Cameron Man Wins Top Rodeo Honors

Cameron Cowhand Ropes for $110 Cash, Large Number of Prizes Given By Merchants

Frank Heselk of Cameron, traveling from deep Central Texas to take part in the second annual Scurry County rodeo, was the top money winner for both days.

He carried away $110 in cash and a large number of prizes given by Snyder merchants. His individual winnings both days gave him the best two-day average on cows and calves for a $25 special prize.

Heselk's two day total on cows and calves was 72.1 seconds, or an average for each roping of slightly more than 18 seconds.

Vaughn Harris of Gail was second, with 80.4 seconds; Wayne Burroughs, Abilene, third, 91.1; Raymond Berryhill, Snyder, fourth, 94.3; Zelma Harrington, Ranger, fifth, 102.2.

Winners the second day made better time, on the average, than on the first day. N. A. Pitcock's 12.2 seconds for calf roping and Raymond Berryhill's 14.3 seconds for cow milking were best. The fourth place winner in cow milking Saturday, would have won first place Friday Saturday winners follow:

New Assignments of 19 NYA Youths Here

A quota of 19 National Youth Administration school aid jobs has been allocated for Scurry County under the 1938-39 school aid program to provide part-time employment for young people in elementary and high schools who cannot otherwise continue in school. J. C. Kellam, state youth director, has announced.

Frank Farmer, county superintendent, has been notified of the number of jobs allocated. He has been requested to organize an advisory committee of local school officials to recommend an equitable distribution of jobs within the county on a basis of youth need and availability of school facilities.

SCHOOL OPENS AT DUNN SOON

It will be school time at Dunn Monday, September 5, according to Cleo W. Tarter, superintendent.

Ahead of this school opening schedule is football practice, which will begin next Monday under direction of Coach C. B. Connally. All boys who wish to come out for the team are urged to report at that time.

All of the school's nine teachers have not been selected. Two hundred sixty scholars are in the school's territory this year. A large number of these will ride the four buses that were in use last year. One new credit, general agriculture, bringing the school's total to 19 1/2, will be offered in high school.

Students will come from the Big Sulphur and Independence districts, and high school students from the China Grove district.

OVERFLOW AT SCURRY RODEO ALL SESSIONS

Directors Say Success This Year Assures Expansion Program For Third Event in '39

Overflow crowds at the four performances of the second annual Scurry County Rodeo Friday and Saturday assure an expansion program and an even greater show in 1939, according to directors of the association.

J. M. Stewart, president, said immediately after the show Saturday night that performers, spectators, rodeo directors and all others connected with the two-day event were highly pleased with the performance.

Cowhands found the livestock plenty tough, and that's what the customers wanted. The crowds in the stands and hundreds on the sidelines were in good humor at every show, and salty performances were given good ovations.

Two Good Parades.

Friday's parade, with more than 100 horses, a number of floats and many other vehicles, broke all parade records by starting five minutes early. It was under direction of Bill Miller of Borden County. Miller asks The Times to thank rodeo performers, business men and all others who cooperated to make the parades successful.

Many business houses closed for the Friday afternoon show, but a few failed to cooperate.

Saturday's parade was shorter than Friday's because several floats could not be arranged again. But it, too, was typical of the old West, with horsemen and horsewomen featuring.

Joe York, arena director, led the parades. Special features included: Mrs. W. B. Willingham of Hobbs, riding a side saddle and wearing a riding outfit more than 50 years old; Elizabeth Miller, Borden County, winner of the sponsor's contest at Stamford last year; and city and rodeo officials in loud regalia.

Several Specialties.

Several specialties added to all the shows. Junior steer riding was a well applauded event, although the small steers slowed the show down considerably by misbehaving in the chutes. D. M. Cogdell Jr. 16-year-old Snyder roper, declared by many cowhands to be the best junior roper in the state, also made a hit.

John Lindsey of Ft. Worth, clown, with his educated mule, Hoover, was up to his old and laughable tricks. Silver King, white educated horse from Big Spring, under the guidance of Truett Taylor of Potosi, was also popular.

Delegates to Be Named.

The game management program will be further pushed Saturday, when the executive committee will meet at Gail to appoint additional deputy wardens. The committee is composed of A. M. Clayton, chairman; Charles Nunnally, secretary; treasurer; E. E. Long, vice chairman; Paul Boggan, John Brownlin, W. M. Hays, John Conrad, executive committee.

Eighteen trench silos were built in Borden County at the end of 1937, and eight have been built this year. This total of 26 silos, filled or in process of filling, will be supplemented by at least 25 more this year, judging from present interest.

Little more than five per cent of Borden County farmers are seriously bothered with worms, and most of these are adjoining Dawson County. Leaf worms are the worst offenders. Agent McLeRoy anticipates small damage from the pests unless they become much worse.

Local Groups To NFLA Gathering Early This Week

More than 50 officers and directors, representing 22 National Farm Loan Associations, attended a group meeting held at Lubbock Tuesday, according to Hugh Boren, secretary-treasurer of the Snyder National Farm Loan Association. A. Johnston, J. A. Merritt and W. B. Lemons, local directors, also attended the meeting.

More than 1,915 loans totaling $4,440,400 were made during the first seven months of 1938 by the Federal Land Bank of Houston and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation to Texas farmers and ranchers. Of this amount, $1,208,780, representing 596 loans, was for the purchase of land for agricultural purposes.

Nearly 400 bank-owned farms were sold to Texas farmers during the same period. The sale of these farms involved considerations totaling $914,032.

These significant facts were brought out by A. C. Williams, president of the bank and general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston, in talking to the group.

J. M. Harris and son, Martin, of Austin, were brief Snyder visitors yesterday and this morning. They were en route to their home after a vacation in Colorado, New Mexico and other western states. Harris was formerly a local attorney.

Election Party

Interest in the second primary does not justify a regular election party and an extra edition, such as The Times featured at first primary time.

