

ATLANTA NEW OFFICIAL CITY FOR P-W CHAIN

Maurice Brownfield, Owner of Local Independent Unit, Says Move Highly Desirable.

The national headquarters of Piggly Wiggly stores, with which the local home-owned unit of Maurice Brownfield's is affiliated, announces transfer of its executive offices to Atlanta, Georgia. The move will be effective November 1. Executive offices at present are located in Cincinnati, Ohio. Buying offices will remain in the latter city.

The move to Atlanta of the executive offices of the Piggly Wiggly Corporation is made in order to cooperate more fully with independent operators, and Brownfield feels that the step is highly desirable. The local man keeps closely in touch with the national offices, using their suggestions freely. He has not missed a national convention in several years.

Piggly Wiggly is a unique organization in that local stores all over the country are home-owned and absolutely independent but operate under an exclusive franchise in each territory. Thus, the local stores, while entirely independent in ownership, are affiliated with the headquarters organization and act cooperatively with other home-owned Piggly Wiggly merchants to obtain obvious advantages in buying and in standard business practices.

"Piggly Wiggly is the only group of independent merchants in the country operating nationally under the same name and standardized system," says Brownfield. "The system brings to home-owned merchants all of the advantages of large scale operation, at the same time preserving the individual, personal contact between store owners and customers."

Mrs. Ethel Elland was a visitor in Stanton with relatives Sunday.

PERRY'S STORE ALMOST READY

Perry Brothers new store on the north side of the square will be open for business by Friday of next week. Manager Jesse Elliott said yesterday.

Modernistic black and white marble fronts the completely remodeled building into which the store will move from its old location two doors westward. A heavy cloth awning replaces the customary wooden sidewalk covering.

Fixtures are being finished in mahogany. Some of these are being moved from the old store, but a larger portion is entirely new. Hardwood floors, celotex ceiling, black and white chandeliers are other features.

The Snyder store will be one of the three leading stores in the extensive Perry Brothers chain, according to Manager Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin White and son of Arcadia, Florida, and Mrs. J. F. Cooper of La Mesa, New Mexico, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Doak.

Virginia Egerton of Austin, 1937 honor graduate of Snyder High School, was a week-end guest of her grandmother, Mrs. G. C. Buchanan, and other relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Jeanne Smith and baby are visiting relatives at Haskell.

LaFrances Hamilton and Roberta Ely, students in McMurry College, Abilene, were at home over the week-end. I. M. Phillips and Beans McCallin, McMurry students, were also visitors in Snyder for the week-end.

LIGHTING ... new style

BETTER SIGHT LAMPS WERE DESIGNED FOR SEEING

All of the experience of lighting specialists and scientists interested in better vision was combined in designing this new type of lamp. The result was a lamp that is scientifically correct—and in addition, is attractive.

This lamp is the Better Sight Lamp, with the tag of approval from the Illuminating Engineering Society, which provides the right kind of glareless light for easy seeing.

The glass diffusing bowl serves two purposes—it softens the light that is thrown downward on the reading surface, and reflects light to the ceiling and throughout the room to provide general illumination and reduce shadows.

Lounge lamps are placed by lounges or easy chairs to provide a good light for reading comfortably.

Tri-lite floor lamps provide a good light for reading, and also a general illumination throughout the room.

Tigers Show New Comeback Spirit, Defeat Roby, 18-7

Snyder Tigers, cuffed about consistently this season, did more than win a ball game last Friday night on their home field. They proved to an average crowd of fans that they have the comeback spirit that is so essential in a winning football team.

The Bengals snapped out of a four-game losing streak to give the Roby Lions an 18 to 7 drubbing. That score looks rather bulky in print, but 12 minutes before the close of the game Friday night there was much less score and not too much hope in the Tiger camp.

Davis Plows Line.
H. Davis, roaming Lion back, plowed through a swarm of local tacklers from the 22-yard line in the second play of the fourth quarter to make a touchdown. That tally tied Sorrells' tricky end-around jaunt of 34 yards in the second quarter—a jaunt whose six points loomed larger as the game progressed.

