Drop in Diseases

Comparing morbidity reports from Santa Fe Carloadings counties where there are no full-time local health units, with those from 10 other counties where these units afford efficient health rotection, reesls a startling difference in the incidence of communicable diseases, coording to a survey released by Dr. George W. Cox, 14,637 compared with 13,288 for the state health officer.

Using as a basis of comparison the common childhood disease o pared with 42,955 for the same whooping cough, Dr. Cox said that week in 1947. Santa Fe handled a this survey showed that the coun- total of 40,097 cars in the precedties where local health units availed ing week of this year. themselves of biologics from the State Health Department were able to hold this communicable disease to a desirable minimum.

"For instance," Dr. Cox said, "take these figures for comparison. In counties where there are no health units and therefore where no biologics from the State Health Department were used, the following rates of incidence apply, per 100,000 centrate mixture for dairy cows not population: Gaines and Floyd, above only increases production, but also 1,000; Hale, Dallam, Castro and reduces costs by increasing effi-Cottle, above 300: Carson, above 400; Bailey and Hartley, above 600; With swine, balancing the ration and Lipscomb, above 750 cases."

"It is plain to be seen." Dr. Cox said, "that the counties receiving the benefit of a full-time health protection, enjoy a much lower incidence of disease and the resulting lessened danger of death. Public tional gain when 11/2 pounds of health protection can be had for every citizen of Texas, but only when sufficient funds are appropriated to make possible a full-time local health unit in every one of our 254 counties," Dr. Cox declared.

Winter Grains to Provide Pastures For Area Stock

Fall planting time is here for Scurry County farmers, and that neans farmers and stockmen will have to begin deciding what they will need in the way of temporary pastures for this fail and winter, points out Oscar Fowler, county

Oats, barley, wheat, rye and emmer are the small grains commonly grown in Texas for grain, forage or a combination of the two. Fowler says if you are looking for a good, winter-hardy small grain try barley, wheat or rye.

Barle produces big yields of forage early in the fall. Wheat, rye and emmer do not get off to such a good start, but will produce forage later on around springtime if used for grazing altogether. Oats fits right in between these crops after barley begins to fade out, and before the wheat, rye and emmer get started. As a straight forage plant, cats is picked over barley or wheat because cattle like the mature heads better than the full grown barley or wheat heads.

But the game was far from a push-over for the heavier and more experienced Colorado City lads, as indicated by the first downs. The Tigers racked up 12 first downs to 13 for the Wolves.

The tilt was the Tigers' second conference melee in District 6-A (West) competition, and the first conference tilt for the Wolves.

Tiger scores were by Billy Sims whe went over center on a six-yard plunge; Donald Jones, who made a sashay around end for 25 yards; and Willie Martin, who took a pass from Max Coffee and ran 17 yards to pay dirt.

Barker, recently named as the outstanding Clas_S A player of the district, scored three touchdowns for his team. He went over the big stripe on a 14-yard hike, on a tess to a leathercraft meeting held 15-yard traipse and returned a kickby the women of the Plainview off 65 yards and a tally.

Forced to punt only twice, Barker averaged 471/2 yards, topping his season's average last year of 40.3

The other Wolf touchdown was a pass from Corky Brown to Phillip Conway that was good for 16 yards. Conway kicked three extra points.

PLAIN TALKS ON BANKING-

A recent survey reveals that 94 per cent of the general public feels that banks are a necessary part of a community. There are three things that the public wants in its banks:

1.-To be safely and soundly managed.

-To make a reasoable profit to continue in business. 3.—To show a friendly interest in people who go to them for help or service.

You will find that our Bank qualifies in these three items. Bring your credit needs to us for discussion.

Cotton Prices Go Up Slightly Last Week on Markets

Cotton prices were fairly steady in moderately active spot markets this week, according to the Department of Agriculture's weekly releas to The Times. A cotton crop 15,079,000 bales of 500 pounds gross was forecast by the Crop Report-

Loan entries reported to CCC dur ing the last week of September totaled 188,000 bales. The world supply of cotton for the 1948-49 season is expected to total about 43,200,000 bales, slightly more than last season. Rains in most section east of the Missisippi River retard ed harvesting and caused some loca damage to open cotton. Harvesting made good progress in most South western and far Western areas dur ing the week

Spot cotton prices continued t fluctuate within a narrow range this week and on Thursday, October ' the 10 market average for middlin 15-16 inch was 31.24 cents per pound compared with 31.22 cents a week earlier and 31.32 a year ago. The average spot price for the week end. ed Wednesday was 31.25 cents per pound against 31.17 cents for the preceding week.

