

Oil Trucker Cremated After Crash

BOB ANDERSON, 35, PROBABLY WENT TO SLEEP MONDAY MORNING AT WHEEL

W. L. (Bob) Anderson, driver for the Transport Company of Texas out of Amarillo, was killed instantly Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock when the transport truck he was driving into a culvert banister seven miles northwest of Snyder on the Snyder-Lubbock highway.

Passing motorists notified Sheriff Earl Strawn and Deputy Tom DeShauz, who made an investigation. Anderson was cremated in the truck cab. It was necessary to take a winch line and pull the overturned truck over before the body could be removed.

Gasoline tanks ignited and the flames seared an area of the creek 200 feet across. Telephone lines immediately west of the culvert and east of the Santa Fe Railway tracks were burned to a white heat by the fire.

Passing motorists said they could see the fire through rain and mist for two miles.

Even the engine was broken and melted into a twisted mass. Glass melted from the windshield and cab doors, and the truck chassis was bent and twisted as though it were a Christmas toy.

Charred remains of the body were brought in an Odom ambulance to Odom Funeral Home.

Simon Best, city marshal, and Aubrey Clark, who went to the crash scene—approximately quarter of a mile northwest of the Tom Davis home on Highway 84—said they could see the man's skull, ribs and an arm through the terrific heat, in the truck cab.

Due to the fact a county rancher noticed tire tracks where the transport had left the pavement, then whipped back to pavement for two or three miles before the crash into the concrete bridge, passing motorists say the driver evidently went to sleep while driving.

Theory was advanced that the driver had picked up considerable speed after starting down the hill northwest of the culvert. He may have noticed the concrete banister just before the crash, attempted to whip the front clear and when the truck hit the solid concrete it may have whipped the heavy transport over.

There was no doubt in the minds of investigating officers but that the Amarillo citizen was killed instantly. The impact, ripping loose concrete reinforced with construction steel, would have been enough to kill anyone instantly, it is stated.

Over 200 people Tuesday visited the scene where the Amarillo truck driver met instant death.

Manifest book indicated that Anderson, en route to Snyder at the time, was to have picked up a truckload of gasoline at Big Spring for delivery at Plainview.

Remains of Anderson, 35, were taken to Plainview Monday night.

Funeral services for the transport driver were held Wednesday at Petersburg, near Plainview.

Anderson is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Anderson of Plainview.

Thanksgiving Day

We thank thee, Lord of all. On this Thanksgiving Day; Kin and friend and gentlemen Pause now, O Lord, to pray.

We're thankful for so many things And our hearts are full of joy; The memories Thanksgiving brings When we think of our soldier boy.

We're thankful for this land of ours Where Pilgrim feet have trod; For wind and rain and sunny hours And know above reigns God.

We know just how we've fallen shy In charity's works and deeds; Times sure change, and how days fly In a world so full of needs.

The Pilgrims saw beyond the years: Teach us their nobleness; Teach us to smile through all our tears, And banish selfishness.

Our Pilgrims faced a wilderness, And we such riches, men; They could go on this glad day For life and love and friend.

We're thankful for the harvest, too, And all the good things stored away; For plain and hill beyond the blue On this Thanksgiving Day! —Leon Guinn.

Most of County's Deer Hunters Get Venison on Trips

From the game trails of Texas and New Mexico, Snyder and Scurry County deer hunters have been returning for the past week to 10 days with reports of exceptionally good hunting luck.

R. H. Odom, Holman Odom, M. U. Vernon of Hermleigh, Floyd Merket and Hoyt Murphy of China Grove returned last Wednesday from Mason County with seven fine bucks to their credit. This group hunted on a ranch not far from the city of Mason.

Jack Caperton, Charlie Noble and Cecil Sawyer returned last Wednesday from Two Rivers with a fine kill to their credit.

Noble got an eight-point buck; Sawyer a nine-pointer; and Caperton a six-point white tail. It is reported that Caperton missed deer at close range on his first three tries but on the fourth try he really brought down a white tail at a range of 150 yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes and L. V. Prince visited with Elmer Rhodes at Houston. Then the group went to Palacios "by the sea" for an enjoyable goose hunt. The group returned Monday night.

R. J. Randalls, Jimmy Randalls, P. L. Fuller, William Fuller, Walla Fish and a colored cook, Willie Hunter, returned last Thursday from a deer hunt in the Davis Mountains that proved successful. This group bagged a total of six black-tails.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet Again to Organize Dec. 5

No officers were elected, but keen interest was shown last Thursday evening in the meeting of the Will Layne Post American Legion Auxiliary, held at the Legion Hut four blocks west of the square on 25th Street.

Glee Club members to Mrs. Gene Cantrell's room gave several songs, and several piano selections were given in conjunction with the Glee Club program.

Announcement is made that the local Legion Auxiliary will meet again Thursday evening, December 5, at the Legion Hut, at which time complete reorganization will be featured by election of officers for the coming year.

Snyder and Scurry County has been without an active Legion Auxiliary for several years. Wives, Sweethearts and mothers of all Scurry County ex-service men are urged to send eligible representatives to the December 7 gathering.

District Scouts Invite Prospects to Meetings

Boy Scouts present Monday evening at the monthly court of honor for the Snyder Boy Scout District voted to stage a round-up Monday at Snyder Schools.

At the round-up next Monday Scouts will invite all their friends of Boy Scout age who are not Scouts to visit the Scout meetings Monday night.

Appropriate pins will be given to boys who promise to attend a Scout meeting, Foy Wade, district advancement chairman, reports.

Snyder Boy Scout Troop No. 36, directed by Scoutmaster Jesse Clements, copied the attendance banner.

Plans are being formulated to increase attendance at the next monthly court of honor, district officials state.

First Rain of Month Gets Cold Front

TEMPERATURES HINGE NEAR FREEZING FIRST PART OF WEEK—SNOW FALLS

Winter began riding the range here Monday morning at 2:45 o'clock, when moisture-heavy clouds began to release rainfall urgently needed on Scurry and Borden County fields of small grain.

Monday morning's rain, first recorded in Snyder for November, was whipped by a stiff norther. First snows of the season were recorded on the Plains and in the Panhandle.

The cold front brought a heavy sleet to Scurry County Monday morning that began about 7:30 o'clock and continued until 8:15 a. m. Several Snyder citizens reported small flurries of snow in the Monday morning weather siege.

Snyder marked up .75 of an inch precipitation by noon. Several small showers fell Monday afternoon as the county shivered in temperatures hinging on freezing.

Eastern Scurry County reported an inch moisture total. The rain was general across Fisher County, and at noon Monday state highway patrolmen reported a light snow flurry at Stamford.

Truck drivers who stopped at Snyder Monday said snow was visible practically all day at Lubbock.

Row crop farmers were in good shape before Monday's rain and sleet. Most of this year's cotton crop had been moved, and a considerable amount of late feed had been harvested and shocked.

Too, late combine maize that producers had been waiting to cure out, had been combined last week—especially Friday and Saturday—and very little combine maize was in the fields when the last-of-November rain began.

Small grain producers needed moisture urgently. This county, with a record acreage in wheat, oats and barley, had felt the pinch of no precipitation for November. A number of wheat fields are being grazed so the crop will not be too rank and killed out by winter freezes.

Surface tank water supplies in Scurry and Borden Counties were replenished by from three-fourths to an inch rain.

Ginnings Near 14,000 Bale Mark This Week

With Scurry County cotton ginnings for the 1946 season standing close to 14,000 bales at mid-week, ginners can begin to catch their breath as they face a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving.

The question of just how much cotton the county will produce this season has been a major one—one difficult to answer as ginning continued to climb week after week.

Virtually all cotton fields are black, however, since the recent killing frosts, and the Mexican nationals and white people who have been here this fall are leaving for other areas—and the Rio Grande Valley.

Some "scrapping" remains yet in the county, but observers pointed out Wednesday that the county will probably be entirely through with the 1946 cotton crop well before Christmas.

Snyder Pep Squad Stages Lighted Star Drill Friday Night

Game festivities of the Snyder-Lorraine football game Friday night at Tiger Stadium featured the Lorraine Pep Squad and the Snyder Pep Squad putting on attractive stunts between the halves that thrilled nearly 2,000 customers.

The Lorraine aggregation came on the field first and formed a large L and then a large S in honor of the two schools.

The Snyder Pep Squad came marching on the field from the north end and at the 40-yard line they dispersed to form a large star with a drum majorette at each point. At this time the lights in the stadium went out and each girl held up a colored flashlight which showed the outline of the star and drew a large round of applause from the crowd.

Snyder Pep Squad is planning an interesting between-halves demonstration for the homecoming game against Roscoe Thursday night.

Cotton Insurance For Next Year to Be Broader Plan

Federal crop insurance on the 1947 cotton crop is being offered for sale to every cotton farmer in Scurry County, B. F. Vance of the production and Marketing Administration, informed The Times Tuesday.

Federal crop insurance was carried this year by a total of 315 county farmers. It has proved of great value in taking the so-called gamble out of cotton farming.

Insurance contracts can be signed at Scurry County's ACA office, or through designated farm agents.

Deadline for taking out Federal crop insurance on the 1947 crop will be January 31, the county ACA office states.

It is necessary to have a minimum of 50 participants in each county before crop insurance can be taken out, Scurry County farmers are reminded.

Under the 1947 insurance plan, farmers will be offered a wider choice on the amount of insurance they can buy.

Coverage, it is stated, can be as low as 40 per cent on the average yield, 60 per cent and as high as 75 per cent. The three insurance levels are termed the A, B and C levels.

All-risk insurance, which protects the crop against any unavoidable hazards goes into effect when the cotton is planted. The insurance continues in effect until the cotton is ginned.

Scurry County farmers will be interested in the fact the amount of insurance increases as the crop grows, because more costs have been insured and the crop is worth more to the farmers.

"The demand for agricultural products promises to continue at high levels and no farmer can afford a crop failure when protection can be bought cheap," Vance says.

"Crop insurance will help bridge the financial gap if losses do occur. This is of vital importance to every farmer here and elsewhere over the state," Vance concludes.

Snyder Firemen And Guests Enjoy Banquet Tuesday

Chief N. W. Autry presided Tuesday evening for the annual banquet of the Snyder Volunteer Fire Department, which was staged at the city hall.

Rev. H. M. Harlow, pastor of the Snyder Church of the Nazarene, gave the invocation following group singing of "America," directed by Jack Inman.

Treat of the evening was the annual banquet, with the menu consisting of turkey with trimmings.

Billie Claire Mason and Mrs. William B. Mason accompanied the group on violin and accordion as they sang "Home on the Range," "Sioux City Sub" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Special guests for the annual banquet were Mayor D. K. Ratliff, Councilmen Leighton Griffin, Andy Jones and Dwight Monroe; City Policemen Leamon Land, Simon Best and Clyde Thomas, Charlie Watson, ex-fireman of Big Spring; Rev. O. B. Herring, Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Harlow, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Creswell, Mrs. Mason and Billie Claire, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jones; wives of the city councilmen and the firemen's wives.

In his annual report Chief Autry told how the demon fire took a life every hour and one home out of each 100 yearly.

"We now have a 15 per cent credit for fire losses," Autry declared, which is as good as we could ask for. If we are careful we can increase our credit to 25 per cent," he stated.

Chief Autry said that the local department has answered a total of 48 calls for the year.

Full details of Autry's annual report, given at the banquet, will be carried in next week's Times.

Game of Year at Grid Thursday to Attract Rooters

Game of the year for Snyder High School's scrapping Tigers will be the homecoming game against Roscoe that will get underway this (Thursday) afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, at Tiger Stadium.

Word from Roscoe Tuesday reveals that Roscoe is bringing 1,500 football fans to the game.

Coach Tommy Beene is urging friendly rivalry for the traditional Roscoe-Snyder grid clash.

