

Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN
Have you ever watched a bunch of eager, live-wire, healthy teen agers doing the twist? Then you haven't seen dancing. Cause this twist is a way out, man! Way out.

and I wandered down to Muleshoe's youth center last Saturday night to watch (and photograph) the boys and girls frolic to a live "twist" band from Clovis.

Now, I had seen the twist on TV but only with two or three couples and from my easy chair, with my shoes off and with a pillow behind my back, it didn't look so strenuous. But to see better than 100 young men and women doing dance all at one time—now that's something else again.

Frankly I'm glad that my dance was done in the good old days when the Charleston was about the most muscular dance that anybody performed. And even that tired me out unless they came along frequently with a nice quiet waltz to let my pulse return to normal. And sometimes we had some pretty fast jazz when some dancing orchestra played "Whispering" at a dizzy tempo.

Most of the time, though, dancing was just shuffling along the floor at a more-or-less fast pace. I recall that the Charleston drew considerable fire from the oldersters when it came out, and they promptly wondered just what the younger generation was coming to with a weird dance like the Charleston.

But by comparison with the twist—well, the Charleston was a game of tiddly-winks set to music.

There's one thing that can be said of the twist: It requires a pretty good man—or woman—to do it justice. And you got to have a pair of hip joints that are well lubricated and able to snap back and forth to the twist's gyrations faster than a yo-yo in the hands of the town's champion yo-yoer.

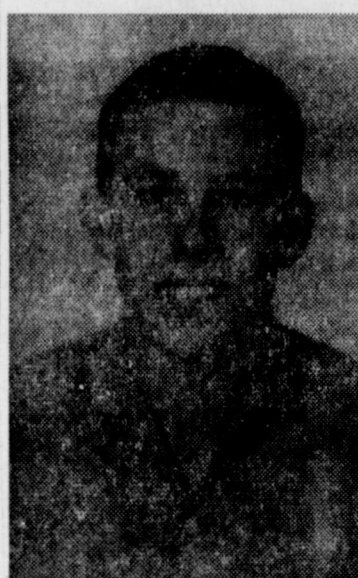

Seems that this new dance (just in case you haven't seen it in all its glory) is best performed by emulating an African native who has just had a large piece of ice put down his back.

And its tempo! Boy this dance has more speed than an orbiting planet. Seems the object of the dance is for the boy and girl to face each other and then when the music starts, try to see which one can oscillate faster and move farther to the right and then the left without falling down or bumping into the couple next to you who also are moving back and forth faster than a 110-volt oscillating fan that has accidentally been plugged into the 220 socket.

That's the way it goes, and doubtless if the dance continues and spreads to all age levels it will put Metreol out of business as a reducing formula.

Not only do you have to have good hip joints, but you gotta (See RAY'S, Page 5)

Santa Fe to Remodel Station, Build Dock

Santa Fe Railroad is to make extensive improvements to its 40-year-old station here, it was announced this week, in keeping with a general improvement program by the railroad in other West Texas towns. Included in the project are new 50-foot sections of rails which will eliminate the "clackety-clack" of the trains, new semaphore systems which will take the place of the hand-operated semaphore signals.

Other stations in this area being remodeled include Rails and Levelland.

H. C. Holt, agent here, says one of the biggest improvements to be made here is a lowering of the ceilings throughout the high-vaulted building. New and more modern fixtures are to be installed, and the entire structure will be painted inside and outside.

Books' Protest Deadline Near

If you don't like the textbooks they are going to use in the 1963-64 school term, then you had better get in your protest right away—no later than August 1.

That's the suggestion of Neal Dillman, superintendent of Muleshoe schools, who says that all protests must be received in writing by that time.

And in case you don't know what books are being considered for adoption for the '63-64 term, then he has a list posted at the

Series of Crashes Put 5 in Hospitals

Automobile crashes that put five persons in hospitals, "totaled out" at least four cars and caused several thousand dollars worth of property loss, plagued travelers in this area during the last few days.

Three of the accidents occurred on U.S. 80 and 70 west of Muleshoe in the vicinity of Progress, and one took place three miles east of Muleshoe on U.S. 70.

Most seriously hurt was a 68-year-old Morton man, J. E. Culpepper who was injured last Saturday when his pickup truck and an automobile were in collision near Progress. Suffering from chest injuries, he was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Injured less seriously were his companion, J. M. Patterson, 72, also of Morton, and the occupants of the automobile, Ray Jackson, 15, and Jimmy Chandler, 19, both of Muleshoe. They were taken to Green Hospital and Clinic in Muleshoe. Both the pickup truck and the automobile were listed as total losses.

An accident three miles east of Muleshoe on U.S. 70 Tuesday morning put Linda Grant, a 14-year-old Oklahoma farm girl, in Green Hospital and Clinic, suffering from a back injury.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her father, Fred Dent Grant of Grandfield. Grant and his wife escaped injury when their car was in collision with a pickup truck. The Grants were enroute to their home in Grandfield, Oklahoma after a vacation at Grand Canyon.

Still another weekend accident on U.S. 84 involved a pickup truck driven by William Bryan Benner of Muleshoe whose truck struck an automobile near the intersection of U.S. 84 and U.S. 70 in Muleshoe. The other car was not seriously injured, but Benner's pickup was listed as a total loss. Benner is in the county jail, facing a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Officers listed as a total loss a station wagon which skidded on

Street Improvement Program Planned

City of Muleshoe will "seal-coat" city blocks soon, and will receive bids for the work on August 3, City Manager Albert Field said Thursday.

Included in the project will be construction, grading, drainage, concrete curb and gutter, caliche base, triple asphalt surface.

Bidders will submit prices on the basis of unit measurement for each of the items of the proposal, Field explained. He estimates it will take 90,000 square yards for sealcoating and 50 tons of patching.

Bids will be accepted until 2 p.m. August 3 when they are to be opened and read.

August 3 meeting is to be a called session of the council specifically for the purpose of passing on the bids. Next regular session (See PROGRAM, Page 6)

Red Johnson is Improved

N. L. "Red" Johnson, owner of Johnson Furniture store, is reported to be improving. Johnson remains in the "constant care ward" in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock where he was placed after being transferred from the Green Hospital for medical treatment.

Mrs. Johnson returned to Muleshoe briefly Wednesday night and reported to Les Smith, store manager that Johnson's doctors said he probably would be dismissed within about 14 days if he continues to improve.

4-H'ers Listen To State Officer

Muleshoe area joint 4-H Club met at the Walter B. Little home Monday night when hamburgers and home-made ice cream were served to about 30 persons.

Richard Chitwood, a Farmer County 4-H member who is vice president of the state 4-H organization, gave an excellent discussion on 4-H records for district and state competition, County Agent J. K. Adams said.

Chitwood is now entering his records for a trip to Washington D.C.

Our Weather: Rain, Hail, Funnel, All in One Day

Rain, hail—even a harmless tornado funnel—hit the Muleshoe area Tuesday afternoon, sent water splashing over the curbs and put telephone lines to Littlefield out of commission for nearly an hour.

