SNYDER, TEXAS, JUNE 29
THURSDAY AFTERNOON NINETEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINE

ISSUE

MORE DETAILS ABOUT FLOOD'S RAVAGES GIVEN BY REPORTER

More details of Snyder firms damaged by wind and water, hail and storm last Monday night by the worst flood disaster in county history follow:

Bullfrogs might well have taken up their abode last Tuesday morning at Modern Wash House, 1935 25th Street, from the amount of mud and silt left by the lashing overflow of Deep Creek that went to a 30-inch level in the wash house. Starch, soap and other materials were completely ruined, but slight damage resulted to the machinery.

Record books, soap, paper and other materials were wedged to mud at Snyder Steam Laundry, just east of the wash house, by waters that soaked machinery through and through. Permanent damage was slight, due to prompt baths of alcohol.

Damage at Johnson's.
Five truck loads of records and other permanently damaged equipment were hauled away from Johnson Motor Lines, third firm coming east from Deep Creek on the north side of 25th Street, as a result of waters that reached a three-foot level in the building. But amid ruined records and water-swollen drawers, the flood left a nice present for J. R. Reeves, local manager, in the form of a "high water" snake—on Reeves' desk. Articles stored in the rear of the building were damaged, and the roof of the building was also injured by wind and rain.

Bargain Center Furniture Store. Just east of Johnson's felt a lighter sting from flood waters, reports Eugene Pinkerton, manager. Total furniture losses were not high.

Lumber Yard Injured.
Overflow Deep Creek waters reached an angry finger to lap at the west side of Snyder Garage—within half block of the square—and at the flood tide Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company's yard was 10 inches under water on the north side. The recently-finished oak floor was most seriously damaged, said W. D. Haral, manager.

Evidently deflected by the west walls of Snyder Garage, brackish waters cut a swath southwest across West 25th Street, rising to a five-inch level in the Ed Darby Blacksmith Shop.

On their way back to Deep Creek the debris-crowned waters left an eight-inch waterline in the J. R. Hicks Motor Company. A few egg cases and cream cans were swept away at Snyder Produce Company.

Snyder Hatchery Loses.
Considerable loss of growing mash and other feeds was marked up at Snyder Hatchery, where flood tides climbed building walls two and one-half feet.

Two and a half feet of troubled waters swept through the Bushy Hedges Service Station, just southwest of the highway bridge on West 25th Street, resulting in nominal damage to station supplies and accessories.

Five head of cattle in the McClintock-Noble stock pens two blocks north of the square were drowned by over four feet of yellowish water that carried a path of destruction eastward across the stockyards and "Jackass avenue." Fifty per cent of the grains and feed in the McClintock and Noble Feed Store were ruined by four feet of silt-churned waters that soaked sack upon sack of feeds.

She Won Again

Among West Texas' leading cowgirls is pretty Elizabeth Miller of Fluvanna, daughter of the R. Clyde Millers, Borden-Scurry ranch people. Another laurel was added to the string around her cowboy hat last week when she was acclaimed the leading cowgirl at Big Spring's annual rodeo July 23-25. She was representing the Miller Brothers ranches. First place at the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Stamford, last year and third place in a recent Spur sponsors' contest are other winnings of the Fluvanna High School student. She won a saddle for her performance at the Stamford contest last year and another at the Big Spring event last week.

Doc Bynum Lacks Out.
All stocks of cream and eggs on hand, with the exception of one can of cream, were shipped from the Doc Bynum Produce House, 2401 Avenue R, just a few hours before flood waters left a three-foot tide line in the produce building. Bynum waded through the tide to save cream cans and egg crates from "going out."

Slight damage resulted at the A. L. Potete Blacksmith Shop, south of Bynum's, by a 28-inch tide that swept through the shop, vainly trying to eat its way to the square.

Raymond Berryhill lost two calves from the pens north of the square. Out of several head of cows and calves. He and Lois Adams managed to get their horses out by riding bareback—after Adams had been well dunked by his water-shy pony.

Wade's Well Watered.
Churning waters reached a four and one-half foot depth in Wade's Service Station, located at the corner of Avenue Q and 25th Street. Two dogs were carried out and three large places were smashed in the walls.

Lubricating oils were washed away and considerable damage was done to gas and oil sales records at T-P Service Station, just west of Wade's, by three and one-half feet of water that reached out to cover office and garage parts and equipment with tide-filtered mud.

Leader Motor Company. Another East 25th Street concern found water three feet deep in the north storage room. Fourteen inches was the depth on the east side of Scurry County Motor Company; Jack Keller's Wrecking Shop, three feet; McClintock's Battery Shop, 23 inches; Buchanan Tin Shop, 29 inches; Lightfoot Service Station, three and one-half feet; Gulf warehouse, eight inches; R. S. & P. office, 26 inches; Blue Bird Cafe, 30 inches.

His Feet Struck Mud!
When Charles Westbrook, operator of Ideal Wash House, arose from his bed in the building Tuesday morning before daylight to light the boiler, his foot struck mud! It was his first knowledge of the flood that had roared through his part of town half the night.

J. C. Dawson's Coal Yard felt the lash of the waters, some fuel being washed away, a storage house being moved 100 feet southward and the fence being well tangled.

North on Avenue S—Magnolia Service Station, 27 inches; Harrington's Gulf Service Station, 30 inches; Snyder Salvage House, four feet; Lewis Service Station, 42 inches; Dunnam Mattress Factory, the same; Carden's Tourist Camp, 39 inches; Stinson Camp Ground, 30 inches.

Of the above businesses, Stinson's probably suffered the heaviest loss, cars, equipment and merchandise feeling the brunt of the waves.

Wheat that was almost ready for harvesting was badly shattered in places, with a total loss of the crop reported north of Hermleigh and a few other sectors. A considerable amount of wheat is still found, however, south of Hermleigh and near Inadale and Fluvanna.

A check-up Wednesday with Armore McFarland, who is in charge of emergency wheat crop loans for Scurry County, revealed that only a small number of farmers have filed applications to date for wheat crop loans.

Two Outside Workers.
Mrs. Jessica Bennett, Texas Relief Commission administrator for Districts 13 and 14, made a survey of the Snyder and Scurry County relief needs while here Monday.

Bernice Rosenwasser, Texas Relief Commission official of Abilene, was given office space at the local relief office this week to assist Mrs. Line and other local workers.

Mrs. Rosenwasser is taking applications for WPA work, writing clothing orders and taking applications for CCC enrollees, several of whom will leave for CCC camps in the near future.

RAIN RECORDS SHATTERED BY RECENT FALLS

Soaking Rain Exactly Week After Flood Helps Set Up Huge Two-Month Total

A soaking rain that followed the Juneteenth flood disaster by one week exactly, almost to the hour, gave Snyder 1.05 inches of precipitation Monday night. The rain, although spotted, was heavier in some sections of the trade territory.

A two-inch rainfall through Monday night was recorded at Fluvanna with around three inches of precipitation reported at Turner and Knapp.

Rains that got the creeks up in the Ira community near the Sharon Ridge oil pool caused some oil field workers to detour Monday night before being able to reach Snyder.