"We want clean sportsmanship after the game, too," Coach Beene says, "as well as during the Thanksgiving Day tilt."

The Tigers will go into the Turkey Day game underdogs by about three touchdowns, as the Roscoe Plowboys have a veteran squad from last year.

All indications point to the Snyder-Roscoe game being a sell-out. Tiger fans from a wide area will be here to back the local squad in the season's No. 1 thriller.

Officers Alerted for Jail Breakers of Post

Snyder and Scurry County officers were on the alert Monday night after three youths escaped jail at Post at 6:00 p. m.

Oil Well Driller At Ira Loses Foot In Well Accident

In an extremely painful accident that happened in a split minute last Tuesday, A. E. Smith Jr., employee to J. P. Moran, Ira oil field operator, had his left foot severed between the toes and ankle.

It is reported that young Smith employed in the Ira field for some time, was busy on the 1 1/2 floor when a sand line buckled and caught his left foot.

Portion of Smith's foot caught in the sand line was cut off as though a meat cleaver had hit it, The Times is informed.

Moran's employee was rushed immediately to a local hospital for surgical and medical treatment.

Word Wednesday from the hospital reveals that Smith is getting along nicely.

Fellow employees took the baller and fished out the Smith foot, which had dropped into the well they were drilling on.

Hermleigh Bidders at Barkeley Camp Sale

Several bidders from Hermleigh were included in the 43 successful bidders Tuesday who paid $25,995 for 176 buildings in bids opened at Camp Barkeley, Abilene.

The army engineer's office at Dallas reports the Tuesday sale was the second of 10 scheduled disposals of Army property.

F. N. Shoemaker, Barkeley real estate project manager, says bids were submitted Tuesday on 811 buildings offered, but were rejected on 135 which were below the fixed salvage value. There were a grand total of 87 bidders.

In addition to successful bidders from Hermleigh, three were from Sweetwater, one from Winters and some from San Angelo and Rotan.

Most of the buildings that sold Tuesday in the Camp Barkeley sale were pre-fabricated hutsments.

Interest Growing in VFW-Legion Game

Interest is reported increasing this week in the forthcoming football game December 20 at Tiger Stadium between the football squad of Snyder's Veterans of Foreign Wars post and the American Legion gridders.

Practice for the tilt, featuring former high school and college football stars, is expected to get well underway immediately after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Forrest Beavers will coach the Legion crew and Bo Moffett will coach the VFW squad.

New Well in Ira Section Also Hits Good Pay Zones

Spudding of a 2,000-foot cable tool wildcat test five miles south and west of Dunn, and tabulation indicating Scurry County's 1946 income from the oil business will run $2,000,000 gives operators and land owners a great deal to be thankful for as the county faces its first peace-time Thanksgiving in five years.

New cable tool wildcat test for the county is the John Ostriel No. 1 Ellis House, 330 feet from the north and west lines of the west 100 acres in Lot 17, O'Keefe Subdivision, Section 29, J. P. Smith Survey.

The wildcat, which is attracting considerable attention to Southwest Scurry County, is 6,600 feet south and east of the nearest production in the Sharon Ridge pool.

New producer for Scurry County's four-pay Ira pool, 17 miles southwest of Snyder, was marked up Tuesday afternoon when the A. E. and Clyde Dennis No. 1 J. E. Murphy was shot with 125 quarts of nitro in three upper pay horizons to 1,830 feet, total depth.

Dennis No. 1 Murphy is located on the south 60 acres of the west one-half of the Southeast one-fourth, Section 121, Block 97, H. & T. C. Survey.

Three rich pay horizons were encountered in the Dennis No. 1 Murphy; pay from 1,715 to 1,745 feet; from 1,775 to 1,784 feet; and from 1,790 to 1,812 feet.

Nickels & Thompson held drilling contract on the field's latest completion, which was spudded November 1.

Just 6.4 miles northwest of Snyder, considerable interest is being shown in the Humble Oil & Refining Company's No. 1 T. C. Davis, scheduled 8,500-foot Ellenburger test.

The Humble No. 1 Davis was drilling below 5,943 feet, in brown lime and shale.

Humble No. 1 Davis deep project is located 660 feet from the south and west lines of Section 339, Block 97, Houston & Texas Central Railroad Company Survey.

Operators Interested In Garza County Test

A northeast extension to the Garza pool in Garza County—a pool Scurry County operators are interested in—was reported to The Times Wednesday with the completion of C. V. Lyman et al (formerly C. S. Phillips & Company) No. 1 City of Post, which made 161.57 barrels of 35 gravity oil on a 24-hour pumping potential after acidizing with 10,000 gallons.

C. V. Lyman et al No. 1 City of Post is located in Section 1228, J. V. Massey Survey.

Production is from pay topped at 2,803 feet and drilled to 3,035 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 200-1.

Charlene Corbell and Wallace Hestand Wed

Before an altar banked with an array of white chrysanthemums and greenery, flanked by candelabra, the marriage of Charlene Corbell and Wallace Hestand was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, November 19, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Huron Gist at Colorado City.

The service was read by Marcell Lynch, minister of the Colorado City Church of Christ. Tapers were lighted by the bride's brothers, Varline and Jeston Corbell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a grey suit with white jabot and black patent accessories. An orchid formed her corsage. Attending her were Bobbie Corbell, cousin of the bride, and Frances Gist, cousin of the bridegroom. Mack Key attended the groom as best man.

A reception followed the service. A linen covered refreshment table was centered by a three-tier wedding cake, flanked by burning tapers in crystal holders. Punch was served by Mrs. Huron Gist and Geraldine House.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Corbell, and is a member of the senior class at Colorado City High School.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hestand, was graduated from Colorado High School with the class of 1943. He is a veteran of two years' service with the U. S. Navy.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico. They will make their home at Colorado City.

Attending the nuptial rites were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Corbell; Nathan, Berman and Jackie Corbell; the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hestand and sons, Doyle, Robert and Jimmy House, Harold Manies, Mrs. A. C. Gist, Joyce Fredenburg, all of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gist of Odessa, Mrs. Paul Jones of Snyder, and those making up the wedding party.

Basketball Girls Showing Up Well

Mrs. Beene is very pleased with her P. E. classes since they have started basketball practice in the gymnasium at third and fifth periods at Snyder High School.

In the beginning most of the girls were inexperienced, but they are improving now. She hopes to produce a good basketball team by the beginning of the season. Some of the most noted improvements are noticed in Jane Ann Woodson, Marianne Randalls, and Jean Hall.

The most promising young guard who is showing improvement every day is Billie Claire Mason. Others are Edith Blake and Frances Meason.

It is just impossible for Hazel Caudle and Barbara Riggs to miss the basket. Gwen Mitchell is a beautiful forward, and Geraldine Clements is also good; she plays with ease and is very accurate.

The fastest girl is Georgee Lewis. She is small but hard to keep an eye on. Myrtle Ethergide is noted for her roughness. Everyone knows to get out of her way when she is coming toward them.

If, when watching a game, you see a girl who looks as if she is playing to music, you will know it is Mary Edith Scarborough. To see her gracefulness is a thrill to anyone.

Some very short players but very good ones are Marjorie Wilson, Charlotte Faver, and Janelle Martin. It is fun for all the girls to play basketball, but no one has more fun than Jo Anne McGlaum.

Since passing hasn't been mentioned we will say here that Marianne Morrison, Lou Alyce Miller, and Doris Jean Roe are all able to catch a pass and can even throw

Mrs. Gush—"I hope none of them got on you; some of these foreign insects are terrible."

Ready for the Deal.

An engineer was oiling the locomotive when a farmer stepped up and began examining the machine. The engineer asked the farmer if he would like to buy it.

"Well," replied the farmer, "I guess I can buy as much of it as you can sell."

Basketball Practice to Start at SHS Monday

Basketball practice for the Snyder High School Tigers will begin Monday, Coach Tommy Beene stated Wednesday.

Coach Beene will have plenty of material for the 1946-47 basketball season, and prospects are bright for excellent boys' teams in senior and junior high school divisions.

Three periods of practice will be engaged in daily, Coach Beene says. A total of 25 senior boys will come out for basketball practice and about 60 boys will be on the court from junior high school.

New FHA Agency Making Loans to Farmers of Area

Credit facilities and services formerly provided by the Farm Security Administration and Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Security Administration are now available to eligible farmers through the Scurry County office of the Farmers Home Administration.

So Scurry County farmers are informed by Lester J. Cappelman, state Farmers Home Administration director, who announces designation of Gerald G. Gordon, county FSA supervisor, as interim supervisor in charge of the Scurry County FHA office.

With Gordon as supervisor, all interested county farmers will find Gordon at Scurry County's FHA offices, 1923 27th Street.

The Farmers Home Administration, created by the 79th Congress, took over functions of FSA and ECPL effective November 1. The new agency will make production and subsistence loans as well as loans for farm purchases.

Facilities are available only to farmers who are unable to get the loans they need at interest rates not exceeding five per cent from banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources in their communities.

The farm purchase loans made by the new agency are similar to those formerly made by the Farm Security Administration. Loans are made for 100 per cent of the purchase price of family type farms, plus needed improvements. Repayment is scheduled over a period of 40 years, and interest rate is 3 1/2 per cent.

Operating credit extended by the Farmers Home Administration under its production and subsistence loan program includes both annual loans and adjustment type loans at five per cent interest.

The adjustment type credit is similar to the "feed and seed" loans made by the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Security Administration. Farm and home plans are not required as a basis for these loans, but they must be repaid within 12 months.

Production and subsistence loans to any one borrower may not exceed $3,500 in any one year. Total indebtedness of any one borrower may not exceed $5,000.

Veterans will be given preference in all phases of the Farmers Home Administration program.

Area Boy Scouts In Special Drive For Memberships

It's round-up time in the Snyder Boy Scout District, and throughout the district a real membership campaign is underway that is designated to increase troop membership considerably, reports H. L. Wren, chairman of the Snyder District.

Boy Scout membership campaign for the Snyder District of Boy Scouts is being staged at a very opportune time, for two county troops are now in process of being organized and two more prospective troops are in view.

In both the Ira and Hobbs communities Boy Scout troops are in process of being organized, states James K. Polk, Boy Scout field executive.

Boys eligible for Scout troops in the Crowder and Union communities have been requested to bring their fathers with them to consult on organization with Chairman Wren.

Rev. Cone Merritt, Baptist minister, has agreed to act as Scoutmaster for the Crowder and Union boys, The Times learns.

Re-organization work is underway at Pfluganna, where the Maples boy has agreed to act as Scoutmaster.

The Hobbs Boy Scout troop is being reorganized. Troop leaders will be Steve Bavousett, Carl Guinn and H. P. Tutt.

Every Scoutmaster, Cubmaster and senior leader is working up a list of boys and young men who are eligible, and invitations are going out to the boys in Scurry County communities to become Scouts and Cubs.

Each boy, Wren states, from nine years of age through 18 can find a place in Scouting. The Cub Scout groups are designed for boys from nine through 11 years of age.

Boy Scout troops are available for boys 12 years of age and over, while scattered senior units attract young men 15 years of age and older. In the latter group there are various types of activities—including Sea Scouting, Air Scouting and Explorer Scouting—each a different field and each with an advanced program for maturing young men of leadership.

In the Buffalo Trail Council at this time there are already 40 Cub Scout packs, 86 Boy Scout troops and eight senior units of the various types. All of these units can accept from one to six new members in the next few weeks, according to Lyle Deffebach, local chairman of organization and expansion.

Deffebach emphasizes the fact that new units slated for setting up in the near future promises ample places for new members to enroll.

The round-up underway in the Snyder District is being staged at a time when leaders not only review a very fruitful year's work, but set the scene for a greater Snyder Boy Scout District in the coming year, officials declare.

Snyder Tigers Play Best Defensive of Year and Trounce Loraine Friday 19-0

By Bill Schiebel.

