FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN PLAN FOR FAIR

Enthusiasm Marks Saturday Meeting to Discuss Products Show

Enthusiasm was the keynote of a courteous gathering Saturday afternoon at which a Scurry County Products Show was heartily discussed and planned.

In spite of busy conditions on farm, ranch and store, more than 75 men and women from practically every community met in the district court room.

The group unanimously decided on the show for this fall, voted to first organize a central committee representing all sections of the county, and later to expand into smaller committees in charge of various exhibits, divisions, finance, building and grounds, and other working units.

Next Meeting July 16. At the next meeting, slated at the same place Saturday, July 16, all the central committee members will be asked to report, and more definite plans for the event will be outlined. Dates will be set at that time.

Forest Sears and W. J. Ely of the City Council indicated that Snyder will provide grounds for the show, and that there is a probability that the main exhibit building can be arranged. Heartily cooperation of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce was assured by Sears, president, by E. H. Lilly, newly elected secretary, and E. J. Anderson, a director.

It was pointed out during the discussion, which were led by County Agent Luke Ballard, that men and women from all sections of the county will be on the various committees, as well as on the central committee, making the Scurry County Products Show truly county-wide in nature.

Graveyard services are to be conducted by the Masons. Burial will be in the Ira cemetery. Mr. Lewis was a member of the Church of Christ and of the Masonic order.

Pember, Globe, Arizona; three daughters, Mrs. Nora Bruce, Eunice, New Mexico, Mrs. John Cole, Snyder, Mrs. Jud McGaha, Snyder; four sons, Gabe of Ira, Hester of McKinney, Arthur of Apache, Oklahoma, Erda of Big Spring; 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Also surviving is a niece, Miss Ruth Evans, whom he reared from babyhood, and who nursed him during his last illness.

Candidates Have a Break at Long Last

With a pie supper here and a pie supper there, and a box supper all around, county and district candidates have been given a pretty good financial cleaning during the past few weeks.

Now comes the Plainview community with an appreciation stew supper for the candidates—appreciation, no doubt, for their long hours in field and home, store and street. The supper will be entirely free to candidates—and there are no strings to this offer, according to community leaders.

The stew supper will come Friday night, 8:15 o'clock, at the school house.

Central Committee

Following is the central committee for the Scurry County Products Show, elected Saturday afternoon at the county-wide mass meeting:

Burford Browning, Mrs. C. F. Landrum, Fluvanna; Mrs. Walter Brown, T. A. Echols, Dunn; J. E. Murphy, Mrs. Amil Kross, Ira; Holly Shuler, Bethel; Mrs. Jim Sorrells, Knapp; Ben Brooks, Plainview; Mrs. Marion Hamilton, Andy Jones, Camp Springs; Walter Moore, Hermalgh. Three members are to be named by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, at the suggestion of and by unanimous vote of farmers and ranchers present at the meeting.

100 to Seminole!

At least 100 from Scurry County to Seminole July 15!

That is the goal set last Thursday night by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce directors. Occasion of the Seminole trip is annual meeting of the East-West Highway Association. With early completion of Highway 15 as their goal, delegates from Ft. Worth to Carlsbad are expected to gather at the Gaines County capital in large numbers, according to A. G. Bearden of Lamesa, secretary of the association.

Final plans for rounding up a Seminole delegation, to leave Snyder early Friday morning, July 15, will be made at a meeting of the directors Friday night of this week.

In the meantime, a number of local businessmen are already planning to make the trip. "Every business house in Snyder should send at least one delegate if at all possible," declared E. E. Lilly, CC secretary.

HOOKS NAMED PERFORMANCE WORK LEADER

County ACA Committee Completes Setup With Training School

W. C. Hooks of the Dunn community has been selected as assistant county performance supervisor for the 1938 program, according to J. H. Jean, chairman of the county committee of the ACA.

Other organizational setup was also completed, with the following field supervisors:

W. F. Mathis, Holly Shuler, Andy Jones, Frank A. Wilson, Francis E. Johnson, J. M. Glass, W. M. Hairston, I. S. Cross, Leo H. Beever, C. P. Gilmore, R. A. Hardee and J. E. Falls.

Under 1938 administrative rulings, the producer will assist the performance supervisor in the crop measurements, and special effort will be made to make sure that all details of the various practices of the 1938 program be jotted down on the map and supervisor's report.

However, it will not be the duty of the supervisor to figure the acreage of any of the land in the fields. The computing will be done in the offices of the association, under the supervision of the county performance supervisor and the county agent, with the approval of the county committee.

B. M. Irwin, district performance field engineer for the state board, is in the county this week to check supervisors and field practices.

"Since performance supervision directly affects the amount of the producer's payment check, it is urged that every producer cooperate fully to the end that his payment check may be correct," says the county agent. The performance supervisors will make only one measurement of any crop or field. Any second or remeasurement will be at the producer's expense.

