Showers Brighten Cotton Hopes; Area Potatoes Move To Market

Even though several thousand acres of cropland may never be seeded this year, prospects for good cash returns on crops in Bailey County are good, farm experts believe, and if more rains fall within the next week to 10 days, yield potentials will be still further brightened.

Irrigated lands' prospects are bright, for the most part, and scattered rains during the past two weeks have greatly aided the outlook on dry lands. Not only have the showers improved yield prospects for dryland, but the scattered rains have made it possible for many additional acres to be seeded.

Still hard hit, however, are the dryland farms around Bula, Stegall and up toward Enochs. Much of the land in that area is still unplanted due to dry weather. Most of the rainfall this season apparently has missed those sections. County Agent J. K. Adams says he believes the total of unplanted acres may reach the 30,000 mark, and since it is generally considered too late to plant cotton after July 1, grain sorghum still will produce, if planted by July 15 to 20, he said.

Additional rains in the next few days should greatly aid those crops which were planted late and as a result are barely out of the ground. "Rains now or within the next few days would be of great help to such struggling young crops," he said. The rains of the past few days have made it possible for many farmers to plant their cotton, but additional moisture will be especially needed by such crops if they are to produce.

His summary is that "prospects still are good for profitable crops except on the 30,000 acres of unplanted land."

He points out that cotton farmers have been blessed this season by a very light infestation of thrip. This insect, which appears

U. S. 84 Due Face-Lifting

U. S. Highway 84 from Muleshoe to the Lamb County line, is to get a $270,000 face-lifting along the two-lane portion of the highway. It was announced this week by O. L. Crain, district engineer of the Texas Highway Department at Lubbock.

The project will include reconstruction, grading and surfacing of 7.9 miles of roadway.

Several other roads in this area also are due for reworking in 16 West Texas projects announced this week. Total costs for the 16 contracts is $6,935,000. U. S. 79 from the Hale County line to Floydada, 17.9 miles, is to be improved, and U. S. Highway 84 has a six-mile improvement job both directions out of Littlefield, which is to cost $880,000.

Another improvement project for this area is a 1.7 mile reconstruction job on the Bailey County line southeast in Lamb County.

Parmer County also is included in the $6 million program. One project is a 9.7 mile strip on 84 from east city limit of Farwell to the Bailey county line, and a half-mile strip inside Farwell city limits. The former will cost $914,000, the second $47,000.

Crain said work on all the projects will begin "just as soon as final planning is completed and right-of-way secured."

County Home Demonstration Agent, Ann Graham, Resigns

To join her husband at Plains after he is released from active duty in the army next month, Ann Graham has resigned as home demonstration agent in Bailey County. It was announced Wednesday by County Judge Glen Williams.

In a formal statement he said: "Mrs. Aubrey Russell, district home demonstration agent, Lubbock, and Mrs. Ann Graham, county home demonstration agent met with the Bailey County commissioners' court Monday and presented the resignation of Mrs. Graham. The court accepted her resignation, effective July 31."

Mrs. Graham became home demonstration agent here December 12 last year, coming to Muleshoe from Plains where she had been assistant home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Graham, in resigning, said she wants to return to her home at Plains when her husband, Robert L. Graham, is released early in August. He was recalled to service at Camp Polk, La., when the 49th division was mobilized several months ago.

Mrs. Graham's mother, Mrs. Edna Paul, lives in Clovis, N.M.

In resigning, Mrs. Graham expressed her appreciation to the people of this county for the kindnesses shown her during her employment in Bailey County.

"I've enjoyed working with the good people in Bailey County," she said.

Mrs. Russell said a successor for Mrs. Graham will be named as soon as possible.

Friona 5 Win Talent Show Here

An instrumental quintet from Friona who make music under the name of "The Trojans" took first place - and $150 in cash - in Muleshoe's annual Fourth of July talent contest.

Winding up with second place and $100 was a group of green-clad lads from Muleshoe who play under the name of "The Emeralds."

A sister and brother act took third place money of $75. They were Cookie and Archie Jordan.

Playing a "dirt" piano, Mike Cabrera, Muleshoe finished in fourth place to win $50, and Jacqueline Brackman, a young vocalist, got fifth prize, $25. The Fire Batons, a group of local twirlers who twirled flaming batons, finished last.

Leaders of 4-H Clubs in Bailey County held an instruction session here recently to discuss the county-wide dress revue July 19, with 23 present. Ann Graham, home demonstration agent, conducted the meeting which was held in the Bailey County Electric Co-op assembly room.

Speakers included D. B. Lancaster of the co-op, who took the group on a tour of the building; Dorothy Anderson, who discussed hair-styling for the dress revue. (See REVUE, page 7)

Ray's 'Ritin'

Gophers are running the Martins nuts. Our front lawn (and I use the term loosely) has more mounds in it than a cemetery, and each attempt at trapping the industrious little miners has been unsuccessful.

So, this is an appeal to the gopher experts, if such there are. Just what do you do when the gophers take a particular liking to your dandelion roots? I've had several suggestions from folk, doubtless have never tried to discourage a bunch of destruction-bound gophers.

One fellow suggested that I should sit beside one of the exits with a big stick and wait patiently until one of the little tunnel-makers stuck his head out of the ground. Then when him right between his eyebrows, continuing the process until the original curious gopher and all his relatives (See RAY'S, page 7)

Post Office Called 'Freedom's Symbol'

Muleshoe's brand new post office became "a link in the greatest communication system in the world" Wednesday afternoon when it was officially dedicated in an Independence Day ceremony.