The Snyder High School Tigers struck quickly in the first quarter with Jack Gorman making two touchdowns and adding an extra point to go ahead and then held the Loraine High School Bulldogs to win another District 8-A football contest Friday night at Tiger Stadium.

This victory gives the Tigers two wins and two defeats in conference play and leaves them in third place in the district standing.

Playing before a home crowd of about 1,500 people, the Tigers received the initial kick-off from Loraine and from the place the ball was put in play at the 31-yard line the Tigers marched the length of the field and climaxed the march with Jack Gorman carrying over the goal line from the 15. The Tigers made three first downs in a row and the drive was good for 69 yards made by the line busting of Jack Gorman and the around-end and off-tackle slashes of Louie Vaughan. On the try for the extra point Burk went back to the kicking position, but the ball was snapped to Jack Gorman, who carried it over the double stripe by riding over on the backs of the left guard and tackle.

Snyder kicked off to Loraine and held the Bulldogs for little or no gain and then the Bulldogs' Johnson went back to do the punting and got away with a good high punt which came to rest on the Tigers' 40-yard line, from where the second onslaught was made. Again the Tigers made three straight first downs and marched the 60 yards to the goal line. The counter was yarded by Jack Gorman after a three-yard run of Rich Johnson. Johnson's try for the extra point was wide and no good, the score remaining 13 to 0 in favor of the Tigers.

From the end of the first quarter until late in the fourth quarter the Tiger's attack, although it was gaining ground, was losing a lot more by penalties. At one time in the second quarter the Tigers had a first down and only 11 yards to go for a touchdown. But after three plays and two 15-yard penalties and one five-yard penalty, the ball was back on the 46-yard line. After two passes failed the Tigers were forced to punt and the ball went out on the 22-yard line. Midway of the second quarter Coach Beene started sending in his substitutes, and they held the Bulldogs as well as the first team.

After the second half started the Snyder lads showed a little more fight, but still could not make another score until midway of the fourth quarter when Donnie Everett carried the ball over from the two-yard line for the third touchdown. The Tigers had marched down the field on many short gains by Jack Gorman and a long run by Louie Vaughan plus a 20-yard pass to Pop Blakely. Again the try for the extra point was no good when there was a fumble in the backfield. The score of 19-0 remained until the final gun.

Many of the substitutes playing for Snyder showed up particularly well. Again in this game Millhollen at tackle played good football. Charlie Bird played well at center, and Voss in the backfield showed good form. It was the outstanding play of the two guards, Longbottom and Bynum, that held the Bulldogs to a meager ground gain as has been registered all season. The line backing of Burk and Vaughan was also outstanding.

Snyder's pass defense was impregnable, as shown by the fact that Loraine did not complete a single pass out of six attempts.

The Bulldogs, although clearly outplayed, still showed their better men to good advantage. Only serious Loraine scoring threat came shortly after the half and was due mostly to the work of Halfback Johnson and Quarterback Coy Moore. These boys were both hard runners and could have been dangerous if they had had a little more blocking in the line.

The Tigers' next game is the homecoming game on Thanksgiving afternoon, November 28, at 2:30 o'clock against the Roscoe Plowboys. A homecoming pep rally was scheduled in the high school auditorium Wednesday night preceding the big game.

Plausible Deduction.

Bobby and Jimmie, two cronies of seven, had just learned to their indignation that Santa Claus was a myth, and that their Christmas gifts really came from their parents.

"You know what?" protested Bobby heatedly at being thus hosiwinked. "I betcha it's just pop that lays our Easter eggs."

"Sambo," said the magistrate reproachfully to the negro before him, "I cannot conceive of a meager, more cowardly act than yours of deserting your wife. Do you realize that you are a deserter?"

"If you knowed dat woman like Ah does," replied Sambo, "you wouldn't call me no deserter. Ah is a refugee—dat's what Ah is."

The honeymoon had disappeared behind a cloud.

"Now that we are married," said he, "perhaps I can point out a few of your defects."

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q.—Are large, numerous "milk veins" on the udder and abdomen an indication of how much milk a cow will produce?

A.—Probably not, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There is no evidence to support the time-honored theory. External milk veins assist in carrying blood away from the udder. Moreover, the internal veins are apparently large enough to return all the blood from the udder.

Q.—What can I do to prevent feather picking among my turkey poult?

A.—One of the major causes of feather picking is that turkey poult have a tendency to clean their beaks on the feathers of other birds, which results in particles of wet feces sticking to the feathers. Other birds pick at these feces particles, sooner or later causing injury. At the Ralston Purina Company's research farm this has been eliminated by stringing a piece of wire across the top of the feeder grills or just over the feeder at a convenient height so the poult, while eating, can grab the wire in their beaks and clean them over the trough. This also helps prevent feed wastage, because the birds clean their beaks above the trough and the feed falls back into the feeder.

Q.—What is the average weight of fleece from a range ewe? How many fleeces are packed into each bag of wool at a shearing time?

A.—The average weight of fleece from a single ewe varies between seven and 10 pounds. Weights also vary between flocks, localities and regions, influenced by breeding as well as environmental factors. When packed, fleeces are arranged in symmetrical layers in the sacks and are compressed by tramping. Each bag contains from 27 to 35 fleeces, depending on size.

Q.—Do pigs which have plenty of vitamin D need minerals?

A.—Pigs that are well supplied with vitamin D do best on small amounts of minerals, and they require more minerals if they are low on vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin.

Thanksgiving To Provide Varied County Program

With Snyder under lock and key in a happy observance of our first peace-time Thanksgiving since 1941, observance highlight this (Thursday) afternoon will be the Snyder-Roscoe football game at 2:30 p. m.

The game, to be played at Tiger Stadium, is slated to attract a sell-out crowd. Roscoe has sent word the Plowboys are bringing 1,500 fans with them.

From far and near Tiger backers will be here, too, and Snyder doubtless will be host to at least 2,500 people this (Thursday) afternoon.

Elsewhere over the county special Thanksgiving services will be held in commemoration of the day when the Pilgrims gave thanks for this rich land—and harvest.

First on the list is community-wide Thanksgiving services slated this (Thursday) morning, beginning at 9:00 o'clock, at the Fluvanna Baptist Church.

This (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Hermligh Methodist Church a community-wide Thanksgiving service will be given. Program for the observance is carried elsewhere in this week's Times.

Snyder and Scurry County schools are observing Thanksgiving with a two-day dismissal of class work.

Snyder Legion to Send 12 Delegates To Colorado Meet

Snyder's Will Layne American Legion Post No. 181 will send 12 delegates to the annual fall convention of the 19th District of the American Legion that will be held in Colorado City December 1, Elmer Taylor, post commander, stated Tuesday.

In addition to the 12 delegates of the local post, a large number of both World War I and World War II veterans will represent Snyder and Scurry County at the conclave.

The 19th District conclave will begin on December 1 at 9:30 a. m. Saturday night prior to the district convention the Colorado City Legion Post will sponsor a dance at the Legion Hall. There will be a show line Sunday for registered Legionnaires and Auxiliary members.

Convention will open with a joint session of the district Legionnaires and the Legion Auxiliary.

On the morning program will be Sid Lowery, department service officer; Robert Sisson of Lubbock, regional manager of the Veterans Administration; A. O. Willman of Austin, state service officer; and George Berry of Lubbock, fifth division commander.

Delegates from the Snyder post and others, besides formulating plans to increase the district membership, will emphasize boys' state and child welfare phase of the American Legion program. Presiding at the December 1 convention will be A. C. Jackson of Lubbock, 19th District commander. Oran C. Hooker Post No. 127 of Colorado City will be host.

Among the veterans of World War II who have made recent purchases from the War Assets Administration in Fort Worth is Bernard L. McKinley of 2218 28th Street, a WAA releasee reports.

McKinley purchased 21 basting spoons in a recent WAA sale which cost him $1.05, states Harold S. Gish, chief of the veterans division, War Assets Administration, Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Butts of San Angelo, former Snyder residents, were here Wednesday visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell of Seminole spent the week-end here. Mrs. Mitchell remained over and will be joined by her husband for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. H. V. Williams had as her guest from Friday through Monday her daughter, Mrs. Annie Edwards of Austin.

Roscoe Juniors Whip Tiger Cubs Tuesday

In the second meeting of the season, the two teams battled in a close game as the Roscoe Junior High beat the Snyder Junior High team in a final score of 7 to 6 Tuesday night, November 19, at the Tiger Stadium.

The Little Plowboys had improved very much since the Kittens beat them 35 to 7 on November 6. The ball was run to the one-yard line and carried over for our single score by Coffee.

Outstanding players on Snyder's team were Stokes, Coffee, and Sennell.—Tiger's Tale.

County Unit Gets Members Award In Farm Bureau

Scurry County's delegation at the State Farm Bureau convention, held from last Monday through Wednesday at San Antonio, received a 20 Per Cent Citation for having this number of farmers enrolled in the Farm Bureau, a spokesman for the Scurry County delegation reports.

Scurry County, with 365 Farm Bureau members, is one of the 32 counties in Texas having a 20 per cent or more farmer membership in the bureau.

Members of the county delegation to the state convention were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Andress, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. von Roeder, John Layne, Ross Williams and Buford Light, all of Snyder; M. W. Bavousett of Camp Springs and B. H. Young of Imadale. Ross Williams is president of the Scurry County chapter, and M. L. Andress is secretary-treasurer of the unit.

The conclave, attendants report, was unusually instructive. Nationally known speakers at the three-day convention included Walter Randolph and R. G. Arnold of Alabama, J. E. Stamford of Kentucky, Dick Wright of Georgia and Dr. Corbett of Chicago, Illinois, national secretary-treasurer.

Following the San Antonio gathering, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. von Roeder made a business trip to Harlingen and mixed in a very profitable expedition shooting geese.

Only Alternative.

She was obviously annoyed when she returned from her shopping expedition.

"John," she said to her husband, "I've just found that the woman next door has a coat exactly the same as mine."

John looked up from his banking account, which he had been trying to balance.

"Well, my dear," he said, "I suppose you'll want me to buy you a new coat?"

"Yes," she replied, "it would be cheaper than moving, wouldn't it?"

The Brave Man.

A bright little girl, age four, and her brother, age six, were spending the night with their aunt. When bed time came, the aunt asked how they said their prayers. The little girl answered:

"Sometimes I say them on muddy's knee and sometimes to the side of the bed."

"And how about you, sonny?"

"Oh, I don't need to pray. I sleep with daddy."

To the Voters of Snyder

In regard to the bond issue to be voted on December 3, 1946, I want to make my position clear. I am not opposed to a bond issue to be used as this money is to be used. However, the issues are inadequate and were conceived with no other thought in mind than to mislead the people on other issues that may come up in the near future.

Whenever a plan is produced showing how and where the improvements will be made, and if adequate, I will give my whole-hearted support to the program. Until then I will be against this bond issue.

20 Area Veteran Cut from GI Pay For Report Lack

Approximately 20 veterans in the Snyder trade zone are included in the more than 13,000 veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi currently suspended from Veterans Administration rolls for failure to report their earnings.

Subsistence checks ordinarily sent to these veterans the first of each month will be held up until the required report is submitted to the proper VA regional office, VA officials inform The Times.

Both veterans in training and educational status must report their earnings from productive labor for the months of August, September and October.

Forms, as Scurry County vets are advised, have been mailed to all on the suspended list. If these have been misplaced, the report on earnings can be made in a letter over the veteran's signature.

Under legislation passed last summer, veteran payments and earnings are limited to the total of $175 monthly for those without dependents and to $200 monthly for those with dependents. In the event these figures are exceeded, the subsistence allowances must be reduced accordingly.

Veterans Administration officials believe most of the reductions will be made in allowances to vets taking on-the-job training. It is believed only a few veterans in educational status will be affected.

