MANY BOUQUETS PASSED OUT AFTER SUCCESSFUL 3rd RODEO

When they began passing out the honors after Scurry County's most successful rodeo last weekend, stockholders of the Scurry County Rodeo Association hardly knew where to begin.

But, aside from the directors themselves, who worked probably as long and as hard as anyone the first big "Thank you!" goes to George Parks and his boys around the chutes and the arena, who kept the show moving with little delay and little misunderstanding. "The boys did a great job," declares Allen Stephens, arena director, who is also being handed a full share of flowers. Judges, bookkeepers, timekeep-ers, ticket takers and other of-ficials come in for their portion of thanks, too.

Business men and others who made the booster trips highly successful and who cooperated in many other ways are also being lauded. Those who helped make the sponsor contest-a new feature—and the parades such outstanding successes are being highly complimented. Not the least of those who helped give the rodeo a West Texas flavor was the large delegation from Colorado City and other groups from outside this immediate trade area.

"With this kind of cooperation again next year, we can hope for even greater success in every way," declare President J. M. Stewart and the other associa-

Overflow Crowds at All Performances See Many Cowhands Compete for Purses

An overflow crowd of 4,000 people that stood at times to cheer witnessed the final performance Saturday night of the Scurry County Rodeo Association's third and greatest rodeo at Wolf Park.

Attendance figures for the performances Friday and Saturday, and for both night performances, set a new local rodeo record.

Opening event of the two-day show was a street parade Friday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock, over a mile long, that started at the city tabernacle and circled the square before going north up flag-bedecked Avenue S to Stimson Camp and west to Wolf Park.

How Parade Lined Up.

At the front of the first parade was J. J. Koonsman, parade director, and J. C. Dorward, followed by Richard Parks and Aubrey Stokes, flag bearers. The Fluvanna String Band and Snyder School Band preceded the contestants.

The cowhands were followed by Mrs. Alvin Koonsman, who led 30 community sponsoring cowgirls. Riders and commercial entries concluded the parade that had in it 210 horses—greatest number ever paraded at one time down Snyder

SHARON RIDGE PUMPS "FREE"

The two stratas of "free air" found in Southwest Scurry County's Sharon Ridge oil pool was declared by Charlie Ellis, in an article that appeared in a recent Abilene Reporter-News, to be "the nearest thing to perpetual motion yet found in the annals of petroleum production." Highlights of the Ellis article fol-

Perpetual motion-or at least a source of power that will answer its qualities-has been harnessed for the development of the year-old Sharon Ridge oil pool, 16 miles southwest of Snyder.

The natural power is called "free air" by drillers in the field. It's called a God-send by some of the operators, and it may become the factor that determines eventually whether some of the smaller wells will be profitable.

Teas Returns to Field. "It's the nearest thing to perpetual motion I've ever seen," said Paul Teas, head of the Ordovician Oil Company of San Antonio, who drilled in West Texas years ago when he headquartered at Colorado City. Faith in Scurry County possibilities sent him and others back to this area with new wildcat development.

The "free air" occurs throughout a part of Scurry County, parts of Mitchell and Howard Counties and are the only ones who have successfully harnessed it.

It is used to drill as well as to belched 100,000,000 cubic feet daily found between 1,100 and 1,200 feet. in the Great West wildcat near Big derrick and disrupting drilling.

6 MILLION MILES a year IN TEXAS

without a serious accident

EACH MORNING this Texas telephone man climbs into his blue-gray truck and goes about his job of making telephones talk. Safety rides with him as he drives through city streets and over country highways.

Last year he, and other telephone men in Texas, drove 600 telephone cars and trucks more than six million miles—the equivalent of 241 trips around the world-without a serious accident. There were a few scratched fenders to be sure . . . but last year's average for minor accidents was only one in 177,000 miles of telephone driving in Texas.

Safe, courteous, considerate driving is an important part of a telephone man's training. Safety, the duty of every good atizen to his community, is one of this company's goals as it goes about its job of furnishing good telephone service at low cost to you.

The Rodeo Clicked

That Scurry Count Rodeo Association officials without resorting to extreme publicity methods, can stage a community sponsor contest and two-day rodeo unequalled anywhere else in West Texas for real western flavor and excitement, was amply evidenced here Priday and Saturday by the record-breaking crowds that came out to Wolf Park.

Since the world's first rodeo was staged on the main street of Pecos 56 years ago, many organizations have sought to keep alive this festive symbol of the Old West through the years, but in many instances the rodeos have died out.

Scurry County, however, has been far ahead of the parade the last few years with its annual rodeos, with the climax being that last week-end.

