BABSON DISCUSSES THE U. N.
Babson Park, Mass., April 19.—I cannot understand why there is so much pessimism regarding the world in general. There is little justification for much of the fear which radio broadcasters are putting out over the air.

REGARDING THE YETO
We hear much talk that the new World Organization is to be a failure. All impartial evidence is to the contrary. It is succeeding wonderfully. The very fact that all the discussions are in the open for the entire world to hear is—of itself—a great forward step. It makes a bad impression to read of these U. N. squabbles; but it is much better to have all discussions "on top of the table."

There is much criticism that any one of the five great powers can veto measures; but this works to the advantage of the United States or England as well as to Russia. Besides, there are so many good things which the U. N. can do, upon which they all are in agreement, they had better forget other matters for the present. World peace will never be attained by mere majority votes. They must be unanimous to truly hold and succeed.

WHAT ABOUT WORLD WAR III?
Of course, wars are not at an end. There will be more wars and there may be another World War; but there is nothing in sight today which makes it probable. The Atom Bomb is more likely to insure peace than to bring about war. This present talk about a war with Russia should stop. It is largely to help columnists sell their wares.

I believe we should give the Atom Secret to the U. N. The peace possibilities of atomic energy are so great, atomic studies should be encouraged by all nations with the freest interchange of scientific knowledge. Nations never go to war when they are prosperous. Atomic energy possesses the power to make every nation prosperous. Hence, I am an optimist on world affairs.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH
We all should work for the Four Freedoms—both internationally and domestically. We, however, can have freedom of speech in our own neighborhood without forcing ourselves into every home. A truly "good neighbor" policy requires getting the good will and confidence of all who live on our street. This cannot be secured by forcing ourselves into any home until we are invited.

The same principle applies to nations. I wish all nations would let our people roam about their countries and would, each year, exchange 5,000 students with us. But such an exchange should not be forced or bought with money. We cannot make anyone like us by our being "tough." Other nations are trying out economic and social experiments called "Communism" or "Socialism." We should let them do so in their own way—with or without the help of our visitors or writers. Likewise, we are trying out an economic and social experiment called "Free Enterprise." It is up to each reader of this column to help make this American system a success with no interference from abroad.

GREAT EXPERIMENTS
Only the future can tell which of the above systems will ultimately have a fair chance to succeed if it can win out; but each should be given a fair chance to succeed if it can. My own feeling is that there may be a happy medium between Communism and Capitalism. Certainly, no World War III is needed to settle the question. In fact, the real answer can be found only during an era of world peace.

Yes, we have much for which to be thankful. Although very "noisy," yet international conditions are safer today than ever before. The U. N. will succeed; the much despised "veto power" may be an assurance for peace. Let us first be tough with our own people and discipline them—that is let us be tough and discipline ourselves—as individuals. This will be the best sign of the much needed spiritual awakening for which so many of us are praying.

Fluvanna Area Gets Good Fall

In showers, not heavy but very beneficial, that fell over parts of this territory Sunday and Monday of this week, several of the communities received moisture ranging from one-fourth to one inch, while the mottled pattern left other places still too dry for farmers to start any type of field work.

South of Fluvanna some farmers reported a strip that received as much as three-fourths of an inch of precipitation, and on to the north-east other reports described the fall reaching as much as an inch. Some sections of Dermott had an inch. Dunn community reported about one-half inch of rain, while Ira's fall was so spotted that it ranged from nil to moderate showers. Travelers reported a good rain in the Polar area, with some trucks getting stuck on some of the unpaved roads.

Claremont section had as much as an inch over part of its territory. Other sections reported similar fall to the spotted reports given. Snyder's precipitation was gauged at about 41 to a half-inch, dividing its light fall between Sunday and Monday night. Drivers coming in from Sweetwater Monday night reported some heavy rainfall about 20 miles out from Snyder.

Texans In Washington

By L. T. (Tex) EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, April 25.—AP—With a record-setting turnover of at least four among their 21 members in prospect for next year—not counting any possible involuntary retirements dictated at the polls—Texas members are almost talking to themselves these days.

They grin and greet each other in the corridors and lobbies with such quips as: "Good morning, colleague—or are you?" or "Oh, I say, have you heard the latest—I'm running for re-election, but don't let it get out."

Incidentally, they all noted with envy that Rep. Luther A. Johnson's new federal judgeship appointment of 12 years duration saves him six election campaigns.

There are reports around Capitol Hill that Fort Worth's veteran Congressman Fritz G. Lanham, who recently announced his retirement, had been offered a lucrative position with private concern in the building trade. The Lanham Housing act made him a national figure in that line.

The great natural gas fields of Texas are a subject of much concern to the Federal Power Commission, which has jurisdiction when it comes of exporting the fuel across the state's boundary.

While the question of conserving the gas and holding it in Texas as a drawing card for industries of build plants there is a hot political potato between the Rio Grande and Red River, it also is getting considerable attention here from the national politicians—but for different reasons.

Probably the most powerful groups sitting in on FPC hearings on Texas gas pipe line hearings are the coal mine operators and miners themselves. They fear large scale movement of natural gas to the East through use of the Big Inch line as has been proposed, and through enlargement of Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company's Texas-West Virginia line as is now being sought before the FPC. It would displace tens of thousands of miners, not to mention railroad workers who haul coal, they argue.

Another big pipe line application currently under consideration before the FPC is that of the Reynolds Pipe Line Company of Corpus Christi, which seeks to deliver gas from the Rio Grande valley to Monterey—a Mexican concern would pipe it south from the border. Chairman Olin Culberson and Beauford Jester went on record before the commission against the application, but the third member of the Texas Railroad Commission, Ernest O. Thompson, didn't agree with them.

Rep. John Lyle of Corpus Christi, in a formal statement submitted to the commission supporting the application, said: "The land owners who own the minerals in place are being denied the fruits of their ownership because of the lack of a legitimate market in the area, and the full development and exploration for natural resources in that area are retarded."

Von Roeder Firm Buys A Sterilizer For Cotton Seed

J. E. Bruton, of Melvin, Texas, was in Snyder yesterday in the interest of his machine shop firm's manufacturing branch, and while here informed the Times that he had sold one of his cotton seed sterilizing machines to the Von Roeder Seed Farm firm.

Bruton's firm manufactures several types of farm machines, and also builds machines and equipment to specification for the general trade.