Every Scurry County veteran who has been suspended from VA subsistence rolls should attend to reporting earnings immediately, the Veterans Administration states.

Just Can't Make It.

A friend called upon a guest at a hotel, knocked and asked him to open the door.

"Can't, door's locked!" the voice within announced.

"Well, unlock it!" the caller requested.

"Can't, lost the key."

"Great Scott, man! What will you do if there's a fire?"

"I can't go."

It is an undoubted truth, that the less one has to do, the less time one finds to do it in. One yawns, one procrastinates, one can do it when one will, and therefore one seldom does it at all.—Lord Chesterfield.

USO DIRECTOR SEES FIRST HAND WORK OF FUNDS

Here General Walker Kreuger, retired, of San Antonio, right standing, regional chairman for the Texas USO campaign committee, finds out personally the services USO is now giving hospitalized vets by visiting a vet hospital near Kerrville. James Voelcker, left, spent five and a half years in a Jap prison camp and says he enjoyed the USO ward shows in the Philippines. Tyre Lee Jennings, USNR, of Dallas, right, and Dan Eddy, left, standing with General Kreuger, say the great work being done by the USO should cause Scurry and other counties to wind up their present campaigns immediately. Scurry's quota is nearly raised.

Others May Aid with Shriners Child Work

Shriners of this area and the nation are very active in their work with crippled children, reports J. P. Billingsley of Khiva Temple. More and more cases, regardless of race, creed or color, are being treated, Billingsley states.

While the Shriners are financing this worthwhile humane activity it is now possible for anyone outside the organization to buy a voluntary contributing life membership in the Shriners hospitals for crippled children.

A beautiful certificate is issued to everyone purchasing one of these memberships, Billingsley stated Tuesday.

The Times has guest checks.

Questions and answers regarding veteran compensations and pensions of prime interest to ex-service men in Scurry and Borden Counties, as prepared for Times readers by the Veterans Administration, follow:

Q.—What is the difference between compensation and pension?

A.—Compensation is a term used to describe monetary benefits payable for service-connected death or disability under laws administered by Veterans Administration. The term "pension" is used to describe non service-connected monetary benefits.

Q.—Is a widower of a World War II veteran eligible to receive compensation or pension?

A.—No. The term "widow" does not include a widower with reference to payment of compensation or pension based on the death of a World War II veteran. However, a widower is eligible to receive unpaid disability compensation or pension which accrued prior to the death of a woman who had served in the armed forces in World War II.

Q.—How do I go about filing a claim for pension on the death of a veteran who was my sole support?

A.—You should file your claim for pension with the Veterans Administration on its Form 533.

Q.—Will various monetary benefits received by veterans under the G. I. Bill be deducted from future bonus?

A.—No. That portion of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill) which formerly provided that any benefits received under the act would be deducted from any future bonus authorized, has been repealed.

Q.—Is it possible for a veteran to complete his elementary school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act?

A.—Yes. Q.—I am receiving retirement pay and wish to take up training under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill). Is it possible for me to receive subsistence allowance while receiving retirement pay?

A.—Yes.

County Citizens Urged to Invest In Savings Bonds

F. G. Sears, Scurry County chairman for the year-end U. S. Savings Bond drive that opened Armistice Day and continues through Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, reminds Scurry Countians this week that war savings bonds are the wisest investment possible today.

There will be no house-to-house canvass, Sears states, but "every avenue of publicity will urge our people to 'save for security,' and 'buy extra bonds now,' the slogans of the campaign."

Chief aim of the bond drive is to increase every citizen's bond holdings in order to distribute as widely as possible interest payments on the public debt.

An important thing, too, Sears declares, is to check inflationary spending as much as possible while consumer income still exceeds available goods and services.

"Each of Scurry County's 12,000 citizens is urged to buy as many bonds as possible in this campaign, for which we have no set county goal," Sears says.

"When prices of goods are high is the time to put away all one can in savings. Everyone knows inflated prices cannot endure—once supply catches up with consumer demand—and the saved dollars then will be worth much more if invested in U. S. bonds."

The Scurry County chairman says another aim of this drive is to sell more bonds to farmers.

Local county organizations under the guidance of county chairmen all over Texas are assisting the U. S. treasury in the campaign to help reach a goal of $35,000,000 in E bonds.

Really Dog Tired.

After coming in from a 20-mile hike the officer in command of a negro company said, before dismissing them:

"I want all the men who are too tired to take another hike to take two paces forward."

All stepped forward except one big husky six-footer. Noticing him, the officer said:

"Well, Johnson, ready for 20 miles more?"

"No, sah," replied Johnson, "Ah'm too tired to even take dem two steps."

What cannot love and righteousness achieve for the race? All that can be accomplished and more than history has yet recorded.—Eddy.

Appointment to Court Bench Scheduled soon

In a release for The Times, Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas stated Monday that he will make an appointment within a few days to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of E. J. Miller. Miller had been elected associate justice of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals.

The governor has been advised by the attorney general that no special election is provided by state statutes to fill such a vacancy and that an appointment is necessary to fill the post until January 1, 1949—expiration date of the late judge's term of office.

Work on School Annual Going Off Well, Says Staff

"Work on Snyder High School's annual is well underway," states Lair Business Manager Jack Longbotham. Continuing, he says, "Students are showing excellent spirit in subscribing for the Tiger Lair Annual. A deposit is taken now and the balance is paid next spring when the annual is delivered.

The Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, is printing the annuals this year. They have also printed two previous annuals for Snyder High. A contract calling for an order of 240 annuals has been placed with the company.

First, second, and third choice annual covers were decided upon. Many snapshots from the different classes will need to be turned in to the annual staff.

Business firms in and around Snyder have shown great cooperation in buying ads for the annual. As it is the ads which make the greatest fund in buying annuals, many yet are to be sold.

If work goes as planned, the annuals will be delivered by early spring.—Tiger's Tale.

Lunch Room Serves 5,178 Meals in October

The school lunch room during the month of October served 5,088 students lunches and 110 lunches to teachers, it is reported by officials of Snyder Public Schools.

Purpose of the lunch room, which is financially helped by the government, is to serve hot, well-balanced meals to the children. The children pay 20 cents and the government pays nine cents if the children drink milk and seven cents if they do not. Of the 5,178 who were served last month, 4,360 drank milk.

The students paid $904.77 and the teachers paid $31.44 during October.

The October cost of food was $694.17 and labor was $439.—Tiger's Tale.

A Cleveland Story.

Grover Cleveland, when president of the United States, was a great fisherman. He told the story of the old darkey who risked his life to save a young negro from drowning. He asked the old darkey if the young lad was his son.

"Oh, no, sah; he was not my son."

"Well, was he a relative that you risked your life for him?"

"No, sah; he not a relative of mine?"

"Then why plunge in that reckless way and drag him out?"

"Well, sah, the fact is, sah, that the boy had the bait, sah."

The divine ruling gives prudence and energy; it banishes forever all envy, rivalry, evil thinking, evil speaking and acting; and mortal mind, thus purged, obtains peace and power outside of itself.—Eddy.

Seek Plan to Stop Immigration Leaks

Ed Gossett (D-Texas), left, James I. Dolliver (R-Iowa), John Lesinski (D-Michigan), seated, and Noah Mason, sub-committee of the House Committee on Immigration and Nationalization, meets to look into leaks which Chairman Lesinski says have allowed "known Communists" to enter the United States. People in the Snyder trade zone are wholeheartedly behind the investigation to plug the leaks—by whatever means they occurred.

Proper Feeding Will Help Dairy Cow To Produce Maximum Flow of Milk

Dairy cattle in Scurry County will do their part if local dairymen do their part.

So states J. N. Caviness, county agricultural agent, who declares that regardless of how "good natured" a milk cow may be, her production level still depends upon two things—natural ability to produce and opportunity to produce.

An inherited ability is fixed and there is not much that can be done on this score. But every good dairyman should realize that it is his job to make conditions favorable for his cow to produce to the best of their ability. If the dairyman will but do this the milk cow will meet him more than half-way.

Caviness points out that in making production conditions favorable, feeding is the No. 1 job. Following are some good feeding rules and practices as summed up after careful study and first-hand observation on the dairy situation:

An adequate ration must contain the right balance of feed nutrients in amounts great enough to meet the total nutrient requirements of the cow.

Roughages are the backbone of any dairy ration. All rules for feeding dairy cows will fall when the roughage supply is limited and the quality is poor. An average size Jersey cow in Scurry County producing three gallons of milk a day needs 18 pounds of good hay and nine pounds of suitable concentrates. It makes no difference to the cow whether this feed is mixed together or the roughage and concentrates fed separately as long as it is in a pleasing, palatable form and she actually gets the required nutrients.

If roughage is chopped and mixed with the concentrates, the same total pounds will have to be fed in order for the cow to meet her requirements. Chopping roughages does not change the chemical analysis.

For best results, however, roughages and concentrates should be fed separately. High producing cows need more feed than low producers. By feeding concentrates according to each cow's production, the best use is made for each pound of grain.

In fitting the concentrate mixture is adequate for feeding along with a medium protein roughage such as a second grade of legume hay or a mixture of some good quality high and low protein hay. A 17 per cent mixture can be made by taking 10 parts by weight of home-grown grains and adding three parts by weight of a protein supplement.

This same mixture is suitable for feeding along with low protein roughages for cows that do not eat as much as they should. This means that more pounds of grain must be fed to make up the difference. Where there is an abundance of high protein roughages such as alfalfa or good small grain pasture, a 14 per cent concentrate mixture is adequate. This can be mixed by using 10 parts of home-grown grains and one part of a protein supplement.

For Jerseys, one pound of grain to three pounds of milk produced daily is sufficient when the cow is eating plenty of good roughage. Holsteins require about one pound of grain to four pounds of milk. When it takes more grain than this in order to maintain good production, it means that the cow is not getting as much value from the roughage part of the ration as the dairyman estimates, Caviness concludes.

Judge—"The idea of a man of your size beating a poor weak woman like that."

Prisoner—"But your honor, she keeps irritating me all the time."

Judge—"How does she irritate you?"

Prisoner—"Why, she keeps saying, 'Hit me! Beat me! Just hit me once, and I'll have you hauled up before that bald-headed ole reprobate of a judge, and see what he'll do with you!'"

Judge—"Discharged."

Rheumatic Heart Disease Now Among Major Ills of Child

Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25, people of Scurry and Borden County are informed by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Despite the importance of this disease, its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or over-crowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads it to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox, best safeguards against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.

Average Farmer of County Had Good Year

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 22.—Readers will remember my prediction of August 16 that the price of fish is the bellwether for commodities in general. Within a reasonable time after the price of fish breaks, the price of cotton declines, to be followed some months later by a decline in the price of cattle and other livestock.

The Cotton Market.
Certainly, the last few weeks have borne out the importance of my forecast, namely, "to watch the price of fish." When I released this forecast August 16 the price of cotton was around $183 per bale. At this writing it is only about $156 per bale. Moreover, as long as fish keeps going down cotton will go down. Furthermore, I believe that before a permanent turn upward comes the price of both fish and cotton will decline 50 per cent from their highs.

Manufacturers who were holding cotton cloth for higher prices are hurriedly trying to unload since the break in the cotton market. Some stores which have found themselves with inventories of cotton dresses as much as 90 per cent over a year ago will have to cut prices in order to get rid of their stocks. Although men's cotton clothing such as pajamas, shorts and shirts, and household goods such as sheeting and toweling are still scarce, the reduction in the price of cotton cloth should at least bring out of hiding much of the poor quality war merchandise. This stock should sell now at lower prices than the better quality products which are soon to be on the market.

Buyers' Strike on Luxuries.
Within recent months there has been a tremendous increase in supplies in the fur industry until today the wholesale market is glutted with furs. The end of October saw some of the first big slashes in fur prices about 30 per cent, and prices should continue downward in 1947. Wait until next summer to buy furs.

