About Trench Silos?

Surely there will be a wholesale turning toward trench silos in Scurry County this year. Thousands of farmers and ranchers in South Texas and other portions of the United States have proven the worth of this costless feed storage system. With history proving that West Texas weather does not produce a feed crop regularly, trench silos seem to be the one cheap way to preserve the surplus in good years.

Simmons' Resignation.

One editorial commentator says of the recent resignation of Lee Simmons as superintendent of the state prison system: "The incident brought to a head a long-smouldering fight between Simmons and his friends and a majority of the prison board. Simmons' friends claim he has been handicapped by the board, while his enemies have criticized Simmons loudly. Both factions promise a legislative investigation, which likely will develop early in the special session."

The War Against War.

The diplomats at Geneva and other parts of the world are looking mighty helpless in the face of the Italian-Ethiopian war threat. The war against war, fairly successful since 1919, is evidently breaking down before the greed of the nations and the selfishness of the individuals who govern them. All other measures have evidently failed. Is it not time to try the remedy of righteousness and love that has been suggested through the ages by God-fearing men and women?

Snyder's Football Team.

When Red Hill took a pass of youngsters last year and made far above an average football team, he won the respect of every fan. This year, with even less experienced material than he had last year, the coach is moulding a squad that should go high, if not to the top, in the district. When the first home game is played Friday afternoon, look for a hefty bunch of fans to prove that they believe in a coach who doesn't know what it means to complain about material or the breaks of the game.

In theory it is easy to convince an ignorant person; in actual life, men not only object to offer themselves to be convinced, but hate the man who has convinced them.—Epictetus.

The qualities which men admire in other men are ability, character and unflinching courage.

A Scurry County Institution.

Pete Bridgeman's Snyder Transfer Company has proven itself such a distinctly Scurry County institution over a period of years that most folks just take it for granted. It is seldom that we stop to consider exactly what the concern means to us in dollars and cents.

The fact that the Snyder Transfer Company spreads over more territory—about 400 miles of West Texas—than any other local firm, is sufficient proof that Pete Bridgeman deserves an occasional "Well done, Pete" from those who have known him for years.

The concern now has offices at Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder, Post, Lubbock, Lamesa and Big Spring. It keeps thousands of dollars worth of equipment on the road. It pays hundreds of dollars per week in salaries. It spreads its income along the way, of course, but most of it comes back to help business in the old home town.

So we pause to say an extra word for a Scurry County institution with a distinctly West Texas flavor.

Waiting for WPA.

It will be folly for various subdivisions of government to sit down and hold their hands in anticipation of receiving WPA help just as they applied for it.

If Uncle Sam were to deal out money for all projects that were asked from the 48 states, it is probable that the indebtedness charged against the New Deal would set the Republicans gaping harder than ever.

But Uncle Sam will not deal out money in such fashion. He is getting down to the most helpful plan for unemployment that the New Deal has suggested. That means, among other things, that only projects having "the long look" will probably be accepted.

Scurry County, then, should be thankful for what she gets—and she should not be disappointed if many of her proposed projects are rejected.

CURRENT COMMENT

By Leon Guinn.

In recent weeks Death has stalked throughout the land, a black camel kneeling before the doors of beloved people of state and nation. . . . Last week the black camel knelt gently before a person both loved and hated: Huey Pierce Long, Louisiana dictator and career builder without American parallel. . . . Well might Long's shooting in Baton Rouge statehouse be a modernized Caesar's drama, starkly turned real. . . . Huey Long started out as backdoor vegetable compound salesman, and at a contest he sponsored to popularize his employer's compound (or "lard"), he met Rose McConnell, who shortly became Mrs. Long. . . . After completing a three-year law course in nine months (Tulane University), Long began his campaign for governor of Louisiana, and at 35 became the state's youngest governor. . . . "Caesar had his Brutus," Long his Weiss.

In his campaign for governor, Huey Long bucked up against the powerful political machine perfected by previous governors, and to get bayou country votes became extreme in viewpoint, later cropping out in his senatorial career as radical tendencies, such as share-the-wealth, soak-the-rich, and every man a king fantasies. . . . But behind the Kingfish's erratic mind wanderings was a keenness and shrewdness that gained him national fame. . . . Republicans were banking heavily on Long in next year's presidential election as high priest of a third party, calculated to split voting strength. . . . Since Long was a victim of creed hatred in Louisiana, the nation is breathing easier, sees politics more declouded. . . . It is travesty of things political that America spawns a Coughlin, or a Huey Long, with queer twists of logic, gaining audience in periods of economic transition. . . . Yet of such is woven stronger national sanity.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

LAMB MEAT IN WEST TEXAS.

After partaking of the delicious barbecued lamb at the Lions Club banquet last Tuesday night, some one remarked: "Why don't our local butchers handle lamb meat? I am sure that it is the best and most wholesome meat that can be had. If it is not the best of all meats, why do they serve it as the piece de resistance at banquets? It is the most plentiful meat in this country, and why we can not buy it at our local markets is a mystery to me."

"Oh, that's easy. The market people say they never have any calls for lamb meat. The reason for that is their customers know they do not keep lamb, therefore they do not care to waste breath calling for it," remarked another.

And there is another reason: The sheepmen are reluctant about selling a few lambs to the local butchers at the same price they sell to the packers at Fort Worth. It is some trouble to cut out a few lambs from the flock, and though it is of vital interest to the sheep industry to generate popularity for lamb meat, yet many sheep raisers do not seem to realize this.

But you can always sell good lamb chops to the News-Record family—especially when hogs are 12½ cents per pound on hoof.—Uncle Bill in Sterling City News-Record.

Food Sanitation Necessary Says Dr. John Brown

It is a matter of vital importance that sanitary measures be applied to prevent the contamination of perishable foods, stated Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Various intestinal disorders result from food which has in some way been rendered unwholesome. Summer diarrhoea or "summer complaint," affecting young and old, is a serious type of stomach and bowel condition. So called "ptomaine poisoning," in nearly all cases, is none other than a food infection due to the presence in food of harmful bacteria or germs.

Perishable food, if contaminated, endangers human health. This hazard is greater in warm weather, because germs or their products multiply or develop more rapidly at high temperature. Some of the most valuable foods are of perishable nature. Such foods demand the exercise of safeguards. Among well known precautions, which need to be used if perishable foods are to be kept wholesome, are the following:

1. Some form of modern refrigeration or cooling is necessary to preserve food from day to day. Lack of an effective cooling process causes meat to spoil and milk to contain a dangerously large number of bacteria.
2. Resort to thorough cooking or boiling is the simplest and yet most useful method of preventing illness of food-borne character. This precaution applies especially to food prepared for infants and children.
3. Contamination of perishable food is avoided through the constant exercise of cleanliness on the part of those who handle food.
4. Pastries and other food products make a far greater appeal to the consumer or patron if there is an entire absence of flies. Adequate provision for screens and application of every known means of fly and insect extermination are worthwhile.

The rewards of improved sanitation include tangible assets in good health and sound business.

You Helped the Dumb

Just in a dream I stood at Heaven's gate,
St. Peter met me with his book of fate—
A ponderous volume bound in glistening gold,
With letters large that stood out clear and bold;
He thought awhile, then shook his heavy head—
"The records show but few good deeds," he said,
"And not enough to merit Heaven, I fear;
To me your prospects, friend, look rather drear."
He traced the scanty items with his thumb,
When, lo! He stopped and said—
"You helped the dumb—
You took a stray cat in, two dogs you fed,
And to the birds you gave some crusts of bread.
Ah, Yes! You did your best to aid the weak,
God's little folk, the ones that could not speak;
So enter thou, and join the angel band,
There is a place for you at God's right hand."
—Willie Hoey.

The columns show how funds were spent in the first two years of the wheat program under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. All of the money, except a small percentage for the necessary administrative expenses, went for adjustment payments to farmers. For the first two years these payments amounted to $290,250,000. A reserve held for refund of floor stocks taxes at the conclusion of the program is $13,900,000. Refunds on exports and funds used to promote exports amounted to $14,500,000. The cost of administration was $5,000,000. Refunds made to millers who had paid the tax on flour that was used for relief purposes amounted to $3,500,000. The funds for all these purposes are advanced from the U. S. treasury. Against these funds the treasury has the income from the processing tax on wheat. The two are about equal.

