

Flood Highlights as Seen by Reporters

When swirling waters reached a three-foot level in the T. J. DeShazo residence, 2503 Avenue V, Mr. and Mrs. DeShazo, with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff DeShazo, sought higher ground just 10 minutes before the American Legion Hut struck the six-room frame structure.

Swift currents of the turgid waters carried the DeShazo home east across the street, and rammed it against the L. M. Gray house. The Gray and Ivan Teter houses saved the DeShazo structure from floating down Deep Creek.

Fire boys expressed considerable fear for six occupants of the Hargrove home, a block west of the Highway 15 bridge. They are: Mrs. Hattie Hargrove and son, Weldon; Mrs. H. P. Davenport and daughter, Margorie, a son, Fred, and Dick Walker, a grandson.

When the bouncing Legion Hut struck the Hargrove house, moving it from heavy concrete blocks, large mesquite trees to the east served as anchoring posts and prevented the bulging building from going downstream. The group was rescued only after flood waters began receding.

Snyder Cooperative Gin Company office and the former West Side Grocery, both just west of Deep Creek bridge on 25th Street, were carried away on the crest of Deep Creek.

Iverson's Garage, located a block west of the bridge on 25th Street (Highway 15), was half demolished and hundreds of dollars worth of equipment and accessories was taken downstream or made practically useless.

Frank Arnett's Garage, across the street south from Iverson's, withstood the high waters, but ankle-deep silt and mud was evidence that the well-equipped garage had been looted by the river-bound torrent.

The Dewey Niedecken house, located on 25th Street three blocks west of the Deep Creek bridge, was carried away by rising lowland waters of a small feeder creek at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Niedecken and two sons, Wayne and Herman, evacuated and moved out household furniture approximately 30 minutes before their frame structure was made matchwood against mesquite trees and underbrush.

Fourteen people were marooned in the O. P. Tate residence, four blocks west of the Deep Creek bridge on 25th Street, at 11:00 o'clock.

J. P. Tate, former Tiger football star, son of O. P. Tate, assumed the role of chief rescuer until help arrived. Those carried to safety in more than four feet of mud-laden water were: O. P. Tate, service station operator, and Mrs. Tate; their two sons, O. P. Jr. and Curtis; a daughter, Lennie Bell; Mrs. J. P. Tate and small son, James Phil; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dickie and two daughters, Georgia Dell and Curtissine, and a transient couple.

A group of six tourist cabins west of the Tate station was moved 30 feet to the east, and almost against the Tate residence.

In the high pitch of excitement growing out of rescue efforts in that vicinity, an aged couple, Mr. and Mrs. William McAfee and Tom Cody and family, who had just moved into one of the cabins Monday morning, were left in the cabins, and their safety was not assured until flood waters abated.

W. S. Clardy, who operates a station just west of Campbell's, had all lubricating stocks and lost to pump out all gasoline contained in storage tanks because of infiltrated water.

Heavy loss resulted at the Ivan Teter Garage, east of Iverson's, when parts, accessories and a portion of the building were carried away by boiling currents.

The Texas Public Utilities Corporation ice plant, 1512 26th Street, is being completely overhauled as a result of angry waters that lashed out to envelope the floor of the plant with a four-inch coat of silty mud. Total damages will run into the thousands of dollars.

Damages totaling $5,000 resulted at Howard Brothers Service Station on east 25th Street from a four-foot headrise that demolished the garage and swept oils, tubes and auto accessories down Dry Creek.

A row binder, Allis-Chalmers combine and Allis-Chalmers tractor were washed down in the bed of Dry Creek by flood waters that carried away Howard's stock of lubricating oils, tubes, auto accessories and a refrigerator.

Plate glass frontage at Howard's was shattered by driftwood and floating timber. Silt covered station flooring to a five-inch depth.

The one-room Henry Howard house, just south of the station, was completely turned around and moved 20 feet to the southeast by the unprecedented rise. Due to the fact the one-room structure floated, small damage was done to household furnishings.

Silt-heavy waters reached a three-foot level in the four-room residence of Mrs. A. O. Reynolds south of the Henry Howard building. Mrs. Reynolds and her granddaughter, Maxine, waded through heavy currents to reach safety.

Chilling flood waters reaching far outward from the banks of Deep Creek carried an onward path of destruction through the southeast part of town, sweeping away the J. D. Garrard tent and all furnishings. The Garrard tent was located 150 yards south of the Ely, Arnold & Ely tin.

Mrs. Garrard, together with her husband, who is almost disabled with paralysis, and six children waded through waist-deep water with Mrs. Emma Woellert and two children to the Casstevens house, and later to the courthouse, where they spent Monday night.

The 11 members of the Garrard-Woellert group were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Garrard; Avon, Joenell, Norman, Hollie, Marie and Bobbie Lou Garrard; Mrs. Emma Woellert, Rosa and Henry Woellert.

The Garrards are staying temporarily with the Ivan Gatlins over Farmers Exchange.

Railway Express Agency building, located at 1401 26th Street, was moved from its foundation and out into the street by the surging volume of flood waters that resulted in damages to the express structure of $1,200. W. W. Smith, agent, started Tuesday the work of washing mud and silt out preparatory to resuming normal office routine as soon as possible.

Heavy losses of flour, meal, salt and cereal resulted at the Dean Cochran Grocery, 2409 Avenue R, by menacing waters that came within a short distance of the square. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cochran, operators, completed a clean-up job of grocery stocks Wednesday.