Other luxury industries have finally felt a public antagonism to high prices. During the year enormous profits were made on costume jewelry. Countless new manufacturers entered the field. Today they are faced with a problem for each jewelry worker expects $16 to $17 more a week than he did before the war. Wholesale jewelry inventories are very full. The sellers' market is over. Even in the face of higher costs, prices must be lowered if people are to be encouraged to buy. Slower selling in perfumes, wines and night club entertainment are reflecting buyer resistance. Tipping is even showing a 50 per cent drop in some places.

Future Buying Trends.
The oil industry, fearful of price cuts, would like to hold back excess production. Home heating oils are plentiful and if there is a further increase in these stocks we may expect a cut in price by next spring. Gasoline stocks are higher than in 1941. Heavy fuel oils used in industry and diesel shipping are in good supply. Rough lumber is in fair supply and more Southern pine is reaching the market. The price of oak flooring is beginning to slide, and some lumber dealers are even receiving sales circulars from their wholesale sources.

Christmas sales are expected to be about 30 per cent higher than in 1945. Many retailers, though, are hoping to effect a clearance of their remaining war-time goods in the holiday demand. Price reductions, as we near December 25, will encourage this clearance. Toys will be much more plentiful this year, but not those made of steel. The supply of small radios is rapidly increasing and may soon sell at "a dime a dozen." Between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000,000 more was spent on non-durable goods in the first half of 1946 than would have been spent in a pre-war year of comparable income. On durable goods, however, less was spent than what might have been spent with the same income in a pre-war year. It will be interesting to see, when there is a much greater supply of durable goods in the market, whether the public will again follow a regular pattern of spending in relation to the rise and fall of income as it did before the war, or whether consumer buying habits have changed for good.

Junior Tigers Defeat Colorado Cubs 60 to 0

The Junior Tiger Kittens rolled up a 60 to 0 score at Colorado City Saturday afternoon at 2:30 to even their record for the season.

The Kittens played a good game all the way through, both offensive and defensive. The Colorado City Pups only made one first down to Snyder's 32. Colorado City attempted eight passes and completed two, whereas Snyder threw 10 passes and completed eight, three of which were good for touchdowns. Colorado City attempted six punts, four of which were blocked by Snyder. Snyder did not have to punt a time and did not lose the ball on a down. The little Wolves fumbled five times and covered only one. Snyder did not fumble a time, but recovered four of Colorado City's—Tiger's Tale.

Time for Celebration.

Hank—"To celebrate your election, your honor."

Practices of 1947 Triple A Program In County Given

Of personal interest to every Scurry County farmer for 1947 is the officially approved practices of Scurry County's Triple A administration.

Written prior to approval, farmers are reminded, for each practice must be obtained from the county committee before the practice is started.

Officially approved practices for the forthcoming year, as released through The Times, are:

Construction of standard terraces for which proper outlets are provided.
Construction of diversion terraces.
Construction or enlarging drainage ditches.
Construction of earthen reservoirs for livestock water or erosion control.

Drilling or digging wells for livestock water.

Contour farming intertilled crops.

Elimination of destructive pests.

Establishing permanent pastures by seeding perennial pasture grasses.

Establishing a satisfactory cover of rye grass seeded on cropland or in orchards in the fall of 1946.

Control of bindweed.

Establishing guide lines for contouring farm land which is not terraced.

A copy of approved practices is being mailed each farmer in the county.

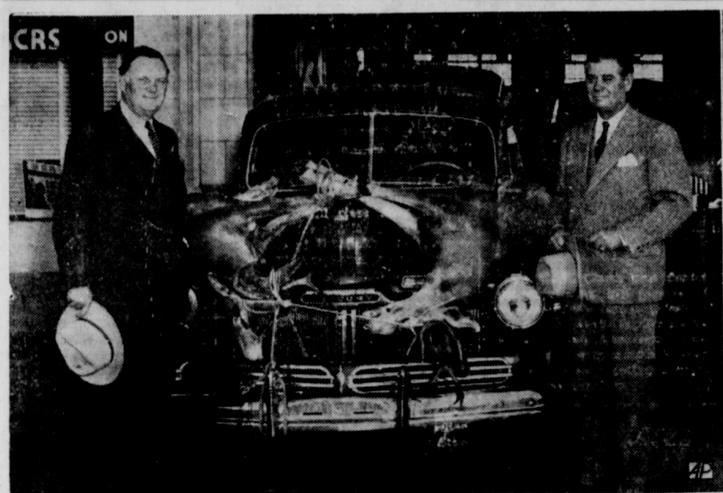

Farmers in various sectors of Scurry County are already beginning farming operations for another year. Quite a few are engaged at present in terrace construction and other practices that will conserve rainfall.

General Devers Gives Plea for Large Army

In a renewed plea to citizens here and elsewhere over America for universal military training General Jacob L. Devers, commanding officer of ground forces, uses a strong argument.

If World War III comes along, General Devers declares that it will take an eventual Army of from 12,000,000 to 16,000,000 men to win the conflict.

the blacktail deer season west of the Pecos River—killing his first deer last Tuesday. Other deer shown was killed by Ford Fullingim of Madland. Pic-

Schools Will Vote on Spring Grid Training

High school members in Scurry and other counties of the Texas Interscholastic League will vote next April, an Austin dispatch states, on whether they desire to eliminate spring football training.

Substituting an earlier date for the beginning of fall practice might be helpful, league officials state.

Under a proposed change, fall football training would begin August 15 instead of September 1.

No change, it is stated, will be made in the present spring training football practice this school year, but the rule will go into effect for the 1947-48 season for conference schools accepting the plan.

New GI Stove Added At School Lunchroom

Lunch room of Snyder Schools has added a huge GI stove, purchased with funds derived from the schools' recent carnival that helps considerably in daily lunch room operations.

E. L. Farr, Snyder School superintendent, reports that the school's lunch room project is serving well balanced meals that are being reflected in general type of work being done by students in the various grades.

Interest in Christmas Cantata Being Shown

Following announcement made last week, considerable interest is being shown in the forthcoming Christmas cantata that will be sponsored by the Snyder Musical Coterie.

The ever popular "Night of Holy Memories" by Ira B. Wilson, in three parts, has been selected as the musical extravaganza presentation.

Mrs. Helen Boren Rodgers, who will direct the cantata, states that a definite date will be set in the near future.

Assisting in the holiday season program at the First Baptist Church, with piano and organ accompaniment, will be the Glee Club of Snyder grade school.

Families Hope to Get More Sugar As Supply Grows

In a statement for Scurry County housewives, the Department of Agriculture this week predicts that more sugar will be available through local stores next year. Each housewife may get five pounds more sugar in 1947 than is being rationed to her this year.

The ration entitles everyone to 25 pounds this year, including 10 pounds canning allowance. Under the forecast of James Marshall, the Department of Agriculture's sugar branch, the 1947 supply will be 30 pounds.

An additional quantity averaging 48 pounds per person is used in manufactured food products, soft drinks, candies and the like. This quantity may be increased to 54 pounds next year.

Few Business Failures Shows Texas Stability

People of this territory and remainder of the state will find encouragement in the fact there were no business failures in Texas last month.

So reports the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Dun & Bradstreet, who recently had a representative in Snyder, releases figures to the university bureau that disclose only six business failures in Texas for the first 10 months of this year, compared with five failures for the same period in 1945.

Good Prices For Products Help to Show Nice Profit

Scurry County's typical farmer has indeed a lot to be thankful for on this glad Thanksgiving Day, as he turns to the first peace-time observance of this event in five tedious, tortuous years.

The average county farmer cultivated approximately 150 acres of land this year. By assuming that his cotton crop made the county average of a fifth of a bale to the acre he harvested 18 to 20 bales of cotton.

With cotton production of, say, 20 bales, gross return at average price of only 27 cents per pound—disregarding that 40-cent dreamboat which was hit by an atomic explosion on October 8—would be $2,700 for lint cotton.

Sale of say 15 of the 20 bales production of cottonseed, taking 12 bales' turn-out of seed (750 pounds for each bale) at $34 per ton would gross $282. If this farmer should sell three bales of seed turn-out, 750 pounds each bale, at $100 per ton he would realize $125. The $288 plus $125 would gross $413.

If the typical farmer sold 10 dozen eggs per week for even 30 weeks out of the year, he realized a nice amount from egg sales. Eggs during the first part of the year were at support price of 27 cents per dozen, but within the past week have gone up to 53 cents a dozen for select eggs.

Let's say the average farmer sold 10 dozen eggs a week the first half of the year for 27 cents per dozen. This would amount to $64.80. If he sells 20 dozen between now and Christmas at 53 cents per dozen he will realize $106.00.

If the typical farmer sold, say, sweet cream for five months out of the year at an average of 56 cents a pound for butterfat he realized from $20 to $24 per month for cream sales. This would provide a minimum of $100 from cream sales.

The typical farmer hasn't any turkeys, so this form of income can be who produced combine maize had ruled out.

On the 50 acres of land devoted to feed stuff, the average farmer at least 20 acres. Even if yield brought him only $12 per acre—which would be light—he had $240 from this source.

There are exceptions to the above tabulations, of course, but speaking for the average county farmer he can put down something like the above.

The average farmer spent $1,200 to make this year's crop.

A little hurried figuring, then, will reveal that $2,700 for lint cotton, $413 for cottonseed, $75.40 for eggs, $100 from cream sales, $240 from combine maize and say $100 from sale of bundle feed at 10 cents a bundle would gross $4,068.40.

Gross return of the average farmer, less $1,200 for making this year's crop; $250 for medical care and hospital expense, $100 for entertainment, $200 for church, charitable and various other donations and a minimum outlay of $250 for new clothes (not forgetting average annual replacement of $100 a year for kitchen utensils and home furnishings) would total expenditures for the year at $2,100 plus the $1,200—$3,300. This from $4,068.40 would leave $768.40 to tide the family not only through the Christmas holidays but leave a cash balance to begin 1947 with.

The average Scurry County farmer is smart. He has saved back good planting seed for next year's cotton crop, feed and sudan seed, and if he hasn't a frozen food locker he will have some home slaughtering to help combat the high cost of living.

This county's average farmer is thrifty. The war years have taught him to get accustomed to shortages—from lack of tractor parts to lack of cultivator sweeps and nails. He had to hire farm hands and cotton choppers by the hour and cut plenty of corners to keep production costs as low as possible.

The average farmer is better off financially than he was five years ago. He has paid land notes, bank obligations and has retired other indebtedness at a rapid rate. For farmers who may lack adequate financing for another year, and farmers who cannot obtain help elsewhere, ample sources of help are available through government lending agencies.

Average Scurry County farmer has indeed lived this year in a county blessed by a kindly Providence. As he and his family turn their attention to this Thanksgiving Day, after counting material and spiritual blessings, the county's farmers have many, many things for which to offer peace-time thanks.

" 'P-u-t-l' is correct," he replied.

WE PAUSE TO GIVE THANKS

As we come to another Thanksgiving period, we are mindful of the scores of friends who have called the Snyder National Bank their bank for 40, these many years. We remember our pleasant relations, and feel that we have served the people of this section in a concrete sort of way in providing them with good banking service.

While we are visiting with our loved ones, or going about our usual daily chores this Thanksgiving Day, or feasting with those we cherish most, let us not cease to be thankful to the Almighty for His manifold blessings of life.

We at Snyder National are thankful for our friends, and for our friends' patronage throughout our more than 40 years as a banking institution in this county.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Don't Say You Didn't Know It

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

Many war-wounded can take regular jobs; jobs don't always need two legs, or two arms, or two eyes. Many of them can take part-time jobs.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

WHEN a serious crime is committed, reparation has to be made. When a person suffers from a devastating illness, convalescence is long and slow.