The speaker who delivered the dedicatory address was Vernon E. Bell, district real estate manager of the post office department, Lubbock. He said the postoffice here is but a "further fulfillment of the dream of our first president that America have an informed populace with a communication system to keep those people living in freedom."

Bell pointed to the new "bank counter" type of office as "an example of the growth of the postal system throughout the nation." He said when he first began serving the district 29 years ago, there were very few first and second class offices. "Now," he said, "most of our offices are either first or second class, indicating the growth of this great area." He pointed to the new building as "your government's faith in the continuance of that growth during the years to come."

He said that the post office represents "one of our truly great freedoms, the freedom of communication," and he added: "What else but in this great country could you get such a bargain as is airmail service? You can mail a letter here at 3 o'clock this afternoon and have it in New York, ready for delivery, by 6 o'clock the next morning - and all for only seven cents!"

"We are continually striving to better our service, and new buildings, new devices, new machines all contribute greatly to that constant improvement," he said, "but it is, after all, the men and women who are employed by the postoffice who are the key to that success. That's why it is so

Heated Pool For City Urged

Need for heating the city swimming pool was expressed at this week's board meeting of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

The matter of heating the municipal pool was presented by Bill Wimberly who also suggested other needed improvements at the pool. Greater use of the pool would be possible if the water were heated, he pointed out. The matter was referred to the park committee for action.

The directors heard reports on the farm dinner at Needmore held last month, and on the July 4th celebration. Postmaster Spencer Beavers told of the post office dedication also set for the 4th. The Independence Day celebration was headed by Harmon Elliott with Roger Albertson in charge of the talent show.

The chamber also made preliminary plans for the 4th of July celebration. (See POOL, Page 7)

Movie Adds $240 To Mule's Funds

With a $240 boost from a benefit movie, Muleshoe's "Memorial to a Mule" funds were well past the half-way mark Thursday, Robert Alford, treasurer of the drive said. Funds raised at Wednesday night's July 4th Celebration at Benny Douglass stadium had not been counted, but it is believed the total to date is more than $2,500.

The benefit movie, "Francis Joins the Navy," was shown at Cox's Drive-In Tuesday night when only bare operating expenses were deducted from the receipts. This left a $240 purse for the Memorial to Maud.

In addition to the movie and to the special campaign for funds conducted in business area, contribution containers were passed around by Boy Scouts at Wednesday night's celebration at the stadium.

Sponsors of the campaign to immortalize Maud in bronze believe more than half the funds necessary have been raised. However, no price tag has been set as yet on the proposed bronze statue which Muleshoe will erect near the intersection of U.S. highways 75 and 84. It is believed some $5,000 will be necessary for the project.

Bailey County's '62 Potato Crop Rolls to Market: Prospects Bright for Good Yield

POTATO TIME AGAIN! — It's Irish potato digging time in Bailey County and once again the nation's top vegetable is rolling to market in this area. These pictures show a part of the vast operation which gets under way each season around July 1 and usually winds up in 30 to 40 days. Shown are some of the steps used in harvesting the county's 1,300-acre 1962 spud crop, starting with harvesting on the R. O. Gregory farm south of Lariat. A chopper is pictured chewing up the tops of the plants to make it easier for the digger to harvest the potatoes.

Other scenes depict the hustle at the potato shed here, starting with unloading the potatoes as they are hauled from the field to the shed. The process shows unloading the spuds into the washing vat, through the intricate grading procedure and into sacks for storing in refrigerated cars. Most of the potatoes grown here on irrigated farms are used by housewives; only a few go to factories to be made into potato chips. (Journal Photo & Engv.)

Off The Runways

By DORIS KINSER
Journal Staff Writer

RUNWAYS IMPROVED

The past two weeks have seen much improvement in the condition of the airport runways. The Muleshoe Flying Service personnel and the operation of maintainers, packers and water tanks have been busy at the task of grading and smoothing the runway and the north-south strip that has been somewhat rough is now as smooth as the longer east-west strip.

TO SELMA, ALABAMA

Mrs. Evelyn Gibson of Muleshoe and her sisters, Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Blagg of Lubbock made a flight to Selma, Alabama last Wednesday morning after being notified of the death of their father there. The flight was made in the Comanche with Freida Lockerer piloting.

Approaching Sky Harbor Airport after a pleasant flight, Mrs. Lockerer looked over the runway which is a mowed grass strip and made her landing. As she had the Comanche slowed and was about to make her turn to taxi to the hangar on the field, she was confronted with a ditch directly in her path and as the plane went into the ditch, damage was sustained to the front wheel and the propeller of the craft. However, no fabric damage was done. The ditch was not visible from the air nor from any point on the runway until the plane was too close to avoid it.

Mrs. Lockerer called Muleshoe Flying Service after she found that parts were not immediately available and Morgan Lockerer left flying the Aztec to Lubbock to see about acquiring the needed parts and to Selma to return the women to Muleshoe.

Lockerer filed a flight plan with Lubbock and flew non-stop to near Selma where he encountered thunderstorm activity and rain. Upon contacting the weather bureau at Meridian, Mississippi, he was advised that a heavy rain was falling at Selma and severe turbulence would prevent his landing at his destination, Sky Harbor for approximately one hour.

With only a 45 minute fuel reserve and with the prospects of circling for one hour, Lockerer made contact with Craig AFB and asked permission to land on the base, was granted permission and advised that he would be instructed upon landing.