A beggar took advantage of the circumstances, and walked up and down on the opposite side of the road singing.

WTCC Magazine Gives W. J. Ely's Idea on Regulation of Staple Crop

The September issue of West Texas Today, official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, carries a timely article about W. J. Ely, one of Snyder's "top West Texans."

"Mr. Ely would be a No. 1 citizen in any man's town," writes Max Bentley, editor of West Texas Today, in a brief introduction to the article. "Within the WTCC he is hailed as one of the most valuable builders and balance levers in the territory and assuredly at the top in the important business of getting our big money crop—cotton—dressed for the market."

Here is the article, which is accompanied by Mr. Ely's picture:

By J. C. Smyth.

There's a wise man in Snyder town who has proven wondrous wise. Especially about cotton. Say "cotton" to W. J. (Bill to you) Ely and you may unlock a treasure house of information that reflects the romance and the terrific struggle that has always accompanied growing of the staple crop anywhere in the Southland.

This man whose jaws bulge with honest-to-gosh tenacity that gets big jobs done has spread his talents at many tangents. But we can speak of that diversity angle later. Just now, with Triple A and Bankhead runs booming at every turn, it is more fitting to feel Bill Ely out on his attitude toward the government cotton program.

Sees With "Cotton" Eye.

A man of Bill Ely's mould could not remain untruffed as the New Deal spread its giant hands across our chief money crop. He has a "cotton" eye that views and analyzes and casts judgment on every finger move that affects cotton.

But from the birth of the new farm program, through the droughty year of 1934 and into the recent barrage against the Bankhead Act, he has remained as loyal a supporter of President Roosevelt and the entire administration as you will find today or next week.

It is not surprising, then, that Bill Ely, who is one of 26 directors in the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, spoke out in meetin' last July 23 at Dallas, when the association was considering filing a suit to restrain the government from compelling ginners to collect the Bankhead tax. When the vote of the directorate was taken, "No" while all his colleagues voted "Yes."

How the Ginners Feel.

Immediately after the suit was filed, he began feeling the pulse of West Texas ginners on the whole complicated Bankhead puzzle. He discovered that practically all ginners in his district, which comprises 150 to 175 gins, were opposed to the suit, although most of them believed with him that the government should not have asked the ginner to become a tax collector without salary. The soundness of his lone wolf views at the July meeting have already been proven, for practically all Texas ginners have signed affidavits giving assurance that they will abide by Bankhead regulations. The association's suit, in the meantime, is hanging fire because the $100,000 bond required by the government has not been posted.

Bill Ely's confidence in President Roosevelt and Congress is deep rooted. "I cringe to think what would have happened to our country if the president had not stepped into the breach when our financial, commercial and agricultural structures were almost ready to flop," he declares. "Some things had to be done right now, especially for our banks and for agriculture. Roosevelt did it."

Purposes of the AAA.

The ginner points out that the purposes and objectives of the administration were clearly set forth when Congress passed the Agricultural Adjustment Act. He calls attention to paragraph 1 of Section 2 of the act:

"To establish and maintain such balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions therefor, as will reestablish prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power with respect to agricultural products, equivalent to purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period. The base period in the case of all agricultural commodities, except tobacco, shall be the pre-war period, August, 1909, to July, 1914."

Objectives Realized.

Even the casual observer, believes Mr. Ely, knows that many of these aims and objectives have been attained. "I believe," he adds, "that no Congress ever had a nobler purpose than did the Congress that passed the AAA."

The ginner believes, also, that Congress was just as sincere when it passed the Bankhead Act as it was when it passed the AAA. He summarizes the prime purposes of the Bankhead Act as restoration of the cotton industry to a sound commercial basis by creating an effective balance between the production and consumption of cotton, relief of the economic emergency in the cotton industry, promotion of the orderly marketing of cotton, and raising of revenue for paying additional benefits under the AAA. "Any candid critic must admit," he says, "that most of these purposes have been realized at least temporarily."

Has One Objection.

On only one vital ground does the Snyder man differ radically with the administration's cotton control plans. "What will become of Texas," he wants to know, "if something is not done to restore our foreign markets? About 90 per cent of the state's cotton crop is normally exported. Texas will probably never be able to compete with the southwestern cotton-growing states, where the fields run right up to the mill doors. Even increased domestic consumption cannot possibly do much within the next few years to erase the tremendous carryover of Texas cotton."

"The Texas cotton crop in past years ranged from 4,000,000 to 5,600,000 bales. Last season it dwindled to 2,914,164 bales. Our production of cottonseed last year was 1,000,000 tons, compared with 2,000,000 tons in 1933 and 2,350,000 in 1931—a loss of 50 to 60 per cent.

Peculiar Position.

"We must not lose sight of the peculiar position Texas occupies among the states of the nation. It is the greatest exporting state, even in proportion to the number of bales raised; hence, it is doubly unfortunate for Texas that foreign markets are declining. Of its normal $500,000,000 basic crop, the state used only about 200,000 bales in its few small cotton mills, and only about 300,000 bales went to mills in other states. About 90 per cent of the crop remained for foreign export. The Lord only knows what would become of us if the administration tried as a permanent policy to adjust American cotton production to domestic consumption."

"As a permanent policy, I believe

Congress will set up reciprocal trade agreements with other countries that can use our cotton and other products, as there is not enough gold to keep the channels of trade open."

Mr. Ely is a believer in the domestic allotment principle, whereby the government would pay a subsidy on cotton consumed in the United States and then allow the remainder of the crop to compete for world trade, as in the past.

The West Texas Crop.

The veteran ginner faces with optimism the 1935 cotton season in West Texas. Ginners will be in much better shape as far as the Bankhead tax is concerned, in his opinion. He says collection of the tax should not cost more than 25 to 30 cents per bale in West Texas in contrast with an average cost of about 40 cents last season. Book-keeping experience plus the government's increased efficiency in handling the certificates will change the cost picture.

With several weeks of uncertain weather yet to go before the major picking season, Mr. Ely ventures the prediction that West Texas will raise at least an average crop in the face of reduced acreage.

What will happen if the area raises a cotton crop far in excess of its Bankhead quota? The ginner gives an example. "It is possible," he states, that Scurry County will make 8,000 to 10,000 bales above the quota. If the Bankhead tax remains as it is—six cents per pound—a bumper crop would mean that our farmers must return more than a quarter million dollars to the government in Bankhead taxes. Most of the other counties of West Texas, I understand, face the same situation."

Ginner for Many Years.

This man Ely, who has been in West Texas almost 30 years, says he has been a ginner most of his conscious life. He has seen gin service at Merkel, Tuscola, Abilene, Anson, Slaton, Lamesa and Snyder. He and his associates ginned 6,500 bales in 1919 at Anson—a world record up to that time, for a single battery gin. In 1924, at Lamesa, he ginned 5,675 bales. During his first season in Snyder, 1927, he and his associates ginned 5,395 bales, and in 1932 the total was 6,450 bales (equivalent squares). The grand total for the four years is 24,129 bales, an average of 6,032 bales per year—and that must be a world record of some sort.

When ginning season is not at its height, Mr. Ely comes out of cotton hibernation to become one of those rare animals known as "a real civic leader." He is serving as Snyder director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the third consecutive year. In 1933 he was recognized as the most active director in the territory, when he led Snyder in participating in more activities than any other membership town.

Ely at Home.

He has served as chairman of the Snyder Methodist Church board of stewards, and is now district steward. He is a past commander of the Knights Templar, Snyder Commandery. Although he has no boys, he is president of the Snyder district in Boy Scout work, and supports the boy-training movement with his might.

In recent months this Bill-of-all-activities has been devoting most of his time to pushing the Snyder General Hospital, a $25,000 structure whose doors will open in September. His favorite question around Snyder is, "Have you seen the hospital today?"

