Big Cotton Yield Gain Beside U.S.

While increased cotton production in Scurry County will amount to probably as much as 100 per cent, early predictions indicate, a 1948 cotton crop for the United States 10 per cent above last year-but smaller than the trade expected-was forecast last Thursday by the Department of Agriculture.

Cotton in cultivation on July totaled 23.653,000 acres or 2.1153,000 more than last year. This is slightly above the 10-year average. Scurry County's acreage planted to cotton has been estimated at close to 100,000 acres by County Agent Oscar Fowler, with possible production predicted as high as 40,000 bales. While the department makes no official forecast of production, it said unofficial computations indicate a 1948 crop of 12,927,000 bales for the country if the yield per acre remain stable. Last year's crop was 11,851,000 bales. This potential increase was called 'desirable" by a department cotton expert, who added to a reporter at Washington last week: "It looks as though this year's rop will be about in line with the demand and supply situation. This will give us ample supplies, but they will not be burdensome "Frivate traders had been expect ng an increase in this year's plantings of from 13 to 15 per cent. The ctual increase of only 10 per cent will probably result in a slight rise n the market price of cotton."

He said the "glut" of cotton on he American market in recent years had disappeared. The last carryover total of August 1, 1947, showed only 2,500,000 bales on hand.

Shuler Elected Assessor, Taylor Named as Judge

Scurry County voters polled a disppointingly low 2,817 ballots in Saturday's primary election in the ace of a possible voting strength of 3,500. Last week revival of interest n politics in the area failed to bring out the vote that political prognosti, cators had expected.

Scurry County's voting trend was in contrast to record votes polled in the state as a whole, which was estimated Tuesday at 1,214,000, an all-time record high. That number broke the record established in 1940 when 1.189.270 Texans voted in an election was sent W. Lee O'Daniel back to the governor's chair.

Probably interest in several hotly ontested county races was overhadowed by the state senator's race that saw Pat Bullock, long-time Scurry County man now living at Colorado City returned to the 24th District office over Harley Sadler, veteran Sweetwater showman. Vote in Scurry County was 1,829 for Bullock and 893 for Sadler

Top county interest was in the races for county judge and county tax assessor-collector. In the judge's race F. C. Hairston, incumbent, was defeated almost three to one by Edgar Taylor, present tax assessor-A. W. (Addie) Arnold, Snyder collector. # ACC President Tells Rotarians Education Vital

Education of the young people of the present and generations of the new few years will be vital to the future security of America, declared Don Morris, president of Abilene Christian College, when he spoke at the luncheon meeting of Snyder Rotary Club last Thursday at the country club.

After showing that the number o students seeking college education has grown from 1,500,000 in 1940 to 2,300,000 in 1948, the West Texas educator declared: "Because the thinking and guidance of the people of a generation from now will be shaped by the education of youths of the present and the next few years, we must keep our young people properly trained in right thinking instilling in them the principles of integrity in government, and teaching them away from the left."

Rotarians to be in charge of programs for the ensuing month were named by Program Chairman Broad way Browning as follows: Bentley Baize, N. R. Clements, W. J. Ely and Willard Jones.

Guests at last week's Rotary meeting, besides Morris, were O. H. Berry of Sweetwater, Edgar Taylor and Mrs. Ophelia Blackard. Mrs. Blackard played for several group songs.

Harley Sadler, candidate for the State Senate in Saturday's election, submits the following statement:

Time will not permit a personal letter, so I take this means of exressing my sincere appreciation to all friends in this section for their efforts in my behalf during my recent campaign for the State Senate.

I regret that in the closing hours of this campaign misleading information was distributed through the U. S. mail and cleverly designed program. The meeting will close newspaper ads. have no regrets. Personally I feel that a great reponsibility has been lifted from my houlders. During my six years of legislative service I took my work seriously and endeavored to give fair and impartial service to all. I did so at a great personal expense and absence from my business. I fully realize that the future of Harley Sadler is of very little consequence, but the importance of the legislative branch of our government means everything to the people, and I urge that the voters, not just during elections but at all times show an interest in it.

