BIG PARADE TO BE FEATURE OF COUNTY RODEO

Schiebel Urging Snyder Merchants To Enter Floats and Other Vehicles in Spectacles

Floats in the street parade of Scurry County's eleventh annual Rodeo July 16-19 will be strongly emphasized. Scurry County Rodeo Association, in fact, in meeting Monday evening named Bill Schiebel, Scurry County Chamber of Commerce manager, as chairman of the rodeo decoration committee.

Schiebel and officials of the rodeo association are openly inviting every Snyder business firm to enter some kind of float in the street parades July 16-19—be the floats decorated cars, trucks, surreys, buckboards, chuck wagons or replicas of covered wagons.

Special attention of West Texas and New Mexico people is called to the fact a street parade will be staged Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, July 16, 17, 18 and 19, at 7:30 o'clock.

Each street parade will be a mile-long rodeo spectacle. The four big performances of the $2,500-plus prize round-up will begin each evening of the rodeo at 8:30 o'clock promptly, states Jesse Koonsman, Scurry County Rodeo Association president.

Officials of the rodeo association plan to make the eleventh annual edition of the Scurry County Rodeo one of the fastest paced round-ups in history. Contestants are already evidencing keen interest in the nine events of the big four-day show. The always colorful cowgirl sponsor contest promises to have more entries this year than ever before.

In addition to the hefty cash purse of $2,500 in prizes, as announced through placards and the official events, prize lists and rules, special merchant prizes will run well over $350. Since early announcement was made that Dewey Everett, Snyder contractor and stockman, and Billie Lee, local cattle chef and co-operator, will have the Lazy E Chuck Wagon at the rodeo, many contestants say they will depend on this diet for barbecued beef, chicken, son-of-a-gun and all the other good foods that help make a rodeo.

Four big dances will be held on nights of the eleventh annual boots and saddle round-up on the new platform at the rodeo grounds in Northeast Snyder.

Club House Will Be Placed at Snyder Country Club Site

Bids, it was stated at mid-week, will be let Monday evening for concrete foundation work for the club house purchased by the Snyder Country Club.

So states Elmer Taylor, Snyder Country Club president, who says the structure, 151 feet long and 26 feet wide, was purchased at Camp Barkley, Abilene. Better constructed than most of the buildings that have been coming through Snyder in recent weeks, the future club house was formerly a medical center building.

Country Club officials report the club house, when completed, will be one of the outstanding in this area. Various and sundry activities can be conducted at the club house, which will accommodate more people than country club houses in some other West Texas towns.

Casey Bishop's Arm Amputated Friday

Casey Bishop, son of Ross Bishop, had his right arm mangled so severely Friday morning, 8:00 o'clock, in a combine accident it was necessary Friday afternoon for a local hospital to amputate Casey's right arm just below the elbow.

Casey was at work on the Charlie Morrow place, it is reported, when the accident occurred. He was moving in to combine wheat on the Morrow place.

Casey's friends will be glad to know his condition was reported satisfactory Wednesday afternoon.

Only one new arrival at the Snyder General Hospital has been reported since the report in last week's Times: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rollins are entertaining a new baby girl, born June 29. The little lady, who weighed in at six pounds one ounce, has been named Sharon Ann.

NEW WILDCAT AT DUNN SET BY JOHN ODSTRCIL

3,200-Foot Cable Tool Test Slated To Get Underway Today—Polar Site Abandoned by Humble

"Hot spot" of the area this week is in South Central Scurry County, which is to receive a wildcat test by John Odstrcil of Snyder.

New wildcat for the county will be Odstrcil's No. 1 O. Farrar, 330 feet from the south and west lines of the southeast one-fourth of Section 193, Block 3, Houston & Great Northern Railroad Company Survey, and three miles southwest of Dunn.

The Dunn community wildcat project is contracted to 3,200 feet with cable tools. Test is scheduled to get underway today (Thursday). In the Polar Ellenburger pool of Southwestern Kent County, where Humble Oil & Refining Company has invested several hundred thousand dollars, Humble has abandoned location for the operator's No. 2 Jennie Boren, one-fourth of a mile to the west, which was completed several weeks ago for a small pumping production of oil, along with some water.

The Humble No. 2 Jennie Boren et al, a step-out from production, had almost stopped making oil, it is stated, and is now making practically all water.

Humble's No. 2 Jennie Boren was installed 1,980 feet from the south line and 600 feet from the east line of Section 46, Block 5, Houston & Great Northern Survey, and had been projected to around 7,900 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Snyder will be under lock and key Friday, July 4.

So reveals a survey by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, which reports all business firms contacted indicate they will close for observance of the Declaration of Independence, which was signed July 4, 1776.

Bill Schiebel, Chamber of Commerce manager, indicates a few essential business firms—like cafes and service stations—may remain open July 4, but all the major businesses of Snyder will close for independence celebrations.

Planned activities of Snyder and Scurry County people for July 4 vary—from attending the "Texas Cowboy Reunion" at Stamford to home picnics and jaunts to area fishing spots.

Plenty of Water On Hand as Area Towns Are Short

Snyder has plenty of water for use this summer. The good word is appreciated at this time, in view of the water shortages heralded last week at Rotan, Abilene and other area cities.

Snyder has boosted its water facilities by addition of six new wells. Only eight wells are on pump at present, but Snyder people have ample water for home, yard and garden use.

Completion recently of the city's new 300,000-gallon concrete reservoir in Southeast Snyder has done much, city officials state, to bolster Snyder water services.

Snyder is vitally interested in its water supplies these summer days, for the town is using approximately 500,000 gallons of water a day, J. S. Bradbury, city secretary, reports.

Walkup Sets Revival At Church of Christ

Bro. C. M. Walkup of Gould, Oklahoma, will occupy the pulpit for the revival at the Snyder Church of Christ, 1809 Avenue R, July 4 through July 13.

Williams Jewelry, west side of the square, Friday installed one of the latest in neon signs—a porcelain sign with name of the firm in soft letters, familiar diamond insignia of good jewelry stores, and a clock in the bottom portion that gives correct time day and night.

Manager Sam Williams says the sign is his store's bid to modernize the business section with color.

Evening services at the Snyder Church of Christ will begin at 8:00 o'clock church elders report.

INSTALLED PREXY OF THE Snyder Lions Club Tuesday evening for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 is Don Robinson, Snyder business man and operator of a tractor firm. President Robinson says the Snyder Lions Club has several worthy projects to begin the brand new year with.

RAINS IN AREA BRING MONTH'S FALL TO NORM

Spotted Showers Measuring up to Three Inches Fall Over County During Week-End

The Weatherman, leading out Monday with spotted rainfall for this area, gave Snyder 1.12 inches precipitation in slightly over one hour.

Monday afternoon's rain began at 3:15 o'clock, and rain that made the courthouse square look like part of the Gulf Coast for 30 minutes came from the southwest.

Monday afternoon's rain began at 3:15 o'clock, and rain that made the courthouse square look like part of the Gulf Coast for 30 minutes came from the southwest.

Portion of the Ira community received a quarter inch of rain, while some of the Dunn community tallied a three-quarter inch rain.

Hernleigh marked up a quarter of an inch moisture, while Inadale received over an inch rain, spiked with considerable hail.

The Camp Springs and Midway communities in eastern Scurry County were not in on Monday afternoon's showers, and reports from Flavanna indicate a light rain.

Snyder's June 23 tally of 1.12 inches precipitation brings the month's rainfall to date to 2.25 inches—a figure "on par" with previous years.

Attendance is slated to touch the 450 mark this (Thursday) evening, when formal charter presentation is made for the Snyder Rotary Club No. 6660 in a program at Snyder School auditorium.

First part of the evening program will be a barbecue that will get underway at 7:15 o'clock. Assembly in Snyder School auditorium is slated for 8:15 o'clock, Rotary members state.

Clyde South Is New Supervisor For SCS Zone 3

Clyde South, prominent farmer of the Camp Springs community, was elected new supervisor for Zone 3 of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District in an election held at Plainview School last Monday evening.

Election for naming a Zone 3 supervisor was called by Les Hill. Mr. South succeeds Giles W. Bowers, who has been a member of the board since the organization of the district in 1941.

In conjunction with the election held at Plainview Nolan von Roeder, member of the board of supervisors, showed three motion pictures, and Morrison Liston, district conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, showed slides on conservation and discussed the slides with attendants.

