Let's Talk about Clothes

Women who seek beauty in little jars of expensive creams, precious perfumes and lustrous eye shadows are sometimes likely to overlook the incomparable beauty of really fine hair.

Satin soft hair, whether it be straight as the sleek lock of an Indian princess or curly as that of Cinderella, probably does more to enhance the inherent loveliness of a face, young or old, than almost any other single feature. And there's no mystery about having beautiful lustrous hair.

Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) believe that women take their hair for granted, giving it only that kind of attention that has to do with arrangement. What they should do is to keep the growth healthy by frequent shampoos, by nightly friction of the scalp and vigorous brushing to pluck out the dead shafts. The balanced diet is a help. Hair has to build cells and has to have nourishment from the blood streams.

The brushing rite, when properly performed, leaves the scalp slightly tingling with a faint glow of warmth to indicate that circulation has been brushed clean and burnished to a glossy sheen. Brushing hair is rather like polishing silver, for it's astonishing how quickly you can see an actual difference in the appearance.

In the treatment of dry hair an excellent medium is made by combining one ounce of castor oil and one ounce of alcohol. The purpose of the alcohol is to thin the oil and to create warmth in the scalp. Heat the mixture slightly, trickle it onto the scalp and give it a good rubbing. Let the tonic remain on overnight. Next morning begin the shampoo with a rousing hot spray, using soap generously. After the hair is dry a little brillianine into the scalp.

Plans were discussed at a meeting of the Duce Bridge Club in the home of Alene Curry last Thursday for a sweetheart's party, to be given by the club soon. Mrs. Billie Lee Jr., club president, was in the chair for the business session.

Miss Jan Thompson received high score prize at the close of bridge games. Table centers were blue miniature ships with silver sails placed on reflectors, and club members making highest scores at each table, second high at Miss Thompson's table, took the centerpieces. They were Bonnie Miller, Frances Chenault and Mrs. Billie Lee Jr.

Smyth Editors and Publishers Member The Texas Press Association West Texas Press Association

THE WEEKLY DOZEN Not So Bold, Not So Bold. Associated Press headline: "Move to Halt Dust Storms." A pretty bold move, all right. But it didn't sound so serious after one read the article. The movers were county officials of the plains country, probably candidates for re-election.

For Whom Will You Vote? Scurry County voters will be faced during 1936 with at least three major elections—the two Democratic primaries and the general election. Snyder voters will have another—the city election in April. For whom will you vote? American principles make it possible for the people to elect the man of their choice. The only reason we do not have capable and honest men at every turn is because we don't vote for them when they run or we don't encourage them to run.

Weekly Rooseveltism. President Roosevelt—"Let us work to make the New Year safer and it will be safer. Pledging ourselves, and our families, to avoid carelessness, discourtesy and recklessness on our highways, we can put a stop to thousands of sudden deaths."

In Kansas, In Snyder. A farmer in Kansas claims the drought has developed a special breed of long-necked chickens for him which are excellent for serving three or four pieces of neck to in-laws. And a business man in Snyder says the nights are getting so cold that his feet remind him of his 1933 assets.

Church of Christ Splendid services were enjoyed at the Church of Christ last Sunday. Two made confession and were baptized at the morning service.

Recovery—With One Exception. Talkative Tillie says one of the sure signs that prosperity is returning is the fact that quality is noticeably picking up in women's buying . . . silk hose, toiletries, groceries, furniture, and other so-forths. But, says she, the husband market continues to be over-crowded with seconds, shelf-worn stock and exchange items.

Church of the Nazarene (continued) To the people of Midway community we are glad to announce that we will be with you for the 11:00 o'clock service with a message from God's word. We want all who will to be with us for that hour of worship. Everybody is welcome.—J. Ollie Hux, pastor.

