GINNINGS PASS 27,000 BALES COUNT SHOWS

The Times' Optimistic Prediction of 33,000 Bales Two Months Ago Looms as Good Estimate

Scurry County cotton ginnings for the current season continue to climb right on up toward the so-called over-optimistic predictions of The Times and other free lance cotton yield prognosticators. At least Your Home County Paper is beginning to enbrazen itself somewhat over its "wild prediction" of two months ago that county producers would harvest between 32,000 and 32,000 bales of cottor

Semi-official figures on ginnings by Scurry County gins through Saturday were 26.174. These figures were assembled by a government agricultural man who has visited all the gins.

Using The Times "percentage system" ginnings as of this (Thursday) morning were tabulated at 27,039 bales.

last two weeks, producers are really bringing in the lint cotton. Although many of the transient cotton pickers have left the territory since the siege of wet, cold weather began three weeks ago, the families of the farmers are pitching in to help finish up the crop. A number of mechanical pickers are in operation in the county, too, since most of the foliage has fallen from the stalks after killing frosts of two weeks ago.

Improved cotton pickers, ginners say, are turning out a better grade of seed cotton this year that is drawing little penalty under hand

Cotton was bringing from 29 to 30 cents per pound in Snyder Thursday morning. Price quoted by gins on seed was $100, top for this year and all-time in Snyder markets.

Rainfall of Last Ten Days Nearly Totals 3 Inches

Snyder area remained in the "wet" column another week as tabulations were made by The Times Thursday that totaled rainfall of 2.90 inches for the past two weeks. Rains of Tuesday and Wednesday tabbed 1.52 inches at the government gauge operated by Mrs. Foy Wade in Snyder. Rainfall a week earlier total 1.38 inches.

First-of-the-week rains apparently were considerably lighter at Snyder than they were in other portions of the area. Hugh Taylor declared that his ranch in the Arah community, 12 miles west of Snyder, received over two inches of rain Wednesday. Novis Rodgers, ranching in the Polar community 20 miles north of Snyder, said he received two inches of rainfall. Ira, Dunn and Hermleigh received less than two inches. The Times learned

Thursday morning. Following so closely behind the ground soaking rain of last week, the rain that came Tuesday and Wednesday of this week ran off some, inasmuch as much of the ground was pretty well waterlogged and could not soak up the rains that fell harder this week than they did last week. Creeks converging at Snyder were running about onefourth bankful Wednesday morning. Cattlemen reported that their surface tanks caught some water this week to replenish the draining effects of the long summer drouth. Rains this week added problems to the cotton farmers who had nearly a third of their cotton still in the fields. However, all the farmers were happy to get the precipitation that has put good seasoning in the ground for winter pastures, wheat and fall gardens.

Scurry County in West Texas List For New Oil Tests

Scurry County was given another oil well location last week in tabulations given for permits issued by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Locations for nine wildcats and 53 tests for oil in proven areas were listed last week in 20 West Texas counties, one less wildcat for four more field starters than in the same number of counties the preceding week. Ten is the largest number of wildcats spotted in one week this year, that number having been reached several times.

Totals for the first 46 weeks in 1947 became 187 locations for wildcats and 1,970 in fields, a grand total of 2,157. This is a weekly average of 46.76, up from 46.56 through the forty-fifth week.

Two of the wildcats last week were staked in Reagan County and one each in Andrews, Crosby, Ector, Martin, Mitchell, Sterling and Yoa-

Hockley County led in field starters with 17, the majority by James FitzGerald of Midland and associates in the Slaughter Field. Ector and Pecos Counties gained six proven area locations each, Andrews, Crane and Crockett Counties four each, Winkler two, and Cochran, Dawson, Garza Mitchell, Runnels, Scurry, Schleicher, Terry, Ward and Yoakum Counties one each.

Scurry County location was the C. T. McLaughlin No. 6 J. C. Stinson, located 330 feet from the north and east lines of the lease in Section 116, Block 97, H. & T. C. Railway Company Survey. It is slated to go 1,900 feet with cable tools. It is in

Q.-Will treating alfalfa with DDT greatly increase the seed yield?

