

MISD superintendent stepping down in June

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

Bill Moore will never be accused of hanging around too long. Feeling he's met nearly all of the challenges of his job, Moore announced Monday during a staff meeting that he will step down as Muleshoe school superintendent in June after 8 1/2 years.

While the announcement caught many by surprise, Moore said he had told the Muleshoe Independent School District

Bill Moore

Board of Trustees about his long-range plans a year and a half ago. "I felt the timing was right then and I still do now," Moore said. "That doesn't mean I haven't checked my hole card a couple of times since then."

"But I think I'm leaving the district in excellent shape and by making the announcement now, it will allow for a smooth transition," said Moore, who will turn 52 this weekend.

The search to replace Moore will begin later this month, according to school board officials.

"We have a big challenge ahead of us," MISD board president Cindy Purdy said. "We knew this day was coming and feel blessed we could have someone like Bill for eight years."

"He has been a remarkable leader for the board, our staff and our children," Purdy said.

"He's provided the opportunity for our students to be successful."

Not one to sit idle — "I don't plan on sitting in a rocking chair" — Moore said he is exploring his options.

"That's part of the excitement, not knowing what the next step could be," Moore said.

If he knows what lies ahead, Moore isn't tipping his hand.

"I don't know what I'm going to be doing — it might be in the school business, it might not. We might not leave Muleshoe because we love it," said Moore, who is eligible for retirement benefits from Texas Teachers Retirement System.

Moore's wife, Trish, is a computer lab teacher at DeShazo Elementary.

Moore was named Region 17 Superintendent of the Year in 1998 for the second time in his

A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Price of stamps going up

New postage rates will take effect Monday, Jan. 10 when the price of a first class stamp increases one penny to 33¢. It is the first rate increase in four years.

"For several years, we've kept the cost down," said Muleshoe Postmaster Lionel Garcia. "This increase helps us keep up with the cost of doing business."

Priority mail for a two-pound package will increase 20¢ to $3.20. Express mail has gone from $10.75 to $11.75 at a 1/2 pound rate.

Special Services have also changed.

Certified mail will increase 5¢ to $1.40. A return receipt goes from $1.10 to $1.25. Money orders have dropped 5¢ to 80¢.

The cost of insuring mail has also increased.

New 33¢ stamps have been available since November and feature a design in the shape and color of Uncle Sam's hat. One cent stamps are available to make up for the out-dated 32¢ stamps.

Packets are available to the public for free and include related information regarding the increases. Additional information can also be found on the U.S. Postal Service's web site at www.usps.com.

