Moonlight Madness sale

The second of the four Moonlight Madness sales sponsored by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday.

"This one kicks off Christmas shopping," said Chamber of Commerce member Dawn Williams.

Eighteen retail businesses and restaurants will be open late to give Muleshoe and out of town customers a chance to shop past regular business hours.

For every $20 spent at a participating business, the customer's name will be put into a drawing for a $50 gift certificate from a participating business. After the last Moonlight Madness sale, all the names of purchasing customers will be put into a box, and those people will get a chance to win $1,000 in Muleshoe Mad Money. The giveaway will take place Dec. 21. The Chamber reminds everyone to shop Muleshoe first.

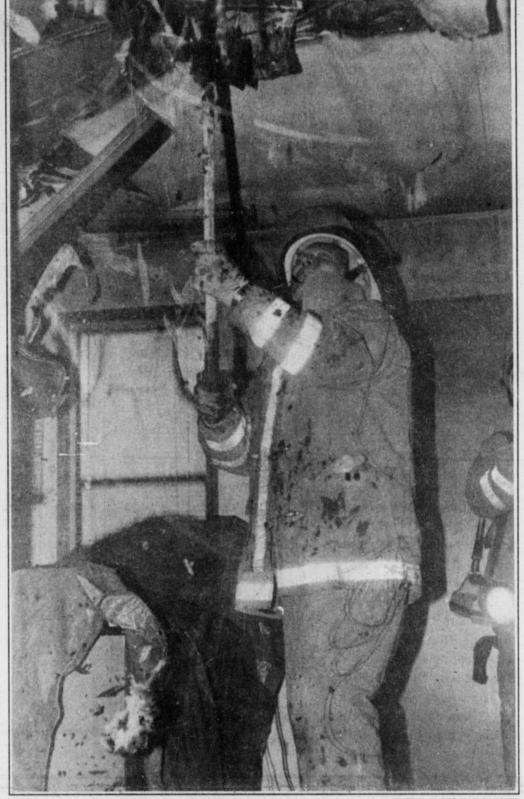

Williams said that participating stores and restaurants will be running their own specials and will set their own hours. Most will be open regular business hours and will have extended shopping hours starting at 6 p.m.

"It's our way of putting what we get from the community back into the community," said Williams, owner of Williams Athletics.

A taste of turkey trivia

■ In 1998, about 270 million turkeys will be raised. We estimate that 45 million of those turkeys were eaten at Thanksgiving, 22 million at Christmas and 19 million at Easter.

The Guinness Book of Records...states that the greatest dressed weight recorded for a turkey is 39.09 kg (86 lbs), at the last annual "heaviest turkey" competition held in London, England on December 12, 1989.

of Southwestern Public Service Company will see a reduction of almost $210 million in costs of electric service between now and the end of 2002, SPS announced last week.

Beginning in 1999, reduction in overall rates will range from 7 percent to 11 percent. A residential customer of SPS using 1,000 kilowatt-hours monthly will save about $48 annually.

Residential customers typically will see about a 7 percent reduction. Industria! customers and other high-volume electricity purchasers will see larger percentage decreases because fuel costs account for a greater portion of their total electric bill.

Ben Franklin's turkey doesn't fly

Most Americans associate turkeys with Thanksgiving, an identity that can be traced to the first thanksgiving meal. But thanks to the work of many dedicated sportsmen and women and the National Wild Turkey Federation, wild turkeys are reclaiming their role as a symbol of the North American wilds. Ben and the bird

Today, members of the National Wild Turkey Federation might support the popular legend of Ben Franklin proposing the wild turkey as America's national symbol. But not unlike the Federation's 180,000 supporters, Franklin's suggestion never got beyond a personal lobby, which kept the marvelous bird on the dinner table instead of on the national seal.

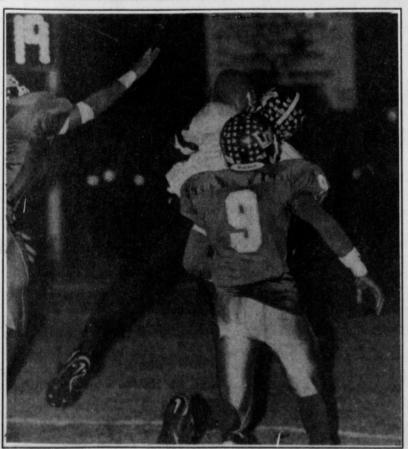

It has become a common part of folklore that one of America's founders, Benjamin Franklin, proposed the turkey as our national symbol in opposition to the bald eagle.

