MANY COUNTY MEN SET FOR FEEDERS DAY

West Texas Cattle Feeders to Gather Friday at Spur Experiment Station

Friday, June 3, is the date set for the All West Texas Field Day to be held at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Spur. A number of livestock men, including Four-H Club boys, plan to attend from Scurry County, leaving here early Friday morning.

The occasion for this annual feeders' day is the completion of the current year's cattle feeding experiments, which are centered around the intelligent use of silage crops and products of the cotton farm in fattening West Texas cattle for market without the use of grain.

Beliefs Have Changed.

It was formerly believed that cattle could not be fattened satisfactorily without the use of large amounts of grain, and, as a result, early cattle feeding in West Texas was an attempt to follow corn belt practices. With our uncertain and limited production of grain, this did not meet with much success because of the "in and out" factor involved.

It is now recognized that in order for cattle feeding to become a part of our agricultural program the fattening rations must be centered about roughage as the base and supplemented with generous amounts of cottonseed meal or cotton seed and limited amounts of grain if it is available. One hundred thirty head of cattle on feed at the Spur Station show that good finish can be produced in this way.

Other Studies Made.

Other studies to be stressed at the field day are methods of preventing and handling vitamin A deficiencies occurring under Texas conditions, and the possibilities of fattening calves from the small dairy herds on farms.

Those interested will be afforded the opportunity to study the soil and water conservation and pasture improvement experiments.

The program will start early in the morning, and a barbecue dinner will be provided for all visitors.

First Annual In Recent Years Is Published Here

Material for the book was compiled by a staff under direction of Helen Bollen, editor-in-chief, Jay Rogers and Gordon Rogers, business managers. Art work was supervised by Charlie Dunn, with sketches by Elizabeth McCarty.

Other members of the staff were: Elwanda Allen, assistant editor; Marion Howell, assistant business manager; Clyde Boren, circulation manager; Aileen Morrison, literary editor; Leon Autry, sports editor; Carolyn Dunn, class editor; Louise LeMond, snap shots; Miles Studio, Snyder, was the photographer.

Theme of the annual is "Our School Grows." Pictures of the building and campus, board of education, faculty and students are attractively arranged in modernistic style, in keeping with the cover design and with the central theme of the book.

In the section of favorites are included full-page pictures of four high school girls and two boys, five of them members of the graduating class. Aileen Morrison was named queen of "Tiger's Lair"; Irene Taylor, a junior, is the most attractive girl; Ruth Line, best all-round girl; Roy Rogers, best all-round boy; Jonisue Cogdell, most popular girl; Jesse Sorrells, most popular boy.

AUBRY S. HORN IN FSA OFFICE

New rural supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Scurry and Mitchell Counties is Aubrey E. Horn, who took charge of the local office, over Bryant-Link Company, Thursday of last week.

Horn has been assistant supervisor at Rank, Cherokee County. He has been with FSA since December, 1934. Bowie is his home town. His wife and daughter—the latter is in college—will join him here soon.

Previous supervisor here was Vernon Slocumb, who was recently transferred to Dallas. He is one of three supervisors-at-large for Texas FSA.

Does Snyder Want Extension of Mail Service at Night?

Does Snyder want extension of mail service at night? That is the question to be answered during a 10-day test period at the local post office.

From June 1 until June 10, inclusive, mail will be received at the post office until 9:00 o'clock each night. For some time the deadline has been a few minutes until 8:00 o'clock.

This temporary change is the answer to repeated local requests for night mail service. The post office department recently turned down a request to have a night mail box placed at the Santa Fe passenger station.

Those who have first class mail to send in the evenings are urged to remember the 10-day test period in order that the mailings may be a true reflection of the actual need.

CHANGE FARM MEETING DAYS TO THIS WEEK

School Closings and Threatening Weather Upset Farm Sessions

School closing exercises and threatening weather conditions combined to upset last week's scheduled community meetings on the 1938 farm program.

The following revised schedule of meetings has been prepared: Wednesday night, June 1, Fluvanna school, 7:30 o'clock; Monday night, June 6, Strayhorn school, 8:30 o'clock; Wednesday night, June 8, China Grove school, 8:30 p. m.

"Fight the grasshoppers and May beetles" was a slogan urged at the meetings held at Ira and Hermleigh within the past few days.

About 150 producers attended the Ira meeting. Many points of confusion in connection with the 1938 program were cleared up, especially concerning compliance procedure and rates to be earned on cash grant payments.

The possibility of a county products show in the fall, and the possibility of a Four-H and agricultural rally late in June, also developed interest at Ira.

The Hermleigh meeting was attended by about 200 producers. Wholehearted interest on the part of most attendees indicates to County Agent Luke Ballard that they are vitally interested in the 1938 program as a means of oil and water conservation as well as in the cash grant payment checks.

Possibility of a community agricultural products show in advance of a county show in the fall was discussed at Hermleigh. Ballard explained rules governing small grain exhibits.

SCHOOL PLANS TO PWA OFFICE

Application for PWA funds for construction of the local school plant were forwarded this week to Ft. Worth, state office, report members of the Snyder school board.

The application includes complete plans and specifications for a $125,000 building and $15,000 equipment, a total of $140,000. PWA funds totaling $60,000 (45 per cent) are being sought. This will be supplemented by $80,000 insurance money granted when a large part of the school plant was destroyed by fire early in the year.

Local board members and W. T. Strange of Big Spring, architect, feel that because of its emergency nature the local project will be at the head of the list under the new federal PWA grant.

Borden County Boy To Crosby Position

C. C. Nunnally, son of County Judge Charles Nunnally of Borden County, Wednesday began his duties as assistant in agricultural conservation in Crosby County, with headquarters at Crosbyton.

Just graduated from Texas Tech, Lubbock, with animal husbandry as his chief study, young Nunnally is a graduate of O'Donnell High School. The county agent in Crosby County is Ralph Horne, former Borden County agent.

