New Churches, New Members To Join in World Communion

Huge increases in worshippers on World Communion Sunday are anticipated this year, due not alone to returned veterans but to the hundreds of newly founded churches and the thousands of newly enrolled members. The Methodist Church, as one example, through its Crusade for Christ, has opened 624 new churches and expects to make October 6 a day of victory by closing its year of evangelism with a million new members.

"We Are Open 24 Hours A Day"

URING the summer of 1892, in the shade of a village store in northern Iowa, John Froelich built the first gasoline tractor that propelled itself either forward or backward. On the day of its first trial, Froelich's one-cylinder, gasoline burner stilled the most rabid critic and proved that it could pull drawn equipment as well as operate belt-driven machines.

The tractor company organized by John Froelich and his friends later became a part of the John Deere organization. From this beginning, came the famous John Deere Model "D" tractor-developed to meet the unprecedented demand for power equipment unleashed by World

Today, the modern line of John Deere Tractors is playing a vital role in the power farming age. Come in soon and let us show you why a John Deere Tractor will be your best tractor investment.

Slenderizing Frock

CREATED especially for the more mature figure is this beautifully slenderizing daytime frock. Scallops edge the side closing, shoulder gathers give a soft feminine look. Choose a pretty allover scroll of flower print, or solid navy or black will be nice. * * *

Pattern No. 8951 comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38, short sleeve, 4% yards of 35 or 39-inch. The FALL AND WINTER issue of FASHION is brim full of smart ideas for yeary woman who plies a needle. Easy-to-make styles...special designs by America's top flight designers...lots of ideas with accessories. Price, 25c.

Scallops and Puffed Sleeves SHE'LL feel so grown-up in this adorable two piece dress—just like big sister's. The jacket is daintily scalloped, with puffed sleeves and a pert Peter Pan collar. The swinging skirt is attached to a bodice for comfort.

Pattern No. 1440 is designed for sizes 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 years. Size 4 requires 21/8 yards of 35 or 39-inch fabric; under bodice, 3/8 yard; 1/4 yard for contrasting collar.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers. Send your order to:

One more row to hoe

The boy from the farm is on foreign soil today!

Instead of overalls, he's wearing his country's uniform. He's standing watch over the hard-won peace. He's safeguarding your future!

At heart, he's still that farm boy. His laughter sounds the same—when he can laugh. He still goes for cokes and cakes—when he can get them. And he still gets mighty homesick—when he has nothing else to do but think of home.

Your USO has one more row to hoe. Another round of laughs to plant. Another crop of cheer.

Your USO needs your help, as much as ever. For millions of American boys still need the USO. They need the camp shows and clubhouses—the hours of relaxation and entertainment—a place to hang their hats and loosen their belts.

They need to know that the folks back home are still thinking of them—are still willing to pitch in and make their task a lighter one.

Tell the farm boy you're with him-every step of the way. Say it through the USO. Say it with dollars!

FOOTBALL is moving in the direction of its record year. I am referring here to class and talent from over 40 football states. There has been no season before that could show as many fast and powerful teams, due partly to returning G.I.s from the various battlefields of the world. Any one team that can finish this season unbeaten must call on a miracle. There are too many who are good.

For example we might as well take up the matter of All-America backs. We brought this argument up before a group of coaches recently. "That's simple enough," one of them said. "Why not pick Blanchard, not pick Blanchard,

Davis, Wedemeyer and Gilmer?"

"It isn't quite that simple," we countered. "What
John Lujack about Fenimore,

Buddy Young and Trippi? What about Tucker of Army or Justice of North Carolina? What about the best back on Michigan, Ohio State or Indiana? Or Patterson of Illinois? What about the pick from Notre Dame and Pennsylvania or Columbia, or one or two from the Southwest, including Texas and Missouri? Certainly Notre Dame should come up with a challenger from the group Frank Leahy has in tow, perhaps Johnny Lujack."

