LAST EDITION LIVE STOCK MARKET

COGS, BULLS AND MIXED.

Very moderate supplies of the stock of all kinds met out at prices about steady with the closing market of last week, though not as good on all kinds as the business basis of one week ago, a very material spread in the range of prices between ordinary to medium and the strictly good kinds of cows and heifers having developed during the latter part of last week. This spread will be apt to show further widening out as the spring advances. On a steady level of prices and without any notable degree of activity the best cows and heifers sold at $8.00 to $8.50 with something on very choice order in the higher line quotable around or over $2.50; medium kinds, which included bulk of offerings, went at $3.00 to $3.50 with common to fair butchers at $2.00 to $3.00. Canners and cutters sold in a wide range of $1.50 to $2.75 with bulk at $2.00 to $2.40. Bulls were in very light supply and sold steady. Very few calves were at hand. Choice veals were worth around $6.00 with bulk at $3.00 to $5.00.

Official Receipts 59 Cars, 1,507 Cattle; 43 Cars, 7,391 Hogs; 25 Cars, 6,350 Sheep.

CATTLE.

Small Showing of Fat Steers Here, Market Steady to Higher.

Of the steers arriving at the local yards for opening market of the week the bulk was made up of feeder grades—only a few lots of passably decent to good beef cattle being an offer. Supplies were very moderate all around, Chicago having below a Monday average and the five leading points reporting only 35,000 or nearly 9,000 less than were at the same markets one week ago. The few loads of fat steers met a fairly good demand, though it is not unlikely that a larger showing would have brought but more of a display of activity on the part of the buyers. Prices realized were steady to 10c higher with best steers here, a load of just plainly finished Shorthorns weighing around 1,450 pounds, going at $5.25. Other sales ranged at $4.50 to $5.00 for half to fairly fat steers of medium to strong weight, with light killers going at $4.30 to $4.75 for ordinary to good quality. Trough ends and ends went at $3.90 to $4.25. A good clearance was made and in a general way the week's market can be rated as starting the week in good condition.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS.

Quite a liberal fresh supply of stock cattle came to hand and quality was good as a rule. Few outside buyers were in evidence, it being too early in the week for them to appear. Local buyers were on hand, however, and absorbed supplies at full steady to strong prices. Not a great many cattle were carried over Sunday and in anticipation of a good trade later in the week, they were willing to load up at the steady to strong values. A very good class of steers, good colors, mostly hornless and weighing around 800 to 950 pounds went at $4.25 to $4.40, while a choice quality of strong weight feeders could not be put up short at $4.50 or over, medium to good steers weighing around 700 pounds and up $3.75 to $4.00, common to medium $3.25 to $3.75. Yearlings $3.00 to $4.25, with a useful class around $3.50 to $3.75. Stock heifers $2.50 to $3.00.

HOGS.

Trading Was Active at Prices 5 to 10c Higher Than Saturday.

The few hogs in sight at the large markets today enabled sellers to advance prices to the highest point reached since the last week of last October. The market opened briskly with a few lots selling a good 5c higher over Saturday, but the market quickly became 5 to 10c higher under the strong competition and more were sold 7 1/2 to 10c higher than any other way. There was nothing fancy on sale and while the general quality was good it was not considered as good as the average of Saturday. Light and light mixed grades were scarce. Pigs were in small numbers and there was a keen demand at prices about 10c higher than the close of last week.

Prices ranged from $5.10 to $5.27 1/2, with the bulk selling at $5.17 1/2 to $5.25. The bulk Saturday sold at $5.10 to $5.17 1/2, a week ago at $4.85 to $4.95, a month ago at $4.65 to $4.80, a year ago at $5.00 to $5.10, two years ago at $4.95 to $5.05, three years ago at $4.92 to $5.05 and four years ago at $5.00 to $5.05.

The average cost was $5.20 1/2, as compared with $5.13 Saturday, $4.88 1/2 a week ago, $4.73 1/2 a month ago, $5.03 1/2 a year ago, $5.00 1/2 two years ago, $5.03 1/2 three years ago and $5.81 1/2 on the same day four years ago.

SHEEP.

Supply Fairly Liberal, Demand Good, and Prices Higher.

