CATTLE.

Moderate Again-Trade Shows Slower Tone.

Local receipts of cattle today approximated 2,600 head, about twice as any as arrived vesterday, but 1,200 less than for the corresponding day last week. The supply showed a slight enlargement over a year ago. At the five markets estimates called for 26,600 head in comparison with 51,100 yesterday, 34,700 a week ago and 35,100 corresponding day a year

There was only a moderate proportion of the total run in native corn-fed steers and among the offerings were comparatively few lots that could be classed as strictly good or better. Reports from outside markets showed nothing unfavorable to sellers in the general situation and asking prices at the start were pitched a little higher Activity was not so conspicuous fea ture of the early trade as on the open ing day, and the general market was a little on the draggy order. Prices on the more useful and attractive grades were generally steady. Light half fat steers that came in competition with western grassers were slow to move in the initial stages and in some instances prices tended to the weak side on this class of stock.

There was a fair sprinkling of Kansas westerns and a few loads of Colo cattle among the day's receipts. Opening trade in western steers was slow with bids quoted around 10 low-

Best native steers offered sold at $7.00, with the bulk of sales ranging from around $6.25@6.75.

COWS, BULLS AND MIXED. It was another active session in cows and helfers. Receipts were moderate and demand from all sources was very good for anything of useful and attractive quality. Trading started early and the scaleward movement contin-ued active until the supply was exhausted. Prices were steady to strong at yesterday's firmer level. Very litat yesterday's firmer level. Very little strictly corn-fed cows or helfers were offered, grassers, as usual, forming the bulk of supply. A spread of (4.00 @ 4.75 took in a good share of the fair to good cows. Medium grades ranged from $3.50@ 4.00 and cutters and canners from $2.50@ 3.25. The latter class of stook was uneven sale. Some salesmen reported fairly good action on canners but the majority quoted it a slow, barely steady trade the thin grades of cows selling below $3.40. It was largely a $4.75@ 6.50 market for heifers, with light

- STOCKERS AND FEEDERS.
Offerings of stock and feeding cat-
the least and reeding care on the local market today were noderate in size. The bulk of sup-ly consisted of light and medium colwhet atooms with reight steers, with comparatively ew fleshy feeders. Trade opened risk and continued active at 10@ 15c igher prices, and an early clearance ras effected on this basis. Buyers ere unable to pick up many steers n the feeder order, as killers took nost of the cheaper grades of steers.
Dealers have quite an assortment of attle amoiting autlet to the $3.00@3.25; stock calves, $3.40@4.00.

HOGS.

Bull Sentiment Still Dominates Trade.

Prices Up 5@10c Again. As yet there is no signs of weakness 50 in the live pork trade and prices con-75 tinue to show an advancing tendency. 75 Sellers held the advantage in the trade 50 again today by virtue of light receipts 50 and values were pushed a little nearer 50 the much coveted $8.00 mark 50 Strength in varying degrees was shown 50 at all of the leading markets. Locally, 75 the trade displayed pleny of action at 40 prices 5@10c higher than yesterday's 40 average level. The 10c advance was 40 scored more frequently than the 40 smaller figure, especially where the 40 better grades of hogs were concerned. 40 In addition to the usual broad local 40 demand there was an order from an 35 outside packer which had the effect 25 of stimulating the market.

25 Receipts overran the early estimate 15 of 3,800 head, actual figures showing 10 something like 4,500 hogs on sale 00 when all trains were in. A week ago 25 4,980 hogs arrived and a year ago the 20 number offered was 5,927. The five 15 markets had approximately 39,500 10 hogs today as compared with 46,700 10 head a week ago and 44,200 head cor-

American Children Just as Brave As French Ones

O you remember me telling you folks," began daddy, "about the pluck of a little French boy and girl who kept the lamps in the lighthouse going while daddy lay dead downstairs?" "Why, I should say so!" replied Evelyn. "I'll never forget it." "Me neither," replied slangy Jack.

