Annual Rate of $1 in This Trade Territory, $1.50 Elsewhere, Effective Immediately.

The Times has received so many inquiries in recent days concerning the annual Bargain Days that the reduced rate has been put into effect this month.

Subscribers in the Snyder trade territory—Scurry and adjoining counties—may get the paper for a full year for $1.

Outside the trade territory the rate is $1.50, the additional 50 cents absorbing extra postage for distant mailing.

The publishers had planned to change the Bargain Days prices to $1.50 and $2, respectively, this season.

No special rates have yet been announced by the Star-Telegram or by the Dallas News.

Prices on the Times are good for many years as you like—$5 for five years, $10 for 10 years, and so forth.

Only by keeping a strictly paid-in-advance mailing list can the Times publish a newsy home newspaper in which folks are really interested.

Colorado Brings Program To Club Meeting Tuesday

Colorado provided most of the program for the Lions Club Tuesday at a meeting that was well attended and full of many subjects.

Heading a triple representation of the Mitchell County capital was Jimmie Greene, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who explained in detail the plans that are being made for Snyder-Colorado Day at the Frontier Centennial and for the special train toward which the towns are jointly working.

Mrs. W. R. Martin, central figure in Colorado's amateur night programs and in her recent Centennial pageant, was accompanist for De Vada Barber, young tap dancer who performed on roller skates in two well applauded numbers.

The club voted unanimously to cooperate with all other organizations in making the Centennial trip successful.

A joint ticket group. A joint committee from the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce will be on hand for the joint program at Fort Worth, which will be carried out in full regardless of train plans.

SPECIAL TRAIN PLANS PUSHED IN TWO CITIES

Committees to Canvass Snyder and Colorado to Get Centennial Trip Travelers.

Colorado and Snyder committees will be working Friday toward immediate assurance of a special train to the Centennial celebrations at Dallas and Fort Worth late next week.

Prime purpose of the trip is to observe Snyder-Colorado Day at the Frontier Centennial on Monday, September 14, but the double trip is thrown in for good measure at low rates.

The train would leave Colorado Saturday night at midnight, arriving in Dallas early Sunday, September 13.

Special accommodations. Trippers will not only have transportation, but all train accommodations at both cities, thus saving hotel bills.

Special programs from Colorado and Snyder will be given at the Frontier Centennial Monday afternoon beginning at 4:00 o'clock.

Even if the goal of 200 travelers on the special train is missed, dozens of folks from Snyder and Colorado will be on hand for the joint program at Fort Worth, which will be carried out in full regardless of train plans.

WEBB SAYS HE IS BEING MADE COUNTY GOAT

Says Deputy Liquor Supervisor's Statement in Star-Telegram "Is Absolutely False."

Affirming that an effort is being made to make him the goat of recent liquor raids and trials in Scurry County, and that a statement made by Leith E. Morris in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram of August 23 "is absolutely false," County Attorney R. W. Webb said in a signed statement yesterday that he is "an innocent victim."

The part of the statement of Leith E. Morris in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, issue of August 23, wherein Mr. Morris stated that I had asked the liquor board inspectors to stay away from Scurry County, is absolutely false.

Morris Conversation. "In a telephone conversation with Morris on Monday of this week he admitted to me that I did not say that, but he inferred, and created such an idea because I had asked him recently to send me some of his latest forms for search warrants in order that the local officers could make raids, at times when the liquor boys were not here."

"Now if Mr. Morris did infer any such thing he has shown very little intelligence."

"From the best I could make out from the telephone talk with him, he apparently got himself or some of his boys in a jam during their raids in Scurry County, and in order to clear himself he is trying to make me the goat."

Worked With Them. "I have always worked with the liquor boys willingly and have never by word of mouth or sign indicated that I wanted them to stay away.

"I respectfully ask the people of Scurry County to investigate closely before judging harshly in this matter. Upon doing so you will find that someone is trying to shift the burden of responsibility on an innocent victim."—R. W. WEBB.

Star-Telegram Story. The article concerning the liquor cases in Scurry County appeared in the Star-Telegram August 28, under an International News Service headline from Austin, as follows:

"Because Leith E. Morris, deputy supervisor of inspectors for the State Liquor Control Board, feels sure that he will not be able to obtain a conviction, a number of liquor cases filed in dry Scurry County may be dismissed."