Angry overflow waters from Deep Creek cut a swath of destruction north of the square by Brown & Son Grocery, reaching a two and half foot level in the store. Stocks of oatmeal, beans and cereals were soaked through and through, the solid construction of the building precluding losses of other groceries.

And in Winston Feed Store east of Brown & Son eddying waters formed a two and half foot lake of troubled tides that ruined feeds, salt and mashes. Silt-laden waters swept through the Winston building at the flood crest to complete destruction of sack upon sack of feeds and grains.

The D. V. Merritt Hatchery, located in the back of Winston Feed

Store, was damaged to the extent of $250 by swift currents that caused a heavy loss of chickens. One incubator was put out of order.

MORE NEXT WEEK!

Due to seriousness of Snyder's flood disaster, and lack of space, more details of all affected by water and wind, hail and storm will be given in next week's Times.

One of the most seriously damaged business firms was Browning Food Market, located north of the square on Highway 7. A rain and wind storm that took out window lights resulted in flour, meal, feeds, beans, crackers and other stocks of groceries being soaked through and through.

Hollis Browning, food market operator, and a staff of assistants piled silt-coated and water-logged grocery stocks outside Tuesday to make room for clean-up operations. The store was opened for business as soon as permissible.

A large shed that housed spare parts was lifted from its foundations at the Joyce Gin, just east of the R. S. & P. tracks, and carried 300 feet to the southeast, where the building crashed to splinters against a concrete bridge.

Belts, heavy fly wheels, parts of gin mills and other heavy equipment were scattered along the bed of the creek for several hundred feet. Expensive bearings in another shed, valued at hundreds of dollars, were scattered in all directions.

Burton-Lingo Lumber Company, south of the Joyce Gin, is holding a damaged lumber sale as a result of mud, silt and driftwood that injured paints, roofing, hardware, doors, windows and numerous other lumber yard stocks, Howell Harpole, lumber yard manager, reports.

Four feet of turgid waters on the ground floor of the jail caused plaster to fall, and considerable damage done to the county's "cooler." Sheriff John Lynch stated Wednesday. Five inches of silty mud was washed out of the jail with fire hose Tuesday.

Harley Sadler, West Texas showman, who was en route from Spur to Abilene to attend the funeral of his brother, L. A. Sadler, was stalled between Snyder and Hermleigh until after dawn Tuesday morning.

Fruits, vegetables, flour, meal, sugar, salt and numerous other grocery stocks were completely ruined.

When the bouncing Legion Hut struck the Hargrove house, moving it from heavy concrete blocks, large mesquite trees to the east served as anchoring posts and prevented the bulging building from going downstream. The group was rescued only after flood waters began receding.

Snyder Cooperative Gin Company office and the former West Side Grocery, both just west of Deep Creek bridge on 25th Street, were carried away on the crest of Deep Creek.

DIGGING OUT OF THE MUD...

Yes, folks, high waters Monday night brought us lots of mud and grime that we hadn't ordered—but we are gradually cleaning up our stocks. We are open for business, of course, and taking care of our customers as best we can under the circumstances. We hope our patrons will be patient with us during these trying times.

Much of our stocks were damaged, in many instances merely wrappers on canned goods—and we are going to sacrifice them at cost and below in order to let our friends

CONTRACT LET ON HIGHWAY 15

Contract for grading, drainage, flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment on Highway 15 in Gaines County was let Tuesday by the State Highway Department to Oran Speer of Alford for $177,722.

Completion of hard surfacing through Gaines County to the New Mexico line on Highway 15 will leave the stretch between Roby in Fisher County, through Scurry County and to Gall in Borden County as the only remaining gap from the Louisiana line to New Mexico line that has not seen major improvements in recent highway work.

County Has 200 Who Are Eligible For New Pension

An additional 200 county residents over 65 years of age will be eligible for old age assistance benefits under the recently liberalized pension law signed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, according to reports Tuesday from Jim Cloud, county old age assistance supervisor.

Of the 200 additional eligibles for old age benefits in the county, 45 have registered with Cloud.

Today (Thursday) is intake day at the courthouse for receiving new applications for old age pensions, Supervisor Cloud states. All who previously filed for assistance are requested to do so again under new provisions.

"Those who have filed benefit applications and who are not yet receiving checks," Cloud points out, "will need to refile under new assistance law provisions. Regular intake dates for applications will be announced in the near future."

WORK ON DUNN HIGHWAY SOON

The long-awaited word from Austin to the effect that Highway 101 will be worked from Dunn to the Mitchell County line was received Tuesday by County Judge Sterling Williams and Mayor H. G. Towle.

A work order for the WPA project should be received within the next few days, the officials learned, since the order has already been approved by the State Highway Department.

Only a strip .55 of a mile long, including the bridge over Sulphur Creek, will not be included in the new project. This stretch will be completed later, efforts at this time being exerted toward linking of the improved section—Snyder to Dunn—with the completed section in Mitchell County. The new project includes the bridge over Deep Creek—just south of Dunn.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends who attended final rites for Mrs. Oscar Maples at the First Baptist Church last Wednesday afternoon were:

Lions' Wives To Be Honored With Special Program

Thirteen Lions were present for Tuesday's luncheon at the Manhattan Hotel. A review of the program that will be held at Dermott Park ladies' night, June 27, was given by Hadley Reeve.

