Western Grassers Steady to Lower—Butchers' Stock Generally Steady—Stockers and Feeders Steady.

A fair run of cattle got in for today's market, although the supply fell short of yesterday's estimate and receipts last Tuesday. Early estimates called for 2,700 head which compared with 2,425 last Tuesday and 3,186 a year ago. The five markets had around 30,100 cattle as against 33,900 a week ago and 33,900 a year ago.

More than half of the run was in grass cattle from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas and buyers were up against another meager supply of corn-fed steers.

Activity was again the main feature of the local market. In this department, keen inquiry for desirable offerings of all weights creating a ready outlet for anything that would suit requirements.

There was a pretty good showing of western steers in the native division and fifteen loads of Oklahomas landed on the quarantine side.

The following prices are quotable on the St. Joseph market today:

Choice to prime steers, $9.50 to 10.40; good to choice, $8.75 to 9.25; fair to good, $8.00 to 8.50; common to fair, $7.50 to 8.00; fat yearlings, $7.50 to 8.00.

TIPS ON WHAT TO EAT

KANSAS BOARD OF HEALTH PREPARING A LIST OF TABLE FOODS.

WOULD CUT DOWN MENU

Too Many Frits in Average Meal—Plain Food, Producing Energy and Power, Is What We Should Eat.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 20.—"Don't eat so much," is the new slogan being sent broadcast over Kansas by the state board of health. For years the board has been swatting the fly and the common drinking cup and the rollie towel. Now it has begun to swat the goldmound. The board has just issued a bulletin on eating and the value of foods according to the work performed. The chief idea in the bulletin is that people eat too much most of the time and waste a lot of good energy by simply burning it up as food.

"One might just as well take a $5 bill and light his pipe with it as to burn that money by 'wring eating,'" said Dr. J. C. Crumrine, secretary of the board of health. "Most people burn up a lot of real money every year just because they don't know what is the best to eat or how to prepare it to get the most for their money. The food taken into the body is really burned up as the consuming process of the digestive organs performs their functions of changing the food into energy and power. It's just the same as coal to the furnace and there must be oxygen to help burn both and there are cinders in both instances.

"It takes so much energy and power to keep the body going, just as it takes so much coal to keep up a certain heat of steam. Therefore the use of such foods as will maintain the power and energy will be the cheapest and less wasteful. Most people think the price of a food should be the basis of eating. They think they will get more energy and power out of a planked sirloin steak that is listed at $1.50 on the bill of fare.

"As a matter of fact, a glass of pure milk, a slice of bread, an egg, and a dish of apple sauce will give more energy producing food than that sirloin steak and it will not cost over 20 or 25 cents, either."

The board of health is at work on a series of experiments to determine what the average man in Kansas ought to eat. It is making tests of men in the coal mines, in the zinc mines, in the farms, in the shops, in the machine shops, in packing houses, railroad trainmen, railroad section cutters, men, farmers, teamsters, route carriers, etc., to determine what the average man in Kansas ought to eat. It is making tests of men in the coal mines, in the zinc mines, in the farms, in the shops, in the machine shops, in packing houses, railroad trainmen, railroad section cutters, men, farmers, teamsters, route carriers, etc., to determine what the average man in Kansas ought to eat. The tests are to be conducted in nearly every county of the state and will cover from three to ten persons in each occupation. Any one can go to a physician and find out how many heat units are necessary to keep one in a healthy condition, and how many heat units there are in a pound of steak.

But the Kansas board of health is going farther. It intends to determine what the average man in Kansas ought to eat. It is making tests of men in the coal mines, in the zinc mines, in the farms, in the shops, in the machine shops, in packing houses, railroad trainmen, railroad section cutters, men, farmers, teamsters, route carriers, etc., to determine what the average man in Kansas ought to eat. When this is completed the board will publish a list of persons who show what is actually needed for every man and woman in Kansas according to his or her occupation, and it will be easy then to take the time to compare the heat units and prices, and figure exactly what foods to buy.

HIGELY LAMBS AT $6.50.

Veteran Utah Rancher on Local Market With Big Shipment of Ovises.