But a loud speaker will be installed, as in the first primary, and as many state, district and county results as possible will be broadcast.

Election judges in Scurry and Borden Counties are urged to bring or call in their returns (phone 47, collect). Because of interest in the county and precinct races, all Scurry County judges are urged to send, bring or phone their returns as quickly as possible.

ASSISTANT TO HELP McLEROY IN BORDEN JOB

Game Management Association Signs Up More Than 300,000 Acres in County to West

A full-time assistant farm agent for Borden County, known as the administrative assistant in AAA work, has been assigned to help Agent E. B. McLeRoy, effective September 1.

The new man is an A. & M. graduate, and has seen several months of experience in the work as part-time agent in Coke County. He is W. W. Bronte.

Perful's coming will give McLeRoy more time for handling regular Extension Service work, with the range program and marketing quotas on hand, it has been difficult for the agent to carry on a full program of work.

Four Leading Planks.

The game management program outlined for Borden County are contouring, terracing, trench silo building and a game management program.

The game management program began July 15, with keen interest. The association now has more than 60 members, with combined acreage of more than 300,000. Game management signs are being made by Borden County Four-H boys, who already have orders for 193 signs.

Several hundred more signs have been tentatively ordered, many of them for three counties outside Borden.

The club will use the surplus money, derived from sale of the signs at 30 cents each, for financing out-of-county trips. They are helped considerably in this work by the agent, who is an accomplished sign maker and painter.

Delegates to Be Named.

The game management program will be further pushed Saturday, when the executive committee will meet at Gail to appoint additional deputy wardens. The committee is composed of A. M. Clayton, chairman; Charles Nunnally, secretary; treasurer; E. E. Long, vice chairman; Paul Boggan, John Brownlin, W. M. Hays, John Conrad, executive committee.

Nine to Sweetwater For Sunday Affray

Snyder's baseball nine will go to Sweetwater Sunday afternoon for a game that begins at 3:30 o'clock. On the following Sunday afternoon they play Ackerly here.

They, with some imported players, and Snyder, with some of her regulars missing, staged a slow game at Ackerly last Sunday afternoon, the host team winning, 13-2. At the Colorado tournament recently, the locals won from Ackerly, 15-2. The host team featured Windmill Brown, a Forsan pitcher.

WHY VOTE SATURDAY?

Why vote Saturday? If you pass up the opportunity this week, you will be passing up one of your few opportunities to prove that you are a good citizen.

Why vote Saturday? States, county, district and precinct candidates have worked hard for five weeks (only four weeks usually pass between primaries) to win your vote. Some of them will virtually hold the fate of thousands of Texans in their hands during the next few years.

Will you prove your interest by voting, or will you be content to gripe during the next two years about the state of the Union, and the condition of the state?

Dean Herefords Continue to Win In Other States

Herefords from the John Henry Ranch, between Snyder and Lamesa, continue to win laurels not only in Texas but also in other Hereford shows. And every time a Dean animal wins, a feather is added to the cap of Winston Brothers, Snyder—practically the entire Dean herd was purchased from Winston's.

At Billings, Montana, August 8-13, Dean showed 11 animals. He won more prize money than any other of the 21 herds represented at the far-north show.

At Grand Falls, Montana, just before the Billings show, Dean was second high with his 11 Herefords. He is in Des Moines this week for another well known show.

Chief win at Billings was the reserve champion bull. The champion is Masterman, out of Winston's Advarco Domino return and Sylvio by Domino Return 4th. Regina was the first junior yearling heifer. Her sire is Winston Domino and her mother is Winifred Randolph by Domino Return 14th.

Dean also won first with a senior yearling bull, a summer yearling bull, three bulls, and a pair of yearlings.

His other Billings placings are: Two yearling bulls, fifth; senior bull calf, second; two bulls, second; senior yearling heifers, eighth; summer yearling heifers, fourth; senior heifer calves, fifth; get of sire, fourth; pair of calves, sixth.

FEED CONTEST BOARD NOW UP

A giant thermometer, erected today on the Times Building, draws attention to the county-wide trench silo contest that is to be staged from the week of September 10 through October.

Scurry County Chamber of Commerce board of directors voted last week to give substantial cash prizes at the end of each week of the contest, to a farmer in the winning commissioners' precinct, and a grand prize at the end of the contest to the grand winning precinct.

Hundreds of tons of feed is going into trench silos in all parts of Scurry County. It is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce, co-operating with the county agent's office, farmers and ranchers, to draw attention to the tremendous cash value of saving this year's bumper feed crop.

Complete rules for the contest will be given in The Times in a few days.

Joe Did the Job Right

Joe York's direction of the second annual rodeo of the Scurry County Rodeo Association was a masterpiece of hard work, patience and service, not to mention Joe's natural skill as a cowhand. Joe is shown here astride the horse on which he thundered up and down the arena to keep his difficult job well in hand at all times. He was also director last year.

Fluvanna School Will Open Doors Monday Morning

With students added from two Borden County schools, Fluvanna will begin work Monday morning, August 29, with a general assembly in the auditorium.

Superintendent E. O. Wedgeworth, who is returning for his eleventh year at Fluvanna, says the student body will consist of about 275 students, coming from 11 districts.

Gail, county seat of Borden County, is sending her entire high school student body, and Cedar Creek (Miller), also in Borden County, is sending her entire student body for the first year. Previously the Fluvanna district included Fluvanna, Moor, Snellings, Faxer, Hackberry, White Flat and Gavit. High school students come from the Dermott and Arah districts.

Seven buses, three of them new, will transport this enlarged student body. Five buses were used last year.

Twenty-two credits will be offered in high school this year, including four and one-half units in vocational agriculture. New courses will also be given in traffic safety education in connection with other courses. New visual education equipment was purchased last year, and will be given a definite place in the school program this year.