Lions Club Governor-elect A. G. Bearden of Lamesa is slated to be principal speaker at the Ladies' Night program, at which time new officers for the coming Lions Club year will be installed.

Program specialties on the Ladies' Night program, which starts Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock, will include a report from the retiring secretary, string band numbers and selections by Mrs. Earl Louder with an accordion, together with stunts in charge of Lion King Sides.

Horseshoe games will be included in recreational activities, with steak, bread, pickles, onions, potato chips, fresh tomatoes, ice cream, cookies, lemonade and coffee listed on the supper menu.

"Uncle Bill" Pitts Buried Last Friday

Funeral services for W. A. (Uncle Bill) Pitts, 84, retired Scurry County rancher, were conducted at the Camp Springs Church Friday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, by Rev. Ira Harrison, local minister.

"Uncle Bill"—as he was widely known—died last Wednesday night at the home of a son-in-law, John Floyd, 10 miles east of Snyder.

In charge of flowers were Joyce Floyd, Norma Jane Floyd, Margry Brown and Marjorie Arnett.

Maples Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements, with burial in the Camp Springs Cemetery beside Mrs. Pitts, who preceded "Uncle Bill" in death several years ago.

England, Legion Are Sponsoring Air-Minded Boys

Carl England, Times shop foreman and local aviator, was appointed Thursday night by the Will Layne Post of the American Legion to act as director for the model plane builders' chapter that will be sponsored by the county Legion post.

A meeting of all boys interested in model ship construction will be held at the Legion Hut in the near future for organization of a local chapter, H. A. Lattimore, post adjutant, stated Tuesday.

Efforts will be made by the Legion post as sponsor and by England as director to include all model plane enthusiasts in Scurry County in the proposed model builders' chapter.

Model ship fans will install officers at the Legion Hut meeting, date to be announced, and map plans for competition in various contests this summer.

Affiliation with the National Aeronautical Association will be sought by the local chapter, after installation of officers is completed.

Both rubber-powered and gas-powered jobs will be included in competitive divisions of the local club.

Two From County Attend Big Spring Field Day Friday

T. B. Hicks, Dunn vocational agriculture teacher, and X. B. Cox Jr., county agent, were Scurry County's only attendants at the feeders' day program held Friday at the U. S. Experiment Station near Big Spring.

Fred Keating, station superintendent, was in general charge of the formal program Friday afternoon, which was preceded by a luncheon for the 250 attendants from Central West Texas counties.

Principal speakers included J. M. Jones, animal husbandry division chief, and J. H. Jones, both from A. & M. College. An inspection of steers finished by different feeding practices, both individually and by groups, concluded the formal program.

Object of the Big Spring field day was to study the efficiency of grain utilization when grain is full-fed to steers, compared with an 80 per cent grain ration.

Cemetery Work At Camp Springs Set

An all-day graveside and yard working, with a basket dinner at noon, will be held at the Camp Springs Cemetery Thursday, June 29, a committee composed of W. C. Davidson and Marion Hamilton reported Tuesday.

People of Camp Springs and surrounding communities are invited to bring shovels, hoses and other equipment, as well as basket lunches, for the clean-up job. Plenty of drinking water will be available, said Davidson and Hamilton.

Dunn Artists Will Be Host To BTU-ers

Dunn Baptist Church will be host Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock to the quarterly BTU meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry Association. Rev. W. A. Strickland of Abilene, pastor of the Ira Baptist Church, will bring the devotional message following other portions of the program.

After a song service and a devotional led by Joe Williamson of Roscoe, the business session will be held, featuring departmental meetings with the following group leaders in charge:

Adult—B. O. Wilkins, Rosepe; senior, Mrs. Marie Kruse, Ira; intermediate, Mrs. D. V. Merritt, Snyder; junior, Reba Franklin, Buford; primary, Mrs. W. H. Brunson, Westbrook and Mrs. Nolan von Roeder, Knapp.

Benefit Forty-Two For Bethel School

Union Home Demonstration Club will sponsor a benefit forty-two party at the Bethel School Friday night. The games will be free of charge, but the women plan to have ice cream and other eatables on sale.

Proceeds from the benefit affair will pay expenses of the club's delegate to the A. & M. College Short Course. Everybody is invited to attend the Friday social, the sponsors say.

Flood Holds Up Sharon Drilling Until Wednesday

Active operations in the Sharon Ridge oil field 19 miles southwest of Snyder got underway again Wednesday, as county roads leading to the pool became passable.

W. E. Callahan's No. 2 First National Bank well, an east offset to the Paul Teas No. 1 W. P. Thompson, was given an eight-quart nitro shot late Wednesday to jar loose a boulder in the hole that evidently blocked the hole as a result of last week's 900-quart nitro shot from 2,290 to 2,420 feet.

Cleaning out operations on the Callahan well, standing with a hole full of oil, are scheduled to be completed this week-end.

Pleasant Hill Home Destroyed By Fire

The three-room C. W. Beavers residence in the Pleasant Hill community was destroyed early Friday morning by a fire of undetermined origin. Flames enveloped the structure so rapidly that a mattress, a dresser and a feather bed constituted all the furnishings salvaged.

Located on the Will Werner place, the home was built last summer. Beavers, through The Times, asks that his family's warm appreciation be conveyed for the donations of money and needed articles by many friends after the "burn out."

Casing Wednesday afternoon preparatory to shooting. Completion of the Stoddard well as a producer will extend production one-half mile north.