South recently completed a conservation plan outlining such practices as retiring poor land from cultivation and reseeding these areas to permanent grass, and constructing a fence through his pasture to allow better management and deferred grazing to improve pasture conditions.

The Camp Springs farmer also intends to try some Abuzzi rye as a winter cover and cash crop.

South has shown a great deal of interest in conservation, and will doubtless be very helpful to the people of the Upper Colorado District in promoting soil and water conservation.

Enlistments in Guard Await Federal Okay

Word late Wednesday reveals that Captain Dawson Moreland, commander of the Snyder National Guard unit, Troop A, 24th Cavalry (mechanized) is awaiting only federal recognition and acceptance of himself and two lieutenants before enlistments can be taken.

Considerable interest is being evidenced in the town's unit of the Texas National Guard—especially by young men eager to have sound military training. The city and county recently granted use of the NYA building, south of the city hall on 28th Street, to the guard troop.

Criswell Ranch Has Reunion Girl Sponsor

The Criswell Ranch of Northeast Scurry County registered this week as an entry in the cowgirl sponsor contest of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held July 2, 3 and 4 at Stamford. A. C. Bishop, chairman of the Cowboy Reunion sponsor committee, stated at mid-week. Other county entries are expected this week-end.

Feature of activities for cowgirl sponsors in the Texas Cowboy Reunion will be sponsor balls. Sponsors and escorts will be admitted free to the chuck wagon dinner at noon on July 4. Open dances will be held the nights of July 3 and July 4.

Just Bug Smoke

Snyder proved an unsafe city Tuesday night to put out bug spray.

It so happened that an alert official noticed Rainbow Market Place, east of the square on 25th Street, full of white smoke Tuesday night, 20 minutes until 11:00 o'clock, and since the "bug juice" resembled for all the world smoke from a fire, the old fire alarm was "clanked."

Snyder Volunteer Fire Department was right on the job, but what first appeared, several witnesses report, to be smoke from what could have been burning paper or woodwork, turned out, fortunately and thankfully, to be "good ole bug juice" that store personnel had used to spray the local grocery store with.

Midway Church To Be Dedicated In Sunday Rites

Attention of Scurry County people and people of western Fisher County who helped with the building fund is directed to dedication services that will be held Sunday for Midway Baptist Church, located 14 miles east of Snyder on U. S. Highway 180.

Prospects Bright For 60,000 Acres Planted in Cotton

Sunshine, following rainfall Monday afternoon, brightened the county's crop picture considerably, and with late replantings Scurry County is assured of more than 60,000 acres devoted to cotton for the 1947 crop year.

With cotton bringing more than 37 cents a pound, farmers are more than willing to take a chance with June cotton and "fight it out" with insects that may appear later in the season.

On the county's crop front farmers are keeping in close touch with Oscar Fowler, county agricultural agent, and close tab is being kept on scattered outbreaks of grasshoppers.

The county agent's office, in fact, is furnishing farmers with an approved grasshopper poison bait formula that is said to be making the hoppers bite the dust along fence rows and in the edge of cotton fields.

Approximately 4,000 acres of cotton and feed, especially cotton and feed in the Hernleigh, Ira, Dunn and Buford communities was sown and furrowed Friday and Saturday to keep crawling sand from "blowing out" cotton.

Despite sand furrowing, however, some 379 acres of cotton were reported killed by the sand over the week-end.

Stands of kaffir corn, hegarl and milo maize are reported excellent over the county.

Sudan, both sweet sudan and the common sudan planted here for years, is making good growth, and tap roots are said to be in the soil enough to permit "wrapping the sudan up" in cultivating.

Considerable cotton over Scurry County has been plowed the second time, and hoe hands are in demand. In conjunction with general farming operations, considerable acreage is being devoted to corn, peas, beans and other home garden crops.

Early cotton, for instance, is tasseling and beans are in many cases ready for the table.

Okra is another garden product that is finding favor with Scurry County families. Staple garden "fruits" such as radishes, onions, lettuce and English peas are becoming available locally in an increasing volume.

Housewives of Snyder and the county are canning berries and early plums. With sugar rationing at an end, home canning has been greatly simplified and made much easier.

Peaches are expected to ripen rapidly after June 25. Early July usually brings the peach trucks to town, and with this year's fine crop county housewives, reports reveal, will can a minimum pack of 250,000 jars of peaches and plums and other fruits.

Humble Well Drills At 7,000 Feet in Shale

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 C. J. Harrell, 10 miles east and slightly north of Snyder, was drilling Wednesday at the 7,000-foot level in shale and lime.

The Humble No. 1 Harrell, only Ellenburger test now drilling in the county, is located in Section 78 Block 2, H. & T. C. Survey.

Contract on the deep project in eastern Scurry County calls for 8,500 feet unless production is encountered previous to this depth.

Levelland Boosters Advertise Rodeo Here

Levelland Rodeo boosters, bringing along a string band several square dance couples and advertising matter on the Levelland Rodeo July 3, 4 and 5, rode into Snyder Monday morning, 11:30 o'clock, to give Scurry Countians an informal program.

Purse for the July 3-5 Levelland roundup will be $2,200 added money. Events will include saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bulldogging, bull riding, wild cow milking and ladies' junior and senior sponsor contest.

Didn't Run Down

Snyder and Scurry County women talked more Saturday than any day for 1947. Saturday rolled around as the longest day in the year, and a day marked by unusual weather. In areas of the county swept by rain and hail last week the sand blew considerably. Especially did the sand blow Saturday afternoon in the Dunn and Ira communities, where cotton sand furrowing was in full progress.

Dolores Dulin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dulin of Colorado City, became the bride of Surry Gillum, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gillum of Snyder, at the Snyder First Baptist Church parsonage Thursday, June 5.

Rev. J. William Mason, pastor of the Snyder First Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a pink linen suit fashioned with a fish-tail back. She wore white and brown accessories and carried a white Bible topped with white carnations.

Candles were lit by Miss Claudia Renfro, sister of the bride, and Miss Wade Harris.

Mrs. N. H. White played traditional wedding music and accompanied Martha Lou Henley, who sang "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Marshall Moore, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor and wore an aqua dress. She had an epaulet of pink carnations.

Lowden Swint of Abilene attended his brother as best man.

Mrs. R. A. Swint, mother of the bride, wore a navy dress. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a two-week honeymoon trip to the Carlsbad Caverns, Yellowstone National Park and other places of interest.

Mrs. Swint graduated with the 1944 class of Colorado City High School and has been employed the past four years by the W. L. Doss Drug Company at Colorado City.

Bridegroom is associated here with the Western Auto Store. He is a World War II veteran.

Wyatt joined Snyder's Company G, 142nd Infantry Regiment of the Texas National Guard, in 1939. He was mobilized with the Scurry County men and served with the crack 36th Division. Wyatt received his service discharge from the 36th Division with rank of sergeant.

Out-of-town attendants at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Worth Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwood Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Walls, J. C. Walls, Miss Dot Davis, Miss Etta Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stahl, Faxon Williams and Mrs. Earl Creswell, all of Snyder; Burgess Wilson of Midland; Mrs. R. L. Swint of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier of Hermleigh; Mrs. Gene Britton of Loring; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hermleigh Bible School Gives 44 Pupils Diplomas

Commencement program Saturday evening for the 44 children enrolled during the year at the Vacation Bible School conducted last week at Hermleigh Central Baptist Church.

Last week's Vacation Bible School was held under the direction of Rev. William O. McLeod, pastor, and his wife.

Hope Fargason played the processional as the students marched in with Carl Williams bearing the United States flag and Roger Bryant carrying the Christian flag and leading the march.

The children repeated pledges to each flag. Mrs. W. C. Fargason

Cotton Climbs to 37.40 During Past Week at Markets

"It will be of significant interest to Scurry, Borden and Fisher County farmers to note the spot price for middling 15-16 inch staple cotton in Dallas last Thursday was 37.40 cents a pound—an advance of 25 points from a week earlier."

So reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture Weekly Cotton Market Review, which follows:

The Commodity Credit Corporation announces it will purchase 20,000 bales more or less of cotton to be shipped to Korea.

Last Thursday's cotton price was highest since the market break of October, 1946. Prices for October futures continued at about five cents a pound under July futures.

Offerings were confined almost entirely to small lots in Texas and Southwest markets. Offerings generally were built around lower grades and shippers were reluctant to offer at present prices.