"Morris requested that his five inspector-witnesses in the case not be sent to the trials there after the county attorney asked that the liquor board inspectors 'stay away until I get out of office January 1'."

"Morris said he doubted that they would be able to obtain a conviction."

Way Back When.

Before all the crackers are gone out of the cracker barrel I want to tell of the dry and windy year of 1918.

That year in the early spring I was pasturing a few milk cows a short distance west of town, and as I started after them late one evening on a certain day, I noticed a bad sandstorm blowing up from the northwest.

Dry in 1893.

By J. C. Maxwell.

It surely has been hot and dry here this summer, but back in 1893 I planted my cotton in April and it did not come up until after the 10th day of October that fall.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES BY A YOUNG MODERN

Every college girl considers from clothes of special importance. She wants to look her nicest at the first prom, and naturally what she will wear requires much thought and consideration.

This season evening clothes are gayer than usual. Designers predict that chiffon velvet and crepe satin will be foremost in the evening parade, and they are shown in bright colors or somber tones with brilliant flowers or trimmings.

If you're going to college, you don't want your evening clothes to look too sophisticated. Some girls wear clothes that were meant for their mothers, and nothing ruins a youthful appearance more. Your frocks should be low in the back, but don't go to the extreme. The lines should be simple, but not too severe, and a feminine note should always be present.

Frocks for dinner and informal receptions are made of sheer crepes with huge marquisette sleeves that are trimmed in braid. Rhinestone ornaments play an important part to these dresses. Then there are the ever popular skirt and blouse combinations for dinners. This year, however, the lame tops are brilliant figured prints, and girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) declare them particularly nice when worn with black skirts.

When discussing evening frocks, we should certainly give some attention to the wraps. For winter fur coats are fast taking the place of other materials, but in early fall a light velvet coat is the very thing. It can be made floor length on the princess lines with a high Queen Elizabeth collar. You'll be proud to wear it.

DRINK WATER FOR BEAUTY

Something new in the way of a home and office drinking water cooler is tried out by three glamorous girls from M-G-M's "The Great Ziegfeld," who believe in the medical advice, "Drink more water for health and beauty." The cooler is the new Frigidaire model with the "meter-miser." The glorified girls are, left to right, Bonnie Bannon, Diane Cook and Wanda Perry. Properly cooled drinking water is a necessity in most climates if residents are not to become enervated because of the extreme heat of the summer season. Frigidaire developed this small cooler expressly for residences and small business establishments.

Musical games were directed by Mrs. Hamilton during the social hour, and iced punch and cookies were served at the tea hour to the following members of the three auxiliaries: Meses. H. P. Brown, A. C. Preuit, W. W. Hamilton, Joe Strayhorn, Joe Stinson, A. M. Curry, P. W. Cloud, J. D. Scott, Altus Bowden, Wayne Boren, T. J. DeShazo, C. R. HOUSE GUESTS HONOREES AT FRIDAY DANCE

Martha and John Burnett of Dallas, who were house guests of Wynona Keller from Wednesday of last week until Sunday, were made honorees at several affairs by the younger set of the town during their five-day visit here.

Most important of the entertainments was a dance Friday night for which Miss Keller was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Keller, 2905 Avenue S, and at which the two guests shared honors.

Misses Burnett and Keller were friends at Camp Waldemar during the past two summers. Miss Keller was a guest of the Burnetts during a recent visit to Dallas.

Dainty refreshments were served the dancers Friday night at the close of the evening. They consisted of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, cake and iced punch.

Those present were: The honorees, Estine Doward, Frances Stinson, Juanita Burt, Evelyn Erwin, Dorothy Winston, Ruth Lane, Irene Taylor, John Bakcy, Woodie Hairston, Jack Smith, Jackie Scarborough, Weldon Strayhorn, Richard Brice, Jack Shaw and James Bradley of Sweetwater and the hostess.

Present for an all-day outing at Sweetwater Lake last Thursday for Martha and John Burnett of Dallas, guests of Wynona Keller, included: The honorees, Richard Brice, Juanita Burt, Miss Keller, her mother, Mrs. John Keller, and sister, Raymond. Swimming and boat riding made the day an enjoyable one. Fried chicken cooked over an open fire and accessories were served the group at noon.