Grade premiums were about un changed during September. Staple premiums for the medium length narrowed during the month, bu those for 11/4 inch and longer wid ened sharply. Discounts for the lower grades and shorter staple continue to narrow. Reports indi cated that in some markets cotton was being sold by farmers at "hog round' prices which for some of the medium and higher qualities were below loan values.

Spot cotton markets were moderately active this week, and spot sales increased in volume. Reported sales in the 10 spot markets rose to 316,200 bales, a substantial in crease over last week's total of 254,600 bales but far below th 398,600 reported in the corresponding week a year ago. Mills were reported to be buying in moderate volume. There were numerous inquiries from France, Italy and Germany for low middling and higher grades of %-inch through 1 1-32 inch staples. Prices offered were considered unattractive by most merchants and the volume of sale for export was reported as small.

Loan entries reported to CCC through September 30 totaled 536,700 bales against 348,800 a week earlier. The cotton gray goods market was quiet during the week, and only scattered sales were reported.

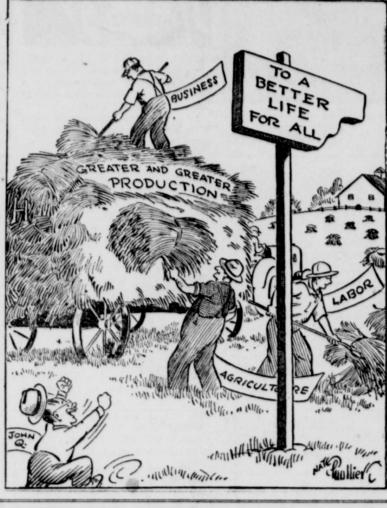

Carry-over of cotton in the United States on August 1, 1948, averaged higher in grade and about the same in average staple length as that of a year earlier. The pri portion falling in the lower grades and shorter staple lengths was considerably less than for other recent years. This year's carry-over of a little more than 3,000,000 bales was about 25 per cent of a year's requirements. Apout 75 per cent of carryover was strict low middling or higher in grade and 90 per cent was 15-16 inch or longer in staple.

Sheep markets of the Southwest showed considerable easiness last week, as receipts continued heavy. This week's opening markets ruled mostly steady to strong. Best ewes sold Monday up to $8.75 at Kansas City and Wichita. Medium ewes brought $7.75 at Denver, and good ewes sold up to $9.50 at Fort Worth. Fall wool brought mostly 40 to 45

Fresh eggs found especially good demand, partly because cooler weather improved qualty of current receipts. Hens held firm at most Southwest markets, with receipts unseasonally light. However, hens sold slightly lower in Denver and in the Central West. Spring chickens also weakened, and turkeys showed general easiness.

Fruit and vegtable markts showed a better tone for the week. Terminal markets paid higher prices for many products, although a few tended downward.

Monday's weakness erased some of last week's grain advances, but all except barley showed net gains. Yellow corn retained a rise of seven

Picture-Graph Shows Progress Of Oil Industry

Thursday, October 14, 1948

An entertaining picture-graph on the progress of the petroleum industry furnished the program for the weekly luncheon of Snyder Rotary Club last Thursday noon at the Snyder Country Club. Provided by the Gulf Oil Corporation through Herman Doak, local distributor, the picture was shown by Douglas

Tracing the development of the oil industry from the discovery of the first oil well in this country 89 years ago to the present time, the picture-graphs, with appropriate monologue, presented interestingly a review of the enormous ramificaions of the industry, from drilling brough processing and delivering to consumers of hundreds of by-prodicts of black gold.

Statistics of the enormity of the ndustry were revealing to Rotarians as figures showed the oil industry is one of the biggest businesses in the world today.

Plans are shaping up for a ladies' night program during the latter part of October, it was announced by President W. A. Casseday. A Hallowe'en theme will be used at the emi-annual social gathering. Besides Mr. Campbell, other guests t last Thursday's luncheon were Lem Neely of Abilene and Harola

IT'S easy to enumerate certain fashion trends for the season, but women are most interested in what the new clothing does for them, at least in the final analysis. All experts agree that this year's clothing makes women look prettier and more feminine.

This year's dresses have both color and warmth, accented by the deep rich tones that quality wools, jerseys, rayon gabardines and corduroys give. There's interest, too, in plaids, in gray, copper tones, bright reds and dark greens.

If you're a school and college girl, your interest will be in such fashion-wise features as dropped shoulders, shallow capes, frilled cuffs, stoles, and the convertibles which are jumper dresses with jackets that can be changed to fit the occasion.