Business was lively in the sheep house this forenoon. Receipts were fairly liberal for an opening day of the week but demand was good all around and sales were made on a strong to 10 cent higher basis compared with the market of closing days last week. The supply was largely made up of Colorado, about three-fourths of which were lambs. On the higher basis of prices top lambs sold at $7.50 which was 10 cents above Friday and 5 cents above the top for last week, bulk of lambs here went at $7.40 to the top figure. Ewes sold at $5.50 for top with bulk at $5.35 to $5.40. Total sheep in sight at five points was about 37,500 with outside markets reported steady to strong.

Congressman Mann, of Chicago, was in the chair the other afternoon when Mr. Baker, of New York, was declaiming vigorously on the horrors of the Russian situation. "Words fail me, Mr. Speaker," exclaimed the orator, "words fail me." "Well, it's all the same," said the presiding officer, calmly, "the gentleman's time has expired anyhow."

Scientists are surprising the world by pronouncing that love is a disease and should be treated as such. All right, but what is the remedy for love and where is it found?

FARMERS RAISE MORE HOGS. Fort Worth Reporter: B. W. King was in from Falls county with a load of hogs, that he sold at what he considered good prices. He says there are a good many hogs in his neighborhood, and farmers are raising more, as the boll weevil has driven them out of cotton. Six years ago, said Mr. King, a buyer worked two months getting up a load of hogs. Now 50 loads are shipped out yearly. One of the hardware stores in his town sells a carload of hog-fence wire every month. Near him on the Brazos river, one of his neighbors has 100 acres of fine alfalfa as he ever saw, which is feeding a large number of hogs.

ARE AFTER THE UNDERFLOW. Hutchinson News: All western Kansas will watch with interest the result of the convention of consulting engineers for the government which will meet in Garden City the latter part of this month to discuss irrigation. It is the purpose of the engineers to consider the data already selected by the officials of the geological survey and to determine, if possible, upon the feasibility of some project in the western Kansas region for the utilization of the Arkansas river underflow. This convention is the result of the efforts of Senator Long to get the government to respond to the resolution of the Kansas legislature asking that some of the money in the reclamation fund be set aside by the department of the interior for work in Kansas. All persons who have deeply studied the subject believe that the underflow of the Arkansas river is to be the salvation of part of this district and it is believed that a thorough inquiry on the part of government experts will demonstrate this beyond question. The meeting of these engineers may be fraught with beneficial result for that section of Kansas which needs only water on top of the ground to make it blossom like the rose.

MEXICO GETTING INTO SHEEP. C. F. Morse, who exports many sheep annually from the United States into Mexico, was in El Paso a few days ago, and declared the best opportunity for investment in live stock interests in Mexico is in the sheep business. He bases his assertion upon the fact that wool is worth about $5 Mexican currency per pound of 28 pounds, and good mutton sheep are worth about $4.50 per head, in addition to bringing in two clips of wool a year.

"The states of Durango, Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi lead all Mexico in importance in the sheep industry," said Mr. Morse. "There are more expert sheep farmers in those states than elsewhere. They are Mexicans and Spaniards who compare favorably in ability with the best sheep-farmers in the United States. The smooth Ramboulet breed is the favorite."

"There is no doubt in my mind that where sheep can be ranged there is no profit in raising goats, in spite of all that is said and has been said regarding the goat business in Mexico. The latter can be counted on only for their meat and little hide. On account of the high price of wool sheep bring a far greater profit. In rough, brushy lands, adapted for goat raising, the situation might be different."

Rules of the Walk.

A few very simple rules properly observed in passing to and fro in this world would make the journey pleasanter. Always turn to the right, is one of them. The story told of a busy man and a careless woman goes this way: He, in a tremendous hurry, tried to turn to the right, but she, also in a tremendous hurry, tried to turn to the right, and again they blocked each other's way. This occurred several times, until, in desperation, the exasperated but still polite man extended his arms and exclaimed: "Which shall it be, madam, a waltz or a chassise?" Another rule that is too frequently conspicuous by the absence of a proper observance is the one forbidding a blocking of the sidewalk by standing in the center thereof with a party, conversing in utter disregard of the passers-by. Who has not met the rude and thoughtless people who insist upon monopolizing the entire width of the walk, while discussing family and private affairs? This is the very worst possible breach of good manners, and children should be taught from babyhood that each is only entitled to his own share of the world, as far as a public walk or conveyance is concerned. It was a well-merited reproof administered to the horse who insisted upon occupying a whole seat in a crowded coach, when he was told that he was "in the wrong place." "How is that?" he asked. "You should be in the car with the other hogs," said the quiet man, whose determined face and square shoulders showed him not to be trifled with.