WHETHER you do a lot of sewing or not, you can't escape the daily and weekly mending jobs that inevitably will fall upon you. Most women dislike mending because it's what they term a dull job, but there are ways of making it interesting.

"I never liked mending until I changed my ideas about it," said a woman to me recently. It seems that she had done such intricate sewing in her time that mending was a come-down for her, but when she decided that she would learn to mend so no one suspected that a patch-up job had been done, this tested her ingenuity to such an extent that the task became an interesting one.

I tried this myself and found it could be a fascinating job. If you are mending men's socks, try to weave in the stitches so you wouldn't suspect they were there, and see for yourself how interesting this can be!

Or suppose you've torn the pocket en your best apron. Why not remove the pocket, weave or patch the material in a very subtle way and make a larger pocket of a flower design?

Have your best gloves slipped a seam? You have a chance to match your weaving skill to the stitch already used in the gloves. You see,

Machine-Made Sweaters Can Be Mended

Always pace around your probbem, something in the manner of an engineer before you mend something really important. There are many types of mending jobs, all requiring different materials and tech-

It is sometimes difficult to match sweaters, but the darning tactics can be hidden easily with attractive, decorative embroidery.

The first thing to do is to cut a piece from the bottom of the sweater, unravel it and use for darning the hole. The cut edge of the darn is too obvious, make an attractive embroidery stitch or design over it to disguise the darn. Scattered sprays of flowers or daisy stitch are easy to use and effective for covering darns. Applique spots of embroidery are good, especially when the elbows of the sweater have been mended.

When you mend the part of the sweater from which you cut, make certain that you catch every stitch to prevent unraveling. Stretch the edge as you work so that you can be sure of catching the stitches.

Use Bands Effectively To Disguise Darning

On dark fabrics of dresses, especially if they are woolen, you frequently can work a darn so that it does not show. However, on lighter fabrics, on linens or silks or rayons, it is not possible to disguise the darning. In this case consider using bands as a decorative measure to hide the darning.

If a wide, circular skirt, for example, has small tears and darns, you might add contrasting bandsseveral rows, to go around the skirt to cover these. These add a lovely decorative touch.

How to Mend Sheets, Towels

If your sheets have torn hems, add contrasting bands of fast-colored percale to top or bottom or both. Your sheets will be more attractive and colorful than when they were Small tears and holes can be darned or patched so they are fairly inconspicuous. Use small stars or flower sprays to cover them. Large holes will need a patching job. Overcast a split sheet, join the outside edges and overcast by hand so that the seams will be flat. Sheets which are too worn to be mended may be cut down for tow-

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

NE of the worst menaces to the happiness of women is the contented bachelor. He infuriates them and they don't seem to know what to do about him.

His age range is from about 30 to anywhere in the 60s. He is prosperous, pleased with himself and just a little simple. He thinks the women who entertain him, cook the food he likes and brighten into sympathy when he talks, the women who light cosy little fires for him and set chummy little supper tables for him are just as pleased with the situation as he is.

On my desk is a letter from Mary Innes of Boston, 38 years old, a successful business woman, widowed and the mother of a grown daughter just entering college.

"I'm good-looking, well-dressed, healthy, affectionate," says Mary's most amusing letter. "I like life, I like men. And what do I get? Bachelors with mothers or sisters clinging to them, who have to telephone home whenever they miss a meal there. Or widowers who never will forget dear Helen. But how they love the meals I manage to cook in my two-room-and-kitchenette apartment, how they praise the cosiness of my fireside! After a hard office day I might like a downtown meal, lights and music, a movie or show. Not Mister Widower! He wants to settle into the big chair, relax and talk about him-

"In my seven years of widowhood," the letter goes on, "I've come to know them as an absolute type. They bring occasional boxes of candy or perhaps a book. They regard this as great thoughtfulness. 'Get your candy? Like that book?' they chuckle complacently.

"The one I'm working on now," says Mary, apparently taking another deep breath, "is an awfully nice fellow of 44. I'd marry him tomorrow and make a comfortable home for him. But why should he marry, when he can have just as much of my companionship as he likes, enjoy home-cooked meals, confide to me all his plans and be sure of a good listener whenever he wants to talk?

