erratic and lacked the excitement of yesterday there was a more settled feeling and trading was very brisk at prices strong to 10c higher than yesterday's average trade. However, as compared with some of the worst sales of vesterday some of the offerings today looked 15@ 20c higher, but this was no criterion of the general market. Buyers were just as eager for supplies as any day of the week, and they were disappointed in the few offered and the absence of any choice heavy grades. Very good medium heavy export steers sold at $6.05, the extreme figure for the day, and some tidy 1,197 pound steers sold up to $6.00, while plain 1,267 pound steers sold at $5.70. Light and medium butcher grades and fair to pretty good export kinds sold largely at $5.20@5.95. As compared with the first part of last week values indicate an advance of 45@65c, and in some cases more, and as compared with five weeks ago there has been a gain of $1.40@1.65 on most grades. Prices are now at a Hammond Packing Co...... will continue sending their stock to the in excess of the supply, instead of the east, the effect will be beneficial to a marked degree. Supplies here this week have been wholly under requirements, especially of the good to choice medium and heavy export and shipping grades, and prices prevailing should attract many more than are coming.

STOCKERS AND PERDERS

The lack of country inquiry for stock and feeding steers this week has been more of a surprise to the trade than the excitement in the beef steer trade. With killing stock going sky-high and all lines | 1 of stocker stuff lower, trading should have been very active in the stocker ditalon, and the trade can only account for it from the fact that farmers are all extremely busy with their spring work The following shows the number of and have not taken the time to come in. rars of stock handled today by railroads centering at the stock wards: the yards today and regular dealers were buying sparingly of the most desirable kinds at about steady prices, but the off grades were more or less neglected. The stocker division is well filled with cattle of all weights and quality and the country trade can find almost anything here to suit their wants. Total 178 The supply of good thin young cows to go on grass and desirable young stock bulls continues very small, and the few offered are finding a ready demand at Frading Was Again Active at Strong prices fully as strong as any time during
