Roby Fire At C-C Parsonage

A near disastrous fire was averted about 3 p.m. Tuesday when little 4-year old Tamy Halliburton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Halliburton, Roby, discovered smoke coming from utility room at Church of Christ parsonage, Mr. Halliburton is minister. She ran into the house to tell her older sister, Alicia of the smoke. Alicia turned in alarm, and both Roby Fire trucks answered the call, extinguished the blaze.

The large upright deep freeze, washer and drier were almost melted by heat. Everything on south side of the room is total loss.

No doubt the entire home would have been destroyed if Tamy had not discovered the smoke early. She was very upset by all the excitement and confusion, but no doubt will be Queen of all her little friends for her thoughtfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Halliburton expressed their appreciation to Roby Fire Dept. for their prompt, efficient efforts. Origin of the blaze was undetermined.

Gas Rates To Be Raised

Dallas, August 18— Lone Star Gas Company announced today that the Texas Railroad Commission has rendered a decision and order granting the company a six-cent increase in its intracompany city gas rate.

The order, not yet received by the company but expected to become effective Aug. 15, will increase to 41.4 cents per thousand cubic feet the intracompany charge for natural gas delivered at the city gate by the company's Transmission Division to its distribution divisions for sale to residential and commercial customers and for gas unaccounted for in the distribution system.

The old intracompany gate rate of 35.4 cents per thousand cubic feet of natural gas had been in effect since Feb.
1960.

Now that the commission has rendered its decision, Lone Star will evaluate earnings in all Texas cities, towns and communities served by the company. Individual rate action will be pursued in those towns where earnings are inadequate.

Lone Star petitioned the Railroad Commission for a 9.35 cent increase in May, and the commission held public hearings on the request in June. An additional hearing was held July 28 where a committee representing several cities served by Lone Star submitted direct evidence advocating a different theory of rate making and an increase of only 3.4 cents.

Crestview Chat

Well, missed the deadline last week, so decided to combine 2 weeks gossip. Everybody has been vacationing (not at same time) and that leaves the remainder of us poor old slaves working awful hard.

Have you heard Eva Mae Smith play that piano? She played for us one evening a few days ago and brothers, Dewey and Earnest joined her in some singing. Just great! By the way, some of you musicians swallow your modesty and come play for us any evening, and you music pupils, we'd love for you to do some of your practicing here. The piano awaits you.

Also, while we're begging, we surely would like for you artists to display some of your work in our Home. Mrs. Eltha Ragan has so graciously loaned us some of her paintings in rotation, since our Home opened, but she has needed to pick them up, so we need others. Hooks are already up, so bring the pictures. Even you beginners we'll put your work up and when you improve, we'll let you switch.

Apologies to our dear 'Granny', Mrs. Ella Vaughan had a birthday recently and as I was out of town, missed taking her picture with her birthday cake. I've got it now and its on our birthday bulletin board, along with Mrs. Annie Brown, who had a birthday last Wednesday. Happy birthday, we love you dearly.

We have three new residents since last Chat. Welcome to Mrs. Bertie Whisenant, Pete Dodd and John Brinkley. Hope you like us. Rena got us some new picture puzzles. Therapy, she says. Now, if we can just get her to stop playing with them.

Quotable Quote: On being asked who she was waiting for, 82-year old Mrs. Essie Aycock: "My boy friend. I just wait, and wait and he never comes."

Truly yours,
Wanda Murphree.

Ethrel, a relatively new chemical, is showing promise as a harvest aid for commercial pecan production. Texas A&M University tests show the chemical speeds up maturity and shuck opening. When sprayed on trees at the rate of 1,000 parts per million, shuck opening occurred within two weeks. Its application can bring on tree defoliation which hinders carbohydrate accumulation for the next year's crop. 1969 tests will be aimed at correcting this situation.

When the consumer spends a dollar for food at the grocery store, he buys 40 cents worth of products and 60 cents worth of marketing service. These are average figures, points out a recent USDA economist. The farmer's share of America's food dollar is highest for products which require the least amount of processing and packaging.

A relatively new problem in swine production, pale, soft, exudative pork (PSE), or pale watery pork, has been found in Texas A&M University studies to be associated with fast-gaining, meat-type hogs. Dr. G. T. King of the A&M Animal Science Department said the purpose of the research was to determine causes and physical traits responsible for PSE pork.

Several factors appeared to affect the condition. One of these was sex. Of the 117 carcasses evaluated in the project, barrows generally had a better loin score than did gilts.

In breed effect, Durocs and Yorkshires scored highest in loin color.

Overall, the fastest gaining and more efficient pigs produced the most PSE pork, compared to slower gaining and less efficient pigs. It was also noted as the age of the animal increased the amount of PSE pork produced decreased.