"If anyone is trying to pick the four best," another coach said, "why not put eight names in a hat and pick out the first four?"
"Which eight?" I asked.
"Well," the answer came, "here are seven anyway — Blanchard are seven anyway — Blanchard, Davis, Wedemeyer, Fenimore, Gil-mer, Trippi and Buddy Young. You dig up the other."

Columbia's Backs

You can imagine how the argument will be in late November. For example, it might surprise many camp followers from the strong Midwest and the strong South to know that Lou Little at Columbia may end up with a better all-around backfield than Notre Dame, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio State, Alabama, Georgia and Texas. The line isn't there but the backs are, headed by Rossides, Kusserow and the brilliant passer Kasprzak, rated by Lou on a par with Luckman and Gover-

With two big tackles, Columbia could give Army, Alabama or Notre Dame an even scrap. But the line is still the front wall. It is the advance post. And Columbia so far hasn't the line needed to face such a schedule.

My guess is that Army has the best first - line backfield in football, with something to spare. This backfield, in addition to Blanchard and Davis, includes a brilliant quarterback and a fine passer in young Tucker. You'll hear a lot more about Tucker this fall than you ever heard before. He can move right up with Blanchard and Davis.

Alabama, Columbia and Oklahoma A. and M. have all-around backfield strength above the normal. So has Illinois with an attack headed by Young and Patterson, two of the best.

I believe the strongest lines are at Illinois, Yale, Notre Dame and Alabama. Notre Dame may have the best of the lot, but Yale isn't far behind. Alabama has a great center in Mancha, one of the best in many years. Illinois possesses top guards and Notre Dame has the best looking tackles.

Oklahoma, Yale Lines

It might be added here that the Oklahoma A. and M. line is one of the best — a point Wally Butts of Georgia might remember for their October meeting. Yale's line is strong from end to end. Texas has afl-around strength, backfield and line, and should be hard to handle in the country's major state.

The two best ends of the year should belong to Army in Barney Poole and Foldberg, veterans around 218 pounds who know what it is all about. They will have to be better than good with the tackle problem Army faces. Some squad may have two better ends than Army's big, experienced pair-but I doubt it.

Among the major teams the big guess is Navy. Capt. Tom Hamilton, undoubtedly the savior of college football through war years, is as good a coach as you'll meet anywhere. But Navy has lost more good men than any team in the country. The group of supposed stars under Swede Hagberg two years ago have either graduated, flunked or resigned.

Hamilton has little left from that old crew-Kelly, Scott, Minisi, Jenkins, Ellsworth, on and on, are all gone. Most of the Navy line is missing. But Hamilton still has good football players left, not too many, but enough to give any team a busy afternoon.

Navy took the major rap in postwar football. Where most of the others were getting their former stars back, Navy was taking a heavy deficit. Navy may lose many games. More than two or three. But these games will be fought to the last play with Tom Hamilton in charge. A Closet That Fits Into Waste Space

THIS closet will fit into any waste space because it has a shade-roller door that does not swing out to conflict with other doors and furnishings. Here, a space only nine inches deep is used for a linen closet with shelves.

A handy laundry bag matches the striped material used for the door, which rolls up in back of the attractive frame of wooden scallops used to finish the front.

Pattern 256 gives an actual-size cutting guide for the scalloped frame and step-by-step illustrated directions for making the entire closet and the laundry bag. This pattern may be obtained by sending 15c with name and address direct to:

May Warn of Disordered

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

PAUL'S BACKGROUND AND EARLY LIFE

LESSON TEXT: Acts 21:39; 22:3, 27, 28; 26:4, 5; Philippians 3:5, 6.
MEMORY SELECTION: Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth.—Ecclesiastes 12:1.

God works through men. When we study his work we study the lives of men-all types of menbut all yielded to him, and used by Paul stands out as one of the most influential characters in all history. His life and letters, which we are to study the next three months, have had a tremendous effect on the human race. Especially is this true of his position and influence in the Christian church.