The cotton crop continued to make good progress during the week. In the Rio Grande Valley dry land cotton is badly in need of rain and restricted irrigation water threatens to lower production estimates.

Light to moderately heavy rains and showers were reported in scattered areas throughout the state and Oklahoma. Fields are generally clean, and some flea hopper and weevil infestations are reported.

Daily rate of cotton consumption, the review continues, was 38,500 bales. Unless consumption during remainder of June and July declines way below usual, total consumption for the season will be at least 10,000,000 bales.

Mrs. L. A. Scott of Dunn and three children, James, Joe and Cooke, returned over the week-end from a two-week vacation in Alabama. Mrs. Scott and children were accompanied home by a nephew, Charles Currie, of Scottsboro, Alabama.

Spears Attend Last Rites for C. C. Smyth Who Died Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. John Spears of Snyder attended funeral services last Monday afternoon at Guardian Funeral Chapel in Fort Worth for Carey C. Smyth, 70, father of J. C. Smyth, former Snyder newspaper man now at Liberty, and uncle of Willard Jones, Times publisher, who passed away early last Sunday at Wichita Falls of a heart attack.

Mr. Smyth had been in ill health several years. Interment was made in the Garden of Memories.

A native Texan, Mr. Smyth was a member of the Polytechnic Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Immediate survivors include the widow, Mrs. Daisy Smyth, of Fort Worth; an only daughter, Mrs. H. B. Reagan of Big Spring; four sons, J. C. Smyth of Liberty, George and Byron H. Smyth of Fort Worth and Lee Smyth of Abilene; and five grandchildren.

J. W. Skipworth, Snyder contractor, spent Sunday at Lamesa.

LaTrice Roper and George Ramage Wed

Announcement is made this week of the marriage June 15, 7:30 o'clock, at the home in North Snyder by Rev. Earl Creswell, of La Trice Roper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Roper, and George C. Ramage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Ramage.

Only two close friends attended the couple for the exchange of marriage vows.

The bride was a popular member of the 1944 graduating class of Snyder High School, where she was a member of the HE Club and was active in literary events.

Ramage attended Lamesa Schools and was active in athletics and track events. He is now employed by the Texas Public Utilities Corporation.

The couple will make their home in North Snyder.

Mrs. Ruth J. Crow, 90-year-old mother of Mrs. Simon Best of Snyder, succumbed Saturday morning, 10:55 o'clock, at the East Snyder home of her daughter following a period of failing health.
Mrs. Crow fell in 1943 and injured her hip. She had been bedfast for four years, but maintained a cheery spirit and showed remarkable vigor, friends say, for a woman of her years.
Mrs. Crow was born October 22, 1856—five years before the Civil war began—in South Carolina.
Funeral services for Mrs. Crow were held Monday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, at the Snyder First Methodist Church. Rev. H. W. Hanks, pastor, officiated.
Active pallbearers were Henry Gale, Wylie Lyde, Etheridge Strickland, Ed Crowder, Tom Jones and Albert Buchanan.
Honorary pallbearers as named by the family were: Ernest Taylor, Edzar Taylor, Arnold Honey, Walter Wells, Cub Murphy, Leamon Land, Vernie Head, Clyde Thomas, Will Tate, Tom Colwell, George Morton, Tinsley Rainwater, Fulton Strickland A. J. Riley, Tommy Sterling and John Jones.
Mmes. Wylie Lyde, Etheridge Strickland, Bill Gale and Henry Gale were in charge of floral offerings.
Mrs. Crow is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Simon Best of Snyder, Mrs. Mirrie Martin of Uvalde, Mrs. Lucy Maxwell of Prescott, Arizona, Mrs. Lula Gale of Colorado City, Mrs. Bula Lewis of Post and Mrs. Jessie McMurren of Cornville, Arizona; 28 grandchildren and 42 great-grandchildren.

A NEW SUMMER FLOCK SERVICE

So many flock owners have asked us to do production culling of their flocks during the Summer, we have worked out a service plan for those who wish to use it. All work will be done by men licensed for this work and who have been trained at the state college.

HERE ARE THE LOW COSTS TO YOU:

Production Culling—2c per Bird*

If you wish us to delouse your birds, or worm them, or spray your hen house while we are at your place, we will do that, too.

- * Delousing birds.....1c each
- * Deworming bird.....1c each
- * Spraying hen house.....1c per square foot

(A minimum charge of $2 per flock will be made, should total service fees run less than $2)

NOTE—The above service will get rid of your culls, put your flock in good shape for the summer and save you money on feed, but it is independent from the regular blood testing, leg banding and culling which we do to our hatching egg flocks in the fall at the regular price.

BARBSON
Authentic
Statement
By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., June 20—This is no time to make forecasts as to business in 1948. Personally, I think it will be better than most people predict; but when it comes to net earnings, after taxes, I fear they will aggregate less in 1948 than in 1947. The year 1947 should see the tops for such net earnings for most of the large corporations. With the public pressing from above for lower prices, with labor and taxes pressing from below causing higher costs, the net earnings of most companies are sure to shrink.

Commodities are beginning to crack due to competition. Only parity legislation is holding up farm prices at the present time. Even the farmers themselves know that their present honeymoon will come to an end. Moreover, wages have not yet stabilized. Certain groups are entitled to further increases and will get them; but workers' efficiency will soon begin to improve. When we know some idle man is waiting for our job, we will speed up and give a dollar of work for a dollar received.

Real estate, with the exception of distressed sales, should remain at about present levels for some time further, although there has been a slowing up in real estate sales. Inflation has always been in operation over long periods. The recent inflation epidemic has about reached its climax for the present. The next move within a few years will be toward deflation, followed later by further inflation. The price breaks which started in with the fish industry a year ago are now threatening real estate and commodities.

Stock Market: If wages, commodities, real estate, etc.—based on the money in circulation—are entitled to stabilize at around 50 to 100 per cent above 1932, as the fiscal authorities claim, the stock market is entitled to do likewise. Therefore, when wondering whether to buy or sell any stock, it is wise to look up the price average in 1932-33 and add 50 to 100 per cent. Moreover, it should be remembered that stock prices depend more on earnings than on reproduction costs.

The next depression will be brought about by one of the wheels of the business machine cracking. This will stop the entire machine for the time being. Perhaps the racking wheel will be farm prices; perhaps foreign trade; perhaps labor unions; and perhaps government finance. It seems too bad that a depression seems to be necessary once in a while, but such is required in order to awaken in people the desire to work and produce to their best ability. If you will read the preface of my book, "Fighting Business Depressions," published in 1933 by Harper & Brothers, New York, you will see I then forecast on the fly leaf that the next severe depression would come between 1950 and 1955.

The greatest danger of a depression comes through forced distressed sales in commodities, real estate, stocks and even labor. The greatest service which any employer or inventor can render is to store up cash now in times like these in order to help out when these latter distressed transactions appear. For very additional person doing this, future distressed quotations will be less severe. Moreover, the investor or employer will be very highly rewarded for his foresight.

Small business men especially should beware of the squalls ahead even though we may have one or more years of good business. In times of depression, the big squall fortunately comes upon those able to bear it. This especially applies to the 400,000 returning veterans who have recently started small businesses. Those who are out of debt and have sufficient capital to carry them through a bad period could weather the gale; but I fear at the majority will fold up. Competition is bound to be very severe after the demand for goods as once been filled. Too many concerns have gone into manufacturing new products or products which they have never manufactured before. This means a glutted market some day in autos, refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, deep freezers, etc.—products for which people are now clamoring. This over-production, coupled with increasing unemployment, will surely result in lower earnings for most companies in 1948 even though gross sales may still hold up.

County People Plan To Hear Bass Wright

Several Scurry County people plan to attend the concert Monday evening, June 30, 8:00 o'clock, to be given by William Wright, popular s-baritone, who will be presented at Hardin-Simmons University in Waco.

4-H Club Slogan Featuring Rural Home Additions

"Improve Rural Life by Making Home Surroundings More Comfortable Convenient and Attractive."

This is the slogan of rural youth in Scurry, Borden and other counties taking part in the 1947 National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification awards program.

The activity, local Texas Extension Service personnel report, is being conducted under direction of the Extension Service in Texas and 41 other states.

