BABSON DISCUSSES MORE INDUSTRIES

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 14. -Once every six months I prepare a brief summary of the leading industries. Half of these, I discussed in this paper last week; I am now completing this summary. PAPER STOCKS: The outlook for the paper industry is good. Just now it is handicapped by a sacrcity of pulp; but this should be remedied as soon as the pulp mills of Europe get into full swing.

PETROLEUM STOCKS: Although these stocks have been behind the rest of the market, they may be one of the best purchases. Readers, however, should buy the stocks of companies having large oil reserves rather than the stocks of the distributing companies. PUBLIC UTILITY STOCKS:

These are destined for public ownership. This means that stockholders will be compelled to turn in their securities for cash at a time when cash may not be worth much. RAILROAD EQUIPMENT STOCKS: The railroads are in great need of new equipment of all kinds from spikes to locomotives. It seems as if such companies should do well for the next few RUBBER STOCKS: The rubber industry has completed its re-conversion problems and earnings for the next two or three years should be satisfactory. Furthermore, the existence of large synthetic plants should make the industry more stable than in the past.

STEEL STOCKS: This country cannot enjoy prosperity without the Drouth that has plagued Snyder steel industry benefiting therefrom. and Scurry County since May 1st Therefore, the investments in the was broken Tuesday, on the Eve of better-grade steel stocks appear Juneteenth, by a splendid cotton justified. Steel plants, however, may and feed shower that amounted to especially be subject to bombing in 30 of an inch uprecipitation by 8:30 the next war.

Every month the railroads are 400 per cent. showing declining earnings compared with the same months of prexious years. I don't like this trend. Bus companies, both interstate and local, continue to do well.

GOVERNMENT BONDS: Everyone should have enough cash or government bonds on hand as a good reserve for emergencies or market breaks and to pay estate acres of Scurry County farm land taxes upon death; but otherwise I to be planted in feed and grain see little advantage in governments sorghums or "cash in the bank" at this time. May rainfall by days, as tabulated This is especially true of those who by Mrs. Foy Wade, government are in high income tax brackets. It w is very clear to me that unless the world has a spiritual awakening we are headed for another world war which would bring tremendous destruction to the United States. The net result of this could be the printing of currency to pay up all, or most, of the federal debt. Bondholders would get their money, but it wouldn't have much of any purch-

VETS URGED TO TAKE PART IN AGGIE SCHOOL

ISSUE 1 NUMBER 4

In an announcement coming from the County Service Officer, Bernard Longbotham, completion will be sought Tuesday night for organization of a Vocational Agriculture School for Veterans who are stationed in farm work, first phases of the school already having been mapped by the local school board. For approval ,it was pointed out by Longbotham, a request must be made by the school board to get the school, with the condtional legalizing dependent on attendance of 25 Vets.

The meeting next Tuesday night will be held at the Court House, and thee primary need, following approval, Longbotham stated, will be installation of a capable man as conuty instructor. The instructor, and coordinator, he went on to explain, should have approximately the same qualifications as county agents, Farm Security Administraion workers, Soil Conservation workers,, or others engaged in similar work for the government. C. R. Washburn has been named chief industrial engineeer and will supervise a staff available for consultation on the use of gas in commercial and industrial plants, air conditioning, and large heating units, Mr. Bird said.

Charles G. Barndt is appointed division sales supervisor and Norman D. Gooch will supervise employe training schools. Washburn started with Lone Star in 1929 as industrial engineer at Denison, after graduating from Texas A. and M. He was transferred to Abilene in 1942. Barndt joined the company in 1835 and held various assignments at Corsicana, Ennis, Marlin, Brownwood and Temple until 1940 when he was named manager at Sulphur, Okla. He entered the Army in 1942 as first lieutenant, helped activate the 90th Infantry Division at Camp Barkeley, and served with it as staff officer throughout the European campaign.
