TRADING TODAY CONFINED TO A FEW ODDS AND ENDS-MAR-KET NOMINAL.

STEERS CLOSE ABOUT STEADY

Trade Opened Up Weak But Closed in Week in Very Fair Shape-Beef Cows Lower-Stockers Firm.

It was the usual week-end nominal no quotable change in values. Six hundred head were bulletined for the day's receipts but a large portion of the arrivals was stock direct to packers and actual trading was confined to the cleaning up of a few odds and trade in cattle at this point today with cleaning up of a few odds and Receipts of cattle here during the week totaled 12,200, about the same Telegram reports: number as were on sale the previous week. The five big markets had 192, 000, a slight decrease with the run last week. The fat cattle market at this point has been somewhat uneven. Trade the first of the week was weak, especially on Tuesday, when packers were able to shade prices on all grades. Towards the week's end with light receipts available, the trade firmed up some and prices on the general section. South OMAHA.

South OM fed and westerns are about steady with a week ago. Exceptions are on steady. the plain light westerns and southern grassers which are closing a shade lower. Bulk of arrivals for the week consisted of fair to pretty good west. consisted of fair to pretty good westerns. No choice to prime corn-fed steady. beeves were on offer at any time on the open market. A few odd head landed at $8.00. The top on full loads was $7.50. Included in the week's arrivals was a fair showing of year-loans of a class to sell largely in a lings of a class to sell largely in a porter reports: range of $6.25@7.00. Few choice Cattle—Rece wintered westerns were on sale dur-ing the week. The best here landed Hogs at $6.80, with other sales ranging from $6.00@6.60. Fair to medium western grassers sold at $5.00@5.85. In a general way the market 5.00@5.85. In a general way the market has been in very fair shape with good daily clearances and with prices generally unchanged with last week's close.

Dressed Beef. Trade was nominal, Bulls and calves

The receipts of butcher stock for Loins ..... 19 c the week has been fairly Iberal. Canners and cutters have met with better demand than other classes of she stuff this week and are quoted strong to 10 cents higher. The feeling toward dressed beef cows and heifers has been rather bearish and a weaker has been rather bearish and a weaker undertone prevailed. Bulk of sales of this class are 10c lower than the fully in line with the close of last the market all week to buy calves lower, consequently the feeling has been weak. Vealers are quoted steady to 25c lower, with heavies and mediums mostly 50c lower. A few top calves are selling at $8.00.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS. Today's supply of stock and finishing cattle was of the usual Saturday ing cattle was of the usual Saturday receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep at the five principal western markets to-day and comparisons: lish a market but buyers went after the few odds and ends on sale in good style and prices remained stationary with the previous session.

Little change has been effected in this division for the week and at the close today prices are about in the same notches as at last week's close a little with the result that trading out of first hands on all days has been reasonably active in spite of the fact that yard dealers usually had a big assortment of cattle on hand. Big end of the week's run has been on the light and medium weight order with cars of stock handled today by rail-quality running fair to good, with the roads centering at the local yards toquality running fair to good, with the former classification covering the big end of the week's marketings. The week's trade developed some little trade with good qualitied feeders around $5.40, but outside of one or two bunches there has been nothing good enough here to be eligible to the money. Yearling stuff still retains its popularity, and anything in that line is finding ready outlet. Stock heifers finding ready outlet. Stock heifers have been in active request all week and at the colse today prices are

RANGERS-NATIVE DIVISION. Receipts of western range cattle this week have been of moderate pro-ortions. Steers have predominated, very few cows and heifers and feeder stock showing up in the arrivals from the range districts. The market for steers opened Monday on a 10@15c lower level. Since that day the mar-ket has ruled steady to strong and at the close the market shows only nominal weakness as compared with a week ago, a dime covering the toss loads on the choice order going at Western she stock has met a very good demand and prices are fully steady with a week ago. Choice calves are steady to 25c lower, and others 25@50c lower for the week. Stockers and feeders closing firm with

An incident which my son witnessed near Enfield may be worth recording: He was walking along the highway and noticed at some distance ahead several birds on the road, which he took to be sparrows. As he drew nearer he was able to distinguish a couple of house martins by the side of Presently one of the supposed sparrows in a sidelong manner drew toward the house martins, and when pear it suddenly darted and seized one of them by the head and held it struggling until he got quite near. He then saw it was a redbacked shrike, and to his astonishment it actually flew away with its victim over the hedge by the roadside, showing a strength one would hardly have expected in so small a bird .- From the Field.

Denver Named for General Denver. Denver was founded by roving prospectors, the first of these pioneer miners settling on the site of the city and erecting their rude cabins in 1858. So rapid was the growth of the settlement that in the following year it was incorporated as a city by the Provisional Legislature, and named Denver in honor of Gen. J. W. Denver, then governor of Kansas, and a man identified with the early growth of the great

The city was reincorporated in 1861 by the first territorial Legislature, and in 1867 it became the capital of the Territory of Colorado.

Oregon Angler's Luck. The most remarkable fishing story brought to this city for some time comes through the reliable authority of Ski Meek, a Coburg angler, who asserts he caught five doubles. That is with several books on his line, he caught two fish at once five times. All were trout and hooked within a rather short space of time.

They were caught in the McKenzie river near Coburg. He used a sixfoot leader with two flies and a baited spoon hook.-Springfield correspondance Portland Oregonian.