The Tuesday afternoon and evening rains pushed the total since Sunday up to the astonishing mark of 5.36 inches, one of the heaviest three-day dousings Muleshoe ever had.

The tornado was seen by many people late Tuesday off to the east of Muleshoe—"some two or three miles", as one observer put it. But apparently the twister—if it was one—failed to reach the ground.

Schools Accepting Milk, Gasoline Bids

Bids are now being accepted by Muleshoe schools for gasoline to be used next school year in school vehicles, and for milk for lunch rooms, it was announced Thursday by J. M. Brown, school business manager.

Bids are to be opened by the board of trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. August 13, Brown said.

Street Improvement Program Planned

Long-Time Muleshoe Ranchers, The McMurtys, Hold Reunion, Recount 'Good Ole Days'

ALL RANCHERS—THE McMURRY CLAN
—Hosted this year for their annual reunion by John S. and Ida McMurry at the Janes Home Ranch place six miles east of Muleshoe, the McMurtys have gotten together each year since 1915, missing only last year.

The ranching McMurtys, each with their own places, include W. J., Jr. (Jeff), Archer City; Joe H., Clarendon; Host and Mrs. John S., Muleshoe; Mrs. C. M. Carpenter (Grace), McClain; Mrs. Glen White (Margaret), Clarendon; A. L. (Roy), Silverton; R. L. (Bob), Amarillo; and Ed D., Tulia.

By Ray Martin

The McMurry clan—all of them except one sister—got together out at the John McMurry ranch east of Muleshoe Saturday, ate buffalo meat and talked about the old days when Bailey county had nary a foot of "broke-out" land. They hosted some 275 persons altogether just to make an even bigger celebration out of this annual event. Sixty-five McMurtys attended.

"It was a better country before they started breaking out the land and turning it into sand-blown farms." That's the opinion of John McMurry, 71, who's been around these parts for 45 years and has ranched ever since he was a little boy back in Archer county south of Wichita Falls.

"Too much of what once was good ranch land is now being used for cotton and sorghums and some of it isn't fit for crops," is the way he sums up the ranch-farm situation. "This makes good cattle country but poor crop land—some of it anyway."

ROUGH IN '20's
McMurry has come up in the ranching business the hard way. But there was never a time when it was rougher than in the late '20's. It was about that time that Johnny (everybody calls him that) was stricken with arthritis. It put him flat on his back and almost brought his cow-punching days to an end.

To make it worse, he owed the bank $30,000 and the bottom fell out of the cattle market. The banker said, "John you can declare bankruptcy and never have to pay a cent of that money back."

But the idea of beating a debt was distasteful to McMurry. "You take the land," he told the banker, "and I'll

HOME GROWN BUFFALO — Killed by Johnny McMurry and Hopper Ivy from McMurry's herd of six, barbecued buffalo meat supplied the feast for Saturday's crowd of 275. Oldtimers, most in the ranching business, from all over Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas joined the McMurry family reunion at the invitation of "the most typical rancher in this area". Ewing Halsell of the "Mashed O", now of San Antonio; Judge and Mrs. Meade Griffin, Austin; William Stuart Wallaca II (Janes estate scion) and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Woolley, Amarillo, were among special out-of-town guests.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Text: Jesus said, "Peter, I love thee more than these?" It has been a mystery to the real intention our Savior in asking this question of Peter. If we read further in the story we find that Peter gives the same answer we are prompted to give, "Lord, thou knowest things".

What could Jesus have had in mind when he asked this question of Peter? If we would speak to Jesus and walk beside the one who would be our answer to Him?

Perhaps Jesus had three things in mind in the question. "Peter, I love thee more than these?" (These other men who were present that day, but he was desirous to know just how I does Peter think of me? In his sight does he love me more than these others who are arising around close by.

When we think of how much I love Jesus, can we remember that he has done for us, save from sin and giving a more happy life to those that love him, then can we say that in the of God's goodness to us, we Him more than anyone else could ever do. We love Him because has been so good to us above others.

"Peter, I love thee more than these?" (men?). Peter, I love me more than anyone else in this world? God is a selfish God and will never accept the love man that would be secondary anyone else in this world. Can say, yes, Lord, I love you more than anyone else in this world though art more than life to me.

"Peter, I love thee more than these?" (things?). All of earthly possession that are in view, everything you can have, houses, lands, ships, and material possessions. Peter, do you love me more than all of these things? Do we love God so much that we would be willing to forsake for the happiness that only God can give?

Thought: Do we love with our hearts, mind, soul and strength? God would demand all if we are to please Him.

Our Father, help us to love all and follow thee, that might be found acceptable thy sight, Amen.

Mrs. Derrell Oliver

Wedding Vows Solemnized Friday For Couple In Baptist Church

Wedding vows were solemnized Friday, July 20, for Polly Jo Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Briscoe, and Derrell Martin Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Oliver.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Ebb Randall, minister of the Farwell Church of Christ, at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Traditional selections were presented by Mona Harvey, who also accompanied Carolyn Hicks as she sang "Always" and "Wedding Prayer." A candelabra flanked with yellow mums formed the altar background.

When given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length wedding gown of chantilly lace over tulle and satin fashioned with a sabrina neckline frosted with seed pearls. The molded bodice joined a billowing skirt enhanced by an inset of tulle ruffles which formed a bustle back. She wore mits of matching lace and white satin pumps. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a crown of pearls and her bridal bouquet carried atop a white satin Bible was a cascade arrangement of stephanitis surrounding a white orchid.

The lovely gown worn by the bride was also worn by her sister, Sandra, for her wedding.

Mrs. Royce Turner, Lubbock, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Janice Oliver, cousin of the groom, and Donna Kay Bruns, cousin of the bride. Billy Jean King and Melba Johnson.

They were attired in dresses of yellow faceted Pima Cotton topped with white lace jackets. The fitted bodices were styled with boat necklines. Each carried a small colonial bouquet of flowers of white and yellow carrying out the bride's chosen colors.

Scott Oliver, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Don Crosier, Cleburn and Everett McAdams, Odessa, cousins of the groom. Royce Turner, Lubbock and Joe King, Tommie Thompson and Max King served as ushers.

Ring bearer was Joe Briscoe, brother of the bride and Jana Bruns, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She was dressed identically to the bridesmaids. Candelighters were Steve Oliver, brother of the groom, and Benny Bruns, cousin of the bride.

Donna Precure registered the guests at the reception which followed in the church dining hall.

The serving table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and was centered with a white tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells. The yellow punch was served from a milk glass service. The bride's bouquet made the floral arrangement for the table.

Alternating at the serving table was Elaine Moore, Muleshoe and Linda Hardy of Clovis.

For a short wedding trip, the bride chose a white linen sheath with a black and white checked jacket complimented with red accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

They will be at home here until Derrell returns to Texas University for football practice early in the fall.

