1,095 meals are cooked in your household every year. Preparing these meals with an obsolete range is like cooking while blindfolded. Guess work is always the hardest way and the most fly in time, money and energy.

Yes, your old gas range still cooks

... but if you can't fit the HEAT to the task you are missing some of the advantages that your modern, low-cost gas service offers.

The new gas ranges fit the amount of heat to the cooking operation at a finger tip touch of the control lever and selected temperatures are maintained constantly and automatically. Proper oven temperatures, which are so important in baking and roasting, can be measured as accurately as the ingredients of the recipe itself. Top burners provide just the right amount of heat for top-of-the-stove cooking. You can have five tiny beads of concentrated heat for slow boiling or simmering or the intense, powerful heat for quickest frying and in-between heats when and as you need them. At a click of the valve handle you can regulate heat without guess work. No stooping. No experimenting.

See the new, matchless 1939 gas ranges today. Compare them with your present range. Learn how they will save you fuel, time and money. You'll agree they are designed to do more for you than "just cook."

LET A NEW GAS RANGE HELP YOU TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF YOUR LOW-COST GAS SERVICE

The job just can't be done when only a few isolated citizens really enter into the spirit of Spring and cleanliness and beauty. We have a comparatively relief plan now on the agricultural horizon. Cotton clean city. Yet there are so many unsightly views from one end of Snyder to another that we should be ashamed to remain idle.

Let's make Snyder the cleanest city of its size in Texas-not just a "comparatively" clean city.

Down in Abilene, after a lively contest, this slogan was adopted for a city-wide Clean-Up, Paint-Up campaign: "Civic Beauty-Our Duty."

Are we less prideful than Abilene? Are we less prideful than a dozen other West Texas cities of various sizes? Indeed, are we less prideful than Lubbock, which for several years has been picked as the cleanest city of its size in the United tates

As The Times said last week, every sign of the season invites us to conduct a city-wide campaign for those twin virtues, cleanliness and beauty. Who . . who will be city-proud enough to take the lead?

Go to Church Sunday

The following editorial from the Lubbock Morning Avalanche has particular timeliness for Times are being held in Snyder and other Scurry County

One undertaking that should be crowned with fullest success has been the campaign by ministers and church people of Lubbock the past week to make this sabbath a genuine "Go To Church" Sunday.

The drive, sponsored by the Lubbock Ministers Association, has taken cognizance of the fact that many newcomers are in Lubbock. Some doubtless have delayed the affiliation they intend to make with the denomination of their choice here. Others, perhaps, have been awaiting an invitation to attend. Then, a great many others fust naturally haven't gotten around to attending church.

The census by church workers during the drive revealed workers reported, more than 3,000 persons in ly. They have inspired confidence in the public they more than 800 families are not affiliated with any church in any way. Probably the actual number of such people in Lubbock is much larger than that figure in spite of the fact that we are correctly known as something of a "church city."

Those people believe in the Church. Most of them doubtless want and expect to become members of some denomination. But it is something, more to their own detriment than that of anyone else, that they just keep putting off from Sunday to Sunday until finally for many of them it becomes too late.

Attend church today! It strengthens the church and tends to elevate the moral plane of the entire community. But more important than these is that you should attend for the sake of your own soul.

Editorial of the Week

Coming to our desk during the past week is a brochure written and prepared by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel entitled "Possibilities for the Industrial Development of Texas." This prospectus is excellent both from the standpoint of the attractiveness of its typographical form and from the more important standpoint of the masterful presentation of the Governor's plan.

Lynn Landrum of the Dallas News in his incisive column, "Thinking Out Loud," makes this comment on the prospectus: "It is by far the most meritorious thing that has been associated with his name since the gubernatorial candidacy was announced. It is in all things dignified, persuasive, and impressive."

In his foreword Gov. O'Daniel says that the importance of industrial development far transcends the significance attached to it by most Texans, and on the succeeding pages he proceeds to set forth for Texans a plan for the development of a Texas industrial empire that challenges the imagination and initiative of every Texas.

Presenting his facts and figures graphicall through drawings, charts, and full explanation, the author outlines for Texas a plan for industrial progress that will receive the consideration of every thinking man in Texas. More power to Gov. O'Daniel. -The Mission Times.

The March issue of Barber's Journal contains an editorial so applicable to other professions along many lines; it is quoted herewith: "Barbering is just as an important profession as the many other professions in this country that have advanced to a position where the worthwhile members are sure of obtaining the good things in life if they are willing to work for them.

"The members of these professions, however, have taken their jobs and their professions seriousserve by giving real professional services in a professional manner. Their shops or offices contain the best and latest in their special fields of endeavor, and their codes of ethics prevents them from doing poor, slipshod work, or to engage in cut throat price reductions." While several digs might be added here. the Barber's Journal editorial was addressed chiefly to the better type barbers and shops.

A new detachable jacket containing dry ice for cooling machine gun barrels has been introduced by the army corps that will allow fighting and bombing planes to carry fewer guns, but still maintain continuous fire. Very little has been said about a monster plane developed by Douglas Aircraft Corporation for possible use by the U.S. Army as a super flying fortress. Now nearing completion, it's by far the biggest plane yet built, and will weigh 120,000 pounds when fully loaded. Cruising range may be as high as 7,000 miles when the ship is flight tested. Besides use as a super bomber, army officials state the Douglas creation could be employed to rush several score machine gunners to a crucial spot in a

Since this latest super flying fortress will consume 1,800 gallons of gasoline hourly, aviation experts are questioning the wisdom of constructing such expensive "whalers of the skyways." From the laymen's point of view, the army air corps would be a laymen's point of view, the army air corps would be a lot better off with 12 new fighting planes of a similar caliber, than spending $1,500,000 on a gas eating super ship that would be highly suspectable of easy attack and destruction by smaller planes.
