A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Men take football contest

One thing that was notable about the Journal's last football contest to include regular-season high school games is that the men captured eight of the top 10 spots.

This is quite a contrast to the results in several recent weeks, when the women tended to show the men who knew something about calling games.

"The only possible explanation for this is the presidential election turmoil," Leah Bell, the Journal's advertising director, said after she finished tallying the results. "Women were concentrating on solving bigger problems this week."

Be that as it may, the $25 first prize went to Isaac Nicolas of Farwell, who missed only Floydada at Olton and San Angelo Central at Lubbock Monterey.

Six people were right behind with three games missed. Of those, the closest on the tiebreaker score was Rene Valle of Muleshoe, the $15 winner.

Valle guessed that the combined score in the Muleshoe game would be 63, and it was only 60 (Muleshoe 54, Dimmitt 6).

Games he missed were Maryland at North Carolina, Nebraska at Kansas State (missed by 36 of the 43 entries — the most of any game) and New England at Cleveland.

In third place was Mandy Garner of Muleshoe, who guessed 48 on the tiebreaker. She missed New England at Cleveland, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh and Washington State at University of Southern California.

Others missing three games (and their tiebreaker guesses) were Harold Pollard (47), Tony Nicolas (47), Richard Orozco (45) and JC Orozco (43).

When any entrant fails to circle a winner for any of the contest games, it counts as a miss. Pollard might have finished second this week, but he failed to pick a winner for one game. This happens almost weekly to someone participating in the contest, so always double-check before submitting!

Mules face Dalhart in first round of playoffs

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Muleshoe's first-round playoff opponent may have an unimpressive 4-6 record, but this year's Dalhart Golden Wolves got where they are through old-fashioned grit and determination.

One month into the season, Dalhart had a record of 0-4 and had been outscored 151-50. Then the Wolves managed to beat Class 1A Wheeler 20-19, and for the last six games of the season compiled a 4-2 record.

The Wolves definitely are in a team-building phase: Last year they rebounded from an 0-10 1998 season to go 6-6 and two deep in the playoffs.

The team's leading rusher is sophomore Alan Bean, with 1,304 yards on 163 carries — and 13 touchdowns.

Dalhart meets the Mules at 5 p.m. Friday in Amarillo's Dick Bivins stadium.

The two teams' only common regular-season foe was Tulia, which Muleshoe beat 32-0.

Tulia coach Eric Wilson, whose team lost a district match to Dalhart by 30-19, said Dalhart's strength is strength, but he said Bean adds speed to the equation.

"In the past, they have just powered at you," Wilson said. "Now they have power and the chance to break a big one."

The Dalhart defense has been vulnerable most of the season, giving up an average of 27 points per game.

"If a team can line up and protect their quarterback and throw the ball downfield, using crossing routes, I think you can beat their man-to-man coverage," Wilson said.

Passing has been a mixed bag. Grant Henly has had some success

— he's completed 65 of 156 passes for 632 yards and seven touchdowns — but he's also tossed 12 interceptions.

This year, Dalhart finished third in District 1-3A behind Sanford-Fritch (which takes on Shallowater in the other Division II matchup) and Perryton (playing Littlefield in Division I).

Last year, the Wolves beat Shallowater before losing to Mid-

Longhorns start playoffs against Patton Springs

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Lazbuddie's Longhorns are bound for the playoffs, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Silvertown against Patton Springs High School of Afton.