T-P Cafe Will Open Under C. C. Mosley

Friday has been set for opening date of C. C. Mosley's T-P Cafe on the east highway, just past the first turn going out of Snyder.

The cafe will be operated in connection with the T-P Service Station, of which Mosley has been manager for three months. Peggy Morrow will be behind the counter.

Plate lunches, short orders, cold drinks and sandwiches will be Mosley's specialties.

C. C. BULLETIN MAILED TODAY BY DIRECTORS

Members Urged to Give Cooperation for Betterment of Trade Area

In a bulletin mailed to all Scurry County Chamber of Commerce members today, the nine directors, through President Forest Sears, made these statements, and also indicated that a new secretary has been chosen:

"Our effort will not be limited to Snyder, nor to Scurry County, but we trust to be of mutual help to all our neighbors and friends and to work with every organization that this section may be a better place to live in. He serves best who serves most."

"Our efforts will be confined to practical matters as much as possible. Growing problems in social and economic welfare must sooner or later be solved through collective effort, and this organization owes its existence to these problems."

"In accepting our duties, we realize them to be of the many thankless jobs that demand time and planning. Our reward will be in seeing some of our plans become reality. Your Chamber of Commerce is the collective thought, voice and effort of the community. Responsibility for results rests with all of us in unified action. This directorate expects to make mistakes. Tell us directly about them that we can understand each other better. For most of us, this section will be our home indefinitely; then why not get the most out of it while we are here?"

"We ask your cooperation that our efforts may be for the promotion of this entire section and for the common good.

"Our new offices are located at 2517 Avenue S, where for the time being Mrs. Beryl Nunn Rogers will be in charge each week-day afternoon."

More graves of this county's war dead were decorated with flowers Sunday than on any other day on record, reports W. P. King, who is annually in charge of the American Legion's Memorial Day decoration activities.

This year's decoration of graves was county-wide in scope. More than 130 graves of veterans of all wars were covered with flowers. Although flowers have been scarce this year, American Legion women and Mrs. W. R. Bell gathered enough to fully cover all local graves.

In other localities, veterans' graves were decorated primarily by World War veterans of those communities. Rufus Mize, Elmer Louder, Charley Brannon and Clyde Rea supervised decoration of 13 graves at Pylon, five at Hermleigh, four at Lone Wolf. Seven were decorated at Camp Springs and at least one at Fluvanna. No other reports have been received from county communities.

A total of 103 graves were decorated in Snyder, six more than last year.

A well-attended Memorial Day service at Snyder cemetery Sunday afternoon featured a talk by Rev. Ira Harrison.

Miller Body Works Is Growing Concern

One of the most rapidly expanding of Snyder's young businesses is the Miller Body Works, operated by R. C. (Bud) Miller in connection with Olds Service Station.

With a force that includes Alvin Pearce, Kendale Clark and Lewis Bennett, the business on the northeast corner of the square has turned out a number of recent jobs that defy the average onlooker to discover that anything was ever wrong with them.

Complete body rebuilding, frame straightening, door and fender work, upholstery, top repairing and replacements are featured by Miller Body Works, quarters of which were recently expanded.

Bus Driver to Make His Home in Snyder

The new east-west schedule that has been established by the South Plains Coaches will bring a new family to Snyder.

J. D. Mullins will move here with his wife in a few days from Lubbock. He has been a bus driver for some time, most recently making the Clovis-Albany route.

Under the new schedule, Mullins will leave here for Albany at 2:30 p. m. just after he meets the bus from Lubbock. He will be back in Snyder at 8:30 p. m.

The east-west route was established about three months ago, but has since undergone schedule changes.

Every Farm a Factory

(Editors' Note: This is the first of a series of articles furnished by T. C. Richardson, secretary of the Texas Breeder-Feeders Association, at the suggestion of R. J. Edwards, president of the Texas Press Association. Purpose behind the articles is to cooperate with Texas farmers in using to the best advantage the acres taken out of one-crop production under the AAA.)

Cheap raw products are the basis of all manufacturing. The raw products of the farm do not always have to travel far away to an industrial plant to be manufactured. Farm livestock and poultry are nature's own machines for turning crops into concentrated, finished products, for the use of the human race. The miracles of modern chemistry fill the public eye, but none of them approach the marvelous efficiency of the miracle of life, through which the animal world transforms plant life into meat or eggs, or milk or wool, "each after his own kind."

Whenever we find a farmer who has successfully survived the droughts and low prices which have plagued the country of late years, we usually find that he is "manufacturing" finished products by running his crude materials through those live, working machines which cackle, moo or baa about the farm. Several tons of grass, fodder and grain (most of which could not have been sold as raw material) went to market wrapped in steer hides when H. C. Lippe sent two truck loads to Fort Worth and cashed them for $2,000, a few months ago.

The acreage diverted from cotton under the new farm program will be planted, mostly in feed crops. It will not bring much cash if sold in its raw state. Much of it will be grazed off, saving the labor and expense of harvesting. Much will be harvested and stored, either dry or as silage for later feeding. In the form of meat or milk these crops may, as they often have done, bring in more dollars per acre in net profit than the same number of acres in cotton.

Farms which are not fenced and cross-fenced of course cannot be grazed, but temporary fences may be quickly set up to confine stock on the field to be grazed. The kind of livestock to best utilize the crops, whether grazed or harvested and hand-fed, will of course be chosen according to the crop itself and the preference of the owner.

Dairy cows will usually pay the highest return for large quantities of silage or dry roughage with the proper grain supplements, but beef cattle will run them a good second. Sheep will utilize some weeds that cattle will not eat and glean many a pound of meat and wool, but they must have more than weeds and gleanings. Hogs and poultry, including turkeys, of course require a high percentage of grain in their rations, but they should always have a space to roam pastures, both to the interest of both thriftiness and economy of production.