The Pathfinder Performs. The Pathfinder: "The greatest minds in the country have been trying to find out why heart disease, insanity and homicide have increased so much in the last generation. As usual, it has taken the Pathfinder to run down the reason. Would you guess it? It's the income tax." And to think that we've been laying it on saxophones and short-handed underwear.

This Weather of Ours. Pessimism Pete says it's all a matter of temperament, this weather business. In eastern and northern points, they rejoiced when thermometers gradually rose to zero. In Scurry County and other parts of Texas, we heaved sighs of relief when the little red mark jumped from around 15 to above the freezing point. Northerners who come South during the winter probably ask for ice packs and palm leaf fans.

Church of Christ (continued) Services for the week are as follows: Sunday—10:00 a. m., Bible study; 11:00 a. m., sermon, "The Growth of the Early Church;" 6:30 p. m., young people's training class; 7:15 p. m., sermon, "Caring for the Soul;" Wednesday—8:00 p. m., ladies' Bible class; 7:15 p. m., prayer meeting; Thursday—7:15 p. m., men's training class. There is to be a debate in this class Thursday, January 30.

Buy Your Seeds and Plants in Snyder. Not that The Times has any desire this cold season to wax romantic about seeds, soil and sunshine . . . but did you ever stop to think that Snyder has one of the most complete and most capable flower, seed and plant shops to be found in any smaller city in West Texas? Every gardener as well as every-day harum-scarum yard keepers should remember that Bell's Flower Shop has the mail order houses bested any way you look at it.

CURRENT COMMENT "Rudyard Kipling is dead!" . . . In an emotion stifled voice Queen Mary read to King George the news of Mr. Kipling's passing; the poet whose stories of India are still tangy with freshness. . . . The tired eyes of George V twinkled when he said condolences must be sent at once. . . . Then in the January chill of Sandringham death called for King George, beloved ruler of an empire so far-flung the sun never sets on the union jack. . . . To 450,000,000 subjects this meant finis to a quarter century of benevolent reign; to the world the loss of a diplomat and gentleman, who by his sheer shrewdness was piecing together the life lines of the British Empire, when war clouds were becoming increasingly heavy. . . . Now with Edward VIII on the throne, the highest tenets of British monarchy must be upheld, and on the shoulders of celibate Edward, worldly wise and dapper, no doubt too much will be expected from him, until he gets into the swing of intricate empire bargaining. . . . Texas claimed King George as a friend, its Senate last year inviting him to our Centennial this year. . . . But in the hearts of millions of Britons George V lives on!

Livestock and Meat Prices. Swift & Company Yearbook: "The shortage of livestock supplies during 1935 is strikingly shown in the official figures of livestock population. At the beginning of 1934 there were 63,290,000 cattle, 11,177,000 hogs, and 52,212,000 sheep on farms. A year later, the cattle population has been reduced to 60,867,000, the hog population to 37,007, and the sheep population to 49,766,000. . . . In spite of the higher meat prices that now prevail, meat is still lower-priced food than it was in 1929."

WPA Projects Take It on the Chin. WPA projects—most of them, at least—took it on the chin when their appropriations were slashed almost beyond recognition. The entire program was thrown together with too much haste, but it seems to city, county and school governments that the slashes could have been made, if absolutely necessary, before the projects got under way. In the face of these financial setbacks, Scurry County's WPA projects are going forward rapidly, and will present worth-while improvements when they are completed.

Final Rites for Mrs. Carruthers Held Ira Monday Mrs. W. M. Carruthers, 71, a resident of Scurry County for 36 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Lewis, near Ira, Sunday morning. Mr. Carruthers died five years ago. Funeral rites were held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Ira Church of Christ. O. D. Dial, Breckenridge, a Church of Christ minister, who was formerly Mrs. Carruthers' minister, officiated. Odum Funeral Home, Snyder, was in charge of burial in the Snyder cemetery.

