Evil Within.

All the forces of evil may come upon a soul from without, and fall to shake it. But the smallest evil within, that is loved and desired and continued in, will accomplish what the outside attack has failed in.

ELWOOD MAN SUICIDES.

Mind Affected by Accident Several Months Ago—Hangs Himself.

His mind affected as a result of an accident several months ago, Edward S. Tanner, sixty-five years old, committed suicide about 10 o'clock last night at his home in Elwood by hanging himself to the bough of a tree with a piece of baling wire.

The corner of Doniphan county was summoned from Troy to view the body. Tanner, who was a bridge carpenter in the employ of the St. Joseph & Grand Island railway, was struck by a train about six months ago, and his injuries caused him to grow morbid and melancholy and to brood over things.

DRY FARMING IN IDAHO.

The "Panhandle" and a portion of central Idaho are humid and produce crops every year. In southern Idaho and the western part of Nez Perce county the annual precipitation is less than 15 inches, hence farming without irrigation may properly be termed dry farming.

GERMANS ARE EATING FISH.

Consul Herman L. Spahr of Breslau makes the following report on the increasing use of fish in Germany: "The price of hogs in Breslau at the end of April was $6 to $4 marks ($10.95 to $12.85) per 50 kilos (110.23 lbs.), against 50 to 55 marks ($9.52 to $11.90) at the same time last year.

THE FARMERS' TELEPHONE.

Exchange: As a time saver on the farm there is nothing that beats the telephone. There is scarcely an up-to-date farmer now who does not have the convenience, and in many rural communities farmers have their own companies, which is a great expense saver.

UNSEASONABLE BLOSSOMING.

Fort Collins, Col.—It is not uncommon for fruit trees of all kinds to bear flowers in late summer or in the early fall. This tendency is more marked in the semi-arid regions than in the humid states, but the explanation is simple.

CANADA NEEDS HOGS.

Live Stock World: It transpires that Canadian farmers have not been able to successfully compete with hog producers this side the line, and the fact is shown by a marked decrease in the output of Canadian hog product for foreign trade. In 1908 Canada was the largest exporter of bacon to Great Britain, her export exceeding that of Denmark by $2,976 hogs.

KILLED IN A MOTOR

G. W. SANDS, A STEPSON OF W. K. VANDERBILT, WAS THE VICTIM.

CAR LEFT THE TRACK AND STRUCK TREE

Report Had It That Mr. Vanderbilt Had Been Killed—The Chauffeur Fatally Injured—Victims Pinioned Under Car and Horribly Burned—No Cause Given for Accident.

Paris, July 30.—G. Winthrop Sands, a stepson of W. K. Vanderbilt, was killed in a motor car accident which occurred Wednesday morning just outside the grounds of Mr. Vanderbilt's beautiful country seat, the Chateau St. Louis de Poissy, 20 miles from Paris.

Mr. Sands was riding with the chauffeur when, in some manner which has not yet been cleared up, the motor car, which was spinning along at a fairly high rate of speed, left the road and struck a tree with terrific force. The car was overturned and Mr. Sands and the chauffeur were pinned under the wreckage. The gasoline tank probably exploded, as the wreck at once caught fire.

As soon as help arrived Mr. Sands and the chauffeur were extricated, but they had been horribly maimed and burned. They were carried into the chateau, where Mr. Sands died at 9 o'clock. The chauffeur is still alive, but his injuries probably will prove fatal.

Mr. Sands's mother, Mrs. Vanderbilt, his stepfather and his brother were at the chateau when the accident occurred. Mrs. Vanderbilt was almost distracted when the torn and bruised body of her son was borne tenderly indoors. It was evident that he was then past mortal aid, and he did not regain consciousness before his death.

The members of the family were apprised of the accident by telegraph. George W. Vanderbilt is in Dinard. H. S. Vanderbilt, Jr., left here Wednesday morning for London. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is at Aix Les Bains.

The first report that reached Paris was that it was W. K. Vanderbilt who had been killed.