Snyder Baseballers To Play in Tourney

Snyder's baseball team has entered the state-wide semi-pro tournament, and will play its opening game Friday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, against Haskell. Colorado is the site of the 10-day district tournament, which opens today and closes July 17. Twelve or 14 teams are expected to enter.

Winner of the district tournament goes to the state tournament late in July and gets a chance at the $500 first prize. Cecil Reynolds and Earl Strawn are managers of the local team.

Bill Vaughn Moves To His Own Station

Bill Vaughn is this week opening a business of his own, after working at J. C. Dawson's Dixie Service Station for nine years.

He is taking charge of the T-P Service Station, just north of Towle's Jewelry, and will call his place of business Bill's Service Station.

Vaughn will of course handle T-P products, do general car servicing, including washing and greasing, handled bottled drinks, and a line of every-day accessories.

WINSTON HERD OF HEREFORDS TO BE VISITED

Texas Hereford Association Tour to Include Winston Brothers Next Week

The third of a series of Hereford tours, sponsored by the Texas Hereford Association, will include the Winston Brothers herd of Snyder next Thursday morning, July 14.

Harrie and Wade Winston are making preparations to entertain a large group of visiting breeders and others interested in Hereford cattle. After spending the night in Sweetwater, the tour group will inspect the local herd during the morning.

At noon they will inspect the John Henry Dean herd, between Snyder and Lamesa, and lunch will be served there. The tour will end with a visit to the I. B. Cagle herd near Big Spring late in the afternoon.

Locals to Join Group

At least one of the Winston Brothers, and possible others from this territory interested in fine cattle, will join the group here. Harrie Winston was on the second tour two weeks ago, going from the Beville to the Brownwood country. He is former president of the state association, and a present state director. Dean is a member of the executive committee.

"The first two tours have been very successful," declares a letter from the Texas Hereford Association offices at Ft. Worth, "and the opportunity to see a maximum number of herds in a short time and visit with our fellow breeders has caused those who have participated in these tours to feel that they have benefited greatly for the time spent."

Itinerary of the third tour, prior to the overnight stay at Sweetwater includes:

Leave Albany Tuesday, July 12, to visit the herds of John P. Sedwick, the Diamond Ranch of F. W. Alexander, where a tree killing demonstration will also be given.

The group will be guests of the Albany Chamber of Commerce for luncheon. At 1:00 p. m. they leave for the herds of G. P. Mitchell and Son and Dr. F. E. Clark at Cisco, and the herd of C. M. Largent and Sons, Merkel, where they will be supper guests.

After spending Tuesday night at Sweetwater, the breeders will visit the following herds Wednesday: J. D. Dulaney & Sons, Wimberly Hereford Farm, G. E. Bradford, Walter Boothe, Jack Frost, E. P. Neblett and John B. Stribling. They will be guests of the Frost place for luncheon, of the Sweetwater Hereford Breeders for supper.

MANY ATTEND FIRST SERVICE

Opening service of the Church of Christ revival last (Wednesday) night attracted a large crowd, according to a report from O. D. Dial, minister of the local organization.

In the pulpit is youthful Fred McClung of Ft. Worth, said to be one of the leading evangelists of the Church of Christ. He has conducted successful revivals in several states.

A large sign across the highway tells of the revival four blocks east of the square. Benches have been placed on the church property just east of the building, and the outdoor meeting place is well lighted.

Light Business for Council This Month

An unusually light session of the City Council was held Monday night, with only a few matters of business coming before the Snyder dads.

Aldermen from each of the three wards were authorized to select a man to serve on the board of tax equalization for 1938. Authority was granted for curb and gutter on a portion of 27th Street, just west of the bridge, and Avenue U, a block west of Deep Creek.

Bills totaling $1,370.97 were allowed. Water and sewer collections were $1,522.39; taxes, $85.17.

SPONSOR

Snyder's sponsor to the Texas Cowboy reunion at Stamford was Julia Mae McDonnell, above, an expert young housewife who learned tricks of the trade on the Moar Ranch, northwest of Snyder. Although she failed to place on top in Wednesday's judging, she was a favorite with the giant crowd at Stamford.

GRASSHOPPER SCOURGE GETS ON MOVE SOON

County-Wide Survey by Field Men Shows Pests Ready To Shift in Bunches

In spite of the fact that more than 100,000 pounds of grasshopper poison bait have been distributed from the Snyder mixing plant on more than 390 farms in the county, the hoppers are still infesting this area in huge numbers—and more are to come.

This is the report from Dr. W. Dickison, fieldman for the federal grasshopper control, as indicated by a county-wide grasshopper survey last Thursday.

Continued rains have held the grasshoppers in the green spots of pastures and roadsides, to a great extent. But a careful investigation shows that they are now gathering in bunches, which indicates they will soon be on the move. Many can be seen crossing county roads.

