JOE AND LEE STINSON of Snyder are here shown giving a cordial welcome into the West Texas oil operators to Rusty Haver, center, of New York City when the Sharon Ridge Operators and Royalty Owners Association met Friday night at the Colorado City Country Club. The Stinsons were hosts at the banquet for the oil group. Haver, who is attorney for the Continental Bank & Trust Company, recently purchased an interest in one of the Sharon Ridge producing leases.

Sharon Ridge Group Backs Tideland Bill at Stinson-Sponsored Gathering

A resolution of unanimous support for Senate Bill 1963, which would definitely establish state ownership of tidelands along the Texas Coast, was voted by the Sharon Ridge Operators and Royalty Owners Association in the group's regular monthly business meeting held Friday night at the Colorado City Country Club.

Action on the Tideland bill was taken in view of the U. S. Supreme Court's decision that it is owner of tidelands along the California West Coast. Texas oil interests and others are endeavoring to secure state ownership recognition.

It was pointed out at the Colorado City meeting that Texas tidelands under original title to the republic from Mexico extend 10 miles from the shore line and include 64,000,000 acres. The state public school fund has already received $64,000,000 from the sale of leases and from royalties from a small portion of this property, and will receive many millions more if the tidelands can be kept unclouded.

Hosts at the banquet for the group of operators were Joe C. and Lee T. Stinson of Snyder, royalty owners in the Sharon Ridge field of Scurry County. Next meet is to be held in Snyder the latter part of March.

County taxation procedures in Scurry and Mitchell Counties were outlined to the group by Edgar Taylor, Scurry County tax assessor-collector. Oil property taxes supply one-third of all Mitchell County tax money, and 12 per cent of all Scurry County tax money, the official said.

A tax committee composed of Roy Townsend, independent operator; Lee Stinson, royalty owner; and Frank Kelly of Magnolia Oil Company, major operator, was appointed by President C. T. McLaughlin to work with county officials on any tax matters involving the Sharon Ridge area.

Similar Experience.
"I just got out of prison this morning," a traveler told a man on the train. "It's going to be tough facing old friends."
"I can sympathize with you," commented the older. "I'm just getting home from the state legislature."

Damage Done to Area Soil by Big Rains Inspected

Joe Adams, AAA county committee; Don Robinson, president of Snyder Lions Club; Silas Davenport and Bob Dupree of the Soil Conservation Service, were carried on a tour by Hoyt Murphy, member of the board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, to observe the damage done by the recent heavy rains in the Dunn and China Grove areas.

All expressed surprise at the huge amount of damage, but only had to think back a little to realize that the same thing happens somewhere in our Soil Conservation District every year.

Flouring damage to the land at $1 per acre, and damage to the roads at $100 per mile, the total would reach some $25,000, they declared. The damage cannot be measured in dollars, however, as the loss in fertility affects the quality of food produced on the land and thereby the health and vigor of the farm animals and even the health of the people of the areas.

Need for vegetated waterways to care for surplus water and for cover, either small grain or maize stalks, was evident everywhere. Little or no erosion occurred on parts of the Frank Wilson, Murphy and Richardson farms where either dead or live cover was present. A very good cover of rye and vetch was observed on the Murphy farms.

Each has its own set of problems and should have conservation measures planned to suit its particular needs, the SCS officials point out. The Upper Colorado District will have the services of soil conservation technicians available to assist in planning and in engineering designs as soon as the terrace season is past. If you are not already a district cooperator, the district will be glad to have your application for assistance, the SCS officials state.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

4-H Club Boys and Girls of County Observing National 4-H Club Week

Scurry County 4-H Club boys and girls this week were observing National 4-H Club Week as special emphasis was being placed on projects being carried on by the area youth under direction of County Agent Oscar Fowler and Miss Mary Louise Piel, county home demonstration agent.

Fowler reports that there are now five active 4-H Clubs for boys in the county, with a total membership of about 50. Clubs and their memberships are: Snyder, 50; Hermleigh, 30; Fluvanna, 12; Ira, 20; and Dunn, 20.

The county agent points to the recent Gold Star Award for 1947 presented to Bruce Cox as an example of a typical Scurry County boy active in 4-H Club work. The award was made on the basis of outstanding achievement of a senior boy that showed leadership ability along with worthy projects.

Young Cox has been in 4-H Club work for five years. He has conducted a range cattle project for five years; beef calves, four years; registered cattle, two years; and swine, one year. He has been an active participant in wildlife conservation. Fowler says. He has received four rosettes, three firsts, two seconds and one tenth awards in club show competition.

During his five years of club work Bruce has grossed $2,718.70 from his projects. He now has 10 head of registered cattle. He has been active in 4-H Club leadership, having been an official in his local club and county council. Nelda Jean Dever was awarded the Gold Star pin for outstanding 4-H Club girl of the county in November, according to Miss Piel. Miss Piel says a new 4-H Club for girls will be organized March 5 at Ennis Creek. She is meeting with all 4-H Clubs in the county this week.

Battleship Texas To Be Brought to State for Shrine

A drive to raise funds to bring the USS Texas to its home state, participated in by members of Scurry County school children and others, has been declared a finished job.

Celebration of San Jacinto Day, April 21, in Texas this year will bring to end the sea-faring life of the last of the old class battleships still in active service with the United States Navy.

Not like the ungloried endings of other battleships, such as the Idaho, Wyoming, New York, New Mexico and Nevada, which were sold for scrap, the USS Texas will be de-commissioned and made into a historical relic for thousands of Texans to visit in the years to come.

Through the efforts of these people, sufficient funds were obtained to convert the ship and place her on the historical San Jacinto Battlefield Park within the shadows of the San Jacinto monument and museum.

The USS Texas is the first vessel of the U. S. Navy to be purchased by a state to be used as a memorial. Several months ago the Navy offered to convert the USS Mississippi, now an auxiliary gunnery training ship with the Atlantic fleet, into a similar war memorial for display at Biloxi, but some quick figuring added up to a large sum, and state officials turned the offer down.

A symbol to the men who have served in her during 30-odd years of commission, including two world conflicts to maintain freedom, the Texas will be placed at the battlefield where the union's largest state won her independence from Mexico during the battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836.

Basketball Girls Get Busy with Volleyball

The basketball season for the Snyder High School girls is over, but they have swung right into volleyball. Most of the girls who played basketball are now working out for this sport.

T. D. Wiman, girls' PE instructor, reports that he has many good prospects who can develop into fine volleyball players. He says that his brightest hopefuls are Frances Leath, Ila Ruth Newton, LaVerne Wauson, Shirley Coffee, Helen Lloyd, Faye Mahoney, Wanda Koonsman, and Syble Ramage—S. H. S. Tiger's Tale.