Such a man of many activities must have hobbies, of course. His are three: Girls, pecans and checkers. The girls are his own—two in

A full-blooded Pima Indian out in Arizona needed some cash, so he went to a banker and asked about a loan.

"How much do you need?" asked the banker.

"Me want $200."

"For how long?"

"Maybe two week; maybe two month."

"And what security have you?"

"Me got 200 horses."

This seemed sufficient security and the loan was made.

A short time afterward, the Indian came into the bank with $2,200 cash, paid off the note, and started to leave with the rest of his roll.

"Why not let us take care of that money for you?" asked the banker.

The old Indian's mind flew back to the day when he wanted $200 and, looking the banker straight in the eyes, he solemnly asked, "How many horses do you got?"

HOT WATER SERVICE

... it only takes a few pennies a day!

There's no need for any home to be without the convenience of a gas automatic water heater... not when your gas company is selling them for so little and on the easiest kind of terms. So if you want a never failing supply of hot water in your home at the turn of the faucet better make a trip to our showroom and let us tell you the terms which amount to only a few pennies a day! Your present heater will be given a generous trade-in allowance.

Lowest terms in our history!

Special discount on all models, with extra discount for cash. Trade-in allowance on old water heater, regardless of type.

Monthly terms so small that they will never be missed from the most modest of budgets! Down payment so ridiculously low that any home can afford to switch to this modern automatic system for hot water.

Dr. Brown Gives Suggestions for School Children

The beginning of another school year is here. The weeks have provided for school children the opportunity for mental rest and relaxation; they have likewise made for physical growth and development. Thousands of boys and girls will advance to a higher grade as they turn toward the schoolhouses. In addition, a new group of children, escorted by parents or older children, will be entering school for the first time.

The years spent in school represent training for life work. Such training accomplishes most when administered to pupils and students with clear minds and sound bodies. Moreover, this training must go on without serious interruption. Other things being equal, the school with a fine record for attendance is more apt to approach a high standard of education than the school with poor enrollment due to avoidable disease, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

It is unfortunate from any standpoint when children are kept away from school because of illness; doubly so when sickness is due to preventable causes. No school need have its attendance record shattered because of an outbreak of smallpox or diphtheria. Parents in increasing number are having their children safeguarded against these diseases in the first year of life.

Likewise, thorough child health conferences, for pre-school children, more and more attention is being given to work of immunization against preventable diseases and to the correction of dental and other remediable physical defects. Such measures will go far toward assuring good health and regular attendance throughout the period of school life. See your physician about diphtheria and smallpox immunization.

A Bright Boy.

The story is going around about a football player in a small college who was unusually dumb. To the surprise of everyone he passed all of his work, including the rather stiff chemistry course, thereby being eligible for the big game.

One of the instructors asked the chemistry professor how it was possible that he passed chemistry. The chemistry professor said: "I decided that I would let him pass if he answered 50 per cent of the questions correctly."

"I asked him two questions—one he answered wrong, one he answered right. Therefore, I let him pass."

"The first question was: 'What color is blue violet?' He answered, 'pink.' That time he was wrong."

"The other question was: 'How do you make sulphuric acid?' He answered that he didn't know. That time he was right."

You seldom learn anything while you are talking.

District Elevens Threaten to Set Stiff 1935 Pace

Opening games for teams in District 6-B last week-end reveal plenty of potential strength, which points toward one of the most interesting seasons the area has known since the torrid days of high-powered Tiger squads.

In Snyder's half, Roscoe liked the heavy Class A Sweetwater Mustangs, 6-0, and established themselves firmly as strongest contenders for top place in the west end. Bill Emerson, John Plowboy quarter, was the winning team's star. Roban showed surprising strength by whipping Sweetwater's B team, 26-0. Roby pulled an iron-man stunt when she held the rampaging Spur Bulldogs to a scoreless tie, despite the fact that the Bulldogs gained 13 first downs to 1, and were dedicating their new $25,000 stadium before a crowd estimated at 3,500 persons. The Roby Lions won the district crown last year.

The Kimbrough (Haskell) squad, featuring John and Jack Kimbrough, won 21-0, as expected, from the Rule Bobcats, a new conference member, in the east end of the district. Another conference affair in the east end found Rochester, also a new conference team, winning from Anson, at Anson, 6 to 0. Rochester made six first downs, Anson three.

"I am a beetolater. Whether all my fellow players of the British team label themselves beetolater I cannot say; but certainly in our trips together beer, wines and spirits are virtually unknown among us. If you were to go into the dining room of any Continental hotel where we were staying, you would recognize our table by the largest jug of orange and lemon drinks on view."—Fred J. Perry.

get to be thankful for the blessings we have while struggling for those we have not," he declared.

Turning to Constitution Day, he said 67 acts of Congress have been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in the history of the country, and that only four of these have been in the Roosevelt administration. Twelve congressional acts were declared unconstitutional in the Grant administration, he said, almost twice as many as in all democratic administrations combined.

Concluding, he said: "Let us remember the devotion and self-sacrifice of the men who made and signed our Constitution, let us have a new baptism of American ideals, and let us remember that we will never come to the place in our national life when our citizens can get something for nothing by hokuspokus methods."

Fraudulent Loan Applications Are Claimed by U. S.

An Associated Press dispatch in Thursday papers said:

Eight farmers of Lynn, Terry and Jones Counties were indicted today by the federal grand jury of Dallas for allegedly making false applications to the farm credit administration for livestock feed loans and for alleged fraud in obtaining the loans.

The indictments were returned for the Lubbock and divisions of the northern district of Texas, and the cases are expected to be tried at those places.

Charged were Gaston I. Pruitt, Joseph D. Pruitt, William O. Elliott, J. L. Griffin, Henry A. Bates, William D. Cupps, Oliver Alan Cupps and Harry P. Shannon.

Joseph D. Pruitt and William O. Elliott were indicted for the Lubbock division, the others for the Abilene division.

Joe H. Jones, assistant United States district attorney, said the cases were the first to be pressed under the new criminal code of the farm administration. Jones said the men were farmers in the three counties.

Narcotic indictments returned included: Roy Jordan, Jimmie G. Jeffries, Raymond Eldridge and Lambert B. McNabb, all of Greenville, and William Weir, alias Ware, of Abilene.

Joseph H. Clouse of Amarillo was indicted for alleged counterfeiting, and Robert D. Patislo of Abilene on a charge of forging a money order.

D. W. Jones and A. C. Adkins of Dallas, formerly officials of the Helpy-Selfy Stores, Inc., were indicted on ten counts for alleged falsification, concealing and destruction of records prior to the bankruptcy proceedings of the Helpy-Selfy stores.

Half-Day Visit for Area School Chief

Miss Madge Stanford's first official visit to Scurry County was only a half day long.

The deputy state superintendent from Abilene was here Tuesday afternoon for a trip, with County Superintendent Frank Farmer, to the Dunn school system.

Definite dates for her Scurry County visits will be set later by Miss Stanford.

Marry at Parsonage. William M. Wilson of Abilene and Mrs. Lucile Thomason of the Union community were married at the Methodist parsonage Saturday evening by the pastor, Rev. H. C. Gordon. Several friends witnessed the ceremony. The newlyweds will be at home in Abilene.

SIMMONS BACK

Theo Rigsby, full-time backfield ace on the Hardin-Simmons team last season, will be kept out of the line-up this year due to a head injury sustained in the spring, but he has been assigned to coach the freshman squad. Back Howell, also a former Tiger star, termed the fastest man in Texas college football, is slated to get plenty of chances to show his speed in the highly-touted Cowboy-Matador tangle at Abilene Friday night. Many local fans are planning to see the game.

aking a Hospital Stroll

ONTRACTORS' WORK LAUDED

Room by Room Inspection of Building's 28 Rooms Is Made by Visitor.

Would you like to take a leisurely stroll through Snyder General Hospital just before the doors are thrown open for next week's public reception?

Before we start, it would be well to become acquainted with the contractors whose wide experience in West Texas building problems made it possible for them to erect a structure so complete in every detail that professional builders have declared it to be a masterpiece of their art.

