

Business Outlook Bright as New Fiscal Year Starts

With bank deposits up sharply, postal receipts higher and retail sales near the $15 million mark, Muleshoe wound up the 1961-62 fiscal year, June 30 and started the new year on a bright note of optimism. Only fly in the ointment was a continued shortage of rainfall in some of the dryland farming areas of the county; however, showers during the last two weeks have even brightened the farm outlook, and irrigated crops generally are in good shape.

Both Muleshoe banks showed gains in deposits for the last half of the fiscal year over the same period a year ago.

A bank call issued for the close of business June 30, 1962 revealed: Muleshoe State Bank deposits were $5,649,289.95 as compared with $5,057,809.62 for the same six-month period in 1961. First National showed deposits of $4,377,862.44 in the June 30 report. This showed a sharp increase from the same period of 1961 as total deposits were $3,922,041.63.

W. Q. Casey, president of the Muleshoe State Bank pointed out that loans were lower than a year ago, "indicating a healthier business condition generally."

Loans at that bank as of June 30 this year totaled $3,235,756.79 as compared with $3,447,076.15 for the same period a year ago. The president also pointed out that $160,000 of the present day loan total was in "paper" bought from other banks for investment. This would cut the loans for the June 30 statement to $3,075,756.79 as compared with last year's $3,447,076.15 figure. Muleshoe State has operated under that name since 1931; prior to that it was the Blackwater State Bank. First National was formed in 1955.

M. D. Gunstream, president of the First National Bank, stated loans as of June 30 this year totaled $2,453,720.09 as compared with $2,233,027.64 for the same date a year ago.

Of this amount, he said $19,720.63 is in participation of undivided profit and reserve investments.

Gunstream pointed out that surplus funds had been increased during the past fiscal year. Surplus total ed $150,000 on June 30, 1961 as compared with $200,000 on June 30 this year.

Postal receipts at the Muleshoe office also showed an increase for the first half of 1962 as compared with the same period for 1961. The total on June 30 this year was $35,908. Postmaster Spencer Beavers said, while for the first six months of last year postal receipts were $32,420.38.

This was pointed to as another sign of Muleshoe's growth and its financial stability.

Still further indications of financial stability were shown in a survey conducted by Sales Management magazine. This report was based on the entire county. This survey shows the estimated county population as being 9,400, or 310 more persons than were recorded a year ago. The number of households in the county increased from 2,907 to 2,700, a further indication of a population gain at a time when many farming areas are showing a decrease in both population and the number of households as consolidation of farms takes place. Apparently the number of farms and farm families as well as urban population is maintaining a steady level.

Slightly lower prices on many commodities is shown in estimated retail sales for 1962. The magazine estimates these sales will total $14,745,000 as compared with $15,120,600 at the previous check. The magazine says "effective buying income will total $15,696,000 and the per capita income will be $5,813 which is considerably higher than the national total."

Area bank statements show similar gains. At Littlefield, the Security State showed deposits of $7,281,847.66 as compared with $5,928,792.50 for the previous period. First National at Littlefield had a total of $6,521,892.44 as compared with $5,656,810.74 in 1961. Sudan's First National had $2,937,742.18 on deposit as compared with $2,023,434.31. Citizens State at Earth had deposits totaling $2,318,908.36 as compared with $1,905,127.04 for the same period in 1961. Lubbock's banks had total deposits of $241,007,063.46 as compared with $212,584,135.71 for the previous period.

Financial experts throughout the area were viewing all the bright financial signs as indications of a healthy condition in West Texas.

Ray's 'Ritin'

The lady on the telephone was annoyed. Seems a party which she had given had not been reported in the Journal - "not even so much as one tiny paragraph," she said.

The usual questions were asked: Did she report the party? No. Did anyone else report it? No. Did we know about it in advance? No.

"But," she complained, "everybody in town knew that the party was being given." Everybody, it seems but the Journal!

Back in my early newspaper days there was a caustic old reporter who had come up the hard way - through the publicity department of Ringling Bros. Circus. But he had settled down in our town and had become a feature writer, and a good one, too. His name was Jack Schneider.

One day, for some reason or other, Jack happened to answer the phone at the society editor's desk when that writer was out to lunch.

The caller on the other end of the line was most unhappy with the newspaper because her party had not been "written up" in the newspaper. Jack asked her if she reported it and she said she had not.

Then said Jack: "Well, you see, lady, it's this way: Our clairvoyant died recently, and when we buried her, we buried her crystal ball with her. Now we are in a mess we don't have any way of knowing about events unless somebody reports them. Awfully inconvenient, too, and we miss lots of stros like that clairvoyant died!"

He went on like that at considerable length. "Of course," he informed the lady on the other end of the line, "we are looking everywhere for a new clairvoyant. We are even running ads in all the other newspapers, trying to pick up a good clairvoyant and her crystal ball. Meantime, if you hear of one we can hire, please call us, but until we get that new clairvoyant I'm afraid you'll just have to phone in your parties if you want them in the paper," and with that he hung up.

I don't think the woman on the other end of the line had ever heard of a clairvoyant, because she called back in a few minutes (after she had looked up the word in the dictionary apparently) and asked to speak to the publisher.

Then she unloaded on him with both barrels. Seems she was most unhappy with poor old Jack.

The publisher, however, said calmly, "Well, Mrs. . . . there is one way you can prevent such talk: Call in your party and we will be happy to report it."

After that we had no further trouble getting that particular woman's party reports.

There's nothing new in that situation; ever since the Chinese invented printing half-jillion years ago and the first newspaper came off its hand press, somebody has complained about a party not being covered in the newspaper. For some unexplained reason, many people seem to think that newsmen and newswomen are endowed with special clairvoyant powers, and that they can merely look into some crystal ball and know that Mrs. Joe Bloie is giving a party that Joe himself has come down with a serious disease which may cause his untimely demise at any moment.

How do they know these things? Now there is the $6 question. And answer is, they don't. They are not psychic, and the only way they have of know-

Fire Sweeps Local Elevator

INFERNO — Muleshoe elevator's center section burned to the ground in a spectacular blaze Tuesday night, causing a loss tentatively set at $155,000. Here is the blaze at its height. Two adjoining wings were saved by Muleshoe firemen from extensive damage. (Journal Photo and Engraving)

Losses Set At $155,000

Flames which started at the 40-foot top of the Muleshoe Grain Elevator here Tuesday night left an estimated damage of "at least $155,000"—probably much higher—and leveled to the ground the loading equipment. The blaze destroyed 17 cars of grain, and for a time threatened the entire elevator structure.

Boone Allison, manager of the elevator, said he "felt sure" the company will rebuild. Cause of the blaze had not been determined and Fire Chief Earl Ladd said he preferred "not to make any statement yet" as to the possible cause.

The equipment was not in operation at the time, and the possibility was suggested that grain dust, overheated by the year's hot test weather to date, may have caught fire from machinery friction some time before the blaze was discovered at 8:45 p.m.

Since the fire started at the very top of the elevator, the headhouse, firemen were unable to reach the blaze with water. However, they

Trainer Plane Falls, Two Area Men Killed

By DORIS KINSEY

Flying at an estimated altitude of 100 feet, two area men left the normal traffic pattern of flight on take off from the runway, veered sharply to the north, crossed Highway 70 then turned east and moments later became first air fatalities here in almost 12 years, as their single-engine plane plunged to earth in a cotton field eight miles east of Muleshoe on the Allison Brothers farm last Sunday afternoon.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Joe Milsap, 21, a student pilot who farmed in the Needmore community. Walter McMahan, 40, died minutes after arrival at the West Plains Hospital. He was a private pilot and farmed 10 miles east.

Witnesses at the airport said McMahan landed the Stearman trainer at Farmers Aerial Spraying Service, operated by Allen Haley and Kenneth Hanks, earlier in the afternoon and had made some passenger flight prior to the fatal flight. McMahan had rented the plane belonging to Elvie Jennings from Benger Airpark in Friona.

The Morris McKillip family, eyewitnesses to the crash, said they first noticed the low-flying craft as they were traveling east on Highway 70. It passed to the north alongside the highway, and they paid special attention to it as it was a bi-plane instead of the single-wing planes usually seen here.

