

Hammond Favors Continued Farm Gasoline Tax Exemption

WACO.—J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, Friday came to the defense of the farmers of Texas by taking issue with Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville who was quoted in the press as advocating taxing of tractor gasoline to raise revenue for road building purposes when he appeared before the Texas Government Institute in session at Waco.

Ired over the Senaor's statement that "farmers would relinquish their return on gasoline taxes if they were told that the money would be used to their betterment," the Farm Bureau president declared that farmers were becoming leary of "being told" by outside interests what is to their betterment and then being handed the bill to pay for it by being singled out for a special tax.

"It will not be a simple matter to tell farmers that it will be to their betterment to tax tractor gasoline," he said. "It is becoming a rather monotonous story with always the same ending, the farmer pays for building other highways while he stays in the mud. Farmers were 'told' that Texas would receive thirty million dollars of the federal appropriation to build farm to market roads, but in the final analysis the thirty million dollars will go for the expansion of the Texas highway system."

For years the farmers and ranchers of Texas have dutifully paid four cents a gallon gasoline tax, which is collected to build roads, while they continue to propel their farm vehicles over muddy roads, and to what purpose? To build hard-surfaced roads over which the fly-by-night oil, gas and sulphur interests of the industrial Northeast haul out our natural resources, draining the state of its wealth, while only a punitive tax is derived from natural resources.

The press quoted Senator Morris as stating that the legislature should have the courage to raise road-building revenue. In a discussion period the Senator said he was willing to tax export gasoline and oil, but saw other means of getting the money, and reverted to the line of least resistance by suggesting taxation of tractor gasoline.

The state of Texas is rich in natural resources and this is one of the most potential sources for revenue. "The legislature constantly lacks the courage to place a justified tax on natural resources," Hammond declared, "yet year after year it has the affrontery to attempt imposition of a special tax burden on the farmer, which has no justification, by considering bills to tax gasoline used in non-highway motors."

Simons Endorses Constitutional Amendment

Charles E. Simons, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association, expressed gratification today in the State Democratic Convention's resolution recommending adoption of the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment by the people in the November 5 General Election.

"This is a great step forward," Simons said, "and it is extremely gratifying that the convention adopted the resolution unanimously."

The Good Roads Amendment provides that motor vehicle registration fees and gasoline taxes, other than the one-fourth of the gas tax collected to the Available School Fund, shall be used for the construction, maintenance and policing of public roadways and for the purchase of necessary rights-of-way.

"The development of a system of rural highways and farm-to-market roads is essential to the economic welfare of the state and is vital to the enrichment of the lives of our rural people," the Convention resolution pointed out.

Continuing, the resolution stated, "This proposed Constitutional Amendment has the endorsement of those public agencies responsible for the development of our road systems."

Threats of diverting road money to non-highway purposes in the past caused confusion and uncertainty among road planners, who felt a hesitancy to begin long-range projects without the assurance that funds would be available when necessary.

Realizing the existing situation, the convention's resolution declared, "Stability of road finances is necessary to permit road administrators to plan effectively a long range program of rural road construction, which stability can be guaranteed only through constitutional means."

County Agent Invited To View Bindweed Experiment

County Agricultural Agents of the Panhandle, including E. Goule, were extended an invitation from the Agronomist in charge of Weed Control Experiments at Fort Hays, Kansas Experiment Station, to accompany a group of Experiment Station workers, Extension Service people and others on a tour through Kansas and Nebraska during the week of September 18-25, for the purpose of observing first hand the weed control work done by the Experiment Station and the Kansas State Board of Agriculture in field trials in the two states. These experiments are designed for the control of bindweed primarily through the use of 2-4-D. The invitations were extended these agents due to the fact that there is intense interest in the Panhandle for information regarding the control of this weed and the use of 2-4-D.

Commissioners Will Provide Service Officer For Vets

The Sherman County Commissioners' Court in a special called meeting Monday night with a large representation of veterans were assured that a county service officer was needed in order that G. I.'s might benefit from the provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The Commissioners are negotiating with Dallam and Hartley counties to secure the part time service of a County Service officer whose main headquarters will be in Dalhart. He will have an office in the Sherman County Courthouse and will be in Stratford at least one day each week if current plans are completed.