G. C. Dunlap and P. B. Coughran, the Abilene men whose bid was accepted out of a list of several contractors, proved as capable at satisfying the board of directors as they did at erecting a fine building. They declare that they had pleasant relationships from the beginning with the board of directors and others who were directly connected with the hospital.

"We take pride in turning this building over to Snyder and Scurry County citizens, whose enterprise and interest deserves all the praise we can possibly give," the contractors said as they completed their work last week.

Now for the room-to-room inspection.

Let us enter the north wing, which is to the right as you come in from the east. This is the doctors' wing; that is, it contains doctors' offices and working rooms.

The first room to the right—one of 28 rooms in the building—is the doctors' examining room. It has all facilities for use of any physician, for this is an open-staff hospital, and welcomes any doctor.

Laboratory Is Complete.

Room No. 2 is the laboratory, which is complete in every detail. It is capable, among other things, of doing frozen sections (for detection of cancer), blood tests, etc.

The X-ray room, which comes next, is equipped for doing the most difficult Roentgen ray work. It is finished in a blue metallic paint. The X-ray equipment is modern in every respect.

It is said that the next room is one of the most popular in any hospital. It is the view room, from which relatives of the person to be operated can witness the operation. It is separated from the operating room by a plate glass.

The operating room is probably the most attractive room in the entire building. Green tile extends five feet up the wall from the terrazo floor. The first thing that catches your eye is the huge Castle surgical lamp, about two feet in diameter, which can be turned at any angle above the operating table. Its high candlepower makes it practically shadow-proof. The operating table is an American Knysheer of the latest design. Mayo instruments for the surgeon are placed on a curved movable instrument table. The most modern Hydbrink gas machine, for anaesthesia, is also in the room.

From the operating room you pass into the sterilizing room, equipped with a battery of Castle sterilizers, autoclave, two 10-gallon water tanks and instrument sterilizers, with cabinet space for supplies.

Nurses' Work Room Next.

The nurses' work room comes next as you turn south from the sterilizing room.

The obstetric delivery room is equipped with the latest type bed and other necessary equipment.

Between the operating and delivery rooms is the doctors' scrub-up room, with automatic sink and necessary solutions.

Now you go into the short hall that runs west to east. To the right is the ambulance entrance. On the far west wing is the roomy kitchen, with its long sink, latest type gas range, and complete equipment for meal preparation.

The small room, with many shelves that you see as you go east and to the right is the linen storage room.

Next is the nursery room, which is equipped with eight bassinets. Incubator connection is afforded when necessary. A large double cabinet for supplies and a bath sink complete the room's equipment.

The central bathroom is of special interest because it has a modernistic tub, four feet square, with seats built in two corners of the snow white porcelain. The men's rest room and the women's rest room come next in order.

Utility room, the next one is called. And it is all of that. Sinks, counters, tables, and sterilizing equipment are its chief contents.

Directly across the hall, to the east, is the nurses' station, where the nurses rest when they are not on active duty.

Most of the south wing is occupied by the patients' rooms, six on the east and three on the west. These are described in another article in this issue.

Halls Are Well Built.

The large halls are seven feet in width, and the smaller ones are four and five feet wide. All the halls have terrazo baseboard and are floored with heavy linoleum.

As you pass the nurses' station, going north, you turn right into the lobby of the hospital, which visitors enter from the east yard, by way of a low, roomy porch with red tile floor. The heavy carpet and the sleek furniture of modernistic design are the things you will notice most here—unless it is the ornamental four-bulb lamp that hangs from the low ceiling.

In the north end of this waiting room is the office, fitting snugly into a recessed space with necessary drawers, shelves, and book-keeping equipment.

A short passageway leads into the hall you entered as you first stepped into the building. As you turn to the right and prepare to leave the building, the last door reveals two more doctors' rooms—just across the hall from the doctors' examining room on the extreme northeast corner of the building.

Buff Color Scheme Prevails.

You have noted, as you passed from room to room, that a buff color scheme prevails, with a few of the rooms finished in light green.

Before you leave the building, you might be interested in back-tracking to the west wing, turning to the left, and going down to the basement. The heating plan occupies most of the basement space, but there is plenty of storage space, also, especially for soiled linen. The linen goes down a chute from the first floor to the basement.

PUBLIC HOSPITAL INSPECTION SET FOR TUESDAY, 3:00 TO 10:00

Hundreds of Citizens From West Texas Expected
By Directorate.

Snyder General Hospital will be opened for public inspection Tuesday afternoon and evening, September 24, 3:00 to 10:00 o'clock, the board of directors announced Wednesday.

During those seven hours it is expected by the directors that several hundred persons from Scurry and other West Texas counties will view the structure from beginning to end—from its low, red-tiled porch to its modern, roomy kitchen.

Staff to Be There.

The entire hospital staff and several officials of the locally-financed incorporation will be on hand to explain details of the completed building.

There will be nothing formal about the seven-hour inspection period. Just as the hospital itself is home-like and yet decidedly modern, so it is hoped by the reception committee that the opening day will be.

Editor Gives Details.

Those who plan to visit the hospital on this public inspection day are invited to read the various articles in this issue in order to have a detailed background of the project's eventful history, its interesting room-to-room arrangement, and its competent staff.

The directors announce, also, that a special day will be set aside for doctors of West Texas to inspect the hospital. Invitations are being mailed by the Snyder Medical Society, of which Dr. W. R. Johnson is president and Dr. H. E. Rosser is secretary.

THE DOCTORS OF SNYDER AN EDITORIAL

This special hospital section has purposely omitted too much mention of Dr. Grady Shytles, chief surgeon, and the other members of Snyder's medical fraternity . . . all legitimate surgeons and physicians shun the limelight, and The Times certainly would embarrass none of them.

But this issue would be incomplete without a brief tribute to these men about whose ability and reputation the new hospital is being built for a humanitarian existence.

Everyone who invested in Snyder General Hospital realized that the building and equipment, no matter their beauty or material value, would be practically worthless unless they were used by medical men who held the confidence and esteem of their neighbors.

If the hospital continues to have such a worthy staff as that she now possesses, certainly she will become one of the most worthy institutions in the community. The Times prophesies that it will be but a matter of months until more beds will be

HOSPITAL HEAD FROM ABILENE

Miss Edith Robinson, who is general superintendent and head nurse of the hospital, comes from the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium, Abilene, where she has seen wide experience since her graduation from the nursing school there several years ago. She has cared for a number of Snyder and Scurry County persons who were confined to the Abilene hospital.

Both the other nurses are also graduates of the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium, with several years of experience in special nursing work.

Miss Millie Davison is surgical nurse and Miss Josie Ham is night nurse.

Pipe Would Reach Across Two Blocks

The copper pipe that is used in Snyder General Hospital would reach the length of a city block, and almost back again.

Almost 800 feet of copper pipe, which is recognized as the safest and longest lasting type of gas and steam conductor, is webbed beneath the hospital floors, into the main rooms, and down to the boiler room.

There are 29 radiators—enough to comfortably heat a half dozen ordinary dwellings.

And there are room thermostats and automatic self-closing burner controls, insuring heat when you want it and need it.

added to the hospital for accommodation of overflow patients . . . and confidence in our doctors will be the root of the expansion.

We pause in this edition, therefore, to pay tribute to: Dr. Grady Shytles, Dr. H. E. Rosser, Dr. W. R. Johnson, Dr. A. C. Leslie, Dr. R. L. Howell, Dr. Robt. C. L. Robertson and Dr. I. A. Griffin.

LUMBER COMPANY

Here Is West Texas' No. 1 Plumbing Job

COGDELL USES COPPER PIPES

Each Plumbing and Heating Detail in Hospital Is Strictly Modern.

The most modern plumbing job in West Texas.

That describes the system of pipes, radiators and other plumbing equipment that was installed in Snyder General Hospital by R. G. Cogdell Plumbing & Heating Company of Abilene.

The Abilene plumbing contractor was personally in charge of the job. His chief assistant is John Maroney, who can wipe a joint as neatly as any West Texan you'll find.

First "Copper Job."

As far as Cogdell knows, the local plumbing job is the only "copper job" in West Texas. Every inch of underground pipe—and that means between 300 and 400 feet—is made of copper, and every joint is "sweated," which means that it is practically immune from leaks and corrosion.