Geo. Higely, one of the big northwestern range sheep men, was on the local market yesterday with four cars of mixed ewes and lambs, numbering around 800 head, that sold at $6.50 and $3.60 respectively. Mr. Higely owns an improved ranch of 1300 acres about four miles west of Ogden, Utah. He farms extensively but devotes much of his time to sheep raising.

"I had close on to 2,500 lambs this year," said Mr. Higely, "and have marketed practically all of them as this market at satisfactory prices. Grass is in fine condition in my part of the country and if reports from other sections of the country are to be relied on, there will be plenty of good fall grazing."

TO RAISE BEET SEED.

West to Get Money for Seeds That Now Goes to Europe.
Rocky Ford, Colo., Aug. 17.—According to Frederick Noble, superintendent of the American Beet Sugar Company, who is considered one of the best authorities on sugar beets in the country, there is every reason to believe that within a few years a great proportion of the sugar beet seed will be grown in this country instead of being imported from Europe as it is at present.

MISSOURI CROPS ARE BIG

Lots of Money Will Pour Into State This Year as Result.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—The rains of the last week, which have been pretty general throughout the state, have been most beneficial, and as a result the Missouri farmer this year will garner a bumper crop of corn while the yield of wheat was unexpectedly large, according to William Hirth, president of the Missouri Federation of Commercial Clubs, with headquarters at Columbia, Mo., who is in St. Louis.

"The rains which have fallen in the last week mean millions of dollars to the farmers of Missouri," said Mr. Hirth last night. "In certain sections the dry weather injured part of the early corn somewhat, but the recent rains insure one of the greatest crops in the history of the state. I would not be surprised if the total yield would reach 250,000,000 bushels. At 50 cents a bushel, which is the lowest price it is likely to bring, our farmers would glean $125,000,000.

"Last spring it looked like our wheat crop would be almost a total failure. Favorable weather during the spring months, however, worked wonders, and the yield for the state did not fall short of 25,000,000 bushels, in my opinion. Our oats crop is a record breaker, while the yield of the state's largest in crops, this does not take into consideration other crops, such as cotton, potatoes, tobacco, etc., the value of which will run into many additional millions.

"There is a record-breaking apple crop on the way also, and while it is hard to estimate the yield, the yield will be about $9,000,000 bushels. When you add about $50,000,000 to the foregoing for the surplus live stock the Missouri farmer will have the greatest fall and winter trade they have had in years. Politics can not stop it, for hundreds of millions can not be dropped into the state without making things hum."

FARM TEMPLE IN CHICAGO

$5,000,000 Agricultural Project Backed by Every State.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—That a $5,000,000 organization for the purpose of constructing a $2,000,000 building to occupy an entire city block and contain agricultural exhibits and a bureau of every state in the union has been formed was made public at a banquet given by the new company at the Lexington hotel.

Chicago business men are at the head of the scheme, and they have the co-operation of twenty-two governors and civil welfare officials throughout the country.

The organization is called the National Agricultural Building and Exposition company, and its president is A. B. Hult, commissioner general of the National Association of Immigration Officials. Mr. Hult, who spoke at the banquet, said:

"Options on land in the vicinity of Twenty-second street and Michigan avenue have been obtained, and we expect to begin our magnificent structure within the next three months. It will be eight stories. Each state will have an office, from which literature of that state's resources will be distributed and immigrants and other persons will be met, with earnest endeavors to aid them in getting farms."

Other speakers were Bishop Samuel Dakota, W. B. Biddle, vice president of the Frisco railroad; Dr. J. B. McPatrick, president Chicago board of education and Fred S. Oliver, president Chicago real estate board.

HOPEFUL SIGN OF THE TIMES

Dealers Now Making Tests For Germination Qualities of Seeds.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—A most hopeful sign, indicative of results largely attributable to the persistent efforts heretofore made by the United States Department of Agriculture in the line of seed testing, is manifest from an inspection of the catalogues of more than fifty of the principal seed dealers of the country.

All of the firms referred to make definite statements that they test their seeds for germination. Nine firms advise purchasers to send samples either to the seed testing laboratory of the U. S. department of agriculture or to a state experiment station to be tested. Seven firms state that they themselves follow the course in regard to the seeds they offer and that the seeds are thereby officially guaranteed to be of the high grade represented. Six firms allow a stated time for making a test, advise purchasers to make such test on receipt of seeds, and request the return of seeds which do not satisfactorily meet the test.