Complimenting her guest, Saretta Morrow of Abilene, Horence Leath entertained Tuesday night with a "monopoly" party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Leath, 2612 Revenue E.

Miss Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Morrow, was formerly a resident of Snyder. She arrived here Friday for a week's visit with Miss Leath.

Monopoly and other games were enjoyed at the affair Tuesday night, and iced punch and cake were served to the following: The honoree, Carolyn Dunn, Kathryn King, Billie Jean Wilsford, Lola Jo Rogers, Frances and Ola Margaret Leath and the hostess; Carroll Taylor, Dale Reed, Kenneth Wilson, Jack Wilsford, Ernest Taylor Jr., Claude Weatherbee and Melvin Newton Jr.

The Abilene girl was honored at a swimming party Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Leath as hostess.

Plan Opening of Fisher Overpass Late This Week

Opening of the new overpass of the Santa Fe Railway right-of-way on Highway 15 eight miles east of Roby is scheduled to occur late this week.

Construction was started March 27 by Field Brothers, Lubbock, general contractors, with Oscar Pierce as superintendent and under supervision of W. A. French, division engineer, Abilene.

Described as one of the finest grade separation structures in the state, it includes 130,000 cubic feet of earth dumped on a 256-foot concrete span forming a perfect arch over the 3,000 feet of its full length.

The concrete span contains 996 feet of cement, with 157,000 pounds of structural steel.

"By-products" of the construction was digging of three large surface tanks on adjoining farms of J. J. Crowley, B. F. Kemp and Frazier Bridges.

The Weekly Dozen

Nothing to Worry About.
Talkative Tillie says if bicycles become the craze in this country that they are in Europe, you will no longer be thought a reckless fool if you make corners on two wheels.

Weekly Rooseveltism.
President Roosevelt: "The critic who complains without offering an alternative method is unpatriotic because he attempts to destroy without even suggesting a way to build up."

Not to Mention Sweat.
Pessimism Pete estimates that paving of the strip of Highway 15 from Snyder to New Mexico would eliminate 99 44-100 per cent of the flats that motorists are having. And at least 52 per cent of the resultless cussing.

Nothing Lasts Forever.
If you are worried about the weather, or anything else, take this remedy from Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of the Chicago Board of Health: "The heat wave is a state of mind. Don't talk about the weather. Think of something else. If you can't think, just keep quiet. Relax. Cheer up. Nothing lasts forever."

The Circus is Coming!
Last year Snyder was fed up on shows that called themselves circuses, but which were really nothing more than flea-bitten animals, worn-out performances and unfunny clowns. If the circus that is coming next week lives up to its reputation, it will leave nothing to be desired in the way of entertainment. "Hi, Skinny, let's go water the elephant!"

Scurry County Surprise.
Many Scurry County merchants are admittedly surprised that business was so good in August. They are still holding their breath, fearing against hope that this fall and winter will be the death of them yet. As Pete Brady puts it, "I came to this country because I knew it was dry, and I'm still satisfied." Year in and year out, we're as prosperous as the next town or section or state.

Less Than Two Cents Each.
This is not an advertising column . . . but surely it will be no more than a favor to Scurry County trade territory to remind folks that Times bargain days are here again. The dollar rate for The Times in this area continues in force this fall and winter, with special combination rates. Even folks who don't read every page of the paper can afford to pay less than two cents per copy, don't you think?

Another Wastebasket-er.
The most insidious propaganda that has come to the Times office this year is credited to the National Voice News Bureau, Los Angeles. Among other things, it declares that beer bees, instead of knitting circles and bridge clubs, will soon be in order the country over for our mothers, sisters and daughters. In Los Angeles, maybe, but never in Scurry County, where most women do not defile themselves with liquor, even in private.

"The Baseless Fear of War."
Our Dumb Animals: "It was that wise old Scotchman, Carnegie, who wrote a paper on 'The Baseless Fear of War,' and said: 'There has to be an end of this some day. A man's profession is his hobby, therefore if generals are to decide how many soldiers we are to maintain, and admirals how many fifty-million battleships we are to build, farewell to common sense, for there are no extremes to which men's hobbies may not lead them.'"

