FAREWELL TO SNYDER

This is a page one story because it is addressed to all the readers of The Scurry County Times. It is a page one story because I would like to put into it all the warmth and all the spirit of thankfulness that I feel toward the people of whom I have been a part for almost

The story lies not in the fact that I am leaving Snyder to become editor-manager of The Liberty Vindicator and The Liberty County News at Liberty, Texas. Rather, that I am leaving behind several thousand Jims and Toms and Marys and Susies whom I humbly call

Nor does the story lie in the fact that I am purchasing an interest in the Liberty publishing plant, at the same time retaining my stock in the Times Publishing Company at Snyder. Rather, that I have been uplifted and inspired by my contacts in Scurry and nearby countles with these friendly men and women, boys and girls whom there are no richer in human values.

Mrs. Smyth and eight-year-old Margaret will remain in Snyder until school is out in May. But the story is not here, either. Rather, that I want to leave Snyder with no rancor in my heart for any person; with a request for forgiveness from any whom I may have

I sincerely believe, with a fellow newspaperman, that the newspaper's audience is: "The banker, the shop-keeper, the stenographer, the clerk, the mechanic, the lawyer, the doctor, the bum, the tired mother in the cheap rooming house . . . the newspaper must have something to say to each of them." So I feel a tinge of pride in the fact that I count all these people

. . as my friends. May it ever be so. ople, average people Yours till you visit Liberty (but not all at one time, please!) P. S.-When you come to Liberty, be sure to bring your mosquit

Robinson Oil Corporation to Stake Two Offsets on Andy Trevey Tract This Week-End

Carrying Sharon Ridge oil field development westward this week, Robinson Oil Corporation announced Wednesday the staking of two tests on the Andy Trevey land in the southeast quarter of Section 143. The tests, to be drilled on 10-acre spacing, will offset D. & R. Oil Company's No. 5 McClure and Ordovician Oil Company's No. 1 Mc-Clure on the west. They are located 990 feet and 1,650 feet, respectively, from the south line and 330 feet west of the east line of Section 143, D. & R. Oil Company holds the lease on the entire north half of Section 143, which is now in line for development. Oil string was cemented in Ordovician Oil Company's No. 1 McClure, Section 142, after topping upper pay saturation at 2,190 feet.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 5 Martin in Section 141 was cleaning out after nitro shot with 450 quarts from 2,300 to 2,475 feet. CONSTIPATED! Gas Crowds Heart.

"For years I had occasional constipation, headaches and pains in the back. Awful gas bloating seemed to crowd my heart. Adlerika always helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never felt better."—Mrs. Mabel Schott. Two things happen when you are constipated. FIRST: Accumulated wastes swell up bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay forming GAS, often bringing on sour stomach, indigestion, and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath. Adlerika gives double relief with DOUBLE ACTION. BALANCED Adlerika containing three laxatives and five carminatives relieves STOMACH GAS almost at once. It often clears bowels in less than two hours. No griping, no site effects, just quick results.

EUROPE: Peace in the North

"Finland stood alone against a huge opponent. We could not win the war alone. The inevitable end would have been the destruction of our country." Thus spoke Foreign Minister

Vaino Tanner as a peace delegation winged its way homeward from Moscow. The war was over and Finland would "soon regain her vitality." Field Marshal Baron Karl Gustav Mannerheim figured Finland had lost 15,000 men to Russia's 200,000, which was proof enough that the vanquished army was far superior, man for man. But the war had left Finland a shambles, its best men dead, some of its best land lost to the invader (see map.) Ahead lay a tough job, out the kind to which generations f Finns have become inured.

Girls frankly were afraid to work for Tom Corcoran. He had come down to Washington from a big Wall Street law firm, and just could not get used to the deliberate civil service ways of government. Age-Old Puppetry Art

But to Walton and O'Rourke, pupeteers extraordinary appearing in the Palmer department of labor showed that in House here, any puppet worth his weight in wood must live up to the personality his designers have innded for him This 3,000-year-old art has been perfected to new heights by Walton and O'Rourke.