Mrs. Oliver attended Texas Tech and is presently employed at Pioneer Natural Gas Company and Oliver is employed by the A.S.C. during the summer. The couple attended Muleshoe elementary and high school and are 1959 and 1960 graduates.

- Your Health -

It will arouse the wrath of sun worshippers, but this must be said: The healthful effects of a suntan aren't worth the time and trouble it takes to get one. After all, a sunburn—like any other burn—is a manifestation of a skin injury.

True, a sensible bask in the sun makes a fine mental pick-me-up, and there is no denying the supple appeal of a tawny lifeguard. But to overdo it can lead to trouble. In fact it can kill you. More than one person has succumbed to prolonged and unaccustomed exposure to the sun.

Even at best, overexposure can mean two or three miserable days when a mere shirt or blouse is torture, and a friendly pat on the back can end in murder.

The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris". It's the ultra-violet light in sun rays which does the damage. And since clouds don't remove all ultra-violet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

Some people are physically unable to tan. Known medically as "heliophobes", they could spend the entire summer on Padre Island, and all they'd get would be blisters on their blisters. The reason: Their skins lack the pigment necessary to produce the tan tint. They never had a tan and they never will, so they ought never attempt one. Each new exposure will only mean a new burn.

Assuming you are the type who can tan—a "heliophilic", that is—the well-known rule about doing it progressively longer exposure times is valid and should be followed.

Sunshine is a source of Vitamin D, as most people know. What is apparently misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn, or walking to the store. For persons suffering from pellagra, lung tuberculosis, high blood pressure, or hyperthyroidism sunlight may be definitely harmful.

In case you have wondered about the source of freckles here's the answer: The color of everyone's skin is determined by the amount of pigment in skin cells. Dark-complexioned people have considerable, blondes very little, and albinos none at all. Under a microscope the pigment in skin cells looks like tiny flecks of brown paint. Sometimes, especially in children, it is manufactured unevenly and collects in the spots we know as freckles.

Ultra-violet rays can be filtered fortunately, by smearing a thin film of olive oil over exposed skin. So if you're a heliophilic, and if you just have to have that golden sheen this summer, it might pay you to try it.

Mrs. Johnny Pellham

Gaye Northcott and Johnny Pellham Exchange Vows In Earth Church

The marriage of Miss Gaye Oritta Northcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hadaway of Earth, and Johnny Pellham, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Pellham of the Pleasant Valley Community, was solemnized at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, July 22, in the First Baptist Church at Earth, the Rev. Cecil Meadows, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before an archway of greenery and white mums with baskets of white gladioli and tapered candelabra.

Organist, Miss Tonyne Welch, cousin of the bride, presented traditional wedding selections, and accompanied vocalist, Mrs. Cecil Slover, as she sang "Because, Whither Thou Goest," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of silk organza over satin with appliques of re-embroidered alencon lace edged with seed pearls and sequins on the neckline, bodice, and skirt. The gown featured a basque bodice, fashioned with a sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. The waistline extended in back to a point. The bouffant skirt was enhanced by deep folds at the sides and back, and flowed in to a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of French imported silk illusion, fell from a demipillbox of lace trimmed with pearls. She carried a lace fan topped with a bouquet of stephanitis centered with two cymbidium white orchids, and wore white silk organza gauntlets, accented with a rose of alencon lace.

Traditional wedding items were her dress, made and designed by her mother, an heirloom handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Stout, and her blue quarter, which was sent her from California. She also wore a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Houston Bartlett of Muleshoe served her sister as matron of honor. Misses Patti Mann and Jean Gover were bridesmaids. The matron of honor wore a street length dress of white silk organza over taffeta, styled after the bride's. She wore a silk organza bow hat with a short blush illusion veil, and gauntlets, and carried a colonial nosegay of blue tinted pom-poms. The bridesmaids wore identical street length dresses of blue silk organza over taffeta, featuring sabrina necklines, cap sleeves, and gathered skirts. Also matching gauntlets, and white bow hats. They carried colonial nosegays of white pom-pon mums.

The bride's nephews, Barty and Rocky Bartlett, were ring bearers, carrying identical heart shaped satin pillows. Dressed in white, Cindy Dent was flower girl. Jackie Scheller, of Earth was best man. Gerald Pellham, brother of the groom, and Jerrell Hadaway, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were Vernon and James White.

Candelighters were Susie Evans and Bobby Sloan. Registering the guests were Mrs. Ronnie Johnson and Miss Carolyn Gregory, cousin of the groom. The registration table held a miniature bride on a white cloth.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room. The bride's table was laid with a white crocheted cloth over blue taffeta, and decorated with her attendants' nosegays, and the three tiered wedding cake, which held blue roses, white wedding bells edged in silver and topped with miniature bride and groom. Serving cake and punch were Misses Jean Sawyer, Twilla Whitford, and Evelyn Meadows. Others assisting in the houseparty were Mmes. John Laing, Kenneth Sawyer, Alvin O'Hair, C. C. Goodwin, L. J. Welch, and Fred Welch.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the bride chose a blue silk linen sheath dress with matching jacket, and matching accessories, accented with an orchid corsage from the bridal bouquet.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

NEW HAVEN, MO., LEADER: "In the beginning, the United States was certainly what would today be called an under-developed country. Everyday life in the towns and cities of the colonies that had gained their independence from Great Britain was not much different from life in the towns and cities of the Roman Empire. Tools and methods had changed little in two thousand years. The new Nation had no net capital; in fact, it was heavily in debt and operating on borrowed money. There were no railroads, no factories, no steel mills. Many other countries were far ahead of us in the principal economic assets of the time.

The United States had only one asset of major importance—and that was not an economic asset at all but a political one. It was the idea of a strictly limited government."

HILLSBORO, ORE., ARGUS: "Historians may well list inadequate depreciation as a major factor contributing to the decline of our industrial facilities unless the situation is remedied. American industries have been lagging for some time in the necessary plant expenditures for new equipment. Certainly a more liberal and realistic tax depreciation will stimulate a more favorable climate for industrial growth."

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "Some folks leave a movie right in the middle of the picture. Could it be sleep walking?"

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "The Washington economic advisors have proposed that government continue its heavy spending program and at the same time cut taxes. It's a neat trick if they can do it."

CARLSBAD, N.M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "Here is an illustration being circulated on Capitol Hill to show the enormity of President Kennedy's $92,500,000 spending program for next year: If you give your wife $1,000,000 dollars, and tell her that she can go away and spend it at the rate of $1,000 per day, she would be back in three years broke and asking for more money. But if you give her $1,000,000,000, and tell her to spend it at the same rate of $1,000 per day, you would not see her again for 3,000 years."

have a sacroiliac that is A-OK. Now there's where I'd have trouble, even if I had the free-wheeling hip joints that have never known rheumatism. The old sacroiliac hasn't been the same since that summer in 1940 when I attempted to get up too fast while clipping the grass around the hedge after a king-sized red ant stung me on the leg. Ever since then I've had a delicately sensitive sacroiliac.
In fact, just looking at those kids gave me an awful pain in my sacroiliac that lasted until I had two aspirins and drunk two cups of black coffee.
But if you think you are a pretty good man — or woman — then just try the twist in all its full glory, and you're likely to realize, as I do, that the twist is something for the birds — the young birds. If you try it you may come unsewed.