As the Aztec touched down, a way with a "Follow Me" sign on the back and he taxied to hanger "Green 5" where AFB officials removed the battery from the plane and immediately went all through the craft. Locker was then escorted to headquarters where he was required to fill out forms, charged $2.50 for use of the military landing strip about which he said the officials were very apologetic, but related that rules were rules, then after his craft was classified as "Hold Harmless" he was escorted back to the hanger where he waited for clearance to take off from the tower.

When the weather cleared he was advised that he was free to take off and would be directed to Sky Harbor by military tower radio.

Locker said the experience was something new as a civilian pilot and he found the tower control much more informal than the FF-1 controlled towers, as he joked back and forth with the personnel about the fee charged for the landing and the 9,000 foot runway.

On the return flight the group found many clouds, rain and brilliant lightning and in many places, a dense fog. After gaining an altitude of 800 feet, the fog was so dense that it was necessary to fly solely by instrument. All that was visible from the cockpit was the glow of the red and green lights on the wing tips.

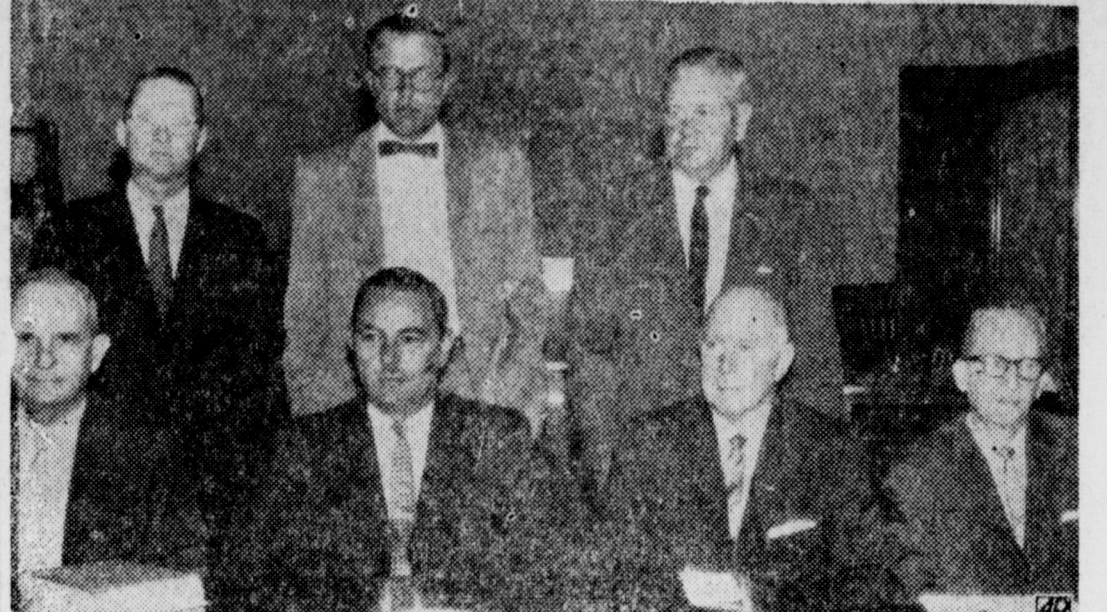

This type of weather prevailed though they did not have to leave their planned path of flight. Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Blagg said that although the Comanche did meet with a minor accident, they preferred the flight down, and that weather flying wasn't too appealing, especially on their first trip at night in a small craft.

TWO EARN LICENSE
Two more private pilots have been added to the number who have recently been licensed for private piloting. H. C. Elliott took his flight test in Amarillo last Thursday and granted his ticket and Sam Damron made the flight on Tuesday and came home with his private rating also.