"I thought I knew all about automobiles!"

A LOT of folks have had their eyes opened wide by a ride in a 1939 Ford V-8. They just didn't realize how much more value and how many improvements we've put in this car the last few years.

Today's advanced Ford is a product of progressive engineering, fine materials and honest construction. It is backed by an experience of building far more cars than anybody else in the world.

One ride in today's Ford—with its smooth 8-cylinder engine, stabilized chassis, hydraulic brakes—will prove it's the modern car in the low-price field.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM MAURICE BROWNFIELD

After being in the grocery business in Snyder for the past 11 years, I have decided to make a change. On and after July 3 the Snyder Piggly Wiggly Store will be operated by another party, whom I am sure you will find to be a fine grocery merchant. He will continue to operate the store on the same high standards of merchandising that I have endeavored to conduct the store in the past.

People of the area have been mighty good to me during my connection with the concern. Of course, my sincere appreciation for liberal patronage and other kindnesses at the hands of Piggly Wiggly's friends has been genuine, and I shall always remember these pleasant relationships of a business nature. It has been a paramount purpose of my organizations to give value for money received. I trust that this policy has not wavered in our transactions.

I will be actively in charge of the concern for two more weeks, and your continued patronage will be thoroughly appreciated.

A number of persons have accounts with me, and I would be grateful if those would come in and make settlement with me personally during the next several days. I am sure satisfactory arrangements can be made.

Persons having coupon books also are requested to make settlements on the books before the change is made. Also those who have purchased merchandise, and have some of it on storage at the store, are requested to come in and call for it in order that no difficulties arise under the new management.

That my patrons and I shall continue to maintain close friendships in the future is the sincere wish of

Your friend,
MAURICE BROWNFIELD

WE WANT TO—

Reduce Our Stock!

The new owner wants to go into the store with a reduced stock of merchandise, and we are going to do our best to REALLY SELL THE GROCERIES during the next two weeks in order to make the reduction. You'll find some mighty attractive prices this week-end at our store.

We are making no effort to quote prices this week, as we have been in such a hub-bub over the sale, trying to assist flood disaster victims and attending to other details that required lots of our time. But we know our friends will remember they can always find values at Piggly Wiggly!

Frank Reeves, in Wednesday's Star-Telegram, gave such a complete story of the outstanding horse show held on the Diamond "M" Ranch Sunday afternoon that The Times takes the liberty of reproducing the article in full:

C. T. McLaughlin, owner of the Diamond "M" Ranch about 15 miles southwest of Snyder, inaugurated something new in horse show circles in the Southwest when he held a show at his ranch and invited other horsemen to bring entries. The show was held Sunday afternoon and horses were entered from Ft. Worth, Dallas, Plainview, Lubbock, Colorado City and Midland. McLaughlin eliminated all of his own horses from consideration by the judges.

McLaughlin is a brilliant contractor with an office at Midland. His family lives in Wichita Falls, but Mrs. McLaughlin, the three daughters, Jean, Evelyn and Ruth, and young son, Mark, join McLaughlin at the ranch for week-ends and come to the ranch for the summer as soon as school is out. All of them are admirers of good horses and spend considerable time riding while at the ranch. They were at the horse show, and all were busy helping to entertain the guests. Approximately 1,000 people were present and they came from a wide area.

The Diamond "M" Ranch consists of about nine sections of land, much of which is suitable for farming and a limited amount of farming is done. All of the land is excellent range and is well covered with grass, mesquite predominating. Dave Revier is foreman. No tractors are used on the ranch. Included in the work stock is a span of mares that weigh 4,100 pounds. McLaughlin bought part of the ranch a few years ago and since has bought a few small tracts. He has made no effort to make a show place out of it, but has been careful to have all improvements practical, durable and convenient. The headquarters building has a wide sleeping porch on the east side. The gates on the ranch are made of welded pipe and all of them carry the ranch brand, a diamond with an M in the center. In landscaping the yard McLaughlin has made various uses of the diamond to increase the effectiveness of the flower plots.

The barns on the place are large, well arranged and well ventilated. Some of the fences around the barn are made with large pipe for posts set in concrete with smaller pipes and rods welded to them to make the fence. These are durable and attractive. He plans to continue this class of improvements.

One of McLaughlin's prize possessions in his saddle and harness house is an old side saddle that was used by his great-grandmother in Pennsylvania and is more than 100 years old. It hung on a peg for more than 30 years in the attic of a house in Pennsylvania until McLaughlin located it a few years ago and brought it to the Diamond "M" Ranch.

Despite the fact that McLaughlin is very much interested in horses, registered Herefords are the major livestock feature on the ranch. He has 152 registered Herefords on the place and the foundation stock he has purchased promises to make the Diamond "M" Herefords a factor in the cattle business in Texas. One of his herd bulls came from the Diamond Ranch owned by F. W. Alexander of Albany and another was one of the prize winning bulls in the Hazlett herd at Eldorado, Kansas. This bull was purchased during the dispersal sale.

A barbecue lunch was served to guests Sunday before the horse show started. Dr. George P. Grout of Panhandle, well known in horse show and dairy cattle circles throughout the United States, was judge of the horses and won many expressions of approval because of the placings. Travis Rumph of Ft. Worth was ring master. An orchestra was on hand to provide music. A shower of rain interrupted the show about the time the third event was finished. Despite this interruption the show was concluded almost on time due to all arrangements being made for having the next class ready as soon as one was finished.