Burriss, square-shouldered fullback, kicked the seventh Roby point from placement—a point that could have won the ball game, if the Tigers had not been imbued with a new comeback toxin since the disastrous Rotan experience a week earlier.

It was Smith, halfback, playing the best ball of his career, who nosed the ball over by less than a foot for the second Tiger tally, after Strayhorn, quarter, put the ball up to the 20-yard line on a 35-yard double lateral.

Tate Carried Out.
It was Tate, powerful fullback, who did most of the gaining from the 20 to the 4 yard line. He was carried out with a seriously injured shoulder and leg, as his mates plugged away on the Roby 4-yard line. Smith's plunge for the final inches was the fourth down.

The other member of the starting Tiger backfield got into limelight late in the quarter when he snagged a desperate Lion pass three plays before the whistle blew, and raced 40 yards for the third local marker. It was Head, of course. All of Snyder's tries for points were muffed or blocked.

Snyder was easily superior in making yardage, netting 14 first downs to Roby's 5. One of Roby's first downs was the touchdown play and another was the result of a penalty. The Snyder line, from end to end, easily played the best game of the season, with the possible exception of its weakness at being "sucked" on sweeping runs or punt returns.

Snyder Outpasses.
Snyder ran up a total of 62 yards on three passes complete—1 out of 11 attempted, with two intercepted. Roby passing was far less dangerous, netting only 37 yards with three completions and two interceptions out of 15 passes tried.

The starting line-ups:
Roby— Position —Snyder
Henson L E Autry
Carter L G Mebane
Clark C Hargrove
McClure R G Scarborough
Glenn R T Woolever
Jarnagan R E Baze
Moore L H Smith
Lewis R H Head
Burriss F B Tate
H. Davis Q B Strayhorn

Substitutes: Roby—A. Davis for Henson, Upshaw for Lewis; Snyder—Keller for Strayhorn, Sorrells for Baze, Moffett for Smith, Gordon Rogers for Woolever, Neal for Scarborough.

Two Groups Have Sale.

Sale will begin at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and continue all day, leaders of the two groups say.

three varieties, and later special ginnings will bring the total to several thousand bushels.

Sunday night's ginning was from the Clements and Nolan von Roeder, the Roy Barrier and the Zack Evans farms, all in the Murphy and Knapp communities. Borden and Scurry County. Associated in the Von Roeder Seed Farms are the two Von Roeders and Ed Murphy.

General Purpose Cotton.
Improved Acala, one of the two new cottons, is described in a folder just issued by Von Roeder Seed Farms as a member of the well known and popular Acala family.

"We secured our foundation stock from New Mexico State College," the folder reads, "and have been breeding it since 1930. Since that time we have through plant selection work improved the boll size, storm resistance and picking qualities of the cotton.

"We find Improved Acala especially well adapted to our light sandy lands of West Texas. In variety it outyields other quality cottons on light soils. It grows a staple one-eighth inch longer than most other standard cottons under adverse seasonal conditions, one that will measure an inch. Lint percentage runs well up around 40, and in dry years even a little better."

Maximum Per Acre Lint.
Western Prolific, described as a Mebane 141 strain of cotton, is designed to supplant half-and-half and similar short staple cottons in West Texas.

"Not only will our cotton yield more lint per acre—not higher lint percentage or 'in-turnout' but more lint per acre—yet our lint will be of tenderable staple length. For earliness, high production and good snapping qualities Western Prolific cannot be beat.

"For the origin of this wonderful high-yielding cotton we are indebted to J. Roy Quinby, superintendent of the Chillicothe Experiment Station, who worked for years to develop an 'early maturing cotton with tenderable staple that would outyield half-and-half in West Texas'."

All-Purpose Staplers.
Just arrived! A new shipment of Markwell staplers, desk models and plier models. Desk models, $1.75, $4 and $5; plier models, $2.75 and $3. The Times office outfitters will be happy to leave a machine in your office for trial. You must be satisfied with Markwell—and you will be.

Report Cards of New Type Being Used in Grades

New type report cards are to be used in the primary grades of Snyder schools this year. Based on his effort, ability and performance, the child's work is interpreted as either satisfactory (S) or unsatisfactory (U). If his work is interpreted unsatisfactory for one period and is still unsatisfactory the next period but has improved, the mark (I) is given to show improvement.