For all women, here are some of the trends worth noting. The skirt with the slim front and back panel fullness and smooth hip lines are new this season. Among the other skirts which are fashion-worthy. there's the skirt that buttons at the front, back or either side; or, the godet skirt tucked and gored which is full without being voluminous: or the straight-fronted skirt with back

You'll be seeing high feathers and veilings as trimmings for many hats. All-over embroideries of heads or sequins are used, particularly on berets.

Generally speaking, hats are small, head-fitting with occasional casual and manipulated brims of medium-size.

If you're buying a fur coat this season, it may well be that one of the following silhouettes should be your choice, for they emerge as those which will probably be seen. First, there is the fitted coat which is full skirted and detailed in

It's the break of breaks for the fashion - conscious planner who likes a long-lived wardrobe, the very new vogue for navy in the fall. There was a time when navy was considered as much a part of spring as its accompanying white gloves and frilly organdie jabots. This season, however, it's competing with black and brown for your favor. The best idea for you is to have a soft suit in your favorite material, faille, taffeta or satin, as well as the woclens, for early autumn wear, and then to revive this suit with spring accessories a few months later.

INTOXICATED AUTO DRIVERS

Another annual conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Commissioners has just been held and we never read its speeches and conclusions without feeling that old time vaudeville is beck. This time the usual alarm over the souse at the auto wheel is voiced and the belief expressed that "chemical tests be made to determine the degree of drunkenness of any motorist arrested for, or suspected of, being intoxicated."

What difference does it make? Is it okay if the driver of a high powered car is only slightly pickled? Is it an extenuating circumstance if he is only half drunk? Is there a fine line between roaring down a crowded street two-thirds intoxicated and 100 per cent cracked?

The convention delegates also came out for more stringent operating license tests. This action was also in the orthodox pattern. Origin of Mascara

Woman's oldest manufactured eauty aid, according to a Hollywood make-up man, is mascara. This material is known to have been compounded by the Egyptians as far back as 4,000 B. C. Inspection of feminine portraits of that time, as presented by wall paintings in modernly unearthed tombs, leads one to suspect that the glamor gals of ancient Egypt were highly comparable with

One Well Permit Issued Last Week As Area Looes

One Scurry County permit for oil well was issued by the Texas Railroad Comission's oil and gas division last week, according to a release to The Times

Weekly average of locations for oil tests in West Texas dropped last week to 65.95, the lowest since the last week in April through which it was 65.88. A high of 72.74 was reached through the week of July 18 to 24, inclusive.

The decline was due to the listing of only seven wildcat and 52 field starters in 17 counties, compared with nine wildcats and 65 proven area locations in 16 counties the preceding week. Totals for the first 39 weeks in 1948 became 292 locations for wildcats and 2,289 in fields, a grand total of 2,572. This is far above the 1947 rate, averaging 47.13

Andrews gained four wildcat loca_ tions last week, Pecos County two and Runnels County one.

Cochran County led in field starters with eight, Crockett recorded seven, Hockley six, Crane and Ector Counties five each, Andrews and Winkler four each, Pecos three, Up. ton and Gaines Counties two each, and Dawson, Hale, Howard, Reeves, Scurry and Yoakum Counties, one

Nine tests were restored to the active list, being scheduled to deepen: Four in Dawson, two in Upton and one each in Hale, Hockley and Yoakum Counties, compared with Cotton Trading Last keting Administration's weekly re-11 during the preceding week.

Scurry County's permit was for Creslenn No. 5 Chapman-Polson, 330 feet from the north and 850 feet from the east lines of the south half of the southeast quarter of Section 100, Block 97, Houston & Texas Central Railway Survey. Permitted for 1.700 feet, the well will be drilled with cable tools in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field.

Experience Proved Everything. There was a heated argument going on in the courtroom one day. The case involved a woman who was hit by a car. The defending lawyer, eager to get his client's innocence across to the jury, said:

"Mr. Smith couldn't be wrong: he's been driving cars for 15 years." The prosecuting attorney, always a shrewd talker, countered quickly

"In that case my client is certainly right. You see, she's been walking for 40 years.'

THE END OF THE LINE By CHARLES S. PARK

Nogales was the end of the line for John Todd, and he arrived | there in a blaze of glory the citizenry would never forget.