He relates that as the craft approached the Allison home, it swooped down and was momentarily out of sight, then rose abruptly climbing and made a right turn, approaching the house again. He said they first thought it was a spray plane, then decided it was not. As the plane neared the house, on the second pass, approaching to the northeast and again disappeared low to the ground, the plane shot up again, and traveling almost straight up.

McKillip said they were near enough by that time to see the wings as they began to vibrate drastically and the tail began to wobble like a fishtail. The craft gained an altitude of approximately 300 feet when it went into a high speed stall, fell off to the right and spun into the ground.

McKillip said that he knew when he saw the plane go into the spin that it was too low to recover so he turned into the drive of Elmo Stevens home, called an ambulance and then rushed to the scene.

Milsap's wife, along with other relatives, was searching the yard of the Allison home waving at the men as they passed. Upon noting by the sound of the engine pitch that the plane was in trouble (See PLANE, page 7)

Funerals Held For Victims

Funeral services for victims of last Sunday's plane crash were held Tuesday. Services for Walter Victor McMahan, Jr., were held at the First Methodist Church at 1:30 Tuesday, conducted by Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor, and services also were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Pleasant Grove Methodist Church.

Rites for Joseph Hammons Milsap, Jr., were held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, also conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Frank Peery. Arrangements for both funerals were made by Singleton Funeral Home.

Milsap was born in Muleshoe, November 5, 1940, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Milsap Sr., and had lived in West Texas all his life. He was married to Susan Allison June 6, 1959 in Mexico. Surviving, in addition to his parents and his wife, are two children. (See FUNERALS, page 7)

Schools Name Seven Teachers, Study Proposal For Field House

Muleshoe School Board has named seven new teachers for 1962-63 term and has accepted the resignations of five others, Superintendent Neal Dillman announced Wednesday following the July meeting of the trustees.

Named were: Eugene M. Dobbs as a high school science teacher. He has had six years' experience and taught last year at Ozona. Dobbs is a graduate of Daniel Baker College and lacks only 12 hours of having completed work on his master's degree.

Wayne Holcomb as distributive education teacher in the high school. Holcomb holds a B. A. degree from Baylor University and has participated in distributive education program while in college.

William B. Slayden, sixth grade mathematics teacher at Richland Hills. He is a graduate of Baylor University and has had six years' teaching experience. He taught the sixth, seventh and eighth grades at Spade last year east of Littlefield.

Dorothy Brock as third grade teacher at Mary De Shazo school. She has taught for three years in the Muleshoe schools and has a degree from Texas Tech. She holds both a high school and elementary certificate.

Mrs. Billie Bayless as bookkeeper for the school's business office. She has had 15 years' bookkeeping experience and tax assessing collecting experience. For several years she has been employed by the City of Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Fate Harris as teachers in the Hilltop schools. Harris has had six years' experience and holds a degree from Sam Houston College, and Mrs. (See SCHOOLS, page 7)

Longview Group Meet With County Commissioners to Ask FM Road

Bayley County Commissioners this week received a delegation of citizens from Longview community who were here in the interest of a 7.3-mile farm road which would run half a mile west of Baileyboro and north to Farm Road 46. The route is Farm road 298.

The road already has been designated by the state highway department. The county is to acquire the right-of-way and clear the title, and the state then will build the road, it was explained.

Roads occupied most of the attention of the commissioners' court at their Monday meeting. In addition to the FM road in the north part of the county, the commissioners also heard a discussion of widening of U.S. 84 north-west of Muleshoe. Here to discuss that matter with the commissioners was O. L. Crain, Lubbock, district highway engineer. With him was O. C. Tucker, assistant highway engineer.

No further report has been made by architects who are studying the county courthouse remodeling or reconstruction job. An architect was hired recently by the commissioners on a contingency basis to draw up plans for the commissioners' study. Several possible solutions to the remodeling problem will be considered.

2-Hour Free Parking Favored in Vote

Muleshoe citizens apparently favor parking limits on Main Street but they do not want parking meters.

This was revealed at a coffee session of the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the Dinner Bell Restaurant Tuesday. A crosscheck of parking suggestions was made recently, with 91 favoring parking limits of two hours and 25 voting no. The figures were announced by Gil Herndon, chairman of the committee. The streets to be covered by parking limitations would be Main Street and two adjoining blocks.

The group is planning ahead toward fall and winter activities. Back-to-school promotions were decided to start on August 16, and (See PARKING, page 7)

Palo Duro Park Rates Reduced

AUSTIN (AP) — State Parks Board members are making it more economical for large families to visit Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The board approved Monday a new admission rate of $1 per car for the Palo Duro Park. The admission formerly was 50 cents per car and driver, plus 15 cents for each child and 35 cents for each additional adult.

Maurice Turner, board chairman, said the reduction resulted from a three way agreement between the holders of Palo Duro Park bonds—the American National Life Insurance Co. of Galveston, the American National Bank of Austin and the Parks Board.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Edward J. McCarthy, chief of detectives for the Des Moines Police Department, picked up some color film he had taken of his grandchildren, only to discover the pictures were not his.

So he reverted to his profession, and with a magnifying glass spotted a license number of a car in the picture. Thus McCarthy traced the pictures to Walter Trotter of Des Moines, who had received McCarthy's film.

HOT GOALS TO BENSON
BENSON, Ariz. (AP)—Firemen in this southern Arizona town drove their trucks to the railroad station, then calmly waited for the fire to come to them. Pretty soon, it did. A westbound freight train had reported a fire in one of its box cars. The Benson firemen extinguished the fire.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

By BOB EASON

The Dusters won the first half of the Babe Ruth League season. They had a blazing record of seven wins and two defeats. The Cats finished very strong defeating the Eagles in a double hitter. The Eagles beat the Colts every contest to finish third. The Colts only won one game but they beat the powerful Dusters.

DUSTER TOPS CATS
Johnny Actkinson held the Cats to only four runs. And he helped his team-mates batter Parker for nine runs. Johnny knocked two home runs. This was the second time in Muleshoe Babe Ruth history this feat has been accomplished.

EAGLES BOMB COLTS
The Eagles held the superb pitching of Curtis Spears bombed the Colts 19 to 4. In one inning Bryant and Holder batted three times. The hapless Colts, who, until that inning had played good ball could do nothing. Sam Johnson and Lawrence Green played outstanding ball. Stovall was the loser.

DUSTERS 12-EAGLES 6
The Dusters blinded the clanging Eagles and took undisputed first place. The Eagles jumped into an early lead, 5 to 1, but then faltered. Alton Davis, a 13-year-old, pitched a five hitter for the Dusters. Jerry Childs lost for the Eagles. Bud Bruns was a 'major leaguer' at the bat for the winning Dusters.

EAGLES 11-CATS 10
The Eagles didn't edge the Cats they soundly beat them. The score was misleading in the fact that Curtis Spears pitched a two-hitter. Team errors in the first two innings gave the Cats a quick 7-0 lead. Then in the third, Charles Holder lined a ball over the center field fence and it was all Eagles. Charles also was a wizard behind the plate as well as at bat. Besides hitting a single, double, triple, and home run, he threw out two base runners and caught a pop fly. Jennings was the loser.

Player of the first half: Johnny Actkinson.
Player of the week: Curtis Spears.

NOTE: Drivers while driving around the ball park please be very watchful of small children chasing foul balls. One car nearly hit a child last week.

ALL-STARS — Here are Muleshoe's Little League All-Stars, picked from the four league teams. Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Texas Farm Bureau has consistently opposed the so-called "Merit Rating" plan for automobile insurance on the grounds on the basis that it was unfair to those who had never had a claim but who had got caught speeding, etc. and also because the cost of book keeping was increased to such an extent that rates naturally went higher for everyone, including those with no points.

The fact of the matter is, that after only two and one-half years of the experiment, those who were paying the premium showing a 20 percent discount were paying just about the same as they were the day before the plan went into effect.

So even though the cost for the "preferred driver" will be about 3 or 4 percent higher after August 1, it is our opinion that it will be less, in a year or two, than it was under the merit system.

We are, however, in favor of a plan that would actually consider those without any claims whatever over a period of time. Claims, not speeding tickets, are what effect the cost of insurance.

Now that this experiment is over, Farm Bureau still favors a flexible rating plan that would allow each company to set its own rates, with the approval of the commission. Competition is what keeps the business world going around.

Farm Bureau has never believed insurance laws should be set up in the interest of the companies beyond the extent necessary to provide protection for the policy holder.