The new machine, Bruton stated, is designed to sterilize cotton seed, killing all kinds of insects, boll worm and weevil egg-hatch. Bruton is running advertising elsewhere in the times.

Snyder has four water-wells. The newest, already at a cost of nearly $7,000, with a borrowed pump, has been tested and found wanting. On a short test, it was pumped out in 14 minutes. After a 5 minute rest, it was again pumped out in 9 minutes. Then, after a rest of one hour, it was again pumped out in 12 minutes. If you could pump 1500 gallons from the well in 12 minutes, you would still need help to put out a chicken-house fire.

So Green the Grass!

(With Envy)

"Green with envy" is about the way the average lawn, and especially the Court House lawn, would feel if they should take legs and amble off to some well-watered place where the lawns, shrubs, flowers, and trees are a rich green—plenty of water to give them genuine life and beauty.

More than two months ago requests were presented to the Times to make an appeal for remedying the water situation—the water situation as pictured to us at that time. Naturally, with no true figures to work on, and not sufficiently acquainted at the time with the existing status of the "water level," requests were refused, but of course surplanted with a promise that a full study of the water situation would be made.

It has been made, and the answer—Snyder's water supply is dangerously inadequate.

Austin has little on its records pertaining to the water in Snyder. You are justified in believing that state engineers have not been called on properly in the matter, which certainly needed to be studied, and plans made to avoid a sere future. Underground supply of water, as a yardstick, fails to actual experience.

Snyder has four water-wells. The newest, already at a cost of nearly $7,000, with a borrowed pump, has been tested and found wanting. On a short test, it was pumped out in 14 minutes. After a 5 minute rest, it was again pumped out in 9 minutes. Then, after a rest of one hour, it was again pumped out in 12 minutes. If you could pump 1500 gallons from the well in 12 minutes, you would still need help to put out a chicken-house fire.

Snyder's north well at the present time isn't pumping, since its pump was borrowed to test this new well. Its record seems to be about 60 to 70 gallons per minute.

There are two other wells, over near the City Hall. The old one is good for about 100 gallons per minute, while a second has produced 200 gallons on some fairly long runs. They have, however, so the records reveal, been pumped out a number of times. At present that is Snyder's water source.

Vastly more could be added to the picture, but that is unnecessary; most Snyder people remember too well the history of the water problem. According to reports from countless citizens of Snyder, an appeal was issued last summer, virtually a restriction, to cut down on water uses. Filling stations were asked to cease all car washing; watering of lawns and trees was banned, other methods of economizing with water were suggested. Things were complicated. No one wants to take a bath in someone else's bath water, and yet everyone should take a bath the first Tuesday in each month whether they need it or not. You can't do it without water.

Provisions should have been made long ago for adequate water to run Snyder. It wasn't. Provisions should be made now to run Snyder in the future. It's the most typical of the hour. We need additional sewer lines—we need the water first to operate it. We need lots of things: parks, paving, a beautification program. We need water first of all.

The present short water production is too costly for the benefits derived. Risks are too costly to tolerate. One oversize fire and fortunately Snyder has never had one, could cost more than the price of a permanent water supply. If one such fire should occur, there is definite proof that [it] would have to burn itself out. . . . There is not enough water to stop one. Snyder's water storage capacity is in two tanks of 125,000 and 150,000 gallons—275,000 gallons of water isn't much, especially when it doesn't have dependable, non-drying wells to back it.

Summer is approaching, and everything now points to the fact that you'll have to do without a lot of water that you would use otherwise—with still more people arriving in Snyder to use it.

Postal Route Up For Bids; May 9 Set As Deadline

Postmaster Harvey Shuler informed the Times yesterday that bids would be received in Washington until May 9th, 4:30 p.m., to place a carrier on the Snyder-Jayton route, schedule of operation set out in a special notice.

"Sealed proposals," the notice to Shuler reads in part, "will be received at the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., until 4:30 p.m., May 9, 1946, for carrying the United States mails for the term from June 14, 1946 (or such subsequent date as the Department may order), to June 30, 1947, on the following described route by the schedule stated, or such other schedule as the Postmaster General may prescribe: from Snyder, by Claremont (via east road) to Jayton, returning by Blackwell's corner (n.o.) (via east road), Cattleguard Gate (n.o.), Rogers Corner (n.o.) and Claremont to Snyder, equal to 64.50 miles and back, six times a week, but no service required on holidays (8) unless specifically directed by Chief Clerk, Railway Mail Service, contractor to be allowed pro rata increase in pay accordingly."

The winning bid, or contractor, will be required to carry out the usual duties of the route carrier.

The schedule calls for leaving Snyder daily, except Sunday and holidays, at 8:30 a.m., arriving in Jayton by 11:30 a.m. Leave Jayton 1:00 p.m. and arrive back in Snyder by 5:00 p.m.

In commenting on the run, Shuler stated that bond is required with bid in the amount of $1,400.00.

FFA Boys Stage Big Barbecue In High School Park

In one of the largest FFA get-together meetings in some time, the boys staged a big barbecue and meeting Tuesday night in the high school park, with the attendance count running about 12525 members, guests, including a group of Junior Live Stock Association members invited in a body.

The meeting, X. B. Cox, county agent, asserts, was enjoyable as well as very beneficial in every way.

A special program was arranged under the direction of Horace Davis, chairman, and other members, and the welcome address was delivered by Donnie Everett. Principal speakers for the occasion were Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City and W. K. Roberts of Sweetwater.

After the program of the FFA group, the Live Stock Association had a business meeting and held an election of officers. All of the office holders of the past year were re-elected, with the return naming Hugh Taylor, president; John Cox, vice-president; Billy Boren, secretary-treasurer; and Weldon Johnson and Mert Jones as two of the directors.

Discussion was also brought up concerning construction of a barn to be used for show purposes in connection with the Annual Junior Fat Stock Show.

It was also announced that a membership drive would soon be staged for the Live Stock Association. Work, officials stated, is already being mapped for future shows.

Chapman Attends Nebraska Meet in Insurance Rally

L. A. Chapman, local representative of the Woodmen of the World, returned Saturday from a trip to Omaha, Nebraska, where he attended a meeting of representatives from over the nation, having won the trip to the home office through what the company terms production here in this territory.