It will be the privilege of any Sherman County veteran to meet with this service officer to secure information on any question on which he desires information either while the officer is at his office in Stratford or while he is in Dalhart.

If world production prospects continue favorable, an increased total output this year should more than make up for the reduction in food reserves.

Four Robberies At Texhoma Monday Night

Four Texhoma business houses were entered Monday night which netted the thieves only about $1.00 in change.

Worst damage was reported at the Freeman Bros. Elevator where the dial combination to the safe was ruined although no cash was in the safe.

Offices of two of the Riffe Elevators were entered, where approximately $1.00 in change was taken.

The Resident Lumber Company, the usual target of most burglaries, was entered but nothing was taken.

Arranging To Test Milk Cows For Bangs Disease

Arrangements have been made for a Veterinarian's service to test milk cows for Bang's disease in Sherman County.

Charley Thompson, Dalhart, has agreed to make Bang's test for farmers and in order for his services to be as inexpensive as possible, farmers will list at the County Agent's office the number of milk cows they want to have tested, and when a large enough number has been listed to use Mr. Thompson a half day or more, a date will be set for making tests and all interested parties will be notified by the County Agent.

If farmers will cooperate by listing their cattle and having them tested when there are 15 to 30 cows listed, considerably less than for the individual with only a few milk cows. The cost under this plan is estimated to be $1.00 to $2.00 per head.

Bumper crops of apples, peaches, plums, and grapes are now available, giving homemakers an opportunity to save money on food bill by preserving these and other fruit and garden crops.

Revival At First Baptist Church Off To Good Start

The annual fall revival started at the local Baptist Church last Sunday with Evangelist H. L. White of Commerce, Texas doing the preaching and Edgar Spearman, Gospel Singer of Dallas, Texas directing the music. Both of these men are well known throughout the state and have held revivals in the larger churches of all sections. Before entering the evangelistic field Rev. White was a pastor in Sherman, Texas for thirteen years. Mr. Spearman is a full time Gospel Singer. For a number of years he was educational director in churches in Dallas, having gone in to the religious education and sacred music field from a successful career on the stage. The attendance has grown each day since the revival began.

Pastor Howard Whatley announces that services are being held each morning, except Monday and Saturday at 10:00. The evening services are held each evening at 7:45 instead of 7:30 as previously announced. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend these services.

UNDER THE SKIES

(By Bernis Holt)
When darkness falls, and you lie in your bed,
Of blankets and straw, and the stars overhead
You think of the terrible things you've met,
And the shells and the bombs that you had to sweat.

A shell goes over, it whistles and sings
It lands with a thud, then roars, and rings.
You think of home and other nice things
Of people with money, and diamonds and rings.

You wonder why there has to be war,
They all have enough, but they must have more
They want our land, and money a'gore,
So freedom is what we're fighting for.
The guns go off, they flash and roar
Then all is still, then they flash some more.
You sleep, and wake, and dread the war
But our home is what we're fighting for.

When morning comes, and it's time to rise
You hear the groans, and grunts and sighs
No one could sleep but everyone tries,
That's how it is out here, under the skies.

Why We Sing And Do Not Play
We have a command example for singing but none for playing. Jesus sang with his disciples after the supper. Paul and Silas sang in the prison at Philippi, Acts 16.
"In the midst of the church will I sing praises unto thee." Hebrews 2:12.
"Speaking to yourselves in Psalms and Hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." Ephesians 5:19.
"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; Teaching and admonishing one another in Psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord." Colossians 3:16.

These scriptures teach us to sing, and if they wanted us to play and sing they certainly would have said so. When Paul said, "singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord," it would have been a good place for him to have said, "singing and playing with grace in your hearts to the Lord." Instead, after, he admonishes us to speak to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs he said, "singing", not singing and playing.

So we are certain we are right when we sing and we dare not play unless we are shown authority for playing.— A. C. HUFF.
Welcome to the Church of Christ.

"Miss Chicago"

It's a model girl and a model house. Cloris Leachman, who has just been named "Miss Chicago," will compete in "Miss America" finals in September at Atlantic City. Here she displays something new in models—a miniature house made with a new plastic building set manufactured by the Du Page Plastics Company of Chicago. The set will also make its national debut in September.

to stop inflation by holding down prices and encouraging costs to go up, he is like the doctor who would try to cure impure blood by cutting off the pimples.