The jumbo hopper is in the mating season, and will soon be laying eggs to a report for next year's crop, according to a report from the county agent's office. The various types will not begin laying until August and September. In addition to these county-hatched hoppers, the most destructive type, known as the migratory hopper, is in flight from the North Plains, with quite a few already showing up in this county.

"We should continue to watch our fields carefully, and scatter poison bait at least every other day to maintain control," declares the county agent. "Unless we use the ample supply of poison bait on hand in the mixing plant on Bridge Street we will have to allow it to be transferred to other counties that have exhausted their supply and are begging for more. In many cases, in other counties, the hoppers are eating the green portions of pecan trees, fruit trees and all other types of vegetation."

Sunday, July 10, at 11:00 o'clock preaching services will be held at the Mt. Zion Methodist Church and at Lloyd Mountain school house at 3:00 o'clock. Everybody is invited.—M. W. Clark, Methodist preacher.

Elizabeth Miller of Borden County First in Stamford Sponsor Contest

Elizabeth Miller of the Miller Brothers ranch, Scurry County, took first prize in the sponsors' contest Wednesday at the Ninth Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion held in Stamford July 4, 5 and 6. Miss Miller won second place in the contest last year.

Prize for the Fluvanna girl was a beautiful hand carved saddle, which was presented by Governor James V. Alfred, who was on hand for most of the three-day rodeo-reunion.

PASTOR FROM AMARILLO WILL LEAD REVIVAL

First Methodist Church to Begin Two-Week Meeting Under Rev. H. C. Smith

In the pulpit for the First Methodist Church's two-week revival that begins next Sunday, July 10, will be Rev. H. C. Smith, pastor of the San Jacinto Heights Methodist Church, Amarillo.

Regular preaching services will be held morning and evening, and special services will be announced later, according to the pastor, Rev. H. C. Gordon. Young people will be especially honored in some of the special services.

In charge of song services will be King Sides, regular choir director. Rev. Gordon states that a large part of the revival services will be built around choir, congregational and special singing.

Cooperation of all churches of the town in a community-wide religious endeavor is requested by the pastor and leaders of the First Methodist Church.

Robinson Dairy Has New Grade A Rating

Robinson's Sanitary Dairy, located on the northeastern edge of Snyder, was given "Grade A" permit No. 1 Tuesday by Dr. I. A. Griffin, city health officer.

This rating, based on strict sanitary conditions, equipment and milk handling, came after inspections by state men as well as by the local health officer. It must be maintained in order for the rating to be kept, since inspections are made frequently.

Mrs. W. B. Robinson has been operating a dairy in Snyder for seven years. She has 26 cows, and 22 of them are being milked at this time.

Election "Party" Set July 23 for Scurry, Borden

The most complete election party ever held in Snyder is the theme of The Scurry County Times for the first primary, July 23.

In addition to its usual complete coverage of precinct, county, district and state races, The Times this year will offer Borden County voters an opportunity to receive these same returns, by telephone, at Gall.

County chairman S. C. Keen of Borden County is requesting all his chairmen to send in complete returns immediately after the polls close, in order that Borden people and the state as a whole may know how the election runs in that county.

D. D. Ward, veteran drug store owner at Gall, has kindly consented the use of his telephone in sending and receiving election returns.

This service to Borden County is offered without charge by The Times.

REBUILDING OF SCHOOL PLANS LOOKING GOOD

Three trips to Ft. Worth within the past week by members of the school board, school officials and other local citizens, have resulted in encouraging reports concerning construction of a school plant to replace the burned structure.

Earmarked No. 3 among new projects, out of the seven-state regional PWA office at Ft. Worth, the local project was moved up to No. 3 in the region among projects actually approved by the regional office and forwarded to Washington for final checking.

Local school officials said they actually mailed the application to Washington, and that the emergency nature of the local program was cited by regional officials on the rebuilding specifications.

Several old projects, filed under a former PWA program, have been approved in Texas and other states but only two new projects had been approved in the regional office when the Snyder application went to Washington.

This seven-state PWA area includes Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Louisiana, Kansas and Arkansas.

Mrs. Spivey will be in Waxahachie, where she will be on the faculty of the young people's conference July 13-20. Largest and oldest of the conferences conducted by the Presbyterian Church in Texas, the gathering serves the churches of North, East and Central Texas.

I AM A Butler Filter

—I came to work for Snyder Tailoring Company three weeks ago, along with a lot of other new equipment. They told me when I left the factory that I was the finest fellow of my kind on the market today.

—My job is to clarify all the naphtha used in cleaning clothes at my new home. I take out all the grime, grease and other impurities from the naphtha, returning crystal clear fluid to the washers.

—About 1,000 gallons of naphtha pass through my filters an hour, or three gallons a minute. Therefore, naphtha is changed four times a minute in the 40-gallon washer.

—Let me have the dirt from your clothes, because I really like my job. Come to see me while I'm in operation some of these days.