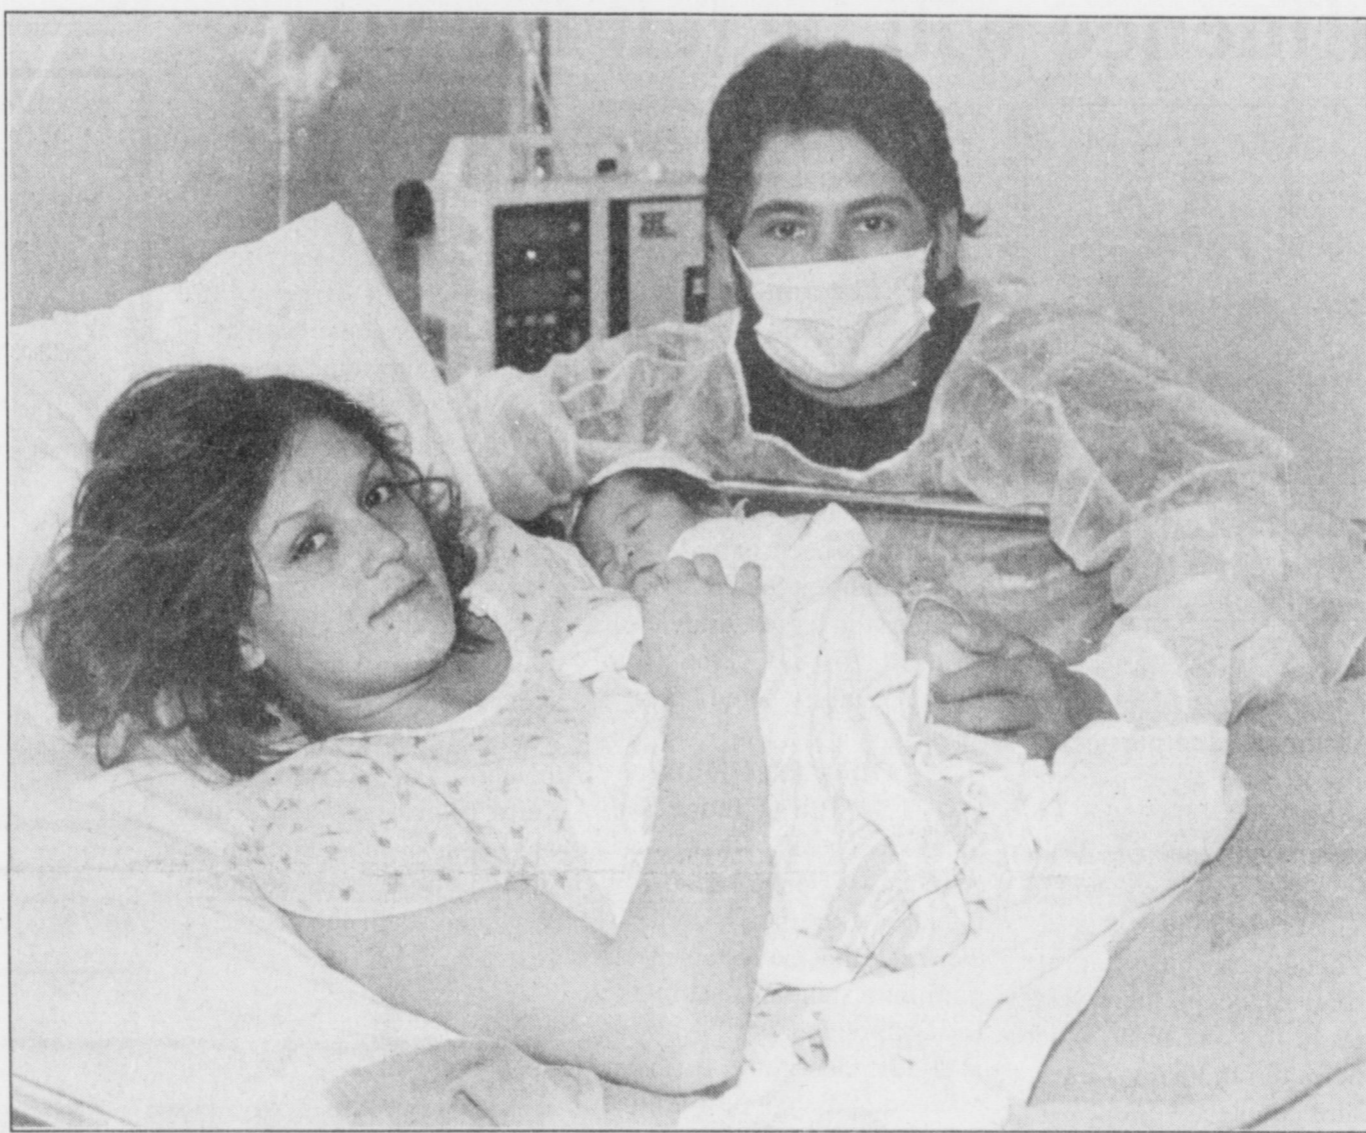

Millionaire remains mum

AMARILLO — Mum's the word on the state's newest multi-millionaire.

Employees of Albertson's Food and Drug Store on South Bell Street are keeping secret the identity of the Amarillo man who purchased the winning ticket in Saturday's $22 million lottery at the store — maybe they're receiving hush money.

The winner is an elderly Amarillo man, store officials confirmed. He wants to keep quiet until he consults with his attorney. Employees of Albertson's said the man returned early Sunday to verify the numbers, which were 8, 10, 22, 24, 27, 36.

Albertson's receives 1 percent, or $220,000, of the prize.

■ Bovina couple has daughter Jan. 3 at Muleshoe hospital

Even though she was a day late, Yasmine Porras was the first baby of the New Year born at Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

She was born at 9:50 a.m. on Jan. 3 to Angel and Erika Porras of Bovina. Yasmine is the young couple's first child.

"We didn't know if it was going to be a boy or a girl," said Erika Porras as she cradled her newborn baby in the crook of her arm. "We're pretty excited."

Delivered by Dr. Mark McClanahan of Muleshoe, Yasmine weighed six pounds, eight ounces and was 17 1/2 inches long. The baby was born without any complications.

The new mom was in labor just three hours. The due date was Jan. 2, according to the parents.

Angel Porras is employed by Amarillo Road Construction.

Grandparents are Manuel and Carmen Porras and Robert and Ernestine Marquez, all of Bovina.

Mother and baby were released from the hospital Monday.

School Boards perform vital role

January is School Board Recognition Month in Texas, with the goal of building awareness of the vital function an elected board of education plays in our society.

The Muleshoe Independent School District is joining with other districts throughout the state to recognize the important contributions trustees make to their communities.

"Texans benefit every day from the dedicated energies and countless hours devoted by a group of more than 7,000 men and women across the state. These public servants are elected to serve by local citizens and receive no compensation for their tireless efforts. These men and women are the local school board members of Texas," Muleshoe school superintendent Bill Moore said.