Al Smith and His Sour Grapes. Al Smith was never popular in the South and Southwest except among anti-prohibitionists and donkey-or-die Democrats. His outburst last week against President Roosevelt forever dimmed his chances of winning the favor of folks in the lower part of the Union. Al Smith was Franklin D. Roosevelt's friend until P. D. R. whipped Al's political ears to the ground. Al promptly trained all his guns on Roosevelt and the New Deal. Especially in the Southwest, unpopularity and sour grapes are unpopular, morally and politically.

If the Officers Enforced the Law. Says Edwin Lindell, executive secretary of the Minnesota Law and Order League, and how well every mother's son of us knows it is true: "The 'slot machine racket,' the 'numbers' and 'horse racing rackets,' organized gambling, beer taverns that sell hard liquors illegally, that sell after hours, and that sell to minors, would not be found in a community where every member of the law enforcing agencies enforced the law and knew that he was doing what the citizens of that community expected him to do."—Salesbury (Missouri) Press-Spectator.

Church of Christ (continued) We extend a cordial invitation to every person to be with us at any and all of our services and to grow with us in the Lord's work.—Roy J. Clark, minister.

Begging Their Way Along. Two warmly but slovenly dressed youngsters called at local homes Sunday morning. Said the older, a boy of 12: "Mister, could you give us something to eat? There are eight of us kids and my mama and dad, and we need something to eat." Such wandering beggars are coming to Snyder homes

Old Age Pension Suggestions for Eligible Persons Facing old-age assistance applicants will be the difficulty of proving their age. Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Old Age Assistance Commission, said recently when asked what he thought the most difficult problem of old people making application. Application forms will be distributed to cities and towns over the state and will be available to all who want them February 14, when the law goes into effect. As required by the new law, certain facts must be established by the applicant. The law grants assistance to the needy who are 65 years of age or more, and each applicant must definitely and conclusively prove his or her age.

Health Official Warns Folks to Watch Flu, Cold This is the season of the year when influenza or "flu" is most prevalent, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Colds, grippe, influenza, whatever we may call them, are believed to spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such disease, here are some things to be remembered: Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contract it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing or sniffing or who are actively ill with colds, influenza or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and always wash your hands before eating, and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief. Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, by eating simple nourishing food, by taking some exercise out-of-doors every day, by dressing according to the weather, by having plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, and by keeping the bowels regulated. Don't neglect your "cold." If you have the slightest suspicion of fever go home, go to bed immediately and call your physician. Stay in bed until he tells you that you can get up, and follow his advice exactly. Disastrous results may ensue if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections. If you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually. The only way to be rid of the worry about the things we have not done is to do them. Look up—even if you are going down. You cannot brag your way to prosperity.

Representative Is Asking Re-election By 118th District

To the people of the 118th District:

I will be a candidate for re-election to the Legislature from this district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. I am grateful for the support given me in the last election. I also deeply appreciate the splendid cooperation of the people of my district in my feeble efforts to serve you in the Legislature. Your attitude manifested confidence in my sincerity of purpose. This impressed me to do my very best to give the service you had a right to expect, and such courteous treatment from my constituents was of untold value to me in fighting for the rights you justly deserved.

Frankly, I believe it an honor and distinct privilege to represent a district of this type in the Legislature of this state, and with this thought in mind I uncompromisingly stood for all the moves for the best interest of state and the general welfare of the people, and was the implacable foe to moves that to my mind were dangerous to good government.

I cannot boast of any unusual accomplishments, yet I am willing for you to take the record in the House journal as to how I voted on each issue that came before the House. I will gladly give any information as to my stand on any issue in which you are interested. Space will not permit me to go into detail, as to how I voted on the thousands of amendments offered during the three sessions. After careful consideration I took the side that I was convinced was best for all concerned. While it was next to impossible to pass good judgment on all of the numerous bills and resolutions offered in the three sessions, yet I gave all my time and most much sleep that I might pursue the right course, and rightly represent my district and the state as a whole in this place of responsibility.