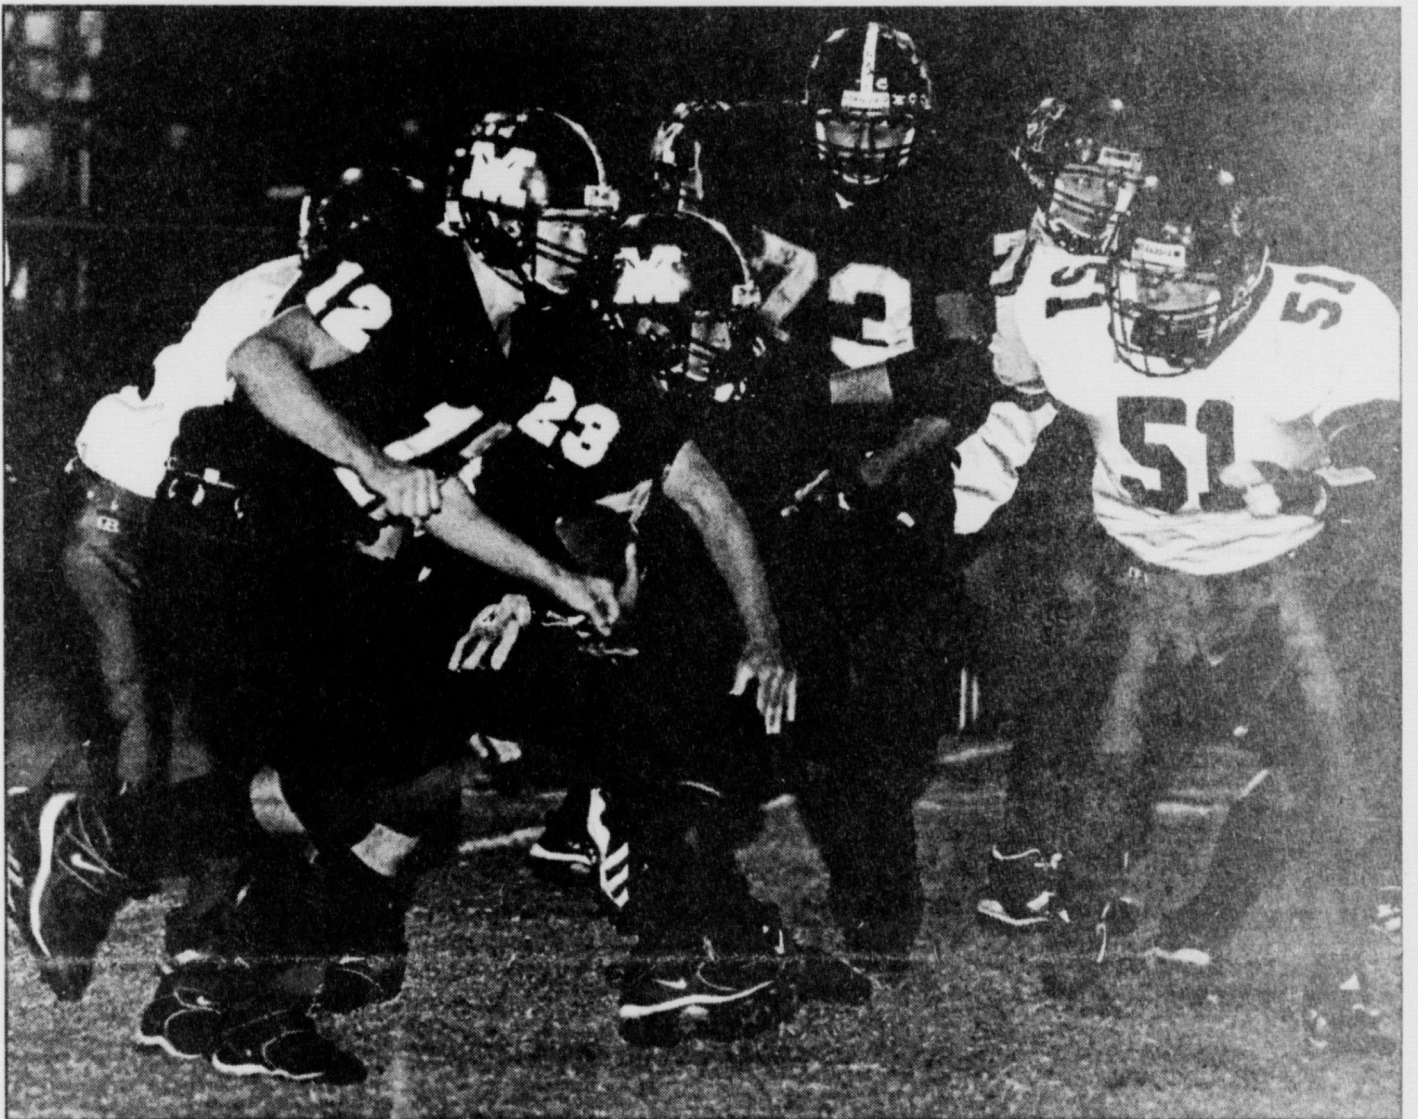

The Longhorns' season record is 7-2, with a 3-1 district record — the only district loss being to state powerhouse Whitharral, 46-0.

Coach Mark Scisson said Tuesday that the experience will be new for Lazbuddie: The Longhorns have never played the Rangers.

"They have a lot of speed," he said. "We hope we can control their running game."

Capping the season

The Mules provided many highlights in last year's 54-6 trouncing of Dimmitt, and two of them are captured here. Above, Lincoln Riley (No. 12), Chris Vela (No. 23) and Sonny Chávez (No. 73) smell a rout. At right, Jeff Shelburne heads for the Bobcats' quarterback. The Mules' regular-season victories were 14-13 over Amarillo Caprock, 49-20 over Slaton, 23-13 over Friona, 32-0 over Tulia, 34-0 over Seminole, 21-14 over Lubbock Cooper, 21-14 over Shallowater, 56-0 over Lubbock Roosevelt and the final win over Dimmitt. The winner of the Muleshoe-Dalhart game (5 p.m. Friday at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo) can expect to meet either Crane or Denver City in the second round of the playoffs.