Two beautiful trays were given to exhibitors. One, donated by the First National Bank of Big Spring, was awarded to W. C. Rogers of Ft. Worth for London Melody's performance. Holland Jewelry Company, San Angelo, gave the other tray, which was won by Mrs. Andrew Bowers of Ft. Worth for the performance of Rex Allen. Anna Lee Spires of Roscoe won the vase given by the San Angelo Standard-Times and Pickens Burton of Dallas was the winner of the vase given by C. C. McBurnett of San Angelo. In addition, McLaughlin gave each of a number of the exhibitors a tie chain with a horse standing on the Diamond "M" brand.

McLaughlin announced he plans to make the horse show an annual affair and many improvements will be made for next year's show. He is considering the possibility of having the show at night.

Seven classes were shown. The names of the horses, the owners and the riders are:

Applications Taken On New Wheat Loan

Application taking for emergency wheat loans was started Friday at the courthouse, with a number of farmers seeking emergency loans in the face of prospects for one of the shortest Texas wheat crops in recent years.

Days for taking wheat crop loan applications are Tuesdays and Fridays, states Armor McFarland, who has charge of the local loan office. According to information from the emergency crop loan office, all the applications must be made previous to July 1.

Used Car Move Says Louder

A sale of its entire used car stock will be staged by Louder Motor Company, 1711 25th Street, as a result of the recent volume of new Ford sales, Owner Earl Louder announced yesterday.

A feature of the used car sale will be cash coupons that are redeemable toward the purchase of a second-hand car where a strictly cash transaction is involved.

G. R. Austin, who was recently transferred from Snyder to Aspermont as maintenance foreman for Stonewall County, was a Snyder visitor over the week-end. The former Scoury-Borden maintenance foreman says he is well pleased with his new position at Aspermont. Mrs. Austin will join him there in a few days.

NO HOSPITAL ELECTION.

Due to small attendance at the annual stockholders' meeting of Snyder General Hospital in the district court room Tuesday night, election of the nine-man board of directors was postponed, according to a report from A. C. Preuit.

Leath's Introduces Close-Door Cooling

Among the local business houses taking to the air-cooling line-up is Leath's Cafe, which introduced a current of fresh, comforting air several days ago.

The conditioning unit, installed in the ceiling, just inside the door, permits the eating place to close its doors on the hottest summer days—and keep its customers cool. The constantly changing air is kept circulating by the two large suspension fans that blow air toward the rear of the building.

LOGANS AND HOLMES.

Tom Logan, who lived in the southeast part of town, was usually found at night sleeping out-of-doors, but was forced in by the rain to fix a floor pallet. Logan was first made aware of the flood by water pouring in on him.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan, together with their children, Troy and Gloria Ann, rushed to safety in the attic of the Logan house, where they spent the night.

When awakened by the fire siren, Luther Holmes, next door neighbor of the Logans, and Mrs. Holmes were forced to wade through shoulder-deep water to safety. The Holmes children were sent to a neighbor's earlier in the night.

Chigger, Mosquito Bites Reported By Boys Who Camped

Chigger and mosquito bites were listed as the major casualties received by the 14 local Boy Scouts who returned Monday morning from Barisdale's second week of summer camp held under auspices of the Buffalo Trail Council.

Hardy Hulsey and Carl Hargrove, in charge of the local delegation, reported Tuesday the local troop has been greatly aided by the summer encampment trek. Considerable advancement was made by the boys in major phases of scouting while at camp.

Henry L. Dever, Once of County, In Fatal Plunge

Henry L. Dever, who fell 25 feet from a scaffold in Albuquerque, New Mexico, last Wednesday, died Friday, just four weeks after his wedding May 19.

The 21-year-old plasterer was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dever, who live one mile west of Snyder. The father, a sister, Miss W. O. Dever, an uncle, W. E. Dever, and a nephew, Orville Dever, went from Snyder to final rites Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Burial was in an Albuquerque cemetery.

The former Scurry County man had been in Albuquerque three years. He was well known in the Hermelich vicinity, where his parents resided before he went to New Mexico.

Mr. Dever and Miss Kathryn Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Ingram, were married at Albuquerque May 19.

He and other workmen were installing a vault on the second floor of the Simms Building in Albuquerque. They were hoisting cement to the scaffold in wheelbarrows. Mr. Dever had just started to push a load from the scaffold to the inside when he fell, striking the sidewalk on his side. He suffered fractures of the spine and hip and concussion of the brain.

Surviving, in addition to those already mentioned, are a sister, Mrs. Williams D. Leach, Albuquerque, and a number of more distant relatives in Scurry County.

The first provision of its documents ever made and enacted into law by any state, was the "Home-stead Law" during President Lamar's term of office. This is said to have been the sole creation of his mind.

Insurance For County Crops

AAA farm payments have become a type of insurance for many farmers who were washed or hauled out by Monday's fling of weather.

Asked by The Times to describe possible benefits in a nutshell, Edward S. Hyman, administrative assistant, said:

"Farmers will receive full payment even though cotton is destroyed and not replanted. The acreage of destroyed cotton may be planted to grain sorghum, soybeans, peanuts or any other soil depleting crop.

Oats, barley and wheat mixtures, if not harvested (this includes destroyed crops, of course) are neutral.

"Destroyed wheat also may be planted in grain sorghum, soybeans, peanuts or any other soil depleting crop.

"Full payment will be made as long as 50 per cent of the land is cultivated."