I am sure I made mistakes, but it was my intention to take the side

Maude M. Akers to Again Seek Office Of District Clerk

To the voters of Scurry County: This is to announce my candidacy for the office of district clerk of Scurry County. I take this method of stating to the voters of the county that I am deeply grateful for their support in the past, and that I earnestly solicit their kindly influence and vote in this campaign.

When I presented my candidacy two years ago, I pledged I would give my best ability and my full experience to the office. I have given my best during more than a year in office, despite the fact that the ex-officio salary was considerably reduced during the present term.

If I am re-elected, I will continue to render the best service of which I am capable. Your continued support in making it possible for me to serve you efficiently and courteously will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,
MAUDE M. AKERS.

John Lynch Asking Voters for Support In Marshal's Race

New interest in the city marshal's race was created this week by the entrance of J. T. (John) Lynch, who has been deputy marshal and night watchman for more than seven months.

The candidate has been a citizen of Scurry County for 10 years and of Snyder for a large part of that time. He believes that his experience as deputy marshal and his acquaintance with local people fit him for the place he is seeking.

"I realize, in making my announcement, that the city marshal cannot serve the community to the fullest extent unless he has the full cooperation of the citizenship," Lynch said. "If elected, I shall ask the public to join me in preserving law and order in Snyder, and in letting law breakers know that they are not wanted here."

"A thorough investigation by every voter of my record as a private citizen and as deputy marshal is heartily invited."

that was for the best interest of good government, and although I might have voted wrong sometimes, it was with a purpose that I was right, and the result of mistaken judgment.

I was either for or against each and every proposition presented, and let myself be heard in no uncertain term regardless of the consequences. I was absent only one day in all three sessions, and this was unavoidable. I was present and voted on each bill that was offered in almost every instance. This is very important, as many times good legislation is defeated by members being out of their seats when the vote is taken.

I would like very much to serve another term in the Legislature. I firmly believe that with my experience, I can give much more efficient service than in my first term. New members are most usually placed under more handicaps than those who have served one or more terms. Older members usually get on the important committees, and are thoroughly acquainted with the rules of the House that new members must first learn. For these and many other reasons no member can do his best in his first term, which is just the proper preparation for real service.

If you think that the service I have given will justify my return to the Legislature for another term, I will continue to give the same faithful service that I have in the past, and will ever keep in mind the wishes of my constituents, and so conduct myself in the Legislature as to measure up to the high ideals and motives of the people of the 118th District, and will ever be faithful to the trust imposed upon me, and do everything in my power to really be of value to the state and the people.

While it will be impossible for me to see each one of you personally, I will continue to give the same faithful service that I have in the past, and will ever keep in mind the wishes of my constituents, and so conduct myself in the Legislature as to measure up to the high ideals and motives of the people of the 118th District, and will ever be faithful to the trust imposed upon me, and do everything in my power to really be of value to the state and the people.

Respectfully,
LEONARD WESTFALL.

It's just as well to expect the unexpected.

Office Seekers May Pay Out Much On High Pressure Schemes In 1936

By Grady Hill in San Angelo Standard-Times.

Want to buy a duck, mister? Yeah, I know you don't want a duck and you don't need a duck. But it would be best if you'd buy this duck. It'll cost you if you don't!

In other words, the office seekers are now out shelling the sticks for the votes and support of the voters. And the voters and nearly every conceivable agency depending on public contributions for support—and lots of firms and individuals as well are seeking refurbishing of their own pocketbooks—have declared open season on the candidates. There is little regard for the "game laws," either.

Being a candidate is like putting on a buckskin coat and a head of antlers and going out into the hills of Mason County the first day of the hunting season. It's a question of whether you will shoot or be shot the more.

The Pie Supper Fave.

Heading the list of pet peevish candidates now and of the past and of the probable 1936 future are pie suppers. They are sponsored by at least one organization, church, school or otherwise, in almost every community in the county during the open season. Not all candidates like pie. Some are on diets.