About 250 representatives, Chapman stated, attended the Field Men's gathering, and chief aim of the company's program was to give all men a refresher course. The tests and examinations were submitted to C. R. Palmer, Ph.D., operating as an Extension Service of the University of Indiana, and if he passes, Chapman pointed out, he will be awarded the F. I. C. degree, an honor of merit awarded by the Fraternal Insurance Congress of America. This degree is now held by about 10 others in the State of Texas.

On the trip to Omaha, Chapman was joined in Oklahoma City by W. S. Forbes, Sr., state manager of WOW, and W. S. Forbes, Jr., the trip being made in his own car from here.

"Uniform Rank," a service revived from pre-war operations, has been placed in the hands of "Blue" Howell, Chapman said, and he will act as head of the Encampment in Texas, held later this year. This well known footballer, relieved recently of his duties as a Lt.-Col. in the army, was formerly coach at L. S. U., and was also All-American of 1940 from Nebraska. Many of the Texas boys, Chapman, stated, would be interested in Howell.

Questioned as to condition of the country in that section, Chapman said wheat prospects were the best, as described by people there, they have ever head. Kansas wheat, he also remarked, looked fine.

Other discussions, Chapman alluded to occasionally, were on the American soldier's GI insurance, which the company officials urged their local representatives to discuss with GI's about keeping. He says he will urge all GI's to hold on to their army insurance.

Chapman is also district manager for the WOW in 18 West Texas counties.

Preliminary Meet Held to Organize Snyder Junior CC

A preliminary meeting was held Monday night, 8:00 o'clock, to discuss organization of a Junior Chamber of Commerce here, another plank in the program of getting things rolling for a fully cooperating town and area to bring of the "good things of the post-war construction era" to the county.

The meeting Monday night took on the form of a round-table discussion of the project, and although the representation was not great, another mass meeting has been set for Tuesday night, April 30, at which time the general public is invited to come out and take part. The meeting Monday night was the one to be held the 30th will be held in the District Court Room.

Although some rumor has been going around that the Junior Chamber of Commerce is a branch of the GI organization, this is clarified by organizers in that it is strictly made up of the young business men of Snyder, and has no connection with the ex-servicemen's club. The Jaycees will be offered by capable business men, and membership makes no distinction whether military service has been had or not.

The arena has been reconed and the new grandstands will seat 1200 people. The new floodlights for the grounds are to be installed in the near future.

A PORT—OR JUST SCENERY

We have been wondering just what angle or turn interest here would take in the matter of really going after an airport. If you had access to an enormous exchange of newspapers from over the country as we have, it would be amazing at the world of new and beneficial projects going on in every city and town throughout the country. They aren't waiting for things to come to them—they are going after them. That's the only way.

After reading a comprehensive report by Pat Flynn, chief of Western News Service, Inc., we have decided our readers would like to know about it, too.

"Cities and communities of West Texas," Flynn reports, "along with New Mexico, southern Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma, are going to receive airplane service almost immediately . . ."

"Recommendations of the board authorized lines between Trinidad, Amarillo, Fort Worth and Dallas, between Garden City and Amarillo, between Amarillo and El Paso, between Albuquerque and Amarillo, between Amarillo and Big Spring, and between Lubbock and Wink.

"Other cities to be served by this line are Dalhart, Dumas, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Vernon, Electra, Wichita Falls, Graham, Mineral Wells, Perryton, Canadian, Pampa, Panhandle, Lamesa, Pecos, Wink, Odessa, Midland, Littlefield, and Seagraves.

"Agents will be appointed in each city within the immediate future, Byron Singleton, executive vice-president and general counsel, announced."

The meaning of that is clear. Most of those places went after their airline service. Maybe some happened to be on an air route as a matter of luck, and the companies wanted the places on the feeder lines. That could happen. It could even happen to Snyder. But certainly no company is going to make its plane landings in a cow-pasture airport. That is only a drop in the bucket compared with the ultimate expansion of air routes and travel. Lines will fan out in our direction. It's up to us to be "on" one of those routes, or "under" them. Of course we see both angles . . . the other one, that some people might prefer to retain pony express methods to amuse the city tourists when they fly OVER!

SOCIAL "INSECURITY" PLANS

Estimates of the cost of a comprehensive system of compulsory social security in this country are staggering, ranging as high as 25 per cent of the income of every gainfully employed person. That these estimates may not be far wrong, is indicated by England's experiments with social security. A bill has been submitted to the House of Commons which includes provisions similar to those set forth in the Wagner Bill—the American version of "all out" compulsory social security.

According to the New York Times, "It has been calculated that with the new bill, and on the assumption that not more than 5 per cent of the employable population will be unemployed on the average, the British government will be taking about 24 per cent of the gross income of individuals in compulsory contributions for social security and other forms of social services."

The tragic part of these "social security" proposals is that they would seize by law what most people would otherwise be able to class as "savings." After 25 per cent of an average person's income is arbitrarily deducted by government, he will have precious little cash or inventive left to provide for his own future. Moreover, payment under the government program couldn't keep a church mouse alive and healthy in these days of inflation.

DON'T BE A DUNCE

In sounding a warning against unwise speculation, the nation's leading stock brokerage firms, as well as the New York Stock Exchange, have urged the public to be cautious. They point out that there are few individuals who have sufficient experience and knowledge to afford the inherent risks involved firm urges individuals to establish funds for home ownership, education, and other forms of savings before entering the securities market. The New York Stock Exchange, through advertising in many newspapers, has urged the public to not buy blindly but to deal through reputable firms who can advise the purchaser on securities of the type he should consider which are best suited to meet his particular requirements.

Nothing is easier to lose than money, and if the person who has saved will follow the foregoing sound advice, it will help maintain the stability of the country, check inflation, and prevent needless financial losses and many heartaches.

WHY BOTHER ABOUT COST?

Though compulsory sickness insurance is one of the most expensive of Government insurances, hearings on its possible introduction have now opened at Washington with consideration of cost omitted. Such procedure on a bill which would require new pay-roll taxes on employer and employee seems unusual. The cost of a national system of government medical care and hospital insurance would exceed present expenditures on either of the social insurances now in effect in the United States—old-age and unemployment.

The only reference in the current Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill to financing is a brief clause saying the Secretary of the Treasury shall credit to the sickness insurance system amounts equivalent to 3 per cent of the wages of the employed population, with certain exceptions. Nothing is said about how the Treasury is to get the money it is ordered to pay out. That awkward little word "tax" is carefully avoided.