School board honors girls', boys' varsity cross country teams

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Members of the Muleshoe School Board welcomed Kyle Atwood back from the state cross country meet (where he finished ninth out of 97 runners) and his varsity teammates from their regional meet during the board's regular meeting Monday night.

Each student was presented a certificate and handshakes all around from board members.

Atwood in particular was praised by cross country coach Su Scott, who said he bettered his time from last year by 11 seconds. This time, he completed the three-mile run in 16:38.

Other students honored were A.J. Flores, Matt López, Jerrell Otwell, Chris Peña, Eric Villa, Dan Williams, Megan Barrett, Megan Beard, Jessica Carpenter, Annie Cox, Lilia Flores, Kayla Glover, Mindy Locker and Eva Pylant.

In other business, the board heard reports from Assistant Superintendent Adrian Meador and the principals of all four Muleshoe cam-

Three Way students become reporters

Five Three Way High School students have become newspaper reporters, and beginning with this issue of the Journal they will be writing about activities at their school.

The five — Veronica Martha, Jennifer Cuellar, Jamona Sheppard, Candace Quick and Katie Cook — call themselves the "Sports Babes." They are all freshmen.

In launching their project, the girls said everyone at Three Way is eager to start the new basketball season under a brand-new coaching staff.

Coaches include Royce Winnett for the varsity boys and junior high boys, Linda Pshigoda for the varsity girls, and David Combs for the junior varsity boys. Because of a lack of students, there will be no junior high girls' team this year.

Varsity teams opened Tuesday against Portales Faith Temple, following the junior high boys' Monday opener against Sudan (see results, page 3).

The Eagles will participate in the Morton Tournament on Nov. 16-18. The remainder of the Three Way schedule will appear in Sunday's Journal.

More volunteers also are being sought to share a Thanksgiving meal with residents who usually receive food from Meals pushes regarding preparation for and the results of the district's TAAS testing.

Kemp said Tuesday that some volunteers already have stepped forward, including a generous offer by members of Calvary Baptist Church.

Dave Jenkins, high school principal, said he is glad the district exempts few students from the test, even though resulting scores may be lower.

"Some exemplary districts (the highest-rated) are being scrutinized for the high levels of special-education students exempted from TAAS," he said. "The Muleshoe district doesn't exempt many."

The board also heard from food services director Kevin Wallace that he has been named safety coordinator for 18 school districts in New Mexico and West Texas.

Resignations were accepted from two teachers — Jody Domínguez and Helen Hubert — whose husbands have been transferred out of the district.

Another playoff game features Slaton (which Muleshoe buried 49-20 earlier in the season) taking on Monahans.

NOVA
HITLER'S LOST SUB

In 1991, a fishing boat's net snagged on an underwater object 60 miles off the coast of New Jersey. When divers investigated, they discovered a sunken German U-boat from World War II, its unexploded torpedoes and the bodies of its crew still aboard. Oddly enough, a check of U.S. Navy and German War Patrol records showed that no clashes with subs had occurred anywhere near the spot. If no one had attacked the sub, how did it sink?

Nova explores the strange saga of the mystery sub in a two-hour special, "Hitler's Lost Sub." The search leads from the wreck itself, at a perilous depth of 230 feet, to a U-boat archive in Germany, to the once super-secret intercepts of the Allied Ultra code-breaking operation.

Nova "Hitler's Lost Sub" airs Tuesday, November 14th at 7:00 p.m. It repeats Saturday, November 18th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, November 19th at 12:00 midnight.