"These people unselfishly contribute their time and talents toward the advancement of public education," Moore said. "They represent a continuing commitment to local citizen control and decision making."

Bullock's influence will be felt for years

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock may be ending a long career in state government, but his influence will endure for years, The Dallas Morning News reported last week.

Among the graduates of "Bullock University" over the past two decades are the head of the U.S. Mint to Texas' budget chief, as are an assortment of county judges, legislators and executive directors of state agencies.

Other former Bullock staff members are now high-powered lobbyists and some of the most successful lawyers in Austin.

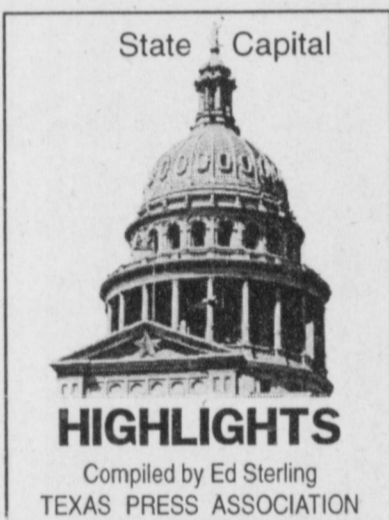

Glen Castlebury, spokesman for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, said this of his former boss:

"Everyone can say wonderful things about his vision and philosophy, but I was always impressed with his high level of expectation about what government should do and what government employees should do."

"The perfection he demanded at every level has been instilled in all these people, wherever they have gone."

Bullock leaves office this month, after serving eight years as lieutenant governor and 16 years as state comptroller. He also is a former secretary of state, gubernatorial aide and House member.

He will continue working in the private sector in association with Public Strategies Inc., an Austin-based corporate consulting firm.

As he leaves office, the veteran Democrat told The News when asked what he wants to be remembered for:

"That I was able to attract the brightest people there were. Many have gone on to other agencies to run them. "The people I worked with have been the real leaders of Texas, and I am very proud of that."

Budget surplus debate
State lawmakers will convene in Austin on Jan. 12 for the 76th Texas Legislature.

They will have to decide how to slice up a projected budget surplus of about $6 billion.

About $3 billion of the surplus is destined for public education, teacher health care and prisons.

Winners of the well-mannered scramble over the course of the 140-day regular session will appropriate the remainder for other worthy causes.

FEMA figures

The Federal Emergency Management Agency reported last week that nearly 24,000 Texans applied for emergency assistance following the October floods.

About $70 million in housing aid has been paid. Out of the 43 counties declared disaster areas the largest number of requests for aid came from Bexar County, where 11 people died.

Other Highlights

■ U.S. District Judge Sam Sparks last week called Texas' clemency system for death row inmates "extremely poor" but then ruled that the system meets minimum standards set by the U.S. Supreme Court.

■ Gov. George W. Bush has made the passage of a limited school voucher system one of his priorities for the 1999 legislative session. And although advocates of a such a program are busy looking for votes, some social conservatives have turned against the idea, saying it could put private schools under government control.

■ The Austin Independent School District has suspended one official and reprimanded another for their roles in an attempt to boost the district's accountability ratings by altering TAAS test scores.

■ The Texas Commission for the Blind has agreed to provide reasonable accommodations for its employees with Braille and large-print versions of its manuals and other printed materials to settle claims that the agency failed to provide reasonable accommodations for its employees. The Associated Press reported last week.

■ State Comptroller-elect Carole Keeton Rylander announced last week that her agency of 2,800 employees would eliminate 60 people and their positions. Her spokesman, Keith Elkins, said the action was being taken to "streamline the comptroller's office in the best interests of the people of Texas."

career. He also won the award in 1994.

"I hate to see him go," said school board vice president Curtis Shelburne. "He's been an absolute professional and a really good friend to all of us."

"I have no doubt that the best thing I have ever done as a school board member is having a part in hiring Bill."

Under Moore's leadership, the school district has significantly upgraded its facilities and technology and made drastic improvements in student achievement.

The Abilene native and McMurry University graduate helped start Pep High School, an alternative school that serves nine area schools. Pep has awarded high school diplomas to 80 Muleshoe students since its inception five years ago and has become a pilot program for the state.

Moore said his biggest pleasure is seeing Muleshoe students going to first class colleges and universities and having success.

"We've got kids that go out and run with the best of them," Moore said.

Moore credits his relationship with the school board, long-range planning, and hiring good people for his success.

"I'm real proud of the people I've hired and the job they've done," Moore said.

Shelburne, one of three remaining members of the school board of 1990, said the district was at a critical stage when Moore was hired.

CORRECTION

Kyan Lynn Garner was mistakenly omitted from the names of the babies born in 1998 reported in the Sunday, Jan. 3 edition of the Bailey County Journal.