And only one time in 20 will the office seeker get the kind of pie that he likes. Tom Green County housewives are good cooks, so it happens that in about half the cases wherein the candidate buys the kind of a pie he likes he finds the pie appetizing to him.

However, if the pie is to be eaten at the party, probably he is too nervous to appreciate it—no matter how much he brags on it—and consequently he divides it up and tries to shove off the other pieces on other candidates.

They're Not Wealthy.

On top of all this, the candidate probably isn't rolling in wealth. In all likelihood he isn't backed by the special interests. The special interests, you know, have to concentrate on the national elections these days.

And if Brother Candidate spends anywhere from $2 to $10 on a pie, his wife and children may have to reduce their diets for perhaps a week thereafter. And by that time, another pie supper comes along in another part of the county.

Box suppers are just as bad. If anything, the suspense and the cost are greater.

Poor District Candidates.

Those who seek district offices, such as legislator, district attorney, district judge or senator, are exposed to a lot more sniping. Invitations will come in from perhaps five or six communities at one time from over their four to 16-county territories. And they keep up for months. With the district candidates, only the really big affairs count most of the time. They couldn't afford all of them and they wouldn't have time for all even if the old pocketbook could stand the gauntlet.

And if the district candidates announce in every paper in their district, they find that this takes up a vast proportion of their campaign budget. Some of the smaller papers charge twice as much for the district candidates' announcements as some of the largest papers do. It's open season on candidates, so the devil help him if he doesn't come across! The Legislature passed a bill last year designed to prohibit the charging of exorbitant rates for candidates' advertising.

You Can Buy Influence, Too.

Most candidates go in for cards. In a county like Tom Green or in a district like that of the 119th Judicial District, for instance, including Tom Green, Runnels, Coleman and Concho Counties, the candidate must put out a tidy sum for the cards if he intends for them to do any good. Many office seekers also have circulars and placards put out. When done on a big scale, that is costly, too.

The candidates also buy space on roadside signboards, on park benches, on school stage curtains, and many were solicited last year to get their names on grocery sacks—and the merchants were supposed to pack their groceries in bags possibly carrying the names of candidates they dislike. The idea didn't develop very well.

Often times the candidate meets a real problem. He is approached by a man or a woman who offers to sell him his or her influence for a price. Such influence at times has been bought by a suit of clothes.

J. S. Bradbury Is Out for Re-election As City Secretary

J. S. Bradbury announces this week as a candidate for re-election as city secretary-treasurer.

He points out that city records are open to the public at all times, and invites examinations and inquiries concerning city affairs. All records are being kept according to approved rules of accounting.

Soon after taking office in April, 1934, Mr. Bradbury began calling to the attention of the City Council, by statements and otherwise, the true financial status of the city and urging strict economy in city government.

He made personal contacts and handled details in refunding of $93,000 of the city's indebtedness, at a lower rate of interest, during the past year. This move served to maintain the city's good credit standing by postponing heavy maturities which would have necessitated default in payment of bonds and interest during the year.

County Agent Surveys Farm Situation During Past Year

SOIL BUILDING CROPS CUT FARM COSTS AND CHECK EROSION

Three Ways to Cut Farm Costs

1. Grow Feed Crops.
2. Grow Food Crops.
3. Grow Soil Building and Erosion Control Crops.

Adjustment payments and increased income from cotton are enabling farmers to retire and build up badly eroded and worn-out land. The new cotton contract provides that food and feed crops for home use, in addition to soil-building and erosion-control crops, may be grown on land withheld from cotton production.

Resettlement Is Aiding Wives of County Farmers

For every one of the more than a million and a half dollars their farm husbands have repaid on rehabilitation loans, Texas resettlement wives have stored in their pantries, cellars, kitchens and bedrooms a full dollar's worth of food grown on these farms or picked from wild plants.