Not a radiator nor an ell, not a valve nor a sleeve of the plumbing job is anything but the most modern equipment that can be procured. The board of directors saw to that when they made the contract. For Snyder General Hospital is built for the years, bow to stern.

Now for the Bath Tub.

But it is neither the neat underground network of pipes nor the series of boiler room jiggers in the basement that will strike the average eye that surveys the hospital.

The bath tub, first of its kind to be installed in Scurry County, is of the new modernistic size and shape. It is four feet square, of the recessed type, and has seats on either side. Truly, even a 12-year-old boy would enjoy keeping clean if he had access to such a tub.

The next bit of plumbing equipment that will attract the hospital visitor is the group of radiators.

Has 29 Radiators.

Twenty-nine of them. The newly-designed radiators, finished in a dull silver, suggest that the building will be kept snug and warm through all sorts of weather.

And, incidentally, the long hall, with exposure to the south, suggests that the hospital will be cool in the summer.

But the radiators. They are heated by an atmospheric or vapor system, which insures even, healthy

Cogdell Likes Men Who Built Hospital

R. G. Cogdell, whose plumbing jobs have included everything from patching pipes to installing fixtures for the 100-room Hardin-Simmons dormitory, says he has never worked with a finer set of men than those he has met at Snyder.

"The hospital directors were anxious that every detail was just right, but they were very considerate of the workmen. I want to congratulate Snyder not only for her enterprise in building the hospital but for the type of men she chose as directors."

heat at a minimum of cost and trouble.

There is no guess work about the heating system. It is controlled by room thermostats and by automatic self-closing burner controls.

In the Boiler Room.

You will be surprised to find such a maze of pipes and gadgets in the boiler room.

Even if you don't know exactly what all the gadgets are for, you can guess that the plumbers knew what it was all about.

The boiler is fired with gas. It is a Kewanee, the latest type that can be purchased for a building of this size.

A check-up of the other equipment reveals: The copper pipes and fittings are Streamline; these fittings, and all controls, were purchased by Cogdell from the Morrison Pipe & Supply Company; plumbing fixtures are by Standard; radiation is by Crane.

Barrister (for motor accident victim): "Gentlemen of the jury, the driver of the car stated he was going only four miles an hour. Think of it! The long agony of my poor, unfortunate client, the victim, as the car drove so slowly over his body!"

Architect Plans Home-Like Atmosphere

BOREN CHOSEN FOR ART WORK

English Lines and Attractive Color Scheme Appeal To Most Visitors.

Choice of Albert H. Boren of Dallas as architect for the hospital was no guesswork. The board of directors investigated his record fully, and found that he could provide exactly what they had in mind.

The Dallas architect has drawn plans for several of the more modern type of hospitals in the state, and committees for whom he formerly did this work recommended him to the nth degree.

The home-like atmosphere of the building, its rambling, comfortable-looking style and its tinge of English architecture appeal to practically every visitor. Mr. Boren believes that a hospital should not be formal, like an office building—that it should be as attractive as possible to patients and visitors alike.

Only minor changes were made from the architect's drawing that was completed about January 1. The hip was taken from the south end of the building to give a few feet more room. Otherwise, the changes are hardly visible to the average eye.

The color scheme is simple, yet impressive. The brick is practically white, with a slight cream tinge. The roof was painted green. All the woodwork outside, except the imitation shutters, which are green, were painted white.

Most visitors are fond of the porch at the main entrance. Its snowy whiteness, its red tile floor, and its lattice-work top seem to say "Come right in and make yourself at home." And the dormer windows in the roof are another antidote to the customary formality that greets one at the average hospital.

If you have made the room-to-room inspection of the hospital that is included in another article in this issue, you are doubly con-

SECRETARY

A. C. Preute, who has held so many figuring and bookkeeping jobs that he can hardly count them on his fingers, is secretary-treasurer of the hospital organization. He has been a leader in civic, church, and lodge affairs since he came to Snyder a dozen or so years ago. His chief job, however, is being agent of the R. S. & P. Railway. His robust figure has been seen from the beginning of hospital-talk meetings.

TECHNICIAN IS WELL TRAINED

Miss Melba Lee, laboratory and X-ray technician at the hospital, is highly trained in her chosen field.

For several years she has been connected with Rice Institute, Houston, where she has done research work in bacteriology and kindred fields. She recently received her M. A. degree from Rice, with bacteriology as her major work.

Miss Lee came to Snyder early this month. She has been a frequent visitor at the hospital, as the equipment of which she will have charge was installed. She has become acquainted with a number of Snyder people.

vinced that the choice of Albert H. Boren as hospital architect was a happy one.

Room Furnished By-Sunday School Of M. E. Church

The church school of the First Methodist Church will furnish one of the two-bed rooms in the new Snyder General Hospital. Almost $175 will be raised by October 1.

Rev. H. C. Gordon, pastor, W. J. Ely, Herman Darby, Warren Dodson and O. P. Thrane compose the committee from the church school that is responsible for the class-to-class canvass. Classes favored the plans of the committee, and pledges were made early in August. The first payment, amounting to $43.20, was made September 8, according to Herman Darby, who is in charge of the funds.

The southeast corner room was selected by the Win One Class, a group of teen-age girls taught by Mrs. Joe Caton, as the room to be furnished by the Methodists. Regular standard hospital furnishings will be used in the room.

The children's division of the church school is taking active part in raising money for the project. Coins are dropped into "hospital banks" every Sunday morning in each department. To make the giving more impressive for the children, miniature copies of the local hospital are to be seen in the primary and junior departments.

R. J. Randals, local lumberman, built an exact wooden model of the new building for the juniors, and Mrs. Randals, who is a teacher in that department, added grass and shrubs around the building, as well as lawn furniture and a fish pond.

The model in the primary department is much smaller, but it is a good example of the work of primary boys.

Work projects are hard to find. So many places that need construction haven't enough votes to justify it.—Detroit Free Press.

INITIAL DIRT MOVED TUESDAY FOR MODERN 14-BED HOSPITAL

Dr. Grady Shytles, Eminent
Abilene Surgeon, Named
As Chief Surgeon.

(Reprint From The Times,
June 6, 1935)

Dr. Grady Shytles, eminent Abilene physician and surgeon, was introduced Tuesday afternoon, just before first dirt was broken for the Snyder General Hospital, as chief surgeon of the locally-financed project.

The introduction followed a stirring dedicatory address by Judge James P. Stinson of Abilene, a former Scurry County resident, who declared the enterprise to be without equal anywhere in a town the size of Snyder.

"I thought when the 14-bed modern hospital idea was first broached," he declared, "that it was just a dream. 'Now,' with a wave of the hand toward stakes that outlined the foundation, 'we have concrete evidence of an enterprise that is unique and altogether worthy of a forward-looking citizenship who have service as their watchword.'"

Praises Dr. Shytles.

Judge Stinson referred to Dr. Shytles as a chief surgeon who can "do it if he says he can do it. He will never operate for the purpose of getting your money." The visiting speaker referred to the proposed modern building and equipment, declaring that they would be without peers anywhere.

The Abilene physician-surgeon, it was indicated, will come to Snyder with his family near the end of the building period about August 20. He was pointed out by Judge Stinson as "a man who has given his best to the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium and one who has cared for more than 1,000 patients from Scurry County."

N. M. Harpole, veteran business man and a member of the hospital board of directors, turned the first spadeful of dirt at the request of G. B. Clark Sr., chairman of the board. A snapshot was made of the ceremony as almost 200 persons gathered, between June showers, at the hospital site eight blocks east of the square.

A Task Well Done.

John E. Sentell, master of ceremonies, referred to the occasion as tribute to a task well done by local citizens who have service and not money making as their goal. "We will be proud of the building," he said, "but we want most of all to be able to look back in a few years and speak most of service to humanity and to our citizenship."

The hospital, he pointed out, will be entirely an open staff institution, with all doctors privileged to use it. He highly complimented those who are responsible for bringing the project to actual construction. Turning to Dr. Shytles, he said, "we think he is second to none."