Defeat of the National Marketing Order for Turkey Growers is hailed by Farm Bureau as a major victory against this type of government regimentation in all live animal industry. 50 percent of the marketing volume produced voted, and only 43.4 per cent of those favored the order.

The wheat referendum will be voted upon again on July 24. Texas Farm Bureau is holding three area meetings to discuss the involvement present in this referendum so that the voters will be more aware of what they are voting for or against.

One of the meetings will be in Amarillo Wednesday of this week. We hope several wheat farmers attended this meeting.

Your office secretary and her husband, Buster Davis are taking a week's vacation in Grand Canyon and other western points this week, so your service agent will spend most of seven or eight hours in the office to serve you.

CONSIDER THIS: The lips of the wise dispense knowledge; but the heart of the foolish death not so. Proverbs 15:7.

RAY'S--

(Continued from page 1) ing about anything, is to see it for themselves or to have somebody report it to them. That's all.

All my newspaper years I've heard of reporters who "have a nose for news," and apparently some of them do, but most of mercy hard workers who beat the bushes and uncovered stories which others might miss. But even they miss stories and must depend on the good folk in the area to give them tips.

Adn old Jack used to say: "There's one sure way - or pretty sure - to get a story in a newspaper: Write it up yourself and run, don't walk, to the newspaper office with the story yourself. It's as simple as that."

So, this is an appeal to report items to the Journal. There isn't a crystal ball on the place so far as I have been able to determine. So, bless those people who report news and news tips to the poor old newsman or newswoman. May their tribe succeed and increase!

FOUGHT FIRE WITH TRACTOR

EFFINGHAM, III. (AP)—Gerald VanLast, his wife and three children were routed from their beds to find the opposite end of their ranch-style home in flames.

As the blaze raged through the house toward the wing containing the bedrooms, Van Last looped a logging chain around the burning portion of the house.

Tying the other end of the chain to his tractor, he pulled the burning section away from the un-touched wing and saved the bedrooms.

FIRE--

(Continued from page 1) did a valiant job of keeping the flames from spreading to other sections of the grain storage housing. A huge storage house just east was damaged by heat, and a portion of another storage house to the west was destroyed.

The blaze was finally brought under control shortly after 10 o'clock after it had left the center portion of the elevator in shambles and had destroyed 10 cars of wheat and seven cars of milo.

Two neighboring towns, Sudan and Friona, sent fire-fighting equipment.

In addition to the grain contained in the destroyed portion, seven cars of wheat belonging to the company were in boxcars alongside the building. A Santa Fe freight which came through while the blaze was at its height, towed the cars to safety in a dramatic rescue operation.

Allison said the grain—wheat and milo—were stored in the building destroyed and in the 24-foot-deep pit beneath the elevator. Grain continued to smoulder Wednesday.

Fire Chief Ladd said the department was fortunate in that only minor accidents were reported by firemen battling the intense heat. The heat was so great that it could be felt for more than two blocks, and sheet iron siding turned white hot. Fortunately only a slight wind was blowing from the south; otherwise other industrial buildings north of the elevator might have been threatened.

Many homeowners in the Lenuau addition north of the elevator, dragged out garden hoses to souse thousands of flying sparks.

Guy Kendall, a Muleshoe fireman, was struck by a door blown from its hinges by a small explosion. He was treated for an arm injury and released by Green Hospital and Clinic.

Allison said the portion of the elevator which burned was built in 1949, and at the time it was valued at more than $100,000. Grain had been loaded from the elevator all day Tuesday, but all work had ceased and no one was on duty at the time the fire broke out. Allison was in Farwell.

The elevator is located on U.S. Highway 84, three blocks from Main Street, and for several hours, through traffic had to be detoured through the business section.

The firm is owned by Interstate Elevators of Amarillo. General manager was in Kansas City at the time, but was reported flying home Wednesday to make a personal inspection of the loss.

The portion destroyed had a capacity of 110,000 bushels. Nearby is a 500,000-bushel elevator erected last year at a cost of more than $120,000.

The Indonesian island of Celebes was first visited by Portuguese in 1512. The Dutch began trading there in the 17th Century. In World War II Celebes was occupied by the Japanese, bombed by the Americans and surrendered to the Australians.

Modern recipes for custard pie usually suggest testing for doneness by inserting a silver knife near the center. That's because heat will be retained after the pie comes out of the oven and finish the setting of the custard filling.

SCHOOLS--

(Continued from page 1) Harris has had three years' experience. She has a degree from Prairie View A & M College and taught for the past three years at Sudan.

Resignations were accepted from: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jennings who are moving to Coleman. Mrs. Jennings taught first grade at Richland Hills, and Jennings taught sixth grade mathematics at Mary De Shazo school.

Mrs. Inez Middlebrooks who taught third grade at Mary De Shazo. She will teach next year at Sudan.

Fred Miller, who has accepted a position in Virginia. He taught seventh grade language arts.

Mrs. Orapal Morrison who taught second grade at Mary De Shazo school. She has accepted a position at another school at a higher salary, it was explained.

The board announced the selection of Williams & Merriman, CPA of Muleshoe, as auditors for the Muleshoe school year 1961-62, and considered a sample resolution for a tax-sheltered annuity program for teachers. The program, submitted by the Pool Insurance Agency here, was not acted upon at the meeting, but the board expressed the desire to let the teachers select a plan in which they would like to participate. No further action on the annuity program will be taken until the teachers have had an opportunity to study different plans and make their selection.

The trustees reviewed the "school plan survey" submitted by Associates, and set a special meeting for Monday, July 19, to consider plans for the construction of a field house and physical education dressing rooms for the high school. The meeting is to be held at 8 p.m. At that time the board also will consider plans to build restrooms for the football field.

The board also was given a report on maintenance which showed considerable activity during the summer months so far. Hilltop school has had three classrooms and hallway painted and the living room in the teacherage has been painted. Five classrooms and the office have been painted and cleaned at West DeShazo and four classrooms, the principal's office and the nurse's office have been cleaned and painted at East DeShazo. Floor maintenance work at the high school has been completed and remodeling of the biology lab is at the half-way mark.

The board authorized purchases of two used pianos for West DeShazo school and Hilltop schools.

Lucky Finch, regional Civil Aeronautical board examiner from the Ft. Worth office and Robert Wisner, district safety examiner from Amarillo, arrived at the airport by plane early Monday morning to begin the investigation.

Officers said that the engine was apparently still running and the plane still spinning when it hit the ground, judging from the mud accumulation behind the propeller. The craft spun in, buried into the ground and left no skid marks as it fell.

Both Federal Aviation examiners and the Civil Aeronautics Board is continuing their investigation of the crash.

PARKING--

(Continued from page 1) preliminary plans were discussed for Christmas promotion. John Smith is chairman of the Christmas committee and is expected to meet with his committee to draw plans for the festival events, after which the entire retail committee of the Chamber will pass on the suggestions by Smith and his committee.

Attention was called to the new downtown trash cans, supplied by civic clubs, with the suggestion that the merchants urge people to use the receptacles in disposing of throw-away items. Although the trash cans have been on the streets for less than a week, already people are using them, the committee was told.

It also was decided to adopt the slogan for Muleshoe: "PATRONIZE THE PATRONS WHO PATRONIZE MULESHOE," and this slogan will be used extensively in advertising during the coming months.

Present at the coffee were Lindal Murray, Earl Harris, Roger Albertson, Gil Herndon, Harvey Bass, Red Simmons, Olen Burrough, Douglas Haynes, Carroll Pouncey and Ray Martin.

Jr. High and High school students of both Lazbuddie and Muleshoe Church of Christ. The Jess Pendergrass family and R. A. Bradleys helped with the entertainment. The group played volleyball, table tennis and other games. About 35 girls and boys were present and an enjoyable time was had according to Mrs. Pendergrass.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Norwood returned this weekend from Pagosa Springs, Colorado. They attended the rodeo while there.

JFK Gives $1.5 Million Tax Cut for Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,500,000,000 "tax cut" for American business was announced Wednesday by President Kennedy who said it will spur economic growth and create jobs. The action permits larger tax deductions for firms that keep their plants up to date.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon pointed to the move as evidence that the Kennedy administration is pro-business. And he predicted an immediate upward impact on the economy.

