Meet the Times Building!

The main floor of this imposing building on the northwest corner of the square is now occupied by the Times Publishing Company. The structure will henceforth be known as the Times Building, instead of the First State Bank & Trust Company Building, as it has been known for a number of years.

TIMES MOVES TO OLD STATE BANK BUILDING

Main Floor of Corner Structure Is Completely Remodeled for Use of Newspaper Plant.

The Times Publishing Company moved "lock, stock and barrel" to the old First State Bank & Trust Company building, northwest corner of the square, late last week and early this week.

Completely remodeled and repaired for accommodation of the plant from which The Scurry County Times is published, the building is believed by the publishers to offer patrons an ideal location.

With all regular employees and several extras working into the night, the entire plant was moved by Monday evening. After another week of straightening, adjusting, painting and cleaning, the publishers will offer one of the most modern and complete weekly newspaper establishments in West Texas.

All machinery and fixtures were moved by Snyder Transfer Company. Only the large two-cylinder Huber press, weighing about 11 tons, was dismantled, all other equipment having been moved into the new location by temporarily taking out a portion of the front opening.

Thanks to full cooperation of advertisers and employees, the paper is being placed in the mails this week at the regular time.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams came to Scurry County in February, 1892, and have been useful citizens since that time. They helped to organize the first Sunday school in the county in the Ennis Creek community in the summer of 1892.

Out-of-town visitors present for the birthday celebration were those of Mr. Williams' daughter, Mrs. C. P. Fore and Mrs. Thelma Morris of Wichita Falls and Mrs. D. C. Edwards of Olney, and his niece, Miss Ruby Nell Edwards of Olney.

TWO DROPPED FROM BALLOT

When the July 25 primary ballot was arranged Monday, two men who had filed for places were missing from the line-up.

One was Victor B. Gilbert of Calahan County, candidate for state senator, who withdrew after receiving a federal appointment.

The other was Lee Grant, former commissioner in Precinct No. 3, who made a last-minute announcement for the place June 13. He failed to turn in his ballot fee before the deadline.

These two withdrawals leave Scurry County only 89 names on the ticket to ballot. The name of A. C. Preult, county chairman, appears on the ticket for re-election. Ballots will be printed within the next few days in order to be ready for absentee voting.

APPROVAL FOR SEVERAL AGED PERSONS HERE

First Checks Due to Be Received July 1; Commission Member Visits in Snyder.

Several Scurry County citizens have been approved for receipt of their first old-age assistance pensions July 1.

Since Orville S. Carpenter, pension director, said Friday that nearly one-half of those expected to be eligible have been approved, dozens of other official approvals are expected to be received here prior to July 1.

It is reported that one local citizen will receive the maximum grant, $30 per month, and that other grants range upward from only a few dollars monthly. It has been pointed out since the program was inaugurated in the state that allotments are made solely on the basis of need and eligibility.

Carpenter said Friday that his staff would be able to check enough applications to send checks to nearly 40,000 persons in the state on July 1.

The commission has been attempting to pass on the more urgent cases this week. The first payments are not expected to exceed $800,000, the average being $20 a person. This total, Carpenter said, will not represent the complete payments for July as all those later approved who get applications in before July 1 will receive the July payment.

Commission Member Here.

H. T. Kimbro, member of the Texas Old-Age Assistance Commission, who was a Snyder visitor late last week, gave this reassuring word concerning payment:

"If you have received notice of a grant you will get a check for that amount about July 1. Therefore, do not let anyone frighten or mislead you by statements that you will not get any money."

The visitor said many of the employees of the commission have been working long hours and have traveled many miles every day in order to complete their investigations before payment time. "There is still much work to be done," he said, "for it has been humanly impossible to make complete investigation and assure payments to all eligible persons by July 1."

"In all cases where the application has been filed before July 1, and we are not able to make payment by that date, the first payment that is made will include the amount allowed for all months beginning with July 1."

"Our investigations have been made for the purpose of determining whether the applicant was one of those persons to whom the law says we may pay assistance, and if so, then how much. We have tried to be fair to all, and, in the case of qualified persons, we have tried to help in every way possible."

"Our state law requires that payments be made on the basis of the need of each person. The federal government requires that we do it in this way, otherwise they will not pay one-half of our payments. This would mean that no one would be able to get a total of more than $15 per month."

Colored Meeting.

A meeting will begin in the colored settlement Thursday night of this week, with all white persons invited to attend the regular evening services. L. H. Norris, pastor, Mother Norris and Elder Norris will do the preaching. J. M. Matthews, special musician and singer from Spur, will be in charge of music.