Kyan was born Sept. 30, 1998. She is the daughter of Rammie and Mandy Garner of Muleshoe.

The Journal regrets the error and any inconvenience it may have caused.

"There were a lot of warning signs of negative trends," Shelburne said, adding that safety in the schools was the number one issue. "We had some real discipline problems and lack of direction."

"We needed someone with strong leadership skills," Shelburne said.

Moore provided the leadership and direction the district needed to take it into the next millennium, Purdy said.

"He has set the pace for Muleshoe to go on," Purdy said. "We still have a good way to go, but he has us on the right track."

Girl Scout cookies go on sale starting Jan. 8

Distributing enough cookies to circle the earth each year is something to sing about and this year Girl Scouts are celebrating the accomplishment with the premiere of two new cookies and the release of the first original new cookie program song in Girl Scout history.

orders from Jan. 8 to Feb. 10, with deliveries slated from Feb. 10 until March 8. All cookies are priced at $3 per package. Cookies can also be ordered by fax (1-806-748-0769) or phone (806-745-285) or (800-530-4957).

For the first time in its history the Girl Scouts are literally singing the praises of the American Tradition with a new song called "Take It To The Top." It was recorded with a contemporary dance beat.

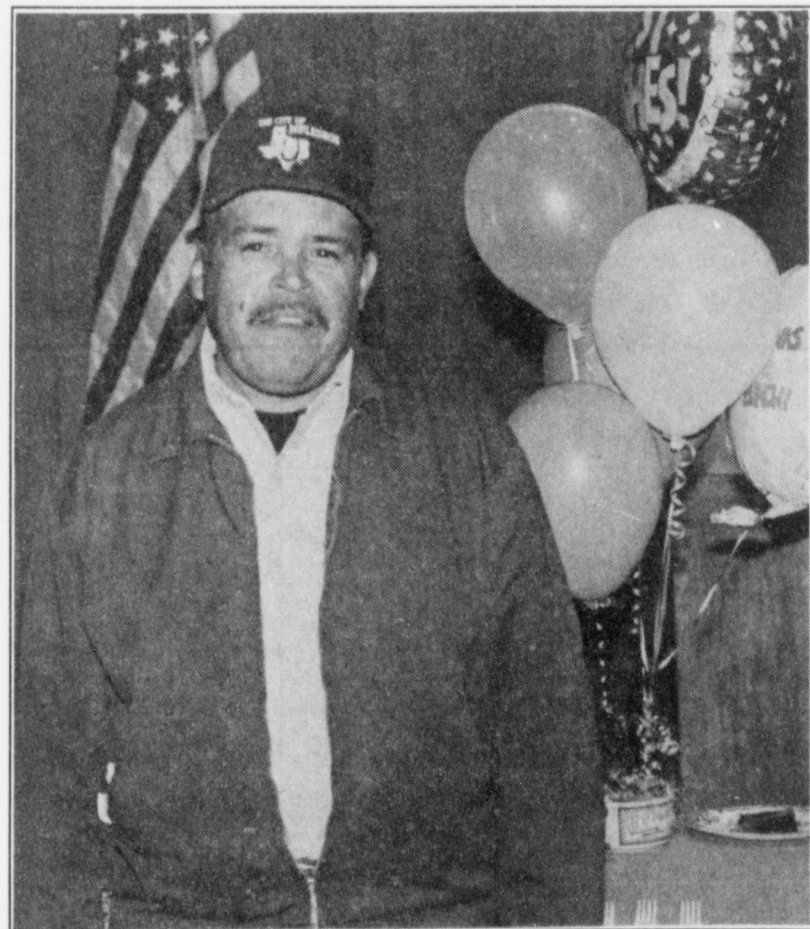

The two new varieties of cookies are a natural reduced-fat Apple Cinnamon and a crispy natural-flavored Lemon Drop cookie with cream lemon chips baked right in. All eight varieties of Girl Scout cookies will go on sale Jan. 8.

"For Girl Scout troops, the program provides funds to support troop activities such as field trips, camping and service projects," said Kimberly Karl, Executive Director of Caprock Girl Scout Council. "For Girl Scout councils, the program provides funds to recruit and train adult leaders, maintain camp, provide council-wide programs such as the Science Spectrum camp-ins, career workshops and provide financial assistance so all girls can have access to the opportunities Girl Scouting offers."

All cookie program revenue will remain with Caprock Council.

This year's selection will include the popular Thin Mint; Original Samoa (caramel and toasted coconut); Tagalong (layered peanut butter and chocolate); Do-si-do (oatmeal peanut butter cremes); Striped Chocolate Chip (a real chocolate chip and pecan cookie with chocolate stripes and a bottom layer of chocolate) and Trefoil shortbread cookies.