Purpose is to encourage 4-H'ers to make and keep home surroundings attractive by correctly planting and caring for lawns, flowers, shrubs and trees; removing unsightly objects from yards, and painting buildings and fences.

As incentives for superior home landscaping records, merit awards are donated by Mrs. Charles R. Walgren of Chicago for the tenth consecutive year. Awards comprise silver medals, gold watches and Chicago 4-H Club Congress trips, on county, state and national levels, respectively.

Last year county winners were named in Castro, Comal, Fort Bend, Frio, Grimes, Hall, Hardeman, Howard, Harris, Jones, Moore, Nolan, Somervell, Wood, Cameron, Camp and Sabine Counties.

The state winner in 1946 was Floyd Thomas Terrell of Plainview. Oscar Fowler, county agent, and Mrs. Estella Strayhorn, county home demonstration agent, will provide information and suggestions for carrying on this activity and helping 4-H Club members in reaching its objectives.

Area Women Fly to Canada to Visit Kin

Mrs. B. F. Womack of Snyder and Mrs. Bobbie Willingham, pioneer resident of the Hobbs community in western Fisher County, left by plane Wednesday for a two-month vacation with relatives in Canada.

Mrs. Womack and Mrs. Willingham left Amarillo by plane. The trip required nine hours.

The Snyder and Hobbs women have not seen their brothers or sisters in 44 years. Their family, the W. B. Heesters, left Scurry County in 1903.

SIMPLE, ALL-FAITH services marked the burial of 63 unidentified victims of Texas City's April 16-17 waterfront disaster.

These services were held Sunday. Identical caskets were lowered into trench-like graves at a one-acre Memorial Cemetery four miles north of the scene of the explosion and fire catastrophe, that was one of the worst in the United States.

Texas Milk Industry In Enormous Growth In Last 20 Years

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, endorsing the observance of June as National Dairy Month, Wednesday released a statement congratulating area dairymen on the remarkable progress they have made in the past few years.

"It is gratifying to note that where 20 years ago there were no evaporated milk, powdered milk or cheese plants in Texas, now this state produces all six of the major dairy products: Buttermilk, ice cream, butter, evaporated milk, cheese and powdered milk."

Dr. Cox points out that last year Texas made 25,396,000 pounds of butter, 13,699,000 pounds of cheese and over 30,000 gallons of ice cream.

"Milk is our most nearly perfect food," Dr. Cox says. "It is rich in proteins, vitamins A and G, and the minerals calcium and phosphate."

"The State Health Department is indeed glad to join with the Texas dairymen in celebrating June as

Private First Class Adolph Mraz, 18, who is in service with a signal battalion in Tokyo, Japan, could not make graduation exercises at Hermleigh High School on May 30, his alma mater, but he received his high school graduation diploma anyway.

A classmate of Adolph's, Bobbie Sims, who is Cardinal sports editor, mailed the diploma to the mother of Adolph, who lives at Texas City, Mrs. Ed Mraz of 209 11th Avenue North, Texas City.

Although he is half-way around the world from Hermleigh, Adolph sends greetings to his classmates of Hermleigh High, and also to J. T. Bryant, superintendent, and A. L. Kerby, high school principal.

Bond-a-Month Plan Urges Sale In June and July

Forest Sears, chairman of the Scurry County War Savings Bond Committee, is this week urging full cooperation in the U. S. treasury June-July bond promotion sales.

Scurry County has been assigned a dollar objective of $35,000 in the drive—in which the purchase of a bond a month is being emphasized. The payroll savings plan is a partial payment plan that accumulates from pay day to pay day.

In the present campaign introduction is being made of the bond-a-month for bank depositors. Under this plan, Sears says, efforts will be made to reach all professional men and women, self-employed persons and small business men. The depositor who participates authorizes the bank to issue bonds to him or her monthly, charging the purchase price against his checking account and delivering the bonds to the buyer.

Sears asks those who wish more information to contact him on the bond-a-month plan or Snyder National Bank.

Meeting July 5 To Outline Plans To Area Farmers

All the Seven-Step Cotton Program has meant to Scurry County farmers since the program was initiated in 1945 will be taken up in a county-wide meeting, which will be held Saturday afternoon, July 5, 3:00 o'clock, in the county courtroom.

So announces Oscar Fowler, county agent, who says attendance should exceed all past tallies. The county has 1,452 farmers who should be vitally interested in the July 5 county-wide meeting.

Not only will Scurry County farmers be interested in the July gathering in the county court room, but the National Cotton Association, Texas Extension Service, textile mills and all county cotton ginneries are interested in the meet.

Purpose of the forthcoming county-wide meeting, Fowler says, is to take up the Seven-Step Cotton Program, as applicable for the remainder of 1947, for Scurry County.

Some phases of the program have already been met, such as selection of planting (and replanting) seed, acreage devoted to cotton, etc.

Control of cotton insects, grading and 1947 cotton marketing will constitute three of the major business issues to be faced July 5, it is stated.

Among out-of-town speakers at the cotton gathering will be Robert Stern of the Abilene office, Production and Marketing Administration.

In conjunction with business sessions County Agent Fowler will show a motion picture, "We Who Grow Cotton."

Considerable stress at the gathering will be devoted to a program as it affects individual economy on quality of cotton produced and the staple lengths preferred by cotton buyers.

The Smith-Doxey Act, under which farmers of Scurry and neighboring counties receive free cotton classification and free market reports, forms one of the "keystone planks" of the Seven-Step Cotton Program, it is stated.

According to a tabulation by the cotton classification department, Abilene office of the Production and Marketing Administration, 703 Scurry County members last year took advantage of free cotton grading and news service under the Smith-Doxey Act.

"And in 1946, additional figures reveal, Scurry County farmers devoted 47,400 acres to one-variety cotton. Planting of one variety cotton, with resultant point premiums in sales, is regarded as highly important, too."

The Abilene office, to which county cotton samples go for free grading and classing, sampled 19.5 per cent of the cotton produced in Scurry County. Scurry County in 1946 produced 16,880 bales of cotton, according to the PMA.

Cotton graded from the county's 1946 crop at Abilene breaks down as follows:

Strict middling 43 per cent
Middling 13.9 per cent
Strict low middling 43.7 per cent
Low middling 11.0 per cent
Strict good ordinary 14 per cent

County farmers are keenly interested, crop observers state, in bringing the grades of county cotton up especially in the middle brackets of the above paragraph.

Naturally, sectors of the county being hailed and rained out at the last moment of the planting season has altered the kind of cottonseed a few farmers had to use, but taking "up the slack" in fall supplies of better planting seed, and looking enough of such seed to insure better breed of cotton each crop year will be discussed at the Seven-Step Cotton Program meeting.

Not only are producers, ginners and cotton buyers asked to attend the July 5 conclave, but all business and professional persons interested in more farm income per year for each of Scurry County's 1,452 farmers.

W. R. Shultz Honored On His 81st Birthday

Sunday proved a red letter day for W. R. Shultz of North Snyder, for not only did he celebrate his eighty-first birthday but the children gathered to surprise the long-time county resident with an informal family reunion.

Mr. Shultz reached his eighty-first birthday Friday, but members of the family decided to make the event an observance for Sunday with an old-fashioned reunion.

After Sunday's birthday dinner, picture taking was in order during the afternoon.

Those present for the happy occasion were: Mrs. J. L. Painter, daughter and two sons of Dallas, Nina Ford and Beulah Ford, W. E. Shultz and family of Clovis, New Mexico; J. J. Shultz of Preopert; Ted Graham and family of Colorado City; and Mrs. Marvin West of Taft.

Kathleen Norris Says: The More Than Ever Glorious Fourth

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"In the school yard they are budy and handsome little Americans, and it's hard to tell them apart."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE birthday of American independence comes along at this time of year, and gives us a chance to consider, as we never have in all our 171 years before, what an extraordinary thing it is to be an American.

We started something new in the world at Yorktown in 1776, and this new thing called independence and freedom and liberty and human rights goes on getting bigger and more remarkable all the time. World events have left us today on a national eminence that nobody could have foreseen when our forefathers, in courage and trepidation and high vision, staked their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor upon our beginnings.

The great countries of Europe, even after all their hundreds of years of statecraft, lie in the dust, some not to rise again. However clever they were, they didn't know how to unite, to work together, to stave off catastrophe.