Coming West Proud of Its Weather Wisdom; Preachers Are Commended

"You weather prognosticators had better be careful. If you all are going to establish weather bureaus the Coming West will have to cut its straps loose, step aside and let the whole business dry up and bust. We are the only original and successful up-to-date rain-makers in West Texas, and hereby notify the public that no two-bit opposition will be tolerated."

This choice paragraph from the Coming West of July 8, 1897, is reproduced from the Snyder Signal of July 13, 1923. A copy of the 13-year-old paper, with its column entitled "Twenty-Five Years Ago in Snyder," was handed The Times a few days ago by Will Caffey of the Hermleigh section.

Continuing, the editor of the paper published 39 years ago remarks:

"The protracted meeting that was to have begun at Sulphur last Sunday has been deferred. It is presumed that the action of the committee of arrangements was based on information concerning the yellow-legged pullets. Our preachers show their excellent, practical good sense by duly considering opportunity."

"The Snyder boy at this season of the year generally looks for a bird's nest in the peach orchard."

"Bob Mooney, who was in Tuesday, reports that the worms are ruining his corn and says if they continue their ravages he will barely save enough to breed him next year."

"Miss Pearl Clark returned from Waco Sunday."

"The millet heads that are being exhibited from this year's crop show an extraordinary growth and a full heavy yield. This is a most excellent feed crop, and will be harvested in prodigious quantities all over the county."

"Joe Strayhorn says Lon Grantham was guilty of a mean trick last Tuesday morning, when he sent one of his preachers to Quartz, Green County. Joe says he was a good boy until he went there, but the alkali and gip will make anybody steal."

"It must be remembered that much of the wheat raised in Scurry this year went to waste on account of the inability of farmers to harvest at the proper time, but for which fact the yield would have been considerable greater."

Snyder High School Leaders

These five girls were outstanding in scholarship, leadership and popularity in Snyder High School during the term that closed with commencement exercises late in May. Her name will be engraved, along with names of previous winners, on a bronze plaque that hangs in the high school building.

Rev. and Mrs. Dorsett will be here from Dallas, where the young preacher is assistant pastor of the City Temple Presbyterian Church. Mr. Spivey has been serving as pastor here for almost a month.

TEMPERATURE CLIMBS TO 113 HERE MONDAY

Official High Mark of Season Sets State Record for Week of Withering Heat Wave.

When the official Snyder temperature climbed to 113 degrees Monday afternoon, a new high mark of the local heat season was established. It was the state's highest reading for a week of withering heat that brought several deaths.

The high mark nearest the top figure set by the official thermometer during the past 20 years. Records kept by Mrs. Wesley Evans reveal that the highest figure, 114 1/2, was recorded three years ago, and that the mercury climbed to 114 two years ago.

Heavy rainfall in the north and northwestern parts of the county, and into Kent and Garza Counties, broke the heat wave for this area late Monday afternoon. Snyder received only a sprinkle of rain, and no precipitation was reported east, south and west of the county seat.

Despite the heat wave, the majority of county farmers are in fair to excellent condition. A strip of several miles in south and southwestern Scurry County continues to suffer because of lack of moisture.

Except on farms where little or no planting was done prior to the rains three weeks ago, both cotton and feed are looking good. Most farmers southeast to northeast of Snyder, and in the Fluvanna section, say prospects are equal to any of the last few years.

Last rites were held Friday afternoon at Rock Church, near Tolar, where Mrs. West spent her childhood. Rev. H. S. Gordon, local Methodist pastor, who is an old family friend, officiated for the services. Burial was in the Rock Church cemetery, under direction of Maples Funeral Home.

Besides her husband, four children survive: Mrs. J. W. McCuan, Mineral Wells, and Mmes. George McCuan, T. B. Scribner and W. F. West, all of Dermott. ## $50,000 Cash for Buddies of County From Bonus Bonds

An unofficial check-up by The Times this morning reveals that approximately $50,000 in bonus money has been received in Scurry County. County veterans would receive a maximum of $180,114.27 if all bonus bonds were cashed.

This total includes more than 75 checks received in the Snyder post office and about 20 received elsewhere in the county.

Postmaster Warren Dodson reports that 161 veterans out of an estimated 200 who receive their mail through the Snyder office have sent in all or a portion of their bonds for cashing. One hundred and seventy packages of bonds, of which six have not been called for, have been received here.

The checks have been slower to arrive from Dallas than expected, and several veterans who filed their claims early have not received their bonus money.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped by Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would paralyze me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'no-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

COTTON

Thou Art My Shepherd

(Note: J. R. Cleveland of Rotan has favored The Times with the following comments on cotton—an article he gleaned from another paper.)