As with most myths, shreds of the truth are woven together, repeated and over time become as unshakable as the truth itself.

While he was living in France as America's ambassador to that country, Franklin penned a letter to his daughter Sarah Bache on January 26, 1784. "I wish that the bald eagle had not been chosen as the representative of our country; he is a bird of bad moral character; he does not get his living honestly; you may have seen him perched on some dead tree, where, too lazy to fish for himself, he watches the labor of the fishing hawk (osprey); and when that diligent bird has at length taken a fish, and is bearing it to his nest for the support of his mate and the young ones, the bald eagle pursues him and takes it from him. For in truth, the turkey is, in comparison, a much more respectable bird, and withal a true native original of America. Eagles have been found in all countries, but the turkey was peculiar to ours. ...."

Although written after the fact, Franklin was nonetheless impressed with the originality of America's turkey. If pressed on the matter, it could be surmised that the elder statesman would not have chosen a gobbler as our sacred symbol and thus find an inferior Thanksgiving main course.

By RICK WHITE Managing Editor

DENVER CITY - Muleshoe couldn't finish what it started.

Playing one of its finest halves of the season, Muleshoe built a 14-7 halftime lead against Crane Friday in a Class 3A Division II area playoff game.

Led by the passing of Matt McClanahan (4 of 5 for 111 yards, 1 TD), Muleshoe rolled up 243 yards against the state's second-ranked defense and clearly had the momentum heading into the second half.

But it all changed in a hurry. Sparked by Donny Bishop's 86-yard kickoff return to start the second half and the passing of Clay McGuire, No. 5 Crane rallied to beat Muleshoe 28-14 Mustang Stadium.

Crane (12-0) plays Iowa Park (9-3) this week in the regional semifinals while Muleshoe ended its season at 10-2.

"Crane is just a good football team," Muleshoe head coach David Wood said. "They were able to put together a couple of drives when they needed them."

Muleshoe continued to move the ball in the second half, but couldn't come up with a big play when they needed one.

Down 21-14 early in the fourth quarter, Muleshoe methodically marched 59 yards to the Crane 21-helped by a 29yard pass from McClanahan to Dustin Cleavinger to the Crane 37.

But a bobbled snap on third down left the Mules with before a crowd of 3,689 at fourth-and-five at the 21 with 5:57 left in the game.

> Blitzing linebacker Tyler Nelson sacked McClanahan for a 12-yard loss to end the threat.

Crane took advantage of the big defensive stop by driving 68 yards for an insurance touchdown.

Facing third-and-12 at midfield, McGuire found Eddie Muguira on a crossing route for a 39-yard gain to the Muleshoe 11. Three plays later, Bishop scored on a one-yard plunge with 1:50 left to put the game out of reach.

The junior quarterback and Division I recruit hooked up with Muguira for a 43-yard completion on the same pattern in the third quarter, which led to the Golden Cranes' third touchdown.

"He's just a good quarterback," Wood said. "We took away his first option and he adjusted and made the big plays."

McGuire (5 of 7 for 118 yards) and Willie Morris (45 yards on nine second half carries) helped Crane control the ball in the second half.

Muleshoe was limited to four second-half possessions-the others ended with a punt from the Crane 37, a fumble and a last-second interception.

Despite being stung by Bishop's 79-yard touchdown run on Crane's second offensive play of the game, Muleshoe dominated the first half.

Legislators get jumgstart on filing bills

AUSTIN - With the opening of the 1999 Texas Legislature two months away, state lawmakers itching for a quick start began prefiling bills last week.

A sampling of pre-filed legislation:

Sen. Jane Nelson, R. Flower Mound, filed a bill that would abolish parole for violent offenders.

Rep. Tony Goolsby, R-Dallas, filed a bill that would require the Department of Public Safety to ensure that residents age 75 or older can control the vehicles they are licensed to drive.

Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, filed a bill that would increase classroom teacher and full-time librarian salaries by $6,000, beginning with the 1999-2000 school year.

Rep Joe Pickett, D-El Paso, filed a bill that would make it a state jail felony to mark with graffiti a public or private school or institution of higher education.

Reps. Henry Cuellar, D-Laredo, and Bill Seibert, R-San Antonio, filed a bill that would make state and county jail inmates reimburse the state for the costs of their jail stay.

Rep. Steve Wolens, D-

decisions he has made in office, saying he based them on a choice to have a "strong, independent perspective."

Cornyn told the Austin American-Statesman his "standard for retention" at the attorney general's office is "pretty simple: Number 1, no political hacks, and Number 2, people who are doing their job." He said the attorney general's office is staffed mostly by people who have been "faithful public servants. They're not political people, they're just doing a good fob. And as I said, to the extent that they continue to do a good job and they don't play politics, I intend to ask them to stay.

"The only people I think who need to be concerned are the people who have politicized the office."

In other news, Cornyn said his transition team would be led by Larry York, who served as first assistant attorney general from 1973 to 1974 under

Democrat John Hill. Bush denies role in GOP coup

Gov. George W. Bush last week said he had nothing to do with the Republican Party's push to replace House Speaker Newt Gingrich.

A rumor aired on national television "credited" Bush with making a call indicating that if he was to lose the presidential election in 2000, he wanted it to be because of him, not because of Gingrich. The call purportedly resulted in swift action by the party to withdraw support for Gingrich.

Karen Hughes, spokeswoman for Bush, said the rumor is groundless.

Bush said his wife and twin daughters will figure into his decision whether to run or not, and that his main priorities are child literacy and working with the 1999 Texas Legislature.

Other Highlights Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer has signed an order adopting an appointment process for professional engineers to serve as qualified windstorm inspectors. After Feb. 1, all engineers must be approved and appointed by the state insurance agency.

Last week, the University of Texas board of regents considered a proposal by UT President Larry Faulkner to reopen the observation deck of the campus clock tower. The 28-story, 231 foot-tall building has been closed since 1975. The University of Texas is acquiring through gift and purchase the Suida-Manning collection of 700 Old Masters paintings and drawings valued at nearly $35 million. The collection will be unveiled in March.

In a mild allusion to standing Attorney General Dan Morales, Attorney Generalelect John Cornyn last week said politics will have no place in his administration.

While Cornyn did not give examples of the office's duties being compromised by politics, he said it has influenced decisions "on whether to defend or not to defend state laws."

Morales defended, however,

Avoiding problems at holidays can be tricky for stepfamilies

HOUSTON—Holidayscan give stepfamilies a chance to start new traditions.

"It's unrealistic for newly formed stepfamilies and their relatives to expect the stepfamily to function as a typical nuclear family and to carry on the same holiday traditions," said Dr. James Bray, a psychologist at Baylor college of Medicine in Houston.

"They need to realize that the children belong to more than one family, and adjust their holiday routines to accommodate the situation," he said. Problems can arise when stepfamily members' traditions clash. Everything from how to carve a turkey to how many gifts to buy and when to open them has the potential to start an argument. "The best way to minimize conflict is to discuss expectations before the holidays and then negotiate and compromise," said Bray, director of the Department of Family and Community medicine's Family Counseling Clinic and Family Psychology Programs at Baylor. If one family is used to opening presents on Christmas Eve and the other family has always waited until Christmas morning, the stepfamily can compromise by opening a few

"It's important that the stepfamily develop new rituals for celebrating holiday traditions because it gives them a sense of identity," Bray said.

He cautions new stepparents against making dramatic changes too soon in the way the stepfamily celebrates the holidays. "Over time, the new stepparents's wishes and needs should be considered more strongly," he said. "But the stepparent would be wise to just blend in at first to help minimize the amount of change the kinds must cope with during their first year as a stepfamily."

Farwell stuns MHS in OT

Muleshoe expected to take some lumps in games early in the season in hopes of getting better - but this wasn't one of those games.

Playing the game at its preferred tempo - fast and frenzied - Farwell upset Muleshoe 47-43 in overtime Saturday in a non-district game at WJHS gym.