Only two teachers in the school are newcomers: Mary Bob Hale, who comes from the Gail school, and Mildred Cornelius, who formerly taught at Cedar Creek.

These teachers are returning: Gilbert Mize, high school principal; Leo H. Beaver, grade principal; Buford Brownrigg, vocational agriculture; R. C. Lacy, English and Spanish; Rose Marie Clawson, speech and grade English; Murrel Rankin, history and art; J. T. Farquhar, physical education.

W. H. Jones is president of the Fluvanna board. Other members are: S. P. Sims, T. J. Reas, J. W. Willis, L. A. Haynes, Guy Turner and J. G. Landrum.

NORTH SIDE PAINT.

Jim Lockhart's barber shop on the north side of the square tried to spruce up for the Friday and Saturday visitors, but the paint on the front and awning just didn't dry in time. Anyway, the paint helped the looks of the building, for the benefit of homefolks.

DOUBLE WRAPPER.

Double wrapped bread is now being delivered to county grocers and cafes by Ware's Bakery, south side of the square. This improvement is made possible by a double machine that automatically slices and wraps the loaves in the most modern manner. Folks are invited in to see the machines in operation, says Henry Ware.

100 SUITS ARRIVE.

Exactly 100 brand new fall suits have been received within the past few days at Moffett & Rogers, east side of the square. "If you want to get a squirt at one of the best single shipments of suits, in a wide variety of sizes, patterns and materials, that has been received here in several years, you are invited to drop by a few minutes," says B. P. Moffett and Abe Rogers.

ABSENT VOTING.

Word from the office of County Clerk Chas. J. Lewis this morning indicates that well over 50 absentee votes were cast for Saturday's election. This figure indicates more than usual interest in second primary voting.

PRIMARY MAY FOOL 'EM WITH GOOD TURNOUT

Saturday Ballot Not Very Long, But O'Daniel Influence Helps Attract Many Voters

Although the ballot is not very long, and the second primary traditionally draws a light vote when the governorship is not at stake, the experts may be fooled when the ballots are counted Saturday night.

In Scurry County there is one county-wide race remaining. It matches Roy O. Lavin, former Plainview principal, and H. T. Mize, German principal, for the county superintendent's place.

The Precinct 1 weigher's race assumes almost county-wide proportions, since most voting boxes are in this weigher's precinct. Edgar Wilson faces R. L. (Bob) Terry in this event.

One District Race.

No unusual interest has developed in the district attorney's race, but friends of George Outlaw, incumbent, and Truett Barber of Colorado are doing their best to bring out a hefty vote.

The W. Lee O'Daniel influence is being felt in the six state races, and both pros and cons may come out in large numbers to express their approval or disapproval of the nominee's selection of his favorite candidates.

The railroad commissioner's race carries the most heat. C. V. Terrell, hailing his long record, his O'Daniel sponsorship and Sadler's demerit, C. A. Gerry Sadler, his East Texas opponent, with the able assistance of his cousin, the West Texas showman, Harley Sadler, is putting on a strenuous drive with the musical assistance of his Cowboy Stringers.

Other State Outlooks.

Aside from the O'Daniel angle, the other state races have aroused only casual interest.

Pierce Brooks, Dallas business man, faces Coke R. Stevenson of Junction, former speaker of the House of Representatives, for the lieutenant governorship. Stevenson received the O'Daniel nod.

Walter Woodul of Houston, now lieutenant governor, has O'Daniel's approval, but Gerald C. Mann, former secretary of state, is waging a strenuous campaign for the attorney general's position. Charges and counter charges have also been prevalent in this race.

Bascom Giles of Austin has a tremendous lead to overcome if he beats William H. McDonald of Eastland, incumbent, for the land commissioner's place. His chief asset is O'Daniel's "yes."

Two Judgeship Races.

The two state judgeships have developed more interest than usual.

James A. Stephens of Knox County came out of nowhere to go into the runoff against Harry N. Graves of Williamson County. He is using an unusual personal appeal and long experience against Graves' O'Danielism. Their race is for judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Richard Critz, another Williamson County man, who is holding down as associate justice on the Supreme Court, is opposed by W. H. Davidson of Beaumont.

Scurry County polled slightly more than 3000 votes in the first primary. If present interest continues, her total Saturday of this week should run slightly more than 2,000. Unusual last-minute interest could hoist the total as high as 2,500.

MEETING IN PROGRESS.

Everyone is invited to attend the remainder of the services of a revival meeting being held at the Mt. Zion Church, 10 miles east of Snyder, by Rev. M. W. Clark, Methodist minister. Last service of the revival will come Sunday evening.

SUNDAY SINGING.

Singing will be held at the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon, 3:00 o'clock, according to leaders of the local congregation. Everyone is invited, they say.

Granddaughter Is Three Years Old

Small Gail Grissom of Abilene celebrated her third birthday Tuesday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brown, in Snyder. A pretty birthday cake with three candles was a delight to small Gail as she observed her anniversary.

The three-year-old child has been a guest of the Browns the past three weeks while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grissom, were vacationing in California. All three returned to Abilene Wednesday. Last week Gail accompanied her grandparents to Nevada to visit Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown, to Rockwall for a visit with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Tawater, and family and a visit in Mineral Wells.

Baptist Group Guests At Enjoyable Party

Members of the young people's department of the First Baptist Church were guests of Preston Wilson at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilson, west of town, at an enjoyable party Tuesday night.

Gene Spearman, church educational director, and Mrs. Spearman were in charge of entertainment for the evening, which included various games. At the close of them Mrs. Wilson served delicious ice cream and cake to those present.

They were: The Spearman's, Mabel Watkins, Adell Watkins, Louise LeMond, Leon Autry, Joanna Strayhorn, Billie Jean Thompson of Santa Anna, Bud Higgins, Gordon Rogers, Dorothy Mae Lankford, Lentie Bell Tate, Daisy Nell Cavness, W. Billie Biggs Wins Third in Contest

"An acrobatic dance that had so many novelty twists that she drew applause several times for her artistry," was the description of the contest number given by Billie Biggs in a San Angelo amateur contest Tuesday night, winning her third place among more than 50 contestants.