Cotton, thou art my shepherd, and I am in want;

Thou hast caused me to feed in a dry pasture; thou hast destroyed my credit; thou hast led me into the paths of poverty, liens, lawsuits and near bankruptcy.

Thou hast destroyed my soul and my happiness; Thou hast caused me to go to a banker with my hat under my arm and mortgage the muscles and produce of my farm;

Thou hast caused me to live in a rented house in full view of the moon, while the stars came twinkling through the cracks;

Thou prepared a naked back and an empty stomach for me in the presence of my friends;

Thou anointed my head with ignorance, superstition, poverty and unpaid accounts;

How can I trust thee? Thou hast kept my children out of school, church and society; thereby robbing them of all that is good and noble, elevating and refining.

Thou hast caused me to go to the barn, bring out the old fertilizer sacks and ask my wife to make me a shirt.

Now behold me as I stand amidst my friends in my new shirt with "Eighteen per cent acid phosphate" on the breast, and "12-4-4" on the these inscriptions in full view:

Dentist—"Now, open wide! I'm not going to hurt you."

Scurry County Farmers Have 11-Year Start on Soil Conservation Program

A soil conservation program has been under way in Scurry County since 1925, and is being continued by farmers trained to run their own lines.

More than 70 per cent of the land that has cotton base is included in the present sign-up of work sheets, and on the land to be diverted from cotton acreage, most farmers are planning to grow peas and turn them under, expecting to draw $150 an acre on enough acreage to counter-balance the dollar-an-acre soil building payment they will fail to receive by grazing their sod.

County Agent W. R. Lacey gave a sketch of soil erosion work here in which he said that John Carmichael, county agent in 1925, along with Ed Tanner, then county agent of Fisher County, were the first in West Texas to stress the value of putting terraces on the level. The results of their work caused R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station, to make some experiments there and now water-level terracing has become a common practice.

C. C. Willis and W. O. Logan, later county agent, held many terracing schools in the county, and as a result many farmers can run their own lines. The county agent now acts largely as advisor or supervisor of terracing.

A Johnston, who was reared near Fort Worth and has been in Scurry County over 30 years, is chairman of the soil conservation committee of the county.

There is a large range area, and registered Hereford breeding is an important feature of the livestock program, there being at least 10 outstanding breeders in the county. Since 1925, when there were none, 16,500 head of sheep have moved in.

E. B. McElroy, assistant county agent, is directing the activities of 100 boys in clubs formed this spring. A survey of Scurry County soils made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station, cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture Bureau of Soils, was made available last month.

Corn Sauté.

Corn, 3-4 tspn. salt, 1-8 tspn. pepper, 1 green pepper, 2 pintloons, large lump butter, cayenne pepper, 1-2 tspn. paprika.

Put large lump butter into skillet, add corn and other ingredients. Add just enough Robinson's Dairy milk to keep from burning. Cook slowly 20 minutes.

Orange Salad With Banana Dressing.

Pare six oranges to remove outer yellow peel and with it the inner white membrane. Remove each section of orange pulp whole. Mix orange sections with sections removed from 1 large grapefruit, 1 pint sliced peaches drained from juice and contents of a small bottle of green maraschino cherries. Arrange in bowl lined with crisp lettuce. From bowl, the hostess may serve each person and pour over the individual serving, a portion of banana dressing prepared as follows:

Press 6 thoroughly ripe bananas through a sieve, add 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-8 tspn. salt and 1-8 tspn. paprika. Mix well and put into salad dressing bowl.

Apple Vegetable Salad.

Sprinkle 2 cups unpeeled cubed red or green apples with 2 tblspns. cider vinegar. Add 1 cup shredded raw carrots, 3 stalks celery, chopped, 1-2 tspn. salt, 1 tspn. sugar.

Bud Russell Hauls Two Full Loads of Criminals to Pens

Bud Russell and his big black prison-bound truck came to Snyder yesterday, trailed by a touring car with its rear compartment enclosed in heavy wire netting.

The famous state penitentiary transfer agent was hauling a full cargo of criminals, about 35 in number, which was viewed by a number of local folks on the south side of the square.

Bert Green, under a two-year sentence for burglary, and C. H. Crawford, colored, facing two years for robbery of the J. H. Sears & Company store here several months ago, were added to the line-up at Snyder.

Green was brought from an Arizona penitentiary several days ago by Sheriff S. H. Newman. Convicted of burglarizing a Snyder home of a diamond ring, Green escaped from the Scurry County jail in 1933 with a hand-made key. He was paroled recently from the Arizona penitentiary, after serving a "stretch" for automobile theft.