A HUNDRED HENS

Editors' Note: This is the sixth of a series of articles furnished by T. C. Richardson, secretary of the Texas Breeder-Feeder Association, at the suggestion of R. J. Edwards, president of the Texas Press Association. Purpose behind the articles is to cooperate with Texas farmers in using to the best advantage the acres taken out of one-crop production under the AAA.

"I have found that 100 hens is about the right number as a farm flock," says Mrs. Greer Creager of Wilbarger County, Texas. "I can take care of that number without their interfering a great deal with other duties, and they pick up a large part of their feed around the place. I usually buy or hatch 300 chicks, sell off the roosters at frying size, and sell the cull pullets down to the 100 best ones for next winter's layers. They are bringing me several dollars a week in egg money."

Mrs. Otto Obenhaus of the same county agrees with Mrs. Creager. Mrs. I. B. Wray of Wilson County says, "Practically the same thing. So does Mrs. Schneider of Hays County, and Pat Geiselsbrecht. Clifton banker, back them all up with the statement that 'a farm flock of chickens or turkeys is the safest security; if they get into large numbers it takes more time and special attention than most farmers and their wives can give them, and of debt for supplies, whatever the price.

Many Southwestern farmers have no chickens at all. Most of them have less than enough to supply the family with all the eggs it can eat, and chicken on Sunday. If the ladies quoted know their chickens—and results show they do—most Southwestern farm families are missing out by not keeping more hens. Maybe 100 is too many for some farms, as they now are, but not if the farms are planted as they should be.

In the past generation scores of big 'poultry farms' have been started, great expense incurred in equipment, the best of breeding stock secured, and skilled management employed. Few of them operate long. A good many farm folk get 'the chicken bug' and true to the American spirit of doing big things in a big way, start with 500 or 1,000 chicks. Usually they also retire shortly, for reasons unnecessary to explain.

Meanwhile the farm flock goes on and on, and outside of a few special regions like Petaluma or in the environs of great eastern cities, the farm flock continues to supply the maturing egg of the hungry urbanites of the nation. The answer is that the farm flock is less liable to disease, requires less expense and

The intermediate department of the First Baptist Church observed "Pastor's Week," June 27 through July 3, honoring Rev. Ira Harrison. Leading the observance was Mrs. Clyde Boren, superintendent of the department, Mrs. W. W. McCarty, assistant superintendent, and Geraldine Chapman, secretary.

Forty-eight letters and cards were received by the pastor Monday, first day of the special week. Thirty handkerchiefs were in a special delivery package he received Tuesday, along with a hand-painted picture, "The Mountain Climber."

Wednesday night 22 department members sat in a reserved section at prayer meeting. Fourteen pairs of socks were in a Thursday package.

A picnic social on the church lawn, featuring hamburgers cooked by Fred Boren, Dale Reed and Lyle Alexander, and served with hot doughnuts, cookies and punch to 40 members and guests, was the Friday night feature. At the close of the social, the superintendent presented five books and 15 Testaments to pupils making the best grades during the past quarter.

The pastor received a loose leaf notebook containing notes of his sermons, kept by intermediates for the past six Sundays.

Twenty hand-made place cards for officers and teachers of the department and guests marked the final gesture for the pastor, when a breakfast was given at 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning in the church basement. Favors for the teachers were individual class notebooks, and guests were given purse-sized notebooks.

Teachers in the department are Mrs. W. B. Harral, Mrs. Nelson Dunn, Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Clyde Boren, Jack Inman, Joe Graham and Roy Irvin.

SCURRY COUNTY FARM NEWS

From the County Farm Agent's Office

History in the Making.

Saturday afternoon, July 2, 1938—mark that date! It was the beginning of another chapter in the constructive history of Scurry County. When farm and ranch men and women and business men sacrifice their respective business operations to get together for the common good of all the community, things worth while begin to happen.

Civility of Purpose.

The sincerity of purpose displayed by the more than 75 farm and ranch men and women and business men of Scurry County at the meeting in the district court room Saturday afternoon is certainly getting us somewhere. Decision and action took form for holding of a county-wide Products Show or Fair. The will to do, the pride of ownership, the true spirit of cooperation will get the job done. Mark your calendars for Saturday, July 16, and do not fail to attend your Products Show or Fair meeting in the district court room. The date must be set. Time is short. Action is required.

Soil Contest Entered.

Again we find the "will to do" in the organization of the soil and water utilization committee, at a special meeting and district court room. The committee has made official certificate of entrance, through its secretary, in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce soil and water utility contest. By this action Scurry County farm, ranch and business people are demonstrating their cooperative capacity not only among themselves but with the other counties of West Texas. This provides a systematic approach to the solution of one of the most vital problems of the county, state and nation. Again we say—mark your calendar, and make sure of your presence at the next soil and water utility committee meeting.

Cooperation Does It.

Through cooperation of the various communities, the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, the Snyder school board and individuals, 12 Four-H Club boys and girls are now at A. & M. College, with their men and women sponsors and Extension Service agents, obtaining gainful information and experience. Contacts with 2,500 other Four-H boys and girls alone is worth the time, but in addition the very constructive is practical education.