Wood, paint, strings and costumes are used to create intriguing and amusing personalities. The puppet's flesh must be tough to withstand the rigors of a trouper's life, so he often has gumwood hands, a basswood body and mahogany feet.

Personality is achieved by caricature. Life-size eyes that roll and black, and mouths that open to reveal wagging tongues carry the changing moods of the puppet. Puppets have many moving parts. "Stripsy Rosalie," immodest siren

Nevins, professor of history at Columbia university. Stalin, it is said, now has for the only picture in his Kremlin office a portrait of Peter the Great, whom he admires because he provoked wars and conquered much of the Baltic.

Adolf Hitler, says Nevins, has lately expressed a touching regard for Frederick the Great, early Prussian ruler most famed because he smashed treaties and seized one area after another. But, Nevins says, the use Hitler and Stalin contrive of these glittering heroes is "simply another bit of naked and unabashed propaganda, an effort to connect the old nation-builders with their own uneasy authority."

WASHINGTON.-Senator Vanden berg privately is very uneasy over the unfavorable effect upon his presidential campaign of his clamor for aggressive action against Japan. He is so concerned that he sum moned his regional managers to Washington for a secret pow-wow. Their advice was that he should soft-pedal the issue for two reasons: (1) The inconsistency, to the public, of his denouncing Roosevelt's repeal of the arms embargo as a war move, and at the same time demanding a war-like policy toward Japan; and (2) complaints by G. O. P. leaders that Vandenberg played into the hands of the Democrats by diverting public attention away from domestic affairs and focusing it on International problems.

Republican strategists have point ed out that the one thing the Democrats want is to wage the campaign on the administration's international policies, and a G. O. P. candidate who allows them to do that would be

New Legislation Extends Benefits of FHA-Insured Mortgage Plan to Farms

Farmers may now use an Insured Mortgage to build or repair houses, barns, sheds, poultry houses, silos, put up windmills or other farm structures.

As much as 90% of appraised values can be loaned in some cases, land may be either bought or refinanced on this plan when 15% or more of the loan is used for materials and labor on the construction or repair of buildings. . . . These loans are made by lending institutions. They are not government loans, but private capital insured by FHA.

The interest is 414%. Payments can be made monthly, semiannually or annually, in equal installments, depending upon the distribution of the farmer's income throughout the year.

At the discretion of the lender the loan may be paid over a period of 20 to 25 years. This means that the responsible farmer can provide his family with a modern, attractive home without waiting years to accumulate the cash-a tenant farmer can buy his own farm-and the farmer burdened with short-term high-interest mortgages can replace them, modernize his farm, and clear the debt completely in A Ridiculous Mistake.

In a letter that lies on my desk a woman who calls herself "Mary, Paul's Wife," tells me of a rather ridiculous mistake she and her husband made, and of the price they have to pay for it.

They were married 12 years ago, and had two boys, now 10 and eight. Six or seven years after marriage hard times came; Paul lost his job; his wife went to work, and domes tic trouble ensued. They were divorced by her wish, although she says when it came right down to leaving Paul she cried for four days

She married a man named Ben, Maude. Ben died, and two years dressed women fear is putting on a ago Paul's first wife met him again. He is very prosperous now; he was else wearing one just like it. That's not happy with Maude, and he and what happened to her not long ago Mary very soon discovered that they when she appeared to take part in loved each other still. He needed his boys, and the upshot of that accidental meeting was a second diglanced around, and saw one exactvorce for Paul, and his remarriage ly like it on the head of Sabu, the to Mary. Mary's very soul. "Maude is well-fixed anyway," she writes. "She has a car, a beau tiful apartment, and a maid. She goes away summers, entertains, dresses perfectly. That's why fathers and mothers waste their breath advising and warning. If all the warnings and advice were heeded we'd have a wonderful world in a few generations. But unhappily people go right on making mistakes.