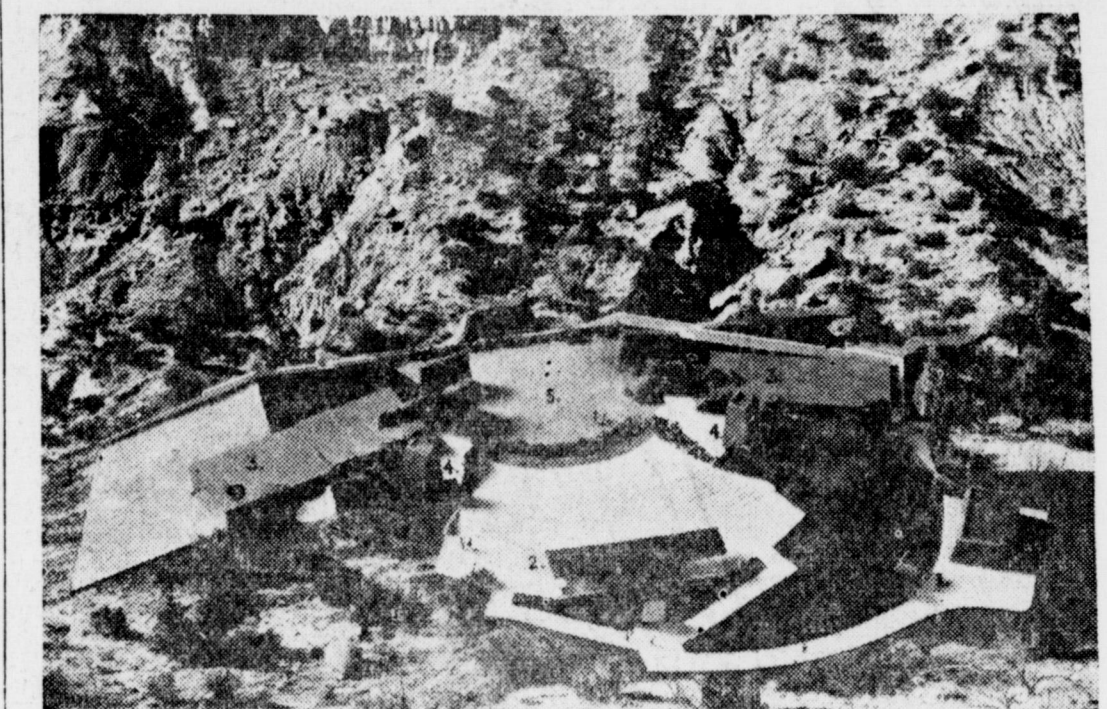

PASSENGER FLIGHTS
Sunday passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Lambert, Olga and Gordon. This flight was a birthday present for young Gordon.

Also flying were Napoleon and Cecilia Martinez and Mrs. Victor Costello and Sylvia.

Rev. Ronald Crosley related a pleasant flight in the Flying Service's new Cherokee with Buster Tidwell of the Dimmitt Flying Service who came to take his first flight in the craft Wednesday.

Social Security Guides Given For Farmers and Farm Workers

Most farm workers are now covered by the social security law. In order to determine if the work performed on your farm must be reported, the law provides certain guidelines. Generally, if you employ a person to do farm work and pay him as much as $150 cash wages in a year, or if he works for you on 20 or more days for cash wages figured on a time basis, hourly, daily, etc., you must make a social security tax report. John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office, pointed out that there is a question in the minds of some farmers concerning tax reports for crew leaders and crew members.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on Wednesday, July 11, in the Courthouse at 9:30 a.m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

The crew leader is the employer of any crew of workers he furnishes to do farm work and pays sufficient wages (either for himself or for you, the farmer). If he brought a crew to your farm, it is his responsibility to keep a record of the name, address, and social security number of each crew member who works enough to meet the $150 cash wage or 20-day test mentioned above. He should withhold 3 1/2 percent tax from the pay of each such worker and match it with the employer's 3 1/2 percent when he files his tax report at the end of each calendar year. He should give the worker a receipt for his tax deduction at the end of the work, or at the end of the year, whichever comes first.

There are situations, Mr. Hutton said, in which the crew leader and farmer have a written agreement that the crew leader is the farmer's employee also and the farmer is responsible for deducting the tax and making the required reports for wages paid. In either case, the farmer is obligated to keep a record of the name, permanent address, and employer's identification number of the crew leader.

Hutton said that free pamphlets for crew leaders and farmers are available at this time and can be obtained by writing 1616 - 19th Street, Lubbock, or calling PO3-0456.

Garden and Lawn

Controlling Fungus Diseases

Science has come to the aid of the amateur gardener with a potent new antibiotic that knocks out a variety of troublesome fungus diseases in lawns, roses, and other ornamentals.

Powdery mildew and black spot of roses are examples of the more widespread conditions that succumb to the chemical and its combinations. Apply the antibiotic, called Acti-dione, as a spray — two tablespoons of the powdered drug in a gallon of water.

Spraying regularly to prevent both insect and disease damage is basic to growing good roses. Fertilizing, watering, and pinching off old blooms are other essentials.

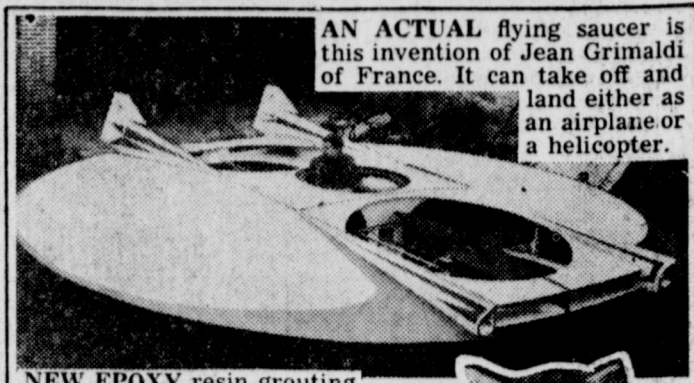

A luxurious lawn starts with selecting grasses suited to the climate, the soil, and light conditions. After that, it's a matter of spending time and energy generously but judiciously on fertilizing, watering, mowing, and insect and weed control.

Proper care won't prevent or cure lawn diseases, but it helps to curb them so that chemical controls are more effective.

When common fungus diseases like rusts, dollar spot, snow mold, or brown patch appear, Acti-dione-Thiram offers the gardener two extremely effective fungicides in a single package. Acti-dione is generally available in garden supply stores.

For free information on these chemical aids to gardening, send a postal card to: James Wilkes, Room 914, 342 Madison Avenue, New York.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — State-owned islands along the coast and submerged lands in inland waters, now are available for lease for industrial purposes.

Leasing for industry was authorized last year by the Legislature. First step in the program was for Gov. Price Daniel to select the men to serve on a committee to advise the School Land Board on leasing procedures.

Daniel now has named J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin, an attorney, and Dr. Armstrong Price of Corpus Christi as the advisors.