I instinctively like beauty and style... and the handsome new Dodge with its lovely appointed interior and smart lines, appeals to me immeasurably.

No wonder it is acclaimed for its lavish beauty... it's so much more expensive looking than it is. I was surprised at the really low price...

...pleased with the many expensive-car features for one's safety and comfort... this extra attention to riding enjoyment makes long trips easy...

... On a recent trip from Kansas City to Los Angeles, I enjoyed every minute... and was not at all tired after a long day of driving. And with all this luxury...

... at so low a price... I was quite surprised to note the remarkable savings on gas and oil. For a combination of beauty, style and money-saving features, it seems to me that it would be hard to surpass this handsome new Dodge.

A rare combination of smart styling, comfort and amazing economy... that is what sold Miss Talley as well as other famous moving picture stars on Dodge! And that same combination has sold Dodge to thousands... to men and women who can afford even the most expensive cars yet who have discovered that the big, new Dodge has so many extra-value features that they decided that paying more for a car was literally a waste of money!

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

Weekly Rooseveltism.

President Roosevelt: "Some of yesterday's certainties have vanished; many are questioned. Why? Because the facts and needs of civilization have changed more greatly in this generation than in the century that preceded us."

On Moving, Etc.

Talkative Tillie says if she had to help move a printing plant every week, she's just hire or marry a husband and let him do all the work and worrying.

The Harmony Quartet.

The four candidates for state representative are so complimentary of each other that some voters have been expecting all of them to withdraw from the race . . . just for courtesy's sake.

Louis . . . Schmeling.

We don't know for sure, but we imagine that the week's favorite wisecrack must be: I'll sock you just like Joe Louis socked Max Schmeling. Or: I'm as surprised as Joe Louis was when Max knocked that cocky brown face into pulp.

The Week's Best Wisecrack.

Says Prof. R. C. Rhoads, journalism, Cornell University: "Fifty years from now, students will be asked to define Mae West, Adolf Hitler and Rexford Guy Tugwell, and the only one they'll recall will be Mae West."

Platforms and Nominees.

The trouble with most Republicans, declares Pessimism Pete, is that they take their platforms and their nominees too seriously. The G. O. P. should take some pointers from the Democrats, who draft platforms for custom's sake, and are tickled when their nominees hand out a New Deal.

How to Enjoy the Fourth.

A suggestion on how to enjoy the Fourth of July. Read all the ads about celebrations in this part of the country . . . tune up the old gas burner for a hot-day trip . . . save up a few extra shekels . . . forget business for a day. Then, and not until then, will you be in position to get a good nap in the coolest room in the house.

Dr. Thomas Compiles a Book.

Dr. John B. Thomas of Midland, M. D., F. A. C. S., likes good quotations and humorous stories so well that he compiled more than 1,300 of them into a 300-page book. The West Texan has done a worthy job. He has gathered such juicy quotations as: "The stork is the bird with the big bill," and "Greatness is nothing but many small littles."

Plenty of Car Salesmen.

A check of the new car dealerships in Snyder reveals that 13 makes are being sold here. This is probably the largest number of actual dealerships ever in Snyder, even in the good old days of 1927, 1928 and other prosperity years. What does it mean? It means, for one thing, that there is more money in the county, and that these dealers know it. It means, for another thing, that folks spend money for automobiles just as soon as they can get their heads above the financial waters.

Who Won the War?

Bonus payments and Confederate pension deficits force that age-old question to recur: "Who won the war?" The deficit in the pension fund, according to State Comptroller Sheppard, is more than $5,300,000, and will continue to increase for the next few years. Yet there are only 802 Confederate veterans in the state. Only 258 of this number have living wives. Where does all the money go? The answer, which explains the deficit, is simple: Pensions are paid to 6,600 widows of veterans.

True Values.

Charles Dunvan Melver: "It is very difficult for a rural people to discard the primitive notion that land is the only real estate. They are slow to see that in a civilized country the value of land and the land products is not so great as the value of mind and mind products—that brain is better property than land and that ideas and inventions multiply a thousand-fold the natural products of the earth. Ideas are worth more than acres, and the possessors of ideas will always hold in financial bondage those whose chief possession is acres of land."

Holding Their Tongues.

All candidates are noticing that voters are not expressing themselves much on political issues. When the polls close Saturday night, July 25, you may look for heavy balloting at all points, but don't look for too many expressions of opinion before that time. The tendency in recent years, especially in local races, is for voters to hold their tongues. Candidates and their close friends are largely to blame for this condition, for it is seldom you can find an office seeker who does not consider failure to vote for him as a sure sign of enmity. If everyone would vote on merit and character rather than kinship and influence and pork-barrelism, you would see a much more healthy body politic.