This system of grading has been used several years by many leading schools and has been found to have many advantages over the old system, according to Principal Hadley Reeve.

"The new system does away with hair splitting differences in rating," says Reeve. "It encourages the child to work for knowledge, skill and desirable attitudes rather than grades.

"Petty jealousies among children are minimized. The child of superior ability must work rather than drift along with a straight 'A,' earned with little effort. The slow but faithful worker will be able to make a satisfactory grade."

Typewriter for Sale!
The Times has a good used Underwood standard typewriter for sale at a reasonable price. Ready for delivery for cash or on the monthly payment plan. Also—when you visit the Times office, don't fail to see the new streamlined Remington portable No. 1. You'll say it's the greatest portable ever built! Liberal rental purchase plan.

Mrs. Morris Haynes of Jacksboro, until recently manager of the local Western Union office, arrived here last Wednesday to spend several days with her husband. She will also visit with her parents in Anson before returning to her work in Jacksboro.

Colorado was represented by John Watson, who gave the response to King Sides' brief welcome talk; Jack Helton, Ja KeMerritt, Bill Cooper and Coy Harris. District President Joe Pond headed Big Spring's delegation, which was also composed of Jimmie Greene, Louie Grau and Joe Pickle. Midland and Anson, the other zone members, were not represented.

Principal talk was by the district president, who praised the six zone clubs for their activities during the early part of the fiscal year. He outlined the plan of the Lions Foundation for the Blind of Texas, describing it as an organization designed to help the adult blind after they are trained.

Reports given by club secretaries indicated extensive work for the blind, and other activities, since beginning of the fiscal year July 1.

Entertainment numbers included: Piano solos, Patti Hicks; vocal duet and whistling, DOT Rea and Doris Glen Wills, Fluvanna, with Mrs. A. C. Preuitt accompanying; drum dance, Mary Ellen Brown, accompanied by Miss Polly Harpole; "A Poem of Passion," reading, J. C. Smyth.

Yoders Visit Children and Families, Old and New Friends and Landmarks

They held their two-month-old grandson on their knees, and watched the remarkable Peter Dennis crack his first smile. They visited their children and their children's wives, and they discovered old and new friends and landmarks.

It is no wonder, then, that Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder returned happily Saturday from a cross-country journey in which Chicago and New York were the focus points. They left Snyder September 15.

The couple was accompanied to Chicago by two daughters, Ruth and Virginia, who are attending the Illinois College of Chiropractic. Ruth, doing senior work, will finish the school in the spring, and Virginia is doing her junior work.

is an employee of the Armo steel mills. Proceeding to Springfield, Ohio, the Yoders visited Mr. and Mrs. Weikert, parents of Dorothy, Fred's wife.

Climax of the trip was at New York City, where another son, Theodore, his wife and their son, Peter Dennis, were hosts and hostess. It was the proud grandparents' first glimpse of their grandson. Theodore is financial secretary of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

At Philadelphia, the travelers were brief guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Poite, parents of Helen, Theodore's wife.

The Yoders saw many natural and historic landmarks of interest.

"The Prickly Pear."