As She Is Spoke Over There.
S. P. B. Mays, English journalist: "It is generally and quite truly believed in England that the English of the United States is a less respectable brand than ours. The truth is that the United States speaks an English that would be more easily recognized by Chaucer, Shakespeare and Milton than the English that you and I use, and yet it is an English that moves with the times more adequately than ours does. We still employ worn-out metaphors."

Wrigley Stops Ads.
The lowly chewing gum gets in the news. All forms of Wrigley advertising have been stopped in Kentucky as the result of a new tax law that raised the price of package gum to six cents. Philip K. Wrigley, president of the William Wrigley Jr. Company, has announced that the order is not a protest, but that the tax has cut sales and made advertising futile. "From our 40 years experience . . ." he said, "we know that the price of the package must be geared to the currency to get sales."

Worried About the Cotton Picker?
Farmers and others who are worried about the new-fangled cotton picker that seems destined to become practical might as well dry their tears. Students of history know that progress has always been accomplished at the cost of temporary misadjustment, but eventually the advances of the "machine age" help humanity. It is entirely probable that the picker will take the South and the Southwest out of cotton slavery and convince the warm states that their fertile acres should raise a greater variety of crops.

Herbert Hoover Speaks.

Herbert Hoover, the only living ex-president, has spoken his piece quite frequently in recent months and practically all of his utterances that have reached the press have been vigorously opposed to the New Deal.

Hoover, a representative of the Old Guard in Republicanism, is a minor cog in the new G. O. P. He is far from dormant, however, and it is probable that his ideals may return to power in the party after Landon is immersed in the landslide of November ballots.

We are therefore presenting pertinent excerpts from a little booklet, just received in the Times office, that contains ten addresses by the former president:

"If there are any items in this stage in the march of European collectivism that the New Deal has not initiated it must have been an oversight."

"Today the issue is the rights of the individual in relation to the government; this too involves the fate of the nation. If for no other reason, this discussion has been forced upon us because new philosophies and new theories of government have arisen in the world which militantly deny the validity of our principles."

"The issue of America is not a battle of phrases but a battle between straight and crooked thinking."

"Two years ago the phrase more frequently used was 'Planned Economy.' But as that has become so obviously 'Planned Extravagance,' it has been less used in these last few months."

"Perhaps more than any other living person I can sympathize with the president in his burdens. We could agree upon some acts of this administration, but we disagree upon profound principles of human liberty."

"The causes of the farmer's troubles must be honestly faced if we are to have common-sense remedy. Economic patent medicines require no diagnosis except decision that the patient is in pain."

"Since the Great War liberty has fallen in a score of nations. In America where it blazed brightest and by its glow shed light to all others it is today impaired and endangered."

Editorial of the Week.

BACK TO THE FARM!

We have heard a good deal in recent years about the migration from the farm to the city. But the Census Bureau has just revealed that in 1935 the farm population of the United States stood at the highest figure in the nation's history.

To be exact, there were, in that year, 31,900,967 Americans living on farms—an increase of more than one and one-quarter millions in the last five years. And this increase took place despite substantial reductions in farm population in the drought and dust-bowl belts.

It is significant, perhaps, that the principal gains were made in farm areas near industrial centers and mining sections. But whatever deductions may be drawn, it is undeniable that the trend is a good one. A thriving farm population is the best insurance of industrial and commercial health.—The Santa Fe Earth.

Current Comment.

BY LEON GUINN.

One of the more interesting phases of modern America, as practiced in every profession and calling is the grand old game of pull, political or otherwise. . . . For nowhere else in the world has the high calling of "having a pull" with the big boys, higher ups, or brass hats reached the status of a fine art it has in America.

Long recognized, under one guise or another, is that magic media of job getting known as "having a pull," which in most instances is the most skilled form of ballyhoo the business and professional world has to contend with. . . . It may be defined as a glorified recommendation wedded to influence, the one thing populous America must depend on, if in our struggle to reach the top we achieve a marked degree of success.

The leaders in all professions and callings, while discouraging the subtle game of pull, recognize its volatile efficiency, its dynamic punch, when accompanied by genuine merit on the part of the applicant. . . . The grand old game of pull is so far-reaching in effect it has invaded the business office, the teaching profession, the various agencies of the state and federal government, and, in fact, honey-combed our public life with its contagious spark of inspiration.