And finally, scientists found that rapid environmental temperature changes brought on higher incidences of pale, watery pork. PSE pork has less eye appeal for consumers, and could cause a merchandising problem.

Beef cattle on dry ranges may face serious nutritional deficiencies. Of major importance is the lack of sufficient range grass or forage. The low quality or absence of total digestible nutrients is a further complicating factor. This kind of forage contains little or no protein, phosphorus and vitamin A.

Decisions are difficult to make during stress periods. An attempt should be made to balance livestock numbers and forage supplies. Calves may be weaned earlier to help relieve grazing pressure and improve cow conditions. Fewer replacement cattle should be kept and culling is always in order. Non-breeders and slow breeders, irregular breeders and cows which consistently produce lower grade lightweight calves should be marketed.

Under extremely dry conditions, it may be advisable to confine the foundation herd to a small acreage. High energy feeds such as grains and protein supplements may be fed in limited amounts for maintenance. Forage is the critical feed, however, and is usually high in cost for total digestible nutrients. A protein supplement fed with forage will improve digestion.

Phosphorus is the most likely mineral to be deficient. A mineral supplement high in phosphorus should be fed free choice or in controlled drinking water.

Vitamin A may or may not be deficient depending upon the available forage. Protein supplements fortified with vitamin A should be considered. Synthetic vitamin A is available for use in drinking water, injections for mixing with feed.

Since most livestock producers in Fisher County have had experience handling livestock during periods of stress, decision making on management practices becomes an individual proposition.

Father of Mrs. Reese Dies

Funeral for Robert M. McCleod, 91, of Lueders, who died following an apparent heart attack late Friday night at his home at 10:30 a.m. Monday in First Baptist Church of Lueders.

He was father of Mrs. Dee Reese of Rotan.

Rev. Charles Whitlock, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Bethel Cemetery at Funston.

Mr. McCleod was born Nov. 19, 1877, at Bardwell, Ky., and came to Texas as a young man. He married Scie Whitehurst in 1902 in East Texas. The couple lived near Palestine until 1915, when they moved to Jones County.

Mr. McCleod farmed southeast of Lueders from 1919 until the death of his wife in 1945, when he moved into Lueders.

He was a member of Lueders First Baptist Church where he had served as a deacon for a number of years.

Survivors include one son, R. D. of Wichita Falls; one stepson, the Rev. W. M. Bozeman of Andrews; five daughters, Mrs. E. C. Commons of Dallas, Mrs. Dee Reese of Rotan, Mrs. Mildred Bland of Lueders, Mrs. P. A. Lehnert of Dallas and Mrs. Jane McCurley of Lewisville; nine grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and one great-grand-grandson.

Audrey Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alford Carey, Roby, spent ten days visiting her cousin, Marla Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Ventura, California. While there she visited Disneyland, Knox Berry Farm, and other places of interest — she flew American Airlines from Dallas, and as this was her first plane trip, she was quite excited and had many stories to relate of her experience.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Miller, Roby, Sunday and Sunday night were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Price of Irving. They were on their way to visit their son and wife in Santa Clara, Calif., who is in the Airforce and is an officer of Special Investigation. Enroute, they spent the night going through Hobbs, New Mexico, with his aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Chitwood.

Small Fire In Roby Plant

A fire at the Roby Fiberglass Co. Monday caused little damage, and was thought to have been started by a chemical reaction. The Roby Volunteer Fire Department was called and quickly extinguished the blaze before it could spread.

Roland Jackson received a blistered foot, not severe, but painful.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bolling and Bobby visited in Rotan while on vacation. Mrs. L. E. Wright joined her son and family. The first major stop was at Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Here they met Mrs. Bolling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Earl and the Bolling's other son, John L., who had been traveling with his grandparents all summer. The families went sight-seeing up and down the valley. John L. joined his parents and Mrs. Wright and on to Yellowstone National Park for a few days. The first night in the park, a low of 35 degrees was enjoyed and a big frost. After several days there the group returned home via Salt Lake City, Grand Junction and Santa Fe. All reported a wonderful, relaxing vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart of Honey Grove and their eight month old grandson, Jeffrey Wayne Powell, Mineral Wells, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Mayme Stuart and other relatives in Roby this week.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Lee Moore, Roby are her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Nail and daughter of Moorehouse, Kentucky where he teaches in the University there.

Art Club Has New Yearbooks

The date for the next club members' art show was set for April 26, 1970.

Mrs. E. E. Shaw, art teacher of Sweetwater, criticized the paintings that members have done during the summer.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. E. E. Shaw, Etha Ragan, Inez Smith, Marie Phillips, Billie Coffman, Judy Hayes, Doshia Cave, Lillian Morrow, Connie Tutt and guest, Mrs. Dora Wright.