"Way down on the Rio Grande lives J. Travelstead, publisher of the Del Rio Evening News. Almost barbed but pithy is his daily column, "Prickly Pear." Here are a few choice "Pears":
Governor Allred had an opportunity to make himself a lasting name in Texas, but he threw the chance away. Had he led a fight to save rather than spend other people's money his name would have stood out in state history. But he chose the wrong road and he will be forgotten in a few years.
Everything is all right now and we can settle down and get rich again. David Lawrence has written an article favorable to President Roosevelt. He thinks the president's speech in Chicago on peace was wonderful.
It seems that people in Texas have finally decided that taxes are getting too high. Opposition in the state senate to more taxes is the only sign of sanity exhibited by state office holders in years. One successful politician recently told us that economy would come when there was enough pressure brought to bear back home. The home pressure is stronger now than in many years.
With Japan shown up as a weak nation, we hope John L. Lewis is disposed of before long. He is not dangerous, despite various opinions to the contrary. When this is all over those who are afraid of everything will have to hunt "Reds" again.
We never pay any attention to baseball or any other sports, but we noticed today the names of some of the players in the world's series—and came to the conclusion that they must all be Americans. Mancuso, Crosetti, DiMaggio, Selkirk and Lazzeri are all good old American names. We have an idea most of these men are connected with the "first families of cultured Boston."
Relative of the five kids in Canada is 85 years old. Wonder if we are going to be bothered with that bunch of kids that many years.
Not being satisfied with the sad results of trying to run European affairs 20 years ago, the rulers of this nation have decided to get us in trouble in Asia. We would suggest that the yellow men be permitted to settle their own fight.
Mr. City Marshal:
Mr. City Marshal, here's one for your complaint book. Citizens of the east highway street and of 29th Street are likely to get on their ears if something is not done right away about the Model T's and other vehicles that traipse up and down daily with mufflers wide open or with exhaust pipes backfiring like cannon shots.
Bankruptcy in Government.
Texas Tax Journal: When it takes from four per cent to six per cent of the value of your property to pay ad valorem taxes and about two per cent for upkeep and insurance, not counting any loan against it, the whole story is told as to the reason the home and farm life in Texas is on the downgrade. The percentage named above does not belong to the owner; his profits, if any, are made after the above is paid. The few that make a profit compared to the many that do not, is one evidence of creeping bankruptcy in government.
The People Cry Cease!
State Press in The Dallas News: The people cry cease! Cease! But there is no cessation of taxation. It has come about that when enough tax bills can't be passed in a regular legislative session a special session is called. It is a big question whether or not this nation would withstand another depression or another war and avoid a collapse of public credit. . . . The middlemen are sometimes oratorically referred to as "the great middle class," but they are not very great. If they had real greatness they wouldn't vote for visionaries itching to put their dreams into legislation.
Ten Thousand Angels.
I do the very best I know how, the very best I can; and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, 10,000 angels swearing I was right would make no difference.—Abraham Lincoln.
Packing Industries.
"Meat packing industry on the up and up" you have been reading in your daily paper. Not so the Supreme Court packing industry, which has not only been on the down and down, but also suffers, according to some diagnoses, from a Black eye.
The Country Editor.
The true country editor remains untouched by the fads and fancies of city journalism. The price of hay, the shipment of a carload of hogs, the growth of a fine pumpkin, or a variety of watermelon that took a prize at the county fair, are still news items, more absorbing than war clouds, dictators, or the likings of a king.—Exchange.

Air-Minded Again?

The keen interest that has been manifested in the recent purchase of a plane by a Snyder man would indicate that the time is ripe for the town to support the efforts of anyone who is willing to stake his own finances in the establishment of a small landing field and hangar.
Rotan is seriously considering a similar enterprise. Several other towns in Texas smaller than Snyder have achieved wide advertising because they dared to take the initiative in the matter of providing an airplane base.
Snyder has the opportunity now to dig in her heels and establish herself as one of the most air-minded of the smaller localities in West Texas.
And this opportunity is nothing to be sneezed at. Private airplane ownership is sweeping the nation. The demand for small, safe planes, such as the Taylor Cub recently purchased by Carl England of Snyder, is so great that factories are having a difficult time filling orders.
The new era of private airplane ownership and piloting is on us. Snyder has a chance to be a ring-leader.
To say the least, it would not be amiss for the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club or some other semi-official organization to fully investigate the possibilities of town advertising and revenue from the establishment of a small air base here.

Current Comment.