More rainfall has already been recorded for June—7.46 inches—than for any previous June over a 22-year period. Nearest approach was in June, 1921, when 7.05 inches of rainfall was marked up.

June rainfall by days, given by Mrs. B. G. Johnson, government weather gauger, follow: June 1, .54; June 8, .82; June 19, 5.05; and June 26, 1.05 inches.

The wettest June in county history is preceded by an all-time moisture record for May, when 5.83 inches of rainfall was recorded. A total of 5.09 inches precipitation is shown for May, 1922, which is the nearest approach to this year's figures.

CO-OPS LISTEN TO LEADERS IN U.S. AND STATE

Crowd Shortened Because of Rain That Struck Snyder Three Days Before Meeting

Cooperative gin owners, stockholders and directors and Scurry and a number of other West Texas counties attended the District 13 meeting of the Texas Cooperative Ginners Association at the courthouse last Thursday.

This area's Monday night flood considerably cut down local and outside attendance, according to association officials.

Among morning arrivals at the meeting were J. H. Carlock of Colorado City, District 13 director; Homer Thompson of Post, Garza County agent; and Joe C. Williams of Colorado City, Mitchell County agent, who brought eight representatives of Mitchell County cooperatives to a feature of the all-day meeting was a "Dutch treat" luncheon given attendees at the Manhattan Hotel by X. B. Cox Jr., county agent, as host agent for the conclave.

Principal speakers included Roy Saunders, Greenville, agricultural department of Texas Experiment Station; J. E. Montgomery, state Department of Agriculture; C. E. Bowles, cooperative marketing specialist with A. & M. College; E. L. Dorn, West Texas Cotton Growers Association, Abilene; R. P. King, West Texas Cooperative Ginners Federation; W. T. Carrel and J. H. Carlock.

Round table discussions centered around various cooperative marketing problems, including those affecting REA, cold storage lockers and other cooperative agencies.

DICKSON MADE NEW MANAGER OF CIVIC BODY

Son of Well Known Farm Leader Comes to Snyder with Good Background for Job

Ray Dickson, son of R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the state experiment farm at Spur, will be secretary-manager of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, effective July 1. His election was announced by W. R. Bell, president, after a session of the nine-man board of directors Monday night.

A native of West Texas, young Dickson has almost entirely an agricultural background, from practical as well as academic standpoints. He has recently been a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce staff at Abilene, where he was in charge of the West Texas Resource and Museum Institute.

Dickson attended A. & M. College four years and was also a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock, one summer. He specialized in the study of farm and ranch problems, and during summers and after school hours he worked at a number of jobs that helped him for work with folks in agricultural areas.

He worked on a cotton breeding farm, and was transit man, statistician, laboratory assistant and gardener at A. & M. or under various government projects. He was succeeding as a salesman when he decided to return to the work he loves—work with the farmers and ranchers, with whom he has been intimately associated since he peddled peas, raised chickens and fed out five calves as a vocational project at Spur High School.

Although his work does not become effective until Saturday, the new manager is already becoming acquainted with his work here and is moving his belongings from Abilene. He is unmarried.

"Sugar Game" of Snyder, Hamlin Feud Set July 4

Snyder meets Hamlin on the local diamond Tuesday afternoon. Fourth of July, 3:30 o'clock, in a grudge game that should attract a capacity holiday crowd to Winston Field.

The local independent nine was defeated, 9-1, by the Hamlins at Hamlin June 4, and retaliated in the return game here June 11 by walloping the Jones Countians 5-4 in a closely fought affair.

The locals continued their winning ways here Sunday afternoon by snowing under the Tahoka nine, 12-7. Top performances by Snyder bats included 16 hits and good fielding. Elbie Miller held the visitors to eight blows.

Bon Ton Cafe Goes To Hobbs Recently

Mrs. Vic Montgomery, who operated the Bon Ton Cafe just north of Maples Funeral Home, moved fixtures and furnishings late last week to Hobbs, New Mexico, where they will be installed in a tourist camp Mrs. Montgomery owns.

Mrs. Montgomery had been actively in charge of the cafe since the death of her husband several years ago. Vic Montgomery was one of Snyder's pioneer cafe operators, several local locations having been occupied by his businesses.

Lions Ladies' Night Event May Be July 4

Tuesday night, July 4, was tentatively set by Lions Club members this week as the date for the ladies' night program at Dermott Park, according to W. W. Smith, Hadley Reeve and Hal Lattimore, program committee members. New officers are slated to be installed at the meeting. The fiscal year begins July 1.

Postponement of the program from Tuesday night of this week was announced after rain threatened here most of the day.

County Counts Flood Ravages

Legion Plans to Rebuild Hut That Flood Destroyed

First step toward rebuilding the American Legion Hut that was swept away by wind and water in last week's flood was taken by Will Layne Post members Tuesday night at a meeting in the county court room. Plans were formulated to seek aid for rebuilding purposes.

A committee was appointed by Sam O. Nations, post commander, to take up with WPA officials the feasibility of a loan for rebuilding the hut, together with construction of a swimming pool and civic park.

Legion officials estimated total losses incurred when the hut was swept down Deep Creek were $2,000. All equipment, with the exception of 70 salvaged chairs, was a complete loss.

The plans owned by the Legion Hut was found below the Deep Creek bridge in the colored section after flood waters subsided—a mass of useless caked mud and twisted keys.

TUSCOLA MAN COMES JULY 3

C. V. Morris of Tuscola, who recently purchased the local Piggly Wiggly store from Maurice Brownfield, will assume charge of the north side grocery and market after July 3, Brownfield stated Wednesday.

Brownfield, associated with Piggly Wiggly for 11 years, will continue to reside in Snyder, but he has not yet announced his plans for the future. He is well known as a successful merchant, civic leader and highway booster.

Morris has been in the grocery business 10 years.

The store force used by Brownfield will continue in action under the new ownership, as follows: Buster Curtis, Leighton Griffin, Junior Thompson, Chamer Watkins, L. A. Berry, Albert Carlton and Arthur Milsap, butcher.

Bison Women Send Short Course Money To Aid Flood Area

Women of the Bison Home Demonstration Club were so impressed with the need of Snyder flood sufferers that they did more sacrificial giving than probably any other community in the trade area.

They planned to send a delegate to the A. & M. Short Course in July, but they brought their trip money to the local Red Cross headquarters instead. Their $107.15 in cash was supplemented by a large amount of clothing and canned food.

Following is a list of the donors: Mmes. H. Richter, H. von Roeder, Nolan von Roeder, Roy Barber, Wiley Eubanks, Tommy Sterling, Ben Weathers, J. L. Weathers, Ed Murphy, Lloyd Murphy and Jim Sorrells.

Brush Arbor to Be Ennis Meeting Site

Brush arbor services will be conducted at Ennis Creek beginning Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, with Rev. John R. Denning of Big Spring, assisted by Rev. C. E. Lester in charge. The services will continue for one week.

People of the Ennis Creek and surrounding communities are extended a cordial invitation by community leaders to take part in the old-fashioned brush arbor meeting. Day and night services are planned.