Labrador Coast Storm Swept

St. Johns, N. F., July 30.—A brief dispatch received Wednesday from Labrador, says that the Labrador coast has been swept by a northeast hurricane, which wrecked 17 fishing vessels in one harbor. The name of the harbor is not given in the dispatch. Other parts of the coast are as yet unhealed from and grave fears are entertained here for the safety of Sir William MacGregor, governor of Newfoundland, who is on an official visit to Labrador. The advices received say that the crews of the wrecked vessels are saved.

Mother Withdraws Complaint

New York, 30.—John A. Van Rensselaer, who was arrested on Monday of last week for writing a threatening letter to his mother, Mrs. John Van Rensselaer, and who spent a few days in the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital under examination into his mental condition, was discharged Wednesday in the Tombs police court. Lawyer Wadlington, representing Mrs. Van Rensselaer, appeared at the hearing and said that the prisoner's mother would be content to drop her complaint.

Cannot Seize Liquor

Enid, Okla., July 30.—Enjoining state and county officials from seizing shipments of liquor in transit in Oklahoma until such shipments shall have been delivered to consignee, Judge John Cotterell in the United States circuit court issue a temporary restraining order against Charles J. West, attorney general of the state of Oklahoma, Robert Lozier, superintendent of the state liquor dispensary, and officials of the counties of Logan, Stevens and Custer.

They Died Together

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 30.—Emil Jacobs and his wife, aged 68 and 65 years respectively, were found dead in their home Tuesday night by neighbors. The coroner after an investigation reports heart failure as the cause of death of Mr. Jacobs, and states that he believes Jacobs' wife dropped dead, from the shock of her life partner's demise.

Prohibition Lost Out

Dallas, Tex., July 30.—Practically complete returns from 117 of the 234 counties of this state and scattering returns from 87 others, give the vote in last Saturday's primary election for the negative in the matter of the submission of a state-wide prohibition amendment, 77,726 votes, and the affirmative 68,853.

Company Wants $1,400,000

Kansas City, Kas., July 30.—The Metropolitan Water company has named $1,400,000 as the value of its properties. Experts employed by the city placed the value at $613,000. The city and water company are at odds, and indications are that the courts will be called on to adjust matters.

Killed for a One-Cent Stamp

Wharton, Tex., July 30.—R. B. Pointer shot and killed G. W. Jackson at Wharton, Tex., in a quarrel over a one-cent postage stamp. Jackson had sent a letter with only a one-cent stamp on, and Pointer, who had charged of the postage, called his attention to the matter.

ARE FREE FROM COMPETITORS.

Australian Shoe Dealers Not Afraid of American Goods.

John W. Blythe, head of the Lilydale Tannery Boot and Shoe Manufacturing company of Melbourne, Australia, arrived in New York the other day on his way to visit his brother in Texas, where he owns a 15,000-acre cattle ranch near Waco, says an exchange. According to Mr. Blythe, American shoes have not yet succeeded in capturing the Australian market to any appreciable extent.

"You can hardly compete with us in the matter of prices," said Mr. Blythe. "You may do so in other countries, but your 'invasion' boast doesn't hold good in Australia. We have three popular prices for our shoes—$2, $3, and $4.50. Now, your $3.50 shoes, for instance, costs in Melbourne $3.75. That's the minimum price at which the distributors there can realize a profit from them. Your five-dollar shoe is likewise increased by 25 cents, and away out in the bush in Queensland these two qualities of shoes cost four and six dollars, respectively.

"You will see, therefore, that you can hardly ever expect to make serious inroads into our shoe market. The American shoe is all right, I'll admit, and if your manufacturers of them could only compete with us in my own country in the matter of price you would undoubtedly hurt our shoe industry very materially."

DEPRIVED OF FAVORITE DISH.

New York East Siders Are Wrought Up to Madness.

Now that the real warm weather is here, there is likely to be an ice cream sandwich famine on the East side, says a New York letter. An ice cream sandwich means as much to the East side as that other favorite dish—the sausage. And anyone who remembers the strike of the sausage makers last year will recall how the entire Ghetto rose up and demanded its favorite dish. The "hot dogs" only escaped two meal tickets when the sausage makers turned them loose on the excited populace. "Now is the time for a general strike," pleaded the walking delegate of the ice cream sandwich makers union. "An ice cream sandwich famine at this time will be worse than the sausage famine." The state board of arbitration, however, has taken a hand in the controversy, and the East side will be allowed to eat its sandwiches pending arbitration.