THRONE ROOM shown above is part of the opening scene of the musical stage show, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," to be presented next Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Snyder High School auditorium under auspices of the Girl Scouts of Troop 10. Real dwarfs play in person on the stage. Proceeds from the attraction will be used by the girls for their trip to Yellowstone National Park this summer.

Field Work on Industrial Possibility Survey in Snyder Area Gets Underway

Field work portions of the Texas & Pacific Railway economic survey for Snyder and Scurry County began last week with the visit of H. G. Jordan, research assistant in charge of the survey conducted by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Scurry County Chamber of Commerce is aiding Mr. Jordan in gathering material for the study by sending out schedules to various people in the community. Local business men and government agencies will be contacted in collecting data on all factors affecting agriculture, industry and commerce.

Due to the fact that this analysis is the first of its type on Snyder and Scurry County, Jordan stressed the importance of cooperation on the part of businessmen and agencies in supplying information when contacted. According to Jordan, "some of the material vitally needed to carry the study to completion can be obtained only directly from the people living in each locality covered by the survey."

The study is part of an economic survey program sponsored by the Texas & Pacific Railway. Covering 62 Texas counties along the route of the Texas & Pacific, the study will afford a complete inventory of natural, human and capital resources in each territory.

Data will be compiled over the pre-war years as well as the post-war years in order to chart trends in economic activity of the county over a period of years. Designed to open up the potentialities and conditions which would be of interest to industries contemplating a location along the railway line, the study is of primary concern to each locality.

Jordan was formerly in charge of an industrial survey of the Bastrop area prepared by the bureau for the Bastrop Chamber of Commerce.

Practice Begins On Track Events At Snyder High

Once again the Black and Gold thinly-clad warriors of the field start limbering up for another track season. Track has been held back since the beginning of the war in S. H. S., because of its conflict with spring football training. Since spring training has been outlawed, it means the popular appearance of track hopefuls.

Track is a sport that is enjoyed by all, and the students of Snyder High may soon be privileged to see the track squad in action. Coach Tommy Beene expresses hope that the boys will be ready for district competition.

Some of the boys who have already signed up for track are George Richardson, Richard Land, Donnie Everett, Billy Joe Middleton, John A. Smith, Donald Jack Jones, E. J. Moore, Com. Exell, and Jack Gorman. Many other boys are expected to be present for Monday's workout.

The boys have spent this week in preparation, and are expected to start out in earnest beginning next Monday.

The proceeds of the basketball game that was played Monday were donated to the Athletic Club for the purchasing of track equipment—S. H. S. Tiger's Tale.

Incomes in 1947 Were High

Personal incomes for the first 11 months of 1947 averaged at an annual rate of $196,400,000,000, about 20 per cent above a year earlier.

Fruits and vegetables freeze more successfully after their moisture is reduced, scientists find, because there is less breakage of the cell tissues from large icy crystals which form when more water is present.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Earn Your Own Living

Hell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"He tells me almost absent-mindedly that he means to stop or he gets angry and solaces himself with drink."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

MY MOTHER and I used to read your articles together when I was 12," writes Minna Davis from Phoenix. "I'm 32 now, married and have a daughter. For the first time I'm asking your advice. I hope 20 years of loyalty will win it for me."

"I married at 20 a popular, intelligent, industrious boy of 24. I suppose that at those ages people don't know much about each other, but then at what age is marriage safe, anyway? Phil and I went on happily enough for some six years, loving each other, our small Phyllis and our home. Phil is a commission merchant and has—or had increasingly good agencies. We went on trips: one to California, another to New York and Bermuda. I thought we were especially fortunate people."

"From the first, Phil played cards for money—small sums at first. It was rather fun if I played bridge or poker with a certain little group and if we won. Later, some three or four years ago, he began to play for larger stakes and to give perhaps a Sunday afternoon and one night a week to it. Then it got serious. Money tightened at home and I knew it was gambled away. Phil's pals telephoned two, three and four times a week to say casually that a few of the fellows were going to play a hand or two and break up at 10:30 sharp."

Now a Gambler's Wife.

"It is only in the last year that I have come to the full realization of the fact that I am a gambler's wife. It seemed only a small part of Phil's amusement before, like our fishing and motor trips, occasional theater and movies. Now it is his one possessive interest. It cuts deep into his business and home hours and Phyllis and I feel it. She is a sensitive and unusually sweet-tempered child, and she misses the old atmosphere of comfort and companionship that she three used to share."

"Of course I've talked with Phil, mentioning the miserable sums he has contributed to the household, pointing out to him the rarity with which Phyllis and I see him now and the uncertainty in which we live. He tells me almost absent-mindedly that he means to stop or he gets angry and solaces himself with drink. The result is growing despair on my part, increasing independence on his and a slowly disintegrating home. What is your advice to gambler's wives? I assure you that I am ready for drastic measures and will be grateful to be shown any way out."

This is one of the most serious of the problems that threaten married life. Fortunately, it is not very common, for most men, even if for a brief space they indulge in the idiosyncrasy of gambling, discover its dangers for themselves and pull up before it is too late. Only a weak man is foolish enough to believe that by gambling he can help his financial prospects or solidify his position as family supporter. Even when lucky, gamblers do little to help the dull, everyday budget with their winnings. The wife may get a fur coat or the whole family be taken for a week's trip, but in his exultation at having held good cards at last, the gambler throws money right and left and in no time it is gone and he is losing again."

Become Independent.

My advice to Minna Davis is to establish herself and her child on a financial basis independent of Phil. She can do this without ugliness or without expelling him from his home. And it is wiser to do it this way, with as little disturbance of the surface values as possible.

"You talked with Phil..."

American Food Diet Causes Poor Teeth

The American diet in most instances lacks minerals and vitamins and can cause dental defects and general physical disorders, according to Dr. John H. Gunter, professor of oral surgery at the graduate school of medicine at University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Gunter said that contributing causes of tooth decay were devitalized foods, sweets and white flour. "It is much more important to keep a child on a proper diet and

GAMBLERS' WIVES

It is frequently impossible for a man to break the shackles of a vicious gambling habit which started out harmlessly enough. As a result his wife and children suffer because he fails to provide for them adequately and he himself, knowing that he is shirking his duty, seeks artificial means of solacing himself.

Minna Davis, 32, mother of a lovely daughter, enjoyed the early years of her marriage immensely. When her husband, Phil, played bridge and poker for small stakes she didn't object. But when he began going out several nights a week and failed to provide sufficient money for running the household Minna began to despair.

A frank discussion with Phil failed to achieve any results since the gambling fever has him in a firm grip from which he can't break loose.