And when the time comes to pay up, the best thing to do is to accept the bill and start paying. If it's money trouble, according to this writer, you have much for which to thank God. For many other troubles are worse.

you can do about it except pay the piper, and thank God that the mistake you made wasn't of a more serious nature and isn't going to cost you even more. You and and Paul married a girl named he both acted like undisciplined children when hard times came; you didn't stick to him as a wife should. and the discovery that you did love each other, after the quarrel, is what you are paying for. Forget Maude; forget the details; only say to yourself that you won't make that mistake again, and will try to prepare your boys for marriage along better lines than your own were. See that they know fine girls, and are ready to assume the responsibilities of life courageously and wisely, and you'll more than make up for the errors in your own life, expensive as they seem.

Mary Should Be Grateful. When your worst trouble is money, you have much for which to thank God. SYNOPSIS

Tom Dewey's farm speech was lifted largely from Glenn Frank's background for a Republican platform. Both were temperately, beautifully written.

In their critical aspects both were masterpieces of understatement. The net result of all that Mr. Wallace has done for agriculture is absolutely zero—which is considerably girls talk, the mystery man returns.

> "Hello, John." Gay's voice sounded completely natural, neither very cordial nor very aloof, certainly not at all surprised. Kate heard her rise from the chair. The young man in the door-way slowly removed his hat. His hair was thick and dark and cut short to thwart, Kate suspected, a tendency toward waves. She doubted whether, after the first quick glance, he was aware of her presence in the room. His eyes renained fixed upon Gay.

"Why not?" "I do wish that for you." He coninued to regard her steadily but the slanting smile had vanished and his eyes were very grave.

"Thank you, John." His steady gaze presently altered. He glanced around the room.

"I'm a very poor host," he said. "You've had to bring in your luggage and get your supper. I've been talking politics up at the village store. Why didn't you let me know you were coming?'

The question had, for Gay, only one implication. Resentment, like a fresh breeze blowing through a room too warm and perfumed, cleared the confusion from her mind.

"Did you think I knew you were here?" she asked quietly but with warmth kindling in her voice. He turned to look at her in sur-

Hardware Bad for Cows Hardware has its very important place in our scheme of farm operation, but baling wire, nails, bits of steel, etc., lodged inside Bossy's body are bad medicine. Just a few precautions are mentioned by Hoard's Dairyman: Account for all baling wire from hay, straw, or shavings used in the cow barn. Unwind the wire, do not chop it in two. Stage a continual pick-up of wire, nails, etc. Do not mend stanchions with wire. If a nail is missed while making a repair about the feed alley, find it. Outlaw the steel brush around the feed department.

Feeding the Hens

The feed for hen's depends upon several factors. First, the development of the bird; second, the rate of production; third, the condition of the house in which the birds are kept, and fourth the amount of mash the birds consume daily. You cannot weigh out the scratch grain. The only way is to feed them what they will eat up clean, giving them all they wish at night, when they should go to roost satisfied and with full crops.

Our interpretation of the farm program's purpose is two-fold: One to keep the present farm by making it pay, and the other to put back on the farm a lot of folks whom the government has chased off by making large land-owners the beneficiaries of farm benefits rather than actual small farmer.

"The Days Are Getting Longer"

Just now the country gossip we like best Concerns the winter which has reached its crest. For, while the snow is deep and cold grows stronger, Our neighbors say: "The days are getting longer." Old Simon, passing in his sheepskin coat, Confides, this news, and sunlight seems to float With added warmth across the snowy fields. Asserted by a child, the glad phrase yields An instant vision of expanding trees, Returning birds, green grass, and bustling bees. "The days are getting longer!" Like a theme That everyone can state, yet cannot seem To grace with further words, the saying goes From door to door across the gathered snows; Till there is not a doubt at all that light Shall overbalance soon the dark of night, And spring will come, a sweeping flood of glory, To tell unto its end the whole green story.