To be more specific, they have canned 5,489,236 containers of food, averaging quart size, and including pint bottles of juices, quarts of vegetables, half-gallons of fruits, gallons of honey and barrels of sauerkraut and pickles. In addition to the canned products, they have dried and cured 3,876,165 pounds of meats, fruits and vegetables, or an average of 228 containers and 161 pounds of food per family.

In Scurry County, Miss Dorothy Gore, home supervisor, reports a total of 1,525 containers of food has been preserved since September 27, 1935.

"In an average county the cost of supervising and encouraging this canning was only one-third of a cent per quart of food canned," according to Miss Gore, and this county's cost is in line with this general figure. In addition to showing women how to can, a very important phase of her work is teaching mothers to budget this canning so that the diet will be well balanced, and health and strength maintained for the grueling climb to stability.

Miss Gore says the primary purpose of this program is to make these families independent and self-reliant through educational as well as financial backing. As soon as the preliminary farm and home plans are completed the home supervisor's function is that of guide and teacher who demonstrates better methods of living in order that the home may use more effectively the products of the farm. This includes gardening, poultry raising, dairy work, hand-made articles, comforts in the home and sanitation.

Voluntary Debt Group Organized In Two Counties

Hugh F. Weaver of Lubbock, district supervisor, farm debt adjustment division of the Resettlement Administration, was here early this week to organize the voluntary farm debt adjustment committee in Scurry and Borden Counties. He represents A. & M. Extension Service Districts Nos. 2 and 6, which embrace 59 counties with a population of 44,342 farmers.

The farm debt adjustment committee of Scurry and Borden Counties is composed of Ben F. Smith, chairman, Joe Caton and Judge L. A. Pearce. The latter represents Borden County.

The committee will hold meetings regularly on the second Tuesday of each month, and will call meetings at any time to meet the requirements of their work. They have been instructed by Weaver concerning their duty, and are supplied with all the necessary forms for listing farm debtors' cases and solving farm debt distressed problems.

"These committeemen have been carefully chosen because of their known public spirit, their knowledge of farm values, and because of their willingness to render a public service without pay, according to the district supervisor.

This service is furnished free by the federal government for the purpose of saving worthy farmers who are behind through no fault of their own on their farm mortgages, who have been thrifty enough and ambitious enough in the past to own a home and have always been self-respecting and self-supporting farm citizens.

Weaver is particularly desirous that distressed debtor farmers get in touch with the farm debt adjustment committee.

A Prayer for Texas

(In Her Centennial Year)

Lord God of every race and every land,
In this great year of Texas Jubilee,
We come, its people, reaching for Thy hand,
Acknowledging our constant need of Thee.
Look down upon us, with approving eyes,
In all we do and say may we be wise.
Because of Thy great bounty we are blessed
Beyond all dreaming Lord God we see
Thy hand within the finest and the best
Flowering of a gracious century.
We bring Thee as our offerings of praise
The bright fruits of our past and present days.
Accept them, Lord, and may new beauty rise
Like smoking incense from our gathered store;
May Texas write her name against the skies
As splendidly as she has done before;
Her lone star burning—her six flags unfurled,
Her voice, a call of welcome to the world.
—Grace Noll Crowell,
Poet Laureate of Texas.

The light of the understanding humbly kindeeth, and pride covetheth.—Quarles.

"Rastus, if you want to prosper in this world, you must go to bed with the chickens."
"Yassar, Ise willing to go to bed with 'em, but de folks dat owns de chickens ain't sufficiently trustful."
It was the end of the scene and the heroine was starving. "Give me bread" she cried.
And the curtain came down with a roll.

As you spot an advertisement or something that interests you . . . especially some item that you want to examine when you're shopping next time . . . clip out the notice and take it with you.