O. P. A., far from preventing inflation, has merely postponed and aggravated that inflation with its unsound policies and public-deceiving administration.

Mr. Green, however, understands that inflation is a condition of too much money in relation to the volume of goods which can be bought with that money, and that rising prices are the result, not the cause of inflation.

In the monthly labor survey which he sends to members of the American Federation of Labor, Mr. Green advises them that: "Wage earners can best stabilize their wage dollars by helping to increase volume of production which can wipe out scarcities and the danger of run-away inflation."

In the same bulletin (July, 1946) it is pointed out that, "increased efficiency is the way to higher wages, lower prices from the consumer, a better market for your product and a more secure job for you."

If you have any doubts as to Mr. Green's understanding that the way to get prices down and real wages up, is to reduce costs and increase production, and not, as Mr. Truman seems to believe, to let wage rates go up without increasing output per hour, and then use government to force prices below the total costs, read the following quote from Mr. Green's bulletin:

"Traditionally, America has paid for rising wages by increasing productivity, and this is the only way to raise living standards. The other alternative, to pay for wage increase by raising prices, is no gain at all for workers, because living costs cancel the wage gains. We must begin at once to increase productivity so the next wage increases can be paid without raising living costs."

Mr. Green's formula, if followed by labor, would lower costs, increase production, give us lower prices and make possible higher wages, without destroying the profits which furnish the tools for production and without which there would be no jobs.

That is the answer American industrial leaders have long advocated. It is refreshing and encouraging to hear Mr. Green talk the same language for a real effort to improve the well-being of the American people.

Mr. Truman could profit by listening to Mr. Green instead of taking orders from that political movement known as the C. I. O., whose leaders seem interested primarily in setting up government control which they can then use to control the entire country.

Mr. Truman's way leads to disaster and dictatorship.

Mr. Green's formula promises real prosperity.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Next to getting over our complex that we gotta appease labor and give it more money every Monday A. M. our next task is to go over to the school house. And not, just the junior or high school, but also the university which latter needs some squintin' into, also.

No country is going to amount to a whoop if it brings up its offshoots under the teaching of some guy who thinks it is Utopia in Sweden or the Ukraine, etc., and that everything is wrong with our

U. S. A. system. It don't take much poison or vaccine to get a youngster off to the wrong start. You let his teacher harp on the idea that the people should own the mines, and water-power, and the forests, because the rains fall free upon all the land and trees and that nature put the coal in the earth, and have him say nothing about the work and effort and cost of bringing these things to the people, and you are preparing the ground for socialism.

What would you do first, says Henry. A good question, I says. First off the bat I would call in the principal, or the president of the university and quiz him on why do his teachers recommend socialism. And if his answer was dubious, I would get a pinch-hitter to take his place.

Yours with the low down,
 JO SERRA.

CLEANING AND PRESSING

a radio address made on March 2, 1930, by the late Franklin Roosevelt. That speech was one of the ablest, perhaps the most able, ever delivered in defense of States' Rights and Freedom of Enterprise.

In that oration, Governor Roosevelt posed a question and then proceeded to answer it. The question was: "But what are the underlying principles on which this government is founded?"

His answer was: "First and foremost, the new thought that every citizen was entitled to live his own life in his own way so long as his conduct did not injure any of his fellow-men. This was to be a new Land of Promise where a man could worship God in the way he saw fit; Where He Could Rise by Industry, By Thrift, By Intelligence, to the highest places in the commonwealth, secure from tyranny, secure from injustice, a free agent, the maker or destroyer of his own destiny."

This writer fully agrees with this thumb-nail description of the concept on which this nation was founded, and upon which it progressed with such success for 160 years. What a pity that when Franklin Roosevelt moved from the Governor's Mansion at Albany to commence his long residence in the White House, he promptly proceeded to forget this fundamental of Americanism.

As a result, for the past thirteen years, we witnessed a rise of demagoguery in America. As has happened in other nations, our American demagogues rose to power through gaining support of the masses of the people by promising large groups some special economic or social advantage. This trick of arraying the masses against the classes, the "have-nots" against the "haves", is almost as old as time itself. That's what happened not so many years ago in Russia, a few years later in Italy, still later in Germany and Spain, then in France, and most recently in England.