Miss Norris wisely advises Minna to go out and secure financial independence through some related hobby in which she is vitally interested. She doesn't tell Minna to eject her husband from her household. Rather, she should mention her plans to him and quietly carry them out.

An interesting means of livelihood not only will earn for herself and her daughter the necessary living expenses but also will broaden her interests and sufficiently occupy her mind so that she will be kept happy. Perhaps some day Phil will be touched by her example of self-sacrifice and root himself from the jaws of the gambling habit.

She must tell Philip her plan, quietly and sensibly. Then she can take a saleswoman's job, rent a suite of rooms, take in a few children to board or go in for nursing, coaching, home photography, pottery, weaving or any one of a hundred profitable employments. A woman I once met served dinners in her home to about 40 guests every night. She alternated seven dinners, thus economizing on sauces and vegetables. She served 588 dinners in the first month and cleared a profit of more than $150.

In the years that have followed, it never has been less. She and her two boys have lived well and her only difficulty has been in trying to resist the gambling husband's occasional effort to borrow from her steadily mounting bank account—"until his luck changes."

Earns $200 a Month.

A small California dairy, started with an 85-cent runt heifer 10 years ago, pays another gambler's wife a comfortable margin of $300 a month. Chickens pay. Jam sells. A New England housewife's first loaf of home-made bread have grown to an immense factory in 10 years. A girl I know collects small toys, writes jingles, fusses with decorations and sells birthday party cakes for as much as $25 each. Another woman, her father the gambler in this case, noticed grammatical errors on radio programs and got herself a good job. One girl who wrote me from New York goes to sickrooms and tells stories to children for $5 an hour.

Get busy, Mrs. Davis. It not only will solve your financial problem but also will keep you absorbed and happy. And keep Phil in the picture if you can.

Doctors Report on Olee

CHICAGO.—A two year study of 217 children, one group of which had butter in its diet and the other margarine, showed no difference in effects of the fats on growth and health, three physicians reported in the Journal of the A. M. A.

"We are not making claims that those in the margarine group were healthier simply because their diet contained margarine," declared a spokesman for the group. "Other variables are more likely to account for their better health."

It was recommended that teeth be cleaned thoroughly at least twice a day—in the morning and evening.

The Times' Weekly Page of World News in Pictures

OLD MAN RIVER STRIKES AGAIN . . . Heavy rains and thawing snows once more have brought Midwest rivers to the flood stage. Rivers in six states swept over their banks, inundating thousands of acres of farm lands and forcing the evacuation of an estimated 6,000 persons. In Shelbyville, Tenn., 150 families were made homeless when the Duck river spilled over into low portions of the town. Another small community (inset) was left entirely dependent upon the meager stock of supplies on hand as rising flood waters severed all highway access to other towns.

ON GUARD IN THE HOLY LAND . . . This heroically designed scene shows a group of Haganah youths on guard with their dogs at a defense post inside one of the Jewish settlements in the Negev, desert area in southern Palestine. They are compelled to keep constant watch to guard against Arab attacks and to keep Arabs from attacking outlying farms or sabotaging the reservoirs which are all-important, both to farming and to life itself in the great dry area. The intolerable condition in Palestine has been pointed up by the recommendation of the United Nations Palestine commission that the U. N. send a military force to Palestine to enforce the partition.

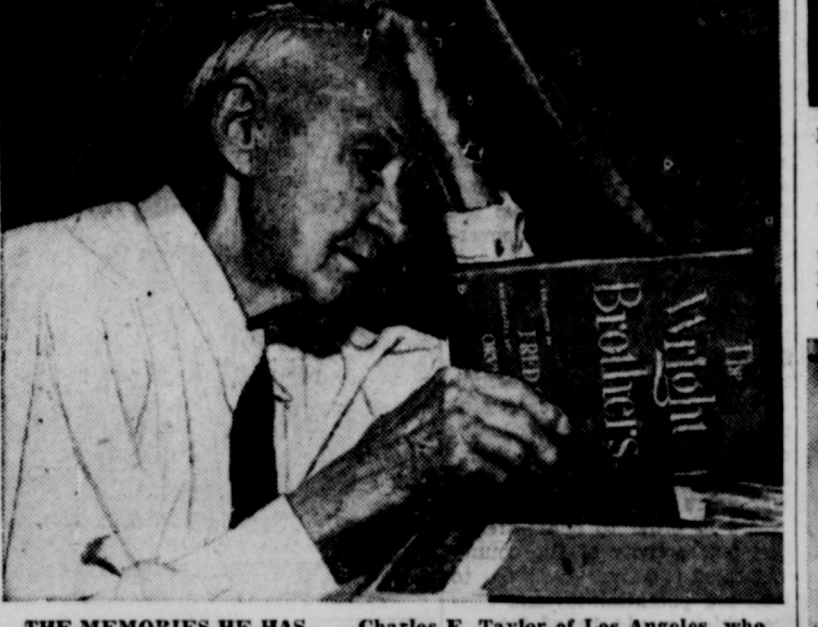

WELL, LOOK—GRAIN FROM RUSSIA . . . British dock workers plunge their hands lovingly into grain which arrived at London's central granary aboard Russian liberty ship Baku. It was first shipment of grain from the USSR to England under an exchange agreement whereby Russia will get heavy machinery from Britain. The pact was made to increase British exports.

TWO-MEDAL GIRL . . . Mrs. Gretchen Fraser, Vancouver, Wash., housewife, holds two medals she won in skiing events at winter Olympics in Switzerland. One is gold medal for first place in the women's special slalom event.

PORPOISE POISE POISONIFIED . . . Down yonder in the tropical waters of the marine gardens at Islamorada, Florida keys, the peripatetic porpoises do everything except get down on one knee and sing "Mammy." Any porpoise lover would find his manifest destiny here at the "Theater of the Sea," new marine studio in which all the marine life lives not in confining tanks but in natural pools.

THE MEMORIES HE HAS . . . Charles E. Taylor of Los Angeles, who was left $800 a year for life by Orville Wright, holds book of the Wright brothers and recalls thrilling days when he assisted in the building of the first airplane engine the brothers used in 1903 at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in their epochal flight. Ill of a serious heart ailment, Taylor, when told of the bequest, said he was "grateful to Orville."

'AND ALL I ASK IS A TALL SHIP' . . . Swift and graceful as it cuts the waters off Miami Beach, the "Cyclone," Cuba's entry in this year's Lipton cup race, inevitably calls to mind the memory of Sir Thomas Lipton. Except for his tea, the amateur yachtsman asked for little but "a tall ship and a star to steer her by." Sometimes called the world's greatest sportsman, Lipton spent millions over a period of many years in an attempt to bring the yachting title to England.