The Times Creed:

For the cause that needs assistance; For the wrongs that need resistance; For the future in the distance, And the good that we can do.

"A Platform of Narrow Economic Nationalism"

Peter Molyneux, in last Saturday's issue of The Texas Weekly, says: "The Republican platform, whatever else may be said of it, is certainly not 'progressive.'"

When the Dallas editor expresses such an opinion, and then backs it up with two pages of brilliant political analysis, it is just such a blow as many fight fans received when Max Schmeling knocked Joe Louis off a tinned pedestal.

For Peter Molyneux has attacked Rooseveltian principles often and intelligently. He is a Democrat, but he has been opposed to many New Deal policies.

Many Democrats have been misled into believing that the Republicans, because of new blood that has been injected into their industrialized veins, and because of their nomination of Governor Landon, may have the "ins" on the run. Many others have been led to believe that most of the old party lines have been erased, and that the tariff, for instance, is no longer a party issue.

Because these two schools of Democrats are becoming slightly worried over the November election outlook, these Molyneux comments have a remarkable tonic effect on skittish donkey riders:

"There is a sense in which it may be said to be the most reactionary platform that the Republicans have adopted in years. It is not only reactionary, it is even retrogressive. . . ."

"Four years ago the Republicans said that we should join the World Court, and bragged about the attitude of three Republican presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—on this question. This year they oppose membership in the World Court. It does not make any difference what you may think of the World Court, you cannot fail to see that the Republican platform adopted at Cleveland backs up completely from the former position of the party on that question. . . ."

"The reversal on the World Court is cited here as an index to the underlying spirit of the whole document. It declares, for example, that the Republicans propose 'to extend experimental aid to farmers, developing new crops suited to our soil and climate' and 'to promote the industrial use of farm products by applied science.' That sounds fine, doesn't it? Everybody ought to be for that kind of a program. And everybody is. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace came out for it some time ago. . . ."

"The Cleveland platform, after inviting the co-operation of the Democrats in a campaign 'that cannot be waged on the traditional differences between the Republican and Democratic parties,' proceeds to make an old-fashioned tariff declaration. . . ."

"A lack of good faith on the part of those who drafted this platform is revealed by the contradiction presented by this appeal to Democrats and the narrowly nationalistic spirit which permeates it. . . ."

"A prize bit of gall is to be found in the platform declaration of war debts. 'We shall use every effort,' it says, 'to collect the war debt due us from foreign countries amounting to twelve billion dollars—one-third of our national debt. No effort has been made by the present administration even to re-open negotiations.' Neither party has anything to brag about in connection with war debts. But how the Republicans propose to collect these debts while continuing to follow the traditional high tariff policy of the party is something which the platform did not feel called upon to explain. . . ."

"The farm program of the platform, while extremely opportunistic, is in keeping with the spirit of the whole. . . . This year the Republicans are all against acreage control and to the balancing of production to demand. They condemn this as a program of 'scarcity' and declare for a program of 'abundance.' This is the sheerest kind of opportunism, for the platform proposes no practicable program of abundance. . . ."

CURRENT COMMENT

BY LEON GUINN.

When 75,000 fans gathered at Yankee Stadium in New York last Friday night for the much ballyhooed Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight, it was all doped out Louis would knock Max out inside of four rounds (5 to 1 odds). . . . Then, when the 15-round bout started the unusual happened, turning the fight into one of the best staged in recent years, with Schmeling turning out to be the top notch fighter Joe Jacobs has said he is.

For the first three rounds Max took all the punches Louis could dish out, cutting loose in the fourth with a hard right to the jaw that wobbled the Alabama man-killer and brown bomber. . . . In the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds Louis continued to get in two licks to Schmeling's one, but Max took the brown bombers lefts and rights, Schmeling retaliating with hard rights that took the sting out of Louis' punches. . . . Both Louis and Schmeling gave ground several times in the first eight rounds, Max having a closed left eye and a half closed right eye that threatened to go ditto. . . . In the twelfth round, after the most outstanding ring fight in recent years, Max knocked the now dazed Louis out.

From several angles, it was a fight the late Tex Rickard might have promoted. . . . Louis and Max both put up the fight of their careers, Max having taken all Louis could dish out. . . . Louis went down in the twelfth, one of the gamest fighters the negro race has yet produced. . . . Now the AP and INS sports writers have a splendid headache, as they slanted copy toward Louis, the rain having granted Max "a last minute reprieve." . . . The idea is, Schmeling is a better fighter than so called boxing experts rated him. . . . With the loss of $500,000 on the fight in Stadium bets, perhaps sure shot betters will be more cautious in the future.