The next club meeting will be Sept. 1 from 9 to 3 in the Rotan Community Center. Bring size 16x20 canvas.

Quail Important Game To Area

Today, quail are retreating before the "progress" of civilization with its ever-increasing use and exploitation of the land. No other Texas game species is more skilled in adapting itself to man's occupation of the land. Quail management is not highly technical, notes Virgil Helm of the Soil Conservation Service in Rotan. Anyone who owns or has access to land in Fisher County can increase the number of quail by simple habitat improvement.

Natural predation, hunting, disease, and other morality take 80 of each 100 birds present each winter. A startling figure, but is necessary to make room for the new annual crop. The problem of the quail manager is to improve his land so it can produce and carry a larger number of birds — not decrease the turnover.

The first step is to study places where you always find quail in winter. Each covey has some cover within a short distance of food. Make a note of the plants that they are using for food. All you have to do to assure more quail is to duplicate the conditions under which you find them in the winter. Food and cover usually are adequate in the summer.

In planning where to start working, first diagnose the covey territories that have quail occasionally but not regularly. Do they need better cover or more food?

The amount of cover depends on its quality. The best cover is that which is thick above and open below. Quail love to loaf and dust and move about freely under woody cover which protects them from above. Brush piles stacked so as to leave about a foot of clearance below have been used with some success.

Woody cover is for day-time protection. Quail need open areas of thick grass cover for roosting at night.

For nesting, quail need some tall old grass. When nest building starts in late April and May, new grass alone is not suitable for nesting. The bobwhite's nest is built on the ground, and is enclosed on the top and sides with dead grass. Entrance is from the side.

Another key to quail management is the food supply. Look for plants known to be important winter quail food such as Blue Panic, or Johnsongrass, Ragweed, and dove-weed (croton species). In general, birds eat any seed that occurs in quantity, ranging in size from acorns on down.

Artificial feeders have been used with some degree of success. A variety of grain mixtures have been used in feeders, but grains high in vitamin A seem to be best suited.

Although quail can be seen going to water, surface water is not considered essential. Generally, they get all they need from dew, insects, or succulent foods.

Accent on Health . . .

Austin—Did you know that it's possible for perfectly good teeth, with absolutely no decay, to simply fall out?

Teeth in excellent condition are often lost because the structure on which they rest gives way. Teeth are not locked in the jaw, contrary to some belief. They rest in a springy hammock of gums and bone. When this support becomes diseased and gives way, the teeth become loosened and may fall out if treatment is not started early.

Gum disease precipitating tooth fall-out is popularly known as pyorrhea. But the term is misused. Dentists apply pyorrhea to only one stage of a sequence of events grouped under the general heading of periodontal diseases.

While tooth decay is the chief cause of tooth loss in young people, periodontal disease takes a greater toll in people over age 35.

Years ago, the disease was thought incurable. Now, however, dentistry saves many teeth if gum tissues are treated in time, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Periodontal diseases usually start with gingivitis, or inflammation of the gums. Bleeding is a frequent symptom. Bleeding gums may be shrugged off as a fairly common occurrence. But dentists point out that this is a symptom calling for attention.

Bleeding gums grow progressively worse if untreated, as a general rule, and lead to more serious involvement.

The gums, which ordinarily hug the tooth like the collar of a turtle-neck sweater begin to fall away. Debris then works itself down into the pocket formed between gum and tooth. This leads to periodontitis with inflammation extending deeper into the tissues.

As disease progresses, pus pockets form and the springy, hammock-like tissue of periodontal membrane is destroyed.

Finally, the root is affected and the tooth becomes loose. By this time, the possibility of saving the tooth is slim.

To keep your own teeth, develop a strong pattern of dental care, punctuated by proper brushing after every meal or snack. Most troubles are caused by the formation of acid in the mouth, usually within 20 minutes after eating. If you can't brush, a drink of water swished around inside the mouth will help allay the formation of acid. Regular checkups from your dentist also will help insure healthy teeth and gums throughout a lifetime.

1968 Was Bad Accident Year

1968 was an ugly year for Americans. Tragedy of spectacular magnitude became a frequent front page occurrence. But a quieter national calamity took its dreadful toll on all the days before, during and after the Tet offensive in Viet Nam, the riots the assassinations.

It was quiet only because it was not concentrated in a single place at a single time. There was no focus to put this misery on the front pages. To the families and friends of 55,300 men, women and children killed in auto accidents, however, it was the ultimate calamity. To the 4,400,000 victims of injury, it was hard core agony. The economic loss, about 13.5 billion dollars, was an appalling waste.