Washington dinner of the Liberty League—and found it bad. Thousands of listening Texans smiled as they heard the now unhappy warrior threaten to leave the party, remembering how the party had already left Al four years ago and wondering if he hadn't heard Smith added little to the critical thought of Herbert Hoover, Frank Knox and other GOP aspirants, except to raise the rather shop-worn specter of Communism. He did not confine his tirade to the president, the man who three nominated him as Democratic candidate for president, but loosed a blast at Congress. Grudgingly, he approved repeal of the prohibition amendment, but otherwise found the country worse off in every particular than during the dark days of 1932.

The congressional races were shaping up rapidly throughout the state, and top interest was easily in the second district, where Martin Dies of Orange, incumbent, is facing the stiffest kind of opposition from youthful Clyde Smith of Woodville. Smith, who ran a remarkable race to finish third in the scramble for attorney general two years ago, has resigned as assistant secretary of state, and begun campaigning. Dies, who hesitated for weeks trying to decide whether to oppose Senator Morris Sheppard, hastily decided to seek re-election to Congress. Smith, idol of the piney woods folks in East Texas, who four times elected him district attorney, is a powerful campaigner. Dies is also an able vote-gatherer, and the race promises to be red-hot.

Representative Nat Patton of Crockett, faces opposition from Bonner Fitzell, Palestine school superintendent, who was nosed out last time by "Cousin Nat." The famous cigar-box episode in Washington will doubtless be a campaign issue in this district.

CANNON BEING HELD FOR PEN

A conditional pardon granted to Truman Cannon by former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has been revoked, and Sheriff Jess Lambert of Sweetwater has received a message from Governor Allred's secretary ordering Cannon held for the penitentiary again. Cannon was convicted early last week in 32nd district court at Sweetwater and assessed a five-year penitentiary sentence on a charge of automobile theft. Later he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was given a one-year term, the sentence to run concurrently. He has been formally sentenced by Judge A. S. Mauzey.

Records sent Sheriff Lambert reveal that Cannon was convicted July 7, 1933, in Jones County on a charge of transporting liquor and was given one year in prison. On July 23, 1933, he was convicted in Taylor County on a charge of automobile theft and given two years. The record does not show that Cannon was ever delivered to the state penitentiary to start serving his sentence.

has two opponents, Jess Morris, who has tried unsuccessfully for the office before, and Will Harris of Rains County, running as a Townsendite. W. D. McFarlane, in the 13th district, faces stiff opposition from four candidates, including State Senator Ben O'Neal and B. D. Sartain, both of Wichita Falls and Ed Gossett and G. W. Backus of Vernon.

Joe Eagle of Houston will not seek re-election, furnishing the opposition for Senator Morris Sheppard, and Congressman O. H. Cross of Waco has said he will not run. Senator Bob Poage and Frank Tiry, attorney, are out for this place. No opposition has developed so far to Wright Patton, bonus champion of Texas; Joseph Mansfield of Columbus, Dick Kleberg of Corpus Christi, James Buchanan of Brenham and Marvin Jones of Amarillo, although Townsend forces are reported seeking a candidate against several of these.

Conflict between the WPA under Harry Hopkins and the PWA under Secretary Ickes, which has held up much construction work in Texas and elsewhere for weeks, has apparently been ironed out in Washington. As a result, rivalry between PWA and WPA project managers for available labor will cease, and the Texas highway commission will have its first letter of highway contracts in many weeks at Austin February 11, totaling about $2,500,000. WPA, supposed to offer work at subsistence wages until workers could find steady jobs at prevailing wage scales, had liberalized its terms by shortening hours, paying its workers during layoffs caused by bad weather, and other inducements, to lure PWA projects were unable to hire workers on to steady jobs at prevailing wage scales. The highway commission, at hearings in Austin, last week urged county officials and interested citizens to write their congressmen to hold out for continued liberal federal highway appropriations, declaring much of Texas' future highway program is built around liberal federal matching appropriations for 1937.

taken by the House oil investigating committee this week promises still further reduction of illegal oil. The committee, headed by Representative Augustin Celaya of Brownsville, has worked out a plan of cooperation between the railroad commission and the attorney general's department, which it believes will effectually solve the troublesome problem of confiscated storage, and result in prompt destruction of storage tanks. The committee, through Chairman Celaya, paid the commission a nice compliment by asserting that enforcement conditions have been "vastly improved" and that conditions it complained of last summer have been corrected. Oil operators of the state are reported hopeful that a further increase in the price of crude may be posted in the near future, due to the drying up of hot oil and reduced storage stocks.