A .- Yes, DDT is effective against alfalfa weevil and lygus bug, and control of them will greatly increase the seed yield. The Wyoming agricultural extension service announced the following results from a plot treated with a 10 per cent solution of DDT compared to an untreated or check plot:

Yield per acre of treated plot 186.0 lbs. 14.0 lbs. Yield per acre of untreated plot. 86.6 lbs. 14.5 lbs.

Q .- How much feed does it take to roduce a dozen eggs?

A .- This will vary with annual egg production, and birds bred for high egg production will naturally require less feed per dozen eggs than low producing breeds. Figures from a New York egg laying contest for 1945-46 give the following averages on the amount of feed required to produce a dozen eggs:

New Hampshires.......6.7 lbs.

Q .- Is it good practice to wean young rabbits at six weeks of age? A .- Yes. At the research farm of a famous feed concern young rabbits are taken from the doe at six weeks of age. Weaning young at this age has proved entirely satisfactory. The does are bred 21 days after kindling and are in condition to kindle again about 10 days after the previous litter is weaned. This practice results in more young rabbits per year, more pounds of meat, and less cost

Q.-Has anything been done to control sex of calves from cows bred by artificial insemination?

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 30.-Farmers have always been wise spenders. Until recent years, necessity, as much as long headedness, tightened the gnarled hand that held the purse strings. Prosperity today rules in most communities and everyone should buy with caution.

Suggestions to Farmers.

First, I suggest contracting for a good supply of fertilizers and insecticides enough at least for next season's requirements. Purchase of needed machinery of all kinds also should prove a good investment, despite the relatively high cost. New equipment should more than compensate for its cost through savings on high labor charges and expensive repairs to old and nearly worn out machines. The well mechanized farm, factory or store is the dividend producer. I also advise laying in a good supply of canned goods and dried fruits, such as prunes and raisins. Such foodstuffs will supplement the regular diet and will come in handy in the event of a crop failure next year. Money spent on a deep freeze unit should prove worth its weight in gold. A year's supply of shoes and clothing also is a good bet. So see your local merchants at once. Your winter's supply of fuel should be purchased, or contracted for, immediately, if you have not already done so. The railroad car shortage may result in delayed deliveries of these and other items, and their prices are likely to go higher rather than lower.

Stock and Dairy Farmers.

The suggestions in the preceding paragraphs apply also to livestoc and dairy farmers. But there is more in the picture than that. This year's short corn crop has raised serious problems for both groups. Should, for instance, stocker and feeder cattle be purchased now? Should the 1948 spring pig crop be cut or increased? I believe that the 1948 outlook for both groups is favorable. Sticking now to livestock, I see no reason why purchases of stocker and feeder cattle on break should not prove profitable, provided your supply of feedstuffs is assured. Moreover, I should have no hesitation, on the same basis, in produc ing a good crop of spring p Prices of cattle and hogs should hold at relatively high levels during 1948. The record baby crops of recent years, with production still in high producer. It is located 1,980 feet gear, plus prospects of continued large adult consumption of fluid milk | Section 37, Block 5, Houston & Great and manufactured dairy products, point to another profitable year for the dairy farmer. Under the circumstances, it seems to me that money spent for replacement purof milk cows and heifer would be well spent. Especially will this be true should weather in 1948 be normal and feed crops larger than this year.

What About Repairs?

Many readers are much concerned about building repairs. They have the necessary money, but hesitate to take action because of high priced labor and material. I suggest making only necessary repairs at this time. Prices of building materials especially lumber, are at or near their post-war peak and much is of inferior quality. The next broad move will be downward. Major repairs, as well as new construction. should be postponed until you can get more for your money. Nevertheless, there are a few items in the construction category that should be purchased now. Some still are relatively scarce, and others should be bought to beat transportation delays and possible higher prices. Nails are an example. Also wire, for fencing or other uses. Nothing is to be lost by buying whatever window glass you need. I recommend comfortable reserves of linseed oil and turpentine. Might as well paint your buildings now as later, since costs will be no lower.