Not an acre of the land diverted from cotton but can be turned to profitable account, by "putting it on legs." We are so accustomed to nature's own "manufacturing machines,"—farm livestock—that we are prone to forget that the cackle of the hen means more in the total than all the factory whistles in the country; that the dairy cow's synthesis of grass and grain into milk and butterfat is more wonderful and more potent for human good than anything chemists have ever done with coal tar or soy beans.

The new farm program provides both the incentive and the opportunity for many farmers to change to a system that will utilize both the land and the manpower better than cotton or other cash-crop farming.

Highlight at the Texas within the next week is "Life," a roadshow slated for next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Other June features at the Palace include: "Joy of Living," June 9-10; "Radio City Revels," June 11-13; "The Adventures of Robin Hood," June 16-17; "Hawaii Calls," June 18-20; "Doctor Rhythm," June 23-24.

Fluvanna Slates Box Supper and Political Rally

A box supper and political rally will be highlights of an evening and night program at the Fluvanna school auditorium, Friday, June 3.

Candidates will speak, boxes will be sold, and an old fiddlers' contest will be conducted. Free entertainment of various sorts will be offered between "acts," and red lemonade will be on hand in bountiful quantities.

All precinct, county and district candidates have been given written invitations, and the general public is invited to take part.

Funds from the sale of boxes will be used to pay expenses of two Fluvanna-ites to the annual short course at College Station later this month. The Fluvanna Four-H Club girl and the Fluvanna Home Demonstration Club woman who will make the trip will be announced Friday night.

Mrs. H. C. Flournoy, president of the women's club, and Superintendent E. O. Wedgeworth are in general charge of the program.

A late announcement from Fluvanna indicates that the Tiger Band from Snyder will provide music for the night's program.

Folks Quickly Fall In Line With Lights

The bustle and bother at the two traffic lights at highway-square intersections has died down since the installation last week.

Sid Burton, temporary traffic officer, says with few exceptions there has been a fine spirit of cooperation with the city's efforts to make traffic conditions safer on the square.

The lights flash red and green now with hardly a pedestrian or motorist going unthoughtfully against the red. Bruton, Marshal Simon Best and other city officials express their appreciation for this spirit of cooperation and thoughtfulness.

Baptist Pastors to Ft. Worth Meeting

A gathering of Baptist pastors from all parts of Texas is being held at the southwestern Baptist Seminary, Ft. Worth, this week, and pastors of this area are taking an active part.

These pastors were scheduled to leave from this area Monday morning: Revs. Ira Harrison, Jimmie Fields, G. W. Parks, Murray Fuquay, Fred Huffman of Gail, Buster Edwards, Cone Merritt, Orland Cary,

COMBINES GET INTO FIRST OF OATS HARVEST

Two-Thirds Crop of Wheat, Good Oats and Barley Promised County

A few of the county's combines are going into the oats harvest this week. But most of them will not see action until the wheat cutting begins in earnest about June 15.

Grain men and other observers estimate that the wheat crop over the county as a whole will be about two-thirds of last year's bumper yield. The guesses range from 60 to 70 per cent of the 1937 yield.

Oats and barley will as a whole yield a better and bigger crop, as most grain men see it.

The hail strips, centering around Snyder, were in most cases completely wiped out as far as a grain crop is concerned—and not many carried hail insurance. Wind and sand has also contributed to the downfall of the crop, with lack of moisture in the early spring also hurting in scattered localities.

With all grain markets at the lowest points in several years, it is probably that outright sale of most grain will be held up in the hope of a rising market.

"Tom Sawyer" Hits High Peak in June At Local Theatres

"The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" hits the high peak of a month of good pictures at the Palace and Texas Theatres during June, reveals the program released last Saturday, and reproduced week by week in The Times.

Mark Twain's famous boyhood classic is the Saturday night prelude and Sunday and Monday picture, along with news and Popeye cartoon, at the Palace.

Highlight at the Texas within the next week is "Life," a roadshow slated for next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mineral Wells Man At Perry Brothers

Clyde Murray arrived in Snyder late last week to become manager of the Perry Brothers store on the north side of the square. He succeeds Jess Elliott, who has been manager here for more than a year.

Elliott has been promoted to management of the Perry Brothers store at Jacksonville. The Cherokee County city is almost twice the size of Snyder.

Murray, who has been with Perry's for more than a year, has been working in the Mineral Wells store and doing relief duty. He and his wife have moved to Snyder.

J. F. Ward Back in Snyder Drug Store

"I'm glad to be back in Snyder," so said J. F. Ward, who came here several days ago to become associated with Stinson Brothers and J. D. Scott in Stinson No. 2, west side of the square.

Ward worked at Stinson No. 1, north side, from 1919 until 1925. He has been in the drug business in Malvern, Arkansas, since he left Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward and their daughter, Mary Jo, are temporarily located at the Manhattan Hotel. After July 1 they will move to the home of Mrs. Fritz R. Smith, South Snyder.

"Home" Again

Ballard Urges Haste.

County Agent Luke Ballard, who is bending most of his efforts toward whipping the hopper-beetle army before it wipes out thousands of acres of crops, makes this statement: "These May beetles are of the wingless type. They may be seen crossing the roads in regular formation in the late afternoon when they feed. Their preferred food is young cotton."

"We must get busy with poison bran bait or this combined army will clean up our crops more thoroughly than did the hail storm May 14. Why take it for granted that we can win this war without doing something about it?"

WORST SANDY OF 1938 DROPS OUT OF NORTH

Monday Visitor Was Bad Here, But It Was Awful in Lubbock Vicinity

Nineteen thirty-eight's worst sandstorm rolled out of the west-to-north horizon Monday afternoon.

It came as a billowing cloud, pushed by a brisk but not dangerous wind. From early afternoon until early night it plagued the county, much worse in some spots than in Snyder. For more than an hour in the early afternoon its intensity was almost stifling.