Looking ahead

District play opens Friday with the Muleshoe girls at Lubbock Cooper (7:30 p.m.) and the Lazbuddie girls (6:30 p.m.) and boys (8 p.m.) hosting Happy.

Muleshoe coach Jim Gruhlkey is hoping a tough pre-district schedule pays off for the up-and-down Lady Mules. MHS (5-13) needs to develop some consistency in District 2-3A play. Senior post Erin Wilhite leads the Lady Mules in scoring (11.7 points) and rebounding (7 rebounds). Junior Lindsey Field adds 10.7 points and five rebounds per game. Field injured her knee last week in the Slaton Tournament but is expected back Friday.

The Lady Mules are down to eight players after seniors Kellie Morris and Rhonda Copley quit the team recently because they weren't getting enough playing time.

Gruhlkey said he didn't know much about Lubbock Cooper.

The Lady Mules chances of reaching the playoffs for the first time in five years were improved this season because of a UIL change in which three teams qualify for the playoffs from each district in Class 3A. Only two teams qualified in recent years.

It figures to be a two-team race between Lazbuddie and Happy for the District 11-1A girls title, so Friday's winner will gain the early edge. The rest of the district (Amherst, Spade and Cotton Center) is weak.

Lazbuddie (14-3) won its first tournament title under fifth-year coach Carey Sudduth. Its three losses have been to playoff contenders Hart, Lorenzo and Springlake-Earth by a combined 11 points.

Sophomore Laura Jo Via (15 points per game) leads four Lady Longhorns averaging in double figures. Holly Engelking adds 13.8 points, and Kia Morris and Scottie Brown are at 10 per game.

Happy is led by guard Evan Lair and post Buffy Croy.

On the boys side, Lazbuddie and Happy also appear to be the top contenders for the district title. Lazbuddie (12-7) won the District 3-1A title last year.

Brandon Foster leads Lazbuddie in scoring, averaging 16 points per game. Cousins Josh Morris (14 points) and Cade Morris (12 points) also average in double figures.

The Cowboys (16-3) are led by junior guards Patrick McCuag and John Mark Moudy.

Look for complete results of the Lazbuddie Junior Varsity and Junior High Tournaments in upcoming editions of the Journal.

Lady Longhorns third at Sundown tournament

SUNDOWN — Lazbuddie started the New Year on a down note, dropping a 58-54 decision to Springlake-Earth Friday in the semifinals of the Roughneck Holiday Tournament.

The Lady Longhorns (14-3) rebounded Saturday with a 59-45 win against Petersburg in the third-place game.

"We played well coming off the layoff," Lazbuddie coach Carey Sudduth said.

Sudduth said his team was disappointed by their loss to Springlake-Earth.

"They're the kind of team we're going to face in the playoffs," Sudduth said. "We've already proved we can play with teams like them. We wanted to beat them."

Lazbuddie's three losses have been by a combined 11 points, including one in overtime.

Erin Freeman led a third-quarter charge that stretched Springlake-Earth's nine-point halftime lead to 52-33. Freeman, a 6-0 post, stepped outside to hit three 3s in the quarter and finished with a game-high 26 points, including one in overtime.

Lazbuddie rallied in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Lady Wolverines 21-6, but never caught up.

"I was proud of the kids because they didn't get their heads down, they just kept playing and we got back in it."

Scottie Brown led Lazbuddie with a career-high 21 points. Kia Morris added 18 points and Laura Jo Via finished with 12.

Via scored 31 points in the Lady Longhorns' win against

Abernathy edges Longhorns in fifth place game

SUNDOWN — Playing in Sundown Roughneck Tournament was just what Lazbuddie needed to prepare for the upcoming district season, according to Longhorn coach Rich Powers.

The Longhorns went 2-2 in the tournament, including a 56-51 loss to state-ranked Abernathy Saturday in the fifth-place game.

"We played some tough teams and that's what we needed to get ready for district," Powers said. "We played pretty well against some good teams."

The Longhorns (12-7) host Happy Friday in their District 11-1A opener.

Cade Morris scored 15 points to lead three Longhorns in doubles figures against Abernathy, which is ranked 13th in Class 2A. Brandon Foster added 14 points and Josh Morris finished with 10.

Foster scored 13 points as the Longhorns opened the tournament Thursday with a 45-32 win over Seagraves.

SPS experimenting with wind power

Southwestern Public Service Co. will be generating electricity by using one of the most reliable and little used resources on the High Plains — the wind.

Austin-based Cielo Wind Power has begun construction on a towering wind generator just south of U.S. Highway 60-84 between Clovis, N.M. and Farwell. The generator will be built on an unused corner of a field on the Martin and Terri White Farm and be visible once it is complete.