WHAT, NO PIN BOY? . . . If this favored land holds another three-generation family of bowlers the Rockrohr clan of Clinton, Iowa, would like to arrange a match. Above are (left to right): Grandfather Otto, 78; Father Le Roy, 52, and Son Le Roy Jr., 23. Grandpa Rockrohr began bowling back in 1910, and despite his advanced age he still maintains a neat average of 153 that many a young duffer can envy.

FAST BUCK . . . Gripped by nostalgia for the Old South, sub. Rep. Prince Preston (Dem., Ga.) made the mistake of redeeming a five-dollar Confederate bill sent in by a fellow Georgian. Word got around, and now the Confederate spinach is pouring in by the cart-pothugful.

L'ENVOI . . . Sir Oliver Shewell Franks, British statesman and authority on Europe's needs under the Marshall plan, has been named new British ambassador to the U. S. He succeeds Lord Inverchapel who is retiring from diplomatic service.

MISSIONARY . . . The Rev. William Leising is one of six Catholic priests who operate radio and weather stations in the icy wastes of Canada's Mackenzie territory. Part of his job is to warn U. S. if an aggressor tries to strike over the polar regions without warning.

ADDED STARTER . . . Herbert C. Holdridge, retired brigadier general, says he is running for President. He claims that his own "People's party" offers the only hope for tomorrow under American traditions, thus avoiding the necessity of choice between fascism and communism."

NO PAUPER . . . E. T. Maynard, Chicago speculator, leaves meeting of senate grain gambling investigators after being called to explain how he made between $200,000 and $400,000 in recent commodity market tumble.

Ain't It So?

Of the six requisites for a happy marriage, the first is faith—and the other five don't matter. People like to say they have an open mind. But with some of them it's mighty hard to find the opening. Even a watch that won't run is right twice a day.

Truman Asks More Aid for China; Wallace Victory Worries Democrats; Senate OKs Tentative Budget Cut

Released by WNU Features.

SUPPORT: China

Although it was obvious that his heart wasn't in it, President Truman presented congress with a request for 570 million dollars to be sent to China as a prop for the foundering economy of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government.

White House and state department sources admitted that the request was something less than a half-measure and claimed that the President had acted under pressure from the Republican congress which has insisted that the U. S. must support Chiang against the Communist revolution in connection with the European recovery plan.

At best the 570 million dollars is a token gesture—just a chip in relation to the vast amount of timber that would be needed to restore the rotting derelict of Chiang's government.

Theory behind this latest extension of aid, which will be used to finance Chinese imports of cereals, petroleum, coal, fertilizer and so forth, is that the money will enable Chiang's government to free other resources for purchase of arms and ammunition to continue the fight against the Communist guerrillas.

But that is more of an idle hope than a valid theory, because the government forces, despite their American arms and equipment, are being bested consistently by the Communists.

First a Dream: Like the fog that "comes on little cat feet," Carl Sandburg, honored and honorable free-verse poet and voluminous biographer of Lincoln, was creeping into the senatorial race in Illinois.

A hitherto almost imperceptible drive supporting Sandburg as a possible candidate for senator picked up since he is a writer, is an impractical dreamer and an idealist.

Democrats made no effort to block the proposed spending slash which had been recommended by the house-senate budget committee. It still requires house adoption.

Biggest bug in the senate's budget recommendation was the fact that it probably embodied a number of inaccurate estimates. Republican sponsors of the measure admitted that accurate estimates of budget needs were impossible at the time.

Sen. Styles Bridges (Rep., N. H.), chairman of the budget committee, compared the estimates with "a pre-game guess at the final score."

Most profound uncertainties arising in the budget estimates were the result of the recent commodity market drop, which might possibly affect government tax revenues and also the annual personal income rate.

Planetary: After having given rise to much idle speculation and phantasmagorical nonsense among recent generations, one of the minor riddles of the universe—whether life exists on the planet Mars—finally got a tentative answer.

With scientific reticence, Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of McDonald observatory at Mt. Locke, Tex., offered a timorous "Yes—maybe."

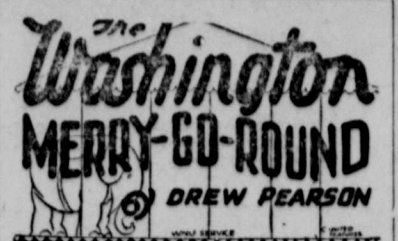

West Coast Shipbuilding: President Truman was anxious to get those big shipbuilding plants on the west coast, idle since V-J Day, back into operation.

Jenny and Benny: I've got to watch out for pranks today. Ah! safe at my nest. Ouch! Who put a tack in my nest?

Getting Back: It was lunch hour at the lime works, and Pat's two buddies, deciding to play a little joke on him during his absence, drew the features of a donkey upon the back of his coat. In due time Pat returned and presently hove in sight bearing the lime-decorated coat.

High Finance: After vainly trying to collect $40 due him from one of his customers, the colored man consulted his lawyer. "What reason," asked his lawyer, "does he give for not paying this money?" "Boss," said the colored gentleman, anxiously "he gimme a mighty good reason, sah."

The Economic Front

WASHINGTON.—When news of the stock and commodity market break first reached the White House, President Truman was deeply concerned. He felt it might stir wholesale dumping of securities by frenzied investors, which in turn might touch off an economic depression.

However, after the council of economic advisers had surveyed the market and reported to him in detail, Mr. Truman told one close adviser: "I am now glad it happened—for two reasons. First, we scared a lot of speculators out of the grain market, and, second, prices are coming down to a level where they will be supported by the law of supply and demand. That's where they should be."

The White House economic surveys show several significant things. Most important to the housewife is that the somewhat hysterical reductions in retail prices are the result of grocers' psychology. Actually, paper raw commodities couldn't possibly be passed down the line to bread and meat for several weeks. However, grocers have been scared into price reductions by headlines and the threat of competition. They are gambling on lower prices in their next wholesale shipment. Also the stocks of food on their shelves have increased—due to high prices and the fact that the housewife has simply cut down on her buying.

Another significant factor is that the stock market has remained fairly stable compared with the commodity market. In other words, commodities were price-heavy and toppled.

Presidential economic advisers have reported to Mr. Truman that there is little likelihood that the break in commodity prices will spread generally to industrial prices.

One cause for the commodity break was the flood of wheat which farmers sent to market after January 1. They had been holding back (1) for higher prices and (2) for income-tax reductions. Since both Republicans and Democrats have come out in favor of tax reductions, farmers felt it was safe to let their hoarded wheat go to market. A lot of them let loose at the same time, hence the deluge.

Another reason for the grain-market decline is the law, recently passed by the Republican congress, requiring the administration to hold 150 million bushels of grain in this country as protection against future crop failure. With the prospects of a good crop, this 150 million reserve bushels is bound to have a depressing influence on grain prices.