Muscular Women. Miss Estelle Wyman, of San Francisco, is entitled to the freedom of the city, says the New York World of late date. Annoyed upon a New York street by an odious ogling person, who must be called a man only for convenience and brevity, Miss Wyman "cross-heeled" him, and with one hand at his collar and the other behind his back sent him sprawling in the mud. She says she learned the trick in the San Francisco high school, which cannot be accused of neglecting practical subjects of instruction. Miss Hattie Young, the girl detective of a local department store, brought to court a man charged with shoplifting. Regretfully she admitted that there were two offenders, that she collared both, one with each hand, but she was obliged to let one go in order to make sure of the other. However, she knocked him down so that he might have "something to show for his trip." The remaining suspect now awaits trial. In these days it is no longer safe to take it for granted that a woman will merely scream or faint when educated muscle is required.

Prosperity among Wall street brokers has caused a general movement for larger offices. It is estimated that the leases signed within the past month by bankers and brokers intending to move into new offices will aggregate an annual rental of over $2,000,000. Not for a long time, if ever before, has there been such a general moving into larger quarters, for, in the present market boom, financial firms can barely get men enough to handle their business, and in almost every active house the clerks are kept until ten and eleven at night in order to keep up with the work.

Gov. Chamberlain, of Connecticut, tells of an old friend who, because of his deafness, makes some ludicrous and at times embarrassing mistakes. Recently he was at a dinner party where the lady seated next to him tried to help him along in conversation. As the fruit was being passed she asked him: "Do you like bananas?" "No," said the old gentleman, with a look of mild surprise. "The fact is," he added, in a confidential tone, which could be heard in the next room, "I find the old-fashioned night shirt is good enough for me."

The study of the infinitesimal is progressing. W. A. Shenstone declares in the Cornhill Magazine that there "are no atoms now; they have all been cut up into electrons and corpuscles." The chemical atoms that go to make up a single cubic centimeter of water, which would nicely fill the shell of a small fibert, number 90,000,000,000,000,000 (ninety thousand million billion), and it is thought that their individual weight may be determined.

Andrew D. White who has spent many years in Europe as a diplomatic representative of the United States, says there are three things with which he would desire to supplement the civilization of this country: From Great Britain he would bring her administration of criminal justice; from Germany her theater, and from any or every European country, save Russia, Spain and Turkey, the government of cities.

HOW HE MANAGED IT

BY A. A. MILNE.

George was quite ready to argue the point as he sat down. "Now, then, let's be calm," he said. "I'm quite calm," said the girl. "Very well, then, why won't you marry me? What's wrong with me?" "My dear George," said Violet, "I am not like other girls. For any other girl you would make, I am sure, an excellent husband. But the man I marry—her voice grew more genteel—"must be a hero, a man out of the common, a man whose name is in everybody's mouth." She looked at the photograph of Joseph Chamberlain that stood on her desk.

"George shifted awkwardly in his seat. 'Look here, Vi,' he said, 'if you want me to go about making speeches all over the place I'll do it, of course. At the same time—' " "I certainly don't want you to go about making speeches all over the place, as you describe it," Violet interrupted; "there are other ways of being famous."

"I say, what do you call famous? I got my 'blue.'" "One sign of fame is the frequent appearance of one's name in the papers." "Saturday Sportsman," said George, promptly. "Every week, and again on Mondays. 'Back, G. Hopper.'" "I don't refer to sporting papers," said Violet, chillingly. "Arthur Clinton has had some signed verses in the morning press."

"All right," said George; "I'll take to poetry if you like." "My dear George," said Violet, "don't be so absurd. I only instance Mr. Clinton as an example. Can't you understand that I want to be the wife of some one? I want to be able to take up the Times each morning and read my husband's name in it. I don't want him to be a nonentity. If I married you, no one would wonder if I was the wife of the George Hopper."

"I do want to be some one," said George; "I want to be the husband of the Miss Thurston." Violet smiled gravely. Flattery never had any effect on her.

"George," she said, "when your name appears in the Times, then come and ask me again." She added, in reply to a question of George's, that the advertisement and sporting page didn't count.