Brilliance by itself is rated 25 per cent today by most employers, ability another 25 per cent, and character is considered such a fine trait it is above casual rating. . . . Brains is the most sought after requisite, rating 40 per cent, personality 5 per cent, and pull the last 5 per cent. . . . Put brains, ability, and pull together, and you have an unbeatable combination if you are intent on "going places," the other considerations assuming a secondary importance.

Al G. Barnes Circus Due Here Soon

Mary Cornell and Tillie, Fan Dancing Elephant

The circus! Lions, tigers, clowns, acrobats, peanuts, popcorn and horses, horses, horses.

The Al G. Barnes show, one of the world's largest circuses, will exhibit in Snyder on Friday, September 11.

Transported aboard special trains with numerous employees, in addition to advance men, an official of the circus here today furnished some statistics. Five hundred head of draft horses are carried; and innumerable head of ring stock. There are 400 performers, representing 18 foreign countries. Sixty riders, headed by the Cristiana Troupe of seven Italian equestrians, will be seen along with Al G. Barnes' 40 dancing horses and 40 dancing girls. The Walters trope of aerialists, who perform high up in the dome of the "big top" will thrill and amaze in acrobatic work. Sixty acrobats and 60 clowns will also be a part of the super program.

For more than a quarter of a century the Al G. Barnes circus has excelled with its trained wild animals. More than a score of international wild animal trainers will be seen. Foremost among them will be seen Bert Nelson, who has returned to America after fresh foreign triumphs. For this season he is presenting a group of 40 lions and tigers in a display of courage, daring and patience.

Tillie, the fan dancing elephant, has gone high hat this season with her ostrich plumed crown, and will have the women cowering her jealousy. Mary Cornell, one of the pretty girls with the circus, has a prominent place on Tillie's howdah, where she may also shine among the plumes.

The "Fiesta of the Rio Grande," a gorgeous procession of floats with the charm and romance of old Spain, a glorious fairyland spectacle of pantomime enchantment, will open the circus performance as a prelude. Superb beyond belief, indescribable, a triumph among colossal productions, it is today sweeping all before it with its all-powerful appeal and the very vastness of its character. It is the crowning spectacle in the long, eventful career of Al G. Barnes. One thousand men and women, horses and animals participate in the stupendous spectacle. Great companies of trained singers, orchestras of vast size, grand golden-tongued organs, cymbals and trumpets will be heard. Seventy thousand dollars was expended on wardrobes for this gorgeous prologue pageant.

Performances will be given at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m. The doors will open at 1:00 and 7:00 o'clock to permit an inspection of the zoological collection or to enjoy a concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Woekener's military band.

Scurry County 4-H Club News

E. B. McLeroy, Club Agent

Club members who are feeding beef calves and pigs should give special attention to the matter of getting their animals gentle and easy to handle before the Scurry County 4-H Club show and the spring stock shows. Too much stress cannot be given to the necessity of having your animals easy to manage at shows. It is almost impossible to reap the full harvest of your efforts with a feeding project unless your animal will show to best advantage. Other things being equal, an easily managed animal will show to greater advantage than an animal hard to control in the show ring. It is very essential that your animal should be absolutely under your control in the show ring at all times.

Beef calf feeders can accomplish much in getting their animals gentle by regular habits of brushing and leading the calf. A halter should be used often, and the calf should be taught to respond to leading and handling. If your calf has been handled and is accustomed to the halter, it will be much easier to make the animal stand properly in the show ring. In teaching your calf to stand, always select level ground and practice making the calf stand squarely on all four feet with the head up and in a normal position. Your calf should stand squarely and look alert when the judge of the show is coming toward you or examining your calf.

Pig feeders can gentle their animals by using a short stick (about the length of an ordinary walking cane). Since the judge in the show ring will probably use such a cane in moving the pigs around, it is readily seen that the animal should be accustomed to such handling. From day to day as you feed and water your pig, use a stick to keep the animal away while working in the pen. Then drive the pig around the pen once or twice slowly by using the stick as a guide. Teach your pig to stop and turn at your command—using the stick gently and firmly in all cases.