CORRESPONDENTS' NEWS OMITTED!

Because of heavy flood news, The Times is forced to omit a large portion of community correspondents' letters this week. The writers will be favoring the publishers and the folks of the territory by giving full reports of flood damage in the various communities—in next week's news letters. News omitted this week will also be used next week unless it is entirely out of date.

Mrs. G. B. Griffin, Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parks left for East Texas early Sunday morning to be at the bedside of his mother. A short time afterward news came that the elderly woman was dead.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Griffin and family and Bertha Brannon of this community and Emma Jeane, Marion and Calvin Davis visited in the John Griffin home, Turner, Sunday. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Griffin of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hartley and son of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Hodges and family and Mrs. F. I. Townsend and two granddaughters.

R. S. & P. LOSS HEAVY.

Heaviest damage to the Pecos, Snyder & Pacific Railroad since the line was completed in 1908 was recorded by boiling whirlpools that took the bridges out south of Snyder on the line and five bridges north of town, including the long trestle at the north boundary of the Snyder Country Club golf course. H. O. Wooten of Abilene, R. S. & P. president, and R. O. Dobbins, vice president, stated Tuesday while in Snyder that trains could not travel the tracks for eight to 10 days. Total losses were estimated at $5,000.

Court Will Open Summer Session Early Next Week

First case slated for trial when the summer term of district court convenes Monday morning is the damage suit brought by W. J. Ely against J. W. Lettwich, et al.

Six civil suits and six divorce cases, together with five holdover cases from criminal week, will compose the court's docket during the summer term, Justice Billingsley, district clerk, stated Wednesday.

Dean Cochran, Jim Merket, Herbert Deak, Joe York, H. C. Elder, Homer Huddleston, Fred Trice, Jess Brown, R. M. Coston, H. C. Hairston, N. A. Billingsley, J. L. Glass, George Parks, J. E. Maule, H. A. Wimmer, Ray Crowder, C. E. Eastman, Ab Williamson, R. L. Elkins; Emmett Trevey, W. B. Taylor, E. E. McMillan, Victor Longbottom, W. F. Coatsman, Audrey Head, Oscar Rosson, David Strayhorn, Lloyd Ainsworth, Harry Clarkson, Anthony Wade, Henry Kelly, H. E. Walton, Joe Roemisch Jr., Jack Bowling and J. S. Bradbury.

Rev. J. D. Tinkle, pastor of the Methodist Church, filled his regular appointment Sunday. Morning and evening services were well attended.

Mrs. Homer Jenkins and son and daughter of Snyder are visiting Mrs. Vivian Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Reeder spent two days in Young County last week on business.

A prairie fire spread over a part of R. L. Gray's ranch in the east part of the county Sunday, but it was soon put out. A number of Gail men helped with the fire fighting.

The old courthouse building was advertised to be sold Tuesday of this week. The county officials have moved into their respective offices in the new building, with the exception of the clerk, who is awaiting furniture. The remainder of the furnishings are expected to be received this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dordard and children visited with Mr. Dordard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dordard, last week. They returned Saturday to their home in Dallas.

A motorcycle of Big Spring rodeo boosters was in town last week. They were boosting their rodeo, which is to be staged June 23-25. Gail expects to be well represented at the affair.

The Gail girls' and married women's teams were to go to Murphy Wednesday afternoon to pay ball.

Mrs. Ruby Covey has moved her residence downtown while her home is being torn down and rebuilt. The structure will be a stucco, and work was to begin Monday.

"THE BEST PERFORMER EVER BUILT!"
Owners say it—Sales prove it

Count acceleration and hill-climbing... count riding comfort and reliability... count economy of gas, oil, tires and upkeep... Owners say it—sales prove it—"Chevrolet is the best performer ever built!"

They say Chevrolet is "the best performer ever built!" because it out-accelerates, out-climbs, out-performs all other economy cars—bar none! Because it represents the highest standard of smooth, safe, steady riding and day-in-and-day-out dependability. Because it gives all these results at lower cost.

But riding beats reading! So drive this fleet, powerful Chevrolet and prove to yourself what Chevrolet sales prove to the world, that owners are right when they say it's "the best performer ever built."

Ten Years in Snyder

The two present publishers of The Times came to Snyder 10 years ago this month. Simply by remaining in Snyder for this period of time, they have achieved a near-record: They have continuously published a paper here for a longer period of time than any other person or persons, with the possible exception of E. B. Barnes.

Circumstances, as well as inherited Irish hard-headedness, have brought about this lengthy survival. The publishers have always looked back with a sort of reverence on the early-day men, such as Dick Lively, who "suffered, bled and died" that the community might have a newspaper of which it could be proud. Perhaps this semi-reverence, too, has had something to do with the stick-to-it-iveness of the 1939 publishers. It would have been a travesty on their memories to desert the post because the sailing has been rough during the worst depression in the history of Scurry County.

If there is merit in sticking to an often-heart-rending job for 10 years, and if there are any principles behind such merit, these principles must be:

No man can live by bread alone. The present publishers believe a newspaper is a public trust akin to a public office, and that public service must not be adulterated by financial greed.

No favorites must be played. While there are many who disagree with Times policies under the present publishers, no one has successfully refuted the fact that the editorial policy has been fair and unprejudiced. As Lord Byron puts it:

"Without, or with offense to friends or foes,
We sketch your world exactly as it goes."