Billie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Biggs, is a dance pupil of Elaine Lambert. Elwanda Spears, Billie Jean Wilford, Forest Crowder and Frances Slavelly, presenting a Big Apple revue, were other Snyder representatives in the "Amateur Stars on Parade" contest.

Jimmie and Eddie Farren, twin melodiers of Brownwood, took first prize of $25. Lawrence Arthur of Eldorado won the $15 prize, and the young Snyder dancer won the $10 cash third award.

Mrs. George Fisher left Big Spring Friday afternoon by plane returning to Hollywood, California, after a several week visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder. She was driven over from Snyder by her sisters, Mrs. Henry O. von der Hoff, Virginia and Genevieve Yoder.

Mrs. Talmadre Turner of Wink took her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Witherspoon, and brothers, Jack, Leon and Douglas, to Corpus Christi Sunday for a week's vacation. The group drove through in the Turner car and will return Saturday.

Guests Saturday night and Sunday of Nellon Minix were her mother, Mrs. G. N. Minix of Clyde, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Easley of Fort Worth.

Rodeo Party One Of Year's Features

With club members attending in cowgirl regalia, members of the Duce Bridge Club were guests at a rodeo party given by Mrs. Willard E. Lewis at the home of Frances Boren last Thursday evening. The group attended a rodeo rally before arriving for the party, and at the close of it they gathered downtown to decorate the club's float for the rodeo parade Friday afternoon.

Marigolds and zinnias in shades of yellow and red were used to decorate the rooms, and potted cactus centered the tables as the salad course was passed. Tables were covered with red bandana cloths. Traveling prize was taken by Margaret Deakins, and Mrs. Logan won the high score prize.

Enjoying the party were the following: Margaret Deakins, Mrs. Logan, Johnnie Mathison, Gwen Gray, Vesta Green, Bonnie Miller, Mrs. R. C. Miller, Mrs. Billie Lee Jr., Mrs. R. E. Boyer, Ruby Lee, Frances Stinson and Allene Curry.

Bonnie Miller will be hostess to the club, Thursday night, September 1.

Don't put up with useless PAIN

Get rid of it. When functional pains of menstruation are severe, take CARDUL. If it doesn't benefit you, consult a physician. Don't neglect such pains. They depress the tone of the nerves, cause sleeplessness, loss of appetite, wear out your resistance.

Get a bottle of Cardul and see whether it will help you, as thousands of women have said it helped them.

Besides easing certain pains, Cardul aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from the food they eat.

BACK YARD GOSSIP—

"Mary, since I started taking my laundry to the Ideal Wash House, I feel like a new woman. Those terrible back-aches that used to hound me after wash day are gone; I don't have those awful headaches that invariably accompanied scrubbing my clothes over a hot tub—and I finish the job in half the time."

"Sue, I'm going to join you next Tuesday with my washing, and we'll have a visit while we wash side by side. I'd noticed a change in you, but I didn't know your new method of washing was causing it. See you next Tuesday."

Steps Taken Toward Solving Rural Relief Problem, Declares Wallace

In a recent statement before the hearings of the special Senate committee to investigate unemployment and relief, Secretary Henry A. Wallace of the U. S. Department of Agriculture declared giant steps have already been taken toward solving the nation's permanent problem of rural maladjustments.

"From its beginning," said Secretary Wallace, "the administration was faced with the necessity of providing aid for more than 1,000,000 destitute farm families. Many had lost their land, their savings, and their equipment, and were in urgent need of food and clothing.

"These 5,000,000 people had suffered severely from the general business decline, but the depression was not the sole cause of their difficulties. It merely aggravated rural poverty and made the need for remedial action more acute.

"Condition Not Temporary. We were not dealing with a temporary emergency, which would be cured automatically by an upturn in the trade cycle. On the contrary, even a cursory survey of the facts made it plain that the problem grew out of certain deep-rooted maladjustments in our rural economy.

"The chief of these were a prolonged period of ruinous farm prices, careless and unscientific tillage practices, unsound tenure systems, a heavy burden of debt, inadequate acreage, and a long-continued wastage of our farming capital by soil erosion.

"These maladjustments had been undermining the nation's agriculture for many years. We had long been familiar with the symptoms—low farm income, abandoned homesteads, a steady growth in farm tenancy. For more than a century they had compelled the United States to carry on a liberal program of rural relief, under the guise of free land.

"Until recent times, any farmer who lost his property through foreclosure, or whose acres were exhausted by erosion and one-crop tillage, could move on to a new homestead in the west. Today, this easy solution is no longer possible. Free land, capable of producing a decent living, has disappeared, and we have at last been forced to cope with the problem of rural poverty in a new—and perhaps more fundamental—manner.

RA, Then FSA.
"The program of rehabilitation was entrusted to the Resettlement Administration, and more recently to the Farm Security Administration. In essence, it consists of making small loans to needy farm families who cannot obtain credit from any other source, and accompanying them with enough training in sound farming practices to insure the best possible use of the money.

"The size of the loans naturally varies with the type of agriculture in each area, but they have averaged approximately $300 each. In general, they are just large enough to supply the family with the bare necessities for carrying on farming operations—a plow, a mule, seed, a few chickens, and other simple equipment. The loans are repayable over a period from one to five years, and they carry a five per cent interest rate.

"By February 1, 1938 loans totaling $169,312,000 had been made to more than 600,000 farm families. By all customary standards, these people were the worst possible credit risks. The Farm Security Administration operated much like the old-fashioned country banker who made character loans. Although it took chattel mortgages on crops and farm equipment, its most important security was human equity. It had to work on the assumption that these at the bottom of the economic heap could be trusted to pay back their debts if it were humanly possible.