Five firms state that the seeds they are selling comply with state laws, and a number of firms give the percentage of purity and germination in compliance with state laws.

These statements indicate that competition between seed dealers is becoming more and more a competition based on quality—a healthy tendency from the standpoint of both customers and honest dealers.

THE FEED MUST BE RIGHT

An Inspector to See That Kansas Law Is Obedied.

Manhattan, Kan., Aug. 19.—A field inspector of feeding stuffs is now working for the Kansas agricultural college. He is A. E. Langworthy, a chemist of Kansas City. It will be the duty of this inspector to visit feed stores over the state and see that manufacturers of concentrated feeding stuffs, such as bran, shorts and corn chop, are following out the provisions of the law. The presence of the law this inspection has been done by various officials at the agricultural college. Mr. Langworthy will give his entire time to the job. He will be under the direct supervision of I. A. Fitz, head of the department of milling.

According to the feeding stuffs law a manufacturer of a feed must register every one of his products with the director of the experiment station at the agricultural college, and pay a fee of $10 a year for this registration. He must then label his products and keep them up to the standard of the sample which was registered. Much of the work of inspection is chemical as analyses often are necessary to determine the contents of feeds.

CORN REPLACES CATTLE ONE OKLAHOMA FARMER HAS 5,000 ACRES IN GRAIN WHERE CATTLE ONCE GRAZED.

Management Continually Seeking New Grains of Drouth-Resisting Qualities Suitable for New State.

Bliss, Okla., Aug. 20.—The Oklahoma ranch is no longer a cattle-raising enterprise—the man with the hoe and the plow is master. Agriculture comes first, and then cattle, hogs and sheep to consume the output of the fields.

These can be no makeshift farming under such circumstances, inasmuch as so many things depend upon something else, and failure in one may cause failure in many others.

In eighteen or twenty years the equipment of this ranch has changed from a "dugout" headquarters and a small frame dwelling on the banks of the Fork to one of the most splendidly equipped ranches in the West.

A multitude of things fascinate the visitor. In one pasture is a herd of fullblood buffalos, slowly increasing in number. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of the fifty-five head owned by Frank Rockefeller on his Kansas ranch.

In a small park are native deer, an Asiatic cow and her little calf and a water buffalo from the Philippines, a harness looking brute, but source of danger to domestic bulls.

Down in the river valley is a solid 1,400 acres of alfalfa, from which four tons an acre will be cut this year and sold at an average of about $14 a ton, making the tidy sum of nearly $50,000, if all of it should go to market.

There is an unending search for new grain plants, such as are found and reported by travelers and government agents in foreign countries.

It is in the field crops, however, that the Millers find most delight. Their ranch is a practical experiment station for corn. They have developed several new varieties adapted to the soil and climatic conditions of the Southwest.

Several years ago the Millers took the native Indian corn, grains of which may still be found in Zuni ruins, and began crossing it with a strong cultivated variety.

After it was planted in the spring the Indians never cultivated it, yet always had a corn crop, however dry and rainless the region.

"The biggest gamble on earth," said George Miller, "is when a farmer puts seed into the ground and bets that he will get a big crop. By diversifying he 'coppers' the game."

RED SHIRT MADDENS BULL. Crimson Apparel Enrages Brute and He Tosses Wearer Over Fence.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 20.—A red shirt caused a bull to toss J. W. Melton over a high fence at his home, 904 Cherry street.

Melton was slightly hurt, but surgeons say he will be out soon. He is 61 years old.

HIS ADVICE IS COMPETENT. Mr. Allbery Has Remained Cured of Rheumatism for Two Years.

He Therefore Knows That the United Doctors' Treatment Is Not Only Positive But Permanent.

In treating rheumatism most doctors and treatments only give temporary relief if any at all, perhaps alleviating the trouble for the time being.

The United Doctors find the cause of the trouble, which varies in different patients, but is usually a deficiency in some eliminating organ, allowing acids, toxins and ferments to accumulate in the blood and be deposited in the joints, muscles or nerves.

Many sufferers from rheumatism can tell of the remarkable effects and results of the United treatment. Many others who have remained cured several years can testify that the cure is permanent.

I wish to state that I have been cured of rheumatism by the United Doctors, after ten years of constant suffering from that disease.