But the wonderful time they had at that gyrating, oscillating "three-hour session the other night was nice to behold, and I think the folk who are backing this youth center program here should be handed a very nice, fat bouquet. They are truly doing a wonderful work, not only on the dance nights but on other nights in the week as well when games of far less strenuous nature occupy the attention of the youngsters. Power to them!

If I had a youngster between the ages of 11 and 18 I'd certainly want him to take part in this wonderful summer program of healthful fun.
And they are doing it all, too, without pay. Some of these adults who are back of this fine program are giving many hours a week to make the program click. And, as I said, they are doing it without pay. I believe most of the people in Muleshoe are back of them. I hope so anyway.

$3,000 Worth of Onions Stolen

Sheriff Doc Clements and his deputies Thursday were investigating theft of 1,500 sacks of onions from the W. H. Lee farm near Lariat. Clements said the onions were taken from the field in field sacks, and apparently were hauled away during the night. The crop is being harvested.

The onions were valued at somewhere near $2 per sack for a total loss of around $3,000.

The sheriff's report for the week shows one person sent to the alcoholic ward at the state hospital at Wichita Falls after being picked up on a driving while intoxicated charge; a Negro woman fined and released on a disturbance charge, and a charge of driving while intoxicated, after an accident. The last was a prisoner of the city.

A farmer who was not so fortunate as the grass and grain sorghum farmers was A. R. Floyd who lost winter alfalfa which had been cut recently. He farms six miles west of town. Dale Fischgrabe, work unit conservator here, said most farmers are jubilant over the rain.
Virgil Nowell, who lives 11 miles west of town, said he was "cutting off irrigation" as of Tuesday, and Doug Bales, who also lives west of Muleshoe, said he had just planted grass and believed the rain would be of untold benefit.
County Agent J. K. Adams said the rains, general throughout the West Texas high plains region, "will be sufficient for drylands for awhile," but he added: "These areas were so short on moisture that the rains this week must be followed by others in August if dryland farmers are to wind up the year with good yields."

He said the rains came too late for dryland cotton. "It will hardly be possible for such cotton to make a comeback," he said "since the damage in July was too great."
Grain sorghums will be benefited greatly by the week's heavy downpours. "These rains will be of great benefit to the 100,000 acres of dryland sorghum as well as the 60,000 acres of irrigated grain sorghum," he said.
"The rains also have made it possible for those farmers to switch their irrigation to grain sorghum while their cotton moves into full bloom for August irrigation."

Here in Muleshoe, some flooding was reported, and small residences on West 2nd street downtown stood floor level for a time Tuesday evening when more than an inch of water fell in 45 minutes.
Highways in the area were covered with water during the downpour, but quickly cleared after the rain ceased. Here in Muleshoe Albert Field, City manager, said dirt streets had been "damaged considerably" by the flood-type rain, and that some paved area also were damaged.
Dry lakes on the Muleshoe National Wildlife Game Refuge were aided greatly by rains there. Melvin Evans, manager, said Wednesday, "It sure put water in the old lakes," he said.

Evans said the refuge had received 2 inches of rain prior to Tuesday night's downpour and that the rain Tuesday measured .9 inch. That area had been especially dry all summer.

For three years, now the chamber has sponsored a Christmas parade when various organizations and clubs enter floats. This event is usually held during the first week in December.
Last year the parade was staged, but instead of a give-away program, the committee decided to spend promotion money instead on a nativity scene. A giant religious scene was purchased for $1,400 and set up on the courthouse lawn.
Two other features of the Christmas program include decoration of downtown and American Blvd., and the home lighting and decorating contest. These events' doubtless will be continued this year.

Another Chamber Committee which is to meet at 7:30 Thursday night is the Farm Dinner committee, headed by Bobby Airhart. First dinner was held at Needmore in June when people of that community were guests of the Chamber at a dinner in the Needmore Community Center. Progress likely will be the scene of the next such dinner to be staged in August.

"bought back" his own land.
Today his spread stretches over more than 12,000 owned and leased acres six miles east of Muleshoe, and 400 head of cow stock roam its native grass and bring off a crop of calves each year. This year they had a 90 percent calf crop. They're Hereford Calves, sired by registered bulls.
"They always had Herefords on his ranch," McMurtry recalls, "because it was like that when I came here in 1917. The James brothers had good stock. We've always believed in good stock."
Part of what makes up his spread is leased from the James brothers. Part of the land he owns. He got his start here 45 years ago.
"But you couldn't get into the ranching business today unless you had a lot of money," he believes. "It would take about half a million dollars for a young fellow to get into the ranch business and it wouldn't be an awfully big ranch at that."

How can a young fellow get into the ranching business? "Well, the best way he can get into ranching," McMurtry figures, "is by working on one—work and lots of it. That's the biggest problem in this business today—help. I've trouble getting help, so if I were a young fellow and wanted to go into the cattle business I'd hire out to work for a rancher who knew his business and then I'd work, work, work."

The story of Johnny McMurtry and the James Bros. is all so tangled up it would be difficult to separate the two stories. Together the yarn is one of the most interesting and fabulous of the west.
MARRIED IN '55
Johnny has been married for only seven years. It started like this:
"When I was a little girl," Mrs. McMurtry recalls, "Johnny came to our ranch in New Mexico to buy calves. I remember that I was 15 and Johnny rode out to where I was 'day-herding' some calves, and he said, 'little girl, you go on to the house and I'll watch these calves for you.'
"Well, I went home and put on my prettiest dress and fixed myself all up and when Johnny got there for supper he was embarrassed. 'I didn't know she was a young lady,' he told my mother, and she said 'Pshaw! She is just a little girl,' my mother said, 'she just thinks she's a young lady.' He went out of my life the next day.
"Well, in the course of time I met Arlin Givens and we married and moved to Texas. We had two sons. After Arlin's death in Pampa in 1949, Johnny and I met again, this time at a reunion of the Matador ranch. And that's how we met again after all those years."
When McMurtry became ill she nursed him through to health again, and she says she believes

He and Mrs. McMurtry still eat most of their meals there, the food prepared by a typical ranch-type cook who has been with McMurtry for 12½ years.
McMurtry recalls the early days in Muleshoe. "Wasn't much of a town when I came here," he says. "Guess they had about 75 or 100 people, and they had only 170 legal voters in the entire county."
There were two main shipping centers in those days. Either the ranchers drove their cattle to nearby Bovina and shipped them over the Santa Fe which had snaked its way through the west in 1901, or else they drove them much farther—down to Big Spring and shipped them over the Texas and Pacific.

nursing people has been her mission in life. "Just kinfolk," she explains. "There have always been kinfolk to nurse and help make well again."

make folks a living." As for I part, he's still "in the saddle more or less, in spite of the crippling effects of arthritis. Mrs. McMurtry says that the arthritis, by pushing him out of the saddle, he still drives an oversized pickup and he goes just about everywhere he pleases with his trusty crutches tossed into the back.
Muleshoe attorney, Pat Bobo calls him "almost indistructable" and he cites numerous instances of accidents and illnesses who would have downed a less hard individual. "but he comes right back after each setback and no long stops him," Bobo sums. "An operation which removed most of his vocal apparatus a few years ago failed to daunt the old-timer of West Texas."
There's another story in the old-time ranch that McMurtry operating. It dates back all the way to 1889, but the James story will have to be told in another article.
This is a story of a dauntless little fellow who has ranched a ranch and ranched through years of his lifetime, overcoming hardships which might have stumped most men cold. This has been the story of Johnny McMurtry; Mrs. McMurtry.
And would he do it all over again? "Johnny smiled and nodded eagerly. "Yep," he summed up, "I sure would. I'd go right back in the cattle business again. I sure would!"