It is to be remembered that your chances for winning a prize with a fat animal are materially increased in proportion to the gentleness and ease of handling of the animal. A wild, unruly animal is often discriminated against because the judge in the show ring naturally infers that the animal was not given proper attention.

During the month of September, special attention will be given to the preparation and training of 4-H Club animals for shows. Meetings will be held in each community, and a demonstration will be given in handling, fitting and showing fat animals.

Ross Belew of Pluvanna reports an average daily gain of 2.94 pounds for his beef calf over a period of three months. This calf was selected from the N. B. Reynolds herd, B. Clements of Plainview community is feeding a beef calf and a water your pig, use a stick to keep the animal away while working in the pen. Then drive the pig around the pen once or twice slowly by using the stick as a guide. Teach your pig to stop and turn at your command—using the stick gently and firmly in all cases.

It is to be remembered that your chances for winning a prize with a fat animal are materially increased in proportion to the gentleness and ease of handling of the animal. A wild, unruly animal is often discriminated against because the judge in the show ring naturally infers that the animal was not given proper attention.

During the month of September, special attention will be given to the preparation and training of 4-H Club animals for shows. Meetings will be held in each community, and a demonstration will be given in handling, fitting and showing fat animals.

Austin.—The political eyes of Texas turned this week to the September 8 session of the State Democratic convention, in Fort Worth, where a continuation of the surface harmony that has existed between state and national party forces was promised. The national party group, dominant at the June convention in San Antonio, will play a minor part at Fort Worth, simply obtaining a suitable strong lineup for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket in November, and laying the groundwork for some important financial assistance to the national committee.

Backed by his overwhelming vote in the July primary, Gov. Alford's forces will be dominant, as is customary, and will outline the governor's legislative program for the next two years, in the platform declarations.

Little revision of Alford's program adopted at Galveston is expected. Much of that platform has been accomplished, and the governor's spokesmen are expected to push for increased taxes on natural resources, but reasonable increases; regulation of public utility companies by the state, which failed in the last regular session; and constitutional amendments which will be required to put into effect in Texas unemployment insurance and other phases of the national social security act.

Bill Repass, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle, is slated for the post of keynote and temporary chairman, and Mark McGee of Fort Worth, is favored for permanent chairman. Re-election of Myron G. Blalock of Marshall, as chairman of the state executive committee, is a foregoing conclusion.

Cotton Pickers in Demand for Area

Although Scurry County cotton is less than one-third of its normal quantity, a call has been received for cotton pickers in several parts of the county—at once. Dry, hot weather has forced the bulk of the county's crop open at once, and pickers are in real demand in the few communities that have fair yields.

Pickers should apply to J. T. Jenkins, chief of the county NRS office, with offices over Perry Brothers.

Jenkins thinks all WPA workers will be absorbed in cotton fields and on the WPA road jobs that were begun this week. No outside pickers will be needed, he thinks.

Diabetes Shows Texas Increase Says Dr. Brown

The increasing incidence of diabetes presents a serious problem to the physician and average citizen, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

"Ordinary diabetes, that is diabetes mellitus, which is often referred to by many persons as a disease of the kidneys, is not a kidney disease, but a disease of the pancreas in which there is deficient production of insulin," Dr. Brown said, "and this mistaken idea that diabetes is a kidney disease probably results from the fact that the insulin deficiency causes large amounts of carbohydrates (sugars and starches) to pile up in the body. The result is that the patient drinks large amounts of water, and because of this, large amounts of urine containing sugar are passed."

"The pancreas is a vital organ located in the upper abdomen behind the stomach. It has a double function: It supplies the most powerful digestive juice in the body, known as the pancreatic juice, which it pours into the intestine through special ducts developed for the purpose; and it makes another substance, called insulin, which goes directly into the blood, and is essential for the use of sugar in the body."

"Obesity and heredity overshadow all other factors in the causation of diabetes. Most diabetics are fat. Not every fat person, of course, gets diabetes. Heredity seems to be the most important link in the chain of diabetes from generation to generation. In the adult, however, obesity brings out the predisposition to the disease."

"Early diagnosis by a competent physician, with consequent proper treatment, enables the diabetic patient to live a useful life, and retards the development of complications."

ASSEMBLY TO OPEN SCHOOLS HERE MONDAY

Teachers and Students Will Get Instructions as Preparations Made for New Term.