Next day he called on Ruth Clifford and discussed the matter with her. Ruth and he had been friends since childhood. George poured out his woes. "Yes," said Ruth, "it's very interesting. I suppose you realize that she isn't in the least suited to you?" "Of course!" said George. "That's why I fell in love with her."

"I know, as a fact, that she paints," murmured Ruth, in consequence. "H'ish! No confidences." George left in some concern. He felt that he had put his foot into it somehow. After considering the matter in all its bearings he gave it up and began instead to think of Violet and the Times. When he saw Ruth again he had a really immense idea.

"You see," he said, "it's well known that the Times reports all law cases with great fullness." "Well?" "George hesitated. 'You see, the idea was, I might easily get chucked out of the Alhambra to-morrow night.' " "George!"

Ruth picked up a heavy ivory paper knife from the table and went over to his chair. "Now," she said, waving it threateningly over his head, "look me in the eyes, George." He did so, admiringly. She had never looked so pretty.

"Oh!" cried Ruth. "Now, then, promise me faithfully, on your word of honor, that you'll never do anything so absolutely idiotic." "But, Ruth, dear—"

"Promise!" she said, holding the point of the paper knife at his heart. "Yes, yes, I promise." About a fortnight after this he met Violet Thurston suddenly at the corner of Pleasantly.

"Well, how are you?" she said, giving him her hand. "Oh, very well, thanks." "I read the Times every day," she said, meaningly. "Indeed?" he said, politely. "I'm going into Surrey to-morrow." Violet went on; "so, if there is anything in the Times, you must send it on. I'll give you the address. I shall expect it to be remembered."

George was now fairly caught. "I think it will be Friday," he said. "Good-by."

EAT A HEARTY BREAKFAST

The First Meal of the Day the Most Important One and Should Be Carefully Planned.

To many persons breakfast seems to be the least important meal of the day, in reality it is the most important, for it is presented to us at the hour when, in too many instances, we are least fitted both physically and mentally, to cope with the problem of the hours of daylight which confront us. Careful thought should be given to it by every woman who has the well being of her family at heart, and it should be the best cooked, best served and brightest of our three daily meals.

At this season of the year the demands on the system are heavier than in summer; not only must we eat such foods as will build up worn out tissue, but we must add those which give a large amount of heat, force and energy, in order to cope with our cold climate. Those members of our families who are in business, as well as the children who attend school, need a warm and nutritious meal which will sustain them through the hours of work and study.

In too many cases fruit for breakfast is looked upon as a luxury. It is true that a majority of fruits possess a low nutritive value, but they contain so many natural acids, blended with the proper proportion of water, that they serve to both stimulate the system in general and give to the blood the salts and acids which will dispel scurvy and kindred diseases. Perfectly ripe fresh fruit cannot well be improved upon, but at this season of the year it is extremely limited in variety and quantity.

With modern methods of handling and storing, good apples can be had at a moderate price until the end of winter, but it is the only native fruit obtainable. Bananas and oranges are equally good and inexpensive. Should none of these be attainable, or should we desire more variety, we have an endless resource in the shape of dried or evaporated fruits. All such should, after a preliminary examination, be thoroughly washed, then soaked in sufficient cold water to cover for fully 24 hours. When this process is omitted they lose considerable in tenderness and flavor.

After soaking cook in a double boiler until tender, but unbroken, adding such sugar as is necessary a few moments before taking them from the fire. For breakfast service they should not be made too sweet. Cereal foods are nutritious and, when properly prepared, are easily digested. Bacon, to be crisp and dry, should be cut in paper-thin slices. The morning coffee should be served piping hot, clear and strong.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

WARNER IS SENATOR

Long Deadlock at Last Broken by Election of the Kansas City Man.

TO SUCCEED FRANCIS M. COCKRELL.

After Exciting Contest the Republicans Are Successful in Electing Member of Their Party as Senator.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 20.—Warner, 91; Cockrell, 83; Niedringhaus, 1. On the sixty-seventh ballot the senatorial deadlock was broken Saturday afternoon by the election of Maj. William Warner of Kansas City, the ballot standing as shown. There was a riot, which promised bloodshed, incited by dilatory tactics of democrats.

Maj. William Warner.

be wholly forgotten. Dauer, republican, of St. Louis, was the lone Niedringhaus voter on the last ballot.