JOE DAMRON, who with his wife own and operate the Damron Rexall Drug at 308 Main, has done his banking at Muleshoe State Bank since 1932—thirty years of satisfied service. The Damrons have three children, two daughters and a son, who also have accounts at Muleshoe State; Mrs. Billie Joan Smith and Sam Damron, both residents of Muleshoe and Mrs. Jayne Reece of Odessa. The well-known druggist jokingly says, "There must be something to the banking here, or I wouldn't have put up with them that 30 years." Then he added, "No, seriously, the personnel here at the bank are just wonderful, and I've enjoyed it." Muleshoe State Bank is proud to recognize this Customer of the Week.

Off The Runways

By DORIS KINSER
Journal Staff Writer

(Many things of interest have taken place at the airport, including the flying in of Republican candidate, Jack Cox, in his Aero Commander while yours truly was vacationing in the New Mexico mountains. An account of Cox' visit here is carried in a separate story.)

STINSON

Conrad Williams of the Goodland Community landed at Muleshoe Flying Service Sunday with two passengers, Cecil Cole, area farmer, and Louie Wollenger, Los Angeles, California.

Wollenger and Williams are both flyers from 'way back' and the local pilots enjoyed hearing the pair tell of their experiences and training in the earlier days.

Williams began flying in 1936 in a J-3 Cub with Thorton Oxnard and Harold English, Amarillo, as his instructors. English Field in Amarillo was later named for his instructor.

Wollenger was fascinated by Sunday's glider flying as he was an instructor for the Army at a Lamesa base during the early 1940's. At that time he had a glider that he had built at his Milwaukee, Wis. home and answered the Army's call for anyone having a glider and being an instructor to come to Lamesa and train students to fly ferry gliders for the Army. He loaded the craft on a trailer and came to Texas for the first time.

GLIDER FLYERS

Three Lubbock men flew here in their Tri-Pacer to take lessons in glider flying.

They were A. T. Tarter, Jr., T. A. Stephenson, both farmers, and James Utley, Western Ways Motel Manager.

Also glider flying was Talmadge Loveless, employee of West-Tex Aviation Lubbock, taking his first glider flight. Loveless is a private pilot.

Walter Garland, Borger, who holds two records, altitude and time aloft in soaring here, had good luck again Saturday gaining an altitude of 10,000 feet. Garland first settled from his 2,000 foot tow to 1,600 feet and played around until he felt the strong thermal lift that sent him to its peak. He stayed aloft 1 1/2 hours, then lowered and landed by using the spoilers.

Henry Collins, Texas Tech student, and Delbert Watson made separate flights later on that evening with about 45 minutes aloft as the thermals weaken as the air cools.

BETH WATSON WINS GROUND SCHOOL TROPHY

Beth Watson won the trophy awarded to the ground school student making the highest score on the written examination for a private pilots license.

Mrs. Watson received the results of her test Monday, which was a grade of 90. Other students grades were all in the eighties.

The class, taught by Herbert Griffith, had an over-all average of 87, which is rated as excellent for this test.

FROM FARMINGTON, N.M.

The Bill Barbour's flew to Muleshoe Sunday in their Beach Bonanza and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Barbour. Their children Donnie and Kala remained with their grandparents for a longer stay.

Kenneth Powel, student pilot, made his check-out flight in the Super Cub recently.

Most pilots who had originally flown the Tri-Pacer have checked out to fly the four-place, low-wing design Cherokee, which replaced the Pacer. The latest group to make their flights are Neal Everett, Clifford White, Don Bryant, Bill Jim St. Clair and Bobby Murrell, and Virgil Robbins, both of Earth.

Robbins made a local flight taking his five grandchildren riding in the craft. Murrell took a one-way combination cross-country training flight and business trip to Abilene to pick up a car he had purchased there. Morgan Locker returned to Muleshoe in the Cherokee.

St. Clair has passed his written examination for a private ticket and is training for instrument flying.

FLIGHT TESTS

Federal Aviation Examiner Robert Wisner was at the Muleshoe Flying Service and gave two flight tests. In the pilot's seat was Clifford White and Don Bryant. Both passed with flying colors and were issued their license.

Recently licensed Sam Damon and H. C. Elliott have been excelling their private ratings. Elliott took his family on his first flight while Myron Pool, Jr. happened to get the first one with Damon.

PASSENGERS

Deanna McCain and a guest in her home, Patricia Skinner, Paducah, and Randy Bender, Ralls, visiting here with the R. Q. Botkins' were passengers on a local flight on Sunday.

NEW MODEL PAWNEE

Have you a Pawnee plane in your plane? The 1962 model 333 Pawnee, agricultural plane, just off the assembly line is constructed of fiber glass instead of the usual fabric which is a major improvement. All types of chemicals can be used in the plane for spraying and dusting without damage to the cover as was the case on fabric type planes.

The craft is larger, yet more powerful, with a 235 HP Lycoming engine and the hopper holds 150 gallons. The spray boom on the wing trailing edge is equipped with new design nozzels made of non-corrosive polyester plastic and are spaced in such a manner as to apply chemical in the once void streak through the field—that directly to the right of the fuselage in the path of the prop wash.

The dispersal equipment and distribution system is also improved and with the new heavy duty pump allows more chemical per acre to be applied.

The Piper Aircraft Corp. distributes the first planes to agricultural centers where the need is greater and two Pawnees were acquired by Muleshoe Flying Service.

Muleshoe Youth Center, Operated by Volunteers, Doing Top Job This Summer

IT'S BEEN A great summer for boys and girls in Muleshoe, thanks to a volunteer youth program which has been carried on ever since school ended in the spring—and it will go right ahead through the fall and winter months, sponsors premise. Nobody has received a cent for his work with the youth program and the hours put in have run into many for several persons who have gladly given their time for this worthwhile program.

The program operates every night in the week except Sunday and Wednesday, and is varied to meet the likes and needs of all ages from sub-teens through high school age. Only cash available came from a one-day fund drive which brought in slightly more than $500. On that skimpy budget, volunteers have succeeded in carrying on the project.