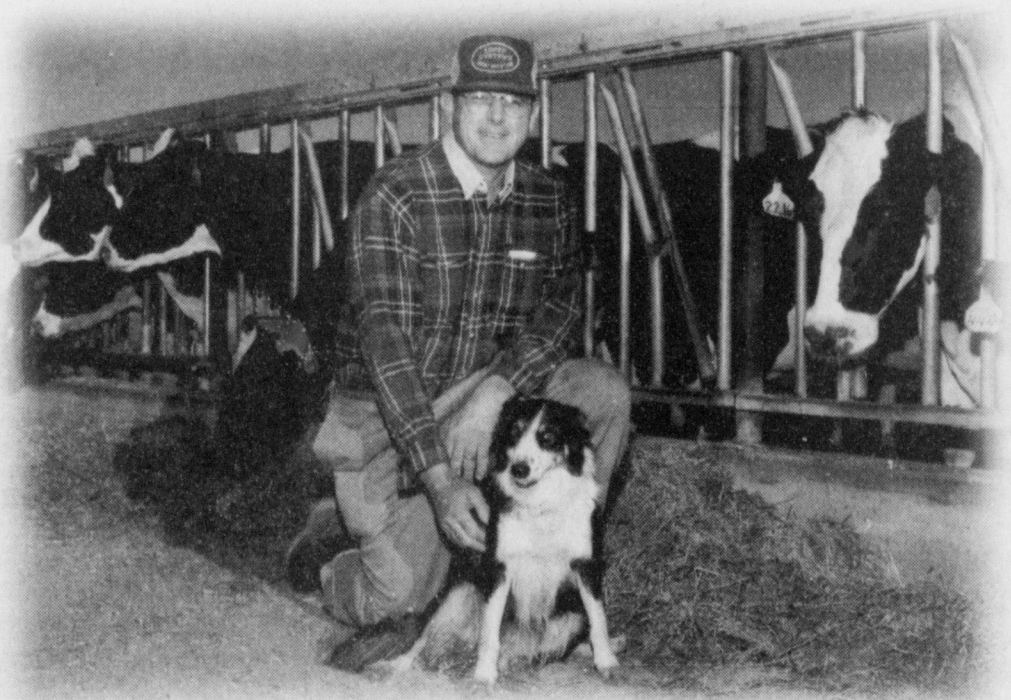

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE
Return with Honor

On August 4th, 1964, a 26-year-old Navy fighter pilot was shot down over North Vietnam. The first American airman to be captured by the Vietnamese, Everett Alvarez was a prisoner of war for eight-and-a-half years — the longest period of captivity of any American war prisoner in history. Alvarez, along with 461 other captured American airmen, was not released until the Paris Peace Accords were signed in 1973.

The American Experience presents the story of these captured airmen. With rare film footage from Vietnam's archives, "Return with Honor" represents "a major shift in the screen image of the Vietnam veteran," says the New York Times. More than 20 veterans describe their captivity and their struggle to survive mentally, physically, and spiritually, and to return home with honor. Tom Hanks introduces the two-hour film.

"Return with Honor" on The American Experience can be seen Monday, November 13th at 8:00 p.m. It repeats Sunday, November 19th at 10:00 p.m.

he understood their last playoff appearance was in 1958), the Longhorn coach said most of his players will be in a new situation, too. Except for Landon Parham, he added, the current crop of Longhorns is short on playoff experience.

Scisson said the Longhorns expect to have to pass more against the Rangers than in most of their regular-season games, but he expressed confidence that his players are up to that task.

"We've had a lopsided offense this year, mainly running the ball," he said. "We've gained 3,000 yards rushing and 652 passing.

"In the past, we've tried to keep that pretty balanced. But this year, we've tried to throw the ball enough to keep teams honest. . . . Parham and (Cole)

St. Clair have been very successful at a running game—we haven't had to throw the ball a lot," he said.

"But we played seven teams that run the spread, and we won seven games," he added.

Since the team has only had 10 or 11 players on varsity, he said "they all share a major part" and he relies on all of them to continuing doing that.

Robert Rodríguez with five touchdowns and Michael Soliz with two. Points after touchdowns were added by Anthony Furgeson, Fernando DeLaRosa, Marvin McCaul and Jordan Gray.

"Most of the team just wanted to go out and play the game to the best of their abilities even though they weren't going to the playoffs," coach David Combs said. "The team was very proud of themselves because they feel they cut down on their mistakes and turnovers and were able to gain from the other team's mistakes.

"The whole team feels like the defense really stepped up in the second half. We came close to four complete quarters, more like we did in our first game of the season," he said.

"It's always good to win the last ball game of the season, even you're not going anywhere," he added.

He also congratulated the Cotton Center students, saying the game was hard fought on both sides, but there were no "cheap shots or rough talking."

"That is always a good experience, to play within the rules of a game," he said.

"We have to start working hard in order to beat Cotton Center," he added.

Three Way ends season at 5-5 with Cotton Center win

The Three Way Eagles are missing the football playoffs this year after finishing in third place in their district.

But they finished off the regular season by defeating the Cotton Center Elks 49-33 at Cotton Center last Friday night.

The win evened Three Way's record at 5-5 for the season and 2-2 in district play.

The Eagles only gained 271 yards on the ground while the Elks rushed for 329. But the Eagles got more air yards for the night and came out with 19 first downs to Cotton Center's 13.

Scoring for Three Way were

Robert Rodríguez with five touchdowns and Michael Soliz with two. Points after touchdowns were added by Anthony Furgeson, Fernando DeLaRosa, Marvin McCaul and Jordan Gray.

"Most of the team just wanted to go out and play the game to the best of their abilities even though they weren't going to the playoffs," coach David Combs said. "That is always a good experience, to play within the rules of a game," he said.