"That assumption has been amply justified, because the overwhelming majority of borrowers were typical thrifty, hard-working American families, with all the rugged honesty of their pioneer forefathers.

Government Succeeds.
"The government's success in helping destitute families rehabilitate themselves may be measured by several simple yardsticks. From a purely financial point of view, the program has proved surprisingly sound. Although much of the $169,312,000 advanced under the rehabilitation program will not fall due for four or five years, more than $45,000,000 already has been repaid. Approximately 42,500 families had paid back their loans in full by February 1, 1938.

"Perhaps an even more significant indication of the program's success is the rise in living standards of rehabilitation borrowers. A recent survey of 230,000 such families throughout the nation showed that their average net worth—over and above all debts—had increased $253 between the time they first sought aid and the end of the 1937 crop year. This represents a growth in net assets of 42 per cent, or more than $58,000,000.

"In addition, these families have almost doubled their consumption of home-produced meat, milk, and eggs and have stored away 63,250,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables—an average of 53 quarts per person—to tide them through the winter. Their ownership of work animals has increased approximately 10 per cent, while their acreage in livestock feed and forage crops has risen 50 per cent.

"One of the most gratifying facts of all is that the mounting prosperity and stability of these families has made it possible for nearly 100,000 children to increase their school attendance.

"In conclusion, I believe that two points are worthy of special emphasis:

"The rehabilitation work cannot be carried on economically nor with much hope of permanent results unless the Government's loans are accompanied by a sound system of technical guidance for the borrowers.

"Although we feel that we have made a promising beginning in helping destitute farm families to become self-supporting, the job cannot be completed for many years. We are fighting an economic disease which has been neglected for generations, and we cannot hope to cure it over night."

Many Lions Agreed On Local Park Need

Several members of the local Lions Club said Tuesday at noon, when asked to indicate the project they thought the club should sponsor, that a small park is their first choice.

The answers came at the conclusion of a program on Lionism, conducted by J. C. Smyth, chairman of the Lions education committee. Each member present answered roll call with a fact concerning Lionism.

Mayor H. G. Towle indicated his own and the city government's interest in a park project, but said the paving program was being given preference because of its permanent importance.

His health is so good that he is a familiar figure in business districts of Snyder, and is seen downtown most any day, although he is retired from active law service. He personally looks after several farms in the county.

Flowers decorating the house on Mr. Byrd's birthday were presented by local friends. The pretty white birthday cake, was built high to correspond with the strength and towering stature of the 70-year-old man. Seventy pink candles were lighted on the cake.

Dinner was served the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hanson and children, Wallace and Wanda, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byrd and daughters, Yvonne and Jacqueline, all of Dunn; Mrs. Luchen Oechner and small son, Doyle Hayden, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Herring and small son, Doyle Hayden, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hobbs is beginning the new term with the largest enrollment in the school's history.

Teachers by grades are: Miss Curtner, first; Mrs. Mabel Day, second; Mary Rose Black, third; and Bert Milam, grammar school principal, fourth; Edith Engle, fifth; Mrs. Rowena Jones (substitute), sixth; and Cooper Denson, seventh.

In the high school Ellis Neal is football coach and principal, Taubee Rice teaching home economics, Cleveland Littlepage vocational agriculture, and Mrs. N. J. Guillot, English, N. J. Guillot, superintendent, completes the teaching staff.

Since the County Line School District transferred to Hobbs this year, the school district covers an area of over 300 square miles, being one of the largest school districts in West Texas.

Construction will probably start the latter part of this week on the new $4,000 agriculture building. A VPA project, the building will have workshop rooms, tool racks, and display space for completed projects. The new building will be constructed of native rock. C. Littlepage states the FFA boys will have a "den" in the new project, which will give Hobbs a total of four school buildings.

COLORED BAPTIZING. Colored baptizing will be held Sunday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, at Wolf Park, according to Rev. H. Norris, pastor of a local colored church, in charge. White and black friends are invited.

Henry Stokes, "a cotton patch cowboy," participated in the junior steer riding contest last week at the rodeo. If at first you don't succeed Henry, try, try again. You can't do any worse than fail.

Young voters are probably liberal as a class since the urge to save the world enters a human being in the 'teens. The reason that the Nation does not turn entirely liberal is that many of this class are slowly but surely converted by time into conservative business men, farmers, dependable salary workers and settled married men owning homes and transferring their dreams to their offspring.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Beating the "Summer Drouth"

(Editors' Note: This is the eighth of a series of articles furnished by T. C. Richardson, secretary of the Texas Breeder-Feeder Association, at the suggestion of R. J. Edwards, president of the Texas Press Association. Purpose behind the articles is to cooperate with Texas farmers in using to the best advantage the acres taken out of one-crop production under the AAA.)

(To Farmers: While all of this article does not apply to Scurry County this year, its feed-saving sentiment is good in almost any year.)

One of the Southwest's climatic peculiarities is so common that "the summer drouth" is a standard part of our vocabulary. It doesn't occur all, but as a rule there is a period when rainfall is deficient, pastures dry up, and crops suffer to a greater or less degree. This is the time when milk flow falls off and growing livestock slow up in gains. When either happens the loss is final. At considerable pains and expense the milk flow can be partly restored and normal growth will again begin when adequate feed is supplied. But the milk that might have been produced and the weight that might have been gained has disappeared down the inexorable and irremediable corridors of time.

That's why so many good farmers now hedge against the summer drouth by providing Sudan grass or other cultivated pastures, or keep a supply of ensilage in reserve. It is far cheaper in the long run to fence a field of Sudan so it can be grazed, than to let the growing animals take a set-back or let the milk flow fall off.

"I had eight acres of corn that was 'firing up' so I dug a trench and put the corn in it," said a Guadalupe County farmer at Luling. "My pasture was dry, and I fed the greater depth each day to avoid loss, it is economy to have small narrow silos for summer, while the main supply is stored in the large trenches for winter use. They cost so little to build and fill that it's mighty cheap insurance against shortage at any time."