War is both a crime and an illness. We self-styled Christian peoples plunged into it, and the fever of it burned into our very souls. Now, not for sensational reasons, but from simple common sense, we have to lend money and send clothes and food and build hospitals and re-establish trade for friend and foe alike, just to keep the world going at all. Our late enemies are just as airy about asking help as are our allies.

It is for every one of us to help the world toward convalescence. If you are merely a good, honest citizen, with kindly impulses in your heart, think it out. If you have been fortunate enough to find God in your earthly pilgrimage, then add prayer to your thoughts. Think hard, pray hard, not just for hungry babies in Poland and Germany and Italy, but for our own men.

Think—think for five minutes what some of our boys paid for this war. Take the boy you love best, the boy for whom your hopes are highest, whether he be seven months, seven years or 17 years old. Picture that boy suffering. Suffering hard steady pain, from one of those thousand injuries of which we say so lightly, "well, the doctors don't know exactly what it is." Some delicate internal fibre incurably torn, some essential inch of bone rotted away, some infinitesimal splinter pressing on eyes or brain, and your magnificent six-footer is going to wear all his life that chiselled, weary look that means pain.

He Might Be Your Son.
Your own boy—that roughneck out in the sandbox who already this morning has been riding his bicycle like Barney Oldfeld, coasting down his slide, splashing in the lawn sprinklers, climbing the apple tree, that outlaw who presently will come in for his chop and baked potato, his exhausted nap—he might be one of them.

He might be one of the hundreds who walk with a crutch; he might be wearing a patch over one of his beautiful eyes, or sitting sighing, with his forehead gripped by his hand, when the dreadful inevitable pain comes back. He won't marry; he won't burden his girl with this. He won't complain much, or talk much of the mud and the loneliness and the dying in south Italy. He won't tell you of the morning he was just one of the other fellows, trying to take an island beach despite dripping sweat and stinging insects and sharp rifle fire, and of the noon when he was carried to the hospital ship, never to be himself again.

Today put your boy in his place. And then, if you will, go down on your knees. And rise from them resolved that not one single war-wounded boy in your town is going to be left without the work that he can do. Many of them can take regular jobs; jobs don't always need two legs, or two arms, or two eyes. Many of them can take part-time jobs. Not one in ten, they tell me, need be idle.

If these boys were lying wounded and screaming on some field near your house, how fast good women would organize to help them. How fast they would be carried to the cool bed and clean bandages, the hot coffee and the opiates that mean comfort and love and care again after the bleak years.

Almost blind, he runs prosperous farm.

U. S. Owns World's Largest Herd of Fur Seals

America is maintaining her unapproachable lead in the world's seal industry. This was revealed by Edward C. Johnston, department of the interior general manager of the Pribiloff Islands.

This summer's count, Johnston said, showed that through conservation the American herd had grown to three million animals from a depleted tribe of 130,000 in 1912.

YOU CAN HELP

Many thousands of veterans are handicapped in some way. It may be loss of an arm or a leg; it may be partial or total blindness. Some men came back with nervous afflictions that will remain for life; others suffer from wrenched or torn muscles, or recurrent diseases like malaria. Most of them are anxious to be self-supporting and independent. They don't want sympathy. They merely want a little help to even things up. In many fields they can do as good a job as anyone else. Frequently they do better, because they are more serious and determined to succeed.

Everybody who stayed at home during the war owes these veterans a great deal. It is everyone's duty to give whatever assistance he can. This may be finding him a job, or advising about the best school to take his training in, or it may be renting him a room in your home. Some may know where he can buy a business that is suited to his capacity, or where to obtain a loan on favorable terms.

Those who can't do anything directly to help these men who deserve so much, at least can keep the matter before their friends and neighbors. Sometimes a few words at the right time will do wonders. They may secure the chance some down-hearted veteran is praying for, when he has almost lost hope.

Well, they are lying wounded, and in their hearts they are screaming for help, these boys who were magnificent physical specimens when we sent them away, and who now will be good enough only (as Falstaff said), "to beg at the town's end," unless we help.

They Need Your Help.
Two years after the first great war, in a rich European city, I saw men in uniform begging, men whose old uniforms wore decorations, too. The shame of that, the outrage of that, sticks in my throat every time I remember it. Men who had known the bloody trenches, whose valor their country had recognized, begging in the streets.

If your town is a big one, this work of employing handicapped veterans already is organized. Get into that organization. And talk at your own dinner table. Get the big employers of your neighborhood to express themselves, put them on record.

But if your town is a small one the work is easier. You know people there. You can enlist everyone. You can personally contact the wounded veterans, and find out what each one wants to do. Some years ago I wrote in this column of the Bakers, mother, father, sister. Three Baker boys were in the service, and while they were away, the three at home bought each one a working, practical farm. The deeds to these farms were at the boys' places at the homecoming dinner. Fred came home almost blind, but Fred is running the most flourishing of the farms today, and his wife and boys manage the bookkeeping.

Don't hurt a wounded man with pity, or with charity. Find out what he can do and see that he has a chance to do it.

Birth Rate Dropping

Continued decline in the high birth rate of the war years was noted in registration statistics for 1945. The figures were released by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Total of officially recorded births last year was 2,735,456, compared with 2,794,800 in 1944, a decline of 2.1 per cent. The birth rate in 1945 was 19.6 per 1,000 population, against 20.2 the year before and 21.5 in 1943. The last-named was the highest annual rate during the war years.

50,000 Acres of Scurry County Lands Under Lease to Make Oil Major Crop

As a cash "crop," the oil business ranks in Scurry County this year as a major. Total "takes" this year, including land under oil and gas lease, royalty and production payments and overrides, will gross $2,000,000, reliable sources reveal.

The oil business is viewed by land owners and Snyder business men as the "bread and butter" income of the county's permanent economy as the oil lease rentals and royalty checks, which bring in new money regardless of weather, short seasons or other temporary setbacks.

It is estimated that 50,000 acres of land are under oil and gas lease in Scurry County. This vast acreage, held by both the major companies and independents, gives land owners a type of steady income that helps immensely in a year like this when crops are spotted.

Too, the monthly payrolls distributed from Snyder and Colorado City to drilling crews and members of seismograph crews working Scurry County are bringing $10,000 per month in new money to this trade zone.

In evaluating the true magnitude of the oil business to Scurry County it is necessary to consider the fact that most of western Scurry County has been under lease for from six and eight to 10 and 15 years.

In reviewing the county's oil front developments for the year, citizens well recall that the Polar community, in southwestern Kent County, witnessed back in the last days of March the most important Ellenberger strike for West Texas.

Ellenberger strike for the Polar community was marked up at the

Snyder High School Has Had Band for Years Records Show

Snyder High School has had a band for many years. In fact it has had one so long that we can't find anyone who knows when it started, although we learned that there was no band as far back as 1928.

The first band director known by anyone here was a Mr. Crowley, who taught lessons to students. Next about 1936, was Millard Shaw. A larger band was built by John Hensley, who was here in 1938-39. Herman Trigg was director in 1940.

In 1941, Snyder High had its largest band when C. Kiker was director. He also taught better marching and formations. Next was Almon Martin who maintained a large band. In 1944, Charlie Boren, a junior, directed, in order that we might have a band. Mrs. Lucille Dougherty directed in 1945. We had a very small band that year. Miss Katherine Northcutt helped the remaining band the next year. It was an orchestra. This year we have Roy Palmer, who is giving lessons to students.—Tiger's Tale.

Cattle Lead Gradual Upward Trend in Markets Cotton Takes Tumble Again

In the latest swing of Southwest Markets, prepared for The Times by the Production and Marketing Administration, the markets close to the hearts of Scurry and Borden County people—cattle, cotton, wool, wheat, sheep and hogs—are given as follows:

Cattle led the gradual upward swing of prices for sheep, eggs, peanuts, wheat and barley at Southwest markets.

Cotton took another tumble, turkeys and sorghums dropped sharply and hogs declined. Other products remained about steady.

Last week saw turkeys drop to a level below that of last year at this time as demand continued to drag. Prices ranged from 23 to 25 cents per pound for young toms. Young hens held a stronger position at about 10 cents per pound higher. Demand strengthened for good fat hens at 22 to 25 cents per pound. Fryers moved fairly well at 37 to 40 cents per pound. Also, eggs went up under increased holiday demand for light supplies. Current receipts were quoted from 42 to 45 cents per dozen depending on the market.

Cotton dropped below 30 cents per pound at some markets last week for the first time since the Mid-October collapse. However, activity increased and demand was strong.

Southwest peanut harvesting was nearly over last week. Prices received by growers for farmers' stock peanuts ranged from the CCC support schedule to $15 per ton higher. Wheat and barley gained about a penny a bushel, oats and white corn remained about steady, but yellow corn moved downward and sorghums lost about 20 cents per 100. Feeds continued mostly easy with further declines in shorts and oil-seed meals.

Demand for domestic wool was still limited to filling in orders in the process of manufacture. Sales of Texas wools consisted largely of scoured descriptions and some small lots of grease wool. Nearly all fall Texas mohair was sold. Prices were 62 to 63 cents for adult mohair and 72 to 73 cents for yearling hair.

Southwest sheep and lamb markets reported steady to firm prices for top quality stock but slightly lower prices for common and medium grades. San Antonio quoted medium and good lambs with No. 1 and 2 pelts at $16.50 to $17 per 100 and common and medium ewes $6.75 to $7.25. Fort Worth moved good and choice fat lambs at $20 to $21 and medium and good eyes at $7.25 to $8.25.

Hog trading was slow last week with most markets registering losses of 25 to 50 cents per 100 pounds for slaughter grades. San Antonio reported about the only gains. Friday's prices for top butchers were $25 per 100 at San Antonio, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City; $24 to $24.25 at Wichita and $24 to $24.50 at Denver.

Steady to stronger prices and moderately active trading ruled the Southwest cattle markets last week. However, some easiness showed up on lower grade beef cows and calves. Common and medium steers and yearlings brought $12 to $15 at Houston and $12 to $18 at Fort Worth. At Oklahoma City good beef cows reached $17 and medium and good beef steers and yearlings sold at $15 to $22.

People of Texas Have Health to Be Thankful for

Scurry County people are reminded that the first Thanksgiving Day in this country was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks not only for the bountiful harvest which the colonists had reaped but for the sturdy health and endurance that had permitted them to survive the hardships and exposure, that first rigorous year in America. On the occasion of this Thanksgiving Day the state health officer, Dr. George W. Cox, is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community.

"We have much to be thankful for in that our national health level has remained high despite the nervous tension, the sacrifices, the deprivations of a post-war period," Dr. Cox stated. "Our people have maintained a remarkably high level of health, and even under existing conditions, Texas has shown a continued decline in maternal and infant deaths."

"The people of Texas have reason to be thankful for the steadily increasing interest and cooperation being shown in matters pertaining to general sanitation and the control of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox asserted. "Responsibility for advancement of the public health program lies not with the State Health Department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the local community efforts exerted and who apply in their own individual lives the health rules with which they have become acquainted through public health education."

Dr. Cox pointed out that one direct result of public health efforts in this nation has been the lengthening of the normal life span by more than 15 years.

"Certainly this is something to be thankful for and it should lend incentive for further efforts to promote and maintain community as well as state-wide public health programs."

Rotenone Proves Effective in Fight On Cattle Grubs

Rotenone is proving to be a sure-fire treatment for cattle grubs in Scurry and neighboring counties. So reports J. N. Caviness, county agricultural agent, who cites the following as one example of rotenone effectiveness:

With 10 pounds of rotenone sulphur dust F. J. Jenkins, Edwards County ranchman, got rid of practically all the grubs on 55 head of beef cattle that were badly infested. Jenkins' grub treatment was done at a cost of only $7.50. Running the cattle through a chute, he brushed the rotenone sulphur dust into the loins and backs of the animals with a wire brush. Prior to the treatment, which was given last fall, every animal in the herd of 55 had from 40 to 50 grubs. A recent check-up by Jenkins and the county agent showed only nine of the animals carrying grubs, and these were only slightly infested. Jenkins is convinced that ranchmen can eventually rid their cattle of grubs and heel flies by giving regular rotenone treatments each fall.