In brief, Mr. Truman's advisers have informed him that the commodity nose-dive is more likely to avert rather than cause a depression. Commodity prices, formerly reeling on empty clouds, now have come back at least to the mountain peaks.

G.I.'s Best Friend: Kindly Gen. Omar Bradley, known as the G.I.'s best friend, had a birthday anniversary recently. He was 54.

As Bradley just had been made chief of staff, top brass of the Pentagon building were in some of a twitter as to who would be invited to the general's birthday party.

As time of the party arrived, the mystery was easily solved. Those invited were the clerks, secretaries and enlisted men who worked in Bradley's office. None of the brass hats was present except for one man—Bradley's old friend, General Eisenhower.

With scientific reticence, Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of McDonald observatory at Mt. Locke, Tex., offered a timorous "Yes—maybe."

Veterans May Enlist For Service in Home Based Army Units

Snyder area veterans who have had overseas service can enlist directly in one of eight U. S. Army units now stationed in the United States and be guaranteed three years of service with that unit, Master Sergeant B. E. Herald of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station at Snyder, announced this week.

These units and their present locations are: 2nd Infantry at Fort Lewis, Washington; 2nd Armored at Camp Hood, Texas; 2nd Engineer Special Brigade at Fort Warden, Washington; 82nd Airborne at Fort Bragg, North Carolina; 3rd Armored at Fort Knox, Kentucky; 4th Infantry at Fort Ord, California; 5th Infantry at Fort Jackson, South Carolina; 9th Infantry at Fort Dix, New Jersey.

"Duties of the men enlisting directly in these units," Sergeant Herald explained, "will be to help build up the defensive strength of the Army within the zone of interior, and to assist in the training of new recruits."

Sergeant Herald pointed out that this new offer will be of interest to thousands of veterans who have expressed a desire to enlist for duty in this country.

Six Snyder Boy Scouts Inspect New Mountain Ranch; Autry Tells of Trip

Six Boy Scouts and three Scoutmasters from Snyder were among a 33-member party of Sweetwater area Scouters who made a tour of inspection of the recently acquired Buffalo Trail Council Scout ranch in the Davis Mountains several days ago. The group made the trip in a big chartered bus that left Sweetwater early Friday morning and returned Sunday night.

Field Executives Jim Polk of Sweetwater and Stuart Palmer of Odessa supervised the trip. Scoutmasters from Sweetwater were Augrey Ballew, Bill Rice, Wayne Jarvis, R. L. Boyer and Lingo Brown. From Snyder were Doyle Byrum, Roland Bell and Phil Burns, and Scoutmaster Dick Martin of Roby. Each Scoutmaster took two Scouts.

Snyder boys making the trip were Dan and Kenneth Gibson, Franklin Wood, Jay Fish, Dan Burns and Wendell Autry.

Reports from the visitors to the ranch are glowing in describing the place that is destined to become one of the greatest Boy Scout camp sites in the country.

Wendell Autry, one of the boys who made the trip, wrote this report at the request of The Times: It started at 3:45 Friday morning when I was awakened by the telephone informing me it was time to get my duds ready for what was to be the best, most enjoyable outing I was ever privileged to take.

The Snyder group was taken, together with belongings by a pick-up and a car driven by Jack Caperton and Mrs. Doyle Byrum to Colorado City, where we were picked up by a chartered bus carrying Boy Scouts and Scoutmasters from Roby, Sweetwater and Snyder to the new camp in the Davis Mountains.

At 6:05 a. m. we were on our way to the west. Reaching Pecos at 1:00 p. m., we had lunch there and departed at 1:45. We arrived at camp at 3:45 Friday afternoon. We unloaded our bus, prepared our bunks. We were so eager to inspect and explore what our eyes beheld around the camp that we climbed a few hills, viewed rock ledges, a spring, valley and mountains that Mother Nature had placed there.

Preparing our supper Boy Scout fashion, we were ready to partake to the fullest as soon as it was prepared. At a council fire our routine for next day was explained by Jim Polk, our field executive, after which we retired.

Arising at 6:30 Saturday morning, we had flapjacks for breakfast. We caught our mounts and rode for a while. At 9:50 we left camp for a hike into the mountains. We crossed two mountains and went into a canyon, where it is said the future camp site for the Boy Scout ranch will be. It contains about 70 acres. The canyon has a beautiful running stream fed by springs beneath the very beautiful pine, pinon and manzanita trees. After some time spent exploring the valley we ate our lunch, consisting of sandwiches taken along. This was a beautiful setting, and we enjoyed our lunch under the trees by the clear running stream.

After a few minutes' rest we started on our return to headquarters, arriving about 5:15 p. m. Saturday. We prepared our supper, ate and had a council fire, retiring about 10:00 p. m.

When we arose Saturday morning about 7:00 o'clock snow was falling, covering the hills, valleys and timber in a gentle and beautiful snow-white. The beauty was such that I cannot describe it.

We rolled our bedding, loaded our baggage and at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning departed from the place which is to be the future Boy Scout ranch of Buffalo Trail Council. We arrived at Balmorhea at 11:10, where we attended services at the First Baptist Church. After church we drove to Pecos for lunch. We left Pecos at 2:00 p. m. and arrived at Colorado City at 6:00 p. m. Sunday, where we were met and brought home.

We, the six Snyder Boy Scouts who made the trip, want to express our thanks to our sponsors for making it possible for us to have the pleasure of making this trip. We hope all the Boy Scouts of the area will at some time be privileged to make the wonderful trip.

"Take it easy," was the comment most commonly heard Monday as the Tennis Club began work-outs. Finland Girl Sends Letter of Thanks to Home Ec for Gifts

The following letter acknowledges S. H. S. donations to the Junior Red Cross. This letter was written in Finland to our local homemaking chapter thanking them for the gifts that they sent to them through the Junior Red Cross:

Työläinen, Homeelina, Suomi (Finland)—Thank you very much for the parcel I got from you a few days ago.

From the date on the package I could see that it had been sent more than a year ago. I am not able to find words to tell you how happy your gifts made me. Each girl in my form got such a parcel, and we all were very much surprised.

I am 14 years old and in the second form in the high school for girls in Homeelina. That is a small town.

After some years I shall begin to learn English. I do hope I should know your language already so I could tell you more about my country and my people.

Yours sincerely—Marjo Kostil—S. H. S. Tiger's Tale.

Social Security Gives Special Attention to Widows with Young

The Social Security Act places emphasis on the importance of the family and give special protection to women with young children," said Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office, this week in a release to The Times.

"Some women callers," Mr. Fisher continued, "think that benefits are paid only to 65-year-old widows. When a qualified worker of any age dies and leaves a widow who was living with him at the time of his death, she is immediately eligible to receive: (a) Monthly payments for herself and their unmarried children under 19, or (b) a single cash payment if there are no children."