"Michael Soliz, Bobo

McCaul, Fernando DeLaRosa, Eric Sowder and the other seniors elevated their game Friday," he said. "Bobo was closer to the old form. He certainly was a 'go' on offense, especially during the second half."

He also said two juniors are "always valuable" both ways — Furgeson and Rodríguez. "I am proud of all the boys on this squad."

Emergency Preparedness Checklist

American Red Cross

Federal Emergency Management Agency

The next time disaster strikes, you may not have much time to act. Prepare now for a sudden emergency.

Learn how to protect yourself and cope with disaster by planning ahead. This checklist will help you get started. Discuss these ideas with your family, then prepare an emergency plan. Post the plan where everyone will see it—on the refrigerator or bulletin board.

For additional information about how to prepare for hazards in your community, contact your local emergency management or civil defense office and American Red Cross chapter.

Emergency Checklist

Call Your Emergency Management Office or American Red Cross Chapter

- Find out which disasters could occur in your area.
- Ask how to prepare for each disaster.
- Ask how you would be warned of an emergency.
- Learn your community's evacuation routes.
- Ask about special assistance for elderly or disabled persons.

Also...

- Ask your workplace about emergency plans.
- Learn about emergency plans for your children's school or day care center.

Create an Emergency Plan

- Meet with household members. Discuss with children the dangers of fire, severe weather, earthquakes and other emergencies.
- Discuss how to respond to each disaster that could occur.

- Discuss what to do about power outages and personal injuries.
- Draw a floor plan of your home. Mark two escape routes from each room.
- Learn how to turn off the water, gas and electricity at main switches.
- Post emergency telephone numbers near telephones.
- Teach children how and when to call 911, police and fire.
- Instruct household members to turn on the radio for emergency information.
- Pick one out-of-state and one local friend or relative for family members to call if separated by disaster (it is often easier to call out-of-state than within the affected area).
- Teach children how to make long distance telephone calls.
- Pick two meeting places. 1) A place near your home in case of a fire. 2) A place outside your neighborhood in case you cannot return home after a disaster.
- Take a basic first aid and CPR class.
- Keep family records in a water and fire-proof container.

Prepare a Disaster Supplies Kit

Assemble supplies you might need in an evacuation. Store them in an easy-to-carry container such as a backpack or duffel bag.

Include:

- A supply of water (one gallon per person per day). Store water in sealed, unbreakable containers. Identify the storage date and replace every six months.
- A supply of non-perishable packaged or canned food and a non-electric can opener.
- A change of clothing, rain gear and sturdy shoes.
- Blankets or sleeping bags.
- A first aid kit and prescription medications.
- An extra pair of glasses.
- A battery-powered radio, flashlight and plenty of extra batteries.
- Credit cards and cash.
- An extra set of car keys.
- A list of family physicians.
- A list of important family information, the style and serial number of medical devices such as pacemakers.
- Special items for infants, elderly or disabled family members.

Mules star Danny Ramirez is flanked by his parents, Daniel and Maggie Ramirez, after being honored at Friday's Dimmitt game for setting single-season school rushing and scoring records. Ramirez gained 1,588 yards this season and scored 162 points (including five touchdowns Friday night). His totals easily eclipsed the rushing record held by Dean Northcutt (1,375 yards) and the scoring record held by Derrell Oliver (96 points).

HERITAGE FOUNDATION

The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation Board met Nov. 13 at the Muleshoe Depot.

Vice President Chuck Smith conducted the meeting in the absence of President Wells Hall. The minutes were approved as read by the secretary, Walter Marie Boness.

Vivian White had a $4,000 check for the Heritage Center from the Heritage Thrift Shop. This revenue is used for the day-to-day expenses of the center. White made a motion, which passed, to give a Christmas gift to volunteers at the shop in appreciation for their work.

The center's annual open house, held in conjunction with the Muleshoe Christmas Parade, was discussed. Since this year's parade will be the morning of Dec. 2, board members considered changing the open-house date. However, it was voted to have the open house at 7 p.m. Dec. 2.

The open house will begin with the lighting of the Christmas lights on the center's buildings. White suggested that the fire pit be used as a place to serve cowboy coffee and cobbler.

The school choir and band directors will be contacted about bringing these musicians for entertainment. Tommie Hernandez, president of the Student Community Action Club, volunteered to contact these directors.

Keith Hawkins was given authority to check into using a white carriage for Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus to ride in the Christmas Parade. Mr. and Mrs. Santa will reside downstairs at the old Janes Ranch House this year to allow photography. As in past years,

Seventh-grade Mules overwhelm Roosevelt

By DELTON WILHITE
Journal correspondent

Ten days after completing a 9-0 football season, the seventh-grade Mules began their basketball campaign in the same form, taking a 31-14 win at home over the Eagles of Lubbock Roosevelt.