When a demagogue prevails, it is primarily the fault of the people. He appeals to their vices rather than to their virtues. He arouses envy, fans it into hatred, and when sufficiently inflamed, uses it for his own selfish ends to the eventual destruction of the very people whom he makes a pretense of protecting and helping.

Yes, this has happened in America these past few years. We have seen the vices, waste and indolence, rewarded, and penalties exacted on the noble virtues, thrift and industry.

Too many of us have forgotten that people must put into a democracy as well as take out. Recently we have done nothing but take out, and if we continue with that devastating process, we will so sap the government of its strength as to leave it vulnerable to some vulture dictator hovering nearby, waiting to pounce upon it and devour the carcass.

Continued appeals to the weaknesses, greed, envy, covetousness, of the American people, will not make for a strong and united democracy. Such foibles in a nation do not fortify it against either its external or internal enemies. Moral stamina and manly virtue in a people are what give them unity of action and the esprit de corps necessary to repel any attempt at curtailment of their liberties.

To be strong, the American people must abandon the "something-for-nothing" will o' the wisp. As a nation, we must reverse our course, we must again put into our government, not just take out.

Remember what Franklin Roosevelt said: One of the underlying principles on which our government is founded is that each individual is "a free agent, the maker or destroyer of his own destiny."

Acidity tests should be made before applying lime to pastures.

Social Security

Payments Increase

At the end of June, 1,479 persons in the 26 Panhandle counties served by the Amarillo Social Security Field Office were entitled to monthly insurance payments. In this number were 471 retired wage earners, while the remainder was made up of wives and children of retired wage earners, and widows, children or parents of deceased wage earners. Total monthly payments as of June 30 amounted to $22,559.63.

Current monthly insurance payments in the Amarillo area amount to approximately 43% more than payments in force one year ago, according to a statement of J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo office.

Despite the steady increase in the number of persons qualifying for payments, Sanderson said there is still evidence that many qualified persons have failed to check up on their rights, and thus have lost payments. He urged that each wage earner, who has worked on jobs covered by Social Security, check up on his rights when he becomes 65 years of age, even though he is still working and intends to continue working indefinitely. It is now possible for such workers to file an application protecting all their rights, even though they expect to continue working.

Employees living outside Amarillo, or survivors of such employees, are asked to write the Amarillo Field Office, giving the name and date of birth of the wage earner. Arrangements can then be made to meet such persons in their home town, thus saving them the expense of a special trip to the Field Office.

The longer-time phase of the famine emergency is expected to continue at least until 1947 crops are harvested.

Oil Taxes Pay Half Texas School Bill

Nearly half a million Texas school children had the entire cost of their schooling paid last year by taxes from the oil and gas industry, a survey by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

Virtually one out of every three Texas school children was educated in 1945 by oil and gas taxes, the survey reveals. In addition, the petroleum industry paid more than $8,500,000 last year in lease and royalty payments to the State Permanent School and Permanent University Funds, such payments having totalled $100,000,00 to date.

"Texas school children have an important stake in the State's petroleum industry since over 30 per cent of them have their schooling paid for by oil and gas taxes," Fred W. Shield, Texas Mid-Continent president, said. "Last year taxes collected from the petroleum industry which went directly to the support of Texas public schools aggregated $34,205,291, against $78,478,814 from all other sources combined. The petroleum industry total does not include the school's one-fourth, or $10,000,000, of the gasoline tax paid by Texas motorists on our industry's principal product."

"Using the average per capita schooling cost of $75.62, petroleum industry taxes alone paid for the education of 452,331 Texas boys and girls. They represent 30.4 per cent, or almost one-third, of the 1,490,059 scholastics last year. In many independent school districts of the State, taxes collected from the petroleum industry and its properties make up most of the revenue from all sources."

Besides taxes, Texas oil and gas operators pay large sums annually in lease bonuses and rentals and royalties to the Permanent School and Permanent University Funds. Figures from the State Comptroller of Public Accounts show that from 1932 through July, 1946, petroleum payments to the Permanent School Fund totalled $42,278,123, while from 1925 on, such payments to the Permanent University Fund aggregated $57,539,362. Petroleum payments to both funds totalled $99,817,485.