The Battle Cry of 1938.

The battle cry — "Watch those grasshoppers!" Fight them with poison bait. Watch those army worms. They are coming now. Some are already here. Fight them with poison bran. Watch out for the flea hoppers. They will gather your first and maybe your last cotton crop for 1938. Fight them with flour sulphur. They are coming from the south and east by the billions." We have fought the hail and storm, the wind and the sand. Let's not give up now. We simply cannot afford to give up, and we won't give up. That is why we are here.

Wild Game Management.

Watch for the date on the next wild game management meeting. It will soon be hunting season again. It is another money crop we cannot afford to pass up. There are many who have signed game management agreements who have not posted their game management signs. Let's do it now! They are to be had at the Wilkinson lumber yard. Give the game birds and fish a chance. They need us and we need them.

Feed Prospects Fine.

Feed crop prospects are fine. Save and store your feedstuffs. Next year it will be different. It has been different. If you sell your trench silos and dig and fill another one. If you have sold your oats, buy them back. You can keep oats for years and they will always be worth what you pay for them now. Take advantage of these conditions and prepare for the bad years that always come. When they come, let's not have to borrow money with which to buy feed. Save your feed—then you can save your cash or credit in other years.

county committee of the ACA as County wheat supervisor of wheat crop insurance. You will have a choice of insuring your 1939 wheat crop at either 50 or 75 per cent of average yields established for the farm just as soon as the rates for Scurry County have been received. August 30 is the closing date for receiving wheat crop insurance applications. Watch for the meeting dates.

Watch Horses, Mules.

Watch your horses and mules. July is the month for sleeping sickness or "blind staggers" to appear. When symptoms appear, isolate the animals and call a veterinarian. Better watch these bargain buys and trades on animals from other sections of the county. It is better to be safe than sorry.

The pastor has a message at each each of us.

Service that will be of interest to Our revival begins Sunday, July 31.—Rev. Ira Harrison, pastor.

When the See of York fell vacant in the reign of George II, the King consulted the Rev. Dr. Mountain about whom he should appoint.

The doctor replied, "Hadst thou faith in a grain of mustard seed thou would say to this Mountain—at the same time laying his hand on his breast—"be removed and be thou cast in the Sea."

The King laughed heartily and conferred the preferment on the facetious doctor.—Edinburgh Dispatch.

NOTICE

I now come to the public, and most especially to my good friends, with this simple statement in regard to what has been done and said of me in the last week or 10 days.

Now it is generally said that a man can't be honest and run for a public office. I am among the few that dispute this saying. It is also generally supposed that a candidate will turn the polished side to the public, and hide the dark side. I don't wish to do that. I stand before you, your present sheriff, asking to be elected for a second term.

I am just a man subject to mistakes, not asking any man or woman to go beyond his or her better judgment in anything for me. I love right and despise wrong, even in myself. I still believe in law enforcement, and if you consider I have served you reasonably well as your present sheriff, I tell you I am big enough to serve you again.

I want the people to know that they are to be wholly the judge of my worthiness, and I promise you now, whatever your decision is—let it be for me or against me, in public life or private—I will strive hard to do what good people would expect a good man to do.

I am yours for right, CLYDE THOMAS, Sheriff Scurry County. 1c

About Walking Across Fields

I am having a wonderful time walking across the fields to see you voters. I have been in the field with a hoe or plow at this time of the year most every year for the last 35 years, so I am enjoying the visits. But because of a lack of time I shall have to stop walking across the fields that I may be able to call at more homes.

Please accept my call at your home as a personal call to see all the voters in the home.

I am anxious to see all of you, but my time is very limited. Remember, I am in the race to win.

RUFUS MIZE, Candidate for County Superintendent. 1p

To the Voters of Precinct No. 4

With only 16 days left before the primary, I wish to thank the people of Precinct No. 4 for their consideration and encouragement thus far in my race for commissioner.

I again assure you that, if elected, I shall discharge the duties of the office in keeping with business principles and the statutes governing commissioners' duties.

During most of the past 37 years I have been a business man in Scurry County, and I pledge myself to use this experience toward a conscientious and efficient discharge of official services.

Yours respectfully, W. W. (Ward) GROSS. 1p

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs and hundreds of thousands of boys, themselves, enthusiastically recommend The American Boy Magazine for all boys over twelve.

"It's more like a companion than a magazine," remarked one high school student. "It gives advice and entertainment on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. I made our school basketball team solely because of playing tips I read in 'The American Boy.'"

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce, in 'The American Boy,' just the sort of stories and articles boys like best.

The American Boy sells on all newsstands at 15 cents a copy. Subscription prices are $1.50 for one year or $3 for three years. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

An Irish golfer was visiting a neighboring town and noticing a wonderful golf course. Inquired whether he would be permitted to play over it. I'm an undertaker, and to show my appreciation, I'll bury the first member of this club who dies free of charge!" Six Scotchmen dropped dead!