This view of 1968 is contained in the annual booklet of highway accident statistics from Travelers Insurance Companies. Statistics in the booklet were compiled from records of motor vehicle departments throughout the country.

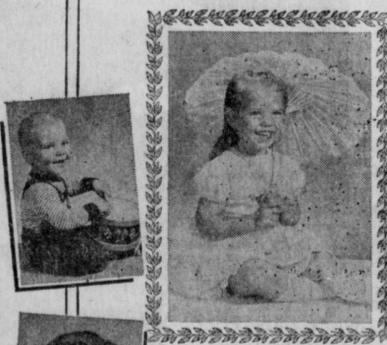

The 1968 highway toll followed a year that saw a leveling off in the number of highway deaths and injuries. In 1967 approximately 53,000 lives were lost in motor vehicle mishaps—4,200,000 persons were injured.

Why the increase? Was it because Americans were lulled by the "improvement" of the preceding year?

There are, perhaps, as many reasons as there are people to voice opinions.

Whatever the reasons, the tragedy remains. More than 55,300 persons were killed and 4,400,000 injured.

Gophers Hard On Phone Lines

Gophers, long a pesky problem for telephone companies, are gnawing at Southwestern Bell's ingenuity.

It's not that the telephone company is anti-gopher, but gophers' bad cable manners make it necessary for Southwestern Bell to wage a scientific war against the chomping creatures.

Southwestern Bell, working with the U.S. Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service and Bell Telephone Laboratories, has buried various types of cable samples in a gopher-infested area of Oklahoma to evaluate its resistance to the animal's urge to chew.

Why telephone cable as a delectable dish?

The front teeth of gophers grow more than 46 inches a year, somewhat unmanageable for a 10-inch gopher who's teeth could grow into his skull and pierce his brain.

"Gophers instinctively avoid these splitting headaches by wearing down their teeth — too often on our cable," said M. R. Bridges, District Plant Superintendent for Southwestern Bell. "Underground cable is easy for gophers to get at and tougher to chew than vegetation they usually eat."

Dental-minded gophers have acquired such a taste for cable that telephone companies, not gophers, have been getting the headaches lately.

"The Bell System now uses as much as 1,300 tons of steel a year to shield cable in areas west of the Mississippi, where most gophers are found," said Bridges.

"Gophers will chew through almost all plastic materials, and even through softer metals like lead and aluminum. "Severe gopher damage can cause a cable to fail," noted Bridges. "This is particularly disturbing to telephone companies and their customers, since underground cables are often long distance facilities that carry hundreds of telephone messages at one time."

Scientists and engineers for years have searched diligently for alternate materials that gophers either can't chew or aren't gastronomically inclined toward.

Bell Telephone scientists for several years have "fed" cables to gophers in a controlled experiment at Denver by the Fish and Wildlife Service. Now, the program is undergoing the actual "field tests" with wild gophers.

Southwestern Bell, working with the wildlife rangers, buried some 100 cables of varying types, about 20 feet in length, in both horizontal and vertical positions in the Washita National Wildlife Refuge in western Oklahoma.

Why not anti-deterrent sprays? "In the interest of protecting harmless animals, we've fairly well ruled out most chemical soil treatments around cable trenches and chemical repellents applied to the cable surfaces," Bridges said.

"Fortunately, in our testing, we've gained some useful knowledge about the sizes of cable that a gopher can chew. After all, there's a limit to how big a bite he can take."

The M. D. Iveys' had a pleasant surprise visit Monday from Mrs. Catherine Thomas and sons, Frank and Craig of Ozark, Arkansas.

Tax Man Sam sez

There has been a lot of discussion about how we should run the Post Office. Without getting involved in this question at all, we do think that the Post Office deserves some sort of public service award.

The Postmaster in most small towns and rural communities acts as "Mr. Federal Service" for all government agencies. If you want a federal job, you go to the post office. If you want any kind of federal information, or have to register under any federal law, you ordinarily go to the post office. If you want to go hunting and you need a duck stamp, you go to the post office. Since most Postmasters are popular community leaders and are automatically expected to eat chicken at all local civic luncheons, the good mailmen must be pretty accommodating folks.

The Dallas District Office of Internal Revenue started working with Post Offices in Northern Texas many years ago to make common tax forms available at the Post Office for taxpayers who need them and to provide a simple postcard order form for the other, or out-of-the-ordinary forms. This helps the taxpayer get his publication or unusual tax form from the Dallas IRS office without giving the mail men too much trouble. Every year the 1000 Post Offices in Northern Texas help taxpayers get several million extra tax forms that they need over and beyond those IRS sends them thru the mail in the regular tax package. The Postmasters and all the Post Office employees who work with the good tax folks deserve the taxpayers' public service award year after year.