There was several interesting features about the balloting on the senatorship. One, and among the most notable, was the time taken in the roll call, which occupied a greater number of minutes in each instance than was consumed in the entire session on many previous days.

Several of the members explained their vote, or gave reasons for the choice they had made, but the most startling of these was the declaration of Mr. Grace, of St. Louis. Mr. Grace is the author of the resolution which stirred up the trouble for Mr. Niedringhaus, resulting in the defeat of the latter, though he was the caucus nominee, with the republicans having a majority of ten on joint ballot.

While the assembly was demanding an announcement on the result of the sixty-sixth ballot, Senator Peck marched into the hall, escorting Col. Kerens toward the speaker's stand. It created a commotion which threw everything into wild confusion.

Then Col. Kerens was given recognition, and, as he arose, he was given an ovation which could be interpreted as meaning he had a desire to promote the chances of electing a republican senator by a withdrawal from the contest.

Oil Producers Association to Raise Funds for Contest.

WERE ADDRESSED BY GOV. HOCH.

Enthusiastic Meeting Followed by Banquet at Which Many Prominent Persons Were Present.

Independence, Kan., March 20.—More than 500 oil producers and 2,500 of their friends and sympathizers met in convention here Saturday afternoon.

The object of the convention was simply to serve notice on the Standard Oil company that the Kansas producers have enlisted for the "war" which will last for the next two or three years.

Gov. Hoch struck the popular chord in this section of the state when he said this afternoon that the state had started this fight and would stay with it to the finish.

"We do not want to drive this company from the state," said the governor. "We simply want fair treatment for it."

The governor was followed by Senator F. Dumont Smith, Ida M. Tarbell, Frank S. Monnett and Representative P. P. Campbell, all of whom said that the producers ought to make a fight for their rights.

The stage on which the speakers stood was decorated with flags and banners. There were three banners strung across the stage behind the speakers.

IT MAY BE PEACE.

Strong Pressure in Russia Being Exercised to That End.

IF JAP TERMS ARE REASONABLE.

Kuropatkin Has Subordinate Command—Mukden greatest Battle of Modern Times—Russian Forces Much Larger.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—While Emperor Nicholas, whose word is final, still declines to abandon the prosecution of the war, and the government maintains its ability to continue the conflict, the Associated press is in a position to state that powerful influences, including several of the emperor's own ministers, are now strongly urging that the time has come to indicate to Japan Russia's desire for peace upon a reasonable basis.

Should Japan then attempt to impose too onerous conditions, these influences argue that in view of the universal wish to see the bloody conflict ended Russia's position will be strengthened abroad by the alienation of sympathy from Japan and the situation at home improved when the nation is made to understand that the emperor's pacific proposals have been met with impossible terms.

One of the emperor's ministers, in a conversation with the Associated press, said: "We have suffered bitter defeat on land and sea. We can however, still continue the war. But both countries have suffered great losses in blood and treasure and it would only profit the rivals of both were we to fight on until one or the other is exhausted. Russia has had a hard task fighting the war against such adversaries 6,000 miles from home, and I contend she can make a dignified peace without glory, but not without honor. As the victor on land and sea, Japan can afford to remember as Bismarck did at the conclusion of the Austro-Prussian war, that two countries which must live through the long future as neighbors may need each other's friendship. Japan may consider the time propitious on account of the situation in European Russia to try and crush us. Suppose, for the sake of argument, she succeeded in finally forcing a humiliating peace, it could not be more than an armed truce. Russia is too big and powerful to retire permanently from the field. The clouds at home will eventually roll away. With the army and navy reorganized in five ten or fifteen years there will come inevitably our revenge. No permanent peace is possible now or later unless Japan is reasonable."

Associated press dispatches filed at Mukden. The pass and Kaityan reached St. Petersburg last evening, having been discovered among other papers committed to the censor at the front where they had lain from a week to twelve days. Writing under date of March 8th correspondent mentions that Gen. Kuropatkin's confident declaration of satisfaction with the situation had steered and encouraged the army after eight days battle until the wounded, exceeding in number those of the battle of Leo Yang, were crowding the station and the Russian settlement and in the settlement cemetery chaplains were conducting funeral ceremonies. In the concluding portion of the dispatch from Tia pass, the first part of which was published March 11, the correspondent states that according to information the Japanese strength in Mukden was 80 battalions less than that of the Russians. The Japanese also were inferior in guns at many places. The number of men at the beginning of the battle was 700,000, manning the greatest field work ever constructed. Not only in duration and number of troops and guns engaged did the battle exceed all former contests but also in expenditure of ammunition.