Four From County To Legion Meeting

Sam O. Nations, local Will Layne Post commander, Mrs. Nations and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardin composed a quartet that represented Scurry County at the 5th Division American Legion convention, held at Odessa Saturday and Sunday.

Principal speakers included Vincent Chiodo, Houston, state department commander; Ed Riddell, San Angelo, 5th Division commander; Dr. J. W. Danforth, Ft. Worth. A total of 111 West Texas, or one-third of the state, composed the area served by the 5th Division.

MRS. HERM IS ILL.
Mr. and Mrs. Otello Herm of Charleston, West Virginia, arrived in Snyder Saturday to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. R. C. Herm. The elder Mrs. Herm, ill for several weeks, was moved Sunday to a local hospital. Her condition remains serious, her daughters say.

MORE DAMAGE IN SOME AREAS

Flood damage estimates climbed above the half million dollar mark this week, as further surveys were made of Snyder's water-swept disaster area and over 60 families made arrangements to move to new locations.

In other parts of the county, too, residents were making rapid strides Wednesday toward digging themselves out of mud and silt following the county's worst flood.

More than 300 people were routed from their homes here by the high water, wind and scattered hail that struck Monday night of last week. More than 100 families will require financial assistance, according to latest figures of the helping-hand agencies.

Damages Into Millions.
While Snyder suffered the brunt of flood waters, other portions of the county suffered severely. It is probable that a final check, including Snyder's damages in the vicinity of a half million dollars, will reveal actual losses running well over a million dollars. On top of this must be added the tremendous loss of fertile topsoil.

Snyder, itself received only 5.05 inches of rainfall that Juneteenth night, but many areas of this county and a small eastern strip in Borden County received total moisture of eight to 10 inches.

The deluge brought death to only one person—57-year-old Ollie Morrow, who was whipped downstream about midnight by waters of Dry Creek, near the school campus, as he sought to find his way home.

Disease Being Fought.
Dr. H. E. Rosser, county health officer, reported Wednesday that more than 700 county residents have been given free typhoid serum furnished by the state to forestall a possible outbreak of typhoid as a flood aftermath. The disease fight so far has been successful, he reported.

Red Cross and Texas Relief Commission officials are bending every effort this week to see that rehabilitation work among flood refugees is carried forward as rapidly as possible.

Snyder was allocated $2,500 last Thursday by WPA to clear away flood debris and drain lowlands. W. H. Geisler, local WPA foreman, is in charge of a 75-man crew that has been rapidly clearing the city of flood stains.

Many Bridges Damaged.
According to figures obtained Wednesday from members of the Commissioners Court and County Judge Sterling Williams, damages to 20 county bridges ravaged by flood waters run far into the tens of thousands.

Repair work on the 12 to 15 washed-out bridges is going forward at a rapid stride this week, although all steel work will be delayed for some time.

It was mistakenly reported in The Times last week that the swinging bridge over the Colorado River, southwest portion of the county, was washed out.

Several mail carriers are just now getting back to their regular schedules. Many families west and southwest of Snyder missed their mail for several days.

Farmers Replant Again.
Farmers have been working day and night to replant 350 acres of flood-levelled cottonlands. Many of them had already replanted one to three times because of heavy May rains. Forty thousand acres, or 50 per cent of the cotton planted in the county, was destroyed according to surveys made by farm leaders. Almost 10,000 acres of feed crops were ruined.

Probably 1,000 head of livestock, including more than 800 sheep, were drowned or chilled to death in the west and southwest parts of the county.

Repair work on the R. S. & P. bridge north of town, near the golf course—last remaining bridge on the line that needs repairing before train service between Snyder and Fluvanna can be resumed—will be finished late this week, according to C. L. Banks, section foreman.

Bran, Poison Sent to Lamar From Scurry

Twenty tons of bran and 400 gallons of poison were shipped from the county grasshopper mixing plant Saturday to Paris, Texas, for use in Lamar County grasshopper control work.

Attaches at the county agent's office say "hopper infestation in Scurry County so far is exceptionally light."

TIMES ISSUES WANTED.
The Times needs several issues each of the papers dated June 1 and June 8. Bring them this week and receive 10 cents each for them.

PEOPLE COMMENDED FOR "THEIR WONDERFUL RESPONSE" TO CALL

"The wonderful way in which the people of Snyder and Scurry County have responded to our emergency call for clothing and services to aid flood victims is truly without parallel in local history," Mrs. Carrie Line, county relief supervisor, stated Tuesday.

That the response has exceeded all expectations is proved by the hundreds of garments, men's wearing apparel, shoes, dresses, underwear and canned goods received at the local relief office from the four corners of the county and elsewhere.

Mrs. Line, who, as county Red Cross chairman, coordinates all the helping-hand agencies, along with other Red Cross leaders, expresses her keen appreciation for the generous contributions.

Volunteer Workers.
"Volunteer workers such as May McClintock, Mrs. Simon Best and Mrs. Rogers and others have given unsparingly of their time and service in our relief office," Mrs. Line stated further, "and we owe them a debt of gratitude too."

Unique Cooling Unit Boasted by Modern

Another strong believer in air-conditioning for the summer months is Modern Wash House, 1935 25th Street, which has installed a unique cooling unit that carries a fine mist of water through the upper part of the entire structure.

Located in the front of the building, an 18-inch fan, fed from the front by a small jet of water, is aided by a 12-inch fan in the center of the structure that carries a fine overhead mist to the back door. J. I. Baze, manager, states the new cooling unit results in a 25 per cent cooler wash house.

Snyder Gin Concern Goes to Shallowater

Ely, Arnold & Ely Gin Company of Snyder recently purchased a gin at Shallowater, near Lubbock, and extensive improvements are being made at the Plains location.

In the local manager's shoes at the gin will be Bernard Longbotham Jr., who was formerly associated with the concern at Snyder and San Angelo. He has for some time been bookkeeper for Hoppe Electric Company, Abilene. He and his wife and baby are moving to Shallowater, where a four-room home is being erected for them on the gin property.

LOW YIELD OF WHEAT AHEAD

Veteran grain men reported yesterday that the county may ship eight to 10 cars of wheat this year, although grain was badly damaged in many parts of the county by last week's deluge of water, wind and hail.

Wheat that was almost ready for harvesting was badly shattered in places, with a total loss of the crop reported north of Hermleigh and a few other sectors. A considerable amount of wheat is still found, however, south of Hermleigh and near Inadale and Fluvanna.

A check-up Wednesday with Armore McFarland, who is in charge of emergency wheat crop loans for Scurry County, revealed that only a small number of farmers have filed applications to date for wheat crop loans.

Snyder, Hermleigh Postal Chiefs Go to Big Spring Session

Postmaster Warren Dodson, Snyder, Postmaster Warren Fargason, Hermleigh, and John L. Greene, president of the district Rural Letter Carriers Association, attended sessions of the three-day state postmasters' meeting at Big Spring last Thursday.

Mrs. Fargason, who made the trip with her husband, reports she had "as much fun" as the three men who attended from this county.