LIKE a nice home, and I like things clean and suitable," writes an angry man from East St. Louis," but doubt if any man could stand what my wife puts me through in the way of house furnishing! We inherited a handsome big place in the very best part of town, and do what she will, Ada can't pretend that she'd ever like to move, except with the girls to the mountains for a few weeks in summer. But what she can do with this dignified old place, that my grandfather built 70 years ago, is a marvel.

'She's always been a little like that, talking lamps and rugs and running around with samples of curtains and wallpapers. But now it's an obsession. Three years ago it was the drawing-rooms, then the bedrooms, playroom, basement. Then she had the house painted an entirely new color, and now she's back on the drawing-rooms. We're not through paying for the basement, we haven't touched the paint bill, and Ada, sitting looking around our upstairs sitting room last night said thoughtfully, 'This room must be done over, and I might as well get at the drawing-rooms, too, while I'm about it. I'll telephone Kathy.'

"Kathy is the decorator." the letter goes on, "and what she gets in commissions runs into hundreds every year. Kathy finds a desk, a chandelier or a pair of candlesticks that will just exactly fit some corner of my house, and Ada falls for everything Kathy suggests. The other day I found on Ada's desk some pictures of an old stable turned into a garage, and I had a fit. IRON HORSE FOR EUROPE . . . Crushed and broken Europe, more than two years after the war's end, still is striving to rebuild. With the aid of American equipment the torn continent is being reshaped. Here, a 115-ton engine is hoisted into the hold of the S. S. Belijeanne at the Erie railroad yards, Weehawken, N. J. The iron monster is part of a shipment of 29 rail locomotives being sent to Poland to restore that nation's war blasted rolling stock. One of the hardest hit of all European nations, postwar Poland found herself trying to reconstruct with her transportation system virtually in a state of total paralysis.

NAVY'S FASTEST . . . This is the first photo of the U. S. navy's Douglas D-558-2, "Skyrocket," a rocket and jet-propelled plane with acutely swept-back wings and tail, needle nose and tapered fuselage. Slated to join the Douglas Skystreak in navy's sonic speed experi-ments, the plane is expected to perform in the 650-750 miles-per-hour range. Speed of sound varies from 763 miles per hour at sea level to 660 at higher altitudes

EAT SIX HENS, SAVE THIS GRAIN . . . This is how the Poultry and Egg national board of Chicago has chosen to dramatize the necessity for eating more chickens if the nation is to save more grain for Europe. If every family eats one chicken a week for six weeks it will save 64 pounds of grain. Nancy Leddy holds glass tubes containing that amount -26 pounds of wheat, 14 pounds of oats and 24 pounds of corn-which six chickens normally would eat in six weeks.

BUTCHER SHOP BLUES . . . In Rye, N. Y., Rocco Martino, a butcher, says he knows from nothing about economics, but he has a plan for selling meat and it's working. He sells his meat at what it costs him, plus a flat weekly service charge of $1.25 per family.

BATTLE OF NEWARK BAY . . . There was still a lot of scrap left in the old battleship New Mexico, and that's what started all the trouble. A New York salvage firm started out to tow the 30,000-ton dreadnought to Port Newark where it was to have been scrapped. Newark's Mayor Vincent J. Murphy had other ideas, however. He didn't want the port turned into a "graveyard" for old warships, so he sent out a fleet of tugs and fireboats to intercept the battleship. Both sides later agreed

PERRY BROTHERS STORE

After weeks of work on a spanking new building on the north side of the square in Snyder, at the site of our former location that was destroyed by fire, we are happy to announce to our friends in the Snyder area that we are open and ready for business.

We believe that we have one of the finest stores in all of Texas, and invite you to come in and visit us. That we believe in Snyder and its future is evidenced by our investment of thousands of dollars in the building, equipment and stocks.