WILL ASK FOR RECEIVER.

Court to be Asked to Appoint One for the Prairie Oil Com. pany.

Independence, Kas., March 20.—Ap- plication will be made early this week to the district court at Neosho county for a receiver for all of the Prairie Oil and Gas company's pipe lines in Kansas. Included in the petition which the oil producers will file before Judge Stillwell at Erie will be a re- quest that the Prairie Oil company be enjoined from tearing out its pipes connecting with wells from which it has refused to take oil. The announcement made Saturday that the Standard Oil company will take only enough oil in Kansas to hold its charter resulted in a preference to- day of the producers. Their lawyers are busy to-night on the papers in the case. The receiver's assurance on Saturday that all of the power of the state will be used to compel the Standard to be decent, fixed the de- termination of the producers to go ahead.

The receivership of the pipe lines under the direction of the state court will enable the producers to find out whether the common carrier bill is practical or not. Monday or Tuesday 3,000 barrels of oil will be tendered the Prairie Oil and Gas company by the Kansas and Texas Oil company of Chanute for transportation to Kansas City, Kas. under the provisions of the common carrier law. If the oil is re- fused, the application for a receiver will be filed immediately. John O'Brien, assistant general manager of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, says that all oil offered to-morrow under the common carrier law will be refused. Thus the issue is joined. Suit for ouster was filed recently by the attorney general against the Stand- ard Oil company. This suit is directly against the Prairie Company. The Standard Oil alleges that the Prairie is not a part of the Standard.

MORE RUSSIAN TROUBLES.

Workmen Who Refused to Join Strikers Are Shot—Mobilization to Be Resisted.

Warsaw, March 20.—Now that most of the strikes are ended, the workmen are beginning to carry out the threat of revenge on such of their fellows as refused to quit work with them. On Saturday a foreman who had refused to join the strikers was fatally stab- bed, and to-day a workman who had refused to walk out was shot and se- verely wounded. The authorities fear that these incidents are only the be- ginning of a series of such outrages.

The working classes are greatly ex- cited in anticipation of orders for mobilization. The men are determined to offer violent opposition. Scarcely a day passes without the appearance of seditious pamphlets. One secret pub- lication entitled the "barriade" which was recently circulated preached re- volutionary doctrines, urging workmen to prepare for the struggle and build barricades in the streets. The mobilization is expected to begin in Lodz to-morrow. Workmen in several mills there already are striking as a manifestation of hostility to such mea- sures.

Hay Stricken at the Dock.

New York, March 20.—Secretary of State Hay was taken ill as he was about to board the White Star line steamer Cretic for a voyage to the Mediterranean and became so sick that he was taken aboard the steamer in a wheeled chair. That his condition was not regarded as alarming seemed ap- parent, however, as the steamer started on her voyage without delay. Mr. Hay has been in poor health for some time and the voyage was planned to give him complete rest and an opportunity to recuperate. The secretary's plans include a stay of about six weeks in southern Europe.

A Useful Canal.

Chicago, March 20.—Two of the uses of the Chicago sanitary and ship canal connecting the Chicago river at Robey street, Chicago, to Lockport, Ill., more than twenty-eight miles away, are indicated by its name: It conveys the sewage of Chicago from the shores of the inland seas and starts it on its way down the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico. Secondly, it is almost as deep as the Suez canal, and when completed will become a commercial and military artery of travel of the utmost importance.

Cat's Bite Killed Boy.

St. Louis, March 20.—The bite of a pet cat, nine months ago, caused the death Saturday by hydrophobia of Henry Pfisterer, aged nine years. The first symptoms of the disease developed a week ago, when the boy, at the breakfast table suddenly showed an aversion to a glass of water. A head- ache, sore throat, inability to swallow and spasms followed in rapid suc- cession. Finally convulsions developed and he died at the city hospital, uncon- scious and scratching desperately at the bedclothing.

Ireland Convicted of Assault.

Winfield, Kas., March 20.—Arthur B. Ireland, national organizer for the Federation of Labor, was convicted here Saturday on a charge of assault on J. D. Harrity of Arkansas City, a non-union Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe machinist. He was convicted under section 42 of the statutes which pro- vides for a sentence not to exceed five years in the penitentiary and not less than six months in the county jail. The attack was made in July last by several striking Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe machinists.