But the despised republic across the water, our own America, somehow has grasped the secret, kept the peace in her own hemisphere without fear or force, and welded Jew and gentile, brown and white and black, Dutch, Irish, Italian, Russian, and all the languages, backgrounds, religions of all these hundred peoples, into the strongest and happiest race in the world. The richest, yes—and not alone in money. The strongest—yes, and not alone in arms. But rich in homes, in gardens, in quiet country towns, in libraries, churches, schools, hospitals, in colleges and country clubs, swimming pools and tennis courts, and strong in children free and joyous and unafraid.

Just Americans Now.

On the school roster they may be O'Brien and Hagenstrom, Levy and Mjehovich, Bianchi and Hago-pian. But out in the school yard, yelling like Indians, in their middie blouses, sweaters, caps, buckskin shoes and turned-up jeans, they are all hardy and handsome little Americans, and it's hard to tell them apart.

America's children never have known either want or fear. Sometimes our foreign-born citizens have felt these things for a while, but for nine-tenths of our children, the rule of life is a rule that to Europe today would be one of unimaginable luxury. Homes where light and warmth and full meals are taken for granted, protected lives in home and school and street; movies, cones, cokes, funnies. To few American children are rides in a motor car a rare treat. To few American children are new shoes, warm beds, filling meals matters of miracle.

These are things to think about on Fourth of July. Why to us of all the nations of the world, should Washington and Jefferson and Lincoln have been given as leaders?

Isn't it possible that our way of life is the best? We made great promises, 171 years ago. We've not kept them all, but we've come nearest. Other nations have made great promises, before and since ours. Some of them never were anything but empty words. Some of them will remain forever promises, bright will-of-the-wisp dreams of freedom and plenty held at the point of a gun before the ignorant eyes of slaves.

"They have cones, cokes and funnies."

Britain Accepts Equal Pay for Women 'in Principle'

The British Government has accepted the principle of equal pay for women in industry, but will not put the policy into effect immediately.

Government speakers said that the government could not take on additional burdens until it had a clearer picture of the revenue situation and the effects of last February's fuel crisis. It was also said that widespread application of the equal-pay policy would have a dan-

SPIRIT OF THE U. S. A.

Two years after the close of World War II most of the nations of the world appear to be worse off than during the conflict. They are sunk in poverty, hungry, shabby and sick at heart. Political turmoil, hopelessness and fear of the future beset them.

By contrast, the United States of America is almost a paradise. We are all well fed, well dressed and have many luxuries. We have freedom to go and come, to do and say what we please. These rights are worth far more than our great national wealth.

On this anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, 171 years ago, Miss Norris takes stock of the magnificent heritage of all Americans. One of the greatest achievements of this country was the fusing of many peoples and traditions in a unity that we call the American spirit. This spirit, animating us through the years, has made us the most free, the strongest, richest, happiest people on earth.

We've got plenty of little rotten spots in our make up, and it seems to one American at least that it is our job to clean them up, before attacking the job of managing the world.

Room for Improvement.

But on the great picture of homes, gardens, schools, amusements, changes, these spots are small. They do not seriously mar the picture any one of us can see if he can get a few weeks' vacation and travel across the country.

He will come to not one but scores of sky-scraping towns whose factories have raised the standard of domestic comfort for all the world. He will come to scores, but to hundreds of prosperous towns, where women are buying meat and fruit from stacked markets, where children are running to big, airy schools, where corner lots stage weekly ball games, and little libraries everywhere keep books moving. Where movies are crowded, and people stand in line in restaurants, and banks bulge with the savings of quiet inconspicuous folk. He will see enormous hospitals, gymnasiums, parks, beaches, all strung along shining highways and over great mountain chains.

And he will see one flag blowing over them all, from ocean to ocean, the flag that speaks today of help and brotherhood to all the suffering world.

New Hope in Cancer

An old Indian remedy, podophyllin from mandrake or May-apple root, is science's newest potential anti-cancer weapon.

The remedy's cancer-killing action in test-tube experiments was reported by Drs. Richard A. Ormsbee and Ivor Cornman of the Sloan-Kettering Institute, New York.

A laboratory accident like that which led to discovery of penicillin led the Sloan-Kettering group to their discovery.

Scientists at National Cancer Institute started investigating podophyllin because it was known to be a mitotic poison. This means that it stops mitosis, the process by which growing cells divide into new cells. Their hope was that it would destroy cancer by stopping the cell division process of the wildly growing cancer cells. Injecting it into mice that had cancers, they found that it does damage the cancers.

The main concern now is whether podophyllin will prove too poisonous for use in human cancer.

The Times' Weekly Page of World News in Pictures

CLEAR CASE OF THE JITTERS . . . New York subway riders who wonder every evening whether the subways will be running to take them to work in the morning can take consolation from this picture of two officials of the New York transport workers union who appeared on the verge of hysteria as they presented demands for higher pay. Fingernail chews is Austin Hogan and to the right is Mike Quill, president of the TWU.

MAN OF ACHIEVEMENT . . . "Worker Father of the Year" is an appellation any father might well envy, so John Van Hoose of Richmond, Ky., can be excused for showing a little pardonable pride over being given that honor by the national Father's Day committee. Van Hoose, shown here being interviewed by two ladies of the press, is the father of 15 living children and the grandfather of an additional 15.

PATIENCE ON A PORCH ROOF . . . Scenes such as this one which occurred at Ottumwa, Iowa, were common for a time throughout the vast flooded areas of the Middlewest. Hardest hit city, however, was Ottumwa where thousands of persons were driven from their homes when the Des Moines river overflowed its banks to inundate most of the town. Along the Mississippi, farm lands were flooded from Keokuk, Iowa, down to St. Louis.

ASKS MORE PAY . . . Engaging in serious discussion of money matters are (left to right) Secretary of State George C. Marshall; Sen. Styles Bridges (Rep. N. H.), chairman of the senate appropriations committee, and William Benton, assistant secretary of state. Marshall asked the committee to restore all but five million of the 50-million-dollar house cut in state department funds which he said should not be whittled down at this particular time.

ACCUSED . . . Charged by American authorities with committing "outrageful" atrocities against captured prisoners of war in Japan, Tomoya Kawakita, American-born Japanese, was arrested in Los Angeles for treason. An American soldier whom Kawakita is said to have mistreated recognized him and put G-men on his trail.

TO HEAD MISSION . . . Dwight P. Griswold, former Republican governor of Nebraska, has been named by President Truman to head U. S. mission to administer American aid to hard-pressed Greece.

MINISTER . . . This picture of Selden Chapin, minister-delegate to Hungary, was taken as he entered the White House for a visit with President Truman, and probably to talk about Hungary.

BROTHERHOOD . . . Radio songstress Kate Smith received 1947 American brotherhood arts and sciences citations for her work. The award was given by the National Conference of Christian and Jews.

HOOVER REPORTS . . . FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover was called before senate judiciary committee to explain why FBI's investigation of primary election fraud in Kansas City was not carried to completion.

WORLD CAPITAL TO RISE HERE . . . Striking aerial view shows the section of New York—midtown Manhattan—where the world capital, headquarters of the United Nations, is scheduled to rise on the site donated by John D. Rockefeller and New York City. The site, as outlined, runs from 42nd street to 49th street and from First avenue to the East river. View is looking east.

SO IT'S NOT IMPOSSIBLE . . . There was a great flurry of brushes and pigment as 100 painters in Salt Lake City ganged up on a two-story, seven-room house and painted it—including trimming for windows, eaves and doors—in nine minutes and seven seconds. The stunt was part of the civic beautification program for Utah's centennial celebration and it resulted in a new record for a fast brush-off.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA . . . Lord Inverchapel, British ambassador to the United States, and his young American farm friend, Roger Newburn, got together again at the latter's farm home near Eagle Grove, Iowa. It was the diplomat's second visit to the Newburn home since he met Roger while the lad was on a 4-H tour in Washington, D. C., a year ago. Lord Inverchapel spent three days with the Newburn family while on a speaking tour through Nebraska and Iowa. Here, the ambassador examines an ear of famous Iowa corn.

HEROINE . . . Maria Van Marcke, 23-year-old Belgian girl who was decorated for heroism by the U. S. army during invasion of Antwerp, arrives in New York as hostess on Belgian airlines plane. She was a member of the Belgian underground forces and received her army decoration for guiding an advance party of American troops into the Antwerp dock area under enemy fire.