Nat Schick, Big Spring postmaster, was host to attending postmasters and postal employees for the three-day conclave. Outstanding speakers discussed the rapid strides made by the Post Office Department in recent years, including improved mail service resulting from modernization of several West Texas post offices.

Trio to Abilene for Regional Farm Meet

X. B. Cox Jr., county agent, Edward S. Hymen, administrative assistant, and Frank Wilson, chairman of the county committee, composed a trio of Scurry County farm officials that attended a regional AAA meeting in Abilene Monday.

Twentieth Century Club's Yearbook Promises Interesting Year of Study

First 1938-40 yearbook in the hands of the society editor is that of the Twentieth Century Club, Snyder's second oldest study group, which holds a high place among clubs of the city. Twentieth Century Club will begin its eighteenth year of work with the first 1939-40 meeting September 19.

Complete change of officers for the club year is adding interest to fall plans, and the group's chosen study course, "Seeing America Through Modern Writers," is fascinating within itself. Assigned roll calls will take care of the foreign angles for the club next year, as each member tells current news of different foreign peoples.

Project interest of the club continues to be in its planned city library, which awaits opening only because no suitable location and plan for paying rent have been found. Suggestions or proposed plans regarding the library from any local citizen will be welcomed by the sponsoring club, leaders say.

100 Books Are Ready.

Some 100 books, including a new set of reference books purchased last year by the club, are ready to be placed in the library. Promise of many others have been received by the club and will be available at the opening, the donors say.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn head the list of retiring officers of Twentieth Century Club. She filled out the unexpired two-year term of Mrs. W. E. Lacey, who moved to Breckenridge in January, 1938, as president. Mrs. Lacey was instrumental in originating plans for the library, and she remains vitally interested in the project. Original plans have been furthered under leadership of Mrs. Dunn.

Mrs. LeFond President.

New officers, who take over their duties in September, are as follows: Mrs. J. E. LeFond, president; Mrs. W. H. Cauble, first vice president; Mrs. H. M. Blackard, second vice president; Mrs. B. M. West, recording secretary; Mrs. W. J. Ely, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn, treasurer; Mrs. I. W. Boren, parliamentary; Mrs. Allen Warren, reporter; Mrs. P. C. Chenuault, timekeeper.

Mrs. H. J. Brice will be hostess at the club's reassembly luncheon September 19. Mrs. Dunn, immediate past president, will direct the program, giving a review of the year's work. Messare from the new president, Mrs. LeFond, promises to be inspiring, as does a talk on "The Ideal Club Member" by Mrs. Cauble.

Topics for succeeding programs will include: The San Francisco and New York World Fairs, International Goodwill, Public Welfare, The Midwest, Romance of the West, The Old South, The Great Southwest, and New England.

Plan Special Programs.

Special programs — Christmas, Health, Texas Day, Child Welfare and Federation — together with the club's annual May breakfast and grandmothers party, will round out a full year of work. Closing program will be of general nature on the origin of the Pulitzer prize, and a review of one of the prize-winning books.

A list of past presidents, which begins and ends with Mrs. Dunn, includes many who still hold membership in the club. They are: Mmes. Dunn, H. L. Davis of Rotan, H. P. Brown, R. W. Webb, H. J. Brice, Allen Warren, W. T. Raybon, parliamentary; Mrs. I. W. Boren, parliamentary; Mrs. Allen Warren, reporter; Mrs. P. C. Chenuault, timekeeper.

Mrs. H. J. Brice will be hostess at the club's reassembly luncheon September 19.

Mrs. Logan Hostess To Duce Bridge Club

Annual Bird Reunion Attracts Local Nine

Attracting cousins from a wide area in Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico, the second annual reunion of the Bird descendants was held at Buffalo Gap, south of Abilene, Sunday. More than 100 relatives gathered, including nine from Snyder.

Middle of the 19th century marked the coming of Charles, George and Wilson Bird, brothers, and their parents from North Carolina to make Texas their home. Several years later a younger sister, Arminda, was born. She later became Mrs. J. Z. Noble, and two of her children, Mrs. Bernard Longbotham and C. L. Noble, live here.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble and daughter, Mary Nell, Mrs. Longbotham and young sons, Charles, Jack, Bob and Billy, and her only daughter, Geraldine of Ft. Worth, were the local people attending the annual gathering. The Ft. Worth girl arranged her vacation especially so she could attend. The same group, minus Mrs. Noble, attended last year.

The 1938 reunion was held at the ranch home of one of the Bird descendants at Sango, near San Angelo. This year it was decided that the annual affair would be held each year at Buffalo Gap, where space is ample and entertainment possibilities varied.

Ben P. Bird of Abilene was named reunion chairman, and Mrs. Hub Taggart of Rotan was reelected secretary.

SECOND GRANDCHILD.

Granddaughter number two for the H. T. Seftons of Snyder is small Sandra Kay Pittman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Pittman of San Angelo. The baby was born in a San Angelo hospital Saturday, June 17, to the Pittmans, whose home address is 818 West Avenue M. Only other grandchild of the local couple is two-year-old Neida Lee Pittman. Mrs. Sefton is in San Angelo and will remain with her daughter there until about August 1.

OKLAHOMA VISITORS.

Mrs. S. L. Johnson has had as her guests the past week two of her sisters, Mmes. E. L. Gooch of Oklahoma City and Gertrude Hamlett of Mgrkel, her daughter, Mrs. Sam Lincecum, and granddaughter, Eula Mae Lincecum, both of Altus, Oklahoma. The Lincecums also visited in town with the Ollie Stinsons and C. T. Glens. The two were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Glen to Lubbock and vicinity last Thursday, where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garrett at Lubbock, the Lon Lincecums at Becton and the L. Lincecums near Lubbock. The Oklahoma people returned home Monday, but Mrs. Hamlett is remaining for a more extended visit with the local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Longbotham Jr. and small daughter, Connie, are moving July 1 from Abilene to Shallowater. Mrs. Longbotham visited in Snyder briefly last week en route to and from Shallowater, where she was arranging drapery details for their new house there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Carnes of Houston are guests of their parents here — Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Carnes and Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Brooks. Mrs. Carnes is the former Imogene Brooks.

Marion Barrier Selected.

Bison 4-H Club girls met Friday at the home of Ellen and Lucille Sorrells. They selected Marion Barrier to represent the club at the Short Course in July.

By giving the play, "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," the girls, with the help of their teachers and the Murphy School boys, made most of the money to send their delegate to the Short Course, the remainder being made by donations from the girls themselves.

Bison Women's Club.

The Bison Home Demonstration Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Jim Sorrells. They had planned to send a delegate to the A. & M. Short Course, but as many crops were hauled out money was scarce, they decided to use the money it would have taken for the trip to give to the flood-stricken area of Snyder instead. Food, clothing and $1075 in cash were contributed.

The secretary, council delegate and several others were absent. Two new members — Miss Lawrence Branson and Mrs. Ben Weathers — joined.

Dunn Studies Tomatoes.

This play suit with bold, horizontal stripes and pleated, detachable skirt, as shown in a popular magazine, is especially suitable as a morning costume for the too-tall, too-slender figure. The peasant silhouette is the most flattering for the woman who is too thin.

