Fun Mardi Gras style

Black, Graves named Chamber Man, Woman of the Year

The largest crowd ever turned out Saturday for the 47th annual Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture banquet at Muleshoe High School.

The Mardi Gras theme created a festive mood as more than 300 patrons enjoyed an all you can eat steak and shrimp dinner — plus Cajun crawfish — served by chamber board members and volunteers decked out in full costume.

A handful of brave souls came dressed in Mardi Gras costumes, including Hugh Young and Jim Ella Clemmons, who were selected as King and Queen.

Muleshoe postman Mark Allen served as master of ceremonies for the dinner, which included door prizes and entertainment by Alan Finney and the Muleshoe High School jazz band.

After dinner, the Chamber handed out its annual awards during a ceremony in the high school auditorium, after which Fiddlin' Frenchie Burke entertained the crowd with his unique blend of Cajun and Country music.

A pair of Muleshoe citizens were recognized for their special contributions to the community.

Board approves 1999-2000 schedule

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The Muleshoe Independent School District will start school earlier next year.

The 1999-2000 MISD school year will start with a staff development day on Monday, Aug. 9, eight days earlier than last year. Students will report on Aug. 11.

The MISD Board of Trustees approved the schedule on the recommendation of superintendent Bill Moore during a regularly scheduled bi-monthly meeting. It was one of three scheduling options considered.

Although several board members were hesitant about starting school so early, they felt it was necessary to accommodate the proper amount of staff development days.

Other notable changes in the 180-day schedule are having the "ski break" vacation coincide with the Houston Livestock Show and bumping spring break back a week to March 13-17. Because Muleshoe belongs to the FACT consortium, the district wanted to hold spring break at the same time as Texas Tech and South Plains College.

Christmas break will be from Dec. 17 to Jan. 3 and the last day of school is May 26.

In other action taken Monday, the board renewed its depository contract with First Bank of Muleshoe, approved campus and departmental base budgets and renewed its contract with Aramark food services to operate the district's three cafeterias.

During the department reports, Moore advised the board that in the near future Muleshoe students might be taking more state standardized tests and face a tougher exam to earn a diploma.

A bill passed in the Texas Senate Monday would move the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills "exit-level test" up a year to the 11th grade and have it cover English language arts, math, science and social studies.

Currently, the exit-level test is first taken by 10th-grade students.

The bill will also add testing during the ninth-grade year. It would not add new TAAS tests at the elementary or middle school level.

Republicans reveal plan for budget surplus

Republican lawmakers have come with a tax relief plan that sops up $3.5 billion of the state's projected $5.6 billion budget surplus for 2000-2001.

Republicans in the House Appropriations Committee have proposed a budget for the next two years that includes:

- $1 billion to pay for cutting the state's 6.25-cent sales tax by one-fourth of a cent.
- $1 billion toward raises for public school teachers.
- $1 billion for school building projects and retiring bonds.
- $500 million for business tax and consumer tax cuts

The GOP plan does not include the cornerstone of Gov. George W. Bush's main idea for tax-relief: a $1.5 billion school property-tax cut. But the governor is open to proposals by house leaders, his spokeswoman Linda Edwards said.

Sen. Bill Ratliff, chairman of budget-writing Senate Finance Committee, cast doubt over the House plan. Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, said consumers won't feel much difference between a 6 percent state sales tax and the 6.25 percent sales tax they are paying now.

On the other side of the aisle, Sen. David Cain, D-Dallas, proposes raising teacher salaries by $4,000 a year, or twice the amount of a GOP plan for teacher raises.

Most of the projected budget surplus would be needed to pay for raising teacher salaries and improving schools under Cain's plan, but Cain said Texans favor those things over a tax cut.

Proposed UT funding hike
Meanwhile, last week, Sen. Ratliff proposed increasing the higher education funding allotment to the University of Texas by 6 percent, or about $26 million.

Under his proposal, the university budget would swell from its present $433 million to $458 million over the next biennium.

UT President Larry Faulkner said, however, it would take a 2000-2001 budget increase of at least $66 million for faculty and staff salaries to be on par with the nation's top public universities.

The House has proposed a much more modest increase of $16.2 million.

Austin ISD indicted
A Travis County grand jury last week indicted Austin Independent School District and a deputy superintendent on charges of tampering last fall with Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test scores.

The indictments stem from a Texas Education Agency investigation that found the district and one of its top administrators removed the exams of poorly performing student in an effort to increase overall scores.

If convicted, the school district could face fines up to $160,000. The deputy superintendent could face a year in jail, a $4,000 fine or both.