By H. J. Struth, Petroleum Economist.

Oil literally "covers the map" of Texas. A study of the state's oil and gas industry, just completed by the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association of Texas, shows that 80 per cent of the surface area of this state is now being actively developed for oil and gas.

(As the map indicates, Scurry County is included in the "oil and gas producing areas." Light production, especially in the southwestern part of the county, has kept the county in the active area for several years, and there has seldom been a time during the past 12 years that one to four wells have not been underway in other parts of the county.)

The extent to which Texas is "in the oil business" is clearly shown by the accompanying map. Texas is a big state, comprising nearly 265,000 square miles. Yet, this survey shows that counties comprising a total area of nearly 213,000 square miles are being actively developed for the production of oil and gas. From this, it is at once apparent that oil embraces practically all of Texas and, obviously, dominates the economic welfare of the entire state.

Chief "Crop" of Texas.

Oil is actually the chief "crop of Texas," for the official facts show that the annual value of the state's oil production now exceeds the total value of all farm crops produced. In fact, many thousands of Texas farmers have had their farm crop values greatly augmented by the receipt of lease rentals, lease bonuses and royalties paid to them by the oil companies, in their constant search for new, dependable sources of oil supply.

While there are 52 "white" counties on the map, indicating no oil and gas developments in progress, it is true that practically all of these counties are also an important part of the Texas oil picture. In fact, oil and gas passes through a majority of them via underground, trunk pipe lines. Furthermore, because many of these "white" counties are adjacent to active oil and gas producing areas, they consequently benefit commercially and financially.

Dallas, Tarrant, Midland, Val Verde, Uvalde, Bell, Donley, Tyler and Lubbock Counties are void of shadows cast by oil derricks. Yet, these and other "white" counties overlie one or more oil and gas pipe line systems, entailing the operation of intermediate pumping stations. Likewise, some of these counties also have in operation one or more oil refineries. Dallas and Tarrant Counties, with no oil production, have several oil refineries in operation, are literally criss-crossed by a net-work of pipe lines, while the cities of Fort Worth and Dallas are important oil centers and operating headquarters of many oil companies.

Occupies Envious Place.

Because of its dominant position, and because of enormous underground reserves of oil in sight for future needs, Texas and its people may well take pride in the enviable place oil occupies in its present and future strides toward industrial supremacy. No other state, nor any foreign nation, is so ideally situated as Texas. No other oil producing state receives as much of its tax revenue from the oil industry, which is reliably estimated to com-

Congressman Goes To Dem Convention As Texas Delegate

He is one of the two Texas representatives in Congress who are delegates to the convention, Representative Sam Rayburn of Bonham being the other.

In discussing his plans, the congressman stated: "I am anxious to return to Texas and visit through-out my district. But I have been chosen as a delegate to the convention and I feel I should go to Philadelphia and render any possible service in the formulation of party policies."

Mr. Mahon will go from Philadelphia directly to his home in Colorado, where his office is being opened this week by his secretary, Lloyd Croslin. Both his Washington office and the district office will be kept open throughout the recess.

Y. L. Thomason in County Campaigning

Y. L. Thomason, Haskell business man, was campaigning in the county yesterday in the interest of his candidacy for state senator. He was distributing copies of his platform, which, he said, is his only campaign literature.

In the introduction to his platform, the visitor says: "I can not stay out of the race for state senator, as the corporations and politicians are taking the state of Texas like Johnson grass. How can any well informed man, who has any love in his heart for a tax-ridden people, stay out of the race, when the best citizens have barely enough to live and every Legislature is increasing taxes, creating bonds and commissions, until many of them can not pay their taxes?"

Fischer, Candidate For Governor, Gives Natural Resources Tax Plan

F. W. Fischer of Tyler, candidate for governor, brought his plan of taxing natural resources for state revenue to Snyder Friday afternoon. Speaking on the courthouse lawn over a loudspeaker system, he called on a group of citizens to vote for a man whose program would mean "taxing the untaxed, untaxing the overtaxed."

F. W. FISCHER

"If the oil, sulphur and natural gas monopolies pay the state of Texas a just tax on the irreplaceable natural resources that they take from Texas, Texas can pay the old age pensions, reduce the gasoline tax to two cents per gallon, take the state ad valorem tax off of all real estate, and increase the salaries of our school teachers to that which is commensurate with their long years of training and experience," the candidate said in summarizing his platform.