Procedure is this—a person who wants to lease state land must apply to the city government, if the land lies in a city limit, or to the county commissioners court. They publish notices and have public hearings. If they recommend the lease the three-man School Land Board then can consider it and set the amount of rent to be paid.

First application was from Port Aransas, which wants to lease part of Mustang Island for an airport.

SCHOOL BUS BARGAINS—Prices of school buses are falling. State Board of Control, which buys for all the school districts on sealed bids, found that the price of 72-passenger buses has fallen by about $1,200 this spring.

May purchases averaged $5,436, while the 1961 average was $6,618. Same sort of declines were noted in prices of smaller buses.

LEASES GO UP—But there was a note on higher prices, too. For many years, the University of Texas lands in West Texas have been leased for oil and gas with only one-eighth royalty reserved for the University of Texas and Texas A&M College which share in the proceeds.

This year, the royalty was raised to one-sixth, and only 9 of 101 tracts offered for lease were passed over by the oil company bidders who bought them at an auction sale. Cash bonuses averaged $38.64 an acre. This is lower than at some sales in the past. But if they find oil or gas, the University fund will get more of it due to the higher royalty fees.

IMPACT STILL DRY — That long-expected "oasis" in West Texas will stay dry awhile longer.

It is the town of Impact, in the edge of bone-dry Abilene, which incorporated and voted itself wet in 1961.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and the City of Abilene brought suit to declare the incorporation invalid. But District Judge J. R. Black held that the incorporation has been validated by the Legislature. It was done in a validating act passed mainly for the City of Plano, which just happened to apply to Impact, also.

However, State Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. announced that he will not grant a package store permit which has been pending for months. He'll wait to see what the higher courts say about Judge Black's ruling, since the case will be carried to the Texas Supreme Court.

So there won't be any legal liquor in Taylor County for many more months.

TEXTBOOK STORM—The Special House of Representatives committee which had stormy hearings wound up its business with an internal storm.

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney held the final hearing all by himself in Dallas. Other four members boycotted the meeting.

then voted to expunge it from the record.

Each member will write his own report to the House on the procedures by which textbooks are selected.

During its stormy life, committee heard one member called a "card carrying communist" by a lady in Amarillo. He filed suit against her, and apparently the folks back home didn't believe her, because he won re-nomination.

PARKS FOLDER—An attractive new folder describing for tourists the facilities and location of state parks is being made available by the State Parks Board.

A fishing scene at Lake Brownwood State Park is the colorful cover for the booklet.

RETIRED JUDGES—The Judicial retirement system was designed so judges could leave the bench for a few years of rest before their deaths.

Statistics just worked up on the operation of the system by State Auditor C. H. Cavness reveals that there are 219 district and appellate judges paying into the retirement fund, and 31 who are on retirement.

During the last state fiscal year, 46 retired judges died and 11 retired. Of 62 judges who have retired, 31 had died as of the date of the audit.

But the retirement system may not have succeeded in keeping judges on the bench. During the year, 10 left the bench without retiring, to go into private law practices.

LEGAL RULINGS—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson answered a variety of questions this week.

He told Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar that it is not legal for a school district to buy gasoline and oil from a consignee who is a member of the school board, even if he got the contract as low bidder on sealed bids.

He told County Atty. John Lawhon of Denton that Jim George, who won the Democratic nomination for two justice of the peace seats, can't hold them both, and that he vacated the office he held when he became a candidate for the other place. George's name cannot appear on the general election ballot for both jobs.

He told County Atty. Bill F. Griffin Jr. of Center that trucks owned by a farm corporation and used exclusively for hauling poultry and farm products are entitled to half-price farm license fee.

He told County Atty. Mack Wallace of Athens that members of the national guard are not exempt from ad valorem taxes levied against their property for road purposes. The exemption for militia members is from the "road tax" of $3 per man which used to be levied against those who did not put in a day's work a year on the county roads.

MORE OIL SUITS—More and more lawsuits are being filed out of the East Texas Field crooked hole investigation.

Latest was a $13,000,000 suit filed by the attorney general against operators of a lease which he contends had been produced through a crooked hole since 1949.

There had been indications that the "deviation" practices whereby wells wound up under somebody else's property had been going on quite awhile. But this is the first indication that it was happening that far back.

efficiency study request for an efficiency study of the Texas Railroad Commission won approval from the executive committee of the Texas Research League.

People, Spots In The News

que. So that big agency will be looked into thoroughly.

Oilmen had complained in the past that there was too much red tape about Railroad Commission operations.

Chairman William J. Murray, Jr. had defended his agency on that point, saying that many requirements have had to be added to make sure oil was produced legally and properly.

Anyway, the organization experts of the Research League will look the Commission over, and advise next spring what legislative changes might be made to make it work better.

SALES BETTER—Total retail sales in Texas in May rose to 3 per cent above the April level, after the UT Bureau of Business Research made its seasonal adjustments.

Durable goods sales were up 7 per cent and auto sales were up 16 per cent above April and 24 per cent above May of 1961.

Furniture and household appliances apparently reflected a bumper crop of weddings. They usually rise about 14 per cent in May over April. This year they rose 22 per cent.

Farm implements, hardware and building materials all contributed to the May boom in business.

Nationally, there was a 1 per cent decline in retail sales compared to the Texas rise of 3 per cent.

Issuance of building permits in urban areas showed a 2 per cent increase over May, 1961, and 14 per cent over April.

High Plains Research Foundation Names New Assistant Agronomist

Barry Love joined the Staff at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway on July 1st as Assistant Agronomist, a new position created by the Board of Trustees this year.