Dairy farmers in the cow testing associations are also learning that a regular supply of green pasture or succulent feed is the only fair way to learn whether a cow has a profitable productive capacity. Many a cow has been condemned without having a chance to show what she could do, because so seldom have had a chance to show what she could do, because so seldom have they had the right kind of feed throughout an entire lactation period.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Shivers of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shivers and daughter, Bonnie Lue, Tyler, and John Shivers of Ft. Worth, were guests early this week of their aunt, Mrs. D. G. Snider, and other local relatives.

Rufus Mize Solicits Your Support

I wish to again thank you good people for your friendly reception when I called on you. I have not tried to make another house-to-house campaign, but have tried to see those that I failed to see before the first primary. May I assure you that I have not intentionally overlooked anyone. I am happy to be a contestant in another clean race.

I wish to assure you that I am qualified to fill the office of county superintendent. I have a permanent teacher's certificate and a number of college credits toward a degree, all of which are on record in the county superintendent's office, if you wish to investigate.

I am 41 years of age, have lived in Scurry County 27 years, and have taught in the county 20 years. I have three children, and am trying to pay for a farm. I believe this puts me in position to understand the problems of most of our people.

I applied for the county superintendency when A. A. Bullock resigned in 1932. Mr. Farmer was the successful applicant then, and I tried to be democratic in not opposing him in 1934. Now, after 20 years of studying schools and school business in Scurry County, I am asking you to give me an opportunity to prove my ability to manage school affairs in Scurry County in an efficient, economical manner.

I am for the best that we can afford in the way of education; however, I am aware of the fact that there is a limit to what we are able to afford. For 20 years I have studied schools in both theory and practice. I believe that I understand school affairs in Scurry County.

If you are interested in school affairs, may I urge you to vote your sentiments Saturday. I shall appreciate your serious consideration of my candidacy.

I thank you, RUFUS MIZE.

A Final Word From Edgar Wilson

The folks of weigher's Precinct 1 have been mighty fine to me during my campaign, and I take this opportunity of thanking them for all courtesies, and for the good lead they gave me in the first primary.

I held the weigher's office for two terms about 10 years ago, and did not ask for reelection to another term. Those who have direct dealings with the weigher realize that experience in the office better qualifies me. I sincerely believe, for better service.

Yours respectfully, EDGAR WILSON.

Record Speaks, Declares Giles, State Candidate

"The record speaks for itself," declared Bascom Giles, candidate for land commissioner, when he was in Snyder Monday. He referred to alleged unwise awarding of leases on state lands by the incumbent, his opponent, and other acts that are not to the taxpayer's interest.

"With my election as land commissioner," Giles said, "the people of Texas need have no fear of sensational investigations or embarrassing criticism."

Giles, 37, had 17 years working experience in the Texas land department under the former commissioner, J. T. Robison and J. H. Walker, who endorse him. This is Giles' first time to seek elective office.

He declares he will stop vacancy racketeering, clouding of land titles, outside influence dominating the land office, gambling with school funds, and favoritism in awarding leases on state lands.

FARM LEADER LOSES BATTLE WITH ILLNESS

First Scurry County Agent, Former Democratic Chairman Succumbs Last Thursday

F. I. Townsend, Scurry County farm and political leader for more than 30 years, died early Thursday morning of last week, victim of an illness that had plagued him for more than two years.

One of Snyder's longest funeral processions in recent years wended its way to Hillcrest Cemetery Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to hear words of tribute from Rev. J. W. McGaha, veteran minister, who was a close friend of Mr. Townsend. Rev. H. C. Gordon, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a member, assisted with the service, for which Maples Funeral Home made arrangements.

Mr. Townsend, who was active even after ill health invaded his body, was last in town more than two weeks ago. Since that time he had been bedridden. He was taken to a local hospital a few hours before his death.

He was a native of Manchester, Tennessee. He was born there September 30, 1869. In 1897 he came to Fort Worth, Texas, where he remained until 1905. In that year he moved to the Bethel community, Scurry County, where he farmed more than 30 years while performing many other duties in county and state.

Active in farm organizations almost since their inception, Mr. Townsend was made state secretary of the Farmer's Union from 1910 to 1912. In that capacity he represented the farm group before the Legislature for some time.

A year or two later he became Scurry's first farm agent under the Extension Service, a position he held for two years. From 1916 until 1922 he was a gin, weights and measures inspector in the state markets and warehouse department, later combined with the State Department of Agriculture.

Throughout his Scurry County career he was active in politics. He was county Democratic chairman from 1930 until 1934. His work included membership on the Bethel school board, and editor of a Snyder paper, under E. B. Barnes, for a short time.

He was a prolific writer, a gifted orator. His last far-reaching ambition was to write a history of Scurry County, and he had gathered a large amount of material on the subject.

Surviving are Mrs. Townsend; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Day, Lovington, New Mexico, and Mrs. Matt Jones, Brownfield; five sons, Arthur, Horace, Ernest and Walter Townsend, Jr. of Hobbs, New Mexico; two sisters, Mrs. Will Scott, Hot Springs, Arkansas, and Mrs. Nod Brown, Dallas; two brothers, Charley Townsend of Dallas and George Townsend of Houston; 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Lee T. Stinson, A. M. McPherson, Herman Darby, Floyd Blakey, John Spears, Aubrey Head, J. T. Biggs and Ed Clarkson were pallbearers. Lucile Brumley, Flora Vida Gladson, Fay Myers, Gwendoline Head, Edna Mae Brooks and Mrs. Arthur Townsend were in charge of flowers.

Trinity County was named for the river of that name.