Over 13 years ago we came to Snyder and established a small store for the purpose of serving the good people of Scurry County. During this time, we have tried as best we could to make available to the buying public of this county quality merchandise at reasonable and fair retail prices.

During the time we have been in business here, the people of Scurry County have given us a fair and generous share of their purchases, and, in every way possible, cooperated with us in our efforts to serve our custom-

We are very grateful to the people of Scurry County and to everyone who has contributed to our progress and success. In order to show our appreciation and gratitude and in order to better serve you, we have opened in Snyder one of the most modern and beautiful stores of its type to be found anywhere. We are proud of this store and we believe that you will also be proud of it and feel that you contributed much in making it possible.

We are sure you would be interested in knowing that Perry Brothers, Incorporated, is a Texas corporation, with all of its stock owned by citizens of the State of Texas. All of its officers, directors and employees are citizens of Texas. We are anxious to do our part in every community to help develop the social as well as the economic welfare of the people served. We believe it is the duty of every store to participate in the civic development of the community and certainly to do its share in making the community a better place in which to live.

We want to take this opportunity of renewing our pledge to the people of Scurry County to continue furnishing them high quality merchandise at reasonable prices and to do our best to help continue the progress and development of this county. When you are in Snyder, please make our store your headquarters.

Study of Taxes, Did You Say!

A citizen's committee has made study of the income tax and made a report to congress. Only in the latter respect is this new. Millions of Americans have been studying it for years. And have found their study is no good unless accompanied by a check.

The committee favors changes This makes it unanimous.

Taxes have been heaped on the American citizen until the only difference between a dollar and a snowflake is that the snowflake has crystals and lasts a little longer with favorable weather conditions.

Nobody writes success stories in the Horatio Alger mood any more. It is the same as confessing publicly that you are behind the eight ball. Life has become a succession of notary publics, printed forms, confusing paragraphs, dotted lines, galloping decimal points, double talk in fine print and the annual discovery you might have broken even if it had not been for the fact you did well financially.

Taxes have become as routine as rain. You are taxed for the alarm clock that wakes you up, taxed on the shaving soap and the razor blades, taxed on the bath fixtures, taxed on the towels, taxed on the pajamas which you hop out of to get into the heavily-taxed business suit, taxed on the breakfast dishes and taxed on the commutation ticket to the office.

For over 150 years our legislators and leaders Imposed a tax with caution and apprehension. Holding a constituent's head under water was thought to be poor tactics. But that's all over. A politician of today thinks nothing of telling the voters he is endowing them with a happy future while going through their pants A pockets.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effec-tive and dependable, for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it.
It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup

MASQUERADE By ESTHER AND WARREN HALL

JANET'S lips opened in a sound-less exclamation. Dred! Swiftly, in one breath-taking instant, all her mingled memories of Dred Cummings merged and rushed to meet him as he came across the Waldorf lobby. He was older - six years older, Janet reckoned quickly-and his face was burgeoning slightly with the subtle promise of another chin. But he still wore his custommade charm as debonarily as his well-tailored clothes.

Janet flicked down her glove and looked at her watch. Three twentyfive. This certainly was no time to be renewing the past. She leaned back in her chair and turned as though to speak to the small boy standing at her elbow. Perhaps Dred wouldn't recognize her. Perhaps he wouldn't even see her and Geoff.

"Janet, light of my life!" Somehow she managed a casual smile. "Gracious," she said lightly, "it must be old-home week. How are you, Dred?"

He grasped her outstretched hand and held it, for a moment, between both of his. The Cummings' technique. She could remember how that ardent pressure had thrilled her the first time they met, and how hollow it had seemed the day they parted, the day she was leaving for

"I swear," he said, "you're prettier than ever - if that's possible. But of course, dolls never age, do they - particularly Dresden dolls with spun-gold hair and the bluest china eyes in the world. And that's what you were, you know. The little Dresden doll I brought to life."