Ocean Liners Are Stanch

Comparatively little damage was sustained by the American liner St. Paul in the recent collision with the British cruiser Gladiator. This is another proof of what a well-built Atlantic liner can stand in such circumstances. Probably the most remarkable previous case of the kind was that of the Guion liner Arizona (5,147 tons), which, in November, 1879, crashed at full speed into an iceberg during the homeward passage. She put into St. John's, N. F., with her bow completely smashed and crumpled up almost to the collision bulkheads. But these and the ship, as a whole, remained intact in spite of the terrible resistance encountered.

Popular Science.

In San Francisco the campaign against rats, as spreaders of the plague, is a subject of universal discussion. A conversation reported by a writer in the Call shows that the dog has reached even the children.

Wilms' injuries are fatal. The cause of the attack is unknown.

BRYAN'S CRITICISM

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FINDS FAULT WITH JUDGE TAFT'S CINCINNATI ADDRESS.

TO DISCUSS IN DETAIL LATER

To Speak in Topeka in August on Government Guaranty of Banks—Plan of Campaign Outlined.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—Charging that Judge William H. Taft was not satisfied with the work of the Chicago convention which nominated him as the Republican candidate for the presidency and that in consequence he is deeply impressed with the work of the Democratic convention at Denver, William Jennings Bryan Wednesday issued a statement in which he expressed the opinion that Judge Taft "fears the uprising which Republican abuses have caused and yet hesitates to adopt his real and substantial reforms." The statement was called forth because of the allegation made by Judge Taft in his speech of acceptance at Cincinnati Tuesday that Mr. Bryan was a destroyer of business. In regard to the speech, Mr. Bryan said:

"I read it and shall discuss it as I deal with the various subjects upon which it treats. For instance, in a speech at Topeka, between now and the first of September, I shall discuss the guaranty of banks and contrast Mr. Taft's position with the Democratic position. In my Labor day speech at Chicago on the 7th of September, I shall discuss his attitude on the labor question. In other speeches I shall discuss his attitude on the tariff question, the trust question and other questions upon which he has expressed himself.

"The most noticeable feature of his attempt to amend the Republican platform by engraving upon it some of the planks of the Democratic platform. He is evidently not satisfied with the work of his convention and is deeply impressed by the work of the Democratic convention. He is uncharitable, however, in not giving the Democratic party credit for having pointed out the reforms which his own convention repudiated, but which he, in a half-hearted way, indorses. The speech shows that he fears the uprising which Republican abuses have caused, and yet hesitates to adopt his real and substantial reforms."

Confirmation was given by Mr. Bryan to the story printed in the afternoon that it was not his intention to make any extended campaign tour but only to deliver a few prepared speeches at central points before the first of October, and that during that month he expects to remain home and assist in the educational work of the campaign through the discussion of public questions in the form of signed articles, interviews and letters. "The outline of my plan of campaign as printed Wednesday, however, is not giving the Democratic party credit for having pointed out the reforms which his own convention repudiated, but which he, in a half-hearted way, indorses. The speech shows that he fears the uprising which Republican abuses have caused, and yet hesitates to adopt his real and substantial reforms."

SOMEWHAT HARD TO EXPLAIN.

When Actor Offered Pawn Ticket in Exchange for Coat Check.

In his "Reminiscences and Reflections," Sir John Hare, the eminent English actor, recalls an anecdote of Leigh Murray, his instructor. Murray was, at the time of the story, playing at the Adelphi theater in London, when his old friend, Sims Reeves, was about to make his first appearance in opera at Drury lane. Murray was playing the part of an impetuous young "swell" who was very hard up, and carried as a property in the play a pawn ticket, which replaced his watch in his coat pocket. As Murray appeared on the stage in evening dress, he thought it obviously unnecessary to change before adjourning to Drury lane, and deposited his hat and coat in the cloakroom there on arrival. In coming out, however, instead of handing the attendant the numbered ticket he had received, he used on the stage, and gave it with a lordly air to the astonished attendant, much to his own mortification when his attention was drawn to it.

WEDDING TRIP ON STREET CAR.