FIRE WARNING GIVEN BY CITY

Recent requests of city officials for onlookers to keep away from fires and fire fighters became iron-clad warnings, after a Sunday afternoon fire that destroyed a small outbuilding at the Ed W. Thompson home of Northeast Snyder.

Trucks were almost blocked away from the fire Sunday afternoon, according to firemen and city officials. License numbers of many cars were taken by the officials. Simon Best, city marshal, acting under authority of city ordinances and at the request of the City Council, states that fines will absolutely be assessed and collected for violation of fire ordinances.

Full text of ordinances relating to fire-alarm traffic will be found on page seven of this issue.

A New Era Lies Ahead For Scurry County

We are made of common clay, and common clay demands that we speak often in such terms as "best," "worst," "sandest," "driest," "wettest," "windiest," "hottest," "coldest" and "fastest growing."

So it is that The Times feels a bit of hesitancy in expressing the sincere opinion that a new era lies ahead for Scurry County.

First evidence of this new era is the fact that Snyder is waking up to her responsibility as the leading town in the county. Second evidence is the fact that the farmers and ranch folks, practically all of whom wish to look toward Snyder for leadership and friendship, are finding in Snyder people a warm welcome for suggestions that would build the entire county.

Combine these two evidences of cooperation and friendship, and you have what it takes to build a county without equal for progress, happiness and livability.

Third evidence of this new era is the tremendous improvement in farm practices. Notable among these improvements are soil, water and feeding saving plans; and the change from cotton to a diversity of crops that will insure a year-round income.

From week to week The Times will have much to say along this line, as it has in the past. Readers are invited to send in their opinions, their plans, their accomplishments, their hopes... that all of us may build together a Scurry County that knows less of cotton worms, less of negligence, more of neighborliness, more of year-round healthful living.

Editorial of the Week

A MILLION PUBLICITY STORIES

More than a coincidence is the circumstance that an integral part of the governmental set-up of every totalitarian country is a department of propaganda. One of the first things to which dictators or would-be dictators turn their attention is the task of seeing that the country's press is "in line." The press must be controlled. Free newspapers are incompatible with a dictatorship.

And so in every totalitarian nation there is a man or a group of men charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that the newspapers publish what is "right" and suppress what is "wrong."

Things have not yet come to such a pass in the United States. This nation does not yet have a cabinet position corresponding to that held in Germany by Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of public enlightenment and propaganda. American newspapers are still free either to publish the vast outpourings of government publicity or to cast the mimeographed sheets blithely into the editorial wastebaskets.

If the former course is followed, more pages have to be added to all editions to take care of the "news" sent from Washington in envelopes which require no stamps; if the latter course is followed, more and bigger wastebaskets have to be purchased. For there is no cessation of the flow of publicity sheets into newspaper offices all over the country. They pour in by the thousands—indeed by the millions.

As a matter of fact, newspaper editors of the single state of Texas must dispose in some fashion of more than one and a quarter millions of publicity stories received from the federal government during a year's time.

Some individuals—but not the editors!—may be disposed to question the accuracy of the statement that departments of the federal government send more than one and a quarter millions of publicity releases to Texas newspapers in a year. But it is a reasonably correct, quite possibly even a conservative, figure. It was arrived at by polling a group of Texas newspaper editors representing all sections of the State. These editors, some on weeklies, were asked to report on the number of pieces of publicity material they receive from all federal departments within an average week.

Results of this survey reveal that the average Texas newspaper receives thirty-eight publicity stories per week from various departments of the Government at Washington. Most of the dailies receive more than thirty-eight releases; most of the weeklies receive not quite so many. The average is thirty-eight. Moreover, several of the editors reported that there has been a noticeable falling-off in the franked mail from Washington with the coming of summer months. "Some of the experts must be taking vacations," opined one editor.—Booth Mooney in The Texas Weekly.

Looking At Facts

Whatever you may think of the governor's race and its leading candidates, you must surely come to the conclusion, despite a terrific flow of campaign propaganda, that never before have voters been given a chance to select a more capable man. Either of the five candidates who are generally considered as the leaders will probably make Texas at least an average governor, and at least two or three of them are well above the average. The voter would do well to settle down to the consideration of basic issues in the race, and not to seriously consider last-minute campaign-fodder, whether the fodder comes from the hoppers of McCraw, Thompson, O'Daniel, Hunter or Crowley camps.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN.

Gettysburg, Pa.—On the route to this historic city, where the boys in blue and gray are observing the 75th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg. We first followed the moisture line from Snyder to Lubbock and Amarillo. Crops on the Plains proper are about a month later than around Snyder, with cotton and feed being plowed over for the first time.