The steel industry, which had a notable falling-out with the administration over an April attempt to raise prices, will be among the principal beneficiaries of the tax changes.

However, the effects will be felt by all businesses—big and little—and by all professional people and farmers.

Vanishing with the announcement were whatever slim hopes might have remained for a balanced federal budget in the 1963 fiscal year, which began July 1. The revenue loss from the tax changes will, in itself, more than wipe out the $500,000,000 surplus which Kennedy forecast in January.

Gains Predicted

However, Dillon emphasized that the Treasury expects much of the loss to be offset after the first year. He said part, if not all, of the loss would be recouped "as higher depreciation charges increase the flow of cash to corporations and this money finds its way directly into new investment, thus creating jobs and taxable income for business and individuals."

Kennedy said the depreciation reform might prompt business to increase its annual outlays for modernization and expansion by as much as $6,000,000,000.

"By encouraging American business to replace its machinery more rapidly, we hope to make American products more cost-competitive, to step up our rate of recovery and growth and to provide expanded job opportunities for all American workers," he said in a statement.

The liberalization represented the most sweeping overhaul of the tax depreciation system in at least two decades. It was accomplished entirely through administrative action and will go into effect at once without any action by Congress.

Modernization Goal

The purpose of depreciation deductions is to enable business to set aside each year funds which will be used to replace machines and business assets when they wear out or become obsolete.

In revising the system, the administration concentrated on encouraging faster replacement of old equipment and facilities by newer, more efficient items. Another principal aim was to permit business to depreciate its assets fully as fast as they are replaced. As Kennedy noted in his statement, business leaders "have long urged this step." They have long complained that the old system discouraged rapid replacement of equipment. And they contended that tax agents often were arbitrary or unfair in reviewing depreciation deductions.

Dillon agreed that depreciation practices "have not been realistic for a great many years" and that replacement practices "have inadequately reflected the fast-moving pace of economic and technological change."

Three Facets

In essence, the revised system involves three key facets:

1. The average business will be able to increase by 17 per cent the amount it deducts from taxable income to cover its investment in business equipment. This will be accomplished by reducing the length of time during which productive assets are depreciated through annual deductions. To replace time guides issued in 1942, the Treasury published a brand new set of more liberal guides.

2. If a business man is replacing old assets faster than they are being depreciated, he can speed up the depreciation process by spreading deductions over fewer years. However, in order to claim more liberal deductions, a business man will have to show, after a three-year transition period, that his replacement practices are in line with his deductions.

3. The Treasury, for the first time, is giving business men—and tax agents—a uniform formula for determining whether an individual company is depreciating its equipment at an acceptable rate. This is expected to reduce squabbling between business men and the Internal Revenue Service.

Simpler System

The changes also involve a significant simplification of the system. For example, the 1942 guides to the "useful economic lives" of business assets included about 5,000 separate items. The new guides feature a single average life for all the equipment used in each of about 75 industries.

Business formerly had to calculate their deductions on the basis of each individual asset. While they may continue this practice, they are encouraged to use the average-life figure for their industry to cover all their assets. This average is below the comparable average under the 1942 guides.

Dillon told a news conference the action could have been taken in the past, but that "it fell to this administration to actually do it." He added a claim that "we're obviously more friendly" to business.

Actually, work on depreciation reform was started during the Eisenhower administration. However, Dillon ordered a speedup in the work after Kennedy took office.

"I would think there would be an immediate economic impact," Dillon commented. He said new orders for machinery and equipment should reflect the tax changes within a couple of months.

Lodge Installation Slated For July 16

Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night with Noble Grand Lena Hawkins presiding.

Visitors, Annie Mae Houston, Earth Lodge and Virginia Dunbar, Palo Alto, California, were introduced and welcomed.

It was announced that the Muleshoe Rebekahs and Oddfellows will have a joint installation of officers on Monday night, July 16. District Deputy Grand Master Tom Berry of the local chapter, District deputy President Mary Murrell of Earth will be in charge of the installation.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend and a salad supper will be served by the Rebekah members.

Roasting a duck? Simmer the neck and giblets with an onion, a carrot, some celery leaves, a few allspice and peppercorns and a bay leaf; strain the broth and use for making a thin gravy to serve with the bird. Grated orange rind added to the gravy will give a delightful flavor.

Judge Suggests Pledge For Nation's Drivers

Editor's Note: The following article was written by Joe Vaughn, justice of the peace, on a subject that is of vital concern to the nation at this time—traffic mishaps.

In order to discuss a problem we should first define it. To my mind, the No. 1 problem facing us today is our traffic program. Since the first automobile chugged down the dusty roads, more than 62,000,000 Americans have been killed, injured or maimed in traffic. Last year alone, we Americans added 37,000 men, women and children killed to this list. In Texas alone, we contributed in 1961 2,453 killed and injured or maimed 139,346 with an economic loss in Texas last year of $381,781,000. This does not take into account the economic loss caused by doctor bills, hospital bills, funeral bills and loss in wages, and who can put a price in dollars and cents on the value of a human life?

The thought of war is repulsive to us all; yet we remain indifferent to the toll we pay in traffic deaths each and every day. The Korean War from 1950 to 1953 took the lives of 54,246 American soldiers, yet those same three years cost America 147,508 lives lost in traffic.

So, there is a problem—and it is pretty evident it's an important one. It's also obvious that war in the past has touched only those in the service of their dear ones, while traffic has the ability to touch each and every one of us at any moment.

Now that we have outlined the problem, we must recognize one other important fact: We, the officers and the judge, are the shock troops in this war of traffic. All of us as public officials accepted certain obligations to do our utmost to serve the public interest. In this we must work together.

What do we have a right to expect from the officers? You have the right to expect men with integrity, ability, proper training and proper equipment to do the job with; men whose constant aim is justice, not conviction at any cost. Not many years ago officers were elected or appointed for their size rather than mental ability. Today, more and more departments recognize the need of capable, well-trained men of integrity. These men are selected in most departments on the following qualifications: They must be in excellent physical condition and they must be at least 5 feet, 8 inches in height and 140 pounds in weight. They must have a high school education or its equivalent. These men take two written examinations which establishes education level and their adaptability to police work. They are then subjected to an intensive background investigation to determine their ability to meet the public. Then a personality inventory examination is given to weed out men who might be inclined to abuse the authority they will have as officers. Those who pass the above will appear before an interview board who further screens them on their appearance. All who pass this board then receive 13 weeks' special training in traffic laws, criminal laws, laws of arrest, laws of evidence, accident investigation and courtroom procedure. You have the right to expect men of this caliber as your officers.

What do you have a right to expect of your courts in the enforcement program?

You have a right to have each case tried on its merit. That a case will not be decided by sympathy or the dislike of a defendant; not ignoring human understanding, but an awareness of the court's responsibility in supporting a fair and impartial enforcement program.

You have a right to expect your courts to act as a check on your officers who are only human and are subject to human error the same as anyone else. In short you have a right to expect the courts to act in a fair and impartial manner which seeks justice tempered with mercy, but with an awareness of need for enforcement of the laws which you yourselves have laid down. President Abraham Lincoln once said, "We all declare for liberty" but in using the word "liberty" we do not mean the same thing. The shepherd who drives the wolves from the sheep's throat, for which the sheep thanks the shepherd as his liberator, while the wolf denounced him for the same act as the destroyer of liberty. Plainly the sheep and the wolf are not agreed upon a definition of the word "liberty", and precisely the same difference prevails among us man creatures—yet all professing to love liberty.

What do the officers and the courts have a right to expect from the public?

They have a right to expect cooperation and not indifference and certainly not downright hostility in their efforts to reduce the unwanted slaughter on our highways. I would ask you as the public to subscribe to the following pledge:

I realize that the police and the courts alone cannot avert all the tragedy created by the improper operation of motor vehicles on the highways; I, therefore pledge myself to abide by the following

THE CASE AGAINST ALCOHOL — PART 2

Relatives of Alcoholics Form Own Aid groups, Al-Anon and Alateen

EDITOR'S NOTE: The tragedy of the alcoholic is not restricted to the one person who cannot control his thirst for a drink. A life shattered wreaks fearful damage on those close by. In this second in a five-part series, an Associated Press writer reports the new avenues of help being opened for the mates and children of alcoholics.