Rev. Elmer Dunham, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Santa Anna, was selected last week as District 8 Baptist missionary, of which Scurry County is a part, at a business session of the district executive board at Big Spring. He will assume his duties August 11. His predecessor was Rev. J. J. Strickland, who recently accepted a pastorate at South Park in Beaumont.

Jim York, who lives on Gavett Creek in the edge of Borden County, was probably the heaviest single loser of animals in last week's flood. Several hundred head of sheep and a few head of cows were drowned in the rushing waters. The Parks brothers also lost heavily, probably 150 head of animals, from the Arah section.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Graham, recent guests in Mrs. M. Stacy's home, are remembered by a number of Scurry County residents as former Scurry County teachers. Mrs. Stacy is the former Rena Stacy, eldest daughter of Mrs. Stacy and the late M. Stacy. The couple recently moved from Allen, Oklahoma, to Oklahoma City. The family was in the headlines in recent years when mother and father received degrees from the East Central Teachers College at Ada one year and the two children received degrees the following year. Bessie, the daughter, teaches in Oklahoma City; Albert, the son, in Seminole.

J. R. Reeves, who has been associated with the former Snyder Transfer Company for several years, has been placed in charge as local manager of the Johnson Motor Lines, since the recent purchase of Snyder Transfer's 400 miles of lines by Johnson lines. Johnson maintains headquarters offices at Ft. Worth.

County Superintendent Roy O. Irvin leaves Monday as Scurry's representative to the three-day annual conference for county superintendents at A. & M. College. The conference, slated Monday through Wednesday, will attract some of the state's outstanding educators.

A dictionary was not included in purchases by a customer in a local store a few days ago. When the clerk told the purchaser the total amount of the bill—which included some lingerie—the customer looked surprised. So the clerk asked: "Would you like for me to itemize them for you?" The customer's companion spoke up excitedly: "Yes, ———, have her itemize them; it makes them smell on ———."

Lawyer Shipman, formerly of Pampa, is coming up in the state agricultural group. Graduate of the Scurry County high school and of Texas Technological College, he put the agriculture department of the New Deal School, Lubbock County, where he taught, among the leading in the state before he joined the Farm Security Administration. Now of Amarillo, Shipman's work is that of field agent in 47 Northwest Texas counties.

Children Receive Awards at Close Of Bible Schools

Two Vacation Bible Schools at local churches closed Sunday with awarding of achievement certificates. Special service at the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches Sunday morning closed their joint school, and the Sunday evening program closed the Baptist school.

High attendance and excellent work featured both schools, the teachers and leaders say. Little confusion in the schools was caused by last week's flood. Many of the students missed not one of the morning sessions, and others missed only one or two times.

Exhibit of handicraft was arranged by the Methodist-Presbyterian school to be viewed by parents and others interested Friday morning. A picnic for the pupils at Browning Park, near Dermott, followed.

Special mention certificates were awarded at the Sunday School hour in the morning by Herman Darby, general superintendent. Teachers and helpers with the school were commended by Darby, with special thanks to Mrs. Lydia M. Hardy, superintendent of the vacation work, the two pastors, Rev. I. A. Smith and Rev. C. H. Ward, and other workers. Metallic stars adorned the certificates handed to honor students.

Sunday evening service at the Baptist Church was devoted to a commencement service for pupils at their two-week Bible School. Miss Ruby Lavendar, educational director for the church and director of the vacation school, was in charge of the service.

The program of songs, Bible quotations, Bible questions answered and skits—samples of work done in those courses—was interesting to a large crowd of church members and visitors. Attendees were invited at the close of the program to the basement, where handicraft work was viewed.

More Than 100,000 Pounds of Food and Feed Is Destroyed

Destruction of more than 100,000 pounds of food and stock feed, contaminated by flood waters, was reported late last week by C. L. Sumner of Floydada, representative of the Texas State Department of Health, Austin.

A total of 40,000 pounds of food was destroyed at Rainbow Market Place, Browning Food Market, Cochran Grocery, Brown & Son, said Sumner.

These firms and Winston Feed Store contained between 50,000 and 75,000 pounds of feed that was destroyed.

Sumner said he found all the stores cooperative in his efforts to prevent spread of the contaminated food and feed, although every destroyed article was money out of their pockets.

Official Map of Texas Is Free To Tourists, Others

First of the 1939 official maps of the Texas highway system, spring edition, reached Snyder last week through the courtesy of S. J. Treadaway, Abilene, district engineer.

An encouraging feature of the map, from the standpoint of a Highway 15 enthusiast, is that the recently-completed strip from Lamesa to Seminole is shown all black, which means it is entirely paved. Since the strip from the Borden County line to Lamesa had previously been paved, the road from Borden to Seminole is a solid black line on the map.

On the other hand, the strip from Roby to Dawson County is "blank," indicating a long unpaved strip. The white line is broken by cross marks for a short distance out of Roby and between Gail and Dawson County, indicating that work is partially complete in those areas.

New features on the many-colored map include the designation of national forests in light green, reproduction of colored photographs of the main building of the University of Texas and a scene in a citrus grove in the Rio Grande Valley to make up the frontispiece, reproduction of a colored photograph of forest fire to serve as a warning and to help prevent forest fires, and a list of all state highway patrol stations with their locations and telephone numbers.

The back of the map has been arranged in artistic form and is printed in two colors. Photographs of the various activities, industries, recreational spots, maritime shipping, roads and bridges are arranged in symmetrical form to present a composite representative picture of Texas as a whole.

As an aid in the use of the map, a system of indicating mileages has been used which shows the distance between larger cities or more important points in accumulated and printed in red, while the mileage between towns is shown in black.

This map is free to the public, and copies may be obtained by addressing the Texas Highway Department in Austin or any district office of the department. Copies are also available at the local Chamber of Commerce office.

BOUQUETS GIVEN CONNALLY AND MAHON FOR AID AFTER DISASTER

Bouquets are being handed Senator Tom Connally and Congressman George Mahon this week by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce and the county agent's office for their efforts to hasten 1938 Triple-A benefits yet due Scurry County.

Connally and Mahon, realizing the plight of many county farmers as a result of last Monday night's disaster from wind and water, hail and storm, have untrudgingly worked with AAA officials at Washington to speed up Triple-A benefit payments for county farmers.

Telegrams received this week from both Connally and Mahon follow: Chamber of Commerce, Snyder, Texas.

The director of the Southern Division, AAA, advises that conservation payments have been certified to the general accounting office. I have conferred with that office and it is today authorizing preferential status for Scurry County payments; and have discussed your situation with the Farm Security Administration in an effort to obtain additional.

TOM CONNALLY, Chamber of Commerce, Snyder, Texas. Have discussed your situation

with Hon. I. W. Duggan, director of the Southern Division, Department of Agriculture; also have discussed your problem with E. N. Holzgreen, administrative officer in charge of the AAA at College Station, and requested him to give preferred attention to Scurry County payments in view of your difficult situation there. I hope arrangements bring some satisfactory and definite action. Call on me if I may cooperate further.