Texas Farm Prices Drop

Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers for a number of products dropped during the month ending August 15.

According to a report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Austin, received by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, this decline in prices offset to some extent the general farm price advances recorded in July. The report showed slight to sharp drops in prices received for grains, peanuts, milk cows, chickens and all meat animals except hogs. The most significant declines were in prices of corn, grain sorghum, beef cattle, calves, sheep and lambs.

Sharp advances continued on cotton, cotton seed and hogs. Cotton at 33.6 cents per pound was the highest since July 1920, but was still 2.6 cents per pound below the peak of 36.2 cents reached in March, 1920. During the month, hog prices were at a record high of $20.30 per hundred pounds. The previous record was $18.60 in August 1919.

Only slightly higher prices were received by farmers during the month for turkeys, dairy products and alfalfa hay. Other farm prices did not change significantly during the period.

NEW COMBINE MILO SHOWS PROMISE

A new selection of combine milo, known as No. 7078 is showing good production possibilities in Taylor

County, reports County Agricultural Agent Elmo V. Cook.

No. 7078 was developed by the Lubbock Experiment Station, and two Taylor County farmers, Holland Teaff of Merkel and Billie McCasland, Bradshaw, believe that the new selection may out-produce Martin's combine milo, which is the most popular combine grain sorghum in Taylor County.

McCasland obtained a small quantity of pure line seed from the Lubbock Experiment Station two years ago. He has multiplied the supply and has distributed quantities of the seed over a large portion of the county, where the crop is showing much promise.

SAVIOR OF THE WHEAT CROP

SWARMS of passenger pigeons ravaged early Wisconsin wheat crops by devouring the newly-sown grain. Moved by the farmers' plight, the Van Brunt brothers of Horicon, in 1861, built a seeder, incorporating their newly-patented cylinder feed. Seed grain was worked into the ground and covered with a protective blanket of soil.

The success of the Van Brunt seeder exceeded its builders' fondest dreams. It not only overcame the pigeon menace, but revolutionized existing seeding practices. Within a few years the fame of the Van Brunt machine spread across the nation.

Modern John Deere-Van Brunt grain drills are still the outstanding buy. Stop in today for full details.

Household Hints

Use lukewarm water and borax to wash out your refrigerator. It will keep it sweet and clean.

Fasten the strings of baby's bonnet to the bonnet with snap fasteners. Then the strings can easily be removed when they need washing and the bonnet does not.

Before soaking a cooking pan in cold water, allow it to cool a few minutes after it is taken off the stove. Rapid cooling may warp aluminum, chip porcelain, or crack iron utensils.

Extra buttons kept in a glass jar are more easily seen than those scattered loosely in a box.

Less time is required and there is less danger of doughnuts slipping back into the hot fat if a wire egg whip is used to lift them instead of a fork.

You can't afford to be careless with delicate curtains these days. When washing them, baste the curtains into muslin bags or pillow cases to protect them.

When painting, wear an old sock over your shoe to wipe up drips on the floor without stooping.

To prevent milk from boiling over while being heated, rub the rim of the saucepan with butter.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for September 22

JESUS AND THE LAW OF THE STRANGER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 22:21-23; Deuteronomy 24:14, 15; Matthew 25:34-41.
MEMORY SELECTION—The King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.—Matthew 25:40.

There is as much need today for the words of counsel and admonition regarding strangers which we find in our lesson, as there was in the days of Moses, for there seems to be an almost complete breakdown of neighborliness both between nations and individuals.

I. The Law Required Neighborliness (Exod. 22:21-23; Deut. 24:14, 15).

Our heavenly Father as revealed to us in his Word is a Father indeed, one greatly concerned about his many children; but especially does he care for those who are weak and needy.

The laws of ancient Israel made provision for the feeding of those who had no fields. The corners of the field were left uncut at harvest-time, some of the grapes were to be left on the vine, etc., so that the poor could enjoy the sense of self-respect as they picked for themselves what God had provided (see Lev. 19:9, 10; 23:22; Deut. 24:19-21, and other passages).

The poor man who found work was to receive his pay when needed. For the one who hired him to do otherwise was to bring upon himself the judgment of God. He listens to the cry of the hungry worker and his family (Deut. 24:15).