Love received his Associate of Science Degree at Murray State Agricultural College, Tishomingo, Okla., in June, 1958; he was the top honor student in his class. His degree was in animal nutrition. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture, at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Okla., in August, 1960. Love was awarded a Master of Science degree at the University of Illinois in animal science in June, 1962.

Prior to completing his College training, Love worked on his father's farm at Colera, Okla., he worked for two years in an aircraft factory in Dallas and spent three years in the U. S. Army. A portion of his Army service was in Germany.

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director of the Foundation, in announcing Love's selection said, "Mr. Love has the training and background to qualify him for the research work he will be assigned at the Foundation." One of his assignments will be the development of the new grass-legume program at Halfway on correlating both dryland and irrigated projects. This new program is designed to: (1) find a better dryland legume, (2) a grass selection program of variety testing and breeding for the High and South Plains to secure a high protein grass, easily eradicated, that will rebuild the soil humus.

Tests at the Foundation indicate a need for a restoration of the ability of our soil to provide better aeration for crops and more easily absorb water. A rotation system in farming is needed to make more effective use of rainfall as well as greater irrigation efficiency. Water conservation is considered one of the most important research projects at the Foundation. Using cattle for income on these grasses will provide the income needed and at the same time the soil is being rebuilt. Love's experience and training in these fields will be valuable.

Dr. Collister said Love will also assist in crop research, and the soybean and sesame breeding work. He will also eventually have the responsibility for off station testing of these research projects throughout the High Plains from Perryton, Texas, Guymon, Okla., to Levelland and Muleshoe. His assistance will fill an economic need for this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Love and two children, Harold, 5 and Stephen, 10 months, live in Plainview.

Even had one "expert" to come out to trap the gophers. At least he said he was an expert, and he gave long and glowing accounts of his thrilling experiences gopher trapping.

But apparently the trap was set in an abandoned underground highway; the gopher didn't come near it. I think he and his pals had just completed a new super highway over on the northeast corner of the lawn and no longer used the old highway.

Three little boys in the neighborhood decided the best way to get them out was to flood out their tunnels. They patiently carried in buckets of water which they poured in various and sundry holes.

So, what shall I do about the problem? Fortunately the house has a concrete floor or we'd wake up some morning and find ourselves in a gopher-made basement.

Farm Bureau Supper Held

Bailey County Farm Bureau recently held an old-fashioned ice cream supper at the American Legion Hall here when Bill Widemeyer, director of research and promotion, gave a talk. He discussed general legislation and the cause and effects of the moral values of the United States.

He said "whatever type of legislation or government we have is our responsibility. If it is not the type that we want or need, it is our job to see that it fits our wants and need."

He added "we get what we deserve; either we get security through loss of freedom or we get freedom through loss of governmental security. We can expect our government to control that which it subsidizes."

Showers--

(Continued from Page 1) early and stays with the crop until the plant is in bloom, has been known to cause thousands of dollars of loss. However, this year the infestation is light. The same thing is also true of the flea hopper.

Farmers who raise Irish potatoes are squarely in the middle of their season, and thousands of bushels are pouring into sheds here, as well as at other places throughout the county.

About 1,300 acres are planted in potatoes this year, and yield is expected to be around 200 sacks to the acre, the average output.

Meanwhile, Texas A&M College Extension Service pointed out that even low infestations of bollworms may cost the farmer a considerable sum.

"Though small numbers of cotton bollworms may only slightly reduce the lint quality, they can cause sizable yield losses," the Service warns in its newest progress report. When an average of 3.6 of the bolls were damaged, losses of 627 pounds of seed cotton per acre occurred in tests conducted by three entomologists at the college.

Recommendations usually suggest starting control measures when four to five larvae are present per 100 plants, and since young bollworm larvae are hard to find, control measures should be started when five percent of the young fruits are injured, regardless of the number of worms present, the report suggests.

Badmen--

(Continued from Page 1) she said the holdup men made their getaway was exactly like her automobile. She sat in the car beside the highway and described her own car to officers. In fact it was the automobile description that first aroused officers' suspicion. There were just too many green Oldsmobiles in the picture.

And if she was robbed, where did she get the money to pay a passer-by to call the sheriff's office here?

But for awhile she had officers hopping. A road block was set up by Curry County (N.M.) officers on U.S. 70 and 84 east of Clovis, and officers in all of west Texas were alerted to be on the lookout for the green Oldsmobile and its three occupants.

At the sheriff's office here she finally confessed that she drove her car off the highway and hit a culvert.

She was fined for public drunkenness after spending a time in the Bailey County jail, and was released late Tuesday to her father.

And thus ended what at first had appeared to be one of the most daring daylight highway holdups in recent years.

"One thing can be said for her," the sheriff said, "she had a vivid imagination, drunk or sober."

Mr. and Mrs. Benson visited with her over the weekend and report that she is some improved.

Farm Facts

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that production of farm commodities in the U. S. S. R. during 1958 was about two-thirds of the U. S. level.

During 1958, the latest year for which comparisons are available, Soviet farm production made up 11% of the total world agricultural production and U. S. farm production comprised 16%.

On a per capita basis, Soviet output is about half that of the United States. The Soviet Union is placed in a favorable position by using the 1958 season (Russia's record year) to compare farm output with ours.

Although weather also was favorable in the United States during 1958, it was not as favorable as that in Russia. Soviet farm output during a year with more average weather is probably nearer 60% of U. S. farm output.