Many women seem to think that in the event of their husband's death they can get back only the few dollars paid in social security premiums. It should come as no surprise to a widow to learn that she and her minor children are eligible for regular monthly payments. Many such benefits are now in force. These monthly benefits frequently mean for children the difference between going to work and going to school. Monthly benefits to widows have been the means of keeping many families together and homes intact.

Many Work with Soil Units.

A WOMAN'S PLAGUE

By JOHN T. CAVANAUGH

"SO, SALUSTRI is back," Managing Editor Pepper Drislane exclaimed as he clicked down the receiver. Excitedly, Police Chief Lawton had just shouted into the telephone, "This guy is looking for blood—don't take any unnecessary risks."

In the editorial room of the Herald, Drislane sat with his head in his hands and mournfully looked over his city staff—two old men and seven girls.

"There ain't nobody going to pin a rap on me. This gazette got protection all the way to the state house and back and don't forget it."

But Jerry Cowan, erstwhile rectorial star of the Herald, and Managing Editor Drislane chose to forget it to the tune of pinning a 20-year federal sentence on the number king. Then the slipup; while waiting for the train that would carry him to prison, Salustri outwitted the guards, slugged the marshal and was on his way.

With the news of his escape, Jerry and Drislane knew Salustri would be back. The Herald's constant and merciless headlines had galled the gangster, bored right into his pride.

"Sure, he'll be back," the reporter told his editor, "and when he does, he'll head for our office first."

That was two years ago. Now Jerry was on assignment in the Pacific. Meanwhile, the managing editor waited. Of course, he was jumpy; who wouldn't be when each corner might turn into a hail of lead?

And now the chief of police had passed the word that Salustri had been spotted in Bayside, just 11 miles this side of Hartfield.

The managing editor was dismayed, fingering the last cigarette in his scuffed pack when Publisher Jim Geldhorn came into the room. Drislane blinked his eyes and dropped the cigarette—doggone, if it wasn't another girl. Attractive and well built, but still another girl.

Geldhorn hustled the young woman over to an empty desk and hurriedly left.

"On a newspaper a girl reporter isn't worth the powder it takes to camouflage her nose," Drislane had exploded when the publisher unobtrusively attempted to install the last girl on the city staff.

"All I hear these days is 'I've got an appointment with the hairdresser, the dressmaker, the butcher, the baker—'. These girls have an appointment with everyone but me and their work," he ranted.

"Chief," said thin-pated, fiftish Mike Bales, the paper's only bachelor, coming up to the managing editor's desk, "I'm going to hop down to Nick's for a shave."

"Darn," muttered Drislane, "we're off again and it'll take another three weeks to see who is really queen bee of this hive."

The managing editor's head was poked under his desk in search of his lost cigarette when a pair of shapely legs approached.

"Mr. Drislane," he heard a feminine voice say, "I'd like to be assigned to the Salustri case."

Abruptly, a hush fell over the Herald editorial room and light expectant reportorial heads poised over their typewriters as the managing editor took several seconds to come up from under his desk.

In the face of the gathering editorial clouds, the new girl bravely continued with her request and began to fumble with a gold locket which was looped around her neck.

"The picture I got from Jerry—" she offered but gave no further.

The thunder broke loose and Drislane hissed, his face purple. "On a newspaper, a woman"—he didn't finish but resignedly collapsed in his chair.

With effort he continued feebly, "Miss Whatever-your-name-is, go get a manicure—get a cup of coffee escape from the United States Marshal's office in 1943, was recognized by the reporter as she walked through the barber shop to the beauty salon at the rear of the building.

Miss Hewes, upon seeing Salustri, continued through the shop and left by a rear exit and soon returned with a squad of police officers.

"The reporter said that she had identified the gangster through his picture which she had carried in a gold locket given to her by her fiance, Jerry Cowan, formerly police reporter on The Herald and now on assignment in the South Pacific.

"Having threatened the life of my fiance, Salustri was a potential threat to my coming marriage, so I carried his picture, knowing that I would run into him some day," Miss Hewes said. "Now that he is captured, I know that I can plan to marry Jerry as soon as he returns."

Speechless, the managing editor scanned the copy. Then, polishing his pencil, he added to the message: "In the meantime, I will continue working at The Herald as police reporter."

After an hour of planting imaginary booby traps all over the newspaper plant, the managing editor had mentally destroyed the publisher and all the girls on the staff a dozen times over.

Chief, Chief," the reporter panted, "they just got him."

"Just got who—when—where?" Drislane roared.

"Salustri, at the barber shop," said Mike, furiously shoving a piece of copy paper into his typewriter.

"I'll have the story written for the last edition in a jiffy."

Downstairs the presses were silent and waiting as the managing editor's pencil poised over the reporter's scoop.

"Nat Salustri, former police number czar who escaped local police two years ago, today was captured in Nick's barber and beauty shop on Main Street through the efforts of Miss Loretta Hewes, a member of The Herald's editorial staff."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Healthful Breakfast Will Appeal to Family If Menus Are Varied

All those in favor of bacon and eggs have the right idea for there's no denying the importance of a substantial breakfast. In addition to bacon and eggs, the pattern should include fruit or fruit juice, toast, butter and a beverage.

You can't expect a first-class health rating if you skip breakfast frequently. And you can't do your best work, be you business man, farmer, housewife, career girl or school child, if mid-morning hunger pains bother you.

The remedy? A well-rounded breakfast that gives you foods essential for health.

You say you can't eat breakfast? Nonsense. Of course, if you're one of those skip-breakfast people, it may take you a little time to get used to eating it, but little by little you can do it and really like it.

Afraid of gaining weight, you say? No, not if breakfast includes a citrus fruit, soft boiled or poached egg, dry toast and coffee or tea without cream or sugar.

No, not if breakfast includes a citrus fruit, soft boiled or poached egg, dry toast and coffee or tea without cream or sugar. You won't have nearly as hard a time resisting the snacks which put on weight if you're fortified with a nicely balanced breakfast.

We have variety in lunches and dinners, why not plan to have it in breakfasts? It will make them ever so much more interesting.

Prepare eggs in several different styles, scrambled, poached, soft boiled, coddled, fried, baked or creamed. Have interesting breads and spreads.

Don't forget that meats add variety, too. Try sliced or fried ham, bacon or dried beef.

Then, too, you can find interesting varieties for pancakes and waffles. Why not this:

Bran Griddle Cakes. (Makes 15 cakes, 5 1/2 inches in diameter) 2 eggs, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups milk, 3 cups sifted flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 3/4 cup melted shortening, 1/2 cup bran.