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer

"I hated him, despised him, wished he'd die," admits the gentle-looking gray-haired grandmother.

Her companions in Al-Anon nod in understanding. They, too, have hate are familiar, twisting threads in painful, constant emotional crisis.

How terrible it is to hate someone you should love; how hard it is to love someone who is so hateful.

Love and hate for the same person make a strange combination. But to the child or wife of an alcoholic, intermingling love and suffering from an alcoholic mate.

"Sometimes I loved my father and mother, sometimes I hated them," says the 16-year-old beauty. "I hated them more than I loved them. I couldn't understand why they were doing this to me."

Her companions in Alateen—nine boys and nine other girls who have an alcoholic parent or parents—recognize her torture.

FEELING IMPORTANT

Their feelings are important. They must be expressed—not in horror stories recounting the alcoholics' misdeeds—but in terms of their own reaction, their feelings. By exploring these feelings, they hope to reach understanding.

Al-Anon and Alateen are adjuncts to Alcoholics Anonymous, the fellowship of alcoholics that is widely credited with doing inestimable work in helping persons with drinking problems. The only requirement for membership in AA is a desire to stop drinking. It is nonsectarian.

After more than 25 years of service, AA has a proven record: At least 300,000 persons who have stayed sober after long histories of problem drinking.

The chasm between the alcoholic and his—or her—family has been described many times. But few have told it so guilelessly and pathetically as the woman at an AA group meeting.

"My name is—, I am an alcoholic," she said, and related a background of church and PTA and civic activity—and the shyness that seemed to vanish under drink; and then the drinking that got out of hand.

"I couldn't eat. I had to have a morning drink. And then one day I overheard my three children. They were having a family conference. And they decided, Mommy doesn't love us any more."

That was when she went to AA. But while AA seeks to dry out the drunk and keep him sober, what about the other wreckage? There's plenty, for the alcoholic leaves in his wake debt and disorder, and pains that need long soothing. And he, too, needs something from those he's hurt: an understanding of what they may have done to make him the way he was, or to keep him from recovering.

Al-Anon grew informally from the AA group, its name is merely an enlarged abbreviation of Alcoholics Anonymous. Mates of alcoholics sometimes acted as unofficial hostesses at AA meetings, passing out soft drinks and coffee and cake. They began discussing mutual problems and eventually this turned into concrete soul-searching. Soon little groups were born. They were called "mortal precepts of safe driving":

1. I recognize my obligation to respect the lives and rights of others.
2. I accept my responsibility toward all users of the highway.
3. I am ready to impose upon myself a strict discipline of obedience of the traffic laws which are laid down for my sake.

founded, usually wives but occasionally including the husband or a woman alcoholic, and an organization was formally incorporated in 1954. Now there are 2,000 Al-Anon groups in the U.S., Canada and 20 foreign countries. Members are not solely mates of those in AA. In a good many groups, the members are mates of drinking alcoholics.

200 GROUPS NOW

Three years later, in 1957, Alateen arose. It specifically geared itself toward helping children of alcoholics and was started by a teen-ager in California. There are 200 such groups today.

The goal for both is the same: to lead them to sufficient understanding so that they can live with the alcoholic.

At an Alateen meeting in a New York suburb recently, a girl of 16 opened the meeting with the "serenity prayer":

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

Then she asked, "Is your unhappiness at home affecting your school work?"

Around the table the teen-agers answered. Some hesitantly, some in gushes of words.

"I'd fight with my father," said a handsome crewcut lad of 17. "I'd be upset and then take it out on my teachers. I just didn't care. I got bad grades, flunking grades and I thought I was hurting him by doing it. I've learned here that I've hurt myself."

The questions go on, striking at the heart, digging deep, and leading to conversation that would strongly impress any psychotherapist.

All told of experimenting with drink; some confessed drinking to get drunk.

"I drank to escape" said the young girl with waist-length hair. "I tried to commit suicide five or six times, I couldn't do anything I wanted, not even lay down to die."

"If you wanted to kill yourself, you would have," said a boy. "You just wanted sympathy, you wanted to say to them, 'Look what you made me do?' Now you'll be sorry. Isn't that it?"

They talked realistically of what they've suffered—and what they have learned.

At an Al-Anon group, meeting on a Monday afternoon in the heart of Manhattan, a dozen women explored the same dark avenues.

They considered just one main question, based on the AA's Sixth Step. This asks whether the alcoholic is "entirely ready to have God remove" all the defects of character uncovered in "a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves."

"I thought I was the best wife and mother that ever lived," said a well-dressed woman of 61 who had completed a moral inventory of her own. "No one else could have cooked like me, made a better home, raised children like me, been a better mate. I was perfect. It was always him. It was his fault. If I wasn't strong, what would happen to us? He was my child, in addition to our children. But after joining Al-Anon I realized what I was doing: I was building myself up in order to tear him down."

Another woman said, "I never thought I was perfect, but I didn't realize how arrogant I was, and how scornful. I think I must have done him irreparable harm by being so aloof—that's a dreadful way to act to a sick person. I never realized how much love the alcoholic needs, how lonely he is."

In these meetings, these children of corporation heads, bartenders, shop owners, doctors, these wives of bank executives, stock brokers, blue collar and white collar workers, plunge forward—some bravely, some timidly—toward one goal:

Unraveling the web of their entrapment, trying to free themselves so they can see their alcoholic parent, their alcoholic mate, clearly and fearlessly.

Hopefully, they then can live together, first in harmony and perhaps, ultimately, in sobriety.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service forum of the State Bar of Texas

COMPACT

From the dawn of Western thought, men like Socrates have wondered what claims the laws have on us—aside from pure force.

Some thought men had contracted to set up and obey the laws to keep the peace: "You don't hurt me and I won't hurt you." But until 1620 at least, nobody had ever seen men enter such a social contract.

True, Socrates in return for the good Athens had done for him, said that he had entered an implied, unwritten contract to obey her laws, even the unjust judgment against him to take the hemlock and die.

Still, not until the Mayflower band twenty centuries later, sailed over to settle in the new world did we get a social contract actually signed and sealed.

It comes down to us in 198 vital words, the granddaddy of all written constitutions, as well as a document in the history of liberty under the law.

Its gist:

"We . . . do by these presents solemnly and mutually in the presence of God, and one another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation. . . and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and offices from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof we have subscribed our names at Cape Cod on the 11 of November. . ."

Much took place in the next 168 years. But in 1788 the new states wrote and ratified the world's first and now oldest and most successful constitution. Why do men obey the laws? It says:

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America."

by the State Bar of Texas, is This new feature prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—That "safe driver insurance plan" with its penalty points for traffic law violations and accidents goes out the window August 1.

State Board of Insurance bowed to legislators' demands that it be greatly modified. But Board members felt it would be better to scrap the whole thing, and try to work out some other plan for later adoption.

Most Texans will find that the abandonment of the merit rating plan will cost them money. This despite the fact that insured Texas car-owners taken as a whole will pay $10,000,000 less for car insurance in the coming year than they did this year.

However—two-thirds of the car owners—those who have been getting 20 per cent discounts because they have had no accidents or reported traffic convictions—will pay the full rates in the year ahead. The other one-third—those who have been paying as much as 100 per cent extra because of bad driving records—will save substantially. They will pay the same rates as everyone else.

One factor in the decision to drop the plan was concern by members of the Board—and the insurance industry—over the increasing number of car owners who just were doing without ina $459,877,843 education budget for 1963, and offered State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar a $4,000 annual raise through federal funds.

Edgar "declined the honor," saying he felt his three assistants are more entitled to supplements since they are directly concerned with administering federal programs.

So, raises from $11,000 to $13,000 were voted for L. R. Graham, assistant commissioner of education; Lee J. Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction; and M. A. Browning, assistant commissioner for vocational education.

Then the board agreed to ask the 58th Legislature to raise Edgar's salary of $18,500 a year to $24,000 when it convenes in January.

CREAM OF THE CROP—A preliminary glance at the Texas Education Agency's survey of 80,000 teachers revealed that the state's public schools system is getting the "cream of the crop" of high school graduates. Study chairman R. W. Byram of Austin said that new teachers came from the top 25 per cent of their graduating classes.

But the distribution of education specialists seems to be uneven: All teaching colleges in the state graduated a total of only 80 language teachers last year, and only 12 per cent of those who took plan to teach, so schools will suffer shortages in those areas.