Farwell outrebounded Muleshoe 39-26 and forced 23 turnovers.

Muleshoe coach Jim Gruhlkey said it's a hard sell trying to tell his team they can't afford to get caught up in Farwell's style of play.

"They press so hard that you can get a numbers advantage at the other end," Gruhlkey said. "But you better take advantage of it. We didn't. We missed too many layups and easy shots."

Ashley Crawford scored five of her game-high 14 points in overtime for the Class 2A Lady Blue, who handed Muleshoe (0-2) its second-straight loss. Chelsi Kaltwauser sealed the win with a pair of free throws with 20 seconds left.

Erin Wilhite paced Muleshoe with 12 points, including a layup with 22 seconds left that sent the game into overtime. Chyla Torres, Myndi Heathington and Melissa Williams added seven points each for the Lady Mules, Farwell (1-1) grabbed the early lead in overtime, but Lynsie Black's hoop inside tied the game at 43.

Crawford scored on a drive with 2:10 left to put Farwell up 45-43. After a Muleshoe miss, the Lady Blue knocked nearly two minutes off the clock before Crawford missed a free throw jumper. But Kaltwauser was fouled hustling down the rebound and made both free throws.

After a low-scoring first quarter, Muleshoe took a 12-9 lead on Rhonda Copley's 3-pointer a minute into the second stanza. But Marni Lunsford fueled a 9-0 run with a 3-pointer and a jumper that gave Farwell the game's largest lead at 18-12.

Wilhite and Torres scored four points each in a 9-2 spurt, helping Muleshoe to a 21-20 halftime lead.

Crawford and Torres traded 3-pointers midway through the third quarter, which ended with

Mules open hoop season Tuesday

The Muleshoe boys varsity basketball team opens its 1998-99 season on Dec. 1 at Denver City.

The Mules cancelled their first four games because the football team was still involved in the Class 3A playoffs. Muleshoe's first home game is Dec. 8 against Dimmitt.

Legislators get jumgstart on filing bills

AUSTIN - With the opening of the 1999 Texas Legislature two months away, state lawmakers itching for a quick start began prefiling bills last week.

A sampling of pre-filed legislation:

Sen. Jane Nelson, R-Flower Mound, filed a bill that would abolish parole for violent offenders.

Rep. Tony Goolsby, R. Dallas, filed a bill that would require the Department of Public Safety to ensure that residents age 75 or older can control the vehicles they are licensed to drive.

Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, filed a bill that would increase classroom teacher and full-time librarian salaries by $6,000, beginning with the 1999-2000 school year.

Rep Joe Pickett, D-El Paso, filed a bill that would make it a state jail felony to mark with graffiti a public or private school or institution of higher education.

Reps. Henry Cuellar, D-Laredo, and Bill Seibert, R-San Antonio, filed a bill that would make state and county jail inmates reimburse the state for the costs of their jail stay.

Rep. Steve Wolens, D-

Democrat John Hill.

Bush denies role in GOP coup Gov. George W. Bush last week said he had nothing to do with the Republican Party's push to replace House Speaker Newt Gingrich.

A rumor aired on national television "credited" Bush with making a call indicating that if he was to lose the presidential election in 2000, he wanted it to be because of him, not because of Gingrich. The call purportedly resulted in swift action by the party to withdraw support for Gingrich.

Karen Hughes, spokeswoman for Bush, said the rumor is groundless.

Bush said his wife and twin daughters will figure into his decision whether to run or not, and that his main priorities are child literacy and working with the 1999 Texas Legislature.

Other Highlights Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer has signed an order adopting an appointment process for professional engineers to serve as qualified windstorm inspectors. After Feb. 1, all engineers must be approved and appointed by the state insurance agency.

Last week, the University of Texas board of regents considered a proposal by UT President Larry Faulkner to reopen the observation deck of the campus clock tower. The 28-story, 231 foot-tall building has been closed since 1975.

The University of Texas is acquiring through gift and purchase the Suida-Manning collection of 700 Old Masters paintings and drawings valued at nearly $35 million. The collection will be unveiled in March.