GEORGE MAHON, Information obtained from the county agent's office Wednesday indicates that approximately 500 Triple-A benefit checks are still due county farmers on the 1938 conservation program. Remainder of the checks are expected to be received within the next few weeks.

Virtually all 1938 range program checks have been received by the county agent's office, paying the way for clearance of 1938 Triple-A payments due farmers of the county.

Thanks!

Eleven years ago an old country boy stepped out of a dry goods store clerking job with a shirt-tail full of cash and lots of energy and nerve to enter the grocery business in his home town of Snyder. A native of these parts, he didn't have to be introduced to people—most of them knew him.

He wasn't satisfied to have an ordinary grocery store, so he and his associates gave Snyder its first self-serve grocery in a new-fangled Piggly Wiggly. This first effort was located on the north side of the square, where Perry Brothers now stands.

From the beginning success to a degree attended our efforts. We tried to sell groceries—good groceries—at prices that would make folks come back. Quality was at all times a paramount aim, and we never swerved from this policy of high standards.

Folks were good to us. They came to our business and spent their money . . . and we showed a profit. That's why we could remain in business all these 11 years. To our friends and customers we owe a sincere debt of gratitude—and we shall not forget them. The numerous courtesies shall always remain in our memories. The friends we made shall be counted among our priceless possessions.

As we close our grocery selling connections in Snyder, we want to say in our most forceful words . . . THANKS, FRIENDS!

I appreciate the way most of those to whom we extended credit have come in and arranged their accounts. Others are urged to do likewise.

Watch next week's Times for Piggly Wiggly ad by C. V. Morris, who will take charge Wednesday, July 3. He has some mighty good things in mind for the customers of the store. I wish to commend Mr. Morris, who is coming here with 10 years of grocery experience. He has been one of the very outstanding merchants wherever he has been located.

This community was greeted by a two and one-half inch rain last Monday night, which was needed very badly. With the downpour, though, destruction spread over several areas. We, as the Gail community, wish to express our deepest sympathy for the flood-stricken in our neighboring town, Snyder, and in other parts of Scurry County.

Two bridges were washed out on the Gail-Snyder highway, but traffic was soon resumed by detouring. Also destroyed by the extensive rain were two small bridges on the Gail to Fluvanna road. They will soon be replaced.

Put the Milk Pitcher Back on Table

By RUTH J. COOPER, Home Economics Consultant, Breeder-Feeder Association

Put the milk pitcher back on the table! It is now an authentic article and worthy of a place of honor; it is the aristocrat of the table. Whether placed there by style or taste decree, it is mighty good nutritional advice. Drinking milk with meals is good, sound nutritional practice.

Milk is a food and should be treated as one. Drink it slowly and enjoy every mouthful. With the milk pitcher on the table, easily reached by all the whole family can drink their fill.

Milk is as nearly perfect food as there is. It is one of the best all-round body builders. It is palatable, nutritious and economical. It combines the essentials of nutrition in the most readily available form. One quart of milk furnishes more than half of the nutritional needs of the day. It furnishes about one-third of the protein requirement, nearly all of the phosphorus and calcium, one-eighth of the iron, adequate amounts of most of the vitamins, and about one-fifth of the entire energy requirement for the day.

Milk supplements other foods. The proteins of cereals are poor in the factors of growth, but supplemented with milk, they produce maximum results. A bowl of cereal with fresh milk and a little sugar constitutes a "hurry-up" meal that is nutritious and quite palatable. It is readily and easily digested and will therefore not "stick-to-the-ribs" very long. To stave off hunger until the next meal, we need more fat such as a slice or two of bread and butter.

Milk has no affinities. It goes with any food as any kind of a meal. Often we hear the remark that fish and milk or ice cream must not be eaten at the same meal. This is a fallacy. Any of the natural foods may be used together. It is the man-made mixtures that offend.

Some of our most delicate fish dishes are made with milk. While there are a few people who are allergic to fish and have to avoid all of the sea foods, the majority can safely eat them. The question is not one of combinations, but of condition of the food. If the fish is not fresh, it will cause sickness if eaten in any way.

An often heard excuse for not drinking milk is that it is constipating. This is another fallacy. Milk in itself is not constipating. It is readily and easily digested and because of this, leaves no residue. The balanced diet furnishes bulk in the form of fresh fruits, vegetables and cereals for wellbeing. Milk is a vital part of this balanced meal.

Not so long ago a food quack went around this part of the country preaching that milk and citrus juices must not be taken at the same meal because the fruit juices curdled the milk. This is another ridiculous fallacy. The curdling of milk in the stomach is the first step in the digestion. Fruit juices aid in the digestion by helping to form a softer curd. The same reasoning applies to buttermilk.

Of the many tributes paid to the genius of Spenser, the great English poet, few could have proved more substantially gratifying to that worthy one than rendered him by Lord Sydney.

The poet, still poor and unknown, called on Lord Sydney one day with a volume of his verses, and the nobleman, having nothing to do at the moment, began to read it. The more he read the more pleased he became; and, suddenly looking up, he called excitedly to his secretary, "Give him a hundred pounds."

Amazed, the secretary watched Lord Sydney as he continued to read. The beauty of the verses and their depth and nobility of feeling threw the nobleman into a transport of delight. "Give him two hundred pounds and throw him out!" cried the happy man. "If he remains here any longer, and I read any more of his poetry, he'll bankrupt me!"

An estimated $30,000 a minute, or $17,000,000,000 a year, is being spent by the 175,000 separate taxing units in the United States, including federal, state, county, municipal and township, according to the Department of Commerce.

A man stayed the night with a friend who kept an inn. At supper he was served with some ultraprime Stilton cheese. Unable to touch it, and not wishing to offend his pal, he hid it in the bottom of a plant.

About a fortnight later he received a telegram from his friend. It read: "We know who it is, and we know what it is, but, for goodness' sake, tell us where it is."

After the Tides Are Over

Today, more than a week after Snyder's worst flood swept life and property into the great unknown, the city finds itself more closely knit for progress than ever before.

Many philosophers, including Jesus of Nazareth, have indicated that only out of sorrow and suffering can the virtues of life be wrought.

This philosophy, truly, has been proven in the case of Snyder, where neighborliness, cooperation, freedom from prejudice, courage and sympathy have been rekindled in hundreds of hearts.

Many citizens have said: "The flood may prove to be a blessing in disguise." Perhaps, then, the loss of one life, the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property in Snyder, the drowning of hundreds of head of livestock, the virtual destruction of thousands of acres of crops . . . perhaps out of these will come a more livable, a more forward pressing city and county.

Water Cress in the News

Leon Guinn in The Scurry County Times: A Southern firm is making extensive plans to market bottled water cress juice in the near future relying on the high vitamin content of the delicate plants to sell the product to city and country dweller alike. Water cress, which is a grand old institution with many families, like pot likker and hush puppies, is a perennial cress growing usually in clear running or spring water. Its pungent leaves are used for salad making and as an anti-scorbutic. It sounds rather odd, on top of all the mineral waters and various tonic concoctions we have already, but a bottle of water cress juice a day is supposed to keep ailments away the apples and mineral waters might overlook.