"It was kind of you," Janet told him. "Let there be life and there Edw. wasn't getting the point, so was life. I should be eternally grate-

But he must never guess her desolation when she first realized that other women were as indispensable to Dred Cummings as his brushes and palette. He must never know his memory had left a pall that not even little Geoff's sunny affection nor his father's kindness could dispel.

"Come, come, my dear," he was saying. "That's hardly fair. I wish you'd pose for me again. Just once. Do you know, since our divorce I've hardly been able to touch a brush to canvas.'

"Except for that one-man exhibition at the Anderson Galleries," Janet said wryly, "and those mu rals at the fair and . . ."

"Oh, I suppose I've managed to struggle along," he agreed. "But how about you?" For the first time he noticed Geoff. "Why, Jan! You haven't . . , this isn't . . ."

Janet hesitated. The flush on her cheeks deepened. "This is my job." she said, reaching out and hugging Geoff close to her side. "Did you expect me to go into a convent?" Cummings studied the boy a mo-

Stassen at Best

WHERE I STAND By Harold E. Stassen (Doubleday-205 p. p.-$2) By Bill Schoentgen

In an age of quasi-literate politicians, Mr. Stassen, the determined candidate for Republican presidential nomination, has tugged at the bootstraps of his social consciousness and raised himself above the hurly-burly of the vote-getting mob to the rare level of a forthright poright. Your wife has told you about litical thinker who takes as his ken his own national society.

The former governor of Minnesota attempts no probing into the those murals of yours," he said intricacies of foreign policy and pression on foreign policy is not felt into hot sterile jelly glasses the shortcomings.

More important, Stassen's lethargic estimate of foreign policy, his relegation of it to a secondary position, his failure even to touch upon the voluminous subject of foreign aid, all would seem to indicate a preference for a kind of tolerant, elastic nationalism. Whether or not this is the right time for the emergence of a strong nationalistic philosophy in the United States is a topic which is being subjected to universal debate. The man from Minnesota consistently refrains, in his book, from entering the discussion. It is an omission which undoubtedly will be brought piercingly to his attention by his more antagonistic colleagues.

But it is in the area of labor problems and labor legislation that the writer is most confident of his ground. In a single monolithic chapter he dissects and analyzes the varying status of the United States labor movement from 1920 to 1947, and nails down with a hammer of undeceptive realism its inevitable relation to the prosperity and soundness of the entire economy. Stassen offers his theories on labor in the form of the testimony which he presented before the senate labor committee in February of this year, during the period when congress was preparing the legislation which ultimatly resulted in the Taft-Hartley act.

That law, he believes, "will be the foundation for a fair, just and wellbalanced labor policy in America." In total, Stassen approves of the act. Specifically, he is opposed to three portions of the law as it stands: (1) The provision making it unlawful for a labor organization to contribute to election funds; (2) the non-Communist affidavit rule; (3) the "ultimatum" stipulating that existing union shop contracts cannot be renewed unless and until an election is held and a majority of all employees votes in the affirmative.

For the rest of his platform, Stassen turns to the issues of taxation (with which he deals from the stand- free the fruit entirely from the point of "dynamic capital"), hous- membranes or white pulp undering, survival of small business and neath the skin, first place the fruit the paucity of medical care and hospital facilities. Paper Milk Containers Favored by Housewives Evidence continues to substantiate the belief that paper milk bottles eventually will capture the "store

Milk Income at Record High

Texas farmers are now receiving the highest cash income from milk in the history of the state and 1947 returns are expected to exceed by a substantial amount the 1946 reoord-breaking total of $103,382,000, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

Several Scurry County farmers are planning to soon cash in on this year-round cash crop that the section has neglected so many years. At least one major milk company plans operation soon of a daily pick-up service for milk in the Snyder area. Only completion of farm improvements to meet state health little more than they were in 1939. . . . Average facrequirements for commercial milk production now is holding up starting of the first milk route.