Despite a land mass 2 1/2 times the size of the United States, the U. S. S. R.'s area of cropland, including hay land, exceeds ours only by Russian farm output is about 2/3 that of the United States.

In terms of land suitable for tillage, the United States probably has more. In 1960, the Soviets sowed 501 million acres of crops as compared to 329 million acres sown by the United States.

Boost in Extension Phone Rate Asked

"Because existing rates for extensions do not cover their cost," General Telephone Company has asked Muleshoe City Council to grant a 25-cent increase in extension phone rates.

In addition, the telephone company has also asked the commissioners to permit re-pricing "key system" phones in a "package" pricing plan.

The requests were made at recent city commission meeting here, but city officials took no action on the matter.

In a written statement to the commissioners, R. E. Saunders, district manager, said "our research has revealed a growing demand upon the part of our customers for extension telephones. Extensions are, of course, very convenient, but they are an optional type of thing; basic telephone service can be enjoyed without them."

"We have found that the existing rates for extensions do not cover their cost. Naturally that means the users of basic telephone service must subsidize the use of extension telephones. We believe an increase in the rate for the purely optional extensions will prevent this unfair burden upon the users of the basic service."

Saunders spent considerable time with the commissioners going into the proposals. Under his proposal, business phone extension costs would be raised from $1.50 to $1.75, and residence extensions from $1.00 to $1.25.

Under the present system, "key phone" systems are priced to the customer according to the various types of service used, he explained. Key systems are the punch-button type of phone which businesses use for more or one outside connection and intercom.

In his letter to the council, Saunders said "we would like to simplify our method of charging those of our customers who have key set installations. They are presently being billed a total of many small recurring monthly charges for the variety of features which each uses. Under our proposal, the customer would have a choice of three different 'packages'—'economy,' 'standard,' and 'deluxe' . . . For the most part, this change will not result in different total charges to the customers."

The council has not indicated when it will act on Saunders' request for the rate changes.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

"A BABY SPEAKS"

I know my Mommy loves me. She dresses me up in nice clothes. She feeds me on the things that are good for me. She buys me a lots of things. She reads books about how to take care of me. She sits up with me when I don't feel good. She will do most anything for me.

But I wish she didn't smoke! I've never had a clean kiss in all my life. Sometimes her breath is awful bad; and when she kisses me just after she has been smoking it almost makes me sick. All the time there's something funny tasting about it. Once it made me sick and I cried and she said it was something I had eaten. She was fixing my oatmeal the other morning and smoking, and she got ashes in it. 'Course she didn't see it, but I had to eat it.

I get so tired of living in smoke all the time. It hurts my eyes, and I rub them hard and she doesn't know what's the matter. The worst thing is when she lays a cigarette down and the blue smoke gets into my eyes and nose and stings and stings. She doesn't know why I fuss so much, and sometimes she shakes me for being bad. Sometimes it hurts my lungs from so much smoke and I cry and Mommy gets cross and I don't know how to tell her and then we both get fussy and Mommy tells my Daddy that I have been "just awful that day."

And I don't like the way some men look at Mommy when we are eating in a restaurant and she is smoking. Sometimes Mommy has company in the afternoon and when all the "girls" begin to smoke and there aren't any windows open, it gets terrible and I get cross and Mommy says, "I don't know what's wrong with that child today. Why can't he be good when there's company in the house?"

Once, when she was holding me and smoking I got some ashes in my eye and it hurt awful and I screamed and screamed and that night she told Daddy I had a temper tantrum. I didn't know what a temper tantrum is, but it sure hurts. It's awful hard growing up with grownups. And now, Grandma's started smoking too! I wish my Mommy didn't smoke.

Muleshoe Pastor Ponders Theme For Sermons in London, Warsaw

A Muleshoe minister will preach twice this summer a long way from his familiar sanctuary, and the audiences will know little about how to grow cotton, grain sorghums or wheat in case the minister should mention those familiar west Texas crops.

Because the audience will be British the first time, Polish the second time.

"First sermon will come July 22 when he speaks before a Methodist audience in London. The preacher will be Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist church here.

A little later during the tour, he will speak at Warsaw, Poland, a communist-controlled nation. And for some of those churchgoers in London or Poland who are interested, there will be souvenirs from far-away Muleshoe, Texas. The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce is seeing to that; they will send the Muleshoe souvenirs on ahead to reach Mr. Peery at the various hotels where he will be stopping.

The rare privilege of preaching on the other side of the Atlantic will come about as part of the Churchmen's Study Tour of Europe and Russia during the last half of July and the month of August.

Mr. Peery leaves here July 16, and will join others on the tour in New York in a six-weeks' tour which "puts emphasis on learning rather than sight-seeing." It is for that reason that Mr. Peery terms the tour, "a short course in world theology."

The tour which the Muleshoe minister will be making is the annual trip of the Division of Peace and World Order of the Board of

Dry Weather Halts Spraying

It's too late now to do any spraying to kill range brush, but ranchers and farmers still can aid their pastures by deferred grazing.

That's the word of Coy Garrett, farm technician for the SCS.

He says the dry weather this spring lasted too late to permit spraying. "If chemicals used in killing range brush are to be effective they must be put on at a time when the leaves are young and tender," Garrett says. "This year the leaves put on their protective waxed covering too soon, due to the dry weather. For this reason it would be practically impossible to kill them by spraying."