Without appearing to be too sentimental or too Pollyannish, the publishers can pay glowing tribute to their friends and neighbors who have overlooked ten thousand mistakes and ten thousand errors in judgment that are the natural birthrights of young newspapermen. Through the faith and encouragement, the assistance and the just criticisms of these men and women who are truly the salt of the earth, Willard Jones and J. C. Smyth shall continue to exert every effort toward giving Snyder trade territory a newspaper that ranks among the outstanding weeklies of Texas.

Ode to Colorado City

"After three readings we are still trying to figure out whether we've been handed a bouquet or taken for a ride in a certain article from the editorial page of The Scurry County Times. . . Here's the article, and when you've read it let us know which you think is the case."

1. Changing from Colorado to Colorado City was a wonderful publicity stunt, but it appears to be just that and nothing more. Colorado Citizens who try to give it a practical turn must be laughing behind their sleeves at the thousands of dollars worth of publicity the city received because of her name changing. If that is taking Colorado City "for a ride"—a complimentary ride—then the editorial was not altogether a bouquet thrower.

2. Colorado City was built through hospitality, forward-looking pioneers, its natural position on the T-P and the Bankhead, and its ability, in modern times, to keep a jump ahead of some of its neighbors. That must be the second point of the editorial. To be perfectly frank, Colorado City has several qualities—and a refinery—that Snyder would like to inherit.

While the Colorado City-Snyder subject is at hand, The Times would like to pay a tribute to the county seat of Mitchell County. We believe there is not a friendlier condition in Texas, between two cities whose trade territories overlap, than exists between Colorado City and Snyder. May this genuine friendliness continue through the years—and may each city grow and prosper no faster than the vision of its people.

Editorial of the Week

COCKEYED CONDITIONS

Time was when everything of major importance was accepted without question. People went to church, because they considered it their duty. Now the world is asking, why go to church?

Time was that going to school was taken for granted. A lot of young people are asking now, why get an education when so many college graduates are out of jobs?

Time was when most young men looked either to the farm or the business house as a certain means of livelihood and future independence. Now they are asking, why go into business when 93 per cent of all business people eventually fail; and the government has to help the farmer make a living?

Most young people have one idea: Get hold of a car, drive like hades, have a swell time, and let the government look after you in old age. Living under these cockeyed conditions of the past few years has made most people wonder just which way is the right way. But, after all, straight living, honesty, thrift and economy will win, regardless of what may happen in between times.—The Canyon News.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

A demonstration of just how far scientists have gone in the past two years toward the development of liquid coal, or colloidal fuel, as a possible substitute for gasoline, was given last week in Chicago by Dr. Francis W. Godwin, who surprised delegates to the National Coal Convention and Exposition by driving a stock Pontiac powered by liquid coal through downtown Chicago.

That liquid coal could be commercialized within the next 12 months as a suitable automobile fuel is evidenced by the progress made in the past six months in removing the fuel's main drawbacks. . . when left standing, liquid coal fuel hitherto has become unusable by the coal dust settling to the bottom, and gritty substance found in coal scoring cylinder walls of an automobile engine. . . Addition of a chemical stabilizer, however, has been found to keep coal particles in suspension—or in the body of the new oil fuel—and automatically dissolve grit and ash found in the "black mercury of the mineral world."

Although a few delegates at the National Coal Convention were liberal enough to suggest the new fuel would be on the market in 1940 at 10 cents a gallon for the American motorist, more discreet attendants realized liquid coal will never replace gasoline as an automobile fuel, except in the case of crude shortage—or an emergency.

Even though liquid coal might be adaptable as a "gaswater" substitute, ordinary gasoline has to be used in a car for starting the engine and bringing the motor up to driving heat before the new fuel can be switched in from an auxiliary tank. . . Chief value of liquid coal will probably be its utilization on steamships and in industrial furnaces, since liquid coal burns with more heat a cubic foot than oil or coal alone, and usage in naval vessels, for instance, would save storage space.

Although the trite and timeworn question of what makes a hen set was supposedly settled when a group of exploring Dutchmen bought Manhattan Island from the Indians for a little "wampum," some beads and a few jugs of "firewater," it nevertheless started quite a furor in the pages of the British weekly Nature that reached the United States last week.

Writing in the current issue, Dr. J. A. Loeser, former University of Berlin professor, roused the ire of all tried and true poultrymen by stating in a Nature article that fowl selfishness, and nothing more, caused a hen to get in a setting mood. . . Loeser discounted the usually accepted theory that maternal instincts prompted hens to brace up for a three-week setting session on eggs. . . It seems that now thickly populous Manhattan Island—previously referred to as the gateway to America—will have to be temporarily bought back by the surviving Red Men until American poultry raisers get the subject wandering Loeser back in his proper place.

Texas scientists who hope to sell people of the South and Southwest on the idea of buying plastic materials made of cotton stalks and burrs will need to hasten manufacturing processes along, if they hope to get ahead of a Delaware organization planning to convert a part of Brazil's coffee surplus into plastics and other industrial products. . . Plastics made by the Delaware firm from surplus coffee closely resemble Bakelite, and will offer a serious threat to certain other similar products, if commercially produced.

Although the average person would gladly let all who care to take the frozen colonies around the South Pole known as Antarctica and tough it out on some floating ice floe found in the world's vastest wasteland, this territory at present is offering a battleground for seven nations to base their claims on. . . The empire of ice and snow has somehow offered an irresistible attraction to explorers since Amundsen discovered the South Pole on December 14, 1911.

