Cows and Heifers Mostly 10c Lower-Bulls and Calves Steady-Stockers and Feeders Firm.

Higher prices last week and improved railroad facilities for moving stock due to moderation of the low temperature, were jointly responlow temperature, were jointly responsible for a bulge in cattle receipts at the five leading centers today. Early estimates on the local supply called for 3,000 head, but later this was increased to 3,300. This compared with 2,661 last Monday and 2,327 a year ago. The five market aggregate, 51,200 head, was 11,500 greater than a week ago and 2,000 in excess of the run marketed a year ago.

Steers formed about half of the cattle reaching the yards, there being a pretty fair representation of butchers' stock among the day's offerings, Quality of the steers on hand did not come up to the standard set last week. Fair to good short-fed classes predominated and a relatively small percentage to good short-fed classes predominated and a relatively small percentage of the offerings were of a kind to sell at $7.00 or better. Trade was minus the activity so noticeable last week and the general drift of prices was toward a cheaper level. Reports from other centers were rather unfavorable to the selling side and buyers started out to shade prices all along the line. Buyers, however, wanted a few loads of steers to start killing gangs and took hold of several lots of medium to fair qualitied cattle during the opening rounds at prices showing very liting rounds at prices showing very litchange as compared with the close of last week.

After the opening round buyers set-tled back and demanded concessions and were able to establish the general market on a weak to 10c lower basis as compared with late last week, with a few sales quoted by sellers as much as 15c lower. Movement was slow at as 15c lower. Movement was slow at the decline, sellers fighting every step of the way. It was a fruitless struggle, however, as in the end the bulk of steers had to accept a 10c decline in prices. One small lot of heavy steers made $7.50, the top up to a late hour of the session.

The following prices on steers are quotable on the St. Joseph market: Choice to prime. $7.75@$.50; good to choice, $7.10@7.75; fair to good short-fed. $6.50@7.00; medium to fair medium, $5.25@6.00.

conditions governing the outlet for stock and feeding cattle today, and outside of the best offerings of fleshy feeders, sellers were forced to adopt peddling methods in order to effect a clearance. There was a fair demand for fleshy feeders of quality and yard for fleshy feeders of quality and yard brokers were able to connect with a few offerings in this line at steady prices on the basis of last week's close, as packer buyers were not skimming the yards of everything that gave promise of beef material as they were last week; in fact, speculators had things pretty much their own way in the market for steers that lacked good beef requirements. Selling of a string of yearlings weighing around 900 lbs, to a speculator at $6.00 was the feature of the day's trade, while several transactions with heavy steers at $5.50@5.90. "Alexander wished people to know after he was dead how clever and how successful he had been. So he always had with him men who could write books about him or paint his picture or make a fine statue in marble or bronze. "Appelles, being the greatest painter in the world, was constantly painting

The king thought the pictured horse did not look quite right, but the real horse trotted up and neighed to the borse in the picture. 'You see your horse is a

EVOLVED OUT OF CHAOS

Enables Shippers to Ge ket Vafnes, Quick and Early Returns in Spot Cash.

The question of getting live stock to market is one that is very closely associated with the much discussed problem of the cost of living. In his last annual report, Secretary of Agriculture Willson says: "The farmer gets 50 cents for products for which the consumer pays $1.00. Who gets the difference?" This is undoubtedly agreetly exaggrated statement of the a greatly exaggerated statement of the proposition and it was undoubtedly so intended by the secretary in order 10 draw attention to the cost of getting the produce of the farm to the ulti-

Modern methods have made the marketing of cattle a comparatively simple operation. The feeder or shipper places his cattle on the cars at his home station, consigns them to his mmission merchant and goes ba home to wait for his money, which usually reaches him within a day or two at most. He is certain to get his money, all in cash, no notes and no delay. The whole procedure has been so systemized that the shipper takes practically no risk and his cattle are handled as well as if he looked after

It took years and it took brains to develop the present system of market-ing cattle and whatever may be its defects and short-comings, it is so great an improvement over the methods in vogue half a century ago that there is really no comparison. The speculator has been or is being eliminated and the man who has cattle ready for market has the absolute certainty of a demand for them and sale that will net him spot cash. Such a thing as a stockman not getting the money for stock he sells a packer is never heard of now and in an experience of nearly twenty-five years in the business here at the yards I

Why We Shake Hands. A writer in the New York Sun has mearthed the following explanation of a common custom:

How many of us, for instance, know why friends shake hands when they meet? The Chinese are said to shake their own hands in greeting, with an air of cordial delight. Why do people of the so-called civilized nations prefer to shake each other by the hand? We are told that it is an old Roman custom, spread by the Romans throughout the countries of their dominion. Shaking hands means, "You are my friend. Believe it for the excellent reason that if you were not I should draw my sword. And how could I draw my sword with my shield upon my left arm and my right hand firmly clasped in yours?" So when we shake hands we are merely saying in the pantomime of ancient Rome: "There is peace and good will between us, for our swords are in their scabbards."

If a woman has the slightest difficulty with her sight, she should lose no time in consulting an oculist. Nothing will bring undesirable crows' feet more quickly than straining the eyes, and local treatment to prevent the lines will be inefficacious if the seat of the trouble is not attended to. It is far better to wear glasses when sewing and writing than to let the whole face have a drawn and aged look.

Of course, massaging about the corners of the eyes will make a tremendous improvement in a woman's appearance, but the work will be without results unless she does it regularly every night, Also, if she is trying to smooth away crows' feet, she must remember that stroking is not to be done so severely as to loosen the skin, which would cause bagginess, but merely that friction is to stimulate circulation, nourishing the skin tissues.

Economy of Nature, "Nature knew what she was doing when she deprived fishes of a voice ... "How do you make that out?"

"What of a fish had to cackle over every egg it laid?" Naturally.

"Why are they?"

A coroner's inquest has been held to determine their ownership. The jury, however, was unable to agree as to whether the coins were treasure trove or not, the contention of the owner of the land being that the coins had been left on an ancient highway and abandoned during a raid by the Caledonians against the Romans. The coroner therefore agreed to keep the coins for a week to see if some arrangement could be made with the treasury as to their disposal.

Christians use the term Holy Land to designate Palestine, as being the scene of the birth, ministry and death of Christ, but, interestingly enough, other religious sects employ the same term for places sacred to them from association.