It is always folly to fly in the face of science, particularly medical science, so this column will not argue with the medicinal properties of bottled water cress juice. In his time State Press has been able to take water cress in his stride, both as a salad and as an anti-scorbutic, and if he were writing a testimonial, he would add that the juice has also been known to alleviate agony from chigger bites and to serve as a soothing syrup for balloonists. One John Doe, writing in the Bartender's Friend for April, 1930, reported that he had found it an effective remedy, if compounded with certain other elements of higher octane rating, for both vapor lock in the automobile and persistent melancholia in the human being. But if the truth must be confessed, this pharmaceutical approach does not get to first base with State Press. Heretical as it may sound, S.P. is getting fed up with all this talk about vitamins in his food. Let's go back to the old-time enjoyment of grub for grub's sake.—State Press in The Dallas News.

Editorial of the Week

MONEY AND TIME

"The most useless thing Robinson Crusoe salvaged was gold money," said an economist recently. "Money has a time utility. When it buys the things we need when we need them most, as life insurance money does, its value to us is greatest."

There, in different words, is the old, sad, familiar story to the effect that dollars are needed most when they are hardest to earn—and that the money wasted by the young man secure at the height of his earning power is usually beyond the frail reach of the old. No one knows how many people life insurance has saved from a dependent old age but their name is legion. They are the happy ones of this earth who thought ahead.—Exchange.

What the Hand Doeth

Talkative Tillie says she can always distinguish a city girl from a country girl: The city girl grabs her hat when the wind doth blow; the country girl, her skirts.

Government Propaganda

Pessimism Pete says if all the government propaganda for NYA, WPA, FWA, OCC, REA and other alphabet agencies could be rolled into one big propaganda—what an awful butchering of truth and the King's English that would be. "Why," Pete wants to know, "can't these various agencies, if they are really worthy (and some of them are indispensable) can't they stand on their own bottoms?"

Railroad Barometer

One sure barometer of better business is rising carloadings on the Santa Fe System lines. This steady rise over 1938 is reflected in reports for practically every week this year. Carloadings for the week ending June 24 were 28,992 as compared with 24,159 for the same week in 1938. Received from connections were 4,993 as compared with 4,407 for the same week in 1938. The total cars moved was 33,985 as compared with 28,626 for the same week in 1938.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

That a greater, cleaner and more human city will be rebuilt following the most disastrous flood in county history is evidenced this week by the sound of saw and hammer in all directions from the square, as residents dig out of the mud and silt to rebuild the homes damaged and made uninhabitable by surging flood waters. . . . Probably some feel that rehabilitation road ahead is a long one—but that it can be traveled is shown by everybody putting their shoulders to the wheel of toil again.

And when the scars of the recent deluge are patched up again—although some will probably not be entirely healed—there will be thanks to give for lives spared, for willing hands to respire the rafters of our torn-up houses; and for the agencies of mercy that have heard and answered our calls for help. . . . Even the Good Master, many will tell you, can "plant his footsteps on the sea, and ride upon the storm." . . . That the sun is shining on ahead is shown by the people getting a toothed again so that they may see the beauty of its first peaceful rays.

Since the introduction of Secretary Henry Wallace's stamp plan for the distribution of surplus food products, New Dealers find this idea of moving surplus commodities so tempting that plans are being formulated to try a similar scheme for cotton goods—if the food stamp plan works. . . . The proposed plan for cotton would allow relief clients to buy stamps exchangeable at retail stores for purchase of any kind of clothing, with free gratis stamps thrown in for the purchase of certain low quality cotton garments. . . . The success—or failure—of the stamp plan for surplus foods will determine the feasibility of whether or not the federal government should branch out to this type of cotton goods distribution, or still rely on the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

In order to accommodate the daughters of Eve who like to hang their sun glasses on a limb, and go swimming in a cool rubber bathing suit, U. S. Rubber Products, Incorporated, has developed a multipore rubber bathing suit with 6,400 minute holes to the square inch. . . . A creation of this sort should either provide plenty of pore coolness for the miss who takes her daily swim, or else give water a fine chance to do some "minute" circulation.

The Post Office Department is experimenting with a special fiber-treated cotton twine that may be adopted in place of the 3,000,000 odd pounds of jute imported annually for twine use by this far-flung government agency. . . . Many cotton cooperative groups are joined by other organizations in saying agencies of the federal government should use all the American-produced goods possible; but cotton twine, for instance, submitted to the Post Office Department, so far has failed to come up to the tensile strength required for parcel and bundle wrapping.

That advertising will continue to sell the American public on the goods of tomorrow was the central theme brought out at the Advertising Federation of America convention, held at Flushing Meadows last week. . . . Talks and round table discussions made at the conclave that attracted 2,000 delegates were based on the recently adopted theme that "advertising today builds tomorrow's prosperity."

Commending the American system of free enterprise, Paul W. Garrett, convention keynote, stated "Lindbergh and not a committee flew the ocean. . . Berlin and not the musicians' union wrote 'Alexander's Ragtime Band' . . . and it's still advertising, not ballyhoo, that sells goods." During the era of community center stores, kerosene lamps and cracker barrels, some few considered advertising a contribution to progress; when factually advertising has always been—and is today—progress itself.

Researchers feel a rising problem affecting some Texas industries will be that of wood waste disposal, profitably, since more wood-using industries are moving to Texas this year than ever before. . . . Floor coverings from wood waste seem to offer a logical solution, successful experiments having been conducted by German chemists with floor coverings made from wood waste that are impervious to water, are warmth retaining and especially resistant to mechanical influences.

Preparations are being made this week to accommodate between 5,000 and 6,000 farm people at the A. & M. College Short Course July 5-14, with 2,500 boys and girls alone expected to attend what promises to be one of the most beneficial Short Courses in Texas Extension Service history. . . . H. H. Williamson, Extension Service director, stated Monday almost 200 boys will probably camp out at the Short Course this time, with 500 reservations made for those who will stay in the stadium.

Wauwataosa, Wisconsin, residents were greatly annoyed by flocks of migrating starlings last summer, but this year they have hit upon the idea of soaking grain in alcohol and leaving it on lawns for the always-hungry birds. . . . After partaking of the grain, some starlings fall over in a serene stupor, where they may easily be killed in their sleep. . . . The birds that don't eat quite enough grain to topple them over are grudgingly allowed by Wauwataosa residents to take their hangovers back to their nests, where some doubtless headachy moments are spent by the unfortunate creatures.

EXTENSION OF REA LINE INTO COUNTY SOON

Active Work of Securing Customers Follows Definite Approval by Washington Office

Active work of securing customers for a proposed extension of the new Rural Electrification Administration project in Fisher and Scurry Counties was begun this week in an area around Hermleigh.

Leading in the sign-up is W. O. Moore of that area and Andy Jones, superintendent of the Midwest Electric Cooperative Association. Their work will blend with that already done in a wide area west to northwest of Snyder—Pluvanna, Union, Dermott, Bethel, Arah and Turner communities.