Winds will be powering an electricity-producing wind-turbine generator supplying to SPS customers. New Mexico customers who volunteer to support the Windsource project will pay an additional $3 per 100-kilowatt-hour block. The project is expected to start generating electricity in April.

The generator will sit atop a 230-foot-tall tubular steel tower, and will be turned by three blades 80-feet long. It will be capable of producing power when winds blow between eight and 60 miles per hour, but winds at about 25 mph are optimal, according to company officials. The generator will shut down when winds are stronger than 60 mph.

© 1998 Danish Wind Turbine Manufacturers Association

The wind-generation project is environmental friendly. It will preserve clean air and water resources and it will not use fossil fuels or produce gas emissions polluting the air, according to Steve Hardy, the program manager.

The use of tubular steel towers, rather than lattice frameworks will be used due to bird mortality. The towers leave no place for birds to perch, decreasing their death toll.

Hardy explained that the average household use of electricity was about 700-800 kilowatt-hours monthly, but customers may buy as many "100-kilowatt hour blocks" of energy as they choose.

The cost of the project is estimated at $1 million and a similar program is being designed by utility regulators in Texas.

Tours may be set up after construction is through. The public will not be allowed on the site prior to completion.

SPS began experimenting with wind power in a 1992 pilot project near Amarillo. SPS, a New Century Energies company based in Amarillo, is a regional electric utility providing service to customers in New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Medicare is changing in 1999 ... Will you?

ALBUQUERQUE — The comfort level Medicare beneficiaries have enjoyed with a traditional fee-for-service medical system could soon shift, because Medicare's 32 year old program offers new health care option in 1999.

Medicare beneficiaries are beginning to hear from the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) about the new Medicare+Choice program, which will offer Medicare beneficiaries up to six different options, including traditional Medicare.

According to an AARP Public Policy Institute study, 89% of Medicare beneficiaries don't yet have the information they need to make an informed choice between traditional fee-for-service Medicare and health maintenance organizations (HMO's).

The lack of information, combined with the occurrence of some managed care groups unexpectedly dropping out of the Medicare program, is creating a lot of questions.

"The introduction of health care options and changes to Medicare can be quite confusing," according to New Mexico AARP State Representative Nancy Coffey. "That's why it's essential that Medicare beneficiaries and their families take time to study the options and make the best choice."

Traditional Medicare (fee-for-service) is the only option that will be offered to every beneficiary. The other option may not be available in certain areas. These Medicare options include:

- Traditional (fee-for-service)
- Medicare HMOs
- Medicare provider-sponsored organizations (PSOs), which are like HMOs except they are run by doctors and hospitals.
- Medicare preferred-provider organizations (PPOs), which are similar to HMOs but allow you to see providers outside the network and do not require that you choose a primary care physician. You can go directly to any doctor associated with the plan.
- Medicare private-fee-for-service (PFFS), which are more like traditional Medicare except you may pay more out-of-pocket expenses.

■ Medicare medical savings accounts (MSAs), which have two parts, an insurance policy and a savings account. Medicare will pay for your health care.

While different options will be available in different areas, Medicare beneficiaries do not have to change plans. By doing nothing, a beneficiary is choosing to remain in traditional Medicare and coverage will continue.

"Some beneficiaries will need help in making the right choice and fortunately there are free resources available," Coffey said.

Bailey County 4-H holds awards banquet in December

The Bailey County 4-H awards banquet celebrating the state organization's 90th anniversary was held Dec. 19 at the Bailey County Coliseum.

The annual event opened with the mistress of ceremonies, Jill Gladden, and invocation by Josh Tooley. The Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H motto and pledge were lead by Tatom Heathington.

The welcome address after the meal was said by Joel Sinclair of the Bailey County Electric Coop Association. A response to the Welcome was said by Ky Kennedy. Jill Gladden then introduced the special guests.

Several Awards were presented by 4-H members. The judging awards, record books and achievements were presented by Erin Gallman and Krystal Heathington.

4-H Family of the Year

Gina Mardis, Beverly Beggs and Helen Adrian.

Rhett Kerby and Cyndi Vandiver presented the Outstanding 4-H Family award given to the Ronnie Altman Family. The Altman family has been involved with the 4-H programs for 10 years.

The Outstanding 4-H Leader award was presented to LeAnn Gallman. For nine years this award has been presented to an individual who supports the 4-H program in a special way, giving time and talent to help both the 4-H'ers and the Extension Service agents.

Special recognition was given by Brandi Whalint to Dani Heathington for leader recognition for youth support.

"I Dare You" awards were given by Gail Gladden and Courtney Mardis to Cade Hooten and Rhett Kerby. The "I Dare You" award is available through the "I Dare You" committee of the American Youth Foundation and the Bailey County Extension Service. Recipients receive this award for their outstanding 4-H careers to date. It is one of the highest awards given at the county level.