But at Lubbock and vicinity the brunt of the sandy struck. Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's story of the sand cloud said:

"Billowing sand rode into the upper reaches of the sky, greyer like, and spread an opaque blanket that reduced visibility to an almost absolute zero.

"The storm was one of the worst in many years, old-timers saying they had seen only one that shrouded the town in greater darkness—that one in the spring of 1935. At that time it was impossible to see one's hand in front of him.

"In the city the period of near darkness lasted five and one-half minutes, but the storm proper continued, marked by various degrees of visibility."

A determined fight against invasion by grasshoppers is being made in Borden County, County Agent E. B. McLeroy told The Times in a telephone conversation Wednesday.

McLeroy fears that many farmers and ranchers are becoming alarmed over the situation too late to get the upper hand in the fight. He says unless a hurry battle is waged, there is likelihood of serious damage from an unprecedented crop of hoppers.

A mixing station for poison bait has been established at Gail, and many farmers and ranchers are calling for the bait.

Moffett to Lubbock.

B. H. Moffett, who has been suffering from blood poisoning since a foot became infected three weeks ago, was taken to a Lubbock hospital Monday in an Odum ambulance. A slight improvement in his condition was reported yesterday.

MANY BEETLES JOIN HOPPERS IN LOCAL WAR

Combined Force One of Most Destructive to Threaten County Crops

A black army of May beetles has gone into action to reinforce the horde of grasshoppers already in Scurry County, declares R. B. Reppert, state grasshopper control leader.

The combined grasshopper-beetle army threatens to be one of the most destructive forces that has ever attacked the crops of the county, in Reppert's opinion.

He has made a personal survey of the situation here and at other West Texas points within the past two or three weeks. His statements concerning the seriousness of the situation are borne out by many farmers, ranchers and others who have investigated in various parts of the county.

County Agent Luke Ballard, who is bending most of his efforts toward whipping the hopper-beetle army before it wipes out thousands of acres of crops, makes this statement: "These May beetles are of the wingless type. They may be seen crossing the roads in regular formation in the late afternoon when they feed. Their preferred food is young cotton."

"We must get busy with poison bran bait or this combined army will clean up our crops more thoroughly than did the hail storm May 14. Why take it for granted that we can win this war without doing something about it?"

"Big as Saddle Horses."

"Do we have to wait until the grasshoppers are as big as saddle horses and the May beetles have destroyed hundreds of acres of cotton and young feed before we get busy? Crop insurance is of no value after the crops are destroyed. It is like trying a bulldog in the smoke house after all the meat has been stolen.

"Poison bran bait is being distributed from the mixing plant on West 25th Street (Bridge Street), Harrell Building. It is going out at the rate of about 1,600 pounds daily, when it should be 16,000 pounds daily to really get the job done and save our crops."

"Since the grasshoppers and beetles are now nearly grown the poison bait should be scattered or broadcast every three to five days in a strip 150 feet wide around all cultivated lands.

"The grasshoppers and May beetles are here, and so is the ammunition with which to fight them. Come and get it."

BORDEN FIGHTS HOPPER HORDE

A determined fight against invasion by grasshoppers is being made in Borden County, County Agent E. B. McLeroy told The Times in a telephone conversation Wednesday.

McLeroy fears that many farmers and ranchers are becoming alarmed over the situation too late to get the upper hand in the fight. He says unless a hurry battle is waged, there is likelihood of serious damage from an unprecedented crop of hoppers.

NUPTIALS FOR LOCAL COUPLE ON SATURDAY

Pauline Hartley became the bride of Ralph Johnston in a simple service held Saturday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. N. Lipscomb in Lubbock. Rev. Lipscomb, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Lubbock, officiated for the impressive ring ceremony.

Attendants were Mrs. Pete Bridgeman and Hughey Mrs. of Snyder and Martha Perkins and M. L. Williams of Lubbock.

The bride was dressed in a navy blue crepe dress with natural accessories. Her flowers, gardenias and yellow tulips, were arranged in a shoulder corsage. Mrs. Bridgeman wore a printed chiffon frock with navy accessories, and Miss Perkins' frock was a white knit with navy accessories. Both wore gardenias.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hartley, Mrs. Johnston has spent most of her life in Scurry County. She is a graduate of the Hillsboro High School and of Willette's School of Beauty Culture in Dallas. For several months she has been an operator at Every Woman's Beauty Shop here, and she will continue her connection with the local shop.

Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. (Pat) Johnston, also has lived in Scurry County most of his life, graduating from the local high school. His father owns several farms over the county. Ralph is connected with Olds Service Station here, and he and Mrs. Johnston will make their home in Snyder.

The couple spent the week-end at Clovis, New Mexico.

Anna Mae DeShazo Celebrates Birthday

ENGINES WILL BE WORN LESS THIS SUMMER

But you want to know exactly why. You're lery of general statements that won't save you one piston ring or one quart of oil.

So you want what the doctors call a specific. And that's what you get from your change to OIL-PLATING. Only patented Conoco Germ Processed oil from Your Mileage Merchant's station can give your engine OIL-PLATING. Other oils can't. No matter how they're refined they cannot surpass the correct refining of Germ Processed oil. But refining only takes things out, while Germ Processing adds in the patented man-made substance that forces oil to "join up" with the working parts, keeping them OIL-PLATED. All the while Germ Processed oil is used, you have permanent OIL-PLATING. Like all plating, OIL-PLATING keeps wear away and it never drains down nor waits for the oil pump! Before other oils could even begin to circulate, OIL-PLATING will lubricate! Hence no "dry starts" with your engine OIL-PLATED. And platings don't fly off at Summer speeds, or frizzle away in the heat. So the heat indicator stays on the safe side, and the gauge-stick says "Still full of Conoco Germ Processed oil!" # Killing Two Birds With One Stone" In Scurry County Road Work Related

"In Texas, county highway equipment earns its keep by building terraces as well as by road construction and maintenance."