Sambo had found a job for the week on a railroad section gang, and was taking leave of his family when his wife came to the door.

"Come back, Sam. You ain't cut a stick of wood for de stove; and you'll be gone for a week."

Sam turned and looked very much aggrieved. "Honey," he said in a tone of injured innocence, "what de matter? You talks like Ah was takin' de axe wid me."

Paul immediately answered with: "I might just as well hit her then."

At Carlisle, the conductor finding the seedy-looking individual without ticket or money, grabbed him by the arm and put him off the train with the help of a well-placed kick.

At the next station he found the same fellow and again threw him off, accentuating the force and gesture.

At the third station the guard was astonished to again find the chap, who attempted to jump off quickly enough to escape the violence of the attack.

"How far do you think you are going to get like this?" demanded the conductor.

"As far as Chicago," replied the persistent one, "if my constitution can stand it."

YES, that gay sunflower and pretty carnation are really hot holders. A wonderful way to learn crocheting quickly and easily.

AROUND THE HOUSE

When making a new dress for your little daughter, make a matching hanky. She'll remember to take one then, for she'll always be looking for one to match.

If you need a kitchen stool to get at those high shelves, use an old baby highchair. Remove arms and tray and paint the stool to match your kitchen set.

Rag rugs will stay flat and will not rumple if they are washed in hot water and again in cold water. Use a heavy starch. Iron when dry.

The material in fibre rugs is excellent and durable for youngsters' rooms. Many makes have double life since they are reversible with pattern on both sides. When you buy one of these rugs see that it has woven ends of fairly heavy weight for lasting wear.

The corners and crevices of your furniture sometimes need extra attention. Use a small new paint brush. Dip it in furniture polish, then give the corners and crevices a real going-over. Makes a really thorough dusting job.

When washing collars and cuffs of shirts scrub lightly with a small brush. This quickly removes the soil and saves time.

Boil the clothesline in strong salt water to keep it from freezing in winter.

If you are making a stuffed toy for your youngster, put a few pebbles in a pill box in with the stuffing, to produce a rattling noise.

When washing collars and cuffs of shirts scrub lightly with a small brush. This quickly removes the soil and saves time.

How much information concerning a crime may be obtained from an insignificant bit of evidence by laboratory analysis was illustrated not long ago in a case of attempted murder in Berkeley, Calif., says Collier's.

An analysis of a piece of string left at the scene revealed that it had come from a farm having pine trees, certain rare plants, a Jersey cow, a sorrel horse, black-and-white rabbits and Rhode Island Red chickens. With this description, detectives soon located the farm and captured the criminal.

The Sweeping Tides by H.M. EGBERT W.N.U. SERVICE

Mark Darrell, young American lumberman, is boss of a lumber camp near St. Victor, Canada. Nat Page is his assistant. Mark has fallen in love with Madame Madeleine Kinross, the young widow who owns the lumberland. She returns his affection, but tells him that she believes her husband is still alive, so that there is no hope of marriage.

CHAPTER VII

"I know he is living, mad, somewhere, and they will not tell me." "Madeleine, I love you!" "Ah, what is the use of telling me that? Do you not see my fate? I married the seigneur when I was fifteen because I was forced into it—and also because he fascinated me. I was proud to be chosen wife of the seigneur. And there was never any other woman in his life. He had always loved me. And there was my father's little property. What could I do?"

He tried to move his limbs again, and now discovered that he was tightly roped, so that all motion was practically impossible. His arms were fastened to his body at the wrists and elbows, his legs bound in a similar way, and he himself was bound to one of the corner uprights of the hut.

"Who gave us our orders? Monsieur Broussac. Who threatened us with the loss of our lives, or at least, swore that we should never see St. Victor again, unless we did what he told us? Who showed us that cabled dispatch from France?" "They stared at one another with white, quivering faces.

"Then we must not see each other again?" "We must try not to meet again."

He began to struggle desperately in his bonds, without the least result. Try as he might, he could not move a limb. At last he gave up the fight and lay, panting, waiting for the end.

"But the seigneur did not die," whispered Hector Mackintosh. "I tell you the whole thing should never have been covered up. We were fools."

"Then I shall give up my lease," said Mark.

All the woods about the bridge seemed afire. Dense torrents of smoke came pouring into the cabin and rose above the tree-tops. The crackling of the running flames grew louder and spires of fire

"Where is he?" asked Andre. "Listen!" "Alphonse Vitard," grapsed him by the shoulder. "Did you see Horace Broussac's yid steal into the harbor just before the fog shut down? Do you think he is going to stay and face the seigneur? I tell you he is going to get that girl to sail away with him."

"Can't you speak to Father Lacombe and find out whether your husband is really alive?" asked Mark.

"I'll make him talk," said Mark grimly.

"No," answered Madeleine. "There is nothing more to be said. Everything that could possibly be said has been said in the past five years. You must go, Mark, and we must try not to meet again."

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

For a moment he held her close to him, and their lips met. Mark turned away toward the bridge. But not before he had seen Andre Galipeault standing at the lighthouse entrance, a bitter sneer upon his bearded face.

"The whole neck is afire," said one of the lumberjacks. "It will take in Monsieur Darrell's cabin."

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

They peered anxiously across the dark terrain, but by now the smoke was rolling toward them, blotting out all sight of anything.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Here are several suggestions on what to do with fowl:

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Change the food to some extent when it is served a second or a third time, and it will become a sort of fascinating game to see just how much can be done with leftovers. Use a variety of seasonings and watch the family take an interest in the food.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Never let the leftover problem get out of hand in my first bit of advice, however, for then food will spoil and will have to be thrown out. Plan in advance what will be leftover and include it in the menu. This is easy to do with roasts and even vegetables.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

It's an excellent idea to check the refrigerator systematically every day so that no bit of food escapes notice. Combine several vegetables in one jar and toss them into a salad. Or plan to cream them and serve with bacon on toast for lunch. After a bit of practice you will learn to think of food in this way and there will be no "left-over problem."

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

2 cups cooked chicken 2 cups thinly sliced celery 1 1/2 cups sliced, peeled onions 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1 No. 2 can mixed vegetables, Chinesé style 2 tablespoons cornstarch 3 tablespoons soy sauce Scallions 1 small can fried noodles

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

1 Brown chicken slightly in fat. Add celery, onions and pepper. Add chicken broth (about 2 cups) and cook covered until vegetables are tender. Add drained Chinese vegetables and mushrooms and heat to boiling. Mix cornstarch with soy sauce and add to mixture. Stir this mixture and cook until thickened. Arrange vegetable dish garnished with sliced scallions and pour mixture over them. Serve with fried noodles.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

"Turkey Pie. (Serves 6) 3 tablespoons fat 4 tablespoons flour 1 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 cups milk 2 cups hot mashed potatoes Leftover roast turkey, sliced 1 cup cooked, sliced carrots 1 cup cooked or canned peas, drained

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Melt fat, add flour and blend in salt and pepper. Add milk gradually while stirring and cook until mixture thickens. Spread mashed potatoes in a layer in a buttered baking dish and cover with a layer of turkey slices. Add carrots and peas to sauce and pour over turkey. Place in a broiler and broil until

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

LYNN SAYS: Soup Serving Hints A well cooker on your range is another tip for making easy work of cooking soup. The ingredients can be placed in this and just left to cook at low temperature while you go out to shop.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

When combining milk or white sauce with tomato mixtures, prevent curdling by pouring the tomato mixture slowly into the milk and stirring constantly all the while. Use a double boiler for heating.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Leftover vegetables such as peas, corn, celery, carrots and lima beans are splendid for creamed soups. Use them in this way for a nourishing lunch.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Save time making soups with a pressure cooker. Something that takes 2 1/2 to 3 hours to simmer, such as split pea soup, will cook, with this cooker, in 20 to 30 minutes.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

To avoid wateriness in canned cream soup, enough starch and flour should be used in the mixture to take up all the liquid given off when the cassén of milk coagulates.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

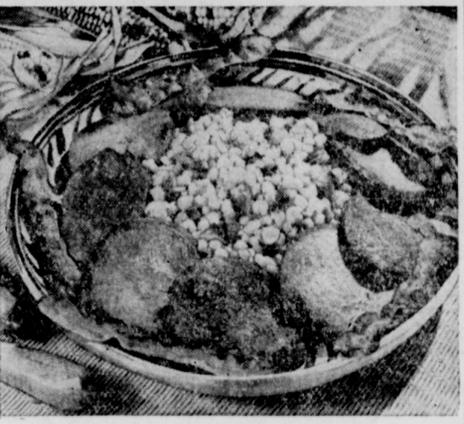

Experiment with herbs and you'll be well satisfied with the results in soup. Try a light touch with herbs at first so the family can become used to something new.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Taste before serving is a rule that should be used whenever you have soup for a meal. It's easy to season, but most people serve unpalatable soup just because they forget to season it.

"I'll give up the lease," said Mark once more.

Serve Leftovers With an Eye to Color (See recipes below)

Glamorizing Leftovers

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if we never had to bother with leftovers?" I heard a homemaker say recently. Well, leftovers need not be the "PROBLEM" which in any woman regard them, for they can really be made interesting.

Never let the leftover problem get out of hand in my first bit of advice, however, for then food will spoil and will have to be thrown out.

Change the food to some extent when it is served a second or a third time, and it will become a sort of fascinating game to see just how much can be done with leftovers.

England Gets Back to Normal

Things are returning to normal in England faster than we thought. Jewel robberies now are considered important enough to be mentioned among life's major annoyances.

Scotland Yard, est burglars, palace jobs, international rings and super jool criminals are back in the British headlines. News that Londoners who survived the blitz now are disturbed by little things like loss of the family genes is cheering. Things must be looking up.

It is close to a decade since a Britisher on the home grounds felt like even making a complaint if he got home and found nothing worse had happened than ransacking of a dressing table.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor come right out and admit a loss of $50,000 worth of loot. It is only now that they would admit it made any difference.

Scotland Yard is hot after the jewel robbers but we think the thieves are doing the world a favor. They are flashing the glad news that the war is well into the background and that once again some of the worst things that can happen to you can be endured without a bomb shelter.

It shows that England really is recovering faster than some of her allies. No jewelry ring has been announced in France yet. Russia hasn't been bothered by a cat burglar. Even in America we are not yet in the big stolen-strif-of-pearls stage of recovery, but caught some between the Miss America renewals and the price of Christmas liquor.

It's nice to have Scotland Yard back. It seems such a long time since it was found anywhere except on radio programs.

With Scotland Yard intact and "Mister Inspector" on the job once more, the routine of happier years returns. We should not have to wait long now before hearing about the tailor who buried eight wives in an old well in Sussex and the professor of chemistry who amuses himself by experiments with arsenic on housemaids.

But one thing disturbs Americans. We have supposed the British were having as much trouble eating as we are. Yet the main objective on the crime wave there is a ruby, not a lambchop; an emerald, not a hamburger. How come?

So You Never Saw Al Jolson Al Jolson's life story has been put on the screen. Al doesn't appear in it. A young movie actor, Larry Parks, plays the hole while Al's voice is synchronized into the picture.

Parks does a good job but there was only one Jolson and no imitator could ever touch him, although hundreds tried. Never to have seen Jolson is to have missed one of the most electric personalities the stage ever knew.

He wasn't just a comedian; he was a battery with a voice, an electric charger with a human personality, a bolt of lightning in blackface. He was a thing of warts and amperage. No doctor ever took Jolson's pulse; they took his voltage.

You felt Jolson's presence while he was still in the wings and when he swept onto the stage it was like seeing a four-ring circuit break out of an egg.