By LEON GUINN.
(Publishers' Note: "Current Comment" is not necessarily the editorial opinion of The Times.)
The second Old Gold cartoon contest is off to a surprising start, with entrants from all over the U. S. filling in the blank balloon spaces to each week's series of what is frankly glorified Old Gold advertising. . . . Uncle Sam was mighty well pleased with the first $250,000 contest, for the federal government profited by more than $5,000,000 from the brain teasing puzzle pictures.
From the 75,000,000 extra packs of Old Golds that were sold in the first contest, the bureau of internal revenue picked up $4,500,000 in stamp taxes alone. . . . Then genial Jim Farley's post office department raked in $930,000 for postage; which made the added stacks of first class mail "rather easy" to handle. . . . The big prize winners paid $42,500 in income taxes, so the contest was "unexpectedly beneficial" to government and P. Lorillard Company alike.
Which reminds us that the post office department sent some rather commanding letters to newspaper editors because they carried advertising pertaining to bank night movies, and threw in some doctrinal advice free. . . . And merchants who sponsor trades days with dividend sharing coupons have to be quite circumspect about what they send through the mails. . . . But since Old Gold's money making contest is taxable at the source, administration attaches content the contest is a horse of a different color. . . . Five million dollars does speak indeed subtly.
The cosmopolitan world will probably be wearing more milk in the near future, since Italian chemists have a secret process for making artificial wool from skimmed milk. . . . Known as "lanital," this artificial wool is manufactured from the casein left in milk after butter fat extraction, and wears best when mixed with real wool. . . . The yarn of "lanital" does not shrink when washed, which is a distinct advantage for the new fabric made from milk. . . . Chemists are conducting a worldwide search now to duplicate this secret Italian innovation in the raw products field.
Since time immemorial, milk in one form or another has been the sustainer and ambrosia of life; the liquid gold of the dairy world today. . . . The common people, whom Lincoln says God must have loved ("because He made so many of them"), depend upon milk and butter as about the two choicest "groceries" of farm life. . . . Fashion entrepreneurs are going to be in an implied delicate situation now if they adopt "wear more milk" as a motto. . . . The butter and egg people are slated to receive due accolade, if wearing more milk becomes the order of the day.
While strict censorship has been clamped down on a proposed survey of prisoner treatment in federal "pens," facts last week leaked out from Washington concerning the calaboose customer survey; now officially "killed." . . . Some subordinates in the department of justice decided the boys in the "big house" might like to say something about how they were being treated, and sent questionnaires to supercriminals requesting "constructive criticism" on prisoner treatment. . . . The bright idea occurred to Justice Department G. H. Q. that the "we-aim-to-please" was too good for office keeping, and called the proposed survey off. . . . Such a survey would have been good for front page galleys of damaging "political fodder."
In some county jails, the governing rule is to release minor offense customers as soon as "bailable," since the grocery bill piles up pretty rapidly when the calaboose (or jug, or can in slangue) is crowded. . . . In other words, the grocery bill is more important than minor offense prisoners in a lot of county jails; especially when the jailer has to purchase the "chow" with county scrip. . . . And if a few doubting readers believe this column uninformed, the answer is that doubters do not know their county records. . . . That often makes a lot of difference (since newsmen have to have impeccable information sources). . . . Law enforcement attaches, who are mostly tried and true men despite the barbs of criticism hurled at them, never relish the job of jailing anyone.

Mrs. Whitaker underwent a major emergency operation Friday night, and her condition was improved early this week. Mrs. Farmer remained with her daughter, but the two men returned here Sunday.

Colorado Looms as Favorite in District

Colorado's rampaging Wolves loomed after Friday games as probably the only obstacle in Roscoe's path to a district championship. They romped on the Rotan Yellow Hammers, 52 to 13, in an attack that displayed power, speed, click and intensive training.
The Plowboys' defeat of Merkel, 41 to 0, was almost as impressive. Lorraine won from Clyde in a non-conference tilt.
Only two conference games are slated this Friday—Lorraine against Colorado and Rotan against Merkel. Snyder goes to Odessa, Roby to Haskell and Roscoe to Baird.

What Kind of Game Lures State Hunters

For conversational purposes non-hunters may be interested in knowing just what kind of game lures their fellow Texans to the chase. Listed as game animals are deer, elk, antelope, wild sheep, bear and squirrels. Among the game birds are turkeys, ducks, geese, brant, grouse, prairie chickens, pheasants, quail or partridge, wild pigeons, chachalaca, doves, snipes, plover and shore birds of all varieties.
Pur-bearing animals, on which a tax must be paid, include badger, civet cat, fox, mink, muskrat, opossum, polecat, skunk, raccoon, beaver and ringtail cat.