So reads the introduction to an article in the May issue of "The Earth Mover and Road Builder," a magazine published in Chicago. The article deals with Scurry County dirt moving, and was written by Malcolm V. Burton, editor and publisher of the magazine, who spent several days in Scurry County recently.

In the magazine are three pictures of road work in the county, two of them showing J. E. Huffman, commissioner of Precinct 2, and some of his workmen.

West Texas Roads New.
The article in full reads: "It was not until 25 years ago that a serious effort was made to build roads in 'West Texas.' Prior to that time it was grazing land, a land of vast ranches, cowboys and great herds of cattle. After 25 years of work, these roads cannot be compared to county roads in more densely populated sections but, nevertheless, they are entirely adequate for this part of the country."

Scurry County is approximately the geographical center of the area known as "West Texas." It covers about 900 square miles, has approximately 1,000 miles of county roads and only from 4,000 to 15,000 inhabitants. The funds for highway work are derived mainly from license fees, and it is evident that there is an exceptionally limited road-fund for the amount of work that must be done. This condition is typical of the surrounding counties where the set-up for highway maintenance is the same as in Scurry County.

Five Men in Charge.
There are five men who take charge of most of the county business, the county judge and four county commissioners. Each commissioner takes charge of roads in his precinct and all four, together with the county judge, handle the business at large. In Scurry County, H. J. Brice is county judge and Hubert Robison, Jake Huffman, H. M. Blackard and Joe Hairston are commissioners.

Each precinct in Scurry County has approximately 250 miles of road and the commissioner in charge has a motor grader and truck, and employs three men. In addition, the county owns 18 tractors and some plows. Truly, this is not much equipment or many men to handle such a tremendous mileage.

In re-shaping the roads after a rain it is necessary to get over them rapidly before the soil dries out and sets so hard that they cannot be left smooth. The speed of the equipment and its ability to handle heavy work is therefore of the utmost importance. There are few roads in the county that have any surfacing whatsoever, these few miles being confined to places where caliche is easily available. Caliche is a gypsum product which is an excellent surfacing material.

Roads in Bad Shape.
Prior to the time the accompanying photographs were taken, about eight inches of snow and rain had fallen in a period of two weeks. The unsurfaced roads in the county system were in about as bad shape as could be imagined. However, as soon as the maintainers could be used, the roads were shaped up and within from ten days to two weeks' time practically the entire thousand miles were smoothed off and ready for use until the next rain, from four to six weeks hence.

It is interesting that in building the roads in this section no bridges are put in, if it can possibly be avoided. Instead of bridges they merely put a dip into the road where water that runs off through the normally dry draws can pass over the road. The runoff is rapid. When high water in one of the draws stops traffic, the delay occasioned amounts to only an hour or two. By that time the water will have gone down sufficiently for traffic to be resumed.

During storms the draws carry an unusual amount of water. Sometimes the road at the dip is badly washed but the county finds that these occasional wash-outs are cheaper to repair than it is to build and maintain a bridge. In a few places where trouble from this source has been serious the road has been paved through the dip—a distance of 40 to 50 feet. This construction to all practical purposes is as good as a bridge and costs less.

Soil Sets Smoothly.
In West Texas the character of the soil is such that if the roads are smoothed out before the ground is dry, the soil will set in a very hard, smooth surface that will require no further maintenance for a considerable period. During this time when road maintainers are not in use, an act by the state Legislature permits the county to rent their road equipment to land-owners for building terraces.

Two years ago agricultural experts felt that large areas of agricultural land in the "Dust Bowl" would never again be used for raising crops. However, the problem was attacked vigorously by conservation experts with most gratifying results.

In a recent issue of The Saturday Evening Post a comprehensive article on the subject stated definitely that the Dust Bowl could be saved, and explained how it was being done and the progress made to date.

The problem has been attacked in two ways—through crop control and by conservation of moisture. One object of crop control has been to provide a cover for the bare soil. This has led to a world-wide search for drought-resistant crops of definite economic value and their introduction into the territory.

Terraces are Built.
In the main, conservation of moisture is accomplished by building terraces and by contour plowing which effectively prevents a run-off. Where terracing and contour plowing is practiced, all of the water from the infrequent rains seeps into the ground where it falls and becomes available for plant life.

The construction of terraces is an earth-moving operation. Various agencies have been set up by the federal conservation forces and also by the state to do this work. However, in Texas, the Legislature has passed laws which permit the counties to rent their road maintenance equipment to the land-owners for the purpose. This benefits both the land-owners and the county highway organization and a description of how the scheme operates will be of exceptional interest to authorities in other sections where a similar problem must be faced.

The procedure followed in Scurry County in renting their equipment to land-owners while possibly not the same as in the surrounding counties explains the general method used. First, the county court must approve the legislative act permitting the rental of equipment for terracing. Then, when a land-owner wants some terracing done, the county agent makes a survey, laying out the terraces and estimating the approximate number of machine-hours that will be required for the work. The land-owner then fills out an application blank with in Scurry County is printed on an envelope and encloses in the envelope his signed blank check made out to the County.

How Work Proceeds.
The proper commissioner then instructs his operator to proceed with the work. The operator has a work order in triplicate on which he keeps a record of the hours of work from the time he goes on the

Program Committee Out of Commission

Failure of a program committee to function left the Tuesday Lions Club meeting high and dry—and programless. Several 10-cent fines were imposed by the tall twister.

The club voted to send Fred Wolcott, Snyder-Rice sprinter, a letter of congratulation for his recent track victories.

President A. C. Preuit announced that the nominating committee next Tuesday will present nominations for officers and directors for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Guests of the day were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Roper of Lubbock.

Bulletin Item News.