"He has two daughters, both married. I have one who lives in a distant city. There is no question of further children. So all he has to do is go on this way indefinitely, with a minimum of expense, no responsibility, no domestic quarrels or problems.

"What makes me bitter," the letter ends, "is that this man, like many of them, makes it a habit to dine out with other independent women, perhaps four or five times a week. Perhaps they all have equal hopes of marriage in the future. If so, we're a pitiful lot. We have no money to take expensive vacations or join exclusive clubs and when, by chance, we do meet a fine man, he evades us in this way. My present man not only dodges any serious talk of matrimony, but he openly exults in his skill in maintaining his independence. Is there any way to handle this situation a little more

Salaries of Athletes THEY were talking about the money a professional athlete could make, and how much most of these athletes were worth. In the first place, among eight or ten old-time writers, in the discussion it was generally voted that the ring business was the most lopsided. This means that a few were far overpaid and the others were far underpaid. For example, Joe Louis has bowled over close to four milli dollars for his 62 fights. Now four million dollars is more than any other contestant could collect from any other Above that we'll say Louis picked up 350 thousand dollars for his last fight.

Babe Ruth That is about the pay that 10 of the highest-paid ballplayers would get for an entire season of 154 But after all, the fight champion collects because he can draw. When two ball clubs meet there may be 50 ball players engaged. When fighters meet, only two in the main event get any real money, and one of these gets most of it. After all, a contestant is entitled to get his part of the swag which his drawing power can earn.

Babe Ruth was paid as high as $80,000 a year. He was actually worth more than double this amount to his team, the league and baseball in general. It would be hard to measure how much he actually earned. I've seen home teams drawing 1,500 a game jump to 33,-000 when the Babe came along.

Few Get Rich

But, while Jack Dempsey, Louis and Gene Tunney have all collected huge amounts, and a few others have picked up important checks from the fight game, the vast majority get little except queer noises in their skulls. It's a tough game. if you make good. It's a thousand times tougher when you don't.

Commissioner Eddie Eagen tells me there are more boxers than one might think who are putting away from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. This is amazing when you figure the cut the manager and his helpers get.

The fight game is good only to the few. For the others it is largely a matter of scrambled brains. It is not a profession to be recommended too highly to the youth of the land. Baseball and f

Very few people realize what John (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) L. Lewis has done to white-collar workers, to old people living on government pensions and to the rest of the labor movement.

To get a bird's-eye view of Lewis' operations, you have to go back to the days of the New Deal when it was recognized that all old people in the United States deserved some kind of security. Accordingly the social security act was passed, providing unemployment compensation and old-age pensions.

Today these pensions have become most woeft by inadequate, and one factor helping to make them so has been Lewis and his never-ending, inflationary demands for wage increases and miners' pensions.

For instance, when Lewis gouges a multimillion-dollar welfare fund out of the mine operators, the operators in turn pass the cost on to the oldsters and everyone else in the country, whose pension then becomes less valuable.

Thus the miners become a privileged class set aside from the rest of the American people. Not only do they get three and four times the pensions given ordinary citizens, but other citizens have to pay for the miners'

Thus the widow who tries to make both ends meet on a meager government pension of $30 a month, has to help pay for the miner's pension of $100 a month-because the increased price of coal is passed

ANOTHER THING: Lewis now can bulldoze wage increases for the miners which certain other unions can't. For instance, the railroads have their rates set by the interstate commerce commission As public utilities they are not free agents to decide what they will charge the public.

Actually, coal is just as much a public utility as the railroads. It is essential to the lifeblood of the nation. But while the railroads are regulated by the ICC; the electric power and gas companies by the federal power commission; and the radio, telegraph and telephone companies by the federal communications commission, the coal industry remains unregulated.

'WE ACCEPT!' Barkley Truman In Fighting Mood Born in Log Cabin

The PHILADELPHIA STORY Truman-Barkley

If the Democrats hadn't known before their convention that President Harry Truman was their man they found out on the steaming Wednesday when their political show slammed through to a smashing, triumphant finish.