On the other hand, there's an estimated surplus of English and history teachers... almost all the college graduates who majored in those two subjects plan to teach.

"EXPATRIOTS" ON WAY TO DAKOTAS—Spindletop V. Spindletop V and their children, Payson and Gushie—a quartet of "geologists" prairie dogs—took a long trip to Bismarck, N. D., where they'll take up residence at the Dakota Zoo.

The prairie dogs were a gift of Acting Governor Culp Krueger, who decided "to uphold the honor of Texas prairie dogs" by sending four of the best he could find, after the zoo's president, Chris Dahl, asked for some.

Krueger assured the zoo that "these prize prairie dogs will feel at home and will dig right in and endeavor to be worthy of their Texas heritage," in a letter claiming the animals have built-in advanced seismicographic training which should help in North Dakota oilfield explorations.

JUNIOR COLLEGE COST JUMPS—Texas taxpayers are having to pay more and more to educate youngsters who attend the state's 32 public junior colleges, according to a report from State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

In the year ending August, 1961, they spent $223.67 apiece on 23,150 full-time student equivalents, but the per capita cost leaped $42.91 to an average of $266.58 for each of 26,075 student equivalents—a total of $6,951,609.

Although 37,175 full and part-time students are actually enrolled in the state schools, the legislature bases its appropriations on the total number of semester hours taken, divided by 15 (a full time course load).

Biggest share of the current appropriation of almost $7,000,000 went to San Antonio Junior College, which got $775,750 for its 3,323 student equivalents. Clarendon Junior College, which has 113 student equivalents, was 32nd on the list with .58 per cent share of $40,600.

"TAIN'T TRUE"—Railroad Commission Chairman William J. Murray Jr. surprised Capitol newsmen this week by issuing a denial of rumors about the East Texas Oil Field scandal before he even was asked about them.

He introduced, and then denied, a rumor that the Railroad Commission has provided the major oil companies with damageable evidence against independent operators through inclination tests, but said Attorney General Will Wilson has "changed the rules" by accepting contributions for directional tests from the big oil firms, and providing information for them.

Murray also refuted rumors that some crooked-hole operators were under his protection. He admitted that he has friends among those under investigation, but stated he'd granted no favors: "I swear that I have treated them alike—independents and majors—and will continue to do so," he added. He further stated that he has not accepted money for campaign expenses in any of the political races he's run since his 1947 appointment to the commission.

Regarding a year-long delay in investigating illegal well deviation in East Texas, Murray mused, "Why didn't I suspect it earlier? Had too much faith in my fellow man."

BUSINESS BETTER THAN EVER—The seasonally-adjusted index of Texas business activity rose to a new all-time high of 137.1 percent in May, reported Francis B. May, statistician for the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

High Score reflects a seven per cent increase over April this year and a 12 per cent increase over May, 1961, according to Dr. May. He considers the sharp rise a potent reminder that the recovery from the 1960 recession has not yet spent its force.

DANIEL NAMES APPOINTMENTS—Gov. Price Daniel has made the following appointments to state boards: Kenneth Nelson of Diboll to the Board of Registration; Mrs. Mary Mosdy Northern of Galveston to the State Historical Survey Committee; L. E. Tension of Clifton; Walter Flack of San Antonio, and R. H. Taylor of Houston, to the Accountancy Board; Wayne Thode of Austin, Talbot Rain of Dallas, Zeb Rike of McAllen and Crawford Kerr and Edwin W. Carroll of El Paso to the Commission on Uniform State Laws.

The household troops of France's King Louis XIV (1638-1715) are believed to have worn the first truly military uniform, designed to mark them as a unit. It was a single-breasted frock coat with turned-up cuffs.

Bureau Sponsoring Seminar For Youth

WACO—Forty-two county Farm Bureaus and two school teacher groups are sponsoring a total of 71 high school students attending the third annual Citizenship Seminar for youth this week on the campus of Oklahoma Christian College in Oklahoma City.

The 71 Texans will be a part of some 300 youths from several states participating in the seminar, according to Joe Smetana, Texas Farm Bureau staff member who is co-ordinating the program in Texas. Purpose of the one-week training school is to orient high school students on the fundamental principles of American citizenship, he added.

HOW DO MOSQUITOES AGE?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. Calvin A. Lang of the University of Louisville hopes to use mosquitoes to find out why men grow old.

Lang is doing basic research into the biochemistry of growth and aging, with one goal being to determine why one person is burned out at 35 and another is spry and active at 80.

Why Mosquitoes? Although they live only about 30 days, they have precise and sharply divided periods of development. They grow rapidly, age rapidly and similar to humans.

Cotton Projects At High Plains Gain Sharply

Cotton Research Projects which numbered five in 1957 now number 30 at the High Plains Research Foundation. This increase has taken place through the desire of the Board of Trustees and the Staff to give as many practical answers to cotton problems as soon as private enterprise action could possibly achieve solutions. Suggestions and requests for some of the projects offices and professional agricultural personnel, Dr. Earl H. Collier, said in a recent interview.

The 30 research projects are arranged in five major groups. The soil fertility studies on cotton include seven projects; (1) fertilizer rates and ratios (continuous since 1957); (2) time of nitrogen application; (3) nitrogen and phosphate carryover (started in 1961); (4) sources of phosphate; (5) phosphate placement; (6) magnesium and trace elements; and (7) time of phosphate application.

The cotton variety testing program at Halfway, includes: (1) (2) field scale variety tests; and (3) regional cotton variety tests.

Irrigation and water management on cotton include studies on (1) irrigation methods; (2) soil and water management; and (3) crop rotation.

The weed control of cotton has five separate tests and they are: (1) chemical versus flame weed control; (2) flaming height test; (3) flaming versus conventional method of cultivation; and (4) burner position comparison; and (5) flaming speed tests.

Cultural methods research on cotton include: (1) skip-row planting systems; (2) plastic mulch; (3) pelleted cottonseed; (4) cotton topping; (5) row spacing; (6) in-furrow fungicide test; and (7) crop climate tests.

The twenty acre devoted to cotton research at Halfway in 1957 has been increased to 121 acres in 1962. The new 20-saw laboratory, new research laboratory, and new cotton research equipment efficiency and early completion of each year's research reports. Dr. Collier stated that the expansion of the cotton research program is an example of the Foundations desire to meet the needs of the High Plains area.

MR. & MRS. S. D. SLEMMONS AT REUNION WITH CHILDREN

4-H CLAIMS 23 MILLION ALUMNI, HONORS MANY Awards Program In 10th Year

The 4-H Clubs of America can claim the largest alumni of any co-educational youth organization in the world.

Today's former 4-H members number nearly 23 million men and women, according to the Federal Extension Service. They can be found in virtually every rural community and in cities as well.

Within the next decade, an even larger number will reside in suburban towns and big cities because 4-H is rapidly extending into these areas as the farm population continues to shrink. The latest U. S. census reports the smallest farm population in history in proportion to the entire population. About one person in 12 resides on a farm.

Awards Given

The national 4-H Alumni Recognition program was launched just 10 years ago when 4-H grads numbered around 15 million. Its purpose is to inspire today's youth by citing men and women who credit 4-H with making a valuable contribution to the success and satisfaction they now enjoy.

Award sponsorship of this unique 4-H program was under-

22.8 million alumni reflect 4-H Club growth

Prepared by the National 4-H Service Committee taken at its inception by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Chemicals Division - Agricultural, of Little Rock, Ark. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises selection of award nominees.

Since 1953, the national gold alumni key has been presented to 80 men and women from 35 states. Several thousand have gained county and state recognition and awards. They represent occupations or professions ranging from homemaker to astronaut.

Candidates may be nominated by anyone. Nomination forms can be obtained at the County Extension office. A judging committee then selects two individuals who best measure up to standards set for meriting county 4-H alumni certificates.

Plaque to Four

From all those receiving county recognition, as many as four can be chosen for the state award. The winners receive a handsome, engraved, burnished copper and walnut plaque.

Eight national award recipients are invited to Chicago to attend the National 4-H Club Congress as guests of Olin Mathieson. Each is presented with the 4-H alumni key during the annual alumni banquet attended by 500 national and state 4-H leaders, educators, business officials and other friends of 4-H.