This local item is included in the most recent publicity release of the NYA state office at Austin: "A group of NYA youths in Snyder are assisting in improving the grounds of the Scurry County courthouse, erecting a bandstand and laying a concrete sidewalk."

job until it is finished. On completion, the land-owner signs the work order and keeps one copy. The other two copies are turned over to the county agent who inspects the new terrace and approves it on the farm which is turned in to the county treasurer. This official then fills out the check for full payment, according to the number of hours shown on the work. When approved by the land-owner and the county agent, the transaction is complete and the county has received full payment for the work.

In Scurry County the land-owners are being charged $3.00 per hour for the use of the machine and the operator. To give an idea of the cost per mile, on one project six miles of terraces requiring four rounds were completed in 22 working hours at a cost to the land-owner of $11 per mile, a very low price.

The use of motor graders, if they are capable of handling the work, is far less expensive than using a tractor and blade machine at the same hourly rate. This, then, is a very strong argument for the purchase of the latest and best in road maintenance equipment by the counties operating under a similar plan. If the cost of terracing can be brought down to a point where the land-owners can more easily pay for the work, a correspondingly greater amount of terracing will be done and the money so earned can be applied toward the purchase of equipment.

JUNE 18 FINAL CANDIDATE DAY

Saturday, June 18, is the final day on which county and precinct candidates may file their names for appearance on the ballot for the first primary, July 23, reminds A. C. Preuit, county Democratic chairman.

Preuit says the law forbids him from taking names after that date. He says at least two or three men who had been campaigning failed to get their names on the primary tickets in other recent election years, simply because they did not file with the Democratic chairman in time.

Quata Barrow left Monday for Abilene, where she will spend the major part of the summer.

W. T. St. John Has Warden "Birthday;" Game Outlook Good

W. T. St. John of Abilene, game warden in District 9, including Scurry County, yesterday began his twelfth year as a West Texas game and fish warden. Other counties in his territory include Taylor, Jones, Fisher, Stonewall, Kent, Mitchell and Nolan. St. John said the fiscal year just closed has been a banner one for the sale of hunting licenses, around 1,300 licenses having been sold personally by the warden. He said the game condition in the area next fall should be the best in years. Many bob whites have been placed in District 9 this year, the grain crop is fair and the bird crop should be even better than in 1937, he said. In order to improve game and hunting conditions, St. John advocates a universal hunting and fishing license in Texas; licensing of all fishermen, regardless of bait; and a state bag limit for the entire western section of the state.

Hermleigh Team Licks Candidates In Weird Battle

In a weird softball battle that featured the pitching of Jimmie Billingsley, Hermleigh business men Friday afternoon downed a team of county and district candidates. It happened during Hermleigh's old-fashioned picnic-candidate day, and the score was in the general neighborhood of 14 to 7.

Many of the men of the Hermleigh vicinity were too busy with tractor and mule to attend the festivities. But practically all the students, housewives, teachers, business men and quite a batch of visitors turned out to make the day entirely successful.

Don't pay too much attention to these line-ups—but here is the way they might have looked: Candidates—John Lynch, catcher; Jimmie Billingsley, pitcher; Rufus Mize, pitcher; "Stacy" Louder (manager), catcher; Zollie C. Steakley, pitcher; Frank Farmer, first base; Henry Newman, third base; Sterling Williams, shortstop; Truett Barber, shortstop; H. J. Brice, left field; Roy O. Irvin, center field; Joe Hairston, right field; Sterling Taylor, first base coach; Clyde Thomas, third base coach; Herman Darby, scorekeeper.

Other candidates who took part in the day's activities were: Mrs. J. P. Avary, Mrs. Marion Newton, Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, who rallied for the candidates' team; H. E. Brock, who arrived too late to play; Marshall H. Pior, candidate for state representative, 117th District; Burl Wheeler, candidate for commissioner, Nolan County; Jack Yarbrough, candidate for sheriff, Nolan County. Representatives of Tom F. Hunter for governor and Ernest O. Thompson for governor were also present. The Hermleigh team included: M. U. Vernon, W. C. Eargason, A. L. McMullan, Bob Adams, Denver Pettit, Laverne Drennan, Bill Rea, G. R. Halre, W. K. Roberts and Frank Nachlinger.

TREASURER IS VISITOR BACK IN HOME TOWN

Charley Lockhart, Seeking Fifth Term, Shakes Hands With Young and Old

Charley Lockhart, state treasurer, was back in his old haunts Wednesday. He visited in the home of his brother, Jim Lockhart, veteran barber shop owner, and shook hands with old-timers and new-timers.

Charley, only 45 inches tall, has been serving as state treasurer for the past four terms, and he is out for reelection. Before he left Scurry County in 1919 he had been county treasurer for 16 years.

The diminutive, friendly, cheerful Charley likes to talk of his excellent record at Austin when he is back in his old stomping grounds. He was heard to say while he was here that he is proud that the state has not lost one penny of the two hundred million dollars which passes through his office annually. Of course when Charley was running for county treasurer he was able to stop and shake hands with every voter and kiss every baby in the county. But now, with the whole state to cover—and the state official says it's quite a state when you get out looking for votes—he doesn't have time to meet all his old cronies and the county citizens who have since come on the scene.

Yarbrough earned money to complete his education by waiting on tables in a student boarding house, working in wheat fields and as a tank builder in the oil fields.

Kinsman Pushed By Harley Toby Sadler

West Texas' No. 1 trouper, who has been in Scurry County so many times with his tent show that no man knoweth the number thereof, has decided to deviate from a life-long custom and take an active part in a political campaign.

Harley "Toby" Sadler has accepted the post of campaign manager for West Texas for his kinsman, young Jerry Sadler, Longview, candidate for state railroad commissioner. Both are native Texans. Harley was born at Blackjack Grove in Hopkins County, and Jerry was reared at Hickory Grove, Anderson County.

Nope, Lucas Wasn't On Albany's Eleven

The rumor has been circulating in Snyder that James C. Lucas, Alcatraz federal prison bad-man—the man who stabbed Al Capone—was on the Albany football team that played for the regional championship here in 1930.