TOP MAN . . . With the Communist coup in Hungary gathering momentum, Vice Premier Matthias Rakosi, Communist chief, is regarded as the real ruler of the country, which has turned a violent Red.

JAPAN'S DEMOCRATIC LEADER . . . Clad in a kimono and looking extremely benevolent, as befits his office, Teiso Katayama, new prime minister of the Japanese democratic government, is shown with his wife in the backyard of their home in Tokyo. The Katayamas, parents of two daughters and a son, have not yet moved to the official residence which Japan provides for the comfort of its premiers.

TEXANS in WASHINGTON

This is one of a series of articles prepared for The Times on Texas members of Congress in Washington, in which the backgrounds of the representatives in the national capital are presented. Read the entire series from week to week.

Washington, June 20 (A)—Texas Panhandle Congressman Eugene Worley of Shamrock typifies the people in his section of the state.

He's tall and rangy, easy-going and friendly. One of the younger members at 38, he already is far up the line in seniority with six years' service. He is a lawyer by profession, but his main interest here has been agriculture. His principal legislative assignment is on the House agriculture committee.

Worley was born "not far across the line," at Lone Wolf, Oklahoma, but moved to add: "I moved my parents over into Texas when I got into knee pants." After finishing public school in Shamrock he hitch-hiked to College Station and enrolled in Texas A. & M. College in the fall of 1927. He helped finance his way there waiting tables, driving the school's fire truck and doing various odd jobs. About that time he decided he wanted to be a lawyer, so he laid out of school for a year to work and save up money to go to the University of Texas. He made $15 a week as a combination reporter and advertising salesman for the local newspaper in Shamrock.

"When I struck out down the road hitch-hiking to Austin the next year," he recalls, "I had exactly $25 in my pockets."

He may not have improved his financial standing much during that year out of school, but the experience he gained stood him in well. He immediately got a job selling advertising for the Daily Texan, the university's newspaper. He did so well that he got the job the next year as advertising manager of the university's annual, "The Cactus." Commissions earned in that capacity during the next four years paid his expenses.

Working as an advertising salesman also gave him a lot of contacts with the public, and led to his getting a job as clerk for one of the committees of the state legislature for four months in 1932. This came a keen interest in politics, and in 1934, while still a student, he ran for state representative and was elected.

Doubling as a legislator and student, he managed to earn a living and accumulate experience and knowledge, but not a degree. He amassed far more hours of credit than necessary, but was always taking courses in varied subjects that interested him and omitting one or two that were required.

Passing the Texas bar examination in 1936, Worley went back home in Shamrock and "hung out his shingle."

In 1937 he married Miss Ann Spivy of Bonham, whom he met while they were students at the university. His sights were leveled on Congress abruptly, when President Roosevelt in 1940 announced the appointment of the then Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo to be a federal judge on the U. S. Court of Claims here.

Eleven other men in that big 28-county district had the same idea. Worley came out on top in a run-off primary, but not without a strenuous campaign which saw bands of high school youngsters and others supporting him with banners reading "Mr. Worley Goes to Washington," a take-off on a movie of that time.

Entering the House January 3, 1941, when trouble abroad was threatening to engulf this country, Worley promised his constituents that if he ever voted for war he would enlist.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz tells the story of Worley's calling him at 2:00 a. m. on December 8, after news of the Pearl Harbor attack, asking to get into the Navy. Nimitz was at his office in the Navy Department.

The influence of his fellow Texan must have helped. Worley was soon in the Navy and out in the Pacific. He was in Australia on the day of his 1942 primary election victory, when friends had put his name up as a candidate. He was the last of several congressmen to return to Washington after President Roosevelt had directed that the legislators then in the armed forces come back to their duties as lawmakers.

Worley was in Hawaii when his first child, Gene, was born August 14, 1942. He has a daughter, Morgan, born July 11, 1946, and named after Mrs. Worley's father, Morgan Spivy.

The congressman lives with his family in a three-bedroom apartment in the Buckingham development in nearby Arlington, Virginia, where several other Texas legislators make their Washington home. He drives a Buick sedan and shares rides to work in a car pool with his colleagues.

Worley is a Methodist and a 32nd degree Mason.

Mrs. Malaprop.

Two stenographers were airing their troubles: "I'd like to get a divorce. My husband lives in Ohio and I'm here and we don't get along." "Why don't you sue him for incompatibility?" asked the other sympathetically. "I would if I could catch him at it."

IT'S SACK-RILEGE that so many cotton sacks are going to waste in Scurry and other counties when they can be transformed into such beautiful articles of wear and household utility. This dress worn by Lena Lela Ann Howard of near Memphis, Tennessee, and the covering for the telephone stool on which she sits were both created from ordinary cotton bags.

Poliomyelitis Now Believed Due to Respiratory Ills

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, issues the following statements and suggestions to Snyder area people concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in certain sections of the state.

It was generally believed at one time that this infection was transmitted primarily by discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis may be another of the several gastro-intestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must include clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate house flies, mosquitoes and rodents to destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems, and secure safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is necessary to install and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained those pools should be closed to the public.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from filth and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the state law concerning sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation, should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitation standards.

Approved milk supplies, rodent control measures, high sanitation standards and strict personal hygiene are all important. Polio cases should be quarantined for 14 days and excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery. Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

Fifty-eight per cent of all farms in the United States have automobiles; 13.4 per cent have motor trucks; and 13.3 per cent have tractors.

Gems of Thought

ONE of the illusions of life is that the present hour is not the critical, decisive hour. Every day is the best day in the year.

Life doesn't consist of the abundance of things you possess, but in grasping your many opportunities of being of service to others.

Unlike other things, words gain with every weighing.

Summer Fruits and Berries Tell Us That It's Jam Time

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Breaded Pork Chops
- Applesauce
- Candied Sweet Potatoes
- Vegetable Salad
- Butterscotch Pudding
- Beverage

To make jams or jellies, select ripe berries and pick them over carefully so you will have no sour or bitter taste in the jam. Wash the berries thoroughly before working with them.

Although it's the fruit or vegetable that keeps us going on the job from day to day with its vitamins and minerals, it's the luscious fruit jams, butters or preserves that lift meals from the humdrum to the elegant. So, homemakers, plan to add delight to next winter's meals.

If you need a further excuse to make them, you may consider them from an economy standpoint, for jam on the bread or roll will not take nearly as much of the expensive spreads. Fruits and berries, this season, are among the best, and are really very reasonable in price compared to what they have been previously.

When you make jam, jelly, butter or conserve, make a small batch. This takes less time and allows for less failure. Cooking in small quantity also saves the color of the fruit, and appearance is as important in jam as in its eating quality.

If you want some good spreads for next winter, make fruit and berry butter, as these do not take as much sugar as some of the other:

- Blueberry-Apple Butter.
- 2 quarts blueberries
- 2 quarts apple pulp
- 2 quarts sugar
- 1 tablespoon ground spices

Wash and slice tart apples. Add water to cover and cook until soft. Press through a sieve and measure. Boil apple pulp, blueberries, sugar and spices until thick. Pour hot into sterile jars and process 10 minutes in a hot water bath.

Cantaloupe-Peach Conserve.

- 4 cups diced cantaloupe
- 4 cups diced peaches
- 6 cups sugar
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 cup blanched almonds
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Cook cantaloupe and peaches together for 20 minutes. Add sugar and lemon juice; boil rapidly until thick. Add nutmeg, nuts and salt. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars and seal at once with paraffin.

Elderberry Jam.

Wash, stem and measure, then slightly crush the berries. Add 2 tablespoons vinegar and 3 cups sugar to each quart of berries. Boil until thick and pour into hot sterile jars. Seal at once.

Concord Grape and Plum Jam. (Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)

- 4 cups prepared fruit
- 7 cups sugar
- 1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, slip skins from 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe grapes. Bring pulp to a boil and simmer, covered, for 5 minutes. Remove seeds by putting through a sieve. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Pit, but do not peel, about 1 1/2 pounds of fully ripe damson plums. Cut into small pieces and crush thoroughly. Add 1/4 cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 15 minutes. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into a large saucepan, filling up last

LYNN SAYS: Keep on Your Toes When Making Jelly

How do you know when jelly meets specifications? It is clear, tender and sparkling. It has retained its fresh fruit or berry flavor; it holds its shape when turned from the glass, but is soft enough to be spread with a knife.