Snyder General Hospital

In the hospital Wednesday were 13 patients. They were: Roy Brown of Hermleigh, W. E. McMillan of Hermleigh, Mrs. Jack Howard of Snyder, Mrs. Horace Eliand of Snyder, Mrs. R. S. McCormack of Snyder, S. T. Matherly of Fluvanna, Mrs. W. P. Marin of Snyder, Mrs. O. B. Burgess of Snyder and Samuel Landon of Snyder, surgical; A. D. Dodson of Snyder, Dolly Melton of Post and Mrs. L. G. Wilcox of Lorraine, medical; Mrs. W. H. Ward of Hermleigh, convalescent.

Discharged since last Wednesday have been Mrs. Hugh Fambro of Ira, surgery, who left the hospital Friday, J. R. Joyce, Sunday, and Mrs. Alfred McGlaun, a medical patient, who was taken home yesterday morning.

First Presbyterian Church

Mrs. J. M. P. Gill, president of the Presbyterian Missionary Society of Abilene Presbytery, will be the guest speaker at the local church Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock. She has just returned from Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, where she attended the biennial missionary conference of the Presbyterian Church, and she will bring a message relative to the findings of that conference.

Mrs. Gill is an elder in the Central Presbyterian Church of Abilene, and has long been active in the missionary work of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. At the morning preaching service the pastor will preach.—James E. Spivey, pastor.

First Baptist Church

Regular services will be held Sunday, with two young preachers in the pulpit. Rev. Charles Dixon, student in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will preach Sunday morning. Rev. Cone Merritt, pastor at Dunn, will deliver the Sunday evening sermon at 8:30 o'clock.

The pastor, Rev. Ira Harrison, reports a fine meeting near Big Spring. He will close services there next Sunday.

A class of college students entered their classroom one morning to find only a hat on the front desk as mute evidence of the possible presence of a mentor. After oversteering the customary 10 minutes, the group agreed that even the hat might have been left the evening before; so they departed—only to meet the remonstrating instructor coming up the stairs.

"When my hat is on my desk, I want you to consider me present," he said.

The following morning when the professor arrived to take the roll, he found a hat on every seat—but not a student there.

Nearly 50 Gather To Fete Birthday Of Mother Stiles

Children and grandchildren, together with a few old-time friends of Mrs. J. C. Stiles, pioneer Scurry County reunion were in reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Werner, eight miles southwest of Snyder. The occasion celebrated Mother Stiles' 88th birthday.

The group of 48 people spent the entire day in conversation, reminiscing days gone by, making and renewing acquaintances. The highlight of the day came as the noon lunch was spread in the shade of the trees in the Werner yard. Reunion of the family this year was the first in many years, and all those present found it to be an enjoyable occasion.

Those present for the celebration were the following: Mrs. Stiles, Mrs. R. L. Kirdendoll, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bradbury and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Werner and children, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sturges and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Faver and children, all of Snyder; Mr. Jim Stiles, Voca; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stiles, Valley Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Arvey Flanigan and daughter, Camp San Saba; Mrs. T. A. Burns, Leonard; Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Smith and children, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stiles, Farmington, New Mexico;

Emergency Hospital

Fred Williams was brought to the local Emergency Hospital Saturday from a Sweetwater sanitarium. Williams, former resident of Snyder, returned here recently, and figured in an accident two weeks ago, losing his right arm. Condition of Williams is satisfactory, attending physician says. Mrs. Williams, the former Polly Merrill, who has been in Dallas, is here now.

Arrival of a seven pound 11 ounce baby girl Saturday night at 10:00 o'clock is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Griffin, who live west of Snyder.

Paye Mathis of Fluvanna, who had an appendix operation in the local hospital recently, was taken home Sunday.

First Methodist Church

September is being designated in our congregation as church attendance month. With all our members and friends cooperating we hope to have very large audiences in all services throughout the month. Let us have a full house next Sunday.—H. C. Gordon, pastor.

B. R. Miller Buys Ballinger Laundry

B. R. Miller, who has been in the laundry business in Snyder about four years, moved with his family early this week to Ballinger, where he has purchased a self-serve laundry.

Miller said before he left that Ballinger has only two laundries, and that both are modern.

While in Snyder the laundryman took active part in First Christian Church activities, and also in civic affairs. He asks The Times to express his appreciation of Scurry County people and his thanks for their many courtesies.

What a Rodeo!

If any event of importance has ever come nearer pleasing everybody in Scurry County than last week's rodeo, most of the old-timers can't seem to remember it.

Everyone from rodeo officials to cowhands to soda-pop boys had a big time. What is even more important, the spectators had a large time. And that means an even greater success for the show next year.

Add some music next year. Enlarge the arena. Improve the chutes. Lengthen the grandstand. Sprinkle the grounds. Out of the myriad praise for officials and performers came these mild suggestions for a better show next year—and the next and the next.

As Paul Yarbrough, that crack announcer for advertising tours, declared, Snyder can become the site for one of the best rodeos in the West. The show has been built on honesty, on energy, on vision, on business judgment, on county-wide cooperation. Give us these qualities in increasing quantity next year, and you will witness a rodeo that in the years to come may be in August what the Texas Cowboy Reunion is in July.

F. I. Townsend

Leon Guinn, on this page, pays tribute to F. I. Townsend, whose death last week took from Scurry County one of our richest minds. The Times publishers, too, wish to publicly express their keen appreciation of this true friend.

Mr. Townsend was a thinker. In an age that too often allows a few men and women to do all the thinking, Mr. Townsend delved deep to find causes and effects, principles and fact-ribbed theories. His nature led him to express his thoughts so emphatically that boomerang effects often resulted. But when the light of truth and reason was applied to his thinking, it was usually found that he was correct.

Those who disagreed with his political and economic ideas were the first to admit his honesty. And many of them came to admit his rightness.

Mr. Townsend was a personal friend of The Times publishers. He often disagreed with our editorial policies, but he more often agreed with them; and, what is more, he expressed his commendation in more forceful terms than he expressed his condemnation. His adverse criticism several times led us to see new light on a subject.