These pictures show some of the activities at the center, located in a "donated" building at the corner of W. 2nd and American Blvd.

YOUR MOVE — If they had rather play "seated" games than to take part in the dances or folk games, then it's there for them at the youth center. Here four of the sub-teen crowd ponder over a serious game of checkers.

INDIVIDUAL TASTE — One of the things that makes the Twist so popular with the younger crowd is that it's pretty much an individual dance, where the dancers add lib steps to suit their own fancy. Here are some of the steps.

WAY OUT, MAN—Young and older alike take to this dance, the twist. Here are examples of both the smaller fry and the teen ager going all out for the dance.

FOLK GAMES — With older boys and girls directing, youth have been learning many new folk games this summer. This shows a part of a folk game in progress.

YOUNGSTERS' TWIST — The sub-teens like this twist dance, too, as two members of the younger set (above) demonstrate at their night at the center.

DONATED TIME—Many adults have given generously of their time to make the program a success, including the adult president, Tootie Middlebrooks who seldom misses a night at the center. Above are Frank Ellis and Harmon Elliott, serving sodapop to the youngsters.

GIRLS' STAG LINE—This shows a break in the games at a sub-teen night. A moment later the director yelled, "girls' tag" and the stag line disappeared instantly.

OTHER DANCES, TOO—Not all the steps are the twist. Sometimes it's the more sedate step or rock 'n roll. Here's one of the "calmer" moments at the dance.

LIVE MUSIC—About every two weeks, a "live" band is imported for a special Saturday night dance. Here are the "Five Counts" who have played for two dances so far. They are from Clovis.

EVERYBODY DANCE—Here's an over-all view of a Saturday night dance for the older boys and girls. More than 135 teen agers attended last Saturday night's event.

GOING STRONG — The Twist was in full swing by the time this picture was taken at session when a quintet from Clovis provided last Saturday night's "live music" dance.

Four Injured in June Accidents in County

Four persons were injured in rural accidents in Bailey county during June to bring the total for the first six months of this year to 10 injured and one killed, Sgt. D. S. Lawson, patrol supervisor for this area, announced Wednesday.

Property damage from the two rural accidents in which two persons were injured totaled $2,050.

So far this year 15 crashes have occurred on rural roads in this county, Lawson's report showed. Property damage was estimated at $13,660.

This figure is considerably below the same six months' period for 1961 when 23 rural crashes occurred in which two persons were killed and 12 persons injured. Property damage was estimated at $15,050 for that period. In state-wide comparison, the total number of traffic fatalities are "practically the same as they were this time last year," Lawson reported.

Lawson says that the "Slow Down and Live" summer campaign has played an important role during the last several years in acquainting motorists—especially vacationists—with the danger of speed and the ever-present hazards of highways during the crowded summer months.

In the 20-county district of which Bailey county is a part, Palo Pinto county headed the grim lists of highway injuries—21, while Lubbock was in second place with 17. Wichita county had 13 injured in accidents, Wise and Dickens counties each reported six, and Parker county had eight injuries.

In fatal accidents, three counties reported four deaths each—Clay, Dickens and Lubbock counties—for the month of June. Wise county had three deaths, and Hale, Hockley, Lynn, Palo Pinto and Terry county each reported one death.

Altogether in the 29 counties, 20 persons were killed and 122 injured during June when 217 accidents occurred. Property damage was estimated at $127,125 for the district for the month of June.

The Rhein-Main Airport near Frankfurt, Germany, 1st year became the third in Europe to handle more than two million passengers annually. London and Paris are the others.

ATTACK ON ALCOHOLISM—Part 4

Industry Seeks Ways To Aid Its Alcoholics

EDITOR'S NOTE: In addition to the frightful price compulsive drinking extracts in terms of human suffering and family tragedy, society pays another bill—in dollars and cents. This fourth in a series of five articles examines the impressive changes being produced by industry's growing debilitation and the economic loss caused by alcoholism.

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Staff Writer

There'll never be a monument raised to the Allis-Chalmers machine operator who will retire next year at 70. Drunks seldom rate public honors.

But this man already has a different sort of memorial—one that will continue salvaging lives for years to come. His memorial is the revolution he caused in a mammoth industrial firm's attitude toward alcoholic employees. It doesn't include magic treatments, it didn't even happen all at once. But this machine operator was the first alcoholic the company set out to help and success—his own and the company's—made him the forerunner of many others.

Today, there are between 80 and 100 other companies that have similar policies. They range from Dupont to the New York Times, from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. to the Great Northern Railway, from Consolidated Edison to Eastman Kodak from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to Kennecott Copper.

To these firms the alcoholic is no longer an unstable bum, too weak to resist booze. No longer is he summarily sacked.

Seen as Sick Person

Now he is seen as a sick person deserving the same consideration as a worker suffering from diabetes or other diseases.

This remarkable change was not made overnight. Nor was it inspired by purely humanitarian motives. It results from a dollar and cents reality.

The hard economic fact is that no matter how finely tuned your equipment, how automated, how modernized your plant, how expertly organized, it takes men to do things. And the most efficient machine in the world can't be efficient if the man running it is operating at only half his capability.

When alcoholism hits a plant, it shows up in these ways: Absenteeism, reduced efficiency, errors, accidents, loss of customers, loss of training investment and lowered production. Sometimes losses are extreme. An oil refinery worker came on the job with a hangover and turned the wrong valve—$50,000 in oil went down the drain. A utility company figured it lost $4,000 after every binge by a motor pool supervisor.

The total cost of alcoholism to industry has been conservatively estimated at $1 billion a year. For Allis-Chalmers, a new awareness of the problem and positive action came during World War II.

"We needed every man on the job and operating at 100 percent," recalls Henry A. Mielcarek, manager of employee relations at company headquarters in Milwaukee. "When you have men absent because of drinking, or working inefficiently, you can't meet that objective. It was decided there must be some way of handling the problem other than firing the worker. The dilemma was really dramatized in the case of the machine operator."

This man then had 37 years with the company. He had been given 11 disciplinary warnings about his drinking. But he didn't stop. So he was fired. Even in a company with 42,000 workers, there was some grief about this one man. He was a good worker and it was shame to lose him.

A management executive working with Mielcarek decided to do something. They got the man to join Alcoholics Anonymous. In six months, he straightened out and came back on the payroll. The union went along, saw that his seniority was restored.

Today Allis-Chalmers has three AA groups meeting on company property, and it maintains a complete counseling service.

"Our absenteeism rate has been cut from 8 to 2.3 percent, and our firing for failing to cooperate has been cut from 95 to 8 percent," reports Mielcarek. Dupont, while it has no AA groups, does have on its staff in Wilmington, Del., a veteran AA who will travel anywhere in the company to take care of an individual problem or help out in some plant.

Other Services

"I just returned from Texas where we had a janitor who was having some trouble," he says. Dupont also has two full-time psychiatrists and uses a number of other services.