For jelly it's preferable to use containers that have a wide enough mouth from which to slip the jelly on a plate.

To make a natural jelly, the fruit or berry must contain acid and pectin, the jelling substance. A good and balanced proportion of these as well as the sugar you add will give the fruit its jelling qualities.

Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes, to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly and top with paraffin at once.

Blackberry Jam.

- 4 1/2 cups prepared fruit
- 6 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit: Crush completely, one layer at a time, about 2 quarts of fully ripe blackberries. If desired, sieve half of pulp to remove some of the seeds. Measure berries into large saucepan.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and add hot side. Place saucepan with fruit over fire. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

True marmalades are really soft fruit jellies, and are wonderful to use for spreads when lunch box problems come up during fall and winter. Have a few choice jars on hand to take care of the situation.

Cherry-Raspberry Conserve.

- 3 cups pitted cherries
- 1 cup chopped pineapple
- 1 cup raspberry pulp
- 4 cups sugar

Run cherries and pineapple through food chopper. Add raspberries which have been thoroughly crushed, and sugar. Heat slowly until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until thick. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

When you make jam or jelly, it's a good idea to check and prepare the jars in advance. Get some help with the fruit or berries, if it's at all possible.

Have all ingredients measured out before you start cooking, as you will have to be right on the spot to watch out for scorching. With these tips in mind, the preparation will take on a simplicity you never dreamed possible.

Cherry Marmalade.

- 2 oranges
- 1 quart pitted cherries
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 1/2 cups sugar

Run oranges through food chopper. Cover with water and boil until soft. Cool. Add cherries, lemon juice and sugar. Boil to jelling point. Pour into jars and top with paraffin at once.

Raspberry-Currant Marmalade.

- 2 quarts raspberries
- 1 quart currants
- 9 cups sugar

Measure berries and currants after stemming and cleaning. Crush currants. Cook slowly until juice flows freely. Add raspberries and heat slowly to boiling. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Boil rapidly to jelling point. Pour quickly into hot, sterile jars and seal with paraffin at once.

Note: The currants are cooked longer than the raspberries because they are more firm and do not lose color as quickly as the more delicate fruit.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Test for acid by tasting. If it lacks, add some lemon juice. Fully ripe fruits make the tastiest jellies, but most of these have insufficient pectin to make jelly. It is best to use one-half ripe berries and one-half not-so-ripe ones.

If you like a spiced jelly, drop a bag of mixed spices into the juice while it is first cooking.

Use wide-bottomed pans for cooking the jelly so that the juice will cook quickly and not lose too much of its color while cooking.

To make mint jelly, use apple juice cooked with a few sprigs of fresh mint. Add a few drops of green coloring to the juice after it has been extracted.

If you do not have enough sugar to make jelly now, extract the juice from fruits and store it unsugared in jars (processed by hot water bath) until such time as you do have sugar.

It is unnecessary to buy the best quality fruit for jelly. The culls and overripe fruit are cheaper, and make as good a finished product.

2 Seconds To Go!

By NORMAN S. BORTNER

I WONDERED why I shouldn't let Carl Bullard drown. It wasn't that I hated him. He was a nice enough fellow. Just a boy, of course, and too sentimental and too soft and too rich. If only he hadn't married Constance, I'd have saved him in half a minute, but for that... Instead, I watched the water swirl over his head—and wondered.

No one could know what I had done—that I had killed him almost as much as if I had pushed him down and held him under the surface.

How could they ever know? I was quiet and still on the edge of the pier with my feet dangling in the cool water and a cigarette between my fingers. Behind me sat Carl Bullard, wife talking calmly with some of her guests, and behind her the shore-line of Carl Bullard's land stretched away serene and smooth to Carl Bullard.

She would have married me if things had gone right. They hadn't, though. I thought a year in Buenos Aires—at an unbelievable salary—would give me my start. Instead of that, three years in Buenos Aires and amazing bad luck at any and all forms of gambling gave me a taste for living and little to live on.

There had been letters between us, the first few months. "Gee, I miss you, Connie. Wish my year was up." "I miss you too, Alek. Seems like a year already. Keep writing often."

But the letter slowed down after a while, and then stopped altogether. My fault, I know. I couldn't keep lying to her about the money. I was supposed to be saving it.

It was well in my second year that I heard she'd been married. The news filtered down to me one way or another. I didn't mind, then. I had other diversions.

Three years is a long time. Almost as long as it was taking Carl Bullard to reach the yellow sand. He was near it, now, and not clearly outlined. Just a slow-moving blur.

Three years was enough to give me a lifetime's fill of everything Argentinian.

Somehow Constance heard I had come back, and she wrote to me. Just a friendly, welcome-back note. That meant she held no hard feelings. The boy-and-girl stuff was done with.

And yet I suddenly wanted to see her, talk with her. I found her here at the cove. She was still the Constance I remembered, if a little subdued, a little settled and satisfied.

But there was something in her eyes, when she looked at me, that made me wish I'd never gone away from her. A glow. Not just friendliness. More than that.

It was the glow in her eyes that kept me at the cove. I wouldn't have stayed at the Bullard place except for that.

A flock of guests as dull and chattering as guests always are. A husband who kept glaring at her like a gawky boy, and patting her head and chucking her under the chin. The glow in her eyes—whenever she looked at me—made up for all of that.

I wanted to take my stare from Carl Bullard's body—now nearly on the sand—and look over my shoulder toward Constance. I wanted to see those glowing eyes again, meeting mine. But I didn't move.

Instead I thought of something very interesting. If I were to sit still only a little longer, the pier and the house and the cove—and a great deal more—would belong to Constance. She'd be wealthy, and with a glow in her eyes when she looked at me.

Three years in the Argentine for nothing, and three minutes on Carl Bullard's pier—for everything I wanted. Why shouldn't I let Carl Bullard drown?

Later, I guess... It'll be in December. Haven't you noticed the way I've put on weight?

"Why, my dear, we had no idea! But now I know why Carl has been so attentive. And that sparkle in your eyes, Connie. All the signs..."

The sparkle in her eyes. The glow.

Carl Bullard's body was on the sand at last, tumbling awkwardly, shapelessly.

My cigarette dropped into the water. I heard it hiss. And then I dived in without taking time to stand. Carl Bullard's grip nearly broke my arm...

How long would it be before he touched the sand? Two seconds? Ten? But how eternally long a second can be...

Does to me. Yesterday I saw her for the first time in three years, and it's worse with me now than it was then. A lot worse. Deeper. Not boy-and-girl stuff any more. Man and woman. And she's married to Carl Bullard.

She would have married me if things had gone right. They hadn't, though. I thought a year in Buenos Aires—at an unbelievable salary—would give me my start. Corn Price Gains, Cattle and Cotton Decline in Region Markets Last Week

Southwest farm markets evidenced some easiness last week, but eggs held firm at 38 cents a dozen in Fort Worth, corn values rose 30 cents a bushel to bring $2.62 Friday, and cattle closed at $16 to $17.50 in Fort Worth, latest Weekly Swing of Southwest Farm Markets reveals.

Prepared for release in The Times to the county's 1,452 farmers by the Production and Marketing Administration, latest market trends follow:
Many Southwest farm markets showed considerable easiness last week, but some held firm, and corn and milo rose to even higher levels.
Eggs held firm last week, but poultry showed slight easiness at some places. Eggs brought 37 cents per dozen at Denver, Amarillo and Austin; 37½ cents at New Orleans; around 38 cents at Fort Worth. Dallas bought fryers at 35 cents per pound, and heavy hens at 24 to 25 cents. Fort Worth paid 33 to 35 cents for fryers, and 21 to 23 cents for heavy hens.