A check of The Scurry County Times and The Snyder News issues that reported the game reveals that Lucas wasn't on the line-up. He might have been a substitute. But none of the Albany boys were so bad during that championship tilt, for Snyder walloped the Lions, 45 to 0.

Lucas, an Albany boy, created new headlines 10 days ago when he and another long-timer killed a guard in an attempt to escape the west-coast prison island.

Subscription Offer. The Times will be sent to anyone in Scurry or adjoining counties, from now until January 1, 1939, for only $1; outside this area, $1.50. If you wish to secure The Times until January 1 and the Semi-Weekly Farm News for one full year, the price in this area is $1.50; outside this area, $2.

Hold Your Hat!

Bare facts speak louder and more tellingly than ballyhoo. They speak louder than opinions of Henry Wallace and President Roosevelt.

So the Times, which has been trying to preach the gospel that cotton raising in West Texas must undergo a radical change for the better or be pushed out of the world market entirely, quotes directly, without other comment, from the U. S. Department of Agriculture weekly cotton market review from Dallas, dated May 28.

"Cotton prices declined sharply during the week as prices of other commodities and of securities dropped to new lows for recent weeks. The 10-market average of 8.06 for middling 7-8 inch on Friday, May 27, was 52 points lower than a week earlier.

"Spot cotton markets were dull. Exports were smaller.

"Prices in the 10 designated markets averaged 8.33 cents for middling 7-8 inch, compared with an average of 8.66 cents in the previous week and 13.04 cents in the corresponding week a year ago.

"Buying of American cotton for export showed little if any improvement, although some reports indicated increased interest in new crop shipments from Texas.

"The Russian cotton plantings of 1,905,000 acres to mid-April were 37 per cent of the planned acreage for 1938 against 19 per cent of the 1937 acreage to mid-April a year ago. . . total production is estimated at 3,500,000 bales for 1937 against 3,250,000 bales in 1936 and an average of 1,900,000 bales for the five-year period ended with 1935."

"What will we raise if our cotton continues to be of generally poor quality and if foreign growers continue to take over a large part of our foreign consumption? It's something to think about here in Scurry County."

Editorial of the Week

ONE VARIETY COTTON PRODUCTION

C. B. Doyle, summing up a recent article on "One-Variety Cotton Production," gives special weight to this important question in view of the fact that he is a principal agronomist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This is his summary:

"In the final analysis, there are four outstanding requirements which this writer believes are necessary for best long-time results in the cotton improvement program.

"First, there must be complete cooperation of the grower and other local interests in the community to be sure that the purity of the planting seed is properly maintained, the cotton is carefully grown and harvested, and the quality of the fiber safeguarded through the gin. In other words, we must first have the good cotton and in regular quantities.

Second, there must be adequate supervision of the community developments by qualified specialists to advise with the growers on their problems of organization, seed programs, culture, harvesting and ginning improvements, and to standardize as much as possible on methods and procedures in and among the communities.

"Third, there must be cooperation on the part of the buyers and manufacturers to the end that premiums for good cotton and discounts for bad cotton are reflected back to the growers.

"Fourth, that adequate laboratory and mill research facilities be provided for prompt evaluation of the textile qualities of the improved cottons which have been or may be developed for community production. These investigations should be closely cooperative with commercial mills so that the work may keep pace with the latest requirements of the trade."

"But Words Endure"

Ashley H. Thorndike declares: "Colors fade, temples crumble, empires vanish, but words endure." If that be true, Congress is just one endurance contest after another.

No Isolation Policy

If the trend indicated in a recent poll by The Nation magazine is significant, the United States definitely does not want to cut herself off from the rest of the world and paddle her own canoe. The poll, admittedly only a "sample," showed that 87 per cent of the voters rejected isolation. Reciprocal trade agreements and consumer boycotts were given strong support as a means of checking a drift toward war.

The Public Is Next

They're at it again. Railroad executives announce a 15 per cent wage cut, declaring decreased revenues forced them to it. Railroad employees, through their unions, said they wouldn't take the cut, declaring the move was made to embarrass President Roosevelt in his efforts to bolster recovery. The long-suffering public may make the next move. . . and woe to both railroads and employees! Many folks are beginning to feel that the railroads can see only one side of the picture—their own side, in opposition to trucks, buses and their own employees—and that their employees, often over-paid, are using the power of unionized labor to gain their own ends. "The public be forgotten" seems to be the slogan on both sides of the railroad fence.

A popular preacher once said of his pulpit efforts, "I always roar when I have nothing to say."—Luther.

Cows and Government

Not that The Times is too serious about reproducing the following article from a half-cynical exchange. But at least there's a bit of food for thought. "What do cows have to do with government? Just this.

"A peasant had six cows and the government took three of them from him. That's Socialism.

"A peasant had six cows and the government took all of them from him. That's Communism.

"A peasant had six cows and the government let him keep all six of them and let him feed and otherwise care for them, but took all of the milk and all of the calves. That's Fascism.

"A peasant had six cows and the government let him keep all six of them, but made him pay the personal property tax, sales tax, poll tax, ad valorem tax, excess profits tax, old age pension tax, inheritance tax, dog tax, syntax and various other taxes until the peasant wondered whether or not he would be better off without the cows. That's Democracy."

Political Palaver

Pessimism Pete says just about the time he makes up his mind who he will vote for in a state race, along comes an opposing candidate whose promises and handshake make the No. 1 man appear just a little out of date. And after the primaries, Pete nearly always wishes to heck he'd picked some fellow whose promises he'd never heard and whose hand he'd never grasped.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN.

Doubtless the thirteen Texas Congressmen who joined Northern colleagues last week in voting for the dubious wage-hour bill were officially weary of counting straws in the wind, and decided to bid political fortunes on a grand show of blind administration loyalty. . . yet if we never ascertain the real reason for this Southern display of indiscretion, we can readily ascertain why the wage-hour bill is an awkward piece of machinery to tune up at the present.