DISASTROUS MINE EXPLOSION.

Twenty-Four Men Killed and Much Property Destroyed—Rescuing Party Perish.

Charleston, W. Va., March 20.—As a result of a horrible explosion in the Rush Run and Red Ash mines near Thurmond last night 24 men now lie stark in death in the two mines. Ten of these were killed in the explosion Saturday night and the other 14 were a rescuing party who entered the mine this morning to take from the mines the charred and blackened remains of their fellow workmen. These latter were killed by a second explosion and the after damp. The first explosion seemed to shake the foundation of the mountains and the angry twin flash from the two neighboring drift months lighted up the heavens for miles around. Soon from the mining villages for several miles up and down the river hundreds of people rushed to the scene of the dreadful disaster. The first explosion caused by a "naked" flame coming in contact with the gas. The flames leaped from the drift mouth and set fire to everything in the mines which was not blown out by the force of the explosion. The great drum by which the cars are run from the drift mouth and the incline to the tipple and the empties drawn up was blown from its moorings and down the mountain side 600 feet while the drum house caught fire and was totally consumed. The cars that stood at the mouth of the mine were blown far down to- wards the tipple and much of the track of the incline was destroyed. The rails twisted and the cross ties whipped from their beds in the ballast and sent scorching and charred many yards away. The big fan furnished air in the mine was so damaged that it was several hours before it could be started again.

A GOOD RECORD.

The Missouri Legislature Adjourns After Having Done Much Good Work.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 20.—The state has reason to be proud of the work of the Forty-third general assembly which adjourned. It did more real and earnest work than any legislature in a decade and while here and there an important measure was either killed or lost in the mazes of unfinished business, much of important legislation was added to the state books. Nearly all frank bills were killed. Among the general bills was the repeal of the alum law; increasing the statute of limitations to five years in bribery cases; the repeal of the breed- ers' law and making it a felony to sell pools on a horse race; a good road law; the St. Louis home rule police bill; the erection of a new supreme court building; a bill providing for the erection of a new hospital at the state penitentiary; the establishment of a sanitarium for persons in the first stages of pulmonary tuberculosis; a new insurance table; a uniform negotiable instrument bill; a bill to provide for compulsory education.

Funeral of Gen. Hawley.

Washington, March 20.—Brief funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of General Joseph R. Hawley who died Friday night. They consisted simply in the reading of the Episcopal prayer for the dead by the Rev. Dr. Harding of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The services were private though in addition to the family there were present a number of intimate friends including General Black, General A. W. Greely and Senators Hansbrough and Wetmore. The honorary pall bearers were Senators Platt and Bulkeley of Connecticut, General John M. Wilson and Admiral Van Rypen.

Say No Rebates Were Given.

Topeka, March 20.—Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe officials declare ma- licious and untrue the story that Armour & Co. had received rebated from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe on coal shipped to Kansas City from the Pittsburg and Fontenac district amounting to more than 1/4 million dollars. W. J. Black, general passenger agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, says: "The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe has not shipped a pound of coal for Armour & Co. from the Pittsburg or any other district in years, and has never hauled to exceed a few car loads of coal for that company."

French Minister Protests.

Washington, March 20.—Minister Bowen at Caracas has cabled the state department that the French minister at that place has protested to the powers against the action of the govern- ment which has given notice to the French cable company of its intention to annul its concessions and seize its property. The nature of the protest is not given nor are there any details in Mr. Bowen's despatch.

Owing to an unconfirmed rumor concerning some of the Wichita Kan. banks, a small run started on the Fourth national bank Saturday morn- ing and many depositors asked for their money, which was promptly paid and by noon the run was ended.

We find no particular change in the hide market since our report of one week ago. Prices remain fairly steady and we make no change for the coming week. We want to again remind you to SALT YOUR HIDES. We have been talking this through the columns of this paper for the past month or six weeks, and yet we hardly receive a bill of hides with less than one to all of the bill straight glue, for lack of salt. It is very much more satis- factory for us to remit for good hides, then you are satisfied and we feel much better about it.

The tallow market remains about the same. Furs are lower and we will discontinue our prices about April 1. Send in what you have and we will allow you all we can for it.