The Mules were in a 2-3 zone on defense most of the night, using Tyler Sheets in the middle of the lane. The zone forced Roosevelt to shoot from the outside—and with Michael Gonzales and Brady Black playing the wings, the Mules rounded up the Eagles' missed shots.

Displaying good early-season shooting, moving without the ball and getting the ball to the open man, the Mules made basketball look easy.

Kevin Kilmer and Jarad Flores ran the offense and kept the Eagle defense off balance.

The Mules only got faster as substitutions were made, with Miles James taking the point and Cody Clark on the blocks. Garrett Behrends, Joe Olivas and Ely Villa also spent quality minutes in the lineup.

The Mules never trailed and continued to build on their lead as the minutes ticked away for the Eagles.

SEVENTH GIRLS

The seventh-grade Lady Mules had little trouble handling Lubbock Roosevelt on Monday night, coming away with a 39-28 victory on their home court.

Leading the charge for Muleshoe were Brandi Wood with 15 points and Jenna Rasco with 10.

Other Lady Mules scoring were Lindsey Hall with six and Monica Posadas, Christine Reeves, Veronica Nuñez and Madison Smith with two apiece.

EIGHTH GIRLS

The eighth-grade Lady Mules also grounded the Roosevelt Eagles in a 27-20 battle.

The eighth-graders passed around the scoring, with Jamie Carpenter and Amber Cowart each bucketing seven, Ashley Gutiérrez making six, April Morgan five and Kayla Spradling two.

SCAC members will decorate the house's parlor with an old-fashioned tree and other decorations.

Board members will decorate the center's other buildings at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 27.

Members approved Larry Nickels' request that the old cook house also have a fire with coffee from the old-fashioned stove, and that the cook house be decorated appropriately.

Smith and Hawkins volunteered to check the lighting on the buildings and on the world's largest mule shoe.

It was voted to again help sponsor the Tour de Muleshoe, and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce has expressed a desire to help. But tour director Lonnie Adrian suggested that a different date be considered, and this will be discussed later.

Attending were Smith, Boness,

Hawkins, Nickels, White, Hernandez, Charles Flowers, Dan Throckmorton, Jean Allison, Sharon Grant, Larry Lewis and center hostess Peggie Bruton.

Genomic study could lead to better crops

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL COLLEGE STATION — A team of researchers studying the expression of parental genes in plants could lead to improved production in cash crops such as cotton and corn.

Jeff Chen, an assistant professor of molecular genetics at Texas A&M University, along with five other scientists, recently was awarded a $5 million grant from the National Science Foundation to study this expression in plant polyploids (where more than one parental genome is present).

The team will study what, if any, impact parental gene expression contributes to the success of important polyploid (hybrid) crops such as canola, cotton, corn, potatoes and wheat.

"One hypothesis is that some genes are expressed, others aren't, so it's a matter of how organisms ... express some genes but not others," Chen said.

"It's a question of, 'Can we induce expression of parental genes so that we may have a better crop?'" he added.

The team also includes Thomas C. Osborn of the University of Wisconsin (the institution leading the research), James A. Birchler of the University of Missouri, Luca Comai of the University of Washington, Robert A. Martensen of the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, and Rebecca Doerge of Purdue University.

The research will involve extensive study of plant DNA. Scientists

A way to saving down payment for home

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL The arithmetic of home buying starts off easy. Just take the sale price on the dream house and divide by 10 percent.

That's how much will be needed for the down payment in a typical transaction. Now compare that figure with the family's savings. Not so easy anymore, is it?

"The problem is that most of us don't know where the money goes," said Richard Roll, president of the American Homeowners Association. "Keep track of what you're spending, and maximize your savings to generate a down payment in the shortest possible time," he said.

Most people have no idea how much they're spending every day. Just eating out for lunch or $3 for a morning cappuccino can amount to $2,500 a year.

Surprised? Take a whole month and record everything that is purchased, especially with cash.

Then figure out how much can be saved and still pay the bills — after cutting the frivolous eating, entertainment or vacation expenses.

Consider the prospective homebuyer's age. If that is relatively young, then some reasonable risks can be taken with some of the household's money. Pull it out of traditional savings accounts and money markets and plunge it into stocks or mutual funds.

Try to make saving automatic. Take advantage of savings plans that automatically deduct money from a paycheck.

Many financial advisers are great motivators, too. If the prospective homeowner agrees to put 15 percent of gross income into a mutual-fund account, some advisers will reward the investor each month for the check.

Apart from a home, retirement should factor into a saving plan. As many as 82 percent of companies with 401(k) benefits offer some kind of matching contribution, often as much as 50 cents on the dollar. What other investment offers a 50 percent return? With enough restraint and planning, the sticker shock experienced when the down payment was calculated can be turned into glee when the money is socked away for the dream home.