Expert Makes Unique Probe: When Are Accidents Suicides?

By EDWARD S. KITCH

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—An authority on traffic accident investigation says a number of automobile fatalities are in fact concealed suicides.

This is the finding of James Stanard Baker, 63-year-old director of research and development of the Traffic Institute at Northwestern University.

The institute trains police officers in short courses in traffic control and accident investigation techniques. It soon will graduate its 1,000th nine-month police-officer-student.

"We don't know how many suicides there are," Baker said. "I would say it is under one percent of what we commonly think of as accidents."

Baker, who spent 18 years with the National Safety Council working to prevent accidents, operates like a detective to reconstruct the sequence of events leading to a fatal accident.

He looks at the wreckage, tire marks, the collision course and a score of other details.

"We look at an accident as history," Baker, a tall, erect, graying man, said. "It's like an archeologist trying to determine what happened 1,000 years ago. Only we are examining a couple of seconds that occurred a couple of days ago. Then we have to speculate as to whether this can be suicide."

In one case, a pedestrian was run over by a truck. It looked like an accident, but its circumstances led to another conclusion by a court.

The accident happened during midday. The man had no reason to cross the street because there was nothing on the other side. When the truck driver saw him, the man was standing about eight feet from the truck which was moving about seven miles per hour.

"Somewhere in 1 1/2 to two seconds after the front end of the truck passed, the man gets his body under the body of the truck," Baker said.

The court ruled it was suicide after hearing Baker's testimony. Baker learned that the man had unexplained absenteeism from work. Circumstances and conversations with fellow workers led Baker to conclude that the man was suffering from delusions of persecution.

In another case, a man traveling the same road daily for years drives down a curve on a hill approaching a bridge. His car goes through a 10-foot gap between the guard rail and bridge and then it crashes through a crust of ice on the river 70 feet beyond the road.

"You would have to be a real good driver to hit a hole like that," Baker said. "His tracks in the snow were perfectly straight, and they showed that while he was traveling 200 feet in 2 1/2 seconds he did not apply the brakes."

During his investigation, Baker found some interesting details in the man's history.

He had taken out a $100,000 single-term insurance policy six months previously. He also bought a small plane and had taken flying lessons. About the time the policy was delivered, he sold the plane. Also, clauses in the policy voided payment in the event of death in a plane crash.

Baker said the most dangerous suicide is the person with a sudden impulse to fulfill a death wish.

"I suspect a few of these are carrying other people to their deaths," Baker said. "One of the best objects to hit is another car from head-on. The trouble with this is that it's pretty hard on the fellow in the other lane."

BOOZE CUD NOT HELP BOSSY
ELK RIVER, Minn. (AP)—A shot or two of alcohol doesn't help cows in their jobs any more than it helps you in yours.

Neither do tranquilizers for that matter, according to scientists at the Nutrena Mills research farm here.

Some livestock experts have claimed that alcohol speeded development of a cow's stomach organisms and that tranquilizers boosted milk production.

Some dragonflies have bright red bodies with a splash of carmine or blotches of gold and black on the wings. On others the thorax is grass green and the abdomen bright blue with dark markings.

Red, White & Blue

It is to be regretted that we shall never know who stood up in the Continental Congress on Saturday, 14 June 1777 and motioned for the adoption of the resolution which read that:

The flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field representing a new constellation.

This marks the birth of the flag in practically all respects as we know it today. Colonel Nicholas Smith in his book on the flag wrote:

A flag was wanted to harmonize with the growing spirit of Americanism, one that would beautifully symbolize the aspirations of the thirteen states.

One of the most curious coincidences in American Naval history is the fact that at the same hour that the new flag was adopted the daring Jones was ordered to command the Ranger. His orders and the flag adoption were not in the same bill but passed in the same hour. Jones was surely cognizant of this event, for afterwards he wrote in his ever ardent style:

That flag and I were twins; born in the same hour from the same womb of destiny. We cannot be parted in life or death so long as we can float, we shall float together. If we must sink, we shall go down as one.

After honors, glory, bitterness and vicissitudes, all that is mortal of John Paul Jones rests at Annapolis under the flag he so gallantly defended.

"A thoughtful mind when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag only, but the nation itself, and whatever may be its symbol, its insignia, he reads chiefly in the flag, the governments, the principles, the truths, the history, which belongs to the nation.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ALMA, MICH., RECORD: "Russian Premier Khrushchev, in announcing the recent king-sized hikes in the cost of butter, meat and other staple food products, told the Russian people that the whole thing was America's fault. . . The fact is that the food shortages in the countries behind the iron curtain have become so alarming that even Communist double talk cannot hide the seriousness of the situation. This has forced Mr. K to talk loud and fast and the only safe place for him to put the blame is on the United States. So why the increased cost of butter and meat? It's all our fault!"

ELECTRA, TEX., STAR-NEWS: "Instead of going socialistic, why not get to bed at a reasonable hour, get up early, bathe, shave, put on clean clothes, eat a leisurely breakfast, and get to the job without rushing? I try it occasionally, and it makes me feel good all day."

FREDONIA, KANS., CITIZEN: "Now farmers who do not have a life 'history' of their farm on file with the agricultural department won't be given grain allotments, so apparently you haven't a farm unless you have the papers to prove you have a farm. It all boils down to the fact that the independent farmer is being penalized for exercising the freedom of choice which has set the farmer as a man apart for many years. Small wonder people are leaving the farms. They are being driven from them by farm programs, paper work and red tape that hamstring the hope of future growth."

ROSHOLT, S. D., REVIEW: "Anyone who served in the infantry can tell you how it was to do things 'by the number'. And you did it that way—or else! Government is getting to be like that. Everything coming to the compulsory order. Your own initiative, your own independence is slowly, but surely being taken over by the big boys who think it is best for you to do things their way—'by the number'."

SIKESTON, MO., DAILY STANDARD: "Try to be nice to everyone until you have made your first million—after that they'll be nice to you."

Farm Facts

Per capita consumption of food fats and oils in the United States has changed little over the last 40 years—averaging about 45 pounds annually. It amounted to an estimated 45.8 pounds (fat content) in 1961.

Reduced consumption of table spreads, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has been about offset by an increase in other edible oils—mostly salad and cooking oils. Table spread use has averaged about 17 pounds per person in recent years, compared with around 20 pounds in the 1920's. Increased margarine consumption has just partially offset a decline in butter use.

Per capita consumption of fats and oils in 1961 (actual weight) totaled 9.5 pounds for margarine, 7.5 for butter, 7.8 for lard, 13.2 for shortening, and 11.2 for other edible fats.

In 1921 the "other edible" category accounted for only 3.5 pounds per capita. Increasing consumption is mainly due to use of more

PLAY IT COOL WITH A POOL

TORONTO (AP)—The Ontario Swimming Pool Association warns you can get soaked on a pool as well as in it.

The group, which describes itself as a "sort of Better Business Bureau of our own," says fly-by-night pool builders are operating in the province.

John Finch, a director of OSPA, says, "You may think you've saved a lot of money, but after a while the cracks start and you find you've been taken in. Then it's too late—the contractor you dealt with has moved on."

OSPA says this year a good pool costs from $2,000 up.

About 450 steam locomotives have been put on display in museums and public parks.

Investors, John Q. Public Worry As Slump Talk Hits Wall Street

EDITOR'S NOTE—The stock market has had a shakeout—is business next in line? In this article on the economy at midyear, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the outlook for the rest of 1962.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—In Wall Street they are talking openly about a recession as if it were a sure thing just around the corner.

In Washington administration spokesmen are pooch-pooching any such visitation this year at least. But they are asking for new measures to forestall or cushion a business slump, just in case.

Yet most businessmen still are saying that even if the general economic picture is clouded the outlook for their own firms hasn't changed much nor has their planning.

And current statistics still show more plus than minus signs, although many regarded as fore-runners of business changes are pointing down.

The reason recession talk is common as the second half of 1962 starts:

1. The sharp stock market break startles and worries even those who don't own a share but regard the market as a crystal ball, dominated by traders with inside information.

2. Business in general improved in the first half of the year but at a disappointing rate and the slowdown could be the topping out of a brief recovery from the last slump.

3. The government-steel clash over prices makes many fear that business is in for a rough time from government and that profit prospects have dimmed.