Obviously 3 per cent is too low. In his message of last November recommending the program of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill, President Truman put the pay-roll cost at 4 per cent. Even that, according to authorities, is too small. Some of the best experts say insurance for medical care alone would run 4 per cent, and hospital insurance another 1 per cent. Dental care, home-nursing and laboratory services would add to the expense. Also disability insurance would inevitably be added so as to provide cash payments to workers during illness. This is part of the standard sickness insurance systems of other countries, and is called for in the original version of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill.

Altogether, the pay-roll taxes would exceed 6 per cent. The total annual expense would run into the billions. Yet the hearing has been so staged as to ignore cost. Such tactics may be good from the standpoint of propaganda. But compulsory sickness insurance would make one of the most profound changes in government and personal life. Socialized medicine should not be sold the public on a partial showing of the facts.—The Christian Science Monitor.

CLEAN UP ACCIDENT HAZARDS

Spring is clean-up-time and time to clean out the hazards around the farmstead which might cause injury. With farm labor shortages and continued demands for high food production, the farmer cannot afford to lose the services of farm workers through accidents. The National Safety Council has listed several wise precautions for prevention of accidents.

Other than the personal factor of poor judgment, the largest single cause of injuries was disorder, according to a study made by the Council a few years ago. "A place for everything and everything in its place" is a prime safety rule.

Broken steps can be responsible for accidents of serious consequences. Floors should be solid, smooth and in good repair. They should be free from obstructions which would cause inconvenience or falls.

At this season of the year many barns have become cluttered with the accumulation of items used during the winter. Suitable places should be found for locating or storing such items. Avoid storing loose materials overhead on rafters or between floor joists, and make sure that forks, scrapers, brooms, and rakes are kept in racks or places where they will not fall and injure people.

A well-arranged and well equipped farm repair shop brings tools and work together in a suitable location and reduces loss and damage. It is a wise precaution to check the handles of hammers and axes to see that they are secure and in good condition.

TIME TO BEAUTIFY

This is the time of the year when the residents of Snyder are beauty conscious, especially in regard to working in their flower beds. They are having their lawns worked and planted with grass where necessary. In fact everyone is trying to make their home a thing of beauty.

All this reminds us—why not make this post-war spring the one for Snyder citizens to take an interest in beautifying our most conspicuous eyesore—the courthouse lawn—include the courthouse for a good spring clean-up and paint job.

The lawn could be planted with grass where necessary. The shrubs on the square should be planted. To give contrast to all this why not have a few flower beds around the courthouse? This all should be done don't you think?

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP DEFEATED

At recent elections in Oklahoma, the people of Tulsa, Muskogee, and McAlester voted overwhelmingly against candidates running on municipal ownership tickets. The real issue of each election was to decide if the people would discontinue the services of the private electric utilities and obtain their power from government-owned and operated hydro-electric plants. Cities and towns are finding that tax-exempt public power plants are costly luxuries for taxpayers, and without tax-subsidies cannot compete with private plants in rates.

Essay Contest Is Sponsored By Sears, Roebuck

The County Agent's office gives out the announcement this week that an Essay Contest is being staged in this county whereby nine boys may become owners of fine, pure-bred registered gilts and boars, the awards being made by Sears, Roebuck Co. The contest is to be directed by a general committee, composed of County Agents, Assistant Agents, the District Agent, Swine Specialist, officials of the Sears, Roebuck Foundation, and managers of Sears, Roebuck and Co. stores.

In order to qualify for one of these pigs, the boy will write and submit an essay entitled, "Advantages of the Cow-Hog-Hen Plan of Farming." The essay to have a maximum of 500 words.

The contest is open to all 4-H Club boys in Scurry County.

All essays must be in the hands of County Agent X. B. Cox by May 5th, and must be written on notebook paper, typed or in ink and must contain name, address, name of club, and county of contestant. The essays will be judged by a committee appointed by the County Agent.

Pigs will be awarded as prizes on the basis of 40 per cent for best essay showing knowledge and information the contestant has on the subject, and 60 per cent upon his facilities and ability to successfully complete the demonstration.

Each essay must be accompanied with an agreement blank, obtainable at the County Agent's office, signed by the contestant, which will agree to feed, care for, and breed the pigs under the direction of the County Agent, and to return to his County Agent for similar distribution the following year the choicest gilt, with certificate of registration, from the first litter as selected by the County Agent, on or after the age of ten weeks. Boys who receive boars will not be required to return a pig to the County Agent, but instead will be required to give free service to other Sears Foundation gilts in the county for first litters.

The first prize gilts and the boar from each county will be brought to a district show for competitive exhibit.

Fat Salvage Still Great Need In US

Fats and oils are needed desperately in the world fight against famine, and housewives are urged to keep on saving them as during the war years, according to Estella Rabel home demonstration agent.

Miss Rabel suggests that you buy only the fats and oils you need. Use fat-saving recipes. Make use of every possible ounce of "used" fats that you can. Use the bacon drippings and other fats of good flavor for seasoning. Be thrifty with table fat.

A recipe for making a fat-saving salad dressing that is good on spring greens has been worked out.

The recipe calls for the usual ingredients—eggs, vinegar, milk, fat, sugar, salt, mustard, celery seed, and paprika. Now here are the amounts: One or two whole eggs or three or four egg yolks; three tablespoons of vinegar; a third cup of milk; a tablespoon of table fat or mild-flavored drippings; half teaspoon of paprika, if you wish them.

Beat the eggs and vinegar until you have smooth mixture, then add the milk and table fat. Then add the seasoning. Cook the salad dressing over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture is about as thick as heavy cream; then pour it in a container, cover it, and store the dressing in the refrigerator until you are ready to try it out on a salad.

Texas now has a population of about seven million people.

More Ice Cream Is Now Available

Now it can be told—not only to the Johnnies and Marys in Scurry County, but all over the nation—that they are getting about a third more ice cream. In fact, there is practically enough to supply the demand in the United States now.

According to preliminary reports by the United States Department of Agriculture, the make of ice cream rose from 125 million gallons in the last four months of 1944 to about 181 million gallons in the same months of 1945. Translated into easily understood terms, that means an increase from a little over five servings per month per person for every individual in the United States in the 1944 period, to nearly eight servings per person in the corresponding months of 1945.