→ Haskell County — the home county of Lt. Gov. elect Rick Perry, is considering a bid for the low-level nuclear waste repository project that failed to win acceptance in Sierra Blanca last month. Haskell County is 50 miles north of Abilene..

Acting Noble Grand June Green opened the Nov. 17 meeting with eight members answering roll call.

It was nice that our new member, Sylvia Lira, was able to make the meeting. Sister Bonita Rainey, with the help of Sisters June Green and Sylvia Lira, served refreshments before lodge.

It was reported that if Bernie Marts' mother gets a good report, Bernie should be home this weekend. Adam was reported to have gone to the emergency room last week and then to see Dr. Wells in Lubbock. He will be in the hospital Friday (at 6 a.m.) after Thanksgiving for the surgery.

The first week of nomination of new officers was done tonight and next week we nominate again. The vote the first week in December.

The district deputy gave a short school of instruction. We'd like to thank all those folks that came to our Annual here this week, hope to see you next week.

Thanksgiving Dinner. We missed those that weren't

There being no further business, Chaplain Bonita Rainey closed the lodge with love to all until next week.

In a mild allusion to standing Attorney General Dan Morales, Attorney Generalelect John Cornyn last week said politics will have no place in his administration.

While Cornyn did not give examples of the office's duties being compromised by politics, he said it has influenced decisions "on whether to defend or not to defend state laws."

Morales defended, however, clicking on all cylinders in the first half moved the ball at will against a team that had allowed just 55 points all season.

Muleshoe hurt the Golden Cranes with several new looks.

Danny Ramirez picked up 24 yards on four carries on the quick pitch and Mitch Mason picked up 59 yards on three catches out of the backfield.

But Muleshoe failed to capitalize on one and maybe two additional opportunities to put more points on the board.

Muleshoe responded to Crane's quick score by driving 92 yards in nine plays, with a picture perfect 48-yard pass from Matt McClanahan to Manuel Campolla getting the Mules on the scoreboard early in the second quarter. (Campolla later broke a collarbone on a kickoff return early in the second half).

One play later, Muleshoe got the game's first break when Matt Turney recovered a bobbled pitchout at the Golden Cranes' 20.

Carlton Lewis hauled in Jesse Reyes' halfback option in the back of the end zone on the next play for Muleshoe's second touchdown in 16 seconds.

After moving the ball 38 yards to the Crane 25 - keyed by McClanahan's 19-yard run - Reves was again called on to throw the halfback option. But the poorly thrown pass was intercepted by Bishop at the 5.

Muleshoe's opening drive of the game was sabotaged when Campolla was caught for a 10vard loss on a first down reverse after the Mules had reached the Crane 23.

Muleshoe outgained Crane 375-328 in total yards.

ETTER TO THE EDITOR

Official believes in deregulation of electric industry

Dear Editor:

headline of Oct. 8: Is Deregulation Good? Yes. Deregulation —rather restructuring — of the electric utility industry is good because it will create a competitive marketplace where all customers can benefit. It's time for the Texas Legislature to create a competitive electricity market.

Restructuring does indeed appear imminent. Three states already have competition in place; only two states in the entire country are not actively discussing electric service competition; and Congress predicts passage of federal restructuring legislation in the 1999 Session. The Texas Legislature would be wise to ensure that Texas doesn't fall behind the national shift toward a competitive electricity market.

Many Texans will take the long view that sweeping changes to a necessary commodity like electric a trailblazer and the envy of the Nation. service won't emerge overnight and will require consumer safeguards. Rural and residential customers can be comfortable in the knowledge that I would like to answer the question posed by this electricity providers vying for a share of Texas' competitive market will eagerly seek their business. In addition, advances in technology have made serving even sparsely populated areas cost effective. Finally, some plans under discussion would allow individual customers and small businesses to join with others-neighborhoods, farm organizations, alumni groups, chambers of commerce--- to negotiate for the best price.

> The Legislature has learned a great deal from the experiences of other states and will recognize that no other state is a model for implementing competition in Texas. Members of the Texas Senate Interim Committee are working hard to learn about this complicated issue. We are confident the Legislature will create a competitive retail electricity market that lives up to the State's history as

- Very truly yours, John W. Fainter, Jr. Association of Electric Companies of Texas, Inc.