When the three-car train pulsed | haired girl in a red dress. slowly alongside the tile-rowed, stone depot building and stopped, John Todd moved tiredly from his seat and from the car. Within him was a strange depression; a feeling of all denominations. that for him, too, this was "the end

He walked away from the tracks, a tall figure in big city dress that hung on his thin frame poorly. He followed the traffic and made his way through the gate in the International Fence. Long legs carried him past the slower moving, dark-clad Mexican women returning from their marketing in Arizona stores. He had seen them before. He was not curious. But he envied them the comfort of the homes they would go to, though they might be only mud huts, with roofs that leaked and windows patched against the weather.

He carried no luggage, so the Mexican customs men barely glanced his way, and then nodded him through. He knew where he was going; this was all a part of the plan. A plan only half-formed, perhaps, but one that had been long in the back of his mind. All he needed to carry it out was nerve. Desperation was taking care of that.

His hands had a new tremor. To still it he shoved them deep into the pockets of his slack coat. Fumbling there, they found pipe and tobacco. He stopped, stepped out of the moving pedestrian traffic into the vestibule of a curio store, loaded and lit up. With the pipe clenched between his teeth and drawing well, he glanced over the passersby. It was funny, he was always looking for a familiar face, yet even friends were of no use now. He knew what he had to do and at last, his mind was made up.

There was even more purpose in his stride as he left his temporary shelter and headed across the street to the ticket office of the Mexican railroad. He was a young man, yet hollow cheeks and graying temples made him appear much older. He looked as sick as he was. Well, South Mexico was his last hope, just as far south as he could get. They said there was health to be had in the hot, high climates.

But it was here in Nogales that the trail branched. Even in Mexico, where it was said one could live so big on so little, money would be necessary. Almost his last cent went for the railroad passage, but he knew where there was more for the taking. So, with the ticket safely in an inner pocket, he moved out into the Sonora sunset, found a place to sit, to rest and to wait, and gave himself up to his own bitter to the International Line; noticed with satisfaction that the officials had all moved inside their guardhouse. A quick move, a fast sprint, and the business would be done. Once across the line he could easily lose himself among the shadows between the adobe buildings, and as easily stay hidden until train time.

Turning abruptly into the Money Exchange, he saw the girl in the red dress coming toward the counter with a tray of money from the safe. He didn't struggle when he felt the blackness coming on him. It was better so. It was better to go now, in the arms of a lovely, sympathetic stranger, than to hang on a few feeble months more in a foreign land. Finally to die alone and unmourned.

And how infinitely much better to go this way, clean. Life had given him the best of the deal, after all. The policemen looked down at the still figure lying in the girl's arms, at the ugly purple hole high in the bony, bared chest. Town Hall Offers Quality

Elsewhere:

Cities the size of Snyder have always had difficulty in securing programs of outstanding artists of the country for personal appearances because of the prohibitive costs. But that time has passed now. The Snyder Town Hall recently started a movement to bring leading musicians, speakers and other entertainers to Snyder and West Texas.

By cooperating with the Town Hall group of Texas, with headoquarters in Dallas, circuits for programs offering talented entertainers have been arranged for the fall and winter season to include Snyder. Other West Texas cities joining the schedule include Stamford, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Midland, Big Spring, Lamesa and Slaton. First program of a four-number series in Snyder is slated for November 17.

Admission to the Town Hall entertainment, will be by season ticket only, which are available now through members of the committee.

If you appreciate rare musical, lecture and other programs that have been seen only in the larger cities heretofore, arrange now for your Town Hall tickets for Snyder performances.

Revival in Thrift Is in Order

Without something of an 'easy come, easy go' attitude, prevalent during the war years when personal incomes soared to new high levels, a large segment of our population seems to have discarded the worthwhile habit of thrift. An Albuquerque banker, Oscar M. Love, suggested in an address before the an important purpose if that group would start a compaign for a return to old fashioned American thrift.

We agree with Mr. Love that Americans need to revive the word thrift and to restore the habit to practice. It can prove an important factor in the fight against inflation. Mr. Love would have the campaign begin with the youth stage. "We cannot justly blame the youth of today for their cynical disregard of personal responsibility and their ignorance of the ways of thrift," he said. "We must remember that these young people have been born and reared goods we can get here at home. during a period of reckless spending by their elders and surrounded on all sides by the vicious idea that money and the value of money does not matter. Who ere we to blame them for indifference to elemental values that is born of ignorance and nurtured by bad example?"

To be thrifty is not to be miserly. It is simply a matter of applying common sense in the interest of our individual welfare and that of our communities. The trouble is that we are prone to disregard this until the errival of days that sorely pinch us. Certainly far too many of us have been guilty, as Mr. Love says, of ignoring elemental values and of setting a poor example for the generation that is to follow us. The gentleman is in order in proposing his campaign.