Harry Truman told them after the enterprising liberal forces of the party had spent all that Wednesday in the 105-degree heat of convention hall proving it beyond any doubt.

It looked like the Democratic party might have been completely revitalized in 12 tense hours on that last day of the convention, ending a period during which the Democrats' morale and will to win slowly had been ossifying.

The revitalization came as a result of two potent factors which actually could be reduced to one-President Truman's influence.

In the first place, in adopting the strong, positive civil rights plank in the platform the party not only repudiated the idea and spirit of STILL ANOTHER THING: Pri- reaction but also dealt an extremely vate industry cannot get together sharp and real slap to the hands and conspire to fix prices. It was a far cry from a love fest as the Democratic clans, feuding for many months, met in the City of Brotherly Love for their 30th national convention.

One-half of the Alabama delegation-13 of the 26 votes-and the entire Mississippi delegation of 22 had stormed out of the convention amid boos, cheers and a great pushing and shoving. This was the high point of the widely-heralded southern revolt, although a rump convention was called to meet in Birmingham, Ala.

Discord Flares

Discord prevailed long before the 1,596 delegates from the 48 states and territories gathered in stifling, steaming Philadelphia for the quadrennial convention.

Dissident factions of the party rallied behind a concerted drive to draft Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the party's standard bearer. "Ike," however, removed himself from the race with his third and final insistence that he "would not accept the nomination."

The new national chairman, Congressman Hugh D. Scott Jr., has a reactionary vote record in congress. He is a member of Philadelphia's Union league and all the right clubs and fraternities including the Philadelphia Cricket club.

The prediction is made openly here that Sen. Edward Martin, who withdrew as a favorite son candidate and nominated Dewey, will be in Dewey's cabinet as secretary of national defense if the governor is elected at the fall election.

Cotton Continues Downward Trend As Demand Weak

Spot cotton prices moved steadily downward this week, according to the Department of Agriculture's release to The Times. Spot market activity increased in the Southwest but elsewhere the dullness of recent weeks persisted. There was continued talk of a larger crop in trade circles, and generally favorable weather was reported.

Egyptian cotton crop for 1948-49 was privately estimated at 1,500,000 bales of 500-pound gross, about 22 per cent larger than the 1,230,000 produced last season. Pakistan announced the unrestricted exportaen of cutton for the period July 15 August 31.

Demand improved a little in the gray cloth market for spot and nearby good but buyers were hesiant about placing orders for future

The crop continued to make good progress in most sections of the belt. Moisture conditions improved in the Southwest, and reports from Texas indicated that picking and ginning were well underway in the Rio Grande area and that picking will become general in the Coastal Bend section next week.

Spot cotton prices continued their downward trend this week, and the 29-point decline on Thursday, July Thursday, July 15, compared with 34.77 cents a week earlier and 38.42 cents on the corresponding day a year ago. For the week ended Wed_ nesday the average spot price was 34.43 cents per pound against 35.51 cents for the preceding week. The spread between spot prices and October futures narrowed sharply during the week. New crop futures prices strengthened somewhat on Tuesday and Wednesday, but lost this gain on Thursday and closed slightly lower than a week earlier.

Cotton markets in the Southwest were more active this week. The volume of sales increased and prices for most qualities declined sharply. Reported sales in the 10 spot markets totaled 54,100 bales for the week against 35,400 in the previous week and 67,600 a year ago.

DIVE-BOMBER SOUNDS IMPRACTICAL TO ME."

SUMMER BOATING SEASON again and on lake, river and sea fronts can be seen harassed men and women exhausting themselves in a frenzied determination to get away from it all via the compass and tiller routine.