Rodeos are coming back into their own in many West Texas towns and cities, as they should. All of us are hoping, as this revival gains sway, that the true color of the old West will not pale under the sun of

MORE TAXES FOR REVENUE

Taxes, just like the poor, will always be with us. But while we're playing host or hostess by pouring forth money in unending streams, why can't we take an interest in value received for expenditures? Taxes, just ones, are to be desired (but even justly assessed taxes can be dissipated. That is why stable organizations and officials interested in public welfare are becoming more and more concerned with laxity of taxpavers' interest in where their money goes.

The recent increase in ad valorem taxes means that increases in other taxes will be made in the future. A larger deficit at the end of 1940 is anticipated by the comptroller. The Confederate pension fund is hopelessly in the red. And so on and on.

WHY Humble Oil & Refining Co. Reduced the Price of Crude

This statement is published as a paid advertisement by Humble Oil & Refining Corpany for the benefit of those who are interested and squainted with the facts.

On August 11 the Humble Company posted reduc-Texas and New Mexico by amounts ranging from 5c to 32c per barrel, and averaging 18.5c per barrel. In view of the fact that this action on our part has been severely criticized before the public, we outline below the facts and reasons on which it was based:

1. On August 1 the quantities of crude oil listed below, aggregating 218,920 barrels daily in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, were moving to market at prices substantially below the Humble's postings for similar crudes:

AREA	BBLS. DAY
Texas—
West Central	37,000
Gulf Coast
Southwest
East Central
East Texas Field
Panhandle	1,500
Total Texas	97,650
South Louisiana	81,920
North Louisiana and Arka	neas 39,350

2. The amount of crude moving below Humble's postings was greatly increased when on August 10 the Sinclair-Prairie Company posted a reduction of 20c per barrel affecting the oil produced and purchased by it in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas, which action was followed immediately by reductions in the price made by a number of smaller purchasers. These reductions applied to more than 150,000 barrels of oil. This, added to that mentioned in the preceding paragraph, equals 368,000 barrels. In the three States in which Humble operates, Texas, New Mexico, and Louisiana, the aggregate volume of oil moving below Humble's prices approximated 171/2% of the total everent production in those States.

3. The movement of constantly increasing quantities over the past year or more of crude produced in the new Illinois fields, reaching a total of 300,000 barrels daily on August 1, on a price basis substantially lower than Humble's postings in its territory, exerted a progressively depressing effect on the crude oil market. The effect was felt in Texas; and actually since April 1 Humble has lost 10,000 barrels per day of business absorbed by Illinois crude. This loss of business was 'n addition to that lost by Humble as a result of the movement of crude at low prices in the territory where

4. On August 11, therefore, the total volume of oil moving at prices below those of the Humble was approximately 668,000 barrels.

5. The crude oil market has been under pressure fe n a year. The price adjustments made last October did not remove fully the disparity between Humble's prices and those of some oil moving in its markets. Since that time the volumes of crude moving below our prices have increased steadily, with the result that when the reductions of Sinclair-Prairie and others came on August 10, affecting approximately 150,000 barrels of crude per day, conditions were so bad that we were compelled to reduce our prices to meet this competition. In no case are our new postings lower than the Sinclair-Prairie postings for similar crudes.

6. The Humble Company is primarily a producer of oil. Its crude oil properties constitute its principal asset. Its net production averages 133,000 barrels a day. We are also crude oil merchants and purchase. at our posted prices, 251,000 barrels of crude oil daily in Texas and New Mexico. These prices also govern the price at which we sell the oil which we produce. Because of our large production we are vitally interested in the maintenance of fair prices.

Our refineries consume something near the amount of oil which we produce. As a consequence, with respect to our purchases we are in the same position as a merchant dealing in any commodity. To continue in business, we can not over a long period of time pay higher prices than our competitors. We are compelled to meet competition. The price of oil, like that of other commodities, is subject to change with market conditions. These are simple and fundamental business prindples. We were reluctant to out the price of crude, not alone because of its adverse effect on our own earnings, but also because of its effect on our customers and upon the industry and the state at large. Under these circumstances, we could not continue to pay the prices we had been paying.

7. As a matter of policy the Humble Company maintains stocks of crude oil very slightly in excess of the amount required as working stocks to carry on operations. We do not believe in storage of oil above ground but in production of oil currently as required for market. We do not speculate in oil. We have no desire to buy oil at any price to accumulate for storage

8. We think the price for oil brought about by the competitive conditions above mentioned is lower than should be realized. In our opinion the flood of oil from Illinois and Louisiana, most of which is being produced wastefully, in violation of conservation principles, is primarily responsible for the market conditions which necessitated our price reductions. It is our hope that these conditions will be corrected and that the market will improve.