Do not be surprised if the National Resources Board comes through soon with recommendations that U. S. oil production be drastically curtailed (for conservation purposes). . . . Such a plan would be primarily aimed at discouraging additional conversion of coal to oil heaters and would tend to stress the urgency of mining more coal. . . . If we plan to entertain the idea of dropping U.S. oil production by 1,000,000 barrels daily, one may expect a general crude price hike and a renewed plea for rationing. . . We need really to build up our underground reserves of oil in case war comes our way, and we need, above all, to cut down on shipments of fuel oils amount of prairie hay here for a to the North and East-where coal has been a standby for over a century.

War is unlikely before next spring. . . . This general feeling, however, is not misleading, for top U. S. officials are prepared—believe it or not—for a sudden outbreak of hostilities. . . . Plans for lightning military action, if the occasion demands, are ready, and a About a dozen Scurry County Boy Scout leaders terrific air warfare against enemy centers could be were scheduled to go today (Thursday) to the recently started within a matter of hours. . . . The trip will be matter of minutes, and the Congress could be suma tour of inspection of the 6,000-acre camping site moned into special session hastily to declare war as well as opportunity for the men to participate in and pass needed war measures. . . . Well, for the most part the goals set by our government are cannot be interpreted as the worth of the boyhood as yet still "objectives" because a late report from of 15 West Texas counties-but it is the investment | Washington indicates we have only 20 per cent of of business men and women and institutions in their the total we wanted accumulated as a matter of endeavor to make good citizens of the boys of the national and individual security. . . . We have already spent some four billions getting the stockpile started; and if carried to a successful conclusion ne over-all program will cost at least $12,000,000,000.

First of all, stockpiling of critical and strategic materials for security cannot beundertaken haphazardly because we depleted so many raw materials during World War II. . . . Second, a real stockpiling of crucial goods means that all our marginal mines. New Mexico Bankers Association that it might serve all our stripper oil wells must be put into full production and this means still higher prices for the commodities so produced. . . . Third, Americans themselves have done a great deal to sabotage stockpiling efforts of needed goods. . . . The buying of materials started in 1946-on a small scale-and has only recently been put into high gear (because large scale buying two years ago would have driven prices up out of reach and industry would have starved for many essential items). . . . We have purchased considerably from foreign countries, but a redoubled effort will be made from now on to buy all the

> There is a great deal of agitation at the present for a big lend-lease program of arms to Western European nations. . . . This hue and cry is heard both in and out of government circles. . . . Nations of Western Europe, in fact, have blue-printed a defense council under Field Marshal Montgomery, and suggestions are rife that at least $3,500,000,000 will be needed to get such a lend-lease program underway. . . . Dewey, seeking to win as much support as possible in his "freshest" talks, is hammering away for a United States of Europe. . . . Congress will no doubt he asked in the spring to underwrite such a consolidated defense program, and the idea is likely to be sprung when East-West tension mounts to the danger point. . . . Russia's tactics of cross-firing during the UN gathering, it is felt, will largely determine the speed with which Europe and the United States re-arm.

The seriousness of dropping underground water supplies over much of Texas makes the idea of soil Just 12 years ago the national administration was conservation, terracing and tank building more important for next year than at any time in American business and make prices go zooming upward. Now history. . . . We have been wearing out our top soils the national administration is spending about eight during some very trying production years and must, agricultural leaders say, rebuild our soils by 1970-if we are to avoid a national disaster. . . . One-cropping has been out of the picture for a good many years, We can't understand it. We just can't under- but even with rotation and cover crops we find that stand it at all. Can it be that somewhere along the the good earth must be revived with nitrogen, potash line there is a point where excessive spending ceases and other fertilizers—if our permanent agriculture to make prices go up and begins to make them go is to endure. . . . We are even considering seriously the proposal made only recently to drill holes in the earth all over the Southwest so that rainfall may pnnetrate into the ground and go through a natural filter until it reaches our water sands.

Record Number Qualified to Vote But Interest Low

While more people are qualified to te in Scurry County and most of the rest of Texas counties than ever before, the trend in the nation also is toward a record vote in the general election slated for November 2. The United States will have about 95,000,000 men and women of voting age by election day. November 2, the census bureau at Washington estimated Saturday night.

Many of them will be ineligible to vote for various reasons, and many who will be eligible will not actually vote. The Census Bureau made no attempt to predict the vote final, but its data worked out to this:

The vote will be 53,580,000 ballots are cast at the 1944 (Roose velt-Dewey rate), of 56,525,000 if at the heavier 1940 (Roos velt-Willkie