E. O. Wedgeworth and M. L. Anderson, who have been leading in the west-northwest sign-up, said Saturday that 60 have already signed for the service, paid their deposits and granted easements. About 40 more customers are needed in that area to meet the quota of 100.

The REA leaders say 150 customers are needed in the area of which Hermleigh is a part. This section, more thickly populated, includes the Hermleigh farm belt, Pyron, Inadale and the east edge of Pleasant Hill.

Work is due to start not later than this week-end on the Hobbs-Rotan-Scurry project, to which the two new Scurry areas will be tied. Jones said when he was in Snyder Saturday. On that project are 276 customers, served by slightly less than 150 miles of line.

The new project in the two Scurry areas can be as long as 100 miles and should have at least 250 customers, according to a letter received by Jones last week from C. O. Falkenwald, director of the examining division, REA, Washington. The letter gave final authority for development of the additional project. The letter read:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your telegram of June 10. We are today authorizing your cooperative to develop 100 additional miles of extensions. These extensions must be developed on a much sounder basis than your original section and it is absolutely necessary that you secure at least 250 signed members along these proposed miles, using your established monthly minimum of $2.95 which includes 30 kWh.

"Your supplemental pre-allocation maps must be more accurate than your original maps and contain details as shown in the sample set which we are enclosing. In no case can the mapping cost exceed the amount allotted as outlined in the enclosed pre-allocation packet. If you wish to select your residents engineer to draw the maps, his other duties should not be slighted and it would seem that he might be able to do the work for the cooperative at a saving. We feel that not more than one month's time should be required for the development of this additional area.

"Please keep us advised of the progress you are making."

Water Engineers in City to Check Flood

Two water engineers were in Snyder late last week to check water that came down Deep Creek, Dry Creek and other county streams. J. A. Cotton, assistant engineer with the U. S. engineering office at Galveston, and H. W. Albert of San Angelo, with the Texas Board of Water Engineers, were the visitors.

They said flood marks would be established, overflow areas checked and other facts secured for permanent U. S. and state records.

THE TIMES TABLE

"UNCLE" JIM NUNN, one of the first Scurry County cattlemen, believes flood history can repeat itself. He said Wednesday that the county had a flood similar to last week's disaster about the same time of the year in 1881. In those days, when there were few houses and residents, the major flood casualties were cattle, sheep and hogs. The 1939 deluge is believed, however, by Nunn and most other old-timers to be the worst in county history from a water depth angle—certainly from a property destruction viewpoint.

W. F. BURNEY, county pioneer, is improving slowly at his home in East Snyder, where he has been seriously ill for three weeks. Even last week's flood waters, which came toward his home from the west, did not wither his West Texas spirit. "The esteem in which this worthy citizen is held has been evidenced by the many bouquets of flowers, other services and courtesies that have been rendered Mr. and Mrs. Burney during the siege of illness. "It's wonderful to have such friends," Mrs. Burney said a few days ago.

M. C. HEROD's lovely blooming gladioli show little damage after hail and blowing rains. Therefore, those who drive out the east highway are delighted with the array of color and beauty. Shades of yellow and pink are predominating in the Herod front yard, flanking the walk from the front rock wall to the house. Other flowers in the yard and around the nearby service station are blooming, but none are so showy nor as pretty to passersby as the gladioli. Flowers are Herod's hobby, and his expert care and knowledge of them provide much pleasure for his family and his neighbors.

MRS. WELDON JOHNSON was the wielder of the rod that pulled out the largest bass on record this season from Red Bluff near Pecos recently. "Benny," six and a half pound king of the bass at Red Bluff Lake, yielded to the expert angling of the local girl—so stated the Monahans News. Mrs. Johnson and her husband, a local rancher, and their young son, Sidney Wallace, spent several days in Monahans with his mother, Mrs. Ray Keenan, and Mr. Keenan. The two men were fishing with Mrs. Johnson when she took her big bass from among his associates.

J. F. WOODSON of Route 3 is author of a poem, "The County Agent," that has been reprinted a number of times since it first appeared in The Scurry County Times in the June 2, 1938, issue. "This bit of good-natured, homespun verse seems to establish the fact that the county agent is a pretty popular and important guy in his own ball-wick. And he is!" So comments The Acco Press, latest publication to reproduce the poem. Just in case Times readers have forgotten the gist of the poem, here's the last of four verses:

If you find a hopper in your crop,
Go tell the county agent.
And poison until he says stop,
For he's the county agent.
If you think that has become a shame,
And you don't like to play the game,
It's you and I that are to blame—
And not the county agent.

Billie Lou Takes Local Colors to Big Spring Show

Billie Lou Thompson, 13-year-old junior in Snyder High School, made a good showing as Snyder's sponsor at the Big Spring rodeo Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. She was selected and sponsored jointly by the Scurry County Rodeo Association and Chamber of Commerce.

Trouble with her horse in early presentations forced Billie Lou to change to another horse, with which she was not familiar. Local attendants at the rodeo said, however, her appearance and performance were commendable. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Thompson, who live on the west edge of Scurry County, Billie Lou took part in all the sponsors' activities at the three-day affair. Her escort to the dances was D. M. Cogdell Jr., son of other local ranch people. At a Saturday morning breakfast honoring the sponsors, Billie Lou received a leather belt with a silver Big Spring rodeo buckle. The belts were presented by the city to all sponsors. Billie Lou's riding costume was a brown and yellow outfit that trimly set off her brunette beauty—bright yellow satin shirt, brown trousers and boots, brown leather fringed vest and tan hat.

Sympathy Extended By Former Pastor

Rev. H. C. Gordon, former pastor of the Snyder Methodist Church, now pastor at Clarendon, extends warmest sympathy from his family to local flood sufferers, in an open letter to The Times.

"Through years of association," Rev. Gordon writes, "we came to appreciate the people of Snyder and Scurry County very much. Hence we feel keenly the misfortune of recent days. Our sympathy goes out to every person, business concern, organization and institution that has suffered loss. Our deep sympathy is extended to those who suffered bereavement.

Evening Finery

Evening finery for the young girl this season is definitely Southern-belle, according to a current magazine. This novelty-cotton pique, with eyelid embroidery edging the bolero, has a swish skirt, heart-shaped neckline and a naive bunch of field flowers.

Maximum Credit in H. E. Goes to Pyron

A half credit in home economics, summer project, was granted Pyron High School recently, giving that consolidated district four credits—the maximum that may be obtained—in the subject, reports Superintendent M. H. Greenwood.

Twenty-third girls have completed the first part of their summer work under Eva Cliburn, instructor. The second part will be completed during the two weeks before school begins this fall.

The Times learns too late for a full article this week that the new Pyron school building was accepted by PWA this week. A complete article will be presented next week.

Eyes Appear Strained?

Do you often have headaches? Both conditions are often due to poor vision. The most efficient remedy for these "maladies" is a pair of properly prescribed glasses.

Eyes Tire Quickly?

If the ordinary routine of every-day life, including the reading of standard-size newspaper of book type, tires your eyes, you should consult a competent optometrist. He can tell you if you need glasses.