At Amarillo the U. S. helium plant loomed up in the distance as some ghost city below scattered rain clouds, with the rigs at Pampa darkened with the black gold of petroleum. At our Texas boundary, the troubled Red River was fighting its way to the walled Gulf. Leaving Texas behind, we soon left cotton and milo maize in the background. For once a corner of Oklahoma was crossed. We saw no more cotton or maize on the Gettysburg trail.

Farm hands were waist deep in the grain fields of Kansas, harvesting wheat, oats, and barley with broadest binders. At Kansas City four more pullmans, containing vets from Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado, were added to the train, making 16 Pullman coaches in all. This side of Kansas City we passed through a rich truck farm area, with tomatoes, cabbage, and onions replacing the golden grain fields south and west of Kansas City.

At Fort Madison we stopped long enough to view the turbulent Mississippi lapping against the railroad trestle. Under the new flood control program, long breakwater lines of rock are being built to check the eroding effect of unchecked waves. A few of us Texas Rebels who walked along the banks of this mighty stream saw bullfrogs that would put the Texas variety to shame when it came to size. The first river boat was sighted at Fort Madison, lazily plowing through the brackish water.

At this corner of Iowa we realized that we had seen a great portion of the nation's bread basket, with corn fields galore all the way from Kansas City to Chicago. Chicago, with its bright lights and sawtooth faced dudes, was a welcome relief, for the engineer held our Grand Canyon limited around 90 from Kansas City to Capone's former stomping grounds. The fringe of the Great Lakes at night might have been, for all we could tell, the uneven shoreline of some restless sea.

Leaving Chicago behind, our next stop of importance was at the troubled city of Akron, where broken factory windows and a few brick scared workers greeted us. Pittsburgh, the city of steel, appeared out of the blue morning mists as a city of dirty smokestacks and time weathered overhauled bridges. The peaceful Monongahela, with its river boats and oiled-dredging waters, followed the roadbed for about 160 winding miles.

Maryland, our Maryland, with its purple robed mountains and springs by the right-of-way, was a riot of scenic beauty. We paused at Cumberland, where our iron horse was watered, and came through historic Cumberland Gap. This side of Pittsburgh we noticed old kilns and mines that were abandoned when the dark days of reconstruction came to a close.

Our group of Texas Rebels had long since thawed out, and by now were regaling New York and Maryland society matrons with tales that drew belly laughs from even the most jaded sisters. Each meal in the dining car was turned into a miniature Gettysburg, some people hearing for the first time about corn pone, cotton fields, and the noble sacrifice made by the boys in blue and gray—even though they all realized by now that war "was hell."

After leaving Cherry Run, West Virginia, we came through the old dominion's famed Blue Ridge Mountains, with two-story homes, rail fences, and fields of clover reminding the Vets that the golden chain of memory would bind them forever to the days of their boyhood. Wednesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock we arrived at Gettysburg, after having traveled 1,800 miles that the blue and gray might meet at this, the last Gettysburg roundup.

Londoners have been griping for sometime because American grape fruit and oranges have been finding their way to many a British table, leaving "colony" raised fruit to fall by the wayside. Which reminds us that our relief administration will shortly cart 200,000 cases of Texas and California grape fruit juice indigents in Cleveland, Toledo, and other poverty pinched cities. One source suggests our needy have been living on cabbage and potatoes so long this liquid diet will be necessary before they can partake of solid foods again (in decent quantities).

National Benefactors

Who was the most beneficial man in American history? If the reply is based on material benefits, surely that man must be Thomas A. Edison. Of the approximate two million patents on file in the patent office, 1,150 are Thomas A. Edison's. When Edison died in 1931, industries arising directly from his inventions represented an investment of more than 25 billions and were directly providing two million jobs—more than the total employed the same year by the automotive, railway and steel industries combined.

NEW OFFICERS WELCOMED BY SNYDER LIONS

Ladies' Night Program Features Installation, Fun and Talk by Spivey

New officers, scheduled to serve during the fiscal year beginning July 1, were installed by Snyder Lions Club Tuesday night in a meeting at which the Lions' ladies were honor guests.

Heading the new official family is H. L. Wren, president, who called on the members to back him up in an effort to keep the Lions Club truly a service club. John E. Sentell, past president, conducted installation services.

Other officers are as follows: W. R. Bell, first vice president; Willard Jones, second vice president; Herman Darby, secretary (re-elected); G. B. Clark Jr., treasurer; (re-elected) Billie Lee, tall twister; King Sikes, Lion tamer; Earl Brown and G. B. Johnson, directors.

Fun, Talk Featured.

A talk by Rev. James E. Spivey that held up the ideal of service was a highlight of the meeting. The fun sessions included "Brain Busters," presented by C. Wedgeworth, with the outgoing and incoming tall twisters, Willard Jones and Billie Lee, "taking the rap."

A. C. Preult, outgoing president, thanked members for their cooperation during the fiscal year, and pledged his assistance to the new administration.

A special unexpected guest was George Sergeant, Centennial mayor of Dallas, who spoke briefly. He was surprised, he said, to learn that Rev. Spivey, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lilly, all friends of others years, were in the banquet group.