"Our program has been successful beyond expectations," says company spokesman Tremaine Robinson. "A survey in 1961 showed that among 950 alcoholics in a work force of 87,000, complete rehabilitation was achieved in 66 per cent of the cases."

Consolidated Edison decided in 1952 to use a completely new attack by turning the problem over to other hands rather than doing it within the company. It gave $20,000 to the New York University Consultation Center for Alcoholism and made treatment a private matter between the center and the worker. It doesn't even receive reports on patients.

Dr. Arnold Zentner, physician in charge of the consultation center, says followup studies show a recovery rate of 80 per cent. "We have varying ideas of recovery," he said. "If we can get the patient off alcohol we consider it a very good result. But this doesn't mean that we have resolved underlying conflicts."

Twenty other firms now use services of the center.

In sum, a considerable segment of industry has gone a long way from the days of automatically firing a worker with a drinking problem.

It wasn't easy. Nor is it universal. "Few subjects have been surrounded by so much hostility, ignorance, confusion and prejudice," explains Dr. Clyde C. Greene Jr., medical director of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph. "Excessive drinking has been a problem ever since man accidentally discovered how to make alcohol."

Finding Alcoholics

Part of the problem for industry was in finding the alcoholic. The person with a drinking problem rarely admits, even to himself, he has one. Also, his fellow workers tend to cover up for him. A breakthrough came when company orientation programs convinced employees that they would not be fired or discriminated against if they asked for help.

That help takes many avenues. Sometimes it's informal with a man agreeing to join Alcoholics Anonymous. Sometimes he goes to the medical department for advice. If necessary, he may be told to see his clergyman, or get psychiatric treatment. If in the end nothing works, not even job retraining, he may be put on limited retirement, or given a disability discharge.

"Industry is in a strategic position in this field," says Dr. Karl

Two Ordained As Deacons Sunday

Charles Bratcher and Dale Burden were ordained to the office of deacon Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. at the Trinity Baptist Church. Thirteen ordained deacons and ministers took part in the ordination service.

Rev. C. C. Morgan, pastor of the Forest Heights Baptist Church of Clovis questioned the candidates. Rev. Leon Perry, pastor of Hicks Chapel Baptist Church brought the charge to the candidates and their wives.

Byron Griffith, a deacon of the First Baptist Church led the ordination prayer and the message was brought by Rev. Audy Wiley, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Friona. Rev. Troy Walker, pastor of the Trinity Church acted as moderator and Wiley Bowers as clerk.

The services concluded with the Sunday evening service in which Rev. Walker presented Bratcher and Burden with certificates of ordination.

Trinity Revival To Begin Sunday

A revival will begin at the Trinity Baptist Church on Sunday, July 29, and will continue through August 5, according to the pastor, Rev. Troy Walker.

The Rev. D. J. Mead of Roswell, New Mexico will be the evangelist and the song service will be conducted by Sam Bradley of Lazbuddie.

Rev. Mead is a well-known evangelist in the state of New Mexico and is pastor of one of the larger churches in the state.

The public is invited to hear Rev. Mead each morning at 10 a. m. and at 8 each evening.

Columbus discovered the 427-square-mile West Indies island of Martinique in 1502 on his fourth voyage. He took on fresh water and rested three days.

J. Thomson, medical director of Metropolitan Life. "A fellow gets so he won't pay attention to anyone, not his doctor, or his boss, or his wife, or his priest. But when he is encouraged by his company—which is to him an objective, nonindividualistic entity—he'll have respect all out of proportion to his respect for individuals. The company is a very potent force for making him pay attention."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

The farm bill must be like the proverbial cat with nine lives. I keep seeing it rear its ugly head in every newspaper and farm magazine, and hearing its blood-curdling squall on every radio. Politicians with ulterior motives aren't about to let it die. It's been too good a thing to kick around for vote getting some 20 odd years. Besides, it oftentimes affords some pretty rank mire to fling at the opposition party. The theme seems to be "turn about it fair play", as evidenced by accusations back and forth across the political aisle over the off-colorful Estes situation.

The pot continues to call the kettle black, a few USDA faces are turning red, while some on Capitol Hill are purple with rage. Farmers are blue when they aren't turning white along with the rest of the taxpayers upon learning of some of the huge spending and give-away proposals. (One of which promises to cost even more than the past agricultural expenditures while again curbing free enterprise).

Five-hundred thousand dollars isn't a drop in the bucket when compared to some of these proposals. That is the cost of one week of land measuring in Texas alone, in the 100 counties classified as minor producers of grain sorghums in anticipation of passage of the Feed Grains Control section of the defeated (?) farm bill. We must give President Kennedy credit for being a careful spender if we can judge by some of the recent developments. He doesn't want to "lose" all that money which has already been spent, so "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

If the watered-down version of the bill passes the house and goes to the Senate-House Conference for compromise, JFK may still write his own ticket in the form of a compromise that gives him the control program HE wanted. Most farmers didn't want the concoction, nor did the tax-paying consumer. Even the agriculture committee that reported it to the House didn't want it.

Congressman McSweeney of Louisiana wasn't sure what he wanted until after an Easter holiday plane trip with the President when he decided to change his committee vote for an 18-17 in favor.

This was (and is) a most crucial time in the history of farm legislation. Unless the famous 48 Democrats stand pat on their decision to show the president that writing laws is the business of the legislative branch and not of the Executive branch, we may easily lose freedom and opportunity to a government-managed agriculture.

Just how much farmers and the rest of America owe these 48 we will never know, but we can rest assured they received the greatest pressure they had ever been subjected to, yet they stood firm in their convictions. This will, no doubt, be a campaign issue in November, and we as voters can show our desire for and appreciation of constructive conservatism (I love the word) on this issue as well as some of the other national issues as Mr. Kennedy has promised these men the voters will do.

This is one promise I believe can and will be kept. Meanwhile the farmer continues to wonder if he will be allowed to survive and go forward by his own initiative. America is the only country in the world in which it is NECESSARY for a goodly portion of its people to go to bed hungry at night. Controlled economy has NOT brought this about! I wonder if Mr. Khrushchev has any humanitarian traits at all? I'd rather be dead than buried—alive.

Mrs. D. O. Burelsmith

Farmers Challenged

To whom it may concern:

A challenge has been issued for a farmer who is opposed to the Kennedy administration's farm program to participate in a public debate with a farmer who is in full support of the program. Paul Lewis of Littlefield, who is not presently affiliated with any farm group or organization, has been chosen to speak for the area farmers who are behind the Kennedy administration and its farm program.

Lewis will allow his opponent to set the time, date and place for the debate, and Lewis' backers will bear one-half the cost of arranging the debate and publicizing it.

It is not the wish or purpose of Lewis and his supporters to use this debate as a means for ridicule or antagonism of the opposition, or to further divide the nation's farm population. It is his and their wish to have an organized public airing of views, for the education and benefit of all concerned.