More information on any aspect of buying a home is available at www.realhome.com, the web site of the American Homeowners Association.

WILDLIFE REFUGE

The Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge held its second annual CraneFest on Nov. 4.

Lesser sandhill crane numbers were high, but visitor numbers were low due to inclement weather.

Nearly 11,000 cranes were present, with a few thousand on each of the refuge's three lakes.

Crane-viewing opportunities were excellent as the cranes remained upon the lakes much longer than usual during the morning.

Although the weather was rainy; it was still a great day to watch the cranes and visit the refuge.

Refuge visitors were treated to a program presented by personnel from the Lubbock Wildlife Rehabilitation Center.

Volunteers presented wildlife observation tours at Paul's Lake between rain showers.

Crane numbers probably are close to peaking for the fall migration, although new arrivals may be seen daily on the refuge lakes after just completing their long journey from nesting grounds in Canada, Alaska and Siberia.

The cranes normally leave the lake roosting sites at sunrise and return at sunset after feeding in farm fields as far as 20 miles from the refuge.

HOROSCOPES

NOVEMBER 19-25

Aries — March 21/April 20
Think before you speak when meeting with an important person early in the week, Aries. He or she can offer you a great opportunity - if you don't upset him or her. So, be courteous, and keep your unusual opinions to yourself. Biting your tongue definitely will be worth it.

Taurus — April 21/May 21
Your temper gets the best of you when a loved one involves you in a sticky situation. While you need to let off some steam, don't stay angry at this person for very long. He or she doesn't mean to cause you any harm. Try to calm down, and work with him or her to resolve the matter. Libra plays an important role.

Gemini — May 22/June 21
Everyone seems to be pulling you in a different direction this week, Gemini. Instead of stretching yourself too thin over the next few days, you should set your priorities. Only help those who really need it; the others can get by on their own. That special someone takes you out late in the week. Enjoy yourself!

Cancer — June 22/July 22
A problem at work upsets you during the middle of the week. While the higher-ups put a lot of pressure on you to rectify the situation, don't take your bad mood home with you. Keep your priorities straight, and remember that your personal life is much more important than your job.

Leo — July 23/August 23
Don't hold a grudge against an acquaintance who makes an honest mistake on Thursday. He or she doesn't mean to cause you any problems. Realize this, and try to work with this person to set things straight. Your efforts will be appreciated. A loved one needs your help with a family matter. Do what you can for him or her.

Virgo — Aug 24/Sept 22
You have an important personal decision to make this week, Virgo, and you shouldn't take it lightly. Be selective, and do what is best for you. If you're not sure exactly what that is, turn to a loved one for advice. He or she has your best interest at heart. Scorpio plays a key role on Friday.

Libra — Sept 23/Oct 23
Don't get upset by a close friend's comments on Tuesday. He or she is joking and just wants to make you laugh. Don't take this ribbing to heart, because it doesn't mean anything. A loved one asks you an important question. Answer honestly.

Scorpio — Oct 24/Nov 22
Try not to let your ego get the best of you when a close friend thanks you for your assistance with a financial matter. Be humble - not conceited - if you want to remain close with him or her. A business associate reveals his or her true feelings for you. Let this person down gently. Aries plays an important role.

Sagittarius — Nov 23/Dec 21
Things are going to get hectic this week, Sagittarius, when several people need you to do things for them. Don't stress out, because there's no need to panic. You can do it all if you just stay calm and get organized. Those involved will be impressed with how you handle everything.

Capricorn — Dec 22/Jan 20
A family friend turns to you for advice on how to handle a sticky situation. Give him or her your honest opinion, and try to help as much as you can. Your efforts will be appreciated and rewarded. That special someone asks you an important question late in the week. Don't worry - it's not that question!

Aquarius — Jan 21/Feb 18
You're on your own this week, Aquarius, and that's just how you like it. You have the chance to set your own agenda and make quite a bit of progress toward a personal goal. Take advantage of this. You meet an interesting person during the weekend. Get to know him or her better.

Pisces — Feb 19/March 20
Everything isn't as rosy as it seems this week. Don't be fooled by some of the things that those closest to you are saying. They're keeping something from you. Try to find out what it is, because it involves you.

Edible vaccine for hepatitis B on horizon

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL
NEW YORK CITY — Scientists announced Oct. 30 that they are a step closer to developing a potato that can carry a vaccine to prevent infection with the hepatitis B virus.

The announcement is good news for millions of at-risk people who don't have access to a cheap and effective vaccine.

The study appears in the November issue of the journal Nature Biotechnology.

Currently more than 2 billion people worldwide are infected with the virus, wrote the team headed by Professor Hugh S. Mason of Cornell University's Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research.