Civilian Supplies Of Meats Are Cut

Civilian supplies of meat for the next three months will be about nine percent less than for the first quarter but about 22 per cent more than the April-June period last year, E. A. McBryde, District Director, said today.

Total supply allocated for the current three-month period is estimated at 5,360,500,000 pounds, carcass weight, of which eighty-five percent will go to civilian tables, six percent to the U. S. military and war services and nine percent for foreign shipments.

The current meat allocation is at the rate of 132 pounds per person a year.

Jesse A. Johnson Announcement Late

Jesse A. Johnson, who made his announcement recently for the office of Commissioner, precinct 2, informed the Times this week that his name had been omitted from the announcement column, and a check reveals that this was correct.

The error has been corrected, his name appearing in the proper place in the column.

Jesse says he is trying to make it around to see all of the voters before election time, and will have a formal announcement through the Times in the near future.

Frank Arnett and family were Sunday visitors at Palor.

The House itself will reconvene on April 30th. At the request of the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Mahon spent last Saturday at the Atomic Bomb project at Los Alamos near Santa Fe, New Mexico. McKINNEY'S DAIRY INSTALLING PASTEURIZING UNIT THIS WEEK

The Double "DD" Does It!

"DD"—a peroleum by-product—shows promise of being a practical means of controlling the nematodes which cause plant root diseases, according to M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

DD apparently is as effective in nematode control as other chemicals for this purpose, including carbon disulfide, methyl bromide mixtures, and tear gas. And the cost is much less than the other chemicals, which ran from eighty to several hundred dollars an acre.

Trials at the Plant Industry Station of Beltsville, Md., and the Branch Experiment Station, Weslaco, Texas show that DD is highly effective on the common root-knot nematode when soil conditions are favorable.

The DD liquid is applied in holes driven into the soil or as an emulsion sprinkled on the surface. DD, now in limited commercial production, is a mixture of 1-3 dichloropropylene and 1-2 dichloropropane.

Bob McKinney, junior partner in the McKinney Dairy with his father J. A. McKinney announced to the Times yesterday that he is this week installing a pasteurizing unit at his dairy, and barring unforeseen handicaps, will be servicing accounts here with pasteurized milk Monday morning.

In describing this new unit, first for Scurry County, Bob remarks that he has difficulty in securing the next addition to his milk plant, receiving it after having it on order for several months. The equipment has been selected with a view to Snyder's growth, and the expectation that as dairy help becomes more plentiful the volume of output will increase.

In preparing for installation of the pasteurizing equipment, the McKinneys have built additional housing space to accommodate the plant, adding a 12x22-foot section for the new materials. The dairy now employs five people, and Bob expressed opinion that as soon as his full program could be put into effect he could use more help—if he could get it.

Pasteurizing Process
For years the safety of pasteurizing has been recognized, and especially for children. The method is perhaps well known to most people, but is still interesting for study. Milk is run into a boiler and brought to a temperature of from 142 to 145 degrees, held there approximately 45 minutes, then jacket-cooled to about 90 degrees by normal process. Then the milk is pipe-cooled to about 40 degrees—ready for delivery to customers.

McKinney's dairy now has 30 head of milchstock, all regularly tested and well cared for, and Bob states that as conditions permit, his herd will be enlarged. The dairy is already moving back into its pre-war status of residential deliveries to the extent that help will let such deliveries be made, and plans are under way to increase both wholesale and retail deliveries.

This new pasteurizing unit, Bob remarked, is only one step in his plan to make it one of the best dairies in this part of the country. This, he points out, "is the post-war period we have been looking for, so we are ready to go!"

McKinney Seeks For Re-election In Constable Race

Chief Warns People About Loose Dogs

Chief of Police Simon Best issued a warning yesterday to the people of Snyder that stray dogs must be taken care of in some manner for the safety of children, as well as a curb placed on dog packs gathering at night and disturbing night rest.

Many stray dogs, Best stated, are running loose in Snyder, and with summer approaching, a dangerous season on account of rabies, the safety of the citizenry must be taken into account and something done about it.

A city tax is assessed on dogs—$2.50 on male dogs and $5.00 on female dogs, but at the present time no tags are available. The situation may be solved, Best suggested, by people keeping up their dogs at night that they wish to keep, and other strays will be disposed of if necessary by policemen.

In the interview, Best also pointed ed out that a general clean-up of Snyder would not be amiss, calling attention to the fact that some people are throwing cans on vacant lots, or dumping trash out at the edge of town that should be hauled to the dump grounds. He suggested that everyone clean up their places, and in neighborhoods where owners of lots are away from Snyder, that groups gather and take care of such property.

Goodnight Ranch Is Stone Marked

...timers of Scurry County and story will be well pleased the announcement that stone and bronze tablet have placed at the original head- ters of the big J. A. Ranch es- tablished by Col. Chas. Goodnight November 1876.

...he markers placed in the cere- ny were given by Newton Har- of Claude, on whose ranch the is located. The Harrell family sed a barbecue dinner for 25 persons who made their way on the trails of the Palo Duro yon to the historic spot on April

...short program memorialized occasion.

We feel that this tribute to Col. dnight is one that he deserves, in behalf of the many men who ked for him on the J. A. I h say that I know they would honored to know this site is cked with an appropriate monu- t," said Mrs. Inez Doshier of ude whose father, Jim Christian, one of Goodnight's top hands several years.

...r. Harrell, president, and a ber of directors of the Panhan- Plains Historical Society were sent.

...There are a number of historic s in the Panhandle which uld be marked while they can be "ated," said Mr. Harrell. ese include the original head- ters of the first ranches estab- ed in this section. The Histor- Society will be glad to sponsor marking of any of these histor- ics."

...One of the most epochal events in the early history of Texas was the signing of a peace treaty by John O. Meusebach and a group of colonists from Fredericksburg, Texas, with a group of hostile Comanche Indians on March 2, 1847, at a spot 15 miles west of San Saba.

...The above is an artist's concep- tion of the treaty scene, paint- ed by Mrs. Ernest Marschall, daughter of Meusebach, and

...sketched from a description of the scene given by her father.

...Meusebach was the founder of Fredericksburg, a city that will observe its Centennial on May 5-8 this year. Highlight of the celebration will be a great histor- ical parade on Wednesday, May 8, when the above scene will be portrayed on a float in the parade.