Any area farmer who is opposed to the Kennedy administration's farm program and who would like to accept this challenge may do so by contacting the Parmer County Farmer's Union at Lazbuddie, Texas. It is asked that this challenge be answered no later than August 1, so that the debate may be scheduled as soon as possible.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

He Finds Himself at Mid-Summer With His Summer Schedule Done

Editors' note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes stock of himself at mid-summer, his letter this week reveals. What the inventory amounts to is another matter.

Dear editor: I walked down to my mail box the other morning mostly out of habit and discovered a neighbor of mine had a flat tire right in front of it and was working furiously to fix it.

"Worst time on earth to have a flat," he said. "Got a thousand things to do today. Here it is the middle of summer and I haven't done a fourth of the things I'd planned."

I helped him change tires, that is, I told him he was turning his lug wrench the wrong way if he expected to get the lugs off, and I waited around and advised him to turn it the other way when he was putting his spare on. Nobody should get so busy he can't help a neighbor out.

At any rate, after he left, I came on back to my house and sat down on the front porch and got to thinking. Here it is indeed the middle of summer and I have done everything I planned to do.

You take my front gate. It's still off its hinges and propped up against the fence like it was last year, but the difference between me and my neighbor is I hadn't planned to do anything about it. I never promised myself anything in regard to it. I see no use in coming to the end of the summer with not only a broken gate but a broken promise also. No use straining yourself trying to keep both your fences and your character intact, and if you can't do both, put your character first.

A lot of people over the years have asked me why I don't fix that gate and I'll tell you why. To live satisfactorily in this world, a man has got to learn to put up with imperfections. If you're going to have a compulsion to fix everything that's wrong in this world, you'll be swinging a hammer right and left from now on, and the way to avoid this, is to get used to ignoring some right in front of you, like a sagging front gate. You need something close at hand to practice on.

In some respects, this may not be considered sound, but it's comfortable.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Optimists to Pick 'Young Texans'

A statewide youth recognition program to select an outstanding young Texan each month will be inaugurated by Optimist Clubs of Texas and the Troy V. Post Foundation.

The search, with some 7,000 Optimists throughout Texas as "scouts", will begin in July and the first "Young Texan" designees will be announced August 15, and monthly thereafter.

Each young man chosen will be known as "Young Texan" of the month—defined by the Optimists as a future leader of the state by virtue of his exceptional performance as a good citizen at home, school, church and in other community affairs. Any boy between the ages of 13 and 19 at the time of nomination, who is a resident of Texas, is eligible. The award is not based on need, athletic prowess, or any single achievement, but rather on over-all accomplishments. It is open to all teen-age boys regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

RIGHT OF WITNESSES

By far the most vital people in our system of justice are witnesses. Everyone else in a trial exists to hear what they have to say.

Our courts need witnesses. A jury to find the facts. The judge to apply the law. The lawyer to tell his client's story.

Chances are you worry about stepping up, taking an oath, and telling your story in court.

On some rare occasions you could be called upon to testify about something affecting your own standing in the community.

As a witness you too may have the right, for example, not to testify against yourself in somebody else's lawsuit or crime trial.

If you are ever in such a bind, consult a lawyer of your own choice on what to do. The lawyer who called you to testify has a sworn duty to protect HIS client, NOT you. But your lawyer is sworn to keep what you tell him secret and to advise you in your own interests within the law.

Wise lawyers tell their witnesses to obey 12 rules:

1. Go to the place (say, the scene of an accident). Check your memory before you go to court. People forget and get caught up on details. But if you check what you saw and heard you are on solid ground.

2. Visit a court. Hear how other witnesses testify. It will help you see your role on the witness stand.

3. Wear clean, conservative clothes.

4. Don't memorize your story word for word. That is the surest way to sound bad. But think of what you saw and heard.

5. Listen to the questions you are asked with care and answer thoughtfully.

6. Give a simple, direct answer in your own words. Don't be rushed.

7. If you err—and people often do—correct yourself at once. If you can't remember some detail, say so. Don't bluff.

8. Tell the truth. Don't figure which side you may help. Don't identify yourself with either side.

9. Stop when the judge breaks in, and don't try to sneak an answer in before he can stop you. What you might say could end in a "mistrial."

10. Keep cool and don't sass back.

11. If they ask you: Certainly, you have talked to other people—the lawyer, for example; and yes, you may be reimbursed for certain of your expenses incurred in attending the trial.

12. Remember, without witnesses our law would fail to do justice. If you are called, be a good witness.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Roaming Preacher Meets Setback: Czechs Turn Thumbs Down on Visit

Editor's Note: Muleshoe's Europe-bound preacher, Rev. J. Frank Peery of the First Methodist Church, plans to write travel reports during the next six weeks on his visit to European nations. This first report was received from London.

London, July 20
We're here, via Pan American Flight, No. 2.
Left New York Idlewild International Airport at 8 p.m., New York Time, and arrived in London at 2:35 a.m. New York time, or 7:35 London Time. Looked like a short night!

All of us have been denied visas to Czechoslovakia, so Prague is out. Instead our time will be spent in Brussels, Poland and Warsaw—they are still ok.
Why no visas by Czechs?
1. Still have not decentralized the old party (so said U. N. delegate in N. Y.)
2. Only place where Stalin statue still stands.

DPS Seeking 150 Young Men

An invitation has been issued state-wide by the Texas Department of Public Safety to high calibre young men in the state who wish to compete for one of the 150 positions now available in State Law Enforcement. "The challenge of the rigid qualifications for patrolmen in the four field services—Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Driver's License, and Motor Vehicle Inspection—is expected to attract many outstanding young men," Major Harry Hutchison, Commander of Region No. 5 of the Department of Public Safety, Lubbock, said.

Assignment to one of the services will be made on the basis of aptitude, interest and ability at the conclusion of a period of basic training, then specialized training in the assigned service will be given in the field and in the classroom after which a home station will be designated.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years old, between 68 and 76 inches tall, weigh not less than 2 pounds or more than 3 pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have a high school education or the equivalent and their record must be able to stand rigid examination as pertains to character and citizenship. Selection procedures will include written and oral examinations.

"Any young man who wants to measure himself against these high standards is urged to pick up or write for the necessary forms from any D. P. S. Field Office throughout the state," Major Hutchison said. Formerly examinations were given only three times per year. They are now being administered monthly, the second Saturday of each month, at each of 17 centrally located examination centers throughout the State.

"In addition to offering a challenge which separates the men from the boys," Major Hutchison said, "the Department of Public Safety offers a rewarding career to men who want to follow law enforcement as a profession. There is always an opening and room for advancement for this type of men in the Department," he concluded.

REPENTANCE IS IMPORTANT

Luke 15:7

Repentance invites a soul to God, so let us arise and go to our Father and let us say unto Him, Father I have sinned against Heaven and before Thee. Sometimes our wealth makes us forget God, and in coming to ourselves makes us see God. For Christ said, "whosoever will let him come". Come worship with us at St. Matthew, you are always welcome.