Beat eggs and sugar until light and fluffy. Add milk and mix well. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Add shortening. Fold in bran. Bake on a hot griddle, turning only once.

You'll find that Dutch pancakes will do a nice filling job during breakfast, as well as contributing the valuable protein of eggs for this meal.

Dutch Pancakes. (Serves 4) 4 eggs, 3/4 cup sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup milk, 2 tablespoons soft butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, Jam.

Beat eggs thoroughly. Sift flour and salt together and add to eggs alternately with milk to make a smooth batter. Spread butter over bottom and sides of cold frying pan. Pour in batter and place in a hot (400 degree) oven. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, reducing heat gradually to moderate (350 degrees) during the baking. Pancakes should puff up at the sides.

Remember These Facts About Yeast Breads. Rising time on bread or rolls usually follows this pattern: Dough made with one cake of yeast and two cups of liquid will take three hours to rise. Each subsequent rising takes less time.

Rising may be hastened by using more yeast. However, not more than two cakes of yeast should be used in the average recipe for fear of giving too much yeast flavor.

If the dough has not risen enough, place in a moderate rather than a hot oven to bake.

Slow rising is the most desirable in the long run as it brings out the best flavor of the product.

Milk, potato water or just plain water may be used as a liquid in yeast dough.

If you want to keep the bread moist, use a little bit of mashed potato in the dough.

Shortening makes bread tender but it discourages the yeast growth. Large holes in bread are caused by too long a rising period.

and be crisp and brown. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar and spread with jam. Roll like an omelet and serve immediately from a hot platter.

Eggs and Pork Sausage. (Serves 6) 1/2 pound bulk pork sausage, 3 cups dry cubed bread, 6 eggs, beaten, 6 tablespoons milk, 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Saute sausage in skillet until well browned. Pour off most of the fat, then add bread cubes and brown.

Combine eggs, milk and cheese to sausage mixture. Cook like scrambled eggs. Serve at once.

Shirred Eggs and Sausages. (Serves 6) 6 link sausages, 1 cup catsup, 6 eggs.

Cut sausages into one-inch pieces and brown lightly. Place in a shallow baking dish and cover with catsup. Break eggs over catsup and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Sour Cream Coffee Rolls. 2 cups milk, 1 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 4 beaten eggs, 2 cakes yeast, 1/2 cup warm water, 13 cups flour.

Scald milk and cream. Add shortening, salt and sugar, then cool. Add the eggs and the yeast which has been softened in lukewarm water.

Add the flour to make a stiff dough. Blend well. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Cover the bottom of large muffin tins with 1/2-inch thick pieces of dough.

Cover with filling and place another piece of dough on top. This may be baked as a coffee loaf in the same manner, covering the bottom of a loaf tin with dough, putting on the filling and covering with another piece of dough. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake rolls in a hot oven 25 minutes. For bread, use a hot oven for 10 minutes, then reduce to moderate for 40 minutes.

Hardly anyone can resist piping hot pancakes with butter and syrup for breakfast. For those with substantial appetites and large calorie needs, serve pancakes often. Or, use them to add variety to the breakfast pattern.

Filling. 1 cup cooked, chopped prunes, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup raisins.

Mix together thoroughly. The sour cream coffee dough will make three loaves of bread and several dozen rolls.

Banana Sour Cream Bread. (Makes 1 large loaf) 1/2 cup thick sour cream, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups mashed banana, 1 cup flour, 1 1/2 cups bran, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda.

Blend the first four ingredients. Add, sifted together, the dry ingredients. Place in a greased loaf pan and let stand 20 minutes. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for about one hour. Make this the day before, and toast for breakfast. It's delicious.

Sugar is yeast food. Too large amounts retard the yeast growth. Sour, heavy bread is caused by too high temperature during the rising time.

Crisp crusts on bread are made by brushing the top with slightly beaten egg white 10 minutes before the baking. This also will give a browner crust.

Soft crusts can be achieved by brushing with melted fat just before baking.

Dry yeast keeps longer than fresh yeast but it must be kept in a cool dry place.

To test the activity of yeast, drop it into 1/4 cup of warm water and add one teaspoon sugar. If it bubbles in five minutes the yeast is all right to use.

When you make pancakes for a crowd, add the butter to the hot syrup. This makes serving easier and stretches the butter.

Know Where Your Taxes Go

Too long the people of Scurry County—who are no different from those in many other sections of the state and nation—have known too little about where their tax money is going. And they need to know more—it is just good business to know. By this statement Your Home County Paper casts no reflection upon those in charge of handling our tax funds other than to declare that more financial statements should be presented to the public for their constituents' study and information.

The Times published a lengthy statement of the financial status of the City of Snyder. We have since heard numerous comments from Snyder citizens who were glad to see the statement—and almost universally they stated the city was apparently operating on a sound basis, paying its bills regularly and promptly and handling its affairs efficiently.

We believe the people of Scurry County are entitled to regular statements from school districts and from the county.

Mother of Mercy Calls

As plans for the annual Red Cross drive for funds in Scurry County are perfected for a campaign in early March, we ponder perennial proof of the vital work which the universal Mother of Mercy continues to perform in peace as well as war.

More active, of course, during war times, the Red Cross is nonetheless important in serving the needs of the world in peace-time catastrophes, calamities and every-day health work.

Floods, fires, disease epidemics, serious accidents, storms, and other occasions when mass assistance is needed to relieve a community are only a few of the more noticeable activities of the Red Cross. But there are thousands of less ballyhooed occasions for action by this great organization of humanity. Right here in Scurry County the Red Cross last year spent nearly $3,000 on worthy causes. Veteran cases and service to servicemen and dependents were every-day occasions to the Scurry County chapter.

So as we prepare to go into our annual campaign let us not forget that no other organization handles the necessary functions of relief as does the Red Cross. Arrange now to make your donation a worthy one.

The Road of Knowledge

It has been estimated that the number of students in schools and colleges this year will be about 32,000,000. This is a vast army marching along the road of knowledge.

There will be some fairly high hills to climb, such as the difficulty of learning to speak and write correctly and convincingly. Language is a wonderful tool. The world listens to those who learn how to handle it well. Every hill one conquers strengthens his climbing power. The next one seems less difficult.

There are very nice recreation places along the road, too, marked Athletics, Dates, Entertainment, etc. If some linger too long at these delightful spots, the line may get ahead of them.

One can believe that most of them will march and climb steadily. If so they will get a grand start on a life of usefulness and success.

Editorial of the Week

Most parents discover that the only way to get a young child to spend less money is to give him less to spend. Experience suggests that the same rule holds with federal executives. The bigger their budgets the more they overspend them. They regard cash balances as poison. Money left over might make some congressional committee think a department or agency would need less for the next year. But a big overdraft would be an argument for money money for the next year.