G. C. Dunlap and P. B. Coughran, contractors on the building, were introduced by the master of ceremonies. They had already staked off the site, and are going forward this week with foundation building.

G. B. Clark Sr. Is Named President Of Organization

The nine-man board of directors of Snyder General Hospital Inc., named G. B. Clark Sr. as its president.

A. C. Preuit, railroad agent, was elected as secretary-treasurer, and W. J. Ely was made vice president.

Other members of the board of directors, with their occupations, are as follows:

- Lee T. Stinson, druggist.
- N. M. Harpole, groceryman.
- Frank Farmer, county school superintendent.
- Harrie Winston, stockman.
- Amos Joyce, ginner.

ENTHUSIAST

W. J. Ely, who has been one of the sparkplugs in the hospital idea from the beginning, was named as vice president of the perfected organization. He has taken pride in showing out-of-town visitors through the hospital and has visited it almost daily.

Friend Tells This Yarn on New M. D. At Local Hospital

An Abilene friend of Dr. Grady Shytles, chief surgeon at the new hospital, tells what he terms a truthful yarn on the newcomer to Snyder.

It seems that Dr. Shytles was working in the Indian country during the early days of his practice, and quickly won the redskins to him after he performed a successful operation on the chief's son.

The Indian boy was at the point of death. Dr. Shytles advised an operation as the only possible means of saving the life. The chief consented.

When the red leader saw the swollen intestine, after the first stroke of the knife, he exclaimed: "Ugh! Too many mesquite beans!"

The operation was successful, and Dr. Shytles was thereafter a constant friend and surgeon of the redmen.

Ben O. King says his idea of the meanest man in the world is the guy who is deaf and never told his barber.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLANS AND EXECUTES HOSPITAL IDEA

Members of Civic Body Talk Building Many Months Before Construction.

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce is responsible for conceiving and carrying through the plan of the new hospital.

Members of the civic organization talked the plan, by twos and threes, several months before it was decided to form a stock company and finance the structure on a cash-in-advance basis.

A central committee was named when the hospital ball was started rolling. It was composed of Harrie Winston, president of Chamber of Commerce, W. J. Ely and A. D. Erwin. J. W. Scott, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, assisted with organization plans from the beginning.

A short time later a sub-committee was named jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club, as follows: Maurice Brownfield, H. L. Vann, Frank Farmer, H. J. Brice, Hugh Boren and R. H. Odom. These six committeemen, with the three on original committee, were entrusted with the job of selling stock and working out other pre-building plans.

The committeemen insist that their work would have been in vain had it not been for the faithful assistance of many other men and a few women who had the hospital close to their hearts.

After the bulk of stock solicitation had been completed, N. M. Harpole, a warm supporter of the hospital idea from the beginning, was placed on a finance committee with W. J. Ely for rounding out of the capital stock.

Members and non-members alike of the Chamber of Commerce believe the local civic organization has done no greater work during its existence than to sponsor and carry through the building of a modern hospital for Snyder.

Charter Granted Hospital May 27

A state charter was granted May 27, 1935, to the Snyder General Hospital, Inc.

Eight stockholders made application for the charter. They are: G. B. Clark Sr., W. J. Ely, A. D. Erwin, Harrie Winston, R. H. Odom, J. C. Stinson, Lee T. Stinson, N. M. Harpole, A. C. Martin.

The charter called for capital stock of $25,000. Additional stock of $3,500 has been issued since the charter was granted.

PRESIDENT

When stockholders of the hospital placed G. B. Clark Sr. on their board of directors, they knew what they were about. Then, when the directors named him as their president, a second tribute was paid to his ability and willingness to work. Mr. Clark manages Wilkison Lumber Company.

Friends Furnish Equipment for Rooms

GRANDMOTHER WARREN FIRST

Individuals and Two Sunday Schools Provide Funds For Furnishings.

The excellent equipment that will greet patients when they are taken to local hospital rooms was made possible because of the sacrifice and interest of several individuals and two Sunday schools.

It was Mrs. J. W. Warren, affectionately known to Snyderites as "Grandmother" Warren, who suggested the idea of furnishing the rooms through such a plan—and she was the first to agree to provide the essentials for a room.

Others who are furnishing one-bed rooms are as follows: Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson, Joe and Lee T. Stinson, Gay McGlaun, Mrs. Fritz R. Smith and G. B. Clark Sr.

Two-bed rooms are being furnished by the First Methodist Sunday school, the von Roeder Seed Farms of Borden County and the First Baptist Church Sunday school. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Preuitt are furnishing the nursery.

Each room provides a large closet with individual coat hangers and plenty of storage space for the patient's apparel. Simmons screw-type hospital beds, each furnished with a Beauty Rest mattress, are provided. A rocker, a straight chair, a bedside table and two throw rugs complete the principal equipment. Each room also has a wall mirror and a picture.

Decorative Material By Abilene Concern

The West Texas Tile Company of Abilene furnished hollow tile, brick and terrazo for the new hospital. This firm has been responsible for a large amount of this type of work in West Texas, including some of Abilene's largest stores, office buildings and college buildings.

Visitors to the local structure are especially impressed with the terrazo floor and base material that is used in a number of the rooms.

LUMBER FROM SNYDER YARDS

Lumber for the hospital was provided by the three Snyder lumber yards—Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, Burton-Lingo Lumber Company and O. L. Wilkerson & Company.

This material is typical of the excellent quality that characterized each item that went into the building. No. 1 lumber was used from top to bottom, and the contractors found their needs easily supplied from the full stocks carried by the local yards.

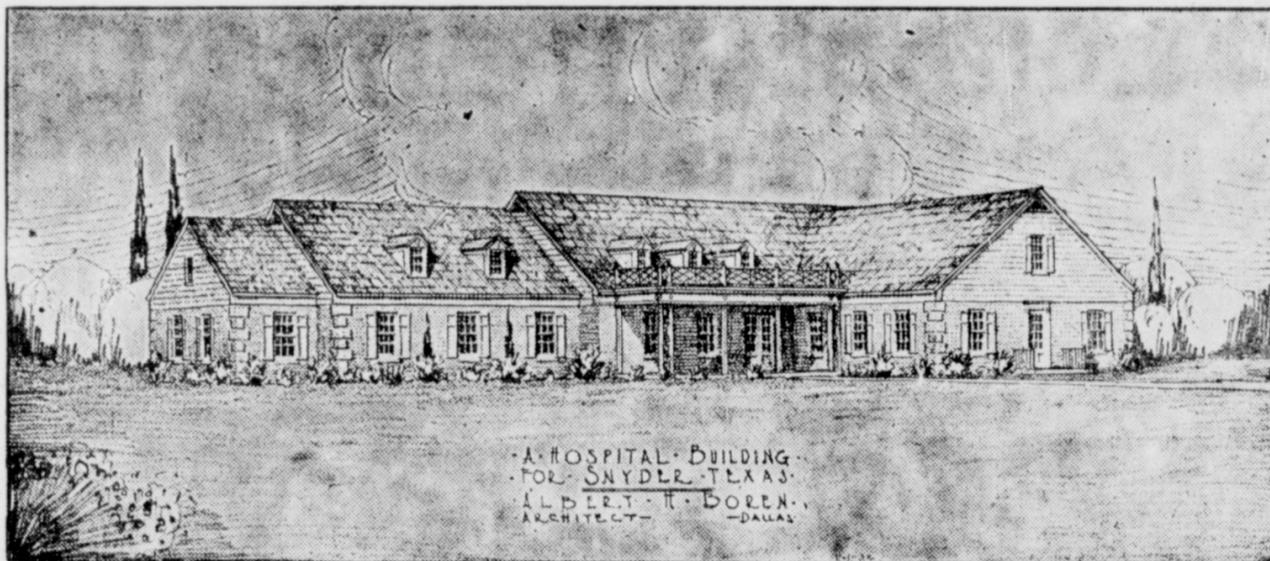

Those who use building material of any kind or any quantity have found in recent years that Snyder yards are eager to cooperate. For this reason, the trade territory served by Snyder's yards extends far into the ranch country of Kent, Borden and Garza Counties.