Snyder Quartet Sings. Performing music for the evening was Snyder Quartet. Two members were presented by Lentie Bell Tase: Emmitt Butts, Jack Patrick, J. P. Tate, with Mrs. Butts accompanying.

The guest list for the evening, in addition to the wives, included: George Sergeant of Dallas, Rev. and Mrs. James E. Spivey, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lilly, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Blum, Miss Vela Bell of Ennis, Elizabeth Ann Wedgeworth, and the Snyder Quartet.

Because of holiday and vacation interference, a small crowd attended the annual program.

A factor in Lee's defeat at Gettysburg was found in the resignation of General Hooker of the Union forces, who was replaced by General George C. Meade. Meade was an abler opponent that Lee had figured on encountering.

In General George E. Pickett's immortal charge, 12,000 Confederates went down Seminary Ridge toward the Union lines, but only 100 reached their goal. On July 3, 1863, 18,000 Confederates charge up Cemetery Hill in a supreme effort to dislodge the closely entrenched Union forces.

War's Turning Point. When the Confederates were repulsed, with tremendous losses, it meant the Battle of Gettysburg was practically won. A total of 3000 Union men fell at Gettysburg, with the South losing 2,500.

In November of 1863, Abraham Lincoln attended the services dedicating Gettysburg as a National Park, and on this date delivered his immortal "Gettysburg Address." And on April 26, 1865, Johnson's surrender to Sherman at Raleigh, North Carolina, saved the Union from the civil strife that had torn the nation apart for four blood-stained years.

As the boys in blue and gray assembled in Gettysburg for the last roundup, both Rebel and Yankee were softened by the effect of having lived 75 years since this internal strife lined brother up against brother. While a few called each other "damned" Yankees or Rebels, 99 per cent of the boys now realize that we are in fact a united nation under one flag.

No. Mason-Dixon Line. The most noticeable thing about this Gettysburg reunion is that the boys in Blue and Gray are awakening to the fact there is no Mason and Dixon Line today; no dividing line that would again sever America into warring sections.

Slightly over 1,900 Civil War veterans, each with an attendant, are being fed at the four mess halls. A total of 5,000 people (including soldiers and 500 Pennsylvania state police) have consumed 25 tons of meat products, 10,000 gallons of milk, and 45,000 half pints of ice cream during the last Blue and Gray reunion.

July 1 John S. Rice, Chairman, Pennsylvania Commission, formally opened the program for the Gettysburg reunion, G. A. R. Chaplain Martin V. Stone giving the opening prayer. An address of welcome by Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania was followed by Harry H. Woodring, secretary of war, addressing the crowded thousands assembled in College Stadium.

Commanders Speak. Both G. A. R. and U. C. V. commanders gave talks, with another good program on tap July 2. Morning services July 3 were followed by President Roosevelt's address and unveiling of the Eternal Light Peace Memorial. Sunday night from 8:40 to 10:00 o'clock aerial maneuvers by the G. H. Q. air force from Langley Field simulated a night attack on Gettysburg.

The might of the U. S. Army air force was hurled into this night attack, six B-17 "Flying fortresses" combining with 42 other planes to give the Civil War vets a taste of modern warfare. A battery of anti-aircraft guns defended the city.

July 4 another aerial demonstration by the G. H. Q. air force from Langley Field was given, a salute of 48 guns to the nation being followed in the afternoon at 5:00 o'clock by another parade.

Thus it was that Wednesday the 1,900 Civil War vets who came to Gettysburg from the four corners of the nation, entrained for home, with memories of the greatest reunion ever held in honor of the Blue and Gray.

Visitors at our camp, 442 N. included people from every state in the union. Callers included John E. Garner, chief, division environmental hygiene, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who traces his family tree back to the same sources as George M. D. Garner. Congressman Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, accompanied by his son, Carl, together with Carl's wife, dropped by Sunday afternoon for an extended visit.

After having talked with people from the nation's 48 states, and after having realized that this was the last reunion of the Blue and Gray, we made preparations Tuesday afternoon to entrain for our home county with renewed appreciation for having been referred to as "Texas Longhorns" every day we were at Gettysburg.

The American Red Cross was organized May 21, 1881.

Report Showing Of Good Pay in County Oil Well

Probable production of 12 to 15 barrels at 2,280 to 2,290 feet was reported Saturday from Scurry's first 1938 oil test. Drilling is expected to continue tomorrow from 2,433 feet, after a two-day shutdown because of a fishing job. Drilling equipment is being overhauled today.

The well is the Corfield & Guhrig, Spears & Brownfield No. 1, lying west of Ira. It was spudded in during May.

The No. 1 C. M. Wellborn, staked late in June, 12 miles west and two miles south of Snyder, has not yet been started by the contractors, the Grisham & Hunter Corporation of Abilene, although preliminary work has been done at the location.