Shelterbelt Tree Planting Begins In Few Counties

Federal shelterbelt officials announced last week the first of 22,500,000 trees to be planted in six midwestern states during 1936 will be set out immediately in Southwestern Oklahoma and Northwestern Texas.

Chillicothe is the heart of the Texas shelterbelt. Planting was originally scheduled to begin in Scurry and other counties of this area, but it was later decided that the work would be started on a smaller scale.

Texas is slated to get 200 miles of planting, 3,500,000 trees in the first part of the program. John D. Jones, who visited in Snyder last summer in regard to the program, is now public relations director of the entire program, which centers in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Relief laborers will plant the trees as part of a federal $75,000,000 attempt to control wind erosion and reduce soil moisture evaporation. Wages for the tree planters range from $27 to $47 a month for 130 hours of work.

Officials estimated the new program, which will add 1,424 miles of shelterbelt to the 125 miles planted last year, would cost $2,000,000 during 1936. They said the work would require 700,000 man days of labor.

Collectors Will Trek To Gonzales for Sale Of Centennial Seals

For the second time within four months Gonzales will be the scene of much Centennial activity, when several hundred stamp collectors flock there March 2, the probable date for the sale of the first "Texas Centennial" stamp. Post office officials have indicated that March 2, Texas Independence Day, would be a fitting time to release the new issue, and it is likely that Gonzales, the "Lexington of Texas," will be the sale site.

The first stamp of the new issue will be sold to Governor James V. Allred, who will affix it to a letter from Postmaster James A. Farley, addressed to the president. Incidentally, the president is a philatelist himself.

It is estimated that some 200,000 letters will be posted at Gonzales on the first day the stamps are put on sale. On the following day they will be on sale in other post offices.

Bonus Money Will Be Spent in Many Ways by Veterans

World War veterans of Scurry County will spend their bonus money in numerous ways, a hurried survey by The Times disclosed this week.

American Legion leaders say many of the veterans will have much of the money spent by the time it arrives, but a far-sighted minority will help them make a living, or as a "nest egg."

J. E. Shipp, commander of the Will Layne Post, is joining national and state Legion leaders, along with President Roosevelt and congressional leaders, in urging that the vets not "fritter away" the cash from their bonus bonds.

Scurry County is scheduled to receive $180,114 from the bonus, minus the amount they have previously borrowed. Since there are about 200 veterans in the county, the average original payment would have been about $900. With borrowed money deducted, it will probably be about $500, Legion officials estimate.

The bill finally passed Monday and the President's veto provides for full payment, nine years in advance, of the 1945 maturity value of the 20-year adjusted World War service certificates.

"Baby bonds" to be issued to veterans probably in July can be cashed in full or in part at any time, or held for nine years for three per cent interest annually. All unpaid interest since October 1, 1931, will be forgiven.

Perhaps Poor Lighting Causes the Difference

If your child dislikes to study at home . . . if he seems unable to concentrate on his lessons, perhaps poor lighting is to blame. Science has proved that reading in a poor light causes drowsiness and unnecessary strain on the eyes. No wonder children can study only a few minutes at a time, and no wonder report cards at the end of the term show the result.

Exhaustive tests of children who must study under poor lighting and a similar group who have proper lighting revealed a startling difference in the quality of work done. Be sure that your child isn't handicapped at home by having to study or read under inadequate light.