ELECTRIC WORK BY ANSON MAN

John L. Prock of Anson was a sub-contractor for electrical work on the hospital. He is a general electrician and floor surfacing contractor, well known to West Texas builders.

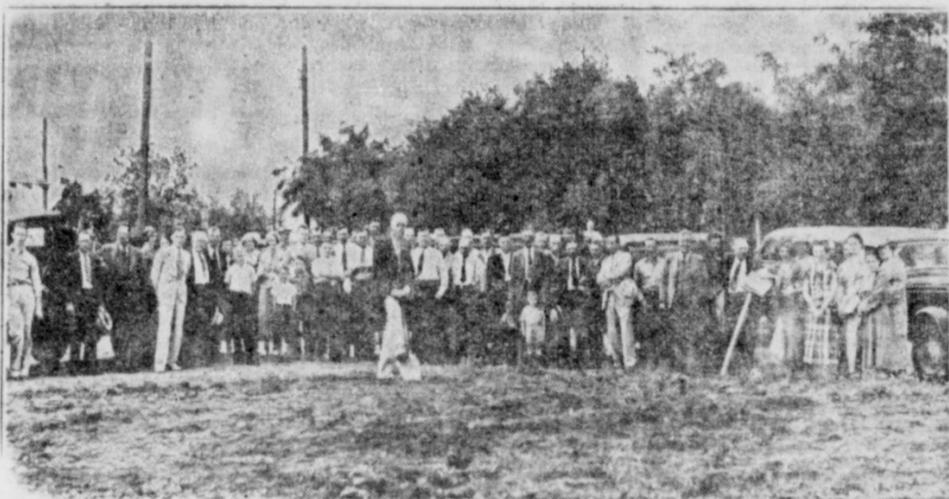

The special arrangement of lights and buzzers is interesting to every visitor. When the patient pulls a cord that is connected with the buzzer in his room, the buzzer sounds and the ceiling light in front of his door flashes. The buzzer ceases, but the light remains on until the nurse comes into the room and presses the switch.

A similar arrangement in the main office makes it possible to turn on one or all lights in the building.

Modern light fixtures throughout rooms and passageways blend perfectly with the quiet simplicity of the entire building.

SCENE AT GROUND BREAKING FOR HOSPITAL

This picture, taken between showers when ground was broken for the hospital about 100 days ago, shows N. M. Harpole turning the first shovelful of dirt for the building's foundation. James P. Stinson of Abilene was principal speaker on the occasion, and John E. Sentell was master of ceremonies. About 200 citizens attended the ground breaking, despite the spring showers that fell throughout the day.

$27,000 GOES INTO HOSPITAL

A check-up this week by the secretary-treasurer reveals that a total of almost $27,000 has been invested—mostly by Scurry County people—in the Snyder General Hospital.

Of this amount, $19,400 went into the building, including architect's fees. The land on which the hospital is located represents an investment of $750.

The balance, which went into equipment, includes not only outright purchases but donations by individuals and churches.

Water Sets Bought For Hospital Rooms

Special water sets for patients' rooms at the hospital were purchased by the following persons or institutions:

- M. E. Savage, Marcel Josephson, Hande-Dande, Dr. Grady Shytle, The Tavern, Manhattan Hotel, Edd Dodds, R. C. Miller, Foy Wade, J. E. LeMond, David C. Fawcett, W. H. Ware.

Louder Motor Company and Perry Brothers provided $30 for purchase of fire extinguishers.

ABILENE PAPER PRAISES TOWN

From Max Bentley, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, comes a warm letter of appreciation for the town that financed a modern hospital while signs of depression were still in evidence.

The Abilene newspaperman, chairman of the editorial board of West Texas Today, official organ of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has long been known as one of the area's most enthusiastic and influential evangelists.

This is his message to Snyder on the occasion of opening the new hospital:

"The citizenship of Snyder has done a fine piece of work in supplying the town's hospital needs—for which, congratulations from the Abilene Reporter-News. But it has done a finer piece of work in demonstrating the spirit of 'Carry on' that has built West Texas. No town can get along without an acute consciousness of community-mindedness, and Snyder's people have shown the old spirit is there, undimmed by depression or anything else. The successful completion of this project is a happy one of your future."

ABILENE LEADER RANKS TOWN HIGH IN COMMUNITY PROGRESS

James P. Stinson Says State Has Seen No Greater Civic Endeavor.

By James P. Stinson, Abilene.

Faith and courage are the fundamentals underlying all achievements whether by individual or community effort. When conditions are prosperous and times are what we call "good," there is no particular distinction in the accomplishment of the ordinary affairs in community progress.

The economic conditions which have prevailed for the last six years have largely discouraged and deterred a great deal of individual as well as community effort. But little progress has been made in any community without government aid in some guise or form.

The most splendid community achievement of which I know is that by citizens of Snyder in the construction and completion in that city of a modern hospital, realizing the vision of a citizenship worthy of any community.

Previously Planned.

I know that for many years there have been those who have discussed and proposed the erection of such a hospital and numerous plans to accomplish this have been suggested including that of county-city, or other government aid, thought to be necessary for the consummation of such a project.

The remarkable feature of the Snyder hospital achievement is no debt to haunt its founders. It is a splendid expression of the faith and courage of a group of leading citizens, who, able, ready, and willing have made a general contribution of their time, funds and means for the building of a modern hospital, finished and furnished for the service of their entire citizenship.

I recall that when the matter of building this hospital along the lines resulting in the success attained, I, as well as many others, supposed that the matter would likely end with discussion, and result in being forgotten as has been the case in so many instances with which all are familiar; great plans proposed and nothing ever done.

Enterprising Citizens.

There is no community in the Southwest, insofar as I am able to ascertain, in which a few enterprising citizens, under existing conditions, have brought to successful accomplishment so admirable and splendid a modern institution as your completed hospital.

It represents the last word in modern hospital equipment and furnishings; a distinctly outstanding representation of the confidence, faith and courage of citizens in the future of their city and county.

I cannot conceive a more splendid achievement in the progress of any community than furnishing to that community the facilities of the best in hospital service and medical and surgical skill, which such an institution as yours represents and brings as a blessing to Snyder and Scurry County and all of West Texas.

Pays Individual Tribute.

My tribute to each of those who have given of their means and service, contributing to the wonderful success of your noble undertaking, permit me to say that you are worthy of and entitled to the good will, admiration and love of every loyal citizen of the city of Snyder and Scurry County and entitled to be honored by the entire citizenship of West Texas as well as all of Texas.

You have placed your city in the first rank of progressive cities, as an outstanding example of initiative, self-reliant, individual expression of faith in your community.

May your city, by reason of all these things, become famous as a medical center throughout the world.

Somebody is passing up a good bet: Think how many young fellows could be kept on the farm if sport model tractors were manufactured.—Cleburne Times Review.

DEDICATOR

It was Judge James P. Stinson of Abilene who gave the dedicatory address when ground was broken for the new hospital. He termed the enterprise one of the most remarkable examples of civic pride and humanitarian interest that he had ever witnessed. Judge Stinson plans to be present for the formal opening Tuesday.

INITIAL STORY IN JAN. 10 ISSUE

Paragraphs Are Taken From Back Issues for Full Line of Events.

Progress of Snyder General Hospital since January 1 is easily traced by way of articles in The Times. By reprinting a paragraph or two from issue to issue, it is possible to get a bird's eye view of the hospital's recent history.

January 10—

Snyder's long dream of an adequate, modern hospital is nearing realization, members of a central Chamber of Commerce committee told The Times yesterday. After several weeks of work on plans and other details of the proposed structure, the committee reports that at least $8,000 cash has already been pledged, and that the remainder is expected to be pledged within a short time.

January 31—

Completion of the financial drive looking toward erection of a modern 14-bed open-staff hospital in Snyder is expected within a few days, Chairman W. J. Ely of the Chamber of Commerce hospital committee, said yesterday.

February 7—

New pledges within the past three days have hoisted financial prospects within seeing a distance of the $20,000 goal set for a 14-bed hospital and complete equipment.