Debbie Graves Ratcliffe, spokeswoman for the Texas Education Agency said of the charges, "It's unfortunate that a small number of employees have tainted the school district's reputation."

Austin ISD is the first Texas school district to be charged with a crime.

UT wants on-campus hotel
The University of Texas at Austin wants to put a new on-campus hotel, parking garage and conference center on the site of one of its parking lots.

A 225 to 275 room hotel would complement the adjacent Joe C. Thompson Conference Center, university officials said.

Construction could start in a year and be completed by 2002, University of Texas Vice President Patricia Ohlendorf said.

Cost estimates on the construction have not been made. Shields proposes new agency
Rep. John Shields, R-San Antonio, has filed legislation that would assemble a commission of business owners and executives to identify duplication of services and waste in state government.

The commission would be styled after the Reagan-era Grace Commission, which exposed wasteful federal agencies, programs and expenditures.

Shields said the commission would consider merging the Department of Human Services, Health and Human Services Commission and Texas Workforce Commission.

Shields also is proposing a merger of the oil and gas regulation Texas Railroad Commission with the Public Utility commission, which regulates utility rates.

Other Highlights
Rep. Lon Burnam, D-Fort Worth, has filed legislation that would base auto collision insurance coverage on the number of miles and amount of time a Texas policyholder drives.

Three Way ISD cancels May 1 election

The Three Way Independent School District Board of Trustees has cancelled its election scheduled for May 1 in accordance with the Texas Election Code.

Jarrol Layton and Jack Reeves were the only candidates to file for election. The candidates will be sworn in at the May 13 meeting of the school board.

Herbicide Offers Consistent Grass Control Year After Year

Sometimes it is tempting to wait and treat weeds and grasses late in the season after others have emerged.

Connie Banks
Zeneca Ag Products

That way, you could get them all in one shot, right? Wrong. The early ones are now too tall for effective treatment and your strategy has backfired. Plus, competition with weeds during the crop's crucial, early stages can rob yields before you realize there is a problem.

Early application of an effective postemergence herbicide allows you to treat immature weeds further protecting the yield and quality of your crop. The ideal postemergence herbicide should:

- provide excellent control of annual and perennial grass species
- allow growers to create their own weed control program with tankmix flexibility
- be rainfast within hours of application
- work in any and all tillage programs.

For years FUSILADE® DX* herbicide has been one of the most popular postemergence treatments for controlling rhizome johnsongrass, and other tough perennial and annual grasses in cotton and soybeans.

Fusilade DX controls grasses by translocating through surface tissues and traveling to the growing points in the stems and roots, where it stops growth within hours. To use Fusilade DX effectively, apply to johnsongrass before it reaches the top of your boots, or about 8 inches high. Target annuals when they're toe-high.

This herbicide's flexibility allows you to broadcast, band, and direct or spot spray in any tillage system. Also, Fusilade DX easily tank mixes at a variety of rates with other herbicides for expanded control. In cotton, tank mix Fusilade DX with insecticides for timely, convenient insect control.

For the best control of grasses and weeds in cotton and soybeans year after year, count on Fusilade DX. Contact your local ag chem dealer for more information about Fusilade DX by Zeneca Ag Products.

She was born in Lefors, Texas and moved to Muleshoe 15 years ago with her husband John and their two children.

Presenter John Saylor described Gary Glover and his family as having the attitude and pioneering spirit that the area was built on.

"They never quit, never gave up," Saylor said. "They are true leaders and survivors."

Saylor praised the 1999 Farm Family of the Year for their innovative methods and conservation practices while raising alfalfa and black-eye peas in the West Camp community.

"He is a good friend and true neighbor in every way," Saylor said.

Kidd was selected as the 1999 Employee of the Year for her work at the Muleshoe Area Healthcare Center.

Kidd, who was born with Downs Syndrome, went to work shortly after high school and has worked there five days a week for the last 15 years.

"She is punctual, a hard worker, loyal and accepting of everyone," said presenter Joy Stancell, director of activities at the nursing home. "She takes her work very seriously and has earned the respect and love of the residents and her co-workers."

Stancell said she is surrounded by a loving family who have instilled in Cari Ann a desire to be the best she can be.

Kidd is the daughter of Hubert and Nancy Kidd. She also has a brother, a sister-in-law, a nephew and a loving grandmother.

Wes-Tex Feed Yards was honored as one of the leaders in its industry and for its strong support of community activities.

President and general manager Louis Reeder accepted the award for Wes-Tex, which was purchased by the current owners in 1984.

Wes-Tex is a locally-owned and operated facility with a capacity for handling 35,000 head of cattle.