The urge to cast off and go for a few hours where there are no traffic lights, phone calls, Gallup polls or war rumors is terrific. Inflation has raised the cost of everything from the yachting cap and the rubber shoes to the yacht and its groceries, but once a man has made up his mind to get out and lose his bearings amid the seagulls nothing can stop him. It is amazing how many men, who get panicky if they find themselves ashore where they are not sure of the house numbers, think it is a pleasure not to have any idea where they are aboard ship. ---

Yachting is a process of getting lost, sunburned, confused, damp and squeamish with a will of iron. ---

It is an endeavor to feel carefree if it worries you sick. It is a search for recreation among spar buoys, canned foods, white caps, squalls, low ceilings, uncomfortable bunks, motor troubles and strange regulations.

Rule one requires you to wear a white cap, keep a chart which you can't read, determine your whereabouts by binoculars and carry a horn, a raft, life preservers, and a boarding ladder. On dry land any such job would bring a revolt; at sea it is called delightful. _._

An auto is comparatively inexpensive. It serves you 12 months instead of three and at no time do you have to varnish it, look for openings in its seams, plug up a hole aft, pump it out or hail a tug to get it off a sandbar.

With a boat you spend many months planning changes in design, going over the equipment, arguing with the shipyard owner, checking bills, wondering about the insurance and condemning the yacht club directors for another assessment.

What really makes a man go for the yacht routine anyhow? It must be the yen to escape painting the porch, flee the traffic jam and for a brief interval find a life where there are no signs reading "No Parking," "Joe's Jumbo Hot Dogs" and "Antiques for Sale."

_._ Fetch our open dory, skipper, and let's cast off for the open sea with a hearty "Yo ho!"

One of the oldest and most spectacular of all the present processes employed in steel-making is the Bessemer process. A blast of air is blown through the molten iron, and elements such as carbon and silicon are oxidized in the intense heat that is generated. Modern converters can produce about 25 tons of steel in as many minutes in a single "blow."

When her eyes dreamy, walked proudly one union can get away with such a luscious plum others can, and they now are proposing to follow the lead of the miners.

In the end it may mean a unton-imposed tax on each commodity or service we buy. The total of all such taxes could run into billions, all of it added to American living costs.

The only way to prevent such a condition is for congress to pass legislation prohibiting the levying of such taxes by any union. If that is not done we soon may be at the mercy of labor leaders with no limit placed upon their hold on us. That tax on coal levied by the miner's union is just as much a tax as is any levied by the federal, state or local governments.

HOW IT STARTED

ONE FELL SWOOP: The "fell" in this expression is derived from felon and it means savage or cruel. A fell swoop suggests the rapacious plunge of a bird of prey. The expression was first used by Shakespeare in Macbeth. Macbeth, on being told of the slaying of his wife and babes, cried out: "All? What, all my pretty chickens and their dam at one fell swoop ""

CONTRACTOR OF THE SECOND CONTRACTOR OF THE SEC

Figurately, one fell swoop means "occurring stadenly at one time". But the expression has become trite and should be avoided in serious writing or speech. It has been so much abused that it now borders on being a slang expression.

Profit by Broken Terraces

Recent rains in Scurry County have broken a good many terraces on farms-but the percentage of breakage was much lower than the number broken say three and five years ago. Probably last week's rains were the biggest that have fallen in nine years in most of the area, but the run-off was smaller than heretofore.

Farmers and ranchers are profiting by past experience in the building of terraces and contouring They are learning how to make them substantial and do the job of holding water on the land as they are supposed to. That's always true of thoughtful planning and observation with any new method

Snyder area folks will remember that the flood which plagued the section on June 19, 1939, came from rains that amounted to only about five inches Last week's rainfall was more than seven inches in the section-but the flood waters in Deep Creek, for example, did not reach the crest they did nine years ago. No doubt the terraces and contoured rows on crops north and west of Snyder accounted for much of the rainfall staying in the fields where it fell.

A practical farmer who keeps weather records and run-off for the section declares that if conservation practices continue to progress as hey have during the past 15 years, the streams will run again in most of this section within two to four decades.

Every inch of land is grand because it's Texas.

It's the biggest and the best

And much better than the rest, That's a fact none will protest, at least in Texas.

So you see why we reside

In a state that's long and wide-We need room for all the pride we have in Texas.

Texas-it isn't a state, It's where the best people find a place of birth;

Texas-it isn't a state, It's just a hunk of heaven settled down on earth.