Under God he was the one who carried the gospel to the Gentile world, and then began the great missionary program of the church, which goes on to this very day. His writings are the steady and extensive foundation of much of our study and teaching of Christian doctrine.

I. Birthplace (Acts 21:39).

The place of a man's birth has a definite influence on his personality and usefulness. Tarsus, where Paul was born, was one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world of that day. It was a Roman province, where men proudly held their citizenship in the great empire. Greek, the language of world culture, was spoken there.

Tarsus was a great educational and university center. It was in a rich and fertile area. It was at the head of navigation on the river Cydnus and on a great Roman highway. It was the capital of the province.

II. Education (Acts 22:3).

After his early training in the home and under rabbis in Tarsus, he went to Jerusalem to study in what was probably the bestequipped Hebrew college of that day, under one of the greatest teachers, Gamaliel.

Somewhere in his rearing he was taught a trade, for every Jewish boy learned to support himself with his own hands (see Acts 18:3).

He was instructed in the Word of God, and had a consuming zeal for religious things. Until he was converted, it counted against Christianity, but afterward it became a flaming fire to spread the truth in all the world.

His combined zeal and knowledge made him a man of truly broad mind and tolerant spirit (Acts 5:35

III. Citizenship (Acts 22:27, 28). The mighty power and prestige of Rome stood behind every Roman citizen. Paul used his citizenship for protection. It helped him in his service for the Lord. Its prestige was used for God's glory.

It is a good sign when a man is proud of his national background. and it speaks well for the nation to which he belongs. But Paul came (as every Christian does) to know and appreciate a higher citizenship. IV. Religion (Acts 26:4, 5). Though a free-born Roman citizen, Paul was a Jew, and loyal to the religion of his people. He was a member of the strictest sect, the Pharisees, in which his family had held membership for generations. He lived consistently in the ob-his religious faith, and none could point to any flaw in his doctrine or failure in his life. When he became a follower of Christ, there was no ground on which anyone could dismiss his conversion and his witness as the outservance of the laws and customs of break of a new viewpoint on the part of a renegade Jew. It is to a man's credit that he faithfully lives up to the beliefs of the religion he professes. The result of such sincerity will be conversion, if he, like Paul, meets Christ and honestly faces the question of loyalty to him. V. Race (Phil. 3:5, 6).

Paul counted it to be an honor to be known as a Hebrew and gloried in the fact that he was born, trained and lived within that racial as well as religious circle.

No one need ever be ashamed of his race, although he may be ashamed of things which members of his race have done. But there are even more things of which to be proud, and a man may add to the standing of his race by living his own life in cleanness of character and nobility of purpose. It is never a commendable thing to be ashamed of the race of one's fa-

We must remember, however, that all the things in which Paul gloried, he found to be but refuse when he compared them with Christ (see Phil. 3:7, 8).

Everything worthwhile in a man's life God can glorify and use. But none of them, no matter how precious they may seem to be, compares with fellowship with and service for the Lord.

There are times when your furnace probably acts sluggish, as though it were lying down on the job. You might blame it on the weather or on the type of fuel you are burning, but actually it more than likely would be because of your furnace having a cold in its head. In other words, its breathing channel becomes clogged up.

In the process of combustion, soot and fly ash are given off. They settle in the "head," or radiator, of your furnace, thereby obstructing the flow of air that the fire needs for efficient burning. The furnace is then in distress, but not being human it cannot tell you so. There are times when your fur-human it cannot tell you so.

That is why it is necessary to give your furnace a thorough cleanout every so often, at least once a year. The only way to relieve the clogged-up condition is to draw the soot and ash out by suction, the same as you draw the dirt out of your rugs with a vacuum cleaner. There are heating firms that have special equipment for this purpose.

Of course, the ideal solution is to have a furnace that has no concealed radiator in which to collect the soot and ash. Your next fur-nace can be of that kind, for there is one now on the market. But until you make the change, remember that a clogged head in your furnace costs you both grief and money. Keep it in good working condition by giving it a good cleaning-out before you have need for its heat this mixture. its heat this winter.