General assembly of all students and teachers in the school auditorium at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning will formally mark the opening of the 1936-37 school term for the Snyder public schools.

Instructions will be given from the platform for high school students, who register this week, by Principal King Sides. Seniors were due to register this (Thursday) morning, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, and juniors begin registration at 1:00 o'clock today. Sophomores register at 8:30 a. m. Friday, and freshmen at 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Junior high students and those of the primary grades will receive directions from Principal Hadley Reeve. Their classification will begin immediately following assembly.

Teachers Already Busy. Principal Reeve arrived here last Wednesday to begin making plans for this school year, after attending summer sessions of Texas Technological College, taking special work. Ralph L. Reschar, new band director, has already begun training almost 25 musicians. Glen W. Berry, assistant football coach, is assisting Head Coach W. W. Hill with training camp.

Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, who took her master's degree from Leland Stanford University in Southern California recently, arrived home Tuesday night to prepare for her work this year in the high school. No other teachers had arrived in town late yesterday.

First general faculty meeting will be Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock in room 103 of the high school building, according to Superintendent C. Wedgeworth, who is beginning his tenth year as head of the local schools.

Baptist Meeting at City Tabernacle Is Closed Wednesday

The meeting that was held at the city tabernacle, conducted by Rev. B. A. Etheredge, pastor of the Oklahoma Avenue Baptist Church, Shawnee, Oklahoma, closed Wednesday evening of last week.

It was a success in every respect, the power of God being manifest in every service. Men and women were saved almost daily. Rev. Etheredge is a strong gospel preacher. Some 30 were saved and reclaimed during the meeting.

At the close of the meeting the congregation unanimously invited him back for another meeting in August of next year.—Reporter.

Scouts Go to Bull Creek

Thirteen boys and two leaders enjoyed a Boy Scout outing Saturday night and Sunday on Bull Creek, southwest of town. Leaders were Loran Maples and Jack Martin. A fine time was reported by the group.

Being only 45 inches tall didn't keep Charley Lockhart, state treasurer of Texas, from "painting the town red" during his recent visit to New York. The former Scurry County treasurer is seen here sipping up for a tour of the bright spots prior to leaving on an ocean cruise financed by the gift of employees in his office.

Gym Being Completed. Floor in the new $20,000 gymnasium was completed this week, and the ceiling for the band room is being put in. Formal dedication of the building will come within a few weeks, school officials say.

A number of new students will come in from smaller schools in the county as well as those from other large schools, and the registration is expected to reach higher than ever before.

Twelve new teachers, who will direct studies of pupils in the local schools, are as follows: Glen W. Berry, Margaret Henderson, W. C. Hollis, Elsie Barcus, Edna Lyster, Ralph L. Reschar, Margaret Williams, Mattie M. Tomlinson, Dorothy Egerton, Alta Bowers, Mrs. Glen W. Berry and Lillian Abney. Two additional teachers have been added, making a total of 31 faculty members this year.

Players! Learn With The American Boy

Boys and young men who want to improve their crawl stroke, their basket shooting, their hurdling, their tennis backhand or their ball carrying, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to The American Boy magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

For the coming year staff writers have gone to two of the greatest football teams in the country—Minnesota and Southern Methodist—for firsthand tips on strategy, blocking, ball carrying, passing and the fine points of line play. They have written the story of Bobbie Wilson, all-American halfback.

They have interviewed famous track coaches like Bernie Moore and Bob Simpson. Have gone to the University of Oklahoma to learn how college champions wrestle, to Notre Dame for the story of the building of a great basketball team. They have sought out famous baseball players, swimmers, tennis champions and all-American backs, to get their story of how to play the game. American Boy fiction is jammed with instructive background details telling how to play a better game. And the rest of the magazine is jammed with adventure, exploration, vocational help and articles vital to boys.

Ohio State University's track head coach of the famous sprinter and low hurdler, Jesse Owens, and himself a former hurdling star, first learned to hurdle from articles in The American Boy. "I used to cut out hurdling pictures and duplicate them in front of a mirror. Then on the track I'd follow that form."

Today thousands of future champions are just as eagerly following The American Boy. See your subscription to The American Boy, 7430 Second Boulevard, Detroit, Michigan. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10 cents a copy.

With reference to syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."