The growing importance of the milk industry to the state's economy is further evidenced by the new peak value of $136,582,000 set on Texas 1,300,000 milk cows which produced a total of 1,899,000,000 foods, clothing and other items have increased so quarts of milk in 1946. Annual milk production per cow averaged 1,428 quarts.

Expanded utilization of Texas milk as fluid milk for drinking and cooking has increased the overall value of the state's milk output as farmers receive their highest price for milk used in this form. Latest annual figures for Texas show butter production at 16,577,000 pounds; American whole milk cheese at 7,802,000 pounds; and ice cream at 32,727,000 gallons.

Part of the pleasure of having some of this world's goods is sharing with others. We are made happy by seeing others less fortunate enjoy some of the joys that money can buy. Scurry County has some of the biggest hearted folks in the world because seldom does a campaign of any sort get a deaf hear and a hard hard from people hereabouts.

We often recall the experience of a Texan who had his heydey during the early oil booms of Texas. The man became immensely wealthy, and he gave liberally to worthy causes, especially to schools and hospitals of the state. A few years later when reverses nearly broke him, he remarked that all he saved of his fortune was what he gave away.

ISN'T MUCH OF IT TALK?

What a mess; what a mess we are in! Is some one trying to scare the American people, or are we actually facing a war with Russia? The man on the street would like to know who is telling the truth about all this war scare.

A speaker of world renoun stated only last week that he hears more talk about war in the United States than in the rest of the world combined. This is only natural. If Russia is preparing for war, as we are told by other authorities, we shall hear nothing about it until Russia gets ready to strike. In which event, we wonder what could be gained by a war. Russia has nothing that we want; Russia could not possibly conquer the United States. Both nations would be fighting thousands of miles away from home, and with little hope for success, unless the atomic bomb lays of our worlds and planets. waste a greater part of the world.

A rather penetrating insight to wages and prices is contained in announcement that although average weekly earnings of United States factory workers are at an all-time high, Bureau of Labor Statistics experts say the net wages of a manufacturing employee are tory pay now, for instance, is more than $49 per week compared with the 1939 average of $23.86, but after deducting taxes and making adjustments for soaring prices the experts estimate that the $49 is worth only $26 in terms of the 1939 dollar value. . . . Prices of much during the past six years that our dollar today is worth only about 59 cents.

You may rest assured that restoration of some type of price controls (as an answer to still rising costs of living) may well be proposed by President Truman at the next regular session of Congress. . . . In fact, the president's Council of Economic Advisers is playing with the idea and may include a recommendation in its current report. . . . And it is definite that there will not be some OPA-type of control advocated, either. . . . Any kind of price control will be strongly opposed by the Republicans, and chances of adoption are almost negligible. . . . However, debate people will be given the opportunity to share their on the question could have a restraining influence on possessions with less fortunate people and with other prices and give President Truman a profitable cam-

Men of research will confirm the statement that not all the stars in the universe are bright. . . less stars long remain invisible to the most powerful telescopes. . . . But now by turning infra-red detection on the cosmos, in a manner like the armed forces detected targets at night during the war, astronomy has come up with a host of new stars. . . . The American Astronomical Society last week heard a great deal about new studies with infra-red rays.

. . J. J. Nassau and G. B. Van Albada, for example, with photographic emulsions especially sensitive to infra-red. . . . They found the fringes of the milky way lined with huge red stars emitting soft light like so many Japanese lanterns. . . . Such stars, it is stated, are globes of diffuse gas so extensive that if the sun were placed at the center of them, the earth would revolve well within its envelope.

Another infra-red method, derived directly from the war-developed snooper-scope, has been put to work analyzing the sun's radiation of heat. . . . University of Michigan men have recorded "dark" lines in the invisible sunlight beyond the red end of the rainbow-thus getting new clues to the condition of atoms in the solar furnace. . . . From all indicatons, it is certain now that electronics (which provide a better means of precisely measuring intensity of starlight) will dominate the next 50 years of astronomy much as photography has for the past 50 years. . . .