"Well, only the other day we found just as plucky a pair of American babies," said daddy. "Lord love 'em. I guess good little folks are the same

"This happened in New York city a few days ago, and the hero and heroine are babies compared to you two, James being only seven years old and his sister Annie only five. Their father, Mr. Rudolph, was talking on the front stoop of their house to a neighbor when around the corner came a Great Dane dog, almost as big as me, frothing at the mouth and snapping "Everybody ran but Mr. Rudolph and his friend, who were too busy talking to notice the animal until it sprang up the steps and bit the friend on the hand, nearly taking off his finger.

"Then the brute darted through the opened doors and up the stairs to where the babies were. Mr. Rudolph almost fainted, but started after just in time to hear a door slam and the voice of James calling: .'All right, pop. Come on up. We got 'im.'

"And what do you think those tots had done? They had seen the excitement in the street and started for their father when they saw the big dog | watch. leaping upstairs. Quick as a wink James opened the door of a linen closet that stood at the head of the staircase, and the excited animal plunged straight in. Then came the slam of the door, and when pop, almost exhausted with terror, reached the spot there were his two youngsters hanging on to the knob like grim death and telling him not to be afraid.

"In a few moments a policeman was on hand and shot the dog, and then the neighborhood went wild over James and Annie. If they had eaten onetenth of the fruit and candy and ice cream sodas that were pressed on them I'm afraid that all the doctors in the neighborhood would have been called in, but they were very moderate and, in fact, seemed more frightened at the attentions showered on them than they were of the great dog that could easily have killed them."

A leading officer in one of the courts was charged with never going to bed sober. Of course he indignantly denied the soft impeachment, and he gave the particulars of a particular night in proof. We quote his own words: "Pretty soon after I got into bed, my wife said:

BRICE AS A POKER PLAYER

Colonel Lemert Tells How Warning to Late Ohio Senator Was Breath Wasted.

"A visit to Washington always recalls the good old days when my friend Senator Calvin S. Brice was here," said Colonel Lemert of Ohio.

"Ohio never fully appreciated the worth of Brice until he was gone, and those who knew the real man personally never tire of telling about his career. Long before his election to the senate he came to my town of Bucyrus as a clever young lawyer, but even then he was beginning to indicate what was in him. After our consultation he insisted on meeting with a famous character of our town who kept a rather high-class gambling place. I do not mean a public resort, but just a gentlemen's poker game. Brice had heard a lot about the wonderful skill of these citizens, and he had a curiosity to try them a spell as a matter of recreation. I begged him almost with tears in my eyes not to risk his money with such experts, but he smiled. Then I explained that I would have a supply of funds for him when he was ready to leave town, as I felt sure these local sports would trim him down to his shirt studs. I even begged that I might take care of his

"Well, I worried a good deal that night, and could hardly sleep thinking what was happening to Brice. I hastened to find him the next morning. He was chipper and smiling, and I asked him if he needed any money with which to leave. He smiled and pulled out a roll of bills. Then he explained that he had tackled our local heavyweights in a quiet little gentlemen's game, and had won every dollar they could rake and scrape together. I have never warned men like Brice against going into any sort of a game. It is breath wasted."-Washington Post.

Waters Left by the Flood. M. Vedrines, in his flight to Madrid, passed near a chain of lakes which few tourists have visited. The Desert de Carlitte, in the Pyrenees, close on 10,000 feet above the sea, contains no less than sixty lakes of varying sizes. These according to local tradition, were left at the time of the flood. When the waters subsided it appears that Noah and his family landed on the Puy de Prigue, one of the highest peaks in the district. Convincing proof of the truth of this tradition is found in an iron ring to which, the peasants declare, the Ark was moored when the landing was effected.

Patricia of Connaught Does Not Hesitate to Record Impressions of Highest in Land.

The present king once aptly named Princess Patricia of Connaught the F. C. G. of the royal family," and in a stone's throw of where the Cleoher royal highness rather merits this description, for she has a fluent penall and brush and does not hesitate to record her mpressions of the highest in the land. Scattered about the duke of Connaught's : ome in Bagehot park are to be seen many extremely witty efforts on the part of the young princess.