Gold Star Awards were handed out by Curtis Preston and Madison Myers to Ky Kennedy and Jill Gladden. This is the highest award that can be received on the county level and is given to members who have shown outstanding leadership and citizenship abilities. Dr. Steve Kennedy was recognized with a plaque for his leadership in support and development of the 4-H Beef Production Master Volunteer Program. This activity was conducted for 4-H leaders by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in counties in the Amarillo and Lubbock Districts.

Several 4-H members received certificates or plaques for the following awards: 1998 Record Books, Livestock Judging Teams, District 4-H Food Show, County 4-H Food Show, District 4-H Fashion Show, Fashion Follies, District Fashion Design, District 4-H Roundup, Texas 4-H Roundup, and Prime Time.

Other awards included the Swine Award, Dairy, Beef, Clothing, Leadership, Agriculture, Sheep, Photography, Achievement, Home Improvement, New Member Certificates, and Clover Kid Pins.

Former 4-H'ers J.K. and Margaret Adams and Eugene and Gladys Black were present for the anniversary.

The banquet closed with a prayer by Myndi Heathington.

"Race for the Superbomb"

"It is still an unending source of surprise to me to see how a few scribbles on a blackboard could change the course of human affairs."

—Stanislaw Ulam, mathematician

On August 6th, 1945, a single atomic bomb dropped from a B-29 destroyed the city of Hiroshima. This new "weapon of unusual destructive force" soon ended World War II and forever altered modern warfare. Before long, scientists in the United States and the Soviet Union began a frantic race to build an even more terrible weapon of virtually unlimited power — the hydrogen bomb, known as "the Super" or "H-bomb."

The American Experience "Race for the Superbomb," a two-hour special, tells the story of the spies, scientists, intrigue, and deception that marked the race to develop the hydrogen bomb.

In an atmosphere of crisis, several U.S. scientists argued for an all-out effort to build the H-bomb. The Atomic Energy Commission named a panel of scientists headed by Robert Oppenheimer to study the feasibility of an H-bomb.

Building an H-bomb raised ethical questions, too. "It is not a weapon which can be used exclusively for the destruction of material installations of military or semi-military purposes," Oppenheimer wrote in his final report. "Its use therefore carries much further than the atomic bomb itself the policy of exterminating civilian populations." Oppenheimer's advisory panel voted overwhelmingly against a major effort to develop the H-bomb.

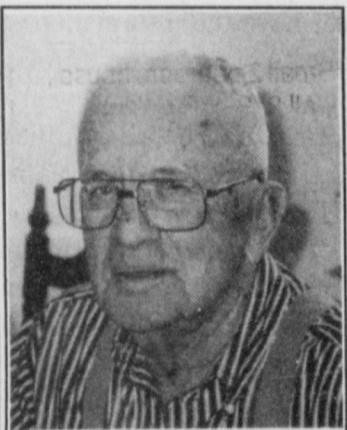

Military and political leaders took a different view. As the wartime alliance between the Soviet Union and the United States was turning cold, the Joint Chiefs argued that a bomb could act as a "possible deterrent to war," or in the case of hostilities, "might be a decisive factor if properly used." By the summer of 1948, the United States and the Soviet Union appeared headed for war when Stalin cut all road and rail links to the Western sectors of the divided city of Berlin.

"Race for the Superbomb" recounts the efforts of Andrei Sakharov, a brilliant young Russian physicist who had been given the task of designing a fusion bomb for the Soviet Union; the setback for the United States when a Soviet spy provided exact plans for the American atomic bomb; and the complex calculations of the Polish-born mathematician Stanislaw Ulam, a key member of the Los Alamos team.

The American Experience "Race for the Superbomb" will air Monday, January 11th at 9:00 p.m. It repeats Sunday, January 17th at 11:00 p.m.

Happy 95th Birthday...

Webb Watts has seen lots of changes in his 95 years... It's been a lifetime of love, fun, laughter and a few tears.

His marriage to Olene was 69 years strong! Their partnership was full of "Joy" and song.

Then from Beth and Jan and a feisty little grandson... This family grew to twelve plus one!

Farming the land runs deep in Webb's blood... He has seen some drought—not much flood!

He was a master with the tractor and plow... And taught his children and grandchildren how.

Riding through the fields is his pleasure still... But he leaves it to Rusty to plant and till.

His family has always been his delight And we sing his praises from morning to night.

He'll be 95 January 10—Sunday And we all just want to say...

Happy Birthday Daddy and Pop

OBITUARIES

C.L. "VERN" TAYLOR

C.L. "Vern" Taylor, 79, of Muleshoe died Saturday, Jan. 1, 1999 at Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

A church service was held Monday at the 16th & Ave. D Church of Christ in Muleshoe, with Eddie Wilson of Levelland and John Gullely of Muleshoe, officiating. Burial was in Canyon Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon under the direction of Ellis Funeral Homes of Muleshoe.