Listen-all forty-eight: the past decade, but it is noteworthy to observe that We won our freedom with struggle and with strife

That's why Texas-it isn't a state: It's a way of life that's great, great, great!

Editorial of the Week

The Communist Daily Worker, newspaper published in New York, was unusually lucky this time. On the day that Russia chopped down Tito as a Trotskyist and imperialist, it just happened that the Daily Worker had no laudatory piece or editorial on the Kremlin's ex-darling in Yugoslavia.

Heretofore there have been some notable cases of embarrassment (if Communists can be embarrassed) because the Daily Worker wasn't tipped off in advance may shortly get a needed break under the European when Moscow was about to do a flop in policy.

In particular 'the Worker was a day late when World War II switched from an "imperialist war" to greatly up waterpower "backlogs." . . . We have proven a "war to save democracy" as Hitler, a former ally, here that the surest way to bring down the crime suddenly attacked Russia. More recently there was wave is through several years of prosperity. . . . Great Britain needs proudly proclaimed that "Stalin's and Tito's armies too, a firmer plan of food production and at least killed about 20 times more Nazis than the rest of five years of peace with labor to reconstruct from the the Allies combined." That will have to be changed, ruins of World War II a nation strong in body as of course.-- The Fort Worth Press. well as in spirit.

Many Farm Products Move Toward Lower Prices on Southwest Markets

Many Southwest farm prices mov- | specialized producing sections. Hens ed toward lower levels during the strengthened slightly at Denver, but past week, the U. S. Department of remained about unchanged at other Agriculture's Production and Mar- markets. Generally light egg reketing Administration reports in its ceipts held prices steady all week, weekly release to The Times.

All feed grains broke sharply. Increased marketings of new crop oats barley and grain sorghums and favorable prospects for corn inf enced the decline. Wheat set a firmer tone, as demand improved and marketings decreased. Mill feed prices dropped lower, and ther feedstuffs developed weak undertones. Good quality alfalfa hay became more pl/ itiful at Fort Worth with prices trending lower. Peanut prospects looked good.

Spring lambs and yearlings advanced $1 to $2 during the week at San Antonio, but dropped $1 to $2.50 at Fort Worth, $3.50 at Kansas City and 50 cents to $1.50 at Denver. Most markets sold ewes around 50 cents to $1 lower. Feeder lambs held their own fairly well, and breeding ewes continued in broad demand at Kansas City.

Texas 12-month staple wool sold round $1.70 to $1.75 a pound, Most slaughter castle lost 50 cent o $2, and best calves fell $4 at For Worth. However, better grades o steers, yearlings and heifers sold fairly steady at some markets, and replacement classes held up well. Cattle demand generally lacked urg_ ency, especially cows, which made up the bulk of offerings at several Russias' recent bluffs on the diplomatic fronts and her of the markets. Grass fat she relentless program of pushing Communism is woven stock, canners and cutters predominated at Oklahoma City, and grassers figured prominently in the trade at San Antonio, Wichita and Kansas

> Hog prices averaged about un hanged for the week, though much unevenness developed. Desirable weights of butcher hogs and ruled steady to slightly higher, while heavier lots and poorer grades slipped to lower levels. Wichita and Fort Worth bought pigs little changed but San Antonio paid to $1 more Many Southwest fruits and vege tables moved in dull to weaker markets during the week. Cotton prices levelled off toward more even trend following the steady downturns of the previous week. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 32.10 cents per pound at Dallas, 32.65 at Houston, 32.70 at Galveston, and 32.85 at New Orleans

Jones Chapman Asks Support in Run-Off

To the Voters of Precinct No. 2: 1 am very grateful for the nice upport that you gave me in Satirday's election, making it possible or me to be in the run-off for your missioner. To those of you who did not vote for me I want to say that I still solicit your vote in the final election.

I want to thank both of my opponents for a clean, fair race. The association with them and with you has been pleasant in every way, and I am looking forward to seeing you again within the next few days. In the meantime your consideration and influence in my behalf will be sincerely appreciated.

Again I thank you-Jones Chap-