Cattle markets weakened materially on practically all classes, with the better grades of cows, steers and yearlings holding up best. Good cows closed the week at $15.50 to $16.50 at Houston; $16 to $17.50 at Fort Worth. Medium to good cows brought $17 to $18 at San Antonio; and common to good kinds $15 to $17.50 at Denver. Medium to good steers and yearlings moved at $17.50 to $23.50 at Fort Worth.
Butcher hogs closed the week steady at Oklahoma City, but fell mostly 25 to 50 cents or more at other Southwest terminals. Sows sold generally 50 cents to $1.50 lower and feeder pigs dropped at San Antonio. Late high price on butchers was $24.50 at San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Corn values rose rapidly last week in response to unfavorable planting weather in the corn belt states. Total advances of around 30 cents per bushel brought No. 1 white to $2.62 Friday, and yellow to $2.40 at Fort Worth and Galveston. Wheat and oats eased down another nickel or so, and sorghums gained about the same amount.
Milled rice met slow demand. Early plantings made good progress under favorable conditions. Most feeds held fully steady; bran gained $6 per ton, and shorts lost $4. Trade expects prairie hay movement from North Texas and Oklahoma next week. Peanut exports through April, 1947, neared 10 times the volume for the same period in 1946. Texas 12-month combing wools and the finer territory wools continued in good demand.
Cotton prices fluctuated widely, but closed a little lower. Extremely light offerings and demand for only special qualities sharply restricted trading.
Lambs dropped from 50 cents to $1 at San Antonio to around $3 at Wichita last week. Aged sheep and feeder lambs remained steady at Fort Worth, but sold generally lower at other markets. Good spring lambs closed at $20 to $21.50 at Fort Worth.

For Your Child's Safety

If you have a son or daughter starting to public school next fall, better not wait until September to see about "shots" for preventing whooping cough, smallpox and diphtheria.
This is the advice to Scurry County families by a State Department of Health representative, who points out that proper vaccination at this time can save lives and much suffering and misery later.
Diphtheria, for instance, is preventable, and parental neglect in this day and age is inexcusable, it is stated. A successful smallpox vaccination will save untold suffering later and whooping cough, which used to be classified as "something almost everybody has to have sooner or later," is oftentimes more serious than parents realize. Time to corral these three afflictions is right here and now, while no major outbreaks are reported in this trade area.

Could Hitler Be Dead?

With the world still seething in economic torment after the combat days of World War II, and with Germany still in a heap of rubble, there are many, including some in this trade zone, who doubt the widely advanced theory that Adolf Hitler, who nearly pulled the pillars of this civilization down with him, and the notorious Eva Braun are dead.
There are some solid citizens who believe this top war criminal and his secret love managed to get out of Berlin, and at this very moment are in hiding perhaps in a South American country. The mystery of just what happened to this mad man of Europe has not yet been satisfactorily explained—despite all the German "gibberings" about a fantastic suicide pact Hitler was supposed to be the author of.
Perhaps some day, when the carnage of this World War II is put in a secondary position, the true facts of what did happen to Hitler and his supposed-to-be bride will be brought to light.

Migratory Labor Camp

From experiences of years gone by, the business men of Snyder "up to their necks" in plans for a suitable and decent labor camp to serve the Mexican Nationals and white people each fall realize Snyder is—to put it frankly—going to have to "get on the ball" for such a worthy project.
Many other towns less fortunate than Snyder have conquered the migratory labor camp problem, and really no just reason can be advanced why we have hesitated so long in putting up a first class labor center here.
While a labor reception center is in operation during the fall thousands of dollars are poured by harvest hands into the laps of all kind of merchants, service stations, dentists, doctors and even operators of entertainment and recreation places of all types.
Harvest days are about the happiest of the year for Scurry County, and if we hold autumn in our hands successfully we are going to have to quit talking so much and let action do our advertising. If we don't wake up and get suitable accommodations arranged, we will one day see a group of cotton pickers and feed hands that has passed Scurry County by. We'd hate, you know, to have to see Snyder business people and employees have to put on cotton sacks after business hours to gather a cotton crop.

Editorial of the Week

BETWEEN TWO FIRES
Representative Hartley, Republican of New Jersey, author of the House labor bill, is a harassed and harassed man these days. He tells it this way:
"I'm catching it from all sides. Union leaders say I am the No. 1 labor baiter in the country. And now many industrialists, who ought to consider me their best friend, are attacking me for yielding on industry-wide bargaining and other issues. Then there are those political pressures for a harsh bill."
Caught thus between two fires, Representative Hartley stands fast on concessions he has made in the direction of softening the tough House bill in the interest of harmony with the milder Senate measure. Republican Senate and House leaders are seeking a bill that will enable them to pass it over a possible presidential veto. If the bill is too stiff—that is, if it is too much like the House measure—there is grave doubt if a veto can be overridden. If it is more in the likeness of the Senate bill, there is very good chance to override a veto.
So representative Hartley is catching it, as he says, "from all sides." He tore his political pants with labor by sponsoring the tough House bill. Now he is in bad graces of industrialists who want the House bill to be tough, with no compromise between it and the Senate measure.
In spite of the extreme anti-labor forces, it has been apparent for some weeks that something a great deal milder than the House bill would emerge from the Senate-House conference. If the measure sufficiently resembles the moderate Senate measure when it finally comes to a vote, there is a chance that no veto will be invoked.—San Angelo Standard-Times.

By LEON GUNN

We have a brewing battle on our home front this time that cannot be ignored—a battle against the radicals that may well change the American way of life and the American way of living if we wait until the 25th hour to do something about the matter. . . . We have an attack on our nation to meet, but not with the hoodlum bands that have sallied forth in past decades under guise of the Columbians, Ku Klux Klan or the Invisible Dragons. . . . The organizations that are infiltrating into key places of responsibility are without principle, are godless and will stop at nothing to gain their objective. . . . Sooner or later we in America will have to stop being chicken hearted and show the grit, intestinal strength and red blood of our forebears if we successfully repulse the Communists in our midst.

Some of the don'ts in the drive on radicals listed by J. Edgar Hoover that every good citizen should abide by include: Don't confuse liberals and progressives with Communists. . . . Don't go around labeling anyone a Communist unless you have the facts. . . . Don't take the law into your own hands; if Communists violate the law report such facts to your law enforcement agencies. . . . Don't let up in the fight against our real Fascists, KKK and other dangerous groups; and do not be hoodwinked by Communist propaganda. . . . Don't let, for heaven's sake, Communists infiltrate into our schools, churches and molders of public opinion, the press, radio and screen; and do not fail to make Democracy work with equal opportunity and fullest enjoyment of every American's rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Each person drawing royalty from pipeline oil is gress does not plan a long-range synthetic rubber program particularly interested in the fact this session of Congress. . . . There is a chance we will have legislation underwriting a minimum consumption of something like gram as in integral part of our national defense program. . . . Temporary controls in effect now will guarantee synthetic rubber production through next March. . . . There is no opposition to a permanent program, however, and only delay at the moment is determining the best natural-synthetic rubber production ratio.

As people all over the country already know, consumer credit controls are definitely slated for the scrap heap. . . . Congress, by the way, can force the issue just in case the Federal Reserve Board delays action too long. . . . Key members in the Federal Reserve Board hope to maintain credit regulations on durable goods as long as inflationary influences prevail. . . . It looks from here that controls on industrial building will not be erased immediately by the administration for fear of a dampening effect on home construction.

Those who have been seriously concerned over what may happen if nation-wide strikes break out this summer evidently have overlooked the provision in the pending Taft-Hartley labor bill which would permit employers to bring damage suits against labor unions. . . . Employers, if the measure gets over the hurdles, could bring enough suits against labor unions to drain every union treasury. . . . A decade ago the picture was quite different. Labor unions were just "plodding along," but today they are well off financially and in many instances would be worth suing.

Falling like the backlash of a comet across the summer skies, renewed Soviet activity in Iran is causing new and grave concern in Washington. . . . According to reports which have reached the capital, Soviet agents who have infiltrated across the border have offered "hefty" bribes to key Iranian officials, urging dismissal of the U. S. military mission and to object to the purchase of American military supplies. . . . The Communists in Bulgaria are organizing mass meetings at which everybody seems to say in chorus: "We aren't scared of the atom bomb."

Great Britain, to whom the world owes so much for acting as a buffer against Nazi Germany during the darkest hours of the world's modern history, is gradually dying—economically and financially—and there may be more help from the United States that will reverse the unfortunate trend of Britain's woes before many more weeks roll by. . . . The British are on the record as not expecting another U. S. loan, but those behind the scenes in London believe a new loan will be necessary in the near future.

Older British industries like steel and coal, for example, will not be on their feet until at least 1950, and if England cannot shake off the effects of the fuel crisis for the next six months, another fuel crisis may well ensue. . . . Britain's troubles at the moment are over the dollar crisis, and if the island nation keeps on at its present trend of expenditures, only a year is before British leaders before dollar credits run out. . . . Then, a really strong "shot in the arm" will be needed to keep the British plugging along the yet rugged road to peace.