Introduced at a time when the paralytic fingers of recession are laying a telling mark on the nation's payrolls, the wage-hour bill (in whatever form it may emerge from the conference committee) will cause higher salaries, eventually, to be scaled down to meet legal provisions of the bill, whereas the submarginal scale of hour wages will be raised enough to eat up whatever wage "backlogs" a firm or business may have in reserve.

It is interesting to note that the average hourly wage scale in America has increased 50 per cent since 1900, and doubled since 1920. In fact, payrolls on many government projects at the present require an outlay of 75 per cent of project costs for labor alone. In the South, where long hours and sensible wage scales have been the rule for a century of progress, the Northern inspired wage-hour bill will likely prove an anathema to anything that might bespeak profits for a business or industrial firm. Since the wage-hour bill was originally created for the factory beridden North, it seems hardly logical that the same wage scales can be applied in the agrarian South.

Until June 1, major automobile manufacturers planned radical changes in 1939 models, but within the last two weeks the current recession has caused nearly all firms to change their plans. Look for the "big three" in the low price field, for instance, to announce 1939 model cars with slight changes in design, interiors, and price ranges. It's a rigidly inscribed circle, this phase of industrial manufacturing.

If the economic outlook isn't optimistic in tone, car makers have very few new stamping dies made; few costly design changes made, and hire very few employees. The net effect is that the farmer's eggs, cream, cotton, and turkey crop suffers, since this "marking time" policy with car makers means the average employee can't use as much farm produce as he really needs, in order that he can make cars for the firm to make more money. The nation's used car dealers report a slow movement of used vehicles, which means the used car market has reached the saturation point, until business points its nose upward again.

Look for the SEC to shortly call some of our crack financial writers of several leading newspapers on the carpet soon, since the security agency dug up some canceled checks a certain prominent broker gave the financial editor of a New York paper. The thing last week that caused this agency to hasten official action was a unanimous attack by leading financial writers on New Deal lending-spending policies. We've yet to see the first newspaperman lousy with money, but we hate to see the press complimented by insinuations that a newsmen might have a lot of extra "dough" salted away.

Whatever dirt the Securities Exchange Commission might unearth, it's a safe bet to say the press will emerge from the fray holding to the big end of the horn. In the first place, a canceled check made out to one lone newsmen is no indices the entire profession would stoop to any such tactics, if it can be proved this financial writer accepted the check for ulterior reasons. In the second place, the freedom of the press, plus the dubious authority granted the SEC to dig into one's private affairs, will put a damper on commission findings.

Hull Tent Show, Firemen Benefit, To Come June 7

Jimmie Hull's Players, one of America's biggest and most elaborate tent theatres, is coming to Snyder for one night only, Tuesday, June 7, under the auspices of the Snyder Volunteer Fire Department. Proceeds will be used by the fire boys to send a drill team to the state firemen's convention at Amarillo later this month.

In bringing this company to this city the management wishes to especially emphasize the fact that the Jimmie Hull Players is one of the oldest and most reliable tent theatres on the road, being in the sixteenth year and now in its 67th consecutive week.

Originally organized as a stock company, the show has enjoyed long permanent engagements in Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Port Arthur and Beaumont (the last named city being the home of Mr. Hull).

"Jimmie" (as he is known to his legion of friends) has combined his three units (dramatic, musical and vaudeville) into one big evening's entertainment.

The cast is headed by "Skinnie" Kimling, the "Ace" of black face comedians and a late feature with the Lassies White Minstrels and Tiny Hull, "The Personality Girl," supported by a large cast offering the three-act laughing hit "My Dream Girl."

Harry S. Warner, late feature "My Dream Girl Co." of Chicago, will be here in person.

The management guarantees the show to be clean and wholesome and free from vulgarity, and real entertainment for the whole family.

There is also a red hot swing band and orchestra and a world of real up-to-the minute singing and dancing novelty vaudeville acts that will appeal to all.

The big tent is water-proof and will be located a block north of the square.

Former Resident of Snyder in Accident

An accident two weeks ago in which a former Snyder woman was the victim and Oscar Maples, now of Snyder, was the rescuer, has just come to The Times' attention. Mrs. J. E. Puetz, 64, wife of an Abilene grocer, formerly in the drug business on the south side of the Snyder square, died in a Hamlin hospital a few hours after she had been extricated from her overturned car by Maples. The local man and his wife were en route to Guthrie to visit her parents. They took Mrs. Puetz to the Hamlin hospital, 50 miles from the site of the accident.

Last Veteran of Civil War Going To Last Reunion

"Grandpa" George M. D. Garner, Scurry County's only surviving Civil War veteran, 97 years old, will leave about June 25 for historic Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, to attend a reunion June 29 to July 6 observing the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Times Staff Writer Leon Guinn will accompany Mr. Garner as his attendant. Both Mr. Garner and Guinn, along with other Texas Civil War veterans and attendants, will be guests of the federal government during what will probably be the last reunion of Confederate and Union vets. The government is paying expenses for veterans and attendants making the trip.

Enlisting on the Confederate side, Mr. Garner saw service during the tragic years 1861-65 in Company C, 32nd Tennessee Infantry. But whether the Civil War soldiers wore the blue or gray, their ranks are pitifully thinned today. Only five survivors in the entire Abilene area contemplate making the Gettysburg trip.

At the Gettysburg reunion, commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the major Civil War battle, surviving veterans will be taken on tours of the Pennsylvania city, and inspect the marble monument where Lincoln pledged that "government of the people, for the people, by the people, shall not perish from this earth."

Mr. Garner and Guinn plan to go the southern route by Little Rock, Arkansas, Memphis, Tennessee, and then to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The two plan to stop off in Tennessee on the return trip, where Mr. Garner will visit a few days with kindred he has not seen in years. They will probably be back at Snyder about July 12.