"I have become a candidate for governor of this great state for the purpose of presenting to the people the question of placing a greater direct tax upon the production of oil, gas, sulphur and other natural resources so that with the revenue therefrom we can accomplish these things:

"First: Pay every man and woman in Texas over the age of 65 a pension of $15 per month as is required by the constitutional amendment which the people adopted by a vote of four to one last August. This will pay to our 9,000 old people $54,000,000 per year.

"Second: Increase the school funds of Texas so that we can raise the salaries of our school teachers to that which is commensurate with their long years of training and preparation. The cost of crime in the United States is more than four times as much as we expend for education. We can stop crime only by education.

"Third: Take the state ad valorem tax off of all real estate so that real estate will be subject only to the burdens of taxation for county, city and school district purposes. This will save the taxpayers of Texas approximately $30,000,000 per year, and will result in increasing the value of real estate hundreds of millions of dollars.

"Fourth: Reduce the gasoline tax from four to two cents per gallon. This will save the automobile users of Texas $20,000,000 per year. In doing this the highway department funds and the school funds will in no wise be reduced or interfered with. I favor the increase of highway funds so that the highway department can carry out its program of paving lateral roads in order that the farmers in small towns can get the benefit of our great highway systems.

"To put this program into effect will require the imposition of taxes on the exploiters of our natural resources sufficient to raise about $100,000,000 annually.

"This is a large sum, but a few individuals and large corporations are taking from our soil about $1,000,000,000 worth of these products every year, and are marketing 90 per cent thereof in other states and foreign countries. Texas receives practically no tax from these commodities.

"From the vast amount of these great useful products which we are now exhausting at the rate of about $1,000,000,000 worth per year, let us require the producers to contribute, by a fair tax, something for the upkeep of the state. We can raise $100,000,000 dollars annually by the tax that I propose, without doing any injustice to the producers of our natural resources and without impeding or retarding them from further development work in this state.

To be specific, please follow me while I illustrate how this can be done.

"The few persons and corporations who are in control of our vast oil fields produce about $420,000,000, or about 480,000,000 worth, of oil per year. Under the present tax law the state collects a tax of only two per cent of the value of such oil.

"As our oil can be produced much cheaper per barrel than in any other state, and as it can be transported to the principal marketing and distributing states, I propose that we lay a tax of 15 cents per barrel upon the oil produced in Texas.

"By such a tax the revenue therefrom will be increased $64,000,000 per year. If the tax is added to the sale price and passed on to the consumer—bear in mind that 87 per cent of our oil is transported and sold in other states and foreign countries. Therefore, 87 per cent of the tax will be paid by other states and foreign countries, whereas they now pay nothing.

"As to the natural gas situation, about 100,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas is produced in Texas every year, 90 per cent of which is transported and sold out of the state or used in the manufacture of carbon black and other products which are all sold and used in other states and foreign countries. At present, the state gets a tax of only two per cent of the sale value of the gas at the well. I propose a tax of at least two cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Such tax will produce for the state about $20,000,000 revenue per year, making, with the oil tax increase, $74,000,000 per year.

"Let us now take up carbon black, a by-product of natural gas. None is used in Texas, and it is now tax-free. I propose a tax on this product of 10 cents per pound and let the monopolies controlling its manufacture and distributing pay to our state treasury $32,000,000 per year.

"Texas is richly blessed with other valuable natural mineral deposits such as sulphur, quicksilver, gypsum, asphalt, lignite and many other minerals now produced and sold in large quantities, which are now tax-free. An adequate tax upon these resources will materially contribute to lightening the tax burden now borne by the people of Texas.

"The old age pension constitutional amendment was made a part of our constitution by a vote of nearly 400,000 majority at a special election held last August. Therefore, Texas has been indebted to each man and woman in Texas over the age of 65 the sum of $15 per month since last August. Governor Alfred has taken no steps whatsoever to discharge that obligation, except to set aside a portion of the revenue received from the liquor traffic to pay these old people, which will not pay more than 10 per cent of those entitled to pensions. The governor, by the position he has taken, has adopted the policy that our fathers and mothers shall eat only to the extent that our sons and daughters drink. I am against that policy. I voted for the repeal of state-wide prohibition because I believe that if liquor is to be sold it should be sold under regulation of law.

"The Roosevelt Democratic Clubs of Texas, in a state-wide convention at Austin on April 17 endorsed my platform in its entirety. The Railroad Brotherhoods, at their state convention at Waco on April 24 endorsed my program. On May 14 the Texas State Federation of Labor, in convention at Houston, also endorsed the principles I am advocating. The taxpayers in general have now been awakened to the folly of permitting the depletion of our natural resources without the payment of an adequate tax."