Their primary business is feed manufacturing and feeding cattle for the public.

Presenter Lary Hooten praised Wes-Tex for its behind-the-scenes support of youth and community activities — including donating the steaks for the banquet for the past several years.

"There is no finer example of a business that supports its community than Wes-Tex Feed Yards," Hooten said. "They are also well respected and honored in their industry."

Wes-Tex employs 30 workers at its two feedyards.

MHS sets school mark in 1600 relay

AMARILLO — Muleshoe broke an 18-year-old school record in the 1600-meter relay Saturday at the 25th annual Amarillo Girls Relays at Dick Bivens Stadium.

The team of Stacy Locker, Olivia Alarcon, Bobbie Benham and Kala Johnson shaved .02 seconds off the Muleshoe record set in 1981.

Locker added a gold medal performance in the 800 meters and Muleshoe scored in 12 of 16 events en route to solid fourth-place finish in Division II.

Class 2A power Panhandle parlayed its prowess in the relays and distance events to win the meet with 139 points.

Childress dominated the sprints and jumping events and finish second with 114 points, followed by Dalhart with 97 and Muleshoe with 90.

The Lady Mules ran a 4:14.59 in what's commonly referred to as the mile relay, second behind Panhandle's sparkling 4:08.04 effort.

Tucker, Cooper bomb MHS in 2-3A mismatch

Just when it looked like things couldn't get any worse, Muleshoe absorbed a 24-3 loss at the hands of District 2-3A frontrunner Lubbock Cooper.

Lynney Tucker delivered two doubles and a grand slam as the Pirates racked up 11 extra base hits Saturday at the city baseball field.

Cooper (16-4 overall, 5-0 in district) scored 10 runs in the fifth inning, highlighted by Tucker's blast.

The game was stopped after five innings because of the 10-run mercy rule.

Tucker was 3 for 4 with six runs batted in and also notched his sixth victory on the mound with four innings of work.

B.J. Gonzales hit his second home run of the season for the Mules, a two-run shot to right

ATTRACTIVE GROWTH STOCK

The growth a calf achieves during her first six months will help determine her later income potential as a cow. That's why you need Purina® Calf Startena® and Calf Growena®.

Fortified Startena and Growena feeds have an ideal nutritional balance that can enhance your calves' skeletal and muscle growth while also developing their digestive systems. Those benefits can help your calves reach the recommended six-month growth goals of 400 pounds for heavy breeds and 265-345 pounds for light breeds. With that kind of a good start from Startena and Growena, records show calves are more likely to breed and begin milking on schedule. That makes them great long-term investments for you. Talk to Purina for details, and watch your stock take off.

Cotton acres up; corn acres down in Texas

Texas producers intend to plant more acres of barley, dry beans, cotton, rice, sunflowers and wheat. Acreage of oats planted remained constant, while acreage of corn, sorghum, soybeans and peanuts are expected to decline.

Based on results of a March 1 survey conducted by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, Upland cotton acreage is forecast at 5.7 million acres, up 1 percent from last year. Planting of Pima cotton is expected to total 34,000 acres.

Growers intend to plant 1.9 million acres of corn, down 21 percent from last year. Rice acreage is expected to increase 2 percent from last year to 290,000 acres.

State Statistician Robin Roark cautioned that this report is an early indication of producers' intentions to plant. Actual planted acreage may vary depending on whether, production costs and anti-pated prices at harvest, as well as the results of these reports," he added.

Producers intend to plant 2.7 million acres of sorghum during 1999, down 24 percent from a year ago and 19 percent below 1997.

Spring corn and sorghum planting was off to a good start.

Texas wheat harvest estimate down 30 percent

Texas wheat producers expect to harvest 95.0 million bushels this year, 30 percent less than the 1998 crop and 20 percent less than the 1997 crop.

According to an April 1 survey conducted by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, planted acreage for the 1999 crop is estimated at 6.2 million acres, up 2 percent from 1998 but down 2 percent from 1997.

Production on the Northern

High Plains is expected to total 46.0 million bushels, down 27 percent from a year ago. Most irrigated fields across the region are in good condition. Recent rain improved dryland fields, however, more rain is needed.

Producers in the Blacklands expect to harvest 16.0 million bushels, down 30 percent from last year. Planted acres for the region were up 3 percent from the previous year at 780,000 acres. Moisture conditions are good in this region and fields have made good progress.

Statewide winter wheat condition around April 1 was rated at 69 percent of normal, compared with 76 percent last year.

Texas is the only state that makes an April 1 winter wheat production estimate. The first national wheat forecast will be released May 12, 1999.