He was born Jan. 31, 1919 in Emmet, Okla. He married Robin Harbin on Feb. 12, 1954 in Hobbs, N.M.

Mr. Taylor had lived in Muleshoe since 1966, moving from Plainview. He was a member of the 16th & Ave. D Church of Christ. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

He was a craftsman who created beautiful objects from wood. He was a builder and an irrigation specialist.

He was a gentleman, soft spoken with a quiet humor. He loved his home and family deeply. He was always concerned that he lived his life according to God's plan. A plaque that hangs in his home that reads, "You are fun to hang around with," describes his life. His family and friends will miss his presence in their lives, but his spirit will remain forever.

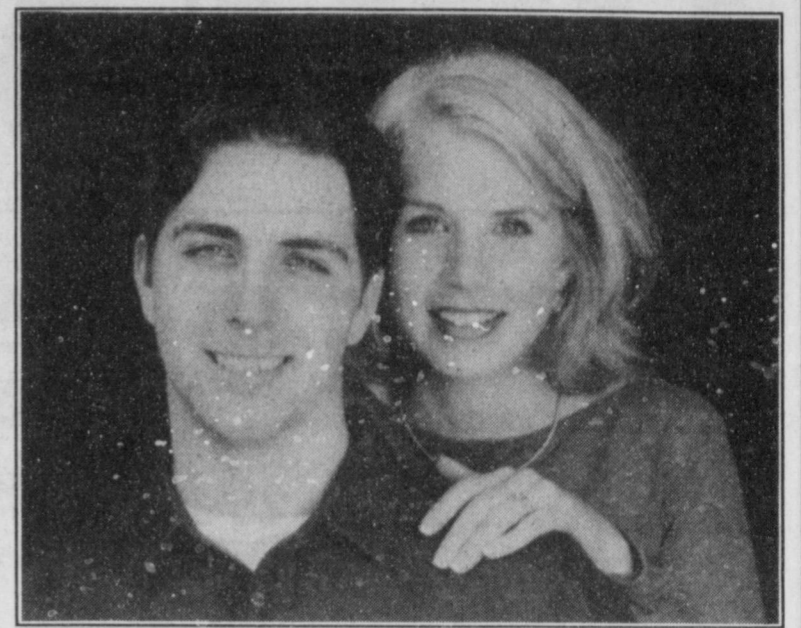

He was preceded in death by a sister, Agnes Horton in 1998, and a brother, Glendell Taylor in 1988.

He is survived by his wife, Robin; a son, Kenneth Taylor of Spur, Texas; a daughter, Jean Parker of Happy, Texas; two sisters, Jorene Kirkland of Amarillo and Glenda McInroe of Bowie, Texas; a brother, Lee Roy Taylor of Rancho Santa Fe, Calif; five grandchildren, Donae Parker Smith, Charlotte Morris, Misty Smith, Will Smith and Craig Smith; and one great granddaughter, Ashleigh Donae Smith.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Christian Relief Fund, PO Box 19670, Amarillo, TX 79114.

ENGAGEMENT

Actkinson — Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Actkinson of Farwell announce the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Jill, to Kristopher Lance Anderson, the son of Dr. Ron Anderson of Farwell, and Ms. Karen Haiduk of Santa Fe, N. M. They will marry May 22, 1999 at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell. Jill is a 1998 graduate of Texas Tech University, with a bachelor of science degree in human development and family studies. She is currently employed by Texas Tech University in the Child Development Research Center. Lance is a 1997 graduate of Texas Tech University, with a bachelor of science degree in entomology. He is currently in his second year at Texas Tech University School of Law. After the wedding, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

The Journal runs engagement, wedding and shower announcements free of charge as a service to our readers.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

History lover looking for tokens

Dear Editor,

I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, pool halls, bakeries, saloons, forts, and other businesses years ago. The tokens were "good for" 5¢, 10¢, 12 1/2¢ or such in trade or merchandise or "good for" a loaf of bread, one drink, one shave, one ride or whatever. They were usually made of metal, and while having the general appearance of a coin, they were made in all shapes and sizes.

I am hoping that if you have a "Letter to the Editor" section or such in your paper that you might mention my search. I know that this request is relatively unimportant, but as our elderly pass away and the younger members of the family inherit their possessions, tokens and other items are considered junk and thrown out. I do get a great deal of enjoyment from my hobby and I do believe that these concrete reminders of our great heritage are worth preserving.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens or from anyone that might be able to help me. Any help that you can give me of any kind is greatly appreciated. My address is Travis Roberts, Box 1168, Bellaire, TX 77402.

Thank you kindly in advance and best wishes.