Ellsworth's "American Highland" claim to a portion of Antarctica is seconded by Byrd's partially explored New Zealand territory, while Britain claims the portion known as Falkland dependencies, Ross dependency and a slice of Australia. . . A French claim in Australia is closely followed by Norway's strip of territory called Queen Maud Land. . . Germany lays strong claim to 230,000 square miles of Antarctica, but has not been successful to date in establishing her exact territorial possessions. . . Possibly Antarctica will not be so thrillingly absorbing to the present generation, but it may one day become valuable for the deposits of minerals hid under its ice-clad wastelands.

The majority of capable economists are beginning to say cautiously the nation's December-May business decline is gradually giving over to a general business upturn. . . The low level to which retail and wholesale inventories have fallen is one straw in the air indicating improved conditions, while the federal government's huge spending program is cited as another factor that is indirectly bringing about a brighter economic outlook. . . Be that as it may, every village and city in America can take on a sege of improved business conditions.

Oliver Wendell Holmes had a four-word definition for an afternoon tea, relates an exchange: "Giggle, gabble, gobble, git." If he had lived in 1939 he probably would have described a bridge party as follows: "Giggle, gabble, glower, gloat, git."

HERE IS MORE CONCERNING FLOOD

Snyder to Gail within the next few days. Approximately 50 per cent of the county's row crops must be replanted as the result of Monday night's torrential rainstorm that was accompanied by hail in many sections, farmers and agricultural officials report.

Many portions of the county received far heavier rains than were reported in Snyder. The local total Monday night was 5.05 inches.

Canyon Heaviest Hit. Heaviest rainfall, variously estimated from 10 to 16 inches, fell in the Canyon community, 15 miles southwest of Snyder. Torrential rains also fell west, northwest and north of Snyder—headwaters of the creeks that strike the heart of the county seat. Rainfall was lighter in border communities—Emis, Polk, Justiceburg, Camp Springs, Ira, Dunn and Byron received tremendous rains, while Plevana was being doused with 4.25 inches. Gail with 2.40, Murphy in Borden County with 3.46 and Knapp with five to seven inches.

A 10-inch rain accompanied by heavy hail started north of Hemphill, leveled fields and growing crops through a vast slice of Scurry County that came within a short distance of the overpass two miles east of Snyder. Going east, the Plainview community was one of the hardest hit.

Heavy wind also brought considerable damage in practically all sections of the county. Windmills, out-houses, windows and other property was also damaged by wind that accompanied rain in several areas, notably in and southwest of Snyder Sunday afternoon. Many trees were also damaged in Snyder that afternoon as 82 inch of moisture fell.

Crop Loss Staggering. Crop damage estimated at from $250,000 to $275,000 was added to the county's flood, wind and hail toll, as surveys of county fields revealed leveled acres in many sections.

Well over six inches of rainfall for June, an all-time record for the month, was recorded in Snyder by Mrs. B. G. Johnson, official weather gauger. Nearest approach was June of 1929, when precipitation totaled 4.01 inches. The month of May, also, set an all-time record for that month, but there was little damage from intermittent May rains except where crops were washed out.

Model Home Will Be Ready Soon; It's All Modern

Completion of the five-room model home being erected at 3102 Avenue W by O. L. Wilkerson Lumber Company is slated for next week, G. B. Clark Jr. of the local yard reported Tuesday.

Features of the new home, being built under FHA specifications, include cross ventilation in each room, with an interior trim of narrow moulded pine employed throughout. Jock joints and weather stripping are two additional features.

Sun-check Venetian blinds permit almost any amount of sunlight penetration. The H-shaped structure has an attached garage built into the north wing. Open for inspection, Wilkerson's five-room model home will be for sale under FHA terms when completed.

JEV WILL PREACH. Rev. Hyman Appelman, a converted Jew, will preach twice daily at the First Baptist Church, Sweetwater, June 25-July 9, according to an announcement received by The Times from Rev. J. M. Sibley, pastor. An evangelist employed by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Rev. Appelman conducts meetings all over the United States. "No doubt he is the greatest evangelist of this generation," Rev. Sibley writes. "The people of Sweetwater and vicinity are urged to hear this outstanding preacher."

Firemen Report on Trip To Harlingen

Snyder's quartet of fire department delegates—C. M. Boren, Mack Gideon, Melvin Newton and Marcel Josephson—returned Saturday from the three-day annual convention of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association, held in Harlingen.

Boren, who represented the Midwest Firemen's Association, and the trio representing the local department, reported "an excellent time."

A former Ira resident, Jake Childress, Harlingen Fire Department chief, was host to the convention, said by most of the 3,000 attendants to have been the greatest, with one exception, ever held by the association. The 1940 convention goes to Houston.

Telephone Teamwork in Texas

Some people are surprised to learn that there are 396 telephone companies serving Texas. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is the largest, it is true. But there are others—395 of them—which have the important job of providing telephone service in about 830 Texas towns and cities.

The Southwestern Bell is glad its lines connect with the lines of these other Texas telephone companies, blanketing the state with a vast network of wires—so that boundaries between companies are not barriers to quick, state-wide telephone service.

Through teamwork and friendly co-operation, 396 Texas telephone companies work together to furnish Texas with telephone service that is fast, accurate, and dependable.

Long Distance in Texas is cheap. You can telephone 100 miles for 60 cents (3 minute conversation, day rate, station-to-station).