4. The long postwar inflation has slowed to a crawl—is deflation next?

Business planning isn't being helped any by the fact this is an election year. Industry in general, and many individual firms, will be affected by what Congress will do about taxes, spending, international trade, and a multitude of existing or suggested controls. So will consumers. And so will seeking jobs.

Many economists think that the momentum of the business recovery, even if not impressive, guarantees generally good times for the rest of this year.

The plus factors for the rest of this year: Construction at a new high and well ahead of last year; auto sales promising the industry's second best year; consumer spending at a peak—with any sizeable effect from the stock market break yet to show; industrial usual summer letdown is just ahead; record personal savings on which consumers can draw.

The indicators pointing down: A drop in new orders for capital goods that industry buys; corporate profits better than a year ago but lower than in the final months of 1961; basic steel in a production slump; order backlog in many industries declining; and the six-month drop in stock prices with sharp breaks in recent weeks.

Those who are the signs cited by those who see a recession near at hand.

Those who think any serious slump is many months away see the rest of the year as a good one for business—because of the momentum of the recovery, because of the stimulants of government spending and the psychology of a promised tax cut.

A muskeg is a lake of vegetation which has failed to decay entirely due to acidity, low temperatures and the absence of oxygen.

Farm Bureau Institute Set

CORPUS CHRISTI — The 14th annual Texas Farm Bureau Institute, a training school for county Farm Bureau leaders, will be held here at the Robert Driscoll Hotel July 24-27, according to J. H. West of nearby Bishop, TFB president.

"Purpose of the Institute is to provide basic information and training to county leaders so they can better fulfill their responsibilities in leadership positions," West explained. "Specific training will be provided for leaders in the county organization, with additional courses in citizenship responsibilities, agricultural problems, and economic forces," he added.

Special general assembly programs will be conducted by Dr. Harry M. Love, Department of Economics, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; and Dr. C. L. Kay, vice-president for Public Services, Lubbock Christian College. Dr. Love will lead a discussion on "opportunity versus security," dealing with economics. Dr. Kay will speak on "Challenge of the Sixties," pertaining to citizenship.

Guest instructors include Dr. Earl H. Knebel, College Station, head of Department of Agricultural Education, Texas A&M College; and Warren Newberry, Vernon, American Farm Bureau Federation field representative. George McArthur, assistant county agent in Victoria County, will be in charge of recreation. Other instructors are staff members and officers of the TFB.

Classes will be taught on membership acquisition, motivation of people, policy development and execution, Farm Bureau history and philosophy, information and public relations, economics, safety, services to members, and Farm Bureau structure.

Air Conditioning experts agree... WATER cooling is BEST!

Youngsters learn mighty early about the cooling effect of water when the weather's hot. And air conditioning engineers know that water cooling is far more efficient than air cooling. The reason is simple... 85° water can absorb more heat from your home than 100° air.

That's why ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley's GAS air conditioners are WATER cooled! Water cooling, plus Sun Valley's "no moving parts" principle, gives you two big advantages unavailable with other air conditioners. One, a Sun Valley gives you CONSTANT EFFICIENCY, while air cooled units lose as much as 15% efficiency. Two, Sun Valley operating COSTS REMAIN CONSTANT, while air cooled equipment operating costs rise as much as 23%.

KING-SIZED FILTER
Sun Valley's double filtering capacity STOPS ALL HOUSEHOLD ODORS! It even tames cigar and kitchen odors, giving your home Spring-like freshness all year long.

NO MOVING PARTS
... in the heating or cooling cycles of the Sun Valley... nothing to wear out or break down! Sun Valley is year-around comfort for the mortgage life of your home!

CONSTANT EFFICIENCY
Sun Valley has no comfort-robbing friction to run up your operating costs. It doesn't cost a penny more to operate the Sun Valley for an hour when it's 115° than it does when the temperature is 90°.

Walter Moeller who volunteered and was accepted for service in the U. S. Air Force is in Dallas this week for final enlistment. Walter was sworn into service Thursday.

Master Sgt. Mack Lee was in Muleshoe last weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lee. Mack has been stationed near Indio, California.

At a meeting on July 1 of the Bailey County Board of Education, the following classification

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the long illness and death of our beloved husband and father. To Dr. L. T. Green and his staff of nurses, we are most grateful for their diligent care.

TOURS CARLSBAD CAVERNS

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brackman and daughter, Jewellene and a nephew, Wayne Sikes of Atlanta, were in Carlsbad Saturday and Sunday of last week and enjoyed a tour of the Caverns.

for schools for the 1942-43 term Eight grades: Progress, Liberty, West Camp, Goodland, Baileyboro, Watson, Fairview, Longview and Wilson. Nine Grades: Circleback.

-1942- Final count on Scrap rubber totals 142,438 pounds and folks of Bailey County think this is a very good total which averages 22.6 pounds each for each man, woman and child in the county.

-1942- Approximately 1,600 Red Cross garments have been completed and shipped from Bailey County so far this year.

-1942- Mary Frances King and Margaret Ryan left Friday for Plainview where they entered Lippert's Business College.

-1942- A family reunion was enjoyed at the R. L. Hobbs home north of Muleshoe last Sunday. Present for the occasion were Mrs. L. C. Browder, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. M. T. McKinnon, Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calloway of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Maurine Grantley, Amberst; Mrs. Dalton Hobbs, Littlefield; Mrs. J. L. Denny and son Jerry Lind, and Mrs. Kathrine McNeese and daughter, Carolyn Sue.

-1942- Miss Theresa Pierson spent the weekend in Lubbock with Betty Jo Jordan and Doris Gordon, students in college there.

Skunk Raisers Find Business Profitable Fun

NEW HARP, Tex. (AP)—The skunk center of Montague County, if not of Texas and surrounding states, nestles in the tiny community of New Harp, about 60 miles northwest of Fort Worth.

The men who run the skunk farms—they say it's not nearly so smelly as one might think—are a couple of neighbors and friendly competitors, Walter Poteet and John Anderson.

Poteet has been in the skunk trade for 14 years, Anderson 10. The demand for deodorized skunks is fairly constant but delivery can be made only when Mother Nature and the skunks allow, which is the early part of July.

Baby skunks are most easily deodorized at about six weeks of age. Poteet believes males make the best pets.

For some reason, the demand is greatest from California, and it was a request from the West Coast that got Poteet started.

His son, seeing a Californian hunting skunks, said "Shucks, just write my dad. He'll get you all the skunks you want."

The man did, Poteet did, and Montague County's most unusual industry was born.

Anderson got his start while convalescing in a hospital. He noticed an ad from a person offering to buy skunks and thought, "What a nice way to make a living." When he left the hospital he set up shop.

The taking of a mother and young is not the ticklish job it would seem, skunk hunters and breeders say. Skunks spray only when agry or excited, the experts say. If approached properly and gently, even a wild skunk will permit itself to be picked up and handled without letting loose the offensive liquid. Poteet and Anderson, although business competitors, spend much time hunting together. On returning home from a joint hunt the men divide their catch evenly, go their own ways and become business competitors again.

Hunting skunks in their native habitat gets strenuous at times. Poteet and Anderson are relying more and more on volunteer skunk gatherers and breeding skunks in pens.

The striped animals right now are enjoying a wave of popularity in England. Poteet once shipped 23 crates there. The shipment arrived without the loss of a single animal.

LOVVORNS VISIT MORTON RELATIVES Mrs. A. M. Lovvorn, Farwell, and Miss Joella Lovvorn, Muleshoe, visited in Morton last Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. David Foster, niece and cousin, and Mr. C. B. Qualls, brother-in-law and uncle of the two. Driving back that night, they encountered rain and wet pavement all the way to Muleshoe.

When you are soaking salt herring before using, drain off the water several times and replace it with fresh water. Usually the herring needs to soak at least overnight.

RELATIVES ARE GUESTS IN NOAH KINSER HOME Guests in the Noah Kinser home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinser and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Collins of Tuscon, Arizona.

The Kinser's and Collin's have been on an extended vacation thru Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas.

When your small fry want to "cook," they'll enjoy stirring together a simple confectioners sugar frosting and using it for sandwiching plain cookies together.

The All-American Girls' 4-H Club met Friday and those present heard reports on how each member was progressing on sewing. They are making skirts and blouses.

After the program a weiner roast was enjoyed by the seven-teen attending.