Quite one of the best of these represents the late king in evening dress quitting the dinner with a smile of complete content on his face. Underneath the daring artist has penned the inscription: "I was hungry," with "was" underscored.

Another drawing aptly represents the attitude of the martinet that the duke likes to adopt upon occasions. He is drawn in his uniform as a field marshal and he seems to be bristling with rage. The name given to this pic-"Where on earth is my ture is: horse?"

It is stated that the young princess has found many opportunities for using her power of caricature while she has been in South Africa with her parents, so that the Bagehot collection is likely to receive some notable addi-

NO BOTTOM TO THIS SPRING

Jagged Hole in Center of Florida Pool So Deep No Sounding Finds Bottem.

The great body of water which gave the name to Tarpon Springs, Fla., is classed by all of the old citizens as bottomless.

The center appears to be a hole curbed with jagged rocks. Sometimes the weight has lodged and then dropped on to the extent of the sounding line afterward. Many citizens say that they know the depth to be in excess of 700, 800 and 900 feet.

Once, when a depth of 200 feet was reached, an obstruction was encountered; then it was dislodged, dropped on further and the line broke.

A very heavy weight has to be used on account of the depth, and when divers are sent down in the springs, as they have been recently, they report the same great jagged hole, which, so far as they can find lowing the example of America as reout, is without bottom.

Tariff Tax Paid Monarch. In the days of James I. Sir Almroth

Wright's indictment of washing would have been considered a serious offense. That monarch, although not conspicuously clean himself, was anxious that his subjects should wash themselves frequently, as he received a payment of $30 a ton on all soap produced in England, in return for a monopoly granted to the Westminster Company of Soapmakers. King James did his best to push the business of the company by issuing a royal proclamation as to the virtues of its soap, which was declared to be "good, sweet and serviceable for our people." He forbade the importation of soap, and appointed officers to put down illicit soap boiling. His efforts were rewarded by payments from the company averaging about $150,000 a year.

Rich Coal Seam Found in England. The discovery of a seam of good quality coal, which far exceeds in imortance anything that has yet been ound in the Kent coal area, was derced on May 17 in a concessions oring north of Dover, the seam proving to be no less than twelve feet ten nches thick. The seam was struck seventy feet below one nearly five feet thick, and is believed to be second only to the great seam of South Staffordshire.-London Mail

PRINCESS A CLEVER ARTIST FIND DEPOSIT OF PERIDOTS

Egyptian Luck Stone Discovered in Large Quantities Near Where Cleopatra's Needle Stood.

A deposit of peridots has recently been discovered in Alexandria withpatra's needle, now in Central park, New York, once stood.

These stones, which are amber in color, for many years have been found in large quantities in Upper Egypt, but never before in this section of the country. The finder has secured a concession to work the ground, and has uncovered several thousand of these stones, at a depth not greater than ten feet. It is believed that the peridots were buried in the foundstions of houses of the ancient Egyptians and in tombs as an omen of luck.

The stones now found are estimated to have been buried for over 1,500 years. Their value is not great the price of the stone of the average weight of three carats being one dollar. The discoverers of the Alexandria deposit have also secured a concession to work ground on the islands of Rahamah and Kad-Ali near Assab, in Red sea territory belonging to Italy. Some peridots have recently been found there and it is believed the deposit is a large one never before mined.-Consular Reports.

FRANCE PUTS CLOCK BACK

After Standing Out for Many Years the Country Adopts Standard Time.

After standing out for many years, France has adopted standard time. The most the country would do was to enact in 1891 that the whole of France should use the time of the meridian of Paris, instead of western European time, along with England, Spain, Portugal, Belgium and Holland.

Paris time is 9 minutes 21 seconds faster than standard time, and elaborate directions were followed out on the night of March 10 to change the clocks to the new time. Trains on the government lines were ordered to lose 9 minutes 21 seconds somewhere, so that if they arrived after midnight they would not be ahead of time. Still more revolutionary is the regulation that the train clock within the station shall be the same as the one outside. Up to now trains were run five minutes later than the advertised time. The public has been warned to count upon this five minutes' leeway no longer.