Chicago Couple That Started Married Life Economically.

"There's nothing like marryin' an economical husband," said the woman with the gingham apron. "You know my Dorthy Ann married a young fellow last Wednesday that's been comin' to see her once a week for the last two years."

"Yes; I'd heard of it," said the woman with the rolled up sleeves. "Well, we live away out on the South side, you know, and his home is away out on the North side. They went to housekeepin' the same day."

"Didn't they take a weddin' trip?" "Course they did. That's what I was goin' to tell you. They took their weddin' trip on the way home. Got on one of them through cars, you know, and rode the whole 20 miles. All it cost for both of 'em was ten cents. And there they was, right at home. I tell you, that's startin' right!"—Chicago Tribune.

One on the Waiter.

The waiter in a Superior avenue cafe brought the diner his change, all in such denominations that the smallest coin was a dime, as waiters always do. Slowly the customer gathered up the coins of the tray—first the half dollar, then the quarter, and after that the dimes. Then he looked through the change in his pocket for a nickel to hand the waiter, but found none, and the waiter took it for granted that he would get a dime, after all. But the customer fished out a three-cent car ticket, laid it down and went his way. "I never wanted three-cent fare, anyhow," muttered the waiter.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Fussy Husband.

The less a man knows about household matters the better. These he should leave to his wife, if he be the fortunate possessor of such a treasure. Some men are cognizant of every trifle which passes in the family. They know how much soap is given out to the washwoman, how much gas is used in the kitchen, how much coal is used an hour in the range, and all sorts of things equally unworthy of notice by a manly character. Such "hussy fellows" (as they call them in Scotland) should have a discloth pinned to their coat tails to teach them better manners.—New York Press.

The Realist Love.

Infatuation is frequently mistaken for love. For a while it is a very fair imitation of the real thing, but it quickly burns itself out. For that reason it is best not to trust too readily to what is called "love at first sight." The love that is genuine—that is going to last through tribulation as well as joy—is the love that is tested by time. Real love forgives much, is patient, tender and true. It is not fair weather love, but beams just as brightly in adversity as in success. You may imagine that you love sincerely, but if you are continually making demands on the person you think you love your love is greater for yourself than it is for him.

To Exterminate Mosquitoes.

The health authorities of Baltimore have renewed with vigor their crusade of last year against mosquitoes and their breeding spots. The campaign is along the same lines as that waged by Dr. A. H. Doty on Staten Island, except in one particular. In this city the work of exterminating was carried out with public funds, but in Baltimore it is proposed to hold property owners responsible for all breeding places on their lands and to compel them to drain swampy spots and sprinkle them with oil. By this plan the health department expects to be able to accomplish important results on an appropriation of $5,000, one-third that of last year.

The Human Way.

"What are you diggin' for?" "Well, I've got the idee thar's gold in the land." "And what'll you do with it if you strike any?" "Go to celebratin' till it's all gone. I reckon, an' then go to diggin' ag'in!"

NO DEATHS FROM DIPHTHERIA.

That is if Serum is Applied at Once, Say Scientists.

An interesting paper on the present treatment of diphtheria by serum was read at a sitting of the Academy of Medicine in Paris by Dr. Louis Martin of the hospital attached to the Pasteur Institute, who collaborated with Dr. Roux in the discovery of the anti-diphtheric serum. It dealt chiefly with the causes of death in the cases treated with that serum. Apart from the somewhat rare hypertoxic accidents, there ought theoretically to be no longer any deaths from diphtheria, but unfortunately in many instances the serum is employed too late. One-third of the deaths at the Pasteur hospital have occurred within less than 24 hours after the admission of the patients. To avoid deaths from this cause, an early injection should be resorted to whenever a patient is suspected of diphtheria. In spite of the serum treatment 20 per cent. of the children up to two years of age still die of the disease. They come, however, in general from infected surroundings. The danger might be averted by preventive injections, and Dr. Martin lays it down as an absolute rule that every infection should be inoculated. In order to avert a certain number of deaths that occur in spite of the employment of the serum which he has seen coincide with serious changes in important organs, Dr. Martin recommends vigorous injections at the beginning and the reinoculation of adults in case the toxic symptoms persist.