He was a great showman without seeming to be, a super comedian who never had to cram the idea down your throat. Jolson always seemed to be having more fun than the audience, and it always seemed to us that he played a 30th performance with all the vitality and sparkle of a first night.

You hummed the Jolson tunes as you filed out of the theater. You told his stories for weeks.

What a man! And, come to think of it, he never boasted about the big salary he was getting, wrote a book or did a column as a sideline. Maybe it was two other fellows, after all.

Mark's Enemies Seek His Life

It was fast growing dark as Mark made his way down the slope toward his shack in the little clearing.

The one-two flash of the lighthouse was growing clearer. There came the resonant bellow of the foghorn, and, looking back, Mark saw that one of the white mists was creeping up the St. Lawrence.

Even as he watched, it blotted out the lighthouse and the rocks crept upward until the bridge disappeared, began to envelop him with its clammy arms.

Mark hit the trail, groping through the mists toward his cabin. On the morrow he would tell Nat that he had decided to relinquish his lease, write to his backers. At least there would be a small but substantial profit coming to them.

That night he would be glad of the solitude of the shack. That night he would fight out his battle alone.

He was almost at the shack when suddenly he saw the bearded face of Andre Galipeault rise out of a clump of bushes. At the same instant he was conscious of a violent blow upon the back of the head. He swung about, with falling fists, to see two other men, unknown to him, standing over him, with clubs in their hands.

As Mark struck, Andre hit him from behind. The mist-wrapped scene began to swim before Mark's eyes, and he felt his knees begin to buckle. Fighting desperately, he was borne down, and once more a stunning blow dropped upon his temple.

He fell, and everything went out in darkness; and consciousness itself became extinct.

Mark could not have been out for long. He came to, to find himself lying upon the floor of his cabin, his head aching dully from the blows he had received. He tried to move, and found that he was unable to do more than flex his fingers. For a while he lay still in sheer exhaustion, until a sudden flare of flame showed him that the bush around the cabin was on fire.

Three Men Are Filled With Fear and Horror

Alphonse Vitard, the mayor, was crouched with Hector Mackintosh, the landlord, in a back room of the hotel. There were two glasses and a bottle of spirits upon the table between them, and at first sight you might have thought the two men were drunk. It was only after another glance that it became evident that they were not drunk—only shaking with mortal fear.

There was a fumbling at the door, and Andre Galipeault, of the lighthouse, staggered in. His face was blanched a deathly white above his gray beard. He dropped into a chair, poured himself out a glass of raw spirit, and drained it.

"Eh, well!" asked Alphonse Vitard.

"We have done what we agreed to do. Have we not wives and families? Are not our own lives at stake? Why should we die and our families starve, because an outsider comes into St. Victor to spy?"

"I have sometimes wondered," said Hector Mackintosh, "whether that Monsieur Darrell was really a spy. It may be that he was honest. He certainly was a lumberman."

"What have we to do with that?"

A 'Dead Man' Returns To Take Vengeance

The lumbermen halted, overcome by the heat of the conflagration.

"We can't go any further," big Louis said to Nat. "See, boss, there is a line of flame right along the ridge. The cabin's behind that. If he has not escaped, he is roasted to a cinder by now."

"No time," Nat panted. "We've got to get on."

And he hurled himself against the wall of living fire that was sweeping down with a roar, as the rising wind fanned it—hurled himself against it only to recoil. He knew that, if Mark was in the hut in the heart of that conflagration, there was not one chance in a thousand that he could escape alive.

The fog was thickening. Andre, well fortified with brandy, had vanished silently from the hotel; but Hector Mackintosh and Monsieur Alphonse Vitard still sat there, drinking and muttering to themselves. Outside, a strange silence seemed to brood over St. Victor. No voices were heard now. The settlement might have been depopulated.

Then suddenly the outer door of the hotel banged. Mackintosh and Vitard started to their feet. Someone was coming along the hall toward their room, snouting an old ballad throatily.

"Mon Dieu, it's he!" whispered Mackintosh in terror.

They leaped to their feet, they looked about for their weapon (TO BE CONTINUED)

SHS Dramatics Club Will Get Going Soon

The Dramatics Club, which is being organized in Snyder High School in the supervision of Katherine Northcutt and Mrs. Elmer Taylor, is to get underway in the near future, the sponsors say. There is some delay in membership because of averages set for students to become members. Only a few applied who had high enough averages (B averages with one A) and the faculty is considering lowering the standards.
There are 15 seniors and eight juniors who have applied for membership. Names are withheld because the supervisors are not sure which students will be taken in. This club, states Miss Northcutt, is planned to be entered in the Inter-scholastic League contests for one-act plays.—Tiger's Tale.

A Cleaner Snyder Seen

We know Snyder people are busy as beavers, right now, but accumulation of trash—slabs of old roofing material, cement and other debris—in back alleys of the town reminds us we need to always keep the clean-up campaign in progress here.
We have a city dump ground southeast of the city limits, and those who have more work than they can already do can hire trash and refuse hauled to the dump grounds at a very reasonable figure.
A cleaner Snyder means a more inviting Snyder for new people and new capital; a cleaner city always means a healthier, more attractive community and county.
Too, some gradual city improvement work can be accomplished by additional filling in of "chug holes" in back alleys and on unpaved streets. If we have the will to, we can easily make Snyder one of the cleanest cities in Texas. We already have the best people in the world right here at our doorsteps.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN
An idea grew out of a conference called last spring by the National Research Council that will give U. S. service men in the Pacific something more enduring than marble or bronze in the way of a memorial... The Pacific War Memorial, as the foundation now shapes, will be a scientific affair with the entire Pacific Ocean as a laboratory... When scientists were told just how little is known about the Pacific area, how rapidly its odd varieties of man and beast were vanishing before civilization's onrush, the inspiration of a Pacific War Memorial caught on mighty quick... Selling the navy on the idea was easy, for Admiral Nimitz is himself a natural history fan.
One of the war's interesting little stories came to light last week... Surrounded by tons of reinforced steel, and hidden three stories underground, a tiny vault lay undisturbed outside Paris for nine stormy years... Then, last week representatives of 18 countries solemnly squeezed into the little vault... There, in a glass case were the objects of the international gathering—the darlings of the International Bureau of Weights and Measures; the Kilogram and the Meter in person... These official standards of weight and measure for the world's metric system had come through the war with flying colors and saved the metric system from falling into any rut of inaccuracy down the years ahead.
The highway patrol, with 125 two-man teams, works 60 hours a week... each team has 220 miles of highway to patrol and in addition must do reports, investigations, disaster relief work and teach safety work... Actually our crack patrolmen have to be concentrated on places where deaths are more usual... "It's hard when you have to decide which country's people will be killed this year," Colonel Garrison says, but that's exactly what he has to do when he spreads 250 men out over 28,000 miles of public highways.
While we are indeed lucky in smaller towns like Snyder in being left alone by the worst segment of criminals, there is hardly a big city in Texas but where gambling is on an alarming increase and where law enforcement officers are plagued by every move made... In cities like San Antonio, Galveston, Houston and others gambling is becoming more than a public menace—it can be called something of an incurable disease... In San Antonio, for example, two big operators are already fighting it out for control of that holiday city's lush gambling racket.
The field of traffic presents a very sordid story... Despite the reduction in the number of cars nationally, Texas has more cars than ever before, and at the rate people are being killed with vehicles 1,892 will die on Texas highways this year... This trail of blood, stretching entirely across our great state, should make people who value lives and property more than fighting mad... Our Texas Highway Patrol, always called out when someone is involved in a serious traffic accident, has 28,000 miles of highway to watch with only 250 men—a pitiful and tragic number to cope with such a serious problem.
With the New Year just around the corner, one can watch for the Council of Economic Advisers to exert a considerable amount of influence on the nation's fiscal and tax problems... On the surface the three-man council will advise and assist the White House and Congress in developing an economic policy... But it really will be impossible to arrive at such a policy without considering long-range government spending, taxes, credits and kindred problems... The council will be composed of top-notch national figures and the agency can be expected to accomplish something worthwhile when it swings fully into action.
You can naturally hear a great deal about Republican plans to cut taxes, balance the budget and draft drastic labor legislation, but when Congress convenes such action will doubtless be more moderate than campaign promises indicate... The circle of advisers who are giving the "proceed cautiously" policy are having more effect on policy makers than the general public realizes... One may safely say, however, that a 20 per cent reduction is still planned in personal income taxes—even though this figure represents a goal rather than a final, inflexible decision.
You can rest assured that there will be some fireworks before anything is done to cut our national defense appropriations appreciably, and reduction of the present Army and Navy spending... Any time Army and Navy spending is reduced from the present rate of $13,000,000,000 a year to $8,000,000,000 it will be done only over plenty hot resistance all along the administrative line—including Republicans... Yet, the services will doubtless be called on to contribute a substantial part in case the GOP makes good a promise to cut taxes, balance expenditures with income and reduce our staggering public debt.

Out at a Good Time

All Scurry County is happy to see the well known Regulation W fading away December 1 on consumer credit except installment buying of automobiles, radios and 10 other types of durable goods on short supply.
Scurry Countians are glad, too, that the Federal Reserve Board will, it indicates, ask Congress for the authority to continue something of a streamlined version of the famed Regulation W as a method of permanent control over credit buying of durable goods. Such controls, if kept, would be utilized to help influence the trends of tightening restrictions when inflationary pressures develop and relaxing same when deflation threatens to strangle the markets of the nation.
We have gone through five bitter years of war with credit controls clamped down like a giant vise, and the sentiment of the common people—the bulwark of our country—is that restrictions should be lifted on all but goods in shortest supply and let buyer and seller work out their own terms. This promises the biggest step toward normalcy we have attempted this year.

Yeah, Tigers, Fight!

The eyes of Scurry County sports fans are on Snyder High School's valiant Tigers today (Thursday) as the squad faces its all-important game of the 1946 season—the traditional and annual clash with the Roscoe Plowboys.
Scurry County is for you, Tigers, and from the brilliant football played under Coach Beene's guidance, county sports fans know the Tigers will be in there pitching all the way.
At this homecoming game for the Tigers, falling on the first peace-time Thanksgiving in five years, people not only interested in football but in Snyder Schools know the Tigers—whatever the score—will play clean football in this afternoon's game.
It is to be hoped that post-game goodbyes with the Roscoe squad and fans will not result in some of the "strong arm" methods employed in past seasons. It hurts both towns to have after-the-game goodbyes so strong that a little hide and hair have to be traded in really settling the merits of the traditional grid classic.

Editorial of the Week

THESE GIVE-AWAY PROGRAMS

The wonderful thing about radio is its infinite variety. Just when you think air-show builders have exhausted every new possibility in entertainment and education, along comes a new idea, or a basic modification of an old idea, to catch and hold our fancy and our imagination.
The latest trend consists of radio shows featuring fantastic prizes. A B-29, for example, to the teen-age girl who gives the best answer to the question, "Why Use Macadam?" Switch the dial and you hear that 50 tons of scrap metal, an antique pogo stick and 39 gold bricks encrusted with pre-war laundry soap will be delivered by camel train to the first housewife smart enough to supply the missing word in the song title, "My Old Kentucky."
And now we learn there is a give-away show which offers a trolley car complete with lights, bells and fuses for the best description of "Who is Kilroy?" It ought to be easy for some local patriot to bring this great prize to Dallas. Kilroy, obviously, is the typical straphanger whose heart's desire can be summed up in the earliest possible delivery of those street cars, buses and trolley buses which the makers long ago promised our transit company.
We would not make light of the give-away radio programs. They supply a needed note of high adventure and romance in an otherwise drab and confused world. They may not be entirely new in concept. But they are founded on the oldest and most enduring of mankind's instincts: The getting of something for nothing. They will endure so long as the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow is desirable.—The Dallas Morning News.