If there weren't money in the treasury to take care of these overdrafts, there might be less spending. Roosevelt, of course, resorted to deficit spending by borrowing whenever he needed extra money. But now that is frowned upon and, with the GOP in control in Congress, is less easy. With President Truman now asking for still more money in a day when federal economy is in order, someone will have to call a halt. Representative Harold Knutson, head of the House ways and means committee, has logic on his side when he says, "The only way we can force Truman to save money is to cut the government income by reducing income taxes so he won't have the money to throw around."

The slash in tax rates can not be great this year. The Marshall Plan must be financed, and there's an enormous federal debt to be whittled down. Yet some kind of tax cut should come soon. It is needed not only to relieve the taxpayer a bit from the present inflationary drain but, as Mr. Knutson says, to check federal over-spending. With less money in the treasury the Truman administration will be forced to begin keeping some of its economy promises.—Dallas News.

I Am Goin' Down to Texas

I'm goin' down in Texas where there's always plenty room;
Where the landscape's never skimpy, and the sunshine kills all gloom.

The East just cramps my elbows, and the North gets one my nerves—

So I'm goin' down in Texas for the rest a man deserves. Say, did you ever go to Texas? Why, man, you've missed a sight.

There's nothing on a small scale, you travel day and night.

And when you think you're somewhere, you just have made a start.

There are just two of U.S.A., Texas and the other part. Cotton! Why, there's nothing ever beat it, it clothes 'bout half the earth.

Take Texas out of cattle and there's precious little worth.

But if you want a piece of heaven, of purest, truest kind,

Eat a Texas watermelon, it will make you lose your mind.

There's an open sky in Texas, and open hand and heart,

There's a big, broad grip in Texas, which makes the pulses start.

There's a bigger joy in Texas than other sections know 'Cause down in dear old Texas the biggest people grow.

So I'm goin' down in Texas to git my full of cheer, I am goin' where the sky line just pulls away all keer.

I am goin' where there's plenty room to kick up heels and run.

Oh, I'm going down in Texas where there's gobs of food and fun.

Efficient and Attractive

Foreigners visiting the United States often say they are greatly impressed by the smartness and attractiveness of American women and girls. They ask what American life does to make them so efficient and attractive.

One thing is the excellent education system which puts ambition in the heart of youth. Young people learn that effort and intelligence bring rewards in business and industry. So when girls and women take jobs, they do their best, and almost always make good.

Personal attractiveness helps them in work and business. The world gets good results when it meets them in business contacts, and it likes and admires them.

Style in dress and make-up, a bright and sparkling manner are objectives appealing to American girls. They come into womanhood with a fascinating vivacity and friendliness and enthusiasm. Many find it hard not to fall in love with them.

Soil Conservation Grows

Present day 4-H Club boys and vocational agriculture students may find it hard to believe, but it is true that only a few years ago some farmers believed that a straight furrow was right even if straight up hill and down, and some ranchmen held that it was an immoral waste to let a blade of grass grow higher than two inches above ground.

Even more tragic is the fact that, while such farmers and ranchmen are pointed out as unique characters today, the practical application of conservation practices still has not affected more than a small portion of the land area of the nation. Today there are too many people who know better but who still follow the line of least resistance—that is, a straight line is the shortest distance between plow turns, and any grazing land will sustain as many head of stock as you can put on it.

That is why it is laudable that the State Department of Education, the Texas Forest Service, the Soil Conservation Service, the State Game Department and the individual Texas colleges and public schools are beginning to get together on a program of resource-use education, starting with the teachers and working through the pupils.

The pupils are the future holders and managers of all our land and other natural resources. If they are given the facts soon enough and generally enough, the prediction of a desert America by 2009 A. D. may not materialize after all.

It is just a case of ascertaining the facts—this has been done—and then giving the facts and the incentive to the people to apply them to the resource utilization program. It is on the latter score that America thus far has fallen down.

Resource-use education in the public schools is a No. 1 "must." It is just as important as the current drive to explain Americanism to the student body; for, to be sure, the relative merits of a productive America and a desert America themselves must decide how worthy the present American system is. Practical conservation which provides well for the present and insures for the future can clinch the verdict for "our way of life."—San Angelo Standard-Times.

Cotton Rises $5 a Bale as Most Other Farm Products Maintain Good Trend

Most farm products sold steady to stronger during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports in its weekly release to The Times this week.

Sheep and lambs maintained a fairly steady tone, and some markets showing slight gains and others small losses. Good and choice lambs brought $21 at Kansas City and $20 to $20.50 at Oklahoma City. Medium and good woolled lambs sold from $18.50 to $19.50 at Denver and from $19 to $20.50 at Fort Worth. Mohair sold at Kerrville and Del Rio at around 45 cents per pound for adult hair and 65 cents for kid. Scarce fall wools were offered at around $1.20 cash basis.

Hog prices fluctuated sharply from day to day last week and opened higher Monday for net gains of $1 to $2 at most markets, with San Antonio ending up near the starting point. Top hogs ranged from $23 to $24.75 in Monday's trade.

Extreme unevenness on steers featured the week's cattle trading, with most steers and yearlings following the generally strong trend and heavy fed steers barely steady to weak. Common and medium steers and yearlings brought $17 to $24 at Houston Monday, when medium and good yearling heifers sold at $23.75 at San Antonio. Medium and good steers, yearlings and heifers turned at $22 to $25.50 at Fort Worth and $21 to $25 at Oklahoma City. Denver and Wichita moved medium and good steers from $22 to $25.50. Kansas City struck a top of $29 on choice steers.

Big prices went up a little last week, but weakened Monday, when Dallas and Denver bought current receipts mostly at 40 cents a dozen, and Fort Worth at 41 to 42 1/2 cents. Poultry moved in rather dull trade at slightly lower prices. Dallas and Fort Worth paid from 22 to 25 cents a pound for heavy hens and 33 to 35 cents for fryers and broilers. Cotton strengthened during the past week in fairly active trade. Prices rose about $5 a bale. Dallas quoted spot middling 15-16 inch Monday at 33.85 cents.

Grain sorghums advanced 22 cents per 100 pounds and corn 12 to 20 cents a bushel, as barley rose 12 cents and wheat eight cents. Gains reflected smaller offerings rather than increased demand. No. 1 hard ordinary wheat closed Monday around $2.61 at Texas common points and white corn $2.87 to $2.89.

Feeds showed a steadier tone, and mill feeds gained $2.50 to $5 per ton. Demand for hay slackened and prices eased downward. Farmers' stock peanuts remained at support levels.

Southwest vegetables went through another dull week, and many prices slipped downward.