Strangers were in a peculiar way subject to the possibility of extortion. They are even today the easy mark of the one who lives by his wits, the "confidence" man and sneak thief.

If any such person reads these notes let me warn him solemnly to keep his tricky hands off the stranger, for God is watching and will hear their cry (Exod. 22:23).

The same is true of widows and orphans. God is their keeper and their defender.

Someone may say that all this is Old Testament in its background and principle. What about the follower of Christ in our day? The answer is that

II. Christ Expects Neighborliness (Matt. 25:34-41).

This is a prophetic picture of a great judgment scene. It is not, as many suppose, the same as the judgment of the Great White Throne of Revelation 20.

The scene here is not in heaven, but upon the earth. It is not individuals who are being judged, but the nations of the earth. They are not being judged regarding personal salvation, but for their treatment of Christ's brethren.

Who are his brethren? First we think of his brethren, after the flesh, the people of the Jewish race. Scripture reveals again and again that God is watching over his chosen people, even though they are now scattered in judgment for their unbelief. He will not hold any guiltless who harm his people (Gen. 12:1-3).

The word "brethren" is also used in such a passage as Matthew 12:46-50 to include all who do the will of God. That suggests a broader application of these words.

Our attitude toward God expresses itself in our attitude toward our fellow man. That which we do toward those about us is not a matter of indifference, but is the basis for God's judgment of our lives. Each of us must answer for the deeds done in the flesh whether they be good or evil. That is true even of the believer (II Cor. 5:10), whose salvation has already been determined by his faith in Christ.

Here in our lesson, however, the failure to do that which shows forth God's law of love is made the ground of eternal judgment. This is not because an act of kindness itself can be regarded as the ground of division, but because the failure to give it or do it reflects an attitude of heart toward our God and his Christ which is in reality a rejection of his way of salvation.

Judgment is thus a revelation of the attitude of the heart, which marks a man or woman as being either saved or lost. It may be possible to so becloud the thinking of our friends and neighbors that we may go through life looking something like a Christian, but when Christ judges, it will all be revealed.

Notice the importance of a proper attitude toward those who need our kindness and help. All too often the only concern of men and women is to look out for "number one" and let the rest of the world shift for itself.

Observe also that the Lord identifies himself with his brethren—what is done to and for them is counted as done to and for him. Compare the experience of Samuel (I Sam. 8:7) and of Paul (Acts 9:5). Touch God's people and you touch him. Fail them and you fail him. Serve them and you serve him.

Fall work won't wait for worn Tractor Tires

NOW'S THE TIME TO RETREAD WORN TIRES BY THE Firestone FACTORY-METHOD

NO WAITING LOANERS AND EXCHANGE TIRES AVAILABLE

CORN PICKING, plowing, disking, seeding and other fall jobs place extra heavy demands on tractor tires. Worn tractor tires slow down your work and may fail you completely when time is most valuable. No matter what make your worn tires are, you can have them retreaded without delay by the Firestone Factory-Method, giving them the same quality tread rubber and patented Ground Grip design of new Firestone tires.

Loaners and exchange tires are available at Firestone Dealer Stores and Firestone Stores. Bring your worn tires in now and you won't have to lay your tractor up for even one day. Firestone Factory-Method retreading gives your worn tires the full pulling power of new Firestone tires.

Hall Of State Seeks Sherman County Histories

The Texana Reference Library in the Hall of State, Dallas, wants materials on the History of Sherman County, and officials of Dallas Historical Society are appealing to citizens of the county to help locate the needed items.

"Copies of these books and pamphlets are in the hands of pioneer citizens and their descendants," Director Herbert Gambrell said, "but they are not to be found in bookstores. Placing them in this great shrine of Texas History for the use of the public, will not only be a permanent memorial to the donors, but a genuine service to those seeking accurate information about the county."

Information regarding available county materials should be addressed to the Director, Hall of State, Fair Park, Dallas 1.

Biographical directories, booklets on the histories of towns, churches, schools and other institutions, are also desired for the library, along with histories of the county itself. Special anniversary numbers of county newspapers are also wanted.

A special museum display of Texas County Histories is planned for the Hall of State during the State Fair of Texas in October. The Hall of State occupies the center of the Fair Park, and will be open daily, free of charge, to visitors.