...A tribe of Comanche Indians, descendants of those who made

...the historic peace treaty, will attend the Centennial Celebra- tion all four days, taking part in the parade and giving original Indian tribal dances and demon- strations. The Indian tribe, from the Indian Reservation in Okla- homa, will be led by Chief Bald- win Parker, son of the noted In- dian Chief, Quannah Parker and grandson of famous Cynthia Ann Parker.

OUTLOOK FOR TEXAS GRAIN CROP IS GOOD

Unless conditions grow worse, Texas farmers in 1946 should pro- duce the third largest wheat crop in the state's history. Based upon April 1 conditions, the Crop Report- ing Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture forecast a yield of 59,940,000 bushels, according to a statement released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Austn.

If this yield is realized it will some from the largest acreage ever seed- ed in Texas.

The BAE statement points out, however, that final wheat harvest is dependent largely upon the state of the weather during April and May.

Mrs. Preston Godwin of Dallas was an over night guest of Mrs. Sam Williams.

NTSC POST-WAR PROGRAM SET AT 5% MILLION MARK

Post-war building plans that have been made for North Texas State College total $5,495,000, with three units under construction at the present time totaling $1,675,000, president of the college, W. J. Mc-Connell, has announced.

Bids on Bruce Hall were received Tuesday.

What is your GUESS? on our profits...

SOMETIMES, although an idea is wrong, it does no harm. Like the idea that a square jaw is the sign of will power. That winters aren't as severe as they used to be, or that red hair denotes quick temper.

But there are other wrong ideas, which are definitely harmful to public confidence in and understanding of industry. One such idea is the current "guessing" about profits made by large business organizations.

Many people are apt to grossly exaggerate the money made by business. So Opinion Research Corporation (an independent organization) made a survey to learn just what the public thinks about profits. Compare these guesses and yours with the International Harvester profit figures given below.

Public guess on war profits . . . 30.0%
I H four war year average profit . . . 4.9%

In this survey, the average of the guesses by the public of the war-time profits made by industry was thirty per cent (30%).

But in the four war years of 1942, 1943, 1944, and 1945, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged only . . . 4.9% on sales. Less than one sixth of what the general public "guessed" for all industry.

For this period, the year by year per cent of profits on sales was: 1942-7.34, 1943-5.59, 1944-3.95, 1945-3.93.

Public guess on peace profits 18.0%
I H four pre-war year average profit . . . 7.17%

In the four peace years of 1938, 1939, 1940, and 1941, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged . . . 7.17%. This is well under half of what the public "guessed" for all industry.

Majority think fair profit in normal times is . . . 10%
I H ten-year average is less than 7%

The survey indicates the public knows that in our economy profits are indispensable. And the majority regard 10% as a fair rate of profit in normal times. Many large businesses, including ourselves, would consider it a banner year if we could reach this figure. Our average profit for the last ten years—four war and six peace—was 6.43%—more than a third less than what the public considers fair.

All these figures show that our profits are not high. As a matter of fact, the entire farm machinery industry is a low profit industry. In 1944, the Federal Trade Commission published a list of 76 industries ranked in order of their ratio of profits to sales. The farm machinery industry was 57th on the list.

What About Current I H Prices?

When the War ended and we planned our peace-time production, we had hoped to be able to serve our farmer customers at the same level which has held since 1942, regardless of war-time increases in costs of wages and materials up to that time. But recent developments have forced a change in our plans.

Cotton Studies Show Sunlight Is Heavy Food

Adequate sunlight is shown to be an important factor in cotton plants becoming well-fruited under conditions that favor the production of a large number of blooms, little shedding and moderate vegetative growth by studies just reported by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Variations in the amount of light, such as accompany periods of cloudy weather, short days, and close spacing of plants were found to result in impairment of fruiting and excessive vegetative growth. The heavy shedding of young bolls often noticed by growers following periods of rainy weather was thought due to the interruption in high sunlight intensity rather than to the direct effect of rain on the flower.

Modified light conditions and other factors that induce shedding have been found to hinder photosynthesis and to reduce the carbohydrate content in the cotton plant.

Differences in the sensitiveness of cotton varieties to unfavorable light conditions were said to indicate the importance of careful selection of varieties for a given region, according to prevailing weather conditions during the growing season, and the need for attention to these inherent varietal differences by the cotton breeder.

BE PREPARED WHEN IT'S TIME!

You would like to have a NEW FARMALL,— and we would like for you to have it, but present conditions point to several reasons why a great number of the new tractors cannot be delivered in the near future—

The next best thing is to have your present tractor in "working condition" when the time comes to get started farming. That time,—the time of the heavy work season, the "peak load"—gets nearer every day; it's just around the corner.

We have the experienced mechanics to help you put your tractor in fine shape. It will be cheaper to go ahead now, rather than try to get by with equipment that is not in the proper condition. When you get started, you sure can't stand a "break-down" in the middle of work season.

Come in and let us figure on a complete overhaul job. It will pay you big dividends—you know when the humming starts, you've got to "keep rolling!"

DairyMen Ask Milk Products Be Released

As an aftermath of a series of state-wide meetings, held by Texas dairymen during March, M. E. McMurray, manager of the Texas Dairy Products Association, has sent the following telegram to the Texas delegation in Washington, and to the 27 members of the House Banking and Currency Committee, who are holding hearings covering OPA dairy pricing arrangement:

"One thousand two hundred and thirty key Texas dairymen, in a series of 7 meetings held during March, representing the industry from the Panhandle to Rio Grande Valley, and from El Paso to Texarkana, expressed themselves forcefully as having their backs to the wall and facing disaster if immediate action is not taken to afford relief. They ask why our Government insists on ruin for this nation's greatest agricultural enterprise, and why those in authority sit idly by and permit our milk supply to dry up, butter and cheese plants to close, and allow black market activities in feed, supplies and dairy products. They are unanimous in demanding removal from OPA jurisdiction, and that dairy products be eliminated from all price controls. How can Congress ignore the plea of millions of farm families, who are fast losing confidence in their Government and its officials. They are tired of waiting for action that never materializes, while thousands of dairy cattle go to the slaughter house each day, at a time when our country is begging for more milk and cream.