Fellow Legislator Commends Westfall As People's Friend

Brownwood, Texas, May 26, 1936.

To Whom Concerned:

It has been my pleasure to serve through a regular and two special sessions of the 44th Legislature with the Hon. Leonard Westfall, representative of the 118th District. During these sessions I have had numerous conferences and discussions with him as to legislative policies, particularly with reference to equalizing the burdens of taxation. I am also familiar with his attitude toward questions affecting the public welfare generally.

I was impressed by Judge Westfall's interest in the average man and his desire to see everyone have a square deal in so much as the laws can give it to him. He certainly has the courage of his conviction and does not hesitate to take a stand which he thinks to be right. He is always ready to oppose what he thinks to be wrong. While we may have voted differently on some matters, I respected his sincerity of purpose. His vote in those cases may have been right and my vote wrong.

It is of utmost importance that the people elect to the Legislature men of character, patriotic purpose and sound judgment. To elect an incompetent, insincere or dishonest man is to besmirch the district he is supposed to represent, and it may jeopardize the best interest of the state. A misfit in the Legislature not only means that the particular district is practically without representation, but the representative himself becomes an object of ridicule and derision in the house. The voters ought to bear these things in mind and look well to the kind of men they send to Austin.

I am not a candidate for re-election, but as a citizen of the state, I am interested in its welfare, which so vitally hinges on the men we send to the Legislature. I would be willing to trust Representative Westfall to stand for the right things and to oppose the wrongs. I am not seeking to inject myself into his campaign, but am simply stating my opinion of the man, formed through a testing period.

First Presbyterian Church

The coming week holds in store a number of special services for the members and friends of the Presbyterian Church, and all are requested to make special note of the calendar of events.

June 28.—The Sunday school and Christian Endeavor will continue as usual, but the worship services have been suspended, due to the fact that the pastor is teaching in the encampment at Buffalo Gap. A caravan of cars will make the trip to the encampment grounds for the day to get the benefit of at least one day of the great gathering of Christian young people from this section of Texas. Those who have extra room in their cars or those who have not yet found a way to get to Buffalo Gap are requested to get in touch with Miss Vivian Chenuault, who will act as a clearing agent for the trip.

July 1.—The Abilene Presbytery will hold a special meeting in the church at 8:00 p. m. for the purpose of ordaining James E. Spivey to the gospel ministry and installing him as pastor of this congregation. A feature of the service will be a sermon by Rev. Alfred M. Dorsett, recent pastor of the local church.

July 3.—The church "Family Night" will be held at 7:30 p. m. Bring a bite to eat and find your place at the common table.

July 5.—Quarterly communion will be held at the 11:00 a. m. service. This is the first under the present pastorate and a special effort should be made by all of the members of the church to be present. The evening worship service is to be given over to the young people for their report on the Buffalo Gap encampment.

As was stated last week, the purpose of this club is for inspiration, service and fellowship, and is open to all men of the community. It is an organization for laymen and is not denominational. The meetings are being held in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.—James E. Spivey, pastor.

COURT OPENS HERE MONDAY

The summer term of district court opens here Monday morning, but not many citizens are interested, according to courthouse attaches.

With no major criminal or civil suits on the docket, and with politics and hot weather holding the limelight, the three-week term is expected to be composed principally of brief non-jury cases, a few grand jury indictments—and recessing.

In Memory.

The following brief poem was written in memory of Charles Wallace Howard, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard, who died June 14. Pearl Howard, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Howard, is the author. For many weeks he had suffered much;

And somehow we all had a feeling That he would get well some day, And with the other tots could play. But now our hearts are sad, For God called the little one to Him To rid him of his pain— Called him to heaven, Where nothing is in vain. Itp

Scurry County 4-H CLUB NEWS

E. B. McLeroy, Club Agent

Four-H Club members with pig feeding projects are finding that a profitable ration can be worked out on the farm, with grain sorghum, skimmed milk, green feed and a mineral supplement. Pig feeders are planning to finish and sell their first pig this fall and use a better pig to feed for spring shows.

Progress is reported by calf feeders in getting their calves started on feed. Halters are used in handling all such calves in order to have gentle animals. Ease of handling and attention to small details is essential in club calf feeding. Changes in rations are being extended over a period of five to seven weeks to eliminate trouble with calves going "off" feed.

All 4-H Club members are again reminded that a free trip to Chicago is possible for the outstanding record of some one club boy in this county. Each county traversed by the Santa Fe Railway may have one boy eligible for the free trip. First year club members may compete for this trip.