February 14—

The hospital will be built. That is the Thursday morning message of the central committee.

February 21—

With pledges jumping almost $2,000 since last Thursday, the hospital committee was highly optimistic this morning over the possibility of beginning erection of the proposed building within a short time.

February 28—

An earnest appeal to Scurry County citizens who wish to see a modern hospital erected here in the near future was issued last night after a meeting of the central hospital committee.

March 7—

Another $1,000 has been added to the hospital fund since last week, the central committee reported late yesterday. The total pledged in writing for purchase of stock in the proposed organization is now beyond $18,000.

March 21—

Citizens who agreed to subscribe stock in Snyder's proposed new hospital project gathered Thursday night to name nine directors. Immediately after the general session, directors elected G. B. Clark Sr. as chairman, W. J. Ely as vice chairman and A. C. Preult as secretary-treasurer.

March 28—

Pessimism Pete says when the new hospital is finally on its hind legs and rearing to go, some of the professional agin-ers that have been saying it couldn't be done will probably be the first customers.

April 11—

Albert H. Boren of Dallas, architect for the hospital that is to be erected in Snyder soon, was here yesterday in connection with definite plans for the structure.

May 9—

Complete plans for the hospital arrived here several days ago from the Dallas architect.

May 16—

Bids on a proposed hospital for Snyder were opened by the board of directors Tuesday. Lowest of the seven quotations will be accepted when incorporation papers are completed, according to G. B. Clark Sr., chairman.

May 30—

Contract for a Snyder hospital was definitely let Tuesday to Dunlap & Coughran, Abilene, at $18,000.

June 6—

Dr. Grady Shytle, eminent Abilene physician and surgeon, was introduced Tuesday afternoon, just before first dirt was broken for the Snyder General Hospital, as chief surgeon of the locally-financed project.

July 11—

First floor walls on the Snyder General Hospital will be completed Friday.

July 18—

Many Scurry County folks have been driving out in East Snyder these days to view the new hospital.

FINANCE MAN

The name of N. M. Harpole has stood high in Snyder civic and church circles since the veteran groceryman and property owner came to Snyder more than 20 years ago. It was only natural, therefore, that he was named as one of the hospital's nine board of directors—and then a member, with W. J. Ely, of the hospital finance committee. Despite his advancing age, Mr. Harpole is active in his grocery store, just as he has been active in pushing the hospital idea for many, many months.

It is an inspiring sight, with its white walls proclaiming the fact that this county is sacrificing in order to provide protection for its afflicted.

August 1—

Several hundred dollars worth of stock in the hospital has been sold within the past few days, the stock committee reports.

August 8—

Mrs. Joe Caton's Sunday school class of young ladies at the First Methodist Church had the privilege this week of selecting the ward that will be furnished by their church.

August 15—

Mid-September has been set by the board of directors as probable opening date for the hospital.

August 22—

That Snyder's new hospital, which will open its doors some time next

Structure Seen by Visitors to Snyder

Many out-of-town visitors have seen the new hospital since work was begun about three months ago.

Workmen on the building have been unusually considerate of these visitors, as well as Snyder and Scurry County folks who wanted to see the hospital as it was nearing completion.

Homefolks and out-of-town visitors alike were impressed with the excellence of the workmanship and the quality of materials that were put into the building.

month, is getting close to the hearts of folks in this trade territory is manifest by the fact that arrangements have been made for furnishing four rooms, two wards and the nursery.

August 20—

Members of the First Baptist Church Sunday school voted Sunday morning to completely outfit a ward at the hospital.

September 5—

Dunlap & Coughran, contractors for the local hospital, announce that their work at the building will be practically completed by Saturday night.

September 12—

COLLIER SAYS DOCTORS BEST

Institution Gets Membership In Association Prior to Formal Opening.

We congratulate the Snyder people upon the building of a splendid hospital building that is so badly needed in your community. The building of such an institution always requires many heroic sacrifices. The people of Snyder have heroically sacrificed to build such a splendid hospital.

The board of trustees and medical staff of the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium feel that they have also contributed liberally with the Snyder people in the sacrifice. I speak of none other than the giving of Dr. Grady Shytlies, one of our most valuable and competent surgeons.

I can truthfully say from my heart that there are no people that we had rather make this sacrifice to than the people of Snyder and Scurry County. We feel that you have honored this institution by selecting your nursing corps from the graduates of this institution, Misses Robinson, Davison and Ham. I am confident that you will never have cause to regret the selection of these fine young ladies to your nursing staff.

Gives Congratulations.

The Texas State Hospital Association also extends congratulations and solicitations and a membership of your hospital to the Texas State Hospital Association. This is the first time in the history of the association that a hospital has been admitted to full membership that has not been in existence and tested for at least a year, but we know the people back of the Snyder General Hospital, your chief surgeon and your efficient nursing staff.

E. M. COLLIER

E. M. Collier's estimate of the new hospital and the community enterprise that lies behind it is one of the most forceful pieces of writing that you will read this season. It should be a barometer for the good things that lie ahead of an institution so well staffed and so capably controlled and financed.

Mr. Collier writes from a full background. He is superintendent of the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium, Abilene, and president of the Texas State Hospital Association. In recent years he has been recognized as one of the Southwest's outstanding hospital men.

Read this word of congratulation for Snyder General Hospital not only for its fine flavor but for the new insight it will give you into the worth of a modern, well-manned hospital.

medical care. Snyder has always been blessed with a fine group of physicians and surgeons. All of them have worked in our hospital and are recognized by our medical staff as very capable physicians and surgeons.

The hospital is a community institution; the public that best supports its hospital has the best hospital. The hospital is one of the most important institutions in the community. Good health is the foundation on which rests the power of government and the happiness of the people; therefore, the most important person in the community is the one who is ill.

To Care for the Sick.

In order to care for those who are sick and injured the hospital came into existence. It has developed until it has become the greatest force in conserving life and promoting research and medical education. Its value to the public welfare cannot be estimated. Hospitals are human laboratories and many, if not all, of the greatest lessons in medicine and surgery have been learned in them. The world would know little of the control of the different types of diphtheria, scarlet fever, the eradication of yellow fever and many of the other achievements of modern medicine if profound studying of these problems under competent supervision had not been offered by our hospitals.

I am confident that the Snyder General Hospital, with the public spirited business men back of it, your chief surgeon, competent medical staff and efficient nursing staff, will give the finest hospital and medical care to Snyder and Scurry County. I assure you that the Texas State Hospital Association, the board of trustees and the medical staff of the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium send their best wishes that the Snyder General Hospital may grow and prosper in your community.

E. M. COLLIER, President, Texas State Hospital Ass'n.

Bridge Club Gives Fountain for Hall

The drinking fountain in the long hall at the hospital was furnished by the Sine Cura Bridge Club of Snyder. It is a large white fountain with latest sanitary drinking attachment.

Other women's clubs are contemplating purchase of various hospital needs, according to members of the board of directors.

"Judge," said the foreman of the jury, "this lady is suing this man for $1,000 for a kiss."

"Correct," said the judge. "You gentlemen of the jury are to decide if it was worth it."

"That's the point," said the foreman. "Could the jury have a sample?"

Believe Hospital Located on Most Acceptable Site

The board of directors selected the site for Snyder's new hospital with considerable care after several weeks of investigation.

You will notice that the building is eight blocks east of the southeast corner of the public square—far enough from the business district to miss its bustle and noise. Less than a block to the north is the new routing of Highway No. 7, and just a block east is the intersection of Highway No. 101 with No. 7.

The hospital is near only a few homes. Two blocks to the south is the former home of the late Dr. J. T. Whitmore, now occupied by Dr. Grady Shytlies, chief hospital surgeon.

The grounds are not too attractive just now, for it has been only a few days since final construction work was done. But an elaborate plan of curbs, sidewalks, shrubs, trees and grass is to be worked out this fall.

Character is one structure you cannot hire built.

It's a Beauty!

Snyder General Hospital is not only a beautiful structure, but is adequate to take care of the needs of those of this section who require hospitalization.

We are glad that we live in a community of progressive people who have built such a wonderful enterprise!