Scurry County has lost a friend. Mr. Townsend was one of the first to count the value of farm organization, of business-like methods on the farm, of diversification. In these things he was years ahead of the average West Texas citizen.

Here is a silent, word-bound tribute to a man who had rather be right than president; who had rather die than to be inactive; who had rather lose a right arm than to desert a friend.

A Label Needed

The metal tube that is being sealed at the World's Fair to hand down to posterity 5,000 years hence is said to contain a 1938 woman's hat. We humbly suggest to the scientists in charge that they'd better label the exhibit or our successors might think we use outlandish cooking utensils.

O'Daniel's Okays

If O'Daniel's endorsement of a full slate has the same effect that President Roosevelt's endorsement had, at least two or three of the O'Daniel-endorsed candidates will hit the landslide this week. But O'Daniel wowed 'em once with his outlandish methods and his outlandish promises, and he may wow 'em August 27 with his outlandish politics.

Although press reports are incomplete, anti-Japanese organizations are springing up in conquered Chinese territory, and dealing the sword rattling Japs a lot of misery. Latest trends are terrorists mobs that harass Japanese on every corner, bombings and fires in Shanghai, for instance, being an indication of Chinese guerrilla tactics. The Japanese Foreign Office still politely refuses to discuss heads rolling in the silt of Chinese sands. Uneasy, indeed, rests the head wearing the crown these dynamite packed days.

The present situation in this country and in most of the rest of the world is the product of vast and powerful political economic and social forces that have been set in motion here and in most other countries during the past 25 years, as the result of the World War and of the policies that have been persistently pursued by governments and business ever since.—Dr. Virgil Jordan, president, National Industrial Conference Board.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

In the passing of F. I. Townsend late last week Scurry County lost one of its forceful orators and politicians of the old school; a gentleman who had served his county well as Democratic chairman for 14 years. Especially does this column feel keenly the loss of friend Townsend, for he was one of my closest friends and counselors. In all things we agreed to disagree agreeably on things we didn't see alike.

In life F. I. Townsend was intimately associated with the farmers of Scurry County as Farmer's Union state secretary, and later as our first farm agent. He was a native Tennessean that ever kept a warm place in his heart for Bethel and his "home county." Because he gave to us younger ones a glimpse of the love for the everyday things of life, and because he ever reminded us to "keep on keeping on," F. I. Townsend will live on and on in our memories.

For some reason or other the fact has been generally overlooked that for 85 years church services have been conducted in sign language at St. Ann's Episcopal Church for Deaf Mutes in New York City, rendering to Christianity one of its greatest lessons in teaching all people. Founder of this remarkable institution was the Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, who conducted his first services for deaf mutes in 1832. The church building was erected in 1898, and has since been a haven for those unfortunates who otherwise wouldn't know the story of the world's greatest Peacemaker. The Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, deaf vicar of St. Ann's delivers his Sunday sermon each week in sign language.

In any paradox of goofy American laws one can think of, a review would be incomplete without the following: In Elizabethton, Tennessee, it is illegal for women to wear bracelet watches on their ankles, although the feminine sex is permitted to wear plain ankle bracelets. A California ordinance of 1973, which has been upheld by the state's Supreme Court, prohibits two persons from bathing in the same tub at the same time. While this ancient ordinance does not frown upon taking a bath, it limits tub capacity to one person at a time. Nilwood, Illinois, has a city ordinance specifying, tek, tek, that women must wear petticoats on the streets. Other city duds figure it isn't any of their business what Eve's daughters do, or do not, wear when shopping. Michigan forbids driving or scaring wild ducks away "from any person lawfully hunting the same," while Maine has laws against setting mules on fire.

Frank Balek, an 11-year-old fifth grader in Chicago's Fulton School, is an inversionist who faces a world upside down. Victim of one of man's rarest ailments, young Balek reads and writes in reverse to get his daily lessons, and has to turn books upside down in order to read. Although men of medicine disagree as to the cause of this rare ailment, everything the victim sees is reversed in passing through the eye, but normally is reversed again when the image reaches the brain. A lot of us at times look out upon a topsy-turvy horizon that is upside down so far as we are concerned, but we should appreciate the fact our upside down world is imaginary, while this youngster's is real.

People with jaded appetites should be more or less enthused over a new type of bread the African natives near Lake Nyasa indulge in. The blacks of this region capture the brown Kungu flies, which swarm in literal clouds, and knead them into "dough" for baking without benefit of other ingredients. After cooking, this fly bread is considered a staple food with the Africans, who contend the flies are factually roasted in their own juices.

Livingstone, who ate some of this insect agglomeration, stated fly bread tasted "not unlike caviar with plenty of salt added." So far as we know, no fellow explorer envied Mr. Livingstone this unique pleasure. But just in case these poor people get low on bread supplies, we'll tell the world we could ship them several ton of the American variety that ought to set the Africans on their very ears.

If we're going to have a surplus of everything else, we might as well admit an overabundant 1938 fly crop, of the household type. AAA attaches will doubtless be glad to learn at Washington, that should Henry Wallace so desire, farmers would gladly cooperate in exporting the winged pests to this civilization outpost. Seriously, however, this region will one day afford a great market for breadstuffs, and should we ever get down off our high horse, we might go after this undeveloped market. The world still has plenty of people to be clothed and fed, and should freight rates and "selling price" hold that longed for wedding, surplus products would begin to melt away like the muchly lamented League of Nations.

Pure and Undeified

Pessimism Pete says he notices that most of the fellows who cuss the preacher, cuss the church, cuss the evangelist, cuss the church leaders are the guys who seldom go to church, seldom toss in more than a nickel when they do go, and seldom have a job in the church. As Pete sees it, one of the first fruits of religion, pure and undeified, is the desire to say something good, not something bad, about one's associates and neighbors.

Money never dominates our attitude toward a family in need.