It just doesn't make sense to Texans. They ask to know, not when, but how quick, can they get relief. Not only do they believe the House, Senate and Committees should give the problem first attention, but, also, that it is a grave responsibility of the President of the United States. Nothing short of immediate and drastic action can satisfy and restore confidence in our officials.

Texas farmers look upon certain branches of their Government as being responsible for their condition. We expect Congress to act immediately to give us relief from this situation. Delayed action or promises, will not get the job done this time."

This week her mother, Mrs. J. S. Finch and her aunt, Mrs. G. F. Freeman of Corsicana.

Dr. R. J. Kidd spent the Easter holidays visiting his folks in Menard, Texas.

Rollin' 'em faster on the Santa Fe

Santa Fe serves the Southwest with two main lines.

The northern route runs across the plains of Kansas, southeastern Colorado, and goes over the mountains at Raton Pass.

The southern route leans south in eastern Kansas, runs through Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle (where it is joined by other Santa Fe lines serving Texas), crosses central New Mexico, and joins the northern route again near Albuquerque.

Along these main lines Santa Fe has increased its yard facilities, straightened out curves and lengthened sidings to handle more freight trains.

Centralized Traffic Control systems have been installed, virtually adding another "main line" to important parts of the Santa Fe.

A great new double-track steel bridge across the Colorado River removes the "bottleneck" created by the old single track bridge it replaces.

80 giant 5400-horsepower Diesel locomotives—the most powerful freight Diesels in the world—are pulling heavy freights over our steepest mountain grades.

These increased facilities on the Santa Fe are ready to "roll 'em faster" for shippers even more efficiently than before.

Music Appreciation Programs Are Being Featured For Snyder Grades

Beginning this morning with the first of a series of music programs for the benefit of graders in the Snyder School, the presentation is described as beneficial to the pupils as well as enjoyable, and parent comment emphasizes that the features will go over well, running until the end of this school term.

Contacted here for information on the new program, Frank J. Teagarden, manager of the Record Shop in the Williams Jewelry Store, stated that he had been working with Supt. E. L. Farr, Mr. Thurston and Mrs. Cantrell, music instructor, in mapping the program for the children. Selections are all classical, and although some records are difficult to locate, Mr. Teagarden says he has gathered a fine group for the school, furnished at no cost to the children or the school.

Following today's feature, the coming presentation will be Monday, May 6. On that date, from 10:05 to 10:35 a.m., the program will include "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven, featuring Ignace Jan Paderewski at piano. The records will be on the loud-speaker in the auditorium, and parents of the school children are invited out to the program. Second on the feature will be "To a Wild Rose," by Edvard McDowell, and featuring Andre Kostelanetz and orchestra.

"Tell," overture by Rossini, featuring includes, "The Finale to William Boston Pops orchestra, Arthur Fiedler conducting. Next will be "Blue Danube Waltz," by Strauss, orchestra conducted by Sam Freed.

A brief resume of the Artist and also of the selection itself is given just before presentation of the features by Mrs. Cantrell, giving a keener interest and understanding of the numbers by the children. Future concerts, Mr. Teagarden concluded, have been arranged to some extent and will be announced later, but a complete list running to the end of the school term cannot be given just yet. Commenting on the records, Mr. Teagarden stated that some are still hard to get, but that he would put every effort into securing things that will be most beneficial and pleasant for the children as well as parents and patrons of the schools.

MAY IS A MONTH OF VARIED SPECIAL DAYS

In the "Merry Month of May" you can pick almost any kind of day you like, or perhaps you prefer to make it a "Special Week." Of course you started with May Day, which was also "Child Health Day," "Baby Week" is the first week in May, with Music Week coming in from May 5-12. Those dates are also the week of "National Religious Book Week, Posture Week, May 6-11.

National Restaurant Week is from May 6 to 12, and National Family Week is from May 5 to 12.

Probably most observed of all days in May will be Mother's Day, May 12. National Hospital Day is also the 12th. Goodwill Week is from the 12th to the 18th. National Golf Week is May 11-18. And there are some "days" and "weeks" that we scarcely take note of. National Raisin Week is from May 12th to 18th—38th annual observance for "raisinraisers."

A day that most men will be interested in is that of Straw Hat Day, May 15.

Foreign Trade Week is from May 19th to 25th. Carbonated Beverage Week comes from May 17th to 23. Price Control Week is from the 17th to the 24th (and, incidentally, the way most people are beginning to feel about OPA, there will not be a major celebration for that week.) National First Aid Week is from May 17-26. And if you have been having any foot trouble, you can celebrate from May 18th to 25th, because that is National Foot Health Week.

Most farmers will likely want to celebrate a little extra on the week of 20-25, since that is Cotton Parade Week. Buddy Poppy Week has been tentatively set as the 19th to 25th, but some move may be made to move it up to May 26-30.

Tennis players can also come in for their share of the observance. Tennis Week is from May 25 to June 1.

If there are any days left on this calendar not taken, you may like to set them aside for your own observances, but they seem to be all taken.

SHALL WE HAVE A SEVEN-YEAR WAR — ON THE HIGHWAYS?

With safety campaigns going on all over America to protect human life and property on our highways, the alarming death toll goes on—and even increases. A few of the accidents are unavoidable; you can call it a very few.

Maybe it's that "wet paint" curiosity that traps many of the motorists that succumb to that mentioned toll. It would be nice to make Scurry County accident-less in 1946.

Out on the highways there are painted lines down the center that have a great meaning. It is oftentimes the line that separates life from death; happiness from despair; safe driving from dangerous driving. Thousands annually cross over that line and meet death or serious injury. Statistics show that passing another automobile out on the highway is one of the most dangerous things a person can do in driving. Naturally it must be done often, but it should be done carefully.

State Highway Engineers D. C. Greer makes a timely plea when he calls for strict observance of highway markings and signs. Traffic volume is already well above pre-war peaks in Texas, tire and car shortages notwithstanding. It will scar further upward as new cars get on the road. Authorities predict the nation's 1946 death toll from motor accidents will pass 38,000 unless motorists can be persuaded to assume more cautious driving habits. At the predicted 1946 death rate, only seven years will be required for motor vehicle accidents to kill as many of our population as were killed in World War II from Pear Harbor though V-J Day.

Safety is one of the battles of peace. It will be fought by every person who gets under a steering wheel. His weapons are caution and never-ending practice of a few simple and safe driving rules. How well he uses these weapons will determine which is the more fatal: the battles of war or the battles of peace.

"WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?"

Something higher is expected of Christian peoples than the political food game now being played by governments, with starving people as pawns. The United States, particularly—with its people the best fed in the world—should not wait for more generous giving by less fortunate countries.

What individual, on learning that a neighbor was in danger of starvation, would postpone all-out help until he had received assurance that others in the neighborhood would also contribute? Does an ocean instead of a fence make one any less a neighbor to famine-stricken human beings? Perhaps the world's concept of neighbor needs refreshment. One dictionary definition is "a fellow man." Jesus, in the parable of the Samaritan, gives a wider application still.

The man who fell among thieves lived nowhere near the Samaritan—was not even known to him. But did the Samaritan shrug off his responsibility for that reason? Did he say to the priest and the Levite, "I'll help this stranger if you will"? No. He bound up the wounded man, set him upon his own beast, brought him to an inn, and guaranteed to pay for the stranger's food and lodging. The Samaritan by Jesus high standards, was a "neighbor."

To prove themselves neighbors worthy of the name, it is not enough for Americans to give out of their surplus or merely help to tide over this three-month period the nations who fell among the Fascist thieves. Some guarantee is needed that the same situation will not have to be faced next winter. Whatever stringent measures, including rationing, may be necessary to furnish that guarantee, should be taken fearlessly and with confidence in the innate neighborliness of the American people.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Although the gysies themselves claim Egypt as their native land, it is believed that they originally came from India in the Middle Ages, passing through Egypt to Europe.

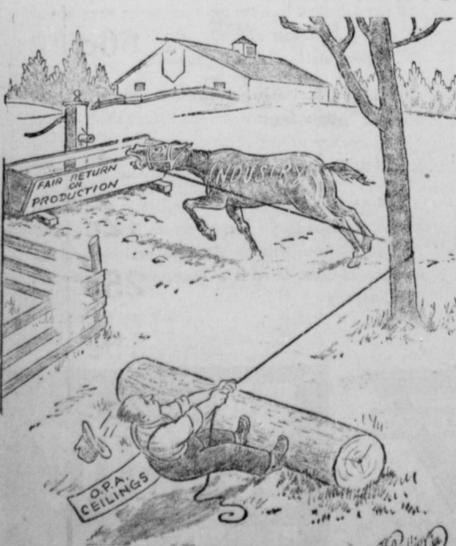

North Africa is peopled by tribes of dark complexion but of white blood, called the Hamitic group.

Inhabitants of India and Southern East Asia depend upon the elephant to perform much of their heavy work.

The Nearest Russian land to the United States is Big Diomed Island, only one and one-half miles away.

Russia's fleet backed up Uncle Sam when the British fleet threatened New York Harbor during the Civil War.

BOSS ELECTRIC

RADIOS

Frequently the comment, "a plague on both your houses," is heard in referring to management-labor difficulties. There was a day when the criticism might apply, but not so now. It seems to be generally forgotten that management cannot bargain as a free agent with labor. Producers and distributors have absorbed until they can absorb no more. And as for basing present wage rises on future production plans which may never materialize—the idea is just plain silly. There are growing indications that OPA is being used as an instrument to enforce a planned economy philosophy of no profit, rather than as an agency to prevent price profiteering. Otherwise, it would not be a party to the labor-management squeeze play against management, a play that may end in chaos.

Women's Society Begins Study Of New Book

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the Methodist Church Monday April 29 at 3:00 and the services were opened with a business meeting.

The study books "Families in a New World" have not arrived, so the society decided to take the book "Uprooted People" as a supplementary study till the original books come in. We believe this will prove to be a most interesting book and everyone is urged to attend these meetings during the study course.

The first chapter—"In Early Old Testament Times" was discussed, and the following program was presented:

1. Tragedy In Our Times—Mrs. Groves.
2. The Biblical Background—Mrs. Curry.
3. Review of the Record—Mrs. Hayley.
4. Possession of the Promised Land—Mrs. Littlepage.
5. Common Factors—Mrs. Herring.
6. Pharaoh—Mrs. Clark.
7. Sense of Injustice—Mrs. Martin.
8. The Judgment of Jehovah—Mrs. Farr.

Questions to be discussed were asked by Mrs. Birdwell and all joined in the discussion. The next two chapters will be lead by Mrs. Curry who will discuss "In Search of a Better Country", and Mrs. Hayley will discuss "Rootless Americans." Many members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Duck.

The meeting was closed with a prayer lead by Mrs. Herring. All women of the society are urged to be present at all the meetings, but especially the study courses.

If the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women causes you to suffer from hot flashes, nervous tension, irritability—try famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound is one of the best known medicines for this purpose. Also a grand stomachic tonic!

FOR CONNOISSEURS... Fresh Pears and Cheese Offer Countless Combinations

Spicy juice-laden Anjou or other fresh winter pears are "naturals" with any kind of cheese.

Take the sophisticated dessert illustrated above. There you have a plump ripe Anjou pear served with cheddar, camembert and Roquefort cheese and crackers. Truly a gourmet's choice... yet remarkably simple to prepare. Easy to serve on a moment's notice when unexpected guests stay for dinner.

Pears with crackers and cheese appeal also for evening snacks, at tea time, for hungry children after school, or as a special lunch-box treat.

Then there are myriad fresh pear and cheese salads. One standby is pear and grated cheese. Another universal favorite with many variations is fresh pear and cottage cheese salad. There are various salad combinations also of fresh pears and cream cheese.

And don't overlook the affinity of Roquefort cheese for fresh pears. Fresh pear salad with Roquefort

French dressing is a request for leaver's delight.

Blue cheese, likewise, complements fresh pears. Try it crumbled into French dressing or mayonnaise for pear salad.

Be Sure Pears Are Ripe
For salads and all fresh eating, pears must be ripe. Under-ripe pears are hard, juiceless and tasteless. Fully ripe pears are just the opposite... tender, juicy and deliciously flavored. You can't really appreciate a fresh pear unless it is ripe.

Contrary to popular opinion, skin color is not a true guide to ripeness in pears. Anjou, for example, may be quite green outside, while inside they are ripe and tender. The only way to judge is to feel a pear gently. If it yields, it's ripe. If it remains firm to your touch, keep it at room temperature a few days until it does feel tender.

Keep only ripe pears in the refrigerator. Pears ripen best at room temperature, 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit.