The SCS is, however, urging a deferred grazing program. "Graze one pasture while another pasture rests," is the SCS official's suggestion. This is another dry weather precaution, aimed at tiding the pastures through the summer even if not enough moisture falls.

He also suggests that a sell-off program probably should be followed as another means of aiding dry pastures. By selling surplus now, not only would the pastures be aided but such a policy would help keep livestock prices up.

The Case Against Alcohol - Part I

Alcoholism Continues As U.S. Fourth Greatest Health Problem

EDITOR'S NOTE: Millions of Americans use alcohol safely, finding relaxing conviviality in friendly drink. But for some alcohol cannot remain a pleasure—it becomes a painful, self-perpetuating passion. The problem is old, but many elements in the campaign against the nation's fourth greatest health hazard are new. The challenge and the modern response are outlined in this first of a series of five articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

The blight of a tragic sickness touches perhaps a majority of families across this broad land.

The sickness—alcoholism, the uncontrolled and seemingly uncontrollable drinking by nearly five million Americans.

It robs human brains, destroys homes, marriages, careers. It is the nation's fourth greatest health problem. There is no miracle pill to ease its miseries. It is estimated to be in every 15 teen-agers is likely to become an alcoholic.

Were this disease caused by a bug or virus—as polio is—tremendous public interest and effort might be mobilized to halt its devastating human, social and economic losses.

But its root is alcohol, the same alcohol that millions use safely.

Doctors long have recognized alcoholism as a real sickness. The alcoholic simply cannot drink normally. He, or she, falls into the grip of alcoholic drink for complex emotional and physical reasons. Once there, he's enslaved by alcohol, unless he abandons it completely.

Unsuspected alcohol in a cough medicine triggered one middle-aged man—dry for many years—into an unwanted alcoholic binge. Another was seized by his old uncontrolled urge to drink when he breathed fumes on a warm day from alcoholic antifreeze in an automobile radiator.

Manikind has found comfort, conviviality, relief of tensions—and sometimes oblivion—in alcohol since he first learned some foodstuffs could be fermented or distilled into intoxicating beverages.

Down through history, a percentage of men, women and even youngsters have fallen victims to alcoholism.

Society's historic reactions toward control have been jail, ostracism, scorn, nagging, the accusation it's all due to moral weakness.

Prohibition has been tried, and missed the mark.

Now there are encouraging signs of real progress.

1. Alcoholics Anonymous has helped thousands stop their drinking, completely.

2. Allied groups, Al-Anon and Alateen, are helping wives, husbands, children, and friends understand the complexities of alcoholism and to render effective help. It inevitably becomes a family problem, says Mrs. Marty Mann, executive director of the National Council of Alcoholism. She believes it involves a majority of families, if one includes cousins, in-laws, the "entire constellation" of a family.

3. Alcoholics now are seeking treatment at an earlier age, many in their late 20s or 30s, compared with an average age in the 40s and 50s a few years back. Earlier treatment improves chances of success.

4. Physicians have a few more helpful techniques of treatment, and more understanding, too. States have established 158 clinics to treat alcoholism.

5. Hidden alcoholics, especially women, are coming forward, recognizing their sickness, seeking help.

6. Industry and unions are increasingly and successfully dealing with alcoholism as a sickness, not moral degeneracy. But old attitudes still prevail in many places as represented by one paper mill president who declares, "If anyone comes to work with alcohol on his breath, he doesn't last long. If he doesn't have judgement enough not to abuse the liquor, then that is his hard luck and the quicker he's off the payroll, the better for the company."

7. National population is increasing, but the number of alcoholics per 100,000 population possibly is not increasing, says Mark Keller, editor of the authoritative journal, Alcohol. The total actual number of alcoholics is predicted to be less than would have been predicted 10 years ago according to estimates then.

8. And, says Dr. Ruth Fox, medical director of the National hopeless disease, even though the alcoholic may well not succeed the first time he tries to give up drinking.

The public image of alcoholics concentrated on skid row is erroneous. Actually, says the countere among the homeless and the chronically unemployed.

Today's alcoholic may be a businessman, lawyer, government official, doctor, bus driver, factory worker, baker, housewife—anyone, including some teenagers.

Usually it takes years before the disease can be controlled. A small percentage of persons leap into full-blown alcoholism after the first few drinks.

Raiders' Muleshoe Day Set

Boosters of Texas Tech's Red Raider football team will mark July 19 as Red Raider Day here when a luncheon, golfing and snack supper will characterize the day. Funds for Red Raider Educational and Athletic scholarships, as last year, again will be sought, it was explained following a meeting here recently of local Red Raider backers with Lute Jackson, executive vice-president of the club, Lubbock.

The luncheon will be held in Legion Hall, and will be followed in the afternoon by golf, a social hour and snack supper.

Meeting with Jackson for the planning session at Paul's Restaurant here were Chief Jones, Bill St. Clair, Irvin St. Clair, Russell Haber, L. B. Hall and Ray Martin.

Tech coaches will be here for the day. The Muleshoe club has appeared on the Red Raider bronze plaque now for three years without a break, and sponsors hope to continue the perfect record.

Money raised for the athletic scholarships "provides boys with athletic and academic ability the opportunity for a college education," plaque backers explained. "Through the program, so supervised by faculty subcommittee on Athletic scholarships and supported by Red Raider Club many deserving athletes have been prepared as leaders in the civic and business life of West Texas," sponsors said.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 186 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.