The illness, which is sexually transmitted, causes complications of the liver and may lead to liver failure and even death.

The team of researchers developed a genetically modified potato that contains a protein made by the virus.

When mice were fed potatoes that contained the protein, it stimulated the production of antibodies in the blood.

The researchers are now focusing on strengthening the immune response triggered by the potato vaccine.

The results are preliminary, the researchers say, but they prove the feasibility of producing a potent hepatitis B vaccine in food.

"Although these studies are not yet complete, they suggest that increased protein levels correspond to a stronger and more prolonged immune response," Mason and colleagues wrote.

Due to the high cost of injectables, vaccines that can be manufactured in the form of food will help developing countries that simply cannot afford current varieties requiring refrigeration.

"Further immunization studies are certainly required, but these data provide encouragement and additional evidence that plant-derived pharmaceuticals and vaccines are likely to become a reality," wrote Julian K-C. Ma of Guy's Hospital of London in an accompanying editorial.

Federal tax changes intended to strengthen small business

Here are some numbers we can be proud of: Texas leads all states in net job creation this decade, and our growth is broad-based.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, Texas' job growth ranks among the leading states in nearly all major economic sectors. While manufacturing jobs have declined nationally since January 1990, our state has experienced a significant increase.

The expansion of international trade, as well as the overall improvement of the Texas and U.S. economies, is contributing to growth in transportation, communication and utilities and wholesale and retail trade. The Lone Star State accounts for a disproportionately large share of U.S. growth.

It's no secret that small business is America's economic engine. Small businesses employ nearly 60 percent of the nation's workforce. They have created two-thirds of all new jobs since the early 1970s. They produce nearly half the private sector's output each year. And all while serving as the backbone of their individual communities!

CAPITOL COMMENT

KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON
U.S. SENATOR

Running a small business is challenging enough without the government making it more difficult.

In October Congress passed a tax-relief bill that aims to lessen that government burden. Unfortunately, the president has threatened to veto it, but I'm hopeful a compromise can be worked out.

Included in that legislation are provisions that assure small businesses tax relief, among them:

- Provides an immediate 100 percent deduction for health care for the self-employed;
- Extends the Work Opportunity Tax Credit through June 30, 2004;
- Clarifies cash accounting rules for small business: Small-business taxpayers will be permitted to use the cash accounting method without limitation; and

- Making other improvements in expensing and meal deductibility.

But that only touches on what Congress has accomplished this year in terms of helping small business. Other constructive changes include:

Estimates of High Plains cotton crop falling

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

Start-and-stop harvesting continues across the Texas High Plains as farmers try to get into the field between weather events and salvage as much of the 2000 crop as possible.

For practically the entire month of October, the delays were caused by rain.

The scene shifted the first week of November as the area recorded both its first official killing freeze and the

• The Small Business Investment Improvement Act, to make more investment capital available to small businesses that seek to grow and hire new employees;

• Creation of Small Business Interest-Bearing Checking Accounts to help small businesses grow by permitting banks and thrift institutions to pay interest on businesses checking accounts and repealing the prohibition of the payment of interest on demand deposits;

• Small Business Loan Program Improvements that free up the capital in the Small Business Act's Microloan Program, which makes loans and provides technical assistance to prospective small-business owners for startup or materials and equipment costs;

• The Veterans Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development Act assuring that the Department of Veterans Affairs offers programs that provide assistance to veterans who own small businesses, promotes entrepreneurship and improves veterans' access to technical business assistance; and

• The Women's Business Centers Sustainability Act allows private organizations that already have received federal grants to receive additional funding, which comes in part from non-federal sources, to provide ongoing training and management support to small businesswomen.

Congress has made substantial improvements to the way government treats small businesses, but they still are taxed at too high a rate. I hope we can do more this year, but if not, we'll be back in full strength next year.

I will continue to work on finding better ways for the government to deal with the economic engines that create two out of every three jobs in our country: America's small businesses.

season's first measurable snowfall that averaged from 2 to 6 inches across the area.

Some areas got another small snowfall Sunday.

The end result is virtually the same — wet cotton and wet, muddy fields that must dry before strippers can start rolling again.

When the final tally is completed, there will no doubt be some yield reductions that take the size of the crop below the Nov. 1 estimate of 2.72 million bales, although how much below that mark is yet to be determined.

One thing that is certain is with each passing day, the crop is inching its way down the quality scale and losing value.

The only good angle on that is that it may mean some extra help from the taxpayers on this year's disaster program.

Nothing new has been released regarding a proposed time line for disaster sign-up or final rules governing the three aspects of the program approved by Congress.

The quantity portion is expected to be fairly straightforward, while both the quality and "severe economic loss" sections are being worked on to make sure cotton receives fair treatment under the revised rules.

Thanks for making the Journal part of your day!
